'TEXAS' FLAVOR IN OCALA

Erich & Janet Brehm | Horsephotos

by Steve Sherack

The comebacking 2014 GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile hero's workout Saturday wasn't the only breeze that owner Erich Brehm Sr. was keeping a close eye on this past week.

After purchasing 18 yearlings at public auction in 2015 with prices ranging from $11,000-$120,000, Brehm and partners will send four of them through the ring at the upcoming two-day OBS March 2-Year-Olds in Training Sale. Nine more are slated to go under the hammer this spring at the OBS April and June sales. The remainder of the group will be campaigned by trainer Keith Desormeaux on the West Coast.

"Keith Desormeaux is really good at looking at the way a horse moves and what's in a horse's mind," Brehm commented. "I think that's really critical. Guys like [bloodstock agent] Dennis O'Neill, and from my camp, Keith Desormeaux and April Mayberry, can really find these diamonds in the rough and pick good horses out consistently. They have that skill.

The 63-year-old Brehm continued, "We have a great team. It's nothing I'm doing, trust me. It's all about the team. I guess maybe my value is that I have the formula. I have to decide between our six different partnerships how we're splitting the horses up. So far, it's worked out pretty well.

The OBSMAR quartet, consigned by Mayberry Farm, Agent V, were selected at the yearling sales by Desormeaux and Mayberry. Cont. p3

LARRY JONES REFLECTS AS HE NEARS 1000

by Michael Adolphson

If people are the sum of their life experiences, with stories built upon one another like the chapters within an anthology, or levels to a skyscraper, then the nearly 1000 victories trainer Larry Jones has tallied tell a tale of greatness and assemble a construction of character. Built through intense trials, from the ill-fated Eight Belles (Unbridled's Song) to his own hospitalization after a life-threatening accident, Jones has fortified his portfolio with faith and surrounded himself with enough material to keep building.

A farmer turned racehorse trainer, who became a three-time Kentucky Oaks winner, Jones has cultivated an enviable 19.6% career strike rate, while counting 23% of his graded victories in Grade I events--14 total. Cont. p5

"The partnerships have really interesting people who come from all different walks of life," Brehm offered. "I'm in the cardiovascular world [as Western United States Area Sales Director at CorMatrix Cardiovascular Inc.]--we grow heart tissue--so one of my partners is a cardiologist."

Other partners include fellow Texan Richard Rawlings of 'Fast and Loud' fame, a retired anesthesiologist, a dermatologist and a commercial real estate investor. Brehm's son Erich Jr. and a group of his friends are involved in a group as well. Each partnership typically contains about four or five people.

"My goal of the partnerships is to start with three horses and have it be a progressive thing," Brehm explained. "We'll buy three horses, sell two and race one. My goal is always to sell the best horses. Don't let the tail wag the dog. The first goal is to make sure that the partners always feel like they have a chance financially. Right now, between all of my partnerships, we have 18 owners in the game, and for the most part, none of them were in it before. I brought them in, they're all happy and they're bringing friends in now, too."

But who brought Brehm in? Rewind to his college days at the University of Illinois-Chicago while his close friend Wally Gorzela studied at nearby DePaul.

"Wally's grandfather taught him how to bet horses, so we started a little program of study until 10 p.m. every night, then go bet the last three races at the harness track," Brehm commented. "We just started as degenerate gamblers. Interestingly enough, about a year into the game we started making a lot of money and we paid off all of our student loans, bought cars, took vacations...it was silly. We literally had t-shirts made up that said 'Trifecta Kids.' Me and Wally go back 30 years and he's an accountant and does finances for all of the partnerships now. The guy that got me into the game is still integral in everything that I do in it today."

After watching subsequent 1976 GI Kentucky Derby third-place finisher Elocutionist compete in person at Arlington Park, the duo shifted their attention to Thoroughbreds. Trips to Louisville on the first Saturday in May as fans–and later as owners--quickly became the norm each spring. Some early success as an owner, however, didn't necessarily turn out to be the best thing for Brehm in the long run.

"I probably spent 20 years, honestly, just losing a lot of money, but having a lot of fun," he revealed. "At one point, I think I owned eight horses and had a bunch of mares. Because I had a little bit of early success, I thought I knew what I was doing. I didn't know anything."

Enter Keith Desormeaux.

"About 20 years later, I was kind of out of the game a bit, not completely, but not really in it, either, and bought a horse at a yearling sale in Texas," Brehm said. Cont. p4

"It was funny because everybody was telling me that, 'This is everything you look for in a racehorse. He's so good looking... etc.' The purses weren't any good in Texas, so I wanted to race in Louisiana and Keith Desormeaux was recommended to me as a trainer. I called Keith and liked him right away."

