BIG WEEK AHEAD AT NEW LOOK NOVEMBER SALE

A foal strikes a pose during inspections at Goffs on Sunday
Alayna Cullen

Selling at day one of the new look Goffs November Foal Sale kicks off Monday at 10 a.m. with 279 foals catalogued for the first session of a three-day Part 1 sale of foals. On Thursday the focus then switches to breeding stock with two days of fillies and mares before Part 2 of the foal sale resumes on Saturday and Sunday. Trade is likely to heat up a lot quicker with this new format, as the foals with the strongest pedigrees are brought to the market in the first three days as opposed to the last three days in previous years. At last year's sale, foals from the Wildenstein Dispersal provided the top three prices headed by a daughter of Siyouni (Fr) and Amerique (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) that sold to Shadwell for €775,000, and while the absence of such a famed draft this time around will make it a challenge to match that figure, there is enough sire power represented throughout the week to suggest trade will be brisk.

High-end investors have a couple of opportunities to acquire a daughter of the mighty Galileo (Ire); the first chance presenting itself early on Wednesday when lot 541 steps into the ring. This daughter of Inca Princess (Ire) Holy Roman Emperor (Ire) is a full-sister to Group 1 winner Johannes Vermeer (Ire) and also Group 2 winner Elizabeth Browning (Ire), who made 700,000 gns in Newmarket last month.

RIDING A PINHOOKING HIGH

By Alayna Cullen

This year's yearling sales saw the fruits of last year's foal purchases come in for the harvest. While there were plenty of pinhooks that claimed profits, one particular story captured the essence of the industry, that a good horse can come from anywhere: Edie Murray-Hayden's Dabirsim (Fr) colt that was pinhooked from €56,000 at the 2016 Goffs November Foal Sale to €500,000 at the recent Goffs Orby Sale. The Goffs Foal sale has been a happy hunting ground for Co. Kildare native Murray-Hayden for some years and with the sale kicking off today, there will be plenty watching out for the horsewoman in the ring. Having grown up around horses--her father was an equine vet and both parents were keen hunts people--Murray-Hayden spent an idyllic childhood surrounded by ponies and good Kildare countryside. Her farm, Gormanstown Stud, boasts picturesque views spanning over the Wicklow hills and is set in rolling pasture. Cont. p2

The Castlebridge Consignment offers each of the Galileo foals and lot 732 represents international appeal, being a daughter of Fix (NZ) (Iffraaj {GB}), a multiple graded stakes winner in New Zealand who was also Group 1 placed.

While the pedigrees on offer strengthen throughout Part 1, some that may prove popular on Monday include lot 258, a son of Ballyhane Stud's Dandy Man (Ire). The colt, offered by Ardrums House Stud, is a half-brother to the stakes winner Lily's Rainbow (Ire) (Intikhab) and the pedigree got a recent boost when the foal's 2-year-old full-sister Julia's Magic (Ire) broke her maiden at Dundalk on Nov. 10. The filly was the subject of a glowing reference from her trainer Denise Foster after the race who commented, "Dare I say it, I think she's better than Lily's Rainbow."

A number of stallions are represented with their first crop of foals and one of these, Cable Bay (Ire), is the sire of lot 193, a filly with an international pedigree whose first generation features stakes winners or performers in Ireland, Australia, America and Japan, headed by Dariana (Aus) (Redoute's Choice {Aus}), winner of the G1 Queensland Derby in Australia in 2010. A half-sister to a Group 1 winner will always command a premium and lot 118 is just that as the daughter of Epaulette (Aus) is a half-sister to GI EP Taylor S. winner Folk Opera (Ire) (Singspiel {Ire}) who also won the G2 Prix Jean Romanet in France.

Other stallions with their first crop of foals on offer include Anjaal (GB), Brazen Beau (Aus), Capella Sansevero (GB), Due Diligence, Free Eagle (Ire), French Navy (GB), Fulbright (GB), G Force (Ire), Gleneagles (Ire), Golden Horn (GB), Gutaifan (Ire), Hallowed Crown (Aus), Hot Streak (Ire), Ivawood (Ire), Kingston Hill (GB), Make Believe (GB), Muhaarar (GB), Night Of Thunder (Ire), Outstrip (GB) and Shooting To Win (Aus). How the progeny of these are received by buyers and pinhookers will lead to an anxious week for many breeders and stallion masters, while the general health of the bloodstock industry will once again be tested as the week progresses.

Sitting with Murray-Hayden in an apartment overlooking the fields and listening to her story leaves little to the imagination as to how she has been so successful in both the sport horse and Thoroughbred industries.

"When I left school I went to work for Coolmore before college," she said. "It was my first real experience with Thoroughbreds, a good place to start, with the best. You need to work with really good horses because you need to know what you want to aim for. I enjoyed it, we worked hard, we played hard. It was a good way to live. Then I went to college in England and did equine studies. I brought my event horse with me, so I was doing eventing while there too. When I came back from England I went to work at Kildangan." "I did four seasons on the breaking and pre-training side and went to Dubai one winter with 2-year-olds, and then I joined Brian Grassick just as he bought Newtown Stud," she explained.

Speaking of the biggest lessons learned from her experiences, Murray-Hayden said, "Working with different horses makes you wonder what made the good horses good. You have to be observant. Anything to do with horses is all observation, watching them work, handling them, and looking for all the little signs they give off. It's attention to detail. You also learn, which is just as equally important, what not to do. It's important to learn off other people's mistakes too."

Murray-Hayden has been fortunate to work with many superstars over the years. The first yearling she ever sat on in Kildangan turned out to be Lord Of Men (GB) (Groom Dancer), a Group 1-winning 2-year-old, and at Coolmore, she foaled a subsequent Classic winner in Matiya (Ire) (Alzao).

"She was a lovely foal, but she was the biggest foal I've seen in my life," Murray-Hayden recalled. "They come in all shapes and sizes and I was lucky to start at the top."

Murray-Hayden's first foray into the world of pinhooking started with the late Brian Grassick, her employer for 14 years. It all started with a Bertolini colt they sold to David Redvers and who went on to win twice at two. After that colt, Murray-Hayden began investing more in the pinhook venture, all the while building up Gormanstown Stud into the high-spec facility it is now.

"The facilities were pretty basic, so over the years when I earned enough money I completely re-fenced it, put in a road and tried to upgrade the facilities." Cont. p4

Walking around the farm, one gets the sense that years of observation have paid off, as the barns, exercise facilities and pastures are laid out in an efficient manner that blends into the fabric of the landscape.

