ENABLE GIVEN KING GEORGE GO-AHEAD

Frankie Dettori and dual Oaks winner Enable | racingfotos.com

Khalid Abdullah's dual Classic-winning filly Enable (GB) (Nathaniel {Ire}) has been given the go-ahead by trainer John Gosden to face elder males in Saturday's G1 King George VI and Queen Elizabeth S. at Ascot.

"John is happy with her and she's going to head to Ascot," confirmed the owner's racing manager Teddy Grimthorpe.

Enable is ante-post favourite for the £1.15-million contest off commanding scores in the G1 Investec Oaks and G1 Darley Irish Oaks, which she won by five and 5 1/2 lengths, respectively.

Frankie Dettori, who will have to get down to close to his minimum weight to ride Enable on Saturday, revealed on Wednesday that the filly had thrown him off the morning before.

"I rode Enable yesterday morning and believe it or not she dumped me on the floor," he said. "I was like, 'thanks very much!' Luckily, I fell standing up but she still dumped me. She is just full of herself right now and raring to go."

Dettori has yet to return to race riding full time since injuring his shoulder in early June, but he said the ride on Enable tempted him to return earlier than planned.

"She was the reason I came back from injury so early," he wrote on his Ladbrokes blog. "She really is special. I pushed myself so I could ride her in Ireland and it was worth it.

"It's been a tough rehabilitation but I'm delighted to report I'm feeling good and getting stronger every day."

"The King George is a tough race but I'm really excited," Dettori added. "She's getting a big weight allowance so she's entitled to be at the head of the market."

In other King George news, Gerald Mosse has picked up the ride on Sixties Song (Arg) (Sixties Icon {GB}), who will be the first-ever Argentinian-trained runner at Ascot.

"It looks a very competitive race but he is the top horse in Argentina," Mosse said. "I'm excited to ride in the King George, it's a great race to be a part of."

Mosse's agent Shippy Ellis said, "We were looking at riding at Newmaket but Gerald looked at the videos [of Sixties Song] and was keen to ride him. He does have some form on soft ground but he'd prefer it quicker, I think. It's a proper King George, make no mistake, and the connections deserve credit for coming and having a go. He's a big price but I think he'll outrun it."

MOYGLARE NEXT UP FOR ALPHA CENTAURI

'TDN Rising Star' Alpha Centauri (Ire) (Mastercraftsman {Ire}), who suffered her first defeat when a neck second to Different League (Fr) (Dabirsim {Fr}) in the G3 Albany S. at Royal Ascot on June 23, will be seen next in the G1 Moyglare Stud S. at The Curragh on Sept. 10, according to the Niarchos family's racing manager Alan Cooper. The form of the Albany is thus far working out quite well, with fifth-placed Madeline (Ire) (Kodiac {GB}) subsequently winning at listed level and sixth-placed Actress (Ire) (Declaration Of War) and seventh Clemmie (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) winning at group level.

"I spoke with [trainer] Jessica [Harrington] on Monday and she tells me the filly is in good form and the plan is to run in the Moyglare," said Cooper. "She'll go straight there. The Albany has produced an incredible amount of winners already and we look forward to seeing Alpha Centauri run again."

Cooper also provided an update on the Niarchos family's G1 Prix de Diane winner Senga (Blame), who is enjoying a summer break before an autumn campaign.

"All going well, Senga is going for the Prix de l'Opera on Arc day," Cooper said. "[Trainer] Pascal [Bary] is still considering whether to give her a prep race beforehand."

ANA O'BRIEN OUT OF HOSPITAL

Jockey Ana O'Brien, who suffered injuries including fractured vertebrae in her neck and back and fractured cheekbones in a fall at Killarney on July 18, has left the hospital, according to Racing Post. Father Aidan O'Brien told the publication, "Ana was released from hospital [on Tuesday]. She's delighted to be home and, all things considered, she's in good form and very grateful and appreciative of the excellent care she received both at Killarney and in hospital."

O'Brien, who was riding Druids Cross (Ire) (Cape Cross {Ire}) for her brother Joseph O'Brien when her mount was fatally injured, is expected to be out three to four months.

THE SEEDS OF FUTURITY

A cursory glance at the honour roll of Leopardstown's G3 JRA Tyros S. suggests it is a race for racing's clairvoyants to take seriously, with eight of the last 11 winners proceeding to leave a significant mark on the turf's annals. The final six all hailed from Rosegreen and while there are two to represent that establishment on Thursday, the clear principal is the 'TDN Rising Star' The Pentagon (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), who emanates from an Aga Khan family of strong-staying middle-distance luminaries. Derrick Smith's colourbearer looked to possess abundant pace and had a definite touch of Rip Van Winkle (Ire), Cape Blanco (Ire), Gleneagles (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) and even Churchill (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) about him when beating some interesting yardsticks by upwards of 8 1/2 lengths in a Curragh maiden over this trip on July 15.

