JUST A WAY RETURNS A WINNER

Yesterday's G1 Yasuda Kinen marked the first public appearance for Just a Way (Jpn) (Heart's Cry {Jpn}) since his 6 3/4-length record-setting demolition of the G1 Dubai Duty Free Mar. 29, and while yesterday's victory lacked the authority of his romp in the desert, the world's highest-rated horse nonetheless resumed a winner while extending his unbeaten streak to four.

Dropping back to travel midpack, one slot off the fence, while the sophomore Mikki Isle (Jpn) (Deep Impace {Jpn}) set testing fractions on the rain-soaked course, Just a Way and jockey Yoshitomi Shibata angled out for running room at the top of the lane.

Sent through a seam passing the 200-meter mark, Just a Way hooked a game rival in the longshot Grand Prix Boss (Jpn) (Sakura Bakushin Oh {Jpn}) in the closing stages. While it appeared for a few strides as if that rival would get away, Just a Way's brilliance shone through, as he got his nose down where it counted. Trainer Naosuke Sugai noted that Just a Way exited the race tired, but said that the 5-year-old's handling of the soft going increased the chances of an Arc bid. "Mr. Hashiguchi, who saddled this year's Derby winner and also Heart's Cry, Just a Way's sire, assured me last week that his bloodlines say that he can handle heavy going, but I couldn't be sure and I prayed as he was making his bid from behind at the stretch that he would make it," Sugai said. "His mental improvement has brought the best of his ability, which he had all along, to this level which has exceeded my imagination. He hasn't pulled up too well today after such an exhausting race, so we'll have to wait and see about the [G1] Takarazuka Kinen [June 29], for which he is currently voted fourth to run. As a long-term target, I think, since he has handled such testing ground today, the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe could be an option." cont. p3

TONALIST EXITS BELMONT IN FINE FORM

Yesterday's GI Belmont S. usurper Tonalist (Tapit) has exited the Classic well, according to trainer Christophe Clement, who is relishing his first Triple Crown victory. Tonalist shedrowed Sunday morning, grazed and was given a bath before returning to his stall. "He's doing good," Clement said. "He didn't surprise me, because I knew he was a good horse going into the race. They didn't give him the race. He had to fight pretty hard in order to do it. He just confirmed that he belongs with some of the best 3-year-olds in the country at the moment." Clement added, "I don't put importance in the number of starts as some people do, maybe because of the way we train."

The trainer and his team are enjoying the afterglow of the victory. "I think we always forget that this should be fun," the conditioner said the morning after the big win. "It's nice to enjoy it for a few days. For all of us: the horse, the whole team. We're New York people, so it means a lot to us."

Clement indicated that the GI Travers S. at Saratoga Aug. 23 could be Tonalist's next target. "The Travers is very much under consideration, I'm sure," he said. "I will have to speak to [owner Robert] Evans about it. Of course, you like to think about it. I do believe there is more to come. I really do. I think physically and mentally there is more to come. My whole deal is to keep it simple; just keep him sound and keep him fit and he will take care of the rest, because he is a nice horse."

Just a Way's rise to prominence is all the more remarkable when considering his previously unremarkable race record. He hinted at his ability with a five-length first-out victory at Niigata in July as a 2-year-old, and the following February he earned his first black-type victory in the G3 Arlington Cup. Just a Way tried Group 1 company three times as a sophomore, but failed to hit the board on each occasion, and it would be 20 months and 10 races before he would again see the winner's circle. He got back on top in a big way, however, defeating Horse of the Year and dual G1 Japan Cup victress Gentildonna (Jpn) (Deep Impact {Jpn}) and defending race winner Eishin Flash (Jpn) (King's Best) by four lengths in the G1 Tenno Sho Autumn Oct. 27.

Rested thereafter with the Duty Free in mind, Just a Way returned a 3 3/4-length winner of his local prep, the G2 Nakayama Kinen Mar. 2, prior to his desert romp. Just a Way earned a mark of 130 from the Longines World's Best Racehorse rankings for his G1 Dubai Duty Free victory, and if yesterday's exploits are any indication, he is far from finished making an impact on the world stage.