The last horse that Murray-Hayden and Grassick bought in partnership was an Oasis Dream (GB) colt who turned out to be the multiple Group 2-winning 2-year-old Approve (Ire). Murray-Hayden spent another two years working at Newtown Stud after Grassick's death. It was then time for her to go it alone, setting up a business from Gormanstown Stud.

Gormanstown Stud | gormanstownstud.com

"It was just time for me to do my own thing," she said. "I had always planned to go out on my own, but I didn't want to do that until I had a good enough infrastructure, so by that time I had invested a lot in this place and it was of a good enough standard for me to take on other people's horses. Things have just snowballed from then."

The first foal Murray-Hayden pinhooked on her own turned out to be Group 2 winner Sir Prancealot (Ire), and no doubt the hope is for her recent pinhooking success, the Dabirsim--Chica Loca (Fr) colt, to follow the success of his predecessors. Her reasons for purchasing the colt in 2016 have certainly paid off.

"He was a spectacularly athletic horse, a very, very good walker and very good-looking. I just thought he was going to be a really attractive yearling. He was a little raw, he came over from France, an April foal, and there was plenty to improve on him. [After buying him] I went to pick him up to bring him home and I got three strides out of the stable and thought 'god, you can really go.' He was a gentleman. Just the most perfect horse, lovely temperament, always healthy, just did everything right."

Although Murray-Hayden was confident of a good sale, given the amount of time the colt spent out of the stable at the Orby sale, reaching the high of half a million was more than she had ever dreamed of. Cont. p5

"Normally I am very aware of who is bidding in the ring but with him a lot of people were on the top tier. There were several people playing for him and once it got to €250,000 I got a bit lost. I didn't know what was going on. To be dropped at €500,000 was pretty spectacular."

Looking ahead to this year's foal sale Murray-Hayden gave a snippet into what she may be looking at on the sales ground. "Of the first-season sires I like Gutaifain [she tried to buy Gutaifan as a foal in 2013]. He's a good-looking horse. I think they will sell very well. I'm looking forward to seeing the Golden Horns too, but I imagine they will be quite dear."

In both the sport horse and Thoroughbred world, Murray-Hayden has enjoyed deserved success. She laid the foundation for her achievements through years of hard work and now with a facility to be proud of and a natural eye for talent, the future will, hopefully, include many more successes on both the race and eventing fields.

TDN Q&A

WITH KEVIN BLAKE

by Gary King

The TDN's Gary King sat down with racing journalist and broadcaster Kevin Blake, who also is a frequent contributor to the TDN, regarding his new role working with Joseph O'Brien.

GK: You are best known as a racing writer, but there have been numerous reports in the press about you having a new role as a race planner and analyst with Joseph O'Brien. Could you elaborate on what exactly it entails?

KB: I've been working with Joseph since Royal Ascot and it's exciting to be a small part of his team. Race planning and analysis are the biggest parts of the job, but there is plenty of variety in the role between researching pedigrees for the sales, sourcing horses in training and other bit and pieces.

GK: I'm sure a lot of it is somewhat confidential. But what are you bringing to the table?

KB: While Joseph very much enjoys race planning, researching pedigrees and the like, there just aren't enough hours in the day for a trainer that is responsible for so many horses to really delve deep into researching these things to the level that they can be. It makes sense to have someone that specialises in those areas to assist in accumulating all the relevant evidence to help better inform the decision-making process and that is what I try to do for him.

Joseph O'Brien & Kevin Blake | Alayna Cullen

In terms of the bread-and-butter race planning, the process starts with digging out every potentially suitable option for each horse and researching past renewals of those races to get a feel for their likely shape and quality. Once the entries are made and assessed, the most suitable target is chosen and after that it's a case of analysing the final field with a view to identifying likely pace scenarios and any tactical edges that might help lead to the right result. For the higher-quality horses, I look to identify stakes races that have historically attracted small and/or below-standard fields and suggest targeting such races, often in foreign countries. It won't always suit to travel horses abroad, but it is important to be aware of all the options that are there.

While the job that Joseph and his team do with the horses at home and at the races is the vast majority of the equation that leads to the results on the track, doing everything possible to try and get the horses in the most winnable races in the right circumstances is very important too. We won't get it right every time, no one does, but I strongly believe that those that are making their plans and decisions based on in-depth analysis are always likely to have a long-term edge over those that put less into their decision-making processes. Cont. p7

Rekindling | Bronwen Healy

GK: Does it mean you're cutting back on some of your media commitments?

KB: I have been very selective with the work I have taken on in recent years with a view to always leaving plenty of room in case an opportunity like this arose, so my work for Joseph has slotted in well amongst what I was already doing.

GK: Your association with Joseph has got off to a fast start. Winning the G1 Melbourne Cup with Rekindling (GB) (High Chaparral {Ire}) must have been incredible?

KB: It was unbelievable! The Melbourne Cup is one of the most difficult races in the world to win, so for Joseph to send a horse 10,000 miles to win it was some achievement. I would generally be a very calm watcher of a horse race, but there was a fair bit of jumping and roaring in the closing stages. It was a serious thrill.

GK: The horse has performed admirably throughout the year. What led Joseph to believe he had a strong chance of success at Flemington?

KB: Given his connections and his profile, the Melbourne Cup was always in everyone's mind for Rekindling, it was just a case of deciding whether he would run in it this year or wait until next year. Lloyd and Nick Williams live and breathe the race and they were adamant that he had the right profile to have a go at it this year. How right they were. Joseph and his team did an unbelievable job with the horse. He was the youngest horse in the field by 11 months and physically isn't the biggest (he only weighs 420kg), so to deliver him there in the form of his life at the end of a very long 3-year-old season was a serious training performance.

GK: And finally, will we see you returning to the boxing ring any time soon to defend your 5-0 record?

KB: I'm ugly enough as it is!

NO SURGERY FOR WALSH

Irish champion jumps jockey Ruby Walsh will not require surgery on the broken tibia he suffered when falling from Let's Dance (Fr) (Poliglote {GB}) at Punchestown on Saturday. Walsh endured a torrid day with three falls in total, the final one proving the worst and he was due to partner the former Champion hurdler Faugheen (Ire) (Germany) who made a scintillating comeback in Sunday's G1 Morgiana Hurdle at Punchestown. Walsh, 38, now faces several months on the sidelines but the prognosis that the jockey does not require surgery has left Turf Club chief medical officer Dr Adrian McGoldrick more upbeat about his recovery period.

