RIDING HIGH FROM BREEDERS' CUP, MILLER BARN YET TO COME DOWN

Peter Miller at the Breeders' Cup | Breeders' Cup/Eclipse Sportswire

by Bill Finley

Racing is supposed to be a game of highs and lows, so after Peter Miller enjoyed the best day of his career on Breeders' Cup Day, it wouldn't have come as a surprise if his barn started to head in the other direction. Not everything can go right every day. Or can it?

Miller must be wondering.

The trainer finished one-two in the GI Breeders' Cup Turf Sprint as Stormy Liberal (Stormy Atlantic) edged out stablemate Richard's Boy (Idiot Proof). Three races later, he won the GI TwinSpires Breeders' Cup Sprint with Roy H (More Than Ready). Miller wins a lot of races, but isn't often given a chance with top-class horses. The Breeders' Cup wins were his first Grade I victories since the 2013 GI La Brea S. He won that race with Heir Kitty (Wildcat Heir).

What he did next was take the Breeders' Cup mojo and run with it. Miller won five races over this past weekend at Del Mar and now has 16 winners at the meet with a 33% winning rate. Jerry Hollendorfer is second with seven wins.

"I'm a big believer in the energy in the barn," Miller said. "The horses are so sensitive to energy, to good and bad. When everyone kind of has a spring in their step and is happy to be working, the horses feel it and vice versa."

SCHIVARELLI AND MORLEY REUNITED

by Christie DeBernardis

Trainer Tom Morley first encountered the 6-year-old Schivarelli (Montbrook) back in 2014 when the horse was under the care of trainer Eddie Kenneally. The gelding was claimed away from Kenneally in August of this year and Morley has been trying to get him in his stable since. The third time proved to be the charm as the Englishman haltered Schivarelli for $50,000 Saturday after a seven-length victory at Aqueduct.

"I was helping Eddie out when this horse was on the New York Triple Crown trail, so I've known Schiv for a long time," Morley said. "He is a horse I know incredibly well and I know his ability level too. As soon as I saw him back in for a tag after Eddie lost him, I texted him and said, 'Any change in Schiv?' He said, 'No, not at all. You should go claim him.' And that is what I've been trying to do." Cont. p5 (click here)

"When the boss is in a bad mood and the people are in a bad mood, the horses sense that," Miller continued. "There definitely is that thing of mojo or energy or whatever you want to call it that I believe horses can really sense. Certainly, winning those two Breeders' Cup races picked everybody's head up in the barn."

Since Roy H's win in the Sprint, the Miller barn has gone 12 for 36 at Del Mar. Beyond the positive karma of the Breeders' Cup, he attributes his success to many different factors.

"During the summer meet at Del Mar, I did not do well (15 for 126) and the track was very deep, heavy and slow," he said. "I was training at San Luis Rey Downs and it wasn't a good fit. For the Bing Crosby meet, I decided to send the horses who were going to run on the dirt down to Del Mar a couple weeks in advance of the race. I think that's been beneficial. The track is tighter and faster than it was in the summer. And, yes, we are getting good spots to run in. When most of your horses have blinking lights on the board, you know you're in the right spot. It's good when there's a blinking light between the six and the five. And we're getting lucky, getting good posts, good rides, winning the head-bobs. It's just a combination of everything going right."

Miller knows he has to cool down at some point.

"You never expect to go on a run like this," he said. "You're just thankful when you do. You know it won't last and you just try to enjoy it while it's happening. In this business as a trainer you're never as good as you think you are and you're never as bad as you think you are. When you're going bad you think you can't do anything right and when you're going good you think you're King Kong on a ladder. Neither one of them is true. You're somewhere in the middle."

Miller is aggressive when spotting horses, always looking for a spot where they can win. If that means running a horse back in a week, he will. That makes him a rarity among today's trainers. On Saturday, one of his winners, Painting Corners (Pleasant Strike) was running back in seven days. Among his other four winners over the weekend, the longest layoff any of them had was three weeks.

Stormy Liberal winning the GI Breeders' Cup Turf Sprint
Breeders' Cup/Eclipse Sportswire

"The key to winning races is entering horses where they belong and I probably enter more aggressively than anyone in California," he said. "I hope guys continue not to because it makes it easier for me. That's the key, running horses where they belong. It's not brain surgery.

"One of the winners this week ran back in seven days and she won nicely. You have these sheet numbers, Ragozin and Thoro-Graph, selling this propaganda that horses need X amount of time between races and I think it's a lot of nonsense. If you're at the barn every day and watching every horse and checking legs and doing the right things, you know which horses need time and which ones don't. You can't just say this horse ran a 6 on the sheets, it's going to bounce to the moon unless you give it eight weeks off."

There is something about the Bing Crosby meet that brings out the best in the Miller stable. He won the training title in 2016 and tied for first with Phil D'Amato in 2015, the first year Del Mar ran in the fall.

It helps that he has a lot of horses, but he's always looking for better ones. Did his Breeders' Cup wins and his domination of this meet cause any owners to take notice?

"Everyone says your phone must be ringing off the hook since the Breeders' Cup," he said. "Well, that's not the way this industry works. All of my business is from word of mouth, referrals or people calling me because they like me. It's not me hustling. I'm not a really a hustler. I'm hoping some people recognize me and some of the bigger and better breeders and owners give me a chance. In the meantime, I'll just take what I get and do the best I can with them."

Third in last term's GIII Ack Ack H., Schivarelli was claimed from Kenneally, Pike Place Racing and Homewrecker Racing by David Jacobson for $62,500 after finishing a troubled eighth behind Neolithic (Harlan's Holiday) in a Saratoga optional claimer Aug, 5. Jacobson dropped him in for $20,000 at Belmont Sept. 17 and he not only won, but was claimed again by Drawing Away Stable and trainer Robert Falcone, Jr.

Falcone ran back for $40,000 at Belmont Oct. 20, where Schivarelli finished third and was claimed yet again by Rudy Rodriguez and Ben Modello. Morley finally got his hands on the popular chestnut Saturday after he romped by a geared-down seven lengths in a $50,000 claimer at Aqueduct.

"I actually went for him for $20,000, for $40,000 and for $50,000," Morley said. "He is a horse who loves Aqueduct. When you know these horses inside and out, it gives you an awful lot more confidence in what they are like now."

Schivarelli is entered in Aqueduct's Thanksgiving day feature, the GIII Fall Highweight H., but Morley says it is highly unlikely that the horse will run back on such a quick turnaround.

