VAGUE LOOKS TO MAKE HER CASE

J. Paul Reddam's Vague (Elusive Quality) looks to continue on the road to the GI Kentucky Oaks when she faces a field of 11 in tonight's featured UAE 1000 Guineas at Nad Al Sheba Racecourse. Second to La Chunga in the G3 Albany S. at the Royal Ascot at York meeting last June, she also finished runner-up in the

Vague Andrew Watkins

Listed Star S. at Sandown the following month. Rested off a fourth in the G2 Debutante S. at The Curragh Aug. 7, the bay proved she could transfer her form to the sand, besting Swan Maiden (Swain {Ire}) by 1 1/2 lengths in a Jan. 26 conditions event over 1400 meters. "There's three fillies in the race--one of whom is Vague--who are of the same calibre of any of the previous three winners of the UAE 1000 Guineas," trainer Jeremy Noseda said on his website. "We were delighted with Vague's prep race. The filly seems to be approaching the UAE 1,000 Guineas in tip-top order and goes there with a solid chance." Vague is a granddaughter of G1 French Oaks winner Rescouse (Fr), herself the dam of MGISW Relay. Rock Opera (SAf) (Lecture), a Group 1 winner and undefeated in four starts in South Africa, looms a serious threat should she adapt to main-track racing. A four-year-old on Northern Hemisphere time, the bay returned from a seven-month absence to finish a close third in a 7 1/2-furlong handicap on the turf Jan. 19. Her sire, runner-up in the 1998 Cradle S., is a half brother to Yarn, the dam of Tale of the Cat and granddam of Johannesburg; and to Preach, the dam of Pulpit. Sheikh Hamdan's Deveron (Cozzene) will also be tested over the dirt for the first time. Just a maiden winner from her five career trips to the post, the dark bay finished third in last year's G3 Sweet Solera S. at Newmarket and in the G1 Prix Marcel Boussac at Longchamp Oct. 2. Field--Around The World p8

ROUND POND RETURNS

Fox Hill Farm's Rockport Harbor made a victorious return to the races last weekend and connections will be equally hopeful when Round Pond (Awesome Again) goes postward in today's ninth race at Oaklawn Park. The bay filly is no stranger to this surface, having won three of her four starts last season, including the Honey-bee S. and the GII Fantasy S. The John Servis trainee went on to post a 1 1/2-length victory in the GI Acorn S. in June, but was last seen finishing runner-up in the GII Delaware Oaks July 16. The conditioner is using today's race, a six-furlong money allowance/optional claimer, as a prep for the GIII Azeri Breeders' Cup S. Mar. 11. "The idea was to train her and get her ready for the Azeri, but after her work the other day, I realized she is coming to hand way too fast," Servis told Daily Racing Form." Round Pond worked six furlongs Feb. 5 in 1:13. "Then you have concerns: Am I going to have to hold her on the ground for another month? So this seemed like a good idea and a good spot to get started."

Round Pond Adam Coglianesse

RCI ISSUES WAGERING RULES DRAFT

The Association of Racing Commissioners International, which has taken an increasingly prominent role in pari-mutuel wagering security, has released a draft overhaul of the model rules which govern wagering. Ed Martin, president of RCI, said in a release dated yesterday, that the proposed rules, contained in a 49-page document, would make it easier for the industry to adapt to a changing business model. "We have a responsibility to racing fans to ensure the security and integrity of each and every wager made," Martin said in a statement. "We seek to require each wagering entity to monitor its pools and to participate in a national monitoring system by regulators to investigate potential illegal activity that could cheat the bettors and undermine the participants [of pari-mutuel sports]." NEW KY DRUG PENALTIES DUE TO EXPIRE by Ron Mitchell, courtesy of www.bloodhorse.com.