"The leg doesn't require surgery, which is very reassuring. It's in a plaster cast," McGoldrick said on Sunday. "It's too early to say how long he'll be out for. He'll have X-Rays again in a week's time and we'll see what's what. We just have to be guided by his consultants."

HEFTY FINE FOR WINTERS

Cork based trainer Michael Winters was fined €6,000 after stewards enquired into the running and riding of his Churchtown Glen (Ire) (Getaway {Ger}) in the opening race at Cork on Sunday. Jockey Barry John Foley was banned for 21 days and the horse for 60 days after stewards deemed Churchtown Glen, who finished seventh, was not allowed run on his merits. Churchtown Glen, an 80-1 shot, was having his third run of his career, having finished 10th of 18 on his previous start.

Commenting on the severity of the fine, stewards secretary Liam Walsh told Racing Post, "We felt that a penalty stronger than the norm was appropriate on this occasion."

Mick Winters | Racing Post

Mick Winters has handled some classy horses in the past such as Missunited (Ire) (Golan {Ire}) and Rebel Fitz (Fr) (Agent Bleu {Fr}) and he had better fortune later in the day when his Granny Biddy (Ire) (Flemensfirth) won for the fifth time this season.

The trainer indicated an appeal would be likely and said, "I understand that stewards are perfectly entitled to look into incidents like this, but things have not been straightforward with this horse and I just wish they would take things like that more into account. There will be no small trainers left in the land with fines like that. To pay that sort of fine I would nearly have to have some sort of collection done for me."

'KNIGHT' SCOOPS MILE CHAMPIONSHIP IN THE FINAL JUMP by Heather Anderson

Persian Knight (Jpn) (Harbinger {GB}) took a big leap up the class ladder for his first Group 1 score when pipping Air Spinel (Jpn) (King Kamehameha {Jpn}) with Ryan Moore aboard in the last stride to take the G1 Mile Championship at Kyoto Sunday. The G1 Racing colourbearer gave pilot Mirco Demuro his sixth top-flight victory of the year tying the Japan Racing Association record and 24th overall, while trainer Yasutoshi Ikee celebrated his 19th Group 1 win.

Fourth choice on the board at 7-1, Persian Knight broke widest of all from stall 18 and relaxed beautifully to race with the last quartet, while Maltese Apogee (Jpn) (Goshawk Ken) cut out solid fractions. Making up ground to sit 13th on the final corner, Persian Knight gobbled up ground down the lane while splitting horses, and nipped Air Spinel--who had taken over from the tiring pacemaker 200m out--by a nose. Sungrazer (Jpn) (Deep Impact {Jpn}) was only a half-length behind in third.

"We were a little worried about the farthest draw, but he always breaks well so we weren't that concerned," said pilot Mirco Demuro. "The colt was responding really well especially around the third corner. Being still a 3-year-old, he seemed a bit nervous entering the lane, but ran really well to the wire. He's a great horse."

Off the mark in August of his juvenile season at Kokura, Persian Knight was runner-up in Tokyo's Ivy S. last October and returned to winning ways with a victory in Chukyo's Koyamaki Sho on Dec. 11. Only third in the G3 Shinzan Kinen to kick off his sophomore season, the bay won Hanshin's G3 Arlington Cup over a mile on Feb. 25, before placing second in the G1 Satsuki Sho (Japanese 2000 Guineas) in April. He found the 2400 metres of the May 28 G1 Tokyo Yushun (Japanese Derby) a bridge too far and only managed seventh, and was last seen reporting home fifth in the G3 Fuji S. to Air Spinel at Tokyo over heavy ground on Oct. 21. Pedigree Notes...

English highweight Harbinger (GB) (Dansili {GB}), who won the G1 King George VI and Queen Elizabeth S. in 2010, has enjoyed a bit of a purple patch of late, with Persian Knight (Jpn) becoming his third Group 1 winner in the space of five weeks following Deirdre (Jpn) in the G1 Nakayama Shion S. on Oct. 15 and Mozu Katchan (Jpn) who struck only seven days ago in the G1 Kyoto Queen Elizabeth II Cup. The sixth and last reported foal out of the winning Mermaid H. third Orient Charm (Jpn), herself a full-sister to MSW and successful sire Gold Allure (Jpn) (Sunday Silence), SW Nirvana (Jpn) (Sunday Silence) and a half-sister to GSW & G1SP Gorski (Jpn) (Neo Universe {Jpn}), Persian Knight (Jpn) is the fifth winner from six to race and lone black-type winner. Third dam Reluctant Guest (Hostage) scored her biggest win in the GI Beverly Hills H. in 1990 and is a half-sister to GIII Cotillion S. victress Dowery (Full Pocket), who was runner-up in the GI Maskette S. and GI Spinster S. in 1985. Click for the free Equineline.com catalogue-style pedigree.

A WERTH-Y CUP CONTENDER

by Alan Carasso

With an ageing core of middle-distance runners in Hong Kong, it was all there for the taking during the last racing season for Werther (NZ) (Tavistock {NZ}), the 2016 BMW Hong Kong Derby hero who smashed his elders in the G1 Queen Elizabeth II Cup. But when injury intervened, he was forced to miss the first half of the year, including the G1 Longines Hong Kong Cup, all the more frustrating given that he returned to something approaching his best with two Group 1 successes later in the season. There have been no such hiccups this time around, and with his second-up success in Sunday's G2 BOCHK Jockey Club Cup, he was winning for the fourth time in five course-and-distance runs and secured a spot at the top of the market for the HK$25-million main event three weeks down the line.

Drawn gate one, Werther settled in about fourth spot early on, but where many thought it would be Time Warp (GB) (Archipenko) cutting out the pace, it was instead Werther's longshot stablemate Harbour Master (Mizzen Mast) doing so, with Time Warp doing the chasing just ahead of Nassa (SAf) (Dynasty {SAf}) in third. Tommy Berry began to stoke up Werther midway on the second turn, and the Horse of the Year quickly advanced into a striking position off the home corner. Time Warp and Joao Moreira got first crack at the outclassed Harbour Master and went for home, but despite getting five pounds from Werther, could not resist the favourite in the final 50 metres. Nassa stayed on up the inside for third from Gold Mount (GB) (Excellent Art {GB}), who closed his final half-mile in :45.12 in a useful trial.

"That was a cracking good run considering it was his second run this season," Moore, who was registering a fifth success in the race, told the HKJC's David Morgan. "His fitness was really tested and he will improve for this run." Cont. p12

"The speed that Harbour Master went up front today really tested his fitness level, which wasn't 100%," said Moore. "We got away with it and now we go to the Hong Kong Cup. He'll come away from this race in better fettle for that grand final."

