NOLA DERBY TRAIL KICKS OFF IN LECOMTE

The Fair Grounds leg of the GI Kentucky Derby trail begins in earnest today as nine sophomores line up for the GIII Lecomte S. Travis Morgenson III's Circle Unbroken (Broken Vow), a divisional leader among the precocious juvenile types in 2012, makes his first start in more than five months and first around two turns. The Gary Simms trainee scored for the second time in as many tries in the June 30 GIII Bashford Manor S. at Churchill Downs before falling a neck short to Maybe So (More Than Ready) in the Aug. 4 Mountaineer Juvenile S. A minor ankle injury kept Circle Unbroken on the bench for the rest of his juvenile year, but he fired a five-furlong bullet from the gate in :59 2/5 here Sunday to signal his readiness.

Circle Unbroken
Reed Palmer

Charles Fipke homebred Golden Soul (Perfect Soul {Ire}) turned heads with a

7 1/4-length second-out score going 8 1/2 furlongs here Dec. 30, and should have no trouble with this extended mile trip. "We know he can handle the distance--he's had two races and in both of them he's gotten a mile," trainer Dallas Steward told The Times-Picayune. "Competition-wise, it's a step up. But I feel like he stepped his game up in his last race." Cont. p3

'MUCHO' BACK FOR MORE

Reeves Thoroughbred Racing's Mucho Macho Man (Macho Uno) will look to kick off another big season today in the same way he did a year ago in Gulfstream's Florida Sunshine Millions Classic. The then-4-year-old finished 1 1/2 lengths to the good of fellow returnee Ron the Greek (Full Mandate) in what proved a key event here last term. In addition to the winner's subsequent accomplishments, the runner-up took the GI Santa Anita H. next out and the GI Stephen Foster H. in June; while third-place finisher Turbo Compressor (Halo's Image) would go on to annex the GI United Nations S. later in the year. Mucho Macho Man grabbed the GII Gulfstream Park H. title after his Sunshine Millions score, and added the GII Suburban H. at Belmont in July. He was narrowly beaten in second in the GI Woodward S. at the Spa in September, and fell a half-length short of Fort Larned (E Dubai) in a rousing start-to-finish duel in the GI Breeders' Cup Classic Nov. 3. "He came out of the Breeders' Cup really, really well," said Mucho Macho Man's trainer Kathy Ritvo. "He's older and stronger now than last year. He will be wearing blinkers to keep him a little more focused. He'll be on his schedule with a race about every two months. He's been training great and loves this race track. As always, we'll let Mike [Smith] ride his race and say 'good luck.'" Sunshine Millions cont. p5

Caulfield digs up more DIRT on Kitten's Joy

"Csaba has now won four consecutive stakes races on dirt and we can surely expect to see future crops by Kitten's Joy coming up with high-class winners on all surfaces. As the advertisement which appeared as page 2 of the January 12 TDN shows, Kitten's Joy has earned the respect of a broad spectrum of breeders, ranging from Claiborne Farm to the Aga Khan. It is going to be fascinating to see what heights his $50,000 crops manage to scale."

Ivan Dalos's Avie's Quality (Elusive Quality) gets the narrow morning-line nod in the Lecomte off the strength of his victory last time in Woodbine's Dec. 1 Display S. A five-length graduate over the same 1 1/16-mile trip Nov. 14, the Josie Carroll trainee earned a field's-best 91 Beyer Speed Figure in his Display score. Carroll has finished second in three of four attempts in graded stakes for 3-year-olds here since 2009 when her Display winner Patena (Seeking the Gold) was runner-up to Friesan Fire (A.P. Indy).

Shadwell homebred Hawaakom (Jazil) came with a wide run to don cap and gown over track and trip in his second attempt Dec. 15, but the Danny Peitz trainee will probably have to improve on the 69 Beyer he earned that day to contend. Mary Grum's Malibu High (Malibu Moon) upped his record to two-for-two with a rail-skimming run under Calvin Borel in a six-furlong sloppy-track allowance here Dec. 28. With Borel sidelined due to a wrist fracture, his brother and Malibu High's trainer Cecil will give Miguel Mena a leg up.

