LAVERY'S INTUITION PAVES WAY TO SUCCESS

By Emma Berry

This wasn't the feature we had planned when TDN visited Sheila Lavery's County Meath stable at the end of May. Naturally, the talk then was of Lady Kaya (Ire). Of her spirited runner-up finish in the 1000 Guineas at a distance just beyond her compass. Of her next task: a return to Britain for the most prestigious meeting of the year, Royal Ascot. Of the pride she brought to the trainer and her team who look after 36 horses—a mere ripple, really, in a pool in which rival trainers splash about with battalions numbering into the hundreds.

All that changed on Tuesday. During Lady Kaya's final piece of work before her planned run in next week's Commonwealth Cup, a life which had already delivered so much on early promise was cruelly cut short when the filly fractured a hind leg and was unable to be saved. It is the fear in all our hearts.

A dream died instantly, but for Lavery, in those moments as she watched jockey Robbie Colgan pull up Lady Kaya and realised something was terribly wrong, her mind, typically, was far from big-race glory.

"I saw it happen on The Curragh and all my thoughts were of saving the horse. Royal Ascot didn't matter, it was just about helping her," she said on Tuesday evening.

"People outside the racing world think that we don’t care about the horses but we do," Lavery added.

Nobody who spends more than a handful of minutes at Lavery’s farm just outside Summerhill could be in any doubt as to the veracity of this statement. It is a busy yard, with a small, friendly team of riders and a smaller, friendly pack of dogs. If such a thing as a peaceful bustle exists, then it’s what you’ll find as the morning work is undertaken. Thirty-plus horses are exercised with gentle exchanges between trainer and riders. There’s no jibbing, no fuss, just the occasional hand on a neck strap if a dog’s head happens to pop up in the grass alongside the circular, undulating canter that encompasses the property.

Lady Kaya wasn’t really supposed to come here. The trainer’s niece, Joanne Lavery, in embarking on the pinhooking business she is establishing at Drumree Lodge Stud, bought the weanling daughter of Dandy Man (Ire) from her breeder John O’Connor of Ballylinch Stud fame.

When she failed to match her €15,000 foal price at the Tattersalls Ireland September Yearling Sale, Joanne decided to keep her to race.

"We were driving home from the sale and someone rang Joanne and offered €12,000, but she wanted €15,000 and she stuck to it," Lavery recalled.

After Lady Kaya beat subsequent Oaks runner-up Pink Dogwood (Ire) (Camelot {GB}) by 10 lengths at The Curragh on only her second start last August, Joanne would have had to do a lot more sticking to her guns as the offers came in for her filly. Plenty of owners would have been tempted to sell, but the Lavery family’s faith in their charge was rewarded by classy performances from the filly in the best of company, including a runner-up finish to Skitter Scatter (Scat Daddy) in the G1 Moyglare Stud S. A winter break was followed by a winning resumption in the G3 Ballylinch Stud ‘Priory Belle’ 1000 Guineas Trial at Leopardstown—providing her trainer with a first pattern race victory and her breeder the chance to present the trophy—before what transpired to be her final race in the 1000 Guineas.

Reflecting on Lady Kaya’s early days, Lavery pinpoints her emergence as a potential stable star as the catalyst for Robbie Colgan’s transformation from being a National Hunt jockey to riding on the Flat. She says of her key team member who lives next door to the yard, "Robbie doesn't say much but what he does say is pertinent. When the babies start cantering he will occasionally say, 'she goes well', and you know when Robbie says that you’re onto something good. But at the time Robbie wasn’t riding the Flat horses, so both Ronan Whelan and Gary Carroll had ridden her work and they both said that she was way above average. And I think she was the one that really pushed it for Robbie, because he said he’d do the weight. And that was it then. I think she gave him the inspiration--and the other boys were as sick as turkeys when they heard."

It is not at all surprising that Lavery remained loyal to the relatively little known Colgan when doubtless she could have taken her pick of jockeys as Group 1 entries loomed.

"Apart from days when he’s racing, he's been in with me every morning since I started," she says. "I asked him loads during that time whether he could do the weight because he’s just class. And then he just started to, but he didn’t tell me at first. I went to Limerick one day and Robbie was riding at 9st 2lbs and I had a runner at 9st 8lbs with someone else on the horse. I looked at him and I felt dreadful, then later I gave out to him and he started to tell me last year when he could do the weight. Now I put him on everything."

What is more surprising is the realisation that Lavery has only been training for six years.

With the influx of new trainers typically being male 30-somethings, a 52-year-old woman taking out her licence is refreshingly outside the norm but, as a former eventer, she is not lacking in equine experience, and she is all too familiar with the rollercoaster ride which one must endure to live a life with horses.

"I've always bred, and then when something hadn't sold I did a bit of pre-training," she says. "Years ago I said I'd always like to train a good filly, and over the years I'd looked at it but they didn't allow you to train as a restricted trainer of 2-year-olds.

But then eventually I just started with four horses and it's kind of grown ever since. I'm six years in but I've been in horses an awfully long time, and you know the downside and you're used to the disappointments. But am I enjoying it? Yeah. It's not a job, it's a way of life and I love the horses."

She cites the recently retired former champion jockey Pat Smullen as a great sounding board in her career to date.

"He's been fantastic, even from day one I'd bring a horse to The Curragh and Pat would sit up—he mightn't necessarily ride it in a race but he'd sit up—and I kind of knew what this horse was in the back of my mind and then Pat would work up the Old Vic [gallop] and he'd come back and he'd tell me exactly what the horse was. And I'm looking at him and inwardly thinking, 'yeah, you're right', and he'd tell you so you knew exactly what you had and where you were. He mightn't realise how much help he has been, but he has."

Around the time Lavery joined the training ranks, she was already associated with a good filly, Viztoria (Ire) (Oratorio {Ire}), whom she had in training with Eddie Lynam.

"I wasn't silly enough to take her on," she says of Viztoria, another inexpensively bought yearling she came good by winning four stakes races over three seasons. Retained as a broodmare, she now has a Dandy Man yearling filly and a Dark Angel (Ire) filly foal, but she too has brought her share of heartache.