He beat Ballydoyle's other challenger, Berkeley Square (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), by 2 1/2 lengths over a mile on debut here on June 22 before running second to another from that stable in Actress (Declaration of War) in the G3 Anglesey S. over what was probably an inadequate extended six furlongs at The Curragh on July 15.

FEEL-GOOD FACTOR

Happily | Racing Post

While it does not enjoy the same kudos as the Tyros, the G3 Jockey Club of Turkey Silver Flash S. at Leopardstown is still a hotbed of distaff talent and Thursday's edition features one for the pedigree gurus in Happily (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}). While her defeat of the re-opposing Shalailah (Ire) (Showcasing {GB}) and fair stablemate Sizzling (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) in a seven-furlong maiden at The Curragh on June 30 lacked the pizzazz of The Pentagon's display at the same track, the chief Ballydoyle envoy has all the foundations for a prominent career. A sister to the 2014 Tyros winner Gleneagles (Ire) and Irish 1000 Guineas heroine Marvellous (Ire) from the dynasty of Giant's Causeway, she is joined by the decisive July 13 course-and-distance maiden scorer Easter Lily (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) as they look to bring a sixth renewal to Aidan O'Brien since 2009.

The stable's former rider Johnny Murtagh seeks to upset the applecart with Qatar Racing Limited's Golden Spell (GB) (Al Kazeem {GB}), who on the form of her success as the highweight in a six-furlong nursery at The Curragh on July 16 is the best filly in the race.

3rd-SAN, £6,000, Mdn, 7-26, 2yo, 7fT, 1:33.16, g/s. RED MIST (GB) (c, 2, Frankel {GB}--Red Dune {Ire} {SP-Eng & Ger, $112,848}, by Red Ransom), sent off the 6-4 favourite after attracting notable support on this debut, was keen early under restraint behind the leaders. Wound up for his challenge soon into the straight, the homebred gained a brief lead approaching the furlong marker before being joined and quickly headed by Bathsheba Bay (Ire) (Footstepsinthesand {GB}). Sticking to his guns on the uphill rise to the line, he battled by that rival in the final strides to earn a short-head verdict, with the 420,000gns TATOCT graduate Bold Reason (Ger) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}) fading to fourth after attempting to dictate.

"He was really green and is a bit of a baby, so Silvestre [de Sousa] rode a lovely race," trainer Simon Crisford commented. "When the other horse came to him, he wanted it. He is a lovely horse to look forward to for the future--I was hoping to win, but on that ground first time out I was prepared for him to be beaten and at least run a good race. He's always been the most straightforward horse you could imagine at home, so easy to deal with and a nice person. He's a little bit of a sleeper who has crept through the ranks without anyone noticing in the stable, but we saw something a little bit different at the races tonight as he got a bit hot. I think he'll step forward from that quite considerably, but whether it's a conditions race next or a novice I don't know. He has the right sort of pedigree and constitution to go into better races and another race would help enormously. It is 35 years ago that I was at John Dunlops's with Sheikh Ahmed's good horse Wassl winning the Irish Guineas and he has supported me all the way. This is my first runner for him and I have five in total, so it is a great thrill and really exciting."

The winner's dam Red Dune was purchased by John Ferguson for €1,050,000 at the 2006 Goffs Million Sale by virtue of her linkage to the Ballymacoll Stud's best bloodlines. A half to the dam of the G1 Melbourne Cup and G1 Australian Cup-winning Australian champion stayer and G2 Princess of Wales's S. hero Fiorente (Ire) (Monsun {Ger}) whose granddam was the G1 Yorkshire Oaks winner and high-class producer Hellenic (Ire) (Darshaan {GB}), she raced in these silks for Michael Jarvis. A headstrong character who managed two listed placings late in her career, with a second in Ascot's October S. the pick of them over seven furlongs, her first foal was the Godolphin runner Feedyah (Street Cry {Ire}) who was second in the G3 UAE Oaks. She also has a yearling filly by New Approach (Ire) and filly foal by Dubawi (Ire). Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $5,055. Video, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

MURTAGH SEEKING PERSONAL BEST IN JOG FOR JOCKEYS

Johnny Murtagh and his family and staff at Fox Covert Stables will once again take part in Jog For Jockeys at Naas on Aug. 27. Online advance entries cost €20. Entry on the day will cost €25 and a team of five can enter for €100. Children can take part for free, or pay €10 for a t-shirt. Proceeds from the five and 10 kilometre races will go to Irish Injured Jockeys.

