CO-TOPPERS AT CALMER KEESEP

A colt by the commercially successful Unbridled's Song and a filly by Petionville each elicited bids of $900,000 to top yesterday's third day of bidding at the Keeneland September Yearling Sale in Lexington. First to go through the ring was hip 656, a full sister to multiple Grade II winner and twice Grade I-placed Runway Model, who was knocked down to John Ferguson. The bay filly was consigned to the sale by Pope McLean's Crestwood Farm, as agent for Jeffrey Nielsen. Crestwood is home to Petionville, who was campaigned by Nielsen's Everest Stables Inc. to wins in the 1995 GII Ohio Derby on the main track and in the GIII LaJolla H. on the turf. "She's quite a filly," McLean commented. "She's actually a lot better looking than [Runway Model], who won the Alcibiades. She's really a lovely filly." He continued, "We knew she was popular. There were a lot of people that looked at her that fell in love with her. She is very athletic and had a presence to her."

Nielsen, also the owner of the talented Island Fashion, acquired the yearling's dam Ticket to Houston for $425,000 at the 2000 Keeneland November sale, and attempted to resell her two years later, but bought her back for $150,000. That proved a fortuitous development when Runway Model won the GII Darley Alcibiades S. and the GIII Golden Rod S. and was third in the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies in 2004. Nielsen was rewarded at last year's November sale when Jess Jackson went to $2 million for the mare, who was in foal to Storm Cat. She is the dam of a filly by the Overbrook stallion and is reportedly in foal to Ghostzapper, a sire in whom Jackson owns a large interest. Tim Kegel, bidding for a partnership he did not wish to identify, matched that top bid when he signed the ticket on hip 787. The attractive gray colt was consigned by Peter O'Callaghan's Woods Edge Farm, which paid $285,000 for the colt as a weanling at last year's November sale. Kegel also signed the ticket on a colt by Unbridled's Song--Oath, now named Honest Man, for $700,000 at last year's September sale, also for a partnership he chose not to identify. Cont. p2

Live Oak Jumps Into the Fray...

Charlotte Weber's Live Oak Plantation has had a banner year at the races, with stakes successes from the likes of Miesque's Approval, Revved Up, My Typhoon (Ire) and Hide and Chic. Farm manager John Rasmussen found himself in the role of a spectator over the course of the first two days of the sale, given the plethora of multi-million-dollar bids. But he finally was able to do more than dip a toe in the water yesterday, going to $725,000 for a filly by first-crop sire sensation Vindication out of GSW Chimichurri (Elusive Quality). "We like the fact that she has a very strong family," said Rasmussen, adding that Live Oak was the underbidder on Chimichurri in 2003. "She's athletic enough and we hope she will have a place in our racing stable. We're looking for great athletes and she fits that program. She looks like she might be an early filly and might have some speed to her. She might be a good two-year-old and she's one of the better physicals we've seen." Consigned by the Taylor Made Sales Agency, who is listed as the filly's co-breeder alongside Ken Luke's Eldon Farm Equine, the dark bay is the first foal produced by Chimichurri, winner of the GIII Tempted S. at two and runner-up in the 2003 GI Prioress S. Sent through that year's Keeneland November Sale as a racing or broodmare prospect, Chimichurri was knocked down for $675,000 to Eldon Farm. After producing this filly, she was bred in early 2005 and was returned to last year's November sale. Stonestreet Mares, the broodmare division of Jess Jackson's Stonestreet Stable, paid $2.1 million for the mare, who is the dam of a weanling filly by Unbridled's Song. "I'd been following [Chimichurri] since she was on the race-track and I liked the way she looked," said Eldon advisor Debbie Easter. "The Taylor Made guys were great and put something together and it turned out to be a great partnership. We thought Vindication would be a nice mate, that it would give the mare a little bit of stretch and it kind of did."

Sheikh Hamdan Not Done Yet...

Bidding on behalf of Sheikh Hamdan's Shadwell Estate Co. Ltd., Rick Nichols went to $600,000 for hip 732, a Dromoland Farm-consigned son of Forest Wildcat. The Apr. 9 foal was bred by Edward and Marilyn Seltzer, who purchased the colt's dam, Beyond the Sun (Kingmambo), for $110,000 as a Keeneland July yearling. Retired to stud in 2002, the mare was first bred to Old Trieste and the result was Carnera, a $550,000 graduate of this sale in 2004. Now campaigned by Sheikh Mohammed's Darley Stable, the dark bay was a winner of the A In Sociology S. at Saratoga Aug. 5 and was most recently runner-up to Brilliant in the Gill Kent Breeders' Cup S. at Delaware Sept. 9. "This colt was always special. He's got that look and his half-brother is certainly doing a fabulous job," Marilyn Seltzer commented. "He's in good hands and I know they'll do right by him. It's a beautiful family." Nichols is hopeful that Sheikh Hamdan can benefit from the family in the same way Sheikh Mohammed has. "We've had quite a run over the last few days, and this is another really nice colt," Nichols commented. "Carnera is turning into a really decent horse and we thought we'd take a shot." Nichols also reflected on the successes of 2006. "It's been a fantastic year," he commented. "We've got such a small stable in America [40 horses in training] compared to what we have in England, and to reach this level with Jazil and Invasor (Arg), it's been really fantastic." The colt will eventually go into training with Kieran McLaughlin, who also conditions Carnera.

