WILL WOODBINE'S WHIP EXPERIMENT BECOME THE NEW NORMAL?

Woodbine | Michael Burns

by Bill Finley

While several major racetracks in the U.S. continue to debate what is the best set of rules to put in place regarding what jockeys can and cannot do to encourage their horses, Woodbine has embarked on an experiment that limits what jockeys can do with their whips and may be seen as a blueprint for the rest of the industry to follow.

Starting Oct. 18, experimental rules, which will be in place up to closing day, Dec. 15, were put in place that allow only for underhanded whipping. The riders are no longer allowed to cock their whips and reach back and strike their mounts. Nor can they strike the horse in the belly or flank area.

Whether or not the rule will become permanent in 2020 will be decided by the Alcohol and Gaming Commission of Ontario (AGCO), but with the experiment so far not encountering any serious problems, it is likely that the new regulations are here to stay.

The Woodbine experiment is part of an effort throughout North America to change the perception of racing and to show the public, animal rights activists and politicians that the sport believes the safety of the animal is a top priority and is intent on making substantive changes. Cont. p3

RATAJKOWSKI STEPS INTO OPEN COMPANY IN FALLS CITY

Gary Broad's New York-bred mare Ratajkowski (Drosselmeyer), who has spent all six starts of her career thus far facing fellow Empire-breds, will take her first crack against open company in Thursday's GII Falls City H. at Churchill Downs.

Making her belated debut with a third in a Belmont sprint May 25, the 5-year-old graduated next out in the slop there June 20 before just getting run down when second stretching out to two turns July 25 at Saratoga. Narrowly prevailing at the same trip Aug. 16 at the Spa, the chestnut romped by 10 1/2 lengths in a state-bred allowance Sept. 11 at Belmont before repeating with a game score in the Empire Distaff H., her stakes bow, Oct. 19 at Big Sandy. Cont. p5

The recently formed Thoroughbred Safety Coalition, which includes most of the major tracks in the U.S., has also declared its intentions to deal with the whip issue, but has yet to spell out specifics, only saying that it will look to limit crop use.

Woodbine isn't tipping its hand when it comes to what recommendations the track is likely to make to the AGCO regarding whipping rules for the 2020 meet.

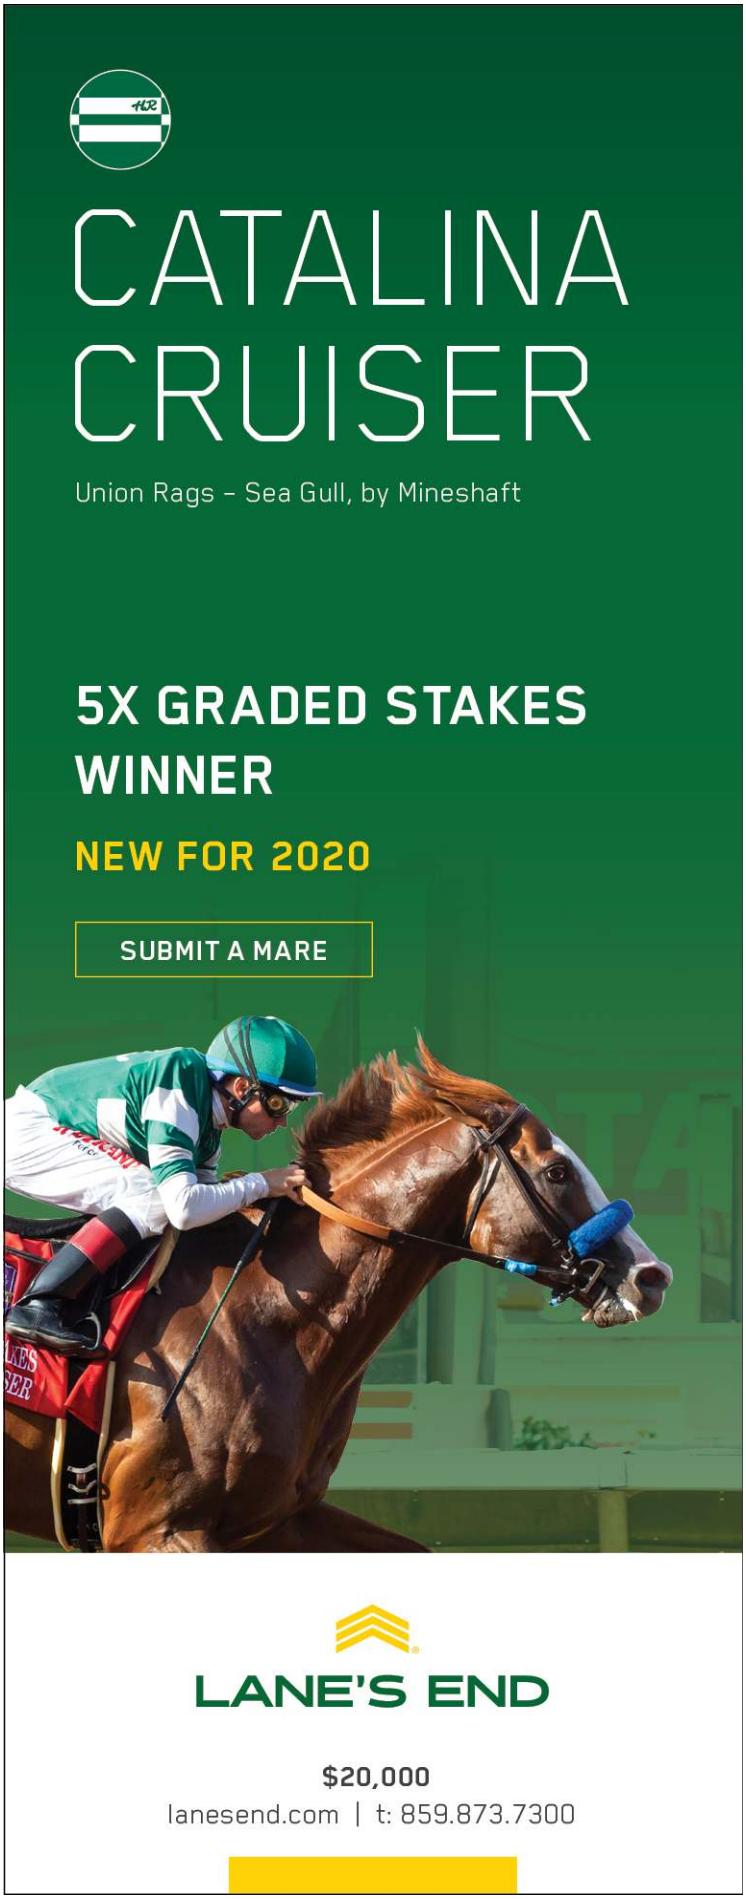
"What we need to do is take a deep dive and have a chance to review all the data from the pilot," Woodbine VP of Thoroughbred Racing Jonathan Zammit said. "Then, it's just sitting down with stakeholders, the commission, the vets, the horsemen, the jockeys, to see where the commission's head is at moving forward. It's a bit premature at this point to comment on what direction this might go."

The data available so far has not revealed anything that suggests the experiment is not working. There have been no apparent problems with safety during the races and the handle has remained steady, showing that the bettors haven't adjusted their wagering habits during the experiment.

