LET THE GAMES BEGIN!

New Jersey Governor Phil Murphy holds up his tickets after making the first sports bet in New Jersey at the Monmouth Park Sports Book | Bill Denver/EQUI-PHOTO

by Steve Sherack

OCEANPORT, NJ - New Jersey Governor Phil Murphy placed a pair of $20 wagers to officially launch the opening of Monmouth Park's Sports Book by William Hill Thursday morning.

The first floor of the track's grandstand–freshly painted in blue--had a Haskell day feel as fans and a large contingent of mainstream media lined up as windows opened for business shortly after 10:30 a.m.

"There's an old adage that you bet with your head, not with your heart," Governor Murphy said during a brief press conference at the sports book. "So, for the past seven years, our heads and hearts were in alignment as we fought to overturn unlawful and unfair federal law. We knew in our heads we were right and we knew in our hearts that we would win. And we have."

And those two wagers?

"I'm betting $20 on Germany to win the World Cup and $20 on the New Jersey Devils to win Lord Stanley's Cup," he said to a large round of applause.

The Oceanport racetrack, which was at the forefront of a push to legalize sports betting outside of Nevada, became the first location in New Jersey to accept sports wagers after the Supreme Court struck down a federal law barring wagering on team sports May 14. The stage was finally set Monday when Governor Murphy ended a prolonged delay and signed a bill authorizing licensed racetracks and casinos to begin conducting sports betting. Cont. p3

THE UNIQUENESS OF FIPKE

By Sid Fernando

Niki McCardell was tense as Justify (Scat Daddy) rolled into the Belmont stretch, and with each stride the big chestnut took to secure his place in history, McCardell's pent-up excitement became noticeably palpable. She started clenching her fists and raising her arms at the sixteenth pole and finally emptied her emotional tank when the colt hit the wire. Shortly afterward, I heard McCardell almost sheepishly tell her companion Chuck Fipke that witnessing Justify's GI Belmont S. was as exciting--if not more--as seeing Fipke's homebred Bee Jersey (Jersey Town)'s win the GI Metropolitan H. two races earlier on the card.

"No, I agree with you," Fipke replied. "It was more exciting to see this. He just won the Triple Crown, eh." Cont. p4

Dozens of TV screens flashed odds for just about every sporting event you could think of, including's Thursday's first round of the FIFA World Cup, which began at 11 a.m., the US Open, and the day's Major League Baseball lineup. Future wagers for popular events such as the Stanley Cup, Super Bowl, NBA Finals, World Series, etc., were also available.

Dennis Drazin, chairman and CEO of Darby Development, operator of Monmouth Park, leading trainers Kelly Breen and Jason Servis, and popular track announcer Frank Mirahmadi were among the enthusiastic crowd on hand showing support for the home team.

"It's an historic day for Monmouth Park and for the state of New Jersey," Drazin said. "We've been fighting this fight for more than six years in the courts and now that this day has arrived, and judging by the response from the fans who turned out for this, it's exciting. Clearly, it's something the people of New Jersey have been waiting for."

Former state senator Raymond Lesniak, Assembly Speaker Craig Coughlin, and Joe Asher, CEO of William Hill U.S., were also in attendance.

Nearly 1,000 patrons made their way to the 15 designated sports betting tellers in the grandstand and additional six in the William Hill Race and Sports Bar.

Hazlet, New Jersey, resident Wayne Szpara, a union electrician of Local 456, was among the first to get a bet down Thursday morning.

"It's another stream of income for New Jersey and it also means more jobs for people in the area, so it's very good," Szpara said. "I took the football Giants to win the NFC East, France to win the World Cup, and the Mariners to win the World Series. I come to Monmouth Park often--it's one of my favorite places."

NBC cameras followed professional sports handicapper Joe Wisniewski of Joe Wiz Sports Picks as he made his move to the windows as the lines began to slow down a bit just after 11:30 a.m.

"I'm here today to make a big statement on one of the early baseball games," Wisniewski, a resident of Bayonne, New Jersey, said of his max $9,000 wager on the San Francisco Giants (Giants won 6-3 in 16 innings!). "I'm really excited--I've been coming to Monmouth for years and I think the governor did a great job bringing sports betting here. I think it's going to help the track and the economy in New Jersey. To me, it's just as important as a man landing on the moon."

THOROUGHBRED BREEDERS' ASSOCIATION OF NJ STATEMENT ON SPORTS BETTING

As of [Thursday] morning the breeding and racing industry in New Jersey began a new life. Sports betting in New Jersey and throughout the country began a new era. In New Jersey, the breeding industry was suffering from a diminished crop of state-bred foals and farms were disappearing from lack of business, but now opportunities in both areas are open to new beginnings. Cont. p4

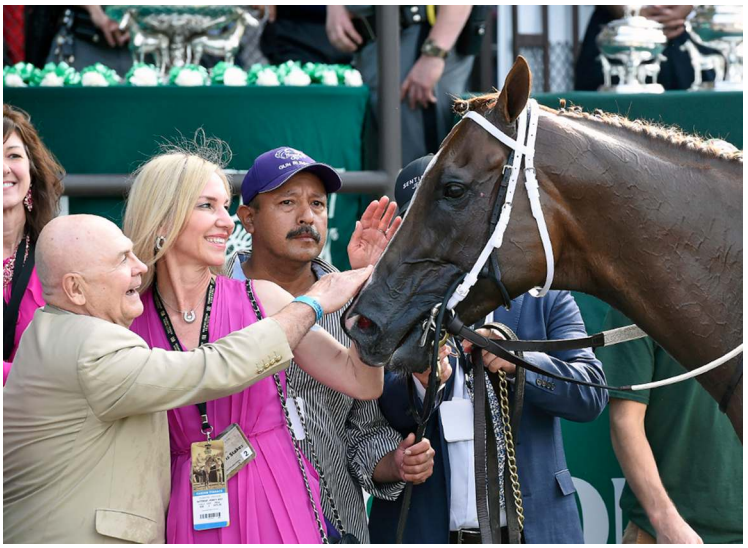
Mind you, Bee Jersey's race had been a nail-biter with the son of Jersey Town's margin of victory only a nose at the wire, but Fipke had meant what he'd said because he breeds mostly for the Classics and had appreciated--envied, even--what had transpired.



Chuck Fipke & Niki McCardell with Bee Jersey | Sarah Andrew

"He's a beautiful horse," Fipke uttered to no one as he watched Mike Smith parade the colt before fans after the win.