What They're Saying At The Sales...

Brereton C. Jones, whose Book 2 consignment consists primarily of yearlings by stallions in the $10-20,000 range:

"I've always played the same game. I've never played at the top of the market. I've always tried to play where people can make money buying your horse, if it's a nice one. And that's worked for me very well. Our farm's been in the black for a long, long time."

John Stuart of Bluegrass Thoroughbred Services, on setting unrealistically high reserves in a bull market:

"It's easy to do that. It depends on your philosophy. Ours is basically to be pretty conservative. We usually set the reserve at what we think is about 60 percent of the value of the horse, and well, you hope you don't miss by 40 percent. But all of ours except one sold for well over their reserve. There weren't any that were in there for $149,000 that sold for $150,000. They all seemed to sell for about 40 percent more than the reserve. So we were pretty close on most of them."

Slow to Start, Fast to Finish...

In spite of a somewhat sluggish start to day three of the sale, the market remained buoyant. The session average of $182,170 represented a 2.2-percent bump versus the corresponding session from a year ago. Although session three lacked a million-dollar horse unlike last year and despite just eight horses crossing the $500,000 mark--as compared to 11 last year--the heart of the book 2 market remained healthy, as the session median posted a gain of 15.4 percent. "I thought it started a little slower than I anticipated, but it's exactly where I thought book 2 would be," said Keeneland Director of Sales Geoffrey Russell. "There's always a little transition between book 1 and book 2. It usually takes a couple of hip numbers for the consignors to remember they're in book 2. Once that kind of got on track, I thought it was good day." Russell expressed his satisfaction in the depth of the buying bench. "We want the median to be as high and as strong in every session because that means the money is spread around," he said. "That's the statistic that we look to a lot."

Pinhookers Make Their Presence Felt...

While there were a few notable purchases by two-year-old consigners during the sale's first two sessions, most notably a Storm Cat colt that Hoby and Layna Kight picked up for $1 million, Florida pinhookers showed up in earnest during yesterday's third session. The names of Becky Thomas, Ricky Leppala, Don Graham, Nick de Meric, Maurice Miller, Hartley/De Renzo, Mike Ryan and Leprechaun Racing could be found on the results sheets, with several of their purchases going well into six figures. The activity of the juvenile pinhookers during the first three days of the sale, especially yesterday, can be seen as a reflection of the skyrocketing two-year-old market, which last year produced records galore, including the world-record $16-million The Green Monkey. That one was a $425,000 Fasig-Tipton July pinhook for Hartley/De Renzo Thoroughbreds. Randy Hartley and Dean De Renzo made two purchases yesterday, hip 639, a Mineshaft filly knocked down for $400,000; and hip 668, a Vindication colt that went for $450,000. Juvenile pinhookers, including Randy Hartley, said it is becoming increasingly important to head back to Ocala with not only a top physical specimen, but one with a deep page, as well. "If you don't get something bought through Book 2, it makes it really tough to find something with pedigree in the later books," said Hartley. "The Green Monkey was one of the highest-priced pinhooks last spring, but he's going to be nowhere near the highest next year. Everyone's trying to find the big horse. I think the market's so crazy, and everyone gets wrapped up in it. Maurice Miller's bought a couple high-priced horses, we've bought a couple for around $400,000." Don Graham, who has purchased four horses for a total of $530,000 through the first three days, agreed. "The market demands that you buy a little bit nicer baby for the select sales," he said. "You're forced to pick it up a little bit, as much as you hate to. But we're doing well, and people want better horses [at the two-year-old sales]. If you don't have them, you'll be in a gun fight with a knife."

Ryan Hits Early and Often...

