TAKING STOCK: UNIFIED, MOHAYMEN, GORMLEY ARE ONES TO WATCH

Unified | Photos by Z

by Sid Fernando

I noted on Steve Byk's "At the Races" radio show last Wednesday that some stallions that enter stud for between $10,000 and $20,000 occasionally punch above their weight and find lasting success. The in-your-face examples of this are Into Mischief, Tapit and War Front, three of the best and most expensive horses at stud, but others that have fit the profile through the years include Distorted Humor, Candy Ride (Arg), Elusive Quality, Munnings and Twirling Candy.

Twirling Candy, a son of Candy Ride, was recently profiled in this space along with other Kentucky-based sons of the Argentine import, including freshman sire Unified, who was represented by his first black-type winner Saturday when Behave Virginia won the listed Debutante S. at Churchill Downs.

A Grade ll winner at three and a Grade lll winner at four who was also Grade l-placed, Unified began his career for $10,000 like his sire and stands alongside him at Lane's End. So far, he's represented by only the one winner, but she's a good one and trainer Kenny McPeek, who has a way with fillies, has an eye on the Glll Pocahontas S., the Gl Darley Alcibiades S. and the Gl Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies.

PA RAIDS THAT YIELDED 'SIGNIFICANT CONTRABAND' NOW TERMED AS 'NOTHING OF SUBSTANCE' by T.D. Thornton

One month after initially stating at a Pennsylvania Horse Racing Commission (PHRC) meeting that May backstretch raids at Parx yielded a "significant amount of contraband" and "items that have no business on the backside," Tom Chuckas, the director of Thoroughbred horse racing for the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, gave a Tuesday update that now describes the yield from those searches in markedly less sensationalistic terms.

"In the last months, enforcement action was taken both at Penn National and at Parx," Chuckas told commissioners at the June 29 PHRC meeting during his monthly briefing. "That enforcement action consisted of...vehicle searches, barn searches, vet trailer searches. In addition, we did out-of-competition testing both at Penn National and at Parx, and the preliminary results from these investigative enforcement actions is very, very minor infractions. Nothing of substance." Cont. p6

Unified's Behave Virginia | Horsephotos

Gormley, a Grade l winner at two and three, and Mohaymen, an undefeated multiple Grade ll winner at two and a multiple Grade ll winner at three who cost his connections $2.2 million as a yearling, are two others in the news that entered stud relatively inexpensively.

Standing at Shadwell, Mohaymen is a Tapit half-brother to Grade l winner New Year's Day, the sire of champion Maximum Security. He has five winners to date, including a maiden special winner at Laurel on Saturday. Mohaymen has stood for a $7,500 fee, and so far just the Scat Daddy horse Caravaggio--who began his career at Coolmore in Ireland for the equivalent of about $40,000 before moving this year to Coolmore America--has more winners, with eight. Three Chimneys-based Horse of the Year Gun Runner, another son of Candy Ride, also has five winners, but he covered mares in his first year for $70,000 and was the second-most expensive horse to enter stud in 2018, behind only the late Arrogate (Unbridled's Song) at $75,000.

Stallions like Mohaymen that begin for less than $10,000 tend to have a harder struggle to succeed than those between $10,000 and $20,000, but some active success stories to do so include Claiborne's Flatter, a son of A.P. Indy who started for $5,000 and Hill 'n' Dale's Maclean's Music, a son of Distorted Humor who began for $6,500.

Speaking of cheap fees, Spendthrift's Gormley is by the farm's recently deceased A.P. Indy horse Malibu Moon, who was a foundation stallion for B. Wayne Hughes and the sire of Gl Kentucky Derby winner Orb. Malibu Moon initially stood for $3,000 at Country Life in Maryland. Cont. p4

Gormley started for $10,000, and, like Unified and Mohaymen, had a winner on Saturday, in a maiden special at Belmont. He has four winners to date.

Gormley | Horsephotos

Stud fee, of course, is a reflection of mare quality, and in broad terms a stallion's short- and long-term success is dependent on good books of mares that complement the horse by physique, race record and pedigree. You never know until it happens which stallions have the ability to upgrade their mares, but one early sign is a relatively inexpensive horse hitting with quality maiden special and stakes winners, and this is notable because it happens infrequently. Sometimes, these types of horses will also telegraph a year or two earlier what's about to come with expensive yearlings or juveniles far above what's expected on stud fee.

