GARY STEVENS RETIRES FOR GOOD

Gary Stevens | Horsephotos

By Christie DeBernardis

Hall of Fame jockey Gary Stevens has retired for the third and final time Tuesday after suffering a spinal injury during an incident in a post parade at Del Mar Saturday. The news was first reported by the Daily Racing Form.

"I would have liked to have walked away on my exact terms, but I consider myself very fortunate for the career I've had as a jockey and that I can still walk with the news I got this morning," Stevens told the TDN when reached by phone Tuesday. "The whiplash has moved my C4 forward and it is pressing directly on my spinal cord. I am waiting to hear back on when the surgery will be to relieve the pressure."

As for future plans, Stevens said, "I've got several irons in the fire. The time was coming near anyway, so it is not like I wasn't thinking about what I was going to be doing. I have a few things that I am excited about."

Stevens scored his first victory at his home track of Les Bois Park in Idaho in 1980 and now owns a total of 5,187 wins, with 11 of those coming in Breeders' Cup races and nine in Triple Crown events. Inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1997, the 55-year-old won his first Classic aboard Hall of Fame filly Winning Colors in the 1988 GI Kentucky Derby (video) and his most recent Triple Crown victory came shortly after his last comeback in the 2013 GI Preakness S. aboard Oxbow, who, like Winning Colors, was trained by D. Wayne Lukas (video).

CLASSIC WINNER CLOUD COMPUTING RETIRES TO SPENDTHRIFT

Cloud Computing (Maclean's Music--Quick Temper, by A.P. Indy), who gave Klaravich Stables and William Lawrence and trainer Chad Brown their first taste of Classic success in the 2017 GI Preakness S., has been retired and will enter stud in 2019 at B. Wayne Hughes's Spendthrift Farm.

Bred in Kentucky by Hill 'n' Dale Equine Holdings and Stretch Run V, Cloud Computing was purchased by bloodstock agent Mike Ryan for $200,000 at the 2015 Keeneland September sale, the top price for a first-crop yearling by Maclean's Music. Winning his six-furlong debut in February 2017, the dark bay was second in the GIII Gotham S. and a deceptively good third in the GII Wood Memorial S. before grabbing champion Classic Empire (Pioneerof the Nile) on the line at Old Hilltop (video). He earned a 102 Beyer Speed Figure for the effort, equaling the Preakness Beyer of American Pharoah and Lookin At Lucky while exceeding those posted by Justify and Exaggerator. The Preakness score came just 98 days after his career debut.

"Dating back to Winning Colors, Wayne gave me my first Classic win and my last Classic win [with Oxbow], so that is pretty cool," Stevens said.

The Eclipse-winning pilot also navigated 1995 Derby and GI Belmont S. winner Thunder Gulch for Lukas and took home the roses again in 1997 aboard the Bob Baffert-trained Silver Charm, who also captured that year's Preakness. Rounding out his trio of Preakness winners is fellow Baffert pupil Point Given, who captured the Triple Crown's second jewel, as well as the Belmont, in 2001. Stevens also rode Victory Gallop to an upset of Real Quiet's Triple Crown bid in the 1998 Belmont. Some of the journeyman rider's other memorable mounts include Silverbulletday, Serena's Song, Rock Hard Ten, Indian Charlie, Best Pal, War Chant, Da Hoss, Escena, Macho Uno and Bertrando.

"Gary Stevens galloped my first Thoroughbred for me and rode my first Kentucky Derby winner," Baffert said. "I came up through the sport alongside him. When I think of my greatest memories in racing, Gary is always right there, front and center. He is a legend in this sport and I am proud to call him my friend."

Stevens retired for the first time in 1999 with knee issues and briefly worked as a trainer and a jockey's agent, but returned to the track a short time later in 2000. He retired again in 2005 to work as an analyst at NBC and was back in the saddle in 2013 after eight years on the sidelines.

During his most recent comeback, Stevens scored several career highs. In addition to winning the 2013 Preakness with Oxbow at odds of 15-1, the rider scored his long-awaited first GI Breeders' Cup Classic victory aboard Mucho Macho Man (video).

Stevens aboard Beholder | Benoit

Stevens was also the regular rider of four-time Eclipse winner and future fellow Hall of Famer Beholder, guiding her to two GI Breeders' Cup Distaff wins, in 2013 and 2016 (video). Stevens climbed aboard Beholder for the first time in the 2013 Torrey Pines S., which they won, and together they captured a total of 12 races, seven of which were Grade Is, highlighted by her World Championship scores and an 8 1/4-length tour de force in the 2015 GI Pacific Classic (video).

"Throughout my career, Gary and I have had a lot of success and always made a good team, but particularly with Beholder," said Hall of Fame conditioner Richard Mandella. "They had a real relationship and it was obvious in the performances she gave him. Her previous rider was insistent that she needed to go to the front and we always trained her to sit back and use her speed when we wanted, rather than just letting her run off on the front end. Gary and I, like I said, always understood each other well enough that, when he got on and I asked him to try that, it put her in a new league. I'm very sad to hear that he is retired again." Cont. p5

Stevens won four graded stakes during the 2018 season, but the aforementioned trio of Oxbow, Mucho Macho Man and Beholder were certainly the highlights of his last stint in the saddle, which also included riding Firing Line to a second-place finish behind American Pharoah in the 2015 Derby.

"I wouldn't trade that decision I made to come back [in 2013] for anything, between Mucho Macho Man, Oxbow, Beholder, especially Beholder," Stevens said. "The Breeders' Cup Classic was the one race that was missing and Mucho Macho Man got that trophy on the pedestal. Beholder was the best I've ever ridden. Everything has a reason for happening. It was a short five years. These past five years went by pretty quickly, I'll tell you that, but they were the best five years I have had in my career."

"Cloud Computing is one of those horses that sells himself immediately when you see him," said Ned Toffey, Spendthrift General Manager. "He's a Classic winner, but he's also the picture of what a Classic horse is supposed to look like. For him to go on and win the Preakness over Classic Empire less than 100 days after making his debut, that's pretty special and it speaks to his quality. There's a lot to like about Cloud Computing, and we believe breeders are going to love what they see."

Added Brown, "Cloud Computing is one of the best-looking horses I've ever had walk into my shed row. We always had tremendous confidence in this horse, and he showed why in the Preakness. To give up so much seasoning to a champion like Classic Empire, he showed real brilliance to beat that colt. He's my first Classic winner and he's very special to us."

"When I saw him at Hill 'n' Dale in August of 2015 right before the [Keeneland September] sale, I was awestruck. It was instant," recollected Ryan. "In fact, I thought he was one of the best yearlings I had seen in 2015. He's LeBron James. He's got it all: size, strength, substance, quality, and tons of class.

"He's such an outstanding physical specimen that I'd be very confident he will reproduce himself. You'll go a long way before you find a better-looking horse than Cloud Computing. I think when people see him, they will be tremendously impressed with his physique and presence," Ryan added.