Sheikh Mohammed, Sheikh Hamdan...Mike Ryan? At the end of selling on day two, Ryan's name, somewhat surprisingly, was third on the leading buyers list with 25 horses bought for $10,825,000. The Irish-bred, Kentucky-based bloodstock agent's buying spree during Book 1 was in no danger of threatening the $56,885,000 that John Ferguson had spent on Sheikh Mohammed's behalf, but wasn't too far off from Shadwell's $15,075,000 (for 25 horses), and ahead of Coolmore ($8,825,000 on eight horses) and Zayat Stables ($8,110,000 on seven horses). While most of Ryan's purchases during the sale's two select sessions were in the $300,000 to $500,000 range, he also flexed some buying power when landing hip 434, a Giant's Causeway half-brother to last year's champion grass horse Leroidesanimaux (Brz). Ryan, as agent, signed the ticket for $2.6 million for the handsome chestnut. Ryan said the majority of those Book 1 purchases were for an end-user buyer and that the horses would stay in the U.S. to race. Though his activity during the first two days of the sale was higher than normal, Ryan has been a major buyer at Keeneland for some time. Last year, he wound up third on the overall buyer's list by gross, purchasing 67 horses for $12,297,000 ($183,537 average). Many of his purchases go on to be pinhooked at the two-year-old sales with partner Niall Brennan. Yesterday, Ryan was again a major factor in the Keeneland sales pavilion, leading all buyers with 14 purchases for $3,360,000. Through the first three days of the sale, he has purchased 39 horses for $14,185,000.

Not So Hidden...

One of the big stories of the 2006 Keeneland September sale has been the success of small consignors. Tuesday's top three horses, which combined to gross $26.1 million, were all brought to the market by consignors that operate a bit below the radar. As Keeneland pushes on through Book 2, several other small consignors are optimistic that the theme will continue, including Hidden Brook, which consigned four horses during the select sessions and returned with seven offerings for Book 2. "The three top lots were sold by small consignors, and that's great for me, because I am a small consignor," said Hidden Brook's Sergio de Sousa. "It just shows that if you've got the horse, the buyers come and find them. With Indian Creek and Monticule and all those guys, it shows that the horses make us look good, not the other way around. I was very happy for them. Especially with people that are new to the business, they say, 'Oh, I'd like to go to someone bigger,' but that's not the game. You've got to have a good horse." De Sousa thinks he has a few of those good horses in his consignment, including hip 1112, a chestnut colt by promising young sire Johannesburg that sells today. "He's out of a Silver Hawk mare, and so far he's been very popular with the Europeans," said de Sousa. "But there have been a lot of American buyers who have looked at him, too." Hip 1112 is out of the unraced Ball Gown, who has produced Palomar (Chester House), graded stakes placed in France, and Hayhaat (Irish River {Fr}), stakes placed in that country. While de Sousa is hopeful that the strength of the sale's first two days will carry on through the rest of the 14-day event, he isn't convinced that the select sessions represent a true barometer for the rest of the market. "You can't really read between the lines during the first two days," he said. "There are horses that hit the numbers they did for different reasons. Buyers really wanted them and they had the money. But honestly, I thought there were some spots where it was a little soft. We sold all of ours, but I thought a couple of them would have done a little better. For a nice individual, though, the market continues to be strong."

All in the Family...

www.rrracing.com

Tucked away in barn 42, one of the furthest from the action in the Keeneland sales pavilion, is the small three-horse consignment of Nuckols Farm, a Midway operation that prides itself on its hands-on approach and especially for raising the majority of what it sells. Fittingly, all three yearlings in the Nuckols Farm Book 2 consignment are by the popular stallion Distorted Humor, who as a youngster was raised at Nuckols Farm and who went on to win four graded stakes for their main client, Russell L. Reineman. Through an agreement with Reineman, who died in 2004, Charles Nuckol, Jr. & Sons was listed as the breeder of all of Reineman's horses, Distorted Humor included. Charles Nuckols Jr. passed away just about a year ago, and his son, also Charles, is carrying on the torch at the Keeneland sale. During a lull in activity around his own consignment yesterday, Nuckols quietly watched his neighbors show their horses and explained that those in his own consignment have a history at Nuckols Farm that began far before they were born in the spring of 2005. "Most everything on the catalog page, we raised," said Nuckols. "They were bred at the farm, raised at the farm. Not like a lot of these places, where they don't know where the horses come from." Included in the Nuckols consignment is hip 1077, a full-brother to two of Distorted Humor's stakes winners, Humor at Last and Original Spin. The latter completed the trifecta in last year's GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies and recently was runner-up in the GI Test S. at Saratoga. Despite being a bit off the beaten path, both figuratively in the size of his draft and literally in its locale, Nuckols said he was confident coming into today. "In a way it is hard being smaller, but if you've got the right horse people are going to find them anyways," he said. "Especially with these being by Distorted Humor, and the year he's having. The action has been great; all the right people have come."

Consignor John Stuart said the filly has developed since into a top physical. "I really think she's the best Street Cry I've ever seen," he said. "Not that I've seen that many, but I've seen dozens of them. She's a good one."

Hip 1005, c, Distorted Humor--Sewing Lady, by Key to the Mint

Consigned by Brookdale Sales, agent for Lanark Farm B-Lucy G. Bassett (KY)

A handsome bay colt, this Mar. 28 foal is a half-brother to Adoration, whose eight wins included the 2003 GI Breeders' Cup Distaff. In a career that saw her bank over $2 million, Adoration also won the GI Santa Margarita Invitational H. and four other graded events. "He's a Classic-type horse, the kind that people will be looking for in the spring of 2008," consignor Joe Seitz said about hip 1005, who is also a half to GSP Mo Mon (Maria's Mon).

