FASIG FLORIDA SALE TODAY

by Justina Severni and Jessica Martini

The juvenile sales season makes its third stop of the year today in Williston with the Fasig-Tipton Florida Sale of 2-Year-Olds in Training Sale. After a two-year sojourn at Palm Meadows Training Center, the auction will be held for the first time at Frank Stronach's Adena Springs South.

"We're optimistic," said Fasig-Tipton President Boyd Browning, Jr. "You always worry. If you don't have pre-game jitters before a horse sale, you shouldn't be in the horse sale business. But we're enthusiastic. We couldn't have asked to have the table set any better than it is right now."

The Florida sale comes in the wake of a strong renewal of the Barretts March sale and a record-breaking OBS March sale. Barretts registered a 23.5% increase in average, while the median was up 12.5% and the sale produced its first million-dollar horse in seven years. The OBS sale produced three seven-figure juveniles, while the average was up 22.7% to a record $190,997 and the median rose 10% to another record, $137,500.

During last year's Florida sale, 136 juveniles were catalogued, while 78 horses were offered and 46 sold for $17,725,000. The average of $385,326 was up 20.3% from 2012, while the median was up 31.9% to $300,000.

This year's catalogue is slightly larger than the 2013 version. From a catalogue of 157 head, 40 had been withdrawn by Sunday afternoon.

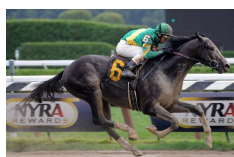

"We've gotten a little feedback from some of our customers," explained Browning. "They hoped to have a little bit more variety and a few more choices, so we are happy to have 20 additional offerings--about a 15% larger catalogue."

Despite the increase, consignors acknowledged the boutique sales attract a smaller buying bench. Cont. p3

BAFFERT EXACTA AT SUNLAND

Hall of Famer Bob Baffert took home his second-consecutive GIII Sunland Derby trophy Sunday and swept the exacta for good measure. Tanma Corporation's Chitu (Henny Hughes) was knocked down to slight 9-5 favoritism over 2-1 stablemate Midnight Hawk (Midnight Hawk), and the public had it exactly right as the former clawed back the advantage from his familiar foe in the stretch to post a 2 1/4-length tally. Florida invader Commissioner (A.P. Indy) completed the trifecta while well back of the top two. Avoiding some bumping among the middle gate starters, Team Baffert took up stalking spots early with Chitu pressing from second and Midnight Hawk not far behind while three deep. The pair asserted for command midway on the turn, with the keen Midnight Hawk putting his head in front at the quarter pole. Martin Garcia upshifted on Chitu with the use of some hard left-handers, and received the response he was looking for. The two colts appeared to brush several times in the stretch, but Chitu leveled off well and galloped out clear of his stablemate. "Right from the beginning I was happy with how they handled the paddock," said Baffert's assistant trainer Jim Barnes. "They went through the post parade well, and the break went well. It went just how I planned it... and it was just a matter of whether they'd get the distance or not. They certainly did." Cont. p6

FASIG-TIPTON FLORIDA SALE

Monday, March 24 • Noon
Adena Springs South • Williston, Florida

"I think there's a lot of interest in quality stock," said consigner Niall Brennan. "I still don't think we've got a huge depth of buyers in these select sales--we don't have the depth of buyers to move all the horses. We'll see that change at the OBS April sale, I hope. Last year there were a tremendous amount of people--that's where they all came to one-stop shop for every budget and they could find what they wanted. That's what moves horses and makes a great sale. These select sales are still very much top-ended looking for quality stock and that's the mindset the buyers have, so anything less than that gets pushed to the side."

Still, with two sales already in the record books, consignors have noticed a vigorous demand for horses.

"We've gone through two sales and both sales have been great," reported Dean De Renzo. "We've sold the majority of our horses. We've only bought back one horse and we've offered 15 for sale."

De Renzo was also a fan of sale's expected one-year stopover at the idyllic Adena Springs facility.

"We knew that Mr. Stronach puts an amazing amount of effort into building his racetracks, so we were pretty confident in the track and that's what is really important to us. We have a good surface to be able to show our horses over and when they leave here they are as good as when we started."

Activity at the sales barn this weekend has been steady, if not overwhelming.

"It was quite busy yesterday," Brennan said. "It seemed quiet this morning, but that wouldn't be a surprise. I think it's an easy set-up to get around here and it's very nice and relaxing for everybody."