"She aborted her first foal and then last year in July her Australia yearling colicked in the field. We'd just had our first double the day before in Galway, and it was great, and everyone's saying 'well done' and in your head, you're just thinking..." Lavery doesn't quite find the words to finish the sentence. Once again, it was the animal in distress rather than success that was uppermost in her mind.

The horsewoman clearly not only has an eye for a youngster—she buys almost all the horses she trains at what could be deemed sensible prices—but also an intuitive approach to training which allows the horses to come to hand without being pushed too hard too soon.

"They might work up behind a horse and then pick up but we don't work them off the bridle, we don't gun them," she says. "So not until they go to the races do we really know. For Lady Kaya's first run when she was third, we knew we had something special, but I said to Robbie, 'just educate her, just ride her, don't give her a hard time'. And I think if he had picked up the stick she could have won, but she was third and it was the best thing ever when she came out the next time and won. With fillies, we just give them a nice introduction the first time."

It is perhaps too much to hope, especially when hearts and nerves are still raw, that lightning might strike twice, but the approach outlined above already appears to be paying dividends with recent maiden winner Lil Grey (Ire) (Starspangledbanner {Aus}). The Newtown Stud-bred filly was bought at the Goffs Sportsman’s Yearling Sale for €12,000 by the trainer and her brother John, who plays a vital role as the major owner in the stable and has put together a syndicate of friends to race Lil Grey. She was second on debut to Mohican Heights (Ire) (Australia {GB}), who heads to the London Sale on Monday and is entered in the Listed Chesham S., while Lil Grey reappeared on June 7 to beat a classily-bred field and is herself an intended starter in the G3 Albany S.

"Like Lady Kaya, she is a long-striding filly and we just like to let her bowl along on her own," explains the trainer from alongside the canter as a streak of quicksilver breezes by, light on her feet like a dancer, Colgan in the saddle.

Lavery had already planned an outing for the Friday of Royal Ascot. That she now hopes to take a young filly in place of her late stable star will come as only small consolation, but it stands as testament to her ability for finding the right horse with which to take aim at major targets from a relatively small team.
Everyone knows how hard it is to find a good one. Just look at the number of darts fired at the board by the big operations each year in the hope of hitting a bullseye, and still sometimes they miss.

Lavery has already proved that her aim is true when a talented horse comes her way. Once the sadness of this week’s desperate loss subsides, the hunt will resume for the next horse to put her stable back in the spotlight. Indeed, she may already have found her.

O’Brien added of Magical, “Last year we were getting her ready for the Investec Oaks, but she had a setback which meant we just had to go gentle for a lot of the year with her. She just started to get it together before Ascot when she won the [G1] Fillies’ And Mares’ [S.], and then she went to America, where she was just beaten by Enable [in the G1 Breeders’ Cup Turf].”

After Hermosa (Ire) (Galileo (Ire)) completed the Guineas double in the G1 Irish 1000 Guineas on May 26, there was talk of stepping her up in trip for Sunday’s G1 Prix de Diane, but she will instead stick to a mile for the G1 Coronation S.

“Obviously we were delighted with what she did at Newmarket, and to win the way she did again at The Curragh,” O’Brien said. “We’re looking forward to running her and decided to keep her at a mile for now.”

Last year’s G1 Middle Park S. winner Ten Sovereigns (Ire) (No Nay Never) will reappear for the first time since finishing fifth in the G1 2000 Guineas when he drops back in trip for the G1 Commonwealth Cup.

"We were delighted with Ten Sovereigns in the Guineas and we were always thinking in our mind that we would run him in the Guineas and then bring him back for this race," said O’Brien.

"We’ve been delighted with him since Newmarket and we’re looking forward to getting him back over six furlongs.

"He travelled so well in the Guineas--he ran a great race--but this was the trip he was very comfortable at last year, so you’d imagine he’ll be happy. He was still in front on his side in the Guineas until late on, having been up there all the way, so we were actually delighted with him in the Guineas."

O’Brien holds the record for most wins in the G1 Gold Cup (seven) and this year he looks to the last two winners of the G1 St Leger, Capri (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) and Kew Gardens (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) to build on that.

"You can never be sure about a horse getting two and a half miles, but we always thought Kew Gardens had a chance of getting the trip," he said. "You can’t ever be sure a horse will stay--it’s an extreme distance, and you never gallop them over that far, obviously--but we’re looking forward to running him in it.

"Kew Gardens has a very similar profile to Yeats. He was favourite for the Derby before he got injured, of course, and both of them ran in the Coronation Cup as a 4-year-old before going on to run in the Gold Cup. So we always thought Kew Gardens might be a horse for the Gold Cup.

"While they obviously have to have stamina, they won’t win it if they don’t have class--and Capri won an Irish Derby and Kew Gardens the St Leger, so hopefully they have that."

O’Brien also took a moment to reflect on the accomplishments of Yeats (Ire) (Sadler’s Wells), who is responsible for four of his seven Gold Cup wins. Yeats completed the quartet 10 years ago.

"It’s amazing to think it’s 10 years since the last of his Gold Cups--time does fly," said O’Brien of the horse who is immortalized with a statue in the Ascot parade ring. "He was an incredible horse, to win four Gold Cups was out of this world--for a horse to do that was incredible. Another great thing about him is that he’s now a very successful National Hunt stallion for Coolmore."

SMULLEN NAMED IRISH CHAMPIONS WEEKEND AMBASSADOR

Recently retired nine-time Irish champion jockey Pat Smullen will be the racing ambassador for this year’s Longines Irish Champions Weekend.

Irish Champions Weekend, set for Sept. 14 and 15 at Leopardstown and The Curragh, will this year for the first time include a number of fundraising activities and events with all proceeds going towards the fight against pancreatic cancer, which Smullen was diagnosed with last March.

“I was made acutely aware of the great work that is being done in the area of pancreatic cancer research and my objective is to return to my carers three things: awareness, funds and gratitude,” Smullen said. “Being involved with the greatest show in town is exciting for me and I appreciate the support of the Longines Irish Champions Weekend committee, Leopardstown and The Curragh in my efforts.”

He responded with an emphatic answer to open up new options. Happy to take a lead from Wadilsafa, he was sent up to press that rival with well over two furlongs remaining and showed a professional attitude to see out his task in a decent renewal.

