Cobra King, who reeled off a pair of impressive performances before coming up short when fourth in the GII Del Mar Futurity September 13, took a short break before coming back to take the Sunny Slope S. October 25. The dark bay colt shadowed pacesetter MATTY G (Capote) to the top of the lane here, then made his move along the rail to hook 3-5 Hennessy for a spirited stretch duel that earned him yet another victory. "He had excuses why he didn't run his race in the Del Mar Futurity," said winning jockey Chris McCarron. "He was found to be a little sick after the race. I think he made believers out of people today. He showed me that he has class." Trainer Mike Puype said there was a slight chance his runner would stay in California for the GI Hollywood Futurity December 17 before shipping to Florida for the winter; trainer D. Wayne Lukas pegged runner-up Hennessy as a definite for that race.