Consignor Eddie Woods said, "The traffic has been reasonably good without being outrageous. You always like to see a bit more, but it's been steady and we've got another day to go."

Bidding at the Florida sale begins Monday at noon.

FASIG-TIPTON FLORIDA

4, c, Super Saver--Rateeba, by Sky Mesa B-Dixiana Farms (Ky)

Consigned by Eddie Woods, Agent LXXVI

This son of freshman sire Super Saver was purchased for $65,000 at the Fasig-Tipton October Sale and breezed in :9 4/5, the co-fastest time at the distance. He is related to Grade II-winning juvenile Zavata (Phone Trick) and MGISW and successful sire Dixie Union (Dixieland Band). "He's a lovely horse," said Eddie Woods. "He's an elegant horse, a beautiful mover, correct and quick--the way racehorses are supposed to be."

14, c, Desert Party--Satinet, by Olympico B-Chris & Kurt Cahill (Ky)

Consigned by Eddie Woods, Agent VI

Another first-season stallion--Desert Party--has an offering in the Woods consignment. The $180,000 Keeneland September purchase breezed in :9 4/5 as well. He hails from a productive family which includes GI King's Bishop S. runner-up Social Probation (Jules). "He's a really nice horse and he's been very popular," Woods commented. "He's beautiful, he's a stunning-looking horse. He's worked great and has always worked great. I think [Desert Party] is a very nice first-season stallion and that horse is so easy on the eyes. If you don't like him, you don't like horses."

This bay filly, a $320,000 Keeneland September yearling, is out of a half-sister to GI Kentucky Oaks heroine Summerly (Summer Squall). She worked in :10 flat last Friday. "She is absolutely gorgeous," said consignor Ciaran Dunne. "All winter long, she's been breathtaking to watch train. She's just one of those fillies that you look forward to going in and seeing in the morning. Her breeze was wonderful, her gallop out was even better. Someone is going to be really, really lucky on Tuesday morning when they're looking down the shedrow at her and not us."

83, c, Distorted Humor--Delta Princess, by A.P. Indy
B-Adena Springs (Ky)

Consigned by Hartley/DeRenzo Thoroughbreds, agent

This regally bred colt, a half-brother to champion Royal Delta (Empire Maker), stood out in the catalogue even before turning in a co-bullet :9 4/5 work at Friday's under tack preview. The youngster was purchased by Dean De Renzo and Randy Hartley for $350,000 at last year's Fasig-Tipton Saratoga sale.

"We actually had no clue that we would be able to get him, but we always go up there and try," De Renzo recalled Sunday. "If we get outbid--which is very common for us--we get outbid, but if we do land on the ones that we want, than we're happy. So we were tickled to death that we got him." Asked how the colt has changed since last August, De Renzo explained, "He's grown up and grown into himself, but his mind has always been great. He is a sound horse. Everything about him has always been a little bit of a dream for us." Of the bullet breeze, De Renzo added, "We knew he was fast. I didn't know that he would really screech them like that. We had never asked that much from him before. His prep was about a :10 3/5 and he just cruised around there. Physically, he's a tremendously balanced horse. He has all the things that you'd want in a horse to stay sound. Pedigree-wise, he's everything you would ever need. We're very lucky to have him. We've been waiting for this day--to be able to show a horse like him--because he's been amazing since we started putting tack on him."

99, f, Super Saver--Finmore Queen, by Grand Slam
B-Cooper Thoroughbred Management (Ky)

Consigned by Niall Brennan Stables, Agent I

The Niall Brennan consignment will send two progeny of Super Saver through the ring today--one colt and one filly. The filly, who was scooped up for $85,000 at Keeneland September, is out of a half-sibling to GISW Pool Land (Silver Deputy). She breezed in :10 1/5.

"She's a beautiful filly and she worked lovely," Brennan said. "I think she's a really nice specimen and I think she's definitely talented too. She's beautifully made. She's a gorgeous mover on the racetrack. She's bred to stretch out and she's shown speed. I think she's a filly with a future."

You can also pick up a copy of the TDN today at the Fasig-Tipton Florida Sale.