Alastair Donald, bloodstock manager for King Power Racing, revealed that Royal Ascot could be on the cards for the winner. “He does like that soft ground,” he said. “There’s a chance, depending on how he comes out of the race, and if there is give in the ground still, that he could run in the [June 22 G3] Jersey. He got the mile well there, but it was a slowly-run race. I think he’ll be pretty versatile, though. He’s still a bit of a baby, but I think he’ll be an exciting horse next year.”

Breaking his black-type maiden in the Listed Prix de Bonneval over 5 1/2 furlongs on soft ground at Maisons-Laffitte in October, El Astronaute had performed with credit in some decent sprints on a fast surface so far this term including when sixth in the May 15 G2 Duke of York S. Quick off the blocks here, the chestnut led at every step to deny the domestic crew. The win came after three unsatisfactory performances, none of which was more frustrating than the May 27 Cork handicap over 10 furlongs, when he was ridden out inside the final furlong to hold sway from his jockey’s vain effort of Virka for a career high.

NATIONAL DEFENSE BOLSTERS SUN’S ROSTER

By Bren O’Brien

Amid a raft of new investment into the Victorian breeding industry over the past six months, Sun Stud feels the addition of National Defense (GB) for 2019 has given its now 11-strong stallion roster the best balance it has ever had.

Six years after Sun International made its first big splash in Australia by buying the old Eliza Park and three years since the complete rebrand of the breeding business to Sun Stud, momentum is firmly behind the Victorian-based operation.

Its stallion roster continues to build in numbers and quality and the recent success of Melbourne Cup winning stallion Fiorente (Ire), who has had four stakes winners this season, has been a considerable boost.

The addition of Invincible Spirit’s (Ire) Group 1 winning son National Defense, who will shuttle from the Irish National Stud, to the 2019 roster has been extremely well received, according to Sales and Nominations Manager Philip Marshall.

"The response has been awesome. He’s already got 100 mares booked. He’s really been very easy to communicate to the breeders about," Marshall told TDN AusNZ.

"He was an incredible racehorse. To win a Group 1 as a 2-year-old by four lengths, not many 2-year olds have been able to do that. He’s by Invincible Spirit, who needs no introduction, with I Am Invincible being a superstar for many years here."

With Yulong and Aquis set to begin their Victorian stallion operations this year, joining the likes of Spendthrift to invest heavily in Victoria in recent years, there is no time for Sun Stud to sit still.

Marshall welcomes the commitment these big international operations have made to the state, saying it only adds to overall vibrancy of the industry.

"I don’t necessarily think it’s about always competing with one another. Victoria has to thrive and it's doing that at the moment," he said. "The likes of Yulong coming in can only be of benefit. It's the same with Aquis. Ourselves and Spendthrift are injecting a lot of money into the Victorian industry and that's a good thing.

"We have seen the gap between Victoria and the Hunter Valley close and with this added investment, I think it will continue to close over the next few years. Competition is healthy and I think it can only make for a stronger Victorian market which is brilliant."

Tapping into the Spirit

One of the areas where there is increasing competition is for quality stock from the Invincible Spirit line. National Defense becomes the second son of Invincible Spirit to stand in Victoria this season after Woodside Park’s Cable Bay (Ire), whose first crop hit the ground last spring.

There are also two sons of I Am Invincible in Darley’s Brazen Beau, who has made a considerable impression at Northwood Park and Spendthrift’s Overshare, whose first foals arrive this spring.

"People are starting to educate themselves about that stallion line," Marshall said. "The Danehill line won’t be as dominant as it has been, the same happened to the Star Kingdom line and the next successful line that seems to be doing the goods is the Invincible Spirit line. He is one of the few that has worked in both hemispheres, so to get a real high-quality, high-profile son of his is very important to us, and the breeders are seeing what a good horse he is."

National Defense will stand his first season at $11,000 (inc GST), a price that Marshall is confident will attract both commercial breeders and those who are looking to breed to race.
Palentino in the spotlight

While Fiorente, whose fee jumped from $17,600 (inc GST) to $27,500 (inc GST) this season off the back of the strong on track performances of his first and second crops and the subsequent rise in demand at yearling sales, the stallion which is occupying most interest at Sun Stud right at the moment is Palentino, who has 15 of his first crop foals catalogued at the Inglis Great Southern Sale at Oaklands Junction.

A dual Group 1 winner over the 1600m, the precocity of his first foals has taken even Marshall by surprise.

"When we first got Palentino and had him at the farm, a lot of us thought his progeny would be in the similar ilk to him and that he wouldn’t produce early 2-year-olds and maybe they’d be more milers," Marshall said. "But having seen his progeny on the ground, it wouldn’t surprise me if he was able to produce a good precocious 2-year old. They are very strong and they look like they can be early runners."

"They’ve got plenty of size, strength and substance about them which you need in a commercial market like Australia. They look strong and if anything they look quite precocious, which you wouldn’t necessarily expect from a son of Teofilo (Ire)."

The $75,000 paid by Two Bays Farm for the only Palentino on offer at the recent Gold Coast Magic Millions National Weanling Sale, a colt offered by Barador Stud, was a strong result and Marshall believes that quality will continue in Melbourne when the weanling aspect of the Great Southern Sale starts on Sunday.

"He was lovely horse but I think looking at a few of them from this sale that are better than him. That doesn’t always mean they are going to bring more money, but I do really think there are three or four here at the complex that are better physicals than what he was at the Gold Coast," he said.

Marking his progeny

Palentino, who was purchased by trainer Darren Weir for $85,000 and was purchased by Sun Stud after his win in the Group 1 Australian Guineas, was a spectacular looking horse on the racetrack, with his rich chestnut coat offset by a white blaze and white markings on his legs.

Those characteristics have carried through to a lot of his foals and Marshall said that certainly helps potential buyers make the connection back to the stallion.

"They are very similar to him in terms in that a lot of them are blingy chestnuts," he said. "They are short-coupled, strong bodied, good hindquarters, good length of hip, they look like racehorses so we are delighted."

"I think if people can relate the stallion to his progeny, it certainly helps.