He continued, "So, I send him the horse--I'm thinking I have this great horse. Two weeks later, he calls and says, 'Erich, I'm going to do you a favor. I'm going to help you get out of this horse. And let me help you find a good horse.' I said, 'Really? Because everybody is telling me that he's a world beater.' And he says, 'Yeah, not so much.' He was terrible and never won anything. Keith saw it right away. He never won a race and was later given away as a polo horse."

Brehm began claiming horses with Desormeaux in 2009 and immediately hit the ground running. Shape (Arch), haltered for $15,000, was the first to net a small profit.

"We ran him, I think, maybe 20 times or so and he got us a check every time," Brehm said. "He was very durable and won a couple of little races for us. At the end of the day, it was a positive experience."

Buying yearlings with Desormeaux to race and pinhook quickly followed.

"I bought a Big Brown filly for $20,000 and we sold her for $60,000," he said. "I went back to pinhook again the following year and bought a Street Boss for $25,000 and got $155,000."

The best was still yet to come. Racing for the Brehm family, Wayne Detmar, Lee Michaels, Dr. Gene Voss and Desormeaux, the aforementioned Texas Red (Afleet Alex), a $17,000 KEESEP yearling purchase in 2013, has gone on to rack up just north of $1.7 million in earnings. In addition to his 13-1 upset in the Juvenile, the handsome bay also won last term's GII Jim Dandy S. and was second in the GII San Vicente S. and GIII Dwyer S. He was sidelined after finishing a disappointing fifth in last year's GI Travers S. (Click here for a recent TDN APB).

With a long-term eye on the GI Breeders' Cup Classic, Texas Red is aiming for a return in a seven-furlong allowance at Santa Anita in early April. Other targets are likely to include the GI Gold Cup at Santa Anita June 25 and the GI Pacific Classic at Del Mar. He breezed four furlongs in an easy :49.20 at Santa Anita Mar. 12.

"There are five people in the Texas Red partnership and two of them had never owned a racehorse before," Brehm concluded. "He's made $1.7 million and everybody in that partnership is addicted." -@SteveSherackTDN

The 59-year-old native of Hopkinsville, Kentucky, has embodied the quality-over-quantity maxim since bursting onto the big stage with his first Grade I performer, 2002 Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies also-ran and subsequent Grade II winner Ruby's Reception (Rubiano). He has gone on to start a beaten favorite in the Kentucky Derby, finish second in the Run for the Roses twice, earn a pair of runner-up finishes in Breeders' Cup races - including the 2007 Classic with Hard Spun (Danzig)--and earn the Big Sport of Turfdom Award.

Larry Jones | Horsephotos

"My first horse was a filly named Ala Turf (Turfway) in 1981 and I was just an owner training her a little on the farm," Jones recollected. "I bought her as a 2-year-old for a whopping $700. I never was an assistant to anyone, I was just an owner who one day made the comment to the guy training her at the track about what he was doing wrong and his attitude was 'if you think you can do better, you do it'--and here we are now.

"We've had a few lean years--a few where we only grossed about $3,300--and we worked our way up, but it wasn't until we got a horse like Ruby's Reception that things started to take off," Jones continued. "I don't train for people I don't like and I have to be the most fortunate trainer in the world with the owners I have. People like Rick Porter (of Fox Hill Farm), Brereton C. Jones, Fletcher and Carolyn Gray and Tommy Ligon make my job a lot of fun because they are friends and there are no finer people in the world. I like them, I like my job and that's why I come to work."

"Larry always gets the most out of the horse with what they have to offer," Porter commented. "I will never forget when Eight Belles wasn't switching leads in a race. He said 'alright--that's it--no one else is getting on this horse except me', and she switched leads next out won by a pole. He knows how to train them physically, is hands-on in everything that goes on in his barn and is great with the media. He's the whole package."

"Larry has forgotten more about training horses than a lot of trainers will know in a lifetime," added former Kentucky governor Brereton C. Jones. "He's a hard worker who is a major part of my operation and there's no way to improve on his character. He's simply a superior human being and deserves all of his success." Cont. p6

A unique aspect of Jones's prosperity is that he still, despite straddling the cusp of sexagenarian-hood, gallops his charges in the morning. In 2015, he was aboard Oaks winner Lovely Maria (Majesticperfection) and Eclipse Award finalist I'm a Chatterbox (Munnings) throughout their campaigns, just as he had done for 2011 Horse of the Year Havre de Grace (Saint Liam), the aforementioned Eight Belles and runaway 2008 Oaks victress Proud Spell (Proud Citizen).

Cindy and Larry Jones | Horsephotos

"My style is to let the horse be a horse," Jones explained. "They go through all the disciplines like where to switch leads. When I gallop them, I try to go around the track as if they'd be out in the field running on their own. They stay a lot more sound doing that. Some people have criticized that I may gallop quickly, but those are the same people who remark that our horses look happy with their ears up. To me, that's a compliment.

