SUNDAY'S TRACKSIDE DERBY REPORT

McCraken having some fun back at the barn after breezing at Churchill Sunday | Sherackatthetrack

by Steve Sherack

LOUISVILLE, Ky - 'TDN Rising Star' McCraken (Ghostzapper) was the undisputed headliner during Sunday's exclusive 15-minute training period (8:30-8:45 a.m) reserved for GI Kentucky Derby/Oaks contenders at Churchill Downs.

The popular Whitham homebred--already a perfect three-for-three beneath the Twin Spires as a juvenile--hugged the rail beautifully as he turned for home and glided down the stretch through another visually impressive five-furlong workout in 1:00.80 (9/25) on a very warm, humid and breezy morning under mostly cloudy skies in the Bluegrass. Regular rider Brian Hernandez Jr., sporting a GoPro camera on his helmet, was in the irons.

Whether you are willing or not to forgive McCraken's disappointing third-place finish as the favorite in the GII Blue Grass S.--this writer certainly is--trainer Ian Wilkes clearly has him heading in the right direction as the First Saturday in May quickly approaches.

Hence (Street Boss), already considered to be this year's 'wise-guy horse' by many off his powerful win in a key renewal of the GIII Sunland Derby, made a great physical impression during his Sunday morning gallop. The well-built chestnut, ponied to the track by trainer Steve Asmussen, is one of three Calumet Farm homebreds being aimed for the Run for the Roses.

CAN BODE MILLER REVOLUTIONIZE THE WAY HORSES ARE TRAINED? by Bill Finley

Bode Miller, the gold-medal winning Olympic ski racer, wants to be a horse trainer. Just not a conventional one.

With his skiing career all but over, Miller is already laying the foundation for his next vocation, training Thoroughbreds. Though only an owner at this point, he has already purchased his own barn at the Fair Hill Training Center in Maryland, where he has a small string of horses trained by others. He said he is focused now on spending time with his family and will not take out his trainer's license until his two young children are older, but when he does, he will go about it in a way that traditional horsemen will likely see as racing's version of reinventing the wheel.

Hence, as well as fellow Asmussen stablemates Lookin At Lee (Lookin At Lucky) and Untrapped (Trappe Shot), are slated to breeze Monday. The maiden Sonneteer (Midnight Lute), trained by Keith Desormeaux, is also scheduled to breeze.

The 31-1 Blue Grass upsetter Irap (Tiznow), meanwhile, got his first look at Churchill Downs Sunday and stepped onto the track with a nice bounce to his step as head Doug O'Neill assistant Leandro Mora watched with a big smile standing alongside a large group of media and photographers assembled on the backstretch.

Will Blue Grass runner-up Practical Joke (Into Mischief) be adding blinkers next weekend? After sporting the shades during his breeze Friday, the handsome bay, trained by Chad Brown, was not wearing them during his 1 3/8-miles gallop Sunday.

Juvenile champ Classic Empire (Pioneerof the Nile), out for only light exercise jogging after breezing four furlongs in :49.20 Friday, was guided back to the barn area with Mark Casse on the shank after being met on the track by the trainer by the chute.

Antonio Sano | Sherackatthetrack

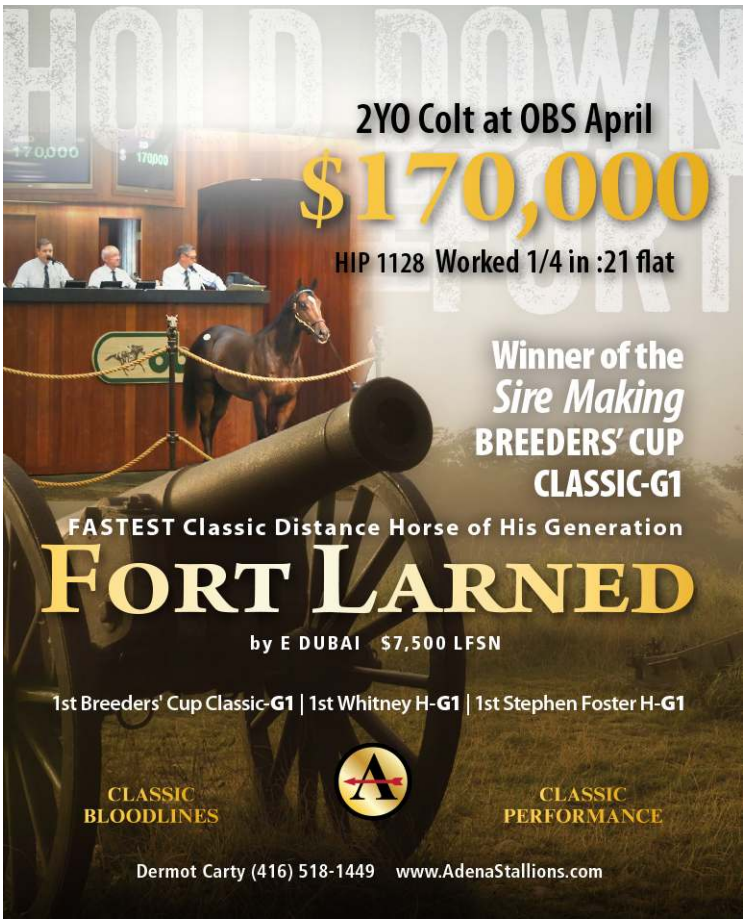
The gray Fast and Accurate (Hansen), who figures to be one of the longest shots on the board in the Derby, also hit the worktab Sunday with an in-company five-furlong breeze in 1:01.20 (17/32). The GIII Spiral winner, stabled at Mike Maker's Trackside base, was making his first local appearance over the Churchill Downs main track.

Trainer Antonio Sano seems to be taking his first trip to the Derby right in stride. Sano, who has been quite active on his Twitter account (@ASanoRacing) lately, was one of many observers with their cell phone out as the GII Fountain of Youth S. winner Gunnevera (Dialed In) was getting cleaned up back at the barn.

An even bigger audience continued to assemble outside of Barn 26 as the aforementioned GII Kentucky jockey Club S. and GIII Sam F. Davis S. hero cooled out, walking the shedrow around 9 a.m. McCraken seemed to come out of his breeze in good spirits, keeping his handlers plenty busy during his bath as well.



Can't make it out to the track for the morning activity this week? A live stream of the Derby/Oaks training sessions, presented by TwinSpires.com, will be available at multiple sources, including on Twitter via @KentuckyDerby as well as www.kentuckyderby.com/workouts/live.

MCCRAKEN ON DERBY WORK TAB

Whitham Thoroughbreds' McCraken (Ghostzapper) tuned up for Saturday's GI Kentucky Derby with a five-furlong work in 1:00.80 at Churchill Downs Sunday. Working on his own, McCraken produced fractions of :13, :25.20, :36.80, :48.60 and 1:00.80 with a six-furlong gallop out in 1:13.40, seven-eighths in 1:27.20 and the mile in 1:41.80. The five-eighths time was the 10th fastest of 32 at the distance.