"After such an astounding performance in his victory in Dubai, I had offers from a number of countries to run in their respective countries, but I wanted the Japanese fans to see firsthand another 'world-class performance' in Japan, so I chose the Yasuda Kinen for his next start," Sugai explained. "The pressure was on, therefore, to win the race. He tuned up for this race perfectly, and with Yoshitomi Shibata, who is a fellow graduate of mine from JRA's jockey school, in the saddle, I just had to believe in the veteran jockey to give him the best ride."

Shibata, who was aboard Just a Way for the first time since a second-place effort in the G2 Mainichi Okan last October, added; "I just couldn't give a bad performance on the world's best racehorse, so I am relieved to have been able to play my part today. I've ridden this horse before when he was still young but although I knew all along that he's got much power, he was very immature and used to get agitated or nervous and miss his break--he's changed dramatically since then and he settled down so well in the paddock. He was well in hand early and I would have liked to make my bid more on the outside at the stretch, but there was a wall of horses on my outside, so I had to pick the rougher lane on the inside. I think it was Just a Way's strong determination that carried us to the finish line--he's always had that strong will since he was a youngster, but just couldn't put it to use then. He won over 1600 meters today over very testing ground, but I think his best distance would be around 2000 meters."

Making his first start since sweeping Rio de Janeiro's Triple Crown with a victory in the G1 Grande Premio Cruzeiro do Sul Mar. 16, the top-class Brazilian-bred 3-year-old colt stormed home in the stretch to inhale the tiring leaders en route to a driving victory under regular pilot Vagner Borges. Allowed to settle in midpack after a furious pace set by the dueling Catch a Flight (Arg) (Giant's Causeway) and Americando (Brz) (First American), Bal a Bali annexed his seventh straight victory for owner Alvaro Novisi Stud Alvarenga.

The 5-year-old Benvenue, a listed winner at three, looked a no-hope longshot in the Gran Premio Di Milano. The chestnut entire, who won a conditions race in his last start, found his perfect day on a humid afternoon and landed the San Siro's top event for owner Diego Romeo's Scuderia Incolinx. Benvenue settled in the middle of the pack, while Orsino took the lead after 600 meters and set a steady and progressive pace. Orsino built a three-length advantage entering the last 400 meters, when Benvenue found a gap and came to challenge outside with the big favorite Biz The Nurse.

Why I Support the TAA

"With all the thrills and enjoyment our horses have given us, we feel it's most important to do right by them and support them after their racing careers are over. The TAA is the first time everyone has gotten together to do just that."

In the last 200 meters Benvenue had an extra kick and ran down Orsino by a neck, while Biz The Nurse stayed on in third over Ramsey homebred Steaming Kitten, the only 3-year-old in the race. "Benvenue was in top form, yes. He likes the fast ground, yes. He stays the 2400-meter trip, yes. But looking at his form, he was just a 100-1 chance," said Romeo. "I have a very good trainer, Raffaele Biondi. He wanted to run Benvenue against the odds and he was right." Biondi, who has worked for Scuderia Incolinx since June 2012, said: "Benvenue is a nice horse, but he had a lot of problems in the past. Nothing big, just small things that plagued his career. This season, finally, he has stayed sound and I can train him regularly. He was 100-1, but I was confident, at least for a place."

Speaking of Which broke from the inside post and rated in midpack along the rail through the clubhouse turn and down the backstretch as Hard Enough led the way. The dark bay angled out to the four path entering the lane and put in a late run. He gained the advantage by midstretch and won going away, as Hangover Kid spurred up the rail to finish second. "I went over the race this morning with Christophe, which I love doing because he's so good at reading the Form," jockey Joe Bravo said following the race. "We agreed to try to ride him just like I did at Calder. We wanted to sit close but just off the pace. It worked out perfectly and we were able to sit the pocket right in behind. In this big field, it was all about getting the trip. Turning for home, we were able to split horses and he sure came running. He's just a good horse."

Considered worthy enough to debut in the Sept. 22 Listed Winterkonigin Trial at Cologne, Longina ran a commendable third in that 7 1/2-furlong event, her only juvenile outing, and came back to run fourth to Weltmacht in a Dusseldorf conditions heat on sophomore return last time Apr. 13. Allowed to stride to the front after racing keenly under attempted restraint early in this prep for the Aug. 3 G1 Preis der Diana, she easily held sway until stoked up approaching the final quarter mile and maintained a relentless gallop thereafter to exact revenge on the hitherto unbeaten Weltmacht, comfortably registering a first win of any kind.

