BAFFERT LOOKS TO CONTINUE 'IMPROBABLE' STREAK AT LOS AL

Improbable | Coady Photography

Bob Baffert certainly didn't have much trouble winning the GI Hollywood/Cash Call Futurity at Hollywood Park, taking the trophy home six times. Since that event has moved to Los Alamitos, however, Baffert has been perfect, capturing the new Los Alamitos Futurity four times in four runnings. Saturday, he appears likely to push that record to five-for-five with an imposing duo in the six-horse affair.

The most probable winner is, ironically, Improbable (City Zip). Getting up to score by a neck when debuting at 2-5 Sept. 29 at Santa Anita, the $200,000 Keeneland September graduate earned a 'TDN Rising Star' nod when romping by 7 1/4 impressive lengths in the Street Sense S. Nov. 2 at Churchill. The chestnut hasn't missed a beat since then, showing four workouts, including a best-of-67 five-furlong breeze in :59 4/5 Dec. 3 in Arcadia.

Should Improbable not be up to the challenge, Baffert also starts another stakes-winning 'Rising Star' in Michael Lund Petersen's Mucho Gusto (Mucho Macho Man). Hammering for a whopping $625,000--62 1/2 times his sire's stud fee--at Fasig-Tipton Midlantic after a :21 1/5 quarter-mile breeze, the chestnut debuted with a four-length success at even-money over this track Sept. 20, and stayed unblemished with a front-running score in the GIII Bob Hope S. Nov. 17 at Del Mar.

WHY RASHAD JONES IS OCALA'S BIGGEST TWO-LEGGED STAR

By Bill Finley

Many a great horse has come through Ocala, whether bred there, broken there, or sold there. Rashad Jones couldn't tell you much about that. He doesn't know the first thing about horse racing. What he knows is barbecue and people in Marion County will tell you no one does it better. That's why you have to line up hours before his Big Lee's barbecue stand opens to get served, why he won a Food Network competition, and why he wants to put Ocala on the map for something other than horses. Forget about Memphis, Texas, North Carolina. Jones wants to make Ocala the center of a barbecue empire.

"I want Big Lee's to become known as the worldwide leader in everything barbecue at some point," Jones said. Cont. p4

The second and fourth finishers behind Mucho Gusto that day re-oppose in Rockingham Ranch's Savagery (Bellamy Road) and Jay Em Ess Stable's Extra Hope (Shanghai Bobby), respectively. Michael Stinson's Dueling (Violence) stands an outside shot, dropping out of a sixth-place run in the GI Sentient Jet Breeders' Cup Juvenile.

PHAROAH HALF GETS TWO-TURN TEST IN STARLET

Unveiled to much fanfare July 28 at Del Mar, Summer Wind Equine's half-sister to Triple Crown winner American Pharoah (Pioneerof the Nile) Chasing Yesterday (Tapit) did not disappoint, cruising to an easy 4 1/4-length graduation and 'TDN Rising Star' honors. A pair of stakes wins later, she takes a major step on the GI Kentucky Oaks trail with her first try around two turns in Saturday's GI Starlet S. at Los Alamitos.

Disappointing when seventh as the favorite in the GI Spinaway S. Sept. 1 at Saratoga, the Bob Baffert-trained chestnut bounced back with a game tally in the Anoakia S. Oct. 14 at Santa Anita. She followed up with a hard-fought victory in the Desi Arnaz S. Nov. 12 in San Diego, but her final furlong time of :14.40 leaves some questions about how far the homebred wants to go.

Baffert, as he does in the Los Alamitos Futurity, will have a second stakes-winning 'Rising Star' as backup, in Mother Mother (Pioneerof the Nile). Romping by 6 1/2 lengths on debut July 22 at Del Mar, the dark bay was second in the GI Del Mar Debutante next out before picking up up her first black-type success with a 1 3/4-length conquest of the Rags to Riches S. Oct. 28 at Churchill.

Vibrance (Violence) looks to build on an encouraging longshot performance in the GI Tito's Handmade Vodka Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies. A second-out graduate Aug. 29 at Del Mar, the $155,000 Keeneland September buy was a no-match runner-up to Bellafina (Quality Road) in the GI Chandelier S. Sept. 29 at Santa Anita, but beat that rival and six others home when filling out the trifecta at 35-1 under the Twin Spires. With the inside draw and tactical speed, the bay figures to work out an advantageous trip under Flavien Prat.

Calumet Farm's Oxy Lady (Oxbow) will try to prove her last race was no fluke as she ships in from trainer Jack Sisterson's Keeneland base. Breaking her maiden at Belterra with just a 54 Beyer, the homebred stepped forward to be third at 20-1 in a Lexington allowance Oct. 10 and took another huge leap to upset the GIII Tempted S. by five lengths at 36-1 Nov. 2 at Aqueduct. The 94 figure she earned for that effort is easily tops in this group, but the second, third and fourth finishers have all regressed off their respective numbers in subsequent efforts.

Jones continued, "That's a really big, lofty goal, but somebody's going to do it. I always look at that goal and that dream and that desire of mine and say, 'Well, why not us?' I want Big Lee's to become synonymous with barbecue, just like people don't say, 'I need a cotton swab,' they say, 'I need a Q-tip.' When people say, 'I want barbecue,' I want them to naturally say, 'Hey, let's go get some Big Lee's tonight.' All around the world."

It's quite a dream, probably a completely impractical one. He has, after all, a food truck. Just one. But McDonald's started with one restaurant in San Bernardino, California, and when you believe in yourself and your product as much as Jones does, have charisma, drive, and an abundance of optimism, is there really such a thing as impossible?

Before he was the barbecue king of Ocala, Jones worked for the Marion County Health Department and didn't have much interest in cooking. On what was supposed to be a routine trip to visit relatives for Thanksgiving 2011, his life changed.

His family traveled to the Mississippi Delta to spend Thanksgiving with the relatives of his wife, Patrice. The usual fare-turkey, ham, cranberry sauce, pies-was prepared for the guests, but his wife's uncle, Leon Archie, pulled Jones aside and told him to save some room, that he had something special he wanted him to sample after the main portion of the dinner was over.

Archie had prepared a barbecue spread.

"When I say his barbecue was nothing short of amazing, I mean every bit of it," Jones said. "His food wasn't only amazing, it left an impression on me. As a Southerner, I'd had barbecue a million times and some of it had been really, really good. But his was in some other space that I had never experienced before. I couldn't imagine how he got his food to taste that good, and it put me on this quest to try to recreate what I had there at his house."

Jones turned his kitchen into a laboratory and set out to duplicate what Uncle Lee had created. Lee passed away in 2012, so Jones was on own. He kept at it and, in time, believed his barbecue was every bit as tasty as Lee's. But he needed affirmation.

In 2013, he entered the "Bad 2 the Bone BBQ" contest in Ocala. He admits he felt out of place, an amateur who, he thought, stood no chance against contestants who had been working for years trying to perfect their craft.

Not only did he win, but one of the judges posted on his Facebook page: "Rashad Jones, not only was your barbecue the best that all three of the judges tasted tonight, your barbecue's the best barbecue I've ever judged."

Compliments like that can't be ignored. He sat down with his wife and said not only had barbecue become his passion, but he now believed he could make a good living selling it. She quickly and readily agreed.

A barbecue business had been born.

FLORIDA TRAC BRINGS HAPPINESS BACK TO A SPECIAL BOY by Diana Pikulski

Andrew Byrd and Kitty Litter aka Panda Bear

Henry Ford once said: "My best friend is the one who brings out the best in me."

For Andrew Byrd, an 11-year-old from Port St Lucie, FL, his first best friend was a horse named Bridger who came into his life two years ago. Andrew rode Bridger every week at Holly Creek STAR Hippotherapy Center. They rode at a walk and Andrew told Bridger all of his dreams and secrets. When Andrew's parents had to tell him of Bridger's sudden death, they knew he would be devastated.

Andrew, who is extremely kind and empathetic, suffers from Asperger's Syndrome.

"He cried for Bridger every day for weeks," says Georgia Byrd, Andrew's adopted mother. "It wasn't getting better. We didn't know what to do because we never thought we would find another horse like Bridger who would be so kind and patient with Andrew."

His sadness did not abate. After a few weeks, Andrew's therapist had an idea. She brought the family to meet Katie Schmit at Florida TRAC.

Schmit knew they were looking for a hippotherapy horse that would spend most of his time walking or just being a buddy. She brought out Kitty Litter, a Florida-bred of 2004 by Catienus who ran 65 times in his five-year career and earned $51,628.

