

TIME TO GET CIRRUS

With St Nicholas Abbey (Ire) (Montjeu {Ire}) sadly absent, tomorrow's G1 King George VI & Queen Elizabeth Diamond S. at Ascot has lost much luster, but Cirrus des Aigles (Fr) (Even Top {Ire}) may be able to provide some compensation if he can put in anything approaching his best. Not sharp enough to do himself full justice when fifth on his seasonal return in the June 23 G1 Grand Prix de Saint-Cloud, Jean-Claude-Alain Dupouy's 7-year-old has apparently thrived in the interim, and trainer Corine Barande-Barbe believes the Berkshire faithful will witness the same force that has won and finished second in the last two renewals of the G1 Champion S. here. "Since Saint-Cloud, he has done exactly what I wanted him to do," his trainer said. "He [improved] after the race and after each of his bits of work, and I think he will be very well and as good as ever on Saturday. I gave him plenty of time and my choice was to wait as long as I could with him--even the Grand Prix de Saint-Cloud came a bit early, but he was able to go and run and so he did. He was probably at 60% for that race--he really needed it, because this horse feeds himself on competition." On official ratings, the French raider sits 12 pounds clear of his nearest rival, but has to give that much weight away to Trading Leather (Ire) (Teofilo {Ire}) due to weight-for-age conditions. Sophomores have done well in this race in the past, but in recent times it has become something of an exclusive older-horse affair with only Nathaniel (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) besting his elders in the last nine runnings. In the traditional mold, Jim Bolger bids to roll back the years by saddling a Classic winner in this highlight, and it is too early to say how much ability his homebred G1 Irish Derby winner possesses. Trading Leather's June 29 Curragh Classic triumph followed a fine third in the May 25 G1 Irish 2,000 Guineas and success in the 10-furlong Listed Silver S. there June 9, and he heads into the race with stable confidence high.

JERSEY SHORE JEWEL DRAWS SEVEN

Seven top sophomores were assigned their starting spots for Monmouth's G1 William Hill Haskell Invitational at the post position draw yesterday. Hometown horse and "TDN Rising Star" Verrazano (More Than Ready), whose part-owners Let's Go Stable are locally based, was given the 9-5 morning-line nod when he drew the outside post position. "We didn't want to be down inside," Bryan Sullivan of Let's Go Stable said.

"We would have picked the outside post if we had a choice, so we're happy." Hall of Fame trainer D. Wayne Lukas and jockey Gary Stevens return to the Oceanport Oval with G1 Preakness S. victor Oxbow (Awesome Again). The tandem last teamed up at the Jersey Shore to win the 2005 edition of the summer Classic with Serena's Song (Rahy). The Calumet colorbearer, who was last seen when runner-up in the G1 Belmont S., will break from the five slot. "The post never seems to matter with him," Stevens said. "He's a one-dimensional horse who carries some good speed, and I just try to stay out of his way."

"It's a fantastic and very competitive race and I'm really looking forward to it," jockey Kevin Manning commented. "I've been very happy with how Trading Leather has been going since the Derby, and there was no hiding place at The Curragh. I put the gun to his head from the turn in and went right to the line. His form is rock-solid and I wouldn't swap him."

Conditioner Bob Baffert looks for his fourth consecutive--and seventh overall--Haskell victory with GI Fronrunner winner Power Broker (Pulpit). Bafferts previous Haskell wins were scored by Point Given in 2001, War Emblem (2002), Roman Ruler (2005), Lookin at Lucky (2010), Coil (2011) and Paynter (2012). The race's most winningest trainer was unsure whether to enter the Gary and Mary West colorbearer, but after impressing his trainer with a five-panel work in 1:00.80 at Del Mar Tuesday, Baffert made the decision to ship East. "The Haskell is a very tough race," said Baffert. "But I think he deserves a chance. We don't know how good he is, but this will be a good gauge." The speedy Power Broker was assigned the four gate. "The horse is in the air right now, so there's no turning back," Baffert quipped after hearing the results of the draw.

"I was thinking about some other spots for him, but he worked so well the other day, that I changed my mind and sent him East." "The break is very important," Baffert continued. "If he can break well and get a comfy spot, he'll be up there with those speed horses."

