PURE GRAIN ON THE MEND Pure Grain (GB)

(Polish Precedent), who sustained a compound cannon-bone fracture while finishing 10th in Sunday's Japan Cup, has made enough progress to give connections hope of saving her for stud. The Michael Stoute-trained filly, winner of this year's Irish and Yorkshire Oaks, is still under veterinary care in Tokyo, but connections were heartened by the latest news of her condition. Stoute said from his Newmarket stables Tuesday, "I spoke to my head lad, Stuart Messenger, this morning and he told me Pure Grain is more comfortable. The filly is better now than when I left Japan and it is encouraging that she's already bearing a little weight on the injured leg. However it is very much a day-by-day process, so it would be wrong to get too bullish at this stage."