Pedigree Notes...

Werther is one of four Group 1 winners for his Cambridge Stud-based stallion and one of his sire's two Derby winners bred from mares by Cambridge's legendary Zabeel (NZ). A third, Tavago (NZ), has Zabeel as the sire of his second dam. Bagalollies, the Broodmare of the Year in New Zealand in 2016, has had a standing date with Tavistock since producing Werther, and Werther's year-younger full-brother Gobstopper (NZ) earned a first black-type success in Saturday's G3 New Zealand Cup at Riccarton. The mare's foal of 2014, a filly, was purchased by Sona Bloodstock for NZ$300,000 at the 2016 NZB Select Yearling Sale. Her 2015 produce, another full-sister to Werther, was knocked down to Damon Gabbedy's Belmont Bloodstock Agency for A$400,000 at this year's Inglis Easter Yearling Sale. Bagalollies foaled a third straight filly in 2016, but was not covered in the most recent breeding season. Click for the free Equineline.com catalogue-style pedigree.

STUNNING, INDEED

by Alan Carasso

As HKJC commentator John Blance referenced during Sunday's live broadcast, Mr Stunning (Aus) (Exceed and Excel {Aus}) showed his potential as far back as his first barrier trial and he's done nothing but go from strength to strength since. In the space of 14 starts over the course of 20 months, the gelding had become one of the jurisdictions leading short-trackers, having narrowly missed out on Group 1 glory when just touched off by Lucky Bubbles (Aus) (Sebring {Aus}) in last year's Chairman's Sprint Prize. That top-level success may not be far away following his barnstorming score in Sunday's G2 BOCHK Wealth Management Jockey Club Sprint, the final lead-up for the G1 Longines Hong Kong Sprint.

As versatile as he his talented, Mr Stunning was one of the first into stride from gate 10, but Nash Rawiller was left with no choice but to drift back through the field as one-time Sprint winner Peniaphobia (Ire) (Dandy Man {Ire}) and defending JC Sprint winner Not Listenin'tome (Aus) (Dylan Thomas {Ire}) were ding-donging it up front. About fourth-last for the run into the turn, Mr Stunning was three wide on the back of longshot Bad Boy (Aus) (I Am Invincible {Aus}), but with chief market rivals Thewizardofoz (Aus) (Redoute's Choice {Aus}) and Lucky Bubbles behind, Rawiller edged into the four path, ensuring a clear run into the lane. Mr Stunning took it from there, ambling up to the pacesetters, then turning on the afterburners in the final 150m to score with a fair bit of authority. Amazing Kids (NZ) (Falkirk {NZ}) and the progressive D B Pin (NZ) (Darci Brahma {NZ}) completed a 1-2-3 sweep for trainer John Size.

Conversely, Lucky Bubbles endured a torrid run. Checked on the turn, he was stopped again in upper stretch and was never able to extend, finishing second-last as the 7-5 chalk.

"He's an absolute star, he's so push-button," Rawiller told HKJC's Andrew Hawkins. "Today, he jumped first out of the gates and I dropped my hands on his neck and he just came straight back under me. He was a dream to ride throughout the run. Even when the pace slowed up dramatically, it probably put the whole race out of whack, but he's nimble on his feet and he was able to capitalise on that. I was able to roll forward into the race and he put it beyond doubt at the 300m, he was travelling very comfortably and it was just a matter of letting him go to win the race."

Pedigree Notes...

Mr Stunning is out of a daughter of US MGISW Fran's Valentine (Saros {GB}), also runner-up in the GI Breeders' Cup Distaff and later the dam of the popular gray galloper, the MGISW With Anticipation (Relaunch), himself runner-up in the GI Breeders' Cup Turf. Fran's Valentine was also responsible for French GSW & MG1SP With Fascination (Dayjur). With Fervour's last listed produce is the now 3-year-old Mossman (Aus) filly With Faith (Aus). Click for the free Equineline.com catalogue-style pedigree.

SEASONS BLOOM MAKES THE GRADE IN THE JC MILE by Alan Carasso

A 4-year-old of considerable talent, Seasons Bloom (Aus) (Captain Sonador {Aus} had the misfortune of hailing from the same class as the ill-fated Rapper Dragon (Aus) (Street Boss), placing in the first two legs of the Classic series before a brave fourth at a 2000-metre trip that was always too far for him in the Hong Kong Derby. Now back at a more manageable distance, the pint-sized brown gelding seems to have found his sweet spot and punched his ticket to the G1 Longines Hong Kong Mile with a tough defeat of 2016 Mile runner-up Helene Paragon (Fr) (Polan {Fr}) in Sunday's G2 BOCHK Wealth Management Jockey Club Mile at Sha Tin.

Favored in a field that included last year's Hong Kong Mile winner Beauty Only (Ire) (Holy Roman Emperor {Ire}) and runner-up Helene Paragon, Seasons Bloom dropped back to race about three away from the inside running rails and slightly worse than mid-division as the in-form Beauty Generation (NZ) (Road to Rock {Aus}) led, but ceded the advantage to Winner's Way (Aus) (Starcraft {NZ}) at the 1000m point. Cont. p14

Quietly ridden with cover three deep on the circle, Seasons Bloom switched out widest into the stretch, but had some work to do, as Beauty Generation clawed his way to a narrow advantage outside of Giant Treasure (Mizzen Mast) with 350m to travel. Helene Paragon had snuck into the race with a ground-saving trip and chimed in to make it a line of four, leading narrowly into the final half-furlong. But Seasons Bloom kept on determinedly and closed off meritoriously for the victory. Beauty Only made decent ground from the rear to finish fourth.

"Based on what he's done today, you would think he'd be able to run well in the Hong Kong Mile next time because he beat some of the best horses in Hong Kong today, and he had to make it tough, being exposed three wide," Moreira told David Morgan. "[Trainer] Danny [Shum] left the tactics in my hands; he didn't give me specific instruction, I was happy to help him to get going because he doesn't have much early speed. I was able to cross a few horses and get to a position three off the fence, obviously it wasn't ideal but at least he had cover and I got him to relax in a position just better than midfield."

Pedigree Notes...

