GOSDEN SPRINGS FOR TATTS TOPPER

Newmarket trainer John Gosden topped yesterday's opening session of the Tattersalls' October Yearling Sale - Part 2 when paying 250,000gns for lot 906, a filly from the first-crop Oasis Dream (GB). The daughter of Top Flight Queen (GB) (Mark of Esteem {Ire}), consigned by Salah Fustok's Deerfield Farm, was purchased on behalf of an unknown client. Gosden saw off William Muir, professional punter Patrick Veitch and finally Chris Richardson of Cheveley Park Stud, who sold Top Flight Queen as a yearling. "She was a very racy filly with a good, powerful relaxed manner--just like her father," Gosden said. "The half-brother's a very nice horse and it's a family that's alive. I'm not sure who she is for at the moment." Her three-year-old half-sister Ellazaria (GB) (Vettori) scored over hurdles at Auteuil in France last week, while her two-year-old half-brother Big Robert (GB) (Medicean {GB})--trained by Muir--had also scored since the catalogue's publication. Agent Hugo Merry outbid Dick O'Gorman to purchase lot 904, a handsome Halling colt bred in the United Arab Emirates. The bay out of French listed winner Time Changes (Danzig) was offered by Islanmore Stud. "He's going to Brian Meehan and I'm very partial to the sire--I think he's very underrated," Merry said. John Ferguson's purchases were headed by lot 694, a Cadeaux Genereux (GB) half-brother to the smart handicapper Mine (Ire) (Primo Dominie). He was bought early in the day from David and Trish Brown's Furnace Mill Stud for 195,000gns. With 50 more yearlings offered and 34 more sold, the opening day aggregate rose by nearly 4-million guineas. The average increased from 34,540gns last year to 46,502gns in 2006, while the median went to 36,500 guineas from 26,000gns. Complete results are available at www.tattersalls.com.

OFFICER TO TAYLOR MADE Officer (Bertrando--St. Helens Shadow, by Septieme Ciel), currently the second-leading freshman sire by number of winners and number of stakes winners, will relocate to Taylor Made Stallions after the Nicholasville, Kentucky facility acquired an interest in the stallion from owner Dennis Narlinger. To date, the seven-year-old Grade I winner has sired 17 first-crop winners. He has also been represented by graded stakes winner Officer Rocket (GB) and stakes winners Chief Officer, Satulagi and Sir Officer. "Officer was an exceptionally good racehorse who is throwing outstanding-looking commercial yearlings," said Taylor Made Stallions Vice President Ben Taylor. "Few sires have started out their careers like Officer. Distorted Humor and Giant's Causeway, like Officer, had at least 15 winners and at least four stakes winners by the end of their first year. If you study his percentages, you'll find he exceeds many of the prominent leading sires at the same stage of their careers. The prospect of providing Officer with the mare support from Taylor Made and its clients, just like Unbridled's Song and Forestry have, could afford this horse the ability to develop into a very important sire." Officer, who previously stood at Gainesway, will stand as the property of a syndicate. A fee has not been announced.

ANABAA TO CASTLETON LYONS Anabaa (Danzig-Balbonella {Fr}, by Gay Mecene) will relocate to Castleton Lyons in Lexington for the 2007 breeding season. The 14-year-old stallion had been standing at Haras du Quesnay in Deauville. France's highweighted sprinter in 1996, Anabaa won that year's G1 Darley July Cup and G1 Prix Maurice de Gheest. He is the sire of G1 French Derby winner Anabaa Blue (GB), as well as champions Martillo (Ger), Ana Marie (Fr) and Yell (Aus). From seven crops to race, Anabaa has sired 41 stakes winners. No stud fee has been announced.

You can also pick up a copy of the TDN today at the OBS Fall Sale and the Tattersalls October Yearling Sale.