"I'm not living life on the edge still galloping these horses, I just know that connecting with them to trust a rider and training on horseback has made me a different trainer than I would have been," he continued. "It's about what they've taught me about training, not what I've taught them."

On the edge of life is just how his many tribulations have made the 62-time graded stakes winner feel. From Eight Belles--a filly flirting with stardom who broke down just after a game second against the boys in the 2008 Kentucky Derby--to nearly losing his own life from a training accident-caused brain hemorrhage, Jones has peered over the margins of mortality and drawn on his faith to help him procure perspective.

"I had a hard time with my faith when Eight Belles happened," Jones poignantly reflected. "It was more than I could handle and it was God that got me through it. He let me know that it was in his plans and got me at ease with it. We didn't do anything wrong with her and a lot of good came out of it for the game. She was not on any steroids or illegal medications, but she became the catalyst for positive changes in medication rules and helped the industry. It was a tough time for us, but hopefully it made horseracing better through our suffering.

"My faith affects me every day in what I do," he continued. "I try to think `what would Jesus do in this situation', even if I don't always get it perfect. Cont. p7

Jones continued, “I know when I got hurt so badly, He saved me and that it was in his plans. The doctor said my kind of recovery doesn't happen very often, but I turned the corner on Easter Sunday and a lot of things happened that day that people have trouble believing. This is a great game, but it's very trying and can bring out the worst in people. I just hope that when it brings out the worst in me, he can lead me back."

Jones is quick to point out that it is also the athletes themselves who have put him where he is today.

"The best all-around horse I've ever been around, without a doubt, was Havre de Grace," Jones reflected. "She was the nearest thing to a perfect horse I'll ever touch. She gave me the least to worry of any horse, but she was so good I worried all the time. Hard Spun was the fastest and I was convinced he could have been a champion sprinter had we went that route, but could carry that up to a mile and a quarter. Proud Spell was the hardest-trying horse I've been around and was a little package who thought she could--and she did. Lord only knows how good Eight Belles was going to be. She went from getting beat to winning races by 10 lengths and was just getting good. She'll always be--like so many of these horses for many different reasons--very special to me. I was very fortunate to get to gallop all of these, myself. I knew them, they knew me and we always found a way to work together."

Going into the third week of March, Jones sits at 996 victories--just four short of his first major career victory mark. Still, one visit to his barn and it is easy to see a lack of trophies touting his accomplishments. The building blocks of his success are on four legs behind the webbings of his 40-stall barn. From returning GI winner I'm a Chatterbox, to 2016 Oaks hopeful Midnight On Oconee (Midnight Lute) and even his homebred Jensen (Haynesfield), who will try to stamp his ticket to the Derby in next month's GII Spiral S., they are the cumulative chapters in his career aggregate, each with their own story to add.

"When I took a year off with health issues and retired, I found out that I really like horses," he concluded. "No matter how upset I may ever get at the game with all the hustle and bustle, they are the reason I do it. No matter how tiring it can be, even when shipping across the country from New Orleans to Houston to Saratoga Springs, I remember that that's why I got into it. The horses are the center and climbing on top of them is the best part of my day."

Uruguay over Chile over Brazil. No, Santa Anita did not host the Latinoamericano, but horses bred in those South American jurisdictions combined for a $6,200 triple in Sunday's GII San Luis Rey S.

The Southern Hemisphere 6-year-old, a Group 1 winner in Brazil in 2013, was placed from three French starts for trainer David Smaga in 2014 before finding herself on a U.S.-bound plane. Seventh, but beaten just over two lengths behind Hard Not to Like (Hard Spun) in the nine-furlong GI Gamely S. last May, the homebred filled the same spot in this track's GII Royal Heroine S. going a flat mile the following month and hit the shelf. Returned to this marathon trip when first-up in the Jan. 17 Astra S., she turned in another even effort to finish sixth behind the re-opposing Havanna Belle (Ire) (Teofilo {Ire}) and was easily the longest price on the board in this tougher test.

One of five South American-breds in the race and one of a trio for her owner, Generosidade was content to race towards the back of the field first time through the stretch as Havanna Belle took them along at only a moderate gallop. Well-ridden by Dubai World Cup-winning rider Tiago Pereira through the middle stages, Generosidade made steady progress to be about fourth entering the final bend and caught the eye with a rail-skimming run past the quarter pole. She split horses at the head of the lane, hit the front at midstretch and held sway late. Click for the Equibase.com chart, the TJCIS.com PPs or the free Equineline.com catalogue-style pedigree. WHITMORE 'YELLS' READY FOR REBEL

The prospect of stormy weather Sunday afternoon led trainer and co-owner Ron Moquett to alter plans slightly, as the conditioner sent out Whitmore (Pleasant Colony) for his final serious piece of work ahead of Saturday's GII Rebel S. at Oaklawn Park.

Breezing in the company of 2015 GIII Southwest S. winner and GI Arkansas Derby runner-up Far Right (Notional), Whitmore covered a half-mile in :51 flat and galloped out five furlongs in 1:04.

