OP ED: WITH NEW WHIP RULE IN CALI, RACING GETS IT WRONG... AGAIN

Active Hall of Fame jockey and CHRB member Alex Solis

By Bill Finley

It should not have come as any surprise that the California Horse Racing Board voted Thursday to change its rules regarding whipping, allowing jockeys to hit their horses more often. After all, this is horse racing, where it's always one step forward, one-point-seven steps backward.

This time, even for this dysfunctional, schizophrenic, we-absolutely-must-shoot-ourselves-in-the-foot sport, the decision by the CHRB was particularly harebrained.

You might not have a problem with the new rule, which will allow jockeys to now hit a horse four times in succession in the final sixteenth of a mile instead of three. But you should have a major issue with the voting process and exactly who was allowed to decide the fate of the rules. In a 4-3 decision, the deciding vote was cast by jockey Alex Solis, who is also a member of the CHRB. Solis is a classy guy and no one has ever questioned his integrity. Cont. p3

DESTIN WORKS FOR BELMONT

Destin (Giant's Causeway), currently being aimed at the GI Belmont S. June 11, breezed five furlongs in 1:01.85 on the Belmont Park training track Friday morning. The gray, a solid sixth in the GI Kentucky Derby, previously captured Tampa's GIII Sam F. Davis S. and GII Lambholm South Tampa Bay Derby. "He had a good breeze with a solid gallop out and seems to be in good form," trainer Todd Pletcher said of the Twin Creeks Racing Stables and Eclipse Thoroughbred Partners colorbearer. Destin is currently one of four early Belmont possibles currently at Belmont Park, along with stablemate, fourth-place GI Preakness S. finisher and 'TDN Rising Star' Stradivari (Medaglia d'Oro); GII Peter Pan S. runner-up Governor Malibu (Malibu Moon), and Lani (Tapit), fifth in the Preakness behind Exaggerator (Curlin), who is scheduled to arrive in New York Sunday. Cont. p4

But Solis is not only a jockey, he is a jockey who was fined three times for breaking the existing rule. If you are a habitual speeder, always driving 80 in a 65-zone, and have been ticketed three times, they're not going to let you come in and decide to raise the speed limit.

You can argue that Solis, as an active jockey, shouldn't be on the CHRB in the first place. At the very least, he should have recused himself from this vote because of the very obvious conflict of interest. But that would have taken common sense on someone's part, and that's something in short supply in horse racing.

So, with the help of Solis and three other commissioners, the CHRB took something that was progressive and good for the sport and dumped it in the trash can. The obvious reason to tighten, and not loosen, regulations regarding whipping is public perception. Maybe it isn't such a big deal and maybe these new whips don't really hurt the horse. This is one of those rare cases where the facts, whatever they may be, don't matter. People don't like to see animals abused and a lot of people think hitting a horse with a whip, stick, crop, or whatever you want to call it, is cruel. Most people think dog racing is cruel. And look where dog racing is.

Solis said that one of the times he got fined he probably would not have won the race had he not continued to strike the horse. That may or may not be true, but our society is one made up of rules and regulations and, in this case, they are intended to protect the animal and convey an image to the public that horse racing is not abusive. Lines have to be drawn. Was there a race where Solis finished second and might have won if he struck the horse repeatedly with a cat o' nine tails to encourage it to run faster? Absurd? Yes. But where do we draw that line?

Responding to Solis's argument, we found at least one member of the CHRB who gets it.

"That's what upsets me, a horse is tiring and giving out, and we're sitting here encouraging them with a whip, and I think that's cruel," said Commissioner Steve Beneto. "I'd rather see a jockey lose the race than have somebody abuse the horse."

Speaking on behalf of the Jockeys' Guild, its western regional manager, Darrell Haire argued that being allowed to strike a horse four times in succession is not abuse. He might want to bring that up with my 15-year-old daughter. Brought up in a family where both parents work in the racing industry, she has zero interest in the sport and when asked why, she said it is because she doesn't like to watch the jockeys beating the horses.

Making this situation even more preposterous is that the existing rule was apparently working just fine. Scott Chaney, a steward at the Southern California tracks, said the new whipping regulation was a “resounding success.”

I understand I am not a jockey and people I respect, like Chris McCarron, have told me there is a need for a jockey to carry a whip. I’m sorry, I just don’t buy it. Whipping should be outright banned, and I’ll even, free of charge, tell the sport how to go about it: Start with experimental whip-less races. Don’t do it with 2-year-olds or in big races. Take some mid-level claiming races, perhaps on the grass, definitely for older horses, and don’t allow the jockeys to carry whips. As an incentive to get trainers and owners to enter, increase the purse by 30%. Let’s see what happens and whether whip-less racing works. You can even allow the jockeys to carry whips and allow them to use them only if they feel the need to because of reasonable safety issues involving high-strung or unmanageable horses.

If these races create any problems whatsoever, I’ll admit I was wrong.

Whipping horses is something that was established in the stone age, when people cared a lot less about animal rights, cock fighting was legal, no one had ever heard of Michael Vick and when racing had a monopoly on legal gambling. Take the whip away from every jockey and you have a level playing field, the only thing a bettor, owner, trainer and even a jockey, should ask for. The main reason whipping is still allowed is because horse racing has an innate defect, an inability to change with the times. Not that we needed any more evidence, but the CHRB foolishly proved that point once again.

Other possible starters for the final leg of the Triple Crown include Preakness runner-up and ‘TDN Rising Star’ Cherry Wine (Paddy O’Prado) and his stablemate MGISW Brody's Cause (Giant’s Causeway), currently at Churchill Downs and expected to arrive over the weekend; Derby fifth Suddenbreakingnews (Mineshaft), scheduled to ship to New York next week and GI Arkansas Derby winner Creator (Tapit), whose travel plans from Churchill have yet to be determined. The lightly raced Wild About Deb (Eskendereya), third in the Peter Pan, is questionable for the Belmont.

GOVERNOR MALIBU BREEZES

Christophe Clement trainee Governor Malibu (Malibu Moon), most recently second in the GII Peter Pan S. May 14, worked five furlongs on the Belmont main track Friday morning in 1:01:15 towards a possible next start in the GI Belmont S. New York Racing Association clockers caught Governor Malibu in splits of :23 4/5 and :48 1/5, galloping out six furlongs in 1:14 2/5. "It was a nice work. Joel Rosario was aboard and he looked well," said Clement, who upset the 2014 Belmont with Tonalist (Tapit). "We are not sure at this point [as to his next start]. We are leaning toward the Belmont S., but of course, nothing is certain." The New York-bred will continue preparations towards the Belmont with a five-furlong breeze either next Friday or Saturday, said the trainer.

FOUR REASONS LAS VEGAS SPORTS BETTING IS SURGING & WHAT RACING CAN LEARN FROM IT by Dean Towers

In April, Nevada sports books set yet another monthly handle record, this time taking in $292 million in bets. According to David Payne Purdum of ESPN, this represents almost three straight years of month-to-month positive revenue for the books, and it's estimated this once small industry in Las Vegas will surpass $5 billion in handle in 2016. Back in 2006, the industry brought in about $2.7 billion in handle, in 2010, about $3 billion. The growth rates, by almost any measure, are astronomical.

Long-time Las Vegas bookmaker Jimmy Vaccaro is as surprised as anyone.

"I'm just flabbergasted," Vaccaro told the Las Vegas Review-Journal recently. "People can't get enough of it. It's growing and growing and growing, and it's going to get bigger."

No two ways about it: Sports betting is booming.

What makes these numbers particularly striking is that this is in one state, with one set of players. These are sports books in Las Vegas only and don't include offshore betting or the underground economy. This is not a national lottery, horse racing (which is offered in 40-plus states and many other countries) or casino gaming, which in this day and age you can seemingly find quicker than a 7-11 anywhere in North America. How is this recent surge in sports wagering explained? Here are four potential reasons.