"Especially with trainers and people who may have been associated with the horse and may have seen the horses at the races and are looking at a foal and can make that connection. A lot of best stallions stamp their progeny successfully. Redoute’s Choice is a great example, He really stamped his and he is one of the best stallions we have seen in Australia. People will look at these Palentinos and see quite a lot of Palentino himself there and that will lead to a stronger buying bench, I feel."
OBS JUNE SALE ENDS WITH A BANG

by Jessica Martini

OCALA, FL - The Ocala Breeders’ Sales Company’s June Sale of 2-Year-Olds in Training concluded with a bang Friday in Ocala, as a filly by Into Mischief brought a sales record final bid of $900,000 from Larry Best’s OXO Equine. The juvenile was consigned by Top Line Sales on behalf of Carlo Vaccarezza. The price bettered the auction’s previous record of $800,000, which was set by a City Zip colt in 2016.

“We are happy with the results of the sale, we set a record for the highest-priced horse and we increased our gross,” OBS Director of Sales Tod Wojciechowski said. “The June sale has evolved. This isn’t your father’s June sale. I think it bodes well for OBS as a whole and that consignors can have confidence that, no matter what sale they bring their horse to, they’ll have the opportunity to get what it’s worth.”

Through three sessions, OBS sold 609 juveniles for a gross of $21,493,300. The average of $35,293 rose 8.6% from 2018 and the median was up 13.3% to $17,000.

During the 2018 June sale, 530 head grossed $17,231,000 for an average of $32,511 and a median of $15,000.

COMPETITIVE CAST ASSEMBLED FOR FOSTER by Brian DiDonato

A diverse group of 12 older males line up Saturday night for the GII Stephen Foster S. at Churchill Downs, which carries a “Win and You’re In” ticket to the GI Breeders’ Cup Classic. The race likely goes through Hronis Racing’s Gift Box (Twirling Candy), who invades from California off a trio of stellar outings since changing hands. Sold privately and transferred from Chad Brown to John Sadler off an 8 3/4-length Aqueduct optional claiming romp last March, he resurfaced to defeat the star-crossed Battle of Midway (Smart Strike) in the GII San Antonio S. at Santa Anita on the day after Christmas. He upended another formidable foe in MGISW McKinzie (Street Sense) to take the GI Santa Anita H. by a nose Apr. 6, but was upset himself by Vino Rosso (Curlin) in the GI Gold Cup at Santa Anita May 27. Despite the defeat, he earned a career-best 105 Beyer for that last effort—a repeat of that number seems very likely to get the job done here. Cont. p9

California invader Gift Box (Twirling Candy) schools in the Churchill Downs paddock Friday ahead of an appearance in Saturday night’s GII Stephen Foster S. | Coady
The performances of June graduates on the racetrack have encouraged buyers to shop the auction with confidence and successful transactions in the ring have emboldened consignors to target the sale with their late-developing juveniles, according to OBS President Tom Ventura.

“We’ve had [GI Breeders’ Cup Dirt Mile winner] Goldencents and [Grade I winner] Celestine and Stormy Liberal, a two-time Breeders’ Cup winner, come out of the June sale, so the sale has made huge strides,” Ventura said. “People come here thinking they can find something of any quality. And now we’ve had a horse that sold for $900,000, who three months ago was in our sale and didn’t bring $400,000 in March, was bought back, and that horse blossomed and people were rewarded for it. I think we’ve gotten past that stigma a while ago of it being the last sale of the year. I think the consignors just put the horses where they are ready to go and sometimes it’s the second time through, but more often we are seeing the first-time horses going through the sale. I think that’s certainly the direction this sale has been going.”

With 160 horses reported not sold, the cumulative buy-back rate was 20.8%. At the 2018 sale, the buy-back rate at close of business was 21.8% and that figure fell to 20.3% with the addition of post-sale transactions.

“It was evident that there was a lot of activity for the moderately priced horses,” said Ventura. “In comparing the buy-back rate, right at this moment, it’s a little difficult, although we’re pretty much on par. As we keep adding post-sales, I think it will be very comparable to last year.”

Ventura also saw the demand for horses right through to the end of the 1,059 catalogued head.

“Just being out back in the last 25 or 30 hips, there were still people scrambling to buy horses,” Ventura said. “So it wasn’t like we were finishing in an empty building. So that was good to see.”

Wavertree Stables was the auction’s leading consignor with 19 sold for $1,465,000 and OXO Equine, with its sole, sale-topping purchase, was the leading buyer.

Bloodstock agent David Ingordo saw plenty of positive trends at the June sale and attributed some increased activity at the lower middle end of the market to the New York Racing Association’s recent unveiling of a series of races restricted to 2-year-olds purchased for $45,000 or less.

“I like to buy a few for myself at a little bit of a cheaper level and take a shot,” Ingordo said. “I’ve found it hard for a decent lower-priced horse in the $50,000 to $100,000. They were hard to buy. With what Saratoga did with the $45,000 purchase price or under, there is a lot of activity here with people trying to buy those horses. So you see a lot of people stopping at $45,000. It’s competitive here for decent horses.” Cont. p4
Ingordo also observed a difference in what buyers and sellers think of as “middle market horses.”

“Something that should be said about the ‘middle market’—there is a price that we want to buy horses at. It’s a value that you give them, but they still have to jump through the hoops. They have to vet cleanly and have a good physical. There are a lot of people who want to buy horses in what we call the middle market. What the buyers want them to bring and what we as sellers want them to bring are different things. And sometimes when you make those match, you get a high clearance rate.”

But consignor Eddie Woods continued to see a weakness in the middle market and he found buyers more reluctant to buy horses with issues during the season’s last juvenile sale.

“It’s the same only worse here,” Woods said. “As the year has gone on, I think when you get into June, you run into a lot of horses with issues that, at this time of the year, people don’t want to mess with. Early in the year, they’ll take little things because you have time to recover. But they are only here for the perfect ones. We had the Puerto Ricans here, they needed to replenish their stock, and they created a great bottom in the market.”

Woods agreed the trends he saw at the sales this spring will effect his decision-making process going into the yearling sales.

“There will be no more, ‘Well, if he works ok, we’ll be all right.’ because we won’t be,” Woods said. “He has to be the real deal. It’s not necessarily the pedigree; he has to have the shape and sire power. Pedigree deems how much you spend for them and how much you get them for them. But you need sire power and the shape and the good video is so much more important now. But those horses that you say, ‘We’ll take a punt with him,’ there will be no more of them because we’re here in June with them now and it’s not going so good.”

