“HIDDEN” TALENT TAKES GO FOR

WAND She was 8-1 when she captured the GI Shuvee H. in May and 9-2 taking the GI Hempstead H. in June, but the talented Hidden Lake (Quiet American) won't get by the bettors again. The four-year-old was the 3-5 favorite in yesterday's GI Go For Wand S. at Saratoga and picked up her third straight stakes with a game head decision over stablemate Flat Fleet Feet (Afleet). The gallant filly did give her connections a scare as jockey Richie Migliore pulled her up and jumped off soon after the finish of the race. "She was nodding and wobbling from the heat," explained Migliore. Suffering from heat exhaustion, the bay was treated immediately and seemed to have recovered before she was led off the track. "We got ice water and a hose on her," said trainer John Kimmel, who is also a licensed veterinarian. "A quick exam of her legs revealed no serious injury." The victory was Kimmel's second Grade I win of the five-day-old Saratoga meet after saddling Fabulously Fast to an eye-catching score in the GI Test S. Saturday. "You've got to pinch yourself to believe you've won two Grade I's in a weekend," he said. "It's just a real pleasure to be in the business." The trainer added that Hidden Lake had earned herself a rest and would not start again until September.

BLUSHING K.D. IMPROVES Top three-year-old filly Blushing K.D. (Blushing John), who fractured the sesamoids in her left front leg while galloping Saturday morning at Monmouth Park, was holding her own yesterday and trainer Sam David Jr. was optimistic about her future. "With the way she looks and the way she's handling it, I think we're in pretty good shape," he said. "Right now our main concern is keeping the blood supply going to her hoof. We don't believe that any arteries are damaged. I feel a lot better than I did yesterday." Plans right now do not include surgery, but David said the filly would be X-rayed again in about two weeks to assess her progress.

Also Ran: Shoop, Feasibility Study, My Flag, Scenic Point.

Bidding for her third consecutive graded stakes score, Hidden Lake was coming off a victory over top mares Twice The Vice and Jewel Princess in the GI Hempstead H. at Belmont Park June 28. The crowd's odds-on choice broke on top and set the early pace on a clear lead, then was joined by stablemate Flat Fleet Feet and the two battled head-and-head down the Saratoga stretch before the favorite prevailed in a photo. The stretch duel took its toll as the winner had to be treated for heat exhaustion, but she appeared to be okay after getting cooled down with ice water and a cold hose and left the track under her own power. As for the race, trainer John Kimmel said, "Hidden Lake dug down and found something extra. She's a special kind of filly. I thought Flat Fleet Feet was going to win inside the eighth pole." The runner-up, who has never been worse than second in six starts at the Spa, was making her first start at a mile and an eighth. "She was a bit of a question mark going a mile and an eighth around two turns, but she put in a magnificent performance," said Kimmel. "We were originally going to run her back in the Ballerina (at seven furlongs), but she may have earned another program. Hopefully we can map out a program to get her to the big dance."

HASKELL GATE TO CHARITY All of the paid admissions from this year's Buick Haskell Invitational Day, Sunday, August 3 at Monmouth Park, will be donated to charities chosen by the owners of the Haskell starters. "Each of the owners will designate a charity of their choice," explained Hal Handel, Chief Operating Officer for Racing at Monmouth. "The gate receipts will be shared equally with each chosen charity." The track will also donate a portion of the Haskell gate to a charity selected by the connections of injured filly Blushing K.D. "This spring the Triple Crown participants sparked an incredible amount of interest and goodwill for racing," said Handel. "They are truly terrific representatives of the best our sport has to offer. The momentum from the Triple Crown has carried on to races such as the Buick Haskell, and we would like to share the goodwill and generosity that is being generated."

Margins: 3, 2, 1 1/2.

Also ran: Royal Court (Ire), Mongol Warrior, Bad Bertrich Again (Ire). Scratched: Ferrari (Ger).

Under a superb ride from Frankie Dettori, English raider Luso (GB) made it an easy wire-to-wire win in this event. The five-year-old, unner-up in the Gran Premio di Milano on June 15 last time out, led the field at a steady pace in the initial stages of the race, with Wurftaube (Ger) cruising on his outside. At the half-way stage, Luso increased the tempo. The German filly followed suit and tried to get closer, but the pacesetter proved best in the run to the wire and pulled away late to win decisively. Winning trainer Clive Brittain was thrilled with his colt's success and said, "Luso really liked Germany and he will return to challenge for the G1 Grosser Preis von Baden-Baden due to be run on September 7."