Hip 1111, f, Point Given--Autumn Moon, by Mr. Prospector

Consigned by Monticule LLC B-Monticule (KY)

Still riding high with the sale of its Danzig/Sharp Minister homebred for $9.2 million on Tuesday, Monticule returns with another homebred here. This filly was produced by a full-sister to MG1SW Lycius and GSW & MG1SP Tereshkova, and a half to GSW Akabir (Riverman). A half-brother to 1111, Suteki Shinsukekun (Danzig), won the G3-JRA Keisei Hai Autumn H. over the weekend.

Hip 1115, c, Deputy Minister--Bay Barrister, by Miswaki

Consigned by Mulholland Springs B-John R & Martha Jane Mulholland (KY)

Bay Barrister was purchased by John and Martha Jane Mulholland for $72,000 out of the 1992 Keeneland September sale and went on to become a stakes-winner of over $100,000. This colt's full-sister, Miss Barrister, sold for $350,000 at last year's Keeneland September sale. Of hip 1115, Martha Jane Mulholland said, "He's very correct and has a beautiful body--a good-moving, sound horse that has been very good in all his vet work. I would think with the last opportunity to buy one by the great Deputy Minister, that everyone would be looking for them. And with [Sept. 9 GI Man o' War S. runner-up] Go Deputy running so well right now, it shows that he's still producing very good, top-flight race horses."

NANNINA KEEPS CORONATION CROWN

Cheveley Park's Nannina (GB) (Medicean {GB}) has been confirmed the winner of the G1 Coronation S. after a second urine sample showed no trace of a prohibited substance. The three-year-old had apparently tested positive shortly after her victory in the June 23 Royal Ascot contest, and a B sample was ordered by the Horseracing Regulatory Authority. The HRA's Public Relations Manager Paul Struthers revealed the development yesterday. "I can confirm that we received the result of the analysis of Nannina's B sample [Tuesday] from the French laboratory where it was sent for counter analysis," he said. "The sample has returned negative and the prize money [£152,170] will be released to connections. The HRA's Counter Analysis Advisory Committee will now try to establish why there is a discrepancy in the results of the A and B samples. It is standard HRA policy not to discuss individual samples until after a positive B test. However, we have done so in this case as the positive A sample, whilst never confirmed by the HRA, had managed to get into the public domain." According to Racing Post, trainer John Gosden said that although the filly had been treated for mucus in the lungs, the proper withdrawal procedures had been followed. With the second sample returning a negative result, Nannina retains her second Group 1 win, following her defeat of Alexandrova (Ire) in the G1 Meon Stud Fillies' Mile last fall. A release from Cheveley Park was issued in response to HRA's announcement. "The HRA have in our opinion, on this occasion, not served the industry well in their duties as the industry's regulatory authority; indeed their management of this whole matter has been unacceptable," said Chris Richardson, Cheveley Park's managing director. "Amongst other issues, the owners of Nannina, Mr. and Mrs. David Thompson, in whose Cheveley Park Stud colours the filly runs, were not officially informed that the filly was under suspicion until a letter...was received Aug. 2. We consider this period of time was wholly unsatisfactory, especially as the filly was allowed to participate in her subsequent start in the G1 Falmouth S. at Newmarket."

Nannina ran second in the Falmouth. "Mr. and Mrs. Thompson are delighted that John Gosden and his veterinary advisors have been totally vindicated, especially as John always said that Nannina's treatment was a completely routine procedure, strictly adhering to veterinary guidelines," Richardson continued. "It is extremely regrettable that such a matter should have found its way into the public domain before the result of the testing of the B sample. This entire matter has caused a huge amount of distress for all concerned, but especially for John Gosden and his team. We would urge the HRA to review their procedures so that a debacle of this nature does not happen again."

BIG TIMER BIG APPLE BOUND David McKenzie's unbeaten Big Timer (Street Cry {Ire}) is being targeted at the G1 Champagne S. at Belmont Oct. 14. The chestnut gelding followed easy wins at Ayr July 14 and Ripon Aug. 7 with an impressive 2½-length success in York's G3 Acomb S. 15 days later, and trainer Ian Semple is taking the cross-Atlantic plunge. "We gave him a break after the Acomb and the plan is to go over to Belmont for the Champagne," he said. "He's got a great attitude and good discipline--he's laid-back and takes everything in his stride. He looks more like a three-year-old, has a high cruising speed and a dirt pedigree, so we thought we'd take a chance and go down that route."

