A LIFE FORCE THAT NO CONTINENT COULD CONTAIN

John and Alice Chandler at the 2009 Eclipse Award | Horsephotos

by Chris McGrath

As an epitaph of his own, it would do this most accomplished of men a scandalous injustice. Yet to his countless friends on the Turf-now as united in grief as they happen to be divided by oceans-an opinion once shared by Dr. John Chandler feels like a perfect way to remember him. Because they will not be able to read the words without hearing his voice; without smiling to themselves, to be reminded of his playful, self-deprecating nature; of that almost audible twinkle.

Dr. Chandler died Thursday in Lexington, Kentucky at the age of 86. Please see his obituary on p5.

"I have made no contribution to mankind," he declared in 2019. "I have spent my entire life trying to find a horse to run from point A to point B faster than another horse. What a pointless thing in the grand scheme of the world."

That, of course, is a rebuke we might all turn on ourselves. But how many of us, on the other side of the ledger, could set such an extraordinary column of fulfilment? Very few could chart such an epic professional journey; and fewer yet could have enriched its course by such good companionship, at every point of the compass.

MIDWAY LANE WINS NATIVE DIVER THRILLER OVER MR. A. P. by Patrycja Szpyra

Turning for home, it looked like Mr. A. P. (American Pharoah) was well on his way to winning his first graded stakes in the GIII Native Diver at Del Mar, but denial in the form of Hronis Racing's Midway Lane (Quality Road) was slowly inching closer as the wire approached. The pair streaked in noses apart, and it was the nostrils of the latter that got down first to claim his first black-type Saturday afternoon.

Midway Lane started his 2026 a nose second against Maiden $50,000 claimers on the grass at Santa Anita, and steadily improved his Beyers as the year went on. By the time summer had rolled in after he broke his maiden Apr. 19 over the main track, he'd run a 95 when defeating optional claiming company at the Great Race Place June 5 and held that form for all three following races save for his lone re-attempt at the grass two back Aug. 30. Midway Lane came into this contest with a 96 Beyer after defeating starter allowance company last out Oct. 10. Cont., p7

It cannot be a coincidence that so many of the global industry's great achievers should at various stages have found their own paths running so closely alongside that of "Doc" Chandler. His counsel, reflecting exceptional breadth of experience, was especially prized by the late Prince Khalid Abdullah, the late founder of Juddmonte, as long-serving president of its American division. But if that role introduced him to Bobby Frankel, for instance, he had long counted among his dearest friends another trainer of genius in Sir Henry Cecil.

Cecil Boyd-Rochfort's stepson and assistant was among Chandler's Newmarket drinking buddies after he paid £50 for a passage on the Southern Cross from Cape Town to Southampton in 1964. Though raised and educated in urban Pretoria, his vocation as an equine veterinarian had felt transparent since boyhood. Even before veterinary college, he had learned much from working holidays on the Birch brothers' farm in the Eastern Cape. They gave him a couple of Thoroughbreds that had been proscribed as bleeders, and he took them up to the Northern Transvaal for bush racing. On one occasion he ran third in the first race, at 11:00, and won the sixth at 5:00-with the same horse.

Doc never lost that ability to blend in different environments: after three years in Newmarket, he immersed himself as naturally in the Bluegrass after hooking up with Ed Fallon at Hagyard, Davidson and McGee.

While his cosmopolitan resume made him ideally qualified to develop the nascent Juddmonte program, that first job in Lexington ultimately forged a still more important connection.

Fallon's father had managed Beaumont for Hal Price Headley, and when the latter's daughter Alice established Mill Ridge on an inherited tract of that storied farm, she duly became Fallon's principal client. One day Chandler accompanied Fallon to examine some mares.

"And Alice got in the front seat of the car," Chandler recalled later. "A good-looking woman, and horsey: my kind of woman! Very smart. And she knew what she wanted."

Luckily for Chandler, it would turn out that he himself fell squarely under that description. Their marriage flourished all the way through to Alice's death five years ago. According to "Doc," part of their secret was to divide their shared professional skills into strictly demarcated channels: he was consumed by his duties at Juddmonte, she by her pioneering success in a market historically dominated by men.

That said, a character as congenial and benign as "Doc" could not fail to become integral to Mill Ridge's reputation as a family concern.

Cont.

John Chandler and Bobby Frankel | Horsephotos

He was especially proud of the many young people who learned the ropes there before graduating to senior industry roles around the world, all of whom preserved a lasting affection and reverence for "Doc." For this was a man who transcended generations much as he did continents and cultures. He had the broadest of horizons, sometime to a surprising degree. If his devotion to the Springboks rugby team was natural, he would follow snooker tournaments in Britain just as closely.