GETTING IN THE 'ZONE' IN PALOS VERDES

While Good Friends Stable's Private Zone (Macho Uno) has come up one slot short in his last three attempts, he figures to take some beating in today's GII Palos Verdes S. in Arcadia. The bay pressed hot splits before succumbing late to Politicallycorrect (Kitten's Joy)'s advances in the seven-panel Damascus S. on the Breeders' Cup Saturday undercard Nov. 3, and survived a crowded pace against older horses in the GIII Vernon Underwood S. at Betfair Hollywood Park Dec. 2. Let go at 15-1 in the GI Malibu S. here Dec. 26, he couldn't hold off Jimmy Creed (Distorted Humor) after setting average splits. Drill (Lawyer Ron) was fourth in the Malibu, and is joined by stablemate Apriority (Grand Slam), who makes his first start for Bob Baffert after previously running for David Fawkes.

Ron the Greek, who was second behind Fort Larned in the GI Whitney Invitational H., was fourth in the Breeders’ Cup Classic. “He seems to be doing well and he’s healthy,” Hall of Fame trainer Bill Mott, who has been hot all meet, offered. “He came back fine. We’re taking on a top horse in Mucho Macho Man. He’s been working very well and it seems like he’s very sharp, so we’ll just have to see what happens.” Larry Fugate’s Cash Rules (Peace Rules) might have the best chance of upsetting the top two. He reeled of four straight stakes wins at Calder—including the Oct. 13 Gill Spend a Buck H.—before finishing third last time here behind next-out Gill Hal’s Hope S. winner Csaba (Kitten’s Joy) in the Dec. 16 Harlan’s Holiday S.

STRONACH BUYS INTO POINT OF ENTRY

Frank Stronach has acquired an interest in multiple Grade I winner Point of Entry (Dynaformer) and will race the 5-year-old in 50% partnership with Phipps

Point of Entry
Adam Coglianese

Stable for the remainder of his racing career. The son of Matlacha Pass (Seeking the Gold) will then enter stud at Stronach's Adena Springs. The deal was put together by trainer Shug McGaughey on behalf of the Phipps family and by bloodstock agent Eugenio Columbo for Mr. Stronach.

"They approached us before the Breeders' Cup and we weren't interested at that time," McGaughey explained. "They came back to us after the race and the deal was finalized around the first of December."

A finalist for champion turf male at tonight's Eclipse Award ceremonies, Point of Entry won five of his seven trips to the post in 2012, highlighted by scores in the GI Man O'War S., GI Sword Dancer S. and GI Turf Classic Invitational in succession. He was favored at 24-10 for the GI Breeders' Cup Turf and came running late to miss by a nose to fellow Eclipse finalist Little Mike (Spanish Steps).

McGaughey said that Point of Entry, who will continue to race in the Phipps silks, remains on track for a start against the likes of Animal Kingdom (Leroidesanimaux {Brz}) and Unbridled Command (Master Command) in the GI Gulfstream Park Turf H. Feb. 9 at Gulfstream Park, with the ultimate goal a return trip to Santa Anita for this year's Breeders' Cup Turf.