Seasons Bloom is the first group winner for his sire (by Danehill), who upset the 2010 G1 Epsom H. and is out of an unraced half-sister to South African GSW & G1SP Sharks Bay (Aus) (Canny Lad {Aus}). Second dam Pyramisa is a full-sister to MGSW Pembleton (Aus) (Marauding {NZ}). Seasons Bloom's 4-year-old full-brother Ambitious Heart also races in Hong Kong and has finished second in a pair of Class 4 handicaps in his two most recent trips to the post for trainer David Ferraris. COULD LESS BE MORE WHEN IT COMES TO RACE OFFICIATING?

Flavien Prat was fined $300 for winning ride aboard Battle of Midway in the the Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile. | Horsephotos

The Week in Review, by T.D. Thornton

There are quite a few jobs at the racetrack that can be summed up under the general catchphrase "no one really understands what you do until you screw up." Topping this list are stewards, who are tasked with myriad responsibilities that extend far beyond officiating the races.

I had the opportunity the other day to explain to a non-racing sports fan how objections, inquiries, and disqualifications are adjudicated. This led to a sideways discussion about how racing is unique from major team sports in that 1) Its officials are often recruited from among the ranks of former participants (i.e., jockeys and trainers), and 2) How stewards frequently have to rule on cases that have nothing to do with the actual running of horse races, and/or on matters that routinely end up contested in courts of law.

Yet the in-race officiating will always be the part of the job that draws the most scrutiny and criticism. It should, because it's the most public-facing aspect of what stewards do.

HOPPERTUNITY DRAWS RAIL FOR CLARK

Mike Pegram, Karl Watson and Paul Weitman's consistent veteran Hoppertunity (Any Given Saturday) drew the rail Sunday for Friday's 143rd running of the GI Clark H. at Churchill Downs. The 6-year-old, who won the race in 2014, will face eight rivals as he attempts to become just the fourth horse to win two renewals of the Clark.

"I'll never forget when he won the 2014 Clark," trainer Bob Baffert said. "He's back and doing well. He's always been right there all the time. He's made $4 million by being right there and has always been a barn favorite. It sounds like it will be a tough Clark, so it won't be a walk in the park by any means."

Hoppertunity tuned up for the nine-furlong race with a four-furlong work at Santa Anita Sunday in :47.20 (2/60).

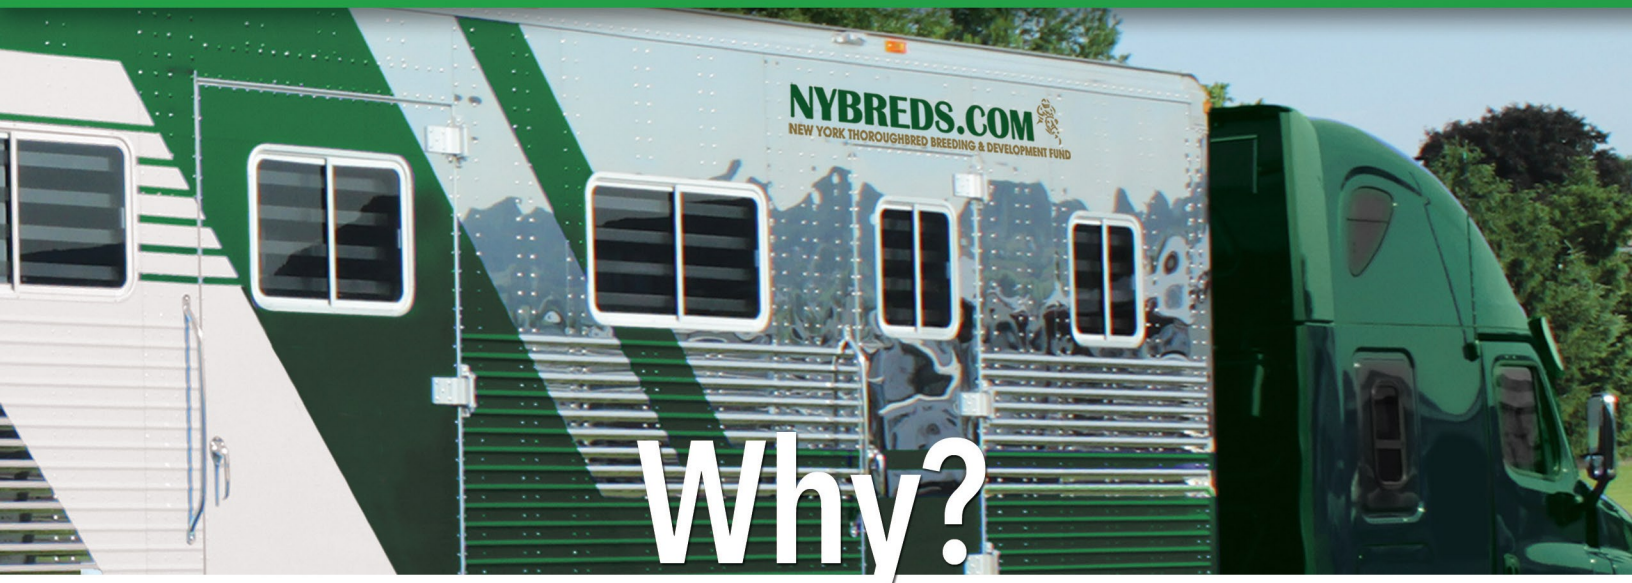
Savvy breeders are shipping mares to New York . . .



Why?

- NY-bred 2YOs average higher earnings than those of any other state, including KY-breds (Jockey Club Fact Book 11/1/17).
- NY-breds perform with world-class results and are fierce competitors at the Grade 1 level including Breeders' Cup Filly & Mare Sprint-G1 Champion BAR OF GOLD, world record-holder DISCO PARTNER (3rd, BC Turf Sprint-G1), multi-millionaire G1 winner MIND YOUR BISCUITS (3rd, TwinSpires BC Sprint-G1) and Jockey Club Gold Cup-G1 victor DIVERSIFY.
- The NY-bred average yearling price at auction has soared from $25,861 in 2010 to $45,675 in 2016.
- Shipping your broodmare purchase to foal in New York and breeding back to a New York sire has even more advantages, including double breeder awards. Four of the five NY-bred particpants in the 2017 Breeders' Cup were NY-sired, and two of those were placed.

An industry leader comments on the New York breeding program:

Q: How would you rate the New York breeding program compared to those of other states?