"There were few subjects about which he didn't know something," noted one good friend many years his junior. "And he was never dull company. He had a wealth of stories and, no slave to 'wokeism', these could take any direction-often accompanied by a mischievous smile on the narrator's face."

But "Doc" absolutely knew when a situation called for discretion. He had always remained a close confidante of Prince Khalid; and became a friend of many Mill Ridge clients, including the late Queen Elizabeth II and Lord Howard de Walden, who bred the farm's flagship stallion Diesis.

Until declining health made travel more difficult, he would return to Britain for three dates ritually circled in his diary: Royal Ascot, the York Ebor meeting, and the December Sales in Newmarket. His friends over the water would look forward to these visits no less ardently. As a time and place indelibly associated with "Doc," Tattersalls over the next couple will naturally heighten their sense of loss. By the same token, it will also evoke all the vigor and sense of fun that sustained him even through advancing years-and doubtless prompt many a consoling memory, many an uproarious story.

To those he had left behind, "Doc" remained a treasured, vital presence long after departing his homeland, long after departing Newmarket, long after retirement. And that will prove no less true, now that he has extended a final farewell across three continents.

NOTED HORSEMAN DR. JOHN CHANDLER DIES

Internationally prominent horseman Dr. John Chandler passed away peacefully in Lexington, Kentucky, on Thursday, November 19, according to a press release from Mill Ridge Farm. He was 86 years old.

Dr. Chandler, affectionately known as "Doc", was born and grew up in Pretoria, South Africa, where he qualified as a vet. He traveled by boat to England in the 1960s and began as a small-animal vet in Norfolk before getting a job in Newmarket with Fred Day. After a December sale, he hitched a ride to the U.S. in an air freighter with 30 broodmares and then jumped in a van bound for Kentucky.

Here he had an introduction to Professor Jack Bryans, an equine researcher at the University of Kentucky, who introduced him to his brother-in-law Ed Fallon. The two hit it off at once and--after crisscrossing the nation with a 99-day, $99 Greyhound bus pass--Chandler was offered a job in Fallon's practice, Hagyard, Davidson and McGee. This is when Doc met Alice Chandler and married her in 1972--they were devoted to each other for the rest of their days. Their marriage of 49 years was defined by a sense of adventure, passion for the horse, and the sport of Thoroughbred racing.

After marrying Alice, Chandler help grow her family's Mill Ridge Farm to board mares for many of the most prominent breeders of the day, including all of the Maktoum brothers, Prince Fahd Salman, Prince Ahmed Salman, Juddmonte, and the late Queen Elizabeth, who was extremely fond of John and Alice. Diesis, bred by John's friend and client Lord Howard de Walden, was a flagship stallion in the 1980s and 1990s for Mill Ridge, siring three winners of the Epsom Oaks, while Gone West proved equally successful on both sides of the Atlantic in the same era.

Chandler met Prince Khalid Abdullah in the early days of his involvement in racing. He initially vetted for the Prince at the sales but, after creating a great impression on his principal, he was retained by Juddmonte in 1982 and eventually appointed to the role of President of Juddmonte.

A loyal confidant to Prince Khalid for the rest of his life, Chandler vetted many of the Juddmonte foundation mares and yearlings bought at sales by James Delahooke and Guy Harwood. He was involved in the purchase of Juddmonte's U.S. base, Ferrans Stud in Ireland and Banstead Manor outside Newmarket as Juddmonte grew into one of the world's most successful breeding operations. He also set up Prince Khalid's highly successful racing operation in the US, initially with trainers Bobby Frankel and Ron McAnally.

Chandler enjoyed success as an owner and breeder himself with Cetewayo, who retired a multiple graded stakes winner. He jointly owned the 1998 Kentucky Oaks winner Keeper Hill. More recently, he bred 2023 Breeders' Cup Turf Sprint winner Nobals and multiple graded stakes winner World Beater, winner of the 2025 Saratoga Derby.

Chandler enjoyed a wide-ranging and eclectic set of interests--there were few subjects about which he did not know something--and had a positive impact on the lives of myriad people he encountered throughout his life. He was especially proud of the many young people who spent time working at Mill Ridge and went on to senior roles in the bloodstock industry around the world. They in turn continued to look up to him with great reverence and affection.

It is difficult to be more eloquent than Chris McGrath, who wrote about him in the TDN in 2019, where he captured Chandler's humble prose. Doc, he noted, said, "We're very lucky. Things sort of seem to turn out right. We seem to have bumbled through. It's all a long time ago now." Cont.

“I knew Teddy [Lord Grimthorpe, the Prince's racing manager in Newmarket] when he was starting as a junior, at the BBA. But there's two things I do better than most in the world. I can procrastinate, and I can delegate. Garrett is a very capable man, absolutely great, and has been here a long time himself now."