Andrew rode Kitty and they immediately connected.

Georgia Byrd recalls: “After their ride, Andy came over to me and said, ‘I like him. And, I think he likes me.’”

The Byrds made the decision to adopt Kitty Litter on the spot.

“I felt Kitty Litter would be a good choice for Georgia’s family as he is so calm, self-assured and nonchalant,” recalls Schmit. “We saw, over the years, that the more time and attention we gave Kitty Litter, the more he tuned into us, listened and tried to please. So, I felt he would thrive in this special role.”

“He is kind and tries incredibly hard to do what is asked of him,” Schmit added. “There isn’t a mean or argumentative bone in his body.”

Kitty Litter has been renamed Panda Bear by Andrew, who is known by his family as Panda Boy. The entire family showers kindness, carrots and apples on Panda Bear, and all of the horses at the farm. Andrew’s sister Faith is also learning-disabled and has her own horse, an Arab named Gizmo.

“We thank God every day for Florida TRAC for giving Andy his best friend, Panda Bear,” said Georgia Byrd.

“The kids can be having a really rough day but the horses change everything,” explained their father Barry Byrd. “The kids become calm and content in their work. They love to be with their horses, groom them and generally care for them as well as ride.”

Andrew and his sister brush and tack their horses with help from their parents, who watch over the activities. Then, the siblings ride their horses all over the property which is entirely fenced in. Panda patiently ambles with Andrew and never offers to break from a walk.

While Andrew still fondly remembers Bridger, he says about his new horse Panda Bear: “He is my best buddy.”

Florida TRAC has adopted out hundreds of horses. Matches like Kitty Litter and Andrew Byrd are special because of the uniqueness of their bond.

“While we have placed several wonderful OTTBs as companions and therapy horses, as well as into upper level show barns, the majority of our horses are adopted by amateur pleasure riders, many of whom show at various levels in a wide variety of disciplines,” explained Schmit. “That’s the beauty of the OTTB; there isn’t much they aren’t good at.”

On making this match, Schmit says: “It’s the best feeling in the world. It’s a life-changing win for Andrew, and for Panda Bear, too. There is nothing more gratifying than seeing these horses find their purpose, as they thrive on having one as well as being appreciated and loved. Andrew deserved a very special horse and I am so happy Panda Bear found the special spot!”

“I know how much the horses I have had in my life have affected me,” added Schmit. “Seeing the team make a match like the one between Andrew and Panda feels like just a bit of my

SEEKING THE SOUL, TRUE TIMBER AIMING FOR PEGASUS

Seeking the Soul (Perfect Soul {Ire}), winner of last term's GI Clark H. and runner-up in the GI Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile Nov. 3, is targeting the $9-million GI Pegasus World Cup Invitational Jan. 26 at Gulfstream Park. "I'm looking forward to it," trainer Dallas Stewart said. "The horse is doing great."

The Charles E. Fipke homebred, third as the favorite while attempting to defend his title in the Clark Nov. 2, returned to the worktab with a four-furlong breeze in :51.00 (88/115) at Fair Grounds Nov. 23.

"He was second in the Breeders' Cup to a very nice horse, and he's competed well all year," Stewart said. "He just had one bad race up at Saratoga for some reason, but a lot of horses get off form up there. The horse has had a really good year. He didn't do so well in the Clark, but he didn't do bad. He came out of it good."

Calumet Farm's True Timber (Mineshaft), a strong second in the GI Cigar Mile H. Dec. 1, is also Pegasus bound. He is the second horse owned by Calumet Farm targeting the Pegasus following the announcement by Hall of Fame trainer D. Wayne Lukas that Bravazo (Awesome Again) would be heading in that direction, too.

"He ran a huge race in the Cigar Mile and he galloped out really strong, so we talked it over with the owners and decided to point for the Pegasus," trainer Kiaran McLaughlin said. "It's a big event and hopefully we get in there and run good and everything works out and we enjoy the day."

SCOTT JAGOW, Editor in Chief, PaulickReport.com

It's close, but I'm siding with Accelerate because he raced all year long and won all the Grade I races he was in, five of them. His only loss was by a neck to a horse (City of Light) who was an impressive winner in the Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile. That's an impressive resume to me.

I'm not one of those people who thinks, 'It's always been done this way, so it's got to be done this way now.' In terms of tradition in racing, I know there are a lot of people who say a Triple Crown winner should be Horse of the Year no matter what. I just don't think that way. If Justify had raced all year long it would be a slam dunk. But since we didn't get to see that, as impressive as he looked in the Triple Crown, when you look back at it, how good was that crop of 3-year-olds? I'm not sure that they were that great.

He won his races in slow times and the Belmont S. was run in a controversial manner. All those things factor into my decision. If Justify had been the first Triple Crown winner in 40 years, I am sure a lot of people would be looking at this differently. But I'm not looking at it that way.

I'm not saying the Triple Crown is easy to win. What I'm looking at is the two horses side by side. While it was impressive that he was undefeated, he only raced for four months, he raced against a group where I'm not sure how strong the quality was and we never got a chance to see him race against older horses. Jagow is an Eclipse Award voter.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

In Response to Bill Finley's Dec. 7 Op/Ed: Times Have Changed: Eclipse Awards Need Rules

What really should happen, but it probably won't because that's just the way it is, champions in each division should be determined as they are in every country in Europe, by the rating assigned by a designated handicapper or group of handicappers. It should not be left in the hands of voters, who in too many instances, are either ill informed or biased.

If you want to have an Eclipse Award for popularity like the Cartier Awards, go ahead and do that. Cartier Award winners are not recognized as champions in sales catalogs, which is where it counts. You can still do that.

But year-end handicap ratings to assess the runners in each discipline are actually done by The Jockey Club and should designate our champions.

Irish Marvel went wire-to-wire in her debut going six panels against state-breds here Oct. 26 and was installed as the 5-2 second choice in this black-type bow. Keeping a close eye on the pacesetter from a joint second through leisurely early fractions, the bay overtook the leader on the far turn and rolled clear to win for fun by nine lengths. The winner has a weanling half-brother by Firing Line. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

MITCHELL ROAD (f, 3, English Channel--Quake Lake, by War Chant) missed by a neck going this distance over the Gulfstream lawn Dec. 23 and wired the field next out going 7 1/2 furlongs there Feb. 14. Completing the exacta in another 1 1/16-mile turf test in Hallandale Mar. 14, she was sent off as the slight second choice at 5-2 in this spot. Taking up her preferred position at the head of affairs, the bay walked the dog on the front end and held firm at the wire for a half-length success over Filfila (Kitten's Joy). The winner's dam Quake Lake is a half-sister to GSW & MGISP Breaking Lucky (Lookin at Lucky). Her most recent produce is the juvenile colt Country House (Lookin at Lucky), who was most recently second in an Aqueduct maiden special weight Dec. 1. NOBLE FREUD (f, 4, Freud--Noble Fire {SP}, by Hook and Ladder), third in the GIII Victory Ride S. last summer, finished third in her last two starts for previous trainer Chad Brown sprinting on the main track against fellow Empire-breds at Belmont Sept. 14 and Oct. 14. Sent through the ring at Keeneland November, she RNA'd for $115,000 and now runs for conditioner Jeremiah Englehart and Sol Kumin's Head of Plains, who previously owned her in a large partnership after privately purchasing the filly following her impressive debut at Oaklawn in February 2017. Away well from the far outside post in this nine-horse affair, the 7-2 shot rushed up to sit on the outside of a three-way duel for control through a half in :47.65. Hitting the front in midstretch, she kicked clear on the outside to win by a half-length over the rail-skimming Fair Regis (Bustin Stones).