Margins: 2 1/4, 4HF, NO. Odds: 0.50, 12.50, 13.40. Also Ran: Bowmore, Zacharov, Sovereign Storm, Annihilate.

Cryptocloser, on the board in eight of nine starts this season, earned his first stakes victory in the June 8 Plate Trial S., winning by 5 3/4 lengths, then finished second as the 6-5 favorite after a rough trip in the first leg of Canada's Triple Crown, the June 29 GIC Queen's Plate S. at Woodbine. The 1-2 favorite with Queen's Plate winner Awsome Again choosing to pass the second race in the series, he stalked the pace while along the rail, angled out turning for home, took the lead with a furlong to go and pulled away late. The final jewel in the Canadian Crown, the GIC Breeders' S. at a mile and a half on the turf, will be held August 17 at Woodbine.

Runup the Colors broke her maiden in her final start at two, then came off a five-month layoff to finish third in an Apr. 10 Keeneland allowance race. Benefiting from that tightener, she picked up three straight allowance victories in May, June and most recently at Belmont Park July 2, winning by an average of 5 1/4 lengths. The favorite making her stakes debut, the dark bay commenced her late run around the far turn, took over in the stretch and edged clear.

Unreal Madness won a July 14 Philadelphia maiden race by three lengths in his only other start and pulled off the upset in this spot. The winner trailed the field of seven early, tried to advance around the far turn but bumped rivals, then found running room in the stretch and closed strongly to win going away. "We were a good 10 lengths off the pace," winning jockey Herb McCauley said. "We didn't plan to get that far back, but when they go :21 1/5 in front of you, you kind of wind up further back than anticipated. I sat chilly till midway around the turn, then I asked him and he responded really well." Winning trainer Ned Allard indicated that the winner will likely run back in the GIII Sapling S. at Monmouth August 16.

War Thief started the season with two straight second-place finishes on the dirt, then returned to the turf to win June 12 and June 28 Churchill allowance races. Most recently fourth in the July 12 Fort Worth H. on the Lone Star grass, the favorite shipped to Chicago, set all the pace and then drew away in the stretch under intermittent urging. "This is a very nice filly," winning jockey Shane Sellers said. "I don't know if she's a top stakes mare on the grass, but when you put her in the right spot and get a halfway decent trip, she's gonna get there if she's good enough. Ladies Nite Out won an Apr. 25 Sam Houston maiden race and then finished fifth in a July 10 Lone Star allowance. Overlooked at the windows stepping up to stakes company, the bay advanced six-wide around the far turn and rallied down the stretch to win going away. "When she ran here before, she got left at the gate," said trainer Tommie Morgan. "She broke a lot better this time. About the three-eighths pole I could see she was closing at a fast pace--I knew if she kept up that pace, she'd get by them." As for what's next, Morgan said, "We'll probably take her to Louisiana and look at our options."

"I sent him early because I didn't know how he would react to getting dirt in his face. From then on, he was just looking around--running green, really. But when (Smithquick) came up and eyeballed him, he took off again. There's no telling how good he's going to be." The gelding will start next in the El Joven S. at Retama Park August 23.

*DIVY IN SEATTLE (Seattle Sun) finished third but was DQ'ed and placed seventh.

Leave A Legacy finished second to Lucky Kitch in a July 11 Lone Star maiden race, but turned the tables in this spot. The winner trailed the field of seven early after being pinched back at the start, but rallied powerfully in the stretch to run down pacesetting Lucky Kitch and give his freshman sire his first stakes winner and third winner overall. "We've liked this horse all summer," said trainer Donnie Von Hemel, who was winning the first edition of the race named for former charge Clever Trevor. "It's unusual for us to run a maiden in a stakes race, but the opportunity was here and we decided to give it a whirl." As for taking the first running of the Clever Trevor, he said, "It was a lot of fun. It's a big honor. When we go home tonight, we'll give Trevor an extra carrot and tell him the story."

Late bloomer First Intent started the year in the claiming ranks but moved up after a win for a $62,500 tag in March. He rallied to win his first-ever stakes, the Gill Potrero Grande Breeders' Cup H., at 17-1 in April, then took an optional claimer in May for his third in a row. Third at 12-1 in the GIII Triple Bend Breeders' Cup H. last out June 29, the old-timer was once again ignored by the handicappers but returned to the winner's circle for the first time since his May score, closing from dead last to get up in the final jumps even after jockey Rene Douglas lost his whip late. "You don't want to rush this horse," said Douglas. "I took my time with him. He's got a big heart and he gave me everything he had."