Coming into this on the back of successes in a six-furlong maiden at Fairyhouse June 12 and well-contested conditions race over this track and trip July 4, Exogenesis tracked the leader Home School in second early. Gradually wearing down that rival inside the final furlong, the bay got to the front with 75 yards remaining and stayed on best, with favored

Sir John Hawkins proving a disappointment in third. "Gary said the better the race, the better he is, and mentally he is growing up every time," winning trainer Ger Lyons said. "When he hit the front the last day he looked around and visually, he looked as if he had improved since then. I don't think I'll ever take him back shorter than seven, as he'll get further and I'd have no problems stepping up to a mile. I'll look forward to something like the G3 Jersey S. at Royal Ascot next year."

On an important evening for Kirsten Rausing, with her stud sponsoring the big race at Ovrevoll, Scintillula was able to build on some smart efforts to register an overdue first pattern-race success here. Still a maiden at the end of her juvenile campaign, which featured a second to Sky Lantern (Ire) (Red Clubs {Ire}) on only her second start in the G1 Moyglare Stud S. at The Curragh in August, the bay had got off the mark over a mile here June 20 before finishing runner-up in the Listed Celebration S. over the same track and trip just nine days later. Not helped by the steady pace in Saturday's G1 Irish Oaks back at the Kildare venue, she was the race's real eye-catcher with a late flourish to finish a length back in fourth and, despite this quick return, hails from one of the masters at successfully backing up his stable's runners. Sent into the lead after going stride-for-stride with Mars, she was able to dig deeper than that ultimately disappointing rival heading to the furlong pole and stretched away as he folded under the pressure. "She's very tough and is an improving filly," jockey Kevin Manning commented. "She had a very good run in the Oaks and was doing her best work at the finish, so I made it a good test and she stuck her head out all the way to the line. She's big and tough and the trip wasn't a worry; it was just the rain that came that could have been an inconvenience to her."

August Yearling Sale, August 17-19

Classics Big Bang ARQANA

STYLE VENDÔME

C.10 Anabaa x Place Vendôme

Bred by Guy Pariente (Haras de Colleville) who sold him to Nicolas Clément for €92,000 at the 2011 August Yearling Sale, this Classic winning colt comes from the last crop of the influential Anabaa and is out of a Listed placed daughter of Dr Fong. With a race record now boasting five wins, this magnificent grey colt was already making headlines at the age of two, ending the year with a highly promising Listed win at Deauville. This year, he has blown away the racing industry, first of all when romping home in the Prix Djebel (Gr.3) then when winning the Poule d'Essai des Poulains (Gr.1) with a majestic performance against seventeen rivals including Intello and Olympic Glory.

MORANDI

C.10 – Holy Roman Emperor x Vezina

In August 2011 Jean-Claude Rouget paid €65,000 in order to get his hands on this powerful colt sold by the Haras des Capucines. Aged two and in the colours of Daniel-Yves Trèves, the grey colt had an exceptional season, the highlights of which were a 12 length victory in the Prix de Condé (Gr.3) and a 7 length victory in the Critérium de Saint-Cloud (Gr.1) making him the best two year old in France in order of prizemoney. This year, he showed he had lost none of his ability when finishing an excellent second to the untouchable Intello in the Prix du Jockey Club (Gr.1).

TORONADO

C.10 – High Chaparral x Wana Doo

In August 2011, this son of High Chaparral bred by Paul Nataf and consigned by the Haras d'Omméel, appealed to Amanda Skiffington who went to €55,000 for him. Even as a two year old, he was already impressing onlookers with his class and good looks, winning three times including the Champagne Stakes (Gr.2) at Doncaster. He was faultless on his seasonal reappearance at Newmarket in the colours of Sheikh Joaan Al Thani, where he was in a different league to the other runners in the Craven Stakes (Gr.3) before finishing fourth in the 2000 Guineas (Gr.1). In the St James's Palace St. (Gr.1) at Royal Ascot, he ran a cracking race to finish 2nd, only beaten a nose by the extraordinary Dawn Approach.

OCOVANGO

C.10 – Monsun x Crystal Maze

This son of Monsun bought by BBA Ireland for €180,000 from Watership Down in August 2011 caught the eye from his very first start as a two-year-old at Saint-Cloud. The André Fabre-trained colt continued in the same vein on the very same course winning the Prix François Mathet (L) on his reappearance followed by the Prix Greffulhe (Gr.2). Deemed good enough to take on the best of the English in the Epsom Derby (Gr.1), Prince Faisal's colt finished fifth, less than a length away from the third placed horse, having been unlucky in the straight. On July 13th at Longchamp, he finished third in the Grand Prix de Paris (Gr.1) to the excellent Flintshire.

