BAFFERT FILES SUIT AGAINST NYRA

Bob Baffert and Medina Spirit | Coady Photography

Bob Baffert has filed suit in the United States District Court, Eastern District of New York, against the New York Racing Association charging violations under the Fourteenth Amendment to the U. S. Constitution violating his right to due process.

The suit was filed Monday by Baffert's attorney Craig Robertson.

NYRA announced that it had suspended Baffert May 17, after it was revealed that Medina Spirit (Protonico) had tested positive for Betamethasone in the GI Kentucky Derby.

The suit reads, "Specifically, Baffert maintains a right to rely upon and use his New York State occupational trainer's license that was duly issued to him without limitation by the New York State Gaming Commission (the "Gaming Commission"); NYRA has, without legal authority, and without any notice or opportunity to be heard, attempted to indefinitely suspend Baffert's trainer's license issued by the Gaming Commission, thereby preventing Baffert from practicing in his chosen profession or using his state-issued license on state-owned property."

When asked if he would be filing a similar lawsuit against Churchill Downs, which has also banned the trainer, Baffert's attorney Craig Robertson said he was not representing Baffert on any legal issues related to Churchill Downs. He declined to comment further. Cont. p3

TONY LACY AND HIS VISION FOR THE KEENELAND SALES by Katie Ritz

Click here to see Tony Lacy and the Keeneland inspection team in action.

As the calendar reaches the midpoint of June and the summer heat starts to rise in the Bluegrass, yearling inspections for the 2021 Keeneland September Sale are well underway. Former bloodstock advisor and consignor Tony Lacy, who was named as Keeneland's Vice President of Sales this April, is in his element as his team travels across Kentucky and beyond, inspecting the many young Thoroughbreds that will soon make up the massive catalog lineup come September.

"I grew up a horseman and that's what my family is, so this is really coming back to my roots," Lacy said on a sultry afternoon in Versailles after dodging summer storms to complete a long list of inspections at Three Chimneys Farm. "I think this is where I can relate very closely after being a consignor for 20 years at Four Star Sales. I know the anxiety levels at this time of the year --where these horses might fall in the book and what their marketability might be. I can bridge the gap, I believe, between what the seller feels like they need and what the sales company needs to provide." Cont. p4

In the suit, Baffert seeks, among other things, a declaration that NYRA is prohibited from denying horses he owns or trains from entering races at NYRA tracks, denying him the privileges of the grounds, and denying him stall space. He is seeking a preliminary and permanent injunction from NYRA from further banning him from the tracks, and says that if that does not happen, he will suffer immediate and irreparable harm.

Attachments to the suit include a letter sent to Baffert from NYRA May 17 outlining the reasons for the suspension. The letter, signed by NYRA President and CEO David O'Rourke, reads, "NYRA has determined that the best interests of Thoroughbred racing compel the temporary suspension of your entering horses in races and occupying stall space at our racetracks. To do otherwise would compromise NYRA's investment in its operations as well as the public's perception of Thoroughbred racing generally."

The letter says that NYRA would make a final determination on the length and the terms of the suspension in the future "based on information revealed during the course of the ongoing investigation in Kentucky."

The suit makes a distinction between NYRA and other private entities. "NYRA is a not-for-profit franchised corporation created by the State of New York. However, unlike other state-created not-for-profit corporations, the existence and operation of NYRA is specifically governed by the New York law that grants it the exclusive franchise to conduct live Thoroughbred racing and simulcasting at the state-owned racetracks on behalf of the state, from which the state derives substantial revenue."

The suit continues, "NYRA controls the operation of all major Thoroughbred racetracks within the State of New York and operates as an effective monopoly. NYRA does not have the legal authority to suspend Baffert--that rests solely with the Gaming Commission as the entity that issued his occupational license--a license that affords Baffert a property interest under state law sufficient to invoke due process protections. Despite this fact, by purporting to summarily and indefinitely suspend Baffert from all NYRA tracks, NYRA has essentially barred Baffert from exercising his professional and State-issued trainer's license anywhere in the State of New York. Additionally, NYRA has purported to suspend Baffert and the use of his license without any notice or opportunity to be heard in violation of due process. Lastly, by connecting Baffert's "suspension" to the Kentucky investigation, which is likely to go on for years, NYRA has correspondingly banned Baffert from participating in New York racing for several years."