The big and handsome Justify is owned by a partnership that numbers hundreds of individuals. This type of ownership structure--popular overseas--is becoming more evident here. The colt was initially purchased by the partnership of Kenny Troutt's WinStar Farm, China Horse Club, and SF Bloodstock, a global entity that includes Newgate Farm in Australia. Cont. p5

It was later enlarged to include the Jack Wolf-led syndicate of Starlight Racing and Sol Kumin's Head of Plains Partners LLC. The latter two entities had purchased SF Bloodstock's racing interests in the son of Scat Daddy for one year, with SF holding on to its share of the colt's breeding rights. It's a fairly complex ownership situation between the racing and breeding rights, but it certainly amplifies the number of individuals that can say they owned a Triple Crown winner.

Fipke, in contrast, is at the other end of the spectrum in the deep end of the game. He's an owner who races almost exclusively only those horses that he bred, and he races them by himself, in his name, and in his own colors. He doesn't buy yearlings or 2-year-olds, he doesn't claim horses, and he doesn't have partners. In many ways, he's a throwback to the owner-breeders of the last century, and his model of operation is very much in the minority these days. In fact, I'd hazard a guess that there's no one else in North America that operates quite like Fipke does, because not only does he race homebreds, he breeds the majority of his mares to his own homebred stallions, even if those stallions are not fashionable or supremely accomplished at stud. Bee Jersey is an example of this. He's a first-crop son of Fipke's homebred GI Cigar Mile winner Jersey Town (Speightstown), who entered stud at Darby Dan but was moved to Road's End Farm in British Columbia for 2018 after demand in Kentucky waned.

Jersey Town | Sarah Andrew

As an owner-breeder, Fipke is not motivated by commercial concerns, and that makes him unique, too. He plans his own matings meticulously--I know this firsthand as an advisor to him through Werk Throroughbred Consultants--and will oftentimes breed even his most valuable mares to his own sires if he deems the matings sound. Cont. p6

For example, after purchasing GI Kentucky Oaks winner Lemons Forever (Lemon Drop Kid) for $2.5 million as a maiden mare, he bred her to his homebred Grade I winner and champion Perfect Soul (Ire), a son of Sadler's Wells that he bred and raced. He breeds for a purpose, too, and that mostly is to breed future stallions or broodmares that he can then mate with his other homebreds or with stallions that fit his breeding theories. In other words, he envisions matings two or three generations downstream, and that also marks him as unique nowadays where patience is no longer a virtue, or at least not kind to a bottom line that screams for immediate ROI.

Forever Unbridled winning the 2017 GI Breeders' Cup Distaff | Eclipse Sportswire/Breeders' Cup

He's also found remarkable success doing things his own way. When he later bred Lemons Forever to Unbridled's Song and got the dual Grade I winners Unbridled Forever and Forever Unbridled, he also got an Eclipse Award winner with the latter and earned a Broodmare of the Year award for the producer.

Another example of Fipke's unique way of thinking is evident in the $1.7 million purchase of Title Seeker (Monarchos--Personal Ensign), bought in foal to Seeking the Gold in 2006. A mare of this caliber would usually go to a top commercial sire in anyone else's hands. Fipke bred her to Perfect Soul, and later he bred the filly she was carrying at purchase, Grade III winner Seeking the Title, to Perfect Soul, too. The latter mating was responsible for his 2017 Grade I winner Seeking the Soul, a future stallion for Fipke.

Classic Quest

A Canadian, Fipke has had success in the Canadian Classics with Not Bourbon (Not Impossible {Ire}), Perfect Shower (Perfect Soul) and Danish Dynaformer (Dynaformer). Not Bourbon won the Queen's Plate in 2008 and was sired by the unraced Sadler's Wells stallion Not Impossible, a homebred brother to Perfect Soul that Fipke put to stud and almost singlehandedly supported himself. Cont. p7

With Not Bourbon's Queen's Plate success, Not Impossible also became the first Sadler's Wells stallion to get a North American Classic winner. Not Bourbon's dam, by the way, was the millionaire and multiple Grade III winner Bourbon Belle, a $600,000 purchase that Fipke had no qualms about sending to an unraced stallion. There probably isn't another breeder in North America who would do that.

Perfect Shower won the Breeders' S., the third leg of Canada's Triple Crown, in August of 2009. His sire became the third Sadler's Wells-line stallion to get a North American Classic winner after Medaglia d'Oro (El Prado {Ire}, by Sadler's Wells) became the second with Rachel Alexandra in the GI Preakness S. that year. Perfect Shower's dam, Showering, was a $75,000 purchase.

Danish Dynaformer was second in the Queen's Plate in 2015, but, like Perfect Shower, won the Breeders' S., a mile-and-a-half race on turf. Fipke had targeted the stamina sire Dynaformer for his Danehill mare Danish Wildcat, whom he had purchased privately from her breeder, Irv Cowan, and Danish Dynaformer's pedigree is marked by two cases of close and unusual inbreeding to Darby Dan sires Roberto (2x4) and His Majesty (3x4), something that didn't dissuade Fipke from executing a somewhat daring mating.

Fipke has a particular penchant for inbreeding to females in a family and understands full well that sometimes the more closely inbred filly foals may end up better broodmares down the road than racehorses. That's the hope for his Galileo (Ire) mare Galileo Always, who is inbred 3x3 to Allegretta (GB), the dam of Urban Sea--Galileo's dam. She wasn't much on the racecourse but she's currently in Japan and has a promising Deep Impact (Jpn) foal by her side, who is bred on the same cross as this year's G1 2000 Guineas winner Saxon Warrior (Jpn) (Deep Impact). Because the G1 Epsom Derby winner Masar (Ire) (New Approach {Ire}), a grandson of Galileo, is inbred 3x4 to Urban Sea, Fipke's mating now looks doubly inspired.

Though Fipke's profile harks back to the staid owner-breeders of the past, he's obviously more daring than they were and very much in tune with the internationalism of today. He was actually ahead of the curve as one of the first breeders in North America to send mares to Sadler's Wells, an outstanding sire of Classic horses. Through the years he's also sent mares to other Classic sires abroad, horses like Galileo in Ireland, Fort Wood in South Africa, Redoute's Choice in France and Australia, and Deep Impact in Japan, and he's raced in Europe, Australia, UAE, and Japan, where he's one of a handful of western owners licensed to race.

