third-place finisher and subsequent runaway Juvenile hero Texas Red (Afleet Alex) in the FrontRunner, his first attempt around two turns and on dirt. Trained by Peter Miller, Calculator fired a best-of-32 six-furlong bullet in 1:11 3/5 at Santa Anita Jan. 4. Cont. p3

TEAM DEDOMENICO LOOKING TO SHARE SOME OF ITS 'LUCK' by Brian DiDonato

While powerhouse owner Dr. Mark Dedomenico is certainly not getting out of the Thoroughbred business, his operation will sell about a half dozen mares at this coming week's Keeneland January Horses of All Ages Sale in an effort to maintain a focus on racing rather than breeding. Among the Dedomenico consignment, which is being handled by John Sikura's Hill 'n' Dale Sales Agency, is 2010 champion 3-year-old filly Blind Luck (Pollard's Vision), who sells Monday as hip 207. Cont. p8

FASTNET FILLY GOLDEN DOWN UNDER

By Kelsey Riley

The sale of an A$1.05 million filly by champion sire Fastnet Rock (Aus) to the China Horse Club late in the session highlighted another strong day of trade during the third session of the Magic Millions Gold Coast Yearling Sale yesterday.

Key figures continued to climb on those posted 12 months ago. Over three days 451 yearlings have changed hands for A$75,102,500 (US$60,695,959), up from A$63,447,500 for 455 sold at this time last year. The average climbed 19.4% to A$166,524 (US$134,580), while the median rose 12.5% to A$135,000 (US$109,104). The buyback rate sits at 16.9% compared to 12% last year. Cont. p14

Hero Ten All (Rock Hard Ten), second behind unbeaten GI Los Alamitos Futurity winner and TDN Rising Star Dortmund (Big Brown) in his 6 1/2-furlong debut here Nov. 2, successfully stretched to a mile for trainer Jeff Mullins with a come-from-behind victory at Los Al Dec. 7. Rockinatten (High Cotton) blew the doors off at third asking for owner Niall Brennan and trainer Ralph Nicks with an 8 3/4-length tally at Gulfstream West Oct. 26. Purchased privately since, the bay stretches to two turns in his first attempt for trainer Doug O'Neill. "[O'Neill assistant] Steve Rothblum and a couple of our owners made the connection for us," said Leandro Mora, assistant to O'Neill, of the private purchase of Rockinatten. "Hopefully, we can put the horse in the major leagues. The timing is right to try and see if we have another I'll Have Another (Flower Alley) or Goldencents (Into Mischief)." Unblunted (Sharp Humor) failed to build off his smart maiden here Oct. 18 with a disappointing fifth as the even-money favorite over Golden Gate's Tapeta in the Dec. 6 Gold Rush S. "He was wide into the first turn, wide up the backside and things never panned out like we hoped," trainer Michael McCarthy said. "We'll draw a line through it and start again here Saturday." Donegal Racing's Rock Shandy (Lemon Drop Kid), a close third in the grassy GIII Cecil B. DeMille S. at Del Mar Nov. 30, makes his first start on dirt in this one. Field p4

HARD TO KNOCK SAN PASQUAL FAVE

Pegram, Watson and Weitman's Hoppertunity (Any Given Saturday) kicks off his 4-year-old campaign in Saturday's GII San Pasqual S. at Santa Anita. The half-brother to MGSW Executiveprivilege (First Samurai), a heart-breaking defection with a foot issue two days before the GI Kentucky Derby, returned from the shelf with a smart second-place finish in a seven-furlong optional claimer here Oct. 29, then secured a very game decision in Churchill's GI Clark H. last time Nov. 28. Last term's GII Rebel S. winner and GI Santa Anita Derby runner-up worked six furlongs in 1:12 3/5 at Santa Anita Jan. 4. Don Alberto Stable's Bronzo (Chi) (Fusaichi Pegasus) held his own with a decent fourth while making his U.S. debut for trainer Jorge Inda in the GI Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile Oct. 31. The G1 Gran Premio Hipodromo Chile hero makes his first start for Hall of Famer Neil Drysdale, who also, of course, campaigned his GI Kentucky Derby-winning sire. "He ran very well in the Breeders' Cup, I thought," Drysdale said. "The track was quite speed conducive. Goldencents set those crazy fractions and kept on going. The distance should help him. I think the further he goes, the better. He probably wants a mile and quarter. He's doing well, but this might be a bit short for him." Flaxman Holdings' Quadrivium (Henrythenavigator) has been perfect in two stateside dirt attempts since joining the Graham Motion barn and adding Lasix. The bay followed a sloppy Keeneland allowance win Oct. 16 with an optional claiming tally at Laurel Nov. 14. Majestic Harbor (Rockport Harbor), upsetter of last June's GI Gold Cup at Santa Anita, looks to get back on track after a trio of off-the-board finishes, including a 13th-place finish in the GI Breeders' Cup Classic last time Nov. 1.

'ZA' SEEKS NEW TRAINER'S 'APPROVAL'

Previously trained by Christophe Clement, the now 7-year-old MGSW Za Approval (Ghostzapper) makes his first start for new trainer Mark Casse today in the GII Fort Lauderdale H., contested at 1 1/16 miles over the Gulfstream Park turf course. Fifth after a troubled trip in Woodbine's GII Nijinsky S. July 19, the Live Oak Plantation homebred returned to his winning ways in Belmont's Real Courage S. Sept. 7 and was a close second last time in Del Mar's GII Seabiscuit H. Nov. 28. Boasting a record of

Za Approval
A Coglianese

6-3-2-0 over this turf course, the gray gelding has fired a series of bullets in preparation for this seasonal debut, most recently breezing a best-of-29 half-mile in :49 flat over the Palm Meadows turf course Jan. 5. Mshawish (Medaglia d'Oro) hopes to provide Al Shaqab Racing with their first graded stakes victory on American soil. Winner of the G2 Zabeel Mile last term, the Todd Pletcher pupil was sixth in his U.S. debut in Monmouth's GIII Oceanport S. July 27 and crossed the wire first next out in a Saratoga optional claimer Aug. 30, but was disqualified and placed third for interference. Cont. p6