CHICQUITA

F.10 - Montjeu x Prudenzia

Chicquita, a daughter of the Listed winner Prudenzia bred by Ecurie des Monceaux and Skymarc Farm, was the object of everyone's attention in August 2011, none more so than the Australian Paul Makin who, represented by Badgers Bloodstock, went to €600,000 to secure the filly. In the Prix de Diane (Gr.1), this talented filly trained by Alain de Royer Dupré put in an exceptional performance, coming from last place to snatch second place from dual Group 1 winner Silasol. Last July 20th at The Curragh, she was crowned with a Classic success when storming home in the Gr.1 Darley Irish Oaks.

FLOTILLA

F.10 – Mizzen Mast x Louvain

A daughter of Mizzen Mast and the Miesque Stakes (Gr.3) winner Louvain, this filly bred by the Haras des Capucines was bought by the Justin Bahen - Hubie de Burgh tandem for €120,000 in August 2011. At the end of her two year old year, the young filly belonging to Sheikh Mohammed Bin Khalifa Al Thani and in the care of Mikel Delzangles had her crowning moment on American soil when winning the Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies Turf (Gr.1) in fantastic style. This year she was a most eye-catching winner of the Poule d'Essai des Poulaches (Gr.1) on her seasonal debut against the unbeaten Esotérique, breaking the track record in the process.

ST NIC "COMFORTABLE" AFTER SURGERY

Coolmore Stud has released an update on the progress of St Nicholas Abbey (Ire) (Montjeu {Ire}), who underwent surgery after fracturing a pastern during routine exercise Tuesday. "After a lengthy surgery to fuse the pastern, St Nicholas Abbey is recuperating in intensive care at John Halley's Fethard Equine Hospital," the release read. "Surgery was carried out at Fethard Equine Hospital in consultation with Dr. Dean Richardson, Head of Surgery at New Bolton Center Pennsylvania, along with Ger Kelly and Tom O'Brien. St Nicholas Abbey will remain in intensive care for some time and has many bridges to cross before he is considered out of danger. This morning he is well and comfortable and back enjoying his hay! We are lucky he is so fit and has a marvellous attitude and temperament, which will be vital for his long recovery."

BHA CONCLUDE GODOLPHIN INVESTIGATION, APPLEBY LICENCE APPROVED

Edited Press Release

The British Horseracing Authority yesterday announced the conclusion of the investigation and completion of the report into the 22 horses stabled at Godolphin's Moulton Paddocks yard in Newmarket which are known to have been administered anabolic steroids. These horses were all under the care of the then-licensed trainer Mahmood Al Zarooni until his Apr. 25 disqualification. Following a review of the findings of the report, the BHA has decided not to issue any further disciplinary charges. There was no evidence of any other parties being involved with the administration of prohibited substances beyond those identified at the Apr. 25 disciplinary panel hearing. In addition, no evidence was found to challenge or dispute the findings of the disciplinary panel with regard to the events which took place within the [Moulton Paddocks] yard. The findings and reasons of that disciplinary panel can be found here. The investigation did not find any evidence to suggest the decision to use anabolic steroids involved those that can be considered as Al Zarooni's superiors or any of the other senior figures at the yard, including the assistant trainer, Charlie Appleby, and head lad, Oliver Costello. However, the investigation did highlight a number of key failings both in terms of process and within the management structure at Moulton Paddocks. This created an environment in which these offences were able to be perpetrated by Al Zarooni without being detected by others within the yard. The investigation found that Al Zarooni was able to act in a manner which marginalized several of his senior staff, which subsequently resulted in these events being able to unfold entirely without their knowledge or oversight. The key findings of this report have been submitted to Godolphin management as a guide to implementing immediate structural and procedural changes, which the BHA considers necessary. The full copy of this report can be found here.

Following two interviews with the BHA and the conclusion of the wider investigation, the BHA is satisfied that there is no evidence that Appleby was involved in, or aware of, the administration of prohibited substances to horses at Moulton Paddocks. The BHA also noted Appleby's recent measures to instigate changes to procedures and processes within the yard alongside Saeed bin Suroor, in whose yard none of the failings associated with Moulton Paddocks were found, and for who Appleby had worked for long periods as a Godolphin employee. Consequently, the Licensing Committee has approved Appleby's application for a licence to train from Moulton Paddocks, with immediate effect. The BHA has an existing and robust stable yard inspection and equine anti-doping and medication control programme. It was this programme that uncovered these serious breaches of the Rules of Racing.

