BELLA RAGAZZA

In front of a crowd of 18,325, Ciao Bella Luna (Tribal Rule) came from off the pace to annex the 28th running of the GII Beaumont S. at Keeneland Sunday afternoon.

Marking the sophomore's first win of the season, the victory also gave Jerry Hollendorfer, inducted into the Racing Hall of Fame last summer, his first victory at Keeneland. Drawn in the 10 post, the bay was eased back to the middle of the pack as Magical Moon (Malibu Moon) carved out opening splits of :22.86 and :46.10. Starting to make her move leaving the backstretch, Ciao Bella Luna was hung four wide for the stretch run, but collared Magical Moon at the eighth pole, poked her head in front and loped clear to score by 2 1/2 lengths over the pacesetter. "She shipped [from California to Keeneland] beautifully," said Christina Jelm, assistant to Hollendorfer. "She settled right in, and she's been very comfortable." Favored Judy in Disguise (GB) (Elusive City) was an even third. Mike Smith, who was aboard, added, "When she broke slow, it cost me. That was the race for me. She stood too good, and it caused me to get away a little slow." The winner of her first two career starts on Golden Gate's Tapeta surface, Ciao Bella Luna rounded out her juvenile season with a second in the six-furlong Golden Gate Debutante S. in December. Ninth going a mile on the dirt for the first time in the Silverbulletday S. at Fair Grounds Jan. 19, she came home seventh in her latest start and her turf bow in the China Doll S. at Santa Anita Mar. 9. "It's been great to get her back on the synthetic surface," added Jelm. "Jerry and racing manager Mark Cornett have found her niche, I think." Cont. p3

TAP TROUPE CONVERGE ON CHURCHILL

Sporting an embarrassment of riches heading into the Classic season, trainer Todd Pletcher was in Kentucky Sunday to receive several of his GI Kentucky Derby candidates, including Apr. 6 GI Wood Memorial winner Verrazano

(More Than Ready) and Overanalyze (Dixie Union), victorious in Saturday's GI Arkansas Derby. The former arrived from New York yesterday afternoon on a Tex Sutton flight, which also included Pletcher's Princess of Sylmar (Majestic Warrior), runner-up in the Apr. 6 GI Gazelle S. Other Classic contenders on that same Kentucky-bound flight were Normandy Invasion (Tapit), from the Chad Brown barn and recent Gazelle

Verrazano escorted off the van by trainer Todd Pletcher

heroine Close Hatches (First Defence), who will join the Bill Mott string and be pointed to the Kentucky Oaks. Pletcher Classic prospects work..cont. p10

Versatile at two, Gengis performed admirably from six furlongs to a mile and had shown the pace to win over the former trip when last seen in Fontainebleau's Listed Prix Zeddaan in November. Previously successful over seven in a conditions event here in September and fourth in the Listed Prix Herod over that trip at Chantilly the following month, the grey seemed short of the required standard in this prep for the May 12 G1 Poule d'Essai des Poulains against the likes of Morandi. Last early as Us Law made the running, the grey stalked Morandi into the straight and steadily wore down the front-runner along with that favorite as the line neared, gaining the upper hand in the final yards. "He is a very genuine horse, but is very close to the boil, so we have to be very careful not to do too much in the mornings," conditioner Georges Doleuze said. "In a way, the bad weather has helped us not to do too much ahead of this race, and this was a genuine top-class field today, so who can ask for more? He ought to be in better shape later in the season and will come back here for the Poulains." Morandi's jockey Christophe Soumillon reported that the returning champion will strip fitter for this reintroduction. "I did not have the best run and when I came there he produced a good effort, but definitely needed the race."

Despite her second placing in Saint-Cloud's G3 Prix Thomas Bryon in October, Kenhope looked mainly exposed entering this Classic prep, but had race-fitness on her side after winning a mile conditions event on her seasonal bow at that venue Mar. 31. Keen early in fourth as the pace set by the previously unbeaten favorite Tasaday proved no more than moderate, the bay pounced on that rival 300 meters out and asserted decisively to register a first black-type win.

Kenhope is another advertisement for her little-known sire Kendargent, whose Restiadargent (Fr) and Kendam (Fr) had already flown the flag of the Haras de Colleville resident. She also provided a further boost to the form of the G1 Criterium International, in which she was fifth in November, a place behind the subsequent G3 Prix la Force winner Triple Threat (Fr) (Monsun {Ger}). "She is not an easy filly, as she is very keen and was again today," winning trainer Henri-Alex Pantall explained. "She has a lot of heart, however, to pull like that and still deliver such a terrific turn of foot. She has to learn how to settle and will probably be even better in a race like the [May 12] G1 Poule d'Essai des Pouliches, where there should be a good pace. We will come back for that and we have to be hopeful."