HIP HAPPENINGS

Hip 995, f, Invincible Spirit (Ire)--Cephalonie, by Kris S.
Consigned by Voute Sales Ltd, agent

This filly's half-brother Tell (GB) placed in stakes company. She is a descendant of the great broodmare Coup de Folie, whose progeny include Exit to Nowhere, Coup de Genie, Machiavellian and Ocean of Wisdom.

Hip 1054, c, Noverre--Gaijin (Ire), by Caerleon
Consigned by Wickfield Stud

Noverre has made a fine start at stud, thanks to the likes of Elhamri (GB). This offering is a half to the top-class Hawksley Hill (Ire) and the dam of this year's G3 Flying Five winner Benbaun (Ire). Further back in the family are So Factual, Bold Fact and the peerless Hasili (Ire).

Hip 1079, c, Fasliyev--Inchyre (GB), by Shirley Heights (GB)
Consigned by Woodcote Stud

This colt's half-sisters Inchiri (GB), Whirly Bird (GB) and Inchberry (GB) all held their own in stakes company and his half-brother Life (Ire) looks a smart prospect for next year. The dam is a half to Inchinor (GB), and the mating with Fasliyev is an attempt to inject speed back into this family.

Hip 1123, f, Cape Cross (Ire)--Magic Sister (GB), by Cadeaux Genereux (GB)

Consigned by Keith Harte, agent

This February-foaled filly is sure to be sought after since she is a half to this year's G1 Falmouth S. winner Rajeem (GB). The dam is a sister to Europe's 1994 champion juvenile filly Hoh Magic (GB).

Hip 1223, f, Dubai Destination--Sweet Revival (GB), by Claude Monet
Consigned by Knockainey Stud

Dubai Destination's first crop have been very popular at the sales. This filly is a half to multiple Grade I winner Sweet Return (GB).

BREEDERS' CUP BULLETIN

NO BC DECISION YET ON GORELLA

Martin Schwartz's brilliant four-year-old turf filly Gorella (Fr) (Grape Tree Road {GB}) is certain for the Breeders' Cup, but trainer Patrick Biancone said yesterday that a decision on which race she would target--the 1 3/8-mile GI Filly and Mare Turf or the GI Mile against males--would be made at a later date. Both races are run for $2 million. "We'll cross enter her [for both races]," said Biancone. "There's no reason to rush anything. We'll look and see who's going to run in what and go from there." Last year, Gorella was a troubled third in the Mile, just 3/4 lengths behind winner Artie Schiller. The chestnut is three-for-four in 2006 and comes off a stirring win in the GI Beverly D. S. at Arlington Park Aug. 12. Biancone opted to give her a bit of time off after that, and Gorella returns this weekend for her final Breeders' Cup prep in the GII First Lady S. over the Keeneland lawn Saturday. Biancone added that the one-mile distance of the race was not an indicator that he and Schwartz are leaning toward the Mile. "The key was to give her a good race and keep her as fresh as possible for the Breeders' Cup," said the Frenchman. "If [the First Lady] had been at a mile and an eighth, that would have been fine, too."

SHOWING UP UNLIKELY FOR BREEDERS' CUP

Trainer Barclay Tagg said yesterday that Showing Up (Strategic Mission), third in the Sept. 9 GI Man o' War S. at Belmont in his first test against older horses, will most likely bypass the Breeders' Cup and instead target the GI Hollywood Derby Nov. 26. The Roy and Gretchen Jackson colorbearer, winner of the GII Coolmore Lexington S. on the dirt earlier this year, was perfect in his first two turf efforts, the June 24, $1 million Colonial Turf Cup and Aug. 12 GI Secretariat S. In the Man o' War, he set the pace and ran gamely down the stretch, but couldn't fend off Cacique (Ire) and Go Deputy and finished third. Showing Up returns to three-year-old company this Saturday in the GII Jamaica Breeders' Cup H. at Belmont and will likely close out his year in his own division in the Hollywood Derby.

