PHIPPS TO RESIGN JOCKEY CLUB CHAIR

Ogden Mills (Dinny) Phipps, who has served as the chairman of The Jockey Club for the past 32 years, will resign his chairmanship effective Saturday, August 8, 2015, The Jockey Club announced in a release this morning. Their board of stewards will meet on that day, following the annual meeting of the membership.

Phipps, 74, a prominent Thoroughbred owner and breeder, was elected to membership in The Jockey Club Oct. 16, 1965. He became chairman Feb. 10, 1983. His tenure as chairman is the longest in the history of the organization, which was created in 1894. August Belmont served for approximately 30 years (Jan. 24, 1895, until Dec. 10, 1924).

Ogden Mills Phipps

"The Jockey Club has undergone many changes over the past 30 years and we have built a solid foundation that will help grow and sustain Thoroughbred breeding and racing in the years ahead," Phipps said. "Due to some ongoing health issues, I feel like this is a good time to pass the baton and I want to express my gratitude to the members and the employees of The Jockey Club for their dedication to this sport over the past three decades."

"Under Phipps's leadership, the organization has earned widespread recognition as an industry leader in the areas of medication reform, equine welfare, data collection and dissemination, technology and marketing of the sport," the press release read, citing the following accomplishments under his tenure:

- The relocation in 1988 and continued modernization of the Registry to improve the efficiency and ease of registering Thoroughbreds, including the introduction of DNA testing for parentage verification
- The creation and growth (including through acquisition) of a group of commercial, for-profit subsidiaries and commercial partnerships, all of which are designed to serve specific segments within the industry and now account for more than 75% of The Jockey Club's combined revenues
- The creation in 1990, along with the Thoroughbred Racing Associations' member racetracks, of the industry-owned database known as Equibase Company
- The creation in 1998 as a founding member of the National Thoroughbred Racing Association, a broad-based coalition charged with increasing the popularity, welfare and integrity of Thoroughbred racing. Cont. p3

PEDIGREE INSIGHTS

by Andrew Caulfield

GOLDEN START TO PERFECT DAY

Saturday's racing surely came extremely close to perfection for any lover of the Thoroughbred. The highlight, inevitably, had to be American Pharoah's majestic display at Belmont, which finally quenched America's thirst for a Triple Crown winner.

However, there were no grounds for complaint earlier in the day at Epsom, when the exciting Golden Horn maintained his unbeaten record in excellent style in the Derby.

Appropriately, each of the colts is a representative of the male line which has made the greatest impact on his respective country's Triple Crown events in recent decades. In winning the Belmont, American Pharoah supplied the Fappiano branch of the Mr. Prospector line with its 13th win in a Triple Crown event, the sequence starting with Unbridled in the Kentucky Derby of 1990. I haven't seen American Pharoah in the flesh, but he appears to possess the size and power that has made this branch so effective on America's dirt tracks. Cont. p5

Cup Week Festival Schedule Unveiled

A calendar of events, including outdoor concerts, art exhibits and a food truck competition called the Feeders' Cup are all part of the Breeders' Cup Week Festival to be held in Lexington Oct. 24-31. Organizers revealed the line up of events for the festival Monday. Lexington's Keeneland Racecourse hosts this year's Breeders' Cup Championship weekend Oct. 30 and 31.

Other accomplishments made during Phipps's tenure include:

- The development, as a founding member, and continued active involvement with the International Federation of Horseracing Authorities to harmonize rules pertaining to Thoroughbred breeding and racing worldwide
- The creation and management of the World Racing Hub database in 2000 so that IFHA member organizations could access race records as horses moved among countries due to the globalization of racing
- Financial and administrative support for a national media relations office for the sport of Thoroughbred racing, originally with Thoroughbred Racing Communications in 1987 and, more recently, with NTRA and The Jockey Club's America's Best Racing
- The commission of comprehensive industry studies, conducted by McKinsey & Company, on drug testing (1991) and sustainable growth of the sport (2011), and the commitment of significant support to implement the recommendations from each of them.

The release also cited the industry initiatives such as the Thoroughbred Safety Committee, the Equine Injury Database, the Racing Surfaces & Testing Lab, OwnerView, the Thoroughbred Incentive Program, the Racing Medication and Testing Consortium, the Racing Officials Accreditation Program, the Thoroughbred Aftercare Alliance, America's Best Racing and the television programming for racing telecasts on the NBC and FOX networks as projects they had supported.

