MOONAX FACES SIX IN GOLD CUP Moonax (Caerleon), winner of St. Legers in both England and France last autumn, will face a maximum of six opponents when he bids for his third Group 1 prize in Thursday's Gold Cup over two and a half miles at Royal Ascot. The colt returned from a winter spent in Dubai to score an impressive victory in the Yorkshire Cup. "I'm sure he is a better, stronger horse than he was last season and his style of racing is the sort that suggests he will stay the extra distance of the Ascot race," said trainer Barry Hills. France, looking for it's first Gold Cup win since Sagace (Fr) (Luthier {Fr}) in 1977, will be represented by The Little Thief (Ela-Mana-Mou {Ire}). Bred by the late Paul de Moussac, he will try to win beyond two miles for the first time. Other possibilities are Admiral's Well (Sadler's Wells), Double Trigger (Ela-Mana-Mou {Ire}), Old Rouvel (Riverman), The Flying Phantom (Sharrood) and Vintage Crop (Rousillon).

CALDER FULL-CARD EXPERIMENT A "GO" Calder Race Course is ready to move ahead with its plan for an experimental period of full-card simulcasting. The six-day trial will begin Sunday, June 25; Calder handicappers will be able to wager directly into the host track's pools, at the host track's takeout levels. The original plan would have employed net pool pricing, which would have added the 3 percent simulcast fee charged by host tracks to Calder's takeout.

CARDMANIA SHELVED WITH FOOT INJURY Eclipse winner Cardmania (Cox's Ridge) has developed heat in his left front foot and may be forced to sit out the Triple Bend H. June 24. "We're still trying to determine what's causing the heat," said trainer Derek Meredith. "If we can find out what the problem is and get it corrected, he still might run." Winless since his victory in the '93 Breeders' Cup Sprint, the nine-year-old was third in the GIII Los Angeles H. April 28.

Heavenly Prize, last in the four-horse field for a half, went after the free-running longshot Little Buckles as they headed into the far turn, collaring the leader in midstretch and edging clear. "I knew she would finish up good, but she was kind of lagging behind," said trainer Shug McGaughey. "The whole way, I was concerned. She hadn't raced in a while and she worked a little slower than I wanted her to." McGaughey added that the Go for Wand S. at Saratoga July 23 is the next stop for the Eclipse winner. The even-money favorite Sky Beauty suffered her second straight defeat over the track, stalking the pacesetter for three-quarters but lacking a strong late kick. "I just don't know what happened today," said her rider, Mike Smith. "She had nothing at all out there. There seems to be a huge change in her, but I just don't know exactly what it is." Trainer Allen Jerkens surmised, "She just doesn't want to run anymore. But she doesn't indicate that in the morning. That is what puzzles me."

The winner of this race last year, Kiri's Clown became

 Sent to the lead after a half, the Florida-bred never relinquished his advantage thereafter, pulling away in the stretch drive to shatter his own course record for the mile and an eighth by a full second. "He really takes to this course," said jockey Mike Luzzi. "Mr. Johnson had him just super. When he hit the turf course, he had running on his mind." The six-year-old will now be pointed for another try at the GI Sword Dancer at Soviet Problem, away since finishing second by just a head in the Breeders' Cup Sprint last November, came back as the 2-5 favorite and did not disappoint her fans, blazing away from the gate through fractions of :21 1/5 and :44 1/5, opening up by three at the top of the lane and holding off Flying in the Lane in the drive to earn her eighth victory from her last nine starts. A 10-length allowance winner in his first start of the year coming off a 9 1/2-month layoff, Abaginone was sent off the heavy chalk to make it two in a row. Off since finishing fourth to Serena's Song in the GI Santa Anita Oaks March 12, Favored One rated off the leaders to the far turn, then came running from the far outside to take control in deep stretch and draw clear. "When we got to the last eighth of a mile, she fired real nicely," said jockey Alex Solis. "It was a great training job." Added the winning trainer, Mike Puhich, "She's trained great into this race. She does everything so perfect, it's a pretty easy job." The Hollywood Oaks July 9 is next on the agenda "as long as Serena's Song stays away," said Puhich. The favorite, Sleep Easy, stumbled at the start but finished well to get third.

Making his first start since February, the rapid Jahafil sped away from the gate on top and was never headed, holding off the late surge of favored Lit de Justice under jockey Chris McCarron's left-handed urging. With only one start in '94 and a pair of outings earlier this year, it was his first win since taking a stakes at Hollywood in November, 1993.
