TURFWAY CALLS OFF SATURDAY CARD; BEST SEVEN BECOMES BEST FIVE Saturday's live card at Turfway Park was cancelled due to rapidly deteriorating weather conditions. Despite the snow, the Race Book at the Florence, Kentucky track remained open for simulcasting. Racing is expected to resume today with a special Super Bowl Day first post of 12 noon. Because Turfway was to host two legs of yesterday's National Best Seven, the bet became the Best Five. As per Pennsylvania rules, under which the Best Seven is conducted, 100 percent of the net pool was paid out on the 78 winning tickets selecting the five winners of the remaining five races. The total pool yesterday was $74,301; each winning ticket paid $713.70 for a 50-cent bet. The jackpot carryover, $3,910.93, will be held over for next week's Best Seven; there was no consolation or jackpot distribution yesterday.

DRAMATIC GOLD SHARP FOR STRUB Golden Eagle Farm's Dramatic Gold (Slew o'Gold), prepping for next Sunday's $500,000 Strub S. at Santa Anita, worked six furlongs in 1:13 2/5 over the Santa Anita training track yesterday. "He got a little tired at the end, but that's okay," said his trainer, David Hofmans. "He'll work again Thursday, on the main track, providing it's fast." The four-year-old finished second to Wekiva Springs in the first leg of the Strub Series, the GII San Fernando S. January 14.

THE EXETER MAN TO FRANKEL The Exeter man (Capote), fourth at 4-1 in the GI Hollywood Futurity December 18 for trainer Bob Marshall, has been transferred to the Bobby Frankel stable. "It's disappointing, but that's racing," said Marshall, who added that the colt, who bled in the Futurity, was not suffering from any respiratory problems. "The bleeding was caused by a cut," he said. "The horse banged his head on the gate really hard just before the race."

Margins: 3 1/4, 2HF, 3/4. Odds: 1.80, 1.10, 47.30. Also Ran: Gold Miner, Bet Your Bucks, Western Echo, Wild Syn.

California shipper Valid Wager, second to the highly regarded Afternoon Deelites in the GIII Hollywood Prevue Breeders' Cup S. in November, had earned his first stakes victory in the GIII California Juvenile to end his two-year-old campaign. At 9-5 the second choice of the crowd, the Florida-bred colt contested the pace from the break, moving to the lead as the field headed into the far turn and pulling away from the frontrunning favorite Mr. Greeley down the lane to earn his second straight. The bay, who encountered traffic trouble in his first two starts, has not missed a check since breaking his maiden last September. Mr. Greeley bumped with WILD SYN (Wild Again) at the start, rushed up to take the lead, but could not hold off the winner while clearly second best.

Awad is the morning-line favorite in today's featured $50,000 Super Bowl H. at a mile and three-eighths on the grass. The five-year-old comes into the race off a win in a nine-furlong turf allowance January 13. He faces co-highweight Misil, a European import looking for his first U.S. win. The seven-year-old Grade I winner took the GIII Premio Federico Tesio at this distance in Italy; both carry 117 pounds.