1. Technology: Several years ago William Hill and CG Technology created sports betting apps that could be used over mobile phones. Since that time, every sportsbook of note has followed. This spring during March Madness, over 40% of all bets were made via mobile, and at one book, wagering was up $1.2 million for the tournament.

Mobile betting has also done what most businesses hope it will do--add to revenues, by being accretive. There has been no evidence of any cannibalization, that so many worry about with new technologies. Jay Kornegy of the Westgate book told the Las Vegas Review-Journal earlier this month that the counter business at his book has not suffered.

Technology and innovation has grown the pie.

2. Daily Fantasy Sports: The massive rise in revenues from those playing daily fantasy sports since 2010 cannot be denied. Those fielding teams on DraftKings or FanDuel--and brought in through the company's massive, high funnel marketing spend--are in some proportion newbies to this form of wagering. It appears (although there are no studies completed as of yet on the phenomenon) "DFS" is acting like a gateway to sports betting. It's a complementary good, and sports betting is reaping the benefits.

3. Mainstream Media Coverage: Slowly but surely, the taboo tag no longer applies to sports betting. Yes, sports betting has gone mainstream, whether it be the betting line being mentioned on NFL telecasts or with commonplace on ESPN, "DFS" teams being fielded right on your TV screens, or the hundred or so prop bets being mentioned without any fanfare for the Super Bowl. It's gotten so mainstream that this year during March Madness, Fox Sports actually broadcasted directly from a Vegas sports book.

Even the sports leagues are making it more and more mainstream. NBA chief Adam Silver is a big proponent of sports betting and wants it to come out of the shadows. Mark Cuban has been asserting similar, and both have an audience. It's clearly not 1990 anymore.

4. Churn: In 1916, sports betting on street corners in Chicago or New York involved about a 5% takeout rate. In 2016, Las Vegas sportsbooks charge about the exact same rate. Despite the rapid growth in sports betting since 2006, you've never seen one sportsbook talk about "raising takeout to make more money." That's because of churn.

Breaking your customers early and often pushes them away to other games. And sports bettors are very savvy in the first place. Although Vegas books do offer some higher takeout bets, the betting public shuns them. In 2015, only 7% of all sportsbook revenue came from high takeout parlay cards, with 93% from 5% holds. Sports wagering customers are playing, and they are winning enough to keep them coming back.

What can racing learn from sports betting's growth, if anything?

In terms of new technology, one of the great mysteries in horse racing is that despite having a near-monopoly on Internet wagering since 2006 with the passage of the UIGEA, it simply has not grown the wagering pie. I think much of that hinges on racing's protective nature, and unwillingness to embrace disruption. Through the internet, racing has clung to average cost pricing, where average cost pricing makes little sense to online users. An average cost pricing-marginal cost pricing hybrid was needed, because in the 21st century, gambling over the web is a high volume, low margin business. Racing has tried to stuff square pegs into round holes. It just has not worked.

Despite huge industry pressure and infighting, a proper pricing mechanism for Internet wagering is a necessity to keep customers playing.

While sports betting has used a complimentary good like "Daily Fantasy Sports" to their advantage, racing has not done similar with their complimentary goods. I firmly believe both tournament contest play and exchange wagering are gateways to the pari-mutuel pools, just like DFS is to sports betting. What we've seen in this vein in horse racing is the exact opposite to what we've noticed empirically in sports betting. Lawsuits wanting to ban tournament sites, and an unwillingness to embrace or unleash the power of exchange wagering are dominant in today's horse racing headlines.

If horse racing treated new ways to wager as complimentary goods (when there's strong evidence they are), I think the sport would be much better off.

While churn is paid attention to in sports wagering, in racing it's simply not respected, despite copious evidence it should be. Back in 1946, money-hungry tracks and state boards saw hiking takeout as an easy way to make money. In New York, they did exactly that, charging a new 5% surcharge on wagers. The following year--according to America's National Pastimes, a History--racetrack attendance dropped 14.5% and wagering fell 17.5% and revenues to the state dropped for the first time since the Great Depression. That evidence should've made anyone in the industry pause, but since that time, takeout has just gone up and up and up. Higher takeout means lower churn, which in turn makes it harder to keep customers. Your New York bookie with a degree in hard knocks learned that lesson, while Wharton grads running tracks and state boards never seemed to take the same course.

Further, we see a reliance on new bets of a low-churn variety in horse racing. While Vegas succeeds on 4.54% takeout football games, racing looks for a 60% jackpot bet as a savior instead. In my view, this is not the right approach.

From a racing perspective, the rapid increase in sports betting handle (with little sign of slowing) can either get you down, or get you excited. Frankly, I'm in the latter camp. I think the evidence shows that the skill game gambling market in the U.S. is large, and growing and this market is exactly the market for horse racing gambling --which to me is still the best, most interesting, and potentially lucrative betting game ever invented. If the glass truly is half full, I think the sports wagering experience provides racing with a road map to potential increased handle, and better revenues.

Dean Towers is a board member of the Horseplayers Association of North America, has presented at several gambling conferences across the continent, and authored a white paper on horse racing Exchange Wagering.

SOPHOMORES TAKE TO TURF IN CHICAGO

by Brian DiDonato

With the first two legs of the Triple Crown in the books and two more weeks until the GI Belmont S., the sophomore set takes to the turf to contest the GIII Arlington Classic Saturday. Leading the way at 5-2 on the morning line is Edward Seltzer and Beverley Anderson homebred Surgical Strike (Red Giant). The bay annexed Turfway's John Battaglia Memorial S. Mar. 12, and came with a very wide rush to be third, beaten a half length, in that venue's GIII Spiral S. Apr. 2. Returned to the sod and let go at 15-1 in the GII American Turf S. on the GI Kentucky Derby undercard May 7, the Ben Colebrook pupil again came with his run in the lane, but settled for third behind the lightly raced pair of Camelot Kitten (Kitten's Joy) and 'TDN Rising Star' Beach Patrol (Lemon Drop Kid). Surgical Strike dons first-time blinkers for this, and if that helps him get into the race more early, he could prove doubly dangerous.

Surgical Strike | Coady

Two Step Time (Two Step Salsa) was second in the OBS Championship S. in January before taking the grassy Texas Heritage S. at Sam Houston the following month. He finished a neck back of Surgical Strike when fourth in the Spiral, but couldn't overcome a rough start and wide trip, checking in 11th of 13 in the American Turf.

Tequila Joe (Stormy Atlantic) steps into graded company for the second time in his career, and his connections will hope for a better result this time. A visually impressive first-up graduate at Del Mar early last September, the $180,000 OBS April grad failed to land a blow over yielding Keeneland sod in the GIII Bourbon S. a month later. He turned in another midpack performance in a Keeneland allowance Oct. 23 in which Surgical Strike was a neck second, but resurfaced in Lexington Apr. 29 looking like the horse he seemed to be after his unveiling. Dismissed at 13-1 for that 9 1/2-panel affair, Tequila Joe drafted from the pocket and gamely ran down a clear leader in the lane to score by a widening three lengths.

The precocious Cocked and Loaded (Colonel John) won the Tremont S. sprinting and GIII Iroquois S. going long last term before finishing a decent fifth behind Nyquist (Uncle Mo) in the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile at Keeneland on Halloween. He finished a distant third of four behind still undefeated 'TDN Rising Star' Unified (Candy Ride {Arg}) in the sloppy seven-furlong GIII Bay Shore S. at Aqueduct Apr. 9, and was beaten nearly 20 lengths when last but one in the GIII Pat Day Mile one race after the aforementioned American Turf. The first-time turfer matched Tequila Joe's 1:02 clocking with the dogs up in a May 22 drill over the local sod.