"It was just what I wanted," trainer Ian Wilkes said of the work. "I only wanted him to gallop out an extra eighth because I wanted him to want to do more and he wants to do more."

McCraken won his first four starts, including the GII Kentucky Jockey Club S. and GIII Sam F. Davis S., before suffering his first defeat in the Apr. 8 GII Toyota Blue Grass S.

"I feel like he is back into his rhythm," Wilkes said. "The Blue Grass was a little different for him in that he was fresh and didn't switch leads and that took away from his punch."

McCraken | Coady Photography

• Also working towards the Derby Sunday at Churchill was GIII Spiral S. winner Fast and Accurate (Hansen), who went five furlongs in company with Grade I placed Adventist (Any Given Saturday) in 1:01.20.

"Everything went smoothly," trainer Mike Maker said. "It was nothing out of the ordinary with him. I thought he handled the dirt well."

Fast and Accurate has won on turf and synthetic, but was off the board in his only dirt appearance at Parx last fall.

• GII Wood Memorial winner Irish War Cry (Curlin) worked six furlongs Sunday at Fair Hill Training Center in 1:13.20 (video). The move was accomplished in company with 4-year-old maiden Providence Road (Bellamy Road) and jockey Rajiv Maragh was in the irons.

"He pretty much did what he wanted," trainer Graham Motion (interview video) said. "He sat a couple of lengths off his workmate and did it nicely. I was very happy." Cont. p5

Motion continued, "I think Rajiv was very comfortable with him. He had been anxious to see how he'd handle sitting off another horse, which is something we'd done with him before in Florida, but Rajiv hadn't been on him then and wanted to see how he'd be. He handled it very well and was very relaxed about it."

• Clearview Stable's Ever So Clever (Medaglia d'Oro), winner of the GIII Fantasy S., tuned up for Friday's GI Kentucky Oaks with an easy half-mile in :49.80 Sunday at Churchill Downs.

Irish War Cry | Sarah Andrew

"It was spot on," trainer Steve Asmussen said. "It's a good race, but the filly is doing wonderful. She's very comfortable here at Churchill and has run solid over the racetrack. We feel that she has that going for her. And, obviously we were impressed with today's move."

• Also working for a possible start in the Oaks, Westrock Stable's Torrent (Blame) worked a sharp half-mile in :47.60. The filly still needs one more defection to make the Oaks field. "It was a smooth, fast work," trainer Ron Moquett said of the move that was the eighth fastest of 61 at the distance. "Just what I wanted." Churchill Apr. 29 workout videos

Why are Thoroughbreds, essentially, trained the same way they were 50 years ago and why is racing the only sport in which the athletes have not gotten dramatically faster over the years? Miller believes the answer is that horsemen are too tradition-bound, afraid to do anything dramatically different and that the athlete is not pushed nearly hard enough in their training. He's not arrogant or saying he has all the answers. He is saying it's time to borrow some of the methods he used to became a world-class skier and for someone to try to shatter the status quo.

Bode Miller | Horsephotos

Miller revealed his thoughts on modern training methods and his plans for his future in a recent podcast with the TDN. He knows when it comes to racing, he is still an outsider who has a lot to learn, but he sees that as a good thing.

"To some degree, it's a disadvantage, my not having come up underneath some of these really knowledgeable, experienced trainers," he said. "They have so much knowledge that has gotten passed down through the generations from mentor to pupil. But at the same time, in the training business there is a lot of insecurity, bad habits and misinterpretation of information and things like that that have also gotten passed along. I want to move the needle in terms of improving the athlete beyond what the normal training programs do and I also want to get the athletes prepared to tackle the competition they're put in against in a more efficient and more effective way so they don't get hurt as much. It's a big advantage, to some degree, not having come out from underneath one of those experienced trainers because I don't carry the same baggage they have accumulated over their careers. Some of it is very valuable, but some of it is throwaway."

Miller is thinking not like a horse trainer, but an Olympic athlete. Because of course conditions, times in skiing from one year to another can be hard to compare, but there's no doubt the athletes keep getting faster.

The winning time for the Olympic downhill race, an event in which Miller has medaled, in 1948 was 2:55. In 2010, the year Miller earned a bronze medal, winner Didier Defago completed the course in 1:54.31. Miller understands why skiers, along with swimmers, track and field competitors and so many other Olympians have gotten so much faster over the years: in their sports, there is a constant effort to find better training methods. Not so in horse racing.

Miller's good friend Bob Baffert may be the best trainer in the sport today, but he had Miller scratching his head when it came to some of the things he did with his horses.

"As much as I respect Bob and his accomplishments, which are just mind-boggling to me, I said to him, 'Bob you realize you're doing a lot less than you could be in terms of maximizing your athletes' potential. If you were a coach we'd be having a different conversation right now, just as I did with coaches all throughout my athletic career.' I realized right away that Bob is a tremendous horseman and has such a gift when it comes to his eye for horseflesh, which is second to none, but he doesn't know that much about physiology or sports science or training programs. There came a time when I told Bob I want to try some of these things out and he tried to steer me away from it. He said you don't realize how tough this sport is. I know it is, but I came through a tough sport, too."

Bob Baffert and Bode Miller | Horsephotos

The one aspect of training a horse that Miller finds most puzzling is why they spend so little time actually training and so much time confined to their stalls.

"The reality is we absolutely do way, way too little with these animals," he said. "Everyone will say Thoroughbreds are too fragile, but the reality is they take off-the-track Thoroughbreds and turn them into horses that are bomb proof. They can run all day, can jump fences going four miles and they don't get hurt that often. The way we do it in the Thoroughbred world, would be like me taking an athlete like Carl Lewis or Michael Johnson and telling them they had to lay still in bed for 23 ½ hours a day. We'd get them out of bed and have them sprint at 80%, 100 yards once every seven to 10 days and then have a track meet once a month and say I'm going to have you run 400 yards or 800 yards at maximum speed. Watch what would happen to those athletes. They may have a couple of good performances in them but they would rupture their Achilles tendon, they would blow out a hamstring or a calf muscle. They would have chronic injures all the time and that's exactly what we are facing in the Thoroughbred world. From a physiological standpoint it's a no-brainer."

It's that philosophy that led him to buy the barn at Fair Hill as he believes anyone training at the racetrack is at a disadvantage in terms of the limits to what they can do with their horses.

"They are an animal designed to be in a different environment," Miller said.

Miller isn't saying that he will ever get a horse to run a mile and a quarter in 1:50. But he believes that if his methods can lead to even a minor improvement in the horse, then he will be successful.

"I want to show that I can move the needle a little bit," he said. "We're talking about small percentages here. A claiming horse might run a mile-and-a-sixteenth in 1:46. A very high-level stakes horse might run it in 1:42. That's a small percentage, around 4%. If you start chipping away at those percentages, even by 1 or 2%, you should end up being successful in the long run. In human sports there have been huge improvements in times over the years. I believe there's a way to do something similar in the equine world.