"I almost certainly am not going to run him Thursday," Morley said. "It is a 100-1 shot, but he was nominated, so I entered him for the sake of just putting him in there and having a look. I'm 99% sure I am not going to run, as the Fall Highweight looks like a wonderfully strong renewal. It is wonderfully strong if you're a neutral watching it, but if you have a horse of Schiv's ability, you are probably in the wrong spot there." Cont. p6

When asked what was in store for his long lost pal, Morley said, “He did just win for $50,000 by seven, eased down on the line. He is a horse not far away from the caliber of these horses, but he is also the type of horse that we need to put in the right spots. There wasn’t much time between the claim and the draw of the race and I didn’t know who was going in there. I’ve got him and now I can assess him. He hasn’t even been back to the track yet, so we will see what I’ve got.” (Click to return to p1)

GRADE I WINNER TIME AND MOTION RETIRED

Phillips Racing Partnership’s Time and Motion (Tapit--Ellie’s Moment, by Kris S.), winner of the GI Queen Elizabeth II Challenge Cup S. last fall, has been retired from racing, Darby Dan Farm announced Tuesday. Breeding plans are pending at this time.

Fifth at 56-1 as a maiden in the 2015 GI Breeders’ Cup Juvenile Fillies Turf, the homebred graduated last March at Gulfstream and reeled off four stakes victories after that, culminating in her QEII heroics. The bay had been winless in her subsequent six tries, however, and was last seen running fifth in the GIII Athenia S. Oct. 28 at Belmont. Trained throughout her career by Jimmy Toner, Time and Motion retires with a record of 15-5-1-3 and $967,719 in earnings.

HALF-DOZEN UP FOR VOX POPULI AWARD

Online voting is now open to determine the eighth annual winner of the Secretariat Vox Populi Award. Created by Secretariat's late owner Penny Chenery, the Vox Populi, or "Voice of the People," Award recognizes the racehorse whose popularity and racing excellence best resounded with the public and gained recognition for the sport during the past year.

Fans can vote in the online poll, which can be found at Secretariat.com, for one of six nominees selected by the Vox Populi Committee this year. Voters also have the option to write in a racehorse of their choice. The poll is open through Dec. 12, and a public presentation to the 2017 Vox Populi winner is scheduled for Jan. 20, 2018, at Santa Anita Park.

This year's nominees are:

Vox Populi Award

- Arrogate (Unbridled's Song), the talented and enigmatic 4-year-old colt, who in 2017 became the top all-time North American earner after impressive wins in the inaugural GI Pegasus World Cup Invitational and G1 Dubai World Cup;

- Ben's Cat, the late, four-time Maryland Horse of the Year who amassed the devotion of a legion of fans in an eight-year racing career that concluded in 2017;

- Gun Runner, the commanding 4-year-old colt whose outstanding achievements this year include $6.9 million in earnings and four consecutive Grade I victories culminating with the Breeders' Cup Classic;

- Lady Eli, the sensational 5-year-old racemare who overcame laminitis to win three of her five 2017 starts finishing out a stellar career;

● Patch, the one-eyed, 3-year-old Triple Crown contender who ran third in the GI Belmont S. and garnered international fanfare for prevailing over obvious challenges to compete at the sport's highest level;

● Songbird, the 4-year-old multiple graded stakes-winning filly who retired in August and recently sold for a whopping $9.5 million at the Fasig-Tipton November sale.

"All the nominees in this wide open field have endeared themselves to racing fans--my mother included," said Kate Tweedy, Chenery's daughter. "She followed each of these horses with great interest and admiration. We will be awarding the Vox Populi for the first time without her, and I am sure she would have had her own opinion as to who the winner should be and encouraged all racing fans to vote and let their voice be heard. The award is a testament to her legacy and epitomizes her love for the sport. Our family looks forward to continuing that tradition."

the BIG INTERVIEW with Alayna Cullen

JOSEPH O'BRIEN

Last week, the TDN's Alayna Cullen took a trip to Joseph O'Brien's training facility, Carriganog Racing, at his family's farm in County Kilkenny, Ireland. Carriganog features Owning Hill, a 340-foot uphill gallop, which many have credited with adding stamina to horses like Rekindling, who recently made his trainer the youngest ever to win the Melbourne Cup. In the process, he denied his father, the legendary Aidan O'Brien, the victory.

TDN: Joseph, before we get on to the Melbourne Cup, I just want to talk about your career. It's been amazing so far. Can you sum it up for us?

JO: I suppose I've been very lucky, honestly. When I was very young, I started riding for Dad and Coolmore. I was very lucky to ride some very good horses. Then I started training, not long afterwards, and we've had a good run of it for the last just over a year or so.

TDN: Was it always the plan to be a jockey first and then go training?

JO: Yes. I always intended to train, and from when I was young, training was always something that I'd wanted to do, and absolutely. It is.

TDN: Do you miss the riding at all?

JO: No, I haven't missed riding at all, and haven't really had time. Like I say, we've been busy, and I haven't missed riding too much.

TDN: Would you ride out on your own at all?

JO: I ride out on Sunday morning. During the week, I don't ride out. Obviously, when we have the lot, it's hard to ride and to see what's going on. So no, I ride out on Sunday morning, and then that's it.

TDN: What's your biggest challenge, being a young trainer, do you think?

Click here for a video with Joseph O'Brien at Carriganog Racing.

JO: I suppose it's always trying to attract a nice young horse, and it's all about the next one. When you have a horse that is quite good, it's very hard to try and concentrate and try and get another one, you know? So attracting owners and horses, and getting the good horses, is the most important thing. Getting them into the yard.

TDN: You come from the school of your parents, which is Aidan and Anne-Marie O'Brien. They're fantastic people in their own right. What would you say is the biggest lesson you've learned from watching them work?

JO: I suppose Dad always keeps things simple, and his attention to detail is something else, so they're probably something that I would try to concentrate on.

TDN: The facility you're training out of now, it's been in your family for generations, I would say. Was it always predestined for you to come and train here?

JO: I think so. Obviously my granddad was the first to train here, and he trained a lot of winners, and Mom and Francis, and then, obviously, Dad. Dad trained here too, trained an awful lot of winners from here. I think it was always somewhere I might end up training from.

TDN: It's a beautiful stable, and it's nestled in a beautiful countryside. Can you just tell us a little bit about the facility?

JO: We have one gallop, and it's seven furlongs on an incline. We have a couple of equine spas, we have a lot of walkers, and we have a number of different yards, dotted around a hill. We have everything that we could need here, and really, we're very lucky with the facilities that we have. It's completely private, you know?

TDN: The gallop you have is always rising, I suppose, it's on an incline. Can you just explain, really, why, in the European model of training, that the hill is so important?

JO: This one is probably slightly unique. I think it rises 340 feet from start to finish. All the horses, we train them on the gallop, but the two-year-olds wouldn't go as far, and the older horses would only go to the top when we want to work them. We vary each horse's routine, vary to each horse. It's a very good gallop, and there's been huge numbers of winners trained from here over the years. Whatever I can blame for getting things wrong, I can't blame the facilities.