Member Candidates STATEMENTS

Each election cycle, the Thoroughbred Daily News gives the candidates on the ballot for the election of Breeders' Cup Members the opportunity to make a statement in support of their candidacy. This year, there are 30 individuals on the ballot vying for 19 positions. These statements will appear in the TDN through June 6, when voting opens. Go to www.breederscup.com/election to view the candidate bios.

BOYD BROWNING

Boyd Browning

I have the opportunity to deal with a large number of diverse participants in the Thoroughbred industry in my role at Fasig-Tipton. Breeders throughout the United States and the world, at all levels transact business with us, which provdes me a broad perspective which should be beneficial to the Breeders' Cup.

LINCOLN COLLINS

I am both surprised and honored to have been nominated as a potential Breeders' Cup member.

My professional experience with thoroughbred racing spans more than 35 years, the last 27 of which has been spent at the helm of my own business, Kern Thoroughbreds. When I came to the United States in 1981 I literally started from scratch, not knowing a single person in American thoroughbred racing or breeding. My first Breeders' Cup was in 1985 at Aqueduct, to which I traveled via the New York subway. With the support of my family, friends and, above all, loyal and patient clients, have accumulated a great deal of experience within this great sport. In addition to my bloodstock and advisory business, I have been an owner, a breeder and a manager of racing partnerships.

Lincoln Collins

The Breeders' Cup is the single event that showcases the very best of North American racing and as such should serve as an example for the rest of the sport to emulate. In an era when gambling opportunities are proliferating and the competition for the entertainment dollar is keener than ever, it is essential the Breeders' Cup continue to innovate. Certainly money generated from gambling is the lifeblood of racing, but to keep it flowing we must find ways to attract new fans to the sport whether it is to bet, enjoy the spectacle, appreciate the horses or, preferably, all three.

In asking for your vote, I want to make it clear that I am opposed to race day medication. I also strongly believe that we must root out the small number of cheats who abuse the trust of the fans, the faith of the bettors and the health of the horse. Out of competition testing is essential if the increasing sophistication of the cheats is to be effectively countered.

If elected I will bring another independent voice to the Breeders' Cup membership. I am not beholden to any organization or business. My only agenda will be work hard and play my small part in ensuring the future of the Breeders' Cup and the great sport that it showcases.

HARRY "CHIP" LANDRY

If elected; my diverse background in breeding and racing across various regions of the US and the contacts and friendships I've made will allow me to give voice to breeders from a broad area of the country. My goal is to help build on the success of racing's most prestigious Championships and in addition help work toward addressing the problems with which we are faced. I believe the Breeders' Cup in its unique position as the major thoroughbred breeders' co-op in the world has a responsibility to provide leadership and vision that will not only encompass one event, but will look at breeding and racing as a whole. By making such a commitment, Breeders' Cup could benefit and promote the survival of an industry that has always provided me, my family and countless others much joy and wellbeing.

CANDY RIDE COLT TOPS BARRETTS MAY

by Jessica Martini, with additional reporting by Jonathan Murrietta

The Barretts May Sale of 2-Year-Olds in Training and Horses of Racing Age made its second appearance at Del Mar Friday afternoon, with a colt by Candy Ride (Arg) (hip 117) bringing top price of $290,000 from Kaleem and Sophie Shah, as overall results dipped from 2015 figures.

In all 63 juveniles sold for a total of $2,597,400. The average of $41,299 fell 9.7% from a year ago, when 92 2-year-olds sold for $4,199,000 and an average of $45,641. With 42 horses failing to meet their reserves Friday, the buy-back rate was 40%. It was 24.2% a year ago.

"We had a decent turnout," commented Barretts General Manager Kim Lloyd. "Two of the top horses sold super well, we just had too many buy-backs. I thought the prices were ok. The horses that were marketable sold well and brought the money they should, but I was surprised by the buy-backs."

Consignors continued to remark on a polarized market which has been a common theme at the 2016 juvenile sales.

"It's like all sales," said John Stephens, who consigned Friday's top-priced lot. "The ones they want, they pay for and if you don't make that list, it's tough."

Sean McCarthy, whose McCarthy Bloodstock consigned three of the sale's top five lots, agreed.

"All in all, I think it has improved and it's seems to be running along in line with all the other sales," McCarthy said. "The horses at the top end are pretty strong and we would sure like to see a bit more help in the middle--it would be good, obviously, for the market."

The sale, usually held the week after the GI Kentucky Derby, was pushed back later in the month to accommodate the National Horse Show and was held Friday as racing was going on at Santa Anita, but Lloyd is hoping for improved results with a return to the auction's traditional date.

"Even though we didn't have the sale on a preferred date, we still had people show up," Lloyd commented. "It's just a matter of trying to get a date lined up with the National Horse Show. We'll look next year to have a date between the Derby and the Preakness, like we always had. That will help us to have a better fit with the non-racing days."

BIDDING A FAMILY AFFAIR FOR SHAHS

With trainer Bob Baffert unable to make it to Del Mar for Friday's sale, bidding duties on hip 117, a dark bay colt by Candy Ride (Arg), fell to owner Kaleem Shah and his daughter Sophie. The 20-year-old Sophie Shah soon took charge of proceedings, going to a sale-topping $290,000 to secure the juvenile from the Stephens Thoroughbreds consignment.

"Bob liked the horse," Kaleem Shah said of the juvenile. "He thought he was a good one, so we hope he is a good one. We had to go a little bit more than I expected, but he was a good-looking horse. I guess you have to pay a little bit more for the good ones."

Of Baffert, Shah explained, "Bob couldn't make it, but he has been watching the videos and getting all the vet reports. He's been monitoring everything out here."

The sale-topper is out of multiple stakes winner She's Sensational (Point Given), a half-sister to Grade I winner Lady of Shamrock (Scat Daddy). John Stephens purchased the youngster, a half-brother to stakes placed Our Way (Tizway), for $140,000 at last year's Keeneland September Sale. The colt RNA'd for $245,000 after working :10 2/5 at OBS April and again worked in :10 2/5 before selling Friday.

"We've been high on him all year," Stephens said. "The horse does everything right. He's very professional. He worked good, he galloped out super and he was well-received."

CREATIVE CAUSE COLT JOINS O'NEILL BARN

Bloodstock agent Dennis O'Neill acquired maiden winner Milton Freewater (Creative Cause), on behalf of owners Danny Kramer and Sol Kumin, for $250,000 during Friday's Barretts May sale.

Racing for breeder and trainer Patricia Harrington, Milton Freewater became his freshman sire's first winner while setting a track record in his debut at Los Alamitos Apr. 22 (video), covering the 4 1/2 furlongs in :51.37.

"We are big fans of Creative Cause and we loved his first race," O'Neill said after signing the ticket on the gray colt. "He vetted really well and we thought it was worth taking a shot."

Out of stakes placed Lovehi (Swiss Yodeler), Milton Freewater is from the family of Grade I winner Dancing in Silks, as well as graded stakes winning 'TDN Rising Star' Super Majesty.

"He was a wonderful horse," said Andy Havens, whose Havens Bloodstock consigned the youngster. "He does everything right. He won at 4 1/2 furlongs, but he doesn't look like a 4 1/2 horse. He is a wonderful-acting horse with a good temperament--a lovely horse to be around. Sometimes these winning 2-year-olds don't get the attention that they should in these sales, so I'm just glad it worked out because I thought he was a horse worth having."