"They want the horse to be born, run around and then go out and race without any formal training and I think we've seen in human athletics that, by no stretch of the imagination, is that any way to get the highest level of performance out of the athlete. In case of my experience, I applied some sports science, some nutrition and frequency and intensity of training and saw first hand the kind of impact that can have on performance."

Miller says he has the same goals all trainers have, to win the most important races there are, the GI Kentucky Derby, the GI Breeders' Cup Classic. But another goal is to keep his horses racing much longer than the typical Thoroughbred.

"I don't believe in the philosophy of racing horses until they are 3 1/2 and then retiring them," Miller said. "I obviously understand about the financial incentives to do that, but I think it's bad for the sport. Still, I don't blame anyone for doing it. But if you have a way where you can really condition a horse to be sound and you have a really solid physiological monitoring system where you can predict and really tell when chronic injuries are creeping up, I think it's very possible to safely race a horse until they are 6, 7, 8, 9 years old with no increase in injury at all. I think the worst chance of injures are when they are really young; they are underdeveloped and there are a lot of issues that come along with that. My thought is I'll be shooting for superstars all the time and hoping to train them through those 2 and 3-year old seasons, but not discarding them when they get older." Cont. p8

"I've also seen it a million times when a human athlete really comes into his or her own at 20 years old or even 25 years old," Miller continued. "I think it's exactly the same thing with horses. If you tap into the right combination of factors, there should be plenty of horses that start to really figure things out when they get to be four or five."

Based on the ages of his two children and his desire to wait until he's an "empty nester" until he goes full tilt into training, Miller might not start his new career for 10 years or more. He's also smart enough to know what he doesn't know and understands he will have to hire and work with people who have a more traditional background in racing. But this is also someone brimming with confidence, is used to being successful and displayed during his skiing career that he is fearless. He's going to come into racing and seriously rock the boat. And it might just work.

ILIAD RETIRED

by Jessica Martini

Kaleem Shah's Iliad (Ghostzapper--Little Swoon, by You and I) has been retired from racing after suffering an ankle injury during a workout last week.

"He had us dreaming for a while," Shah said of the handsome bay who put himself on the GI Kentucky Derby trail with a win in the GII San Vicente S. and a runner-up effort behind Mastery (Candy Ride {Arg}) in the GII San Felipe S. "I think whatever was plaguing him was bugging him [when fifth] in the GI Santa Anita Derby."

Iliad worked seven furlongs at Santa Anita Apr. 22 in 1:28.40, but came out of the drill injured, according to Shah.

"He had a very good work last week, but unfortunately he came out of it with his ankle swollen," Shah said. "He does not need surgery, but the vets have advised me that he won't be able to come back at the top even if we gave him all the time off and had surgery. So we decided to retire him."

Iliad, who broke his maiden for trainer Bob Baffert at Los Alamitos last December, captured the San Vicente Feb. 12 in his first start for Doug O'Neill. He won two of five starts and earned $247,345.

Stud plans are still to be determined.

Evo Campo reeled in pacesetting Responsibleforlove turning for home and bounded home first in the 1 1/2-mile GIII Santa Barbara S. at Santa Anita Sunday. Team Valor's Responsibleforlove, making her second U.S. start, was hustled out to the early lead and Evo Campo chased that foe through an opening quarter in :24.41. Longshot Responsibleforlove began opening a clear lead into the stretch the first time, with Evo Campo her closest rival as she opened up by a much as 10 lengths through fractions of :48.28 and 1:12.63.

Evo Campo | Benoit

Still well in front after a mile in 1:37.59, Responsibleforlove's advantage disappeared rapidly turning for home the second time and Evo Campo pounced to the lead in upper stretch before striding clear.

"It set up great, we got the best of it," said winning trainer Paddy Gallagher. "The further they went, the better it was for us. The rest of them were stacked up and we were free-running. It worked out great."

Evo Campo, who began her career with a win over the Lingfield all-weather for trainer Mark Usher and Saxon House Racing in December 2014, went to the sidelines after winning the Possibly Perfect S. over the Santa Barbara's course and distance last June. She resurfaced to run fifth in the Mar. 12 GII Santa Ana S. last time out.

Pedigree Notes:

Evo Campo is out of the unraced Billie Bailey, who is a half-sister to multiple group placed Lil's Boy (Danzig), as well as to the dam of GI Arkansas Derby winner Line of David (Lion Heart). The mare was purchased as a 4-year-old for $2,000 at the 2001 Keeneland January sale.

PRICEY FRIESAN FIRE COLT COMES OUT RUNNING; NAMED 'TDN RISING STAR'

Army Mule (Friesan Fire), the second-priciest purchase at last year's Fasig-Tipton Midlantic Two-Year-Olds in Training sale and by far the most expensive horse by his sire to date at $825K, immediately began paying back his purchase price with a head-turning performance worthy of 'TDN Rising Star' status in a Belmont maiden special weight Sunday.

Coupled in the wagering at 3-2 with Robert Falcone, Jr. trainee Thaddeus (Mineshaft), the bay stacked up three deep as his entry mate showed the way narrowly through splits of :21.99 and :45.02. John Velazquez gave in to the powerful colt's tugging around the quarter pole, and as soon as he set him loose it was all over--Army Mule galloped away and poured it on by 8 1/2 lengths. Fellow firster Zap Zap Zap (Ghostzapper) took second from Thaddeus.

Army Mule | Adam Coglianese

The winner, a May 29 foal, was originally acquired by Ocala-based horseman David Scanlon for $35,000 as a Fasig-Tipton Midlantic Fall yearling, and breezed a co-bullet :10 flat at Timonium. He was signed for last year by Jimmy Crupi accompanied by Dennis O'Neill, and had originally been sent to O'Neill's brother Doug's barn out in California before resurfacing with Todd Pletcher down at Palm Beach Downs over the winter. For more, see Friesan Fire Colt Lights Up Fasig.

Army Mule is a half-brother to Platinum Steel (Eddington), SP, $171,013 and a yearling colt by Old Fashioned. His dam was most recently bred to Seville (Ger), and his next two dams were both graded stakes winners.

Friesan Fire swept the Fair Grounds leg of the Triple Crown trail before going off the 38-10 favorite in the 2009 GI Kentucky Derby. The Country Life Farm resident, whose oldest runners are four, was represented by another relatively expensive juvenile this past Wednesday, when his daughter (hip 375) sold for $230,000 to Lane's End Bloodstock on behalf of West Point Thoroughbreds and Team D at OBS April after a speedy breeze of her own (:9 4/5).

Portmagee was a well-bet third on the Belmont main track to open her career last June and graduated over course and distance next out July 13. Third in her 4-year-old bow Feb. 5 at Gulfstream, the chestnut earned a career-best 86 Beyer in an allowance/optional claimer there Mar. 19 and was let go as the second-longest choice in this stakes debut.