INCOMPASS UNVEILS SCHEDULING TOOL

InCompass Solutions, an extension of The Jockey Club, has announced the completion of their analytic Scheduling Tool aimed at maximizing handle for customer racetracks based on post time, race quality and expected field size. The Scheduling Tool was developed by InCompass and The Jockey Club Technology Services with McKinsey & Company. "When the McKinsey team conducted a comprehensive economic study of the Thoroughbred industry for The Jockey Club in 2011, they found that a predictive industry utility used by multiple tracks would benefit tracks, horsemen and fans," said InCompass president Brad Kimbrell. "It has been well documented that our consumers are frustrated by overlapping post times of simulcast races and the use of this scheduling tool should help alleviate that problem." The Scheduling Tool is already in use at 10 tracks, including Churchill Downs, Keeneland, Parx Racing and Santa Anita. "What I like most about the Scheduling Tool is that it enables me to place my races, regardless of class, in the most opportune position on the race card after taking into account the schedule of races at other tracks on a given day," said Sal Sinatra, director of racing at Parx Racing. The Scheduling Tool is free of charge for all Thoroughbred tracks that are InCompass customers. For additional information, contact Chris Dobbins, business development manager of InCompass, at cdobbins@incompass-solutions.com or (859) 296-3013.

DARLEY TO AUCTION STALLION SEASONS ONLINE

Darley America announced yesterday that it will offer three nominations each to Medaglia d'Oro, Hard Spun, and Lonhro for the 2013 breeding season via an online auction platform on the Darley website. Three seasons--one for each stallion--will be offered each week for three consecutive weeks, and will carry Darley's standard live foal terms with no reserves.

"We are extremely excited about this new initiative," said Olly Tait, Chief Operating Officer of Darley. "We have been able to make three additional seasons available to several of our fully subscribed stallions, and offering the seasons online via an auction allows our clients guaranteed access at prices that will be determined by them."

The auctions will also be open to those who already hold 2013 contracts for the three stallions. Should one of these existing contract holders be the successful bidder for a price below the published fee, Tait noted that the client's contract would be revised to reflect that lower fee.

Charlie Boden, the Head of Sales for Darley America, said the idea was born from the desire for innovation in the process of selling nominations.

"We're always looking for something new, and some innovation to help the marketplace," Boden explained. "Because the internet has become a bigger part of everyone's lives, we thought the timing might be good. The idea really is looking for efficiency as opposed to looking for ways to generate revenue." Cont. p9

Boden noted that Medaglia d'Oro, Hard Spun, and Lonhro were chosen to kick start the project because their books are already full, thus eliminating the risk of underselling those who have already purchased seasons at the advertised fee.

"We're using the three stallions that were the most popular in the way of demand at their price," he explained. "So we're going to really just test out the mechanics of the website and the auction process and do it without worrying about how much it might affect the prices. We don't want to harm anyone who has a contract already. I hope the three seasons each week in the auction sell for the farm fee. That would be ideal, and we'd get three more nice mares to each of the horses, and hopefully three happy customers."

Boden said that he also views the auctions as a potential method of price discovery.

"I see it as a way down the road--if it works like we hope--to let the market determine the price, especially for the cheaper stallions," he said. "What I hate is standing a horse for $25,000 that I should have stood for $15,000 and, as a result, I only get 30 mares, when he should have gotten 75 at a lower fee? It might allow us down the road to let the market determine the prices as opposed to guessing at what the market should be."

The auction dates are as follows: Jan. 22 to 25; Jan. 28 to Feb. 1; and Feb. 4 to 8, with each auction beginning at 9 a.m. EST and ending at 5 p.m. Potential bidders should register at RACETRACK ROUND-UPBelieve You Can Works at the Fair Grounds...

GI Kentucky Oaks heroine and 3-year-old filly Eclipse nominee Believe You Can (Proud Citizen) worked at Fair Grounds Thursday in anticipation of the $100,000 Tiffany Lass S. Feb. 2. She breezed five furlongs in a bullet one-minute flat. "She did OK," said trainer Larry Jones. "I was pleased with the work because it was easy for her to do. That's just the way she is. Actually, I had to back off on her for awhile there (the filly hadn't worked previously since Dec. 21) because she was coming around too quickly for this race we have planned for her. Now, we'll probably give her one more blowout and that will be it before the Tiffany Lass."

Tulira Castle Breezes for Holy Bull ...