Fourth as the favorite in a rained-off affair at Aqueduct Dec. 2 to close her season, the bay resumed with a useful second-place finish sprinting at the Big A Apr. 20. In the mix for the opening 100 yards or so, Fair Point was eased back into midpack in the hands of the hot-riding Jose Ortiz and looked to be traveling stronly behind rivals on the turn. Blocked for a time in upper stretch, she split horses with a furlong to race and outsprinted favored Quaver (Blame) to take it by a half-length. The winner's second dam, Elrose (Deputy Minister), is a half-sister to champion and dual Classic winner Silver Charm. When mated with Fair Point's sire, Elrose produced Super Freaky, winner of the grassy GIII Providencia S. and third in the GI Del Mar Oaks in 2007 before selling to Castleton Lyons for $950,000 at that year's Fasig-Tipton November sale. Fair Rose has a 2-year-old colt of this year by Drosselmeyer, a yearling filly by Midnight Lute and foaled a colt by Congrats Mar. 15. RED LODGE, f, 2, by Midshipman
1st Dam: Star Silver, by Aldebaran
2nd Dam: Memories of Silver, by Silver Hawk
3rd Dam: All My Memories, by Little Current

Red Lodge, favored at 4-5 as the lone filly against five males in the Friday lid-lifter at Belmont, shaped as a horse of tremendous promise with this very handy maiden success. Away without incident from gate three, Red Lodge settled in second position as Joel Rosario sent 5-2 second choice and stablemate Dangerous Dan (Iqbaal) into a clear early advantage. Given just a bit of rein as the quarter pole loomed, the chestnut eased past the pacesetter under no encouragement whatsoever, opened a winning break and had 3 3/4 lengths to spare at the wire. Made You Look (More Than Ready) finished best of the rest for second. The final time established a new course record for the distance.

Red Lodge | Adam Coglianese

Red Lodge, campaigned by Gatewood Bell's Hat Creek Racing, was trying the grass for the first time off a debut runner-up effort over the Keeneland main track Apr. 20 in which she led another field of boys by four lengths into the final eighth of a mile, only to be tagged late when her rider failed to pick up a horse rallying up the fence. For some time, winning trainer Wesley Ward has thought highly of Red Lodge, who he will send into action against the males in the June 16 G2 Norfolk S. at Royal Ascot.

"I saw that brilliance in March in her," he explained. "Mario Pino worked her at Palm Meadows and we took her back off three horses. She breezed about four lengths behind them and when he swung her wide and let the reins loose, it was like a leopard pouncing on a gazelle." Given the speed Red Lodge had exhibited at first asking, Ward asked jockey John Velazquez to try to teach his pupil something Friday. "I told him to get a hold of her in the gate and I was trying to get back to what she did in the work instead of what she had done in her first race," Ward explained. "And as luck would have it, she came through."

The winner is kin to a yearling filly from the final crop of Street Cry (Ire) and a colt foal of this year by English Channel. The winner's second dam, Memories of Silver (Silver Hawk), was a dual Grade I winner on the grass and is responsible for two-time GISW Winter Memories (El Prado {Ire}), GSW La Cloche (Ghostzapper) and the stakes-winning full-brothers British Blue and War Trace, both sons of Storm Cat. DELTALINA (f, 3, First Samurai--El Mirage Queen, by Gilded Time), a good third to subsequent GSP Sapphire Kitten (Kitten's Joy) and Ma Can Do It (Majesticperfection) sprinting at Kentucky Downs Sept. 16, went missing off a runner-up effort behind the recently stakes-placed Summer Reading (Hard Spun) over this course and distance Oct. 31. Looking to give trainer Wesley Ward bookend wins on the program--this time as the owner as well--Deltalina won the break for Joel Rosario and cut out fractions of :21.73 and :44.64 over the fast footing. Firmly in command turning for home, the 4-1 chance was never in serious danger as 77-1 Athena's Aegis (Ire) (Acclamation {GB}) gave futile chase late. The winning margin was two lengths. LITTLE NAPPY (c, 2, Shackleford--French Laundry, by Seeking the Gold) became the first winner for his freshman sire (by Forestry) with a game success. The New York-bred took some time to get his feet underneath him after an incident-free break and was urged along to be a close third entering the turn. Driven into the lead fully three furlongs from the wire, he opened a clear advantage into the abbreviated stretch run and managed to cling on to score by a nose at odds of 14-1. Skinflint (Super Saver), drawn on the rail for his debut, closed well and nearly got the job done in the final jump. Ride On Curlin to Pleasant Acres:

Ride On Curlin (Curlin--Magical Ride, by Storm Cat), a good second behind California Chrome (Lucky Pulpit) in the 2014 GI Preakness S., has been retired to Pleasant Acres Stallions in Florida, it was announced. A stud fee will be revealed at a later date.

Ride On Curlin
Christie DeBernardis

"It has been my goal since opening a stallion station in 2014 to bring new bloodlines to Florida," farm owner Joe Barbazon said. "Ride On Curlin fits our program by being the first son of Curlin to come to our state and is out of a brilliant female family. I look forward to diversifying my broodmare band to compliment this fine young stallion."

Bred in Kentucky by G. Watts Humphrey Jr. and Louise Ireland, campaigned by owner Daniel J. Dougherty and trainer Billy Gowan, and now property of a syndicate, the $25,000 KEESEP yearling earned $795,175 in 22 career starts. In his second career attempt as a 2-year-old, he set a track record for 5 1/2 furlongs at Ellis Park in Kentucky. Ride On Curlin was also third in the 2013 GI Foxwoods Champagne S. and second in the following year's GI Arkansas Derby. His second dam is GI Test S. heroine Victory Ride (Seeking the Gold).

BOLD CONTENDER (f, 3, Strong Contender--Special Wife, by Husband) debuted promisingly Mar. 10 at Gulfstream, finishing a fast-closing second by a nose at 14-1 despite running wide around both turns. Third over this distance Apr. 2, the chestnut broke her maiden by 2 1/2 lengths going 12 furlongs on the soft Keeneland course Apr. 28. Given a 19-5 chance in this spot, Bold Contender lunged some at the break and settled second-last while saving ground on the first turn. Gaining ground three deep between rivals at the three-eighths pole, she closed relentlessly in the lane to nail 8-5 favorite Walking the Kitten (Kitten's Joy) on the wire by a nose. PRETTY CITY DANCER (f, 2, Tapit--Pretty City, by Carson City) an $825,000 Keeneland September yearling acquisition, made amends for a troubled third-place effort on her racetrack debut May 5 with a comfortable victory at odds-on Friday beneath the Twin Spires. Up slightly on her hind legs as the gates flew back, Pretty City Dancer raced towards the back early on with chief market rival Honey Bunny (Tapizar) under a good hold from Julien Leparoux. Steered out four wide at the three-eighths, the gray tugged her way into third at the head of the lane and raced past the debuting Forever Fara (Majesticperfection) to graduate by 2 3/4 lengths. Chanson d'Amour (Harlan's Holiday) was a nose further back in third. Pretty City Dancer is a half-sister to Lear's Princess (Lear Fan), GISW, $491,870, who famously upset that year's GI Belmont S. winner Rags To Riches (A.P. Indy) in the 2007 GI Gazelle S. Lear's Princess was subsequently sold to Shadwell Farm for $2.7 million at the 2008 Fasig-Tipton November sale. It's difficult, but far from impossible, to find a bargain in the bloodstock business. Every sale has them. A horse who falls through the cracks at auction, for whatever reason, and brings back a ten-fold return on investment on the racetrack and sometimes beyond. Hardly ever though, do those value buys come with the type of impeccable pedigree that bloodstock agent Chad Schumer found in Redesdale, who broke his maiden on debut for trainer Brendan Walsh against a salty field Thursday night at Churchill Downs.

Redesdale is by top sire Speightstown, out of the Danzig mare Harpia, who won the GIII Shirley Jones H. for owner/breeder Juddmonte Farms and was runner-up in four other graded events.