Gormley, for instance, had juveniles sell this year for $550,000, $450,000, and $425,000. The highest priced of these is Headline Report, who won an April maiden special at Keeneland for owner Breeze Easy and trainer Wesley Ward and just registered a bullet five-furlong breeze at Keeneland on Monday. Ward must like Gormley, because he also owns and trains the 2-year-old filly Guajira, who won a $50,000 maiden claimer at Churchill in May. And Guajira, in contrast to Headline Report, was a $3,000 yearling, showing that Gormley can hit from both ends of the spectrum.

Unified had two juveniles bring $530,000 and $400,000, and last year had a yearling make $450,000, though that colt has since died. His stakes winner Behave Virginia was successfully pinhooked from a $30,000 weanling to a $115,000 yearling and is now the winner of both her starts.

Mohaymen didn't have the big-priced 2-year-olds, but he did have five that made six figures, and his 25 juveniles to sell averaged $70,600, which is certainly respectable for his stud fee. Cont. p5

Expensive horses get the best mares, and their success is almost always anticipated because of mare quality. Those that don't meet expectations with their first crops--and, let's face it, most don't--go down the drain fairly quickly, because their subsequent crops are almost always produced from lesser-quality mares. In other words, for most stallions it's easier to find success with the first of their first four crops, and first-crop success means that a stallion will be rewarded with better mares in his fifth crop as breeders patronize him after a successful first year of 2-year-olds, thereby giving him the ability to survive the vagaries of the commercial marketplace and extend his career. This is why stallion managers front load their first-season horses.

Obviously, it's way too early to tell if Unified, Gormley and Mohaymen will be able to sustain the promise they are showing, but they'll be fun to watch as 2-year-old racing heats up in the second half of the season and the heavier hitters of the freshman class start to flex.

Khalid Mishref Alkahtani

Saudi Arabian Khalid Mishref Alkahtani is the breeder of Behave Virginia. He'd bought her dam, the Mineshaft mare She's Behaving, for $15,000 at Keeneland November 2018, while she was carrying the future black-type winner. She was one of 15 mares he purchased at the sale through agent Bruno DeBerdt, and another was the More Than Ready mare Quick Thinker for $45,000. That mare is the dam of the Gormley winner Think Blue, who he also bred. And Think Blue was an even cheaper yearling than Ward's Guajira, selling for $1,500. When the cheap horses win, the more expensive ones start to look better, don't they?

Khalid Mishref Alkahtani obviously likes young stallions in the $10,000 to $20,000 range, because he also bought the Paddy O'Prado mare My Miss Kallie for $37,000 carrying a foal from the second crop of Taylor Made's Not This Time (Giant's Causeway). That foal, now named Last Leaf, won a maiden special at Gulfstream a few weeks ago, and Not This Time now appears well on his way to a successful career after his first-crop 2-year-olds made the grade last season. In fact, his first-crop son Next, also trained by Ward, became a black-type winner for the first time on Saturday when taking the listed War Chant S. at Churchill.

Yet according to a June 2 ruling posted on the PHRC website, the May 21 raid did allegedly turn up “21 loaded hypodermic needles and hypodermic syringes” in the locked tack room of Parx trainer Richard Vega. TDN first reported that development on June 2.

Vega is currently appealing a summary suspension issued for that infraction by Parx stewards. He was denied a request for a stay that would have allowed him to keep training until his hearing date, and has not started a horse since May 19.

Parx | Horsephotos

Chuckas--who gave his entire monthly Thoroughbred investigatory report in just 50 seconds--said nothing about Vega's aspect of the case. But he did add that the commission's enforcement branch will have a more active racetrack presence now that pandemic protocols have eased.

“We will continue to conduct enforcement actions moving forward now that COVID's over and most of our staff's been vaccinated,” Chuckas said.

DISCREET CAT MARE TOPS KEENELAND DIGITAL SALE

Graded stakes-placed 4-year-old Lady Glamour (Discreet Cat) topped Keeneland's June Digital Sale Tuesday at $115,000. Offered in foal to popular young stallion Not This Time, she was consigned by Taylor Made Sales Agency, Agent VII as hip 12 and sold to Norman Umphenour's Anzac Farm LLC with Taylor Made also acting on behalf of the buyer.

Just a $1,000 FTKOCT yearling buy, Lady Glamour took her juvenile debut in May of 2019 for trainer Larry Demeritte and owner Inga Demeritte before finishing third in Churchill's Debutante S. She subsequently RNA'd for $145,000 at that year's Fasig-Tipton July Horses of Racing Age sale, and would go on to romp in an Ellis allowance before a second in the Rags to Riches S. and third in the GII Golden Rod S. later that season. She had last been seen finishing fourth in the GIII Dogwood S. last June, and was intended to be offered as a racing prospect this March before suffering a cut on her hind fetlock that prompted her removal from that auction and subsequent visit with Not This Time. The earner of $126,170 has a live sibling in the form of 3-year-old Mucho Del Oro (Mucho Macho Man), a winner of three straight at Santa Anita.

