FLORIDA SET FOR SIMULCASTING? Three hours of meetings between representatives of the majority of South Florida's pari-mutuel venues Friday may have cleared the way for full-card simulcasting in the state. State representative Steve Geller (D-Hallandale) said yesterday, "We had a good dialogue between all the pari-mutuels, and we think we are in a good position to okay a six-month simulcasting experiment. If the Thoroughbred owners and breeders agree to what came out of this meeting, I can get the Secretary (of Business and Professional Regulations, Rick Farrell) to sign the order next week." During Friday's meeting, South Florida's three Thoroughbred tracks, one harness track, two jai-alai frontons and three dog tracks agreed to lift a simulcasting ban so pari-mutuel facilities can take full cards from out-of-state. Facilities, whether they are offering a live program or not, can offer simulcasting during the day and remain open into the night as well. "If we can make this experiment work, we could have one of the best pari-mutuel states in the country," said Calder President Ken Dunn. Details of the proposal are still to be finalized.

DERBY DRAW MOVED TO WEDNESDAY

NIGHT Beginning in 1996, the Kentucky Derby post position draw will be conducted on the Wednesday evening prior to the race. The draw will be held at the Churchill Downs Sports Spectrum, and the new schedule will allow ESPN to broadcast the event live as a 6:00 p.m. lead-in to the network's Sportscenter show. All entries for the Derby Day and Kentucky Oaks Day races will be taken 72 hours in advance; there will be no designated scratch time for either card. Also beginning next year, ESPN and ESPN2 will present 15 hours of live Derby event coverage over four days, May 1-4, with five hours on ESPN and 10 on ESPN2. ESPN, Inc. and Churchill Downs, Inc. have reached a multi-year agreement to provide this expanded coverage leading up to the Kentucky Derby, including the post-position draw, the Oaks, and both preview and wrap-up programming.

WOODWARD S.-GI, $500,000, 3yo/up, 9f

PP	HORSE	TRAINER	JOCKEY	ODDS
1	Golden Larch	Hushion	Migliore	15-1
2	Malthus	Perez	Chavez	8-1
3	Star Standard	Zito	Day	8-1
4	Patsyprospect	Jerkens	Krone	8-1
5	Cigar	Mott	Bailey	2-5
6	Schossberg	England	Penna	5-1

Cigar (Palace Music) will go over the $3 million mark in lifetime earnings with a win in the Woodward, but trainer Bill Mott is not putting much emphasis on the achievement. "By now, Cigar has probably made more than Seattle Slew or Affirmed," said Mott. "With the changing of the times, how much money a horse earns is less relevant than how they performed and who they beat." Indeed, Seattle Slew earned only $1.2 million over his 17-race career, while Affirmed picked up $2.3 million over 29 starts. Patsyprospect (Personal Flag) blew out for the race yesterday, going three furlongs in :38.10.

Kaldounevees (Fr) (Kaldoun), fourth in the GI Arlington Million last out, bled in his U.S. debut and will race with Lasix for the first time today. The four-year-old grey, a G3 winner in France, stretched his legs over the Belmont main track Friday. "He had a little blow out, just two furlongs," said Helen Scorah, assistant to trainer John Hammond. "He did it very well and came back great, in bouncing shape."

CORDERO'S RETURN POSTPONED With a hurricane watch imposed on Puerto Rico, Hall of Fame jockey Angel Cordero Jr.'s return from retirement, which had been scheduled for September 17 at the island's El Comandante Race Track, has been postponed. Hurricane Marilyn has caused the cancellation of Puerto Rican racing for at least the weekend. Cordero is now expected to ride a race for the first time in three years on Sunday, September 24 at El Comandante.

"He seems to relish the Belmont surface in the morning; we'll see how he does in the afternoon," said trainer Neil Drysdale. The four-year-old gelding put in a bullet five-furlong work over the track Tuesday, going the distance in :59 1/5.

6	Cinnamon Sugar (Ire)	Skiffington	Day	6-1

Inside Information (Private Account) breezed an easy three-eighths yesterday in :38.43. A winner in four of five starts this year, the four-year-old almost missed a '95 campaign after suffering an injury to her spine when third at odds-on in last year's GI Mother Goose. After that race, trainer Shug McGaughey said, "She'd be grazing and when she'd lift up her head, her back legs would go into spasms. We brought in a specialist from Ohio State and he diagnosed it as the vertebrae pinching the spinal column. We treated it with DMSO and bute to get the inflammation down, gave her 30 days off, and it worked."

Fresh from victory in a Saratoga allowance and two-for-two over the Belmont oval, Twist Afleet was bet down to 4-5 and ran as her odds suggested, running head-and-head with For All Seasons for a half before sprinting away from that rival to win as much the best. "When I asked her, she just exploded," said jockey Gary Stevens. "I only let her run for 50 yards, then I took her up." The filly will make her next start in the Gallant Bloom S. October 8.

Hall of Fame trainer Jimmy Croll, Jr., 75, is back home and resting comfortably after undergoing surgery to remove his gall bladder earlier this week. The conditioner of last year's Horse of the Year Holy Bull returned home from the hospital Thursday and a check-up with the doctor on Friday proved the trainer is mending well.
