UNIQUE ATTRACTIONS OF FLOORS BLOOD

The Duke and Duchess of Roxburghe with Attraction and the young George Innes-Ker (left) | Racingfotos.com

by Chris McGrath

In a sense, every breeder is a legatee. And each, in turn, strives to contribute a legacy of his or her own; to develop families that serve not only a contemporary stable, but also the breed as it evolves through the generations. To that extent, then, perhaps the family and many friends grieving the late Guy, Duke of Roxburghe, can find some comfort even in the poignant part-dispersal of a stud that produced one of the most accomplished Thoroughbreds ever bred in Scotland. For wherever his bloodlines are now transfused, so will the 10th Duke's skill and enthusiasm be preserved.

There are one or two more concrete consolations. The departure of seven foals and seven mares, through the December Sale at Tattersalls, will not amount to a complete dispersal of Floors Stud. Roxburghe's widow and youngest son intend to honour his memory by maintaining a modest foothold on the Turf. Along with the venerable Attraction (GB) (Efisio {GB}), for instance, they will be keeping her daughter Motion (GB) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}), who had shown much promise on the Middleham gallops before sadly injuring herself on her sole start at Pontefract this summer. Cont. p2

SISKIN TO STAND AT SHADAI STALLION STATION IN 2021

Classic winner Siskin (First Defence–Bird Flown {GB}, by Oasis Dream {GB}) will stand for ¥3,500,000 at Shadai Stallion Station in Japan, the stud announced on Tuesday. It was earlier revealed the Juddmonte homebred's breeding rights had been sold to a group of breeders in June.

Trained by Ger Lyons, Siskin won his first five starts, breaking his maiden at Naas in May of his 2-year-old year and quickly adding a listed race later that month, before first tasting group success in the G2 Railway S. that June. He saluted in the G1 Phoenix S. two months later and was put away for the winter. The son of the winning Bird Flown returned at three to salute in the June 12 G1 Irish 2000 Guineas and was also third in the G1 Sussex S. in July. Fourth in the G1 Prix du Moulin later that summer, he was unplaced in the GI Breeders' Cup Mile and his record stands at 8-5-0-1 and $566,021 in earnings. Cont. p7

The other principal family developed by the late Duke, moreover, will remain represented by Blinking (GB) (Marju {Ire}), a sister to multiple Hong Kong champion Viva Pataca (HK) (known as Comic Strip (GB) before export).

Blinking is largely blind; Attraction is rising 20. There are humane considerations, then, notwithstanding all the difficulties historically inevitable in the inheritance of great estates.

At the same time, the bloodlines cultivated by the late Duke--who died last August, at just 64--will now be further secured by incorporation into other breeding programmes. These may well be much bigger, as we saw at the October Sale when Attraction's yearling colt by Frankel (GB) (duly a brother to her best son Elarqam (GB)) brought 1,100,000gns from Godolphin in this same ring.

Attraction's yearling Frankel colt sold for 1.1 million gns to Godolphin during the Tattersalls October Yearling Sale Book 1 | Tattersalls

That was an expressive compliment to what was only ever a boutique stud; "a hick operation in the Borders," as the late Duke himself described it, with characteristic deprecation. And his son George Innes-Ker, who will be maintaining that family connection along with his mother, hopes that these bloodlines will now continue to thrive even when transplanted from Floors--that glorious intervention by humankind among the glorious work of nature all along the banks of the Tweed.

"Mum and I hope we can keep his legacy going, albeit it will be slightly different and with a smaller number of mares," Innes-Ker said. "Hopefully we can do something where we'll be able to stand back and say Dad would be proud of our efforts. But we'll also be very proud if any of the mares and fillies that are being sold, wherever they end up, can go on producing and keep his success going." Cont. p3

Innes-Ker was still very young, 11 or 12, when his father asked him to choose between polo and the Turf. Happily, he has never regretted his decision.

"I'm the youngest of five siblings but Dad had to wait for me to have one who shared his love of racing," he said. "I hope that gave him some joy, that he had someone to speak to about a passion to which he gave so much time and thought. I loved to hear him explaining all the decisions he had made: why he had chosen certain matings for certain mares; how he was trying to keep families going, letting colts go but keeping the fillies; and so on. All that has been instilled into me since I was very small.

"The two biggest excitements for him were clearly Attraction being such a wonderful filly on the track, and then also becoming such a good broodmare. That doesn't always happen, obviously. There's often that suggestion you should go one step away from those good racemares. But Attraction has been the most incredible mother. She has this amazing ability to produce friendly foals, and Dad was never happier than when standing out there among them, sharing polo mints with the mares."

Innes-Ker pays tribute to the work of stud manager Chris Gillon and his team in preparing all the stock for sale. So, too, does bloodstock agent Ed Sackville, who has a long association with the farm and is now assisting with this difficult process. At the sale itself, however, the consignment is being entrusted to Kiltinan Castle Stud, the foals in sequence from Lot 900 on Friday and the mares from Lot 1691 next Tuesday.

"The horses have been prepped at Floors," Sackville said. "That was also the case with the yearlings, and those obviously sold fantastically well. But it's just a lot of horses, with limited staff, so we thought an outside consignor would take some of the pressure off. Simon Marsh has long been a great friend of both Guy and the Duchess, and he has been a significant help over the last year."

Sackville himself goes back a long way with the family, having been at school and university, respectively with a couple of the children; he also served his own apprenticeship with John Warren, a friend and advisor of the late Duke.

"Guy was a wonderful man," Sackville said. "He absolutely loved his racing and breeding, and became an integral part of the industry--including, in his last years, as chairman of the National Stud."

It was in that role that Roxburghe formed a strong regard for Time Test (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}), who is the sire of the first foal [lot 900] under the hammer, a daughter of the stakes-placed Dusty Answer (GB) (Zafonic)-herself a half-sister to the dam of Zoffany (Ire) (Dansili {GB}) and to the second dam of recent G1 St Leger runner-up Berkshire Rocco (Fr) (Sir Percy {GB}).

Lot 900, a filly by Time Test out of Dusty Answer

"Guy was integral to the purchase of Time Test by the National Stud," Sackville said. "So this was a mating he was very keen to use. We've all seen the success of Night Of Thunder (Ire) and we hope that Time Test can also show Dubawi's merit as a sire of sires. He has certainly produced some very nice yearlings and, while the mare is relatively exposed [G2 Italian Oaks runner-up among eight winners from 11 runners] by this stage, it's a lovely back family."