FOREVER CHANGED (f, 2, Flashback--Elle Tish Slew {SP}, by Eltish) completed the exacta in her state-bred unveiling at Belmont Sept. 20 and came back to win a NY-bred off-the-turfer Nov. 8 going six panels over this strip. Running in a two-wide fourth through leisurely early fractions, the 4-5 chalk attempted to slip through on the fence turning for home, but was blocked. Forced to try splitting horses off the turn, she was sandwiched by a pair of rivals at the top of the lane, but forged to the lead and kicked clear in the final sixteenth to win by 2 1/4 lengths. Three Birds (Central Banker) filled the place spot. Sales history: $14,000 RNA Ylg '17 EASOCT. WIN WIN WIN (c, 2, Hat Trick {Jpn}--Miss Smarty Pants, by Smarty Jones) earned her diploma in her career bow in an off-the-turfer over this track and trip Nov. 3 and was favored at 7-5 to repeat in this first try against winners. Keeping a close eye on the leader from second through a :22.05 first quarter, the homebred overtook that rival approaching the far turn and powered clear in the lane to win as she pleased by 6 1/2 lengths. Summan (Broken Vow) was best of the rest in second. Lifetime Record: 2-2-0-0, $51,300. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

MICRORITHMS (g, 4, Algorithms--Javelina, by Forest Wildcat) graduated on debut at Santa Anita in June of 2017 and was third next out over this track and trip last July. Shelved after that effort, he returned Nov. 3 at Santa Anita, where he missed by just a neck and was hammered down to 3-5 favoritism to improve here. Running three wide, the bay kept a close eye on the pacesetter through a sharp first quarter in :21.57. Sticking his head in front on the backstretch run, Microrithms drifted out on the far turn, but was guided back towards the inside in the lane to battle I Am the Danger (Adios Charlie). The duo went stride-for-stride, cruising clear of the rest of the field, and Microrithms got the better of his rival late to win by a half-length. It was six lengths back to the third-place finisher. BREAKING LUCKY (h, 6, Lookin At Lucky--Shooting Party {GISP, $322,917}, by Sky Classic), winner of the 2016 GIII Seagram Cup S., finished third behind reigning Horse of the Year Gun Runner (Candy Ride {Arg}) in both the GI Stephen Foster H. and GI Whitney S. last summer. Fifth in the GI Awesome Again S. at Santa Anita in his final start for Reade Baker, he resurfaced under the care of George Weaver in a seven-panel optional claimer at Saratoga Aug. 19, where he finished third. A well-beaten eighth in the GIII Lukas Classic S. at Churchill Downs Sept. 29, the 6-year-old was well supported as the 6-5 chalk to turn things around in this class drop. Pressing the pacesetter from a close-up second through a :23.10 opening quarter, the chestnut stuck his head in front just past the half in :46.06. Still under a hand ride from Luis Saez turning for home, Breaking Lucky sailed clear to win for fun by 8 1/4 lengths. Mr Atila (Ghostzapper) checked in second. The winner's dam is also responsible for the unraced juvenile Rimmal (Bellamy Road), a yearling colt by Palace Malice and a weanling filly by Exaggerator. She was bred back to that WinStar sire this spring. Sales history: $100,000 Wlg '12 KEENOV. Lifetime Record: GSW & MGISP, 25-4-5-6, $1,166,276. GOODTHINGSTAKETIME (IRE) (f, 3, Canford Cliffs {Ire}--Addictedtoprogress {Ire}, by Holy Roman Emperor {Ire}) has only been off the board once in her six Stateside starts for these connections, all of which were in stakes company. Third in the GIII Lake George S. July 20 at Saratoga, she filled the same spot in that venue's Riskaverse S. Aug. 23 and was a disappointing seventh last time in Keeneland's GIII Valley View S. Oct. 19. Heavily favored at 4-5 in this softer spot, the bay saved ground in mid-pack off leisurely early splits. Tipped out two wide in the lane, she surged to the front late for a half-length success over Jimi Bags (Jimmy Creed). The winner is the first foal out of Addictedtoprogress, who has since produced the unraced 2-year-old filly Gear Shift (Ire) (Morpheus {GB}) and a weanling full-sister to Goodthingstaketime. 1st-CKO, ¥9,550,000 ($85k), Maiden, 2yo, 1400m

SPOKANE TESORO (f, 2, Scat Daddy--Nimue, by Speightstown) gave a decent account of herself when a first-out fifth on the turf at Sapporo and enters this first dirt try off back-to-back third-place finishes, including at Nakayama Sept. 16. Out of a half-sister to GSW Go Rockin Robin (Distorted Humor), Spokane Tesoro was bought back on a bid of $275K at KEENOV in 2016 and fetched $340K as an FTSAUG yearling last summer. She is a half-sister to Isomer (Cape Blanco {Ire}), runner-up to Churchill (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) in the Listed Chesham S. at Royal Ascot in 2016. B-Summerhill Farm (KY)

GLOBAL SUCCESS FOR ARQANA MARES

Arqana's December Sale closes out the European breeding stock sale season | Zuzanna Lupa

By Kelsey Riley

DEAUVILLE, France--The 2018 European breeding stock sales season comes to a close this weekend in Deauville with four days of selling at the Arqana December Breeding Stock Sale. While the seaside town and all its Christmas cheer is an attraction in itself, savvy shoppers will be well aware there are still plenty of gifts of the equine variety up for grabs.

While inspections at the Deauville sales grounds were blighted on Friday by periods of heavy rain and wind, buyers from all corners of the globe were still out inspecting mares, fillies and foals, giving reason to believe that the strong international participation witnessed at both Goffs and Tattersalls in recent weeks will continue at the final sale of the year.

And such participation would certainly be merited; the Arqana December Breeding Stock Sale has been advertised on a global scale this year, with mares purchased from the sale having produced top-class winners all across Europe, in the U.S., Australia, Japan and South Africa. Fierement (Jpn) (Deep Impact {Jpn}), who in October became a Classic winner in Japan's G1 Kikuka Sho, is out of a mare bought by Katsumi Yoshida for €750,000 in 2018.

On the other end of the scale, Australian agent Sheamus Mills purchased Suspicieuse (Fr) (Elusive City), the dam of exciting Australian 2-year-old Dubious (Aus) (Not A Single Doubt {Aus}), for €55,000 in 2013.

Other progeny of mares purchased at Arqana in recent years to win major stakes in 2018 include Nyaleti (Ire) (Arch) and Well Timed (Ger) (Holy Roman Emperor {Ire}), winners of the G2 German 1000 Guineas and G1 German Oaks; G2 Prix Maurice de Nieuil winner and G1 Melbourne Cup runner-up Marmelo (GB) (Duke of Marmalade {Ire}); G1 Grosser Preis von Bayern winner Iquitos (Ger) (Adlerflug {Ger}); G3 Prix de Saint Georges winner City Light (Fr) (Siyouni {Fr}); G3 Prix de la Rochette winner The Black Album (Fr) (Wootton Bassett {GB}) and G3 Prix de Royaumont winner Pollara (Ire) (Camelot {GB}). They join a list that includes Group 1 winners like La Cressonniere, Vadamos, Suedois, Danedream, Almanzor, Brametot, Capri, Signs of Blessing and Toronado, whose dams were all purchased at Arqana December.

Pollara's dam, Brooklyn's Storm (Storm Cat), was bought for €70,000 in 2011 and, on the back of Pollara's Group 3 win earlier this year, the mare's Galileo filly foal sold for 1-million gns. In fact, each of the mare's four yearlings to go through the ring since her purchase has reached six figures.

A Raving Beauty (Ger) (Mastercraftsman {Ire}) was bought privately by Michael Dubb, Madaket Stables and Bethlehem Stables from the Monceaux consignment at last year's sale for €230,000, and less than a year later after adding the GI First Lady S. to her resume she was bought by Haruya Yoshida for $2-million at Fasig-Tipton November last month. Another Arqana December graduate to perform well of late for the same Chad Brown stable is Rymska (Fr) (Le Havre {Ire}), who was a €35,000 foal in 2014 and sold privately to American interests after winning a listed stake in France. She won four straight races in the U.S. including the Oct. 21 GIII Athenia S. at Belmont–not bad for a €35,000 foal out of a mare that had cost €10,000 carrying her at the same sale the year before.

Arqana released a fine catalogue for the December Breeding Stock Sale in early November, and its quality has since been bolstered by the addition of several well-qualified wildcards. Those include Lily's Candle (Fr) (Style Vendome {Fr}) (lot 160), who returns to the ring where she was scooped up for €15,000 as a foal a year ago. In the interim, she visited Arqana's Arc Sale in October after winning a listed race at Vichy and was bought by Oceanic Bloodstock for €390,000, and she boosted her value even further a day later when winning ParisLongchamp's G1 Prix Marcel Boussac.

Team Valor's G3 Prix Miesque winner Devant (Fr) (Showcasing {GB}) has been supplemented as lot 170, as has Noblesse Oblige (Ity) (Myboycharlie {Ire}) (lot 180), the G3 Premio Dormello winner and one of Italy's top juveniles whose dam was bought for €4,500 carrying her at the Arqana December sale three years ago.