The sale's second-priciest lot was $35,000 stallion prospect King Jack (Jimmy Creed) (hip 13), who was also offered by Taylor Made. Purchased by Dan Kjorsvik, the talented 'TDN Rising Star' won three of his four career outings, capped by a victory in the 2019 GII Gallant Bob S.

The one-day sale grossed $181,500 for nine horses.

NY SEEKS TO PREVENT JOCKEY APPEALS THAT ‘GAME THE SYSTEM'

by T.D. Thornton

The New York State Gaming Commission (NYSGC) unanimously advanced a rule proposal Tuesday that seeks to end the resource-draining practice of jockeys appealing riding infractions during big-money race meets like at Saratoga, then withdrawing those protests once the meet is over for the sole purpose of delaying a suspension until it is more convenient for the penalized rider to serve the days.

The proposed rule, which first must be published in the state lawmaking register and then be subject to a public commentary period before coming up again for a final NYSGC vote, would give the commission discretion to instead make the jockey sit out a suspension at a subsequent meeting at the same track.

It will not pass through that process in time to be in effect for the upcoming Spa season.

Jockeys at Saratoga | Horsephotos

"Subjectively, this tactic appears to be most frequently used during the Saratoga race meet, where purses are substantially larger than at other subsequent meets," NYSGC executive director Robert Williams explained to commissioners prior to the June 29 vote.

"Following the stewards' punishment for transgressions, experience has found that many jockeys seek a hearing, which administratively stays the penalty pending commission resolution of the matter," Williams said.

"And while commission staff has been diligent in attempting to hear cases during the meet where the alleged transgression occurred, the full adjudication process can extend beyond such meeting," Williams continued.

"As a result, the jockey can seek to game the system by requesting a hearing and then withdrawing the request at the conclusion of the meet, serving the suspension during a [different] meet [that] the jockey prefers.

"This tactic has real impact on commission operations, as staffing spends resources in arranging and preparing for a hearing that fails to be conducted," Williams concluded.

According to a brief written by NYSGC general counsel Edmund Burns that was included in the informational packet for Tuesday's meeting, the former Racing and Wagering Board, a predecessor agency of the NYSGC, once had a "Saratoga policy" that allowed the agency to require a suspension for a violation that occurred at Saratoga to be served at Saratoga, even if the suspension had to be stayed to allow it to be served there the following year.

But, Burns wrote, "the New York Court of Appeals struck down the policy, concluding that it required formal rulemaking to be valid."

A request for comment on the proposed New York rule emailed to Terence Meyocks, the president and chief executive officer of the Jockeys' Guild, did not yield a reply prior to deadline for this story.

The proposed language of the rule follows:

"If a jockey commits a riding infraction and the penalty of a suspension or revocation is not served during the same race meeting, then the commission in its discretion may order that the penalty be served, in whole or in part, at a subsequent race meeting at the same track."

HORSEMEN FILE FEDERAL SUIT AGAINST NEW MEXICO COMMISSION

Edited Press Release

The New Mexico Horsemen's Association filed suit against the New Mexico Racing Commission in federal court late Monday, charging the regulatory body with depriving racehorse owners and trainers of their civil rights and other violations. The horsemen seek compensatory damages, legal fees in addition to any other relief the court deems appropriate.

"The horsemen finally said, 'Hold it. How many constitutional laws can you continue to violate? How many statutes can you continue to ignore?'" said Gary Mitchell, attorney for the New Mexico Horsemen's Association (NMHA). "The horsemen said, 'Enough. We don't have any other place to go but federal court. We need this to stop.'"

The NMHA, which represents about 4,000 Thoroughbred and Quarter Horse horsemen in New Mexico, already has two lawsuits pending in state court against the New Mexico Racing Commission (NMRC).

Previously precluded from communicating with the commission, contacting any commissioners or attending the regulatory agency's public meetings, the NMHA turned to the federal court--filing against the NMRC, as well as the individual commissioners--under Section 1983 of the Civil Rights Act and the New Mexico Tort Claims Act. The action creates the potential for individual members of the commission to be held personally liable.