Third next time in Belmont's GIII Knickerbocker S. Oct. 11, the dark bay scored the first U.S. black-type win for his owners in this venue's 7 1/2-panel El Prado S. Dec. 13. Mshawish also displays a very speedy worktab in Florida, most recently working a best-of-32 half-mile in :47 2/5 over the Palm Beach Downs main track Jan. 4. "He's always trained well; we just kind of had to fine-tune him a little bit in terms of how he's ridden," Pletcher said. "He's a European horse that likes to be covered up a bit. He can get a little headstrong when he doesn't get covered up, but we're hoping for a similar setup to what we got last time. I think Javier has gotten to know him a little bit now, so hopefully we can build off that." Also exiting the El Prado is sixth-place finisher Howe Great (Hat Trick {Jpn}) and seventh-place finisher Fredericksburg (Speightstown). Winner of last term's GI Gulfstream Park Turf H., Crossed Sabres Farm's Lochte (Medaglia d'Oro) captured the course-and-distance The Vid S. Sept. 13 and was second in a Gulfstream Park West allowance next out Oct. 12. The Marcus Vitali trainee was fourth last time there in the turf 1 1/8-mile GIII Tropical Turf H. Nov. 22. "He's a horse for the course," Vitali said. "He loves Gulfstream. He loves firm courses. If he likes the course, you're going to see the real Lochte. If he doesn't like it, he won't try." Kieran McLaughlin saddles another interesting contender in Shadwell Stable's Mutin (Fr) (Kentucky Dynamite). The bay opened his account with four straight wins in France in 2012 and 2013, and failed to fire in his next four starts in France and Meydan for trainers Jean-Claude Rouget and Michael de Kock, respectively. The 5-year-old captured his American debut for the McLaughlin barn last time in a turf 1 1/16-mile optional claimer at Aqueduct Nov. 9.

LEA RETURNS TO DEFEND HAL'S HOPE TITLE

Adele Dilschneider and Claiborne Farm's Lea (First Samurai) resurfaces for the first time since a track record-breaking win in last February's GI Donn H. in today's GIII Hal's Hope S. at Gulfstream. A Grade III winner on the turf in 2012 for Al Stall, Jr. and twice Grade II-placed the following season, the homebred was transferred to Bill Mott for a 2014 campaign and kicked things off promisingly with a 3 1/4-length success in this race. The chestnut developed a fever in April, however, and failed to resurface for the rest of the season after his auspicious Donn performance. "It kind of lingered a little longer than we had hoped, and just nothing went smoothly when we were coming back," Mott said of Lea's illness. "We just decided to give him extra time and sort of start all over. We could have run him late last fall in New York and we just opted not to do it and give him the time." The Hall of Fame trainer added, "He seems to be doing well, but he's coming off a long layoff and coming into a stakes race. Obviously, it'll be a competitive spot I'm sure. We're just looking to see how he does and hoping he makes a good showing coming off a layoff." Cont. p7

Dec. 13. The Marcus Vitali pupil annexed the GII Monmouth Cup over next-out GIII Ack Ack H. winner Bradester (Lion Heart) in July before finishing third in the GIII Philip H. Iselin S. in August. He took a track-and-trip allowance in the slop Sept. 11, and added the Eight Miles West S. at Gulfstream Park West a month later. "He seemed to get good and he's stayed good, which is a rarity in this business. They're like flowers, you know?" Vitali said. "This particular horse is a big, strong horse and he loves to train. Every day he's getting stronger and stronger. I think he was late to develop and he's finally come into himself. I just see good things for Valid on the horizon if he stays healthy." Robsham Stables homebred Golden Lad (Medaglia d'Oro) capped a four-race win streak with a 6 3/4-length romp in Oaklawn's GIII Razorback H. Mar. 15, but was fifth in a roughly run renewal of the GII Oaklawn H. Apr. 12 and eighth in the GIII Pimlico Special S. May 16. "He just kind of flattened out in the Pimlico Special and seemed a little jammed up coming out of it, so we decided to stop on him and give him a little break," explained trainer Todd Pletcher. "He seems to have come back really well. He's proven on his day he's capable of running big races and we like the way he's training, so it looks like a good place to get his season started."

KEENELAND JANUARY

Jan. 12 - 15
10 a.m.

"It's not a complete dispersal or anything, but we want to be on the racing end of it more than we do on the breeding side," explained Mike Puhich, trainer and director of horse operations at Dedomenico's Pegasus Training and Equine Rehabilitation Center in Redmond, WA. "If you don't start to turn things over, before you know it, you've got more broodmares than you do racehorses. So we're just kind of downsizing on the breeding end, but we're not going to give [Blind Luck] away by any means. She's one that we would probably keep if she doesn't bring enough money, but we'd prefer to go out and buy her babies rather than wait three years for them."

Blind Luck brings $2.5 million at the 2011 Keeneland November Sale
Keeneland Photo

Campaigned by Dedomenico, trainer Jerry Hollendorfer, John Carver and Peter Abruzzo, Blind Luck captured the GI Oak Leaf S. and GI Hollywood Starlet in 2009 before an Eclipse-earning campaign that featured hard-fought victories in the GI Las Virgenes S., GI Kentucky Oaks, GII Delaware Oaks and GI Alabama S. and a fast-finishing second in the GI Breeders' Cup Ladies' Classic. She added the GII La Troienne S.,

GI Vanity H. and defeated familiar foe and eventual Horse of the Year Havre de Grace (Saint Liam) in the GII Delaware H. in 2011 before retiring with earnings of $3,279,520 from an overall record of 22-12-7-2.

Blind Luck was sent through the ring at the Keeneland November sale soon after her retirement, and Dedomenico bought out his partners for $2.5 million.

The chestnut's first foal was a Bernardini filly produced in 2013, and she had a Giant's Causeway colt last year. Both have been retained by Dedomenico, who currently owns

92 racehorses and young racing prospects, either by himself or in partnerships. Cont. p9

"The [Bernardini] filly is beautiful," said Puhich. "She's breaking out really nice. The colt is just a [short yearling], but he's going to be quite a bit bigger than his mother. We're very excited about the Giant's Causeway colt--they're both really nice, we like them both."

Blind Luck, who was bred to Midnight Lute last year, but lost the foal, was entered in Fasig-Tipton's recent November Sale, but was withdrawn.