SUPPORT KELSEY RILEY'S MONGOL DERBY for BLACKBURN

In August, TDN International Editor Kelsey Riley will ride in the Mongol Derby, a 1000 kilometre (620 mile), 10 day ride across Outer Mongolia. The Mongol Derby is the world's longest multi-horse race, and while navigating the unmarked course by GPS Kelsey will have to conquer such challenges as half-broke horses, pursuit by wild dogs, the physical effects of 14-hour days in the saddle and some less-than-glamorous culinary experiences. Tale of Ekati | Darby Dan Farm

Currently Fipke stands at Darby Dan Grade I winner Tale of Ekati (Tale of the Cat), whom he also bred and raced, along with the aging Perfect Soul. The latter got him the runner-up spot in the 2013 GI Kentucky Derby with Golden Soul, and the former, who was fourth in the 2008 Kentucky Derby, got him a placing in the 2015 Preakness with Tale of Verve's distant second to American Pharoah (Pioneerof the Nile). In addition to Jersey Town in Canada, Fipke also stands Not Bourbon, Grade I winner Java's War (War Pass), and Grade I-placed Perfect Timber (Perfect Soul) in Ontario at Colebrook Farm, and he supports all of his stallions.

One of Fipke's goals is to win the Kentucky Derby--and the Preakness and Belmont, for that matter. He's won Breeders' Cup races with Perfect Shirl (Perfect Soul) and Forever Unbridled, and he's always hunting for Grade I races like the Metropolitan, which guaranteed Bee Jersey a spot on the Fipke stallion roster. But Fipke's face after the Belmont S. told a story. He wants to get there, however, with a homebred, preferably one by a sire and dam that he also bred. That would be his signature mark on the game, and it's why he's inspired to spend time on his matings almost every day of the year.

THE FACTOR FILLY TOPS OBS THURSDAY

by Jessica Martini

OCALA, Fl - A filly by The Factor brought top price of $180,000 during a workmanlike second session of the Ocala Breeders' Sales Company's June Sale of 2-Year-Olds and Horses of Racing Age Thursday. For the session, 152 juveniles grossed $4,598,500 for an average of $30,253 and a median of $14,500. Through two of three sessions, 328 horses have sold for $11,206,500. The cumulative average of $34,166 is almost on par with last year's two-session sale average of $34,562. The two-day median of $16,500 is down 10.8% from last year's sale figure of $18,500.

Bill Heiligbrodt's East Hickman Bloodstock took home hip 426, a daughter of The Factor for the day's top price. The juvenile was one of 13 to bring six figures during the session. The gray was consigned by Ciaran Dunne's Wavertree Stables, which also consigned the day's second-highest priced offering, a colt by Macho Uno (hip 486), who sold for $155,000 to Good Friends Stable. Wavertree was the session's leading consignor with seven sold for $551,000.

"I think everybody has been pleasantly surprised how strong the market has been, how solid it's been," Dunne said. "I think the fact that there are people there for the bottom-end horses and those horses are selling, rather than coming up here and RNA'ing or being scratched, it gives it a bit of a buzz. It gives it the feel of a live auction. It gets everybody a little bit more upbeat. We've sold all but one to this point. We took our lumps where we needed to take them, but we've also had some bright spots. So I've been really happy with the market."

The OBS June sale concludes with a final session, which includes a section of horses of racing age, Friday beginning at 10 a.m. Coverage cont. p9

Heiligbrodt Strikes for The Factor Filly

Bill Heiligbrodt | Joe DiOrio

Bill Heiligbrodt went to $180,000 to acquire a filly by The Factor during Thursday's second session of the OBS June sale. The gray (hip 426) is out of America's Friend (Unusual Heat), a full-sister to Grade I placed Bel Air Sizzle. She worked a quarter-mile last week in :20 4/5.

"The best thing I liked about her is that she's fast," Heiligbrodt said with a laugh when asked about the filly's appeal. "She's a very good physical. All of these horses are a gamble, as you know, but she looks like she might be able to do something. She probably can run short, long, maybe on the grass."

Bred by Madeline Auerbach and Catherine Parke, hip 426 sold for $85,000 as a Keeneland November weanling and was purchased by Ciaran Dunne's Redwings for $92,000 at last year's Keeneland September sale. She was consigned by Dunne's Wavertree Stables.

Heiligbrodt, who signed for the filly in the name of his East Hickman Bloodstock, admitted it's been challenging buying at OBS this week.

"We've shopped a lot, but we've not been able to buy anything until today," he said. "It's competitive for the good horses."

As the juvenile sales season concludes with the June sale, Heiligbrodt said he attended each auction on the calendar.

"It's all been competitive for the top horses," he confirmed. "Especially this year, it's been very competitive." Cont. p10

Macho Uno Colt to Lynch

Brian Lynch, who trained Private Zone (Macho Uno) for Good Friends Stable, will now train a Macho Uno colt out of a half-sister to that multiple Grade I winner for those same owners after bloodstock agent Nick Esler signed the ticket at $155,000 on hip 486.

"He had a good outlook, a very good temperament, and he's correct," Esler said. "He did everything right and ticked all the boxes. Obviously Brian trained Private Zone, so that is what drew his attention to him. And he's an overall, good-looking colt."

The gray colt, who worked a furlong in :10 1/5 last week, is out of the unraced Black Lace (Afleet Alex). The $175,000 Keeneland September yearling, was bred by Adena Springs and was consigned by Wavertree Stables.

Nick Esler | Coglianese

Esler, who has been training in New York since 2012, has joined forces with California-based bloodstock agent David Meah and was signing his first ticket for the partnership.

"I took a step back from training in November," the Englishman said. "I'm working with David, trying to get his business up and running on the East Coast. He's got the West Coast covered, so I'm to get some clients buying for Christophe Clement at the sales. Brian was good enough to let us buy this horse for him."

Of the market this week in Ocala, Esler said, "There haven't been a lot of good ones, but we have found a few. We bought an Old Fashioned colt (hip 226) [Wednesday] for cheap that we thought we got value for [at $35,000]. And I thought this horse was well bought at $155,000 today. He has a little bit of quality and we're happy to have gotten him."

Of his transition from trainer to bloodstock agent, Esler said, "It's a different way of life, away from home a lot, but I'm enjoying it."

Purchased by Larry Zap, agent for Joseph Ciaglia, Jr.

Lawrence M. Smith signed the ticket to acquire this youngster for $1,200 at last year's Fasig-Tipton Midlantic January sale.

CORRECTION: Thursday's TDN incorrectly stated that Javier Castellano rode GIII Bed o' Roses S. winner Lewis Bay and GI Belmont S. runner-up Gronkowski. It was actually Irad Ortiz, Jr., on Lewis Bay and Jose Ortiz aboard Gronkowski. We regret the error.