Time Test also accounts for the foal carried by lot 1692, Lady Glinka (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), an unraced sister to Group 1-placed juvenile Mikhail Glinka (Ire), their dam in turn a full-sister to Derby winner and champion 2-year-old Sir Percy (GB) (Mark Of Esteem {Ire}). Her filly by Zoffany (Ire), meanwhile, is offered as lot 901.

"This is a foal that's doing very well physically," Sackville said. "She has really thrived with every month that has passed. Zoffany has had a good year, with a top Irish 2-year-old in Thunder Moon (Ire). And with a Galileo mare, obviously, anything is possible."

Another daughter of the perennial champion sire is the 7-year-old Hibiscus (Ire), who will have the benefit of a Siyouni (Fr) cover when last of the draft as lot 1697. She is a listed-placed sister to GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf winner Line Of Duty (Ire), the pair out of relegated G1 1000 Guiness "winner" Jacqueline Quest (Ire) (Rock Of Gibraltar {Ire}).

"She's also a half-sister to Onassis (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}), who's a filly going places," Sackville said, noting her eye-catching performance in the GI QIPCO British Champions' Sprint. "Obviously Hibiscus is out of a Classic winner in all but name, and her Fastnet Rock (Aus) filly made 200,000gns at the October Sale. And we think her Lope De Vega (Ire) colt [lot 906] will go very well. He's a really lovely physical, an imposing, good-walking colt."

A Lope De Vega cover, meanwhile, is only one of the shining attributes of Deep Inside (Fr) (Redoute's Choice {Aus}) (lot 1696), a 6-year-old sibling to dual Group 3 winner Chrysanthemum (Ire) (Danehill Dancer {Ire}).

"This is an absolute beauty," Sackville stressed. "She's a really good-looking mare with a fantastic cover in her. She could go on and be anything, really. And she has a cracking Kingman colt [lot 946, consigned by West Blagdon Stud] in the sale, too."

Lope De Vega is also the sire of lot 903, a filly out of Attraction's graded stakes-placed half-sister Federation (GB) (Motivator {GB}), who will herself be offered as lot 1693 carrying a foal by Starspangledbanner (Aus).

"Federation has a pretty smart 2-year-old in Japan, who beat colts in her maiden and then finished second in listed company," Sackville said. "Obviously the family is very dear to our hearts and Lope De Vega gives the mare a fantastic chance. She has a Muhaarar (GB) colt who's going to Michael Bell and, as for her Starspangledbanner cover, I think he is unbelievably good value and has had a very good last couple of years."

Hibiscus, lot 1697, in foal to Siyouni

Another half-sister to Attraction is Fusion (GB) (Cape Cross {Ire}) (lot 1691)--her Siyouni (Fr) colt sells as lot 904-while the late Duke's other trademark family will be represented by listed winner Twitch (Ire) (Azamour {Ire}), an 8-year-old daughter of the aforementioned Blinking. She is in foal to Magna Grecia (Ire).

"Yes, this is Guy's other great family," Sackville said of lot 1694. "And it's all still very current. There are lots of females breeding under the first dam, and Twitch herself has a Siyouni yearling filly and a Kingman (GB) colt on the ground."

The covering sire, Magna Grecia (Ire), also happens to be a half-brother to Prance (Ire) (Danehill Dancer {Ire})--whose daughter by his own sire Invincible Spirit (Ire) is offered as lot 905. Prance's only foal of racing age won at Goodwood in September, but the family has of course received a rather more significant update since the publication of the catalogue in the G1 Darley Dewhurst S. success of St Mark's Basilica (Fr) (Siyouni {Fr})--another sibling to Prance and Magna Grecia. Cont. p6

"Obviously that's fantastic for the page," Sackville said. "And Prance's yearling colt by Lope De Vega made 400,000gns [from Shadwell] at the October Sale, so this is a foal I'd be very excited about."

Magna Grecia was still only a yearling when Prance was bought by John and Jake Warren for 170,000gns in this sale four years ago. And another of the stud's developing projects is Merry Jaunt (Street Sense), a daughter of GI Yellow Ribbon S. winner Light Jig (GB) (Danehill) acquired for 360,000gns from Juddmonte in 2013. She has already produced a stakes filly for Floors and only last week her 2-year-old by Kingman, Royal Pleasure (Ire), made a winning debut at Wolverhampton.

"I don't know what the statistics might be, for Sir Mark Prescott having first-time-out winners, but I would say it's a pretty rare occurrence," Sackville remarked. "Obviously we were delighted by that update and, from a lovely young Juddmonte family, this mare [lot 1695] could be anything--not least with her cover by Night Of Thunder (Ire), whose fee has gone up from €25,000 to €75,000 since we sent her to him. We'll be sad to lose her."

But that is the kind of bittersweet experience beckoning all involved: a mixture of pride and sadness, with a precious residue of hope for the future of these bloodlines.

A few days ago Palace Pier (GB) (Kingman {GB}), co-bred by the late Duke with Highclere Stud, won a Cartier Award as champion 3-year-old. Innes-Ker knew how proud his father would be, looking down. "As Lady Carolyn [Warren] said, she knew that 'upstairs' Dad and her own father would be making so much noise about that together," he said.

Now it is about achieving a balance between a filial aspiration to extend the Roxburghe saga on the Turf, and pragmatic acknowledgement of the constraints.

"Mum lost her own father two weeks after losing her husband, so her world was really turned upside down," Innes-Ker explained. "So whatever we could do, with the horses, we just wanted to be manageable; something we can love doing, and control.

Cartier Award winner Palace Pier was co-bred by the late Duke

"It's wonderful to know that Attraction is carrying a filly (by Kingman). Dad was so unlucky with her first two daughters: one died of grass sickness and the other was stung on the back of her neck, probably by a horsefly, keeled over and broke her neck there in the yard. After so many colts, it's great to have this filly on the way."

Those who knew the late Duke only on the Turf may not have realised quite how accomplished he was. The death of his own father had been just as premature, and he inherited his title and estates at just 19--only months after being awarded the Sword of Honour as the top officer cadet of his intake at Sandhurst, where he was also recognised as an outstanding all-round sportsman. He proceeded to show great flair and energy in meeting the challenge of modernising his ancient estates; while all of us who did encounter him on the Turf can attest to his ease and charm of manner.

"Obviously these horses will all be sold with a tinge of sadness," said Sackville. "It will be an emotional day. But hopefully it will also be a great opportunity for someone else to continue the legacy."