"The Jog for Jockeys is a very special race, allowing runners and racing fans access to Naas Racecourse to run with lots of jockeys and trainers," said Murtagh. "My family and I take part in it every year and we have great fun. By their nature, jockeys and trainers are very competitive, so serious bragging rights are at stake for this year's races. I ran a lot as a jockey for fitness and weight management and I'm back in full-time training to achieve a [personal best] in the 5km race."

Murtagh added, "The Injured Jockeys is such an important charity which supports our jockeys while they are out of action so I hope to see lots of runners, joggers and walkers at Naas Racecourse on Sunday, Aug. 27."

In a race marred by the stalls accident of Ballydoyle's Alphabet (GB) (Lawman {Fr}), Only Mine dominated to add to her success in The Currragh's Listed Dash S. at the start of the month. Also the winner of the Listed Bosra Sham S. at two and the G3 Lacken S. at Naas last May, the trustworthy bay is working back to the Sept. 9 G1 Haydock Sprint Cup in which she was seventh last term. Granted a lead here, she was sent to the front at halfway and soon had all rivals on the stretch and was beyond reach as the stamina of Music Box and Rehana came into effect.

"She just loves to run--she's a filly bred for a mile and a quarter, but she loves to jump and get at it," jockey Gary Carroll said. (Click here for a feature on Carroll by Daithi Harvey.) "In the last furlong she was idling and luckily I was far enough clear. She was the class filly in the race and has a bit of strength and age t her now." Cont. p8

As her rider stated, Only Mine should be plying her trade over middle distances on pedigree, but her two tries at seven furlongs have been failures with the latest resulting in a ninth of 10 in the 2016 G3 Nell Gwyn S. Her dam Truly Mine was third in the G3 Park Express S. and descends from the GII E.P. Taylor S. winner Truly a Dream (Ire) (Darshaan {Ire}), who produced the G2 Prix de la Nonette winner and GI Diana S. runner-up Dream Peace (Ire) (Dansili {GB}) and the G1 Poule d'Essai des Poulains runner-up and sire Catcher In the Rye (Ire). Under the fourth dam Truly Special (Ire) (Caerleon) is the G1 Irish Oaks heroine Moonstone (GB) (Dalakhani {Ire}), later the dam of several classy Ballydoyle runners headed by last year's G1 Epsom Derby runner-up US Army Ranger (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), as well as the G1 Prix Saint-Alary winner Cerulean Sky (Ire) (Darshaan {GB}) and her sire son Honolulu (Ire). Needing a gap inside the last furlong, the debutante was out in time to gather in Brick By Brick (Ire) (Big Bad Bob {Ire}) in the shade of the post for a short-head verdict. "I really liked her at home and she hit the line running there," jockey Declan McDonogh said. "She would have won easier if I'd got a run earlier and she's a genuine filly who knew what to do."

He added, "Six will be no problem and Andrew [Slattery] maybe has a listed race at Ayr [Sept. 22 Harry Rosebery S. in which the dam's half-brother Lord Olivier (Ire) (The Noble Player) was runner-up in in 1992] in mind for her." EVER THE COACH, LUKAS STILL WINNING AT THE SPA

D. Wayne Lukas | Mike Kane photo

By Mike Kane

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. - No, trainer D. Wayne Lukas did not cash a ticket on Perplexed (Maimonides)'s $232.50 stunner Monday at Saratoga Race Course.

"We didn't bet," Lukas said, laughing, Wednesday morning in his office between sets at the Oklahoma training track.

While he did not think the 3-year-old Zayat Stables homebred deserved to 115-1, Lukas was not expecting the colt to win the maiden claimer on the sloppy, sealed track in his 10th career start. Perplexed prevailed under apprentice Luis Reyes giving Lukas, 81, his second victory of the 2017 Saratoga season. He picked up his first on Saturday with the 2-year-old 'TDN Rising Star' Sporting Chance (Tiznow) breaking his maiden as the second choice in the wagering. Sporting Chance, owned by William Mack and Robert Baker, is headed to the GI Hopeful S. on Sept. 4, the final day of the meet.

Lukas believes that Perplexed's price was the highest of his Hall of Fame career. Equibase stats, available from Jan. 1, 1995, show that it is Lukas's top payoff and the highest at Saratoga since that date. However, it ranks just 98th nationally during those 22 1/2 seasons.

Even though Perplexed had been beaten a total of 20 1/4 lengths in his last two starts at Churchill Downs, Lukas said he was surprised by the odds that he saw on the tote board prior to the first race of the day. Cont. p3

SARATOGA MAIDEN WIN COMES 'FULL CIRCLE' FOR MOTION by Steve Sherack

SARATOGA SPRINGS, NY - Any trainer would be undoubtedly excited looking to the future after Untamed Domain (Animal Kingdom)'s 'TDN Rising Star' performance on the opening weekend of the prestigious Saratoga meeting (video).