130, c, Super Saver--Magdalena's Chase, by Cape Town
B-WinStar Farm (Ky)

Consigned by Niall Brennan Stables, Agent IV

This bay is the first foal out of MSP dam Magdalena's Chase. He worked in :10 flat. "This colt has speed, but he's so laid back that I think he can stretch out," Niall Brennan said. "I feel like he's a very talented colt and he's really a Saturday afternoon 2-year-old and a horse that I think can go on. When they're this professional and this talented at this point, they'll make very good 2-year-olds." Cont. p6

The first foal out of MSW and MGSP Mother Russia was picked up for $175,000 at the Fasig-Tipton July sale. The chestnut breezed in :10 flat. "He is the kind of horse you get excited about all winter watching him train," Al Pike offered. "He's such a beautiful mover and just loves to do his job. We think he's special. I was excited that a horse who looks like he could run all day could be that quick with that turn of foot. We're very excited about him. He's been very popular."

144, c, Majesticperfection--Ms. Cornstalk, by Indian Charlie

B-Brereton C Jones (Ky)

Consigned by Wavertree Stables, Inc. (Ciaran Dunne), Agent V

This bay colt shared the :9 4/5 bullet on Friday. A half-brother to Canadian champions Biofuel (Stormin Fever) and Tu Endie Wei (Johar), he was purchased by Shane Ryan's Castleon Lyons for $285,000 as Keeneland September last year. "This is a horse that, from the moment we saw him in September, we absolutely loved him," said consignor Ciaran Dunne. "He's out of an Indian Charlie mare and he looks like the good Indian Charlies look. Obviously, the mare produces wonderful stock. He's by a first-season sire who was really really fast, but this horse has a license to go two turns when you look at him physically. For a horse as big as he is, he stands 16.2, to have performed like he did on the racetrack is fairly remarkable. He's a very sound horse. He's a joy to be around. I would have to think he's as close to being the complete package as you would want."

Trainer Bob Baffert continued his complete domination of this event, winning his sixth renewal in the past eight runnings with streaking "TDN Rising Star" Awesome Baby. A sharp debut winner at Del Mar in August, Awesome Baby failed to land a blow in either the GI Del Mar

Debutante S. or GI Chandelier

S. at Santa Anita before hitting the bench. She returned successfully in the

6 1/2-panel GII Santa Ysabel

S. in Arcadia Jan. 4, and proved she could carry her speed going 8 1/2 panels over that venue's wet/fast surface in the GII Santa Ysabel S.

Mar. 1. Straight to the front

here as an overwhelming

choice, the dark bay was never seriously threatened as she upped her win streak to three. "She kind of scrambled just a bit leaving there--we got ping-ponged in between just for a jump or two," noted pilot Mike Smith. "But she went on to the lead, got into a high cruising speed like she does--that's her game--and from there we had them at bay."

Baffert's past winners here have gone on to significant success at the highest level. Last year's track record-breaking victoress Midnight Lucky

(Midnight Lute) annexed the GI Acorn S. two starts

later, while 2011 winner Plum Pretty (Medaglia d'Oro) went on to take the GI Kentucky Oaks after a 25-length romp at Sunland. Both Gabby's Golden Gal (Medaglia d'Oro) (2009) and Tough Tiz's Sis (Tiznow) (2007) later became multiple Grade I winners.

General a Rod Works for Florida Derby...

Conditioner Mike Maker's charge General a Rod (Roman Ruler) breezed five panels in 1:01.54 in his final preparation for the GI Besilu Stables Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park Mar. 29. "He worked well," Maker said. "A horse dropped in and wanted to work with him, but he handled it well, settled nice and did what we wanted. We were just going easy with him. The time was really insignificant." Owned by J. Armando Rodriguez the Gulfstream Park Derby winner finished a gritty second to arch nemesis Wildcat Red (D'wildcat) in the GII Besilu Stables Fountain of Youth at this venue when last seen Feb. 22. Maker is confident his horse has more than one dimension for the Florida Derby. "If the situation calls for him to be forwardly placed, so be it," he added. "If we have to sit off it, that's fine, too. Hopefully, somebody else will do the dirty work."

Tonalist Possible for Wood Memorial...

Shel Evans's ☆ "TDN Rising Star" ☆ Tonalist (Tapit) could contest Aqueduct's GI Wood Memorial S. Apr. 5, trainer Christophe Clement revealed yesterday. "[The Wood is] one of the options," said Clement. "We're keeping him eligible. He's a very nice horse, and he's never run a bad race." An impressive second-out maiden winner at Gulfstream Jan. 18, the bay was most recently second to GI Florida Derby hopeful Constitution (Tapit) in a Hallandale optional claimer Feb. 22. Clement says that if Tonalist does not run in the Wood, he will either contest the Apr. 3 GIII Calder Derby or an allowance race. Triple Threats cont. p9

Sweet Reason, Noble Moon Breeze in Company...