KING'S STAND TARGET FOR GOLDEN PAL

Breeders' Cup hero Golden Pal (Uncle Mo) is targetting the G1 King's Stand S. as his long term goal. Second on debut, the Ranlo Investments colourbearer filled that position again in the G2 Norfolk S. at this year's Royal Meeting before returning Stateside to take the Skidmore S. at Saratoga in September. Brought back to Keeneland for the Breeders' Cup, he turned in a solid effort to win the G2 BC Juvenile Turf Sprint on Nov. 6.

Another likely Royal Ascot contender is Stonestreet Stables' G1SW Campanelle (Ire) (Kodiac {GB}). Successful at first asking at Gulfstream Park in Florida, she saluted in the G2 Queen Mary S. at Royal Ascot in June before winning the G1 Darley Prix Morny by two lengths. Her last race was a fourth in the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies Turf at Keeneland on Nov. 6 racing beyond six furlongs for the first time. She will point to the G1 Commonwealth Cup, also at Royal Ascot. Cont. p8

Of all the stallions from the Danzig line, only Kodiac has had more juvenile Stakes horses than Territories in 2020.

It's an exceptional start: he's sired more than his relation Street Cry had in his first crop, and is only one behind Shamardal.

"We're really excited about bringing Golden Pal back to Royal Ascot," said Ward. "It was a great day at Keeneland and we're really looking forward to 2021. We're working from the King's Stand backwards. I think we'll go for the Commonwealth Cup with Campanelle and let the colt run against the older horses in the five-furlong race."

On the G2 Queen Mary S. heroine he added, "I think it was maybe the end of the long season for her. We got her back home early after Deauville and prepared for the race, but there was a lot of training involved.

"I don't want to take anything away from the winner, because she ran great. We're already looking forward to Royal Ascot next year with Campanelle, too."

BHA PUBLISHES BREXIT UPDATE

The likely new arrangements pertaining to the movement of horses and people to and from the European Union from the UK beginning on Jan. 1 has been published for the British racing and breeding industries by the British Horseracing Authority. The information covers four key areas:

- Health Requirements–what checks your horse will require
- Customs & VAT requirements–what you will need to move horses
- Transport requirements–how to prepare for the transportation process
- Changes to free movement–what this means for movement of people

A timeline for the requirements for horse movement has also been created. Additionally, for the latest Brexit information, please visit the Brexit FAQs document and the www.britishhorseracing.com, as well as the UK Government website.

Julian Richmond-Watson, Chair of the Thoroughbred Industry's Brexit Steering Group, said, "Like many industries, we face a difficult balancing act in light of deciding when the right time is to communicate to our participants with negotiations still ongoing. Nonetheless, deal or no deal, there will be key changes to the way our interconnected industry operates from 1 Jan.

"We are keen to ensure we give participants sufficient time to familiarise themselves with the relevant processes and have aimed to keep the information in as simple, short and engaging a format as possible. Given we still require clarity on a number of key policy areas, it is possible that this guidance may change, but the Steering group felt it was right to be proactive and communicate what we anticipate the likely arrangements to be from 1 Jan. from the information available.

"It remains our advice not to move horses in the first two weeks of January and to engage a shipping and or customs agent to assist you, particularly if you are operating on an individual basis or familiarising yourself with these new processes for the first time. We will continue to press Government for clarification on the outstanding policy areas and communicate further progress to the industry as soon as we are able to."

TATTERSALLS BREEZE UPS SALES SCHEDULE CONFIRMED

The 2021 breeze-up sales scheduled was announced by Tattersalls on Tuesday. The Tattersalls Craven Breeze Up Sale (Apr. 12-14) and the Tattersalls Guineas Breeze Up and Horses in Training Sale (Apr. 29-30) will be conducted in Newmarket. Fairyhouse will host the Tattersalls Ireland Goresbridge Breeze Up Sale from May 20-21. The Tattersalls Ascot Breeze Up Sale will not be held next year. Nominations for all three sales are now open and inspections will begin in January.

"It will be a huge relief for all concerned to have the Tattersalls Breeze Up Sales return to their traditional dates after this year's COVID-related disruption," said Tattersalls Chairman Edmond Mahony. "Obviously the possibility of further disruption in both Britain and Ireland still exists, but the recent news that we can expect limited crowds to be allowed back to racecourses in Britain in the very near future gives us all optimism as we look forward to next year.

"Between the three Tattersalls and Tattersalls Ireland Breeze Up Sales we will be aiming to accommodate very similar numbers to the total catalogued in 2020, but without staging the Ascot fixture which this year took place alongside the Craven Breeze Up owing to the calendar changes. Rationalizing the number of Breeze Up sales should alleviate the demands placed upon all participants in this important but congested sector of the bloodstock market and we are confident that the 2021 Tattersalls portfolio of breeze-up sales will allow us to accommodate the requirements of consignors and buyers better than ever."

FROM THE EXPERTS

GWEN MONNERAYE

by Emma Berry

Gwenael Monneraye | Emma Berry

On the back of the eagerly anticipated stallion fee announcements in Europe, Emma Berry spoke with a number of leading industry figures about value. Today we hear from Gwen Monneraye of La Motteraye Consignment.

EB: Who have you identified as a first-year stallion at an appealing opening fee?

GM: I really like Persian King (Ire). I know that at €30,000 he is not a bargain price, but he's a Classic winner from a good family and [his sire] Kingman (GB) is so hot, so we decided to buy a share in him. During the Arc, it wasn't really his type of race but he proved that he was tough and could stay beyond a mile. We are lucky to have some really good new stallions arriving in France. With Golden Horde (Ire) going to Montfort et Préaux, Wooded (Ire) at Haras de Bouquetot and Hello Youmzain (Fr) at Haras d'Etreham, we have three fast horses retiring to stud this year and I think that could suit our broodmare band by bringing a bit of speed, which we lack sometimes in France.

EB: Best value proven stallion, and why?

GM: I really like Sea The Moon (Ger). He has gone up to £22,500 but his statistics are amazing and I think the best is yet to come with this sire. I also think Mehmas (Ire) is good value, or he could prove to be good value in a few years' time. For what he has achieved in his first year, I think €25,000 could be a no-brainer. Cont. p11

EB: Who would you consider to be an under the radar stallion?

GM: I think this happens maybe more in England than in France but the older stallions somehow get left aside. That has happened a little for Oasis Dream (GB), who is now £20,000. We used him last year for a maiden mare. I always like to send our young mares to a proven stallion and I don't think you can go wrong at that price. He is also having some really good results as a broodmare sire now.

