SULTRY SONG COLT TOPS OBS WEDNESDAY

Baryshnikov's Song, a bay colt by Sultry Song out of stakes winner Subtle Dancer (Crafty Prospector), brought $125,000 to top Wednesday's third session of the Ocala Breeders' Sales Company's Spring Sale of Two-Year-Olds in Training, held in Ocala, Florida. The colt, consigned by Live Oak Stud and purchased by Johnnan Farm as Hip 601, drilled a quarter mile in :22 3/5 at last Wednesday's Under Tack Show. The day's second highest price of $90,000 was paid for Hip 766, Devilish Love, a bay colt by Diablo--Angel Love (Foreign Power). Devilish Love was consigned by H & H Equine, agent, and purchased by Martin Cherry. "I thought the market held up well today," said OBS Director of Sales Tom Ventura. "If anything, it was a bit stronger toward the end of the session. So far in three days we've sold 44 horses for $50,000 or more compared with 36 for the entire four days last year. Buybacks were down today from a year ago (25 percent in 1999 versus 29 percent in 1998), and we look forward to finishing up strongly tomorrow." The sale's fourth and final session will begin today at 10:30 a.m.

KEEPER HILL RETURNS SUNDAY Last year's GI Kentucky Oaks and GI Las Virgenes S. heroine Keeper Hill (Deputy Minister) will make her 1999 racing debut in Sunday's GI $150,000 Hawthorne H. over 1 1/16-miles at Hollywood Park. In her final outing of 1998, Keeper Hill finished third in the Nov. 7 GI Breeders' Cup Distaff. Trainer Bobby Frankel said that the four-year-old filly's ultimate goal again this year will be the Distaff at Gulfstream Park Nov. 6.

RACING LOSES A LEGEND

By Bill Christine

Charlie Whittingham was already a legend when he became the oldest trainer to win the Kentucky Derby. The "Bald Eagle," who died Tuesday at the age of 86, never cared much for pushing young horses. He had only run twice in the Kentucky Derby before bringing Ferdinand to Churchill Downs in 1986, but he and his equally long-of-tooth jockey Bill Shoemaker marched to the winner's circle after the colt's 2 1/4-length victory.

"If I had known it was this much fun, I would have tried this more often," he said after the race. Three years later he was back with Sunday Silence to break his own record, becoming the oldest horseman to saddle a Derby winner at age 76.

"His standard advice before a race was, 'Don't screw it up, jock,'" said Pat Valenzuela, who was aboard for that win. "He said the same thing before Sunday Silence won the Derby. There was never a horse I rode for Charlie that wasn't ready to run."

Whittingham won 204 stakes at Santa Anita, 222 at Hollywood Park and more than 600 overall. He trained 11 national champions, three of them--Ack Ack, Ferdinand and Sunday Silence--that won Horse of the Year titles.

Lean, fit and bald-headed, he took pride in being an ex-Marine. But that hard-bitten demeanor was only a facade. There was an open-door policy at his barn and during his trips to Churchill Downs for the Derby he would answer even the silliest media questions.

Telling Whittingham how to run his stable was another thing. He had no patience for owners who interfered. The composer Burt Bacharach stopped by his barn one day with the suggestion that one of his slumping horses be wormed.

Whittingham glared. "You haven't had any hits yourself lately," he told Bacharach. "Maybe we ought to worm your piano."

Bacharach quietly retreated.

Whittingham, battling leukemia and deteriorating eyesight that left him with no vision in one eye and only about 40 percent vision in the other, still trained a small band of horses at Santa Anita this year.

According to the Daily Racing Form, he won 2,534 races--almost 25 percent of them stakes--and his horses earned $110,602,295.

"If there was a better trainer that I rode for, I don't know who it would be," Bill Shoemaker said.

"He did it easy, he got a good blow," explained trainer Carl Nafzger. "We got what we wanted out of it. He did everything right." Sellers, looking for his first Kentucky Derby win, was also happy with the move. "He's coming right along and is right where Carl wants him," the jockey said. Elkhorn Stakes Continued.

African Dancer, lightly raced throughout his career, had started only twice since winning last year's Elkhorn, finishing second in both the Louisville H. at Churchill Downs last May 30 and much more recently the GII Pan American H. at Gulfstream March 6. The consistent runner, sent off the even-money chalk here, settled in behind the leaders early while saving ground, split foes nearing the final sixteenth and was hard ridden to the wire to set a new course record. "It wasn't until we were inside the eighth pole that things finally opened up," said winning jockey Jerry Bailey. "When they did, I had enough horse to go through it and get the job done." Bailey has been aboard for each of African Dancer's seven career wins.

champion in the GIII Fair Grounds Oaks March 13 and most recently a fifth-place effort behind Excellent Meeting in the GII Fantasy S. at Oaklawn Park April 2. Dropping into the allowance ranks here, the hot favorite tracked the frontrunners three wide, was bumped by Elaines Reason in the stretch then was carried out by that rival approaching the wire. Elaines Reason finished a head in front, but the order of finish was reversed following a steward's inquiry.

Jerkens Celebrates Birthday With a Win:

Hall of Fame trainer Allen Jerkens entered only one horse on yesterday's card at Aqueduct, but that's all he needed to make a trip to the winner's circle on his 70th birthday. NYRA Racing Secretary Mike Lakow named every race on yesterday's card for a different horse trained by the Hall of Famer and the Jerkens-trained Notoriety won the seventh race--the Beau Purple. "I've been lucky to be so fortunate," Jerkens said. "I have so many good memories. There have been so many good people and so many wonderful horses. I still look forward to the daily routine, especially because I still have some decent horses to look forward to."

The organization affirmed its commitment to enforcing minimum legal wagering ages and gave its support to the dedication of money from state taxes to support responsible wagering awareness, prevention and treatment programs. The TRA will also implement an advertising code of conduct to avoid targeting under-age individuals. The board adopted a policy on account wagering to ensure the same safeguards are in place for account wagering as those at pari-mutuel facilities. Howard Bruno, Frank Deal and William Murphy were elected alternate directors for Garden State, Remington and Thistledown, respectively. Board member William Greely of Keeneland also will serve as the board representative for Turfway.