Her lineage, however, far eclipses her racing accomplishments. Namely, the fact that she's a full-sister to G1SW and foundational dual-hemisphere sire Danehill. Several other black-type winners litter Redesdale's pedigree and his third dam is a half-sister to the legendary Northern Dancer.

"Quite frankly, the reason I went to look at [Redesdale] was for a stallion prospect," Schumer, who co-owns the colt with Walsh Racing LLC, said.

Redesdale | Coady Photography

It didn't take long for the Louisville native to realize that he might have stumbled on to something special when the hammer went down for just $18,000 on the bay sophomore at this year's Keeneland January sale.

"I loved the horse," Schumer recalled. "He's very good physically actually. You wouldn't think so from looking at a sale price. You'd think there's something wrong with him, but he's big, correct, has got a great shoulder on him. It almost sounds silly, but he just had a look about him. I bet if you ask every agent, you just get a feeling about a horse sometimes. I got a feeling about him. There was an aura about him. I told Brendan when we got him, 'we can't go wrong at this price.'"

So why did the horse sell for such a low number?

"It was kind of a joke, we called him 'fatso,'" Schumer explained. "It looked like he hadn't been in training. He's still a little bit heavy. Brendan said 'I've taken as much off as I can, a race might tighten him up.' I'm not trying to hype him, but considering his weight, I think he'll improve from the race."

Redesdale earned an 87 Beyer Speed Figure for his effort and has already attracted a lot of the attention that was absent for him in the auction ring.

"It's like a bidding war going on," Schumer said. "I can't tell you how many calls I've had today. Hopefully, I end up still owning a piece of him."

As for the long-term goals for his colt, Schumer was realistic, but definitely thinking big.

"I hate to say this off a maiden win, but the immediate long-term goal for him would be the King's Bishop," Schumer divulged. "As excited as we are, you have to take things one step at a time. Obviously, if he's at that level, we would look at the Breeders' Cup Sprint."

No matter what the future holds for Redesdale, it's quite clear that Schumer has found himself much more than just an $18,000 stallion prospect.

COVER SONG (f, 3, Fastnet Rock {Aus}--Misty For Me {Ire} {Hwt. 2yo Filly-Ire & Fr, Hwt. 3yo Filly-Ire at 9.5-11f, MG1SW-Ire, G1SW-Fr, GISP-US, $1,124,364}, by Galileo {Ire}) the first foal from her four-time Group 1-winning dam tried the surface for which she was bred for the first time in Friday's fifth race at Santa Anita and, given a textbook ride by Flavien Prat, outran her favored stablemate Lori's Attitude (Temple City) to graduate by 3/4 of a length. The attractive bay filly bounced away neatly from gate five and raced freely through the opening stages, but settled better once Lori's Attitude and Tyler Baze kicked on to lead clearly down the hill.

Poised behind as they reached the dirt, Cover Song, bred on the reverse cross responsible for the likes of Frankel (GB), was pulled out into the two path, dueled with the chalk into the final furlong and prevailed following a long drive at overlaid odds of 10-1. Cover Song, a $450,000 purchase by B. Wayne Hughes's team out of the 2014 Keeneland September sale, made just one trip to the post at two, finishing a tailed-off seventh of nine behind 'TDN Rising Star' and eventual 2-year-old filly champion Songbird (Medaglia d'Oro) over the Del Mar main July 26. A spectacular and champion sire of fillies such as champion Atlantic Jewel (Aus), Mosheen (Aus), Sea Siren (Aus), Driefontein (Aus), First Seal (Aus), etc.--in his native Australia, Fastnet Rock has made a significant impression with his Northern Hemisphere-sired crops, including 2015 G1 Investec Oaks upsetter Qualify (Ire) and G1 Pretty Polly S. victrix Diamondandrubies (Ire). Spendthrift's Australian arm has tasted success in Australia with Fastnet Rock's Group 3-placed daughter Cana (Aus). Cover Song's dam, a Group 1 winner in France and Ireland, three-time highweight in Europe and third in the 2011 GI Breeders' Cup Filly & Mare Turf, is represented by 2-year-old filly Roly Poly (War Front), who returned 10-1 when annexing a Naas maiden on debut Apr. 25. Misty For Me is also the dam of a yearling filly by War Front and foaled another filly by the Claiborne stallion Mar. 9. GOLD COAST GEARS UP FOR NATIONAL SALE

By Kelsey Riley

Magic Millions's marathon National Sale Series kicks off on the Gold Coast on Sunday, with 10 days of selling scheduled at the Bundall complex. The two-day weanling sale gets the ball rolling Sunday, with 400 youngsters slated to go under the hammer through the end of trade Monday.

Last year's Gold Coast weanling sale saw vibrant trade, with the A$60,038 average up 38% from 2014, and the broodmare sale performed admirably coming off the Teeley dispersal the year before. This year's catalogue boasts the pages to match any, highlighted by siblings to five Group 1 winners in the weanling catalogue; seven Group 1-winning mares in the broodmare catalogue and 37 total group winners.

Speaking from Magic Millions's Gold Coast base Friday, Magic Millions Managing Director Vin Cox said action on the grounds was beginning to build two days before the sale's start.

"It's quite early days, we don't start until Sunday and its Friday morning here now, but having said that all the weanlings are here and a very good percentage of the mares have arrived," he noted. "The people that are looking are the serious participants, and there are a lot more people coming in today, so it'll just keep ramping up from here." Cont. in Worldwide News p8

LEROIDESANIMAUX DIES AT 16

Leroidesanimaux (Brz) (Candy Stripes–Dissemble {GB}, by Ahonoora {GB}), the Eclipse champion turf male of 2005 and sire of GI Kentucky Derby and G1 Dubai World Cup winner Animal Kingdom, has died at age 16 at Lanwades Stud in Newmarket following complications from a minor paddock accident earlier this year.

Foaled in Brazil, Leroidesanimaux broke his maiden there and was Group 1-placed before being transferred to Bobby Frankel in the U.S. He was fourth in his local debut sprinting on the grass before winning eight straight. He collected the GIII Inglewood H. and GIII Monrovia H. before capping the 2004 season with a breakthrough victory in Hollywood Park's GI Citation H. He kicked off his 5-year-old campaign with another Grade I win in the Frank Kilroe H. cont. p2

After an extended break, Leroidesanimaux added Saratoga's GII Fourstardave H. before turning Woodbine's GI Atto Mile into a 7 3/4-length demolition. He was crowned Eclipse champion turf male for his 2005 exploits.

Leroidesanimaux retired to Stonewall Farm in Kentucky in 2006 and later relocated to Stonewall Farm in Florida before being expatriated to Lanwades Stud in Newmarket, where he stood the past three seasons. He is now best known as the sire of the 2011 Kentucky Derby and 2013 Dubai World Cup winner Animal Kingdom, and he is also the sire of GII Indiana Oaks winner Always A Princess, who was Grade I-placed, and Argentinean Group 1 winner Una Cabeza (Arg). He sired eight stakes winners last year and two already this year. Leroidesanimaux covered just a handful of mares this year before his injury.

"We are extremely saddened at the tragic loss of Leroi," said Kirsten Rausing of Lanwades Stud. "He was still in the prime of life and would no doubt have proved an exceptional asset to the European Thoroughbred industry. We are absolutely delighted with the yearlings and foals he has produced during his time at Lanwades."

MANAGING DIRECTOR

Do you have:

- ✓ A deep knowledge of Bloodstock
- ✓ A passion for Flat and NH racing and breeding
- ✓ Leadership skills
- ✓ Business acumen
- ✓ Vision for the Bloodstock Industry

If so, this could be the role for you.

Goffs UK is a dynamic thoroughbred Auction House, currently holding nine sales a year and providing a vibrant marketplace for every category of bloodstock, primarily from an award winning sales complex in Doncaster.