GOLDEN GATE'S FUTURE STILL UNCLEAR

By Emily Shields

Horsemen at Golden Gate Fields were surprised June 13 with notice of a meeting to address growing concerns that the Berkeley, California, track will close over a complex simulcasting dispute.

The Stronach Group, which owns and operates Golden Gate, gave a 90-day warning in March that they planned to withdraw their simulcast signal from Northern California Off-Track Wagering Inc., which runs 10 satellite betting facilities. Golden Gate has been subsidizing the network, which "handled a total of $108.4 million or 41% of total wagering in Northern California," in 2010, according to a released statement by Greg Avioli, the President and CEO of the Thoroughbred Owners of California.

Because of the withdrawal, the California Horse Racing Board (CHRB) may not renew Golden Gate's license for racing later this year, covering the dates from Aug. 22 - Oct. 2. If the application is not approved, The Stronach Group's Tim Ritvo has noted that the Bay Area track could shut down.

Ritvo did not attend the June 14 meeting, which was hosted by Golden Gate's General Manager David Duggan and P.J. Campo, the Vice President of Racing for The Stronach Group. They spoke with local owners and trainers about Golden Gate's future, urging them to attend the CHRB meeting June 21 at the Alameda County Fairgrounds.

"At the meeting we simply reiterated our position with regard to the model that exists in California," Duggan said. "We told the horsemen that we wish to change the model, that it is broken and has been broken and documented since 2010. That is the message we delivered to the horsemen; they took it reasonably well."

But at least one horseman feels uneasy.

"I don't want us to be forced into the middle," said trainer Blaine Wright, who is based out of Golden Gate. "This is between two companies, and we as horsemen shouldn't have to stand up for one or the other. I would love to see year-round racing at Golden Gate, because I believe in racing where you are training, so I'm for The Stronach Group and support them. But it puts the horsemen in a bad bind to tell us to go to the meeting next week and speak up about this." Cont. p12

Dates for the Northern California circuit have already been a contentious subject as The Stronach Group continues to seek year-round racing at Golden Gate, which could come at the expense of the fair circuit. The long-standing summer tradition sees racing bounce between Pleasanton, Cal Expo, Santa Rosa, Ferndale, Los Alamitos, and Fresno, which Wright notes can be logistically difficult for trainers and their staff.

"The fair circuit is fun, but it's problematic because you're limited in the racing," Wright said. "But the fairs do offer a stakes schedule that Golden Gate can't compete with."

The Stronach Group has contended they would like to race concurrently with the fair circuit, but questions remain over the California horse population's ability to support simultaneous racing in the area.

Golden Gate | Vassar

"I'm sure that the CHRB meeting next week will be interesting," Duggan said. "They know what our stance is."

Avioli's statement continued, "Until such time as Golden Gate Fields presents a viable plan to replace the purse revenue and commissions generated by the existing offtrack network, the TOC strongly urges Golden Gate Fields to amend their application with the CHRB to include participation in the Northern California simulcast network. The TOC pledges to continue to work with The Stronach Group, the CHRB and other parties on underlying economic and structural issues to improve the economics for both the track and horsemen for racing at Golden Gate Fields."

The purpose of the meeting was simply to deliver information to the horsemen, but still carried a frustrating element.

"We certainly got surprised by the news," Wright said. "Why weren't we talking about this six months ago?"

He referred to a stabling issue resolved earlier this year, where executives from Golden Gate Fields originally stated the barns would be closed down during the fair circuit. In March, Golden Gate reversed their stance and reached an agreement to remain open.

"Once again, we are in panic mode all of the sudden, which is what we don't appreciate about it," Wright said. "But for me personally, I want to run where I'm stabled."

KY HBPA & KY DOWNS DISTRIBUTE PURSES TO OTHER KY TRACKS

Kentucky Downs is transferring $500,000 apiece to the purse accounts at Ellis Park, Churchill Downs and Keeneland in an unprecedented agreement with the Kentucky HBPA.

“This is jaw-dropping and unparalleled in horse racing, to have one track boosting purses paid to horsemen at other tracks, especially when each track has different ownership,” said Marty Maline, executive director of the Kentucky HBPA. “We are proud to be working with Kentucky Downs’ visionary ownership and management to work to further strengthen racing in the Commonwealth.”

“Churchill Downs sincerely appreciates the work and leadership of the Kentucky horsemen on this transfer of purse money,” said Kevin Flanery, president of Churchill Downs Racetrack. “Our partnership with our horsemen is key to the success of Churchill Downs and all Kentucky racetracks, and we look forward to strengthening Kentucky racing.”

The purse money is available because of Kentucky Downs’ lucrative Historical Horse Racing terminals, which provide another betting product with electronic games based on the results of previously run races while remaining pari-mutuel in design.

“The tracks receiving this money for their horsemen either have, or in the case of Churchill Downs is well into the process of installing, Historical Horse Racing operations that have proven so beneficial to Kentucky Downs,” Maline said. “We already have $130,000 maiden races and $145,000 allowance races at Kentucky Downs, so it’s appropriate that some of the revenue generated for purses at Kentucky Downs beef up a need at sister tracks that are investing in a successful mechanism to increase purses as well as generating considerable tax money for the state.”

A total of $2.4 million in purse money and Kentucky Thoroughbred Development Fund (KTDF) supplements already was in place for Ellis Park’s meet that runs July 1 through Labor Day. That includes funding for four $100,000 grass stakes Aug. 5 that comprise Kentucky Downs Preview Day. The additional $500,000 will be used to enhance non-stakes races across the board, with maiden races now going for $42,000, the highest ever at Ellis Park. Cont. p13

Kentucky Downs

"While Keeneland already has very nice purses, we felt that their claiming races could use a boost, especially with the competition for those horses from other tracks in the region," Maline said. "The money going to Churchill Downs will be used to enhance purses at its September and fall meets. Summer racing had been a weak link, but Ellis Park now is a vibrant, economical option for owners and trainers, and that's keeping horses and jobs in the state, which only helps our race meets in the fall."

The Kentucky HBPA has worked with Kentucky Downs the prior two years to augment Ellis Park purses by a total of $3 million for the 2016 and 2017 meets. There is precedent for Kentucky Downs transferring funds to tracks besides Ellis Park. The $1.5 million total going to Ellis, Keeneland and Churchill Downs does not involve any KTDF money and therefore has no regulatory restrictions on how it can be used for purses.