"From a track operator's perspective, we have a sample size, but not a full sample size," Zammit said. "It has been a change and we realize how big a change this has been for the jockeys and we're very thankful they are participating and allowing us to evaluate this pilot program. We're seeing no significant changes in the behavior of our patrons or on the handle on our races. Right now, nothing major has popped out at us."

A sampling of opinions from Woodbine-based jockeys reveals a colony that is not in favor of the new rules.

"It's awkward and a lot of people aren't happy with it, but we know we have to deal with it," jockey Gary Boulanger said. "It's a very awkward thing for people who have been riding for a while.



"It makes you think, 'OK, I can't cock my stick, I can't overhand strike.' You have to be aware of that and that puts you in an uncomfortable position. It's not what these horses have been trained and taught and they're creatures of habit. They've been taught that when you reach back and hit them they're supposed to go forward."

Said Woodbine jockey David Moran: "Obviously, for the senior riders it's a big change. Personally, I think there is a safety factor involved and that it's not a great idea. It looks like everywhere in the world is changing, but with this type of change, I don't see the difference between hitting backhanded versus forehanded. I don't think, so far as public perception goes, it actually accomplishes a lot. All the riders, we're working with the committee to try to come up with a better solution than the rule they have right now."

Jockey Emma-Jayne Wilson argues that the whip issue is part of a bigger problem, racing's inability to get across to the public that virtually everyone in the sport always tries to do their best when it comes to the horse.

"I am not in a position to speak for all of the jocks at Woodbine and at this point my personal opinion is a tad reserved as we are midway through the trial that is a collaborative effort of the horseman, AGCO and Woodbine," she said. "I will say, though, that I feel strongly that of significant importance is public education. Public perception and public opinion seem to be the driving force behind these discussions, and yet education of the public has been inadequate.

Thoroughbred racing has made many changes over many years, from updated rules of racing to modern equipment changes, and yet we are still unable to show the public how conscientious we are towards the welfare of our equine athletes."

While the jockeys may not be happy, it doesn't appear that they are ready to get into a big fight with Woodbine or the AGCO over this issue.

"The riders are really trying to accommodate the new rule," said Irwin Driedger, the executive director of the Jockeys' Benefit Association of Canada. "They're not real happy about it because it definitely is a big change. For some, they've been doing it one way for 20 years and when you change something up on them like this it's not easy. A lot depends on whether this is the way everybody will be doing it. If everybody is doing it this way, then that's fine. If we are the only ones doing it I don't know if that's the way to go. This needs to be uniform throughout North America rather than everybody doing their own thing."

That may happen, as it would come as no surprise if the Thoroughbred Safety Coalition made a recommendation that all

U.S. tracks adopt the Woodbine rules. In California, the idea of banning the whip all together has been put forward. Either way, a new set of rules will likely not be well received by the riders. At Woodbine, at least one jockey believes he has no choice other than to adapt, change and move on.

"I'd be a little disappointed if the new rules become permanent," Moran said. "It looks like they probably will be. Personally, I would have preferred them allowing a lower number (of times a horse can be whipped) and making sure we have to give them more time to respond between smacks instead of changing our style of hitting. But they are the ones who make the rules and we will have to adjust to them."

CARING FOR RACETRACK CATS. Click here to donate.

Barn Cats | Sarah K. Andrew

"Imagine how difficult life is for homeless cats at the racetrack during the winter, when the horses and horsemen are gone. It is freezing cold with snow on the ground for months, and there is hardly any food."
--Susan Moore, founder of Caring for Racetrack Cats, a division of The Moore Foundation.

Caring for Racetrack Cats is a model program that provides hands-on care and feeding, monitoring, and adoption to backstretch cats all year long. This is especially important now and through the winter. The cats are monitored, treated by veterinarians, and spayed and neutered. Kittens and friendly cats are adopted.

On this Giving Tuesday, your support will go directly to rescuing and caring for cats living at Saratoga and other racetracks.

Please click here to donate. Every dollar matters and will be used for food, shelter and medical treatment. To learn more about Caring for Racetrack Cats and The Moore Foundation, celebrating its 20th Anniversary in 2010, read on.

For as long as there have been horses in barns, there have been barn cats. At Saratoga Race Course, cats have always lived among the horses. The cats provide service through rodent control and companionship for the people caring for the horses. Many stables who have their own cats take them when they leave at the end of the season. However, numerous cats are left behind and throughout the year others are dropped off at the track and left to fend for themselves. Many other cats migrate to the track in search of food and shelter.

For years, the cat problem at Saratoga, like many racetracks across the country, was spiraling out of control. The colonies of cats that lived in and under the barns were unattended. The cats were starving and reproducing at an alarming rate. Many of the cats were sick and injured. Animal lover and racehorse owner Susan Moore took notice and action.

Moore had previously founded The Moore Foundation with the mission to provide care and medical treatment for sick, injured and homeless cats and other animals. She added a program to care for racetrack cats and got to work.

"I would be visiting our horses and see the cats running around searching for food," said Moore. "It was incredibly sad. Most of the cats were emaciated with eye infections, skin diseases and parasites. Some of the cats were feral, but others were friendly and had obviously been abandoned at the racetrack. I knew that the situation could be managed so I decided to recruit help and get it under control."

Moore began trapping cats, having them neutered, vaccinated and given necessary medical treatment. The feral cats were returned to the track where they were fed, monitored and cared for throughout the year. Friendly cats and kittens were offered for adoption to good homes. The cats that needed long-term care were taken to The Moore Foundation to live.

"There were dozens and dozens of cats and kittens living under the barns and grooms' quarters at the Oklahoma track," said Moore. "I would get there at 6 a.m. to set the traps, bring the feral cats to local vets and then drive back to New Jersey with the adoptable cats and kittens. I worked with Red Bank Veterinary Hospital, Harlingen Veterinary Clinic and several other clinics. They treated and neutered the cats and showcased the kittens for adoption. We found homes for literally hundreds of kittens and cats."

"I found help to feed, monitor and care for the cats in Saratoga throughout the year," said Moore. "Imagine how difficult life is for homeless cats at the racetrack during the winter, when the horses and horsemen are gone. It is freezing cold with snow on the ground for months, and there is hardly any food." The Moore Foundation had three feeding stations built that are replicas of the Saratoga barns and placed them strategically around the backstretch.

Today, Moore's program at Saratoga, Caring for Racetrack

Cats, continues to go beyond what most "Trap, Neuter, and Return" (TNR) programs provide.

"Caring for Racetrack Cats is not your average TNR program," said Chris Boudreau, who currently manages the programs at Saratoga for The Moore Foundation. "Caring for Racetrack Cats is a model program that really manages the situation, providing hands-on care and feeding, monitoring, and adoption all year long."

The program has completely altered life for the cats on the backstretch. The cats are healthy and safe and people are not subjected to the sight of emaciated and sick cats searching for food.

To date, through its exemplary programs, The Moore Foundation, which is celebrating its 20th year anniversary, has placed in good homes more than 1,000 homeless animals and provided hundreds of animals with desperately-needed veterinary care. During its 20 years of existence, the Moore Foundation has distributed over $2 million in furtherance of these purposes.