Mike Puhich
Pegasus Training Center

"She wasn't in foal, and we just kind of made a last-second decision," Puhich said of the reason behind the scratch from Fasig November. "And then we made another last-second decision to go ahead and put her in the Keeneland sale. We just thought that she'd be more of a standout in this winter sale and optimize our chances of getting what we're hoping to get for her and then go from there."

Hill 'n' Dale's Sikura echoed the notion that selling Blind Luck in a lower-key environment could prove pivotal.

"It's always an advantage to be one of the rare and best offerings in a book because there's always plenty of money at the sale," he offered. "When people say 'We wish there were more good horses' or 'We wish there were more that we could bid on' and you happen to be one of them, then the money lands on those specific, good horses. The fewer of those that there are, the better it is for the ones that make the grade. Blind Luck is a champion racemare, great racemare, and we're excited to have her in our consignment."

One filly co-owned by Dedomenico who won't be sent through a sales ring just yet is Sam's Sister (Brother Derek), who upended Santa Anita's GI La Brea S. Dec. 26 and will likely make her 4-year-old debut in either the GII La Canada S. [for 4-year-old fillies over 1 1/16 miles Jan. 17] or GII Santa Monica S. [for 4-year-olds and up going seven panels Jan. 19].

Among the other standouts from the Hill 'n' Dale consignment is Elusive Jackpot (Elusive Quality), a daughter of the great Silverbulletday (Silver Deputy), making her a half to the dams of Grade I winner Shakin It Up (Midnight Lute) and Grade III winner Governor Charlie (Midnight Lute). Elusive Jackpot, catalogued as hip 267, sells in foal to Hill 'n' Dale resident Midnight Lute. She is owned by Mike Pegram, who campaigned both Silverbulletday and Midnight Lute.

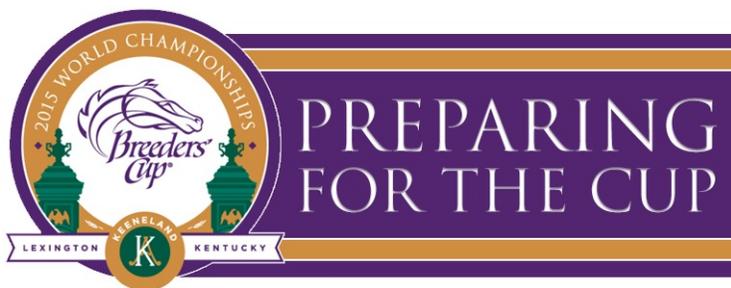

"Silverbulletday hasn't produced any offspring close to her racing ability, but her daughters look like important producers," Sikura said.

"She's had several fillies--Mike has all of them--and it's an opportunity to offer one for sale and it's a great opportunity for someone to buy a daughter of one of the great racemares. Plus, the whole family's active and producing--there's a lot happening."

Of his overall market expectations, Sikura added, "It's a question that has to be asked, but I think the answer's always the same. There's lots of money there for quality, but if you have to explain two blank years or a June cover or why you're in foal to a very quiet horse or if the mare is 16 or 17 instead of 10 or 11, then it's very tough sledding for many segments of the market."

FOCUSING ON EXPERIENCE, KEENELAND READIES FOR BC By Lucas Marquardt

Let's be honest. The announcement that Keeneland would host the 2015 Breeders' Cup World Championships was met with skepticism in some quarters. The issue wasn't the track itself. Keeneland, after all, is widely regarded as one of the best, prettiest tracks in the country. But one of its greatest attributes was, in this case, a perceived hindrance: its size. The largest crowd in its history came in 2012, when 40,617 packed in to see the GI Toyota Blue Grass. That's almost half the Breeders' Cup single-day attendance record of 80,452, set at nearby Churchill Downs in 1998. What's more, most would agree that days like that at Keeneland--with patrons shoulder-to-shoulder--can be uncomfortable for those not in love with their neighbors' elbows. Cont. p11

This was a popular topic of conversation at the sales this year, the “Will they...?” “Can they...?” etc. Tellingly, however, these conversations more often than not concluded with one participant shrugging his or her shoulders and offering something along the lines of, “I dunno, but if anyone can do it, Keeneland can.”

A more accurate statement, perhaps, is “Keeneland is doing it.”

Keeneland management and personnel are already in high gear in anticipation of the 2015 Breeders’ Cup, to be held on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 30-31, and over the coming months, the TDN will regularly spotlight the behind-the-scenes work being done. This month, we’re starting with the basics: crowd size.

Wisely, Keeneland and the Breeders’ Cup aren’t attempting the obvious--shoehorning as many people as possible into the grandstand in an effort to maximize attendance. Instead, Keeneland and the Breeders’ Cup are emphasizing fan experience.

“We’re not viewing this as a challenge, but as an opportunity,” explained Keeneland Chief Operating Officer Vince Gabbert. “Opportunities on how we handle the grounds. On how we handle patron concerns. On how we provide the level of experience we want to provide. We are focusing on the experience.”

To that end, Keeneland is limiting on-track attendance to approximately 45,000, with 28,000 guests within the Keeneland grandstand, 7,500 in trackside and paddock luxury chalets, and about 7,500 accommodated in such venues as The Keene Barn, The Hill and the Meadow. That will ensure a sellout crowd, the smallest in Breeders' Cup history for a Saturday, and mean there will be no walk-up sales on the day of the Breeders' Cup. But it should also ensure those on hand have plenty of room to move around and enjoy themselves.

"Regardless of where the seat is, it will be much easier to access food, wagering and restroom facilities than people experience on a busy Saturday," said Gabbert.

As mentioned, Keeneland isn't just relieving pressure by limiting admission at existing facilities. It also is adding myriad seating and entertainment options, so that the immediate track area will boast several distinct destinations for fans to gather.

On a typical raceday, Keeneland has about 8,000 seats combined in its grandstand, luxury boxes and dining rooms. Augmenting these facilities will be two rows of elevated, temporary boxes off the front of the current grandstand, as well as a number of multi-story chalets in the clubhouse parking lot, the Louisville lot, and adjacent to the paddock. There will also be expanded seating capacity in grandstand areas that are not usually ticketed areas, such as the Mezzanine Bar. In addition, the Breeders' Cup will offer 10,000 general admission tickets. Cont. p13

As for pricing, Gabbert said the reduced number of tickets won't mean exorbitant prices. "It will be different than a normal Keeneland pricing, but all of our pricing will be at or below what other venues charge now for Breeders' Cup," he said. "For instance, a box seat here will be less than a box seat at Santa Anita last year. We wanted to be in line with the market and give everyone an opportunity to experience this."