Stylistique | Scoop Dyga

Stylistique, runner-up in last season's G2 Rockel S. at her local Newmarket track, was off the board in five runs since shedding maiden status in a June 11 Newbury novice event and defied long odds to secure a career high in this first overseas start. Well away from her car-park post to stalk the tempo in second for the most part, she came under pressure off the home turn to seize a slender advantage with 300 metres remaining and kept on well for continued urging to gain a decisive edge in a bunch finish.

Stylistique, the third of five foals and one of two scorers from as many runners, is the leading performer out of a winning full-sister to G3 Balanchine S. victress Bye Bye Birdie (Ire) (Oasis Dream {GB}), who in turn is the dam of this term's G3 Irish St Leger Trial victor Delphi (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) and G2 Blandford S. and G3 Snow Fairy S. placegetter Credenza (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}). The March-foaled bay is kin to the hitherto unraced 2-year-old filly Frankieta (GB) (Frankel {GB}) and a weanling colt by Bated Breath (GB). Black-type descendants of her third dam Masskana (Ire) (Darshaan {GB}) include MGISW US champion Dank (GB) (Dansili {GB}), G1 Prix Marcel Boussac heroine Sulk (Ire) (Selkirk) and G1 Hong Kong Cup-winning sire Eagle Mountain (GB) (Rock of Gibraltar {Ire}). Click for the Racing Post result. MCKEEVER MAKING THE MOST OF AUSSIE STAY

by Georgie Dennis

Johnny McKeever found himself stuck in Australia at the end of this year's yearling sales season when the COVID-19 pandemic ramped up across the world, but the bloodstock agent, who would normally be based in Newmarket, has relished the added time Down Under.

When Johnny McKeever arrived in Australia in January ahead of the Magic Millions Gold Coast Yearling Sale, he certainly wasn't expecting to spend the entire year here.

But that is the way it has worked out for the English bloodstock agent with travel restrictions preventing him and his wife Susie from travelling home and thus the pair have spent a year-long working holiday Down Under.

McKeever said that spending extra time in Australia allowed him to do and experience things that he never would have in a normal year.

"We've been stuck in Australia so I've been trying to make the most of it and learn as much as I can while I'm here," he told TDN AusNZ. "It wasn't so bad because we were able to make acquaintances with people that we probably didn't ever get to meet for more than a few minutes like we would normally do at the sales, so we've basically just settled into a Sydney lifestyle.

"We obviously couldn't travel that much, although I did get up to the mares sale on the Gold Coast, and I've been up and down from the Hunter Valley quite a lot and inspected mares and foals and got involved with the foal and broodmare sales.

"That was the sort of thing that I wouldn't have normally done because I wouldn't have been around. So it's just turned into a learning trip, which has been great."

New Experiences

One new experience for McKeever this year was attending his first Southern Hemisphere breeze-up sale at the Inglis Ready2Race Sale in October, where he was able to be on the ground for the successful sale of a couple of pinhook purchases.

"We had a couple of successful pinhooks there and I knew when I was buying one of them that it was going to be pinhooked at that sale, which was the Deep Field colt, and the other one I didn't realise until we bought him that he was going to a ready-to-run sale and that was the Pride Of Dubai," he said.

"But that was interesting to see. Obviously we've had breeze-up sales for a bit longer in Europe but they're taking off here but it was an interesting dynamic. It was slightly different in that we have more local buyers whereas yours tend to be centered around the Asian market.

"Annabel Neasham was telling me the other day that she bought one and three days later she had it galloping, so it's a different experience than buying a yearling and breaking it in and pre-training it etc before it gets to the trainer.

"So I think they definitely have their place, I'm still definitely more of a yearling fan than buying a 2-year-old in training fan, but it's a useful tool for the in industry."

On the Road

Now McKeever is beginning to travel around to Australian farms to complete early yearling inspections and started with a road trip to South Australia to visit Cornerstone and Mill Park.

"We've been great friends with Sam Hayes for a long time and we've done quite a lot of mutual work in getting mares and stallions and so forth, so we decided that when the borders were open that we'd go an do a bit of a trip from New South Wales to South Australia by car, just to learn a bit more about Australia," McKeever said.

"We went to places like Broken Hill and things like that and then we ended up going to stay with Sam at Cornerstone, and then we had a day with the Watsons at Mill Park.

"They have a fantastic bunch of yearlings which we were privileged to see, and I think we were the first people to be shown them so that was really kind of the Watsons."

Johnny McKeever | Tattersalls

Farm inspections are another thing McKeever wouldn't normally be able to do if not for his longer than intended stay in Australia but he said it's a great opportunity for him to take his time in looking at all the yearlings, rather than cramming them all in a couple of days out from the beginning of the Sale.

"I bought 30 yearlings in Australia last year in conjunction with a few different agents and some Asian-based clients and local clients as well," he said. "So as I'm getting a little bit more involved in the market here, it'll be really nice to do the job a bit more professionally so to speak, than landing from Europe on Jan. 3 and then have to work really long and exhausting days just to try and get through all the horses.

"I'm the type of guy that likes to see everything, I don't handpick pedigrees beforehand because in general, my budget is not that big. So I like to actually try and see every horse so that I can pick a few out that are obviously not going to be the top lots but I like them which is kind of how we got Finance Tycoon, who won the Maribyrnong Plate, and he only cost $150,000.

"So that's my typical market at the Gold Coast so you have to look at all the horses, but it's great having the extra time to go around and look at them but they do change a lot.

"You can see them six weeks to a month before the sale, they'll change a lot but it certainly helps me to eliminate some that I'm not that wild about."

Experiencing Australian Racing

The overall year of experiencing Australian racing from within the country is completely different compared to observing from overseas and despite being well into his tenure as a bloodstock agent, McKeever said he has learnt so much about the industry this year.

"From a learning perspective, even though I've been an agent for 32 years now, to go to a country and do a whole year's cycle in it, it puts so many more things into place for you," he said. "For instance, the race program here. It really helps explain how each carnival comes after the other and how they all fit in the pattern of the racing, which you don't get when you're just reading results at home.

"Just to complete a whole year from a sales perspective, and not just yearling sales, and from a racing respective to see how the year ebbs and flows, that has all been made much more clear to me by living through it, even if it is in a COVID-19 year."

While he has taken so many positives from the time in Australia, in contrast, McKeever has also missed the entire sales season in Europe. With the help of bloodstock agents on the ground, he has been able to make some purchases but he said he has found it difficult to buy without being able to see the stock himself.