Cloud Computing's dam, a daughter of GISW and nine-time stakes winner Halo America (Waquoit), was also a 3-year-old of some note, finishing second in the GII Silverbulletday S. while placing in two other graded stakes in her career.

Cloud Computing will be available as part of Spendthrift's 'Share The Upside' program at a fee of $8,500 for one year. Breeders must breed a mare in 2020 on a complimentary basis. After the breeder has a live foal in 2020, pays the stud fee and breeds a mare back, he or she earns a lifetime breeding right beginning in 2020. Those electing to not participate in 'Share The Upside' to Cloud Computing can breed for $7,500 stands-and-nurses terms.

ACTIVE SHOOTER TRAINING: AN EVOLVING CONCERN FOR RACETRACKS

by Dan Ross

Pimlico | Horsephotos

The morning of June 10 this year, Pimlico racetrack resembled a war zone.

First, there was an overdose situation in the infield, then a disgruntled employee took charge of a van and ploughed it through a crowd of people. As the frightened throngs began to evacuate the track, an active shooter opened fire.

The Baltimore City Police Tactical Unit moved in and took the shooter out, but not before many had been killed and dozens more critically injured. Nearby Sinai Hospital was overwhelmed with patients. Nothing like this had before been witnessed at an American racetrack. Cont. p7

If you're wondering why you're reading about this incident for the first time, there's good reason.

"This was probably one of the first mass casualty exercises ever done in the city [of Baltimore]," said Mike Singletary, vice president of security operations at Pimlico, about a day of simulated training that involved numerous private, city, state and county institutions and agencies, as well as a host of actors. Between 300 and 400 people were involved, Singletary estimated.

"It was surreal," he added.

Pimlico's June training day is an all-encompassing example of emergency scenarios. Other racetracks typically train on a narrower, more focused scale. Some have been doing active shooter training for years.

But U.S. racetracks are typically under-prepared when it comes to active shooters, said Mike Kilpack, the National Thoroughbred Racing Association's (NTRA) Security Integrity Consultant, and the Equine Security Supervising Investigator for the Breeder's Cup.

"It's not that they don't care, they just don't make it a priority," said Kilpack, who explained the extent of the training required differs from track to track--that a facility hosting a Triple Crown event would have to prepare far more extensively than a smaller country venue. "But for a track not to have it, that's just naïve."

That's just naïve

This year alone, 68 people have been killed in eight different mass shooting events, according to data compiled by the Washington Post. A mass shooting is one in which four or more people are killed by a lone gunman. There have been 48 such incidents since the start of 2010.

For many years, horse racing appeared walled off from this most insidious of societal trends. While the rest of the country marched into a world of heightened security, pat downs, bag searches and walk-through metal-detectors, racing has largely remained cocooned within a cozy fleece of tradition and cultural separation.

Belmont Security | Horsephotos

Then, this September outside a busy Del Mar racetrack, a local Sheriff's deputy shot and killed a man wielding a gun. Suddenly, the problem crash landed on our doorstep. That said, there have been times in the past when horse racing has strayed into the cross-hairs of heightened security fears nationally.

"It woke everybody up in the country, especially those who were hosting large sporting events," said Dora Delgado, senior vice president of Racing and Nominations at the Breeders' Cup, about the organization's response in the immediate aftermath of 9/11. That year, for example, the Breeders' Cup brought in SWAT teams that patrolled the roof of Belmont Park.

"It was clear that we had to look beyond doing the normal racetrack way," she added.

Save your ass

The heightened fears of 2001 have since diminished somewhat, but the need for vigilance hasn't. Only, the complicated logistics of organizing emergency response and active shooter training can be off-putting to track operators, said Kilpack. Indeed, it took months to organize the event at Pimlico. Cont. p8

"Mount Sinai hospital reached out to us in early January," said Singletary. "There were a lot of contributors to this event."

Six months of preparations involved 18 different institutions and agencies, including the Maryland Emergency Management Agency, Baltimore City police, health, and fire departments, the office of emergency operations, and other local and county volunteer and active fire departments.

So, what's the main takeaway for employees from these exercises?

"I think number one is response," said Singletary, who explained that in May, a smaller scale training day was conducted at Laurel Park. "We've had active shooter training--we do that twice a year. We've had bomb threats and suspicious package training. We've had first-aid, CPR, AED [automated external defibrillator] training. We continue to train every year to make sure that we're prepared for these events."

When it comes to the logistics, even training on a smaller scale can be tricky to organize, admitted John Coffey, director of security for The Stronach Group.

"It takes a lot of time," Coffey said. "You have to schedule with the local police, or you have to schedule with state or federal agencies. It's not easy."

Coffey, who spent 30 years with the Florida Department of Law Enforcement and a number of years with the FBI, has conducted active shooter training at Gulfstream Park for nearly a decade. He said that he's in the process of bringing active shooter training uniformity to all Stronach Group facilities. The effort to do so is worth it overall, he added.

"Your training will come back to you and save your ass because you won't have to think, you'll just react the proper way," said Coffey.

Another prohibitive factor is the potential cost. According to Singletary, funding for the day of training at Pimlico came from federal and state grants, as well as Maryland Jockey Club coffers.

"We just volunteered the facility," he said.

But again, Coffey argued that even though most racetracks are facing tightening budgets, the benefits of such training outweigh the outlay.

"Yeah, it's going to cost some money to train them, but isn't that cost effective in the long run?" he said.

Certainly the world has changed

In response to the September incident, Del Mar has instituted a number of changes, including metal detectors in the concert area, and a new protocol where the public can text or call racetrack security to report suspicious activity.

"We're also working with experts in concert security and crowd management," said Josh Rubenstein, president of the Del Mar Thoroughbred Club.

Del Mar's full-time staff have traditionally received active shooter training every other year, under supervision of the local sheriff's department. This has involved drills and training videos.

According to Rubinstein, all Del Mar staff, both full and part-time, will now receive active shooter training on an annual basis.

"Certainly the world has changed," Rubinstein said, about why Del Mar has instituted these changes. "You see things that go on, and we want to be as proactive as we can for providing the safest possible environment for our patrons and staff."

Because of the sensitive nature of the issue, some tracks and organizations were apprehensive about talking with the TDN, like Woodbine, for example.

Woodbine communications specialist Brittney Mayotte wrote in an email that the emergency response training it provides, including "active attacker" training, is designed to educate employees on what options they have, getting them familiar with their facility and exits, and what to expect from the police response. Cont. p9

"Woodbine encourages everyone to be our eyes and ears and follow a philosophy of 'See Something, Say Something,'" Mayotte wrote, explaining how, "for security reasons, we can't go into too much detail."

Before high profile events like the Belmont S. and the Saratoga meet, NYRA brings together as many as 15 different law enforcement and public agencies to run through a range of exercises, including emergency scenarios.

"While it would be counterproductive to detail many of the individual steps taken every day, NYRA's overall safety plan combines physical security design with modern technology to keep our guests safe at all times," wrote NYRA spokesperson, Pat McKenna, in an email.

Public is the real first responder

Some experts argue that active shooters pose a broader, more complex set of problems that can't be addressed through employee training alone.