However, the yard will be subject to enhanced monitoring for a period of time until the BHA is satisfied that a reduced level of scrutiny would be appropriate. This will include the BHA making both announced and unannounced visits to Moulton Paddocks to carry out further testing and monitor progress of the implementation of changes within the yard as a result of this report.

"After an extensive and thorough investigation we have found no new evidence which contradicts that which was presented to the Disciplinary Panel," commented the BHA's Adam Brickell. "The evidence gathered from this investigation has confirmed that Mahmood Al Zarooni acted autonomously and was the person solely responsible for the events that took place at Moulton Paddocks. However, we have identified significant failings in the processes in place and management structure at the yard, which allowed these events to unfold without senior management becoming aware. These findings have been shared with Godolphin. We are satisfied that Charlie Appleby had no awareness of the actions of Al Zarooni. This was made clear to the Licensing Committee, which has confirmed that Appleby is suitable to hold a trainer's licence. We are aware that Appleby has already begun the process of implementing changes to the management structure and procedures at the yard, and we will encourage him, as the licensed trainer, to continue to implement such changes, including addressing all of the points set out in our report. Conversely, Al Zarooni's refusal to cooperate further with the investigation will be drawn to the attention of the Licensing Committee should he ever seek to return to British Racing following his eight-year disqualification." cont. p9

BHA Chief Executive Paul Bittar added, “The investigation process has been a complex and challenging one. However, I am satisfied that the conclusions reached are an accurate reflection of events. Fortunately, cases such as this--both in terms of scale and profile--are incredibly rare; however, there are areas where we can learn from the issues raised. One such area is in respect of the work now being carried out with the IFHA to improve levels of harmonization between racing jurisdictions on the use of anabolic steroids, where encouraging progress is being made. This case may well prove to be a catalyst for significant policy change in some countries. While we believe the sport’s independent regulation has stood up throughout this process, the BHA is committed to continue to fight against those who attempt to cheat the sport. As such, this case has also led to a review into our anti-doping programme to ascertain whether the appropriate level of resource is being deployed, and whether it is being deployed in the most effective way. The BHA’s anti-doping budget has, due to the broader economics of the sport, undergone a significant reduction in recent years, and this case highlights the need to ensure we remain at the forefront of world racing in terms of our programme and resources.”

KEENELAND RELEASES FALL SCHEDULE

The 2013 Keeneland Fall racing meet has scheduled 17 stakes racing, including six Grade I contests, worth $4.624 million. Stakes races featuring increased purse money include the GIII Stoll Keenon Ogden Phoenix S. ($200,000), the GI First Lady S. ($400,000) and the Hagyard Fayette ($200,000). The fall meeting, which will run from Oct. 4-16, is highlighted by seven Breeders’ Cup Challenge races: the GI Darley Alcibiades; GIII Ogden Phoenix; GI Shadwell Turf Mile; GI Dixiana Breeders’ Futurity; GII Thoroughbred Club of America; GI Juddmonte Spinster; and GIII Bourbon S. “The fall meet is so special for our fans because they get to see horses who are campaigning for year-end honors--athletes that are truly at the top of their game,” said W.B. Rogers Beasley, Keeneland’s Vice President of Racing. “Both our stakes and overnight racing programs continue to thrive, and that is made possible by the great partnership with have with our horsemen and our fans.”

RACETRACK ROUND-UP

MANNING RELISHING SUSSEX CLASH

Jockey Kevin Manning is looking ahead to Wednesday’s G1 QIPCO Sussex S. at Glorious Goodwood, in which Dawn Approach (Ire) (New Approach {Ire}) will bid to extend his unbeaten record over a mile. Heading the 13 left in the meeting’s feature race at the six-day stage, Godolphin’s four-time Group 1 winner will renew G1 2000 Guineas and G1 St James’s Palace S. rivalry with Sheikh Joaan bin Hamad Al Thani’s Toronado (Ire) (High Chaparral {Ire}), as well as taking on the older brigade headed by Susan Magnier, Michael Tabor, Derrick Smith and Joseph Allen’s G1 Queen Anne S. winner and G1 Eclipse S. runner-up Declaration of War (War Front) and Sheikh Hamdan bin Rashid Al Maktoum’s G2 Summer Mile winner Aljamaaheer (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}), although the latter could run in the previous day’s G2 Lennox S. at the same meeting. “I’m looking forward to it and I don’t see Goodwood being a problem--he’s very adaptable,” Manning said. “There is always a great buzz when you are riding good horses in those races, and although when you step into Group 1 level everything is a danger, I think he and Toronado are the two, so we’ll see what unfolds.”