The company, formerly trading as DBS, has recently been rebranded as Goffs UK to reflect its full integration with its parent company Goffs (based in Ireland).

Goffs UK is now seeking a Managing Director to head a young and passionate team in the UK, develop the company and strengthen the brand. This role will suit a focussed and ambitious individual, who can work with a team of executives and enable the company to achieve its future potential, as well as contributing to the Group.

Remuneration will reflect the responsibilities of the position.

If this role is of interest, please apply, enclosing your CV and references, to Henry Beeby, Group Chief Executive – henrybeeby@goffs.ie.

All enquiries will be treated in strictest confidence.

BALLYDOYLE TO MISS OAKS

G1 Qipco 1000 Guineas runner-up Ballydoyle (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) will bypass next Friday's G1 Investec Oaks in favour of Royal Ascot or the G1 Prix de Diane Longines, trainer Aidan O'Brien told Racing Post. The G1 Prix Marcel Boussac winner was ruled out of last weekend's G1 Tattersalls Irish 1000 Guineas after returning unsatisfactory bloods, and O'Brien told Racing Post, "Ballydoyle won't be going to Epsom. Her bloods have improved but she wouldn't be ready for the Oaks. We have two options for her next month if she continues to progress: the [G1] Coronation S. [at Royal Ascot June 17] or French Oaks [June 19."

Ballydoyle | Racing Post

Ballydoyle's stablemate and Guineas conqueror Minding (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) finished second in last weekend's Irish 1000 Guineas after hitting her head on the starting gate, and O'Brien noted she is in good form and is Oaks-bound.

INTILAAQ SCOPES POORLY AFTER DEFEAT

Sheikh Hamdan's Intilaaq (Dynaformer), who disappointed when finishing sixth of seven as the favourite in Thursday's G3 Brigadier Gerard S., may have an excuse after returning a dirty scope. The Roger Varian-trained 4-year-old made the running at Sandown but quickly faded out of contention in the closing stages.

Intilaaq | Racing Post

"He was incredibly disappointing," admitted Sheikh Hamdan's Racing Manager Angus Gold. "He didn't scope 100% after the race, so that might be a genuine excuse at least for part of the run. There's no doubt he was disappointing. He'd been working really well at home, so we were all amazed by that. We'll have to wait and see if we get on to Ascot now or whether we have got to take a pull with him. We'll treat him and just get him cleared up."

FAST COMPANY JOINS DARLEY CLUB

Following a landmark weekend at the Curragh where he sired G1 Irish 1,000 Guineas winner Jet Setting and G2 Ridgewood Pearl S. winner Devonshire, Fast Company (Ire) (Danehill Dancer {Ire}--Sheezalady {GB}, by Zafonic) is joining the Darley CLUB and will stand at Kildangan Stud in 2017.A limited number of lifetime breeding rights are available to buy now at €10,000, entitling the breeder to send one mare every year from the 2017 season onwards.

Fast Company | Darley

"Fast Company is a stallion on the up," said Sam Bullard, Director of Stallions. "He could be a very valuable sire in the future, in the manner of an Iffraaj or Kodiac. We are selling lifetime breeding rights--so popular with our CLUB stallions--because we want to give breeders the chance to join in the opportunity of helping to raise him to the next level. The price ensures that breeders will benefit--and we will too."

From his first crop, Fast Company has Baitha Alga, who won the G2 Norfolk S. at Royal Ascot, while Devonshire was placed in last season's G1 Irish 1,000 Guineas before winning her Group 2.

Fast Company himself won the G3 Acomb S. in his first two starts and ran a close second in the G1 Dewhurst S. His 2017 stud fee will be set later in the year.

IN THE FAST LANE

As dynamic a performer around at present, Dr Ali Ridha's machine-like Gifted Master (Ire) (Kodiac {GB}) takes to Haydock on Saturday to further cement his Royal Ascot claims in the G2 Sandy Lane S. So impressive when taking apart the field assembled for Ascot's G3 Pavilion S. over this six-furlong trip last time Apr. 27, the bay's form holds up to the closest inspection, with the likes of Washington DC (Ire) (Zoffany {Ire}) and Beacon Rock (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) winning in the last few days, having trailed him in recent runs. As he builds toward the June 17 G1 Commonwealth Cup, he looks for a six-timer here, having dominated the G3 Autumn S. over a mile at Newmarket in October and that track's £500,000 Tattersalls Millions 2yo Trophy and £100,000 Tattersalls Millions 3-y-o Sprint over seven and six furlongs, respectively. "He's in great shape. This is another step up in grade for him and it looks a good race, but we're very happy with his condition," trainer Hugo Palmer commented. Cont. p4

Palmer continued, "Something would need to go very badly wrong for him not to go to the [G1] Commonwealth Cup. The worry I have in terms of Saturday's race is Haydock is a much easier six furlongs than Ascot, and I don't think he's really a sprinter. I think he's probably more of a seven-furlong horse or a miler, but he'd have to carry a penalty if he went for the Jersey at Ascot, so we're keen to go for the Commonwealth over the stiff six."

Gifted Master | Racing Post

In a strong renewal of this newly-promoted contest, Godolphin's Buratino (Ire) (Exceed and Excel {Aus}) is back in his comfort zone, having finished a tame ninth in the G1 2000 Guineas at Newmarket Apr. 30. Over this trip he was the impressive winner of Royal Ascot's G2 Coventry S. last June, and was third in the G1 Phoenix S. at The Curragh in August and second in the G1 Middle Park S. at Newmarket in September. "I'm far from convinced his run in the Guineas was purely down to the trip," trainer Mark Johnston said. "It is just as likely it could have been down to the ground and his well-being on the day. The form of both the 2000 and the 1000 Guineas has been turned around since, and we're just trying to reduce the variables by bringing him back to six furlongs on what will hopefully be fast ground. He's very well and we'll see what he can do."

Last year's G2 Gimcrack S. scorer Ajaya (GB) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}), who was a latest fourth in the Middle Park, and the G2 Criterium de Maisons-Laffitte scorer Donjuan Triumphant (Ire) (Dream Ahead), who signed off with a fourth in the G1 Criterium International over seven furlongs at Saint-Cloud in November, add more lustre to the race, along with the two fillies La Rioja (GB) (Hellvelyn {GB}) and Quiet Reflection (GB) (Showcasing {GB}). Successful in the G3 Dick Poole Fillies' S. over six furlongs at Salisbury in September, La Rioja is held in high regard by Henry Candy and he said, "She seems to be perking up a bit now. She had been a bit quiet through the cold, wet spring we had. I'm pleased with her form now but we'll just have to see how she'll handle the fast ground. I'd have probably preferred it a bit softer to be honest, as we know she goes on it. If we are to be looking at running her in the Commonwealth Cup, which we are at present, she'll need to run very well otherwise we'll have to lower our sights."

Successful in the G3 Cornwallis S. over five furlongs at Newmarket in October and the G3 Prix Sigy over this trip at Chantilly last time Apr. 10, Quiet Reflection is still open to improvement, and trainer Karl Burke has high hopes. "She's in great order and I think she's going under the radar a little bit," he said. "Hopefully, she'll run a big race. She's improved an awful lot from her run in France. That's probably why she is going under the radar, if they take that form literally. My horses weren't in form then. She's come on bundles. I'll be disappointed if she doesn't put up a big show."