While emergency response training involving first responders is "a great experience, great training, great fun for law enforcement officers, in reality, those officers never get to play," said Greg Crane, founder of the ALICE Training Institute, which provides civilian response training.

"They never get there in time to have a material impact in the outcome," Crane added. Indeed, according to FBI data, 60% of active shooting events are over before first responders can arrive.

And while many sporting venues, like racetracks, typically have an armed presence, the shooter may appear in an area with no armed personnel.

"Don't think these guys haven't figured it out and haven't looked for the best place where they can get the biggest bang for their evil," said Crane.

Which is why he calls on the public to "play a roll" in their own survival. Rather than drop to the floor, racegoers should use what Crane frames as "voice, movement, distance, and distraction." In other words, "create as much noise as you can, create as much movement as you can, create distance if possible, and while all that is going on, engage in as much visual distraction as possible," he said.

"If what we've taught them is to do nothing and wait for those people who are coming secondarily, they're just a victim in waiting at that point," he said.

As for quickly and efficiently disseminating this information to racegoers, Crane suggested a video which could be played repeatedly on screens around racetrack facilities--similar to the evacuation procedure videos played every live race day at Belmont Park and Saratoga.

Metal detectors at Saratoga | Horsephotos

When asked if such a video existed specific to active shooter response, Crane said, "I'm not aware of one that's been done for sporting venues."

Active shooter training for all racetrack employees, however, is still very much an imperative in today's world, said Coffey, who added that racegoers expect sporting venues to be trained for such an eventuality. "I'm a firm believer in this: if the people don't feel safe, they will not come."

Dora Delgado of the Breeders' Cup agreed.

"I think in this day and age with the kinds of things that are happening in this country, I think everyone's a little nervous about going to crowded public places," said Delgado, who broached a whole other set of headaches for racetracks: how to prevent weapons from entering the track in the first place.

"A more secure perimeter around some of these facilities would be better-there are still holes to be plugged," she said. "It's just a different environment now, and you can't expose people to that kind of risk."

AWESOME SLEW RETIRED TO OCALA STUD

Awesome Slew | Coady

Live Oak homebred Awesome Slew (Awesome Again--Slewfoundmoney, by Seeking the Gold) has been retired to Ocala Stud and will stand the 2019 season for $5,000 S&N.

"We held high expectations for this horse from the start and he delivered on the racetrack," said Live Oak Stud's General Manager Bruce Hill. "He is immensely talented, and we have always loved his family. We are thrilled to be able to stand Awesome Slew in Florida and especially excited to stand him at Ocala Stud. We have the utmost respect for the O'Farrell family and their entire staff and they do a tremendous job of developing top stallions."

Conditioned by Mark Casse, Awesome Slew won a trio of graded events in his four years on the racetrack, capturing the 2016 GIII Smarty Jones S., the 2017 GIII Commonwealth S. And the same year's GIII Ack Ack S. He also placed in three top-level events, finishing second in both the 2017 GI Forego S. and 2018 GI Carter H. and third in the 2017 GI Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile. The 5-year-old retires with a record of 23-5-5-6 and earnings of $1,223,310.

"We appreciate the opportunity to partner with Live Oak to stand this exciting stallion prospect," said Ocala Stud's David O'Farrell. "We're proud to be able to offer him to Florida's breeders."

F-T MIDLANTIC DECEMBER SALE ADDS ENTRIES

Fasig-Tipton has catalogued an additional 63 entries for its upcoming Midlantic December Mixed & Horses of Racing Age Sale, to be held Tuesday, Dec. 4 at the Maryland State Fairgrounds.

Hips 233-239 consist of broodmares, which are catalogued in an addendum to the main Midlantic December Mixed catalogue. Hips 240-295 are all horses of racing age and are catalogued together in a separate Horses of Racing Age supplemental catalogue.

"This new group of in-foal mares and 'race-ready' horses make this year's catalogue even more attractive to prospective buyers," said Midlantic Director of Sales Paget Bennett. "We are especially pleased to have catalogued more than 50 racehorses in our Horses of Racing Age supplement. Last year's inaugural H.O.R.A. supplement was a resounding success, and as a result, top racing stables are supporting it again this year. Any stable looking to replenish its racing stock ahead of the new year should take a hard look at this supplement."

TAA GRANTS $3M TO ACCREDITED ORGANIZATIONS

The Thoroughbred Aftercare Alliance will award $3,043,000 in grants to the 70 Thoroughbred aftercare organizations that currently hold TAA accreditation. "The TAA is thrilled to award more than $3 million in grants to accredited organizations this year, and we are proud to say that we have now granted more than $13.8 million to accredited aftercare since 2012," TAA president John Phillips said. "Through the TAA accreditation process, we know that these grants will be used in the most effective manner to take care of our equine athletes. The TAA's numerous Thoroughbred industry supporters--from stallion farms, sales companies, racetracks, horsemen's groups, owners, and trainers, to horseplayers and fans--have made this possible. We thank them for their continuous support and look forward to what these grants allow our accredited organizations to accomplish."

Lookin To Strike, a last out graded winner, made it two stakes scores in a row with a narrow conquest of the OBS Sprint S. in Ocala Tuesday.

Graduating second up over the Woodbine turf last September, the $210,000 OBS April buy was sixth in that track's GIII Grey S. and off the board in his next two before bouncing back in an allowance over the Tapeta in Etobicoke June 24. Seventh in the Toronto Cup S. back on turf July 28, he annexed a synthetic-track allowance Sept. 9 before prevailing by a neck in the GIII Ontario Derby Oct. 13. Tracking the pace from fourth in this non-wagering event past a :22.40 quarter, the bay dropped back two spots after :44.80 half. Picking it up while between horses turning for home, he surged late to tag pace player Star Juancho in the shadow of the wire. Lookin To Strike has an unraced juvenile half-brother by Shanghai Bobby named Dr. Albert and a yearling Gemologist half-brother. His dam was paired with Revolutionary this season. Click for the Equibase.com chart.

NORTH AMERICAN MAIDENS

IN ORDER OF PURSE:

3rd-Remington, $33,000, Msw, 11-20, 3, 4 & 5yo, 1m, 1:39.68, ft.

FINE MATE (g, 3, Denman {Aus}--D Fine Okie, by Burbank) flashed late interest to be third when unveiled in a local sprint Nov. 1 and drifted up to 63-10 off a 7-2 morning-line quote stretching out to two turns here. Showing more pace this time around, the dark bay dictated terms through splits of :23.90 and :47.99, widened when nudged along midway around the far turn and never gave any stretch bidders a chance, rolling to a 4 1/2-length score despite failing to switch leads. Jail House (Orb) closed to get second, ahead of odds-on Freeze Line (Morning Line). Lifetime Record: 2-1-0-1, $23,189. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

O/B-Richter Family Trust (OK); T-Donnie K. Von Hemel.