Whitmore | Coady photography

"With the weather coming in, I thought it would be best," said Moquett of Whitmore, who was second to the impressive Suddenbreakingnews (Mineshaft) in this year's Southwest S. Feb. 15. "It worked out fine."

The stable could also be represented in the Rebel by Tisdale (Friesan Fire), who has run well in two starts over the local strip during the meet, including a neck success when trying the Rebel distance of 1 1/16 miles for the first time Feb. 6.

"If it wasn't for everybody bringing in horses from everywhere, then I would wait and find another spot," Moquett said. "If the gates are going to be filled full, with 14 horses, then two of them might as well be ours."

Should Tisdale pass the Rebel, Moquett said races like the Northern Spur S. or the GIII Coolmore Lexington S. would be considered. Both those races are scheduled for Apr. 16.

AIROFORCE MAY BE BACK ON DERBY TRAIL

by Bill Finley

After Airoforce (Colonel John) was trounced by 39 1/2 lengths in the GII Risen Star S. as the 17-10 favorite, Mark Casse said he was no longer considering the GI Kentucky Derby, but the trainer said the 3-year-old may yet make it to the first leg of the Triple Crown. Casse, who has never found an explanation for why Airoforce ran so poorly in the Risen Star, is inclined to "just put a line through" the race and move on.

Airoforce | Coady photography

The colt has remained in training ever since and if he continues to do well, Casse said he will look at starting him in the GIII Spiral S. at Turfway Park on Apr. 2.

When asked if that means a good performance in the Spiral would lead to a start in the Kentucky Derby, Casse replied: "Let's put it this way, he has a better chance today than he did three weeks ago."

"I don't know if they even publish it, but he had a big work Thursday at Winding Oaks [Training Center]," Casse said. "He worked five-eighths on the grass in 1:00 and galloped out three quarters in :12 3/5 and the seven-eighths in something like 1:26. We've run some tests on him, but he's continued to train all along. Next week he will work at OBS on the synthetic and if he were to work really well and we are happy with him, you may see him in the Spiral."

The knock on Airoforce is that his three career wins have come on either the grass or a sloppy surface, which he skipped over last fall to win the GII Kentucky Jockey Club at Churchill Downs. In his lone effort on a fast track, he ran dismally in the Risen Star.

"We already know he likes Churchill Downs," Casse said. "We haven't figured out why he ran so bad in the Risen Star. I know you could say he didn't like the dirt but my feeling is if he didn't like the dirt he would have gotten beat five, six, seven lengths. The race was so bad I think you just have to throw it out."

ALL COMES TOGETHER FOR MELATONIN

Tarabilla Farms' Melatonin (Kodiak Kowboy) was second off a November layoff and was making only his second start past 6 1/2 furlongs in Saturday's GI Santa Anita H. at the Great Race Place. By a winner of the GI Cigar Mile H. and out of a mare by a GI Met Mile hero, neither did it seem like his pedigree was crying out for the Big 'Cap's 10-furlong trip. But, sent off at 16-1 and in the race in large part at the behest of jockey Joe Talamo, the 5-year-old set a generous pace and galloped home a very easy winner.

Melatonin and Joe Talamo win for fun in the Big 'Cap | Benoit photo

"[Trainer] David [Hofmans] freshened him, brought him back, we worked him, and he kept looking for another spot, wanting to go a mile on the turf. But it rained and the race didn't go, so finally we decided on the two-other-than long on dirt and he won by nearly four lengths [Feb. 5]," said Scotty McClellan, agent to Talamo. "Then David said he was going to nominate to three stakes, the [GI] Kilroe [Mile] [on the turf], the San Carlos [seven furlongs on the dirt] and the Santa Anita H., and Joe kept pushing him to run in the Handicap, telling him, 'He'll run all day, he wasn't tired,' and finally convinced David."

Hofmans, who orchestrated the 1996 GI Breeders' Cup Classic upset with Alphabet Soup and derailed the Triple Crown dreams of Silver Charm with Touch Gold the following spring, was still exploring the options for a next start for Melatonin.

"I don't have any thoughts about where to run next," the veteran horseman said. "We'll play it by ear and talk with The Team, meaning Scotty and Joe, and see what they want to do. But the horse looked really good this morning. It wasn't a big effort for him."

CATHRYN SOPHIA TO POINT FOR ASHLAND

by Alan Carasso

'TDN Rising Star' Cathryn Sophia (Street Boss), undefeated and untested in winning her four trips to the post to date by a combined 41 1/2 lengths, worked a half-mile in :48.40 (2/42) Sunday morning at Palm Meadows. She will make her next start in Keeneland's $500,000 GI Central Bank Ashland S. Apr. 9 and not the GII Gulfstream Park Oaks a week earlier, trainer John Servis confirmed.