"Susan has supported more than 300 animals in our practice alone," said Dr. Katharine Salmeri of Red Bank Veterinary Hospital. "We work closely together and I hear the compassion she has for all animals and people who are in desperate need of a way to save their pet."

"Imagine how devastating it is to have a loving pet who becomes ill or injured, and dies unnecessarily because you can't afford any veterinary care," said Moore. "I was heartbroken as a child when my pets died because we did not have enough money to take them to a veterinarian when they got sick or injured. Families and pets should not suffer like that."

As part of its 20th anniversary celebration, The Moore Foundation is launching a campaign to fund its state-of-the-art program, Caring for Racetrack Cats, at Saratoga Race Course and expand its services to other tracks.

"My goal is to raise enough funds to replicate the program in other racetracks and to continue providing critically needed medical care for animals," said Moore. "We want to show that horse racing as a business and sport cares for all domestic animals that live in its midst and exist because of the presence of horses. Throughout the year, we will spread the word about racing's support of the campaign and the cats. It will help the cats and maybe bring new fans who will see the compassion for animals that we all know exists on the backstretch."

To be a part of saving lives at Saratoga and other racetracks, click here to donate or get more information. Every dollar raised in this campaign will be used for food, shelter and medical treatment.

DAREDEVIL & SUPER SAVER RELOCATING TO TURKEY

Daredevil (More Than Ready--Chasethewildwind, by Forty Niner) and Super Saver (Maria's Mon--Supercharger, by A.P. Indy) have been acquired by the Turkish Jockey Club and are relocating to Turkey, pending export requirements, WinStar Farm announced Wednesday. In the agreement, there is a provision allowing for a return to the U.S. upon completion of their stud careers.

"The Turkish Jockey Club has done extremely well with Victory Gallop, who is the leading sire in Turkey, and has made a concerted effort to improve their stallion roster this year through the purchase of Bodemeister, Trappe Shot, Super Saver, and Daredevil, among others," said Elliott Walden, president, CEO, and racing manager of WinStar Farm. "We look forward to following their careers in Turkey."

Super Saver, winner of the 2010 GI Kentucky Derby, is the sire of GISWs Runhappy, Competitive Edge and Embellish the Lace. Freshman sire Daredevil, hero of the 2014 GI Champagne S., is represented by 10 winners, including stakes winner Deviant.

LIVE RACING CANCELED ON THANKSGIVING DAY AT AQUEDUCT

The New York Racing Association, Inc. has canceled Thursday's Thanksgiving Day live racing program at Aqueduct Racetrack due to dangerously high winds forecast to impact the New York City metropolitan area throughout the day.

The National Weather Service, as well as NYRA's independent weather forecasting services, are calling for sustained high winds throughout the day with gusts in excess of 40 mph. As a result, NYRA has canceled live racing Thursday in the interest of the safety of all participants.

The GIII Fall Highweight, initially scheduled for Thursday, will now be run Sunday. The $100,000 Central Park and $150,000 Winter Memories will be rescheduled for a date to be determined.

Live racing is scheduled to resume at Aqueduct on Friday, with a first post of 11:50 a.m.

CHURCHILL HIRES EQUINE MEDICAL DIRECTOR

Churchill Downs Incorporated has announced the hiring of William E. Farmer, DVM as Equine Medical Director, a position that will oversee equine safety and care at all CDI racetracks. Dr. Farmer recently served as official veterinarian for the California Horse Racing Board and out-of-competition coordinator and consulting veterinarian for Breeders' Cup Ltd. As EMD, Dr. Farmer will develop, direct the implementation of, and ensure enforcement of equine health and safety policies for CDI.

Dr. Farmer brings a rich history of experience with racehorses to the position and a wealth of industry knowledge. Following his work as Racing Veterinarian with the Kentucky Horse Racing Commission, he ascended to the position of Chief Racing Veterinarian and thus worked extensively in managerial and hands-on capacities, both long-term and urgent, at racing events and institutions, including multiple races for the Kentucky Derby and Breeders' Cup championships.

"I am honored to be joining the CDI team," said Dr. Farmer. "For many years, CDI has led the way in safety initiatives to help protect both our equine and human athletes. I look forward to working side-by-side with the KHRC, private practitioners, trainers and other industry stakeholders in continuing to lead the way and raising the bar in regards to the safety and welfare of our athletes."

MIDLANTIC DECEMBER SALE SUPPLEMENTAL ENTRIES NOW ONLINE

Fasig-Tipton has catalogued 132 supplemental entries of horses of racing age for its upcoming Midlantic December Mixed & Horses of Racing Age Sale. The sale will be held Tuesday, Dec. 10, at the Maryland State Fairgrounds in Timonium, Maryland.

The horses of racing age are catalogued as hips 235-366 in a separate supplemental catalogue, and include a large group of entries from the dispersal of Joseph Besecker. Daily Racing Form past performances may now be viewed online, and race replays for all HORA entries will also be available for viewing at the beginning of next week.

"This is our third year offering a horses of racing age supplement, which has proven popular in our racing-rich Midlantic region," said Midlantic Director of Sales Paget Bennett. "There are a number of exciting entries in here, particularly from the dispersal of Joseph Besecker. Racing stables looking to restock for 2020 will find tremendous opportunities here."

Fasig-Tipton has also catalogued three additional weanlings to the sale. These addendum entries, catalogued as hips 231-233, will be offered at the conclusion of the main catalogue and prior to the horses of racing age supplement.

These new entries may now be viewed online and will also be available in the equineline sales catalogue app. Print versions will be available on the sales grounds at sale time.

The Midlantic December Mixed and Horses of Racing Age Sale will begin at 10 a.m. ET.

RETIREMENT CELEBRATIONS PLANNED FOR DA SILVA

Woodbine Entertainment has designated Saturday, Dec. 7 as "Eurico Rosa Da Silva Day" at Woodbine Racetrack to celebrate the career of the top jockey, who announced earlier this year that he will be retiring at the conclusion of the 2019 Thoroughbred meet.

Da Silva is en route to earning his sixth title as Woodbine's leading jockey. Last year, he set the record for most wins in a single meet at Woodbine with 237 victories. A six-time Sovereign Award winner as Canada's Outstanding Jockey, Da Silva has more than 2,000 career wins including victories in all three legs of the Canadian Triple Crown and each of Woodbine's signature races.

Da Silva will take part in a special meet and greet session with fans and sign autographs prior to the afternoon's racing program from 11:30 a.m. to approximately 12 noon. A special winner's circle ceremony will by held during the racing program, which gets underway at 1:05 p.m., to thank Da Silva for his contributions to the sport and honor his achievements.

THIRD ANNUAL RMTC HALTER AUCTION STARTS MONDAY

Beginning at 1 p.m. ET Dec. 2 and running for one week, the Racing Medication and Testing Consortium will auction off halters of history-making racehorses, stallions and broodmares on its eBay page. All proceeds from the auction go to the RMTC's Tactical Research Program, which funds studies focused on the identification and detection of illicit substances impacting racing integrity and safety.

Areas of special interest for studies funded through the program include bisphosphonates in horses in racing and race training, performance-enhancing or performance-modifying substances, and emerging substances with potential health, welfare and/or integrity hazards.

"In just its second year, our Tactical Research Grant Program has already enabled our sport to make significant advances in targeting emerging threats and developing new techniques to test for them," said RMTC Executive Director and COO Dr. Mary Scollay. "These studies are critical to protecting the health and welfare of our horses and strengthening the integrity of racing competition."

