DUO SWELL DIANE FIELD

Jean-Louis Bouchard's Grande Melody (Ire) (Grand Lodge) and Nelson Radwan's Keladora (Crafty Prospector) were yesterday supplemented for Sunday's G1 Prix de Diane Hermes (French Oaks) at Chantilly at a cost of €48,000 each. While the former was only third in the Listed Prix de la Seine at Longchamp May 14, trainer Pascal Bary expects better things from the lightly raced filly. "Grande Melody made an excellent winning debut in April and then ran much too free when third in the Prix de la Seine at Longchamp," he told the Racing Post. "She is in good shape." The inclusion of Keladora, who was second in the G1 Grand Criterium de Bordeaux in October and third in the Listed Criterium du Languedoc at Toulouse the following month, provides trainer Jean-Claude Rouget with a strong hand in the 1 5/16-mile Classic, for which 16 stood their ground yesterday. Rouget also has Radwan's G1 Prix Saint-Alary heroine Germance (Silver Hawk) and Joseph Allen's G3 Prix Vanteaux scorer Danzon (Royal Academy).

BARBARO CONTINUES TO IMPROVE; NEW BOLTON CENTER RECEIVES $13.5 MILLION

The George D. Widener Hospital for Large Animals at the University of Pennsylvania School of Veterinary Medicine's New Bolton Center, the current home of GI Kentucky Derby hero Barbaro (Dynaformer), was presented with a check of $13.5 million for new medical facilities by Pennsylvania Governor Ed Rendell yesterday. "This money is an investment in Pennsylvania's ability to treat animals from across the country, and to provide top-notch educational opportunities so Pennsylvania's veterinary students will have the chance to become the best and compete in the global marketplace," Governor Rendell commented. According to Barbaro's medical team, the sophomore continues to improve and is doing extremely well. "I visited Barbaro today, and I can tell you he is in the best hands here," Rendell continued. "The New Bolton Center provides round-the-clock care and world-class facilities."

(Holy Bull) and Steppenwolf (Aptitude) all went out for routine exercise yesterday morning at a rainy Belmont Park while High Finance (Talk is Money) jogged at the Big A. Jazil, who dead-headed for fourth in the GI Kentucky Derby, jogged 1 1/2 miles. "Everything's great," trainer Kiaran McLauglin said. "I'd like to gallop him tomorrow, but we'll see how the track is."

We're happy with him if he just gets to jog tomorrow." GI Preakness third-place finisher Hemingway's Key jogged and stood in the starting gate Thursday morning. "He looks good," trainer Nick Zito commented. "I'm sure he won't be relaxed Saturday, but I hope he will be. He's kind of a high-strung horse, but he's a beautiful horse." Deputy Glitters hasn't handled off tracks in the past, finishing sixth in the GI Champagne S. and the GI Wood Memorial S. "In the morning he trains fine over a wet track, but that's much different than running a race," trainer Tom Albertrani said.

GRADED STAKES NOTE

The Sands Point S., run at Belmont Park on June 3, was automatically downgraded after it was taken off the turf. After review, the American Graded Stakes Committee has reinstated its Grade III status.

The winner of the race, Wait a While (Maria's Mon), should be credited with a Grade III win, while runner-up Diamond Spirit (Holy Bull) and third-place finisher Hostess (Chester House) should be credited with Grade III placings.