The other wildcards include the multiple group-placed 4-year-old Diana Storm (Ger) (Soldier Hollow {GB}) (lot 150), a full-sister to German champion and Group 1 winner Dschingis Secret (Ger); and the Group 3-placed Moonlight In Paris (Fr) (Literato {Fr}) (lot 120), in foal to Siyouni (Fr).

Just last week, Issam Fares–the owner of Fares Farm in Kentucky and the breeder of the likes of Da Hoss and Curlin–announced that he will disperse his stock at Arqana's December and February Sales, and four of his young mares have been supplemented to the December sale: the G3 Prix Vanteaux winner Zghorta Dance (Fr) (Le Havre) in foal to Muhaarar (GB) (lot 140); G2 Prix de Pomone winner Baino Hope (Fr) (Jeremy) in foal to Kingman (GB) (lot 190) and her winning half-sister Roman Ridge (Fr) (Holy Roman Emperor {Ire}) in foal to Wootton Bassett (GB) (lot 110); and listed winner Wedge Trust (Ire) (Zamindar {Fr}) in foal to Gleneagles (Ire).

Lily's Candle | Scoop Dyga

These late entries bolster a catalogue that includes the typically intriguing consignments of the likes of Wertheimer et Frere and the Aga Khan Studs. The former includes Tiberias (Fr) (Galileo {Ire}), a winning half-sister to dual Group 1 winner Silasol (Fr) (Monsun {Ger}) from the family of G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe winner Solemia and Classic winner The Gurkha (lot 50); Desertiste (GB) (Green Desert), a stakes-producing half-sister to the dam of G1 Prix du Jockey Club winner Intello (Ger) in foal to New Approach (Ire) (lot 112) and, from the same family, the 5-year-old Gravitee (Fr) (Galileo {Ire}), a full-sister to Intello in foal to Wootton Bassett (lot 159).

The Aga Khan's consignment includes the 5-year-old Talisa (Ire) (Pour Moi {Ire}), a half-sister to Group 1 winner Fidelite (Ire) (In The Wings {GB}) in foal to Shalaa (Ire) (lot 5); and Zerkeriya (Ire) (Soviet Star), a half-sister to Zarkava (Fr) (Zamindar) in foal to Ulysses (GB) (lot 67).

Perennial leading Arqana consignor Ecurie des Monceaux supplies a typically strong draft, including Ma Cherie (GB) (Galileo {Ire}), a winning half-sister to GI Breeders' Cup Filly & Mare Turf winner Zagora (Fr) (Green Tune) in foal to Caravaggio (lot 168); Let's Misbehave (Ire) (Montjeu {Ire}), an unraced three-quarter sister to High Chaparral (Ire) in foal to War Front (lot 188); and Nepali Princess (Ire) (Mr. Greeley), an unraced half-sister to Shalaa (Ire) (lot 139).

Ronald Rauscher (featured in Friday's TDN) brings a draft of 14 from Germany, including triple Group 3 winner Delectation (GB) (Delegator {GB}) (lot 192) and another Group 3 winner in Peace In Motion (Hat Trick {Jpn}) (lot 163).

Stall Salzburg offers two black-type fillies including Night Music (Ger) (Sea The Stars {Ire}), a dual Group 2-winning half-sister to German Oaks winner Night Magic (Ger) (Sholokhov) (lot 195). Guy Pariente's Haras de Colleville offers a reduction sale that includes the well-bred stakes-producer Cherriya (Fr) (Montjeu {Ire}) in foal to Kingman (GB) (lot 185), and G3 Prix Miesque winner Sweety Dream (Fr) (Dream Ahead) in foal to Kendargent (Fr) (lot 218).

La Motteraye Consignment offers a filly foal out of Classic winner Just The Judge | Racing Post

La Motteraye Consignment offers the largest consignment on quantity with 27 foals, 19 mares and 16 fillies, and the draft is also big on quality, its foals including the Dubawi filly who is the second foal out of Classic winner Just The Judge (Ire) (Lawman {Fr}) (lot 175). The G1 Irish 1000 Guineas winner's first foal, a full-brother to this filly, topped the most recent Arqana August yearling sale when sold by La Motteraye and bought by Ballylinch Stud for €1.4-million.

Click to see video of Hip 175

La Motteraye's Gwenael Monneraye said that the filly is more forward than her elder half-brother.

"They are both nice horses, but the filly may be a bit more sharp than the colt--she's all quality," he said. "She's very much like a Dubawi filly and we are very excited to have her.

"She's a nice filly, she walks well. I saw her in the spring and she developed well through the summer. She's a beautiful filly; David [Redvers] said she was one of the best-looking foals he had at Tweenhills. Even here she stands out in the draft we have."

The filly is bred by Qatar Racing and China Horse Club, which partnered on the mare at 4.5-million gns at Tattersalls in 2014 when she was offered to dissolve the partnership between Qatar Racing and the Sangster family.

"The partnership is a commercial association; they are willing to sell all the progeny of the dam and they thought this year was a good year to sell as a foal, so we'll see if they're right," Monneraye said. He added that his team is very grateful to have the support of the breeders.

"We have worked with David Redvers right from the beginning of La Motteraye, and he has always supported us really well," he said. "We can't thank him enough for letting us sell such good horses. We've been working together since the beginning and it's always worked well."

Cont. p5

Just The Judge's daughter will face some competition from another well-bred filly: lot 113, who is from the second crop of Triple Crown winner American Pharoah out of the Group 3-placed Desiree Clary (Ger) (Sholokhov {Ger}). The dam was bought by Chantilly Bloodstock carrying this filly at this sale last year for €210,000.

Click for a video of the American Pharoah filly, lot 113

Colleville offers lot 138, a Frankel (GB) colt out of the stakes-winning Restiana (Fr) (Kendargent {Fr}), and there are also foals by the likes of Camelot (GB), Gleneagles (Ire), Intello (Ger), No Nay Never, Showcasing (GB), Siyouni (Fr) and Wootton Bassett catalogued.

The other breeding stock sales this season have been selective at a possibly unprecedented level, and Arqana President Eric Hoyeau said that while the company is confident the sale's top-of-the-market mares and foals will reward their sellers, the state of the lower tiers of the market is worrisome.

"It is going to be selective; there is no reason to think it will be any different," he said. "Certainly there is growing interest at the top level and it's more difficult at the lower level."

Arqana Executive Director Freddy Powell added, "The only difference that we have here compared to the other breeding stock sales [in Europe] is that we've segmented each day. So we start with the best and each day is segmented. We're hopeful that the people who come to buy the first day will buy the second day, and the people that come for the second day will buy the third day.

"We just hope things will go the right way, especially in the middle market. We can be quite confident the high end will go well but the rest will be difficult. We saw the last few weeks that only a few foals were making their nomination price and a lot of mares and foals the last few weeks didn't match the nomination price or just matched it, which is a scary place for breeders."

The sale begins at 11 a.m. on Saturday and Monday, and 10 a.m. on Sunday. Tuesday's session, which begins at 11 a.m., is reserved for National Hunt stock and is headlined by the Simon Munir and Isaac Souede breeding stock dispersal.

FARES OFFERS CAREFULLY CULTIVATED FAMILIES By Kelsey Riley

DEAUVILLE, France–Lebanese politician and businessman Issam Fares has gained recognition in the Thoroughbred business globally, most notably as the breeder of American Horse of the Year, Breeders' Cup Classic and Dubai World Cup winner Curlin (Smart Strike). He has also, however, developed high-class families at his Haras de Manneville in France, and he will offer four mares for sale at Arqana on Saturday as part of a dispersal that will continue at Arqana's February sale.

The 81-year-old Fares, who has been involved in the civil engineering and construction businesses and has owned racehorses for almost 40 years, conducted an 80-horse American dispersal at Keeneland November in 2013 but retains to this day his Fares Farm in Lexington, the birthplace of Curlin.

Haras de Manneville was Fares's first farm, purchased in 1982, and all four of the mares he sells on Saturday were born there: Wedge Trust (Ire) (Zamindar), a listed-winning and Group 3-placed 8-year-old who is offered carrying her fourth foal, by Gleneagles (Ire) (Lot 100); half-sisters Roman Ridge (Fr) (Holy Roman Emperor {Ire}) (Lot 110) in foal to Wootton Bassett (Fr) and Baino Hope (Fr) (Jeremy) (Lot 190) in foal to Kingman (GB); and the Group 3 winner and Group 1-placed Zghorta Dance (Fr) (Le Havre {Ire}), in foal with her first foal to Muhaarar (GB) (Lot 140). Zghorta Dance descends from one of Fares's best racehorses; her third dam is the GI Breeders' Cup Turf winner Miss Alleged.