Put on the lead by Irad Ortiz, Jr. from the outside draw, Portmagee ran uncontested through splits of :22.62 and :45.31 and arrived at the top of the lane in control. Miss Ella looked to pounce to her inside and Summer Reading challenged three-deep, but the pacesetter had plenty left in reserve and turned both foes back to earn a convincing tally. Heavily favored Fair Point (Smart Strike) faded to finish fourth after chasing the winner early.

Portmagee | Joe Labozzetta

"It's nice, it's her first stakes race and she's black-type now," said winning trainer Christophe Clement. "She was perfectly manageable and Irad gave her a great ride. He moved her up then slowed down just a little bit. She was the first one to kick and the final time was OK. We've always thought she was going to be a nice filly. We didn't think she was necessarily going to win today, but we expected her to be competitive. This is great."

Portmagee's dam, who hammered down for $2 million as a Fasig-Tipton Saratoga yearling in 2005, is a half to MGSW and sire Old Fashioned (Unbridled's Song) out of GSW/MGISP Collect Call (Meadowlake). She has an unraced sophomore Scat Daddy colt named Papa Jazz who went for $475,000 at the Saratoga sale, a juvenile filly by Curlin named Star Dreamin, a yearling colt by Maclean's Music, and foaled a colt by The Factor Apr. 7. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

BIG HANDSOME (c, 3, Street Boss--Moojha, by Forest Wildcat) broke through an emphatic four-length winner when switching to Gulfstream grass Mar. 17, and continued to demonstrate his affinity for that surface with a resounding romp Sunday at Belmont. Right to the front, the $250,000 Fasig-Tipton October acquisition doled out splits of :21.78 and :45.08 under a tight hold and scampered away from his rivals in the lane to run up the score to 4 1/2 lengths on the wire. Have Another (Stay Thirsty) completed the exacta in his first turf try, while stakes winner and 'TDN Rising Star' Undulated (Curlin) ran on for third in his first start since a third-place finish behind GI Kentucky Derby contender and fellow Rising Star Irish War Cry (Curlin) in Laurel's Marylander S. on the main track New Year's Eve. Second by a neck to Friday's local optional claiming winner Tale of Silence (Tale of the Cat) first up on muddy local dirt Sept. 24, Big Handsome settled for third behind a dominant performance from subsequently GSP Rising Star Takaful (Bernardini) a month later. He was fourth behind GIII Gotham S. runner-up and GII Wood Memorial S. third Cloud Computing (Maclean's Music) on the Big A inner before shipping down to Florida to try grass. Moojha is responsible for a yearling filly by Hard Spun. Lifetime Record: 5-2-1-1, $102,300. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

RALLY CRY (c, 4, Uncle Mo--Alienated {SW}, by Gone West) graduated at second asking in December 2015 at Gulfstream and broke through his entry-level allowance condition over track and trip Apr. 30. Third in the local Easy Goer S. June 11, the $250,000 Barretts March buy was laid up for the next nine months before running a good second Mar. 15 in Hallandale. Off as the 4-5 chalk in this spot, the dark bay stalked the pace of 'TDN Rising Star' Diversify (Bellamy Road) from a clear second through splits of :23.39 and :46.61. Sidling up to the leader under confident handling at the quarter pole, Rally Cry swept past by the furlong grounds while swishing his tail a bit and edged clear for a 1 1/2-length tally. Diversify was clearly second-best. The victor is a half to Alienation (Rock Hard Ten), MGISP, $160,800. His stakes-winning dam is a half to Irish MGSW Radharcnafarriage (Ire) (Distorted Humor), while second dam Extraterrestral (Storm Bird) is a half to MGISW Judge Angelucci (Honest Pleasure) and GISWs War (Majestic Light) and Peace (Naskra). Third dam Victorian Queen (Victoria Park) was a two-time Canadian champion. Alienated is responsible for an

Hammered to 7-10 favoritism here, the $275,000 OBS March buy broke alertly from the rail before dropping back to run in a joint seventh behind sharp splits of :23.21 and :46.28 set by 47-1 longshot Cerise's Prince (Eskendereya). Checked in traffic at the five-sixteenths marker, the dark bay snuck through a rail opening at the top of the stretch and ran down the frontrunner at the sixteenth pole to triumph going away by two lengths. Cerise's Prince bravely held for second. Homewood Field is a half to this barn's A Lot (Tapit), MSW & GISP, $474,240, who owns the seven-furlong course record in Elmont. Blewitt Joins Gulfstream Broadcast Team:

Handicapper and television host Jason Blewitt has joined the Gulfstream Park broadcast team as co-host and racing analyst, the track announced Sunday. Blewitt, previous host of "Belmont Park Live" and "Saratoga Live," will start his new assignment Thursday and will work alongside co-host Ron Nicoletti and paddock and trackside reporter Acacia Courtney.

"The addition of Jason to our broadcast team emphasizes Gulfstream and The Stronach Group's commitment to its coverage of Thoroughbred racing," said P.J. Campo, Vice President and General Manager of Gulfstream Park and Vice President of Racing for The Stronach Group. "Gulfstream's daily broadcast is one of the most watched in the country, and our summer racing program continues to grow. Jason has a great passion for Thoroughbred racing--he's a true fan of the sport--and we look forward to his contributions alongside Ron and Acacia."

Enstone | Michael Burns/Woodbine Entertainment Group

Enstone, last of 14 as a maiden in the GI Natalma S. over the local grass Sept. 18, graduated emphatically next out on the main oval Oct. 23 and was nailed late to finish second after setting the pace in the Ontario-bred Princess Elizabeth S. Nov. 12. Making her sophomore debut as the betting favorite in this Sunday feature, the bay tracked the speed of a longshot leader through tepid fractions of :23.87 and :47.27. Easily overhauling the pacesetter once straightening for home, the chalk kicked clear by the eighth pole and finished full of run to score by open lengths. Financial Recovery (Street Cry {Ire}) closed well into the slow pace from last to get second money.

The winner's dam, purchased for $1.7 million as a Keeneland November weanling in 2005, is a half to Forest Secrets (Forest Wildcat), who captured the 2001 GI Acorn S. Second dam Garden Secrets is a half to dual champion and Hall of Famer Silverbulletday (Silver Deputy), while third dam Rokeby Rose was a graded stakes winner on turf. La Suena is responsible for a 2-year-old Tiznow colt who sold for $265,000 at the Fasig-Tipton March sale, and she foaled a filly by Pioneerof the Nile last season before visiting Quality Road. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

A short price to return to winning ways and gain his first black-type victory, the full-brother to GI Hopeful S. hero Ralis, who races for the same owner/trainer combo, was allowed to settle in midpack three paths off the fence as the leading duo covered a first quarter in :23.92. Cut back to 6 1/2 furlongs versus state-breds in the Evening Jewel S. Apr. 8, the bay ran third at Santa Anita and was knocked down to a short price for this first try at Golden Gate. Racing with her head tilted awkwardly toward the infield, although leading the way first time past the wire, the blinkered bay soon came under pressure on the backstretch from Radish. MINDING BACK IN THE MOORESBRIDGE

Minding winning the Investec Oaks | Racing Post

Seven Group 1 successes and two Classics may just be the tip of the iceberg as last year's Cartier Horse of the Year Minding (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) makes her comeback in the G2 Camelot Irish EBF Mooresbridge S. at Naas on Monday. Derrick Smith's G1 1000 Guineas and G1 Investec Oaks heroine, who also won last summer's G1 Pretty Polly S. and G1 Nassau S., did something rare in reverting to a mile on British Champions Day and beating the best in that category in the G1 Queen Elizabeth II S., underlining her flexibility as well as her obvious class.