"When current ownership purchased the track in 2007 from Brad Kelley, one of Mr. Kelley's stipulations was that Kentucky Downs would be a positive force for the betterment of horse racing in the Commonwealth," said Ted Nicholson, KY Downs senior VP. "We're happy that we're in a position to lend an assist to the other racetracks. No one knows better of the needs of horsemen at each track than the Kentucky HBPA. So it's appropriate--in addition to being their contractual right--that the HBPA leadership work with the other tracks' managers to decide how the extra purse money is used."

PHBA MAKES MAJOR DONATION TO NEW BOLTON

Edited press release

The Pennsylvania Horse Breeders Association (PHBA) has donated $300,000 to Penn Vet New Bolton Center's Equine Pharmacology Laboratory to fund revolutionary research to detect gene doping in equine athletes. Gene doping involves the transfer or modification of genes or genetically modified cells of healthy human athletes, as well as equine athletes, for non-therapeutic purpose to enhance athletic performance.

Penn's New Bolton Center Campus | U. Penn-New Bolton

The $300,000 donation from the PHBA will provide funding for Penn Vet's multi-tiered, multi-year project. Elements of the project include continued research into potential protein and RNA-based biomarkers that have been identified as showing promise for detecting gene doping. The project will also include continued expansion of a BioBank that will be utilized to evaluate baseline levels of these blood-based bio-markers in active and injured race horses, as well as physiological changes in their musculoskeletal structure using New Bolton Center's robotics controlled imaging system.

"Our members, all of whom are Pennsylvania Thoroughbred horse breeders, have consistently stated that maintaining integrity in the sport of racing is one of their top priorities," said Brian Sanfratello, Executive Secretary of the Pennsylvania Horse Breeders Association. "We are pleased to partner with New Bolton Center, an internationally renowned equine hospital and research institution, to fund this ground breaking research and help combat gene doping."

"We are proud of our record at New Bolton Center for remaining on the cutting edge of detecting and preventing the use of performance-enhancing and illicit pharmaceuticals in equine athletes," said Dr. Mary Robinson, Director of the Equine Pharmacology Laboratory at New Bolton Center.

"With this grant, we can continue to be a leader in protecting the integrity of horse racing. While gene therapy represents an important breakthrough for patients with disease-causing genes and rare genetic diseases, we need to be sure that we are taking steps to stay ahead of those who would seek to use these advances for illicit means."

The $300,000 donation represents a significant investment for the PHBA and was championed by PHBA Board President Roger Legg and Board Member/Chair of the PHBA's Medication Committee Deanna Manfredi. Manfredi's committee conducted extensive research on the issue and established it as a priority for the organization. Because the money is being allocated from the association's share of the State Racing Fund, which is typically used for enhanced breeder awards and incentives, the PHBA had to seek approval of Pennsylvania's State Horse Racing Commission. The Commission approved the PHBA's request to provide the funding by unanimous vote at its monthly meeting on May 31.

"My fellow commissioners and I applaud the PHBA and the New Bolton Center for funding and undertaking this revolutionary research project to combat efforts to subvert fairness and integrity in the sport of horse racing," said Russell Jones, a Commissioner of the State Horse Racing Commission in Pennsylvania. "The State Horse Racing Commission is committed to maintaining a fair and level playing field, both for our fans and the vast majority of owners and trainers who play by the rules."

In addition to the Pennsylvania Horse Breeders Association, Penn Vet's New Bolton Center is also seeking additional funding for this research program. Individuals or organizations who would like to support the program through a financial donation are encouraged to contact Margaret Leardi, Director of Development for New Bolton Center, at mleardi@vet.upenn.edu.

Awaiting racing room at the top of the stretch, she was finally swung out widest of all in the lane and finished up full of run to win going away by 3/4 of a length. Silver Shaker (Lonhro {Aus}) was second. Complicit is a half-sister to Marine Patrol (Tapit), SP, $173,683. Lady Solvig had a Curlin colt in 2016, a More Than Ready filly in 2017; and a Constitution filly this year. The winner's second dam is MGSW Solvig (Caerleon). HANGMAN (r, 3, Scat Daddy--Hangingbyamoment, by Thunder Gulch) rallied to finish a good third in his unveiling sprinting over the Aqueduct lawn Apr. 22. Adding blinkers here, the 5-1 chance broke sharply and found a good spot on the outside just off the leaders in third. He hit the gas with a three-wide move at the top of the stretch, took over shortly thereafter and had 1 3/4 lengths over Hizeem (City Zip) at the wire. Hangman is a full-brother to Conquest Daddyo, GSW, $320,716; and a half-brother to Hangingbyathread (Giant's Causeway), SW, $307,630. NATIVE DAWN (f, 2, Morning Line--Imanativenewyorker, by Harlan's Holiday) amassed a worktab that whispered ready, but was sent off the 59-10 second-longest shot on the board to get off on the right foot. Drawn one from the outside in the field of six, the dark bay was off alertly and stalked the pace from a three-wide position to the turn. She made a line of three with about 2 1/2 furlongs to travel, kicked clear into the lane and reported home a 5 3/4-length winner. Princess Pinky (Ghostzapper) was a well-bet second ahead of favored She's Trouble (Into Mischief), who dwelt badly and gave her five rivals a 10-length start and rallied with good energy in the final furlong. The winner, sold for $20,000 in utero at KEENOV in 2015, has a yearling half-sister by Bellamy Road and a weanling half-brother by the same stallion. The 9-5 second-choice showed the way through an opening quarter in :23.13. He kicked for home with a narrow advantage, began to draw clear in the stretch and held on to graduate by a game neck. Hot firster Nitrous (Tapit), favored at even-money, ran well to finish second after bobbling at the start and racing greenly in the stretch. STRIKE (c, 3, Smart Strike--Owsley {MGSW, $865,705}, by Harlan) had one previous start under his belt, a seventh at a well-backed 11-2 in a Saratoga sprint maiden for Christophe Clement last August. Switching barns and stretching out in trip for this sophomore debut, the 19-10 chalk was soon in front, but didn't corner well into the first turn. Well rated down the back, the homebred was joined at the head of the lane by Jag (Midshipman) and managed to outfight that rival by a nose on the line. The winner is a half-brother to Senada (Pulpit), SW & GSP, $215,021, dam of last year's GII Demoiselle S. third Layla Noor (Midnight Lute), GSP, $112,480; War Hoot (War Chant), SP, $222,989; and Arthur's Tale (Bernardini), GISP, $380,020, and is kin to the 2-year-old filly Estill. WARRIOR MAKES A ROYAL RETURN

Redkirk Warrior heading out to exercise in Newmarket | Emma Berry

By Emma Berry

Newmarket, UK--He's travelled halfway around the world to come home. Redkirk Warrior (GB) (Notnowcato {GB}), as a representative of Australia's powerful Hayes-Dabernig stable, was one of the stars of Royal Ascot's international press morning on Thursday, but in fact the 7-year-old is back where it all began, on Newmarket Heath. This is where he was trained to win his first two races for William Haggas and is less than a mile from where he was conceived, at Stanley House Stud, where his sire Notnowcato once occupied the same stable as his own father Inchinor (GB) and the great Hyperion (GB) before him.

