TRAINERS' BOOKKEEPER INVESTIGATED

Southern California-based trainers Bill Shoemaker and Craig Lewis believe their former bookkeeper embezzled over $215,000, and the claim is being investigated by the Arcadia, California Police Department, according to a story in Tuesday's L.A. Times. Lewis fears he may have been overbilled by as much as $200,000 by bookkeeper Susan Bradley, while Shoemaker guesses he lost about $15,000 through his association with her. "She added workers to the payroll who weren't with me anymore, made up names, and endorsed and cashed the checks," Shoemaker told the paper, "but about two or three months ago she sent me a bill for about $9,000 for helping on the case (Shoemaker's malpractice lawsuit). I called (my lawyer) and he said she wasn't working on the case." Susan Webb, Lewis new bookkeeper, told the Times Lewis became suspicious about six months ago, but believed Bradley was mismanaging, rather than stealing the money. "Craig couldn't figure out where the money was going, especially considering the year he had," Webb told the paper. Bob Anderson of the Arcadia Police Department told the Times they are close to issuing a warrant for her arrest. Lewis said Bradley disappeared after he told police of the missing money in July.

SALLY BAILIE DEAD Sally Bailie, the first female trainer to win a $100,000 and a $200,000 stakes race, died of cancer Monday morning at Winthrop Hospital in Mineola, New York. She was 58. Bailie saddled Win to back-to-back victories in the Bernard Baruch in 1984 and 1985 and came close to defeating John Henry in the 1984 Turf Classic at Belmont. A native of Somerset, England, Bailie was the leading female steeplechase rider in her native country before coming to New York in 1965 as an assistant to trainer Tommy Waller. She went out on her own in 1970 and later became the first woman to saddle a horse in the Japan Cup.

News Continued.AVERAGE AND PERCENT OF HORSES SOLD

DOWN AT DEAUVILLE The cumulative average is down four percent and the percentage of horses sold down 13 percent midway through Agence Francaise's Deauville Yearling Sale in France. Through Tuesday, a total of 215 yearlings had sold for an average of 360,358FF ($71,358), down from 375,514FF ($74,359) after three days of last year's sale. The percentage of horses sold during the first three days is 69.13 percent; 81.34 percent of horses passing through the ring the first three days of last year's sale were sold. There has been suspicion that a number of Japanese buyers would boycott the sale because of the French government's decision to go ahead with nuclear testing in the South Pacific. During Tuesday night's session, 105 yearlings were sold for an average of 178,685FF ($35,383). The top seller of the day was a colt by Kenmare--Light A Star, who sold for $655,000FF ($129,702). The half-brother to Lights Out (Crystal Glitters), a G2SW in France, was consigned by Haras de la Louviere and purchased by J.F. Bernard, agent for Mme. Desmarais.

DEVELOPMENT, FINANCING APPROVED AT

The Grand Prairie City Council was scheduled to approve the bond issue Tuesday night; it must then pass to the Texas attorney general. This Sept. 12, the Texas Racing Commission is scheduled to consider the track's construction plan as well as a proposal to offer simulcasting beginning in June, 1996.