Everyone who knows and admires Chandler-and those will essentially be coterminous groups-will attest that even the immense quantity of his experience dwindles next to the quality of its application...A minute of Doc's company will teach you more than a week with a lesser man.

"I have made no contribution to mankind," he insists. "I have spent my entire life trying to find a horse to run from point A to point B faster than another horse. What a pointless thing in the grand scheme of the world."

But it's precisely because he disparages himself so earnestly that we cherish him all the more. For the rest of us, the hope that we might waste our lives so usefully will remain a forlorn one.

Chandler lived a fascinating life and left a deep impression on the many people who knew and loved him. He is survived by his sister, Joan Kathleen Nixon and her children Anthea Nixon, Bruce Nixon, John Nixon and Debbie Grace; Alice's children Michael Bell (Bill), Headley Bell (Nancy), Reynolds Bell (Susan) and Patricia McDowell; and many grandchildren and great grandchildren. Doc is also survived by his close friend Lucy Young Hamilton.

Services will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday, November 28 at Milward's on Broadway in Lexington, Kentucky with a Celebration of Life to follow at The Thoroughbred Club. The pallbearers will be Bill Thomason, Garrett O'Rourke, Dr. Luke Fallon, Duncan Macdonald, Jonathan Mitchell, and Randy Cuzick. In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made to: Lexington Humane Society, Woodford Humane Society or Bluegrass Care Navigators.

Sent away from the blocks here as an 8-1 choice, he was content to watch from just off the action as anticipated frontrunner Pony Express (Gun Runner) did just that to lead the procession through an opening quarter in :23.47, a half in :47.78, and six furlongs in 1:11.87 with Mr. A. P. never far away from that pacesetter. Coming under a drive on the far bend, but not immediately responding, Midway Lane swung in from the two path and finally began making up ground on Mr. A. P., who had built up an advantage with a furlong out. Relentlessly closing the gap, and really moving inside the final sixteenth, the winner dove down at the last second to win the photo.

"I told Juan [Hernandez] to just sit chilly--that it's probably going to be a little too far for the other horse, and don't attack him too early," said Juan Leyva, the assistant to John Sadler. "He rode a wonderful race. He sat patiently and when he asked his horse to pick it up, he really did. We never thought distance was a problem with this horse. We always had high hopes for him. It just took him a long time to mature and to run the way he's running now. I think right now he's at the top of his game."

The Native Diver is the third stakes win of the meet for Hernandez and the first for Sadler. The former claims 82 stakes wins at Del Mar and the latter has 96, the second most among all trainers. This is Sadler's first Native Diver win.

Pedigree Notes:

Midway Lane is the third stakes horse to make the races for two-time Canadian champion Roxy Gap behind elder sisters GSW Cafe Americano (Medaglia d'Oro) and MGSP Angelou (Curlin), both of whom have since joined the breeding ranks. The former is the mother of SP Lavender Disaster (Into Mischief) while the latter's eldest is a yearling filly named Queen Lalo (Flightline).

The dam's first to the races, Sly Roxy (Speightstown), was also a winner and went on to produce SW Lugan Knight (Goldencents).

Roxy Gap produced the unplaced Roxy Power (Justify) after this winner as well as a yearling colt by Forte and a 2026 American Pharoah colt. She went to Twirling Candy for 2027.

DEL MAR NOTES: WHO'S RETIRING, WHO'S RETURNING

Richard Baltas and Ag Bullet | Katie Petrunyak

With the racing season winding down for many operations as the end of the year approaches, California-based connections took the time Saturday to reveal which of their stable stars are retiring and who will be returning for 2027.

Of those with decisions already made, Richard Baltas's Sweet Azteca (Sharp Azteca) has been retired from racing. His other star Ag Bullet (Twirling Candy) is lined up for a date with Not This Time in 2027, but could run one more time before she's bred next year.

"We're just going to see how she is," said Baltas. "[Ag Bullet] could run here. She's going to be bred to Not This Time."

The Bob Baffert barn lost Breeders' Cup champion Splendora (Audible) to retirement, though no specifics about who she'd visit in the breeding shed and where she'd reside were immediately mentioned.

Of those returning to the track, many are fan-favorites and longtime barn staples, including Gold Phoenix (Ire) (Belardo {Ire}), who is scheduled to start in the GII Hollywood Turf Cup next weekend. Pending the results of that race, the connections will reportedly make a decision about another campaign in 2027. Listenupshance (Shancelot) and Cabo Spirit (Pioneerof the Nile) will return to racing next season as well as Full Serrano (Arg) (Full Mast) and Super Corredora (Gun Runner).

The Baffert barn will see Hughes (Into Mischief) and Miss Monica (Early Voting) returning for 3-year-old campaigns with eyes on the Derby and Oaks, though the conditioner has already gone on record to say that their juvenile year is done.