Into Mischief on Top Again
Larry Best’s OXO Equine added another sale topper to its roster after bloodstock agent John Dowd went to a June record $900,000 to acquire a filly by Into Mischief (hip 748) during Friday’s final session of the OBS June sale. The result was another pinhooking success for Carlo Vaccarezza, who purchased the filly for $375,000 as part of his initial pinhooking venture at last year’s Fasig-Tipton Saratoga Sale. She was consigned by Top Line Sales.

The filly, bred by Allen Poindexter, is out of the unraced Rosemonde (Indian Charlie), whose first foal Rowayton (Into Mischief) was purchased by Best for $320,000 at the Fasig-Tipton Saratoga sale in 2017. The colt finished second in last year’s GI Del Mar Futurity and was third in the GI American Pharoah S. He was victorious in his sophomore debut in a highly rated Belmont allowance last Thursday.

“She's a very nice filly, and obviously we have her full-brother and we really like him, so it made sense,” Dowd said. “She was a standout. She obviously was a March filly that happened to be back in June and she’s a really nice filly.”

The juvenile RNA’d for $400,000 after working a furlong in :10 1/5 at the OBS March sale.

“She did everything right in OBS March,” said Top Line’s Torie Gladwell. “She was just a heavy filly and she still looked like a big, immature baby. And then she just got better and better and ended up coming here.”

Top Line and Vaccarezza followed a similar path with a son of Into Mischief who sold for $710,000 at the Fasig-Tipton Midlantic sale after RNA’ing for $575,000 at the Fasig-Tipton Gulfstream sale. That colt was a $265,000 Fasig-Tipton Saratoga yearling.

“She was just like the Into Mischief we had in Maryland,” Gladwell said. “Those big horses are hard to get ready for the early sales, Miami and March, and we liked them both enough not to give them away and it ended up working out.”

Gladwell said there was no concern about bringing the filly back to the last 2-year-old auction of the year.

“June is a great sale,” she said. “That horse was vetted by five or six of the right guys who had plenty of money to buy her. So there is definitely money at the June sale.”

Juveniles by Into Mischief have caused fireworks at several 2-year-old sales this spring. A filly by the Spendthrift stallion topped the Midlantic sale at $1.8 million when selling to Michael Lund Petersen. Best paid $1.5 million for another daughter at the Gulfstream sale and a colt by the sire topped the OBS April sale when bringing a final bid of $1.3 million from Team Casse.

Other highlights from Vaccarezza’s spring include an Uncle Mo filly purchased for $410,000 as a yearling who sold for $525,000 and a Candy Ride (Arg) filly purchased for $300,000 in 2018 who brought $675,000, both at OBS March. At the Fasig-Tipton Gulfstream sale, Vaccarezza sold an American Pharoah colt for $775,000. He had purchased the youngster for $235,000 in Saratoga.

The filly’s $900,000 price tag was a new high for Top Line Sales.

“‘We’ve never sold a horse for a million—that’s the closest we’ve ever gotten to a million,’” Gladwell said. “I am probably still shaking.”

Asked if he planned to return to the yearling sales this year, Vaccarezza said, “We will—the thing is sometimes it’s hard. You have to do a lot of homework and you have surround yourself with good people. Jim Gladwell and John Shaw really helped us a lot. So we have a really good team and hopefully we can duplicate this next year.”

Vaccarezza took a moment to remember J.J. Crupi, who passed away last month.

“Crupi and I were friends and I’m sorry he’s gone,” he said.

Ghostzapper Filly a Score for Delvalle

John Connelly’s Stetson Racing, which enjoyed recent graded stakes success with GII Black-Eyed Susan S. winner Point of Honor (Curlin), added another filly to the stable with the $600,000 purchase of a filly by Ghostzapper (hip 914) Friday in Ocala. Bloodstock agent Donato Lanni, bidding from the back of the pavilion, saw off a determined Susan Montanye, who was doing her bidding on behalf of Twin Creeks Racing a few rows away while on the phone, to acquire the filly. Cont. p7
The filly was consigned by Gayle Woods on behalf of Eric DelValle, who purchased the younger for $67,000 at last year’s Keeneland September sale.

Out of Tizahit (Tiznow), the filly is a half to Come Dancing (Malibu Moon), who was second in last week’s GI Ogden Phipps S. She worked the co-bullet three-furlong time of :32 3/5 during last week’s under-tack preview.

Woods was visibly emotional while receiving congratulations after the transaction. “I’ve had a really bad year,” she said. “I haven’t sold anything well. So this was huge. This was a really good way to finish the season. She is a beautiful filly. She has so much class. I thought she’d make $400,000 or $500,000, maybe six if the right people got into it. And it happened.”

The filly was the lone horse DelValle pinhooked this year and bettered his previous best sale result. The Panamanian sold Wolf Man Rocket (Mineshaft) for $550,000 at the 2014 OBS April sale.

“I broke my record,” DelValle said. “It was $550,000 and now it’s $600,000.”

Of the filly’s appeal last fall, DelValle said, “When I saw her, she looked very attractive and with good conformation. Come Dancing had won a stakes at Saratoga when I bought this one, but it wasn’t in the catalogue when I bought her. And then Come Dancing started to run better and better and better. So you need luck, of course.”

DelValle added, “And I have to thank Gayle Woods. She did a tremendous job with her. This filly was born May 6, so Gayle decided to go to this sale instead of April. And she made the right decision.”

Lanni admitted the juvenile was an obvious choice.

“She obviously has a great pedigree and I think she came out here and worked a good three-eighths,” he said. “It was her first sale and I liked that they gave her the time to get here.”

Belladonna Adds Another Filly

David Ingordo has been shopping the 2-year-old sales this spring looking for fillies for the Belladonna Racing partnership and the bloodstock agent added another juvenile when bidding $290,000 for a daughter of Kitten’s Joy Friday in Ocala. Named Sunset Kitten, hip 721 was the first to go through the ring at the final session of the June sale and was consigned by Eddie Woods on behalf of breeders Ken and Sarah Ramsey.