Under the chairmanship of Phipps, The Jockey Club also hosts the Round Table Conference on Matters Pertaining to Racing, the Welfare and Safety of the Racehorse Summit, and the Thoroughbred Owner Conference. Last week in New York City, it co-hosted the 2015 Pan American Conference, attended by more than 300 industry representatives from 27 countries.

The Jockey Club board of stewards currently includes Phipps, Stuart S. Janney III (vice chairman), Ian D. Hight (secretary-treasurer), Craig Fravel, John C. Harris, William M. Lear Jr., Dr. Hiram C. Polk Jr., Stella Thayer, and Peter Willmott.

A nominating committee will recommend candidates to succeed Phipps as chairman. The committee consists of three members of The Jockey Club: Fravel (committee chair), Willmott, and D.G. Van Clief Jr.

BREEDERS' CUP FESTIVAL WEEK SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED The 40-plus committee charged with organizing a festival week leading up to the Breeders' Cup championships in Lexington has revealed a calendar of events from Oct. 24-31.

"This week promises to be unlike any other in our city's history," said chairperson Kip Cornett. "Our guests from near and far will be treated to a range of entertainment, activities and hospitality unlike any other Breeders' Cup. The investments from our sponsors and the effort from our arts and hospitality sectors have been amazing. They will put on a great show."

Activities include free outdoor concerts in Courthouse Plaza and Cheapside Park, art exhibits and plays at various venues around the city. There will also be a food truck competition--called the Feeders' Cup--and a "Kentucky for Kentucky" 5k Fun Run and Walk.

"We're cleaning up, sprucing up and gearing up for a week full of festivities," said Lexington Mayor Jim Gray. "We're getting ready for our hometown, Keeneland and our Thoroughbred industry to be the center of attention on a world stage. This is the Horse Capital of the World, and the Breeders' Cup is an opportunity for us to show everyone just why we deserve that title."

Title sponsor, KentuckyOne Health's Jeff Murphy was full of praise for the committee's efforts. "For seven days and nights, our guests and citizens alike will be able to enjoy a broad array of fun and mainly free activities as part of Breeders' Cup Week. KentuckyOne Health is proud and excited to be a part of providing this experience for Lexington."

Golden Horn, a graduate of Hascombe and Valiant Studs, has been described by his owner-breeder Anthony Oppenheimer as “the right height, right length, right type” for the Derby. It turns out that the colt has the perfect unflappable temperament, too.

That he is the right physical type may be a reflection of his bloodlines, as he has four lines to Northern Dancer, the stallion who has made by far the greatest impact on the Epsom Classic since Nijinsky became the first of his three Derby winners in 1970.

During those 46 years we have seen six winners sired by Northern Dancer's sons--three by Nijinsky, two by Sadler's Wells and one by Sadler's Wells's brother Fairy King--and another 12 by his grandsons, comprising four by Montjeu, three by Galileo and one each by Caerleon, Chief's Crown, Dancing Brave, Danehill and Ile de Bourbon. We have also seen two great-grandsons get into the act, with Grand Lodge and Cape Cross both being grandsons of Danzig. The Northern Dancer clan's contribution adds up to 24 winners--and that's just the male line.

Golden Horn is inbred 4x4 to Northern Dancer, via his 15.3-hands sons Danzig and Nureyev, and his dam, the unraced Fleche d'Or, is inbred 4x2 to Nureyev. There is a further, more remote line, via Lyphard's daughter Phydilla. You may have noticed that Danzig and Nureyev aren't among the sons of Northern Dancer which sired a Derby winner, but Nureyev was a three-parts-brother to Sadler's Wells and Fairy King, and Danzig's name appears somewhere in the pedigrees of four of the last seven winners.

I need at this point to make it clear that I am an admirer of Golden Horn's sire Cape Cross. In my work for Juddmonte we have used him only sparingly but have been rewarded with the group winners Treat Gently and Jet Away.

That said, Cape Cross has never quite made it into the highest echelons, with his fee never rising higher than €50,000 after he started out at only IR£8,000. This year breeders could use the 21-year-old for no more than €20,000. Part of the explanation is that his tally of Group 1 winners in the Northern Hemisphere stands at just five from a total of over 1,400 Northern Hemisphere foals aged three or over.