AD VALOREM HEADING TO WOODBINE It looks as though a field of 14 will assemble for Sunday's C$1-million Woodbine Mile, headlined by multiple Group 1 winner Ad Valorem (Danzig). Hero of the G1 Queen Anne S. at Royal Ascot, the four-year-old was slated to ship in to Canada yesterday from his Ballydoyle base in Ireland. He finished fifth over soft going in the G1 Prix Jacques le Marois in his only subsequent outing Aug. 13 at Deauville. "He needs fast ground," trainer Aidan O'Brien said. "And he never really got it last year. He beat a very good field in the Queen Anne and the horse that was second [Court Masterpiece] had won a Group 1. I was quite happy with his performance." Patrick Husbands will have the mount aboard the Danzig colt.

RINGSIDE... with Alan Carasso

KING OF THE HILL

When Dr. Gary B. Knapp purchased a parcel of land northeast of Lexington over 15 years ago, he named his new purchase Monticule, a French term which refers to a large hill or small mountain. He did so because featured prominently in the middle of the landscape is such a hill, but to Knapp it is symbolic of a commitment to rise to the pinnacle, to be the best he can be.

Monticule took a big step in that direction Tuesday afternoon, consigning the $9.2 million son of the now-deceased Danzig from the Deputy Minister mare Sharp Minister. It was an accomplishment a lifetime in the making.

"I've been riding horses since I was three," Knapp explained. "I have always loved horses. I love the way they smell, I love the way they react to you."

While pursuing a degree at the University of Kentucky in the early 1970s, Knapp became engrossed and enchanted by Central Kentucky and its Thoroughbred industry. Despite leaving the Bluegrass for Texas a few years later to pursue a business career, Knapp actively followed the Thoroughbred business via a subscription to the Blood-Horse, all the while contemplating a return to Kentucky. During this time, he developed in his mind the criteria for possible farm sites around Lexington and purchased his first 200 acres of land in 1989.

After pursuing his business interests, Knapp, who holds a doctorate degree in marketing with a minor in applied statistics and served as a professor at places like Mankato State University, Stephen F. Austin University and the University of Houston, decided to make the break he'd been considering and returned to Kentucky in 1997 to devote his time to building the farm and constructing a broodmare band, which now numbers 20.

He became increasingly active at breeding stock sales, snapping up mares by prominent sires such as Alleged, A.P. Indy, Deputy Minister, Nureyev and Seeking the Gold. In 2001, Monticule was represented by its first-ever Keeneland consignment of 12 horses, and Knapp's operation left a very positive impression when a filly by Mr. Prospector sold to Eugene Melnyk for $2.1 million. She was produced by Lady Madonna (Chief's Crown), a mare Knapp paid $275,000 for at the 1997 November sale when she was in foal to Seattle Slew.

Monticule's subsequent consignments to the September sale featured solid, if not spectacular results, but there was always a common denominator. And that was Danzig. The agency sold a $650,000 daughter of Crystal Downs (Alleged) to Shadwell in 2003 and a $550,000 daughter of Autumn Moon (Mr. Prospector) to Yoshinori Sakae the following year. The top performer in last year's draft was a son of Sharp Minister, knocked down to Sheikh Hamdan's outfit for $500,000. That colt, now named Dijeerr, has a victory and a second from a pair of starts overseas for Sheikh Ahmed and trainer Michael Jarvis. That sale was a harbinger of better things to come.

In the fall of 2003, Knapp made a decision to purchase a pair of seasons to Danzig and bred Crystal Downs and Sharp Minister to the aging Claiborne stallion. Both mares were pronounced in foal, but by the summer of 2004, it was announced that Danzig was to be pensioned due to declining fertility. Knapp was to be the proud owner of two foals from the final crop of the prolific sire, a crop believed to be fewer than 20.

On the morning of March 7, 2005, was born a dark bay colt from Sharp Minister, herself a full sister to MGSW Flag Down.

"He was just perfect from the time he was born," said Dominique Tijou, farm manager at Monticule. "He always did everything the right way and grew up the right way. He was never complicated, but he was beautiful--all muscle." Tijou explained that the horses gain their exercise from being hand-walked between Monticule's six paddocks, and little else. Cont. p11

By Tuesday afternoon, the right people apparently realized he was the goods.

"He was out of his stall 120 times since Thursday," Knapp said, but, "He never turned a hair." In fact, all was well until the colt got out into the rain.

"That's when he started getting a little bit cranky," Tijou added. "He didn't like that, but I think he was just tired of it by then. He even got on his hind legs in the ring."

The $9.2-million Danzig on the farm monticule.com

With Knapp and Tijou standing in the rear walking ring, but on the other side from where John Ferguson and John Magnier were going toe-to-toe, the bidding kept going...and going...and going, well past all reasonable expectations.

"I figured he'd get into the low seven figures," Knapp commented. "Suffice to say he was well beyond his reserve."

How does Knapp explain what happened?

