LURE TO STAND AT COOLMORE Lure (Danzig), who became the property of Lloyd's of London and Assicuazion Generali after the insurance underwriters settled a fertility claim on the former Claiborne stallion earlier this month, has been sold to Coolmore Stud in a deal overseen by Johnny McKeever, Director of Curragh Bloodstock Agency, and will stand the 1996 season in Ireland. Lure, a two-time Breeders' Cup Mile winner, failed to get over 60 percent of his mares tested in foal this year. Working through Andrew Mead Bloodstock, the underwriters received several sealed bids for the six-year-old on the evening of August 10 and announced yesterday that Coolmore was the successful bidder. Breeders from England, America, Ireland and Japan had expressed interest. Said Christy Grasswick, Manager of Coolmore Stud, "We are happy with the deal we made with the underwriters. We hope that the experts who say Lure will improve are correct; we bought him on that basis. We are bullish about his chances and have commitments from top breeders who are interested in breeding to him next year. His stud fee will be announced at a later date."

GRADED STAKES COMMITTEE ELECTED Elections for the North American Graded Stakes Committee were held Thursday in Saratoga Springs. Owner/breeder G. Watts Humphrey has again been named chairman of the committee; also elected were Josephine Abercrombie of Pin Oak Stud, Gary Biszantz, John Ed Anthony and Russell B. Jones, Jr. Racing secretaries Howard Battle (Saratoga and Keeneland), Chris Evans (Ontario Jockey Club), Frank Gabriel Jr. (Arlington), Lenny Hale (Laurel and Pimlico), Robert Umphrey (Calder and Gulfstream) and Eual Wyatt Jr. (Hollywood); and New York Racing Association Director of Racing Terry Meyocks fill out the board.

Untested in stakes company this year while tasting defeat against allowance foes in each of her three '95 starts, Pretty Discreet now falls into the 'horses for courses' category--her last win came over a sloppy Saratoga surface one year ago. Hustled away from the gate, she settled into an uncontested lead down the backstretch before spurting clear on the final turn and drawing away under a hand ride. "She just loved the mud," said Mike Smith. "She had a great time out there and did it so easy." The even-money choice, GOLDEN BRI (Gold Alert), who defeated Serena's Song in the Coaching Club last out, ran an even sixth. "This filly does not bask in slop," said trainer John Kimmel. "She was slipping all over and just never leveled off."

Also Ran: Foolish Pole, Cold Snap, Page Road, I C Andy.

After bobbling slightly at the start, Hennessy quickly got his feet underneath him to take an early lead, widening his margin at every call to win as he pleased. "This is a nice little horse and we think he'll do some great things for us in the future," said winning owner Robert Lewis, who was in town just two weeks ago to pick up Serena's Song's Haskell trophy. "Monmouth Park is getting to be our favorite home away from home." Trainer D. Wayne Lukas said that the colt would make his next start in the Sept. 13 GII Del Mar Futurity at seven furlongs. "I just wish they could run the Sapling twice a year," said Lukas, who has now won six of the last nine runnings of the race.

TDN Pacific Classic Analysis by Bill Finley

Give Dick Mandella a chance to point a big horse to a big race and he usually gets the job done. Mandella brings Soul of the Matter (Private Terms) into today's Pacific Classic off one prep, which came after an eight-month layoff. Soul of the Matter won that race, the Bel Air H., by a measured length and no doubt Mandella will have him even better today. He should sit second or third behind Slew of Damascus (Slewacide), get the perfect trip and make Burt Bacharach $600,000 richer. Tinners Way (Secretariat) comes into the race off a good showing behind Cigar in the Hollywood Gold Cup, won this race last year and is in the capable hands of Bobby Frankel--impossible to fault.

Bet: $20 Exacta Soul of the Matter--Tinner's Way; $10 Exacta Tinner's Way--Soul of the Matter.

Larrocha (Sadler's Wells), the beaten favorite behind Pure Grain (Polish Precedent) in the Irish Oaks over a rain-softened course at The Curragh last month, will get another crack at her conqueror in the G1 Aston Upton S. at York Wednesday. Trainer Luca Cumani looks for improvement from his filly, who went into the Irish classic unbeaten in two minor events. "I think the problem in the Irish Oaks was that we were asking her to run only the day after she learned to walk," said Cumani. "The ground didn't help her--she had never encountered anything like it--and I think it was all a bit much for her at that stage."