But when the conditioner in question is Graham Motion, who also saddled the juvenile colt's freshman sire to memorable wins in the 2011 GI Kentucky Derby and 2013 G1 Dubai World Cup, you know this one had to feel a little extra special.

"I tell 'ya, it really was," Motion said. "I didn't anticipate it being... it was almost somewhat emotional. It was just very cool to have it sort of come around full circle. To head up to Saratoga with one of his first 2-year-olds was pretty special, and to have him run like that, it meant a lot to me."

"We remarked about it," he said. "In the post parade, I said, 'look at this he's jumping up to 80-1 already.' I turned to friends of the Zayats, who were standing there next to us, and said, 'He's not that bad. He's training excellent. He's liable to pull this off.' We weren't going to bet him or anything, but we felt like we were going to be maybe second or third or fourth."

To gain every advantage with Perplexed, Lukas gave the mount to Reyes, a seven-pound apprentice. Reyes, who began riding in the U.S. in January, delivered and earned his 17th career victory.

Lukas left teaching and coaching basketball behind to concentrate on training. He won his first race at Saratoga Race Course with Tartan Farms's Dr. Patches on Aug. 26, 1978. He has been a regular at the Spa since 1984 and has won the training title six times. Barn 83, the farthest from the paddock and the finish line on the main track, has been his base at Saratoga for about 30 years. During the height of his distinguished career, Lukas had divisions based at tracks across the country. As he approaches his 82nd birthday on Sept. 2, Lukas is still very enthusiastic and active with a 30-horse stable that he runs at Oaklawn Park in Hot Springs, Arkansas, the Kentucky tracks and Saratoga.

"I like it up here. It's such a financial bloodbath and we accept that," he said, chuckling again as he dusted off an old line. "First of all, we rent a house for our help. If they rented in the community their paycheck would be gone. We subsidize them. We've got a nice house, but they rob us, too.

"We're so far in the hole when we run the first horse that if we won the Travers, the Hopeful and the Alabama, we'd probably break even."

Lukas glanced at his wife, Laurie, who was putting on her helmet to go out with the next set.

"We absolutely love it," he said. "We come up here and do the charity things." Cont. p4

Lukas has won the Hopeful a record seven times, the last two with colts owned by his longtime clients, Mack and Baker: Strong Mandate (Tiznow, 2013) and Dublin (Afleet Alex, 2009). Sporting Chance was purchased on behalf of that duo for $575,000 at the 2015 Keeneland September sale.

"He was my No. 1 pick when we looked at 3,000 head at the Keeneland sale," Lukas said. "I'm not saying that just because he won, but he was No.1. I was afraid my guys might even pull up a little bit when we got north of $500,000, but they were game. He's absolutely a knockout-looking horse, too. I liked his pedigree, being a Candy Ride (Arg) mare and everything.

"He should have won his first out, but you never know when you're being blessed. It might have been good that he didn't get his first win. He got second. Got a little tired. That was for $46,700 [at Churchill Downs]. Comes up here and and runs for $83,000. He was set up with a race under his belt. When he ran in the maiden race here, the rest were all first-time starters."

In September 2015, about three weeks after his 80th birthday, Lukas encountered some life-threatening heart issues caused by blockages. He was treated and very quickly returned to work. Lukas was up on his horse as usual Wednesday and said he is in good health. Through the years he said he had talked with Hall of Fame trainers Woody Stephens, Charlie Whittingham, Laz Barrera and Ron McAnally about aging and working.

"When you get older the perception in racing is that maybe you don't have it any more," he said. "The truth of it is, there is no how-to book. If you're mentally sharp and your health is good, you should be a hell of a lot better than the guy who is 35 because you've seen it all. It's a trial-and-error business. It really is." Cont. p5

Lukas continued, "There is no place to look up 'what do you do with this or that, a horse is running out or screwing up in the gate.' You have to have those experiences. The thing that has made my assistants so effective is my coaching background. I can't help myself, I keep teaching. Whereas Charlie Whittinghham told me, 'Hell, I haven't got time to explain all that. Tell them to watch and they'll get it down.'

"But if you've ever taught or coached you can't help yourself. If I see Bill Mott's horses doing something wrong, I'm over there coaching Bill Mott."

A rallying fourth with his share of trouble first time out sprinting on the Laurel turf July 2 (video), the West Point Thoroughbreds colorbearer was favored at 6-5 to get off the mark while stretching to two turns in a grassy maiden special weight at the Spa Saturday.