Needless to say, this falls well short of the figures achieved by stallions which, at one time or another, have ranked among the highest-priced in Britain or Ireland, such as Galileo, Dubawi, Dansili, Pivotal, Oasis Dream and Shamardal. It has been a different story at Group 2 level, with no fewer than 16 of Cape Cross's progeny achieving that status. Perhaps one of those Group 2 winners, the German 3-year-old Karpino, will become Group 1 winner number six, as he has been a comfortable winner of each of his three races, including Germany's equivalent of the 2,000 Guineas.

If Cape Cross can't boast about the quantity of his Northern Hemisphere Group 1 winners, he has certainly earned bragging rights when it comes to their quality. His five Group 1 winners feature three outstanding Classic winners. His first-crop daughter Ouija Board triumphed in the 2004 Oaks and Irish Oaks before developing into an international star. Next came the magnificent Sea the Stars, who dominated the 2009 season from the moment he added the Derby to his 2,000 Guineas victory. And now Golden Horn has become his sire's second impressive winner of the Derby, his success coming just 12 months after Ouija Board's son Australia had won the Derby and Irish Derby.

That's quite an achievement on Cape Cross's behalf and it is easy to envisage Sea the Stars carrying on his sire's Classic work. Having sired the Oaks winner Taghrooda and the German Derby winner Sea the Moon in his first crop, Sea the Stars appears to have an excellent prospect for this year's German Derby, judging by the ease of Quasillo's win in last month's G3 Bavarian Classic. Quasillo comes from a comparatively small second crop, but it also contains the Derby third Storm the Stars. Cont. p6

COOLMORE

Coolmore America: Tel: 859 873 7088. Coolmore Ireland: Tel: 353-52 6131298.

One name which mustn't be overlooked in Cape Cross's pedigree is that of his broodmare sire Ahonoora. This handsome horse was the product of two very different performers. His sire Lorenzaccio was a middle-distance performer who became the villain of the piece by defeating the great Nijinsky on his final appearance in the Champion S. Ahonoora's dam Helen Nichols, on the other hand, had been a very speedy member of a fast female line. Speed also proved to be Ahonoora's principal asset but, as sometimes happens with horses of this type of background, his progeny enjoyed success over a wide range of distances.

Ahonoora even sired the 1992 Derby winner Dr Devious and Ahonoora's high-class daughter Park Express became the dam of the 2008 Derby winner New Approach. Now, as the broodmare sire of Cape Cross, he also appears in the pedigrees of Sea the Stars, Australia and Golden Horn. This remarkable stallion also sired the dams of Azeri, Leroidesanimaux and the popular Irish stallion Acclamation, and it was one of his little-known grandsons who gave us the extraordinary Cirrus des Aigles.

Lorenzaccio sired very little of note apart from Ahonoora, just the Italian Group 1 winner Rolle and the good Australian colt Brewery Boy, but he also sired Golden Horn's fourth dam Lora. This mare produced On the House, winner of the 1,000 Guineas and Sussex S. for Sir Philip Oppenheimer, father of Golden Horn's owner-breeder Anthony. In sending Fleche d'Or to Cape Cross, Anthony Oppenheimer created 4x5 to Lorenzaccio.

Perhaps he was influenced by the contribution that Lorenzaccio's sire Klairon had made to the fortunes of Golden Horn's female line, which traces all the way back to the legendary Mumtaz Mahal. This is the branch descending from Sun Princess, who found fame as the dam of the stallion Royal Charger.

Klairon sired notable progeny from two of Sun Princess' granddaughters. Mated to Courtessa, Klairon sired the G1 King's Stand S. winner D'Urberville and his sister Klairessa. Klairessa in turn became the dam of Habibti, one of the finest sprinting fillies ever seen in Europe. Mated to Margaret Ann, Klairon sired No Relation, a quick-maturing stakes winner.

Australian racing and breeding owe quite a debt to Klairessa and No Relation. Thanks to her daughters Eight Carat and Great Klaire, Klairessa has a long line of Group 1-winning Australian descendants, the most prolific being Horse of the Year Octagonal. No Relation, for her part, numbered the Golden Slipper winner Guineas and the successful sire Mossman among her descendants, Mossman being the sire of the 2014 Golden Slipper winner Mossfun.

Golden Horn's dam Fleche d'Or is an unraced daughter of Dubai Destination, a top miler who proved so disappointing as a stallion that he was transferred to the National Hunt sector. That hasn't stopped her making a magnificent start to her broodmare career. Golden Horn is her second foal, her first being the Champs Elysees filly Eastern Belle, who was second in the GII New York S. on the day before the Derby.