"When you get to that level, what you have is at least two parties who recognize what a fine animal is being sold," he stated. "What you're seeing is a reflection of their aspirations to own the finest racehorses. It's a matter of how far they want to go once they find that animal that they think is going to fulfill all their aspirations about buying horses."

But neither is Knapp averse to keeping the occasional horse. "We attempt to determine the point at which we're indifferent as to whether we take the money or race the horse," he commented. Knapp raced Aboriginal Apex, a four-time stakes winner of $523,346.

Monticule is also the owner and breeder of Espial, a daughter of Banker's Gold--Miasma (Nureyev), who broke her maiden at Monmouth Park Aug. 16 and came back to be second in allowance company Sept. 9. She is trained by Michael Dickinson.

Knapp has stopped acquiring broodmares, having reached a level where he feels he can be competitive at the sales. For a long time, he knew Tuesday's $9.2-million horse was good enough to keep, but he maintains a commercial approach.

"I feel that if you don't offer everything, what you're basically saying is there's no amount of money that I'll take for that horse, and that's not true," he says.

In fact, Knapp has his sights set on bigger and better things. In addition to establishing his operation as a legitimate Central Kentucky nursery, he is intent on taking a logical next step.

"Hopefully with our broodmare band, we'll be able to compete effectively in the market," Knapp said. "Once that is in place, we want to get involved in the stallion business," adding that he thinks that is somewhere between three and five years away.

All in all things are good at Monticule. And Knapp hopes to reprise Tuesday's results when he leads over a Fusaichi Pegasus half-brother next year. Sharp Minister is currently in foal to Elusive Quality, and that horse can also be expected to grace the Keeneland sales pavilion.

A hands-on breeder and farm owner, Knapp takes pride not only in the Thoroughbred operation, but also an arboretum Knapp began building shortly after the purchase of the farm. He initially planted evergreens, such as spruce and pine, and as those trees have matured, he has transplanted them around the farm. The tree nursery was expanded in 2001 to include maple and oak and in 2002, some 9,000 seedlings were planted. Over the past two years, maintenance crews at Monticule have transplanted dogwoods and other tree varieties around the landscape. Knapp closely monitors the pruning, placement and growth of the trees, walking the farm or crossing it on horseback on a nearly daily basis.

Knapp harkens back to a feeling he had when he was in Kentucky in the early 1970s.

"You see all these wonderful farms and you go, 'This is what I want to do.'" he said. "It was a pretty intense sales job and I still love this place. It's very seldom that you find a bad day in Lexington."

Never was that more true than it was on Tuesday.

CHOOSING UP

Through about the first 40 percent of Wednesday's session, declared Maktoum buyers or entities John Ferguson, Shadwell, Charlie Gordon-Watson (colts) and the new Rabbah Bloodstock had bought 69 horses. Remember this: there is no boycott. These 69 yearlings represent 32 different sires, headed by Storm Cat (8), Seeking the Gold (7), and, with five each, Danzig, Distorted Humor, and Kingmambo--all top sires, no argument there. But here was something noticeable: even though 89 Book 1 yearlings (19 percent of the Book 1 catalogue) were by 14 different Coolmore or Ashford stallions, how many do you suppose the four Maktoum entities bought by them? The law of averages dictates that if you buy 56 yearlings, and 19 percent of the catalogue are by sires controlled by one farm, you are going to buy something in the neighborhood of 10.64 yearlings by those sires. But--you guessed it--they bought none.

Perhaps it is a coincidence: only 32 of the yearlings were by top Coolmore sires Giant's Causeway (18), Sadler's Wells (7), and their division-leading young sires Galileo (1) and Johannesburg (6). If they had looked at these yearlings but not found anything they wanted to buy, fair enough. If they didn't look at them--well, fair enough, too; it's their money.

But here's another scenario: could the Maktoum entities be stocking up in America, where Coolmore stallions are a far smaller part of the market, in anticipation of being less active at the European sales where Coolmore stallions are a much bigger part of the market, especially at the top rung? If breeders were to be in a position where they risked taking sides, far better to be in America, where there are so many 'neutral' top-class stallions--Storm Cat, Danzig, Kingmambo, and now Distorted Humor--which are acceptable to both sides.

It is equally true further down the scale, too. This is the great thing about the Keeneland September Sale, the vast American marketplace, and the wide open spaces: plenty of choice, not too many top Coolmore sires. Not that there's a boycott.

I'm only speculating, but it's possible that a Maktoum buying spree at this sale could prefigure less involvement, especially at the top levels, at the European sales. Here the dominance of Coolmore sires is much more pronounced. Just as an example, 28 percent of Tattersalls' October 1 catalogue (184 of 652 yearlings) are by Coolmore sires, as opposed to 19 percent in Keeneland Book 1. But that doesn't tell the whole story. With Monsun not represented in the October 1 catalogue, arguably four of the top five European commercial sires represented in that catalogue are Coolmore sires.