The Leah Gyarmati-trained, Treadway Racing Stable-owned pair of Sweet Reason (Street Sense) and Noble Moon (Malibu Moon) breezed in company yesterday over the Belmont training track. The former was credited with a mile in 1:46.05, while the latter was timed just a tick slower in 1:46.06. Sweet Reason, winner of last year's GI Spinaway S. and second in the GI Frizette S., made a successful sophomore debut in a Big A optional claimer Mar. 17. She is being pointed to that venue's GII Gazelle S. Apr. 5. Noble Moon, meanwhile, who annexed the GII Jerome S. Jan. 4, is under tentative consideration for the GI Wood Memorial S. the same day. "They finished up well," said Gyarmati. "The first part was a little slow, but they both came down the lane pretty good." Noble Moon was forced to miss some training time after the Jerome due to a foot problem, and Gyarmati would not yet commit to the Wood. "I still don't know about [Noble Moon]; we're going to wait until the last minute," she said. "On entry day, if he's doing good, and we want to run, he will. I want to know he's jumping out of his skin and ready to go. I'm not going to push it. It's not a little, easy race, it's the Wood and it is a competitive race. We did lose a lot of time training, obviously, so if I feel we're 100% fit we'll run. If not, we'll wait for the next spot." CLICK HERE TO SHARE TRIPLE THREATS

Injured after his success in the G3 Solario S. at Sandown at the end of August, the unbeaten homebred will prep for the G1 Qipco 2,000 Guineas in the seven-furlong contest Apr. 12. "At the moment, the obvious race for Kingman would be the Greenham and that is very much in our minds," Juddmonte's Racing Manager Teddy Grimthorpe told PA Sport. "John Gosden is pleased with the horse but any plans depend on how he works up to the race."

After a no-show on debut at Galway in September, Vote Often sprang to prominence with a 4 1/4-length maiden score over seven furlongs at Naas the following month before being put away for the winter break. Initially keen here before settling for a lead, the bay was brushed by Odeliz passing halfway with that rival traveling visually the stronger of the pair. Refusing to flinch as they fought for supremacy in the final quarter, the homebred won the argument in the last 100 yards to belie her inexperience. "She is a staying filly and it took all of the mile to get past the second horse," jockey Pat Smullen said of the potential G1 Irish 1,000 Guineas protagonist. "She will be a nice filly for the future."

THE COOTIE FACTOR

Over the past few seasons, as racing has contracted, much discussion has taken place among the game's stakeholders as to which of these entities is most necessary for survival of the sport.

Horseplayers think that without them the game cannot exist.

Racetracks say that without a playing field there can be no contest.

Owners are convinced that without horses, there can be no races.

Horses themselves, for reasons obvious even to those groups mentioned above, have not been asked for their opinion. But I suspect that if they had been and were able to answer, they would tell all of the groups cited to go to hell and let the animals conduct their own impromptu contests in a field away from the madding crowds, bright lights, unnatural noises and

But, for racing to exist, the owner is the key. Hold your horses cowpokes! I am not saying that racing does not need gamblers and racetracks to provide a viable sport. It does. But, without horses provided by owners, there can be no sport. Somebody once told me that Will Farish and Dinny Phipps didn't give a hoot about the game's health (which, by the way, is totally preposterous) and that they would just as soon conduct match races in a field on one of their vast estates. The point was that these two gentlemen cared only about was finding out which one of their steeds was faster than the other guy's horse. Although the comment was made to belittle Farish and Phipps, it did in fact serve to point out something that should be obvious to everyone connected with racing, which is that the essence of our enterprise is simply to find out which man or woman's horse can beat the other person's horse. And in this regard, horse racing on one level or another can only take place if owners have an interest in finding out which horse is fastest and are willing to pit their horses against each other in a contest of speed. Where this contest takes place and who, other than the owners, decides to gamble on the outcome is of no relevance to these chaps. The point of this excessive wordage is that owners are the only essential element in providing a contest because they own the horse.

Irrespective of the level at which contests of sport are held, it should be fairly obvious to all of the stakeholders that unless owners are on board, the sport suffers greatly.