"They're back in California," the Hall of Fame trainer says. "They look great. Just gotta freshen them up."

Two Graham Motion runners with respectable California records are expected to return to racing, and are scheduled to make appearances in the coming weeks--namely Warming (Global Campaign) and Test Score (Lookin At Lucky). The former is nominated to the GI Matriarch Stakes Sunday, Nov. 29.

"Yes, all being well, she will race next year," Motion says of Warming.

Test Score is being pointed to a defense of his crown in the GI Pegasus World Cup Turf at Gulfstream in January.

Gramp's Legacy | Coady Media

GRAMP'S LEGACY RUNS COMMONWEALTH TURF FIELD OFF THEIR FEET IN STAKES DEBUT by Patrycja Szpyra

He was the lone speed in the GIII Commonwealth Turf Stakes, and when push came to shove, they couldn't catch Gramp's Legacy (Funtastic) as he posted a frontrunning masterclass en route to his first stakes victory.

Named for owner/breeder Tyler Sliney's late father, who, according to Sliney, had a 'legacy' of more than 40 grandchildren, the Virginia-bred grey entered this contest on a three-race win streak he'd cultivated at Colonial. Trainer Jeremiah O'Dwyer clearly had big plans for his gelding as the son of Funtastic had been cross entered into the GII Old Dominion Derby (which he was scratched from in favor of a salty handicap two days prior) and ended up on the outside looking in for the GII Bryan Station Stakes at Keeneland in late October.

A 6-1 shot by the time the gates opened, as the lion's share of the action went to 'TDN Rising Star, presented by Hagyard' Remember Mamba (Kitten's Joy) at 3-5 favoritism, Gramp's Legacy quickly stepped out to assume command. The 7-2 second choice Fuzzbuster (Tiz the Law) was never far behind as the betting choice watched the action from third through a slow pace of :24.26, :50.45, and six panels in 1:15.35. Well in hand as they swung for home, he re-broke in the lane when asked for his best and had plenty to hold off Remember Mamba on the line. Fuzzbuster was a well-beaten third.

Gramp's Legacy collected his first black-type of any kind with this win and it was O'Dwyer's fourth graded win in his career. The latter had previously won the 2019 GII Remsen Stakes with Shotski and the 2022-23 editions of the GIII Mr Prospector Stakes with Sibelius.

"I just wanted to set easy fractions because I knew Remember Mamba would be coming," said winning rider Johan Rosado, who was jubilant on the line after picking up his first graded victory. "I kept him comfortable all the way around there and had plenty left down the lane."

"We tried to run him in the [GII] Bryan Station at Keeneland but drew on the also-eligible list," said O'Dwyer. "Even if we got in, we probably wouldn't have run with the outside draw and the loose ground that day. The owners have been so great because they've been patient and let me to take my time and pick our right spots. It's great all of that was rewarded today winning a Grade III at Churchill Downs."

Pedigree Notes:

The victor is the most accomplished offspring for his dam and her first stakes runner as well as being the last registered foal. Ridgester is herself out of a half-sister to GSW Moon Catcher (Malibu Moon), the mother of 17-time winner SP Bobby G (Awesome Again) and MSP Classic Catch (Classic Empire). The second dam is also a half-sister to 11-time winner SW Smarten Up (Baederwood).

GROUND SUPPORT FINDS THE LINE JUST IN TIME IN PEBBLES by Patrycja Szpyra

They were coming fast late, but Lady Luck was on her side. It took everything she had to hold on, but Ground Support (Army Mule) got the job done, taking the GIII Pebbles Stakes at Belmont Park to claim her second consecutive graded race.

The dominant victress in one of the divisions of the GIII Glen Cove Stakes last out Oct. 25 over this course, she'd hit the board in the GII Music City Stakes at Kentucky Downs two races prior Sept. 5 after starting her 2026 with two out-of-the-money efforts against stakes company at Churchill Downs and Del Mar. She ended her juvenile season with a third-place mark in the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies Turf.

Breaking well and immediate out to secure the coveted spot on the fence, Ground Support strolled into the lead through an opening quarter in :23.62. The even-money favorite largely had things her own way into the far bend and posted a half in :46.37 with 22-1 longshot Victory Hall (Independence Hall) on her heels.

Cut loose in the lane, she opened up on the field as That's How We Love (Justify) kicked into gear from the back of the pack to split Victory Hall and Candy Rockette (Constitution) inside the final sixteenth. Leg weary late, but with the line coming fast, Ground Support held on late to score. Candy Rockette won the scramble for the minors over That's How We Love by a nose.

Ground Support | Coglianese

"There wasn't that much pace, you're on the inside with probably the best horse, so you've kind of got to go, right?" said trainer Kelsey Danner. "She's a little headstrong, so she's happy out on the lead, too. [Adam Beschizza] rides her well. He's not scared of her--on the post parade, she can have some antics which other jocks might not appreciate."