Content to trail the field of seven while saving ground through easy fractions of :24.75 and :50.40, Untamed Domain was traveling nicely and beginning to make headway until jockey Jose Ortiz was forced to tap on the brakes in traffic entering the far turn. Seemingly unfazed, Untamed Domain impressively began to dial it back up, was swung widest of all into the stretch and rocketed home to register a 1 1/2-length decision. The $90,000 KEESEP yearling purchase covered his final quarter in :22.86, according to Trakus data. The next fastest clocking was :23.26.

"I really don't think he could've been any more impressive," Motion said. "I knew that stretching him out was going to be the key, but we thought he may have enough zip first time sprinting. He really didn't have a very good trip that time either, so he's kind of had two troubled trips now. He certainly ran well enough to overcome it the other day and I thought he won very comfortably."

Races like the GIII With Anticipation S. at the Spa Aug. 30 with a future eye on the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf this fall at Del Mar are all in the conversation now for Untamed Domain. Bred in Kentucky by Clearsky Farms, he is out of the stakes winner and graded stakes-placed Ciao (Lear Fan) and his third dam is French Group 1 winner Smuggly (Caro {Ire}).

"I think it definitely makes sense to run back in the With Anticipation," Motion said. "The timing is very good and that would be a good stepping stone. I certainly feel very good about the direction that he's going."

Graham Motion schooling Animal Kingdom at Churchill Downs prior to the 2011 Kentucky Derby | Horsephotos

Motion continued, "One of the coolest things about him is that he's kind of got Animal Kingdom's disposition. He takes things very well and very much in his stride. He doesn't get too wound up about anything, which I think is going to be very important for him down the road. Obviously it's early days, but he certainly showed that tremendous turn of foot that Animal Kingdom would show, too."

Motion said that he trains "a couple of more" offspring by Animal Kingdom, and may have another promising runner by the young sire on his hands with the filly Cyrielle, who is set to debut in the fifth race at Saratoga Thursday, a 5 1/2-furlong maiden special weight on grass. The $300,000 KEESEP yearling purchase, owned by Team Valor International and Gary Barber, is out of the Forestry mare Somethinaboutbetty, a four-time stakes winner and runner-up in Saratoga's 2006 GIII Lake George S. Her worktab includes three bullet breezes at Motion's Fair Hill base in Maryland.

Animal Kingdom's Untamed Domain | Sarah K. Andrew

"Look, it's a Saratoga maiden so you never know what you're getting into, but she certainly had shown enough here [at Fair Hill]," Motion said. "Again, with this filly, I thought she showed a little more zip in the morning that perhaps we could run her short one time. Certainly, she's ready to run."

Untamed Domain became the second American winner for Animal Kingdom, who is also represented by the two-for-two Debutante S. heroine Sunny Skies. The son of Leroidesanimaux (Brz) also has six Australian winners, including 'TDN Rising Star' Earth Angel (Aus).

Animal Kingdom stood the 2017 season for $30,000 at Darley's Jonabell Farm in Kentucky. A $550,000 colt purchased by Solis/Litt at OBS March out of Miss Lomardi (Unbridled Jet) was his most expensive of 19 2-year-olds sold in 2017. From his 50 first-crop yearlings that switched hands in 2016--good for an average of $99,388--a $400,000 filly out of Eltimaas (Ghostzapper) acquired by Juddmonte at KEESEP led the way.

"My personal observations are that the colts tend to be sort of a little more robust and more like him," Motion concluded.

"Whereas the fillies are a little more refined, and a little more, I would say, 'flashy' and more 'sales types' than the colts. Look, he didn't break his maiden until the fall of his 2-year-old year, so he wasn't really an early 2-year-old type himself and I think a lot of the colts are built that way, too." Return to p1

Sent off the second favorite in Wednesday's GII Honorable Miss S. and asked to give the fleet Finley'sluckycharm three pounds under handicap conditions, Juddmonte Farms' Paulassilverlining called on the class that had seen her annex Grade I events in each of her two previous runs this season to post a narrow victory at the Spa.

Content to amble along in third as the favorite took some early pace pressure to her inside from longshot Disco Chick (Jump Start), Paulassilverlining was asked to take closer order with inside of three furlongs to race and the two chief combatants were side by side at the top of the stretch. Brian Hernandez, Jr. allowed Finley'sluckycharm to float a bit wide off the final corner, but the front-runner looked in deep water as Paulassilverlining appeared to have all the momentum. Cont. p7

Shoulder to shoulder into the final eighth of a mile, Finley'sluckycharm clung on gamely, but Paulassilverlining was equally determined and found the wire first. By the Moon, backed late from 5-1 into 7-2, had every chance to run down the top two, but was forced to settle for a close third.