"The commissioners are deliberately attempting to do away with the horsemen's association," Mitchell said. "We're prepared to prove, in court, that this is being done intentionally. They haven't hesitated to do everything in their power to shut out New Mexico's horsemen, and ultimately shut down the NMHA." Cont. p8

The NMHA filed suit in the Second Judicial District Court in Bernalillo County in December to stop the commission's years-long practice of taking horsemen's purse money to pay the racetracks' liability insurance on jockeys and exercise riders, in clear violation of state law. The NMHA stated the funds amount to over $8 million. The horsemen returned to court in May after the commissioners ordered tracks to curtail the NMHA's revenue stream, derived from access to funds horsemen have earned from purses.

According to the NMHA, the funds in question are used to pay medical fees for its members, the organization's Political Action Committee and administrative costs, including the oversight of the purse account for the horsemen and the state's five racetracks.

"We have never taken money from the purse funds to benefit our organization," Mitchell said. "In fact, we took our own money to pay for the accounting, collection, management, dispersal and annual audits of how this money is handled. The taxpayer was not paying for us to do all of this. We were doing it for free, paying for it through contributions from our members, and the commissioners now say 'stop.'"

He continued, "They wish to get their hands on this money and use it how they see fit--which is basically to pay the costs of running the racetrack, thereby allowing more money to go into the casinos' pockets. Sadly, the commission, which is supposed to be fair and equal to everybody, sees no obligation to be fair to the horsemen.

"Allowing gaming at racetracks in New Mexico was done to save racing," Mitchell said. "The racetracks cannot have gaming unless they have racing. The law is very clear about it. The gaming compact is clear about it. The Gaming Control Act is clear about it. The Horse Racing Act is clear about it."

Additionally, the NMHA states that funds have been directed into owners' earnings based on race results.

"When the race is run, the purse is paid and that now becomes the winning horseman's money," said long-time racehorse owner and NMHA President Roy Manfredi. "By their actions, the racing commission has taken away the NMHA's ability to provide financial assistance to horsemen in need. That's the same as saying you cannot donate to the March of Dimes, the NRA or any other organization, simply because your employer doesn't like the March of Dimes or the other organization. Once the money is paid to an individual who owns a horse, that money is theirs and they can do whatever they want with it. During the pandemic, the NMHA provided $100,000 in alfalfa and grain to the horsemen when we weren't able to run."

"All we've ever asked them to do is just follow New Mexico state statute, which are laws. This commission considers them suggestions."

PHBA ENDORSES AMENDMENT ON HORSE SLAUGHTER Edited Press Release

The Pennsylvania Horse Breeders Association (PHBA) announced its endorsement of an amendment that would ban the transport of American slaughter-bound horses across both state lines and over country borders. The amendment, which was led by U.S. Representatives Troy Carter, Brian Fitzpatrick, and John Katko, will be offered to the Investing in a New Vision for the Environment and Surface Transportation in America Act, H.R.3684. Scheduled to be on the House floor in coming weeks, it would effectively ban horse slaughter in America.

The organization also supports the John Stringer Rainey Safeguard American Food Exports (SAFE) Act and has a strict Anti-Slaughter Code of Ethics. The SAFE Act, named for the late South Carolina philanthropist and former director of the Thoroughbred Retirement Foundation, is legislation that would permanently end the slaughter of American horses for human consumption in the United States and abroad.

At the time of the SAFE Act's introduction, PHBA executive secretary Brian Sanfratello said, "The SAFE Act is one of three items we are working on. The others are Pennsylvania-specific anti-slaughter legislation, similar to the SAFE Act, that would make it a misdemeanor for anyone who causes or transports a horse into the slaughter pipeline, as well as a PHBA code of ethics, with sanctions for anyone who is a member or registers horses with our organization and is found to be in violation of the Pennsylvania anti-slaughter measures."

The PHBA's Anti-Slaughter Code of Ethics, focused on the safety and welfare of the Thoroughbred, is a condition of PHBA membership, stipulating that every applicant signs a pledge not to knowingly cause a Thoroughbred horse to be slaughtered. Violating the rule results in being sanctioned by the PHBA with a $1,000 fine for the first violation, a $5,000 fine for the second, and a fine as well as complete revocation of Membership for five years after the third.

For additional information, contact Brian Sanfratello at 610-444-1050, or email at brians@pabred.com. Visit the PHBA's web site at www.pabred.com.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

TOM HYLAND:

This past Sunday was opening day at Ellis Park, and while this is rarely a day I mark on my calendar, as someone who loves to follow the major Thoroughbred circuits, I was interested to watch these initial races for the year. This was especially true, given the increased purses that Kentucky put in place, as well as the competition that was set to go that day.

One 2-year-old Maiden Special Weight featured horses trained by such notables as Bill Mott, Ken McPeek, Brian Lynch, Steve Asmussen and Brad Cox. An earlier maiden race on the turf that was won by a Brad Cox-trained colt included a horse trained by Chad Brown. Brown has entries in other races at Ellis this week, so kudos to Ellis for attracting him and other top trainers.