'NOBIZ' GETS BIG TEST IN CHAMPAGNE

As a sizable two-year-old who was a bit slow to come around, Nobiz Like Shobiz (Albert the Great) made a late arrival on the juvenile scene this year when he romped by 10 3/4 lengths in a one-mile Belmont maiden Sept. 9. That eye-catching debut was enough to convince trainer Barclay Tagg to try him in this Saturday's GI Champagne S. over "Big Sandy," and, if the colt runs well, it's likely on to the GI Breeders Cup Juvenile. "He's a great big horse, so we didn't push him at all," explained Tagg during a national teleconference yesterday. "He was just a big oaf for the longest while.

Nobiz Like Showbiz
Adam Coglianesse

He'd just stagger out of the gate and take a while to get going." Tagg said that he thought the horse would be one who relished the longer distances, so when an eight-furlong race came up in September, he wasn't afraid to try his charge in what would generally be considered a tough spot for a first-timer. Tagg's impression was bolstered by an especially strong work from Nobiz Like Shobiz at Saratoga in last August. While working in company with a filly from Tagg's barn, the colt took plenty of dirt in his face during the breeze--which was by design--before racing on past his stablemate to complete the six-furlong distance in 1:15. "It was the first time he really showed some tenacity," said Tagg. "It was what we were looking for all along." In his bow, the son of sophomore sire Albert the Great tracked confidently off the leaders, slipped through an opening along the rail and drew off with every stride (video). "I felt he could do that," said Tagg yesterday. "I'm not trying to make myself look smart, because everybody knows I'm not. And you just don't know what's going to happen when the gates open. But he must have impressed a lot of people, because we've turned down a lot of offers for him." Nobiz Like Shobiz was bred and owned Elizabeth Jones Valando, who, along with her late husband Thomas, won the 1990 GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile with Fly So Free.

DO THE MATH

At the end of what we considered to be the 11 'major North American and European sales' (nine yearling, two mixed) in 2005, we calculated that no fewer than 12,000 horses had averaged over $100,000 each at those sales. This is a staggering statistic. Horses don't really have jobs any more--they don't plow fields, they aren't bred for the cavalry. The fact is, they are almost entirely recreational vehicles, whether used for pleasure riding, show competition, or racing; Thoroughbred horses are part of the entertainment industry. They are also financial instruments; commodities.

We are adding three sales to our 'major sale' portfolio this year: the yearling sales in Baden-Baden and Milan, and the Goffs November Mixed Sale, which falls, chronologically, between Keeneland November and Tattersalls December (which will be almost entirely in November this year). So we'll adjust previous years' totals and averages when all 14 sales are said and done. Through the end of last week's October 1 sale at Tattersalls, 10 of the now 11 bellwether yearling sales had taken place. The three key American sales--Fasig July, Saratoga, and Keeneland September--had seen 3,993 yearlings sell for $477,474,800 and average $119,578. The seven European sales had seen a further 2,852 yearlings gross €223,478,700 (converting Doncaster and October 1 at 1 guinea = 1.50), and average €78,359--which converts to $97,948, at $1 = €1.25. So, all told, going into this week's October 2, a total of 6,845 major-sale yearlings had sold for $756,823,175, and averaged $110,565. Those are approximate figures, of course. Tattersalls October 1 last week, Europe's top yearling sale, saw 432 horses sell for 55,035,000gns and average 127,396gns (you just about double a guinea to convert to U.S. dollars right now, meaning the sale averaged over $250,000). The number of horses sold was down 13 percent, and the gross was down eight percent from the blockbuster 2005 edition, but the average did edge up by seven percent and the median by 17 percent, from 70,000gns to 82,000gns.

Though only five percent fewer horses had been catalogued last week than a year ago, a drop in the clearance rate from 84 percent to 77 percent accounted for the 13-percent drop in listed sales. By contrast, October 2 has a massive 38 percent more catalogued from last year--1199, up from 870. This means more and bigger sessions all week long. There were 22 percent more catalogued for yesterday's session than a year ago, which is why the gross was up more (almost 60 percent in a blockbuster session) than even the average, which was up 35 percent. The house is certain to have grossed more by the end of today than in the entire sale (almost 17-million guineas) last year.