Having played second fiddle to Italy's leading sprinter Noble Hachy (GB) (Kyllachy {GB}) on more than one occasion, Bettolle took a leap forward to step out of the shadows and register a first black-type win. Runner-up to that archrival in San Siro's Listed Premio Cancelli in September, she had returned to find her again too strong when three-lengths second despite receiving four kilos in a course-and-distance conditions event last time Mar. 1. Settled in midpack early, the bay ground her way to the front with 150 yards remaining and quickly settled the issue with her rider able to ease off the throttle in the final stages.

Marengo, as that bright prospect defied a five-pound penalty in unsuitably testing ground. Kept wide off the rail and held up in fourth early by Joseph O'Brien, last year's Listed Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf Trial S. and G2 Beresford S. winner was sent past Sugar Boy and into the lead with over a quarter mile remaining. Despite finding it tough from there, the bay dug in to draw away from his spirited rival and provide his sire, who won this in 2001, with his first winner of the race. "We're very happy with that, as it was heavy ground and it wasn't ideal," the Ballydoyle conditioner said. "He always passed every test and is a lovely, relaxed horse who only does what he has to do. We're thinking about coming back for the [May 12] G2 Derrinstown Stud Derby Trial, and he'll love better ground."

(Henrythenavigator) behind, over six furlongs at The Curragh in the bottomless ground prevalent on the Irish Derby undercard June 30. Only sixth in the G3 Silver Flash S. over this track and trip the following month, the bay enjoyed a break before returning to be second in the G3 C L Weld Park S. back at the Curragh in September. Third in the Listed Staffordstown Stud S. at that venue when trying a mile on her latest outing in October, she was settled in mid-division throughout the initial stages of this Guineas prep. Traveling best in early stretch as What Style was committed on the front end, she duly swamped that rival running to the furlong marker before asserting in the testing ground for her first black-type score. "What Rawaaq lacks in size, she makes up for in courage," trainer Dermot Weld said. "She goes on this ground, is very sound, tough and consistent. She'll come back here for the [May 12] G3 Derrinstown 1,000 Stud Guineas Trial before the G1 Irish 1,000 Guineas [at The Curragh May 26]."

Third in this track's Listed Preis der Dreijahrigen last April on his sole try in black-type company, Global Thrill was patiently brought along by the now-retired Uwe Ostmann and ended his sophomore campaign with a third placing in a mile conditions race at Munich in August. Held up in mid-division early trapped wide, the bay closed in early stretch and after gaining the advantage passing the eighth pole, was driven out to assert. Trainer Jens Hirschberger, who took over from Ostmann, said, "As Global Thrill was already high in the handicap, it was worth a try here in this company--we just wanted to see how he went. He will probably continue on in the [May 9] G3 Badener Meile."

Already at Churchill Downs for the barn's customary spot atop the Sunday work schedule was a trio of Oaks prospects, who worked following the morning renovation break. Leading the fray was Stonestreet Stables' ★ "TDN Rising Star" ★ Dreaming of Julia (A.P. Indy), a 21 3/4- length winner of the Mar. 30 GII Gulfstream Oaks, who breezed a half-mile in :49. Posting internal splits of :12.80, :24.40, :36.60, the bay galloped out five furlongs in 1:02.20. The move was the 15th fastest of 43 at the distance.

"I thought she looked great and thought she handled the surface really well," confirmed Pletcher. "It was a typical breeze for her. She looked like she was in a gallop, but she went in :49. We were very happy with it. Her appetite and energy level have been great since that big performance at Gulfstream."

Also hitting the track for Pletcher was Repole Stable's undefeated filly Unlimited Budget (Street Sense) and Eclipse Thoroughbreds and Tanourin Stable's Silsita (Macho Uno), narrow winner of the Mar. 23 GIII Bourbonette Oaks. Working in tandem, the fillies breezed four furlongs in :48.60, with early fractions of :13.20 and :25.60. Unlimited Budget galloped out five furlongs in 1:01.80 and her stablemate completed that task in 1:02. The four-furlong time ranked 10th fastest of 43 at the distance.

"I think both worked very well, especially Unlimited Budget," offered Pletcher. "She seems like she really likes the surface here and was full of run throughout the run."