“We’ve bought some fillies over the last three or four sales,” Ingordo said. “The first crop is all 2-year-olds that we’ve bought at the sales that we think can run and then have some residual value. The business model was to buy fillies, race them and then offer them back in the market, hopefully when they have blacktype. We bought horses that hopefully are competitive at a high level. We know it’s a numbers game, so we bought a quantity of quality. Mostly proven sires with a mix of a couple first-season sires we liked.”

The filly is out of Reachfortheheavens (Pulpit) and is a full-sister to multiple Grade I winner Real Solution and graded-placed Ava’s Kitten. Both of those runners were trained by Chad Brown and the juvenile will be conditioned by former Brown assistant Cherie DeVaux.

“I love Kitten’s joy,” Ingordo said of the filly. “He is a top-class stallion, but he’s a little bit of an unsung hero commercially. And the cross clearly works. Cherie DeVaux is getting the horse and she has experience with both the full-siblings, so it made sense.”

Woods said of the juvenile, “She is a lovely filly. She’s a typical Kitten’s Joy and she has pedigree. We’ve had two or three out of the mare and they are all pretty straightforward horses. She was a classy filly to be around.”

“The Ramseys decided to move her on,” Woods continued. “They have plenty of the family.”

Belladonna Racing now numbers six juveniles.

Into Mischief Colt to Howg

Randy Howg, standing out back with trainer Robertino Diodoro and bloodstock agent Nick Hines, added a colt by Into Mischief to his racing stable when going to $325,000 to acquire hip 782 Friday at OBS. Hines signed the ticket on behalf of Howg/BG Stable/Big Tuff.

“Randy Howg and I went over and looked at him last night and we liked what we saw,” Diodoro said. “So we had ‘Sarge’ [Hines] on it first thing this morning to get him vetted. We saw him again this morning and we talked to a couple of people who saw him earlier in the year. Between watching the videos and when it was all said and done, Randy and I, and including Sarge, we thought he was the best horse in the sale.”

Diodoro trained 2017 GII Oaklawn H. winner Inside Straight (Super Saver) for Howg.
“Of the Belladonna Racing people, 90% never owned a horse before and they are people of means that can go on and do this in a partnership or in a bigger scenario on their own,” Ingordo said of the partnership group. “We have a lot of young people who are in the 30 to early 40s bracket that have disposable income who want to do this.”

The partnership also includes a daughter of Bayern (hip 580) who was purchased for $350,000 at the Fasig Midlantic sale. A quartet of fillies were acquired at the OBS April sale: a Twirling Candy filly (hip 109) purchased for $335,000; a Curlin filly (hip 708) purchased for $250,000; a Lea filly (hip 890) purchased for $190,000; and a Munnings filly (hip 750) purchased for $90,000.

Stay Thirsty Filly an Emotional Score

The Hemingway Racing and Training Stables team shared some tears and hugs in the back walking ring after selling a filly by Stay Thirsty for $160,000 to Emerald Sales. The juvenile had been purchased by Lawrence Hobson for $1,500 as a weanling at the 2017 Keeneland November sale.

“They are really lovely people and new to the horse business,” Michelle Hemingway said of Hobson and his wife Lori Hurt. “They bought Johanne Everard’s old farm [Another Episode Farm]. [Hobson] wanted to get into the game and he was going to buy weanlings and sell yearlings. Unfortunately, just after he bought these horses, he was diagnosed with terminal cancer.

“I was lucky enough to be introduced to them through Taylor Made, which is who they bought a lot of horses from. And Taylor Made has just been so wonderful to me--they’ve made my business to be honest with you. So they were introduced to me and they asked if I could help them with these horses and they needed direction.”

Hobson, who was founder of Falcon L&L Transportation, passed away last October.

“When her husband passed, I became even more involved and I tried to be a good support system for her and do whatever we could,” Hemingway said. “No one deserved this result more than she did.”

While in the past there has been talk of Sadler runners failing to show up with their best outside of Southern California, the exploits of last year’s GI Breeders’ Cup Classic hero Accelerate (Lookin At Lucky) and last Friday’s GI True North S. winner Catalina Cruiser (Union Rags) for the same owner should have done plenty to allay those concerns. Nolo Contesto (Pioneerof the Nile) could provide another barometer in the GII Matt Winn S. a few races earlier.

Tom’s d’Etat (Smart Strike) and Seeking the Soul (Perfect Soul {Ire}) finished second and third, respectively, behind the aforementioned and impressive McKinzie in the GI Alysheba S. here May 3. McKinzie was a tough-trip second in a blockbuster running of the GI Metropolitan H. last week in New York. Tom’s d’Etat, previously ninth in the GI Pegasus World Cup Invitational S., set the pace last time but appears to have some speed to his inside here.

Seeking the Soul annexed the GI Clark H. over track in trip in 2017, and was second in the Pegasus before finishing eighth in the G1 Dubai World Cup behind Met Mile third Thunder Snow (Ire) (Helmet {Aus}). The added sixteenth he’ll get to work with here should certainly improve his chances, and he fired a :59 2/5 bullet (1/15) over the strip June 7. “He’s really been bouncing around perfectly over this track,” trainer Dallas Stewart told the Churchill notes team. “He was doing so well after the Dubai World Cup that we ran him in the Alysheba as a prep for the Stephen Foster. He ran good that day, but I think he can do much better in the Foster.”

Other logical contenders for the Foster include dual-surface Grade I winner and ‘TDN Rising Star’ Yoshida (Jpn) (Heart’s Cry {Jpn})—last seen finishing sixth in Dubai; the overlapping ownership group’s GII Oaklawn H. winner and ‘Rising Star’ Quip (Distorted Humor); and 2018 GII Jim Dandy winner and May 17 GII Pimlico Special S. scorer Tenfold (Curlin).

WILL MILE AND AN EIGHTH MAKE THE DIFFERENCE FOR ELATE?

by Brian DiDonato

Accomplished ‘TDN Rising Star’ Elate (Medaglia d’Oro) gets a bit more ground to work with as she resurfaces in Churchill’s nine-panel, GI Breeders’ Cup Distaff-qualifying GII Fleur de Lis H. Some of the Claiborne Farm and Adele Dischneider homebred’s best work has come at this trip or longer—she annexed the 2017 GI Beldame Invitational S. by 8 1/4 lengths going 1 1/8 miles in 2017, and she’s a two-time graded winner over 1 1/4 miles (2017 GI Alabama S. and 2018 GII Delaware H.). Her career-best 105 Beyer Speed Figure was earned when coming up a neck short to nemesis Abel Tasman (Quality Road) in a roughly run renewal of the GI Personal Ensign S. last August. Second to leading older female Midnight Bisou (Midnight Lute) in the GI Azeri S. at Oaklawn Mar. 16, she was third behind that recent GI Ogden Phipps S. heroine in the GI Apple Blossom H. back in Arkansas over 8 1/2 furlongs Apr. 14. She’s been off since then, but shows an upbeat string of local wins. Elate’s only prior outing here was a runner-up finish in a 2017 optional claiming.