"I think we're going to point for the Ashland for several reasons," said Servis, who famously conditioned Smarty Jones (Elusive Quality) to wins in the 2004 GI Kentucky Derby and GI Preakness S. "It's a Grade I, it gives us an extra week and the purse is pretty good."

Cathryn Sophia will make her next start in Kentucky | Adam Coglianese

Accorded Rising Star status off a towering 16 1/4-length win in the Gin Talking S. at Laurel last December, the Maryland-bred miss tacked on a 5 1/2-length success in the GII Forward Gal S. at Gulfstream Jan. 30 after missing the break slightly. While she got a little lonely and lost some focus in the latter stages of that seven-furlong test, the bay remained on a straight path in her last, a seven-length score in the GII Davona Dale S. over a one-turn mile Feb. 27.

"Oh absolutely," Servis commented when asked if he's been encouraged by the filly's increasing professionalism. "You have to remember, [the Davona Dale] was only her fourth race and in her first two races, she was so far in front, it was easy for her to lose interest."

Having passed each test thrown at her thus far with aplomb, Cathryn Sophia will be trying two turns and a touch more distance for the first time in the Ashland. But her conditioner believes she will be up to the task.

"When they've never done it, you're always a little bit concerned about it, but the way she's trained and settling off the pace like she did in her last two races, I'm feeling pretty good about [her getting the two turns]," he explained.

Sunday's breeze was Cathryn Sophia's first since the Davona Dale and was topped only by the fleet turf sprinter Manhattan Dan (Big Brown, :48 flat).

"I was very happy with it, just a nice easy maintenance work," Servis said. "She galloped out super well and came back great."

The 7-2 shot sprinted out to the early lead and set the pace under a snug hold through an opening quarter in :24.01 and a half in :47.36. He most recently returned from five months on the sidelines to be a neck short of Outlash (Unbridled's Song) at this distance and track in his first start for Jimmy Jerkens Jan. 31. KINSLEY KISSES (f, 3, Congrats--Winter Forest, by Forestry), a $200,000 KEESEP yearling, was an impressive wire-to-wire debut winner as the 4-5 favorite going seven furlongs at Gulfstream Jan. 16. The filly posted a steady series of works at Palm Meadows in preparation for this unveiling and was sent postward with a 7-1 chance. Away in good order, the bay secured position tracking the pace behind a quartet of horses as the leaders cut out a quarter-mile in :22.80. Momentarily shuffled back on the turn, the Mike Tarp homebred angled out, mounted a four-wide bid entering the stretch and stormed home down the center of the strip to win going away by four lengths. GO MAGGIE GO HAS TARP EXCITED

by Jessica Martini

Mike Tarp had high expectations when his homebred filly Go Maggie Go went postward for the first time in Sunday's fifth race at Gulfstream Park. Still, the filly's powerful four-length victory was a surprise.

Go Maggie Go | Leslie Martin

"We were pretty high on the filly, so we thought she would do reasonably well," Tarp said from his Calgary home Sunday. "But we didn't think she would win as easily as she did. It's unusual for a first-time starter to win off like that."

Go Maggie Go is out of Magibel (Tale of the Cat), who Tarp purchased for $260,000 at the Fasig-Tipton Florida Two-Year-Olds in Training Sale in 2002. While the filly failed to find the winner's circle in five starts, she did produce Wallyanna (Langfuhr), who won the 2014 GII National Museum of Racing and Hall of Fame S. Cont. p3

"Go Maggie Go was her last foal, unfortunately," Tarp said of Magibel. "She was a good mare and has produced some pretty nice horses through the years. And this one being her last one, so far, it looks like we've got ourselves a pretty nice filly here. So we are pretty excited about her and hopefully we can carry on and go onwards and upwards."

Tarp, owner of a Chrysler dealership based in Calgary, has been in the racing game for some 12 years now. Currently with nine horses in training with Romans, he has campaigned Tarpy's Goal (High Cotton), winner of the 2012 OBS Sophomore S. and third in the 2011 GII Futurity S., and American County (Gibson County), winner of the 2008 Sunshine Millions Oaks and third in the 2007 GIII Debutante S.

"For me, it's a hobby," Tarp commented. "It's not a business. It's an expensive hobby, but I'm having fun with it, so that's the main thing."

American County is now Tarp's sole broodmare.

"She just gave birth to a Shackleford filly," Tarp said of the mare. "She's doing well and no doubt I'll be looking forward to racing the filly."

Go Maggie Go's impressive debut has Tarp dreaming big for the filly's next start.

"It looks like Dale will put her in a stakes race next and we'll go from there," Tarp said of the filly's next start. "That will be Dale's decision, but most likely it will be a graded stakes race. I don't tell him where to put any of my horses. He has carte blanche, but if you want my opinion on it, that's probably what he's thinking. But it's a fragile sport, so you never know."