This all reads fantastically well, but there are a few misconceptions floating about which need to be addressed. Above all is the dangerous misconception on the part of Book 1 breeders and consignors that if a sale averages 119,509gns (last year) or 127,396gns (this year), the horse they're about to send into the ring is a 120,000-guineas yearling. First of all, the median--the price at which half sell above, half below--was 82,000gns, not 120,000gns. So if you had an average horse for the sale, your horse was liable to sell for 82,000gns, not 120,000gns, which is almost 50 percent higher. That's possibly one reason why the clearance rate dropped. Some breeders forgot that average horses bring median prices, not average prices.

Another misconception--and this is a really dangerous one--is that if you are a breeder, you are going to make money on pretty nearly every yearling you sell. No way. As more than one person was at pains to point out last week, prices can rise at the same time profitability is falling. Like every other sector of this business, market breeders--those who are in it to make money--are in competition for stallion seasons with breeders who are not trying to make money, who are breeding horses for sport, or pleasure, or recreation, or any combination of the above. They just say, I want to breed to so-and-so, how much does it cost? The market breeder has the disadvantage of having to overpay, in market terms, for stud fees. Even worse, the doubling of book sizes which has been facilitated by veterinary advances means that many more mares are overbred to stallions they have no business being bred to, by any commercial formula. So you show up at the sales and there are 40 by your sire there.

The buyers basically ignore the first dams now. If it's a good individual by a stallion they like, they'll buy it. If the sire with 40 selling has seven good individuals, they'll sell well, no matter what they're out of. The rest will struggle.

In fact, that is about the ratio. Studies I have done in the past suggest that the actual percentage of major-sale yearlings which make money varies from 12 percent to 25 percent. When the market is hot (and stud fees are low, which they were in about 1998), you might sell one out of four for a profit. When the market is bad, it's more like one in eight. Breeding, like every other aspect of horse racing, involves a major gamble, and at least three times out of four, the gamble does not come off. For the breeder or consignor, like the owner and the bettor, the gambles that do come off have to more than make up for the many failures.

That's the nature of the industry. The fact that so much money is made in the breeding and sales sector, as opposed to the racing sector, is in direct proportion to the number of times a horse can now be sold before it gets to the racetrack--where your chances of making money shrink even further. That's what's really screwed up about this business right now: the rewards for owning racehorses are so meager, even rich people getting in the game would rather take their chances breeding to sell than they would buying to race. Obviously the buzz of winning races isn't as great as the buzz of selling something for big money--even though that's a gamble, too.

All of this is relevant to those breeders and consignors complaining last week because they didn't have six-figure horses in a six-figure sale, and allowing how they'd have been better off this week. I don't think so. As strong as yesterday's session was, the day's average and median were still less than half those of last week. Anyway, no matter how much you fiddle with sales dates and formats, the fact remains that Tattersalls has stabling for about 850 horses. The only thing that makes sense is to sell 850 horses the first week, then turn the stables over and sell 850 the next week. If you want to take the view that there aren't enough 'Book 1' horses to fill four days, fine. Go to a Keeneland September-type format, where you have 'Book 1' the first two days, 'Book 2' the next two days, and October 2 the second week. But what would make no sense at all is to go to a format where you're using 200 stalls one week, and 1,200 the next week. That's about what they used to do; and, it wouldn't make any difference. There are not enough buyers of racehorses, because there is not enough incentive, financial, emotional, or otherwise, for people to own racehorses. That's true in America, too. It's especially true in Europe, and it's especially, especially true in the U.K., where the funding of prize money is done through a system so absurd that if somebody sat you down with a piece of paper and said 'come up with a thousand ways to finance purses in the U.K.,' you still wouldn't come up with the system they have.