7th-Zia, $28,000, Msw, 11-19, 2yo, 5 1/2f, 1:03.24, ft.
ROCKTIZWAY (g, 2, Tizway--Seattle Artist, by Stormy Atlantic) showed an upbeat worktab for this debut, capped by a half-mile spin in :48 2/5 (2/42) Nov. 10 at Remington, and was made the 14-5 second choice. Away sharpest, the blinkered bay traveled in the hip pocket of a longshot pacesetter through a :21.98 quarter and hooked up with Iron Britches (Hold Me Back) to his inside as the frontrunner dropped away nearing the stretch. Confronted by odds-on firster Yes Itsa Star (Yes It's True) after turning that foe back, Rocktizway responded gamely in the final sixteenth to edge clear for a sharp two-length success. Thunderousapplause (Congrats) ran on late to take second from the beaten chalk. The winner is a half to Secret Passion (Archarcharch), SW, $111,724. He has a yearling Archarcharch half-brother named Archie Can't Sell and his dam produced a filly by Cinco Charlie this term before visiting California Chrome. Sales History: $27,000 Ylg '17 FTKOCT. Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $16,800. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

SHOWCASING ON TOP AS GOFFS WARMS UP

Showcasing's lot 405 topped Tuesday's session | Peter Mooney

by Emma Berry

KILDARE, Ireland—Whitsbury Manor Stud's Showcasing (GB) can do little wrong at present and duly provided the top lot during the second session of the Goffs November Foal Sale.

Following a subdued opening session, trade rallied significantly on Tuesday as emboldened pinhookers hit their stride to deliver an improved clearance rate of 73%. Leading the way was Grenane House Stud's first foal of the non-winner Casila (Ire) (High Chaparral {Ire}) (lot 405). Though the mare's race record is underwhelming, she is a daughter of the G2 Ribblesdale S. and G3 Park Hill S. winner Miletrian (Ire) (Marju {Ire}) and her half-sister Inca Princess (Ire) (Holy Roman Emperor {Ire}) has already produced the talented duo of G1 Criterium International winner Johannes Vermeer (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) and his full-sister, G2 Kilboy Estate S. winner Elizabeth Browning (Ire). The latter sold for 700,000gns when topping last year's Tattersalls Horses-in-Training Sale and a few weeks later her weanling full-sister also played a leading role when becoming the top lot at the Goffs Foal Sale at €1.1million.

Purchaser Brendan Holland, who will add the Showcasing colt to his yearling sales draft for next year, said, "Everyone wants a Showcasing and it's good to have a young up-and-coming sire like him. This is a grand colt and the sire has his best crop still to race for him next year, so let's hope that he continues to do what he's doing." Cont. p2

RATHBARRY STUD REWARDING CASHMANS

by Amy Lynam

Since its inception in 1935, Rathbarry Stud has been synonymous with breeding high-class horses, whose talent stand the test of time, as do their top-class stallions. The family-run operation was established by Paul Cashman, grandfather of current Rathbarry residents Paul Cashman and Niamh Woods, after purchasing 159 acres of prime land in the Blackwater Valley, just outside the town of Fermoy in County Cork.

Paul stood the farm's first stallion, Royal Pom, but it was his son, Liam, who introduced the farm's first Flat stallion in Kampala (GB) (Kalamoun {GB}). This was the beginning of Liam's reputation as a top stallion master, as Kampala became leading first-season sire, with his progeny including G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe hero, Tony Bin (Ire). The trend of standing champion first-season sires continued with Taufan and later his son, Tagula (Ire), as well as Acclamation (GB), Alzao, Barathea (Ire) and Namid (GB). Cont. p9 after Goffs coverage

There was a distinctly more buoyant feel to trade during the second day, though figures were slightly down across the board in comparison to 12 months ago. Turnover stood at €5,577,000 (-16%), the average dropped by 7% to €32,806 and the median by 2% to €26,500, but with 170 of the 230 weanlings offered finding a buyer, there was a marked improvement on the first-day clearance rate of 59%.

We can expect today's final day of Part 1 foals to lift proceedings further still. The action will then switch to fillies and broodmares for two sessions before returning to Part 2 of the foal sale on Saturday.

McDowall Reinvests

Sir Robert Ogden has enjoyed recent success on the racecourse with juvenile filly Blue Gardenia (Ire) (Mastercraftsman {Ire}), winner of the Listed Montrose Fillies' S. at Newmarket earlier this month. The David O'Meara-trained filly is a daughter of the Galileo (Ire) mare Alegra (GB) and it was another of the owner-breeder's Galileo mares, the dual winner Tiger Lilly (Ire), who had the chance to shine on Tuesday, albeit in the sales ring. Her second foal by Zoffany (Ire), sold as lot 339 through Churchtown House Stud, brought the hammer down at €115,000 in favour of pinhooker Morna McDowall.

Tiger Lilly, whose first foal is a Charm Spirit (Ire) yearling filly, is a sister to the stakes-placed winners Robin Hood (Ire) and Shada (Ire) and a granddaughter of the accomplished Kilfrush Stud matriarch Arctique Royale (GB) (Royal And Regal) McDowall, who sold a No Nay Never yearling filly for 200,000gns during the Tattersalls October Sale, also bought lot 320, a Holy Roman Emperor (Ire) half-brother to 3-year-old winner Envisaging (Ire) (Zoffany {Ire}) from Oghill House Stud for €70,000. Cont. p3

The first to breach the six-figure barrier during the second session was lot 282, a first-crop son of Tara Stud's dual Group 2-winning juvenile Estidhkaar (Ire). The buyer at €100,000 was Ballyphilip Stud's Paul McCartan, who has had significant success with Estidhkaar's sire Dark Angel (Ire) as the breeder of his top-rated sons Harry Angel (Ire) and Battaash (Ire). Goffs November Foal Sale Day 2 Cont.

Bred by Ennistown Stud and consigned by Castlebridge, the colt is out of the unraced Anabaa mare Out Of Time (Ire) who has produced four winners from her six foals, including the G3 Leopardstown Guineas Trial runner-up What Style (Ire) (Teofilo {Ire}). His extended family also includes the stallions Sholokhov (Ire), Soldier Of Fortune (Ire) and Intense Focus, as well as recent Cartier Award winner Skitter Scatter.

Tim Hyde of Camas Park Stud | Peter Mooney

Never Again

No Nay Never led the first day of trade and unsurprisingly he was responsible for several weanlings near the top of the table on day two. Camas Park Stud stepped in for a Heather Fitzpatrick-bred colt (lot 417) out of the multiple-winning Pivotal (GB) mare Court Circular (GB) at €100,000. Bred by Cheveley Park Stud, the mare is from a family that includes one of Pivotal's best race-fillies, the dual Group 1 winner Peeress (GB).

A little later, Brittas House Stud struck lucky with a first foal of the unraced Galileo mare Hot Legs (Ire) who was bought for €90,000. Bred by Michelle Collins, the colt was the selection of American agent Kim Valerio and will be exported to the US.

On the back of a season which has seen him crowned champion freshman sire in Europe, with Group 1 winner Ten Sovereigns (Ire) to his credit, No Nay Never is set to have his fee quadrupled in 2019 to €100,000.