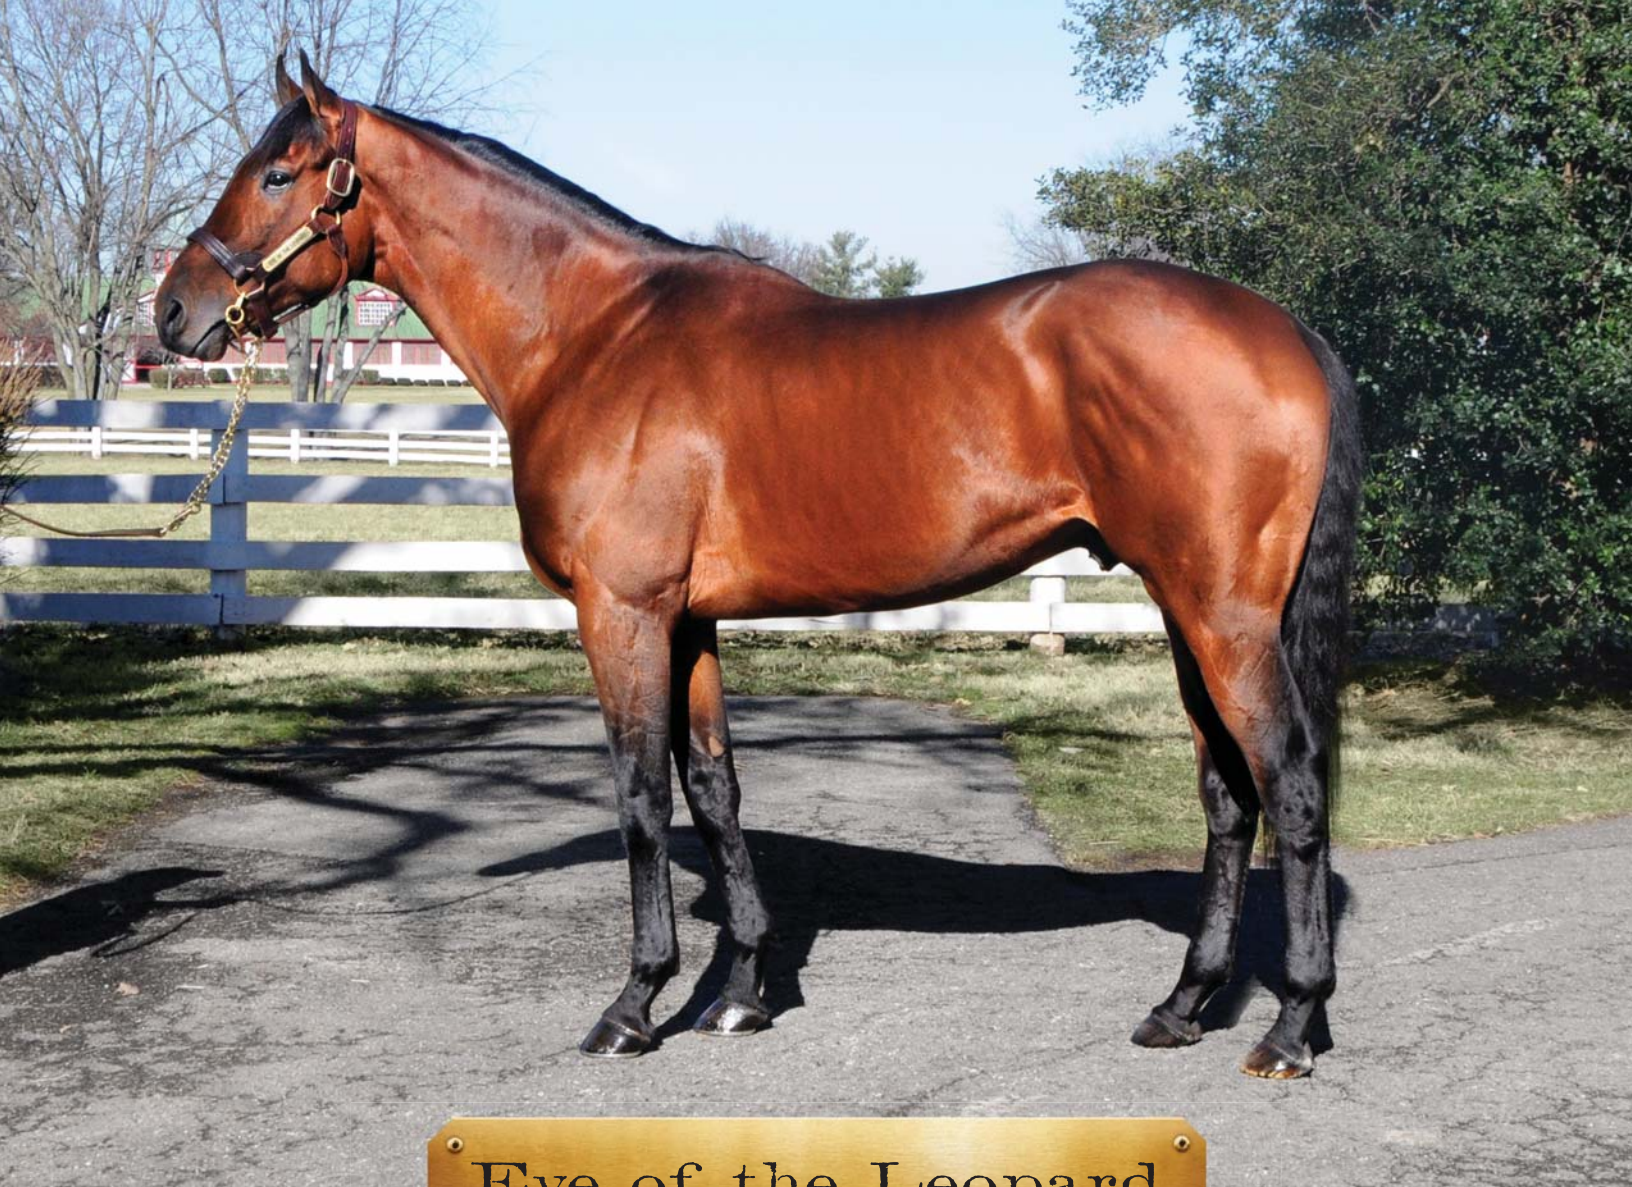

Tulira Castle (War Pass) breezed five panels in 1:02 2/5 yesterday morning at Gulfstream Park in preparation for next Saturday's GIII Holy Bull S. The Curtis Green homebred graduated nicely in his second try at Arlington in August before finishing second in a Keeneland allowance Oct. 13 and winning an allowance at Gulfstream last time out Dec. 8. "Today's work was basically just maintenance," said trainer Jim Divito. "We've completed his training up to the race and now it's time to step up and find out where we stand with some of the leaders in the division. We know he's a very nice horse, but we still have to get the answers to some questions, particularly trying two turns for the first time."

International Campaign for Ocean Park...

Last season's G1 Cox Plate winner Ocean Park (NZ) (Thorn Park {Aus}) is being prepared for an ambitious international campaign that could see him contest Group 1 races in four countries this year, according to trainer Gary Hennessy. The 4-year-old, winner of a quartet of Group 1 races last year, will make his first public appearance since finishing third in the G1 Mackinnon S. in November when he gallops between races two and three at Eilerslie in his native New Zealand Jan. 27. He is expected to make his first start of the year in the G1 Haunui Farm Classic Feb. 23 before shipping overseas to contest the G1 Dubai Duty Free at Meydan Mar. 30.

"We think [the Duty Free] is a good race for him, as he won the G1 Underwood S. in the spring over 1800 meters," Hennessy explained.