"She's in good form," Aidan O'Brien commented. "We've been happy with her since last year, but she's just ready to start."

Minding, who has never been off the board in 12 tries and also won the G1 Moyglare Stud S. and G1 Dubai Fillies' Mile at two, goes for her eighth black-type win and faces just four rivals here.

Interestingly, Ballydoyle have persisted with Johannes Vermeer (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) after his interrupted 3-year-old season which saw him race once when third in the G3 Darley S. over nine furlongs at Newmarket in October. The 2015 G1 Criterium International winner has a clean slate this term and can be measured against a race-fit, solid yardstick in the veteran Brendan Brackan (Ire) (Big Bad Bob {Ire}).

ANOTHER MOREIRA MASTERPIECE IN QE II

by Alan Carasso

Jockey Joao Moreira needs no introduction. Having cut his teeth in his native Brazil, the 32-year-old, affectionately referred to as 'Magic Man,' took Singapore by storm during his time there and has rewritten the record books since arriving in Hong Kong a few seasons ago. In his short time in the region, he has won each of the four Hong Kong International Races, and during the off-season, he has retained his physical and metal acuity by riding on the JRA circuit. That has helped Moreira forge relationships with some of Japan's top conditioners, including the very successful Noriyuki Hori, for whom he rode Maurice (Jpn) (Screen Hero {Jpn}) to a victory in last year's G1 Champions Mile at Sha Tin. That partnership was renewed in Sunday's G1 Audemars Piguet Queen Elizabeth II Cup (2000m) at Sha Tin, and it was yet another masterfully savvy ride from Moreira that carried the progressive 6-year-old Neorealism (Jpn) (Neo Universe {Jpn}) to a narrow defeat of 'TDN Rising Star' Pakistan Star (Ger) (Shamardal). Cont. p10

MAKING AN IMPACT

With five of the eight protagonists for Monday's G1 Prix Ganay at Saint-Cloud already tasting success at this level, it looks a solid renewal but also one that could be open for a colt who is yet to achieve that laureate in Cloth of Stars (Ire) (Sea the Stars {Ire}). Always held in high esteem by Andre Fabre, Godolphin's blueblood has enjoyed the perfect conditioning ahead of this test in winning the G3 Prix Exbury on Mar. 19 and Chantilly's G2 Prix d'Harcourt three weeks ago. His record at this venue is three-from-five, with his defeats coming in the 2015 G1 Criterium de Saint-Cloud and last year's G1 Grand Prix de Paris, and he may have the edge over the operation's returning G1 Eclipse S. hero Hawkbill (Kitten's Joy).

Cloth Of Stars | Scoop Dyga

That Charlie Appleby trainee was unable to build on his Sandown exploits thereafter and ended his 3-year-old campaign with a third behind Stall Ullmann's Guignol (Ger) (Cape Cross {Ire}) and fellow Godolphin representative Racing History (Ire) (Pivotal {GB}) in the G1 Grosser Preis von Bayern over a mile-and-a-half at Munich at the start of November. "Cloth of Stars has had an ideal preparation, winning the two lead-up races," Fabre commented. "He is in great form and goes on any ground, so I'm not worried about that [rain]. He needs to make the step up into Group 1 company now and show improvement again on his last two starts, if he is to make that transition."

Appleby said of Hawkbill, "He did very well in Dubai over the winter. He goes into the Ganay fresh and well and it looks like he should get conditions to suit. If he brings his 'A Game' to Saint-Cloud, he should be very competitive."

Second in this 12 months ago, Silverwave (Fr) (Silver Frost {Ire}) went on to beat Erupt (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}) in this track's feature G1 Grand Prix de Saint-Cloud in July.

Following up in the G2 Prix Foy at Chantilly in September, he was subsequently 13th in the G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe back there the following month and 12th in the G1 Hong Kong Vase. The Niarchos Family's Erupt went on to glory in the GI Canadian International, but like his compatriot was unable to land a blow in the Far East when 14th in the G1 Japan Cup.

His Highness The Aga Khan's 'TDN Rising Star' Zarak (Fr) (Dubawi {Ire}) has yet to convince that he is up to this standard, but the son of Zarkava (Ire) (Zamindar) at least has match-fitness on his side having won the G3 Dubai Millennium S. over 10 furlongs at Meydan on Feb. 16 and finished fourth in the Mar. 25 G1 Dubai Turf over nine furlongs.

BACK IN BLOOM?

Monday's G2 Prix du Muguet at Saint-Cloud, the traditional race of the country's Fete du Muguet, features the return of one of last year's leading fillies in Usherette (Ire) (Shamardal). This day last year, Godolphin's homebred was winning the G3 Dahlia S. over nine furlongs on Newmarket's Rowley Mile course prior to annexing the G2 Duke of Cambridge S. at Royal Ascot in June, but the wheels fell off when she was sixth of seven in the G1 Falmouth S. at Newmarket's July meeting and she was absent for the rest of the season. "Usherette clearly has the class to win a race like this, but she is making her seasonal debut and will probably need this race more than some of the others," trainer Andre Fabre explained. "She has done well."

Also from the Fabre stable is the impressive G3 Prix Edmond Blanc scorer Jimmy Two Times (Fr) (Kendargent {Fr}), who was purchased by Godolphin after that tour de force over this course and distance on Apr. 2. "Jimmy Two Times is coming into this in great form, having won his prep race in pleasing style," Fabre added. "Any forecast rain will be a bonus for him."

Fourth in the G1 Sun Chariot S. at Newmarket at the start of October, the G3 Prix Quincey scorer Siyoushake (Ire) (Siyouni {Fr}) signed off with a win in the G3 Prix Perth over this track and trip late in that month, when the re-opposing Kourkan (Fr) (American Post {GB}) was third. She commands respect from the Freddy Head stable so adept with older fillies and mares, while Al Shaqab Racing's Karar (GB) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}) also enters the reckoning on his runner-up finish in the G1 Prix de la Foret over seven furlongs at Chantilly in October.