Yet, watching these races was not what I expected, as Ellis ranks with the worst-looking--or certainly the most boring--Thoroughbred tracks in the country. The oval is just plain dull and if you combine that with a video stream that is not as sharp as Churchill, Keeneland, Santa Anita, Belmont, etc, etc, you've got a pretty dismal viewing experience.

A note to the people who manage Ellis Park: how about making just a little effort to beautify the place? Plant some flowers, build a pond or two in the infield, do some serious landscaping. Do something to make your facility seem like a major league race track.

LOCAMOTOR (h, 5, Uncle Mo--Swither {SW, $153,846}, by Anees) went straight to the front and never looked back en route to a six-length debut triumph over track and trip June 12 and was backed to 11-10 fractional favoritism here. Off a step slowly this time, the homebred nevertheless took command in the early going and sped clear through splits of :22.75 and :45.43. Coming wide off the turn, he soon drifted back in while staying on his left lead but stayed in charge for a 3 3/4-length success. Ride Richie Ride (Verrazano) edged out close second choice W W Hotshot (Ghaaleb) in a place photo. The winner has an unraced 3-year-old Mucho Macho Man half-brother named Muchomatic and a juvenile half-brother by Mshawish named Swishawish. SHEIKH HAMDAN'S DAUGHTER TO CARRY ON AT SHADWELL

The late Sheikh Hamdan bin Rashid Al Maktoum | Horsephotos

Sheikha Hissa Hamdan Al Maktoum, daughter of the late Sheikh Hamdan bin Rashid Al Maktoum, will continue her father's legacy at Shadwell Estate, with Angus Gold, Shadwell's longtime racing manager, telling Racing Post that Sheikha Hissa will take over as head of the powerful racing and breeding operation. The news comes on the heels of Monday's announcement that Shadwell Stud Director Richard Lancaster would step down.

"We've been communicating with Sheikha Hissa over the past couple of months since Sheikh Hamdan sadly died and I'm currently on my way back from a trip out to Dubai to meet her to discuss things in person," Gold told Racing Post. "She confirmed to me that she and her family are very keen to honour Sheikh Hamdan's legacy and keep the whole thing going, which is fantastic. It's wonderful for his memory that she has the passion and her brothers are going to support her taking it forward and we'll do our best to do the same."

Little is known about what the scale of Shadwell will be going forward, including whether Sheikha Hissa will combine the handful of runners she currently has in her own name under its banner, but Gold expressed that Sheikha Hissa shares her father's passion for the animal. Cont. p2

ARDAD BREEDING RIGHT TOPS TATTERSALLS

A breeding right in Overbury Stud's Ardad (Ire) (Kodiac {GB}) (lot 83) brought 52,000gns from Ed Player of Whatton Manor Stud to top the Tattersalls Online June 29th Sale on Tuesday.

The bay, who stood for £4,000 this term, already has 13 winners this season to lead the European first-crop sires by that metric. He also sired the G2 Norfolk S. hero Perfect Power (Ire) at Royal Ascot, and another colt, Vintage Clarets (GB), ran third at that meeting in the G2 Coventry S.

"Ardad has made a remarkable start," said Player. "Lots of winners, yes, but I am especially impressed by their quality. Six juvenile runners at Royal Ascot is great going, and Perfect Power looks like a colt with a big future. They've got such incredibly sound minds. I'm really looking forward to breeding to him in the years ahead." Cont. p2

EUROPEAN NEWS

"Sheikh Hamdan used to involve Sheikha Hissa quite a bit," he said. "She knows horses, loves horses and has horses of her own in Dubai. She enjoys the racing and has very much taken over his mantle since he died. Sheikh Hamdan had six children, of whom Sheikha Hissa is going to be the spokesperson on the horse front."

The breeding right in Ardad is the first breeding right to be offered in an online sale in Britain or Ireland. In 2021, the stallion enjoyed a busy breeding season, covering 152 mares.

Added Overbury Stud Manager Simon Sweeting, "I'm delighted that the breeding right has been bought by as successful a commercial breeder as Whatton Manor Stud. It is a tremendous endorsement of what Ardad's first crop have achieved so far."

Schiaparelli (Ger) gelding Sir Jackschiaparel (Ire) (lot 25) brought the second highest price at 29,000gns. Richenda Ford Racing snapped up the winning point-to-pointer from the consignment of E. Holden's Coolmean Stables.

The gross for the 29 lots sold (42%) was 274,300gns. The average was 9,459gns and the median was 4,200gns.