Dreaming of Julia worked under Humberto Zamora, Unlimited Budget was guided by Patti Krotenko and Silsita was accompanied by Nick Bush.

Also back at the Pletcher barn Sunday morning was GI Toyota Blue Grass S. runner-up Palace Malice (Curlin) and third-place finisher Charming Kitten (Kitten's Joy).

"We were happy, but it's frustrating at the same time," Pletcher said. "We would have loved to win, but we were very pleased with their efforts. Both came out of the race well."

While Palace Malice's effort was good enough to assure him a place in the Derby lineup, Charming Kitten's third-place effort, which places him in the 21st spot in the Derby standings, leaves him on the bubble. The top 20 point earners make it into the starting gate on the first Saturday in May.

"We'll prepare as though [Charming Kitten] is going to get in [to the Derby]," confirmed Pletcher.

Mylute Works at Churchill Downs...

Kentucky Derby hopeful Mylute (Midnight Lute), runner-up to Revolutionary (War Pass) in the Mar. 30 GII Louisiana Derby, worked a bullet six furlongs in 1:12.20 at Churchill Downs Sunday morning.

Mylute

Accompanied by Shaun Bridgmohan while working in company with a pair of stablemates from the Tom Amoss barn, the grey completed internal splits of :12.60, :24.80, :36.60, :48.40, 1:00.20 and galloped out seven panels in 1:25 and a mile in 1:39. "I wanted him to pass those horses down the lane and then finish once he got by them," explained Amoss. "He did those things, so the work went well." Amoss indicated Mylute would have a pair of easier works prior to the May 4 Derby. "If anybody was interested in Mylute as a Derby prospect, today's work was the one they needed to see," Amoss confirmed. "It was a serious work and he looked very good. Mylute is going to do nothing to impress anyone in his next two works. He's going to work by himself and they are going to be slow and easy half-mile works. Today's work was an indication of where we are with him and we were pleased."

War Academy Fine After Arkansas Pull-Up...

The Bob Baffert-trained War Academy (Giant's Causeway), the 9-5 favorite in Saturday's GI Arkansas Derby at Oaklawn Park, is doing fine since being pulled up by jockey Mike Smith down the backstretch. "He's fine," Baffert said. "Mike Smith said the horse's hind end kept going out on him a little bit down the backside, so he didn't feel comfortable and pulled him up. But when he got back to the barn he looked fine. We're shipping him today to Kentucky. We'll monitor him, but he looked fine." Baffert was already dealt a blow last week when GII Robert B. Lewis S. winner Flashback (Tapit) was taken off the Kentucky Derby trail with a knee chip. "Then there was one," the conditioner commented of his Derby chances, referring to GIII Sunland Derby winner Governor Charlie (Midnight Lute); the only Baffert likely for the Derby.

Rydilluc in Good Form After Blue Grass...

Rydilluc (Medaglia d'Oro) fourth as the 7-2 favorite in Saturday's Blue Grass S. came out of the race in good shape, according to trainer Gary Contessa's assistant Edward Fernandez. "He is good this morning," Fernandez said. "He ran a big race and only got beat less than two lengths. He will stay [in Kentucky] until probably later this week and then go to New York." The bay won three straight coming into the Blue Grass, including the the grassy GIII Palm Beach S. Mar. 3.

McPeek Trainees Exit Weekend Well...

Conditioner Ken McPeek had quite the weekend with Java's War (War Pass) and Frac Daddy (Scat Daddy) earning bids to the Kentucky Derby with a win in the GI Toyota Blue Grass S. and a second-place effort in the GI Arkansas Derby, respectively. McPeek tweeted: "Java's War came out of Blue Grass fine. Trainer is exhausted. Thank You for opportunity Mr Fipke. Special winning in my home town Lexington...Frac Daddy punches his ticket too. Proud of his effort. We knew he had it in him. I was born in Arkansas so that race is on my bucket list."

Arnold Outlines Plans for Centre Court...

Trainer George 'Rusty' Arnold indicated the GI Just a Game S. at Belmont June 8 is the next likely spot for Centre Court (Smart Strike), winner of last Saturday's GI Jenny Wiley S. at Keeneland. "We had targeted the Jenny Wiley," Arnold said. "99% of the time, you make plans and they don't work out. When they do, it is great." He added the GI Diana S. at Saratoga July 27 or the GI Beverly D. S. at Arlington Park Aug. 17 are likely targets for the summer before a tilt at the GI Breeders' Cup Filly and Mare Turf at Santa Anita Nov. 1. "She probably will ship to Belmont the week before the Just a Game and then come back here, because I normally do not ship to Saratoga until the Churchill Downs meet ends."