"These are four young, top mares," said Manneville Farm Manager Adrien Rambaud. "We have Zghorta Dance, who was the last top mare on the racetrack for Issam Fares. She won the Prix Vanteaux and ran in the Prix de Diane, and she was second in a Group 1 in Italy, so she's a top mare."

Baino Hope and Roman Ridge both descend from another of Fares's foundation mares, the three-time stakes producer Baino Bluff (Be My Guest).

"This is a historic family of Manneville," Rambaud said. "We have about five mares from this top family and she gave us really top representatives on the racetrack.

"We also have Wedge Trust, who comes from a top Niarchos family," he added. "The dam is by Storm Cat and she is by Zamindar, and in foal to Gleneagles. She was a really nice filly and the winner of a listed race in foal with her first foal."

In addition to Curlin and Miss Alleged, Fares is also the breeder of two-time GI Breeders' Cup Mile winner Da Hoss, and raced Group 1 winner and sire Highest Honor (Fr). He has had success both buying and selling at Arqana, so Rambaud said it was a natural fit to place the dispersal in Deauville.

"We've had a lot of success with Arqana," he said. "We're in France, so we think it's good to work with the French company for selling our horses. Historically, Mr. Fares has always had a lot of success with Arqana. He has bought a lot of horses through Arqana and he has sold yearlings every year through Arqana. He knows Arqana very well and has had a lot of success with them."

Arqana Executive Director Freddy Powell said, "It's always sad to see a big client leaving the business but it's always satisfying to be chosen to organize the dispersal. And the dispersal could attract new people into the business as well."

The Fares dispersal will continue at Arqana February with 14 short yearlings by the likes of Anodin, Charm Spirit (Ire), Dabirsim (Fr), as well as fillies out of training.

COLLEVILLE DRAFT TO EMBELLISH ARQANA

By Tom Frary

If the entirely unconventional rise to stallion stardom of Kendargent (Fr) is anything to go by, Haras de Colleville is an operation to pay close attention to and the Normandy stud reaches out to prospectors at the upcoming Arqana Breeding Stock Sale. With a notable draft of foals and broodmares, Guy Pariente's Pays d'Auge establishment offers the opportunity to acquire some of the raw material which has raised the farm to a level to compete effectively with its long-established neighbours. Kendargent's ascent from the most humble beginnings is well-documented, but Colleville is not solely about that phenomenon. Having bred the G1 Poule d'Essai des Poulains hero Style Vendome (Fr) (Anabaa), the runner-up in that Classic Prestige Vendome (Fr) (Orpen) and other Group 1 performers by Kendargent in Restiadargent (Fr), Kendam (Fr), Kenhope (Fr) and Goken (Fr)--the latter of which now stands alongside his sire--Colleville is outperforming for a relatively new set-up.

Colleville will offer Sweety Dream at Arqana

This auction sees the stud, which is a strong supporter of its own trio of stallions Kendargent, Goken and the ex-Wertheimer Galiway (GB), stripping down in a bid for a higher-quality broodmare band. As a result, the 10-year-old black-type producer Cherriya (Fr) (Montjeu {Ire}) is available. Offered as lot 185, she is already the dam of the G3 Prix de la Grotte runner-up Kenriya (Fr) (Kendargent {Fr}) and G2 Diana-Trial third Cheshmeh (Fr) (Kendargent {Fr}) and is in foal to Kingman (GB). Lot 218 is the 3-year-old Sweety Dream (Fr) (Dream Ahead), who was successful in last year's G3 Prix Miesque and is in foal to Kendargent. A descendant of As You Desire Me (GB), she is connected to the GI Garden City Breeders' Cup heroine Luas Line (Ire) (Danehill).

As expected, Kendargent's influence is keenly felt throughout most of the consignment and he also has a colt foal offered as lot 304, a son of the listed-winning and dual group-placed Stormyra (Fr) (Stormy River {Fr}), whose own half-sister was Kendargent's listed scorer Onedargent (Fr). He is responsible for the foal carried by lot 332 Dalawysa (Fr) (Dalakhani {Ire}), a 10-year-old from the superb Aga Khan family of the G1 Prix de Diane heroine Valyra (GB) (Azamour {Ire}) and top-class Val Royal (Fr) (Royal Academy) and Valixir (Ire) (Trempolino), and the 6-year-old Onyx (Fr) (Orpen). Lot 237 is a half-sister to the useful listed winner Meneas (Fr) (American Post {GB}) from the family of the amazing Occupandiste (Ire) (Kaldoun {Fr}). Lot 212 is the 13-year-old Bedford Hope (Ger) (Chato {Fr}), who is carrying a full-sibling to the G3 Prix de la Grotte winner and G1 Coronation S. runner-up Kenhope (Fr), another of the star cast by Kendargent.

Lot 138 is a colt foal by Frankel (GB) out of the listed-winning and group-placed Restiana (Fr) (Kendargent {Fr}), whose own full-sister was the aforementioned dual group winner Restiadargent who went so close to upsetting Black Caviar (Aus) (Bel Esprit {Aus}) and Moonlight Cloud (GB) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}) in that epic G1 Diamond Jubilee S. in 2012.

HARAS DES APUCINES

Lot 132 is the 13-year-old Damdam Freeze (Fr) (Indian Rocket {GB}), dam of Kendargent's G1 Prix de la Foret third Kendam and the useful black-type performer Kenfreeze (Fr), also by Kendargent who is in foal to Goken. Lot 515 is the listed-placed Revedargent (Fr) (Kendargent {Fr}), a full-sister to the group-placed Batwan (Fr) and a half to the G2 Prix du Muguet runner-up Matorio (Fr) (Oratorio {Ire}) in foal to Galiway.

If Guy Pariente has taught the Thoroughbred industry anything, it is that taking chances based on genuine faith can pay off and over the next few days at Deauville there are abundant opportunities to buy a piece of that dream.

INAUGURAL DECEMBER SALE ENDS GOFFS UK SEASON

Goffs UK closed out its 2018 sales year with its inaugural December Sale on Friday. Ninety horses-in-training, flat foals, yearlings and mares were sold, with horses-in-training providing the highlights and mares and foals finding a tougher time reaching their reserves. The day's top lot was Richard Fahey's 4-year-old gelding Northwest Frontier (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) (Lot 87), a four-time winner purchased by Craig Buckingham for £36,000.

Of the foals, first-crop sires filled the top spots: a filly by New Bay (GB) brought £32,000 (lot 162), and a colt by Twilight Son made £29,000 (lot 182).

At the close of trade, the clearance rate for 90 horses sold was just 54%, with a total of £632,500 accrued, an average of £7,028 and a median of £4,000.

"The sale's opening session of horses-in-training saw strong demand with a clearance rate of over 70% and some good prices; however, that demand did not translate into the latter mare and foal sessions where trade at this level of the market was reflective of that seen at a variety of locations this year," said Goffs UK Managing Director Tony Williams. "The mare and foal sessions were the result of vendors asking for another avenue to offer their stock and we actively sought a date in the sale calendar to provide another outlet. As is the current trend, those that held appeal did sell well which is encouraging for the future of this sale.

"We now turn our attention to the 2019 January Sale, the UK's premier winter NH sale, for which we are assembling a top-class catalogue of National Hunt Mares, Foals and Horses-in-Training."

SHOEMARK FAILS DRUG TEST

Kieran Shoemark | Racing Post

Jockey Kieran Shoemark is facing a lengthy suspension after failing a drug test. The 22-year-old, who had only recently returned after suffering serious injuries in a fall at Lingfield in June, hasn't ridden since Nov. 24 after being stood down by the BHA. His primary employer is trainer Roger Charlton.

Professional Jockeys Association Chief Executive Paul Struthers said in a statement, "Through the PJA, Kieran would like to sincerely apologise for his actions that led to the positive sample. In particular, we would like to apologise to Mr Charlton, the owners and team at Beckhampton Stables and his family.

"He accepts full responsibility for his mistakes and would also like to apologise to his colleagues and the wider sport. He is determined to face-up to any issues he may have and with the support of his family and the PJA is already fully engaged with the support structures the PJA has in place.

"The PJA completely supports a robust anti-doping protocol for its members and the BHA has our full backing in enhancing the testing that already takes place. But like other player associations, we believe it is important to have in place the necessary support structures for those members who want and need help. We can condemn the behavior without condemning the individual.

"We would request that his privacy and that of his family is respected whilst he is accessing the support he needs."