Halters offered include: Arrogate, Awesome Again, California Chrome, Code of Honor, Corona Cartel (QH), Get Stormy, Ghostzapper, Groupie Doll, Keen Ice, Lady Eli, Lava Man, Littleprincessemma, Malibu Moon, Maximum Security, McKinzie, Midnight Bisou, Mucho Macho Man, Omaha Beach, Orb, Rachel Alexandra, Silver Charm, Songbird, Speightstown, Tapit, Undrafted, War of Will, Wise Dan, Yoshida and Zenyatta.

Mr Money Bags makes it two in a row with a win in the Zia Park Derby. Favored in a field scratched down to five due to Remington Park quarantine, the gray tracked from second through early splits of :24.35 and :50.19. Gaining a narrow advantage on the backstretch, the homebred held off a determined Dueling in the lane to score. Romping in the Feb. 23 Jim's Orbit S. and Mar. 23 Groovy S. at Houston, Mr Money Bags found the waters way too deep in the GIII Pat Day Mile on the GI Kentucky Derby undercard, finishing 13th, but rebounded with a dominant score in the Texas Stallion Stymie Division S. at Lone Star June 1. Sixth in the Iowa Derby July 5, he captured Zia's Roadrunner S. last time Oct. 28. The winner has a yearling half-sister named Missheartbreaker (Crossbow). Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

Runner-up in both the Mar. 9 GIII Honeybee S. and Apr. 12 GIII Fantasy S., Motion Emotion crossed the line ninth, but was promoted to eighth via DQ in the GI Kentucky Oaks May 3. Subsequently transferred from trainer Tom Van Berg to Richard Baltas, she was fifth in the Beverly J. Lewis S. Sept. 7 at Los Alamitos and missed by just a neck next out at Keeneland Oct. 18. Heavily favored to earn her black-type badge in this scratched-down quartet, Motion Emotion broke alertly, dueling for early control heading into the first turn. Settling in a stalking second through a :23.47 first quarter, she maintained that position through a half in :47.50. Seizing control on the backstretch, the bay traveled three wide turning for home, was guided back to the fence in the lane and held off Calf Moon Bay to score. The winner hails from the family of GI Breeders' Cup F/M Turf heroine Shared Account (Pleasantly Perfect), who is the dam of this year's GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies victress Sharing (Speightstown). Golden Emotion is also responsible for the unraced juvenile filly Tizemotionalgold (Tiznow) and a yearling colt by Bodemeister. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

Restrainedvengence finished third beaten a neck in the Longacres Mile H. Aug. 11, and romped in Golden Gate's Rolling Green S. on the sod Sept. 2. He was second by just a head at 43-1 in Santa Anita's turfy GII City of Hope Mile S. Oct. 4, and was most recently fourth in the restricted Lure S. back in Arcadia on Halloween. Taking a narrow lead into the first turn, the dark bay showed the way down the backside through a half in :47.83 and around the second bend in 1:12.45 for six panels. He quickly opened up on his competition in upper stretch, and won as he pleased from there. Restrainedvengence's 2-year-old half-brother Party Town (Shackleford) was second in the Zia Park Juvenile S. earlier on the card. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

While good-looking debut winner Autonomous had been more or less given the trophy for this race by the bettors before it was run, it was another debut romper in Precious who got the money. The latter was a 14-length debut romper in PA-bred company at Parx Oct. 14, and settled back in last in the early stages here as the favorite had things her own way up front. Precious came alive turning for home as the chalk was quietly ridden, but when they straightened it soon became clear that Autonomous was out of horse and Precious snuck inside of her and strolled away as she pleased. The winner has a yearling half-sister by Kantharos. Her dam was bred to Hoppertunity for 2020. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

Monongahela took Monmouth's GIII Philip H. Iselin S. June 22, but was sixth in both the GI Whitney S. at Saratoga Aug. 3 and the GII Kelso H. at Belmont Sept. 21. Enjoying some class relief, but still facing a salty enough group here, the bay tracked Isotherm (Lonhro {Aus}) from second as the field strung out down the backside. He responded willingly when asked to go and get the pacesetter around the turn for home and built up a comfortable cushion from there that proved insurmountable. The winner's dam most recently visited City Weekend. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

She's My Gem justified 7-10 favoritism to score first up over track and trip Sept. 30, but settled for fourth last time in the local Chaves City S. Oct. 28. Heavily favored here thanks to scratches of Chaves City winner Cashcheckorcharge (Will Take Charge) and last out Remington stakes winner Mt. Brave (Malibu Moon), the bay was fastest of the four runners from the blocks before being reined in to sit second while out in the clear. Hard ridden into the lane as frontrunner Best of Me threatened to run away from her, She's My Gem finally found her best stride in midstretch and edged away from there. A BIT OF BOTH, ARCHIDUST TAKE OBS STAKES

Michael Dubb, Madaket Stables LLC, Darsan Inc., Bethlehem Stables and David Simon's A Bit of Both (Paynter) took her sixth race this season in Monday's $125,000 OBS Filly and Mare Sprint in Ocala; while $300,000 OBSMAR purchase Archidust (Verrazano) annexed the $125,000 OBS Sprint. Both races were restricted to graduates of Ocala Breeders' Sales Company auctions.

The Jason Servis-trained A Bit of Both enjoyed a four-race winning streak earlier this term, headed by victories in the Game Face S. on the Gulfstream dirt Apr. 20 and the Honey Bee S. over the Monmouth lawn June 15. Third in the grassy Blue Sparkler S. on the Jersey Shore July 14, A Bit of Both entered off a runaway victory in a Parx allowance on dirt Oct. 14.

Making her first attempt on synthetic here, she slugged it out early while racing on the outside, began to edge clear from that one as they straightened for home and wasn't for catching in the stretch as she streaked away by 3 1/2 lengths. Caramel Martini (Biondetti) and Ms Meshak (Shackleford) were second and third, respectively.

A Bit of Both was a $10,000 OBS October yearling purchase in 2017 and was co-bred in Florida by Darsan and WinStar Farm. The winner's dam Lizzie K, also represented by a Vancouver (Aus) filly of 2018, was bred to Classic Empire for 2020.

Ivan Rodriguez and Albert and Michelle Crawford's Archidust, trained by Jorge Navarro, put together back-to-back turf sprint stakes scores in Monmouth's My Frenchman S. July 14 and Saratoga's Mahony S. Aug. 7. He got going too late after a slow start to finish fourth as the even-money favorite in the GIII Nevada State Bank Franklin-Simpson S. at Kentucky Downs last time Sept. 12.

The chestnut raced in traffic early while placed within striking distance in this one. Under a ride in fifth entering the far turn, he shot through an inviting opening along the rail at the top of the stretch and outkicked Boldor (Munnings) home to get the money by 1 3/4 lengths. Front Loaded (Kantharos) was third.

Archidust sold for $85,000 as both a Keeneland November weanling and Keeneland September yearling before breezing in :10 flat last March. His dam Chilling Effect had a filly by Not This Time in 2018.