The game needs owners. Much effort over the past decade or so has been devoted to identifying, prospecting, developing and nurturing new owners and providing them with reasons to participate in the sport.

The advent last week of PETA's report on the operation of Steve Asmussen has our game in peril because for the first time there is video evidence for all to see of how sordid, uncaring, unethical and illegal the caretakers of our horses can be.

It is one thing to hear gossip, read articles and op-ed pieces, hear chit-chat; but it is entirely another matter when one is confronted so rudely with the evidence in moving film. If a picture is worth a thousand words, a video must be worth billions of them.

When all is said and done, I fear the aftermath of the PETA video presentation will be the most severe removal of a layer of the once prestigious patina under which our sport thrived for so many years.

Owners that are interested in playing the game on a high level do so for several reasons, but the underlying commonality is a desire for competition in an arena witnessed by fans and peers alike that offers the owners a considerable amount of prestige.

Once a game is found to be covered in scuzz instead of quality, the desire for further participation by owners is going to evaporate. Cont. p13

The PETA video shows owners that racing has got cooties. Nobody wants to be involved in a game that has the potential to embarrass them and their families.

Can United States racing recover from this localized infestation of cooties?

Yes, but only if there is institutional change.

Ethical vets and trainers need to call out their miscreant peers.

Racetracks and racing commissions need to immediately institute a racetrack pharmacy that allows control over every drug given to every horse.

The group pushing for medication reform needs to include Lasix among the drugs banned on race day and stop pandering to horsemen and racetracks just for the sake of passing a watered down plan that does not fully address the issue. Stop patting yourself on the back and be real.

Racetracks need to get serious about catering to horsemen they know damn well are taking an edge.

Unless racing's institutions put these plans into action instead of jawboning about them, horseplayers will go elsewhere and owners interested in the sporting aspects of the game will leave it behind.

The HPBA and the AAEP are the ones that need to lead this charge. The HPBA can condemn what needs to be condemned and individual horsemen can then join them in support of cleaning up their act. The vets need to put the horse first and their pocket books second.

Look, everybody knows what needs to be done, but if racing's stakeholders do not take action right now, we will all be looking for something new to do in life, because we have cootified this game beyond recognition. CLICK HERE TO SHARE THIS STORY

I have also passionately been part of the human/horse competition/sports world for 37 years. Philosophically, the purist in me struggles with the idea of human meddling with any species (horses, dogs, etc.). Should the modern human life be separated from horses, dogs, etc., who would exist in their natural environment without human interaction/meddling? I doubt PETA or any loving dog owners would recommend shipping off all dogs into the prairies, away from their adopted human buddy/caretaker.

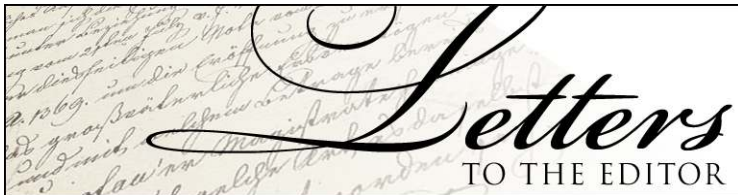

Humans have always been excited by competing in a race against each other or in tandem with horses. It's presumptuous to assume the horse doesn't also find racing against each other exciting. In fact, riders know very well the competitive juices of the equine. I find it quite stimulating to prepare the professional athlete (equine or human), including the science of anaerobic and aerobic conditioning, lameness diagnostics and therapeutics, ergogenics, nutrition and mental preparations; also, scouting for young star prospects by analyzing genetics, conformation, gate, etc.; finally, managing the athlete's career in making decisions on racing classification and timing between races, and who to keep or to move on or retire. The full package at its worst can be like your investigation discovery (human error in judgment and foolishness) and at its best can be glorious.

Actually, it can potentially reach the height of most anything I've experienced in my life. Perspectives from both sides are skewed with myopic bias. I invite PETA friends of mine (Ingrid Newkirk, etc.) to come meet trainer Melody Conlon and see our team of humans and equines.

Nevertheless, even with that, PETA executives and employees will never feel the amazing elements that only lifelong horse people truly know. Nor can they feel financial pressure on owners and trainers to have to care for these beings. It is so expensive and often "breaks" people.

Yet, PETA offers a profound "checks and balances" to keep humans in line and make sure we evolve to the "high road" in our thoughts and actions. PETA is the voice for the various beings that can't speak for themselves.