Awtaad Support Grows

Among the new stallions with first foals on offer this winter, a name who appears to be on many pinhookers' lists as the Goffs sale continues is Derrinstown Stud's Irish 2000 Guineas winner Awtaad (Ire). The son of the late Cape Cross (Ire) has 30 foals catalogued this week and the 10 to have sold so far have returned an average of €48,300 from his starting stud fee of €15,000.

Eddie and Wendy O'Leary of Lynn Lodge Stud were among those to have supported him both at stud and in the ring, and they added a colt from the Irish National Stud (lot 508) to their list of purchases at €95,000.

"He was the standout by the sire in the sale," said Wendy O'Leary, "And we're very happy with what we've seen as we have a couple of mares in foal to him."

The colt is the first foal of the 5-year-old Kitten's Joy mare Love Street, a winner in France for Jean-Claude Rouget before being bought by the Irish National Stud for 70,000gns last December when carrying to Awtaad.

Jamie Railton is another new member of the Awtaad fan club and several lots earlier he had gone to €85,000 for a colt out of the listed winner Kanes Pass (Ire) (Clodovil {Ire}). Lot 488, who was bred by Elizabeth Cosgrove and consigned by Rathasker Stud, was described by Railton as a "stylish individual" who will be coming back to the yearling sales.

He added, "These are early days and we are all trying to get a handle on these new stallions but Awtaad is one that's caught my eye."

Kodiac Never Far Away

Kodiac (GB) is represented by a growing number of sons at stud—among them Prince Of Lir (Ire), Coulsty (Ire) and Kodi Bear (Ire) all have first foals for sale this week. Cont. p6

Their father is never far away when it comes to leading returns at the foal sales and lot 312 brought a handsome return for breeder John Fielding. The Kodiac (GB) filly was sold through Donnellys Well to Gaelic Bloodstock for €82,000 just hours before her 2-year-old half-brother Water's Edge (Ire) (Footstepsinthesand {GB}) made his debut at Lingfield for James Tate and Saeed Manana.

Fielding also bred their dam, Sommer Queen (Ire), a Thousand Words (GB) half-sister to German Group 1 winner and Deutsches Derby runner-up Ransom O'War (Red Ransom).

Two lots later another filly, this one a daughter of top-class sprinter Starspangledbanner (Aus) (lot 314) was knocked down for €80,000 to Frank Fahy's Gerrardstown House Stud.

Paul Shanahan & MV Magnier | Peter Mooney

The first foal of the unraced Sparkling (Ire) (Dark Angel {Ire}), a sister to listed Marygate S. winner Delizia (Ire), was bred by Fiona Doggett and offered on her behalf by Ballinahow Stud.

There was confusion surrounding the sale of a Camelot (GB) filly late out of seven-time winner Miss Macnamara (Ire) (Dylan Thomas {Ire}) in the session for €120,000. Lot 532 was initially knocked down to Noel Hayes, was then marked as a vendor buyback before being reassigned to Hayes's Sunday Racing.

Consigned by Ballinahow Stud
Purchased by Gerrardstown House Stud

Bought for just 5,500gns as an unraced 2-year-old out of the Tim Easterby stable two years ago by BBA Ireland, Sparkling (Ire) (Dark Angel {Ire}) produced a bumper return here for breeder Fiona Doggett. The grey filly foal, Sparkling's first produce, was bred from a €15,000 nomination fee and will join Frank and Donie Fahey's Gerrardstown House Stud.

Consigned by Ballyogue Stud
Purchased by Ballyphilip Stud

Originally a 300,000gns yearling purchase by Shadwell, Zaaqya (Ire) (Nayef) was bought by John Lenihan for €26,000 at the November Mare Sale in Goffs in 2014, carrying to Cape Cross (Ire). Lenihan got €58,000 when he offered the resulting Cape Cross filly as a yearling in 2016, €55,000 for a yearling filly by Poet's Voice (GB) at the Sportsman's Sale last month and to get €68,000 for this Dandy Man colt bred off a €10,000 nomination was the icing on the cake.

473 c No Nay Never Hot Legs (Ire) 90,000
Consigned by Brittas House Stud
Purchased by Kim Valerio

BBA Ireland signed for Hot Legs at Goffs 12 months ago for €45,000. She was in foal to No Nay Never at the time and that investment proved gilt edged for this foal's breeder Michelle Collins. The €90,000 paid by Kim Valerio for the colt on Tuesday also covered the cost of re-covering the mare with No Nay Never at a €25,000 fee and with the stallion set to stand for €100,000 in 2019 connections appear to be well ahead of the curve.

A separate farm, Glenview Stud, was set up nearby to stand the Cashmans' National Hunt stallions, with whom they have also had notable success.

Liam sadly passed away in 2010, but his wife, Catherine, along with her son Paul and daughter Niamh, ensures his legacy continues, both in standing top-class stallions and offering a genuine service in an increasingly commercial bloodstock world. A reminder of the farm's deep-rooted connection to the interests of the industry was the family's decision not to increase any of the stallions' fees for 2019, as many breeders lament the constant rise in costs of breeding. Not even Acclamation, whose son Expert Eye (GB) thrillingly captured last month's GI Breeders' Cup Mile, will exceed his 2018 fee of €40,000.

Catherine and Paul Cashman | Racing Post

When quizzed on the temptation to do otherwise, Catherine Cashman explains, "Of course, we were thrilled with Expert Eye's win in the Breeders' Cup Mile. He is just one of 29 stakes performers by Acclamation in the 2017-2018 seasons. This added to the record-breaking sale of Marsha (Ire) for 6 million gns at Tattersalls last December, but we felt that taking into account the overall tone of the current market, it was in everyone's interest not to increase his fee."

Listening to breeders and mare owners has always been key to Rathbarry's success. Indeed, back in the 1990s, the Cashmans were ahead of the curve with the current hot topic of limiting stallions books, though the reception was not quite as they'd hoped.

"This debate [on limiting stallion books] has been ongoing since I started in the early 1970s," says Catherine, "We have a large poster from 1993 in our office, and at the bottom it states that all Rathbarry stallions would be limited to a book of 60 mares. After a couple of years, we felt this move wasn't appreciated. We have never covered large books with our Flat stallions. Acclamation's books have averaged 120 mares each season." Cont. p10

Many in the bloodstock world have a tendency to point fingers, be it towards sales companies or stallion masters. The views of Catherine Cashman, who has worked throughout the growing numbers of foals, lead one to think that stallion owners are stuck between a rock and a hard place.

She says, "I believe it is up to breeders and mare owners to police the mares they are breeding from, because at the end of the day, it is hard for stallion owners to say no, unless there is an agreement across the board. The way the game has gone, it has become a numbers game to a certain extent, especially for first-season sires. At the same time, if a stallion does not sire a certain number of quality horses, the industry will see through it."

Tough judgement of stallion performance is not, however, the only challenge facing stallion farms these days, as Catherine explains, "It is very difficult for smaller operations to purchase their choice of future stallion. With many racehorses purchased very early in their careers, it means there is intense competition for the remaining pool of potential stallions."