Fans at Keeneland this fall may have already noticed some of the temporary infrastructure going into place, including the trackside chalets located in upper stretch. The Breeders' Cup chalets have their own food and wagering services inside of glassed-in,

Those looking for a much more exclusive experience can aim for the Saddling Paddock Luxury Chalet, which will sit opposite the grandstand on the far side of the paddock and allow patrons an up-close-and-personal view of Breeders' Cup participants, both human and equine. Guests here will be treated to gourmet meals, and will also have trackside access to watch races.

If Keeneland is getting inventive to increase viewing areas around the immediate track area, it is taking advantage of one thing most other racecourses lack: a sprawling campus with attractive open areas. Keeneland sits on 1,100 acres of rolling Kentucky hills. Red maples and cherry trees dot the property, and in the fall, the changing colors add to the pastoral setting. Keeneland hopes to host an additional 7,500 on various parts of its campus on each of the Breeders' Cup days, including on The Hill, a broad lot located above the track designated for tailgaters. The Hill currently is open on Fridays and Saturdays during meets and features food trucks, live music, and a jumbo television screen, among other amenities.

"A great number of fans just stay up there all day and tailgate, and we anticipate it will be very popular over Breeders' Cup weekend," said Gabbert.

Keeneland will also sell tickets for seating at the Keeneland Entertainment Center, giving fans other dining and viewing options, while the Thoroughbred Club, situated just off the Keeneland grounds, will offer both lounge and dining options.

To be sure, Breeders' Cup tickets will be in high demand. But Gabbert said there will be the opportunity for the average race fan to buy a ticket when they officially go on sale Mar. 1.

"Like a Super Bowl or a World Series, not everyone will have a ticket who wants one," admitted Gabbert. "And, as with every Breeders' Cup, the Breeders' Cup will work through a priority list over the winter, between nominators and horsemen and participants. On Mar. 1, over half the tickets will be available to the public."

Keeneland's plans to develop the fan experience for the 2015 Breeders' Cup will be the topic of future features in the TDN, including how the track and the city of Lexington are working together to host the World Championships.

climate-controlled venues. Tiered balconies on the second floor provide views of the races, and each chalet includes rail access, so that fans inside can freely venture out to cheer home their horse.

"The chalets will create a little village among themselves," said Gabbert. "They'll be very high-end in terms of how we finish them out, and even getting to and from them will be part of the experience."

Farther up, located diagonally from the quarter pole, will be the Bourbon Lounge, a massive trackside tent that will hold approximately 3,000 people. "This will be a high-demand ticket," said Gabbert. "Tickets will be reasonable, there will be a phenomenal food and beverage experience, and fans will have the ability to come out and watch the races on the rail. The atmosphere will be fantastic."

Right Response...

While Thursday's second session was all about Redoute's Choice (Aus) and his son Snitzel (Aus), the torch passed to another champion sire son of Danehill yesterday in Fastnet Rock (Aus) when a filly by the Coolmore resident sparked fireworks late in the day, hammering to Michael Wallace of the China Horse Club for A$1.05 million. Lot 566, the first foal out of the G1 Robert Sangster S. and G1 Sir Rupert Clarke S.

heroine Response (Aus) (Charge Forward {Aus}), becomes the most expensive horse sold this week and surpasses last year's A$1-million sales-topping son of Redoute's Choice (Aus)--Hades (Aus) (Encosta de Lago {Aus}).

Bidding on the phone just outside the pavilion exit to the left of the auctioneer's stand, Wallace had to fend off fierce competition from Spendthrift Farm--as well as some phone difficulties--to secure the gem.

"It cut out at about A$750,000 and I was trying to push redial and we went a little bit further and then I got him back on the phone so it all ended well," said Wallace. He added, "She is a filly we have all been waiting for, a champion sire and Group 1-winning mare and she was a real runner. She has a good depth of pedigree and is a lovely type. Fastnet fillies are doing really well."

Wallace continued, "She has been bought for China Horse Club, so it carries on their worldwide investment in bloodstock, and Australia is an important part of the long term strategic plans and a key element of that. She was bought for Australia and she will stay in Australia."

Wallace noted the Club has about 20 horses in training in Australia, and that haul includes this season's G1 Flight S. winner First Seal (Aus) (Fastnet Rock {Aus}).

It was Wallace's second session topper this week; he also purchased Wednesday's A$850,000 Sepoy filly on behalf of the China Horse Club, which now owns the top two lots of the sale.

The early-September foal was bred by SF Bloodstock and born at Henry Field's Newgate Farm in the Hunter Valley, which also consigned her. Newgate's Director of Sales Bruce Slade likened the filly to royalty.

"She's an absolute queen," he said. "She's a terrific first foal, beautifully put together, a wonderful mover and she has a great attitude--she's a typical Fastnet filly."

SF Bloodstock purchased Response carrying this filly for A$840,000 at the 2012 Inglis Easter Broodmare Sale. She was a A$50,000 yearling at the Inglis Easter yearling sale in 2008.

"The mare's been bred up," Slade noted. "She's in foal to Snitzel and has an Exceed and Excel colt at foot, so she's been looked after. She was hot property today."

Slade said the Newgate team expected their charge to be amongst the sale toppers.

"We knew she'd be right up there," he said. "It's one of those things where you just need a couple of the right people on her, and obviously a lot of people saw real value in her and her long-term prospects. We certainly knew she'd be at the top end of the sale, and it's terrific to get that kind of money. I'm sure she'll go on to be a really nice racehorse based on her physicality and her disposition, and hopefully $1.05 million looks pretty cheap in a couple year's time."

Newgate's other strong results through the first three sessions have included a A$450,000 Redoute's Choice colt sold to Gary Mudgway; a A$300,000 colt by its resident first-season sire Foxwedge (Aus) hammered down to James Harron Bloodstock and Snowden Racing and a A$280,000 Smart Missile (Aus) colt to the same connections. Cont. p15

"It's been great--it's very strong," Slade said of the market. "There's people there for every level of horse, and we've had a good sale."

