PULPIT SHARP AT GULFSTREAM Drawing a crowd at the Gulfstream Park clockers' stand, G1 Florida Derby favorite Pulpit (A.P. Indy) worked five furlongs in a bullet :59 1/5 yesterday morning. The three-year-old galloped out the three-quarters in 1:13 in preparation for Saturday's mile-and-an-eighth event. "All he needed was some air, to open him up a little bit," said trainer Frank Brothers. "He was a little wound up, but no different than he's ever been. Most horses know when they're going to breeze and get on the muscle." remarking on the much talked-about colt's condition, Brothers said, "Physically, he's getting stronger. I think, both mentally and physically, he's better now. From what I could tell, the Fountain Of Youth didn't take anything out of him. All the tell-tale signs are good." Added jockey Shane Sellers, aboard for the breeze, "You have to throw the stop watch away with this horse. A slow work for him is a fast work for other horses."

GENTLEMEN OUT OF DUBAI WORLD CUP

Trainer Richard Mandella will send only the top two finishers from the G1 Santa Anita H. to Dubai, shipping the Brazilian duo of Siphon (Brz) (Itajara {Brz}) and Sandpit (Brz) (Baynoun {Ire}) for the World Cup March 29. Gentlemen (Arg) (Robin des Pins), third as the favorite in the Big 'Cap, will skip the race. "We were a little disappointed in his last race," said Mandella, "and he did show just a little bit of blood when we scoped him. We'll probably just miss one race--we don't have a big problem. But there's no Lasix in Dubai, and with the stress of the trip we thought it would be better to stay home and be safe rather than traveling half-way around the world with him." The trainer added that his two World Cup runners are right on schedule for their next engagement. "They couldn't be better," he said.

Reigning Horse of the Year Octagonal (NZ) becomes the second-highest earner in Australian racing history, bankrolling a total of $4,028,569 after this latest win. The four-year-old was slowly into his stride and raced at the back of the pack early, but got the run of the race as jockey Shane Dye brought him through the field to catch outsider Gold City and Juggler almost on the line. Gai Waterhouse, who still plans to send Juggler to the Dubai World Cup on March 29, said: "Juggler was going to win and then Octagonal dropped out of the sky!" Super Impose (Aus), with $4,438,016, is now the only Australian runner who has earned more than Octagonal. The winner of nine Group One races will go for his 10th when he contests the Mercedes Classic over a mile and a half at Rosehill on March 22; he may have one more start after that in the G1 Queen Elizabeth S. at Randwick in Sydney on April 12, and will then almost certainly be retired to the Inghams' Woodlands Stud in New South Wales. Dye, who has never been beaten on the horse, said: "I've ridden some good horses--Let's Elope, Super Impose and others--and you can take them all. This is the best." Winning trainer John Hawkes added: "He's been something special for a long time. He's an unbelievable horse and has proven that in more ways than one. When it comes to a fight, he finds what he needs--he's guts personified."

SKIP AWAY ON TRACK FOR OAKLAWN Trainer Sonny Hine sent last year's three-year-old champ Skip Away (Skip Trial) out to breeze five furlongs in 1:00 1/5 at Gulfstream yesterday morning as he gets ready for his next start in the GI Oaklawn Park H. April 5. "He galloped out in 1:13 and change," said Hine. "It was a good work. I had him too sharp for his last couple of races; he was unmanageable in his last race. I'm pleased with this work. He was hard held. When he gets to run every month, he'll be tough." The grey has been second in both starts this year, the GI Donn H. and GI Gulfstream Park H. in his latest outing March 1.

SHAKE-UP ON JERSEY RACING CIRCUIT? According to a report in yesterday's Newark Star-Ledger, Senator Richard Codey (D-Essex) has introduced a proposal which would end live racing at two of New Jersey's five racetracks in hopes of improving the health of the Thoroughbred industry in the state. Codey's plan would close the door on racing at Garden State Park and Atlantic City Racecourse, with those facilities to remain open as off-track betting sites. "Atlantic City has been on life support for years and Garden State isn't far from it," Codey told the Star-Ledger. "This is what needs to be done to save racing in New Jersey." In addition, Codey's plan would revamp the state's racing schedule, calling for a Thoroughbred meet at the Meadowlands from March through Memorial Day, and extending Monmouth Park's meet through the end of October or early November--with an eye toward one day hosting the Breeders' Cup. The harness racing schedule at Freehold Raceway would be unchanged, but the harness dates at the Meadowlands would shift to a June through mid-February meeting.