From Dubai, Ocean Park is expected to embark on a European campaign, with Royal Ascot in June a probable target.

"We will give the horse a good break after Dubai, and then head to the G1 Queen Anne S. at Royal Ascot," Hennessy said. "The straight mile over the undulating Ascot course requires a horse to be able to run a strong 1600 metres, as it's a testing race, and we think it's the right race for him. We are hoping to keep the horse in England and Ireland over their summer, so races like the G1 Irish Champion S. [at Leopardstown Sept. 7] are on the cards. That race has been won by some of the world's best horses, including Sadler's Wells, High Chaparral, and Sea the Stars. Races like the G1 English Champion S. [at Ascot Oct. 19] towards the end of their season are also an option." Ocean Park, who is owned by a partnership that includes his trainer, was purchased for $150,000 as a yearling at the Karaka Select Sale in 2010. A half-brother to the champion, by Pins (Aus), will be offered at this year's Karaka Premier Sale Jan. 29.

HOW 'BOUT THEM OWNERS?

Rick Dutrow has officially been banned from the game for a decade. Interestingly, like the notorious American miscreant Al Capone, Dutrow was knocked off his perch not by what people suspected he did, but by technicalities. Capone was not sent to prison for murder, but famously for tax evasion. Dutrow has not been suspended for using illegal practices as many suspect him of, but for lesser infractions.

Now that the poster child for corruption in horse racing has left the building, it is time to focus on the owners that send horses to cheaters.

After all, cheaters can only be in business if owners send them horses.

In the world of confidence men and women, there are the wise guys and there are the marks, or squares. The con men and women in the Thoroughbred racing world look at the vast majority of the owners as their personal property, soft targets that are there merely for the taking.

But it is the tiny percent of owners that are the enablers that allow cheaters to steal from the square owners by employing methods to bilk the marks from a fair chance to win purse money and important races.

The con men conspire to tilt the playing field in their direction by using illegal methods and substances to make their own horses more effective in races, thereby gaining a significant advantage.

In the major racing centers, con men have set up shop to run rough shod over their competition for their own gain and that of their enablers.

Basically, there are two types of trainers and there are two types of owners.

One type of trainer wants to take an edge; the other type wants to win by following the rules.

One type of owner wants to win at all costs; the other type wants to win on the up and up, because only by winning in a legitimate fashion can he or she achieve any personal satisfaction.

Con men and enablers can only survive by taking an edge in a game where they are allowed to. Steps were successfully undertaken to remove the high-profile Dutrow from the game for 10 years. Now it is time to deal with the enablers.

Let's look at the mentality of the enablers, those owners that seek out trainers they know or suspect are taking an edge. Many legitimate competitors of enablers know who cheating trainers are because every time there is a power shift among cheaters, these enabling owners move from one cheating trainer to another.

Many of the enablers not only understand that their con men trainers are taking an edge, but some of them most likely further enable them beyond merely giving them horses to train by assisting in helping them acquire the tools of their trade.

Some other owners that send horses to cheating trainers suspect and hope that the trainers are taking an edge, but they never discuss this with the trainer, because they want the benefit of winning with an illegally enhanced horse without the bad vibes or stigma that might go along with pure factual knowledge of the practices employed by the con men. They want the credit for winning without getting their hands soiled.

There are plenty of enabling owners that want the benefits of winning, winning a lot and winning big, and being feted, lauded and admired for having good horses, without any peer, newspaper reporter, television interviewer or race course presenter calling the legitimacy of any of their wins into question.

There are some high-powered, high-profile owners in the game that, both past and present, enable con men to thrive, and some at a very high level of racing.

On the rare occasions that an enabler is questioned about why he or she chose to use a trainer that for all outward appearances seemed to be intent on taking an edge, they invariably answer in the same manner.