Chrome Looks Towards Fall Return

Dual Classic-winner California Chrome (Lucky Pulpit), who cut his foot at the start of Saturday's GI Belmont S., will get some time off. "Matterhorn and California Chrome bumped together and Matterhorn reached over on California Chrome's right front and just hit his hoof and took a big chunk out of it," said trainer Art Sherman. "We can heal that up. It will take about two to three weeks, then we'll stop on him for six or seven weeks and then give him some pasture time. So Chrome is going to have a needed rest. It's been a tough campaign for him. [The cut] couldn't have helped him any, and I was watching the race and down the backside he was in all kinds of trouble. [Jockey] Victor [Espinoza] was trying to get him out. They were pushing him down in there and he had no racing room. But, hey, listen, the horse has had six straight races with perfect trips. Sometimes, in this game, when you have a bad trip, that's part of it. Racing luck means a lot. Being a former rider, I know that." As for future plans, the conditioner said, "I think I'm going to keep him in California and get him ready for the Breeders' Cup. He loves the Santa Anita track, he runs his best races down there. It is home for us. I'm sure he'll enjoy that."

"Your horse needs time to recoup," Sherman continued. "I'm here and I'm just thankful that I could run in a Triple Crown. It's been a great ride for me. It's been a super year."

Ride On to Take a Break

GI Preakness S. runner-up Ride On Curlin (Curlin) was eased at the quarter pole of Saturday's GI Belmont. S and will be given some time off, according to trainer Billy Gowan. The trainer said Ride On Curlin bled after the race as well. "He bled probably a three out of 10," Gowan said. "He ate everything last night and his legs look good, so that's the main thing. He was going to get a little break anyhow, so maybe it's time to give him one. I'll take him back to the track and see how he is. Maybe I'll take him to the farm and just kind of see how he's doing. He's a pretty tough horse. He didn't really want to go a mile and a half looking back on it."

"Anybody can be a Monday morning quarterback, but I probably won't ever run him a mile and a half again," Gowan continued. "The bleeding is what stopped him. His head went up, and that's a tell-tale sign. The bleeding will stop one dead in their tracks because they can't get their air. Johnny [Velazquez] did the right thing. He said at the three-eighths pole he didn't have a lot of horse. He asked him one time and there was nothing there, so he just eased him and I'm glad he did."

Gowan said he had the GI Travers S. in mind as a spot to work towards, but wasn't sure. "It's hard to say," he explained. "We'll look at [the Travers], but we're going to give him 30 to 45 days off. It's been a long grind, for me and the horse."

COBURN STILL BITTER MORNING AFTER

Steve Coburn, co-owner of California Chrome (Lucky Pulpit) was still upset the day after the GI Belmont S. After making a number of inflammatory remarks on NBC Sports following his charge's fourth-place finish, Coburn continued his tirade Sunday morning on his appearance on Good Morning America. "You might compare this to a triathlon," Coburn said Sunday morning on Good Morning America. "You know you've got to swim and you've got to bicycle and you've got to run. You don't make it to run if you're not going to do the other two. It says Triple Crown. You nominate your horse for the Triple Crown. That means three. Even the Triple Crown trophy has three points on it. Those 20 horses that start in the Kentucky Derby should be the only 20 allowed to run in the Preakness and the Belmont for the Triple Crown."

Craig Bernick @craigb1818 Maybe California Chrome can go find some Cal Bred races since his owner thinks restricted races are better.

Harris D. Auerbach @AuerHeat Congrats to Steve Coburn for the worst show of sportsmanship I've ever seen in horse racing. They were incredibly lucky to do what most only dream of and to get such an amazing animal on such a lucky whim. Show some class and be appreciative. Horrible Karma and a bad ending.

Edward Stanco @EdwardStanco No cowards at Belmont. You win or you lose. Congrats to Close Hatches, Palice Malice & Tonalist

Jennie Rees @CJ_Jennie Coburn compares it to #me playing basketball against a kid in a wheelchair". Digging deeper hole but doesn't care

William Payne @kyderby4life Tonalist was held out of the Derby due to illness, right? So his owner was supposed to risk injury or worse to satisfy Coburn?

David Grening @DRFGrening California Chrome needed a nasal strip. His owner needs a tongue tie.