AVIOLI NAMED INTERIM CEO FOR NTRA, BC

Gregory C. Avioli has been appointed interim Chief Executive Officer of the National Thoroughbred Racing Association and Breeders' Cup Limited during a joint Board meeting yesterday, according to a press release. Avioli, currently the Chief Operating Officer and interim Chief Financial Officer of both organizations, will assume his new duties July 1. "This is an exciting time for both organizations," Avioli said. "We have just completed an intensive, six-month process of educating the new Breeders' Cup Board on the broad array of NTRA programs and existing business relationships. There is a lot of work that remains to be done, but I think we are well positioned for the future. Those priorities include fully leveraging our new partnership with ESPN, growing the Breeders' Cup as a global wagering product and brand, protecting and expanding our industry's business and political interests in Washington and addressing important integrity issues that are vital to our future." Current NTRA Commissioner and CEO and Breeders' Cup President D.G. Van Clief, Jr., who had announced in April that he would be stepping down from his NTRA and Breeders' Cup positions sometime during 2006, will assume the role of Chairman Emeritus to both Boards. In that capacity, he will work with senior management and the Boards on issues related to corporate strategy and future planning.

ANTI-SLAUGHTER BILL GETS SUPPORT Trainer Nick Zito, Stone Farm's Arthur Hancock and Gretchen Jackson, owner of Kentucky Derby winner Barbaro, joined with Chris Heyde, legislative representative of the National Horse Protection Coalition, spoke during a teleconference yesterday to show their support for the American Horse Slaughter Prevention Act. The bill, HR 503, seeks to prohibit the shipping, transporting, moving, delivering, receiving, possessing, selling or donation of horses and other equines to be slaughtered for human consumption or other purposes. Jackson, who began by issuing an upbeat bulletin on Barbaro's recovery from surgery, said, "I believe that if you breed a horse, you're responsible to care for that horse. That means seeing that it's fed. That's it warm. That it's not in pain. All those conditions that I mentioned are conditions we can control as human beings and that is the reason I am so supportive of the anti-slaughter bill." Jackson added that she and her husband have eight of their retired racehorses turned out at their farm in Pennsylvania. Hancock, who is the breeder of three Kentucky Derby winners, admitted to selling horses without knowing where they would end up before having an 'epiphany.' "I'm for outlawing slaughter because I feel it's cruel and inhumane," Hancock said. "Horses are not bred for the food chain. They are companion animals. Slaughter is a horribly degrading ruthless process and not necessary." Zito, who will saddle Hemingway's Key in tomorrow's GI Belmont S., also added his support for the anti-slaughter measure. "I think the outpouring of support for Barbaro shows you that people don't believe in it," Zito said. Cont. p2

"It's no good for our country to have this thing and I hope they realize this in Congress, because it just doesn't make sense. The horse is a gift from God and it would be a shame if they didn't do something about it." Asked about bringing the issue, which has been stalled in Congress, to the attention of the public, Zito said, "If you can't debate it in Congress, why don't you come out and tell the American people exactly what you think--have public debate. That's what this country is about. It would be nice if they do come out and debate it--show me how this could be a good thing." HR 503 is currently in the Energy and Commerce Committee.

The longest shot in this field of seven, the bay set a strong early pace and carried a clear advantage into the stretch. Challenged at the furlong grounds by favored Gold and Roses, he repulsed that bid and was going away late.

Bosskiri reeled off four victories, culminating in the Lady Angela S. last May, to begin her career, but was sidelined following a fifth in the Woodbine Oaks a year ago. The bay filly resurfaced Apr. 2 with a third in a local allowance and followed that with a ninth in the GIII Whimsical S. Apr. 16. Sent off as the third choice in this softer spot, Bosskiri forced the issue from the start and got the better of her rivals late for her second stakes victory.

Changes at Thoroughbred Club of America:

The Thoroughbred Club of America has announced Charles Nuckols III has had his term extended as the organization's president, according to a press release. The board of directors voted to amend the by-laws in order to extend the term to two years. "A number of past presidents believe the president could be more effective with the opportunity to serve longer," Nuckols explained. "With a one-year term, you have so little time once you've gone through the inevitable learning process." Michael Barnett was elected vice president, and will succeed Nuckols as president when his term ends, according to the by-laws of the organization. Elected to three-year terms on the TCA board of directors were Clifford Barry, Julia Offutt Cauthen, and William S. Evans III; Harvie Wilkinson was appointed as Sergeant at Arms. They join directors Edward L. Bowen, Dr. Nancy Cole, Tom Hammond, Ed Saunier; and Mike Akers, Secretary-Treasurer.