JOURNEY RESUMED

Having finished a respectable third in the G2 Middleton S. over 10 furlongs at York May 12, George Strawbridge's Journey (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}) goes back up to a more suitable trip for Haydock's G3 Pinnacle S. on Saturday. Being a daughter of her owner-breeder's 2006 G1 Prix Royal-Oak heroine Montare (Ire) (Montjeu {Ire}), she should relish the return to this longer distance, over which she won Newmarket's Listed Princess Royal S. by eight lengths in September before finishing runner-up to Simple Verse (Ire) (Duke of Marmalade {Ire}) in the G1 QIPCO British Champions Fillies & Mares S. on Ascot's Champions Day fixture the following month. Trainer John Gosden also saddles the Listed Noel Murless S. winner Mill Springs (GB) (Shirocco {Ger}) and the Listed River Eden Fillies' S. runner-up California (Ire) (Azamour {Ire}), who have to progress markedly to feature here. "Journey is in good form and I am happy with her," Gosden said. "The step up in trip on the easier ground will be to her liking. It was a good-class race she ran in at York and she ran a very good race. On ratings, she is the one they have to beat and she is the obvious one out of my three." Cont. p5

Of his other runners, Gosden added, "Mill Springs is making her comeback and this is the minimum trip for her. We did want to run her early on in the campaign and we had her entered up at Nottingham over a mile and three quarters and in the Sagaro at Ascot, but she hadn't come quite right. She is a filly that we are really training for races like the Park Hill and the Lillie Langtry later in the season." He added, "California has taken a while to come to herself and she is probably not quite there yet, but she needs to get back on the track."

Last year's winner Miss Marjurie (Ire) (Marju {Ire}) has strong claims on her fifth placing, beaten just over a length, in the G1 Yorkshire Oaks in August, but she has a question mark over her after her only subsequent outing when sixth behind Carnachy (Ire) (Mastercraftsman {Ire}) in Goodwood's Listed Daisy Warwick S. over a mile and a half Apr. 30. Trainer Denis Coakley commented, "She seems in good form and hopefully she will run well. Things didn't quite work out for her at Goodwood last time. They went a bit slow and that didn't suit her. I would hope you could put a line through that run, as she seems in the same sort of form at home she did last year. Hopefully she should be okay on the ground."

DREAM OF DREAMS (IRE) (c, 2, Dream Ahead--Vasilia {GB}, by Dansili {GB}), narrowly defeated by the useful Sutter County (GB) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}) going five panels at Newmarket on debut last time Apr. 13, recovered from an early bump to race on the front end for his new owner here. Stoked up passing the quarter-mile marker, the 2-1 favourite was headed by Waqaas (GB) (Showcasing {GB}) approaching the final eighth and rallied gamely under a drive in the closing stages to deny that rival by a half-length. Majoris (GB), the second representative of Frankel (GB) to hit the track, was green in rear through the early stages and made some late headway under sympathetic handling to finish a never-nearer sixth. Cont. p6

TEN RIDERS FOR CHARITY RACE

Ten riders are set to line up for the first leg of the Corinthian Challenge Charity Race Series on Royal Ascot Trials Day at Naas Sunday. The 10 riders are Sheikh Fahad Al Thani, member of the Royal Family of Qatar, racing journalist Niall Cronin, TV presenter Sally Ann Grassick, Killian McCarthy, Eamonn Egan, Jamie Morris, Sophie Candy, Neil Corkery, Suzy Quirke and Alice Kavanagh, with Chris Byrne and Tracy Piggott joining in at later stages.

To participate in this inaugural charity race series, each rider must raise an entry fee of €10,000 through sponsorship and fundraising with all proceeds going to Irish Injured Jockeys. The next leg is at the Curragh July 17 and the final is at Leopardstown Oct. 23

Ruby Walsh, Chairman of Irish Injured Jockeys said, "Irish Injured Jockeys aspires to raise much needed funding to support jockeys when most in need. It is through events like The Corinthian Challenge that we do this and we are again humbled by the support and reaction by the riders who are giving their time and energy to raise €10,000 each, and to the trainers and owners for supplying horses for each race. Donations may be made through our website www.corinthianchallenge.com or by sponsoring a rider privately with all proceeds in aid of Irish Injured Jockeys."

WORLDWIDE NEWS

The weanling sale should start with a bang, with the first youngster through the ring (lot 1), a Sebring (Aus) colt from the Bell View Park dispersal, expected to draw plenty of attention. The colt's page highlights the growing international nature of the Australian market; he is out of Ma Famille (Maria's Mon), a U.S.-bred unraced daughter of Family (Danzig), herself a full-sister to Danehill and the dam of Dundonnell (First Defence), a stakes winner in the UK and Hong Kong.

Cox identified the increased internationalization of the National Sale as "the most pleasing aspect" of this sale in recent years.

"We have players coming in from all sections of the world," he said. "We have two days of weanlings and three days of select mares and another two days of select yearlings. It's been a phenomenal rise of this sale. It wasn't that long ago that it was grossing around A$30 million, and last year we grossed something like A$70 or A$80 million. So its been a big rise and it's fantastic that its on the international radar as one of the top breeding stock sales in the world."

Those five siblings to Group 1 winners catalogued for the weanling sale include a Smart Missile (Aus) half-brother to this year's G1 Blue Diamond S. winner Extreme Choice (Aus) (Not A Single Doubt {Aus}) (lot 288), who is part of the dispersal of Bell River Thoroughbreds. His dam, Extremely (Aus) (Hussonet), was sold by the same dispersal for A$735,000 at the Inglis Broodmare Sale earlier this month. Smart Missile is also represented by lot 37, a half-brother to three stakes winners including G1 Queen of the Turf S. scorer Amanpour (Aus) (Northern Meteor {Aus}).

Snitzel (Aus) enjoyed a stellar year at the yearling sales, and he is represented by a select group of nine here, including lot 282, a filly out of Emilydelago (Aus) (Encosta de Lago {Aus}) and therefore a half-sister to listed-placed Zellindi (Aus) (Bel Esprit {Aus}). The ever-popular Fastnet Rock (Aus) has 10 catalogued, including lot 230, a filly who is the second foal out of South African Group 1 winner Chocolicious (SAf) (Kahal {GB}), whose first foal, a filly by Frankel (GB), cost Shadwell A$610,000 at Inglis Easter.

The weanling sale includes the progeny of 16 first-season sires, including Camelot (GB), Dawn Approach (Ire), Declaration Of War, Dundeel (NZ), Fiorente (Ire), Shamus Award (Aus), Sizzling (Aus), The Factor, Zoustar (Aus) and Magic Millions 2YO Classic winner Unencumbered (Aus). The latter is represented by lot 144, a half-brother to G1 Tattersalls Tiara winner Pear Tart (Aus) (Dehere). Six-time Group 1 winner Dundeel's first crop includes lot 213, a half-brother to G3 CS Hayes S. winner Tivaci (Aus) (High Chaparral {Ire}), whose dam is a half-sister to Group 1 winner Allez Wonder (Aus) (Redoute's Choice {Aus}). American shuttler The Factor is represented by some standout pedigrees, including lot 289, a filly out of a half-sister to Magic Millions 2YO Classic winner Mirror Mirror (Aus) (Dehere), who produced this year's Gold Coast yearling sale-topping A$1.6-million Snitzel colt. Cox Plate/Australian Guineas winner Shamus Award (Aus) has eight catalogued including lot 342, a colt out of winning half-sister to Grade I winner Kicken Kris (Kris S).

The Magic Millions National Weanling Sale has also become a proven source for pinhooking prospects, with purchases from last year's sale realizing an average 89% increase in sale price at this year's Gold Coast yearling sale.

"Unlike the North American market or the European market, our weanling markets have been in relative infancy," Cox explained. "It has become more sophisticated over recent years, where breeders see it as a viable option to sell entire drafts or their better stock. It is developing year-on-year and as a result the good stock that comes through these days, people are realizing good profits. It's a great opportunity for breeders to sell early, and for [pinhookers] to get in and test their skill."