The BHA would not comment on the specifics of the case, but said, "Kieran Shoemark has been stood down from riding for an unspecified, interim period while an investigation takes place."

INTERNATIONALLY BRED FILLY IMPRESSES AT HAWKESBURY

by Anthony Manton

Hawkesbury trials on Friday morning saw a uniquely international filly step out and perform to an eye-catching 'black book' standard.

Persepolis is by a French stallion from an American bred mare, trained by a Frenchman in rural New South Wales.

Persepolis is by Siyouni (Fr) (Pivotal {GB}), a Group 1 winner at 2 in France and somewhat of a sire sensation in his native land with his early crops. She is from Prevalent (USA) (Empire Maker {USA}) who only raced a handful of times in Europe before being purchased by trainer Jean-Etienne Dubois as a broodmare in England and ultimately ending up in Australia.

"I purchased the mare in England from Juddmonte Farm, she was served by Siyouni in Europe (on Southern Hemisphere time) then travelled to Australia and the filly was born here on our farm," said Dubois.

Ridden by Andrew Adkins, Persepolis began well in the 760 metre heat and was held back slightly at the start to settle. She sat on the back of the leader approaching the turn before showing good acceleration to win the trial easily under minimal pressure.

"I told Andrew just to get her relaxed and to teach her to settle this morning. I love the way she quickened through the line when asked," said Dubois.

Persepolis is likely to debut next Saturday at Kembla Grange in a 2-year-old maiden over 1000 metres.

The Jean-Etienne Dubois story is a fascinating one. He arrived in Australia three years ago with a successful 30-year career in trotting racing as a trainer, driver, breeder and having won countless major Group 1 trotting races throughout Europe. Dubois is considered a legend of the sport in his home country.

Dubois' accomplishments as a horseman were not as well known locally when he first arrived in Australia to train thoroughbreds, but with almost immediate success it didn't take long for the racing industry to take notice.

Last season Dubois had early 2-year-old success with Aylmerton and Dubois believes Persepolis has similar characteristics, being by the same sire.

"She is the spitting image of Aylmerton, a bit smaller but very similar, deep bay in colour, no markings and physically built for speed," said Dubois.

Aylmerton won the Group 2 Todman S. at Rosehill earlier this year and shortly afterwards Coolmore bought half the colt, prior to him lining up in the G1 Golden Slipper. It was an achievement for Dubois to have a runner in the Golden Slipper within 3 years of training.

Although somewhat unfamiliar to Australian breeders, Dubois believes Siyouni is a great stallion prospect for Australian conditions.

"They are all very easy to train, they just want to run and are perfect for Australian racing where speed is vital", said Dubois.

Siyouni has been a stud since 2014/15 season and in that time has already produced eight Group 1 wins throughout Europe and the UK.

Dubois is offering a half-brother to Persepolis by Hinchinbrook (Fastnet Rock) at the upcoming Magic Millions yearling sales in January and he has high expectations for the colt.

"The Hinchinbrook colt is the second foal from the mare and he's in day one of the Magic Millions sales. He's a lovely colt and of course we expect him to do well and be very popular," said Dubois.

BAX KNEW 'BEAUTY' WHEN SHE SAW IT

by Alan Carasso

When asked what brought her to the 2014 yearling sales at Karaka in New Zealand, Kylie Bax had an answer that was succinct and very much to the point.

"To buy Beauty Generation!"

The international supermodel (once a supermodel, always a supermodel, right?) couldn't possibly have known that nearly five years later, the horse that Bax selected (or the one that picked her, as tells it), would become the world's top-rated galloper over a mile and would be aiming for back-to-back victories in one of the most prestigious races in the world at that specialist distance, the G1 Longines Hong Kong Mile.

In the Beginning...

Born in 1975, in Thames in North Central New Zealand, Bax was raised at Blandford Lodge, originally owned by her parents Graham and Helen-Gaye. Bax later partnered on the farm with her father before selling her stake in 2009. Thoroughbreds were always in her blood.

"My father started in the industry when I was nine years old," Bax said. "I remember sitting down in my parents' lounge when I was a kid and watching the Kentucky Derby and that sort of solidified everything for me. I said to my parents, 'I'm going to buy a farm in Kentucky one day' and I did! That's how my love and passion came about for the Thoroughbred."

Bax eventually purchased land in the Bluegrass and called the farm 'The B Ranch.' She was even represented by a horse she bred at the prestigious Keeneland July Sale in 2000.

"This is why I started modeling, so that I would be able to establish myself in the horse and breeding fields," Bax told TDN's Bill Finley in an article that appeared on ESPN.com in 2000. "This is what I know and love. My aim and my passion is to own and breed race horses."

Becoming A Leading Syndicator...

The horse that ultimately caught her eye at Karaka was consigned by Libby and Sam Bleakley's Highden Park as lot 835 at that year's NZB Select Yearling Sale and was from the second crop of Road to Rock (Aus) (Encosta de Lago {Aus}), not a household name by any stretch, but the proverbial horse any trainer would love to have in their shedrow. Anthony Cummings became said trainer after going to A$100,000 for the December foal from the Willow Park Stud draft at the 2006 Inglis Easter Yearling sale, and his purchase did him proud, winning six times, including the 2009 G1 George Main S. and the G1 Queen Elizabeth II S. the following autumn.

Bax was deployed to Karaka with direct orders.

"I was sent to the Karaka sales to buy a Road to Rock," she explained. "There weren't that many Road to Rocks available that year and Anthony Cummings wanted to have another one in the stable. He had his choices of yearlings, but he asked me because he knew that I was really into my pedigrees, nicking and bloodlines and that I might have a different perception on how to choose a horse.

She continued, "When Anthony texted me to buy a Road to Rock yearling that year, all I did was go straight back to what I knew best and what I knew best was my pedigrees. Break it down, starting with the nick and the pedigree of the horse, then go back to the conformation of the horse. Also discuss with the vendor what the horse is like, its mentality and obviously its conformation."

However, there was a difference of opinion.

"My choice was not the same as Anthony's, but I went to the vendor and I said, 'Which of the two horses--his choice or my choice--was the better of the two in your opinion?' She told me that she thought Beauty Generation was the better of the two. So that confirmed my assessment per my bloodline choice that this was probably the best Road to Rock that he was going to be able to buy at the sales that year."

Bax explained her methodology when scouting horses.

"I like to look at the speed index compared with the stamina index of the horse," she said. "The dosage index is a highlight of mine and a couple of nice crosses on both the female side and the sire side in certain areas of the pedigree are things that I look for. [The Road to Rock colt] had a great dosage index, but you have to consider all the other factors. The horse has to be athletic, the family has to have soundness and he just had all the qualities."

Looks To Kill...

"I know it sounds silly, but you sometimes say that a horse chooses you," Bax related when asked exactly what drew her to lot 835, which she signed for under her Hermes Syndications banner. "When I look at a horse, it has to have this 'star' factor. It sounds crazy coming from a supermodel, but there has to be something that when you look at that horse, it just says 'choose me.' You don't know why."

Bax's parents bred and consigned Danzdanzdance (Aus) (Mastercraftsman {Ire}) to the 2016 Select Sale at Karaka, where she fetched NZ$5,000. Bax's B.A.X. (Bloodstock Achieving Xcellence) races the filly in partnership and she has punched well above her weight, with third placings in the G1 Vodafone NZ Derby and in the G1 Livamol Classic for earnings north of NZ$140,000. Similar to the colt that became Beauty Generation, Bax connected with the grey filly on a more intangible level

Beauty Generation as a yearling | nzb.co.nz

"When I saw her, it was just like, 'how can anybody not see what I see?' she said. 'How can anybody not see that there's a star quality here and she's saying look at me!' It was exactly the same with Beauty Generation. There was something that when you looked at him, you just could not look away."

It would be nearly two years before the horse, raced initially as Montaigne, found his way to the races. Connections were cautiously optimistic and there seemed to be a buzz, albeit a fairly muted one.

"A lot of trainers don't like to talk about their horses until they get onto the track," Bax said. "When [Anthony] would talk about this horse, you could actually hear the excitement in his voice. If you just listen to the inflections in peoples' voices and the trainers' voices, you can tell there's a little something going on that may be a little more special than the horse next to it."

Montaigne was a 50-1 roughie for his career debut over a heavy 9 surface at Warwick Farm, but defied the tote and the underfoot conditions to be a good second.

"It was quite surprising that he gained a placing in that heavy track and when he got a better track the next start out [at Warwick Farm 13 days later], it was an easy kill," she said.

