CITADEED HOOKS BELMONT BERTH WITH

PETER PAN VICTORY Citadeed (Shadeed), ninth in the Kentucky Derby in his U.S. debut and his first start beyond seven furlongs, yesterday earned his way back onto the Triple Crown trail with a half-length win in the GII Peter Pan S. at Belmont. Well backed at 6-1, the Kentucky-bred bay broke sharply, dropped back to fifth, then came running down the lane to edge past Pat N Jac (Pentelicus) under jockey Eddie Maple. "He scared me at first when he backed out on Eddie--he dropped back real sharp," said trainer Rick Violette Jr., who took over the colt's conditioning following the Derby. "I wasn't sure if he wanted to run today, but he proved me wrong. I think the fast pace really helped with the outcome." As for the Belmont S., Violette said, "We'll talk it over with the owners and make it definite." The runner-up won't try the mile and a half of the "Test of the Champion," but Treasurer (GB) (Darshaan), another neck back in third, could wheel back in the third leg of the Crown. Said trainer Kieran McLaughlin, "The only thing is if we ran in the Belmont he would have run three times in a month and that's a lot for any horse. He is a big, strong horse; if he bounces back good after this race, I'd have to say he's a strong possibility."

Suave Prospect (Fortunate Prospect), the crowd's 4-5 choice, made a move around the far turn but hung in the drive to finish fifth; trainer Nick Zito said after the race that his colt had bled. "Pat Day said he was moving up but that he never kicked in--now we know why," said Zito. "If this was a Lasix state, he might have won. There's no getting around it--he needs Lasix."

SOUL OF THE MATTER BACK ON TRACK

Soul Of The Matter (Private Terms), sidelined with foot problems since finishing fourth in the '94 Breeders' Cup Classic, worked a half-mile in :51 3/5 on the Hollywood main track yesterday and is likely to run before the meet ends July 24. "He might race here before we leave," said trainer Richard Mandella. "He's doing real well. I just gave him a long rest and he's doing great."

LAUREL MOVES POST TIME Laurel Park will switch to a weekday post time of 3:00 p.m. with seven live races, effective opening day, June 13. Post time will remain at 1:00 p.m. for weekend and holiday cards will 11 live races Saturdays and 10 Sundays.

Also Ran: Hunting Hard, Suave Prospect, Wild Escapade, Fritch, Tymtodyn, Screen Oscar, Guadalcanal.

With a sharp five-furlong work five days ago under his belt, Citadeed was trying two turns for only the second time in his third start of the year. Dropping a quarter-mile and 14 pounds off his ninth-place finish in the Derby, the European import was away from the gate quickly, then settled back in fifth before unleashing a strong stretch drive that earned him the victory under jockey Eddie Maple. Runner-up Pat N Jac, still looking for his first stakes win but on the board against graded company in three of his last four, moved up from just off the honest fractions of Treasurer to take the lead at the top of the lane, but could not hold off the top one. Pat N Jac will skip the Belmont S. and point for a shorter race, but both the first and third-place finishers are probable for the final jewel in the Triple Crown.

Even-money NO SECRETS (Miswaki), a New York-bred trying open company after a pair of impressive scores in state-bred races, set the pace but tired to be fifth. Proving that the old bay mare has fire in her yet, two-time Eclipse winner Paseana took on a favorite half her age and prevailed, rallying four-wide from the back of the pack to catch the crowd's choice, Pirate's Revenge, in the final eighth and draw clear. "She dropped back early, was content to lag, and I let her do it," said jockey Chris McCarron. "She's a smart old mare; she knows this game as well as anybody. I don't think she is the mare she was two years ago, whatever that equates to--one step, two steps or three. But she's still my champion, you can be sure of that."