RESUMING CONFLICT

Some of Germany's prime G1 Deutsches Derby contenders are on show at Munich on Monday, with the G3 Bavarian Classic on trainer Andreas Wohler's agenda as he seeks an overall sixth and third consecutive renewal. Qatar Racing's Warring States (Jpn) (Victoire Pisa {Jpn}) appears to be the pick of his trio despite finishing only 10th of 13 in the G1 Criterium de Saint-Cloud when last seen in October. That race has already yielded two of 2017's early Derby trial winners in Cunco (Ire) (Frankel {GB}) and Rekindling (GB) (High Chaparral {Ire}), so it would be no surprise to see another here. Markus Klug provides the main opposition with a smart duo in Gestut Wittekindshof's Cologne debut scorer Northsea Star (Ger) (Sea the Stars {Ire}) and Newsells Park Stud and Gestut Rottgen's Kastano (Ger) (Nathaniel {Ire}). He was second to stable companion Colomano (GB) (Cacique {Ire}) in the G3 Hezog von Ratibor-Rennen at Krefeld in November, but may need to improve on that bare form after the winner was subsequently put in his place in last week's G3 Dr. Busch-Memorial.

Frankie Dettori would have had few easier times in front around Chantilly, and the master of front-running riding duly punished his rival jockeys' complacency with a comfortable success here on the British raider The Black Princess. Second in the Listed Height of Fashion S. over this trip at Goodwood last May, the bay had run third in the G2 Ribblesdale S. over a mile-and-a-half at Royal Ascot in June and was next seen winning the Listed Prix Solitude over this course and distance in November. Handed the lead and the rail advantage exiting the stalls, she was restrained to slow the tempo to suit and once she had been asked to increase it in the straight the race was already in safe keeping. Despite drifting left late on, she was always firmly in control with the only concern for connections being a brief enquiry into possible interference to Armande. "I know she stays further, so I didn't want to take any chances and went to the lead," Dettori said. "I didn't want to be caught for speed and although she would have liked it softer, she did it well on the ground."

Pedigree Notes...

Larceny, who also has a 2-year-old filly by Dark Angel (Ire) named Gabrielle (Fr) and a yearling filly by Zebedee (GB), is a half-sister to the G1 Prix du Jockey Club and G1 Prix Jean Prat-winning sire Lawman (Fr), the G1 Prix de Diane heroine Latice (Ire) (Inchinor {GB}) and the G3 Prix du Palais-Royal-winning sire Satri (Ire). Descendants of the third dam Light the Lights, who captured the G2 Prix de Pomone and was third in the G1 Prix Vermeille, include the G2 Prix de Malleret winner Al Wathna (GB) (Nayef) and the GI American Oaks third Little Journey (Fr) (Great Journey {Jpn}), while the fourth dam is the G3 Prix de Flore scorer and G1 Prix Saint-Alary runner-up Lighted Glory (Nijinsky II). Click for the free Equineline.com catalogue-style pedigree.

Hughie Morrison has enjoyed success in this country down the years with the likes of Alcazar (Ire) (Alzao), who captured the 2005 G1 Prix Royal-Oak, and Nearly Caught (Ire) (New Approach {Ire}) who won last year's G2 Prix Kergorlay, and he was back to unveil another of that ilk in the impressive winner Marmelo. Introduced in May, the bay was sixth in the 10-furlong Newbury maiden dominated by Ulysses (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) before finishing six-lengths second to another future pattern-race winner in Muntahaa (Ire) (Dansili {GB}) over a mile and a half at Kempton in June. Marmelo | Scoop Dyga

Off the mark by 10 lengths next time over that trip at Doncaster at the start of July, he was second in Deauville's Listed Prix Michel Houyvet tackling 15 furlongs in August and third in the G2 Prix Chaudenay also at that distance at Chantilly on Arc Saturday. Dropped back to 12 1/2 furlongs for the Listed Prix Vulcain at Deauville later in October, he was second to the useful Fabre trainee Maniaco (GB) (Galileo {Ire}) there, but looked an altogether different proposition as he dealt with some of France's leading stayers with a degree of comfort on this return.

Settled in fourth off the generous early tempo by Christophe Soumillon, Marmelo was travelling best straightening for home and, once shaken up and given a smack, struck the front with a furlong remaining before being eased late on. "Considering he hadn't run at this time last year, he has improved and improved and that was a very good performance," Morrison said. "I was going to run him two weeks ago [in the Listed Further Flight S.] at Nottingham, but the ground was too quick there and I knew there was forecast rain this week. They went a proper pace and I thought he would have a blow, but he kept going and won very nicely in the end. We are blessed with some good stayers at home and he is not in the [June 22 G1 Ascot] Gold Cup, so the obvious race is here in France in the [G2] Prix Vicomtesse Vigier [at Chantilly on May 28]."

Pedigree Notes...

Marmelo is a half-brother to the same stable's Vent de Force, the G3 Henry II S. winner who was also second in the 2014 G2 Prix Chaudenay on one of his visits to France. The second dam Seren Quest produced three black-type performers including the French listed winner Quiz Mistress (GB) (Doyen {Ire}) and the G3 Lingfield Derby Trial S. scorer Saddler's Quest (GB) (Saddlers' Hall {Ire}), as well as the dam of Circumvent (GB) (Tobougg {Ire}), another to fare well on a cross-channel raid when capturing the G3 Prix Thomas Bryon and finishing runner-up in the G3 Prix de Conde.

MY DREAM BOAT TO GO UP IN TRIP

Last year's G1 Prince of Wales's S. winner My Dream Boat (Ire) (Lord Shanakill), who was a comeback third in the G3 Gordon Richards S. at Sandown last week, is set to try 1 1/2 miles for the first time, with the G3 Al Rayyan Aston Park S. at Newbury on May 20 a potential target.

"I was very satisfied with his run at Sandown as a seasonal debut," said trainer Clive Cox. "I was pleased with the way he finished the race and it does confirm what we were talking about, stepping him up to a mile-and-a-half. That will be the plan for him now."

Cox suggested My Dream Boat's plans will be ground dependant.

"We've been so dry at home he has missed the last three weeks' preparation on the grass, but he was not beaten from a fitness point of view--there was just a lack of early pace," he noted. "He is another year older and the extra couple of furlongs will help. At Royal Ascot we will consider the mile-and-a-half race [the G2 Hardwicke S.) rather than the mile-and-a-quarter race [the Prince of Wales's] he won last year. I think we will look at the Aston Park at Newbury for him next if the ground there is not too quick."