Officials with the Kentucky Horse Racing Authority were considering their options Wednesday following the failure of a legislative subcommittee to give final approval to new penalties for violations of the state's equine medication rules. The penalties were enacted as part of an emergency regulation that went into effect three months ago and were scheduled to expire Wednesday, Feb. 15. The emergency regulation was subject to legislative review and approval. The regulations were considered Monday by the Administrative Regulation Review Subcommittee, but legislators deferred action on the rules until their March meeting. According to published reports, members of the subcommittee voiced concerns that the regulations do not provide horsemen and veterinarians with sufficient guidance on what would constitute a violation for most therapeutic medications. At issue is what constitutes drug positives when trace amounts of therapeutic medications are detected in post-race tests. In an effort to provide trainers and vets with guidelines aimed at precluding the presence of trace amounts in tests, the state Equine Drug Research Council, an advisory body to the KHRA, last Friday adopted an attachment to the new penalties that include withdrawal times for about 50 therapeutic drugs and threshold levels for nine such drugs. As a result of the matter being deferred Monday, the KHRA was considering Wednesday whether to request Gov. Ernie Fletcher to sign another emergency regulation identical to the one due to expire, or to revert to the regulations as they were previous to the regulatory body's action three months ago. "We are in the process of strategizing what our next move will be," KHRA Executive Director Jim Gallagher said Wednesday. "Either we would have to resubmit another emergency rule for adoption, or it would lapse and we would have to go back to the original regulation." Gallagher said he believed the authority could work through state administrative channels to get the regulation resubmitted for implementation as an emergency regulation.

Always prominent, she forged to the lead inside the sixteenth pole and was all out to hold off even-money Kelly K's Pleasure (Kelly Kip) by a nose. Corinthian, Flashy Bull Breeze for FOY:

A pair of promising sophomore colts have turned in workouts in advance of their upcoming appearance in the GII Fountain of Youth S. at Gulfstream Mar. 4. Centennial Farms' Corinthian (Pulpit), a good-looking allowance winner going nine furlongs Feb. 2, breezed a half-mile in :48 2/5. "He's fine, but it was an easy breeze," the conditioner explained. "He'll get more serious next time." On Tuesday morning, West Point Stable's Flashy Bull (Holy Bull) covered four furlongs in :49 2/5 at Palm Meadows, his first move since finishing fourth to Barbaro in the GIII Holy Bull S. Feb. 4. "It was a great work for him," said trainer Kieran McLaughlin. "He galloped out just the way we wanted and the Fountain of Youth is the next goal." The Holy Bull marked the first start for the gray colt since his runner-up finish to Bluegrass Cat in the GII Remsen S. Nov. 26.

He faded to fourth in the Jan. 21 GIII Aqueduct H., but proved much the best against a softer field here. Rated just off even fractions, Colita drove to the front in the stretch and drew away to win handily.

Arrows Up in January at the Big A:

January was a statistically good month at Aqueduct, where attendance, on-track and total handle all showed increases from 2005. During the month, average daily attendance at the Long Island oval was 3,280, up 5.4 percent while on-track wagering climbed by 22 percent to a daily average of $1,144,498. The total handle on NYRA races only was ahead by 4.8 percent to a daily figure of $8,147,080. Of the top 30 simulcast facilities, no fewer than 27, including the top 16, experienced increases from last year. Only three sites--Gulfstream Park, Los Alamitos, and Lone Star Park--experienced decreases.

Joanies Bella Dies:

Joanies Bella (Mercer Mill--Bello Seniorita, by Northrop), winner of the 2001 GIII Arlington-Washington Lassie S., died following a bout with colic this past Tuesday at the Rood and Riddle Clinic in Lexington. The seven-year-old mare foaled a filly by Pleasantly Perfect four weeks ago. "It's such a shame," commented Dan Martin, who raced the Ohio-bred in partnership with Jerry Ayres. "Her new foal is beautiful. We were getting her ready to be bred to Afleet Alex." Joanies Bella set a track record for 4 1/2 furlongs at Hawthorne in her first career start, concluded her juvenile campaign with four stakes victories and was the champion two-year-old filly of her generation in the Buckeye state. She was also a black-type winner in a pair of starts at three before retiring with earnings of $274,265. Joanies Bella is the dam of a two-year-old colt of this year by Wild Again named Bobbys Holiday, currently in training in Ocala.