In light of these assertions, it's very interesting to look at the purchases made last week by the game's leading buyers, Sheikh Mohammed and the assorted Darley buys. Nobody could accuse them of not shouldering their load of the purchasing power, yet some breeders seem to behave as if they expect them to buy every horse they produce. Darley has kindly provided me with the following figures. Cont. p8

At October 1 last year, Darley plus Gainsborough (including Gainsborough 'nominees' as well as Sheikh Maktoum) spent 12.5-million guineas, which was 21 percent of the week's total of 59,635,000gns. This year, Darley (under various buyers' names) plus their new entity, Rabbah Bloodstock, spent 12.6-million guineas--23 percent of this year's October 1 total of 55,035,000gns. Other big buyers, like Coolmore and Shadwell, have also been buying roughly comparable amounts with last year throughout the yearling sale season. The problem facing breeders is this: you get paid, often more than generously, when you present the big buyers with the right horse. The problem isn't the big buyers: it's that there are way too many horses produced with big-buyer pedigrees, but not big-buyer conformation. The only way for breeders to improve their success rate is by helping force the real issue, which is that there is not enough incentive for new rich people to own racehorses, in Europe or in America. There is way too small a pool of buyers for the number of horses being produced, and the amount of money it costs to produce them. No amount of moving what may or may not be perfectly good racehorses, but are below the bar right now as sales horses, from one week to another, or one sale to another, is going to make the slightest difference. Horse racing desperately needs more racehorse owners, so if breeders find they don't have a market for enough of their horses, they'd better get busy either producing more buyers, or producing fewer horses. No matter how strong the market, if you have so much in the stud fee that you lose money even when you make a good sale, the problem is not where the horse sells, it's how much you have in the stud fee. Bill Oppenheim may be contacted at bopp@erb.com. Barbaro Update
VETERINARIANS
CHANGE BARBARO'S RIGHT
HIND LEG CAST

October 10, 2006
 KENNETT SQUARE, PA – Veterinarians at Penn's George D. Widener Hospital changed Kentucky Derby winner Barbaro's cast yesterday, Monday, October 9. "We placed Barbaro under general anesthesia to remove the old cast on his right hind limb and took new radiographs to assess the continued healing of the original injuries," said Dr. Dean Richardson, Chief of Surgery. "I was pleased with the continued progression of healing and the overall condition of this leg." Barbaro had another successful pool-recovery, and was resting comfortably in his stall after the procedure. In addition to replacing the cast, doctors trimmed his feet and applied a new shoe on the right hind foot. A few hours after recovery, he was taken back outside to graze and was comfortable on both hind legs. "There are no signs of infection and the primary incisions have healed surprisingly well," said Dr. Richardson. "Because he has had a cast on for so long, there are a few cast sores, but nothing serious." Barbaro's left hind foot, which had laminitis, continues to gradually improve. "There is good growth along the quarters [closer to the heel] but there will need to be much more healing along the front of the hoof," said Dr. Richardson, who cautioned that "we still have many months of healing ahead of us."

Racegoers have become accustomed this year to seeing Fleet Indian head straight for the head of affairs. Saturday's GI Beldame S. saw her embrace a slightly different style, however. With another dedicated front-runner, Take d'Tour, in the field, Fleet Indian, raced close up in fourth, swept past the leaders four-wide turning for home, and then dug deep to hold the late challenge of Balletto. In doing so, Fleet Indian captured her sixth successive race of year, and continued her dramatic transition from a New York-bred restricted stakes contender to front-runner for a divisional Eclipse Award.

Fleet Indian's winning streak actually now extends to eighth. The first of these wins, and Fleet Indian's first stakes triumph came on Nov. 27 last year, when she captured the restricted Montauk H. at Aqueduct by five lengths. Following another win, this time in a Philadelphia Park allowance contest, Fleet Indian was consigned to the Keeneland January Sales. There she was knocked down to Mike Aker's Dapple Bloodstock, acting on behalf of Paul Saylor, for $290,000. The original reason behind the purchase was to acquire a mare to breed to the newly retired GI Cigar Mile winner Purge, who was raced by Saylor in partnership. In the meantime, however, it was decided to keep Fleet Indian in training "as long as she was healthy and doing well."