Unfortunately for Hascombe Stud, Fleche d'Or was sold for 62,000gns in 2012.

Fleche d'Or had plenty to offer as a broodmare, as a daughter of Nuryana. This listed winner over a mile produced consecutive group-winning foals in Mystic Knight (G3 Derby Trial) and Rebecca Sharp (G1 Coronation S.), plus the very useful filly Hidden Hope. Another of Nuryana's daughters, Nyarhini, visited Cape Cross to produce Token of Love, a talented miler.

Bearing in mind that Cape Cross, Dubai Destination and Nuryana were all milers, it is understandable that there were questions about Golden Horn's ability to stay a mile and a half. Of course his Derby display erased all such doubts, but--as so often happens nowadays--his owner appears intent on campaigning him over the more fashionable distance of a mile and a quarter, rather than a mile and a half. Sea the Stars' owners reaped great rewards from a similar policy until he successfully reverted to the longer distance in the Arc. It will be fascinating to see whether Golden Horn can continue to follow in his predecessor's illustrious footsteps.

ABLE FRIEND WELL AFTER ASCOT TRAVELS

G1 Queen Anne S. contender Able Friend (Aus) (Shamardal) is adjusting well to his settings in Newmarket after traveling from trainer John Moore's base in Hong Kong over the weekend. The 5-year-old, a four-time Group 1 winner in his native country since December and currently the world's co-highest rated horse on the Longines rankings, is being stabled with trainer Michael Bell.

Moore, who will join his stable star in England June 12, said, "Able Friend traveled unbelievably well; he ate and drank the whole way on the plane. We weighed him and he only lost 10 pounds, so for a horse that is 1280 pounds, that's nothing. When he got to England, Rosssdales' vet, Mike Shepherd, and our vet, Paul Robinson, were very happy with what they were seeing. The minute they put him into his stall he just went and drank a lot of water."

Able Friend stretched his legs on the Newmarket heath Monday, and Moore said he will work his charge over the Polytrack.

"He'll be out on the Polytrack close to Michael's yard," he said. "It's a flat gallop and that's what we want. We'll keep it as flat as we can."

ZAWRAQ SIDELINED BY FRACTURE

Sheikh Hamdan's Zawraq (Ire) (Shamardal), removed from G1 Epsom Derby consideration last week after returning lame from a work, has been diagnosed with a fracture of his off-fore cannon bone.

Unbeaten in two outings, including the Listed Leopardstown 2000 Guineas Trial S. Apr. 12, Zawraq will now miss most of his 3-year-old season.

Zawraq and trainer Dermot Weld
Racing Post

"He was re-x-rayed over the weekend and they found a crack in his off-fore cannon bone," said Sheikh Hamdan's Racing Manager Angus Gold. "He's had two screws put in it. He's going to need three months recuperation. I can't tell you how long it will take for the bone to heal, but there will be nothing happening in the short term, obviously. It's disappointing, but better to find out this way than running down the hill at Epsom."

JACK NAYLOR TO IRISH OAKS

Gerard Byrne's Jack Naylor (GB) (Champs Elysees {GB}), sixth in the G1 Epsom Oaks Saturday and fourth in the G1 Irish 1000 Guineas May 24, will take her chances in another Classic, with the July 18 G1 Irish Oaks her target.

Trainer Jessica Harrington Racing Post

"Jack Naylor came home well from Epsom," said trainer Jessica Harrington. "The plan at the moment is the Irish Oaks. Plans can always change but I think we will give her another chance [at a mile and a half]."

Jack Naylor won a pair of stakes in Ireland last year, including the G3 Silver

Flash S., before finishing third in the G1 Prix Marcel Boussac. She could be joined in the Irish Oaks by stablemate Bocca Baciata (Ire) (Big Bad Bob {Ire}), but Harrington said plans are not yet certain for that Flaxman Stables colorbearer, who bested Irish 1000 Guineas winner Pleascach (Ire) (Teofilo {Ire}) in the Listed Salsabil S. in April before finishing fifth behind that rival in the Classic.

"Bocca Baciata is in good form," Harrington noted. "It's not certain where she will go next. She will do a bit of work this week and we'll see after that."