A: "The best . . . The opportunities there (New York) to produce a quality foal are tremendous. The financial incentives are tremendous in terms of the breeder awards that are available there, and if you're breeding to race the opportunities on the race track are unparalleled throughout any of the states that we do business in." — Boyd Browning, President & CEO of Fasig-Tipton

TODAY in the TDN
THOROUGHBRED DAILY NEWS

Monday, November 20, 2017

Q&A: AIDAN O'MEARA 6

Aidan O'Meara, who previously served as Stallion Division Manager at Hill 'n' Dale, sat down with TDN to discuss his new role as Director of Bloodstock and Client Development at his family's Stonehaven Steadings.

A MORNING'S WORK HEADLINES ART AUCTION 8

Sir Alfred Munnings's A Morning's Work, Newmarket Heath, a signed 15 1/4" x 28 1/4" oil on canvas, highlighted Sunday's fifth annual Sporting Art Auction at Keeneland when selling for $186,300, including buyer premium.

If the sport is to get serious about improving what racing's three-person boards of "referees" do on a daily basis, a simple solution exists: reassign some of the more bureaucratic, behind-the-scenes tasks to other functionaries and specialists while at the same time requiring stewards to be more accountable and transparent about their judging of the on-track action.

Peruse the list of rulings at any given track and it will become readily apparent how much mind-numbing time North American stewards have to devote to policing relatively minor infractions: fining backstretch workers for smoking under the shed row, parking in restricted areas, cussing at security officers, and (my favorite) "conduct unbecoming of a pony person" are among the more repetitive tasks that make up the daily grind before stewards are expected to competently judge races.

Del Mar | Eclipse Sportswire

Increasingly, stewards are now responsible for settling wide-ranging financial disputes between licensees. And they sometimes appear well outside their areas of expertise when attempting to fashion violation rulings that can withstand rigorous legal challenge from specialized defense attorneys.

Racing likes to compare itself to major-league baseball, football, basketball, and hockey. But in no other major sport are the game officials required to rule on matters so far beyond the lines of play. Referees and umpires of team sports are paid far better and have far more narrow job descriptions than racetrack stewards. But they are also expected to meet much higher standards of job performance and are subjected to multiple levels of internal review.

The California Horse Racing Board (CHRB) is unique among North American racing jurisdictions regarding the amount of online information it makes available to the public in easy-to-access formats. The detailed minutes of the stewards assigned to Del Mar Thoroughbred Club that were posted on the CHRB website last week provide an interesting glimpse into the minutiae that the stewards had to endure prior to officiating the world championships of Thoroughbred racing.

For example, just before the Friday Breeders' Cup races, the stewards held abbreviated office hours because of the impending big event. Yet, the minutes reveal, they still had to deal with a report of a valet in the jockeys' room who allegedly shoved, poked, and dumped a cup of water on the clerk of scales.

The valet was relieved of his duties, then subsequently dismissed by Del Mar. But is this the sort of thing stewards need to be distracted by just prior to a series of multi-million dollar Grade I championship races? Can you imagine if the National Football League required its on-field officials to adjudicate a similar locker room dispute just before kickoff of the Super Bowl?

A few days later, the Del Mar stewards had to intervene in a complaint over a $22,684.92 debt involving horses not stabled at the racetrack. You can argue either way whether any board of stewards should have the authority to mediate such matters, but that's not the point. The real issue is that if you keep stretching the scope of what stewards are supposed to be concentrating on beyond what happens on the racetrack, their ability to focus on and officiate the races is bound to be compromised.

A possible solution might be for racing commissions and tracks to create the position of an "administrative steward" whose sole function is to hear and rule upon any off-track violations not directly related to the running and outcome of races.

You can also make the case for looking beyond the traditional pool of applicants from within the sport when attempting to fill job openings on stewards' boards. Given the number of rulings that end up getting swatted down in the court system (particularly those involving suspensions for drug offenses), it would seem well worth the extra up-front money in salary to employ a legal specialist who has the ability to craft stewards' rulings that consistently stick when they are contested in courts of law.

Both of these ideas would involve moderate up-front costs in an industry that has traditionally been reluctant to pay for integrity-related intangibles. And adding new or specialized officials would also eat into the traditional power structures and little fiefdoms that have evolved in stewards' stands everywhere over the past 150 years or so.

Javier Castellano | Coady

But if you think of the equation in terms of lessening the stewards' overall workload in order to raise the bar of their racing-specific job expectations, the extra costs seem more like an investment than a gamble.

When the Whip Comes Down…

Beyond the above-mentioned riff on officiating in general, two post-Breeders' Cup rulings were handed down against jockeys by the Del Mar stewards, but neither got much play in the racing press in the aftermath of the championships.

Flavien Prat got hit with a $300 fine for using the riding crop more than three times in succession without giving the horse a chance to respond for his winning ride aboard Battle of Midway (Smart Strike) in the GI Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile. Javier Castellano absorbed a $1,000 punishment for the same infraction aboard West Coast (Flatter), who ran third in the GI Breeders' Cup Classic.

The difference in severity of the two penalties was one of degree.

Prat, according to the stewards' minutes, hit his 14-1 horse four times in the run to the finish wire en route to a half-length victory, and reportedly agreed with the stewards' assessment of the situation when summoned to a video review.

Castellano's vigorous stretch-drive stick work was deemed to have been "an appropriate penalty given the multiple violations in a $6-million race." According to the minutes, Castellano's explanation, relayed by jockey Mike Smith, who represented him at the review, was that "he got caught up in the moment and forgot about the crop rule."

And while much was made over the very public pre-race determination that Charles Fipke, the owner of GI Breeders' Cup Distaff winner Forever Unbridled, would have to pay double jockey fees as a penalty for a late rider switch from Joel Rosario to John Velazquez, the Del Mar stewards' minutes from last week revealed that Castellano was involved in a similar dispute that was not resolved in his favor. Mike Lakow, Castellano's agent, had alleged that he had been given the call to ride Mongolian Saturday in the GI Breeders' Cup Turf Sprint, but that the owner and trainer had not lived up to the call. The stewards listened to all parties and examined text messages, but determined that no definite call had existed on either side, so no action was taken. Mongolian Saturday, who won the 2015 version of the Turf Sprint, ended up finishing 12th and last at 66-1 odds under Florent Geroux in this year's running.

Hoppertunity will be making his fourth start in the nine-furlong Clark, following a narrow runner-up finish in the 2015 edition behind Effinex (Mineshaft) and a fourth-place effort in last year's race.

The handsome bay has made only three starts this year, opening his 2017 campaign with a win in the GII San Antonio S. in February before a sixth-place effort in the G1 Dubai World Cup in March. He is coming off a runner-up effort in the one-mile Comma to the Top S. Oct. 28 at Santa Anita.