Third in the G2 Hobartville S., Montaigne continued his over-achieving ways with a runner-up effort to Tarzino (NZ) (Tavistock {NZ}) in the G1 Rosehill Guineas and backed up on seven days' rest to finish a close fourth behind fellow Kiwi-bred Preferment (NZ) (Zabeel {NZ}) in the G1 The BMW S.

About 48 hours later, Montaigne was off to Hong Kong to join the formidable stable of John Moore.

Derby Dreams...

The deal struck meant no trip to the G1 AJC Derby, but now named Beauty Generation and owned by Patrick Kwok, the prestigious BMW Hong Kong Derby became the objective. The bay performed admirably in the 4-year-old series, finishing third to his ill-fated and exceptionally talented stable companion Rapper Dragon (Aus) (Street Boss) in the Hong Kong Classic Mile and in the Derby itself. Though he bested stablemate and top G1 Longines Hong Kong Vase hopeful Eagle Way (Aus) (More Than Ready) in a 2200m handicap following the Derby, a new horse was born the following season.

Moore opted to cut Beauty Generation back to 1400m to 1600m at the beginning of his 5-year-old campaign and his rise to stardom has since been meteoric. The all-the-way winner of the 2017 Hong Kong Mile, Beauty Generation added the G1 Queen's Silver Jubilee Cup (1400m) and the G1 Champions Mile, then outpointed the mercurial Pakistan Star (Ger) (Shamardal) to be named Hong Kong Horse of the Year and no-brainer champion miler. He is perfect in three tries this term, including a sensational three-length success in the G2 BOCHK WM Jockey Club Mile Nov. 18.

"When you see how Zac Purton rode him the last start, it was like he was driving a Ferrari, it wasn't like he was riding a horse," Bax said. "He was able to shift gears, not compete with the front-runners when they jumped away. He took him back, waited for them to ease off the pace at the front and then went forward. They were all on the back foot when he started to make his forward movement. Purton was obviously confident that he had such an incredible horse that he could do that with, because not that many horses are able to do that."

Bax always believed that Beauty Generation was the perfect type of horse for Hong Kong.

Kylie Bax | Trish Dunell

"From the first time that he paraded in New Zealand in front of prospective buyers as a yearling, he was cool, calm and collected," she said. "He traveled on a float for an hour to get where he needed to be. When you take a horse up there, you need a horse that able to be calm in the box, settle well and not be flighty or highly strung, not be hot. You need a lot of attributes to be able to travel and to live in Hong Kong. Obviously this horse is thriving in that environment, which is absolutely fantastic."

Kiwi Power...

Beauty Generation joined fellow New Zealand-breds Vengeance of Rain (NZ) (Zabeel {NZ}), Ambitious Dragon (NZ) (Pins {Aus}) and Werther (NZ) (Tavistock {NZ}) in being named Horse of the Year in Hong Kong and Bax makes no effort to conceal her Kiwi pride.

"In New Zealand, we do our best to be able to supply Hong Kong with some of our best equines," she said. "Obviously it's a very proud moment and I couldn't be happier for all the connections, past and present. I know that past owners are watching with great excitement every time he runs. It's just a thrill for everybody. He's a great flag-bearer for New Zealand."

And on a rating of 126, Beauty Generation is the best miler in the world according to the most recent Longines World's Best Racehorse Rankings, another feather in Bax's cap.

"I am very proud to have done that," she commented. "It's like a child, all my horses are like my babies and it's absolutely a thrill." (Click to share the entire preview edition)

LONGINES HONG KONG CUP

Purse: HK$28 million (£2,806,306/€3,161,777/A$4,896,849/ US$3,578,605)
Distance: 2000 meters
2017 champion: Time Warp (GB) (Archipenko)

THE PICK: Japanese-based runners have won various iterations of the Hong Kong Cup no fewer than five times and twice in the last three years, including A Shin Hikari (Jpn) (Deep Impact {Jpn}) in spectacular front-running fashion in 2015 and Horse of the Year Maurice (Jpn) (Screen Hero {Jpn}) the following December. The island nation accounts for a third of the entrants in this year's renewal and Sungrazer (Jpn) (Deep Impact {Jpn}) gets the slight nod. Victorious in a soft-turf running of the G3 Swan S. in 2017, Sungrazer was a close third to Persian Knight (Jpn) (Harbinger {GB}) in the G1 Mile Championship last November. Though he defeated Mozu Ascot (Frankel {GB}) in course-record time of 1:31.3 in the G2 Yomiuri Milers Cup this past April, he successfully stretched out to the 2000 meters to best 2016 G1 Tokyo Yushun hero Makahiki (Jpn) (Deep Impact {Jpn}) in the G2 Sapporo Kinen and exits a good second to 2017 Tokyo Yushun winner Rey de Oro (Jpn) (King Kamehameha {Jpn}) in the G1 Tenno Sho (Autumn) (2000m) at Tokyo in late October.

THE CONTENDERS: Will the real Time Warp please stand up, please stand up? The big chestnut could not have been more impressive in leading throughout in last year's race and became the first to break the 2-minute barrier when winning the G1 Hong Kong Gold Cup a few months later. He's had four runs already this term, suffering three defeats by a combined 43 lengths, but when he's allowed to bowl along at his own speed, he's tough as nails, as evidenced by his tenacious victory over full-brother Glorious Forever in the G2 Sa Sa Ladies' Purse H. (1800m) in early November.

The latter has been sworn off the same speed duel that cost him and his brother any chance in the G2 Jockey Club Cup last time, but having drawn gate one, he may have to go to have his best chance. Deirdre (Jpn) (Deep Impact {Jpn}) looks to become the first female to win the Cup since Snow Fairy (Ire) (Intikhab) in 2010. Winner of the 2017 G1 Shuka Sho over this trip, she was third to Benbatl (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}) in the G1 Dubai Turf earlier this year and was last seen pegging back the classy Lys Gracieux (Jpn) (Heart's Cry {Jpn}) in the G2 Fuchu Himba (1800m) in Tokyo Oct. 13.

THE ROUGHIE: Hong Kong-owned Stormy Antarctic (GB) (Stormy Atlantic) is ostensibly better over a mile, but did stretch out to 2000m to be runner-up to Benbatl in the G1 Bayrisches Zuchtrennen in Germany earlier this summer. Twice a group winner at 1600m this term, he was third to Oscar Performance (Kitten's Joy) in the GI Woodbine Mile in September and a game fourth at 40-1 to Roaring Lion (Kitten's Joy) in the G1 Queen Elizabeth II S. at Ascot.

THE SELECTIONS: Sungrazer, Deirdre, Stormy Antarctic.

LONGINES HONG KONG MILE

Purse: HK$25 million (£2,506,695/€2,816,286/A$4,436,846/ US$3,200,559)
Distance: 1600 meters
2017 winner: Beauty Generation (NZ) (Road to Rock {Aus})

THE PICK: A Group 3 winner at a mile and narrowly second in the G1 Satsuki Sho (Japanese 2000 Guineas) over 2000m, Persian Knight (Jpn) (Harbinger {GB}) came from well back in the field to become the rare 3-year-old to defeat older horses in the G1 Mile Championship at Kyoto last November. A troubled second back over the metric mile and a quarter in the G1 Osaka Hai in April, the strapping dark bay was only sixth to Mozu Ascot (Frankel {GB}) in the G1 Yasuda Kinen in June, but pulled very hard that day and was blocked for a run at the 400m while the winner weaved his way through. He exits a head defeat at the hands of 3-year-old colt Stelvio (Jpn) (Lord Kanaloa {Jpn}) in this year's Mile Championship, but again failed to get a clear shot late and looked to have been hampered by the eventual winner in the waning strides. Though the Mile has been the domain of Hong Kong-based runners by and large over the last 20 years, the three Japanese horses to have left with the trophy during that period--Eishin Preston (Green Dancer, 2001), Hat Trick (Jpn) (Sunday Silence, 2005) and Maurice (Jpn) (Screen Hero {Jpn}, 2015)--all prepped in the Kyoto feature.

THE CONTENDERS: Beauty Generation (NZ) (Road to Rock {Aus}) goes in defence of his title Sunday and was recently named the world's top-rated miler in the latest edition of the Longines World's Best Racehorse Rankings. And why not? He is perfect and really untested in his three trips postward this season and no longer seems the type that has to be on the front end and gallop his rivals into the ground. He figures around even money Sunday afternoon and he's a winner if he runs his race, but of at least some concern is his habit to drift out.