"The guy's horses have been tested on a regular basis, his barn has been raided and nobody has found anything." Cont. p12

It reminds me of the remark proffered by one Big Jule, the character in Guys and Dolls who took the ultimate edge in the game of craps, which he occasionally played with dice that had no spots! Big Jule, of course, was the lone player that saw the spots and he called them out during a game of craps. He verified his legitimacy by proudly citing his record of "33 arrests and no convictions!"

One need only invoke the name of Lance Armstrong to refute any protestations of innocence based strictly on drug testing.

Look--those of us that compete at a high level in racing know which trainers want to take an edge. Legitimate trainers know who they are as well, as over the years some have complained to me about losing an owner to a cheating trainer. If the owners and trainers that want to play the game on a level field can identify the cheaters, then it certainly stands to reason that the enablers that employ the cheaters can identify them as well.

Perhaps the best-equipped professionals available to determine which trainers are taking an edge can be found at the Ragozin Sheets and ThoroGraph. Len Friedman of The Sheets and Jerry Brown of ThoroGraph produce data that provides clear evidence in a quantitative fashion as to which trainers are able to outlandishly improve performance on a consistent basis.

"Occasionally, a big figure is produced by a trainer that I classify as an outlier," said Brown. "But when I see a high frequency of unusual move-ups, it is a red flag."

It's time to call out the enablers. It's time for the owners and trainers that play by the rules to call out those that make it possible for cheaters to thrive in racing.

It's also time for members of the media to stop glorifying miscreants that in private they assail but in public they hail.

Let's put some peer pressure on the enablers and the con men and women that day in and day out bring our game into disrepute among horseplayers and the public.

When mentioning this idea to a racing professional recently, this person said the problem is that some of the enablers have a huge investment in the game and some of them have infiltrated the highest echelons of power within the sport. This person said that if all of the enablers disappeared tomorrow, racing would be hard pressed to continue presenting the sport on its current scale.

My answer to this is "rubbish."

I think that there are plenty of would-be owners or owners that have scaled back that would pick up the slack, because I know that owners have left the game because they have given up trying to beat the cheaters. This is not something exclusive to Thoroughbred racing; it has happened in other racing sports, both equine and human.

The long-term answer to all of this is Federal legislation, which carries with it the promise of Federal Bureau of Investigation involvement. If the FBI trained its enhanced surveillance techniques and investigative skills on racing's backstretch, they would break up the illegal drug trade once and for all.

In the meantime, I think it's time for those in racing to put some pressure on the con men and women and the enablers.

It would be nice if we could get some support from racing secretaries and racetrack owners, some of whom favor the numbers of horses they get from con men and women over the bad publicity brought to bear by the presence of cheaters in racing.

And it would be nice if the media stopped propping up the miscreants and rewarding enablers with their attention.

In closing, I would like to address a question that is certain to pop up: Why have I chosen not to name names? The beauty of this exercise is that I don't have to name names. These names are a matter of record and can be accessed at the database of any service that provides the names of owners that have had horses conditioned by a particular trainer.

If readers cannot figure out which trainers to check out, perhaps these readers are not as interested or involved in the sport as they may think.

Dominguez Suffers Eye Injury in Spill:

Ramon Dominguez, a finalist for champion jockey at tonight's Eclipse Awards, was to spend the night at Jamaica Hospital Medical Center under observation after a fall at Aqueduct Friday. The veteran rider sustained a bruised right eye when he was unseated from his mount Convocation (Pulpit), who clipped heels with another runner, during the seventh race, a $30,000 claimer for older horses at a mile. "He has a bruised eye, and they are going to observe him overnight," said his wife Sharon. "He's stable and resting."