Hoppertunity is expected to ship to Kentucky Tuesday and could be joined by longtime Baffert assistant Jimmy Barnes, who was sidelined in September by a fractured pelvis.

"I think Jimmy may make the trip," Baffert confirmed. "He's made a remarkable recovery. He's been using a crutch and the doctor told him the other day to get rid of it and switch to a cane. He went through a scary time with this injury. He broke his pelvis when the pony went over him and the saddle horn hit him right in the stomach."

Hodge (1915-16), Bold Favorite (1968-69) and Bob's Dusty (1977-78) are the only two-time winners of the Clark H.

TDN Q&A

Aidan O'Meara, who previously served as Stallion Division Manager at Hill 'n' Dale, announced last week he will be joining Stonehaven Steadings as Director of Bloodstock and Client Development. The farm, located at the intersection of Old Frankfort Pike and Paynes Depot Road, is owned by Chiquita and Jeff Reddoch. O'Meara graduated from the University of Limerick with a degree in Equine Science and Business management and is a recent T.I.E.A leadership award finalist. He is married to the Reddoch's daughter Leah and the couple has three children. O'Meara recently sat down with the TDN to discuss his time at Hill 'n' Dale and the plans for Stonehaven Steadings.

TDN: Can you give us a little background on how you first became involved in racing?

AM: I gained my early equine education in the sport horse world back home in Ireland and as a kid grew up riding fox hunters and show jumpers. When I started my degree in Equine Science, I switched over to riding and schooling steeplechasers and this is when my interest in Thoroughbred racing was really fostered.

During my second year at college we had an opportunity to travel to Kentucky on an internship and I jumped at the chance. I loved it over here and decided to return full time after I graduated. I wanted to step up to the next level in my horsemanship and to me, managing stallions was one of the more challenging things to do to achieve that goal.

Aidan O'Meara

TDN: What accomplishments are you most proud of from your time at Hill 'n' Dale?

AM: When I started at Hill 'n' Dale, we had two modest stallions and over the years I was fortunate enough to manage an operation anyone in the world would be proud of with industry-leading stallions Curlin and Kitten's Joy now at the helm. I am very proud to have been able to play a role in that success and, in part, the careers of top dirt sires Medaglia d'Oro and Candy Ride (Arg), as well, back in the day. Premium care of the horse has always been my greatest passion, nurturing Seattle Slew through the final days of his life is something I will forever cherish. Something else I'm very proud of was our role in promoting the industry at large. Cont. p7

Congratulations to Phoenix Thoroughbred III; Bob Baffert; Kerri Radcliffe, agent; & consignor Wavertree Stables

Thousands of visitors passed through the gates of the stallion barn over the years and we tried to make their visit a memorable one. I like to think we played a little part in making a new fan or owner in the industry or helped inspire some of the young students who passed through to partake in the industry as a full-time professional.

TDN: What key lessons are you taking away from your time at Hill 'n' Dale?

AM: I had the good fortune to be able to witness Hill 'n' Dale's ascension into the powerhouse it is today first hand and I am very proud to have been part of the team. I was exposed to all aspects of the industry beyond my primary role as Stallion Division Manager, be it broodmare management, sales or bloodstock, which has proved to be a great foundation for this next step in my career. Passion and dedication for the business are first and foremost and attention to detail in everything you do on the farm is vital for producing top-class commercial stock. An honest straightforward approach with your clients is very important, as is looking after your key employees. Retaining a top-class team is essential in executing your long-term plans. I have learned what works best, having been focusing on pedigrees, matings and physicals, along with perfecting the raising and prepping of a top-class Thoroughbred over the last 20 years.

TDN: What goals, both short term and long term, are you setting for Stonehaven Steadings?

AM: Short term goals for the farm are to fully maximize the facilities and stock that we currently have. I'm a horseman at my core and will have a strong daily hands-on presence at the farm, alongside our long-time farm manager Colby Marks. We look to take on a select number of boarders and purchase a number of mares for our own broodmare band. This area is a hot-bed for raising significant racehorses with WinStar and Three Chimneys close by. Our own property is already responsible for producing five champions in the last three decades and under our banner has produced Shanghai Bobby and Daredevil, both exciting young stallion prospects standing here in Kentucky.

Our best group of weanlings to date, which will be offered at auction next year, are by Empire Maker, Speightstown, Malibu Moon, Uncle Mo and American Pharoah, to name a few, and we will fully maximize their potential.

Stonehaven has had some significant success with our stock over the last couple of years with four 'top five session toppers' at Keeneland September and yearlings selling for $500,000, $460,000 and $360,000, etc. Each year we have improved and look to continue that upward trajectory.

Long-term goals are to further develop our broodmare band by adding higher-end mares through partnerships and foal sharing on high-quality individuals. We intend to fill the farm with top-tier horses, to fully maximize a location that's proven to produce some of the best. We will look to develop a pinhooking venture and, concurrent with that, expand our sales consignment. We will also look to build our racing stable and 2-year-old program. Adding to this year's roster is the half-brother by Medaglia d'Oro to Shanghai Bobby, he has really come into his own and matured well and we are excited about his prospects. We've retained a Tiznow yearling filly from the same family who looks to be precocious, as well.

Stonehaven Steadings-bred champion Shanghai Bobby Horsephotos

TDN: Are you looking forward to working with family? Do you see any challenges or extra rewards?

AM: I'm really looking forward to working with my family on a full-term basis. My wife Leah and I have a great dynamic. She has done a wonderful job the last few years and balances her responsibilities impressively with her role as mother to our three young children. Jeff and Chiquita are wonderful, down-to-earth people. They have come into this business from the oil field industry and there are many similarities between the two. The oilfield can be an all-or-nothing type of situation, similar to raising bloodstock, so they have a great understanding and acceptance when difficult issues arise. Like all businesses, there is a little different dynamic involved when it's a family operation and no doubt there will be challenges associated with that here and there, but working with family and building up something that can be passed generation to generation I think is one of the most satisfying things that you can do from a professional standpoint.

It's Time for Del Mar to get its Say on Fall meeting

Lately, I've been poking Del Mar for its secondary fall meeting as something the track didn't really want. This was a conclusion I got from talking to a few industry experts including some at Del Mar. This contention drew some raised eyebrows from Mac McBride, their media czar for a little more than a decade. Now if you know Mac, raised eyebrows is akin to a rant from most people as Mac has always been a gentle soul.