Beschizza confirmed said pre-race antics where a bit strange, but that he's learned to work with it. "She is very highly strung. Weird type of individual, like most fillies would go over the top if they acted that way, [but it] seems to just get her warmed up. That's just her pre-race. For some reason, it helps her lock in. I mean I've never seen it before, but she is one of a kind."

Danner indicated that she was debating pointing toward a potential start in the Her Last Hurrah Stakes Dec. 26 when asked about what might be in her budding star's future. "There's a 3-year-old stakes at the end of December at Turfway--that might be where we go. That's where she's been breezing for years now at this point."

When asked about her winter plans to keep a string of 12 runners at Belmont Park to race on the local Tapeta, Danner said, "I think it's the safest surface out there. I train on it the majority of the time year round. I start all my 2-year-olds on it. I like it."

"He [the racing secretary] wrote different distances, so I think it will help me with Turfway--he's written outside the normal which will help me a little bit. New York has always been kind to me."

Pedigree Notes:

Ground Support is her dam's first black type runner, but is also a half-sister to a graded producer as Catenaria (Bernardini) is the mother of SW & MGSP San Siro (Classic Empire). Their dam, who's produced six winners, is a Graded-placed half to two other stakes horses and a stakes producer--the latter being the mother of GSP Street of Dreams (Street Sense). Arch Support (Arch) has had a string of poor breeding luck since this victress hit the ground--she's missed every covering since 2023, but was sent to Disarm for 2027.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

CALIFORNIA RACING CANNOT AFFORD TO STAND STILL

California racing is at a crossroads. The challenges facing our industry are real, and the decisions we make today will have a lasting impact on its future. In my view, we need to stop looking at these challenges through the lens of individual interests and start looking at what is best for the long-term health of California racing as a whole.

My family has been involved in California racing for more than 65 years. We own and operate a farm that, at its peak, boarded 180 horses. Today, that number averages 45. When our farm was built in 2001, California had more than 5,000 mares being bred annually. Today, that number is approximately 1,100.

Those numbers tell a sobering story. I don't need to read about the challenges facing California racing. My family and I have lived them. Like so many others in this industry, we have had to adapt to a changing business.

I have also had the opportunity to serve on the CTBA Board, including as Treasurer, and currently serve as Chair of the TOC Racing Committee. Those experiences have given me a perspective on the challenges facing both California breeders and the broader racing industry.

I strongly believe we must protect and strengthen California's breeding program. California-breds are an essential part of our industry's identity and future. There have been meaningful efforts to improve opportunities for them, including allowing horses to win the one-other-than condition twice and working to provide consistent and competitive race opportunities.

It is encouraging that a California-bred maiden will be competing for a purse of more than $72,000 in the coming year. Not long ago, many would have considered that difficult to imagine. Cont.

Benoit

When you also consider Breeders' Awards, Stallion Awards, and the Maiden Bonus Program, there are substantial financial incentives to own and breed a California-bred horse. That is meaningful support for our breeders, and we need to continue building on it.

I also believe we have an important opportunity in front of us that should not be wasted.

The recent sale of the Associations building generated approximately $6.5 million for its members. Those funds belong to the breeders, large and small, who have supported California racing over the years. They represent an opportunity to make a meaningful investment in the future of California breeding. As far back as 2023, I recommended a Stay-N-Breed program to the CTBA as one possible way to help address the declining number of mares in California.

The question is straightforward: If not now, when will they make a meaningful and impactful investment using the members' funds?

We should also recognize that, as membership continues to decline, delaying the use of these funds could ultimately result in a distribution that disproportionately benefits larger breeders rather than making an investment in the broader breeding community. These resources should be used thoughtfully and strategically to help rebuild the foundation of California breeding.

But protecting California-breds is only part of the equation.

California racing is also facing increasingly stiff competition when it comes to attracting and retaining non-California-bred horses. These horses are an important part of our racing population. They help fill fields, strengthen racing programs, support wagering, and contribute to the overall quality and competitiveness of our racing.

We cannot ignore that reality. If we want to slow the outflow of horses and owners and create an environment that encourages more horses to come to California, we have to be willing to examine how we do business.

Our resources are finite. We cannot simply keep doing things the way we have always done them and expect different results. Doing something the same way for more than 20 years is not adaptive marketing. It is the failed path of businesses that refuse to recognize when the market has changed.

That means taking a hard look at our purse structure and how available dollars are distributed. Extending payments through seventh place, increasing minimum payouts in lower-purse races, and addressing short fields where wagering revenue does not support the original purse allocation are examples of adjustments that can help make California racing more competitive.