If it was your company's policy to not buy products originated by your competitor, the Maktoum group would effectively be ruling themselves out of nearly 80 percent of the top 125 yearlings in that catalogue: Pivotal (27) would be okay, but Danehill Dancer (28), Galileo (25), Montjeu (18), and Sadler's Wells (27) would not. Moreover--still just speculating--maybe the Coolmore crowd figured this out, and that's why we didn't see quite the bidding duels we might have. Even if there is no boycott, if Coolmore has reason to believe they will not have Maktoum competition for 80 percent of the top yearlings at the top sale in Europe, maybe they're not so 'het up' whether they lose the four top bidding duels in September Book 1.

Let me make it perfectly clear that I am not being critical of anybody's policy here. The great thing about this market is that it is capitalism unleashed, and all its best and worst attributes are there to be deduced, understood, and misunderstood. Even if the Maktoum camp had effectively decided to boycott Coolmore stallions, it is their perfect right to do so. Not only would neutral stallions benefit, but it would be almost certain that the top Maktoum stallions--Cape Cross and Elusive Quality being good examples--would benefit from the improvement in mares, and they would very likely become even better stallions than they are now.

But there would be some other weird consequences, the most immediate of which will concern who is bidding on what over the next month or two. In the short term, it looks like neutral sires and the September Sale could benefit. Over the next month in Europe, Pivotal and top-class first-year neutral sires like Oasis Dream and Dalakhani could be the beneficiaries. In the longer term, though, the dilemma for breeders could be more pronounced. Breeders should really be horse farmers and, for farmers, producing the best stock surely should not be a matter of choosing sides. But that may be the position they'll be in. The fact is that, as we calculated yesterday, Sheikh Mohammed alone added a third to the Book 1 average; there's no question of his and his camp's commitment to the breeding and sales sector of this industry. But if we get to the end of Tattersalls October 1 and still no Maktoum entity has bought a yearling by a Coolmore stallion--well, that would tell breeders what they need to know about policies, wouldn't it? Bill Oppenheim may be contacted at bopp@erb.com. HAYWARD: NYRA WILL GO BROKE WITHOUT CASH ADVANCES

by Tom Precious, courtesy The Blood-Horse

The New York Racing Association is facing the same financial crisis as it did a year ago unless the state opens its wallet with cash advances that have already been approved by the state legislature. NYRA president Charles Hayward told state regulators Sept. 12 the non-profit association will run out of money by the end of the year unless it is permitted to tap into $19 million in aid. "We will be insolvent" by the end of the year, Hayward told the Non-Profit Racing Association Oversight Board at a meeting in Saratoga Springs, N.Y. If insolvency occurs and bankruptcy is declared, that could throw the current bidding process for a new franchise-holder into chaos, NYRA and state officials have said privately. Hayward said the state Lottery Division and the oversight board has failed to approve two agreements that will give the green light for MGM Mirage, NYRA's video lottery terminals partner, to begin construction on a casino at Aqueduct. From VLT proceeds, NYRA would pay back $30 million in bailout money approved by the legislature; $11 million has already been advanced. Hayward said the rest is needed to pay expenses, including property taxes and $12 million in pension payments. But oversight board chairwoman Carole Stone raised red flags over whether NYRA should tap into any more money until MGM Mirage commits to the VLT project. Hayward insisted the casino company already has, but needs final approvals from the state--putting its repayment for fronting NYRA $180 million for the casino ahead of other debts and getting a final contract approval from the state. Naughty New Yorker ended a seven-race losing streak with a victory in Saratoga's Noble Nashua S. Aug. 14. He could only manage a ninth-place finish in the Sept. 2 GI Woodward S., but got back on track against state breders here. The third choice in the wagering sat close to the leaders in third and rallied under a rail-skimming ride by Edgar Prado to upset the heavy favorite. "He's been a great horse for us," winning trainer Pat Kelly said. "He's been very consistent in these New York-bred races. We've run him in open races here and there, but it just hasn't worked out that well. I guess we'll go straight to the Empire Classic [at Belmont Oct. 21]."