BELIEVE IN ROYALTY (c, 2, Tapit--Believe You Can {GISW, $1,280,324}, by Proud Citizen), a $900,000 Keeneland September yearling purchase, ran a game third in his debut at Delaware Park Aug. 28 before graduating here Oct. 9 over a sloppy main track. The gray broke inward at 5-2, but still sprinted out to a 3 1/2-length lead through the first quarter in :24.80. He expanded his advantage heading around the far turn, sprinted away inside the eighth pole and was wrapped up crossing the wire a 3 3/4-length winner. The 9-10 favorite Rivington (To Honor and Serve) ran on to complete the exacta. This the first foal to race out of the GI Kentucky Oaks heroine Believe You Can, who also has a yearling full-sister to Believe in Royalty that sold for $1 million at this year's Keeneland September sale. Believe You Can was bred to War Front this season. Lifetime Record: 3-2-0-1, $50,480. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

INCLEVELAND (f, 2, Midnight Lute--Holy Reina {SW}, by Macho Uno) was an even sixth debuting on the Belmont turf Oct. 8 and broke as the 11-10 chalk in this dirt bow. Hustled away to lead narrowly through splits of :22.84 and :47.81, the homebred repelled the sustained bid from Mrs. Rembrandt (Paynter) by the eighth pole and edged clear to a 2 1/4-length success. Longshot Grazen Honor (Grazen) nailed Mrs. Rembrandt late for the place. The victress is the first foal out of a dam who was undefeated in two starts before being picked up by Three Chimneys for $170,000 at the 2014 KEEJAN sale. Her subsequent produce is a yearling filly by Strong Mandate and a weanling Will Take Charge colt. She was bred to Gemologist this season. Sales History: $40,000 RNA Ylg '16 KEESEP. PRETTY PERFECTION (m, 5, Majesticperfection--Suchaprettygirl, by Mazel Trick), winner of the Ladies' Turf Sprint S. and Captiva Island S. last winter at Gulfstream, had failed to find the mark in six subsequent starts before getting back on track with a facile allowance score on the Parx dirt Oct. 23. Off as the 7-5 favorite here, the bay tracked the speed of Dreamin (Woke Up Dreamin) from third through a :23.26 quarter, poked her head in front at the sixteenth pole and dug in to prevail by a neck over the pacesetter. Cont. p2

MISSISSIPPI (c, 2, Pioneerof the Nile--Katz Me If You Can {MGSW, $410,947}, by Storm Cat), picked up for $700,000 at Faig-Tipton March, was bet to favoritism in a salty field first out Oct. 18 at Keeneland and finished an even fourth. Let go as the 14-5 second choice in this go-around, the dark bay tracked from third behind strong fractions of :22.33 and :45.21. Pouncing on the frontrunner three-wide midway around the turn, he took over at the top of the lane, but faced a fresh challenge from longshot Navy Armed Guard (Midshipman). Digging in past the three-sixteenths pole, Mississippi gradually turned that foe back and inched clear to prevail by 1 3/4 lengths. The winner's dam, a $510,000 buy at the 2009 Keeneland November sale, produced a filly by Tizway Apr. 24 before being sent to Cairo Prince. Sales History: $280,000 Ylg '16 KEESEP. AMERICA'S TALE (f, 2, Gio Ponti--America's Friend {SW, $284,244}, by Unusual Heat) knocked on the door in her first four starts and finally broke through with a win Sunday afternoon. The filly was runner-up in her first two tries sprinting on dirt at Ellis July 16 and turf at Kentucky Downs Sept. 7. Fourth when extended to a grassy mile here Sept. 23, she recently filled out the exacta in a seven-furlong dash over the main track at Keeneland Oct. 21. Few people have come as far and as fast in this sport as Tim Ritvo has. Starting out as a jockey on the Massachusetts Fair circuit, he went on to become a trainer and then the head man at Gulfstream Park for the Stronach Group. Today, he's much more than even that. He's been promoted to the chief operating officer, which means he is Frank Stronach's right-hand man when it comes to operating his racetracks. The $700,000 Fasig-Tipton Saratoga graduate was made the distant 9-2 second choice in the stakes bow behind 'TDN Rising Star' Grace and Dignity. That foe was sent to the lead early on, but encountered unexpected resistance from a longshot, forcing the chalk to go sizzling splits of :21.90 and :44.38. Win the War crept up onto even terms at the top of the lane and soon took charge, pouring it on in the final furlong to romp by 111/4 lengths in a sharp 1:21.52. Grace and Dignity held for second. Edwards Going Left, a five-time winner in just eight trips to post going into Sunday, rallied wide and held on gamely to earn his first stakes score in the California-bred Cary Grant S. at Del Mar. Claimed for $50,000 out of a debut sixth Feb. 9, the bay graduated via disqualification Mar. 26 and reeled off two more victories before running third in the track-and-trip state-bred Real Good Deal S. July 28. Rebounding to take a local optional claimer Aug. 19, he was overmatched when sixth in the GI Santa Anita Sprint Championship Oct. 7 and annexed another optional claimer in Arcadia 15 days later. Off as the lukewarm favorite in this spot, the gelding came away well and sat in a stalking sixth as a four-way pace scrum materialized through splits of :22.28 and :44.65. Looping up four wide to tackle the leaders approaching the straightaway, Edwards Going Left took command in early stretch and spiritedly staved off the closing bid of Solid Wager to earn the victory.

"We're obviously very happy with him," said winning trainer John Sadler. "Being a 3-year-old, we'll nominate him to the [GI] Malibu [Dec. 26 at Santa Anita] and we'll see how it looks."

IT PAYS TO BREED MARYLAND-BREDS

THIS WEEK IN HISTORY...

November 21, 1998...Charismatic broke his maiden by five lengths in a $62,500 claimer for two-year-olds at Hollywood Park. Dangled for a tag once more as a three-year-old, the Robert B. and Beverly J. Lewis colorbearer would go on to win the GI Kentucky Derby and GI Preakness S.

November 22, 1990...Jockey Pat Day rode his 5,000th winner, guiding Screen Prospect to victory in the Falls City H. at Churchill Downs. Day became the 12th rider in history to reach that milestone.

November 26, 1946...American Air Lines, transporting six horses, flew from Shannon Airport in Ireland to Newark Airport in New Jersey to complete the first trans-Atlantic flight ever for Thoroughbreds. The plane arrived November 27.

November 26, 1994...Cigar earned his first stakes success when he drew off to win the NYRA Mile by seven lengths. The race would be named the Cigar Mile three years later in his honor.