FROND (f, 3, Yes It's True--Flounce, by More Than Ready) was backed as the 2-1 chalk in this rained-off affair after clearing her first-level allowance condition last out in the slop here Oct. 30. She bided her time while well-held in second last, and started to advance while traveling sweetly heading for home. She shifted out a bit awkwardly in upper stretch as Dancensing (Tiznow) took over, and drifted out further in midstretch, but soon found her best stride and zoomed up to challenge the leader. Dancensing came out herself in the run to the line, and while she found the line a head to the good of Frond, the stewards ultimately reversed that decision. Frond was a debut winner sprinting in the Tampa slop in January, but failed to hit the board in her next five starts--three of them on grass--before finishing second at 23-1 in a turfy Keeneland allowance Oct. 10. The winner has an unraced 2-year-old half-sister named Fyvie (First Defence), a yearling half-sister by Creative Cause and a weanling half-brother by Overanalyze. Her dam, who hails from the extended female family of millionaire Dynever (Dynaformer) and GI Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile hero Furthest Land (Smart Strike), visited Animal Kingdom this past breeding season. Lifetime Record: 9-3-1-0, $153,534. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

TURNED ASIDE (c, 2, American Pharoah--Sustained {GSP, $184,629}, by War Front) checked in third over yielding Belmont sod Sept. 6, improved one slot three weeks later, and broke through by four lengths in Elmont Oct. 20. Seventh in the Atlantic Beach S. Nov. 9, he was installed the 6-5 favorite to appreciate the class relief here. Away on top, the bay settled into a stalking trip out in the clear through an opening quarter in :22.97 and looked to have the pacesetter in his sights after a :46.17 half. He took over under confident handling, hit another gear once shown the whip and spurted clear to score by 3 1/4 lengths from Maxwell Esquire (Discreet Cat). The winner has a weanling half-brother by Quality Road and his dam was bred back to Connect. Sales history: $270,000 RNA 2yo '19 OBSAPR. ON A WARPATH (g, 2, Indian Firewater--New Gold, by Attila's Storm), a narrow first-up winner Sept. 23, was second beaten a head in the New Mexico Classic Cup Juvenile Championship S. Oct. 27. Given a 2-1 chance in this full field that included three horses who had finished behind him last out, the dark bay broke slowly from his rail draw before rushing up inside of horses and onto heels. He enjoyed a clear run turning for home, and a fairly open rail in upper stretch, and kicked on determinedly to earn the head decision over fast-finishing Ancient Land (Monterrey Jazz). Lifetime Record: 3-2-1-0, $74,000. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

Sponsor a Family for Christmas

Race Track Chaplaincy of America
New York Division

The NY Race Track Chaplaincy is once again offering the opportunity to our supporters to participate in our Sponsor-A-Family Program. Our Program provides food and gifts to the neediest of our backstretch families during the Christmas season.

Family Sponsorships can be shared! Groups are encouraged to sponsor large families together.

How It Works

1. Click HERE to send an email, and write "Sponsor a Family" in the subject line. Let us know if you have a preference for the number of members in the family you would like to sponsor, or indicate any questions.
2. We will write back with the details of your family, including the total number of family members, gender of each child, ages and sizes.
3. Go Shopping! Purchase gifts for each child or members of the family as well as a grocery store gift card for their holiday meal.
4. Please wrap all gifts and clearly mark each gift according to each family member.
5. Place all Items into a large box or bag that is clearly marked with the family last name and assigned number. If there are large items that cannot fit into the family box (bike, comforter, etc) clearly mark the item with a tag. This ensures all of your gifts are delivered to your assigned family.
6. Please deliver your gifts to our Belmont Park office, Gate 6, by December 14th. Our office is open Monday- Friday, 10AM - 4PM.

Not a Shopper? No worries!

Please click here to make a financial contribution of your choice to be used toward sponsoring a family.

FRESHMAN SIRES IN DEMAND AT TATTERSALLS

The co-session topping El Kabeir colt (lot 326) | Tattersalls

By Emma Berry

NEWMARKET, UK--The opening session of the four-day Tattersalls December Foal Sale proved to be something of a showcase for first-season sires with six of the 10 top-priced weanlings of the day being the offspring of newcomers to the sales ring.

A market which can be harshly unforgiving of stallions who have had only one crop of runners can be equally welcoming of those yet to have any perceived blemish on their stud careers.

One stallion who will not be struggling for mares in 2020 is Darley's Night Of Thunder (Ire), the leading first-season sire with runners this year who provided the leading filly of the day (lot 366), bought by pinhooker Jamie Railton at 65,000gns. The chestnut filly was consigned by Genesis Green Stud for breeder Cranford Bloodstock and is out of Harlequin Girl (GB) (Where Or When {Ire}), a half-sister to G2 Gimcrack S. winner Blaine (GB) (Avonbridge {GB}).

Bringing the same price and heading the colts' division was lot 326, from the first crop of El Kabeir, Yeomanstown Stud's 7-year-old son of Scat Daddy.

GROUP 1 PRODUCER ADDED TO ARQANA

Watchful (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), the dam of this year's G1 Coronation S. winner Watch Me (Fr) (Olympic Glory {Ire}), has been added to next weekend's Arqana December Sale as a wildcard. The 15-year-old mare will be offered as lot 170 by Haras de Saint Julien in foal to Golden Horn (GB).

In addition to her Royal Ascot highlight, Watch Me took the G3 Prix Imprudence and the Listed Criterium du Languedoc, and was third in the G1 Prix de l'Opera. Watchful's colt foal by Elvstroem (Aus) will also be offered at Arqana as lot 22.

Also joining the sale as wildcards are a pair of well-bred fillies off the track. Koala (Fr) (Kodiac {GB}) is a 2-year-old three-quarter sister to this year's G1 2000 Guineas winner Magna Grecia (Ire) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}) who has started once for trainer Nicolas Clement. She will be offered as lot 130.

Aeronautical (Medaglia d'Oro) is an unraced half-sister to three stakes horses and three stakes producers. It is also the family of multiple group winner and sire Titus Livius (Fr) and GI Breeders' Cup Filly & Mare Turf winner Zagora (Fr). Aeronautical will be offered by Coulonces Sales as lot 180.

From a fast family which includes champion sprinter Dream Ahead and Group 1-winning filly Fairyland (Ire), the colt from the draft of Ballyreddin & Kellsgrange Studs caught the eye of another pinhooker, Philipp Stauffenberg, who said, "He was a standout for me today. I tried on one by the sire last week [at Goffs] but didn't get him so I am pleased to have bought this colt. I've been lucky buying on the first day in the past."

Scarlett Knipe routinely brings a unique mixed draft of Flat and National Hunt foals to the December Sale under the Cobhall Court Stud banner, which provided one of the highlights of Wednesday's session with a colt by Territories (Ire) (lot 463). Bred by Ciaran Paterson, the son of the winning New Approach (Ire) mare Never Change (Ire) brought a final bid of 62,000gns from Mick Fitzpatrick.

Gerry Meehan | Tattersalls

Knipe said, "Ciaran is our vet and he was too busy to get here today. He knows the price though. We bought the mare carrying this colt and she was value for money as she only cost 11,000gns at the July Sale. This is a lovely colt with a big walk."