"Six [furlongs] is just a little short for her," said trainer Chad Brown, winning the Honorable Miss for the first time. "She showed that with barely getting up there at the wire, but good horses overcome things like this, taking them out of their element just a touch. She's done that today. She was giving the other filly some weight and she was a real quality horse. For this caliber of race, [it was] not that fast and 'Paula' was able to wear her down. It was a great stretch duel. I'm glad we were able to come out on top."

Trainer Chad Brown and the New York Racing Association's Maggie Wolfendale are joined by winning jockey Jose Ortiz, his wife Taylor (nee Rice) and the couple's one-month old daughter Leilani

Beaten a neck as the favorite in the 2016 Honorable Miss, Paulassilverlining sandwiched victories in the GII Gallant Bloom H. Oct. 1 and the Dec. 10 Garland of Roses S. around a third-place effort behind Finest City (City Zip) in last year's GI Breeders' Cup Filly & Mare Sprint. Purchased privately as a future suitor for Juddmonte's 'TDN Rising Star' Arrogate at the end of his racing days, Paulassilverlining proved games in landing Keeneland's GI Madison S. Apr. 8 and was having her first start since turning the tables on Finest City in the GI Humana Distaff S. on the Derby undercard May 6.

Brown indicated that the winner would line up next in the GI Ballerina S. Aug. 26, a race in which she was fifth last summer.

Curlin Road was given a patient ride by Flavien Prat, outfinished defending champion Hard Aces and withstood a highly questionable claim of foul to take Wednesday's featured GIII Cougar II H. at Del Mar. Allowed to box-seat the 12-furlong dirt marathon from a ground-saving position, the bay gelding was quietly ridden behind a moderate pace through the middle stages of the race. Hard Aces, last but two down the backstretch, began to creep into contention while three and four wide on the track and got first run, looping rivals with what appeared to be a winning move on the swing for home. Knowing he had horse underneath him, Prat was happy to allow Hard Spun to go on with it and pulled out Curlin Road to launch his bid leaving the quarter pole. Hard Spun and jockey Santiago Gonzalez came out and bumped with Curlin Road soon after and initiated contact on a few other occasions, but Curlin Road managed to drop his nose down on the wire first. The claim of foul was quickly dismissed by stewards.

"My horse was game," Prat said. "He wanted to win that race. We [he and second-place finisher Hard Aces] came together, but I thought that was mostly him pushing on me. It worked out for the best." Cont. p9

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

WHERE'S THE SWAMP?

by Tim Wickes

It's been a double fortnight (I always talk like this for a while after Wimbledon) since the trial and guilty/not guilty verdicts of Murray Rojas and I've spent a lot of time ruminating on the vagaries of how we are represented by our legal system, our horsemen, and our industry leaders. Sad to say, after a week of testimony and a mixed return from the jury, we seem to be left with more questions than answers.

First, some back story. About five years ago near as I can tell, FBI Special Agent Bruce Doupe, acting on a tip, started down an investigatory road on the backside at Penn National in the bucolic Blue Mountains of central PA. Starting in 2012, the first round of sleuthery resulted in the indictments of David Wells and two other trainers as well as clocker Danny Robertson. A year later, Wells and Robertson pled to lesser charges because they "cooperated" with the ongoing investigation. Wells and Robertson led the way to Stephanie Beattie partly because Wells and Beattie were no longer playing house--and nothing like a trainer scorned. David sang like a canary. And then Beattie leads the well named G-man Doupe and his prosecutor in crime William Behe to Murray Rojas and--eureka! The Feds had their Whale, their Dapper Don, and their Voldemort all rolled into one. Murray Rojas. And hi-ho, hi-ho, it's off to trial we go. The FBI, a federal prosecutor, five years of time, investigations, taxpayer money, you name it for... Murray Rojas.

They had Stephanie Beattie dead to rights. She, by her own later testimony, broke just about every rule in the book and more than a few than the rule book writers haven't thought up yet. They had their big fish, but Doupe and Behe decided to let Beattie roll over so they could get Rojas and the vets. Oh wait, they didn't really get the vets either. Kevin Brophy, Fernando Motta, and two other miscreants were allowed to roll over to get to... Rojas.

These vets were the guys that taught the trainers how to cheat. They had a form to fill out for race-day meds in a state that only allows Lasix on race day. These were the guys that back dated the billing and paperwork that they turned into the state. These were the guys who knew the ins and outs of the stale lab and, in some cases, what drugs were being tested and for when. These were the guys who figured out that if they cut the Robinul dose and gave it i/v instead of i/m it wouldn't test and they'd beat the lab. But not worth throwing them in the hoosgow? Nope, let's not get the vets when we can get... Rojas. Let's let the dealer roll over so that we can get the addict.