Yet, I have slowed down on my once heavy donations to PETA because in my view they need to focus their work on by far the most important of causes: the meat industry. The ripple effects of meat eating (human health, climate change, and other environmental impacts, world starvation, and of course barbaric cruelty) dwarf the nitpicking on Thoroughbred care. PETA needs to "choose its battles."
Cont. p14

OWNER, BREEDER, FORMER TRAINER JOHN LIVIAKIS:

To My Dearest friends at PETA and in the Racing World,

If I may presumptuously say so, I feel particularly qualified to offer my perspective on the recent Investigative/undercover discoveries making the headlines. I've been a PETA and PCRM member for several decades as well as a vegan for 40 years. I'd like to consider myself a close friend to the equine species. My respect, love, and connection with these sensitive, dignified, and magnificent beings couldn't be any higher.

As an "insider" for much of my life, I would rank the human in its care of the equine a B- overall--some aspects an F (like the horse slaughter fools), and some aspects an A + . The majority of people in the equine related businesses really truly love the horse and treat them as royalty. Let's continue to evolve the sport to the highest levels but not misrepresent the whole picture.

op/ed feedback

We have been inundated by feedback via letters, Twitter comments, and Facebook comments on Sunday's letter from the publisher. A sampling appears below. More feedback will follow in tomorrow's edition.

FRANK E. MACAULEY, WTL EQUINE INTERNATIONAL:

Recognizing, that in my life time, the Thoroughbred Industry has done a very poor job of regulating itself, I find Mr. Weisbord's suggestion for a new racing association provided with the enforcement "teeth" necessary for proper regulation to be a well thought out, comprehensive and a viable solution.

I, for one, don't believe that Federal Regulation will provide the oversight that is required because, as history has taught us, the Federal Government does not have an admirable record of enforcement.

STEPHANIE PRESTON:

I applaud the letter published by Mr. Weisbord and his stance on issues facing American racing. Every point he makes is right on target. I am enthusiastic to share with your audience that we have just returned from our second trip to Hong Kong for the purpose of collaborating with the Hong Kong Jockey Club to publish scientific studies on racing soundness. We have observed every aspect of controlled veterinary care and treatment of their horses, most of which make at least 18 lifetime starts and never train or race on Lasix (unpublished data presently under peer review for publication). In Hong Kong, if a trainer requests a joint injection it must be approved by one of six veterinarians employed by the HKJC. If the veterinarian determines the request does not meet the strict guidelines established, the horse will not be injected. Records of every detail of training, racing, and veterinary treatment is not only maintained by the Department of Veterinary Clinical Services, but is also provided to bettors. On Mar. 16, 2014 we attended the Hong Kong Derby at Sha Tin Racecourse where the handle for the day exceeded $HK 1 billion (approx. US$129 million). Clearly, this system is good for racing.

LINDA BERD:

I am and have been 'mad as hell' and disappointed as hell. I worked in the Thoroughbred industry for almost 30 years because I love and admire horses, racing and Thoroughbreds in particular. I've worked at racetracks and (more often) Thoroughbred sales, as well as foaling on farms. This article says it all. It's out there, simply put, clear and makes total sense.

This is exactly what needs to be done here in the U.S. No halfway measures... an all-encompassing, national rewriting and restructuring of the racing industry in all its aspects (particularly medication) modeled on Hong Kong racing. I especially agree that the industry needs to take responsibility for the welfare and after-racing well being/care of these horses, without whom there is no racing industry.

That makes it simple and readily able to be fairly quickly adopted. All we need are people in all the industry to understand the magnitude of the problem and that now is the time.

Thank you Barry Weisbord and TDN!

MICHAEL POHLMAN:

I couldn't agree more with your publisher.

I am a player and have been for years. I have considered investing in a Thoroughbred or two, but in watching the trends of the sport over the years, would not begin to get more involved. The risk is too high and the reputation I would get would carry nothing but repudiation. I'm not that aware of the conditions for those working in the sport, but since it is all about money, I'll trust the conditions are deplorable for the same reason the horses are nothing more than a depreciable asset that once a return is extracted is scrapped by most owners. Trainers are paid to win at any cost, so what can be expected other than the current situation?