It's has been a fruitful week for SF Bloodstock across the globe; the operation also bred Shook Up (Tapit), who earned ☆ "TDN Rising Star" ☆ status when graduating at the Fair Grounds last Saturday, and is also the breeder of Fox Hill Farm's Broadway Show (Unbridled's Song), an impressive debut winner in New Orleans Thursday afternoon.

Hawkeses Fire For Smart Colt...

Arrowfield's colt by its resident first-season sire Smart Missile (Aus) (Fastnet Rock {Aus}) was hyped as one of the leading lights of the sale in the lead-up, and thus it was no surprise to see the ring come alive when the strapping bay (lot 485) stepped in. Upon the conclusion of a prolonged bidding battle, it was the training team of Hawkes Racing that secured the son of Negotiate (Aus) (Red Ransom) for A$700,000.

Negotiate has produced three winners from three foals to race, including the Group 3-placed Sweetener (Aus) (Snitzel {Aus}). His second dam is the G1 Champagne S. winner Euphoria (Aus) (Marauding {NZ}) and it is also the family of Group 1 winners Tuesday Joy (NZ), Sunday Joy (Aus), Bentley Biscuit (Aus) and Thorn Park (Aus), as well as last year's G1 Dubai Golden Shaheen winner Sterling City (Aus) (Nadeem {Aus}). John Hawkes, who trains in partnership with his sons Michael and Wayne, noted that they trained Negotiate's 2008 filly, Chivvy (Aus) (Flying Spur {Aus}), to her two wins.

"We trained Chivvy a few years ago and we liked her," Hawkes said. "This one was just an athlete, and Smart Missile was a very good horse--if he won the Slipper we may have been paying more for him. We just loved him and he was an athlete."

Smart Missile handed Sepoy his lone defeat through his first 11 starts when winning the G2 Todman S. as a juvenile, and he finished second to Sepoy in the G1 Golden Slipper. Hawkes said he was unfazed to spend a bit more than he expected to have to on the colt.

"I thought half a million or a bit more," he said. "We had to pay a bit more, but so be it. You're better to take home the one you loved than one that you're taking home just for the sake of taking a horse home, and he was our pick of the sale."

The 'Missiles' continued firing late into the session when Debbie Kepitis, from Australia's famed Ingham family, went to A$400,000 to secure lot 546, a filly from Amarina Farm out of Rain Melody (Aus) (Lonhro {Aus}). Kepitis, whose father Bob Ingham raced Lonhro and sold his famed Woodlands Stud and its bloodstock to Darley in 2008, noted she would race the filly with her children and husband under the name Whoppit Bloodstock, and Peter Snowden would train.

"We've been trying to get a filly for the whole sale, and the one we really liked was the A$850,000 [sale topper by Sepoy]," Kepitis noted. "I wasn't going that high, but this one took my fancy. The guy I want to give her to to train, Peter Snowden, loved her, so we went for it. I'll race her with my kids and my husband, so we'll have a lot of fun then we'll breed from her."

Smart Missile's other strong sales yesterday included a A$200,000 colt hammered down to trainer Peter Moody.

A Sepoy Speedster For McEvoy...

The popularity of Darley's first-season sire Sepoy has been one of the recurring themes of this sale. The 2- and 3-year-old champion's hot streak failed to wane yesterday, and was highlighted by the sale of an A$575,000 colt to trainer Tony McEvoy. Catalogued as lot 452 from the draft of John Singleton's Strawberry Hill Stud, the bay is out of the listed-winning and group-placed Miss Mooney Mooney (Aus) (Redoute's Choice {Aus}), a half-sister to Group 3 winner Publishing (Aus) (Testa Rossa {Aus}) and to the dam of multiple stakes winner Better Than Ready (Aus) (More Than Ready).

"I'm glad that's over," McEvoy quipped after signing the ticket. McEvoy said he was buying the colt specifically with next year's Magic Millions 2YO Classic in mind, which will be worth A$2.5 million as part of a significant prize money boosted unveiled late last month that will make the card worth A$10 million.

"He's a really exciting horse," the conditioner said. "I want a runner in the race next year. There are a few [Sepoy's] on the grounds that look like they'll make it into the race, and I loved this horse's temperament, his rhythm and his athleticism. The stud farm said he's never turned a hair in anything they've ever done to him. He has a cracking eye and a willingness that I loved about him. It's all there, I just hope I don't stuff it up now." Cont. p17

McEvoy said Sepoy has passed his favorable attitude onto his foals.

"The great thing great horses have is temperament," he commented. "Sepoy was unfazable in all the races I saw him in. He just arrived, accepted, did the job and went home. It's a quality great horses have, and that's what [the Sepoy's] have, all the ones I've seen. There's been a half-dozen Sepoys I probably could have bought, but I settled on this fella. I think the stallion has a real chance and I can't remember a dominant [G1 Golden] Slipper winner that's failed [at stud]."

McEvoy revealed the colt would race for a group of clients.

"I've got together a syndicate of guys. I don't think they were quite expecting to spend that much, but I've got my business partner Wayne Mitchell ringing them right now with the bad news," he laughed.

Necessary Buy For Surace...

A pair of consecutive lots through the ring caused a stir early in the afternoon when each brought A$460,000. The first to go under the hammer was lot 483, a colt from the last crop of Australia's ill-fated 2012/13 champion first-season sire Northern Meteor (Aus). The half-brother to G3 Blue Diamond Prelude victor General Ripa (Aus) (General Nediym {Aus}) was secured by agent James Harron on behalf of Peter and Paul Snowden.

Moments later, Ricky Surace of B2B Bloodstock paid the same sum for lot 484, a filly from Coolmore Stud by Fastnet Rock (Aus) out of the Gill Hollywood Juvenile Championship S. winner Necessary Evil (Harlan's Holiday). Carrying to Malibu Moon at the time, Necessary Evil was a $340,000 Keeneland November purchase by Demi O'Byrne in 2011, and Surace, who was acting in partnership with Damien Flower's Jadeskye Racing, noted the American pedigree was of great appeal.

"I like all horses out of running, American families," he said. "They're fast and they're proven to be very good horses here in Australia. They just work really well."

Reason To Dream...

Phil Sly has already experienced the highest of highs as a racehorse owner in Australia, having campaigned the four-time Group 1-winning filly Mosheen (Aus) (Fastnet Rock {Aus}) with trainer Robert Smerdon, and that pair have another horse to dream about after securing lot 496, a chestnut son of Dream Ahead (Diktat {GB}) from Emirates Park Stud, for A$380,000 yesterday.