Rathbarry did, however, secure a new addition to its ranks this year in James Garfield (Ire), a son of Exceed And Excel (Aus) and member of the Mill Reef S. honour roll that also includes Harry Angel (Ire), Ribchester (Ire), Dark Angel (Ire) and Rathbarry's own Moohaajim (Ire).

Catherine and Liam Cashman at Royal Ascot in 2008 | Racingfotos.com

Explaining the appeal of their latest recruit, who will begin his stallion career at €7,000, Catherine says, "Firstly, he was a very tough and genuine racehorse. He broke the track record when winning the G2 Mill Reef S. and trained on to win a Group 3 as a 3-year-old, beating Expert Eye. He was only just touched off by Polydream (Ire) in the G1 Prix Maurice de Gheest in August, and he also had four Group 1 winners behind him that day. Secondly, he boasts a pedigree rich in stallion potential: he's by an increasingly influential shuttler and sire of sires in Exceed And Excel, and also comes from the family of Invincible Spirit (Ire) and Kodiac (GB)."

The next generation of Rathbarry Stud stallions have their introduction this winter, as the first foals by Ajaya (GB) and Kodi Bear (Ire) enter the market. "The feedback from breeders, and indeed from our own foals, has been a generally very positive consensus. Both stallions are stamping their stock. Ajaya is siring correct, sharp, sprinter types, while the Kodi Bear foals are handsome, strong and appealing individuals," says Catherine.

Rathbarry Stud is not just known as a top-class stallion farm, but as talented breeders in their own right, their greatest graduate being champion filly Finsceal Beo (Ire) (Mr. Greeley). The story of her making began far from Fermoy, though, as Catherine recalls, "Liam decided we should look further afield to introduce new bloodlines to our broodmare band. We have always been friendly with John Tyrell of BBA Ireland and Liam entrusted him to buy us a mare at Keeneland. Luckily, Musical Treat (Ire) was on the shortlist John sent to us, and though we hadn't heard much about Mr. Greeley at the time, we bought her carrying a filly by him--Finsceal Beo."

The Cashmans, unsurprisingly, continue to source broodmares with success in America, and as Catherine says, "When you're lucky once, it makes sense to return."

The relationship with BBA Ireland agent John Tyrell also continues, as he explains, "Rathbarry and I go back a long, long way. My first notable purchase for them was Namid as a stallion in 2000 and it's gone on from there. I bought the dam of Finsceal Beo for them and it was one of those magical things. She made €340,000 at Goffs as a yearling, became champion 2-year-old filly the following year and went on to win both the Irish and English 2000 Guineas." Cont. p11

He added, “She was then just touched off in the French Guineas, sadly missing an entry in the record books. I've bought a mare for Rathbarry at Keeneland November almost every year since and most have been a success, at least from a financial or business point of view."

He continues, "From the time of Liam Cashman, the farm has had a wonderful approach and he was an exceptional horseman, both of which he has passed on to his children. Not only is Rathbarry a top-quality farm, but they have also established a top-class stallion roster and excellent client base. The important aspect of Rathbarry is not only do their horses achieve success in the sales ring, but also on the racetrack, which has seen them build great trust and friendship with the buying community. People like to see a farm produce sound, talented racehorses and Rathbarry continues to do this year in, year out. The Cashman family are very hard-working and popular, and they deserve all the success."

Behind every good stud farm, there is always a hard-working team and though, perhaps lucky to have a whole family involved, Catherine Cashman admits that finding staff is an ongoing challenge facing stud farms.

"As well as sourcing stallions, it is becoming increasingly difficult to source experienced and dedicated staff," she says. "When myself and Liam started in the 1970s and 80s, there were many farmers' sons in Ireland, who would have experience in the breeding or racing industries by owning a point-to-pointer, or a mare of their own at home. They understood the game. Whereas now, the intensification of farming, both in dairy and tillage, has seen times change and less people from farming backgrounds are venturing into the equine industry."

Catherine, like all the Cashman family, is much keener to discuss positives and when asked on the greatest improvement since she joined Rathbarry in the 1970s, she is quick to nominate one, "Ultra-sound scanning," she says without hesitation. "It is responsible for improved detection of breeding issues in mares and in the health of young foals, and has greatly reduced time and money spent by breeders and stallion farms alike. Before ultra-sound scanning, the mare had to be brought to the stallion farm and left for a week, or more, in a strange environment, which comes with risks. Even at the best farms, a young foal can pick up anything, so the risk of this has been greatly reduced. The majority of mares visiting our stallions are now walk-ins, which works very well for both the mare and stallion owners."

TOO DARN HOT WILL STAND UNDER DARLEY BANNER UPON RETIREMENT

Too Darn Hot | Racingfotos.com

Cartier champion juvenile colt Too Darn Hot (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}--Dar Re Mi {GB}, by Singspiel {Ire}) will stand at Dalham Hall Stud in Newmarket at the conclusion of his racing career after an agreement was reached between Lord and Lady Lloyd-Webbers’ Watership Down Stud and Godolphin, Darley announced on Tuesday. Unbeaten in four starts for trainer John Gosden, the ‘TDN Rising Star’ rattled off group victories in the Sept. 1 G3 Solario S. at Sandown, Sept. 15 G2 Champagne S. at Doncaster and in the Oct. 13 G1 Darley Dewhurst S. in October after breaking his maiden by seven lengths on debut at Sandown on Aug. 9. Cont. p12

GOFFS UK RELEASES DECEMBER SALE CATALOGUE

The catalogue for the inaugural Goffs UK December Sale at Doncaster, consisting of 212 Flat foals, mares and horses-in-training, is now online. Scheduled for 10 a.m. local time on Dec. 7, 101 horses-in-training will be followed by 70 Flat foals and 39 Flat mares. Supplementary entries are still being taken and among the current highlights is Group 3 winner Hakam (War Front) (lot 59) consigned by Mick Appleby Racing; and listed winners Clinet (Ire) (Docksider) (lot 225), in foal to Cable Bay (Ire) from the Park Farm draft; and Worwall Grange's Halicardia (GB) (Halling) (lot 234), carrying to Peace Envoy (Fr).

"With the increasing foal crop and the growing pressure at the traditional outlets for Flat foals, breeders have been requesting another sale in which to offer their stock and this new December Sale has been added to fulfil that request," said Goffs UK Managing Director Tony Williams. "We have assembled a good catalogue of foals, mares and horses-in-training for the sale's debut and we look forward to welcoming an international audience to Doncaster for our last 2018 sale on 7 Dec."