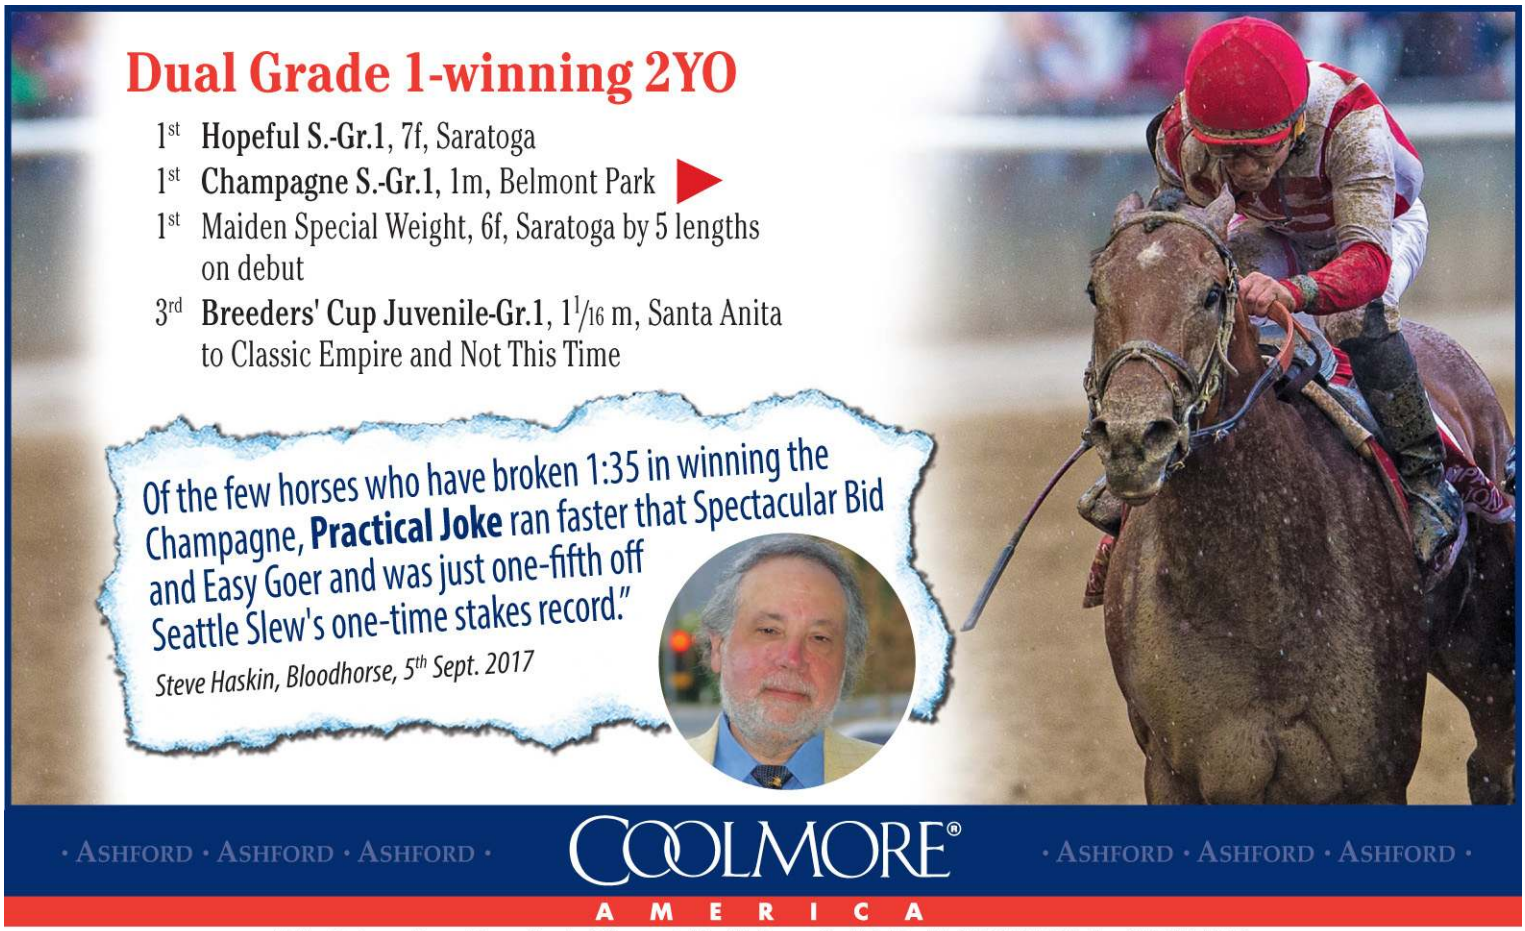
TDN: A horse like Rekindling, who won the Melbourne Cup for you, what would his regime up the hill be?

JO: He has always been a very easy horse to train. We've never had to do too much work with them, only keep him fresh, so we've been very lucky with him.

TDN: When did the Melbourne Cup come up on his radar?

JO: It was obviously an option, I suppose, from early in the year, but it was only really after the Leger that Nick Williams called and he said, “Bring him down.” He said he thought he'd have a great chance in the race. It was just after the Leger, I suppose, that, really, things kicked into action.

TDN: It's an Australian race, but Europeans seem to dominate it. Do you think there's any reason why the European horses do so well in the Melbourne Cup?



JO: I'm not sure, but there's a great program, in Europe, for three-year-olds and older horses, and the racing is so competitive, I suppose, from sprinters right through to the middle distance horse to the stayers. The market for horses out of Ireland and England and Europe to travel around the world is so strong, and I suppose the success in the first whatever it was, in the nine, of the first eleven, or something, and it would only reiterate that.

TDN: Being down there, did you get a sense that racing is very much of the culture down there? What did you make of the whole Melbourne Cup festival?

JO: It was unbelievable, really. There's not too many races, if any races around the world, that as many people get behind the race. They call it 'the race that stops the nation,' and it really does. The attendance and the media that the race gets is huge.

TDN: Obviously it was the desired result for Rekindling winning, but what was your tactic going into the race? How did you think it would play out?

JO: Corey Brown, who rode the horse, he's a very good rider, he's very experienced. He's had a lot of luck in the Melbourne Cup. He's won it before, and he's had goodly placed horses, so we pretty much left tactics up to him. The race seemed to work out very well for him. He got a lovely run through when he needed it, and it couldn't have worked out any better for him, I think.

TDN: Could you believe it when he crossed the line in front?

JO: Not really, no. We had hoped that he would run well. In the first four or five finishers is what I was hoping for. But for him to win really was unbelievable.

TDN: Is there any jibbing across the dinner table now, with your dad, that you've achieved something he hasn't?