Along with foals by young Flat sires Adaay (Ire), Ardad (Ire), Twilight Son (GB) and Profitable (Ire), the Cobhall Court consignment also contains two colts by Britain's leading jumps sire Kayf Tara (GB) and another by Kapgarde (Fr). Kodiac (GB) provided another of the day's bestsellers (lot 398) in the half-sister to the G2 Queen Mary S.-placed Newsletter (Ire) (Sir Percy {GB}), sold by breeder Castledillon Stud to Hugo Merry for 62,000gns. One of Kodiac's young sire sons, Ardad (Ire), was also to the fore with a filly consigned by Simon Sweeting's Overbury Stud, where the G2 Flying Childers S. winner stands.

Lot 316, a daughter of the 103-rated Lastuce (Fr) (Orpen), was bred by Jocelyn Targett, who said after she sold to Stuart Boman for 52,000gns, "She's her father's daughter and that's what people are trying to breed--a good-walking, butty, speedy-looking horse.

"I bought Lastuce here and she had won seven races in France when trained by Jean-Claude Rouget. She was highly-rated but had never won any black type. Chris Wall then trained her for me and she was third in the Kilvington Fillies' S."

Targett has retained the mare's first foal, the 2-year-old Didot (Fr) (New Approach {Ire}), who is in training in France with Jerome Reynier. He added, "Then the mare went to Ardad and this filly is just like he was: she has a great walk, hip and shoulder and she has a great attitude. All the way along she has been completely straightforward. She was an obvious foal to bring here, by a first-season sire, and Simon's team has done a tremendous job prepping her. She looked in the pink."

A bold black-type update was just the ticket for lot 378, the Hunscote Stud-bred son of Holy Roman Emperor (Ire) sold on the breeder's behalf by Furnace Mill Stud. Only last week his juvenile brother Milltown Star (GB) (Roderic O'Connor {Ire}) put up a determined effort in the Chantilly mud to win the Listed Prix Herod in the Hunscote colours for Mick Channon. That win helped the weanling to sell for 52,000gns to Sean Ronan of Orchardstown Stud, who said, "He is by Holy Roman Emperor, a great sire, and the plan is for him to come back here [as a yearling]. The update has been a great help."

Among the freshmen with notable first-day results was the National Stud duo of Time Test (GB) and Aclaim (Ire). The former had six foals sell for an average of 24,333gns and at the head of the group was lot 346, sold for 48,000gns to Howson & Houldsworth Bloodstock on behalf of Horse Kingdom. A half-brother to the six-time winner Sheisdiesel (GB) (Harbour Watch {GB}), the colt is from the further family of the recent GI Breeders' Cup Turf Sprint winner Belvoir Bay (GB) (Equiano {Fr}). His dam Rockme Cockney (GB) (Cockney Rebel {Ire}) has produced three fillies to date and both her runners are winners.

"We bought the dam here carrying Sheisdiesel," said breeder Sarah Jane Barker of Yorkshire-based Tibthorpe Stud. "We decided on Time Test because we wanted to use a sire with a bit of scope and he has such a wonderful Juddmonte pedigree. We have been waiting for a colt to come along."

Of the Aclaim foals, lot 240 was the early sale leader when sold for 40,000gns to Ciaran 'Flash' Conroy of Glenvale Stud. The son of dual winner Movementneverlies (GB) (Medicean {GB}) was bred by Kelly Thomas of Maywood Stud in Wales.

Stuart Boman | Tattersalls

She said, "We bred the dam, sold her as a foal and then bought her back out of training. She is straightforward and has been producing well. We sold her first foal by Bated Breath (GB) for 34,000gns to Oaks Farm Stables and he then sold as a yearling for £60,000 to Charlie Hills."

Thomas added, "We decided on Aclaim as we are commercial breeders and we invest heavily in first-season sires. We like to sell as foals, we have lots of grass but we are not really set up for yearlings."

Figures for the first day of foals were largely on a par with last year though a notable improvement was the clearance rate of 68%, up from 61%. Turnover for 168 horses sold was 1,695,300gns (+5%), the average was 10,091gns (-4%) and the median was 5,000gns (-17%).

SANDS OF MALI TO BE OFFERED AT TATTS

The G1 QIPCO British Champions Sprint winner Sands Of Mali (Fr) (Panis) is a late addition to the Tattersalls December Mare Sale catalogue for next week. The 4-year-old colt, who raced initially for The Cool Silk Partnership but has this year been campaigned by a partnership which includes Phoenix Thoroughbreds, will be sold on Monday as a wildcard entry lot 1621A to dissolve the partnership.

His late entry in the sale follows allegations made in an American court as to the alleged involvement of Phoenix Thoroughbreds' founder Amer Abdulaziz Salman in the OneCoin cryptocurrency scam. Originally bought as a yearling by Con Marnane for €20,000, Sands Of Mali was acquired by The Cool Silk Partnership through agent Matt Coleman for £75,000 at the Tattersalls Ascot Breeze-up Sale. His five victories in 16 starts include four group wins and he has also been runner-up in the G1 Commonwealth Cup.

Phoenix Thoroughbreds first became involved in the ownership of Sands Of Mali at the beginning of 2019. He will be offered as a horse out of training.

GROUP-WINNING PAIR TO WINDMILL VIEW

Group winners Gladiatorus (Silic {Fr}) and Nocturnal Fox (Ire) (Farhh {GB}) have been secured to stand the 2020 National Hunt season at John Lynch's Windmill View Stud in Galway, Ireland. The sale was brokered by Compas Equine.

Gladiatorus, who is out of Gmaasha (Ire) (Kris {GB}), annexed a trio of group races through three seasons, including the G1 Dubai Duty Free and G1 Premio Vittorio di Capua. The 14-year-old is responsible for multiple listed winner and group placed Presley (Ity).

Also slated to stand at Windmill View, 4-year-old Nocturnal Fox, who is out of Nabati (Rahy), is from the extended family of champion Dahlia. He won the G2 Prix Hocquart during his 3-year-old his season.

PATH OF PEACE by Alayna Cullen

Mare Of The Moment is a TDN feature highlighting the success of a broodmare and giving her and her owner recognition for those achievements. In association with the Irish National Stud, the mare will receive a personalised headcollar. This month, Path Of Peace (GB) (Rock Of Gibraltar {Ire}) is the recipient of Mare Of The Moment. I remember watching a Breeders' Cup when I was much younger not knowing much about American racing, its horses, trainers, jockeys or owners. Aside from interest in European horses I didn't really pay much attention to the other races until I was drawn into a feature about Bob Baffert and I suddenly found myself cheering his runner on in the following race.

Cont.

Belvoir Bay | Horsephotos

While we all follow certain horses for our own reasons, you can't deny that when a horse overcomes adversity and pulls out a winning performance on a big stage they become a fan favourite. This is what Belvoir Bay (GB) (Equiano {GB}) did on Breeders' Cup Saturday and this is why her dam Path Of Peace is this month's Mare Of The Moment.

Path Of Peace was a one-time winner for her late owner/breeder Lennie Peacock. After being retired to stud, she visited Equiano at Newsells Park Stud in her second season and produced a filly who subsequently became known as Belvoir Bay. Sold to Peter and Ross Doyle Bloodstock at Book 2 of the Tattersalls October Yearling Sale, Belvoir Bay later made her debut at Leicester before winning on her second start. She gained another victory for the Richard Hannon yard before setting off on her travels to join the Bill Mott barn in America. She won a stakes race for Mott and then moved on again to Peter Miller, for whom she has had eight wins, including her latest victory in the GI Breeders' Cup Turf Sprint.