EPICURIS LIKELY TO RETURN TO ENGLAND

Trainer Criquette Head-Maarek said the 1 1/2-mile distance of Saturday's G1 Epsom Derby likely saw out fifth-place finisher Epicuris (GB) (Rail Link {GB}), but she said she was pleased with her charge's effort nonetheless and noted he could return to run in England.

Last year's G1 Criterium de Saint-Cloud winner has displayed an aversion to the starting gates, and bypassed the May 31 G1 Prix du Jockey Club after France Galop officials said they would not permit handler Nicolas Blondeau to load the colt. Blondeau handled Epicuris at Epsom.

"I was very pleased with him in the stalls, and I thought Epsom's senior stewards and [Blondeau] did a great job with him," said Head-Maarek. "If I do not get the go-ahead to have Blondeau with him at the start, I don't see how I can run him in France. Nothing has been decided, but we will look for races elsewhere, perhaps coming back to England with him over a shorter distance."

Head-Maarek also trained Epicuris's dam, Argumentative (GB) (Observatory), for owner-breeder Khalid Abdullah, and she revealed the mare's stamina limitations gave her cause for concern with Epicuris.

"I was a bit scared about him getting the trip as his mother didn't stay, and I think that was the case," she said. "I just felt it [the Derby trip] was too long for him."

Another of Head-Maarek and Khalid Abdullah's promising sophomores, Full Mast (Mizzen Mast), will head to the G1 Prix Jean Prat July 12. Promoted winner of the G1 Jean-Luc Lagardere last October, Full Mast was an encouraging second on his return in the G3 Prix Paul de Moussac Saturday.

"I was very happy with Full Mast because it was his first run back and it wasn't easy giving six pounds to good horses," said Head-Maarek. "The horse looked superb and has lost no ability. He has come back well from the race and we will now run him in the Jean Prat."

TREVE 'ALL SET' FOR SAINT-CLOUD

Dual G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe heroine Treve (Fr) (Motivator {GB}) pleased trainer Criquelette Head-Maarek in routine exercise Monday in preparation for the G1 Grand Prix de Saint-Cloud June 28. The 5-year-old mare, campaigned by Al Shaqab Racing, made a smooth return to competition when taking the May 29 G2 Prix Corrida by four lengths over Group 1 winner We Are (Ire) (Dansili {GB}). It was her first appearance since her successful Arc defense in October.

"The champ is very well and looks in great form, never better," said Head-Maarek. "She had a little canter and there were no problems--she looked perfect. She is all set for Saint-Cloud."

BREEZE SHOW BEGINS IN OCALA

by J.M. Severni

The undertack show for the Ocala Breeders' Sales Company's June 2-Year-Olds and Horses of Racing Age Sale began Monday. The first session of the six-day breeze show saw two horses share the co-fastest time for an eighth at :9 4/5: hip 33, a colt by High Cotton consigned by Harris Training Center; and hip 139, a filly by Maimonides consigned by King's Equine. Five lots posted the co-fastest quarter time of :20 4/5: hip 34, a colt by Street Boss consigned by SGV Thoroughbreds; hip 58, a filly by Girolamo consigned by Hoppel's Horse & Cattle Co.; hip 64, a colt by High Cotton consigned by Ocala Stud; hip 78, a colt by Scat Daddy consigned by SGV Thoroughbreds; and hip 109, a filly by Singing Saint consigned by Niall Brennan.

Brennan was very keen on the speedy filly in his consignment. The youngster is out of the unraced Bambuyan (Gone West), who is a daughter of GSW Big Bambu (Salt Lake).

"The filly is a very nice physical," Brennan said. "She's a fast filly, and is very well built with a great demeanor. She's a very professional, relaxed filly. She doesn't have a fancy pedigree, but she's Ontario-sired and bred and she's very nice for that program. She handled the track very well, and she has a very turf-oriented pedigree and she got over that track very well."

"I think the OBS track stays very consistent," Brennan continued. "The track seemed to be playing fair, it's normally a very fast track. The synthetic tracks are, obviously, faster and it seemed to be playing fair and consistent. In the hotter weather, the perception is that the synthetic tracks get a tick slower because of the wax. But the times were consistent across the board and consistent with the April sale."

Brennan believes the June sale continues to improve and he looks for the strong market from the record-setting OBS March and OBS April sales will continue.

"June has been getting better each year, due to the fact that everything is getting later and later in our season," he explained. "The 2-year-old sales seem to be getting better later. Horses do get pushed back, as well. Some horses have physical issues or immaturity, and I think those kind of horses, the genuinely nice horses, will be in good shape."