JO: No, not at all. He was delighted for us, and we're both delighted for Lloyd and Nick. They've been big supporters of mine, and they've been very good to me, and it was great to win the race for them, in particular. Absolutely. It's unbelievable, really. It's only sinking in now, I think.

TDN: Joseph, your father gets asked this question quite a lot, but after a race, who are you on the phone to?

JO: I don't think I was on the phone. I don't usually like to be on the phone that much, but Dad called not too long after the race, so he was delighted. Absolutely.

TDN: Well, Joseph, on behalf of TDN, well done, congratulations, and enjoy it.

WHO IS THE PERSON YOU MOST ADMIRE IN RACING, AND WHY?

The following is part of a series in which we have posed the question above to a number of racing industry participants. The only rule is that you cannot choose your own boss.

ERIC HAMELBACK, CEO NATIONAL HBPA: John Nerud

When asked to write in the Thoroughbred Daily News the person I most admire, I was flattered before quickly realizing how hard it would be to narrow it to one person. My professional career is crammed with individuals from Louisiana to Canada whom I greatly admire and who have shaped me as a professional horseman. All that said, one person sums up everything I consider valuable within the Thoroughbred racing industry: John Nerud.

Mr. Nerud is an industry icon in so many ways. For me it comes back to his work ethic, someone who rose to the top by starting from the bottom, and those he saw as the racing industry's most important stakeholders. Born in Nebraska, Mr. Nerud started as a rodeo cowboy, then as a groom and hotwalker, even a jock's agent in New England. He served his country in the Navy during World War II before returning to racing as an assistant trainer. The rest, to racing's good fortune, is history.

Mr. Nerud understood that racing drives our industry. The founding father along with John Gaines, Mr. Nerud defined the Breeders' Cup as a marketing tool for racing--nothing else. My admiration for him and what he stood for was then crystallized in a two-part interview with Steve Byk in 2008.

"You have one big day to draw attention to racing and it's a marketing tool. Without racing, breeders don't have a place to sell their horses," Mr. Nerud told Steve. Cont. p15

I have tried to champion that creed since, including pleading in the July 13, 2010 edition of TDN to make sure racing is in the forefront of every breeders' planning--not commercialism. Later that day, I had a phone message from Mr. Nerud that I will always keep and cherish, along with the memory of our phone conversation the next day.

In that relatively short phone call, Mr. Nerud conveyed advice and how he saw the industry that will last me a lifetime. He said we have two types of true stakeholders: givers and takers. Suffice to say he made sure I was aware the importance of the givers. Owners and our customers, he explained, drive the racing industry. In that brief conversation, he instilled the importance of standing up for owners, trainers and handicappers. In so many ways, Mr. Nerud has shaped my thoughts on the industry, as well as how I act in my position as CEO for the National Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association. To submit your own reply to our 'Admire' series, email suefinley@thetdn.com

ACT NOW (f, 2, Street Sense--Always Trouble, by Bernardini), a very live-on-the-board 47-10 from a morning line of 10-1, posted a comfortable debut success Tuesday afternoon at Parx Racing. Drawn widest in the field of 10, the bay showed good gate speed to prompt from second for the opening three furlongs before striding into the lead midway on the turn. She hit the quarter pole with a daylight advantage and got to drifting a bit in the final furlong, but kept on well to score by 1 1/2 lengths. Fortune Street (Bellamy Road) was second best. Act Now is the first foal from an unraced daughter of SW Spunoutacontrol (Wild Again), whose MGSW & MGISP son Fed Biz (Giant's Causeway) is off to a promising start at stud at WinStar Farm. The latter's half-sister Spun Silk (A.P. Indy) is the dam of GISW Joking (Distorted Humor), while the further female family includes Tale of the Cat (Storm Cat) and Johannesburg. The dam of a yearling colt by Quality Road, Always Trouble was most recently covered by Distorted Humor. Her 2017 foal by Pioneerof the Nile passed away this year. Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $27,000. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by Fasig-Tipton.

Honored Promise's winning dam Honor Bestowed (Honor Grades) is a daughter of GSW Wings of Grace (Key to the Mint), who bred Eclipse Award winner and two-time Grade I winner Soaring Softly (Kris S.) and GI-winning turf mare Plenty of Grace (Roberto). The deeper female family includes Parade Ground (Kingmambo) and Everhope (Danzig) and New Economy (Red Ransom), all black-type winners on the grass. TJCIS PPs

10th-CD, $60K, Msw, 3/up, f/m, 8.5fT, post time: 5:24 p.m. ET

SUNOOF (Malibu Moon) is a daughter of the talented Illinois-bred distaffer Rolling Sea (Sefapiano), a two-time graded winner on the main track, and cost the braintrust at Sheikh Hamdan's Shadwell Farm $300K at the 2015 Keeneland November sale. The bay debuts on the lawn, but has a bullet five-furlong move on the dirt in 1:00 2/5 (1/17) Nov. 8. A potentially interesting longshot is G. Watts Humphrey Jr.'s Focused (Distorted Humor), who tries the turf for the first time following three unplaced runs on the dirt. The chestnut, a $300K KEESEP buy, is out of Single Solution (Flatter), a half-sister to Grade I-winning turfer Vacare (Lear Fan) and herself the adjudged winner of the 2009 GIII Pin Oak Valley View S. Single Solution is the dam of SW & MGSP No Fault of Mine (Blame). TJCIS PPs --Alan Carasso

INDUSTRY INFO

TRF Welcomes New Members to Board of Directors:

The Thoroughbred Retirement Foundation has added four new members to its Board of Directors: Paul H. Saylor, Maggie Wolfendale-Morley, Robert Masiello and Erin Birkenhauer. The Board provides leadership for carrying out the Foundation's mission to save Thoroughbred horses no longer able to compete on the racetrack from possible neglect, abuse and slaughter.

Saylor returns to the TRF, where he was elected to its board in 2015. He is Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of CS Capital Management in Atlanta, GA and Los Angeles, CA. Also successful in racing, Saylor, in partnership with Starlight Stable and Johns Martin, campaigned Hall of Famer and dual champion Ashado.

Longtime racing enthusiast Robert Masiello bought a share of a horse through West Point Thoroughbreds in 2005 and has since been partners in graded stakes winners Justwhistledixie, Freedom Child, Twilight Eclipse and Ring Weekend. A native of New Jersey, Masiello is an Equity Trader at Chimera Securities.

Erin Birkenhauer has served West Point Thoroughbreds as its Director of Communications and Racing Manager for the past seven years. She is a lifelong advocate for transitioning retired Thoroughbreds into second careers.

Maggie Wolfendale-Morley joined the New York Racing Association in 2010 as its Paddock Analyst. Previously, she was a racing analyst in Maryland and Virginia. In New York, she worked NYRA television broadcasts with fellow TRF Board member and ex-jockey Richard Migliore.