RACING CANCELED AT SUFFOLK Racing was called off at Suffolk Downs in East Boston, Massachusetts yesterday due to the snow storm which hit the area early Monday morning. Rather than harrowing the snow into the racing surface, which could have made for unsafe conditions later in the week, the maintenance crew sealed the track and plowed the snow off throughout the afternoon. Simulcasting continued as scheduled, and live racing is expected to resume Wednesday with first post set for 12:45 p.m.

A # will distinguish first-time stakes-winners, a @ will indicate first-time graded stakes-winners, a + will denote winners who are first-time starters, an (S) will be used for state-bred races and an (R) will be used for other restricted races.

Millward capped a great day for the Cambridge Stud in New Zealand, which also bred Octagonal, settling on the pace and then sprinting away to a decisive score. But the Defensive Play gelding has not been given much of a chance in the G1 Golden Slipper over six furlongs at Rosehill March 22 by winning rider Darren Beadman. "He's much more a seven-furlong or a mile horse. He's not a Slipper horse," he said. Connections would also have to pay $78,420 to get Millward into the Golden Slipper, as he was not originally nominated. Said trainer Alan Bell, "You wouldn't enter him for the Slipper if you had a look at him, he's such a big stringy-looking thing."

Four-year-old filly Ruffles, racing in blinkers for the first time, gave jockey Shane Dye a Group One "double" when she led from start to finish to pull off a 16-1 surprise in this prestigious Group One event. This was first Group One win for Ruffles, who has now taken eight of her 19 lifetime starts. Max Lees' son Kris said: "Ruffles got further back in last week's Oakleigh Plate than we would have liked and hung all the way. We put the blinkers on her to make her race a little cleaner and it certainly helped. Shane Dye thought it best to lead and you certainly can't argue with him now." Sadly the race was marred by a serious tendon injury to the New Zealand-trained three-year-old colt O'REILLY (NZ) (Last Tycoon {Ire}), the 1-4 favourite, who may be retired.

A decade after his sire Myocard won the Ranvet S., his talented son Arkady repeated the feat in a stirring finish to claim his first Group 1 crown at Rosehill, Sydney Saturday. And, according to trainer John Morish, who celebrated a winning double after Citi Success (Aus) earlier claimed the G3 Star Kingdom S., there's more to come. "He'll go into the Mercedes Classic then the Sydney Cup," a jubilant Morish said. "I've always thought he was a Group 1 horse and now he's proved it." Jockey John Marshall had Arkady (8-1) midfield in the running, then stole a break along the rails and held off the fast-finishing 7-4 favorite Hula Flight by a short head. It was the fourth straight win for Arkady, who has had just 11 starts after being sidelined with leg problems.

Trainer Gai Waterhouse will wait until the dust settles before making up her mind on further autumn targets for brilliant filly Assertive Lass after her Group 1 win at Rosehill, Sydney Saturday. Waterhouse said after Assertive Lass cleared out for an impressive victory that she was weighing whether to run the filly in the one-mile Doncaster H. or train her as a stayer for the 12-furlong AJC Oaks. Big-race jockey Shane Dye believes the Doncaster is the better option than the Oaks. "I think she is a query at the Oaks distance," Dye said. "But Gai she is so good at training horses to do anything, you just never know." Waterhouse described Assertive Lass as "the best mare in Australasia. She has just wonderful acceleration and is a fabulous filly who just keeps on improving," Waterhouse said. Assertive Lass has proven a bargain buy for her group of six owners, costing just under $30,000 at the William Ingles Easter sales. Saturday's win was her seventh from 12 starts and increased her prizemoney to nearly $400,000.

Running Flame (Fr) (Assert {Ire}), a Grade I winner at Hollywood Park last year, is on target to run in Dubai's King's Cup March 21 after winning his prep race last Friday. Reid said: "Running Flame won quite well. I don't think he was entirely suited by the surface, but the two-miles of the King's Cup should be in his favour."