McPeek Has High Hopes for Saratoga...

Trainer Ken McPeek has his sights set on Saratoga's two biggest Grade I races for 3-year-olds, the GI Alabama S. for fillies Aug. 17 and the GI Travers S. Aug. 24.

He is considering GII Virginia Derby hero War Dancer (War Front), who made six of his seven starts on the turf, for the Travers. The colt's sole dirt start was in a Gulfstream Park maiden Feb. 9, where he was fourth to graded stakes placed Saint Vigeur (Smart Strike).

"We know he wants a mile and a quarter," McPeek said. "It's obviously his distance, but can he handle the surface switch? I think he can. War Front himself never ran once on the turf. We've got to defend our title with somebody."

McPeek won last year's Travers with Golden Ticket (Speightstown) in a dead heat with Alpha (Bernardini).

"The other thing we're looking at is, we do think the 3-year-old season is wide open, and the stud value it would add to him would be dramatic. He would be one of the top 3-year-olds if we could sneak our way into a Grade I dirt race."

Another possibility for War Dancer would have been the GI Secretariat S. on the grass at Arlington Park, but McPeek has decided to point GI Blue Grass S. winner Java's War (War Pass) at that race instead.

"Why butt heads against ourselves?" McPeek asked. "We could easily get beat over there and wish we had run here. [War Dancer] never worked on the turf once. He's worked on the dirt every time. He works with all our best horses on the dirt. It just so happens he ended up on the grass in a series of races."

For the Alabama, McPeek is considering Montana Native (Yes It's True), who was a decisive winner in the Broom Dance S. at Saratoga Wednesday. According to McPeek, the filly has been improving with back-to-back wins since being freshened after a sixth-place finish in a Keeneland allowance Apr. 17.

"She's a good filly, McPeek said. "From the beginning, she's done everything right. We've gotten into a little momentum with her lately. She got a bit of a break for a period before her last start, and her last two have been bang-up. If we can string together a third one, I'm leaning pretty heavily toward running her in the Alabama. I would think even if you run third in a race like that, it's pretty valuable in the long term."

McPeek is not worried about the 1 1/4-mile distance for Montana Native, despite her sprint breeding.

"I got a Speightstown to go a mile and a quarter last year, and I got a Wild Again to go a mile and a half in 2002," McPeek said of Golden Ticket and Sarava (Wild Again), the latter upsetting the 2002 GI Belmont S. at odds of 70-1.

Golden Ticket is being aimed at the GI Woodward S. Aug. 31 and 2-year-old filly Charmed Hour (Harlan's Holiday) is being pointed at the GII Adirondack S. Aug. 11.

Moment in Dixie Possible for Ballerina...

Trainer Jimmy Toner is considering sending Moment in Dixie (Dixieland Band) to the seven-furlong GI Ballerina S. at Saratoga Aug. 23 after a sharp optional claimer score at the spa Wednesday.

"That's a big jump, but I would love to get some black-type on her," Toner said. "She came back very good. It set up good for her. She had a nice prep down there [on June 14 at Belmont] and ran good yesterday, so we were very happy with her."

Moment in Dixie, daughter of the multiple graded stakes winning mare Ellie's Moment (Kris S.), has won three of eight starts and was runner-up in last summer's Serena's Song S. at Monmouth and Summer Guest S. at the Spa.

Seal Cove Looking at Bernard Baruch...

Hall of Fame trainer Shug McGaughey announced yesterday that the GII Bernard Baruch H. could be the next start for Seal Cove (Strong Hope), who defeated eight stakes winners in a Saratoga optional claimer Wednesday.

"I want to keep him in places where he can be competitive and earn some money," said McGaughey. "One spot that could come up is the Bernard Baruch, but I'll just have to wait and see how that turns up."

Seal Cove raced near the back of the pack in the early stages of Wednesday's race before sweeping out four wide on the turn to hit the wire a head in front of GI Woodbine Mile S. winner Turallure (Wando).