"I am excited to welcome Paul, Maggie, Robert and Erin to the TRF Board of Directors," says Patrick H. Mackay, Chairman and President. "Each of them brings a wealth of industry knowledge, and a passion for the Thoroughbred breed."

AUSTRALIA DAY AT GOFFS

Tuesday's top lot, a colt by Australia | Goffs

By Emma Berry

The dual Derby winner Australia (GB) had been the recipient of many favourable comments throughout the yearling sales and the buzz has continued through to his second crop of foals, which included Tuesday's session topper at Goffs. The colt (lot 430), offered by Garranlea Stud, was bred in partnership by Eddie Irwin of Rockhart Trading and the China Horse Club and ended up bringing a price far exceeding the €150,000 paid for the top lot on the equivalent day of last year's foal sale, when Philipp Stauffenberg placed the successful bid of €260,000.

The April-born colt's sale was the second good result commercially in a matter of months for the Marlhill House Stud resident Thai Haku (Ire) (Oasis Dream {GB}), whose yearling colt by the same sire was bought for 380,000gns during Book 2 of the Tattersalls October Sale.

Bought for a new client of Stauffenberg's who is most likely to race him, he is a half-brother to the 2-year-old filly Sarrocchi (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), a recent winner on debut for Aidan O'Brien.

The same breeders and vendor were responsible for the second-top lot of the day (lot 489), this colt the son of another dual Classic winner. The first foal of English and Irish 2000 Guineas winner Gleneagles (Ire) to be offered at public auction elicited a bid of €150,000 from Flash Conroy of Glenvale Stud, who said, "The stallion is very exciting and he's getting very nice horses. They're well-balanced and have quality and I'm very happy to get him."

The colt's dam, Convocate, a Juddmonte-bred daughter of Exchange Rate who was bought by Marhill House Stud and China Horse Club for 310,000gns at Tattersalls December Sale three years ago, has a 2-year-old by Camelot (GB) as well as an Australia yearling and was covered this year by Galileo (Ire).

Strong Trade Continues...

As predicted, the prices rose significantly during the second session of the Goffs November Foal Sale, which, after a rejig in format, correlates to day four at last year's sale and, following a promising opener, again showed decent improvement.

On Tuesday, 182 of the 228 foals offered, or 80%, were marked as sold at a 20% rise in average to €35,452 and a 4% upturn in the median to €27,000. Turnover for the second session was €6,452,200, which was up by 34%.

Alarm Sounds The Right Note...

Various members of the O'Callaghan family were involved in purchases towards the top of the table on day two, with Roger O'Callaghan of Tally-Ho Stud signing for lot 409, a son of the dependable Exceed And Excel (Aus) offered by Baroda & Colbinstown Studs for breeder Townley Hall Bloodstock.

"Mick Flanagan bought the mare for a new client and it's his first venture into breeding," said consignor David Cox. "He's a good first foal who was born on our farm and the team have done a great job with him. He had plenty of vets and 143 shows."

The colt is the first foal of Sound The Alarm (GB), an unraced full-sister to Listed European Free H. winner Shifting Power (GB) (Compton Place {GB}) from an extended family which has been responsible for a number of black-type winners in recent seasons, including Ivawood (Ire) (Zebedee {Ire}), Berkshire (Ire) (Mount Nelson {GB}) and this season's G1 Fillies' Mile winner Laurens (Fr) (Siyouni {Fr}).

The mare was bought carrying the colt for €50,000 at the same sale last year and is now back in foal to Exceed And Excel.

Son Rising in Ireland...

His sire Dark Angel (Ire) needs no introduction and, though it is very early days in his first foal sale season, the name Gutaifan (Ire) will soon be reaching a much wider audience. The chat around the sales grounds is already being backed up by prices in the ring. Twenty-five of of his foals have changed hands throughout two sessions, returning an average of €41,600 from an initial covering fee of €12,500.

At the head of affairs was a colt foal (lot 352), offered by Ballylinch Stud on behalf of breeder Dubois Holdings and bought by for €120,000 by the shrewd pinhooking team from Yeomanstown Stud, which stands sire and grand sire, both of whom are homebreds.

"Gutaifan has a good bunch of foals here and they're being well received. They're good movers and hopefully they will come back as good yearlings," said David O'Callaghan after his brother Robert had signed for the son of the unraced Lawman (Fr) mare Oh Sedulous (Ire), a half-sister to the dam of Shirocco (Ger) (Monsun {Ger}). "This colt was the best individual of today regardless of sire. It's a good cross and there's a bit of pedigree behind him."

Just last weekend, Yeomanstown Stud welcomed the 5-year-old El Kabeir to its stallion wing. The GII Kentucky Jockey Club S. winner is the first son of Scat Daddy to stand in Europe outside the Coolmore banner and is now available for viewing at the farm.

It wasn't just the home team pinning hopes for next year's yearling sales on Gutaifan. Mick Flanagan signed for lot 421, a half-sister to the listed winner Taamol (Ire) (Helmet {Aus}) from Skara Stud, for €90,000, while Flash Conroy gave €75,000 for a colt (lot 459) out of Alyaafel (GB) (Cape Cross {Ire}) from Oghill House Stud. Cont. p4