Tattersalls Chairman Edmond Mahony said, "Tattersalls Online has quickly established itself as Europe's leading online platform and the catalogue for the Tattersalls Online June 29th Sale was the largest yet, reflecting the confidence that both vendors and buyers have in our online product. We were delighted to be the first online platform in Britain or Ireland to host the sale of a breeding right and we are confident that the sale of the breeding right to Ardad will be the first of many that we offer on Tattersalls Online."

KING GEORGE FOR GLASS SLIPPERS

Bearstone Stud's Glass Slippers (GB) (Dream Ahead) is on track to make her first start since winning last year's GI Breeders' Cup Turf Sprint in Goodwood's G2 King George S. on July 30. The three-time Group 1 winner finished second in that race last year to Battaash (Ire) (Dark Angel {Ire}), and is set to meet that champion sprinter again.

Trainer Kevin Ryan said of Glass Slippers, "She's great and is heading for Goodwood now. She'll start her season down there."

A winner of the 2019 G3 Prix du Petit Couvert and G1 Prix de l'Abbaye in consecutive starts, Glass Slippers had been set to return in the G1 King's Stand S. at Royal Ascot, but was sent to the sidelines with a pulled muscle. She captured her second Group 1 in the Flying Five S. at The Curragh last September and the bay ran second in the 2020 l'Abbaye prior to her Breeders' Cup heroics.

"She just pulled a muscle and had to have a couple of days easy," Ryan explained of the daughter of the Mind Games (GB) mare Night Gypsy (GB). "We weren't going to take any chances with her. She's fine now and we're looking forward to Goodwood."

SUMMER SALE SET TO KICKSTART NEW SEASON AT DEAUVILLE

There is a hint that normalcy is returning to the Deauville sales ring, with the Arqana Summer Sale back up to its normal two-day stand beginning on June 30. A quality mix of 593 National Hunt and Flat horses plus wild cards are slated to be offered over the next two days, and the unraced 2-year-olds were put through their paces over the Deauville-La Touques Racecourse on June 29.

The juveniles kick start the sale, which begins at 11 a.m. on Wednesday, and continues with 156 young store horses and finishes with the Ecurie Central dispersal. On Thursday, there will be 127 fillies and mares, as well as one stallion and 206 horses-in-training will go under the hammer.

Among the juvenile lots of note are: lot 3, a Kodiac (GB) filly out of a Mount Nelson (GB) half-sister to G1 King's Stand S. hero Equiano (Fr) (Acclamation {GB}) from Knockatrina House; lot 18, an Exceed And Excel (Aus) colt who is a half-brother to the MGSW and GISP Elysea's World (Ire) (Champs Elysees {GB}) from Ecurie Yann Creff; Ecurie Prevost-Baratte's lot 37, a granddaughter of GI Mother Goose S. heroine Buster's Ready (More Than Ready) by Lope de Vega (Ire); a Siyouni (Fr) colt (lot 67) from the extended family of two-time Group 1 winner Ectot (GB) (Hurricane Run {Ire}) consigned by Ecurie Yann Creff; and Knockanglass Stable's lot 81I, a son of Night of Thunder (Ire) out of Clowning (Distorted Humor), herself a daughter of GI Gazelle S. heroine Flashing (A.P. Indy).

Leading the horses-in-training portion is G2 Italian 2000 Guineas hero Fayathaan (Ire) (Mehmas {Ire}) as lot 503.

One of four from Roberto Biondi's Channel Consignment, the 3-year-old colt is joined by group winner Elisa Again (GB) (Champs Elysees {GB}) (lot 487); 2021 G2 Derby Italiano runner-up Juan de Montalban (Ire) (Lope de Vega {Ire}) (lot 488); and the black-type winner and G3 Italian St Leger-placed Agnes (Fr) (Planteur {Ire}) (lot 502). Another Flat lot of interest is Jean-Claude Rouget's lot 489, Darkness (Fr) (Siyouni {Fr}), a winner of the Listed Criterium de Lyon and third in the 2021 G3 Prix La Force.

Topping the COVID-19-condensed one-day sale in 2020 was the National Hunt horse-in-training Prunay (Fr) (Prince Gibraltar {Fr}), who changed hands for €240,000. On the Flat side, a juvenile colt named Chez Pierre (Fr) by subsequent Champion First-Crop stallion Mehmas (Ire) brought €100,000. To date, he has won all three of his starts in the blue, green and white colours of American owner Roy Jackson. The overall statistics were 198 offered and 153 sold (77.3%) with a gross of €2,894,000. The average was €18,915 and the median was €9,000.