"I thought he ran great," said McGaughey. "He had been training really well. It came up a solid race. One mile isn't his gig; he wants to go farther than that. Javier [Castellano] rode him great. He took him back behind a closer pace than we expected, but he closed well. Javier made the right decision when he brought him off the rail; he prefers being outside of horses. Then [Turallure] came outside of him, but he was able to hold him off."

Starship Truffles Back with Wolfson...

Starship Truffles (Ghostzapper) has returned to the barn of trainer Mary Wolfson. The filly sold for $1 million at the Fasig-Tipton Summer Selected Horses of Racing Age Sale to Castleton Lyons, a week after winning the July 6 Princess Rooney S.

"We've done it with numerous mares, but that was probably the biggest ratio," Wolfson said. "We claimed one for $75,000 and sold for $800,000 within six months--Ask the Moon, who won two Grade Is. Jessica Is Back we claimed for $50,000 and she won $800,000, and we sold her for $500,000. Golden Mystery we bought for $100,000 and she earned $500,000, and she sold for $625,000. It's what we do."

Starship Truffles' next stop is the GI Ballerina S. at Saratoga Aug. 23.

ABBOTT HAS THE PEDIGREE TO SUCCEED

by Alan Carasso

Francis Abbott III is all of 30 years old and has been training horses on his own for less than three years, but given his family tree, he could be destined for great success in the Thoroughbred business. His grandmother, Brushwood Stable's Betty Moran, raced Creme Fraiche, who gave Woody Stephens the fourth of five consecutive wins in the GI Belmont S. in 1985, and has bred the likes of Russian Rhythm and Hard Spun, to name but a few. His father is noted bloodstock agent Francis Abbott Jr., while uncle Rick Abbott operates the successful Charlton Bloodstock agency. Abbott maintains a string of 12 horses at Fair Hill in Maryland--a "comfortable" number--including Nellie Cashman (Mineshaft), upset winner of the GIII Virginia Oaks July 13.

Abbott's earliest recollection of horses has nothing to do with the flat.

"My father worked for the National Steeplechasing Association and ran the Radnor Hunt [a series of steeplechase races] for about 25 years," the junior Abbott explained. "The races always took place on Preakness weekend, so we would always go back to my grandmother's place and there was always Creme Fraiche's saddle towel, so there was always a connection there."

Abbott began walking hots and grooming horses for his uncle, trainer Michael Moran, once out of high school, but left the United States to pursue a degree in marketing in London. While there, his passion for racing intensified and he became fully immersed in the business.

"I worked for Charlie Gordon-Watson while over there, spent some time at Watership Down and met a lot of great people and went racing all the time," said Abbott, who retains a distinct British accent as a result of his sojourn in the United Kingdom.

Following a four-year stint in England and once finished with his university education, he relocated to Ireland and was lucky enough to latch on to an assistant's position with trainer Aidan O'Brien at Ballydoyle.

"The experience with Aidan was great and I was fortunate to work with such great horses, including U S Ranger, Haradasun (Aus) and Yeats (Ire)," he recollected. In 2007, Abbott accompanied the Ballydoyle contingent to Monmouth Park for the Breeders' Cup meeting, which witnessed the untimely demise of George Washington and a flat performance from reigning G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe winner Dylan Thomas, who didn't handle the boggy going and finished well down the field in the GI Breeders' Cup Turf.

"Not the happiest day of my life," he stated.

Following his time under the tutelage of O'Brien, Abbott went to work for trainer Sir Michael Stoute, whom he credits with imparting the most practical knowledge.

"That was a great experience with Sir Michael," he admits. "He gave me more responsibility and I got some experience with problem horses and helping load them in the stalls and things like that. I got to go to big race meets and Royal Ascot, and the like. Even though I was there [with Sir Michael Stoute] the shortest amount of time, that definitely was the time that I appreciated the most. He was very good to me. I enjoyed spending time with him and learning from him and I'd say I am probably as patient as I am with horses because of my experience with him."

Abbott acknowledges that this approach may not be the most popular on these shores, but he is committed to it all the same.

"Sir Michael is known for his horses to continue to improve as they get older," he explained. "I don't know--I realize it's probably not at the top of most Americans' list when they look for trainers to have their 2-year-olds not start until September and that they're going to get better as they get older. A lot of owners don't really look for that, but I enjoyed my time with Sir Michael and his whole outlook on training."

After a short tenure with the Todd Pletcher stable, Abbott took out his trainer's license in October 2010.