NBC'S BELMONT COVERAGE RATES HIGHLY

NBC's telecast of the GI Belmont S. earned a 12.9 overnight rating, the second highest in the race's history. It averaged 20.6 million viewers. The record for a Belmont S. telecast was set in 2004 when Birdstone denied Smarty Jones' Triple Crown bid. The 2014 Belmont S. is the most-watched weekend sporting event since NBC's primetime telecast of the 2014 Sochi Winter Olympics on Sunday, Feb. 16 (21.3 million). The race registered a 12.0/27 household rating--a 46% increase over the 8.2/20 for ABC's Big Brown telecast in 2008, and ranking as the third-highest rated Belmont since Seattle Slew won the Triple Crown in 1977.

RACETRACK ROUND-UP

Pletcher Barn Looks Good the Morning After

Trainer Todd Pletcher had a stellar Saturday with a win and four seconds on the day. Commissioner (A.P. Indy) nearly wired the GI Belmont S., but finished second. "I was a little surprised Commissioner made the lead, but I wasn't surprised that he was close [to the pace]," Pletcher said. "I was pretty sure we had lost the photo. At the top of the stretch, I didn't know [if he would win], at the eighth pole I thought we had a big chance, and still did at the sixteenth pole. It was a pretty nasty beat." Pletcher also saddled Matterhorn (Tapit), who was eighth. "Commissioner is going to WinStar for a little and will hopefully come back in the [GI] Jim Dandy or the [GI] Haskell," Pletcher said. "Matterhorn we always felt might improve on the grass, so he'll most likely make his next start on the turf."

Dogwood Stable's Palace Malice (Curlin) showed up again with a sensational performance on the first Saturday of June, taking the GI Metropolitan H. "I thought it was another remarkable effort from him. To win the Met Mile carrying 124 pounds and breaking from the rail in a large field, I don't know what else you can do. A year ago he won the Belmont at a mile and a half; it speaks volumes about his quality and versatility. He's just in terrific form this year."

Princess of Sylmar (Majestic Warrior) was narrowly held off in the GI Ogden Phipps and finished second to Close Hatches (First Defence). "I'm very proud of Princess of Sylmar; she always shows up and runs well," Pletcher said. "That was a Breeders' Cup quality field, and unfortunately we were on the wrong side of a tough head bob. To Close Hatches's credit, she worked out a beautiful trip from the rail."

Sweet Reason Exits Acorn Well

GI TVG Acorn S. heroine Sweet Reason (Street Sense) spent some time in the round pen the morning after her Saturday victory. "There wasn't any one thing that was wrong," trainer Leah Gyarmati said. "I think it was just a rough winter for her, as it was for all of us. Everyone was kind of needing to build themselves back up. When she started turning around, you could see it immediately in her works; she was working like she had never worked before."

"Her coat was coming in. It wasn't anything I did differently, she just turned around." Gyarmati is not quite sure the next spot for Sweet Reason. "I don't know, I'll have to talk to [owner] Jeff [Treadway] first," she said. "I would say the [GI] Test [Aug. 2] is probably a spot, so you'd try to figure around that."

STEVE COBURN, PLEASE JUST SHUT UP

reprinted courtesy of ESPN.com

By Bill Finley

This is America, so Steve Coburn, the co-owner of California Chrome, has every right to have his say, even if his say came across as bitter and irrational. Maybe he doesn't care that he made a fool out of himself when he called good people who did nothing wrong "cheaters" and then only made things worse when he somehow came up with a bizarre and politically incorrect analogy comparing California Chrome's supposed disadvantage against fresh horses in the Belmont to kids in wheelchairs.

Dumb ass, indeed.

The real problem is that he's taking what should still be a wonderful feel-good story down with him. Obviously you can't get mad at California Chrome, who, it appears, is smarter than his owner. Trainer Art Sherman, who is humble and classy, also gets a complete pass. But do we really like California Chrome as much as we did before Coburn started running his mouth? And do we really want to see him front and center and winning important summer and fall races like the Travers and Breeders' Cup? I know I don't.

Yes, California Chrome is only guilty by association, but guilty nonetheless.