TATTERSALLS TO HOST CHARITY AUCTION

A charity auction of stallion nominations, among them first-season sires and MG1SWs Cracksman (GB) (Frankel {GB}) at Darley's Dalham Hall Stud and Coolmore Stud's Saxon Warrior (Jpn) (Deep Impact {Jpn}), will take place in the sales ring at Tattersalls the evening of Dec. 2, the day before the start of the Tattersalls December Mare Sale. All proceeds from the auction will go to Retraining of Racehorses (RoR), British racing's own charity for the welfare of retired racehorses. The champagne reception, which consists of nine nominations, begins at 4:30 p.m. and will be hosted by Nick Luck, while Chairman of Tattersalls, Edmond Mahony will conduct the beginning at 5 p.m. auction. Other stallion nominations include Juddmonte's Oasis Dream (GB) (Green Desert), Newsell Park's Nathaniel (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), Qatar Racing's first-season sire and G1SW Lightning Spear (GB) (Pivotal {GB}) who stands at Tweenhills, and Cheveley Park's Group 1 foursome of Garswood (GB) (Dutch Art {GB}), Mayson (GB) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}), Twilight Son (GB) (Kyllachy {GB}), and Unfortunately (Ire) (Society Rock {Ire}).

"We are incredibly grateful to the stud farms who have shown their support for the charity by donating nominations to stallions," said Di Arbuthnot, Chief Executive of RoR. "Thanks to their generosity, the quality of stallions on offer is remarkable and I have no doubt that the nine lots being auctioned will be of great interest to breeders, with the added bonus that their investment goes to a good cause. Special thanks must go to Edmond Mahony and the Board of Tattersalls for their support and for hosting the event on the eve of one of the biggest sales in Europe."

NATIONAL ARMY MUSEUM TO DISPLAY A COLLECTION OF MUNNINGS PAINTINGS

From Nov. 30-Mar. 3, the National Army Museum will display some of the paintings by Sir Alfred Munnings in an exhibit titled Alfred Munnings: War Artist, 1918. Originally developed by the Canadian War Museum in partnership with The Munnings Art Museum and sponsored by The Beaverbrook Canadian Foundation, the exhibition will display over 40 paintings created during the final years of the First World War. Among the themes on display are equine subjects, portraiture and pastoral landscapes. The Munnings exhibit, which is locally supported by Juddmonte, is supplemented with works from the National Army Museum's own collection relating to General Jack Seely, who commanded the Canadian Cavalry Brigade throughout much of the war. Munnings was commissioned by the Canadian War Memorials Fund, created by Lord Beaverbrook, as an official war artist to capture the fighting front and the crucial logistical work behind the lines. The exhibition will be accompanied by the book Alfred Munnings: Memory, The War Horse and the Canadians in 1918, edited by Dr. Jonathan Black and a public programme at the National Army Museum.

"It is a pleasure to share works by Alfred Munnings with an international audience," said Mark O'Neill, President and CEO of the Canadian War Museum and Canadian Museum of History. "His paintings of First World War scenes--from the men and horses who served in wartime, to forests and battlefields--are an evocative reflection not only of Canada's military history, but the development of one of England's best-known artists."

MARTALINE YEARLING KING AT ARQANA

The second of three days of selling at the Arqana Autumn Sale featured a Martaline (GB) yearling colt, who proved the dearest lot on the day when selling to Frederic Sauque. Lot 307, consigned by Jean-Pierre and Guillaume Garcon's Haras de l'Hotellerie, brought a final bid of €160,000 to top the session. The April-born yearling is a half-brother to Grade 2 winner Roi Mage (Fr) (Poliglote {GB}).

Also breaking into six figures was lot 312, a son of Doctor Dino (Fr) out of Sandside (Fr) (Marchand de Sable from the Haras de la Haie Neuve draft. Already named Guillaume (Fr), the yearling was knocked down to Saubouas Bloodstock for €125,000 and is well related, as he is a full to the Grade 1 winner Sceau Royal (Fr). At the close of Tuesday's session the clearance rate for the National Hunt yearlings settled at 63%, with an average of €23,954, roughly even with the 2017 renewal.

Leading the 2-year-old store category was lot 328, who went the way of Guy Petit for €40,000 from the consignment of Haras du Lieu des Champs. Overall, 123 lots sold Tuesday for a clearance rate of 63.4%. The average dropped 8.4% to €22,228, while the median remained steady at €16,000. The aggregate on the day was €2,734,000.

The final day features Flat yearlings beginning at 11 a.m. local time on Wednesday.

Khalid Abdullah's Headman (GB) (Kingman {GB}) earned 'TDN Rising Star' status in his Nov. 1 debut going a shade over one mile at Newcastle and is hit with a seven-pound impost dropping to seven furlongs for this return. His rivals include Sheikh Ahmed bin Rashid Al Maktoum's Elamirr (Ire) (Exceed and Excel {Aus}), who is a Roger Varian-trained son of G1 1000 Guineas victress Ameerat (GB) (Mark of Esteem {Ire}); and Kirsten Rausing's Alaminta (GB) (Archipenko), a homebred granddaughter of dual G1 Champion S. heroine Alborada (GB) (Alzao), from the Marcus Tregoning stable.

DAWAAM (c, 2, Kitten's Joy--Nereid {GISW-US, $303,800}, by Rock Hard Ten) was quickly into stride for an initial advantage before accepting a tow and settling second. Regaining command off the home turn, the 11-2 quickened in impressive fashion to go clear approaching the final furlong and kept on strongly in the closing stages to comfortably hold the late rush of Khuzaam (Kitten's Joy) by 1 1/4 lengths. "That was a very taking debut," said trainer Owen Burrows.

"He's a big, raw horse and has just taken his time. His work has been nice and he was just ready to have a run today. I thought he was professional. He jumped and travelled good, quickened up and put the race to bed nicely. Sheikh Hamdan had a nice horse finish second. They are both nice horses." Looking to the future, Burrows said, "He's obviously got a Derby entry, but that was done a long time ago by Shadwell themselves. I always had in my head he'd be a mile-and-a-quarter horse next year, but interestingly Jim [Crowley] said he felt like he had speed and he wouldn't be in any rush and we should start him back at a mile next year. We'll have a look, see how he is in the spring and take it from there." Kin to this term's stakes-winning GIII Indiana Oaks runner-up Figarella's Queen (Medaglia d'Oro), the bay is the third foal and winner out of GI American Oaks dead-heater Nereid (Rock Hard Ten). His dam is a half-sister to stakes-winning GI Belmont Oaks Invitational runner-up Sea Queen (Lemon Drop Kid) and has also produced a yearling colt by Honor Code and a colt foal by Speightstown. Denied by a head in a 7 1/2-furlong newcomers' heat in his Oct. 2 debut at Maisons-Laffitte, Amilcar gained compensation when prevailing by a nose over course and distance here last time and stepped forward once again to claim a career high in this black-type bow. Breaking well from the outside gate to lead, the bay held sway throughout and maintained a high tempo under mild urging inside the final quarter mile to win with plenty in hand.

Amilcar is one of five winners and the first stakes scorer out of Listed Prix de la Cochere victress Drosia (Ire) (King's best), herself the leading performer produced by Listed Prix Joubert runner-up Eriza (GB) (Distant Relative {Ire}), who in turn is a half-sister to the granddam of G1 Prix de l'Abbaye placegetter Mar Adentro (Fr) (Marju {Ire}). LIM'S CRUISER IMPRESSES IN RETURN, HONG KONG AWAITS by Alan Carasso

Lim Stable's Lim's Cruiser (Aus) (Casino Prince {Aus}), the reigning champion sprinter in Singapore, took a major step towards an appearance in the G1 Longines Hong Kong Sprint at Sha Tin Dec. 9 with a dominating first-up victory in a Kranji Stakes 'A' Tuesday evening.