Not every decision will be perfect, and reasonable people can disagree about the best approach. But the objective should be to make the most effective use of the resources available to us, retain the horses we have, and attract the horses we need.

I don't believe this is a choice between California-breds and non-California-breds. Nor should it be a competition between breeders, owners, trainers, or other segments of our industry. We need a healthy California breeding program, but we also need a healthy racing program that gives owners and horsemen a reason to invest here.

The two are connected. Neither can thrive without the other. Ultimately, we all want the same thing: a stronger, healthier, and more sustainable California racing industry. Getting there will require difficult decisions, thoughtful adjustments, and a willingness to look beyond our individual interests.

I welcome constructive criticism and open discussion. There is always room to improve our approach. But what we cannot afford to do is stand still while the industry continues to contract around us.

Doing nothing is not a strategy. And the time to act is now.

Tim Cohen is the owner of Rancho Temescal, a 4,000-acre Thoroughbred farm in Ventura County, California.

WORKERS' COMP RATES REMAIN UNCHANGED IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA, NEW PURSE DISTRIBUTION PERCENTAGES INTRODUCED

Edited Press Release

There will be no increase in the horse industry's workers' compensation program covering backstretch workers and jockeys at the start of 2027, Post Time Self Insurance Group (PTSIG) announced Saturday afternoon.

The owners' per-start fee will remain $174 for calendar year 2027. The fee will continue to be automatically deducted from the owner's paymaster account when a horse competes in a race in California. Owners have the right to opt out of the Post Time Self Insurance program, provided they secure workers' compensation coverage to comply with the California Horse Racing Board (CHRB) requirement.

The base rate for the per-stall fee will remain $5.50 per day for calendar year 2027 after previously being raised from the $5 per day rate during the 2024 and 2025 seasons.

Guaranteed participation purse money has been adjusted upward effective Dec. 26, 2026, with newly established minimums for horses finishing third through seventh. Horses finishing eighth or worse will continue to receive $500.

Guaranteed participation purse money is designed to help owners cover core costs such as workers' compensation insurance and jockey mount fee. Click here to see the attached 2027 Participation Purse Schedule for complete information.

Iron Palace (Palace Malice) is coming off a clunker in an allowance race, but the fact that trainer George Weaver runs him right back and put a strong work into the colt on Nov. 15 is a good sign. He turned in a strong effort in the Bricks and Mortar Stakes and looks like the lone speed in here. Print (Munnings) doesn't win often but, based on the Beyer figures, you can make a case that he's the fastest horse in this race. Chaos Agent (Independence Hall) is another coming off a poor effort, but will be tough if running back to his win on grass in the Toronto Cup.

Trainer Bob Baffert, who also handled Indian Blessing's career, will also send out her daughter here for the Earnhardts.

From the last mare of a champion to the first, Dragon Reign (Constitution) is the first to the track for another Eclipse-winning sprinter in Ce Ce who was honored in 2021 for a season which culminated in a GI Breeders' Cup Filly and Mare Sprint win. Like Bunners, Dragon Reign will be guided by her dam's trainer in Michael McCarthy for owner/breeder Bo Hirsch. TJCIS PPS

TATTERSALLS DECEMBER MARES SALE 30 Nov – 2 Dec 2026
SCEPTRE SESSIONS for ELITE FILLIES & BROODMARES

NORRIS BLOODSTOCK ADDS PASTURES NEW TO THRIVING OPERATION

Jenny Norris | Tattersalls/Laura Green

By Emma Berry

On the sales scene, the name Norris Bloodstock barely needs an introduction. After all, Jenny Norris, widely acknowledged as a master of the art of preparing horses for sale, has topped Book 1 twice and made a splash in the early days of Frankel fever when selling Oaks winner Dancing Rain in foal to the Juddmonte champion for 4,000,000gns.

The latter was under the name of Clairemont Stud, which she managed for Dancing Rain's owners Martin and Lee Taylor. Now having operated under her own Norris Bloodstock banner for more than a decade, the breeder and consignor has in recent weeks dramatically increased the amount of land at her disposal since taking on the lease of Clanville Stud, close to her main base at Redenham Park Stud in Hampshire.

"It's really exciting," she says. "With Redenham, I'd been looking for a little bit more land for a while, and I'd been in touch with Windsor Clive and kept reminding them every six months or so to keep an eye out for me.

"I don't want to have hundreds of horses, that's not at all what I want to do." Cont. p3

MALAYAN TOPS FINAL DAY AS GOFFS NOVEMBER SALE CLOSES ON A HIGH

The €105,000 Malayan (Expert Eye) - sold in foal to Sands Of Mali - headlined the final day of the Goffs November Sale to Peter and Ross Doyle. Malayan's Sioux Nation filly had already played a star role on the opening day of the foal session when selling to Redpender Stud for €130,000.