In less time than it took for Tonalist to win the Belmont S., Coburn and his mouth ruined five of the best weeks racing has had in a long time. We fell not just for the horse and his accomplishments but for the entire story, a story that included these "regular guy" owners who parlayed the mating of a C-list sire and a cheap mare into a dream that stretched the boundaries of reality. We fell for Coburn's apparent folksiness. We cheered when he called out Churchill Downs, everybody's favorite whipping boy, for allegedly treating his partner, Perry Martin, poorly at the Kentucky Derby. We even got a kick out of the fact that he looks a lot like Wilford Brimley because who doesn't like Wilford Brimley?

Now it turns out that the story, at least the part that involves Coburn, is a fraud. I don't know if he gives money to orphans and children, rescues kittens out of trees and volunteers at the soup kitchen in his free time, but there is something very unlikeable about him now. He is what we all hate, a sore loser. cont. p9

It didn't have to be this way. When NBC approached him after the race, he should have been gracious, accepted defeat and congratulated Tonalist and his owner Robert Evans and his trainer Christophe Clement. After their horse won a Classic race and won it fair and square, it was what they deserved. If he was so upset and frustrated that he knew he was ready to say something stupid, he should have declined the interview. Sunday morning he had his chance to make amends and trainer Art Sherman predicted that Coburn was going to apologize. Instead, Coburn jammed his foot even further down his mouth, a feat even more impossible than a modern horse winning the Triple Crown.

Had he done either, kept quiet or said the right things, we'd still love California Chrome, Triple Crown winner or not.

Coburn's complaints are baseless and his idea that a horse must race in each Triple Crown race to remain eligible for the next leg is dumber than a box of rocks. It's so dumb, it's not worthy of further debate. His calling the winners cheaters and cowards is as low-class as it gets.

No one has said yet where California Chrome is going to race next. He's not going to be that much in demand as a sire, which makes it likely that he will stick around for a 4-year-old campaign if he doesn't get hurt. We haven't seen the last of California Chrome.

Going forward, it won't be the same. There won't be 100,000 people in the stands at his next race and the national media will have moved on to something else. He'll still have his fans, but not as many as before. Coburn took care of that.

In a perfect world Coburn would issue a sincere apology or, better yet, sell his half of the horse. Don't count on either, not from someone this clueless when it comes to being a stand-up guy or doing the right thing. At the very least, he should just shut up and go away. If nothing else, do it for the horse. CLICK HERE TO SHARE THIS STORY

AUSTRALIA 'FINE' AFTER DERBY WIN

Saturday's G1 Investec Derby hero Australia (GB) (Galileo {Ire}) exited the race in good order, according to trainer Aidan O'Brien, and could take in the G1 Irish Derby at The Curragh June 28.

"He was fine [yesterday] morning--he was just out for a walk and he looks great," O'Brien told PA Sport. "The Irish Derby would be a possibility, but it will be up to the lads [Coolmore] to decide. The ground will obviously be a factor and we will try not to run him on bad ground."

O'Brien's fancied Geoffrey Chaucer (Montjeu {Ire}) finished last of 16 at Epsom. "Geoffrey Chaucer was badly hampered and after that Ryan [Moore] was very easy on him and let him canter home," O'Brien explained.

Australia
Racing Post

O'Brien's other runners, Orchestra (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) and Kingfisher (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) finished 12th and 10th, respectively.

The Dermot Weld-trained Fascinating Rock (Ire) (Fastnet Rock {Aus}), winner of the G3 Derrinstown Stud Derby Trial S. May 11, could also head to the Irish Derby after finishing eighth at Epsom.

"He got into a lot of trouble coming down the hill--he was never balanced," Weld told PA Sport. "He ran on and finished about a length and a half ahead of Ebanoran (Ire) (Oasis Dream {GB}), so you could say the Derrinstown was run roughly to form. You couldn't say if he stayed or didn't stay. The Irish Derby is a definite possible."

VARIAN 'PROUD' OF KINGSTON HILL

Trainer Roger Varian reported G1 Investec Derby second Kingston Hill (GB) (Mastercraftsman {Ire}) to be in good shape the morning after his Epsom exploits yesterday. While Varian was non-committal about future targets for his G1 Racing Post Trophy winner, he noted the G1 Irish Derby June 28 was possible.