So far, there are a lot of guys and dolls in this tale, but not much that would be Runyonesque unless ol' Damon hooked up with Elmore Leonard and wrote the pilot for Real Housewives of Grantville. It's a sad, sad story, but Rojas? Curly and Larry, I mean Doupe and Behe, had David Wells for 10 years' worth of criminality; but he got three months because he gave them Beattie. And they had Beattie like they had gray suits and gruff demeanors. They had her all fitted up for a corner cell at Allenwood, but they let her roll over like Beethoven so they could get the dealers/vets, and I'm ok with that. Get the vets. Get them for bribing the guys in the lab. Get them for their mountain of fraudulent paperwork. Get them for creating a system whose primary goal was to beat the system. Just get them. But for the love of Steve Carlton, don't let the big fish roll over so you can catch a minnow. As my kids would say, "Grow a pair." You had some out and out criminals on the hook and you let them walk like Egyptians so you could convict Murray Rojas of misbranding, I.e. using medications for purposes or in a fashion other than said medication's prescribed use. After five years, no wire fraud, no race fixing, just misbranding. What a waste of our money.

The flip side of all this is we do have a problem here. Being a racehorse trainer is a tough gig these days. Most of your employees are undocumented, you barely break even on the day money--that's if you get paid on time--and the pressure to win is overwhelming. Trainers take an edge, often too much of one. In the Paulick Report Friday Show, Editor-in-Chief Scott Jagow glibly referred to "the cesspool of PA racing." If Jagow or anyone else thinks this is just a PA problem, then I've got some nifty dockage in the Mojave to sell them. The trouble with the view from the eighth pole is the angle stinks. The Rojas trial testimony was just a window in to a national issue because in every track in the land the motto exists: "If you ain't cheatin', you ain't tryin'."

So let's point some fingers. First there was an underfunded and seemingly clueless state racing commission that, despite boots on the ground on the backside, was played like Perlman's fiddle by the vets and the horsemen. Second, there's a racetrack that, in spite of being granted a casino monopoly by the state, cares tons more about its slots than its ponies and therefore throws boatloads of money at policing the casino while looking away from the racing. Third, there's the TRPB. They exist, right? According to the TRPB mission statement, it is supposed to "concentrate its attention on those areas which most significantly affect the integrity of racing." Sounds like they need to concentrate a little harder. Fourth, there's the vets, and I know I'm gonna hear about this one. There's a dozen or so vets at Penn National who it seems couldn't find integrity if you slapped them in the vet box with it.

For the most part, these men and women are in control of the medications on the backside and it may be a good time for them to use that power for good instead of for evil. They can choose the high ground or the swamp of their own making. Finally, the horsemen. It's time for all of us to stop giving lip service to cleaner sport and level playing fields and actually do something about it. We don't need some pious billionaire preaching at us; we just need to finally do the right thing before it's too late. PETA rummaged around in our dirty closet once already, and they will again. If they're willing to attack a guy for saving his dog from a canicidal kangaroo, they sure as hell will roll up their sleeves against some racehorse trainers. And, when they do, the New York Times and others will be right there with them.

I hate the job the Feds did with this case at Penn Nat. They went after the wrong people, letting the crooks walk whilst going after someone who was doing little more than trying to keep up with the Joneses. It was a waste of time, money, and judgement, and the ultimate failure of the case sends out all the wrong messages going forward. Separate from that, the system of checks and balances that we currently lean on has neither. The National HPBA claims that the Feds had no business sticking their noses in racing's business, but that's just crap. The Feds got involved because the inmates were running the asylum. The fact that they proved to be so completely incompetent should in no way lead us to believe they won't try again with a better result. Let's stop patting ourselves on the backs for running off a Rick Dutrow here and stringing up a Murray Rojas there and get to some greater truths. We are the problem, all of us. We don't need to fix "them," we need to fix us. And we need to do it soon. Tic-toc. Tic-toc.

REGIONAL REPORT

McANALLY BACK TO WORK AFTER FALL

Hall of Fame trainer Ron McAnally returned to his stable office Wednesday morning, three days after taking a tumble that required an overnight hospital stay. McAnally was in attendance at a party at the Solana Beach home of Pamplemousse Grill owner Jeffrey Strauss after the races Sunday night when a knee, surgically repaired a few years ago, gave out on him.

"I turned the wrong way on it, went down and hit my head on the concrete," McAnally, 85, said. "When I was laying there on the ground, they asked me how I felt and I said, 'About like Bob Baffert felt when (Arrogate) ran the other day. Even Baffert got a laugh out of that."