“She’s a horse that wants every bit of 1 1/8 miles,” trainer Bill Mott, who got 2019 Hall of Fame inductee Royal Delta back in form to annex the 2012 running of this race, told the Churchill press department. “Part of the reason why we wanted to run in the [Fleur de Lis] was because of the distance. I think she loves 1 1/8 miles and even up to 1 1/4 miles.”

Elate’s main challenge could come from the in-form She’s a Julie (Elusive Quality). The Steve Asmussen trainee secured the third graded tally of her career in Oaklawn’s GIII Bayakoa S. Feb. 18, and added the GI La Troienne S. on the GI Kentucky Oaks undercard May 3. Blue Prize (Arg) (Pure Prize) was third that day as the favorite. Most of She’s a Julie’s accomplishments have come at 1 1/16 miles, but she was a well-beaten second going longer in last year’s Alabama and sports a 5-3-1-0 record at Churchill.

“I was so proud of her effort in the La Troienne,” said Asmussen, who took this race in 2010 with his own Hall of Famer in Rachel Alexandra. “It was a lot of fun winning that race with such a special filly to our barn and named after my wife.”

Defending Fleur de Lis champ Blue Prize has similar distance preferences to Elate—her four wins at the trip also include a score in last fall’s GI Juddmonte Spinster S. at Keeneland. She was fourth beaten just 1 1/2 lengths in the Distaff here last November, just a head behind Midnight Bisou.

MR. MONEY LOOKS TO ‘WINN’ SOME MORE OF IT by Brian DiDonato

Allied Racing Stable’s Mr. Money (Goldencents) seeks his second consecutive victory under the Twin Spires in Saturday evening’s GIII Matt Winn S. The Bret Calhoun pupil cut back off a fifth behind stablemate By My Standards (Goldencents) in the nine-panel GII Louisiana Derby to romp in the GIII Pat Day Mile S. on GI Kentucky Derby day May 4. He was further flattered when runner-up Hog Creek Hustle (Overanalyze) came back to annex the GI Woody Stephens S. last week at Belmont. “He trained super into the Pat Day Mile and he’s doing awesome,” Calhoun said of Mr. Money according to the Churchill media department. “He’s always done everything the right way when he trains in the morning and shows so much talent every day when he steps on the racetrack.”

Signalman (General Quarters) also boasts solid local form, having annexed the GI Kentucky Jockey Club S. here last November after a well-beaten second to Knicks Go (Paynter) in the GI Claiborne Breeders’ Futurity at Keeneland and a third in the GI Breeders’ Cup Juvenile here. His best finish this year was a third in the GI Toyota Blue Grass S. back in Lexington Apr. 6, and he was most recently ninth in the GI Preakness S. May 18. Knicks Go was 70-1 when he ran away with the Breeders’ Futurity, and 40-1 when he split champion Game Winner (Candy Ride (Arg)) and Signalman at the Breeders’ Cup. He was 11th as the favorite in the Kentucky Jockey Club S., however, and hasn’t appeared to improve in three outings this term. His closest finish was his last, when he was fourth in the GIII Stonestreet Lexington S. behind Preakness third Owendale (Into Mischief).

Nolo Contesto (Pioneerof the Nile) is an intriguing out-of-town shipper invading for the powerhouse team of Hronis Racing and John Sadler that will also be represented in the GI Stephen Foster S. by Gift Box (Twirling Candy). The last horse to have beaten leading sophomore Omaha Beach (War Front) when he did so in a January Santa Anita maiden special weight, he finished second to 'TDN Rising Star' Roadster (Quality Road) in a Mar. 1 optional claimer and fourth behind that foe in the GI Santa Anita Derby Apr. 6.

WINTER SUNSET SEEKS REDEMPTION IN REGRET

‘TDN Rising Star’ Winter Sunset (Tapit) looks to return to winning ways in Saturday’s GIII Regret S. at Churchill Downs. A good-looking debut winner at the Fair Grounds Nov. 29, the gray captured the Shantel Lanerie Memorial S. next out in NOLA Feb. 9. Third to Concrete Rose (Twirling Candy) in Tampa’s GIII Florida Oaks Mar. 9, she completed the trifecta again behind that rival and GI Breeders’ Cup Juvenile Fillies Turf romper Newspaperofrecord (Ire) (Lope de Vega {Ire}) in this venue’s GIII Edgewood S. last time May 3.

Princesa Carolina (Tapit) enters off a win in a 1 3/16-mile allowance at Keeneland Apr. 25. She kicked off this term with a second to recent GIII Wonder Again S. winner Cambier Parc (Medaglia d’Oro) in Gulfstream’s GII Herecomesthebride S. Mar. 2 and was third in Keeneland’s GIII Appalachian S. over a soft course Apr. 7.

Herecomesthebride third-place finisher Belle Laura (Mucho Macho Man) is also entered here. Third in the GII Jessamine S. last term, she was most recently a head-scratching sixth in Gulfstream’s Sanibel Island S.

OMAHA BEACH BACK IN MANDELLA’S BARN

Omaha Beach (War Front), the pre-race GI Kentucky Derby favorite who was an early scratch a few days before the race with an entrapped epiglottis, has returned to trainer Richard Mandella’s barn at Santa Anita. The striking bay had surgery to correct the condition at Rood and Riddle Equine Hospital and spent more than a month recovering at WinStar Farm in Kentucky. “He arrived here Monday night; we scoped him yesterday and he’s near-perfect,” Mandella said Friday morning. “We’re riding him under the shed row for a couple days and will increase his exercise every few days.” Mandella said a timetable for Omaha Beach’s first work was undetermined, as was a target race for the sophomore colt.