Casse Aims for New Target...

The Mark Casse-trained duo of Dynamic Sky (Sky Mesa) and Uncaptured (Lion Heart) will aim for a new target following a ninth in the GI Blue Grass S. and 10th in the GI Arkansas Derby, respectively. "We now have a new assignment," said Casse. "They are both Queen's Plate horses and we can concentrate on that now. There is a million dollars out there to run at. "The only thing that was hurt was their pride--and ours," Casse said of the horses exiting the race. "Dynamic Sky will go to Woodbine, but I am not sure about Uncaptured. I thought Uncaptured had the perfect trip and [jockey] Miguel [Mena] had him right where he needed to be. But Uncaptured ran so well in his first start back [second in the GIII Horseshoe Casino Cincinnati Racing Spiral S. Mar. 23] that I was concerned he might regress a little bit. That might have been part of it."

As the last firework went out and the dust finally began to settle at Meydan following the crescendo of the Dubai World Cup, it signalled not only the end of the racing Carnival, but the final few days of our three-month stay in the emirate. When considering what to include in this blog edition, I realised that other contributors to this publication had already provided some very eloquent commentary and analysis of the main DWC events, so it fell to me only to try to summarise some of our own experiences during the course of the three months; doing justice to which seems a tricky task.

We arrived in Dubai fresh from several months in Australia's Hunter Valley, somewhat wide-eyed and in awe of the vibrant city that has seemingly sprung up overnight. At first glance, many of us were unsure of how horses in Dubai could possibly be prepared for top-level races in such a unique climate and environment. However, we would encounter some of the best facilities in the world, a mentality where the horse's needs come first and a culture in which 'no' is generally considered not to be an acceptable response to a request!

We had little time until we were swiftly immersed into our work placements, during which each of us worked for a different trainer or racing organisation including Doug Watson, Satish Seemar, Emirates Racing Authority and the Dubai Racing Channel.

Flying Starters walk the turf course at Meydan

Though each offered a very different insight, we all had the chance to experience Dubai racing close-up from several angles, from assisting with treadmill workouts at Mike De Kock's barn to helping break in 2-year-olds with John Hyde and, in the case of trainee Madoka Kamei, even performing track-side translation for a trainer being interviewed on live Japanese TV.

Tours of the Zabeel feed mill and Dubai Equine Hospital showed us the high standards of facility and expertise that are on hand and illustrated that Dubai is comparable to anywhere else in the world in these areas. Prior to the final week of racing and excitement, we had the chance to finalise our business management modules at the Emirates Academy of Hospitality Management. Scenarios for our final projects included exciting multi-million dollar syndicates, trans-global bloodstock agencies and even a website for standing Kauto Star at stud, demonstrating that if nothing else, Darley Flying Start has taught us to 'dream big'!

A few days prior to the Dubai World Cup, we had the honour of meeting the ruler of the Dubai, HH Sheikh Mohammed bin Rashid Al Maktoum; the author of the emirate's rapid success story, as well as the generous sponsor of our program. For all of us, accompanying Sheikh Mohammed into a busy restaurant one lunchtime was perhaps one of the most surreal moments of our lives, but we were swiftly put at ease as he spoke about some of his passions; for horses, racing, and of course Dubai. We were also fortunate enough to meet His Highness a second time a few days later, this time during a visit to one his horse facilities in the desert, where we had a chance to experience his remarkable horsemanship skills; memories we'll take with us for many years.

During the carnival, we had witnessed the arrival of an array of international runners and their connections, and we were reminded again of the global nature of racing in Dubai on Dubai World Cup night, as many trainees assisted with events at Meydan hosted by Falcon, a strategic planning company set up to help enhance the emirate's global position as a financial, business and tourism hub. Business leaders from around the world were invited to attend the races and hopefully a few more fans were created as a result of their trip. As one of my fellow trainees, Stephen Heath, put it, that the main event was won by Animal Kingdom, an American-bred horse by a Brazilian-bred stallion, trained by an Englishman and owned by an Australian farm was a fantastic outcome to a brilliant week.

Now, based here in Ireland, we have come 'full circle,' as this is where we set out on our two-year journey back in August 2011--it seems like barely a blink of an eye since we left. There is a shift in focus now; to entrepreneurship, job applications and the final business plan. For now, we express our sincere thanks to all those in Dubai that supported us so generously, particularly our placement coordinators and Darley management, and we look forward to the final few weeks ahead of us.