With Notnowcato having subsequently been sold to stand in Ireland as a jumps sire, his speedy son is something of an outlier when it comes to the progeny he left in Britain, though it didn't appear that way in the beginning. Redkirk Warrior's first two victories, and in fact his only two starts in England, both came over 10 furlongs in his 3-year-old season, and he continued at that trip in his next two outings after being sold to race in Hong Kong for Jenny Tam Yuk Ching. Problems with his feet meant that he failed to cope with the track in Hong Kong and was retired.

This proved to be premature and, after moving again, this time to the training triumvirate of David and Ben Hayes and Tom Dabernig at Lindsay Park in Australia, some remedial farriery work meant that the gelding was brought out of retirement to resume racing at five.

"He has a high cruising speed and he can kick off a high cruising speed. In his early days when we were training him up the hill he was running times that sprinters run and we thought we'd try him fresh first up. He was ridden poorly but he finished well for second," recalled Ben Hayes. "Then next prep we trained him as a sprinter and we ran him in the Newmarket H. and he won like a very good horse, so we've kept him to sprinting ever since."

That breakthough Group 1 victory down Flemington's straight six furlongs has since been augmented by success in the G1 Lightning S. over five and a repeat win in the Newmarket back in March. Cont. p2

The Lightning is now named after Black Caviar, who won the race ahead of her assault on Ascot and the G1 Diamond Jubilee S. back in 2012. In his attempt to emulate this feat, Redkirk Warrior has been assigned the same stable at Newmarket's Abington Place which the great mare inhabited during her stay in the town.

As he exercised around his old stomping ground of Bury Hill on Thursday morning, on his toes to begin with but relaxing into a long loping saunter for home after a gentle six-furlong canter on the Polytrack, Redkirk Warrior appeared to have taken his latest round of world travels in his stride. He will have Frankie Dettori in the saddle at Ascot.

"He's an old professional. He's eating well and looks great so we're happy," said Hayes, whose father David previously sent out Nicconi (Aus) to finish fourth in the G1 King's Stand S. at Ascot in 2010, as well as Criterion (Aus), who achieved the same placing in the G1 Prince Of Wales's S. five years later.

He added, "There are plenty of good sprinters in Australia and to have one of the very best is a real privilege. We love trying to win Group 1 races overseas on the world stage so we were delighted to have the opportunity to travel with this horse. His best performances have been on top of the ground so with the weather set to stay dry we've opted for the Diamond Jubilee [on Saturday]. We've raced Merchant Navy (Aus) before and it's not often you can come over here with a familiar formline. Harry Angel (Ire) is a different prospect. He's clearly a very good sprinter but it's hard to judge that against the Australian form. If our horse runs to the best of his form then he definitely has a very good chance."

Strong American Challenge...

Wesley Ward has opted to base his team at Paul Cole's Whatcombe stable in Oxfordshire, but Redkirk Warrior has two American challengers for company in Newmarket.

When a Japanese-bred horse is gifted the name Yoshida (JPN) then one would assume he's pretty special and the 4-year-old son of Shadai Farm's Heart's Cry (JPN) has indeed already won at the highest level on the turf in America since being entrusted to the care of Bill Mott.

Yoshida doesn't just carry a portentous name, he also runs for the syndicate of owners behind Justify (Scat Daddy), namely Winstar Farm, China Horse Club, SF Bloodstock, and Sol Kumin's Head Of Plains Partners. The team may justifiably still be nursing sore heads after Saturday's Triple Crown celebrations and the party will roll on into Tuesday's G1 Queen Anne S., which two years ago was won by American raider Tepin (Bernstein).

"We were here last year with Long On Value so we got the lie of the land and we learned that you need to bring over a really good horse. We told ourselves that if we had a horse of the talent level to compete here we'd come back," said Riley Mott, in Newmarket on his father's behalf to oversee the final preparations for Yoshida, who had an easy canter over a mile on the Polytrack surface of the Al Bahathri gallop.

"He'll have a light piece of work here in the next few days just to open up his lungs and keep him on course for the race but whatever the conditions may be on Tuesday I think we have a horse who will adapt very well. He's arguably in the top two or three turf horses back home. Mr Ward and Mr Casse have both had success on turf over here and that gave us the confidence to come."

Out earliest of all on Thursday for a sedate stretch on the short half-mile of Newmarket's Town Canter was Bucchero (Kantharos), who will be flying the flag for college teacher-turned-trainer Tim Glyshaw in Tuesday's G1 King's Stand S.

"No sheikhs or billionaires need apply," reads the strapline on the homepage of the website of his owner Ironhorse Racing Stable and, indeed, victory for the 6-year-old entire at Royal Ascot would certainly be a great fillip for the smaller ownership groups around the world.

Bought by a partnership headed by Harlan Malter for $43,000 as a juvenile, Bucchero has subsequently netted his five owners in the region of $780,000 and has brought them on a transatlantic journey few would have expected when Malter was ringing around trying to find partners to take a share in the bonny chestnut colt who was fourth in last year's GI Breeders' Cup Turf Sprint at Del Mar.

"As an owner getting into the game as just a true fan of horseracing, getting to the Breeders' Cup for an American is really high on the list and I don't think most owners even think about getting to Royal Ascot, but for this to come up as an option is really special," said Malter.

Glyshaw, who is based predominantly at Churchill Downs, takes extra pride in the fact both he and the horse he trains were born and raised in Indiana, which in equine terms would be several rungs beneath their new Kentucky home.

"It's kind of a dream," said the softly spoken 49-year-old. "If he shows up and runs his race I think we're right there. We're just very proud of our horse that we're here. I think he'll like the straight. There are some questions: we're running without Lasix but that's never been a problem for him. He didn't turn a hair [when racing on Kentucky Derby day] at Churchill Downs so the crowd shouldn't be a problem for him."