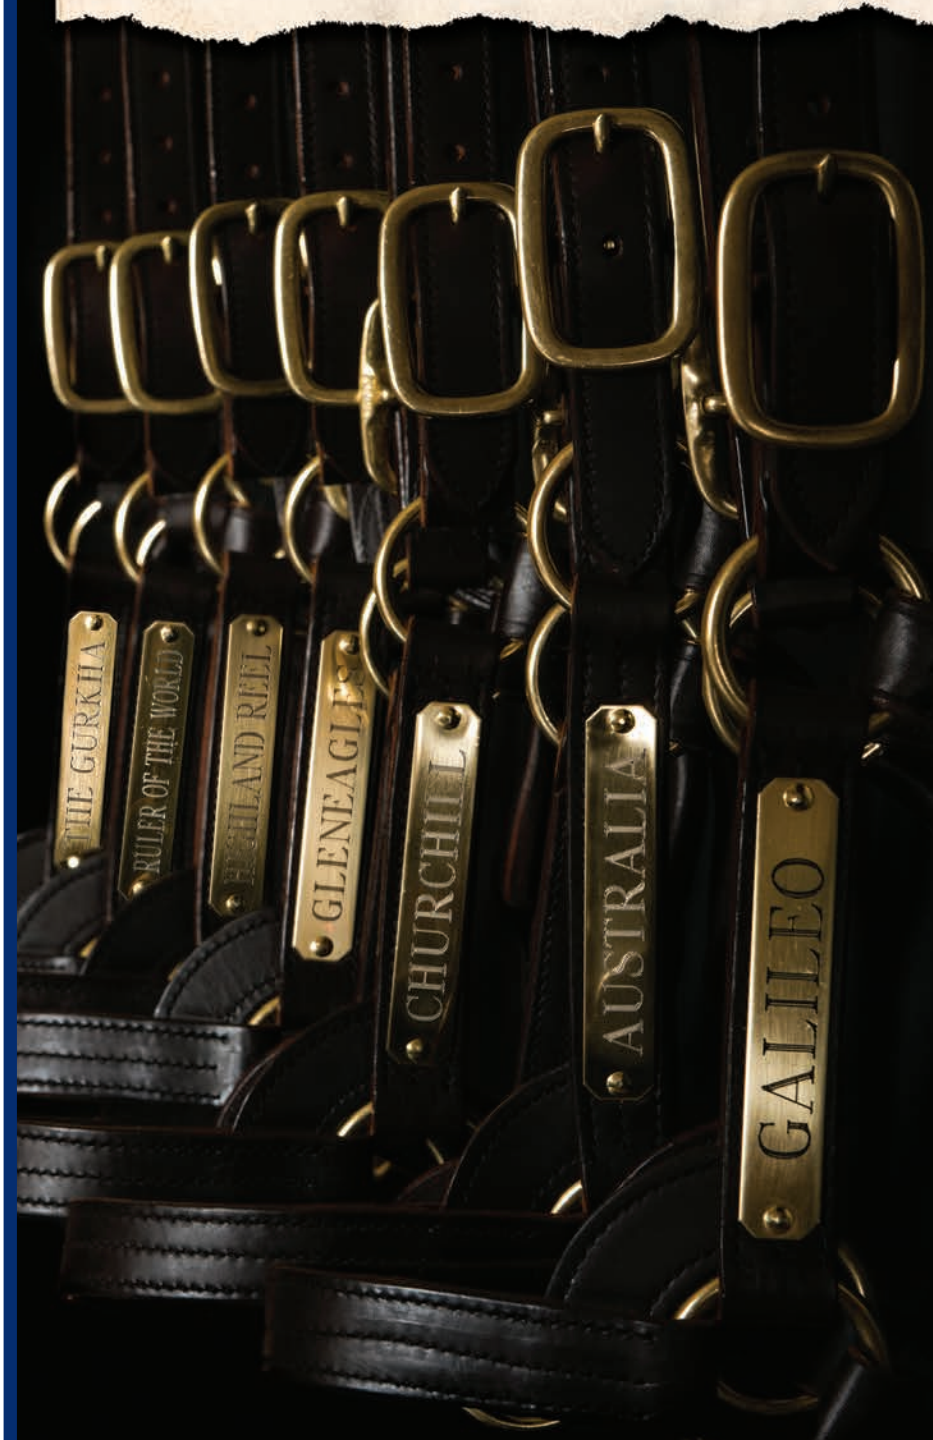
Galileo cleans up at the Cartiers without winning a single award



...Of the seven horses who accounted for the eight awards, he featured in the first two generations of no fewer than six of the winners.

...These results serve as a near-perfect microcosm for the upper echelons of the racing world, with the progeny of Galileo dominating, his sire sons right at the forefront of the next generation of super stallions...

RACING POST, 16/11/17

This year will see Galileo crowned Champion Sire in GB and Ireland for the ninth time and Champion Sire of 2-Year-Olds for the fifth. His scarcely credible 12 individual Gr. 1 winners in 2017 are headed by dual Classic-winning milers Churchill and Winter along with record earner Highland Reel.

Six of his best sons, all with impeccable race records and pedigrees, stand at Coolmore for 2018. Take your pick!

Banner Purchase For New Syndicate...

Anna Sundstrom and Amy Austin had been underbidders on the Exceed And Excel colt earlier in the session but they didn't have to wait too long to secure the foal they really wanted. Lot 414, by Starspangledbanner (Aus) out of the winning Librettist mare Star Now (GB), was consigned by his breeder Awbeg Stud and ended up being one of seven weanlings on the day to reach six figures when selling for €100,000.

"This was the one," said Sundstrom, who is best known in France as the head of Coulonces Sales but has teamed up with Austin in a new international venture called High Valley Equine which has already bought foals in America this season.

She continued, "It's not completely decided yet what we'll do with this colt. We may race him. [The consignors] have done a great job with him. He looked amazing and has a great temperament. We'll try on a few more this week and then go on to Tattersalls."

The duo later went to €68,000 for lot 422, a daughter of Kodiac (GB) out of the winning Montjeu (Ire) mare Surrey Storm (GB) who has already produced a juvenile winner by Dark Angel, Booshbash (Ire), and is herself the daughter of listed winner Dont Dili Dali (GB) (Dansili {GB}).

Holy Orders...

Two sons of Holy Roman Emperor (Ire) proved to be popular early in the session, selling for €120,000 and €105,000 apiece. The former, lot 303, made a splash for Tom and Alexandra Whitehead of Powerstown Stud, who, through their Altenbach Bloodstock banner, sold the half-brother to Group 3-placed Naseem Sea (Ire) (Bahri) to Peter O'Callaghan.

Less than an hour earlier, River Downes Stud's colt out of the Kheleyf mare It's True (lot 287) had become the first six-figure lot of the sale when bought as an intended pinhook by Richard Brown of Blandford Bloodstock for €105,000. The agent had already been impressed by the colt's yearling half-brother by Excelebration (Ire), who sold for £95,000 earlier in the year.

He said, "I loved the half-brother at Doncaster. He's gone to John Gosden so you go in there already with a chance. And obviously this colt is by a very good stallion with international appeal, particularly in Hong Kong."

New Boys In The Mix...

Twenty young sires have first foals for sale this week at Goffs and a number of them have already made their presence felt with another three days of weanling trade to come.

Darley's GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf winner Outstrip (GB) has had three sell so far led by lot 476, the second foal of Cape Mystery (GB) (Cape Cross {Ire}) sold by Glebe Farm Stables to Franny Woods's Abbeylands Farm for €90,000.

The 6-year-old mare, a sister to Listed John Musker S. winner Cape Amber (Ire), was bought as a 3-year-old for 15,000gns by Federico Barberini for Middleham Park Bloodstock. Her Society Rock (Ire) yearling will be trained in Newmarket by Tom Clover and she was covered this year by Free Eagle (Ire). Cont. p5

Seven foals by Ballylinch Stud's Make Believe (GB) have passed through the ring so far this week for an average of €38,000. Gaelic Bloodstock went to €72,000 for lot 408, a half-sister to two black-type earning multiple winners in Archers Road (Ire) (Titus Livius {Fr}) and One Word More (Ire) (Thousand Words {GB}), and the dam, Somoushe (Ire) (Black Minnaloushe) returned to Make Believe this season.