ADAMANT (GER) (c, 3, Dalakhani {Ire}--Attima {GB} {MGSW-US & GSP-Fr, $327,336}, by Zafonic), who broke through over an extended mile at Windsor on Oct. 3 after a debut fourth going an insufficient seven furlongs at Leicester on Sept. 6, was rushed from the inside box to lead after the initial strides of this sophomore bow. Coming under pressure as rivals lined up to threaten with a half-mile remaining, the 13-8 favourite refused to buckle and kept on resolutely for continued driving inside the final quarter mile to gamely hold Elas Ruby (GB) (Raven's Pass) by a neck. Half to a yearling colt by Jukebox Jury (Ire), the grey is a son of GII San Clemente H. and GII Honeymoon Breeders' Cup H. victress Attima (GB) (Zafonic). +SECRET ADVISOR (FR) (c, 3, Dubawi {Ire}--Sub Rose {Ire} {GSW-Fr}, by Galileo {Ire}), who started at 7-1, was slowly away and subsequently raced with one behind throughout the early stages. Still behind a wall of horses and looking beaten with a quarter-mile remaining, the bay came alive when sent between rivals and, after gathering in Materialist (GB) (Dansili {GB}) in the final 75 yards, asserted to win a shade cosily by a half-length. Sub Rose was a talented performer for the Alain de Royer-Dupre stable in 2008, comprehensively beating the classy Treat Gently (GB) (Cape Cross {Ire}) in the G3 Prix de Royaumont, in which the future dams of Left Hand (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}) and Chicquita (Ire) (Montjeu {Ire}) were left trailing. Retired unbeaten after just two starts, her first foal to race turned out to be Subway Dancer (Ire) (Shamardal), who took last year's G3 Prix Andre Baboin. Her third dam is the G2 Child S. winner Magic Gleam (Danzig), who also placed in the G1 Coronation S. and G1 Prix Jacques le Marois before producing the ill-fated GI Futurity S. third Truckle Feature (Saint Ballado). Successful in the Listed Cheshire Oaks over an extended 11 furlongs last May, Somehow was well beaten on her next two Classic examinations when fourth in the G1 Epsom Oaks in June and fifth in the Irish equivalent sporting cheekpieces at The Curragh in July. Runner-up to stablemate Best In the World (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) in the G3 Give Thanks S. sticking to 12 furlongs at Cork in early August, the bay reverted to nine furlongs to beat the G3 Princess Elizabeth S. winner Epsom Icon (GB) (Sixties Icon {GB}) by seven lengths in the G3 Dance Design S. back at The Curragh later that month and was not seen out again in 2016. Undone by Epsom Icon's barnmate Czabo (GB) (Sixties Icon {GB}) when runner-up on her return in the G3 Park Express S. at a mile at Naas last time on Mar. 26, she built on that effort to regain the winning thread. Held up initially towards the rear, Somehow was gradually brought into contention by Seamus Heffernan and, after muscling her way through a slender gap, gained the upper hand passing the furlong pole. "Donnacha [O'Brien] rode her the last day when she was second at Naas and she just took a blow at the wrong time and got done on the line," her rider commented. "That will bring her on again."

Somehow's dam Alexandrova rates as one of the best fillies to have come under Aidan O'Brien's care during his tenure at Ballydoyle, winning the G1 English, Irish and Yorkshire Oaks in 2006. Her staying son Alex My Boy captured the G2 Prix Kergorlay and G3 Prix de Barbeville and she has a yearling filly by War Front to come. Among her siblings is a full-brother in Masterofthehorse (Ire) who was third in the G1 Epsom Derby won by Sea the Stars (Ire), while her half-sister Magical Romance (Ire) (Barathea {Ire}) captured the G1 Cheveley Park S. This is the family of the G2 Lancashire Oaks winner and G1 Yorkshire Oaks runner-up Pongee (GB) (Barathea {Ire}), the G1 Irish Oaks heroine and G1 Prix de Diane runner-up Chicquita (Ire) (Montjeu {Ire}) and the G1 Irish Derby runner-up Golden Sword (GB). Click for the Racing Post result. +NAUGHTY OR NICE (IRE) (f, 3, Fastnet Rock {Aus}--Monty's Girl {Ire}, by High Chaparral {Ire}), injured in transit to the track and scratched from her intended unveiling at Cork on Apr. 15, broke to the fore and was steadied to occupy a stalking role behind the leaders after the initial strides of this debut. Taking closer order and fanning wide into the straight, the 20-1 chance was rousted along to challenge approaching the final furlong and driven out in the closing stages to assert by 2 1/2 lengths from Bean Feasa (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}). "She's a nice, good-looking filly, but is lazy at home and we knew we had to bring her to the track to wake her up," explained trainer John Oxx. "She will improve from the run and we might give her a go in a listed race. There is one at Naas at the end of June that sticks out in my mind [June 28 Listed Oaks Trial]. Anything that wins a maiden in Ireland ends up running in a listed race and, if you can win an early maiden, everyone is inclined to fancy their chances of getting into the first three in better company." Off the mark over 100 metres further here last time on Mar. 26, Attica took a leap forward to suggest she will be the one to beat of the home brigade in the G2 German 1000 Guineas back at this venue on June 18. Restrained early by Adrie de Vries tending to over-race in rear, the bay was launched wide at the top of the straight and swamped the leaders approaching the furlong pole en route to a commanding success. Attica, who is from the first crop of the talented G3 Preis der Favoriten winner Tai Chi, is a half to Anna Katharina, who annexed the G3 Hamburger Stuten-Preis and was runner-up in the Listed Iffezheimer Derby-Trial. Her second dam Anna Thea also won the Hamburger Stutenpreis before producing Aspectus (Ire) (Spectrum {Ire}), a multiple group-winning highweight at a mile who also captured the G2 Oppenheim-Union-Rennen over 11 furlongs, as well as the dam of the G1 Criterium de Saint-Cloud runner-up Willie the Whipper (GB) (Whipper). Defending champion Werther (NZ) (Tavistock {NZ}), favored at even money, was another neck back in third.

Having defeated Maurice when leading every step of the way in last year's G2 Sapporo Kinen (2000m) and having raced prominently when defeating a good field in his seasonal return in the G2 Nakayama Kinen (1800m) Feb. 26, Neorealism was expected to be one of the leaders in a race which, on paper, lacked significant speed. Any such plans were foiled as the gates flew, as Neorealism didn't get away all that well, and Aussie raider The United States (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), heading off to stud in South Africa, fell onto the lead almost unwillingly and set impossibly slow fractions tracked by Blazing Speed (GB) (Dylan Thomas {Ire}). Cont. p11

Pakistan Star, Werther and and Neorealism were fighting their respective riders for their heads given the total absence of tempo, but Moreira took the race by the horns at the 1000m, pulling out Neorealism into the fast lane and the pair shot into the lead prior to the entrance to the final turn. A much happier horse when allowed to do his thing, Neorealism traveled well nearing the stretch and went for home, but Werther was poised close up and Hong Kong Derby runner-up Pakistan Star, off the bit at the 500m, peeled out to deliver his challenge. But the Japanese raider dug in doggedly and found the wire first even as Pakistan Star was pulling back the margin.

"He doesn't seem to be a horse that would sit and sprint, so the early move, I think, was the key to getting him to win," Moreira explained. "Mr. Hori gave me the freedom in case things happened the way they did today--I would have gone a little bit earlier, but I think it worked out perfectly this way."

Silvestre de Sousa was frustrated, but simultaneously thrilled with the performance from Pakistan Star.

"He ran a very good race," the Brazilian said. "The pace was just too slow early. He got left behind when they sprinted but finished off so well."

Pedigree Notes...