The weanling sale is followed by four days of broodmare sales: Book 1 June 1 to 3, and Book 2 June 5. There are seven Group 1 winners catalogued, including maiden mares Bounding (Aus) (Lonhro {Aus}) (lot 611) and May's Dream (Aus) (New Approach {Ire}) (lot 505), while last year's G1 Champagne S. winner Peggy Jean (Aus) (Myboycharlie {Ire}) is offered in foal to former champion first-season sire I Am Invincible (Aus) (lot 756).

Ten Group 2 winners are also on offer, including the maidens Bring Me The Maid (Aus) (Sebring {Aus}) (lot 612), Fontiton (Aus) (Turffontein {Aus}) (lot 643) and Perignon (Aus) (Snitzel {Aus}) (lot 525), as well as the likes of Chinchilla Rose (Aus) (Lion Hunter {Aus}) in foal to Pierro (Aus) (lot 1027). There are many siblings to Group 1 winners catalogued as well as two proven Group 1 producers, including Grand Strategy (Aus) (Strategic {Aus}), the dam of this year's G1 Galaxy H. winner Griante (Aus) (Good Journey {Aus}). Grand Strategy is offered in foal to the first crop of Brazen Beau (Aus).

The Australian yearling sale market enjoyed strength this year that was unprecedented anywhere on the global stage, and Cox expressed confidence that strength would trickle down to the National Sale.

"It has to, really," he said. "The obvious horses at any sale will sell extremely well. Our job is to make sure the rest of the horses sell very well, and that's that middle to lower part of the market that we want to solidify, and ensure everyone has a good experience and a good sale here at Magic Millions."

The Magic Millions National weanling and broodmare sales are followed by the two-day National Yearling Sale June 7 and 8, and the series concludes with the National Racehorse Sale June 9.

MAGIC MILLIONS NATIONAL WEANLING SALE DAY ONE

Lot 1, c, Sebring (Aus)–Ma Famille, by Maria's Mon
Consigned by Bell View Park Stud (Unreserved dispersal sale)

This son of hot young sire Sebring boasts a page that would appeal to visitors from any part of the global to the Magic Millions grounds. He is the third foal out of Ma Famille, an unraced half-sister to Dundonnell (First Defence), winner of the G3 Acomb S. in Britain and the Listed HKJC Sprint in Hong Kong. The colt's second dam is Family, a full-sister to Australia's pioneering sire Danehill and four other stakes winners in the UK, the U.S. and France.

Lot 53, c, Written Tycoon (Aus)–Pearl Goddess (NZ), by Darci Brahma (NZ)
Consigned by Noralla Stud

Written Tycoon has been one of the revelations this year in the Australian sire ranks, and with most of the major racing in the books for the season he sits third on the general sire table and is the country's leading 2-year-old sire, thanks in large part to Magic Millions 2YO Classic and G1 Golden Slipper winner Capitalist (Aus). This chestnut is the second foal out of Pearl Goddess, an unraced half-sister to stakes winner Mini Pearl (Aus) (Black Minnaloushe).

Lot 96, f, I Am Invincible (Aus)–Set To Skelter (Aus), by Reset (Aus)
Consigned by Bell River Thoroughbreds

A daughter of former champion first-season sire I Am Invincible, the sire of six stakes winners this season, this filly is the first foal out of the winning Set To Skelter, herself a daughter of stakes winner Miss Helterskelter (Aus) (Brocco) and a full-sister to stakes winner Module (Aus).

Lot 154, f, Fastnet Rock (Aus)–There's Only One (Aus), by Testa Rossa (Aus)
Consigned by Rothwell Park

By the ever-popular champion sire Fastnet Rock, this early August foal is the second produce of the G3 Bellmaine S. winner There's Only One. Her first foal, a colt by All Too Hard (Aus), sold for A$120,000 at this sale last year before going on to realize A$300,000 at the Gold Coast yearling sale in January.

HOLY ROMAN EMPEROR TO STAND AT AQUIS

Aquis Farm, the former Patinack Farm in Queensland, will stand Holy Roman Emperor (Ire) this year after securing the 12-year-old's Southern Hemisphere breeding rights. Holy Roman Emperor has sired the Group 1 winner Mongolian Khan (Aus) in Australia, but he is most recognized for his success with his Hong Kong runners, which include Group 1 winners Designs On Rome (Ire) and Rich Tapestry (Ire).

Aquis has also acquired former Darley sires Domesday (Aus) and Benfica (Aus). Domesday, a son of Red Ransom and a Danehill outcross, is a Group 1 sire and this year was responsible for G2 Western Australia Derby winner Arcadia Dream (Aus). Benfica, a Group 1-winning 2-year-old by Lonhro (Aus), has his first juveniles running this year, and has two winners from five starters. Cont. p10

"In line with our commitment to acquiring select quality broodmares, Holy Roman Emperor, Domesday and Benfica offer the physical, racing and genetic attributes required to launch our stallion roster at a commercial level," said Aquis's Chief Operating Officer Marcus Langer.

SATSUKI REMATCH IN JAPANESE DERBY

Sunday's G1 Tokyo Yushun (Japanese Derby) sets up as a rematch for the top three finishers of the G1 Satsuki Sho (Japanese 2000 Guineas), with the winner of that first Classic, Dee Majesty (Jpn) (Deep Impact {Jpn}), looking to become the 24th horse to win two jewels of the country's Triple Crown. Dee Majesty was sent off the eighth choice in the Satsuki Sho, but nonetheless ran out an impressive winner in track-record time. Dee Majesty has now won his last three outings, and has been beaten just once overall, and he pleased trainer Yoshitaka Ninomiya in a gallop at Miho Training Centre May 19. "He looked good, both in his running and the way he changed leads nicely. He's suited to the Tokyo course and the extra distance is welcome, so I'm looking forward to the race," the conditioner said.

Makahiki (Jpn) (Deep Impact {Jpn}) and Satono Diamond (Jpn) (Deep Impact {Jpn}) both tasted defeat for the first time when second and third, respectively, in the Satsuki Sho. Makahiki, who had won the 2000 metre G2 Hochi Hai Yayoi Sho Mar. 6, had no excuses in that first Classic, and trainer Yasuo Tomomichi said, "His responses were good in the workout and his breathing was good too. He has a good appetite as well. He always looks good when asked to move out in a race and I think this is his best distance."

Satono Diamond has gone to post as favourite in all four of his starts and until the Satsuki Sho, had never disappointed. While Satono Diamond appeared to have a smooth race, trainer Yasutoshi Ikee said the strong headwind and his own tactics could have caused his defeat. "He's a big horse, with long legs, so he can't take small steps easily and is less agile," said Ikee. "More importantly, horses on or near the lead were holding their ground for many of the races that day and so I'd given instructions to stay fore of midfield. Things didn't work out as expected for us."

Dee Majesty | JRA

A new shooter on the Classic scene who could threaten the favourites is Smart Odin (Jpn) (Danon Chantilly {Jpn}), who has won his last two and wound up for this with a score in the G2 Kyoto Shimbun Hai May 7. Last year's G1 Asahi Hai Futurity winner and champion 2-year-old Leontes (Jpn) (King Kamehameha {Jpn}), a son of G1 Japanese Oaks and GI American Oaks winner Cesario (Jpn) (Special Week {Jpn}), was the victim of a fast pace in the Satsuki Sho and was demoted from fourth to fifth after causing interference in the lane. Another well-bred individual on a recovery mission is Leukerbad (Jpn) (Deep Impact {Jpn}), a son of American Horse of the Year Azeri (Jade Hunter) who won a 2000 metre Kyoto allowance in January, but has since finished third behind Satono Diamond in the G3 Kisaragi Sho and Smart Odin in the Kyoto Shimbun Hai.