Brennan acknowledged that the middle-market will give the buyers an advantage.

"The unknown will be the middle-market," he said. "It is the end of the season. There are still a lot of horses in the June sale and I think the middle market horses are going to be a buyers' market. With the buzz about the wonderful Triple Crown winner, maybe that helps increase some enthusiasm with it being the last 2-year-old sale of the season for people to get horses. That's me being optimistic, but we have several nice horses in the sale with pedigrees. We have a couple of them who haven't been in sales before, so these are the first time people are getting a look at them. The problem, of course, is that some people could possibly have spent their budget already."

Brennan continued, "It is June so, some people are getting focused on the racetrack and trainers are busy, so sometimes the June sale gets a little bit overlooked because of that, but truly the quality has improved each year and there are quite a lot of nice horses in this catalogue."

The undertack show continues through Saturday, beginning daily at 7:30 a.m. The June Sale begins next Tuesday and runs through Friday. Sessions begin daily at 10:30 a.m.

Tom Gallo Elected NYTB Board President:

Long-time New York Thoroughbred Breeders vice president Tom Gallo has been elected to serve as the NYTB board's president for the remainder of 2015. Gallo, owner of Blue Stone Farm, was elected unanimously during a board meeting Monday in Saratoga. Current NYTB director Mallory Mort, farm manager at Marlene Brody's Gallagher's Stud, was elected to replace Gallo in the office of vice president. The board also selected Dr. Joan M. Taylor to fill a director vacancy. Former board president Barry Ostrager resigned following his nomination to serve as a judge in the Civil Branch of the Supreme Court of the State of New York in the Court of Claims. "First, on behalf of the whole Board, I want to express our gratitude for Barry's long and distinguished service on behalf of NYTB and on behalf of the New York racing and breeding industries as a whole," Gallo said. "As the new president of the NYTB Board, I would like to continue the momentum created by Barry and our board. I will also make every effort to keep NYTB in a leadership role for the benefit of both the New York breeding industry, and the breeding industry nationwide."

Calumet Farm Named Breeders' Cup Partner:

Calumet Farm has been named an official farm partner of the Breeders' Cup. The historic farm joins Claiborne Farm, Coolmore, Lane's End Farm, Three Chimneys Farm and WinStar Farm as official Breeders' Cup farm partners. As part of the multi-year agreement, Calumet will receive a fully-integrated media package of television, print, internet and onsite exposure surrounding the World Championships and the Breeders' Cup Challenge series of qualifying races, including commercial time in Breeders' Cup Challenge and Breeders' Cup World Championships telecasts. Calumet stallions and progeny will also be identified with on-screen graphics during those telecasts in the post parade.

Pimlico Spring Meet Shows Handle Increase:

Pimlico's 27-day spring meet ended Saturday with increases in total and average handle, according to figures released Monday by the Maryland Jockey Club. Total wagering was $207.1 million, up 25.5% from the 2014 spring meet, while the average handle increased 9.7%, from $4.706 million to $5.164 million.

Total handle on the May 16 Preakness Day card also increased, from $83.786 million to $85.161 million, while total handle on Black-Eyed Susan Day rose 63%, from $12.507 million to $18.488 million.

"The numbers once again support our belief that there is potential for the Thoroughbred industry in Maryland to grow and prosper," said the Maryland Jockey Club's President and General Manager Sal Sinatra. "Improvements to both our facilities, listening to our fans, and the support we have received from the horsemen have all helped in generating more interest in our sport and the industry. We believe this is only the start. There is more room to grow our industry in Maryland and the surrounding areas, excite our fan base, and bring new people to this great sport."

Kikisoblu began her career under the care of trainer Rarick Wade and graduated at second asking in a six-panel Turf Paradise maiden contest Jan. 12. A rallying winner of a 5 1/2-furlong allowance event at the Phoenix oval Feb. 3, she was subsequently transferred to this barn and returned immediate dividends with a dominant 4 1/2-length score in the Hastings H. over six furlongs here May 10. Tabbed as the heavy favorite to keep her winning streak alive in this spot, the bay emerged from the gate in mid-pack and settled to track the pace from the two path through a quarter-mile in :22.60. Kikisoblu was sent up to gain command on the far turn, pulled clear entering the lane and dashed home to another comfortable victory. Click for the brisnet.com chart.