Fleet Indian made her first start for Saylor and new trainer Todd Pletcher in the GIII Next Move H. and, after hopping sideways at the start, she recovered quickly to demonstrate her health and well-being with a one-length win. That turned out to be as near as Fleet Indian's opponents were able to get until this weekend. On her second start for her new connections Fleet Indian ran off with the GIII Sixty Sails H. by 12½, then captured the Obeah S. (by 7¾ lengths); the GII Delaware H. (by 5½ lengths); and the GI Personal Ensign H. (by 4¼ lengths).

Fleet Indian's achievements have focused attention on her sire Indian Charlie, who is doing an excellent job of extending the North American branch of the Caro sire line. Indian Charlie is a grandson of the G1 Poule d'Essai des Pouliches (French 2,000 Guineas) winner Siberian Express, a talented but inconsistent runner and a disappointing sire. Siberian Express sired just 12 stakes winners from over 300 foals, but one of those was In Excess, an outstanding runner at four, when he captured the GI Suburban H., GI Woodward S., GI Metropolitan H. and GI Whitney H. Retired to stud in California, In Excess has been the leading West Coast sire of his era, and now has 44 stakes winners. His best son, as he evidenced in a brief, but brilliant career, was Indian Charlie.

A 12-length winner of a 5½-furlong maiden at Del Mar on his only start at two, Indian Charlie opened up his three-year-old career with wins in a pair of Santa Anita allowance races, scoring by nine lengths in one, and 2½ lengths in the other. Making his stakes debut in the GI Santa Anita Derby, he tallied by 2½ lengths over subsequent champion Real Quiet and Artax. Off these efforts, Indian Charlie started favorite to defend his unbeaten record in the GI Kentucky Derby.

After tracking a rapid pace, Indian Charlie was disputing the lead with stable-companion Real Quiet as the field turned for home. He fought a game, but losing battle until tiring inside the last furlong, where he lost second place to the fast-closing Victory Gallop. Indian Charlie came out of the Derby with a career-ending injury and was retired to stud for the following season.

He kicked off his stud career with seven first crop stakes winners, the best of which was Pampered Princess, heroine of last year's GI Spinster S. Fleet Indian is the headliner from Indian Charlie's second crop, but it also includes the Grade 2-winning Two Trail Sioux and Bwana Charlie, and Grade I-placed stakes winner, Indian Country. Indian Charlie's third crop, now four, has supplied five stakes winners, and there are another seven in the fourth crop, now three-year-olds. They include Cindago, who defeated Bob and John, Brother Derek and Da Stoops to take the El Cajon S. on only his third lifetime start, but who has since suffered a potentially career-ending injury.

Out of the Afleet mare Hustleeta, Fleet Indian is Indian Charlie's highest earner to date, and this points up a very interesting characteristic of Fleet Indian's immediate family. Hustleeta, is half-sister to Cherokee Wonder, a dual listed winner who was also second in the GIII Next Move Breeders' Cup H. and GIII Carousel S., which qualifies her to be regarded as the best runner for her sire Cherokee Colony. In turn, Cherokee Wonder is dam of graded-stakes winning and track-record-breaking millionaire Cherokee's Boy, the highest earner for his sire Citidancer. To complete the story, another half-sister to Hustleeta, Mandy Tweedy, is the dam of Annika, a dual listed stakes winner, who is also a Grade II performer in 2006, and is the leading earner for her sire Mister Jolie. Thus, Fleet Indian's granddam Bravo Native is dam of granddam of four horses who are either the highest earner or best performer by their respective sires.

Bravo Native herself earned black-type when second in the Evening Out S. and Endine H. A daughter of Restless Native, she is half-sister to the black-type winning and graded-stakes placed sprinter Late to Rise.

A half-sister to Bravo Native, Front Stage was exported to Australia, where she became dam of the G1 Queensland Oaks and G1 Queensland Derby heroine Bravery, and ancestress of several other graded scorers.