"We've seen nearly every horse on the ground, and we thought he was as nice a colt as we've seen," said Smerdon. "I think we would have gotten him [cheaper] than that, but there was a lot of competition, so you have to stick to your guns."

Dream Ahead, Europe's joint top-rated juvenile with Frankel (GB) (Galileo {Ire}) in 2010 and a five-time Group 1 winner at two and three, shuttles Southern Hemisphere time to Emirates Park Stud in the Hunter Valley, where he stands for A$27,500. He is represented by his first Australian-bred yearlings this year, and his other six-figure prices at the sale thus far are a A$150,000 colt purchased by Singapore's Cliff Brown, and a A$110,000 colt secured by Magic Millions as agent.

Gai's Great Run...

Trainer Gai Waterhouse embarked on a buying streak late in the session when snapping up lots 530, 533, 536 and 553 for A$400,000, A$200,000, A$380,000 and A$400,000, respectively. The former, a bay colt from Eliza Park International, is by Fastnet Rock (Aus) out of the unraced Pretty Flamingo (Aus) (More Than Ready), a daughter of G3 Tokyo City Cup winner and dual Group 1-placed Milanova (Aus) (Danehill). His third dam is L'On Vite (Secretariat), the dam of dual Group 1-winning 2-year-old Holy Roman Emperor (Ire).

Lot 533 is a son of Snitzel (Aus) from Kitchwin Hills. He is out of Push Fire (Aus) (Scenic {Ire}) and from the family of G1 Thousand Guineas and G1 Sires' Produce S. winner Shame (Aus) (Scenic {Ire}).

Lot 536, a bay colt by Exceed and Excel (Aus) from the draft of Rosari Farm, was purchased by Waterhouse and Dynamic Syndications. The October foal is the first produce of Quack It (NZ) (Ustinov {Aus}), a half-sister to a pair of stakes winners.

The latter is a regally bred filly by Redoute's Choice (Aus) out of the G1 Oakleigh Plate heroine Reactive (Aus) (Geiger Counter).

The action will move across the street this afternoon to the Gold Coast Turf Club, which will host the Magic Millions Raceday featuring the A$2-million Magic Millions 2YO Classic and the A$1-million Magic Millions 3YO Guineas. Today's abbreviated evening sale session with 92 horses catalogued kicks off at 6 p.m. local time.

De Kock Revises Carnival Plans...

Mike de Kock, the leading foreign trainer by total number of wins at the Dubai World Cup Carnival, has announced that he will thoroughly revise plans for his 2015 runners, following below-par performances from all his seven starters on the new dirt track at the opening meeting Jan 8.

Mike de Kock
Racing Post

De Kock, who also trained Mushreq (Aus) (Flying Spur {Aus}) and Sanshaawes (SAf) (Ashaawes) to run second and fourth, respectively, in the Listed Singspiel S. on turf, said on his website, "After tonight, we can be certain that there is a track bias, so now we know exactly where we stand. You can draw lines through all the poor sand runs. We will revise our initial Carnival strategies without delay. Unless there are absolutely no other options, we won't have another entry on dirt this season."

He elaborated, "To win on this track, you need runners with good gate speed that can jump and lead or sit up second or third. [...] The kickback from just behind the front rank is bad, the slower horses get it in the face and sometimes it's so severe that they battle to breathe." De Kock however judged the new dirt surface as "very good" and expressed confidence that it would improve with rain and more racing.

candidates in the GI Santa Anita Derby, GII Los Alamitos Derby and GII Pennsylvania Derby, has been accepted to run at the Dubai International Racing Carnival. The bay colt will continue his career with trainer Doug Watson, according to a revised list of Carnival acceptors released earlier this week by the Dubai Racing Club.

Bred and raced by Lee and Susan Searing, Candy Boy was the longshot runner-up to Shared Belief (Candy Ride {Arg}) in the 2013 GI CashCall Futurity before besting Chitu (Henny Hughes) by a half-length in the Lewis. Third to California Chrome in the Santa Anita Derby, Candy Boy rounded out the exacta behind Shared Belief in the inaugural Los Alamitos Derby and closed good ground over a speed-favoring strip when third to subsequent GI Breeders' Cup Classic hero and ★ "TDN Rising Star" ★ Bayern (Offlee Wild) at Parx Sept. 20. Possible goals for Candy Boy could include the final round of the G1 Al Maktoum Challenge Mar. 7 as well as the G1 Dubai World Cup three weeks later.

Cool Cowboy (Kodiak Kowboy) will also be conditioned by the former Kieran McLaughlin assistant. Formerly trained by Dale Bennett for Savoy Stable, Cool Cowboy won Tampa's Inaugural S. in December 2013 and was first or second in all five starts last year at three, winning the Golden Circle S. at Prairie Meadows and the Sophomore Sprint S. at Mountaineer Nov. 11.

While the ownership of the two 4-year-olds was not specified, Watson's existing clients include sons of Sheikh Mohammed as well as former Chechen President Ramzan Kadyrov.

AUSTRALIA'S RACING MEDIA IN A RIGHT MESS

Anyone who has studied Australian history shouldn't be surprised that the premier states of New South Wales (NSW) and Victoria are at loggerheads over the future of the media rights to Australia's racing vision.

For nearly 200 years, NSW and Victoria-particularly their respective capital cities, Sydney and Melbourne-have been bickering. This is the Hatfields and McCoys without the buckshot.

Perhaps the best example of the obstinate attitude of the states is the fact that until relatively recently, you couldn't catch a train from Melbourne to Sydney without changing locomotives at the border because the boffins in charge, in their wisdom, set down different rail gauges.

Even in horse racing terms the difference is profound. In NSW, all its more than 100 racetracks are set for clockwise racing, while 70 Victoria's racetracks "go the correct way", left-handed. Life can be a muddle for people living in twin cities, split by the Murray River, each side of the border.

All of which sets the scene for what seemed to be the inevitable when the Racing NSW broke away from heavy negotiations over the value of the rights to racing vision and set itself on a course to do its own thing. In doing so, Racing NSW virtually has set the industry's media unit, ThoroughVision (TVN), on a course of destruction.

In simple terms, Racing NSW want to support its close ally Tabcorp (Australia's major wagering agency), which controls Sky Racing, whereas Victoria wants a broader media platform.