The winner's dam, a $145,000 purchase out of the 1996 Fasig-Tipton Florida Sale, was a three-time winner of better than $400,000 in Japan, but has excelled in the breeding shed. Neorealism is the mare's second Group 1 winner, as her foal of 2008 Real Impact (Jpn) (Deep Impact {Jpn}) won the G1 Yasuda Kinen at three in 2011 and held his form to take out the G1 George Ryder S. in Australia at seven. Real Impact shuttles from Shadai to Arrowfield Stud. Tokio Reality is the dam of a 2-year-old filly by Zenno Rob Roy (Jpn) who fetched ¥20,250,000 at the 2015 JRHA Select Foal Sale and she failed to produce a foal when bred to G1 Dubai Duty Free S. winner Just a Way (Jpn) (Heart's Cry {Jpn}) in 2016. She was most recently bred to Shadai's G1 Tokyo Yushun hero Kizuna (Jpn) (Deep Impact {Jpn}).

Eagle Way provided trainer John Moore with a landmark Group 1 win as an owner in the 2016 Queensland Derby a little less than a year ago, and the chestnut was imported to embark on a Hong Kong Derby campaign as one of a gaggle of top prospects for the yard. Though he couldn't quite match up with 4-year-old series winner and stablemate Rapper Dragon (Aus) (Street Boss), Eagle Way always figured to improve at slightly longer trips, and he stamped himself a stayer of the future with a good-looking win in Sunday's G3 Queen Mother Memorial Cup H.

Sixth in the Derby and a latest second to Beauty Generation (NZ) (Road to Rock {Aus}) in a 2200m Class 2 Apr. 9, Eagle Way took advantage of his low draw and was guided down onto the fence by Joao Moreira to settle slightly behind centerfield as Circuit Hassler (NZ) (Shocking {Aus}) crossed and cleared from gate 11 and established a decent pace. Supreme Profit (Aus) (Encosta de Lago {Aus}) middle-moved to inject a bit more speed with a little more than five furlongs to race, but Moreira was content to bide his time before easing Eagle Way out to the three path on the turn, following the move of the commonly owned Dinozzo (Ire) (Lilbourne Lad {Ire}).

Asked for his best once heads were turned for home, Eagle Way showed a good turn of foot, but whereas he'd previously peaked on his run over the slightly shorter trips, he was able to better sustain his momentum and held sway for the victory. Helene Charisma, last year's G1 Grand Prix de Paris (2400m) winner, battled on well from the back of the pack, as did Gold Mount. Dinozzo and Prawn Baba (Aus) (Duke of Marmalade {Ire}) completed a top-five sweep for this year's Classic generation, hinting at a strengthening of the local staying ranks for the next few seasons. Beauty Generation could not capitalize on a perfect trip and finished eighth.

"He is a serious horse, a serious stayer," said Moreira of the winner. "He has shown for weeks now that 2400m is his goal, and he showed that already when he won the Queensland Derby. Today, we saw the best of him so far in Hong Kong, but I think John can still improve him. He is fit, but I think that with John's talent as a trainer, he can take the horse to the next level where he will be a Group 1-quality horse."

Moore suggested that both Eagle Way and Helene Charisma could head to Melbourne later this year for races like the G1 Caulfield Cup (2400m) in October and the G1 Melbourne Cup (3200m) in November.

"They are the type of horses that could be Melbourne-bound because they're dead-set mile-and-half to two-mile horses," he told the HKJC's Andrew Hawkins. "Of the two that fought it out, it was a delight to watch--two very, very good stayers. I don't want to jump the start but they're ideal for Melbourne. The Hong Kong off-season doesn't make it easy with lead-ups, but they are the sort of horses you'd want down there. They're pretty decent."

Pedigree Notes...

In addition to the pair of stakes winners listed above, Eagle Way is kin to SW Soaressa (Aus) (Twining), the dam of dual Group 3 winner Thermal Current (Aus) (Exceed and Excel {Aus}). Dam Wedgetail Eagle, a half to SW La Viscomtessa (Aus) (Viscount {Aus}) and to South African GSP Big On Broadway (Aus) (Fusaichi Pegasus), is the dam of the current 2-year-old Wedgebrook (Aus) (Hinchinbrook {Aus}) and a weanling colt by Choisir (Aus). She was most recently bred back to More Than Ready on a late November cover.

TENNO SHO GOES BACK TO BLACK

Sunday's G1 Tenno Sho Spring at Kyoto Racecourse produced a formful result, with the favoured Kitasan Black (Jpn) (Black Tide {Jpn}) defending his title in a track record-setting performance from the dual Group 1-placed Cheval Grand (Jpn) (Heart's Cry {Jpn}) and last year's champion 3-year-old colt Satono Diamond (Jpn) (Deep Impact {Jpn}). Settling in second as Yamakatsu Raiden (Jpn) (Symboli Kris S) opened a 10-length lead the first time past the stands, Kitasan Black continued to lead the strung out main group as the frontrunner widened his advantage to at least 15 lengths down the backstretch. Biding his time as Yamakatsu Raiden began to tire approaching the final bend, Kitasan Black was allowed to stride forward by Yutaka Take and turned into the stretch a length in front. Put to a drive by Take, the dark bay had enough left in the tank to hold off the placegetters, who had both tracked him within range throughout the race. Kitasan Black stopped the clock in a track record-setting 3:12.50 for the 3200 metres, shaving 0.9 seconds off Deep Impact's record set in 2006.

In becoming the fourth horse to win consecutive runnings of the Tenno Sho Spring, Kitasan Black was recording his fifth Group 1 victory. The first of those came in the 2015 G1 Kikuka Sho (Japanese St Leger), and after placings in that December's G1 Arima Kinen and last spring's then Group 2 Osaka Hai, the dark bay took out this prestigious prize with Cheval Grand back in third. Dropping down in trip, he finished third in the G1 Takarazuka Kinen before scooping the G2 Kyoto Daishoten and the G1 Japan Cup, with Cheval Grand again third in the latter, both over 1 1/2 miles. He finished second to Satono Diamond while giving that younger rival weight in the G1 Arima Kinen on Christmas Day, and prepped for this with a win in the upgraded G1 Osaka Hai on Apr. 2.

Take suggested more could be to come from the improving 5-year-old. "It was a really tough race--the pace never slowed down," he said. "Although the horse had little left, he showed amazing stamina and tenacity up to the end, which only he can do. I never thought Deep Impact's record would ever be broken. This horse is just so much stronger than he was a year ago."

Pedigree Notes...

A son of Deep Impact's full-brother Black Tide (Jpn) (Sunday Silence), Kitasan Black is the second stakes horse out of the unraced Sugar Heart, who has also produced the G3 American Jockey Club S. third Shonan Bach (Jpn) (Stay Gold {Jpn}). Kitasan Black's second dam is a half-sister to GI Super Derby third and sire Cee's Tizzy (Relaunch), and his fourth dam is the three-time Grade I winner Tizna (Trevieres). Rested in 2015, Sugar Heart produced a filly by Victoire Pisa (Jpn) last year. Click for the free Equineline.com catalogue-style pedigree.