Kingston Hill
Racing Post

"It was a great run," Varian said. "He has backed up the form of his 2-year-old win in the Racing Post Trophy and proved he is up to mixing it with the best. He got the trip well and Andrea [Atzeni] gave him a lovely ride. We have no excuses--we were beaten by a better horse on the day and we are incredibly proud of his performance. He seems fine this morning. He has a wonderful constitution; he has eaten up and been for a pick of grass."

"I'll see how he is over the next few days before making a firm plan, but at this stage the Irish Derby would be under consideration," Varian added.

Varian also noted that Ambivalent (Ire) (Authorized {Ire}), third in Saturday's G1 Coronation Cup, could be given an international campaign later this year.

All horses in the TDN are bred in North America, unless otherwise indicated

BARZALONA TO RETURN TO FRANCE

Jockey Mickael Barzalona has announced that he will return to his native France to resume his riding career and association with Godolphin. Barzalona, winner of the 2011 G1 Investec Derby aboard Pour Moi (Ire) (Montjeu {Ire}), became a contracted rider to Godolphin in early 2012, and won that year's G1 Dubai World Cup and G1 St Leger for Sheikh Mohammed's operation. The 22-year-old has had less luck this year, however, with Godolphin trainer Charlie Appleby opting to use a wider range of riders. Barzalona sat on the sidelines while three Godolphin runners contested Saturday's Derby. As a rider for Godolphin in France, Barzalona will be reunited with trainer Andre Fabre, the trainer of Pour Moi who was instrumental in his development as a rider.

Mickael Barzalona
Racing Post

"Following a meeting with John Ferguson this morning, I confirm that I am looking forward to my next adventure in the Godolphin silks," Barzalona told PA Sport. "I will be returning to France very soon and full of enthusiasm, having had some great experiences during my time in England. The recent period has been a difficult time, but is something that every sportsman can expect to go through and I am sure I will come out of it stronger and even more focused. I am only 22 and have a long career ahead of me doing a job that I love."

Appleby said: "Mickael and I have enjoyed great success together, but since I took over at Moulton Paddocks I have been given greater freedom to use the best jockeys available and be able to pair them to individual horses. This has meant that Mickael's undisputed skills have been underused in the past few weeks, and it is not right that such talent is squandered. Therefore, I am delighted that the boss has given him this opportunity, which will allow his skills to be showcased once more. I have absolutely no doubt he will flourish with this new move and I am sure he will be riding for us in the future."

Ferguson also offered his praise of Barzalona. "Sheikh Mohammed has always maintained that Mickael Barzalona is a world-class jockey," he said. "He will move back to France where he will continue to ride horses owned by Godolphin and Darley. It will also mean that he is reunited with the man who first uncovered his precocious talent as a teenager, Andre Fabre. Not only is Mickael a naturally gifted sportsman, he is also a true gentleman who has handled a difficult time with the utmost professionalism and true class."

PROGNOSIS GOOD FOR CIRRUS

Trainer Corine Barande-Barbe issued a positive update yesterday on Cirrus des Aigles (Fr) (Even Top {Ire}), who pulled up lame after capturing his sixth Group 1 victory in Saturday's G1 Coronation Cup at Epsom Downs. The conditioner noted that the 8-year-old gelding had returned to his Chantilly base yesterday.

"He's back home, he's had a roll and he seems very happy," Barande-Barbe told PA Sport. "We think it was just a little problem and nothing too serious. He was really lame straight after the race, but was much better very quickly. He has had an X-ray already and there is a small shadow, but on the whole the report is not too bad, which is fantastic. He will have some more X-rays in a few days and we will know more at the end of the week, but he had some medication yesterday. He has not had any since and he seems well this morning."

Cirrus des Aigles
Racing Post

Barande-Barbe was non-committal about immediate targets for her stable star, but said that a long term goal would be the G1 Champion S. at Ascot's Champions Day in October, a race Cirrus des Aigles won in 2011 and has finished second in the last two years.

"It is difficult to say at the moment, but I think I will probably give him one month or six weeks off and look to the autumn," she said. "We have to be careful with him. It is hard to say anything for certain but, if he recovers well, in my opinion we could aim for the Champion S., with maybe one run before, but we really will have to wait and see."

Reflecting on Saturday's victory, Barande-Barbe said: "It was a really great experience and it was just a shame he had the little problem after the race. It was a great day and a great occasion and I was very impressed by the support of the English public."