To go further in this complex issue, the cast needs some profile. Here are the players:

TVN (ThoroughVision): developed in 2005 by a partnership between Victoria's three metropolitan and 66 country clubs (Country Racing Victoria) and the Sydney two metropolitan clubs (since merged). The idea was to put Thoroughbred racing's media, especially the vision, under one banner as a bargaining force. Started showing vision on pay TV from 2005, separate from established Sky Racing. Eventually an agreement was reached with Sky in May 2006 for the Victorian and Sydney vision to return to Sky as well as being shown on TVN. TVN owns extensive outside broadcasting equipment as well as the printed weekly publications Best Bets and Winning Post.

Tabcorp: Australia's pari-mutuel wagering arm and major financier of Australian racing. Took control of Sky Channel (now Sky Racing), which produced racing vision for three codes (Thoroughbred, harness and greyhounds) for Pay TV and 2800 betting outlets and hotels and clubs. In the 2013-14 financial year Tabcorp returned $714 million to the racing industry and it feeds $250 million per year into the coffers of the respective state governments of Victoria and NSW.

Sky Racing: formerly Sky Channel. Wholly owned by Tabcorp from 2004. Provides vision of 90,000 races across all codes and feeds into Tabcorp's off-course betting outlets as well as on pay TV on three channels.

Racing NSW: gained a place on the TVN board when the NSW Government gave it the right of veto over decisions made by NSW's race clubs. Has a wagering agreement with Tabcorp.

Racing Victoria: has a stronger funding model behind it than Racing NSW. Its aim is to develop an in-house media arm that controls vision, data and general racing coverage. Has a softer policy on bookmakers than Racing NSW and a shorter and less binding agreement with Tabcorp. RV doesn't have a place on the TVN board, has influence as the umbrella body over its clubs on the board.

Sky Racing has been clever in the past by splitting the rights between all Australia's states and setting the agreements to expire at different times, which didn't allow Australian racing's jurisdictions to bargain as one powerful voice.

The result was an almost farcical situation in which racing was covered on pay TV by four channels-TVN (which boasted a premier product showing pre-race parades and pre- and post-race interviews of Victorian and Sydney thoroughbred racing) and Sky's channels sharing the coverage of all codes from all states and overseas.

The crux of the current dispute stems from the fact that two years ago, the NSW Government legislated that Racing NSW has the right of veto over decisions made by the ATC and the NSW country clubs. This gave Racing NSW a place on the TVN board and stymied attempts by the board to get Tabcorp to fork out $40 million (a 25 per cent increase) for the rights to the vision.

The fact that Racing NSW has signed a quite incredible 100-year agreement with Tabcorp (there is still 80 years to run) puts it firmly on the side of the betting agency and against competition, especially corporate betting agencies that have grown significantly in the past 10 years to almost match the $11 billion annual turnover of Tabcorp.

Racing Victoria (RV) has no such agreement and has embraced corporate bookmakers as part of its funding model, especially in the area of sponsorship. There is no corporate bookmaker-based sponsorship of races or race clubs in NSW.

RV is adamant that thoroughbred racing needs to spread its base to combat the increasing world-wide threat of sports betting which is sapping the growth out of wagering on Thoroughbred racing. Cont. p20

This was a battle in which neither side was going to take a backward step. Supporters of the NSW decision agree it is best not to cook the "golden goose"-- Tabcorp--which has been racing's cash-cow since the 1960s, although racing is no longer its main source of income after branching in sports betting and casinos.

Critics say that this is a goose that sits on its same nest in the same pond and has no vision for the future, and that the Victorian model, while not deserting Tabcorp, will put it under pressure to innovate and at the same time reach a wide market.

Racing NSW will negotiate its own agreement on vision with Tabcorp, while Victoria is now in a position to do likewise. However, RV and its race clubs are seriously looking at the prospect of funding TVN--reported to be about $20 million a year--to continue a premier Victorian product on Pay TV and at the same time to give it leverage for a better deal from Tabcorp for the vision to be shown on Sky.

Racing NSW's chairman John Messara and chief executive Peter V'Landys have stayed silent throughout the dispute.

On the other hand, Racing Victoria's chairman Rob Roulston and chief executive Bernard Saundry have been hitting the airwaves and pumping out the press releases--both men scathing at the breakaway of Racing NSW and the resultant disaggregation of TVN.

It was a Boxing Day gift that RV and the Victorian clubs were expecting, but didn't want to open. Saundry was quickly on the front foot in the media.

"It is a great disappointment to RV that due to the increasing misalignment between how Victoria wants to grow our sport and the differing views of Racing NSW, that there is no other option but to accept the proposal to disaggregate our state's rights from TVN," he said.

"The long-term goal is to get vision to as many punters as possible by utilizing multiple broadcasting options. Our priority will be working with media partners who will help us grow engagement in, and the audience for, our sport; to maximize returns for reinvestment back into our sport; and to fairly reward all of our participants."

The wash-up? Anyone's guess.

TVN will survive only if Victoria settles some of its debts (reported to be $20 million, but believed to be a lot less) and supports it--Victoria is working hard at crunching the numbers. However, the general opinion is that the cost of running its own TV channel may be too high and TVN's assets will be sold up.

Racing coverage of all states will return to Sky Racing--individual agreements will be made--and it is likely Sky will include in its package a designated Thoroughbred channel offering a premium product similar to what was offered on TVN.

Victoria is in the enviable bargaining position of having the best racing product. Its overall racing scene is strong and popular with punters from all states who appreciate big fields and a strong and varied strength of participants.

And its Spring Racing (Melbourne Cup) Carnival is the envy of many racing fans around the world--particularly those across the border.

ATLANTIC CITY RACE COURSE TO CLOSE

Atlantic City Race Course will close permanently on Jan. 16, track operator Greenwood ACRA, which also owns and operates Parx Racing and Casino in Pennsylvania, announced Friday. The New Jersey oval had been awarded six 2015 race dates in April. "We regret to announce that we must close Atlantic City Race Course immediately due to continuous business decline in the industry, the current regional economic climate and the absence of alternative revenue opportunities," said Greenwood ACRA President Joe Wilson. "Most importantly, we would like to thank our dedicated employees and the supporters of Atlantic City Race Course who have contributed to its proud legacy in the racing industry over the years." The race course was founded in 1946 as Atlantic City Race Track, and its early shareholders included Frank Sinatra and Bob Hope.