Fleet Indian's third dam Bravissimo was only a minor winner, but was extremely well-bred, as she was by Bold Ruler out of the Tom Fool mare, Batter Up. One of the best of her generation at both two and three, and racing prior to the implementation of the graded stakes program, Batter Up captured the Sorority, Betsy Ross, Colleen, Back-Eyed Susan, Miss Woodford and Rancocas S. Batter Up owned a very interesting pedigree, as she was extremely closely related to the magnificent Buckpasser: both are by Tom Fool, and Batter Up's dam Striking is a three-parts-sister to Busanda, the dam of Buckpasser. Of course, this is one of the most powerful branches of the fabulous family of La Troienne, who is almost certainly the most important mare imported into North America during the 20th century.

Indian Charlie is out of the very fast Soviet Sojourn, a daughter of Leo Castelli. Since Leo Castelli's dam is by Raise a Native, Indian Charlie has always looked a natural for mares from the sire line of Raise a Native's son Mr. Prospector (especially as his second dam is by a son of Mr. Prospector's broodmare sire, Nashua). In this case theory has been borne out by fact, as 11 of his stakes winners are out of Mr. Prospector-line mares, including Fleet Indian, Pampered Princess and Two Trail Sioux, who constitute his three highest earners (he also has stakes winners from the Exclusive Native and Alydar branches of the Raise a Native line). In Fleet Indian's pedigree, the Raise a Native influence is strengthened by the presence of Restless Native, as sire of Fleet Indian's granddam. Like Raise a Native, Restless Native was a son of Native Dancer and the two were bred on very similar lines. They appear close up together in the pedigrees of at least 40 stakes winners, including other Grade I winners Marley Vale, Kalookan Queen and King of the Heap. Alan Porter may be contacted at portrpedigree@msn.com. VITAL ON COURSE Eoghan O'Neill yesterday reported Fasthandle Ltd's Vital Equine (Ire) (Danetime {Ire}) ready for a tilt at Saturday's G1 Darley Dewhurst S. at Newmarket. Winner of the G2 Champagne S. and and third in the G1 Prix Jean-Luc Lagardere, he is set to tackle the seven-furlong contest if he satisfactorily comes through a workout today. "He works [Wednesday] and then I'll discuss things with the owner's racing manager, Geoff Lucas, but he's on track and Richard Mullen will ride," the trainer said Tuesday. "I wouldn't have any worries about the ground--he goes on anything. It was soft when he won at York and he performed well when it was on the firm side at Longchamp, so he's pretty versatile." The official going at Newmarket was yesterday good to soft. "If the weather forecast is correct, I would expect to start the fixture on ground that remains on the slow side of good," said Clerk of the Course Michael Prosser.

LAVEROCK TARGETS MILAN Gainsborough's Laverock (Ire) (Octagonal {NZ}) is being aimed at Sunday's G1 Gran Premio del Jockey Club e Coppa d'Oro at the San Siro, connections revealed yesterday. Despite being left in the previous day's G1 Emirates Airlines Champion S. at Newmarket, connections of the G1 Prix d'Ispahan hero will send the Carlos Laffon-Parias-trained four-year-old to Milan instead. "It looks like it could be a very good Champion and, although Cherry Mix (Fr) might run against him at the weekend, he might be one of the favourites over there," Racing Manager Bruce Raymond told PA Sport yesterday.