Meanwhile, the inaugural Chicquita Session, which took place on Friday and recorded a €5,482,500 turnover, played a massive role in the year-on-year gains for the entire sale. All told, the mares sale enjoyed an 8% rise in turnover to €13,115,300 while the €54,196 average was up by 19% and the €25,000 median represented a 25% rise.

Goffs chief Henry Beeby commented, "Once again, the Goffs November Sale has proved to be a sale of positivity, depth and vibrancy. We are so grateful to every vendor, in both categories, for the choice they made to come to Goffs. We take nothing for granted and value every lot." Cont. p5

Norris adds, "I would take on a few more as some of my clients have retired some of their mares, but I like to keep the numbers to a sensible level as I just feel the way that the summers are going, with the droughts, and feeding hay in the summer, it's becoming more of a concern. The horses seem to cope very well with the weather, and they all look fabulous, but it is just something to consider."

Norris signed the lease on the 120-acre Clanville Stud in early November, extending her acreage to 200 across both farms. Previously owned by Lady Bland, Clanville, close to Andover, has in recent years been leased by Stephen Kemble.

She continues, "When Clanville came up - two miles down the road - it seemed silly not to take a chance, because it may never come up again. So I am delighted that David and Rebecca Robinson have agreed to let me lease the farm and Windsor Clive did a very good job in helping to secure the deal.

"It's beautiful land with some fabulous trees and really good high hedges, so I think it will complement Redenham really well. I've been getting to know the farm and we have moved a few mares over already. We have got a big 25-acre paddock with just 10 heavy mares in, and it is just fabulous walking around, checking them."

With Norris living on site at Redenham Park Stud, her broodmare manager Harriet Fenn has taken up residence at Clanville.

Mares at Clanville Stud | Norris Bloodstock

"I've got a fabulous team who've all been with me for a good few years now, and we all get on very, very well, which is great," she says. "It's incredibly important because you can't do it on your own, but they all seem to share the same enthusiasm of wanting to look after the horses to the best of our ability. It's all about trying to produce racehorses and happy, healthy horses."

Among her longstanding clients are Clive and Tina Cox and Victoria and Anthony Pakenham, while Clive and Laura Washbourn have recently joined the Norris Bloodstock fold.

"Clive and Laura are very much owner-breeders and want to expand that side of it. They're buying a property in the area and want to be able to see their horses regularly, and they're so enthusiastic," says Norris. "When you get people who are enthusiastic you want to do a good job for them. I've got a really good bunch of owners who I've had for a good while. Ralph Beckett used to send horses to Stephen Kemble for spelling, so that will continue, and I've had some yearlings from Clive Cox, as well as having a few mares for him. It's just been great to be able to offer that facility with the extra acreage at Clanville."

Over the next few weeks, Norris won't see much of either farm as she will be at Tattersalls in her usual spot in Highflyer M with a draft of five yearlings, 17 foals and nine fillies and mares. Among her entries the eye is immediately drawn to a weanling colt from the final crop of Wootton Bassett out of the Arch mare Archangel Gabriel, whose five winning offspring include the G3 Pride Stakes winner Ville De Grace.

"He is the star of the show and it is a real pleasure to have him, though it is getting increasingly nerve-wracking as the sale approaches," she admits of lot 898. "I've sold horses for [his breeder] Stephen Smith of Hunscote Stud for a few years now, and he and Andy [Lloyd, manager] are great to deal with."

Two years ago, Norris offered the colt's half-brother by Frankel, who sold for 700,000gns - one of four six-figure foals from Archangel Gabriel she has sold for Hunscote, including this year's Group 2-placed Charles Fort (St Mark's Basilica). She also offered Ville De Grace on Hunscote's behalf at the December Mares Sale of 2022, and the daughter of Le Havre was bought by One Agency for 2,000,000gns.

"Archangel Gabriel has been a very successful commercial mare for them and she's in foal to Sioux Nation," Norris adds.

It's not only clients' foals she will be selling either, as she offers a homebred Dark Angel filly out of Nel (Churchill), a half-sister to multiple Hong Kong Group 1 winner Exultant (Teofilo).

"It's great to do it for other people but it's good fun to do it for yourself as well. I would love to be able to keep the Dark Angel filly. I know I'm biased but I do think she's very nice, and I think she'll be a very smart yearling. She is a foal-share though, so let's see how things go.

"Katy Nolan and I own Twice and we're selling her Ghaiyyath colt, and Conor [Norris] and I own Dhuma, and her Kameko filly is in on Saturday. But across the whole draft I would say there's something for everybody. There's a couple by first-season sires and then some good proven sires, and I had to get a Harry Angel in there somewhere!"