Xavier Perez kept his cool aboard the errant Spicer Cub in Saturday's 11th race at Pimlico in a ride that set the twitterverse alight. "It was wild," Perez admitted. "He didn't give me any warning, especially the second time and went straight for the gate. My life went before my eyes for a few seconds. I was thinking about bailing, but saw there was enough space between the gate and the rail to get through, so I grabbed his mane and hoped for the best. Once we cleared the gate he re-broke again and almost won the race. It was really close. In fact, Forest Boyce [who was aboard Turbin] congratulated me after the wire." Click here to watch the race.

MAXIMOVA SHINES FOR GALLAGHER'S

Marlene Brody's Gallagher's Stud has long been associated with quality New York-breds, such as Grade I-winner Allez Milord and turf standout Adcat, and the Ghent-based operation may have another good one in Maximova (Danehill Dancer {Ire}), who posted a smart debut victory going long over the Aqueduct turf yesterday.

The victory marked what could be considered a quick return for Brody, who purchased Maximova's dam, the

Adam Coglianese

Sadler's Wells mare Honorias (Ire), carrying Maximova for $250,000 at Keeneland September in 2009. Gallagher's Farm Manager Mallory Mort said the then-4-year-old maiden, a stakes winner in Ireland, ticked all the boxes.

"Mrs. Brody really liked her pedigree," he noted.

"Obviously, you don't see many Sadler's Wells mares in foal to Danehill Dancer coming through the ring at Keeneland. She's a very pretty mare and she was a decent racehorse."

The following April, Honorias produced Maximova, a bay filly that Mort described as "straightforward."

"We never really had any problems with her," he explained. "She's not a big filly. Actually, as a weanling and yearling she was kind of chunky--she had a big belly--and she didn't look particularly athletic, if you just looked at her standing there, but she always had a really nice walk. As she got thinner, she started to look more like a racehorse, and she looked super in the paddock today."

While Gallagher's sells some of its stock annually, it was never a thought to sell Maximova.

"The mare had not been sexed, so we didn't know what she was going to have, but Mrs. Brody said right from the beginning that, if it was a filly, she was going to keep her to race her," Mort said. "We never considered selling her."

Honorias slipped her 2011 foal, and produced a Speightstown colt last year who is destined for the sales ring in 2013.

"We haven't decided yet which sale we're putting him in, but he will sell," Mort noted. "He's not a big horse either, but conformationally he's not a lot different from [Maximova]--really correct with a really nice walk."

Honorias foaled a Lemon Drop Kid filly Jan. 24, and has been bred back to Distorted Humor. As for Maximova, Mort said no future plans have been set out for the Christophe Clement charge, but they will likely look for a first-level allowance as her next target.

Last seen winning a 6 1/2-furlong maiden under Richard Hannon's auspices at Newbury at the end of October, Fort Knox advertised his Classic credentials for the newly established Andrew Tinkler-Thomas Carmody partnership under a finely judged ride from Johnny Murtagh here. Left in a detached last early as the pace proved strong, the bay was never hurried and was still beginning to reach top stride as the enterprisingly ridden Dont Bother Me was committed at the top of the straight. Gaining a head of steam to reel in that rival with 100 yards remaining, he was firmly in control at the line, with Ballydoyle's The United States (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) a notable flop in sixth having held every chance on the turn for home. "Obviously, there is something amiss as it was a disappointing run," Aidan O'Brien said of the favorite.

Returning from his winter break having signed off with a workmanlike score in the G3 Diamond S. over an extended 10 furlongs on Dundalk's Polytrack in October, the former Jean-Claude Rouget project Declaration of War was allowed to start as the second favorite after the significant rain prompted the ground to worsen. Positioned in third early by Joseph O'Brien, the bay--whose sole reversal came when fourth on his debut for Ballydoyle in the G3 Solonaway S. at The Curragh in September--swooped on the front end approaching the furlong pole and drew away to score with authority. "He is a big, powerful horse who has done very well over the winter and needed the run," Aidan O'Brien commented. "We were very worried about the ground, but he traveled very well and we'd have to be very happy. He was a very good horse before we got him and he had an easy time last year and learnt a bit. He is an exciting horse--the G1 Lockinge S. [at Newbury May 18] is the plan and he is a great-moving horse so better ground will suit."
