NTRA NAMES WALDROP PRESIDENT, CEO

The National Thoroughbred Racing Association yesterday announced during a special board meeting that it had appointed Alex Waldrop, former president of Churchill Downs, as its new president and chief executive officer, in addition to naming

Alex Waldrop

Turfway Park President Robert Elliston as executive chairman. Waldrop replaces current NTRA interim CEO Greg Avioli, who will continue as interim CEO of Breeders' Cup Limited. "Alex brings to the table intellect, political savvy, hands on racing experience and expertise from within and outside our industry," said Craig Fravel, who has served as NTRA chairman throughout 2006. "He is well equipped to lead the NTRA during its next phase as the organization seeks to implement a number of important strategic priorities on behalf of the industry." Waldrop, 50, currently is a partner at the Kentucky-based law firm of Wyatt, Tarrant and Combs, whose clients include the NTRA and Churchill Downs Incorporated, and chairs the firm's equine, gaming and entertainment practice group. Waldrop will assume his new duties on Jan. 15. "I am honored that the NTRA Board of Directors has selected me to lead the organization and I am eager to join the management team to build on its many accomplishments," Waldrop said. "With Thoroughbred racing confronting many challenges, the NTRA's leadership role has never been more important." Prior to returning to Wyatt, Tarrant and Combs, Waldrop spent more than 12 years with Churchill Downs, first as its General Counsel, then as President of Churchill Downs Race-track and most recently as the Senior Vice President of Public Affairs for Churchill Downs Incorporated. Elliston has been president and CEO of Turfway Park since June 1999 and will continue to hold those positions while serving as the NTRA's first executive chairman. He has served on the NTRA board since 2004. "The appointment of an executive chairman is becoming more and more commonplace as companies and organizations seek a clear delineation between Board and management responsibilities," Fravel said.

RETIRED TOO MUCH BLING TO SEQUEL

Kentucky's Stonewall Farm Stallions announced yesterday that it had purchased MGSW Too Much Bling (Rubiano--Rose Colored Lady, by Formal Dinner) and

will stand the three-year-old at Becky Thomas's Sequel Stallions in Ocala, Florida. The colt will stand for a fee of $10,000, stands and nurses. "This horse has a big-time reputation," said Thomas. "The numbers say he was the fastest sophomore sprinter in America this year, and as a grandson of Fappiano, he should be wildly popular in Florida." Bred in Ohio by Destiny Farm, Too Much Bling broke his maiden at Thistledown by 19 1/2 lengths as a juvenile for Blazing Meadows Farm, which then sold the majority of the colt to Stonerside Stable. While racing for that partnership, Too Much Bling ran third in the GI Hopeful S. at two, then went on to take four of his six sophomore efforts, including the GII San Vicente S., GII Carry Back S. and GIII Bay Shore S. He concluded his career with a troubled sixth in the GI Breeders' Cup Sprint and retires with a record of 11-5-1-2, $509,674.

FLEET INDIAN BOOKED TO STORM CAT

Fleet Indian (Indian Charlie--Hustleeta, by Afleet), leading candidate for champion older mare, will be bred to Storm Cat in 2007. The five-year-old mare went postward as the favorite in the GI Breeders' Cup Distaff, but suffered a suspensory tear during the race and is currently recuperating at Taylor Made Farm. Fleet Indian was purchased by Paul Saylor at this year's Keeneland January Sale for $290,000 and went on to a stellar 2006 campaign, winning six straight stakes before her injury. She retired with 13 wins in 19 starts and earnings of $1,704,513. Fleet Indian was originally entered in the Keeneland November sale, but had to be scratched after her injury in the Breeders' Cup. She was also entered in the upcoming Keeneland January sale. In a press release, Saylor said his main goal was to assure Fleet Indian's well-being and "breedability" and added that the mare may be offered for sale privately or publicly later in the year through Taylor Made Farm.

ABBRUZZESE DIVESTS EMPIRE RACING

INTERESTS Empire Racing announced Tuesday that Jared Abbruzzese will divest all of his interests in the organization. Empire Racing will repurchase all of those interests. Abbruzzese had come under increased scrutiny because of his ties to embattled New York Senate leader Joseph Bruno. Bruno's business relationships are the subject of a federal investigation. Abbruzzese decided to leave the Empire Racing board in October and this divestment severs his financial ties to the organization which, is one of three bidding for the franchise to run New York's three major racetracks.

Colonial Turf Cup Worth $750,000 in '07:

The 2007 running of the Colonial Turf Cup, which will be run as a Grade III event for the first time, will be worth $750,000 after a compromise was reached last Wednesday between Colonial Downs and the Virginia HBPA. The race was run with a $1-million purse this year, when won by subsequent multiple Grade I winner Showing Up. The extra $250,000 will be used to increase overnight purses by as much as 12 percent. The Colonial Turf Cup is scheduled for June 15. The GII Virginia Derby, slated to run July 21, retains its $1-million purse. "We're quite happy with the compromise we've reached with Colonial," said Frank Petramalo, Jr., executive director of the VHBPA. "This will give us at least a 10-, and more likely, a 12-percent increase in the overnight races, which are the bread-and-butter races for the horsemen." Under the new proposal, overnight races will be worth approximately $150,000. "Not everybody got everything they wanted," said Colonial Downs President Ian Stewart. "We would have preferred the [Turf Cup] purse stay at $1 million, but in the spirit of making everything work, it seemed like the best answer." The Virginia Racing Commission also voted 3-2 to cut the number of scheduled Thoroughbred racing days from 42 this year to 40 in 2007. The New Kent track will race from June 15 through Aug. 7.

SILMARIL (m, 5, Diamond--Kattebuck, by Spend a Buck), who upended champion Ashado in the 2005 GII Pimlico Breeders' Cup Distaff H., captured the Maryland Million Distaff Oct. 14 over course and distance. A trip to Churchill proved fruitless, however, when the five-year-old ran eighth in the nine-furlong GII Falls City H. on Thanksgiving last out. Bet down to even-money while cutting back in distance versus softer foes, the dark bay was in the thick of things from the start, assumed command turning for home and drew off by four lengths. "Since she beat Ashado she hasn't been the same horse around two turns," said trainer Chris Grove. "I am going to keep her at a flat mile and seven-eighths. That is going to be the key for the second part of her career. They don't make them like this, especially here in Maryland. She is all class." STARCRAFT TO MISS NO. HEMISPHERE SEASON An injury sustained during his trip to the airport will force Starcraft (NZ) (Soviet Star--Flying Floozie {NZ}, by Pompeii Court) to miss the Northern Hemisphere breeding season. The six-year-old suffered a laceration to the posterior aspect, just below the point of his off hind hock and is currently being treated at Randwick Equine Centre. Starcraft had been scheduled to ship to England's Cheveley Park Stud for his second Northern Hemisphere season at stud. He covered 106 mares in his first season at the Newmarket stud in 2006. "It is obviously extremely disappointing for all concerned and we wish Starcraft a speedy recovery from his injury," said Cheveley Park Stud's managing director Chris Richardson. A three-time Group 1 winner in the Southern Hemisphere, Starcraft won the G1 Prix du Moulin de Longchamp and the G1 Queen Elizabeth II S. in 2005.