In Belvoir Bay, Path Of Peace has produced a filly who exudes toughness and honesty. She has never let her connections down and perhaps her win in the GIII San Simeon S. was one of her most poignant wins given that she was coming back off of a 154-day break from racing after being badly burned in the fire at the stables at San Luis Rey racecourse. Belvoir Bay was also second to Blue Point (Ire) in Dubai and finished off her racing career at this year's Breeders' Cup. She was sold for $1.5-million at the Fasig-Tipton November Sale and hopefully she can pass her tenacity onto her own progeny.

Lennie Peacock died in 2018 but Path Of Peace and Belvoir Bay have both paid tribute to her contribution to the breeding industry. Path Of Peace's Muhaarar yearling colt was sold to Shadwell at this year's Book 2 at Tattersalls and, with a 2020 mating plan to Equiano to look forward to, there is every chance that we will be hearing more about Path Of Peace in the years to come.

BOCCACCIO (IRE) (c, 2, Dubawi {Ire}--J Wonder {MGSW-Eng, $190,113}, by Footstepsinthesand {GB}), without a run since winning over this trip on debut at Yarmouth May 30, had been withdrawn from the rescheduled G3 Horris Hill S. at Newmarket earlier this month due to the heavy ground. Free in front initially and still tending to over-race even when granted a lead, the 4-9 favourite who carried a seven-pound penalty was sent up to regain the advantage with 1 1/2 furlongs remaining and readily asserted to score by 3 1/4 lengths from Juan Les Pins (GB) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}). The winner is the first foal out of the G3 Fred Darling S. and G3 Oak Tree S. winner J Wonder, who is herself a full-sister to the high-class Chachamaidee (Ire). Handed the G1 Matron S. by the Leopardstown stewards, she was also successful in the G2 Lennox S. and was runner-up in the G1 Sun Chariot S. before throwing the G3 Pinnacle S. scorer Klassique (GB) (Galileo {Ire}).

HILALA (f, 2, Toronado {Ire}--Eden's Moon {GISW-US, $387,216}, by Malibu Moon), sent off the 13-10 favourite, broke smartly before being restrained to race under cover behind the leaders. Confidently ridden by Cristian Demuro, the homebred was unleashed approaching the furlong pole and brushed the principals aside with the minimum of effort en route to a commanding 1 3/4-length success from La Golden Havana (Fr) (Le Havre {Ire}). The dam Eden's Moon was successful in the GI Las Virgenes S. and GII San Clemente H. and was also third in the GI Santa Anita Oaks. Bought for $1.525-million at the 2012 Faisig-Tipton Kentucky November Sale, she is a granddaughter of the matriarch North of Eden (Ire) (Northfields). A half-sister to the champion and leading broodmare sire Theatrical (Ire), she produced Paradise Creek (Irish River {Fr}) who proved another champion in the U.S. when winning the GI Arlington Million, GI Washington D. C. Int'l, GI Hollywood Derby and GI Manhattan S.; the fellow Manhattan hero and sire Forbidden Apple (Pleasant Colony); and Wild Event (Wild Again), who captured the GI Turf Classic. Also connected to the G1 Eclipse S., G1 Champion S. and G1 Dubai Duty Free winner David Junior (Pleasant Tap) and the GI Breeders' Cup Turf Sprint hero Bobby's Kitten (Kitten's Joy), she has a yearling colt by Mshawish and was bred to Super Saver for 2020. Delivered wide to swoop on stablemate Cleante (Fr) (Muhaarar {GB}) with 100 metres remaining, the 6-1 shot asserted to score by 3/4 of a length. The dam's first foal was Whispering Angel (Ger), also by Soldier Hollow, who captured the prestigious G3 Preis der Winterkonigin and she has another by that sire in a yearling colt. Her half-brother Wai Key Star (Ger), yet another by Soldier Hollow, took the G3 Derby Trial, G3 Preis des Hannover and G3 Preis der Sparkassen Finanzgruppe and finished runner-up in the G1 Grosser Dallmayr Bayerisches Zuchtrennen. Q&A WITH TANYA GUNTHER

Trophy presentation following Without Parole's Royal Ascot win--Tanya Gunther (center)), Frankie Dettori & John Gunther with the Duke and Duchess of Sussex | Horsephotos

by Bren O'Brien

John and Tanya Gunther, owners of Glennwood Farm in Kentucky, are not only the breeders of American Triple Crown winner Justify, but also this year's G1 Breeders' Cup Classic winner Vino Rosso and 2018 G1 St James's Palace S. winner Without Parole. TDN AusNZ caught up with Tanya Gunther to talk about breeding champions and a host of industry topics.

Bren O'Brien: Tanya, the quality of horses your family has been able to breed speaks for itself, what has been the single most significant factor to that success do you believe?

Tanya Gunther: Single-minded persistence! Being a breeder isn't for the faint of heart so you need to possess a stroke of mad unwavering conviction in what you are doing and heaps of stamina to be able to keep getting back up after being knocked down. On a more serious note, I don't believe it is possible to single out a 'silver bullet' key to success in a breeding program. There are so many contributing factors to producing good horses and so many hurdles that must be overcome in order for horses to reach their full potential. I believe key factors include pedigree, the mating plan, land and feed, horsemanship, care and attention to detail regarding all of the foregoing.

As breeders, we need to be multi-skilled. We need to be part artist, part scientist, part farmer, part psychologist and even perhaps part wizard! I say the latter in jest but in reality we almost need a crystal ball at times. For example, if breeding commercially (which we do), it is necessary to try to figure out and make decisions now regarding what the market will find appealing in two years time, which is no easy feat.

At Glennwood, we try to keep our eye trained on the end game--breeding the best racehorses possible, not just top sales horses--so it becomes a balancing act when trying to survive in the commercial market as well. One of the ways that art and science come together is during the making of mating plans, an inherently creative process to which it is possible to apply a little science in the form of facts and figures.

The roles of psychologist and farmer come in when trying to keep horses alive, happy and thriving – sounds simple right? But in reality this endeavour is enormously challenging. Finally, these horses have to end up in the right hands during their racing careers. This is an important factor and one over which we have very limited control since most of the horses we raise are sold at public auction as yearlings.

BO'B: How much of the making of a champion is in the planning of the pedigree and the genetics, and how much is in the nurturing of foals from when they are born until they hit the track?

TG: Genetics are the raw materials. Breeding a top racehorse without the best raw materials is possible but less likely (though identifying the best raw materials is, in and of itself, an art form).

I think we can get in the way of a horse reaching its full potential by mistakes made or events that happen beyond our control during the nurturing and developing processes. Conversely, I don't think the best program in the world can overcome a lack of the right raw materials.

BO'B: How soon can you see those champion characteristics, for example in a horse like Justify?

TG: Justify set himself apart from his peers at Glennwood relatively early on, with a few signal lights at first followed by flashing neon. I don't recall a time when he wasn't confident and strong-willed.