"I've got a good working relationship with a few different agents in Europe so I've been able to participate in guiding people via them into some purchases, but basically I have lost the sales season in Europe," he said. "When you're not there on the ground, there's not much you can do about that so I've had to put that down as a year of experience and missing out and now I kind of know what it feels like to be an Australian trying to buy at these sales.

"At the moment I'm working my way through the mares for a couple of mare clients that we've got and you get the feeling of what it's like to be doing it blind from their perspective, whereas normally I would be the guy on the other end inspecting them there for my clients.

"With the young stock, it's been impossible. I used to buy quite a lot of foals in Europe and I can't do any of that because that's 100% you've got to be there and yearlings are pretty much the same, although you can go a little bit further then on videos.

Susie McKeever at Mill Park | TDN AusNZ

"But with broodmares and horses-in-training, we have been participating. Unfortunately for horses in training, it was so strong that we weren't able to get much bought.

"It's been an amazing year with how well the market has held up. Here I can understand why it's held up, but in Europe, it's been quite staggering how well it has held up."

McKeever now has his sights on completing the rest of the yearling inspections around the Hunter Valley while also following the upcoming breeding stock sales in Europe, starting with the Tattersalls December Mares Sale in Newmarket next week.

"From Sunday next week we're doing four days in the Hunter Valley with 500-plus inspections around all the major farms there," he said. "And then we're going to go through the Southern Highlands. We'll obviously be following the December sales in Newmarket with the broodmares and then the Goffs Sales as well.

"I never have a boring day, but I definitely have more time on my hands than I would ever have in England. I've got lots of friends in Sydney so I'm never short of mates to meet for a drink in the pub."

KNICKS GO ADDS DASH TO PAYNTER'S PALETTE

Knicks Go blazing home in the Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile
Breeders' Cup/Eclipse Sportswire

by Chris McGrath

It's a tough game, selling nominations; and, except for those sparkly new stallions, getting tougher all the time. So we should have every sympathy with the farms trying to drum up custom. True, WinStar doesn't hold back in introducing Paynter on his homepage as "one of the most popular and courageous runners in racing history." But if that's a pretty heady claim, even for a horse whose recovery from desperate illness so captured the hearts of the racing public, then the son of Awesome Again has certainly moved the conversation on. Because whatever else he may be, Paynter is now the sire of the fastest miler in Keeneland history--even as he takes his latest cut in fee, to just $7,500.

Okay, they laid out a conveyor belt for the Breeders' Cup this year. Knicks Go, in the GI Big Ass Fans Dirt Mile, set only one in a blurred sequence of track records. (New benchmarks were also reached on the day at six, seven and 10 furlongs.) Even within that context, however, Knicks Go needs credit for the electrifying fashion in which he saw off a horse as fast as Complexity (Maclean's Music), kicking again off fractions of 21.98, 44.40 and 1:08.25 for a final time of 1:33.85. Bottom line is that we need to respect any stallion that can get a horse of such flair, out of Maryland, with first four dams by Outflanker, Allen's Prospect, Medaille d'Or and Cloudy Dawn.

A NEW HEIR TO WAR FRONT'S THRONE AT CLAIBORNE

by Katie Ritz

War Front is undoubtedly heralded as one of America's top turf sires, but Claiborne's Bernie Sams said he finds any stereotype that the stallion is solely a grass producer unjustifiable.

"I think War Front has been labeled to some extent as a turf sire, but unfairly so because he got his start with dirt stakes winners," he said. "Then a lot of people started breeding to him and taking a lot of them to Europe. He probably is equally as good on dirt as he is on turf, if we had as many of them here."

Sams's theory on War Front's progeny comes to fruition in the versatile ability displayed by War of Will. Cont. p7

2017 CANADIAN DERBY DECLARED OFFICIAL, AGAIN 9

T.D. Thornton reports on the peculiar case of the heavily-litigated 2017 GIII Canadian Derby, which has now been declared official for the fifth time.

BLUE BLOOD HONEST MISCHIEF RETIRED TO SEQUEL 10

Juddmonte Farms' immaculately-bred 'TDN Rising Star' Honest Mischief (Into Mischief) has been retired and will stand in New York at Sequel Stallions.

Actually this is the second time Knicks Go has demanded a fresh look at his sire. In 2018, following a low-key launch by his first juveniles the previous year, Paynter mustered just 34 mares at $12,500. In fairness, if anything he had resisted the usual drag better than most young sires, having maintained a book of 103 at $20,000 the previous spring. That reflected a positive reception for that first crop at the yearling sales, where they had parlayed his $25,000 opening fee into an average return of $83,853.

Paynter | Louise Reinagel

Having accumulated 438 covers across his first three seasons, however, Paynter was seemingly now being drawn into the deadly commercial vortex so familiar in a world where breeders flit nervously from new sire to new sire. Quite what precocious detonation people had expected in Paynter's first juveniles, when both he and his sire had been unraced at two, is hard to say.

But then Paynter, from his second crop, pulled Knicks Go out of his hat. After scoring on debut at Ellis Park, he appeared to be put in his place when tried in stakes company, only to establish what is plainly a particular affinity with Keeneland by winning the GI Claiborne Breeders' Futurity S. by 5 1/2 lengths at 70-1. If that performance came out of the blue, he then proved its substance by heading over to Churchill and beating all bar Game Winner (Candy Ride {Arg}) in the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile.

While it is always true that a single star can outshine a multitude of dimmer talents, Paynter had some useful volume behind him and finished behind only Violence (Medaglia d'Oro) in the second-crop sires' prize money table. He was back in the game. After welcoming 97 partners in 2019, he kept solid interest at 71 this year. Cont. p4

In the prevailing climate, admittedly, a further easing of his fee was fairly inevitable. But hopefully that will assist him through the gate that divides the stallion who's still trying to make his name from the one who can be considered relatively proven, while yet remaining highly accessible. That's an elusive combination, making Paynter's credentials seem well worth revisiting.

The Dirt Mile success of Knicks Go has elevated his sire past Violence to head the fourth-crop table as the year draws to a close. But he would still be a clear second without his standard-bearer, who after all was otherwise confined only to a couple of allowance wins, eight months apart, following his transfer to Brad Cox. Given the stellar achievements of Violence this year, with Grade I winners from three different crops, it would have reflected very creditably on Paynter even to remain in his vicinity.