ABHISHEKA (IRE) (f, 3, Sadler's Wells--Snow Bride {G1SW-GB, $277,305}, by Blushing Groom {Fr}) was returning from a 114-day break after disappointing when fifth in a handicap at York June 18. Breaking well, the 5-1 joint favorite tracked the leader until striding to the front approaching the three-furlong marker. Soon clear, she maintained a relentless gallop and was geared down near the finish to record a facile six-length success. The regally bred bay is a half-sister to Lammtarra (Nijinsky II), Hwt. 3yo-GB & Fr at 11-14f, MG1SW-GB & G1SW-Fr, $2,078,797; Kammtarra (Zilzal), Hwt. PURE ILLUSION (IRE) (f, 3, Danehill--Saintly Speech {GSW-GB}, by Southern Halo), off the track since finishing fifth in the G2 May Hill S. at Doncaster last September, represented the Godolphin stable responsible for four of the last five winners of this contest. She was promoted to 4-5 favoritism following the fatal accident suffered by stable companion Royal Proposal (GB) (King's Best) prior to the race. Sent to the front in the early stages, Pure Illusion found extra when pressed late on by Air Biscuit (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) to assert for a 1 1/2-length success. Her ill-fated stablemate, ridden by Frankie Dettori, slipped approaching the bend on her way to the start, fractured her left hind leg and was euthanized. "It's obviously very sad to lose Royal Proposal," bin Suroor told Racing Post. Sluggish throughout the early stages, the 55,000gns TATOCT yearling was driven and appeared beaten passing the quarter pole, but kept responding to defy the odds and snatch a short-head verdict over Lady Alize (Indian Charlie). Grinding her way to the front inside the final 50 yards, she veered into Mr Napper Tandy (GB) (Bahamian Bounty {GB}) in the dying strides en route to a head success, but the stewards judged the interference accidental. "[Trainer] Mr. [Barry] Hills said the one thing to do was to settle her, as she can be a little bit keen, but she settled well and finished well," jockey Richard Hughes explained. "She is a nice filly with a good attitude--she's very weak now, so can only improve and it's always good to beat the colts." 2nd Dam: Millieme (Ire), by Mill Reef (GB)

3rd Dam: Hardiemma (GB), by Hardicanute (GB)

Mythical Kid, who cost $1.4 million at Keeneland September, was sent off the 9-2 joint-favorite. The dark bay broke well from his extreme wide draw to race prominently throughout the early stages. Allowing his market rival Contentious (Giant's Causeway) first run approaching the quarter pole, he made up the deficit in impressive fashion under a confident Kerrin McEvoy to roll past that rival at the furlong marker and on to a comfortable three-length score. "That was a good effort as he was drawn wide and never got a horse to park behind, which can make them race away from the pack," his rider commented. "He did it really well and I just had to point him in the right direction--he looks like a nice horse and felt like one too, and has a lot of scope for next year. He was pretty straightforward, but is going to sharpen up mentally, and you can see him coming on in leaps and bounds off that. He acted really well on the testing ground and has a nice action." The bay broke well and raced keenly before being settled in mid-division throughout the early stages. After racing behind the early leaders, he quickened inside the final quarter and reeled in Yeaman's Hall (GB) (Galileo {Ire}) with 150 yards. The brown colt then asserted for a 1 1/2-length success. "We always thought a bit of him, but he told us he needed more time and we gave it to him," trainer Mick Channon commented. "I was a bit concerned about the ground, but Queen's Logic was very good on heavy. He's taken a while to come right, but he's pretty decent and has paid us back now. He won't run again this season, but next year he'll get a mile and a quarter for sure and maybe even a mile and a half, so it will be interesting to see where we go from here." DANETIME COLT TOPS MM PERTH SALE A two-year-old colt by Danetime (Ire), selling as lot 65, attracted an offer of A$121,000 to top the Magic Millions Perth Horses in Training Sale Tuesday at Belmont, West Australia. The bay, produced Marooned (GB) mare Famous Friend (Aus), was consigned by Startribe as agent. He was one of 51 lots sold on the day for an aggregate A$1,707,500. The average of A$33,480 was up over 17 percent on last year's figure of A$28,526. Though disappointed by the 62-percent clearance rate, Magic Millions managing director David Chester remained upbeat. "The two-year-olds who breezed up well this morning were the subject of strong interest," he said. "There were buyers from around Australia and overseas in attendance and they enjoyed a magnificent Perth day and picked out the youngsters they liked."