The tepid 5-2 favorite was off a bit slowly and found herself at the back of the pack early. The 15,000gns TATDEC weanling was in traffic on the far turn, came out for the drive and finished nicely for a 1 1/4-length victory over Fortunate Event (Event of the Year). Options for Da Stoops:

Trainer Bob Baffert is mulling over his options for Da Stoops (Distorted Humor), the impressive winner of the Sunshine Millions Dash at Santa Anita Jan. 28. Deemed by his conditioner as the "fastest Cal-bred I've ever trained," the bay could ship to Gulfstream Park for the Gil Swale S. Mar. 4, where he would face a group of his peers over seven furlongs. A much more intriguing possibility looms in the form of a trip to the Middle East and a run in the G1 Dubai Golden Shaheen going a straight 1200 meters at Nad Al Sheba Mar. 25. No three-year-old has ever won the $2 million event.

TVG to Expand Coverage from Japan:

Television Games Network (TVG) has announced plans to expand their coverage of weekend racing from Japan, the result of an agreement with the Japan Racing Association, which grants the network exclusive telecast and advance-deposit wagering rights in the U.S. "We are excited to again partner with the Japan Racing Association to present some of the biggest races from Japan," said Tony Allevato, TVG senior vice president and executive producer. "We received tremendous positive feedback on last year's programming and are delighted to be able to expand coverage in 2006. Japanese racing features full fields and some of the greatest horses in the world, as well as breeding lines that include stallions that were born and raced in the U.S." TVG will televise 14 programs, beginning this weekend, when the broadcast will include the February S.

NEWMARKET BANKING ON SPONSOR British banking giant NatWest has signed a three-year deal to sponsor Newmarket's Rowley Mile, the first venue sponsor of Britain's most historic racecourse. As well as title sponsorship, NatWest will have a number of permanent advertising sites at the track, and its logo is to appear on tickets, badges, brochures and the Newmarket Racecourse's website. Racing on the NatWest Rowley Mile begins with the Craven meeting Apr. 18. "Our sponsorship of the Rowley Mile fits well with our aims in championing the way forward in banking, customer focus and entrepreneurial thinking, whilst forging a team-oriented and performance-driven environment," explained NatWest's Mark Andrews, adding, "NatWest has been a client of Newmarket for a number of years and the racecourse's positive attitude, approach and professionalism have enabled us to maximise the potential from all of the events we have held with them."

MAKE MINE A MONTJEU Goffs' February Mixed Sale resumed yesterday with yearlings the order of the day, and it took €250,000 to secure the session highlight, a Montjeu (Ire) colt bound for Timmy Hyde's Camas Park Stud. Consigned by Kildaragh Stud as hip 333, the German-bred bay is out of Flamingo Sea (Woodman), a half-sister to the German champion three-year-old filly of 1999, Flamingo Road (Ger). Collegelands Stud's hip 371, a King's Best half-brother to GII Nearctic H. winner Steel Light, was the only other offering to break the six-figure barrier, going the way of Epona Management for €110,000. Selling continues at 10 a.m. today. After the remaining yearlings have been sold, the focus switches to breeding stock for the afternoon session.

Business (Aus) (Success Express) selling for A$210,000. Sydney-based bloodstock agent Kieran Moore, who signed the ticket for Monday's session topper, was also responsible for the record yearling. "She's an extremely attractive filly," Moore said. "She was a nice type and comes from a great running family." Out of Cold Fusion (Aus), the yearling is a full sister to Group 3 winner Hot Shot Brother (Aus) and to listed winner Cool Business (Aus). Moore has already had success with the family. "We've got the first foal, a two-year-old from Cool Business, and he won a trial in Melbourne this morning," the agent explained. The yearling is also from the family of Melbourne Cup winner Rogan Josh (Aus). The previous Perth Yearling Sale record of A$200,000 was matched during Monday's first session of the auction by a filly by Hunter Valley-based sire General Nediym (Aus). Through two days of business, 287 horses have sold for a total of A$11,162,000. The $38,892 average is up 24 percent from a year ago. After taking the day off today, the sale's final session begins Friday at 1 p.m.