While he was unable to make it to Gulfstream Sunday, Tarp is confident he'll be making it to Go Maggie Go's next start.

"There is no doubt in my mind that I'll make it there, wherever it might be," he laughed.

Turco Bravo, a veteran of many stakes races in this region, won the Stymie S. for the second consecutive year Sunday in Ozone Park. A non-factor when fifth and sixth in this venue's Dec. 19 Queens County S. and Jan. 16 Jazil S., respectively, he was last seen rallying to complete the trifecta in a 1 1/16-mile optional claimer over this course Feb. 20.

INDIAN CREEK SALES GRADUATE

Margins: 2HF, 3 3/4, NK. Odds: 3.10, 2.90, 15.20.

Also Ran: Strike Up the Band, Blue Wings, Oh Oz, Brerry, Torrontes, Swagger Jagger, Bandar, Riding in the Wind, Triple Creek. Scratched: Lemondrop Bold, Scattered Cash.

Surgical Strike, a maiden winner over the Kentucky Downs lawn last September, has twice faced graded stakes company, running fifth in the Oct. 4 GIII Bourbon S. at Keeneland and fourth in the Jan. 2 GIII Dania Beach S. at Gulfstream Park. He made his first non-turf start last time out, finishing third in the 6 1/2-furlong WEBN S. over Turfway's all-weather surface Feb. 20. The chestnut colt, shuffled to the back of the field going into the first turn, raced near the rear behind fractions of :23.78 and :48.08.

He surged into contention with a six-wide move into the stretch and powered to the lead before drawing clear to the wire. "There was a lot of speed in the race, but it didn't go as fast early on as I thought," said winning trainer Ben Colebrook. "He was a little bit farther back than maybe we drew it up. But the horse has a got a big turn of foot when you cut him loose, so I was never really too worried. He's still not used to getting dirt in his face because he's run primarily on the grass until these last few starts, so that was a very good lesson for him. If everything goes right, we'll be back in three weeks [for the GIII Horseshoe Casino Cincinnati Spiral S.]." Preemptive Attack, a daughter of graded stakes winner and Grade I placed Bold Ruritana (Bold Ruckus), produced a filly by Artie Schiller last year and was bred back Scat Daddy. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

Mike Battaglia calls the field for Saturday's John Battaglia Memorial S. into the Turfway stretch. Battaglia is leaving the announcer's booth on a permanent basis to become the track's associate vice president, effective immediately | Coady Photography

Winning with Woodford

Margins: 3/4, 3/4, NK. Odds: 0.40, 3.00, 24.10.

Also Ran: Arcature, Marqula, Mr. Roary.

Dressed in Hermes returned to the turf in winning style, capturing Santa Anita's Pasadena S. over a compact field of five rivals Sunday afternoon. The bay broke his maiden in the Zuma Beach S. over this same grassy one-mile trip Oct. 10 and followed with a fifth-place run in the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf at Keeneland Oct. 30. He closed out his 2-year-old season with a win in the GIII Cecil B. DeMille S. at Del Mar Nov. 29 and returned to action last month with a fourth-place finish on dirt, beaten 7 3/4 lengths by Mor Spirit (Eskendereya), in the GIII Robert B. Lewis S. Feb. 6. Bet down to 2-5 favoritism while breaking from the rail in this spot, the homebred assumed position tracking the pace in third as It's The Ice set the pace on a loose lead over the good turf through fractions of :23.40 and :48.14. Sent up three wide on the far turn, Dressed in Hermes collared the pacesetter in the stretch and edged ahead in the final furlong to score by about a length. "We vanned up early [from San Luis Rey Training Center] yesterday and schooled him in the paddock yesterday afternoon," said winning trainer Janet Armstrong.

"We weren't concerned about the soft turf because he ran a good fifth in the Breeders' Cup at Keeneland last fall against some of the best horses in the world." Dressed in Hermes's second dam is SW & MGSP Indian Fashion (General Holme).

Tony Leonard's rarely seen photos on exhibit in Lexington The backstory of a new exhibit at Lexington's Headley-Whitney Museum of Art featuring the work of famed photographer Tony Leonard is as captivating as the collection itself, those who knew him say. While Leonard is known for capturing generations of Thoroughbreds with his camera, he produced thousands of other works over his career. Valarie Honeycutt Spears, *Lexington Herald-Leader

3 Reasons Horse Racing is so Misunderstood in America Horse racing is quite the sport. It's exciting to watch in person. Watching thoroughbreds burst out of the starting gate neck and neck, seeing the dirt and grass kick up from their hooves, catching the jockeys whipping their rides as hard as they can to try to win a million dollars. There really is nothing like horse racing. It's the perfect combination of powerful animals and money-hungry competitive jockeys fighting to prove that the owners investment in the sport is worth it. Jack Choros, *Huffington Post

AGE JUST A NUMBER FOR LEADING SIRES

Redoute's Choice, sire of Saturday's G1 Coolmore Classic winner Peeping | Bronwen Healy

By John Berry

It is a fact of human nature that we take what we have for granted while being seduced by the apparent potential of the unexplored. As they say, "The grass is always greener on the other side of the fence." One of the many ways in which this truism finds form in the bloodstock world is the marginalisation of good stallions simply because they are getting older, as the allure of untried youngsters blinds breeders to the proven merit of the older brigade. As one experienced observer of the scene wryly remarked after touring various Hunter Valley studs in advance of the past breeding season and hearing how heavily the PR men were promoting the new recruits, "It appears that Australia currently has the best bunch of stallions it has ever had--and none of them has ever sired a winner."