GAMING LOCATION BOARD WILL CONSIDER CUOMO'S PROPOSAL by Mike Kane

New York's Gaming Facility Location Board said Friday that it would consider Gov. Andrew Cuomo's proposal that it issue a new Request for Application for a casino license in the state's Southern Tier, a region along the border with Pennsylvania.

The board is scheduled to meet Tuesday, Jan. 13, in New York City.

The location board of the New York State Gaming Commission announced Dec. 17 that it recommended that three licenses be granted. By statute, it could have selected a maximum of four proposals for destination casinos that were promoted as vehicles to stimulate the upstate economy. Cuomo wrote to the commission Dec. 26 asking that it start a new process that could result in a license for the Southern Tier, which has high unemployment figures and is in need of economic development.

The Southern Tier, which includes the city of Binghamton and surrounding suburban towns, was part of an odd L-shaped region that stretched north to the shore of Lake Ontario. From that Southern Tier/Finger Lakes region, the location board selected the northern-most proposal, Lago, in Tyre, Seneca County.

Kevin S. Law, chairman of the location board, said it would not open up the Catskills/Hudson Valley or Capital regions to additional applications.

VIOLETTE RELEASES STATEMENT ON AQU BREAKDOWNS

After two more breakdowns in Aqueduct's second race Friday--one fatal--and NYRA's decision to cancel the rest of the card due to blowing snow, New York Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association President Rick Violette, Jr. released the following statement:

"The horsemen are obviously deeply concerned about the significant increase in equine fatalities at Aqueduct this winter. [Saturday] morning, a group of trainers, including myself and NYTHA Board members Linda Rice and Rick Schosberg, will meet with a NYRA management team including Senior Vice President of Racing Operations Martin Panza, Vice President of Facilities and Racing Surfaces Glen Kozak and Chief Examining Veterinarian Dr. Anthony Verderosa. There may not be one right answer, but we will use every avenue possible and examine every angle to address this situation. Everything will be on the table, from finding an independent track surface expert to come in and examine the inner track to a thorough reexamination of every procedure and protocol in place before a horse leaves the starting gate."

See Sunday's TDN for a report on this issue.

Friday Cancellation
Citing high winds and blowing snow at Aqueduct, the New York Racing Association cancelled yesterday's card following the second race.

Second OwnerView Conference Set for Jan. '16:

Edited Press Release

OwnerView, the website and information resource developed by The Jockey Club and the Thoroughbred Owners and Breeders Association (TOBA) to assist both current and prospective Thoroughbred owners, announced Friday that it will hold its second national Thoroughbred Owners Conference in January 2016 at Gulfstream Park in Hallandale, FL.

The conference will be held during the week leading up to the 45th Annual Eclipse Awards Dinner, which is scheduled for Saturday, Jan. 16, 2016.

"The Stronach Group was extremely proud to be one of the presenting sponsors of the inaugural National Thoroughbred Owners Conference back in October and we're thrilled to showcase our Gulfstream Park facility and the South Florida area by hosting this new and important event in 2016," said Mike Rogers, president of The Stronach Group's Racing and Gaming Division.

The first conference featured panel discussions with prominent industry participants and several informational and educational networking events with owners and industry representatives. It was held at the Keeneland sales pavilion and attracted approximately 300 attendees. (A video replay of the conference is available at ownerview.com.)

"We were extremely honored to play host to the first national Thoroughbred Owners Conference and our staff looks forward to collaborating with OwnerView and Gulfstream Park personnel to ensure a seamless transition and another successful event," said Bill Thomason, president and chief executive officer of Keeneland Association.

"The feedback from those who attended the first conference has been universally positive and those people, as well as others who did not attend, have been asking about when and where the next owner conference would take place," said Gary Falter, vice president of operations for OwnerView. "While the topics, speakers and sponsors will be finalized and announced in the months ahead, we thought it would be beneficial to at least announce the date and location so prospective attendees can put it on their calendars."

JERALD (g, 4, Include--Nancy G., by Fusaichi Pegasus) was an even third on debut in a 5 1/2-furlong off-the-turfer here last February and followed with a tiring fifth-place finish in a one mile turf event Mar. 15. Put on the shelf for the remainder of his sophomore year, the chestnut added blinkers and was bet down to 7-5 favoritism for this return to the races. Away to an alert start, the chestnut tracked the pace in second through a quarter mile in :22.46 and engaged pace-setting Chapter and Verse (Old Fashioned) on the far turn. Jerald forged to the front in mid-stretch and notched a 3 1/4-length victory over that rival. Sales history: $47,000 RNA yrl '12 FTKJUL. Lifetime Record: 3-1-0-1, $28,880. DAKOTA KID (f, 4, Lemon Drop Kid--World of Gold, by Spinning World) made up 10 lengths after a tardy beginning to be third in her six-panel unveiling over the Polytrack at Del Mar Nov. 22. Switched to the turf while retaining the services of Hall of Fame rider Gary Stevens, she was tabbed as the 6-5 choice for this second try. The 4-year-old tracked the pace in mid-pack behind a half-mile in :48.16 and shifted four wide entering the stretch to engage Egyptian Empire (Pioneer of the Nile). The two battled down the lane, with Dakota Kid gaining control in the final yards to prevail by a half length. INTERJECT (f, 4, Empire Maker--Introducing, by Deputy Minister) began her career in Great Britain for her breeder while under the care of Charles Hills. A dull ninth and eighth in her initial two maiden tries, she woke up with a third-place finish, beaten less than a length, in a one-mile contest over the lawn at Ripon July 7. Subsequently purchased for 32,000gns at the Tattersalls July sale and brought to America, the dark bay was off slowly, but rallied nicely to be third over this same trip and surface Oct. 10--her first start for the new connections. Hammered down to 4-5 favoritism for this, Interject assumed position at the rear behind a half mile in :47.06 and edged closer on the far turn. The 4-year-old swung three wide turning for home and spurted away from the field under a hand ride to score by 6 1/4 lengths. Tiz Addictedtolove (Tiznow) was a clear second. The winner's dam is out of MGSW Interim (GB) (Sadler's Wells) and is a half-sister to GISW Midships (Mizzen Mast).