Two fillies by another Classic-winning son of Dubawi (Ire), Night Of Thunder (Ire), secured returns of of €65,000 (lot 137) and €62,000 (lot 329) respectively, while Highclere Stud's Cable Bay (Ire) made a first-day splash when lot 221 from Norelands Stud was pinhooked by Tally-Ho Stud for €75,000 and Ballyredding & Kellsgrange Studs' lot 274 brought €30,000 from JC Bloodstock. Those good sales were followed on Tuesday by another colt selling for €40,000 (lot 331). Cable Bay, who stood his first season for £6,500, has had seven foals sell for an average of €28,833.

Trade resumes today at Goffs at 10 a.m. local time with a session of select foals which will then be followed by two days of breeding stock before a final two sessions of foals are offered over the weekend.

JOHNSON HOUGHTON REACHES MILESTONE

by Tom Peacock

Were Eve Johnson Houghton even considering resting on her laurels, it seems likely that the former governor of Woodway Stables would have something to say about it. Nonetheless, there is permissible satisfaction at reaching a total of 50 winners and counting for the year, a total which the trainer suspects is higher than any achieved by her acclaimed father Fulke.

Eve Johnson Houghton | Racing Post

"I think he is quietly proud," she admitted. "I don't quite know what Dad's best year was but there was less racing and it wasn't year-round so it's not really that comparable. It was only March to November. He had better horses as well. He had Group 1 horses, he had Ribocco, Ribero, Rose Bowl, Ile de Bourbon, Double Form. They just didn't race them as often then, either. It was a completely different era."

It is safe to say Johnson Houghton was born into the industry. Her pioneering grandmother Helen took over the Oxfordshire stable from her husband Gordon and won the 1956 2000 Guineas S. with Gilles de Retz before it transferred to her son Fulke. His daughter, who began with a 'normal' working life in London before helping the late John Hills, returned to Woodway in 1999 and was assistant during the time of the yard's last major flag-bearer, G1 Dewhurst S. winner Tout Seul (Ire) (Ali Royal {Ire}).

Since 2007, the filial positions were reversed and Eve has been in charge, jumping from a general tally around the 20s until a previous record 41 in 2016.

"I was a bit worried because we had a really good year last year and I thought some of my handicappers might [be] too high in the ratings and it would be hard, but either they have gone on again or I've had more that have stepped into the breach," she said. Cont. p8

"I thought they could be alright but we didn't have a winner from November until April," said Johnson Houghton. "I know that's the off-season but it's still quite a long time. So we were thinking 'oh dear' and then when they started luckily they kept going. There's been no secret. It's just good teamwork and a nice team of horses who have been happy and healthy."

Brightest among them has been Accidental Agent (GB) (Delegator {GB}), who took a valuable sales race the previous autumn and returned to his best at the same time of year in the £112,000 totescoop6 Challenge Cup at Ascot. The colt, due to go in this week's Listed Hyde S. at Kempton as a possible sighter for the All-Weather finals, is as embedded in the fabric of the stable as his trainer as the sixth generation down from Sirnelta (Fr) (Sir Tor {GB}).

Tout Seul | Racing Post

Said Johnson Houghton, "Dad bought Sirnelta for Lord Leverhulme to send to Hot Grove. They had a couple of foals and he wanted to sell her, so Dad bought her back and she was a fantastic foundation mare. I thought Accidental Agent had bags of pace and I entered him in the Commonwealth Cup at the beginning of the year but he was disappointing at the start, he's a big horse and I think his strength hadn't caught up with him. We gave him time and he must've been a good thing off 85 at Kempton in September. He's a good seven-furlong, miler. Mum bred him and he's a first foal with little black-type. If he can go and win a listed race, then you've got that in the bag and you can go and do what you want."

"There's a Champs Elysees yearling filly which we're keeping and a Due Diligence foal which will be sold this time next year," she said.

Ably supporting have been "Bold Lad" H. winner Ice Age (Ire) (Frozen Power {Ire}) and veteran What About Carlo (Fr) (Creachadoir {Ire}). Heading the next generation is Caiya (GB) (Casamento {Ire}) and Magnolia Springs (Ire) (Shamardal), who was certainly not disgraced as beaten favourite for the Listed Radley S. at Newbury.

"She was having a lovely time on the outside, then she had to go between horses and she just didn't know enough," the trainer said. "She'll be alright. She's gone a bit leggy now so she's gone away for a break."

The winners are being recognised by support from clients.

"I will be pretty much full for next year--you always have some going in and out, but I've got 70 boxes and don't plan to build any more," she said. "I don't want to hundreds and hundreds.

Magnolia Springs | Racing Post

The quality has gone up and It's enough for my very small brain as I like to know my horses, I like to be quite hands-on, and I like to enjoy it."

Johnson Houghton's best performers this season are not by household-name stallions and she has continued to search outside the box during the sales.

"I work with Anthony Bromley of Highflyer and we bought quite a few in Book 1 but not for Book 1 prices," she explained. "I don't know if anyone really has an edge but I don't mind a cold stallion, especially a proven one. Oasis Dream, they were giving them away. Dutch Art too. For some reason the market had gone off them. I'm not someone who has got to have the most fashionable ones; if they're good, I'm happy to buy them."

Johnson Houghton's private grass gallops are regarded as among the finest in the country and her strategy is something of a mix of the old and the new. Cont. p10

"Some things have had to change because of the staff situation and obviously we've got horse walkers and all sorts of modern things," she said. "I train basically the same as Dad, but we've adapted and become more modern in our outlook, probably. But they still go out for a good hour a day, they still warm up and cool down. That's the basics of an athlete--Usain Bolt wouldn't go out and just sprint."

"The vets stuff has all moved on too," she continued. "The diagnosis of things is much better, which can be good or bad. Before it would be more like 'chuck it in its box for a few weeks and it'll be alright' and it would come out and be ok. Now you have to spend a lot of money for them to tell you to put it in its box for six weeks and it'll be ok."

Several fixtures, though, are unchanged at Woodway Stables.

"Dad comes out for two or three lots in the car and he's an extra pair of eyes and ears," she explained. "He's not very sound or very good up and downhill at Tatts anymore, but he'll sit by the ring and go 'yes, no, yes, no'. My head lad William Reddy is brilliant. He's been with us 50 years--he started off aged 14 straight from school, his dad worked here as well, and he did Rose Bowl and Ile de Bourbon. He doesn't miss anything, and the rest of the team are really good. I'm really lucky. Because we're a bit out of the centre, people come here and they either last six months or a lifetime."

RINGSIDE

WITH ED SACKVILLE

1) What is your one essential to get you through the busy sales season?

A bottle of water in my back pocket and a cigarette--usually "borrowed" from John Cullinan, Mouse O'Ryan or Charlie Gordon-Watson

2) Which stallion's first yearlings impressed you most this year?