As just a player, when betting, I have no idea what the true condition of a horse is. I don't trust the system. At the same time, there are too many tracks, running too many races such that most races are diluted and all you can do is decide which 3-5, 9-5 or 2-1 (three legitimate horses a race) is going to win out of the six or seven running. Every card is full of maiden claimers and non-winners of two lifetime after running 15-20 races. The enjoyment of handicapping with a reasonable chance of getting a 6-1 or better to win is limited to two or three opportunities per day. The rest of the day is boring and if I wasn't a longtime fan I would drop this and stop wasting my time. I can't get anyone else I know interested in participating either.

I consider myself part of the game. As in all sports, no one makes money without the fans, and without fans who wager, no one will invest unless looking for a write off (not a bright future). Fair treatment of the horse, the employees, etc. will keep people feeling ok about being involved. I think this is critical and your are spot on.

But make sure the remedy includes making a fundamental part of the sport, wagering, an exciting thing in order to keep people involved once they get involved. (P.S. More gimmick bets won't work.)

Why I Support the TAA

BOB AND MICHELE BILLINGS, EQUILETE STABLE:

Bravo Barry. Your comments and suggestions are right on. With your knowledge of racing, you could spearhead all the changes you have written about. We need others to step up to the plate NOW and help you. We would be happy to sign on first and hope to hear from others who want to make the changes necessary to keep racing afloat. Tell us all how we can help!

Surrounded by his family, Corey Lanerie accepts the prestigious George Woolf Award Sunday at Santa Anita Park.

BRIDGEHAMPTON (f, 4, Bernardini--Teton National, by Forestry) finished fifth on debut at Hollywood Park after a rough start last May for trainer Neil Drysdale. Moved to Mike Hushion's barn and adding first-time Lasix, she graduated later that month at Belmont before finishing a close second in the Gill Victory Ride S. to end her sophomore year when last seen at Big Sandy June 29. Favored as part of a joint-entry at 6-5 for her return here, she was away a step slow but pulled her way to the lead. Cutting the corner into the stretch, she drew clear to lead by five, and withstood the late rush of Kara's Match Point (Curlin) to score by 1 1/4 lengths. Sales history: $100,000 yrl '11 KEESSEP. EFFINEX (c, 3, Mineshaft--What a Pear {MSW, $161,860}, by E Dubai) finished unplaced on debut going 5 1/2 furlongs and scored next out via disqualification in a maiden special weight when last seen here going a mile for trainer Richard DeMola Mar. 1. Yet to race with Lasix, Effinex was sent off at 28-1 odds and cabooseed the field along the rail into the first turn. Shifted out several paths along the backstretch, he crept closer to the leaders to draw even by the top of the lane. Fanned four wide, he quickly put distance between himself and his rivals to win on his own merits by a widening 6 1/4 lengths over heavy favorite Tapitation (Tapit). Mufajaah--a $375,000 KEESEP yearling graduate--rallied to finish an encouraging third after blowing the break in her six-furlong Oaklawn debut Feb. 13. She broke through with a sharp 4 1/2-length maiden win at that distance at second asking Feb. 28 and was heavily favored at 3-5 while making her two-turn debut here. Bumped at the start, the chestnut raced three-wide around the first turn and was settled in sixth through fractions of :23.66 and :48.39. Jockey Joe Johnson hit the gas with a visually impressive four-wide sweep on the far turn and his charge rebroke with a couple of taps of the whip in the stretch to score by a very promising 2 1/2 lengths.

Streethomealabama (Street Sense) was second. Mufajaah, racing without Lasix, hails from the extended family of Meadow Flight (Meadowlake). Lifetime Record: 3-2-0-1, $78,300. Click for the brisnet.com chart or VIDEO. Click for brisnet.com catalogue-style pedigree.

She reported home a well-beaten ninth at odds of 5-2 in Tampa's Gasparilla S. Jan. 4, then rallied to complete the trifecta in a $75,000 optional tagger going six furlongs at that track Feb. 16. The bay broke slowly and steadily advanced through the backstretch before moving outside of pacesetter Siete C (Unbridled's Song) on the far turn to take a narrow lead into the stretch. Michael Ritvo, son of trainer Kathy and Gulfstream Park President Tim, rode his first winner Sunday in Hallandale. "It was 10 times better than I thought, there's no other experience like it," said the 19-year-old after booting home Little Daniella (Mr. Sekiguchi) in the second. "It's nice to see him doing something he really wants to do," added Tim Ritvo. "We never pushed him. It's a great feeling. Hopefully, he's enjoying it as much as we are, and it looks like he is."