Back in a coronavirus-free 2019, the sale was conducted over two days and boasted a clearance rate of 77.7% for 296 sold from 381 offered. The gross was €7,578,502, with an average of €25,603 and a median of €15,000.

MOJO STAR CAMP EYEING ST LEGER BID

Mojo Star (Ire) (Sea The Stars {Ire}), runner-up in the G1 Cazoo Derby at Epsom at the beginning of June and fifth after a rough trip in the Irish equivalent on Saturday, has emerged from his latest effort in good order. Trainer Richard Hannon is considering the Sept. 11 G1 St Leger at Doncaster, as well as targets earlier in the summer. Second at Newbury in October, the bay filled the same position there when making his 3-year-old bow on May 14, prior to his runner-up effort in the blue riband.

"He's come back fine," said Hannon. "He's just been out in the pen since and had a trot yesterday and today. He's none the worse for it and we'll have a chat to connections about where we go from here."

The July 24 G1 King George VI and Queen Elizabeth S. at Ascot is under consideration, as Newmarket's G2 Princess of Wales's S. on July 8.

He added, "He's in the King George and the Princess of Wales's S. and obviously the St Leger is an option later on in the year. He's fit and he doesn't need to do any more [work]. At some stage we'll take an easy run and then go back into something big. I'd love to have a crack at the Leger, but we'll see how we go."

STARMAN ON TRACK FOR JULY CUP

Rising star sprinter Starman (GB) (Dutch Art {GB}) is on course for the July 10 G1 July Cup, with trainer Ed Walker saying he expects ground conditions to be in the 4-year-old's favour. The David Ward homebred was forced to miss last weekend's G1 Diamond Jubilee S. after significant rain fell at Royal Ascot; that course is the scene of Starman's lone defeat, where he beat two home in last year's G1 British Champions Sprint S. over the soft ground. The lightly raced 4-year-old was the first-up winner of the G2 Duke Of York S. on May 12. Cont. p5

"He's on track for the July Cup. He's in good nick and he'll work on Wednesday," said Walker. "I think we'll be all right with the ground. Newmarket was very quick last week and they tend not to get much of the rain. I'd be very surprised if it's any softer than it was when he won at York.

"We'd be seriously unlucky if we had to re-think again. It would be hard to re-think again as he hasn't got many options."

TOBY JONES APPOINTED BLOODSTOCK AGENT FOR AUCTAV

Toby Jones has joined the Auctav online auction platform as a bloodstock agent with an emphasis on horses-in-training selection, the company announced on Tuesday. The Englishman, who moved to France 20 years ago where his parents run a stud farm with around 10 National Hunt mares, first gained experience with Julian Ince at Haras du Logis and then with Jean-Marc Lucas at Haras du Berlais. He then began to operate as a bloodstock agent and bought his first horse for a client in 2006.

"We are very happy Toby Jones joins us," said Auctav General Manager Arnaud Angeliaume in a statement. "When we were looking for a bloodstock agent, we were delighted to be contacted by Toby Jones. We knew he was already convinced by the Auctav concept since he was one of our first buyers. His arrival is great news: Toby will focus on the selection of horses in training."

Toby Jones | Scoop Dyga

"I liked the professionalism of Auctav with its platform and its team," said Jones. "Online sales are still new and some buyers are still in observation mode towards this type of auction, so there is a lot of potential. In France, where there are few sales of horses in training, I find that this gives everyone the opportunity to be able to sell their horses at the best time. Covid has prompted auction houses to increase online sales, but today it is part of the landscape and it can bring new owners to the game through this method of purchase."

HAMILTON MEETING ABANDONED FOLLOWING INCIDENT PRIOR TO RACING

Hamilton Park Racecourse's Tuesday card was called off following an incident prior to the 2:15 p.m. first race. Originally racing was delayed until 2:45 p.m., but another delay as emergency services attended to the incident soon occurred and the meeting was abandoned just after 3:35 p.m. The incident involved two RaceTech employees, who operate the cameras on site.

A statement from RaceTech said, "Following a serious incident prior to the first race at Hamilton Park involving a mobile elevated camera platform, two freelance camera operators, Robbie Cotgrave and Kit Campbell, have been seriously injured and taken to hospital. A full investigation is underway into the cause of the incident. Our thoughts and concerns are very much with our two colleagues at this time."

"About half an hour before the first race an incident happened involving RaceTech operators and a hoist," said Hamilton Park Clerk of the Course Harriet Graham. "Our emergency teams reacted immediately and then we needed to call the fire service and ambulances, so we had three fire engines on site and the police.