He's got gate 12 and it isn't as if there is a large margin of error, but there is no doubt, you have to beat him to cash.

Mozu Ascot snapped a streak of luckless runs with his narrow victory in the Yasuda Kinen and just failed in his return to the races in the 1400-meter G2 Swan S. Oct. 27. The 12-5 favorite in the Mile Championship, he never truly looked happy in the run and endured some traffic in upper stretch to boot before finishing 13th of 18, albeit beaten just fourth lengths. He should get the right run from gate two beneath Christophe Lemaire and the price should be right on a horse who should be flying late.

THE ROUGHIES: Southern Legend (Aus) (Not a Single Doubt {Aus}) handed Nothingilikemore (Aus) (Husson {Arg}) his first career defeat in a Class 1 handicap on this program last season and caused an upset in a similar spot in March. Third to Beauty Generation in the Champions Mile, he overwhelmed the field in the Kranji Mile in Singapore and exits a runner-up effort to Beauty Generation in the G2 Jockey Club Mile. He could give a good account of himself. One Master (GB) (Fastnet Rock {Aus}) upset the G1 Prix de la Foret on Arc day and was a sneaky good fifth in the GI Breeders' Cup Mile last time when she was forced to race for a good part of the race on the most demanding part of a tough track.

THE SELECTIONS: Persian Knight, Beauty Generation, One Master.

LONGINES HONG KONG SPRINT

Purse: HK$20 million (£2,004,715/€2,258,375/A$3,498,006/ US$2,556,057)
Distance: 1200 metres
2017 winner: Mr Stunning (Aus) (Exceed and Excel {Aus})

THE PICK: Silent Witness (Aus) (El Moxie) was undefeated in his first seven career appearances from 1000 meters up to 1200 meters, having risen through the handicaps to start as the 1.3 (3-10) favorite in the 2003 G1 Hong Kong Sprint off a mark of 130. Hot King Prawn (Aus) (Denman {Aus}) carries a profile similar to that of the local sprint legend as he prepares to make his top-level debut with nine wins and a near-miss second from 10 starts off a rating of 126. He suffered his lone defeat when toting 133 pounds at the top of Class 2 in his first go at six furlongs last April, but has proved bulletproof this season, with three scores at the pattern level, including a half-length defeat of former stablemate and defending Sprint champion Mr Stunning in the G2 Jockey Club Sprint over this course and distance Nov. 18. Contrarians will point out that the pace of the JC Sprint was not that demanding and that Hot King Prawn was in receipt of five pounds under the conditions of the race, but the grey gelding just keeps on keeping on and will be a warm item to continue his progression Sunday afternoon.

THE CONTENDERS: By all accounts, trainer John Size did a remarkable job with Mr Stunning, overseeing that one's meteoric rise which included a gutsy victory over then-stablemate D B Pin (NZ) (Darci Brahma {NZ}) and Blizzard (Aus) (Sebring {Aus}) in this event 12 months back. Somewhat remarkably, Mr Stunning--now trained by Frankie Lor--has gone 0-4-1 from his last five races dating back to last December, but at level weights and making his third start of the current season, he will have every chance to turn the tables.

D B Pin proved that his run in the Sprint was no fluke with a defeat of the dead-heating Mr Stunning and stable companion Beat the Clock (Aus) (Hinchinbrook {Aus}) in the G1 Centenary Sprint Prize the following month. D B Pin was set to represent Hong Kong in the G1 Dubai Golden Shaheen last March, but the plug was pulled on the eve of his departure owing to a tendon injury. Nursed back by the ever-patient Size, D B Pin was last of nine in the Jockey Club Sprint, but not beaten all that far, and has since trialled very nicely. Beat the Clock almost took down the colors of Beauty Generation in the G1 Queen's Silver Jubilee Cup in March and further franked the form of the Sprint by defeating Mr Stunning in the G2 Sprint Cup in April. Third to Ivictory (Aus) (Mossman {Aus}) in the G1 Chairman's Sprint Prize, Beat the Clock was a strong third when first-up for seven months in the Jockey Club Sprint.

Ivictory was the next best thing when winning the Chairman's, but has turned in a pair of subpar efforts back-to-back. Size believes the forecast rain would do Ivictory some good and he also showed some of his previous spark in a recent trial.

THE ROUGHIES: Fine Needle (Jpn) (Admire Moon {Jpn}) is no Lord Kanaloa (Jpn), but is the best short-tracker in Japan based on his wins in this year's G1 Takamtsunomiya Kinen and G1 Sprinters' S. Lim's Cruiser (Aus) (Casino Prince {Aus}) is the king of the hill among Singapore sprinters, having won come from well off them to win the Lion City Cup last May.

LONGINES HONG KONG VASE

Purse: HK$20 million (£2,004,715/€2,258,375/A$3,498,006/ US$2,556,057)
Distance: 2400 metres
2017 winner: Highland Reel (Ire) (Galileo {Ire})

THE PICK: The Vase has been a race dominated down the years by European-based gallopers, with only the John Moore-conditioned Dominant (Ire) (Cacique {Ire}) putting one on the board for the locals in 2013. The current crop of stayers in Hong Kong is as strong as it has been in quite some time, and we are giving a slight edge to Exultant (Ire) (Teofilo {Ire}) to bring home the spoils. A two-time winner and third to Churchill (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) and future G1 Dubai World Cup hero Thunder Snow (Ire) (Helmet {Aus}) in the 2017 G1 Irish 2000 Guineas while trained by Mick Halford as Irishcorrespondent, Exultant was runner-up in the 2018 Hong Kong Classic Cup (1800m) and third as the favorite in the Hong Kong Derby (2000m) while appearing to want more real estate. A six-length winner of G3 Queen Mother Memorial Cup H., he was second to 'TDN Rising Star' Pakistan Star (Ger) (Shamardal) in the G1 Champions & Chater Cup, both races over 2400 meters. He has progressed steadily this season and his runner-up effort to Eagle Way (Aus) (More Than Ready) in the G2 Jockey Club Cup should set him up well for this.

THE CONTENDERS: Possessed of as much raw talent as any member of the Vase field, Pakistan Star somewhat surprisingly lines up here as opposed to the significantly more valuable Hong Kong Cup. But the enigmatic 5-year-old has some questions about him, as he has been very disappointing his last two runs, including a distant eighth in the Jockey Club Cup. He trialled successfully Nov. 30 (video) to get a green light from HKJC stewards, his draw in two should mean a soft trip and he'll have a crack at them turning for home. As for what happens next? Tune in and find out.

Eagle Way might have been routed for the Cup, but for the same ownership's Time Warp (GB) (Archipenko) in that event. Third to the latter in the Sa Sa Ladies' Purse Nov. 4, he returned on two weeks' rest and broke Time Warp's 2000-meter track record when defeating Exultant last time out. He's one that would love some pace in front of him, but the race shape may not work in his favor.

Waldgeist (GB) (Galileo {Ire}) easily defeated last year's Vase runner-up Talismanic (GB) (Medaglia d'Oro) in the G2 Prix Foy at ParisLongchamp and found the line generously to finish fourth, beaten under two lengths, by Enable (GB) (Nathaniel {Ire}) in the G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe. Thought to be a danger to Enable in the GI Breeders' Cup Turf, Waldgeist never got through the deep ground and came home a distant fifth. The underfoot conditions Sunday should be more suitable, even with some rain around, but the question is whether there is still gas in the tank.

Prince of Arran (GB) (Shirocco {Ger}) has looked very well on the track this week and shows no signs of being over the top despite some heavy travel. He earned his way into the G1 Melbourne Cup by winning the G3 Lexus S. just three days prior and covered himself in glory in the big race with a third after looking dangerous 300m from home.

Mirage Dancer (GB) (Frankel {GB}) easily accounted for Red Verdon (Lemon Drop Kid) in the G3 Glorious S. (2400m) at Goodwood in early August and missed by a short head in the G3 Legacy Cup (2200m) when last spotted Sept. 22. Ryan Moore rides for Sir Michael Stoute, a team that cannot be dismissed.

THE ROUGHIES: Eziyra (Ire) (Teofilo {Ire}) is another in the Vase for her sire, and her third to future Arc runner-up Sea of Class (Ire) (Sea the Stars {Ire}) in the G1 Yorkshire Oaks looks pretty strong in hindsight. Latrobe (Ire) (Camelot {GB}) has made a positive impression visually this week and this year's G1 Irish Derby hero turned in a very good effort in his latest to just miss in the G1 Mackinnon S. at Flemington Nov. 10.