McAnally was taken away on a stretcher and spent about a day and a half in a hospital undergoing tests and observations. Results were negative, clearing McAnally to return to the track where he's been a regular since 1948. McAnally ranked third on Del Mar's all-time trainer wins list to start the season, with his 444 wins behind only Mike Mitchell (476) and Baffert (466) and number two on the stakes-winning trainer roll with 77 to Baffert's 121.

FISHER AIMS TWO AT A. P. SMITHWICK

by Don Clippinger

Even by trainer Jack Fisher's lofty standards, 2017 has been an amazing year.

The Maryland horseman, the latest in a long succession of Fishers who figured prominently in the steeplechase world, has been fracturing records with regularity. He is the only trainer in the National Steeplechase Association's history to exceed $1-million in annual earnings, and he has done so three times. For the longest time, it appeared that the overall NSA trainer earnings record--now just over $23 million and held by Racing Hall of Fame member Jonathan Sheppard--would stand forever. That virtual certainty is being questioned as Fisher, 54, keeps throwing up million-dollar seasons, with a third straight in prospect. His earnings now exceed $14 million.

His first million-dollar season was in 2008, when stable star Good Night Shirt (Concern) went undefeated. Sonny Via, Jr.'s Good Night Shirt will take his place in the National Museum of Racing's Hall of Fame Aug. 4.

Good Night Shirt | Sarah Andrew

NSA race meets paid record spring purses this year, and Fisher seized a record chunk of them. His current total is $638,800, which is more than three times the purses earned by Sheppard, his closest competitor.

Fisher will be looking to add to his earnings total on Thursday in Saratoga Race Course's G1 A. P. Smithwick Memorial H., one of two $150,000 steeplechase stakes on the Saratoga menu.

Four weeks later, the prize will be the G1 New York Turf Writers Cup H.

His most intriguing prospect is Edith Dixon's homebred Schoodic (Tiznow)--if Schoodic chooses to behave. He is a strapping 7-year-old by a scion of the Man o' War line who has shown promise as a jumps sire. Schoodic is capable of a top-level victory when he chooses to run, but his past performances betray a Jekyll-and Hyde personality.

Against top-shelf competition in the Virginia Gold Cup's G2 David Semmes Memorial May 6, he drew away to a confident two-length score. Then, against lesser opponents two weeks later, he checked in fifth with a substitute jockey after regular rider Paddy Young was injured in the preceding race. Sean McDermott, the Irish veteran who rides Fisher's best horses, has the mount in the Smithwick.

Fisher also will saddle owner Gillian Johnston's Mr. Hot Stuff (Tiznow), who was sufficiently hot to place in the 2009 GI Santa Anita Derby (behind winner Pioneerof the Nile) and won the 2 1/16-mile Smithwick in 2013. Now 11, Mr. Hot Stuff missed last season and finished third behind Fisher-trained division leader Scorpiancer (Ire) (Scorpion {Ire}) and Portrade (Ire) (Trade Fair {Ire) in the G3 Temple Gwathmey Handicap in April.

Mr. Hot Stuff | Sarah Andrew

The Fields Stable's Portrade heads the Smithwick lineup, and he will be in his accustomed place on the lead. He nearly held on to win last year's Smithwick, finishing third, and he then wired the New York Turf Writers for his first Grade 1 score. Gus Dahl rides Portrade.

Elizabeth Voss, who trains Portrade, also will have a notable day Aug. 4 when her late father, trainer Tom Voss, will be inducted into the Hall of Fame. For the Smithwick, she also will saddle Robert Kinsley's newcomer Modem (GB) (Motivator {GB}), who will be ridden by Jack Doyle.

Sheppard, whose 47-year record of at least one Saratoga winner per meet ended last season, will be looking to start a new streak with Buttonwood Farm's All the Way Jose (Senor Swinger), who has returned to top form under apprentice jockey Keri Brion, who also is Sheppard's assistant.

CHICAGO STYLE (g, 4, Kitten's Joy--You Go West Girl {MSW & MGSP, $637,043}, by Mr. Greeley) opened his career with a pair of wins against claiming company over the lawn at Tampa Bay Downs this winter and, after a non-factor fifth against open company in a June 8 Delaware allowance, returned to the winner's circle with a late-closing one-length tally in a Laurel optional claimer June 25. The 6-1 shot was unhurried early and settled at the back of the field behind moderate splits. He inched closer along the rail down the backstretch and waited patiently for racing room before angling out six wide turning for home. He bound to the lead with eye-catching acceleration and powered clear to an emphatic 4 1/2-length score. Unapologetic (Temple City) was second. Glen Hill Farm purchased You Go West Girl, a daughter of graded stakes winner Careless Heiress (Runaway Groom), for $145,000 at the 2006 OBS April sale.