"It took them a long time to assess the situation and extract them and take them off to hospital. During this time the timeline became more and more extended. The decision was we would wait for CID to arrive to see if we could continue racing, but they indicated they wouldn't be making a decision in the short term.

"So, we held a stewards' inquiry and the decision was made to call off racing. Whilst that is a big decision, we felt we had no timeline for when we could start racing and the main thing is all our thoughts are with the two guys who have gone off to hospital for further assessment. Let's hope they are OK.

"In the bigger picture racing is secondary in this situation. A nasty accident has happened, two people are injured. They are having the best care they could have and received immediate attention."

A Scottish Fire and Rescue Service spokeswoman said, "We were alerted at 1:35 p.m. on Tuesday, June 29 to an incident at Hamilton Park Racecourse, Hamilton. "

The spokeswoman continued, "Operations Control mobilised two appliances to the scene and using an aerial rescue pump firefighters rescued two male casualties who had fallen onto the roof of a vehicle before handing them into the care of the Scottish Ambulance Service. Crews left the scene after ensuring the area was made safe and there were no further reported casualties."

The Scottish Ambulance Service added, "We received a call at 13:38hrs this afternoon to attend an incident at Hamilton racecourse. Two ambulances and two rapid response vehicles were dispatched to the scene."

A spokesperson for British Horseracing Authority said, "Everybody at the BHA is concerned by the reports from Hamilton this afternoon and our thoughts are with the two RaceTech employees who have been injured. We wish both a full and speedy recovery."

Coming to the fore when beating the subsequent G3 Amethyst S. winner Maker of Kings (Ire) (Zoffany {Ire}) in the Irish Lincolnshire at The Curragh Mar. 21, Layfayette stuck at a mile to be fourth in the May 21 "Habitat" H. back over that course before running sixth in Royal Ascot's Royal Hunt Cup June 16. Reverting to middle distances here, the bay was switched off in rear to conserve energy early and when delivered wide duly overhauled the long-time leader Hector de Maris with a furlong remaining en route to a first black-type win.

"Trip was never a concern and I was more worried about the ground," jockey Chris Hayes said. "I rode him on quick ground last year and I didn't think he let himself down on it. It wasn't until he got a bit of juice in it last year that he transformed. He won the Lincoln on heavy and I was unlucky in another handicap on him in soft ground. Noel [Meade] said he came out of Ascot fine on the quick ground and just got a bit outpaced on it, so that gave me a little bit of confidence. They went good and hard and I was able to ride a nice waiting race on him and he quickened up well."

The dam, who also has the unraced 2-year-old filly Peggy Buckle (Ire) (Dragon Pulse {Ire}) and a yearling colt by Decorated Knight (GB), is a granddaughter of Juddmonte's High and Low (GB) (Rainbow Quest). Successful in the Listed Cheshire Oaks, she was runner-up in the G1 St Leger and G1 Yorkshire Oaks.

ONCE UPON A RIVER (IRE) (c, 2, Churchill {Ire}--Cassandra Go {Ire} {MGSW & G1SP-Eng, GSP-Ire, $350,705}, by Indian Ridge {Ire}), third on debut in a maiden over this trip at Gowran Park June 13, quickly established the lead. Kicking clear from two out, the 4-5 favourite hit the line with four lengths to spare over Canters Well (Ire) (Caravaggio). Shane Lyons said, "Ger wasn't going to rush him back, but he was that well at home and this race presented itself. Now that he's got his bracket out of the way, we'll take our time with him. There is no rush whatsoever. He'll get further, he loved that ground but he'll get easier ground also and as the season progresses he'll improve with maturity. It's all about next year with him, as he's a very well-bred horse. Unfortunately, Trevor lost his dam last week so that was the end of an era." Once Upon a River is the 10th winner produced by the recently-deceased G2 King's Stand S. and G2 Temple S.-winning and G1 July Cup runner-up Cassandra Go (Ire) (Indian Ridge {Ire}), which makes him a half-brother to the three-time Group 1-winning Irish 1000 Guineas heroine Halfway To Heaven (Ire) (Pivotal {GB}), Broodmare Of The Year-Ire, MG1SW-Eng, G1SW-Ire & G1SP-Fr, $941,139, to the G3 Summer S. winner Theann (GB) (Rock of Gibraltar {Ire}), GSW-Eng & MGSP-Ire, $143,999, to the G3 Abernant S. and G3 Sandown Sprint S. winner Tickled Pink (Ire) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}), GSW-Eng, MGSP-Ire, $143,999, and to the latter's full-sister Fantasy (Ire) who was third in the G3 Round Tower S.