BABY BIRD (f, 3, Cape Town--Elusive Gold, by Strike the Gold) opened her account with two straight Belmont tallies, including a 7 1/2-length decision July 12. She stumbled at the start in the Capote Belle S. at the Spa Aug. 4 and reported home fourth, beaten seven lengths. Sent off at 3-1 here, she settled in third while 3-5 favorite Sugar Shake (Awesome Again) rattled off :22.80 and :45.67 fractions. Taken off the rail by Cornelio Velasquez at the top of the stretch, Baby Bird began to hit her best stride and blew past Sugar Shake to score by 5 3/4 lengths. The victress, a $145,000 KEENOV weanling and a $375,000 KEESEP yearling, is a half sister to last Saturday's Gill Turfway Park Fall Championship S. winner Gouldings Green (Charismatic), MGSW, $501,122. The bay held her own versus stakes company at the Jersey Shore in her latest, finishing third in the Junior Champion S. Aug. 20. Sent on the engine here, Pay Wright was clear through :23.22 and :46.95 fractions and had enough left in the tank to hold off 8-5 chalk Dandy Mandy (More Than Ready) by 3/4 of a length. Woodbine Launches Trakus Wireless System:

Woodbine has launched a revolutionary wireless tracking system developed by Trakus Inc. The system, developed by the Boston-based company, provides detailed information regarding the position and speed of every horse in every Thoroughbred race run at Woodbine. Small trackside antennae mounted around the racetrack communicate with lightweight radio transponders in each horse's saddlecloth pockets. The data collected on each horse can be used instantly for television displays or archived to the web or print for later use by handicappers. "This is yet another innovation embraced by Woodbine in our efforts to deliver the best experience and information to our customers," commented Andrew McDonald, Woodbine Entertainment's Vice President of Marketing and Customer Communications. Bob McCarthy, president and CEO of Trakus, added, "Woodbine, with its multiple track surfaces, racing formats, and innovative production team, is a unique and ideal venue for showcasing our technology."

BRACING FOR IMPACT Makoto Kaneko's Deep Impact (Jpn) (Sunday Silence) delighted connections during his first public appearance in France with a race-course gallop at Longchamp yesterday. Conditioner Yasuo Ikee oversaw the mile-and-a-half exercise, which proceeded a simulation of the pre-race parade and Arc day preliminaries the four-year-old will have to undergo Oct. 1. Taking a lead from a representative of the Carlos Laffon-Parias barn, at which he is being stabled at Chantilly, Deep Impact drew clear in the home stretch under big-race jockey Yutaka Take. "Everything went perfectly well and I liked the way he moved and behaved," Take said. Ikee confirmed at the press conference that the champion's preparation had gone to plan so far. "Everything is going really well and we learned a lot today," he commented. "He was looking around a bit and looked excited and motivated, but overall it went perfectly, and he will not be excited or nervous on Arc day now. He has loved the quiet surroundings of Chantilly and is in excellent condition has done what we expected--he's a much quieter horse than last year. He is at his best racing weight and I clocked the last half mile in 50 seconds, so I couldn't be happier."

Dance Partner captured a trio of handicaps last term at Newbury in July, Folkestone in August and at Goodwood in October before finishing third on Lingfield's polytrack in November. The bay was down the field on her return in a Sandown handicap Aug. 26, but rebounded on her first try at this level under an enterprising ride from Philip Robinson. Taken straight to the lead, she was engaged by Grain of Truth inside the final quarter, but dug in to repel that challenge and went on to earn a narrow score over the closing Gower Song.

The bay was up to lead early here before being strongly pressed by Asperity (War Chant) in the final quarter. Having veered on to the stands' rail, he clung to his advantage and had a neck to spare over that rival at the line to reward those who sent him off the 13-8 favorite. Well supported into 4-6 favoritism for her debut, Kaseema gave punters their only concern as the gates opened, where she handed her rivals an advantage. Not panicked into the race by Richard Hills, she easily made up the deficit before striking the front with 1½ furlongs remaining. Despite showing greenness in front, the $1.1-million KEESEP yearling was in command thereafter and had a comfortable 1 1/2-length margin to spare over Extravagance (Ire) (King's Best) at the line. The dark bay filly is 3/4-sister to top U.S. miler Aragorn (Ire) (Giant's Causeway), MGISW-US & SP-GB, $945,480. She was produced by a full sister to the dam of champion One Cool Cat (Storm Cat). Taken over to the stands' rail in the straight, the 115,000gns TATAPR two-year-old took over approaching the quarter pole before forging clear to record a 3 1/2-length success from Yossi (Ire) (Montjeu {Ire}). KENNETT SQUARE, PA -Kentucky Derby winner Barbaro is improving slowly and steadily according to veterinarians at Penn's George D. Widener Hospital. "We are pleased with his progress," said Dr. Dean Richardson, Chief of Surgery. "He is wearing the cast on his right hind limb well; we continue to monitor it closely, and we expect to change the cast and radiograph the leg within the next seven to 10 days."

In addition, Barbaro continues to stand comfortably on his laminitic left hind foot. "The left hind foot is progressing well, especially as it grows down from the coronary band," said Dr. Richardson. "However, we remain cautious, because Barbaro will still need several more months of healing before we'll know how well the overall hoof structure can be restored." Barbaro continues to be hand-grazed daily, and his vital signs and appetite are excellent.

Barbaro remains in the Intensive Care Unit of the University of Pennsylvania's George D. Widener Hospital, where he is recovering from injuries suffered at the Preakness on May 20.