Making his first start since posting a 1 1/2-length victory in the S$1-million Lion City Cup over this course and distance May 26, the Stephen Gray-trainee was resuming here as the $15 (2-1) second choice in the wagering behind $8 (3-5) favourite Zac Kasa (Aus) (Reset {Aus}), who was in receipt of five pounds from his market rival. Drawn gate one, Lim's Cruiser rode the rails into a midfield position as the field raced into the final three furlongs. Making ominous progress in hand leaving the 400m mark, the two-time Magic Millions sales graduate was short of room as he went for a run between pacesetting Faaltless (NZ) (Faltaat) and Zac Kasa shortly thereafter, but sliced through once he saw daylight and raced away to score by 2 1/2 lengths (video).

"He bullocked his way through the gap and he showed he was right on track after coming off a long layoff," said racing manager Craig Geehman, deputising for Gray, who is at the sales in New Zealand. "Lim's Cruiser will be much better off from this run tonight. It looks like he will be getting there [Hong Kong] at his best form, if he makes it."

While no horse from Singapore has ever won the Sprint, the legendary Rocket Man (Aus) (Viscount {Aus}) was just touched off by South Africa's J J the Jet Plane (SAf) (Jet Master {SAf}) in the 2010 renewal.

SEA THE STARS SHINING IN BOTH HEMISPHERES

Sea The Stars | The Aga Khan Studs

by John Berry

One of the highlights of Lexus Melbourne Cup Day (aside, of course, from the Cup itself) was the fact that Irish-based stallion Sea The Stars (Ire) (Cape Cross {Ire}) sired a double on the card at Flemington. His two sons successful there were Fifty Stars (Ire) and Shraaoh (Ire). The former has now followed up in the G3 Sandown S. over 1500m to take his record to six wins and two seconds from only eight starts, establishing himself as one of the most promising young horses in the land in the process.

Fifty Stars is a relative rarity among European imports to Australia in that he was bought for export as a yearling rather than as an older horse who had already raced (such as Shraaoh, a winner in England for both Sir Michael Stoute and Harry Fry before joining Chris Waller's team).

Offered by his breeder Airlie Stud in Book Two of the Tattersalls October Yearling Sale in 2016, Fifty Stars was bought for 110,000 guineas by John Foote, whose place in history is secure as the man who bought Tugela (Riverman) for 60,000 guineas on behalf of Tony Santic at the 1998 December Sale when she was carrying subsequent three-time Melbourne Cup winner Makybe Diva (GB) (Desert King {Ire}). Obviously, as he is a February foal, patience was required as Fifty Stars was never likely to be a successful 2-year-old or 3-year-old in Australia; but it has turned out that he has come good as quickly as his owner Gerry Ryan could have hoped.

Darren Weir would not have been too bemused when Fifty Stars arrived in his stable as he already had one very good son of Sea The Stars. Tall Ship (Ire) was initially trained for his breeder Lady Rothschild by Sir Michael Stoute, from whose stable he was sold as a 3-year-old maiden at the Tattersalls July Sale in 2014 for 32,000 guineas to Sussex trainer Gary Moore, whose son Ryan had ridden the horse in his first three races. Tall Ship won his first two starts for Gary Moore's stable, at Glorious Goodwood three weeks after his arrival and then again at the same track three weeks later. He did not run again for Moore, but was instead sold privately to OTI, for whom he headed Down Under. Trained for an OTI syndicate by Weir, Tall Ship has amassed an admirable record, his five wins in Victoria including the Warrnambool, Werribee, Terang and Stawell Cups.

Sea The Stars's burgeoning success and popularity in Australia comes at a time when his profile continues to rise in Europe and elsewhere. When he landed his history-making six-month run of one Group 1 victory per month in 2009, starting with the G1 2000 Guineas and then the G1 Derby and ending with the G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe, he became the fourth Group 1 winner produced by his Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe-winning dam Urban Sea (Miswaki). Of the previous three, 2001 Derby winner Galileo (Ire) (Sadler's Wells) clearly stood out, his splendid racing record augmented by the fact that he was already dominating the stallions' standings in Europe.

The family has continued to get more and more distinguished since then. The following year another Classic winner from the family, the 2000 G1 2000 Guineas hero King's Best (Kingmambo) recorded the remarkable feat of siring the Derby winner in both Great Britain and Japan, courtesy of Workforce (GB) and Eishin Flash (Jpn). Cont. p2

Tall Ship | TDN AusNZ

This year's landmarks for the family include both the G1 Derby (the winner of which, Masar (Ire) (New Approach {Ire}), has Urban Sea as his fourth dam as well as being by a son of Galileo) and the G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe in which all of the first 10 horses home bar ninth-placed Study Of Man (Ire) (Deep Impact {Jpn}) have Urban Sea in their pedigrees via either Galileo or Sea The Stars.

Sea The Stars's winners this year include both G1 Irish Oaks and G1 Yorkshire Oaks heroine and 'Arc' runner-up Sea Of Class (Ire) and G1 Ascot Gold Cup and G1 Goodwood Cup hero Stradivarius (Ire), the Cartier Stayer of the Year. These horses have taken Sea The Stars's tally of individual Group 1 winners to nine and his tally of Group 1 victories to 14. Sea Of Class ranks as his fourth Classic winner, following his first-crop G1 Oaks-winning daughter Taghrooda (GB), his first crop G1 Deutsches Derby-winning son Sea The Moon (Ger) and his third-crop G1 Derby and G1 Irish Derby-winning son Harzand (Ire). Furthermore, if the results of Sea The Moon's first 2-year-olds in 2018 are anything to go by, Sea The Stars is now heading for glory as a sire of sires as well as a sire of racehorses.

With the on-going success of Sea The Stars's progeny in Australia, his stock look likely to be as sought after by Australian owners and trainers as they are by their counterparts in Europe. John Foote bought another Sea The Stars yearling at the Tattersalls October Yearling Sale this year, a colt out of Konigstocher (Ger) (Dai Jin {GB}) for 85,000 guineas. Brad Spicer had already struck for a Sea The Stars yearling earlier in the sale, having bought a colt out of Bright Halo (Ire) (Bigstone {Ire}) for 125,000 guineas.

One would hope that these two Sea The Stars youngsters will be contesting big races in Australia from the second half of 2020 onwards.

When they do, they may find themselves up against an interesting 2-year-old who made his debut in England at Wolverhampton on Saturday night: the OTI-owned, Ed Dunlop-trained Achaeus (Ger) who is a half-brother to 2016 G1 Melbourne Cup hero Almandin (Ger) (Monsun {Ger}). If they do, they will have more in common with him than merely being European-bred: Achaeus's sire Tertullian (Miswaki) is a son of Urban Sea's stakes-placed half-sister Turbaine (Trempolino).