In response to Baffert's lawsuit, NYRA's Senior Director of Communications Patrick McKenna, issued the following a statement. (cont. p4)

"On May 17, the New York Racing Association, Inc. (NYRA) temporarily suspended Bob Baffert from entering horses in races and occupying stall space at Belmont Park, Saratoga Race Course and Aqueduct Racetrack. NYRA took this action to protect the integrity of the sport for our fans, the betting public and racing participants following Mr. Baffert's public acknowledgement that the Kentucky Derby winner Medina Spirit tested positive for betamethasone, a banned corticosteroid. In making the determination to temporarily suspend Mr. Baffert, NYRA took into account the fact that other horses trained by Mr. Baffert have failed drug tests in the recent past, resulting in the assessment of penalties against him by Thoroughbred racing regulators in Kentucky, California, and Arkansas. NYRA will vigorously defend the action it has taken in this matter."

A fourth-generation horsemen, Lacy began his career in his native Ireland working as an assistant trainer to his father, T.F. 'Tom' Lacy, while also becoming an accomplished amateur jockey both on the flat and over jumps. He then worked stints as an assistant trainer in France, the U.S. and Dubai. He landed back in the U.S. in 2001 to help launch Four Star Sales and began taking on advisory and managerial roles for many successful racing and breeding operations.

Over the years, he has represented Emirates Racing and the Dubai World Cup in the U.S., served as the North American Representative for ARQANA, and advised the French Breeding and Racing Committee and France Galop. He currently serves on the board of New Vocations and is also the incoming president for the Thoroughbred Club of America.

"I think my experiences on the track and in the breeding industry help me understand the dynamics of what trainers are looking for, as well as the strife and struggle of a breeder," Lacy said. "I've bought quite a number of horses over the years, so from that perspective, I've seen it from many angles. I'm not saying that I know it all--far from it--but I think I can relate to what people are really going through if they have an issue or they're looking for improvements in any aspect."

In his first few weeks on the job, Lacy has worked closely with Geoffrey Russell, who served Keeneland's auction house for the last 25 years and officially retired this year, but will serve as a consultant through the remainder of 2021.

"Coming in as vice president of sales, it's really an all-encompassing position," Lacy said. "In the first few weeks, I've gotten exposed to a lot of aspects of how every department interacts with each other, which certainly allows you to balance everything out and understand why something is possible or might not be possible." Cont. p5

Lacy continued, "I'm working very closely with Geoffrey right now, who is obviously in the early stages of his retirement which he is enjoying, but he's been a great help in the transition."

On June 10, bloodstock consultant Cormac Breathnach, Ph.D. was named Keeneland's new Director of Sales Operations to succeed Russell.

With several new faces at the helm of Keeneland's sales operation, Lacy said the incoming team's goal is to evolve the company's image and identity throughout the industry.

"I think Keeneland may be perceived as the big green institution that may not be as approachable," he explained. "I know as a kid growing up, it was iconic and it still is. It's got an extremely strong brand. But I think with the way the industry has evolved and with what people demand, we've got to be more interactive. There is an entertainment aspect to it. There is a customer service aspect to it. There's a lot of problem solving and it's a lot about being compassionate."

Lacy aboard Juddmonte homebred and eventual five-time Graded/Group I producer Hasili (Kahyasi). | Camilla Yakteen

Lacy said that Shannon Arvin, who officially transitioned into the role of Keeneland President and CEO Jan. 1 of this year, as well as Gatewood Bell, who was named as Vice President of Racing this February, both played a role in creating the vision behind this new outlook.

"Shannon is fantastic. She gets it," he said. "Gatewood has been a great support as well. We're all working in lockstep. I think we come with a very targeted perspective of modernizing Keeneland and I'm excited about that. I'm excited to be a part of it. I didn't give up everything to do this without allowing it to happen. I've committed everything to it.