For pure class the Australia (GB) yearlings, they had great presence and quality. For power and speed the No Nay Nevers. And for consistent value the Alhebayeb (Ire)s.

3) What horse springs to mind as your favourite purchase?

Ed Sackville | Emma Berry

A Dark Angel filly (lot 434) from Corduff Stud and a Siyouni filly (lot 423) from Coulonces. Both were from Tatts and both were for John Dance.

4) And finally, if you had to select one other agent to buy a horse for you. Who would it be and why?

I notice that Will Douglass has nominated me, so no doubt I have a moral obligation to choose him. But jokes aside, other than my business partner Al Donald who would be my number one choice, Will is a good guy who works very hard and is very able.

ARQANA AUTUMN SALE POSTS INCREASES

The second day of the Arqana Autumn Sale featured national hunt yearlings and increased demand for that product showcased gains across the board. From 164 offered, 122 yearlings sold for a gross of €2,946,500 and a clearance rate of 74.4%, well above last year's mark of €1,686,000 that took place under a different format. The average rose to €24,152 (+13%) and the median also increased markedly to €16,000 (+14%).

Topping the session, was a colt (lot 432) already named Le Grand Gae (Fr) by Great Pretender (Ire) from the Domaine de l'Etang consignment.

The half-brother to Grade 1-winning hurdler Srelighonn (Fr) (Martaline {GB}) brought €120,000 from Highflyer Bloodstock's Anthony Bromley and David Minton, who were on the grounds with clients Dai Walters and Charlie Dingwall. Overall, the Highflyer team snapped up 22 yearlings for €623,000 Tuesday.

"He is for Simon Munir and Isaac Souede who were extremely keen to have him," confirmed Anthony Bromley. "I've waited all day for him. He is the only horse they bought today after being outbid on the top lot yesterday. He is a gorgeous horse, very athletic, by a stallion I like and we've had success with the brother, so there was really no reason for us to miss out on him."

Le Grande Gae | Arqana

The second dearest at €110,000, lot 404 hailed from vendor Haras du Meheran and caught the eye of Nicolas Williams. Out of the winning Belle du Roi (Fr) (Adieu Au Roi {Ire}), the son of Saint des Saints (Fr) is a full-brother to Le Rocher (Fr), a €26,000 purchase at the 2011 Arqana Autumn Sale by Williams, who matured into the G1 Future Champions Finale Juvenile Hurdle victor. Cont. p12

"He is for the same owners as Le Rocher [John White and Anne Underhill], but it was the individual rather than just the pedigree that appealed to me," said Williams. "I liked everything about him-and it seems like I wasn't the only one. He will go to the UK and hopefully we will be able to run him in France as a 3-year-old as we did with Le Rocher."

The third and final day of the Arqana Autumn Sale sees 226 more yearlings go under the hammer beginning at 11 a.m.

Wind Chimes debuted with a decisive score going 6 1/2 panels on the synthetic surface here last time Oct. 30, and doubled up impressively in this black-type bow. Positioned towards the rear after receiving a bump departing the outside gate, she made smooth headway into contention approaching the quarter-mile marker and kept on strongly under mild coaxing once shaken up to seize control with 300 metres remaining to register a career high in decisive fashion.

Wind Chimes is the first stakes winner produced by Listed Prix Six Perfections third Militante (Ire) (Johannesburg) and she is a half-sister to Listed Prix Petite Etoile third Golden Fastnet (Fr) (Fastnet Rock {Aus}) and the yearling filly Montauban (Ire) (Intello {Ger}). PARA EL FUTURO (FR) (f, 2, Maxios {GB}--Paragua {Ger}, by Nayef) was steadied to race at the tail of the field after an alert getaway in this unveiling. Angled to the outside for a clear run in the straight, the 11-1 chance came under pressure with 300 metres remaining and ran on strongly for mainly whipless urging in the closing stages to deny On My Mind (Ire) (High Chaparral {Ire}) by 3/4 of a length. MAGNY COURS (c, 2, Medaglia d'Oro--Indy Five Hundred {GISW-US, $244, 510}, by A.P. Indy) raced under restraint off the tempo in sixth through halfway in this debut. WORLDWIDE NEWS

PENTIRE, 25, PASSES AWAY

Pentire (GB) (Be My Guest--Gull Nook {GB}, by Mill Reef), the foundation sire of Rich Hill Stud in New Zealand and responsible for 16 Group 1 winners, passed away following surgery, the stud reported Tuesday. The two-time Group 1 winner was 25.

"He was 25, but I thought he was going to live forever--he was still serving and so healthy and well," Rich Hill studmaster John Thompson told the NZ Racing Desk. "We noticed after lunch on Monday he looked a bit uncomfortable and I got a bad feeling about it, in 20 years we'd only had the vet to him twice. We got him to the clinic and he went into surgery and when they opened him up they found a tumour that the intestine had wrapped around. They removed the growth and the intestine hadn't been compromised. They got him into recovery, but sadly he didn't wake up."

Bred by Lord Halifax in Great Britain and sold for 54,000gns as a yearling at Tattersalls September, Pentire raced in the colours of Mollers Racing, with a victory in the 1995 G1 Irish Champion S. a seasonal highlight en route to being named the Irish/English highweighted 3-year-old from 9 1/2-11 furlongs. He added another title as the English highweighted older horse from 11-14 furlongs a year later after a score in the G1 King George VI & Queen Elizabeth Diamond S. In total, the bay was first past the post eight times in 18 starts and was sold to the Yoshida family to stand at Shadai Stallion Station with earnings of $1,364,174.

Shuttled to Rich Hill Stud on Southern Hemisphere time, Pentire also eventually covered mares for two seasons at Gestut Isarland in Germany in 2004 and 2005, before being a permanent resident at Rich Hill Stud in the second half of 2005.

At stud, the half-brother to Italian Group 3 winner Spring (GB) (Sadler's Wells) left 48 stakes winners, 26 at the graded/group level. Leading them is two-time New Zealand Horse of the Year Mufhasa (NZ), who saluted 10 times at the Group 1 level. Pentire also sired G1 Melbourne Cup hero Prince of Penzance (NZ) and another dual Kiwi Horse of the Year winner in MG1SW Xcellent (NZ). Champion Xtravagant (NZ) is a young sire in New South Wales at Newhaven Park, while Say No More (NZ), Pantani (NZ), Rangirangdoo (NZ) and Zarita (NZ), were also MG1SWs.

"It just won't be the same around here without him, but his legacy will live on and Pentire is always going to be seen as a strength in any pedigree," Thompson said. "He's had four Group 1 winners in the last two seasons and I'm certain there are more to come."

Pentire was laid to rest at Rich Hill on Tuesday.