DECO OPTIONS OPEN

Evelyn Hankinson's G3 Dee S. scorer Art Deco (Ire) (Peintre Celebre) has a range of options following his fourth placing in Sunday's G1 Prix du Jockey-Club. Conditioner Charles Egerton was not committing to the June 24 G2 King Edward VII S. at Royal Ascot yesterday, citing the ground as a factor in the colt's participation. "He'll step up to a mile and a half, but I wouldn't want to run him on ground as fast as that at Chantilly too many times," Egerton said. "Ascot depends on the weather, and although they'll water well, I'm going to see how he is as there's every chance it will come too soon. His other alternatives are the G1 Deutsches Derby [at Hamburg July 23] and G1 Grand Prix de Paris [at Longchamp July 14]--I'd like to give him another run against his own age group."

SUMMER MILE INAUGURATED

Lingfield's first group race run on Polytrack, the Silver Trophy, has been re-named the G3 Ladbrokes Summer Mile July 15. The replacement Ascot race has seen its purse doubled to £100,000 for 2006, after which it will return to its Berkshire venue.

Quito is defying all odds at the ripe age of nine and pulled out another sterling performance to book his ticket to the G1 Golden Jubilee S. at Royal Ascot June 24. Since his turnaround in fortunes toward the end of the 2004 season, the rig has not looked back, winning four listed events and placing in nine others, most recently when a fast-finishing second in the G2 Duke of York S. at York May 17. As usual, the anchor was down early as his regular pilot Tony Culhane chose to look on in last. Angled wide for his rally in the straight, he rolled to the long-time leader New Seeker in the final 50 yards and, despite edging into that rival there, was the snug winner at the line. Cont.

"They went a good gallop and he's never been so settled in a seven-furlong race," Culhane explained. I'm not going to say he'll win the Golden Jubilee, but he likes six furlongs when they go flat out, will love the track and he'll hold his own against them."

REDOUTE'S CHOICE WEANLINGS TOP MM

OPENER A pair of colts by Redoute's Choice (Aus) attracted final bids of A$650,000 to top yesterday's opening session of the Magic Millions National Weanling Sale on the Gold Coast. Prominent Korean businessman Dong-Gu Kang, operating under the banner of Magic Classic Pty Ltd., was first to flash the near-record bid to secure a son of Arrowfield Stud's red hot sire from the draft of Neville Stewart's Oaklands Stud. The weanling is out of Closure (Alysheba) and is a half brother to U.S. stakes winner Salute

Lot 838 Magic Millions

Him. "Dong-Gu loved the colt when he first laid eyes on him and he will most likely retain him to race here in Australia with other members of his syndicate, and hopefully win some good races and retire him to stud," said Magic Millions Managing Director David Chester. Chester added Kang is currently in the process of applying for Australian residency. Also bringing A$650,000 at yesterday's session was a colt by Redoute's Choice out of Mascara Magic (Citidancer). A supplementary entry to the sale from the consignment of Kitchwin Hill, agent, the colt was purchased by New Zealand stud manager Mark Chitty. Chitty, who signed the ticket on behalf of Haunui Farm, outlasted South African agent Andy Williams of World Wide Bloodstock. "He's a cracker," Chittick said of the weanling. "We've been associated for many years with Kitchwin Hills and [stud manager] Mick [Malone] told us a few weeks back the colt would be heading to this sale. Taking into account he didn't have a full sale preparation we thought he was an outstanding colt who would furnish into an outstanding yearling." A colt by Rock of Gibraltar (Ire) sold at last year's auction holds the sale record of A$660,000. During yesterday's session, 158 weanlings sold for A$6,163,300. The first day average rose 68.6 percent from a year ago to A$39,008. The second session of the three-day weanling sale gets underway today at 11 a.m. QLD.