IF HE SHOWS UP AND RUNS HIS RACE I THINK WE'RE RIGHT THERE. WE'RE JUST VERY PROUD OF OUR HORSE THAT WE'RE HERE.

Appleby Marches On To Ascot...

Charlie Appleby joined the international press conference in the Jockey Club Rooms to issue an update on some of his runners for Royal Ascot and, asked if winning the Derby had changed his life, he replied, "Not in my household. I've had to get back to all the daily chores with the children and the ponies and the dogs."

Dog-walkers and babysitters will hopefully be on hand next week to allow the Godolphin trainer to turn his attention to the five days of the Royal Meeting, for which his representatives include recent Oaks runner-up Wild Illusion (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}), who will be dropping back in trip for the G2 Ribblesdale S. "Will Illusion lost nothing in defeat in the Oaks and has come out of the race well. The winner was just a better filly and she was drawing away from us at the end, but we were drawing away from the third so I don't think it was a case that she didn't stay," said the trainer.

Hawkbill (Kitten's Joy) played his part in a memorable Dubai World Cup meeting for Appleby when winning the G1 Longines Dubai Sheema Classic but was disappointing on his first start back in Britain this term when fifth behind Cracksman (GB) (Frankel {GB}) in the G1 Investec Coronation Cup.

"He's becoming more versatile as he gets older and has coped with quick ground as well as soft ground," said Appleby of the G1 Prince Of Wales's S. contender. "He can get himself a bit worked up but he's come out of [Epsom] well. We're dropping back in trip again and the plan is to be positive."

Another to be taking a step back in distance is Blue Point (Ire) (Shamardal), who was withdrawn at the start ahead of the G1 Al Quoz Sprint and has something to prove after a below-par effort in the G1 Chairman's Sprint Prize in Hong Kong.

"Dropping back to five [furlongs] is within his compass I feel," Appleby offered. "Things didn't go to plan in Hong Kong but he's had a nice break since then and he put a serious piece of work in on Saturday. He's showing all the right signs."

The other big sprint hope in the trainer's camp is last Saturday's G3 John O'Gaunt S. winner D'Bai (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}), who drops down to six furlongs for the G1 Diamond Jubilee S. Appleby added, "I've felt for the last six or eight months now that he could be a sprinter. He broke the track record over seven at Meydan. I was delighted with his run when fourth behind Jungle Cat and then he was second to The Tin Man (GB), which was a very positive run. The way he travelled in the John O'Gaunt S. he showed a bit of class. They're going to go hard in the Diamond Jubilee and he could well be running on late."

DETTORI TAKING CARE AHEAD OF ASCOT

A year ago to the date since he broke his shoulder four days out from last year's Royal meeting, jockey Frankie Dettori said he is covering himself in bubble wrap to ensure he can participate at Royal Ascot next week.

"It was a year ago today that I broke my shoulder and it was awful," the rider said. "To me, Ascot is everything, and to injure myself four days before last year's Royal Ascot was very hard to take. At the moment, I am covering myself up in bubble wrap and hope I can get there on Tuesday. I have three rides before then--two on Saturday and one on Sunday." Cont. p5

Frankie Dettori | Racing Post

Dettori's rides next week will include a clutch of hopefuls for trainer John Gosden, such as Cracksman (GB) (Frankel {GB}) in the G1 Prince of Wales's S., Stradivarius (Ire) (Sea The Stars {Ire}) in the G1 Gold Cup, Without Parole (GB) (Frankel {GB}) in the G1 St James's Palace S. and possibly 'TDN Rising Star' Calyx (GB) (Kingman {GB}) in the G2 Coventry S. He will also pilot Australian sprinter Redkirk Warrior (GB) (Notnowcato {GB}) in the G1 Diamond Jubilee S., and will continue his regular association with American trainer Wesley Ward.

"John Gosden will have a big team," Dettori said. "We are all thinking we have a great book of rides, but it is very hard to win at Ascot and you can't take anything for granted. I am very excited and am going to enjoy it."

COX RECEIVES STEPHENSON TROPHY

Trainer Clive Cox has received the Willie Stephenson Memorial Trophy for 2017. The award each year honours the person or persons the Goffs UK board feels made the largest contribution to the sale company's success that year. Cox, the trainer of Goffs UK graduate and 2017 champion sprinter Harry Angel (Ire) (Dark Angel {Ire}), was a unanimous choice.

Goffs Group Chief Executive Henry Beeby said, "Clive is a popular figure across the industry and has been a loyal supporter of our sales for many years, so we are delighted to present him with the Willie Stephenson Memorial Trophy. Clive has always had an amazing eye for quality and value as his record over the years clearly demonstrates. His first Group 1 winners, Gilt Edge Girl and the dual Group 1-winning 2-year-old Reckless Abandon, are a testament to that ability and his newest stable star, Harry Angel, is another shining example."

LONGINES BECOMES ASCOT PARTNER

Longines, in addition to being Ascot's official timekeeper, is now an Official Partner of the racecourse, joining QIPCO and Gigaset. The partnership will include use of the Longines logo on the grandstand and permanent on-course and off-course branding throughout the year. Existing individual race sponsorships will remain in place, and the connections of any horse that breaks a track record at the course will receive Longines timepieces.

Juliet Slot, Chief Commercial Officer at Ascot, said, "We are delighted that Longines are further deepening their relationship with Ascot as our Official Partner, joining QIPCO and Gigaset. We have worked with Longines closely for over 10 years as our Official Timekeeper and Watch and now are very excited to be the showcase venue for their World Class Timing system which we look forward to launching this year. We are proud to be able to showcase the Longines brand, which reflects our values."

True Valour, who claimed a personal best in last term's Listed Celebration S., opened this year with a third in the May 13 G3 Amethyst S. going one mile here and went postward with crowd confidence coming off a third in Epsom's June 2 G3 Diomed S. last time. Steadied under a firm grip in third after an alert break, he came under increased urging in the straight to seize control approaching the final furlong and was driven out to assert for a career high. "We've always thought he was a group horse, he thrived over the winter and I'm delighted he's won a Group 3," said trainer Johnny Murtagh. "He thrives on racing and has done nothing but improve since he came back from England. We'll keep him going in those Group 3s and Group 2s, but the big day for him is [the Sept. 15 G2 Boomerang S. at Leopardstown on] Qipco Irish Champions weekend."

Pedigree Notes...