"I wasn't there long enough to learn as much as I could have, but I knew that I wanted to go and I wanted to give it a shot and I was hell-bent on it at that point," he said.

And it wasn't long before Abbott tasted success. The very first horse he saddled in November 2010, the Brushwood-owned Pink Palace (Empire Maker), broke her maiden in a one-mile maiden special at Laurel. She was previously trained by Stoute to a pair of placings in England.

Abbott, who according to BRIS statistics has saddled 15 winners during his career, has also been represented in his brief career by MGSP Shimmering Moment (Afleet Alex) and Brushwood's MSP Mr. Irons (Mr. Greeley), but it is the somewhat unlikely success of Nellie Cashman that has put him on the map.

"From day one, she was nothing but class," he offered. "The guys who broke her down in Camden, they loved her. Ever since she came in, she's always gone the right way." cont. p12

A $57,000 Keeneland November weanling, Nellie Cashman was part of the Summerfield consignment at Keeneland November in 2011.

The winning trainer and jockey Forest Boyce

“My dad pretty much calls the shots on sales horses,” Abbott stated. “I went down for Keeneland September--when everyone in the industry is there, it’s something that you don’t want to miss. We looked at a few horses and he called me up and said, ‘You have to come see this filly.’ He really liked her, and I was kind of dragging my feet a bit, though not for any particular reason. But when she RNAd for $70,000, his mind was made up. He said, ‘I bought her.’”

A promising and running-on second in her career debut last Nov. 7, connections gave the Pennsylvania-bred a crack at the restricted Blue Mountain S. two weeks later, but she was forced to hurdle a fallen horse at the half-mile pole and dropped back. Put away for the season following a troubled fourth--placed third--at Laurel Dec. 6, she split a field of Gulfstream maidens in her March return in Hallandale, but bounced back with a runner-up effort at Pimlico the following month. From there, Abbott decided to call an audible.

“[Jockey] Forest [Boyce] thought she needed the turf and Mario Pino worked her for me a couple of times down in Florida, and he came to me and said, ‘Have you ever turfed this filly?’” Abbott commented. “I said, ‘No,’ and he suggested I do that. I was kind of stuck on Mineshaft and his dam. There was no propensity to turf on either her sire side or her dam side, but I think she’d run over hot coals, really. On Black-Eyed Susan day [May 17 at Pimlico], there was a nice maiden with a nice pot and we gave her a shot there. We got Rosie [Napravnik] because it was one of the jockey’s challenge races and we ran second.” Ahead of her that day was the well-meant More Than Sweet (More Than Ready), who won a first-level Delaware allowance July 18, and two other fillies would win their next starts as well. Nellie Cashman followed suit, besting PA-breds by better than five lengths at Penn National June 21. With her maiden out of the way, Abbott III was faced with the decision of where to go next.

“I felt that to win an a-other-than locally against older horses that she’d have to run to a significantly higher level,” he reasoned. “I entered her in the Virginia Oaks somewhat as a precaution and to have a look. She breezed great the week before and she came out of the win with a lot of confidence. I said, ‘Let’s take a shot.’ I thought Team Valor’s filly [Three Hearts, by Hat Trick] and Ken McPeck’s filly [Praia, by Distorted Humor] would be tough to beat, but that maybe she could hold on for third. Sometimes you just have to take a shot.”

And sometimes it pays off. Nellie Cashman fought on bravely for a half-length victory (video).

The filly is owned by Sycamore Racing, and is one of two fillies bought during the first year of a syndicate of friends and family established by Abbott’s father. The partnership also currently has a pair of 2-year-olds in training with Abbott and recently acquired a filly by Hard Spun--Acrosstheborder (Include) for $97,000 at Fasig-Tipton July, the sire of whom, as mentioned above, was bred by Abbott’s grandmother. He credits Mrs. Moran with passing along some invaluable traits from a professional perspective.

“She’s a very strong-headed woman, and perseverance would kind of be her motto,” he said. “There was always kind of a hard-headedness that came from her and that if you work hard enough at it, things will fall right eventually. You watch the horses that she’s bred over the years and all the matings they’ve done and to see it come to fruition is really neat.”

And what might be next for Nellie?

“I’ve been looking around. There’s a PA-bred race at Presque Isle in the middle of August that I’d have to believe she’d look pretty tough in, or maybe I’ll freshen her and look at the middle of September at something like the [GIII] Pucker Up S. at Arlington,” Abbott stated. “I think I’d like to avoid some of those other 3-year-old fillies, like the first three home in the Lake George [Wednesday]. There are some good 3-year-old fillies around, so I think I’d like to duck and dive those and look forward to next year and the year after. She’s a big filly, 16.3, and she has the frame to fill into. The owners want to race her and so do I.”