The victory, therefore, of Preferment (NZ) (Zabeel {NZ}) in the G1 Australian Cup at Flemington Saturday has come as a useful reminder of the potential folly of overlooking proven stallions simply because they have reached the stage where they seem part of the furniture. Zabeel, 15-time winner of the Dewar Trophy for leading NZ-based sire judged on Australasian earnings, lived to the age of 29 before passing away in his paddock at Cambridge Stud in September 2015. He had remained not merely fertile, but also fully effective into his mid-20s.

INTILAAQ TUNES UP FOR WORLD CUP

Sheikh Hamdan homebred Intilaaq (Dynaformer) prepared for a likely next outing in the $10 million G1 Dubai World Cup Mar. 26 with a 10 furlong gallop at Chelmsford City Friday night. The 4-year-old 'TDN Rising Star' worked in company with Roger Varian stablemates Ektihaam (Ire) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}) and One Pekan (Ire) (Hard Spun). Intilaaq was ridden by Richard Hills.

"Intilaaq went very well and pleased us," said Varian. "He traveled well in behind and quickened nicely when Richard asked him to. The exercise went very smoothly and it would have brought him on another notch. He gets shipped out to Dubai next week and we are very happy with his condition. I think the likely race for him is the Dubai World Cup."

Zabeel was aged 25 when Preferment, winner now of three Group 1 races, was born. In this respect, Zabeel followed in the footsteps of some of the other great sires.

Until Northern Dancer (Nearctic) changed the face of the bloodstock world from the 1970s onwards, the 1933 Derby winner Hyperion (GB) (Gainsborough {GB}) was widely regarded as the most influential sire of the 20th century. Hyperion retired to stud as a 5-year-old in 1935, and his first crop included Heliopolis, twice champion sire in the U.S. Thereafter, the excellent stallions continued to come for Hyperion. Alibhai, Stardust, Helios, Owen Tudor and Selim Hassan were all born before the outbreak of war in 1939. Khaled, Gulf Stream, Rockefella, Ruthless, High Peak and Empyrean were all born during the hostilities, while Aristophanes was born in 1948. Subsequently dual GB/Ire champion sire Aureole was born in 1950 when Hyperion was aged 20; Hornbeam (sire of St Leger winner Intermezzo) and Gun Shot (sire of American champion Gun Bow) were born when Hyperion was 23; and High Hat (sire of one English and two Irish Classic winners) was born when Hyperion was 27.

Star Kingdom (Ire) (Stardust {GB}) was one of the most influential Hyperion-line stallions. His branch of the line also emphasised that a good stallion remains a good stallion for as long as he is fertile. Star Kingdom died at Baramul Stud in New South Wales in April 1967 aged 21. Remarkably his final crop, born a few months after their father had died, contained no fewer than four high-class stallions: Planet Kingdom (Aus), Osmunda (Aus), Red God (Aus) and Tattenham (Aus). Two of the very best Star Kingdom stallions--Biscay (Aus) and Kaoru Star (Aus)--had been born only two years earlier. Biscay's best son, Bletchingly (Aus), continued the tradition, producing the champion 2-year-old and top-class sire Canny Lad (Aus) when he was 17. Canny Lad was aged 27 when Elite Belle (Aus) became his latest (and almost certainly last) Group 1 winner by taking the Railway S. in Perth in November 2014.

Northern Dancer's stud career followed a similar pattern. He retired to Windfields Farm in Canada (where he spent his first four seasons before moving to Windfields Farm in Maryland) as a 4-year-old in 1965. His first foal was Vice Regal, who was Canada's Horse of the Year as a 2-year-old in 1968 before enjoying a successful stud career which yielded 34 stakes winners. Northern Dancer's second crop then contained both Vice Regal's full-brother Vice Regent and Nijinsky. The former was only lightly raced but became a superb stallion (siring 60 stakes winners from 400 foals at a 15% ratio, a feat which saw him inducted into the Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame) while the latter propelled Northern Dancer to international stardom by winning the British Triple Crown in 1970. Nijinsky enjoyed a lengthy stud career, with Royal Academy, one of the best racehorse and best stallions whom he sired, being born when his father was 20. Northern Dancer was the same age when Sadler's Wells was born (and one year older when Sadler's Wells's brother Fairy King was born) and Sadler's Wells too proved almost ageless: he was 17 when Galileo (Ire) was born, 18 when High Chaparral (Ire) was born, 20 when Yeats (Ire) was born, and 22 when both Septimus (Ire) and Ask (Ire) were born. Mr. Prospector, incidentally, came from the same mould: he produced Northern Prospect in his first crop, Fappiano and Straight Strike in his second and Miswaki in his third; and then came up with Smart Strike when he was 22 and Fusaichi Pegasus when he was 27.