The key now is for Knicks Go not to turn into a burden, by appearing freakishly out of line with the rest of his sire's output. Paynter has so far assembled another 14 black-type winners at a perfectly respectable ratio, to named foals, of 4%. (That's a match, browsing stallions at a similar stage of their careers, even for Union Rags {Dixie Union} and Dialed In {Mineshaft}--never mind many others who have not approached their excellence.) And if none of these are in the same league as his kingpin, the success of Harpers First Ride in the GIII Pimlico Special last month was his eighth in 15 starts.

Liam O'Rourke, director of stallion sales at WinStar, emphasizes the solidity of Paynter's body of work behind his trailblazer.

"I think it's important to recognize both aspects of his production," O'Rourke observes. "Paynter is able to get an elite, championship-level racehorse like Knicks Go and also have the depth to be the only top 20 general sire standing for less than $15,000. He's in the top 15 by winners, and just outside the top 10 (11th) by percentage of black-type horses. This combination should spell an upward commercial trajectory."

One thing is for sure: nobody could be surprised that a stallion recycling the kind of genes packaged by Paynter should have come up with a horse as talented as Knicks Go. He is out of a full-sister to Tiznow, and therefore also to Grade II winners Budroyale and Tizdubai; not to mention their unraced sister whose own mating with Paynter's sire produced GI Preakness S. winner Oxbow (Awesome Again).

Like Oxbow, Paynter finished second in the GI Belmont S., in his case caught close home by Union Rags. He got his Grade I next time, albeit his Haskell S. performance in hindsight appears to be better measured by the clock than by the depth of competition.

Harpers First Ride took the Pimlico Special last month | Horsephotos

But where he really showed his fighting qualities was in then rallying from the brink in consecutive battles with colitis, colonic surgery and laminitis. Remarkably, between the skills of his veterinarians and his own resilience, he was able to clock a 114 Beyer on his resumption at four; and then late chased home Mucho Macho Man (Macho Uno) in an apt bid for the GI Awesome Again S.

Already as a yearling his physique had received a valuable testimonial, in being picked out of Book 1 at Keeneland September by no less a judge than David Ingordo, for $325,000. Everything was in place, then. And, while obviously no stallion is a cookie-cutter, O'Rourke sees the robustness that served Paynter so well as something of a trademark. "Paynter gives a horse depth and class," he notes. "They are very strong with a good heart girth and a good presence. They are athletes."

Certainly that dappled streak, Knicks Go, gives smaller breeders something to dream about as they contemplate his new fee. As has been well documented, Knicks Go was co-bred against the odds by Sabrina Moore and her mother Angie, who were grazing a grand total of three mares on their GreenMount Farm in Reisterstown, Md. One of these mares was Kosmo's Buddy, a daughter of Outflanker opportunely claimed for $40,000 at Monmouth Park in 2010. That was her 36th start and by then she had amply established both toughness and quality, with two wins and as many as a dozen placings in black-type company. Credit for Knicks Go must also be shared, then, between his accomplished dam; and, in turn, the Maryland stalwart who sired her. (Though Outflanker contested ten maidens without success, his fine pedigree has played through at stud.)

But there's no denying the pivotal importance of the resulting talent to his sire; nor, presumably, of his sire to that talent.

And the more a stallion like Paynter can achieve commercial traction, the more sustainable the industry becomes for breeders like the Moores, who are very much its lifeblood. Logically, after all, a sire should have no more "commercial" propensity than producing runners at an affordable rate.

"We were thrilled for Angie and Sabrina to breed such a great horse from their small but growing operation," O'Rourke says. "Of course the market probably disagrees with me, when you see certain proven sires not get enough respect in the sales ring, but I think planning to breed a 'race' horse and planning to breed a 'sales' horse aren't mutually exclusive things. The best thing for a mare's pedigree is to produce good horses: black-type horses. When you do so, you increase the value of your mare and each subsequent foal she produces. The Moores raised a great runner and it created commercial opportunities."

Paynter has more than once had his back to the wall, but has fought his way back every time. "He definitely finds a sweet spot in the market," says O'Rourke. "It's an uncertain business in a good year, and even more so at the moment, but a sire like Paynter--who's so reliable, so well-priced and has shown he can get you that elite type--can take some of the risk out of it for the breeder. He's priced at a level where he can be important to your breeding plans, whether you have two or 20-plus mares."

War of Will New Heir to War Front's Throne cont. from p1

The son of War Front is among an elite group that can claim Grade I wins on both dirt and turf, and is the first of War Front's progeny to snag a Classic victory. He recently joined his sire at Claiborne Farm and will stand for a fee of $25,000 in his first year at stud.

Click here to watch Bernie Sams talk on Claiborne's incoming sire War of Will.

A $175,000 RNA at the Keeneland September Sale, War of Will was pinhooked privately by Norman Williamson before selling for €250,000 at the Arqana May Breeze-Up Sale in 2018. The youngster was purchase by Justin Casse and sent to his brother Mark Casse's barn, where he made his debut on the grass.

While competitive in stakes company at two, the colt failed to break his maiden in four starts and Casse decided to look past the colt's grass pedigree, switching the blaze-faced colt to the dirt.

The result was a three-race win streak, with a five-length maiden-breaking sophomore debut, followed by a graded stakes double in the GIII LeComte S. and the GII Risen Star S.

That's when Claiborne started to take notice.

"We started getting interested in War of Will when he won down at Fair Grounds," Sams said. "He was very impressive. We'd kind of been keeping an eye out for a son of War Front, and he seemed to fit the bill."

After drawing the rail position in last year's GI Kentucky Derby, rider Tyler Gaffalione had War of Will poised for a perfect 'up the rail' victory. But the seam never opened, and they ran seventh in a highly-controversial Run for the Roses.

The duo sought redemption and earned it when two weeks later in the GI Preakness S., where they again drew the one hole, but this time found an opening and never looked back. The victory gave all connections--owner Gary Barber, Casse and Gaffalione--their first Preakness win and first-ever Classic win.

"After he won the Preakness was when we got very serious," Bernie said of the then stallion prospect.

War of Will winning the Preakness | Horsephotos

"Just with the fact that he was a big, strong son of War Front that had won an American Classic on the dirt going two turns, and had speed."

War of Will did not see the winner's circle again last year, so Casse followed a hunch and switched the bay back to the turf for his 4-year-old season.

He was rewarded when War of Will took the GI Maker's Mark Mile S. at Keeneland, defeating Grade I and Group 1 winners such as Raging Bull (FR) (Dark Angel {Ire}), Without Parole (GB) (Frankel {GB}) and Next Shares (Archarcharch).