A big fan of the Darley stallion, Norris foaled, raised and sold this year's Marygate Stakes runner-up Harry's Girl, while the G1 Poule d'Essai des Poulains third Hankelow (Night Of Thunder), winner of last year's G3 Autumn Stakes, was another of her foal sale graduates on behalf of breeder George Kent.

Like many in the business, Norris has been encouraged to see a strong start to the foal sale season over the past week at Goffs.

"It seems like there's plenty of people diving back in," she says. "This industry is so resilient. I know that at the end of every sale everybody will tell a slightly different story as to whether they've done well, or just about washed their faces, or not had a great time, but everybody keeps coming back for more and keeps trying. It's incredible really."

He added, "We are delighted with the first Chicquita Session which made a hugely encouraging start yesterday. An average price of over €300,000 together with a top price of €760,000 is a very solid foundation upon which to build, while the atmosphere in the ring was electric with buyers from all over the world competing for the high-class inaugural draft. Several participants also appreciated the timing of the session as it concluded around 5pm which allowed the sale's momentum to continue at a sensible hour."

He added, "The vendors supported the concept and put their faith in Goffs, and for this we are enormously grateful especially when they had other options available to them. The Chicquita Session means a huge amount to the team, and we have made no secret of our ambition to become the clear first choice for elite Irish fillies and mares, so we look forward to building on this success in future years having laid down a very clear marker."

Henry Beeby | Goffs

Friday's Chiquita Session was topped by Justify mare Butterfly Wings, sold in foal to Starspangledbanner to Blandford Bloodstock's Tom Goff for €760,000, while Haras du Cadran also paid €720,000 for the Group 1-placed Flirting Bridge, who is in foal to No Nay Never.

Beeby concluded, "The Chicquita Session was the centrepiece of a strong Breeding Stock Sale which followed another superb renewal of the Foal Sale with both catalogues clearly illustrating that Goffs November is the measure of any sale for the category. The plethora of positive comments from both vendors and purchasers endorse such a sentiment and demonstrate that we can and will provide a global market for the best Irish bloodlines when we have the horses. I recognise that I keep saying it, but the truth is the whole team at Goffs are passionate about delivering for Irish breeders and we get so much pleasure when we see the genuine joy that so many derived from their sales results this week." Cont. p6

as these true professionals go about their day with a smile and a "no problem, it's a pleasure" time after time. We all know about the supreme horsemanship of Irish people and that is coupled with a positivity that makes each sale that much more enjoyable and just so uplifting.

"Goffs is the gateway to the world for Irish breeders" has been a line we have used over the years, and it was never truer than 2026 so I also salute the great work of Irish Thoroughbred Marketing who, in tandem with the Goffs Purchaser Attraction Team, make each trip to Kildare both productive and enjoyable for so many from afar. Again, positive customer feedback speaks for itself and that has been plentiful as so many comment on the unique customer service they enjoy at each Goffs sale. We thank each one and look forward to the next time."

He added, "The sales bandwagon rolls on and seems ever more intense each year, so I want to acknowledge the handlers of the mares and foals who come to work in the dark and leave late into the evening at this time of year, working tirelessly and with enormous efficiency in between. Often with hundreds of shows per lot each day, it is inspiring to see so many happy faces

WORLDWIDE NEWS

ROMANTIC WARRIOR TO BE HONOURED ON NOVEMBER 22

Romantic Warrior will be celebrated on Sunday | HKJC

Romantic Warrior will be the 17th horse to receive the Hong Kong Jockey Club's highest accolade, the Lifetime Achievement Award, in a retirement ceremony at Sha Tin on November 22.

The son of Acclamation, a winner of 15 Group 1 races during his career, a Hong Kong record, is the joint-Horse of the Year with Ka Ying Rising (Shamexpress). He was retired earlier this year and currently holds the world record for prize-money.

Danny Shum, who trained the dual Hong Kong Horse of the Year (2023/24 & 2025/26) to top-level wins in Hong Kong, Australia, Japan and the Middle East, said, "Thank you to the Hong Kong Jockey Club for honouring him with this ceremony – he deserves it. I'm thankful to the owner, my team, my family – my wife and son – and all the fans, and of course, J-Mac – I'm happy he's here, too. Everyone will be there – it's perfect."

The retirement ceremony will take place after Race 3 in the parade ring at Sha Tin, where owner Peter Lau will accept Romantic Warrior's Lifetime Achievement Award. The popular gelding earned HK$288.74 million (approx. £28 million) across 31 starts. He dominated the G1 Longines Hong Kong Cup (1m2f/2000m) with an unmatched four successive wins from 2022 to 2025, each time with James McDonald aboard.

"I have to say thank you to Romantic Warrior," added Shum. "Everyone loves him. He's amazing – unforgettable.

"He will go to Australia after the [Longines Hong Kong] International Races. He will quarantine first in Hong Kong and then he will quarantine in Australia when he arrives."