I remember vividly a time when he was a weanling and I led him out to the field to join his buddies (one of which was Vino Rosso). He had been kept up longer than his paddock-mates so he was keen to get outside and made no bones about that, which was typical of him. I let him walk on more forwardly than usual because I knew he was annoyed about the delayed turnout and overly restraining him in this mood wouldn't make for the smoothest trip to the paddock. So I let him walk on while doing my biggest power walk alongside him, and I was surprised at the way and amount of ground he covered for a weanling. I am a pretty fast walker (just ask my dad about his experience with me in airports!) and I was amazed at how quickly he covered ground, without breaking into a half-trot (though I almost had to!). He was determined, focused and powerful, and like a flash we were at the gate. This experience was one of those small but striking moments that left an indelible impression on my mind. I even called my dad to tell him about it. As Justify developed through his yearling year, he had physicality and presence ahead of his peers and this separation increased through the sales preparation process, which came easy to him. He seemed to have boundless energy and never became tired during exercise. Justify is also very intelligent and he became increasingly aware of his physical superiority, which made him just that little bit more demanding than his peers! He made himself noticed. It seems to me that Justify was a force of nature almost from inception.

BO'B: What criteria do you apply in selecting stallions for your broodmares?

TG: I love and agonise over, in equal measure, the process of making our mating plans. These are among the most important decisions we make during the year and one of the factors over which we have some degree of control so I don't want to mess it up.

I look at prospective pedigrees on paper as well as the physical combination and go back and forth over the pros and cons of each, then engage in an iterative process with my dad, and finally we agree the matings and put them to bed. There is also an element of gut instinct for both of us in this process.

BO'B: Justify is standing his first season in Australia at Coolmore this season, what do you think we can expect from his progeny when they hit the ground in 2020?

TG: I expect Justify foals to possess strong, athletic physicals and for them to enjoy running and playing like its their job! Justify is a stunning physical specimen. He is magnificent and massive but has great balance so you almost don't notice how truly grand he is until you stand up next to him.

He has such a powerful physique– even his muscles seem to have muscles – that it is almost as easy to imagine him as a successful sprinter as it is to see him as a classic distance horse despite that he is an undefeated Triple Crown winner who won at distances from 7f to 12f. I believe a truly exceptional racehorse can succeed at a wide range of distances because they are so superior, so dominant. I believe he would have won top-level sprint races and turf races if he had been targeted to do so. We are excited about his crossover potential for both dirt and turf surfaces. In fact, we have a mare by Australian stallion Fastnet Rock who we plan to breed to Justify in 2020 and I can't wait to see the result of this mating!

BO'B: Is there a certain type of mare that is most suited to Justify as a stallion?

TG: Despite Justify's size and mass, I feel like he may suit a lot of different mares from a physical perspective. While he resembles his dam in terms of colour, markings and other characteristics, she is a nice medium-sized mare rather than what I would call a big mare. And Scat Daddy (USA) was similarly not a huge horse. It will be intriguing to see what elements Justify stamps on his progeny. One trait I will be looking closely for is his mind and his competitiveness. Nothing seemed to bother him (other than being kept up in a stall too long!) and he was the ultimate competitor. He exuded superiority and I can imagine the most confident of foes on the racetrack would have taken pause at the sight and presence of him.

Cont.

I remember watching him do the walkover for the Kentucky Derby. This was the first time I had seen him in person since we sold him as a yearling. I was watching closely to see how he was handling everything because he was relatively inexperienced going into the Derby and the scene on Derby Day can be daunting.

The Derby horses, connections and the media walk across the track from the backside en masse and are greeted by a huge and noisy crowd in Churchill's grandstand before disappearing through the tunnel to the paddock where an equally busy, loud crowd receives them.

The buzz is incredible and the tension in the air is palpable. Justify walked over like a pro player who had been to the championship games many times before, like he was channelling Tom Brady. He was focused and completely unflustered by the activity. It was remarkable. If he passes along these traits to his progeny, I believe he will be a force to be reckoned with as a stallion as well.

BO'B: We saw the impact that Vino Rosso had on the racetrack, what sort of impact do you anticipate him having as a stallion with Spendthrift in Kentucky?

TG: I am a big fan of Curlin as a stallion and I think Vino Rosso is an extremely exciting son to join the stallion ranks in 2020.

Vino reminds me of his sire not just physically but because he found his best strike zone going a mile and a quarter, much like Curlin did. Vino won two Group 1s at 10f, the Breeders' Cup Classic like his dad and the Gold Cup at Santa Anita. Vino was also first across the line (before a controversial DQ) in the G1 Jockey Club Gold Cup, a race also won by Curlin.

Imagine if Vino could replicate even a fraction of what his sire has achieved at stud as well… Breeders are dreamers (!) and only time will tell but we are excited at the prospect of breeding our mares to him.

In addition to being by top stallion Curlin, Vino is out of a Street Cry (Ire) mare who is a half-sister to three graded stakes performers. I think the strength of his pedigree boosts confidence with respect to Vino's ability to become a successful sire.

John and Tanya Gunther at Royal Ascot | Glennwood Farm

Physically, he is a good-looking horse with size, presence and balance, qualities that also remind me of his sire. Vino also has a great mind, which I hope he will pass along to his progeny. He was very laid-back and easy to work with as a yearling at Glennwood and when I saw him at Santa Anita on the day before the Breeders' Cup Classic, it struck me how focused he had become. He had serious game face and I like to see that competitive mind-set in a horse we are including in our breeding plans.

BO'B: The access Australian breeders have to these champion North American bloodlines is unprecedented at the moment, what do you feel these outcrosses do for the overall quality of thoroughbreds across the world?

TG: The opportunity to breed to champion bloodlines from other parts of the world is hugely beneficial. We made the decision to send selected mares overseas in order to access different bloodlines and G1 St James's Palace S. winner Without Parole (GB) (Frankel {GB}) out of Without You Babe (USA) resulted from our European endeavours. Having champion racehorses such as American Pharoah (USA) and Justify (not just any champion but two Triple Crown winning champions) shuttle to Australia presents an incredible opportunity for breeders, and makes it much easier than sending mares overseas to visit them. I believe this access provides diversity in the bloodlines and facilitates the creation of 'break-out' horses that will become game-changers for the future.

BO'B: The horse welfare debate is something that is at the centre of discussion both in the USA and in Australia at the moment, what does the thoroughbred industry globally need to do to ensure the ongoing public faith in thoroughbred racing?

The safety and welfare of our horses is paramount. While it is impossible to prevent all injuries and fatalities, we need to make sure we are taking every measure conceivable to achieve the safest environment for horses, both during and after their racing careers. There will always be a segment of the public that won't hold the industry in a positive light no matter what we do, but we need to satisfy ourselves that we are doing the best that we can and exercise some control over the narrative.

I think we also need to appreciate more fully that our sport is in competition with other sports and activities for mindshare from the public and that we need to do more in order to keep the sport relevant, thriving and understood.

I can't imagine how our love of horses and this sport wouldn't be catching if we could find a practical way to bottle up and engage the public with that feeling we get as an individual and as a team when a horse runs with great guts and determination to achieve an important victory, the way spending time with a horse one-on-one helps you forget everything else and be present in that moment, the delight we experience from watching a mare greet her new-born foal and witnessing those first baby-steps, and so many other rewarding aspects of this captivating industry?

BO'B: Is there any long-term plan for an involvement in the Australian industry for the Gunther family?

TG: I sure hope so!