True Valour, half-brother to the 3-year-old filly The River Wild (GB) (Lope de Vega {Ire}) and the 2-year-old filly Havanaclue (Ire) (Havana Gold {Ire}), is the lone performer for Sutton Veny (Ire) (Acclamation {GB}), who is a five-time scorer and kin to Listed Chandler S. victress Glorificamus (Ire) (Shinko Forest {Ire}), who in turn produced stakes-winning GIII Violet S. third Fasnacloich (Any Given Saturday). Pulled out of the G1 Epsom Oaks at a late stage due to the thunderstorms, Sea of Class needed a race to maintain the momentum she was gathering when successful in the course-and-distance Listed Haras De Bouquetot Fillies' Trial S. May 19. Tucked in with one behind early, the chestnut was delivered with confidence to lead with a furlong remaining and pushed out to register a comfortable success.

Sea Of Class | racingfotos.com

Trainer William Haggas is looking at big targets with the winner. "I'm glad we didn't run in the Oaks and this is another step forward and we are going to come to a stage now where we go a bit bolder," he said. "It's whether we keep her at a mile and a quarter. It will be either the [G1] Pretty Polly [S. at The Curragh July 1] then the [G1] Nassau [S. at Goodwood Aug. 2] or the [G1] Irish Oaks [at The Curragh July 21], I suspect. We will either keep her at a mile and quarter or we will go up to a mile and a half. She will get a mile and a half no problem. Mrs Tsui has also indicated she stays in training next year."

Sea of Class's listed-winning dam Holy Moon is proving a prolific producer of classy runners, with two of her progeny Charity Line and Final Score winning the G1 Premio Lydia Tesio and G2 Oaks d'Italia with a third, Cherry Collect, also capturing the Oaks d'Italia. Holy Moon, who has a yearling colt by Oasis Dream (GB), also hails from the family of the champion juvenile and sire Dabirsim (Fr) (Hat Trick {Jpn}).

KELLY ON NEWBURY SUMMER PLACEMENT

Jump jockey Lizzie Kelly has taken up a summer placement with Newbury Racecourse. Kelly will be part of the raceday presenting team at major meetings and work alongside the marketing team developing the plans for some of the racecourse's larger fixtures combined with ambassadorial duties around Ladies Day on Aug. 18.

"It is great to join the Newbury team across the summer while there is a break in terms of my riding commitments," said Kelly. "My degree from Winchester was in events and I have always been interested to learn more about this side of the industry, so I am grateful to the Newbury Racecourse team for giving me the opportunity to see what's involved in the preparation of the larger fixtures."

THE STAR GETS SHOALS FOR THE EVEREST

Three-time Group 1 winner Shoals | Bronwen Healy

Arrowfield Stud and Pinecliff Racing's three-time Group 1-winning filly Shoals (Aus) (Fastnet Rock {Aus}) will race for slot holder The Star Entertainment Group in the A$13-million The Everest on Oct. 13.

"Like The Everest, The Star offers a premium entertainment experience for visitors to Sydney, and with three Group 1 victories on her record, Shoals has the kind of star power that can light up Royal Randwick," said Arrowfield's John Messara. "Jonathan [Munz of Pinecliff Racing] and I are delighted to conclude an arrangement with The Star for Shoals to run in The Everest. We think she is a great chance to win the race and we're all looking forward to her return in the Spring."

Shoals is one of just five horses in Australia this season to win three of more Group 1s. She took the G1 Myer Classic in November, followed by the G1 Surround S. and the G1 Robert Sangster S. in the autumn.

"We're excited to be fielding a runner this year in partnership with Arrowfield's John Messara," said Michael Hodgson, GM Business Development and Partnerships at The Star Entertainment Group. "He's one of the most knowledgeable and esteemed racing men in the world, and in Shoals we believe we have an outstanding filly capable of claiming the event."

WINX STILL NUMBER ONE

With a rating of 130, Winx (Aus) (Street Cry {Ire}) continues to occupy the top spot on the Longines World's Best Racehorse Rankings, the latest edition of which was released on Thursday. She is one point clear of reigning American Horse of the Year Gun Runner (Candy Ride {Arg}), whose lone start this year before going to stud was a win in the GI Pegasus World Cup Invitational.

Cracksman (GB) (Frankel {GB}) is the highest-rated European-trained horse on 125, while last weekend's American Triple Crown winner Justify (Scat Daddy) and his Bob Baffert stablemate West Coast (Flatter), the Pegasus runner-up, are joint fourth at 124.

Winx, last seen winning her 25th straight race when defending her G1 Queen Elizabeth S. title at The Championships on Apr. 14, recently returned to trainer Chris Waller's stable after a spell. Waller told Racing.com, "We will be aiming to have her ready to race in mid-August, she will have a couple of trials before then but we haven't locked in any specific dates just yet. Without locking in an exact schedule, I wouldn't imagine there would be too many surprises."

"She looks great and that takes a lot of pressure off, it is good to have her back," Waller added. "She had three-and-a-half weeks pre-training, which gives her a steady base for us to work with. She has come back the same as she has done for the past 12 months, she lets down well but doesn't get too gross. She went to the paddock sound with no issues, she went out a happy horse and she has come back looking great."

"One of the most pleasing things is the condition of her feet, not that we've ever had too many issues with them but when she is in work, we are constantly putting nails in the walls of her feet for her shoes. She has had the shoes off in the paddock and it has allowed her feet to grow out. Our farrier has said it is the best her feet have looked, he's happy, which makes me happy."

SHE WILL REIGN SOLD

Last year's G1 Golden Slipper winner She Will Reign (Aus) (Manhattan Rain {Aus}) has been sold, owner Darby Racing confirmed on Twitter on Thursday. The syndication company said the soon-to-be 4-year-old will remain under her current ownership and stay with trainer Gary Portelli through a spring racing campaign.

She Will Reign | Bronwen Healy

The Tweet read: "She Will Reign has been officially sold with current ownership to race on until end of spring. Mixed emotions for the owners, [Gary Portelli] and Darby Racing. It's been one hell of a ride and hopefully more wins in her last racing campaign, will be sorely missed!"

She Will Reign, a A$20,000 Inglis Classic yearling purchase, also won the G2 Silver Slipper S. at two, and added the G1 Moir S. at three. She was last seen running fifth in the G2 Arrowfield Sprint at The Championships in April. Other published reports suggested the sale was to overseas buyers. She Will Reign's dam, Courgette (Aus) (Charge Forward {Aus}), was recently sold for A$2.1-million to Evergreen Stud Farm and partners at the Magic Millions National Broodmare Sale in foal to I Am Invincible (Aus).