MGSW HOGY TO OLD FRIENDS

Multiple graded stakes-winning warrior Hogy (Offlee Wild) has been retired to Old Friends, the equine retirement haven near Georgetown, KY. A winner of 19 of his 55 starts over nine seasons of campaigning, the 10-year-old gelding won or placed in 21 black-type events, including GIII victories in the 2013 Hanshin Cup S., the 2017 Kentucky Downs Turf Sprint S., and the 2018 Canadian Turf S. Hogy, claimed in 2017 for $80,000 by current owner Michael Hui, earned over $1.3 million and was last trained by Mike Maker.
Hogy cont.
"It’s always rewarding to pension one of racing’s great warriors," said Old Friends founder and president Michael Blowen. "Hogy has seen it all and done it all--multiple tracks, multiple surfaces, competing in claimers up to Grade I stakes. Now we hope he will just enjoy being loved and admired by his friends and fans."

GRAYSON-JC FOUNDATION LAUNCHES PROGRAM
The Grayson-Jockey Club Research Foundation recently announced the creation of a Professionals’ Circle Program and Rider Ambassador Program, both of which are sponsored by sport horse enthusiast Jacqueline B. Mars. Through the Professionals’ Circle Program, members can offer monetary contributions as well as their time toward supporting Grayson's work and research. Included among Grayson Ambassadors, Margie Goldenstein Engle, Beezie and John Madden, Mike Smith, Lauren Kieffer, Sophie Doyle, Tom Morley and Maggie Wolfendale.

"We are grateful to Ms. Mars for sponsoring this program, which will allow individuals to spread awareness about Grayson’s work to improve the lives of horses of all breeds and disciplines, including the sport horse community," said Jamie Haydon, president of Grayson-Jockey Club Research Foundation.
"The launch of these programs coincided with the Land Rover Kentucky Three-Day Event and the Kentucky Spring Horse Shows in Lexington, Kentucky, and reflects how Grayson-funded research has a wide-ranging impact on the equine community."

Hall of Fame rider Mike Smith added, "When I think about all that horses have done for me, it seems natural to help give back to them through my support of the Grayson-Jockey Club Research Foundation. This organization has great past performances in identifying and funding research projects designed by experts to help keep horses sound and healthy and to treat them when they do have problems."

SATURDAY INSIGHTS: ADENA HOMEBRED OUT OF GRADE I WINNER DEBUTS AT WOODBINE

6th-WO, $71k, 2yo, f, 5f (AWT), 3:50 p.m. EST

Frank Conversation | Benoit

Adena Springs’ homebred MAGIC FLUTE (Point of Entry), the daughter of Grade I winner Romance is Diane (In Excess {Ire}), tackles a field of maidens this Saturday. Under the tutelage of Canadian Hall-of-Fame trainer Sid Attard, the filly has been breezing steadily towards her debut at Woodbine, including a May 15 three-furlong bullet work in :35 3/5 (1/7) over the Toronto oval’s synthetic surface.

Recent GI Preakness S. and GI Belmont S. winning trainer Mark Casse enters two promising first-time starters in Quality Heat (Quality Road), a full brother to MGSW and $520,965 earner Frank Conversation and Beyond Mybudget (Munnings), a filly who rung up a $200,000 price tag at the OBS March Sale after breezing in :21 1/5.

HIGHER POWER (c, 4, Medaglia d’Oro—Alternate (MSW & MGSP, $550,695), by Seattle Slew), trying turf for the first time after a career-high 96 Beyer Speed Figure last out when fifth in the GI Gold Cup at Santa Anita May 27, went straight to the front with Ritzy A. P. (English Channel) glued to his flank. The two held those spots with Souter (GB) (Poet’s Voice (GB)) joining the fray on the turn. Higher Power burst clear in the stretch with the other two battling for second and coming on again. In the end, it was the 2-1 Higher Power by a half-length with Ritzy A. P. nailing the runner-up spot by a neck. Higher Power previously raced as a homebred for Pin Oak for trainers Michael Stidham and Donnie Von Hemel and was third in the 2018 Northern Spur S. at Oaklawn. He was purchased for $250,000 at the horses of racing age portion of the 2019 Keeneland April sale by Hronis Racing. Higher Power is a half-sibling to Alternation (Distorted Humor), MGWS, $1,064,727; and Interrupted (Broken Vow), MSW & GSP, $251,005. Their dam, who has a yearling colt by Curlin, is a half-sister to Canadian Horse of the Year Peaks and Valleys (Mt. Livermore). Sales History: $250,000 Ylg ‘17 KEESEP; $220,000 RNA 2yo ‘18 EASMAY.

6th-Belmont, $80,000, Msw, 6-14, 3yo/up, 1mT, 1:34.63, fm.

THE LAST ZIP (g, 3, City Zip—Pumpkin Shell (SW, $131,285), by Lion Heart) was fourth in his first career start sprinting over the Fair Grounds turf Feb. 17 and subsequently suffered three runner-up finishes since, including a last out effort at Belmont May 19 in which he earned an encouraging 80 Beyer Speed Figure. Sent off at 5-2 here, the $170,000 KEESEP buy surged to the front and raced along on an uncontested lead through fractions of :23.58 and :48.10. The chestnut kept finding down the lane, holding off the late bid from 4-5 favorite Doswell (Giant’s Causeway) by a half-length. The winner was produced by the stakes-winning mare Pumpkin Shell, the dam of the unraced juvenile Pumpkin Moonshine (Candy Ride (Arg)) and a yearling filly by Gemologist. Sales history: $170,000 Ylg ‘17 KEESEP; $220,000 RNA 2yo ‘18 EASMAY.

TOOK CHARGE (c, 2, Take Charge Indy--Charlie’s Legacy, by Indian Charlie) was given a 6-1 chance while facing only three rivals in this career debut. The Wachtel Stable homebred broke sharply and assumed command of the pace early from the start, leading the field through easy splits of :23.35 and :46.02. With a quarter-mile left to run, the dark bay spurted for home, fending off all challengers in the stretch to finish 1 1/2 lengths in front of heavily favored firster Three Technique (Mr Speaker). The winner hails from the family of champion female sprinter and champion 2-year-old filly Indian Blessing. Charlie’s Legacy was bred to Tourist for the 2019 season.