IMPOSING GRACE (f, 4, Empire Maker--Chao Praya, by Gold Legend) nearly wired an Arlington Polytrack allowance, going down by a half-length Sept. 28, but atoned for that defeat with a highly rated one-length victory at Churchill's Nov. 3. She found herself unusually far back in a second-level allowance over this course and distance Dec. 27, but nearly bridged a 15-length gap before settling for second. Ground-saving, but well-back again as Young and Lively (Istan) ran off ahead of her, the dark bay was quietly ridden on the final turn, made ominous headway up the fence in the ultimate furlong and edged past the front-runner to take it by 3/4 of a length at 1-2. + BOUSTIERRE (f, 3, Empire Maker--Chaminade, by Danzig), the only first-timer in this field of 10, was going for a barn not adept with their debuters and was part of an entry at 21-1. A bit hesitant as the gates flew, Boustierre was last to make the clubhouse turned and remained in a trailing position for the opening three-quarters of a mile. Still last turning for home, she was guided to the outside by apprentice Alex Canchari and finished with a flourish for a half-length victory. Grit and Grace (Tapit), a daughter of GII Fantasy S. winner High Heels (E Dubai) was second with an inside trip, while favored Sanaaya (Smart Strike), produced by GI Apple Blossom H. heroine Spun Sugar (Awesome Again), was third. Brackpool Leaves California Racing Board:

Keith Brackpool, chairman of the California Racing Board, has announced his resignation from the board effective Thursday. CHRB vice chairman David Israel has assumed chairman duties. The Stronach Group is expected to issue a statement indicating that Backpool is purchasing an equity position in the company.

Trevor Denman Inducted into California Hall of Fame:

California race caller Trevor Denman will be inducted into the California Hall of Fame at the California Thoroughbred Breeders Association's annual meeting and awards dinner Feb. 11. "It's fantastic," said Denman. "The CTBA is such a distinguished organization, and the award is voted upon by all the board members of the CTBA, so that's magnificent. I can say, based on the people who voted, all of whom I respect, it's one of the greatest things that's happened to me." LONG FACE (f, 4, Whywhywhy--Louve Mysterieuse, by Seeking the Gold) crossed the line second to favored Indecise (Pleasant Tap), but was put up to the victory when the chalk came out and caused a rival behind her to clip heels and fall. Winner of a first-level allowance over the Jimmy Durante turf course at Del Mar July 26, the chestnut was sixth of nine in that track's GI Oaks Aug. 18 and was last seen finishing a distant seventh to Potesta (Macho Uno) in the Torrey Pines S. on the Del Mar Poly Sept. 2. Saving ground from mid-field for the opening six panels here, the 8-1 gamble came out in upper stretch and tried Indecise at the eighth pole before finishing three-parts of a length back in second, but was awarded the win by the stewards. Indecise was placed last. The stricken horse, Ricspretentiousgal (Kela), suffered a chest laceration, but was otherwise unharmed. Jockey Kevin Krigger was removed from the track by ambulance. DASHING BLADE PENSIONED

Gestut Etzean has announced the retirement of veteran stallion Dashing Blade (GB) (Elegant Air {GB})--Sharp Castan {GB}, by Sharpen Up {GB} due to his age, 26, and progressive osteoarthritis. Highlights of a racing career in the colors of breeder Jeff Smith include juvenile scores in the G1 National S. at The Curragh and the G1 Dewhurst S. at Newmarket. The bay ended 1989 as Ireland's Champion 2-year-old. He added to his top-level successes as a sophomore the following season, annexing Milan's G1 Gran Premio d'Italia, and also running second in that term's G1 Bayerisches Zuchtrennen at Munich. Dashing Blade's progeny have earned over €10-million, and he has sired three Group 1 winners--Noble Pearl (Ity), Faberger (Ger) and current Etzean incumbent Lord of England (Ger). He has matched that tally as the damsire of Group/Grade 1 winners Stacelita (Fr) (Monsoon {Ger}), Earl of Tinsdal (Ger) (Black Sam Bellamy {Ire}) and Meridiana (Ger) (Lomitas {GB}). Dashing Blade, who covered 20 mares last year, will spend his retirement at Etzean.