Darby Dan Celebrate Four Living Winner of the Diana:

Darby Dan Farm is home to four winners of Saratoga's GI Diana S., which is being held Saturday. All four mares are Darby Dan homebreds that were raced by the farm as well and are now members of their broodmare band.

The 2012 Diana winner Winter Memories (El Prado {Ire}) is the newest addition and joins her dam 1998 Diana victress Memories of Silver (Silver Hawk), as well as, the 2004 heroine Wonder Again (Silver Hawk) and 1992 winner Plenty of Grace (Roberto). Winter Memories retired after her victory in the Diana and is currently in foal with a colt by Street Cry (Ire).

"The Diana is one of the most storied, marquee turf events for fillies and mares on the racing calendar in my opinion, and it's obviously a special race to Darby Dan with four of its winners currently residing on the farm in the broodmare band," said John Phillips, owner of Darby Dan Farm. "Our hope is that we can continue to develop those female lines to have more future success in the Diana and America's other top races for fillies and mares. It's now time for broodmares like Winter Memories to try and write more chapters in Darby Dan's story."

*$27,000 RNA 2yo '12 OBSAPR. Campaigned by the same owners as the recently retired Singapore Derby winner Better Life (Aus) (Smarty Jones), Thumping belied her inexperience to break her maiden in her second career appearance. The attractive bay filly was dismissed at odds of 58-1 for her June 28 debut over 1200 meters of this turf course and sat a midfield trip before clinging on for third. She was sent off at just shy of 7-2 this time around and showed she is still an unfinished product, but proved an easy winner. Trapped out wide as seven rivals stretched across the track early on, Thumping went forward to argue the pace outside a rival on the turn. She edged to the front for good in upper stretch and wandered about late, but found the line 3 3/4 lengths best. "She's still very green, but she's certainly got some ability," said winning trainer Hideyuki Takaoka. "I discussed with [jockey] Alan [Munro] before the race and we decided we would sit behind the favorite, but if nobody led, she could also go forward. As she's by Any Given Saturday, I think she can go for more distance in the future." VIDEO.

Siyenica was pitched in at the deep end and earned ★ "TDN Rising Star" ★ status in a one-mile Longchamp conditions test on debut Apr. 22, but slipped to seventh when asked for more going 10 furlongs back there in the May 26 G1 Prix Saint-Alary next time. She finished 11th in a hot renewal of the G1 Coronation S. at Royal Ascot in her only other go June 21, but bounced back to form with a dominant score dropped to an easier grade here.

Restrained last of the nine runners until turning for home, she weaved a passage through traffic to challenge on the bridle entering the final eighth, and drew off late to easily earn a first black-type rosette.

Kenzadargent had finished runner-up in each of her last five starts, including a second to Marie d'O in a 7 1/2-furlong conditions heat at Marseille-Vivaux last time July 12, but gained revenge on that rival to register a first win of any kind in this black-type bow. Steadied in rear initially, she was shaken up soon after passing the quarter-mile marker and was ridden out inside the final eighth to assert superiority nearing the line.

StableLab Launches Handheld Blood Test:

Edited Press Release

StableLab, a Sligo-based start-up, has announced the launch of a handheld blood analyzer for horses, which can produce a result within minutes showing whether the horse has an infection. Over the last five years StableLab has developed and patented the technology that allows trainers and vets to monitor and test the level of infection in a horse's blood without the need for a laboratory. StableLab has been piloted with a number of leading trainers in Ireland and the UK in recent months. "We are excited about the potential for StableLab to transform how we manage and understand horse healthcare," said Heinrich Anhold, founder and Chief Executive Officer of StableLab. "Having grown up with horses and having ridden professionally, I appreciate the importance of being able to make a judgement call on whether your horse is good enough to compete, and the value of pertinent information. StableLab can give you that certainty, and the results are very clear and can be easily interpreted by all. Following a pilot period, we have recently commenced production of the product on a larger scale. We are targeting customers in Ireland, the UK, France, the US and recently accepted orders from Australia. We believe we have a model that can easily be scaled up and have plans to introduce further additions to the handheld unit over the coming months." For more information, visit www.stablelab.com.