Twenty minutes before Preferment and Awesome Rock (Aus) (Fastnet Rock {Aus}) passed the post together in the Australian Cup, Peeping (Aus) (Redoute's Choice {Aus}) had won the day's Sydney feature, the G1 Coolmore Classic at Rosehill. By comparison, her sire is a youngster: Redoute's Choice was aged only 15 when she was born. However, time passes, and Redoute's Choice (now aged 19) has packed so much into his life that he can almost be viewed as the doyen of Australia's sire ranks.

Redoute's Choice is fully established as a sire of sires as well as a sire of racehorses, with his proven sons including the current leader of Australia's general sires' premiership, Not A Single Doubt (Aus) as well as Snitzel (Aus), Stratum (Aus), Nadeem (Aus) and the ill-fated Beneteau (Aus). The opening race on Flemington's Super Saturday card, the G3 Thoroughbred Breeders' S., was a good reminder of his influence, the quinella filled by Thyme For Roses (Aus) and Emphatically (Aus), daughters of Redoute's Choice and Not A Single Doubt, respectively.

Stallions, as we have observed, can become overlooked as they reach their 20s. However, Redoute's Choice is clearly going every bit as strong as ever--and, as Preferment has reminded us, there should be plenty of chapters still to be written in his annals over the coming years.

IVORY UPDATES ON GOOD FRIDAY PAIR

Trainer Dean Ivory issued updates Sunday on his pair Lancelot Du Lac (Ity) (Shamardal) and Kadrizzi (Fr) (Hurricane Cat), who are set to compete on the £1.1 million All-Weather Championship Finals Day at Lingfield Park Mar. 25.

Lancelot Du Lac will line up in the £150,000 Unibet All-Weather Sprint after winning a five-furlong fast-track qualifier at Chelmsford City Jan. 2, and Ivory said, "Lancelot Du Lac worked well on Friday and we are very pleased with him. It has been good to see the Chelmsford form working out so well. He is definitely more of a six-furlong horse but sometimes you have to go where the races are and take a chance, which is what we did.

He was very unlucky when he ran in the Unibet All-Weather Sprint Championships two years ago [finished eighth]. He was coming with his run but got caught for room on the rail a couple of times."

Kadrizzi will take his place in the £150,000 Unibet Three-Year-Old Sprint Championships, having won a fast-track qualifier Feb. 7. He finished second in a five-furlong Wolverhampton conditions race Mar. 4.

"It was a good, solid run at Wolverhampton last time," Ivory said. "A good horse beat him, although we got stuck on the rail, which is where we didn't want to be. I didn't overdo Kadrizzi for that either because the big one isn't that far away. I don't think he likes that Tapeta [at Wolverhampton] as it rides a bit slow. Providing we get a good draw, I think we will give the winner a run for his money back at Lingfield. [Jockey] Robert [Winston] said Kadrizzi is far better around there than at Wolverhampton."

TURGEON TURNS 30

By Emma Berry

A notable landmark was reached at Henri and Antonia Devin's Haras du Mesnil on Sunday when Turgeon (Caro) celebrated his official 30th birthday with a special carrot cake.

The George Strawbridge-bred veteran enjoyed a lengthy racing career, winning six of his 27 starts, including the G1 Irish St Leger and G1 Prix Royal Oak, across five seasons, and his stud career has been similarly enduring and noteworthy.

"The win prize money from his progeny is now at more than €22 million," said Antonia Devin. "That's €1 million per season he has been at stud."

Turgeon is still on active duty in France and already has mares scanned in foal this season. Antonia added, "He's covering every day and is just as fertile and still very supple. He's never seen a vet apart from for his annual swabs. He's been so good to us and we have some cracking foals on the ground this year. He's quite amazing."

Turgeon's influence as a stallion has been principally felt in the National Hunt field, with his top-rated son being the Jonjo O'Neill-trained G1 Lexus Chase winner Exotic Dancer (Fr). His high-class daughter Ma Filleule (Fr) is entered in next week's G1 Ryanair Chase at the Cheltenham Festival, where he will also feature as broodmare sire of leading G1 Stan James Champion Hurdle contender The New One (Ire) (King's Theatre {Ire}) and of the Antonia Devin-bred exciting young hurdler Politologue (Fr) (Poliglote {GB}).