"The Grade I at Keeneland on the grass was very exciting," Sams said. "For him to be a Grade I winner on dirt and turf--there's a lot of grass racing in America now, so you know it can go both ways with him. And his female family has quite a bit of turf in it."

War of Will is the ninth foal out of Visions of Clarity (Ire) (Sadler's Wells), a stakes winner at three in France and half-sister to European champion and Breeders' Cup Mile winner Spinning World (Nureyev). The mare is also responsible for Irish highweight and Group 1 winner Pathfork (Distorted Humor), as well as Juddmonte's three-time graded stakes winner Tacitus (Tapit).

Sams said Claiborne is looking forward to offering their new son of War Front, but that War of Will offers a new aspect to the sire line for breeders.

"To have had Danzig and War Front and now him is very exciting," he said. "If he could be halfway as successful as those two, it'd be a good deal. There's definitely more size and scope to him than his father and grandfather. [In terms of] conformation, he sells himself. He's a big, pretty horse. He's correct and has plenty of bone."

War of Will's appeal is so great, it seems, that he might just end up taking a few mares off his sire's book.

"Everybody has loved him," Sams said. "I've had a couple of people that had asked about breeding to War Front and came out and looked at War of Will and now are going to breed to him and not War Front. So that's the kind of mares he's going to end up getting."

CONTROVERSIAL 2017 CANADIAN DERBY DECLARED OFFICIAL--FOR FIFTH TIME

by T.D. Thornton

The 2017 GIII Canadian Derby has been declared official--for the fifth time.

But the upholding of the controversial commission-level disqualification of Chief Know It All (Flashy Bull) from western Canada's most prestigious race might still not end up being the final judgment in a case that has now languished in the courts for three-plus years.

The Alberta Court of Appeal ruling, first reported Nov. 23 by Canadian Press, is the latest twist in the prolonged legal challenge over whether stewards are the final arbiters of foul-related race disqualifications in that province.

Chief Know It All | Coady Photography

This latest judgment--which essentially upholds the right of a quasi-judicial, independent body to overturn race outcome decisions made by track officials in Alberta—stands in stark contrast to the opposite United States federal court ruling from earlier this year that declared Churchill Downs stewards had the full power and final say in DQ'ing the winner of the 2019 GI Kentucky Derby for an in-race foul.

On Aug. 19, 2017, at Northlands Park, Chief Know It All, then owned by Rollingson Racing Stable and trained by Robertino Diodoro, won the C$150,000 stakes by a half-length.

There was a dead heat for second, and the stewards investigated a foul claim on behalf of one of the runners-up.

The objection focused on whether Chief Know It All came over and impeded rail-running Double Bear (Kentucky Bear) at the head of the stretch or if Double Bear caused his own stutter-step problem by running up on the left hind of Chief Know It All.

The stewards ruled no foul occurred, leaving up Chief Know It All as the winner.

The connections of Double Bear appealed to Horse Racing Alberta, which has something called an Appeal Tribunal comprised of up to three members who hear appeals on rulings made by horse racing officials, with the ability to render reversals independent of Horse Racing Alberta.

Ten months later, the Appeal Tribunal did indeed reverse the outcome of the 2017 Canadian Derby, DQ'ing Chief Know It All for interference while elevating Double Bear and Trooper John (Colonel John) as dead-heat winners.

Rollingson Racing took the matter to court, seeking a remand back to the original stewards' decision, but had no luck in two lower court attempts before the case went before the Alberta Court of Appeal, which similarly upheld the tribunal's power to overrule stewards.

According to Canadian Press, "Rollingson Racing argued that the Appeal Tribunal did not have enough members to make the decision to disqualify, because one of them had been let go partway through the proceedings. The Appeal Court has dismissed the argument [ruling that] a section of Alberta's horse racing act could be interpreted to allow a former member to return so as to conclude a complaint that was already before the tribunal."

It was unclear if Rollingson Racing will pursue further legal attempts to fight the DQ.

Chief Know It All has long since left the Rollingson stable and Diodoro's barn. He won the GII British Columbia Derby at Hastings in his next start after the Canadian Derby, then shipped out to race at Zia, Oaklawn, Prairie Meadows, Canterbury, Turf Paradise and Churchill.

During 2019 and into 2020, he was claimed four times while crossing the finish line first in five of six races at Churchill, Saratoga, Keeneland and Aqueduct.

But in one of those races, on Nov. 14, 2019, Chief Know It All was DQ'd from a 12 1/4-length win at Churchill while also having his claim voided for a Class 3 naproxen positive while under the care of trainer Danny Gargan. The gelding currently competes at the $25,000 claiming level in New York, most recently running third at that level Nov. 13.

HONEST MISCHIEF RETIRED TO SEQUEL STALLIONS

Honest Mischief | Coady

Blue-blooded black-type winner and graded stakes-placed Honest Mischief (Into Mischief--Honest Lady, by Seattle Slew), who hails from one of the top families in the stud book, has been retired to Sequel Stallions New York. He will stand for $6,500 LFSN.

The Juddmonte homebred broke his maiden at second asking at Keeneland at three by eight lengths and was tabbed a 'TDN Rising Star' by virtue of that win, then went on to be third behind Shancelot (Shanghai Bobby) in the GII Amsterdam S. at Saratoga in just his fourth career start. An allowance win at Keeneland and a win in the Force the Pass City of Laurel S. at Laurel closed out his sophomore campaign. He began this year with a runner-up finish to Volatile (Violence) in Churchill's Aristides S. and closed it with a win via disqualification at the same track in September. The Chad Brown trainee retires with a record of 9-4-3-1 and earnings of $287,464.

"Honest Mischief was pegged as a real talent by our exercise riders from the very beginning," said Juddmonte's Garrett O'Rourke. "He had raw speed, he was sound, and he had desire. He placed behind stars like Shancelot and Volatile at the top of their games and when he won, he won like a Grade I horse. Honest Mischief has such a genetic concentration of classic talent, on top and bottom of his pedigree, that expectation of his success at stud is just a given."

By record-setting leading sire Into Mischief, Honest Mischief is from the signature Juddmonte family of Toussud (El Gran Senor). The remarkable Grade I-winning mare became a blue hen, producing Classic-winning sire Empire Maker (Unbridled), as well as GISW sire Chester House (Mr. Prospector), GISW Chiselling (Woodman), MGSW and GISP sire Decarchy (Distant View) and Honest Mischief's GISW dam. Cont. p11

Honest Mischief is one of four black-type winners out of Honest Lady, including GISW and sire First Defence (Unbridled's Song).