"Between Shannon, Gatewood and myself, we certainly see that racing and sales [teams] have to work together very closely," he continued. "We're really doing the same thing with a lot of the same people and it has to be a seamless process where if somebody is interacting at the sales, they're recognized for what they've contributed in racing and vice versa. We want to try and help everyone be better."

Lacy and his team will have the advantage of making these first steps toward their mission at a time when optimism is riding high in the industry and the results are showing at the sales.

"Last year was obviously a stressful time for everyone," Lacy said. "But when you look at the 2-year-old sales this year, there's a lot of positivity. People are really anxious to get back out there. Syndicates are getting much more involved and that aspect of it creates a real energy coming into this year and I think we want to promote that."

If there was one positive to take away from last year's sales season, Lacy said it would be the industry's ability to take a stressful environment and bring forth innovation.

"The online platform encouraged people to bid online more if they couldn't make it to the sale," he noted. "The introduction of walking videos, as well as just a little more transparency with information, all help the process. I think these things were necessary last year, but this year they become the standard around the world and I know Keeneland has embraced that."

Lacy said he has always believed each drop of the hammer is more than just a hip number going through the ring followed by a subsequent transaction. It's a lesson he remembered time and time again as a consignor at Keeneland and one that helped Four Star Sales become one of North America's leading sales agencies.

"There is a fun aspect to a sale that the buyers need to be able to enjoy," he said. "It's not always about the transaction. It's about the competitiveness and trying to find the next Derby horse. I love every day I go to work and I want it to be like that for everybody. It should be an exciting place for people to come and do business with a great vibe for the process."

Now, Lacy has made it a full-time commitment to create a rewarding experience for each buyer and seller that will step onto Keeneland's grounds this fall.

"Growing up, you look at Keeneland and how iconic it is and it was really never something I ever thought was possible to be in the position I'm in," he admitted. "So I feel very fortunate and I feel the responsibility of the job. But it's a wonderful organization and I think it's exciting at the moment because obviously there's turnover in faces at Keeneland, but I think that brings a fresh perspective and a whole new attitude. We're all working towards the goal that we want to be stronger in 10 years' time than we are now and leaving it for the next team, the next generation, to be able to pick up and make even better."

GUILD TO END INSURANCE COVERAGE FOR MONMOUTH RIDERS by Bill Finley

In a June 7 letter, the Jockeys' Guild informed its membership that, starting July 1, Monmouth Park jockeys will no longer be covered by Guild insurance policies. The Guild has been providing temporary disability benefits, life insurance and Accident, Death and Disability benefits to those who have chosen to ride in New Jersey.

The Guild has been adamant in its belief that racing has become more dangerous at Monmouth Park because jockeys are no longer allowed to encourage their mounts with the use of the whip. In the June 7 letter, sent out to all Guild members, Guild President and CEO Terry Meyocks wrote that, "The increase of risk is thereby creating a greater exposure for the Jockeys' Guild and the benefits that we provide to our members who are riding under such regulation."

Monmouth Park | Sarah Andrew

Meyocks said that the cost of the insurance policies has, so far, not increased due to the whip regulations, but that the Guild's Board of Directors is concerned that the ban will eventually lead to higher rates.

Once the policies have been withdrawn, it appears that anyone riding at Monmouth will either have to take out insurance of their own or accept the risks that would come from riding without coverage. When asked if he expected that some riders would chose to leave Monmouth because of the insurance situation, Meyocks replied, "I have no idea. I really don't. All we have done all along is to just inform everybody."

Dennis Drazin, who heads the management company that operates the racetrack, lashed out at the Guild Monday, calling the decision to withdraw the insurance a "cheap shot."

"This is an uncalled-for reaction to a rule that the racing commission put into effect and now they want to punish their own jockeys because they are riding," Drazin said. "It doesn't reflect well on the Jockeys' Guild. It is something they should not have done. Insurance companies don't cancel your coverage because of the racing commission putting in a regulation that the Guild has known about for two years."