"To stand at stud the son of such an incredible sire, as well as the magnificent female family Honest Mischief exhibits, is beyond exciting," said Sequel's Becky Thomas. "I am a super fan of Into Mischief and am honored to bring Honest Mischief to New York with the support and participation of Juddmonte Farm."

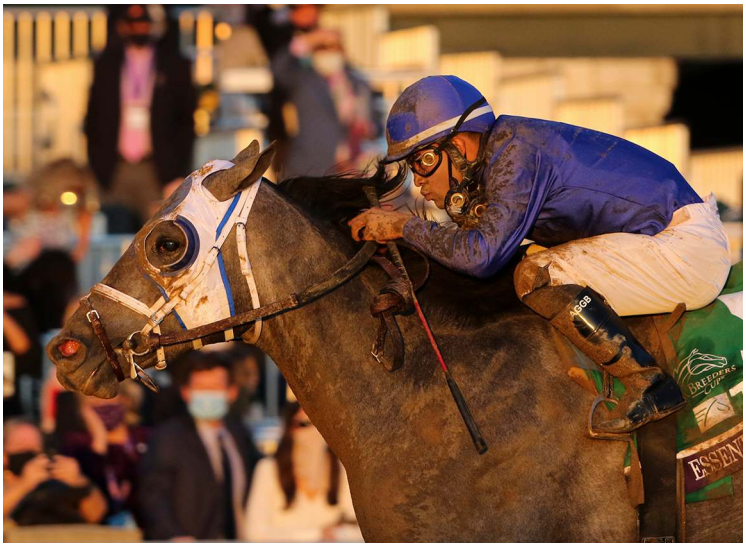
GODOLPHIN WINS THIRD STRAIGHT JOHN DEERE AWARD AS OUTSTANDING BREEDER OF BREEDERS' CUP CHALLENGE SERIES

Strengthened by victories from She's a Julie (Elusive Quality), Lord North (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}) and Essential Quality (Tapit), Godolphin has won its third consecutive John Deere Award, honoring the outstanding breeder of the 2020 Breeders' Cup World Championships and the Breeders' Cup Challenge Series.



Godolphin homebred Essential Quality winning the Breeders' Cup Juvenile | Breeders' Cup/Eclipse Sportswire

The John Deere Award, presented by Breeders' Cup Limited and NTRA Advantage, emphasizes the contributions of breeders to the Breeders' Cup program. The industry's breeders provide funding for the purses for the World Championships through the annual nominations of foals and stallions. NTRA Advantage and John Deere will award a John Deere TS Gator Utility Vehicle to Godolphin.

The John Deere award winner is determined by the breeder who received the highest number of first-place finishes in Graded/Group stakes in the Breeders' Cup Challenge Series of 81 stakes races in nine countries, and in the 14 Breeders' Cup World Championships races. Each Grade/Group 1 win was worth 10 points; Grade/Group 2 wins were worth six points; Grade/Group 3 wins were worth four points; and listed stakes wins were worth two points.

Godolphin-bred runners earned 40 points by winning four Group/Grade 1 races in England and the United States. Godolphin finished 10 points in front of both Coolmore Stud and Northern Farm/Northern Racing, which tied for second place with 30 points each.

"The Breeders' Cup and John Deere's commitment to International Racing reflects the goals and ambitions of the global Godolphin breeding program to strive to compete at the highest level," said Jimmy Bell, President, Godolphin USA. "Godolphin is honored to be recognized with this award."

FARRIER FUND THEME OF TRF'S GIVING TUESDAY CAMPAIGN

The Thoroughbred Retirement Foundation (TRF) is encouraging their supporters to join them online on Dec. 1, for #GivingTuesday. Celebrated on the Tuesday following Thanksgiving and the widely-recognized shopping events Black Friday and Cyber Monday, #GivingTuesday kicks off the charitable season, when many focus on their holiday and end-of-year giving.

"The Hoof makes the Horse" focuses on the important TRF Farrier Fund. The TRF is asking their supporters to help them reach their #Hoofgoals of $15,000 to help offset the costs of approximately 3 months of hoof care for the 500 rescued and retired Thoroughbred racehorses in the TRF herd.

TRF invites the "friends of the herd" to join them on social media, sharing thanks, photos and appreciation for farriers around the world with hashtags #hoofgoals, #honkifyouloveyourfarrier, #drop_your_beautiful_farrier, #farriersrock and #trffarrierfund.

"The permanent retirees at our Kentucky sanctuary farm need their feet trimmed regularly, just like most horses, but sometimes we have to make accommodations for the older ones," said Sara Davenport, TRF Herd Manager.

"Their knees or ankles may not be as flexible as they once were, so my farrier makes sure they are as comfortable as possible, even if that puts him in an uncomfortable position. The horses appreciate the extra time and patience he takes when working with on them. A gentle touch goes a long way. I am thankful to James Pendergast for his care for our horses."

Details on TRF's Giving Tuesday fundraiser and activities can be found here.

Sponsor a Family for Christmas

The NY Race Track Chaplaincy is once again offering the opportunity to our supporters to participate in our Sponsor-A-Family Program. Our Program provides food and gifts to the neediest of our backstretch families during the Christmas season.

This year has been such a challenging one for us all and particularly for those we serve. Our goal is to provide sponsorships for every one of our families in need, which is something we have never been able to accomplish before so please, spread the word among your friends and help us to bless our families this year.

Family Sponsorships can be shared! Groups are encouraged to sponsor large families together.

How It Works

1. Click HERE to send an email, and write "Sponsor a Family" in the subject line. Let us know if you have a preference for the number of members in the family you would like to sponsor, or indicate any questions.
2. We will write back with the details of your family, including the total number of family members, gender of each child, ages and sizes.
3. Go Shopping! Purchase gifts for each child or members of the family as well as a grocery store gift card for their holiday meal.
4. Please wrap all gifts and clearly mark each gift according to each family member.
5. Place all Items into a large box or bag that is clearly marked with the family last name and assigned number. If there are large items that cannot fit into the family box (bike, comforter, etc) clearly mark the item with a tag. This ensures all of your gifts are delivered to your assigned family.
6. Please deliver your gifts to our Belmont Park office, Gate 6, by December 11th. Our office is open Monday- Friday, 10AM - 4PM.

Not a Shopper? No worries!

Please click here to make a financial contribution of your choice to be used toward sponsoring a family.