Drazin suggested that those who will continue to ride at Monmouth have the grounds for a lawsuit against the Guild.

"The comments I have heard are that some of the jocks are upset with the Guild and don't feel that they are representing them well," Drazin said. "Now they decide that they're going to suspend the benefits that they provide to our jockeys. Frankly, if our jockeys wanted to, they have a very good lawsuit against the Guild."

Meyocks said that Monmouth is on a list of tracks that do not make any financial contributions to the Guild's insurance policies.

Monmouth kicked off its 2021 meet May 28 with the strictest rules in the sport regarding whipping. The rules, put into effect by the New Jersey Racing Commission, allow jockeys to carry whips but they can only use them when they feel they are in an unsafe situation. At no point in a race can a jockey use the whip to encourage the horse. Jockeys Joe Bravo and Antonio Gallardo have refused to ride at the meet due to safety concerns, but Monmouth has had no problem finding enough jockeys willing to ride. Ten racing days into the meet, the racing has been conducted without any noticeable safety issues.

Retreating to 10th after setting a scorching pace in the GII Eight Belles S. Apr. 30 at Churchill, the $50,000 OBS April buy rebounded to just miss as a nose runner-up in the GIII Miss Preakness S. last out May 14 at Pimlico. Hammered to 2-5 dipping back down the class ladder here, the chestnut tracked a runoff leader from second through a :21.94 quarter, swiftly reeled in the frontrunner at the five-sixteenths pole and repelled the challenge of second choice Perfect Happiness (Majesticperfection) in the final furlong for a 1 3/4-length score over that rival. KING'S OVATION (g, 3, Not This Time--Karen's Silk {SW, $112,350}, by High Cotton) rallied to a 26-1 graduation second out last October at Churchill and completed the exacta at 36-1 in the GIII Claiborne Swale S. two starts later Jan. 30 at Gulfstream. Unable to make a dent when sixth in the GII Fasig-Tipton Fountain of Youth S. and ninth in the GIII Jeff Ruby S., he turned back to 6 1/2 furlongs while adding Lasix in a Churchill allowance May 1 but again was well beaten, checking in eighth. Gelded since that effort, the $200,000 OBS April pickup was given a 3-1 chance stretching back out to two turns here and traveled in third behind a pokey :24.97 quarter and move lively :48.75 half. Quickly drawing into contention three wide past the five-sixteenths marker, the chestnut took the lead soon after and kicked clear in the stretch despite wanting to get out a bit, hitting the wire 4 1/4 lengths to the good of Khozan's Success (Khozan). The first foal out of his stakes-winning dam, who sold with him in utero for $135,000 at Keeneland November in 2017, King's Ovation is followed by a juvenile California Chrome colt in Russia named Silk Story and a yearling filly by Broken Vow. ALIENOR (JPN) (f, 3, Nyquist--Land Over Sea {GSW & MGISP, $746,500}, by Bellamy Road) finished well down the field in a local turf maiden last November, but sprung to life in her seasonal debut to graduate by five lengths trying the dirt for the first time at Niigata Apr. 18. A reasonably generous 21-10 favorite facing winners here, the bay was first to break the line, but was content to take back a bit and chase from second. Traveling comfortably through the middle stages, Alienor crept into it approaching the final 400 meters, was roused to the front with a burst of speed with a bit more than a furlong to race and proved four lengths too strong in the finish. Alienor's dam, a half-sister to the hard-knocking MGSW $3.2-million winner War Story (Northern Afleet), won the 2016 GII TwinSpires.com Fair Grounds Oaks and was runner-up in that year's GI Longines Kentucky Oaks before selling for $1.3 million with this filly in utero at FTKNOV in 2017. Land Over Sea is the dam of a 2-year-old filly by Deep Impact (Jpn) and a yearling filly by Daiwa Major (Jpn). She was most recently bred to Horse of the Year Kitasan Black (Jpn). Sales history: $1,300,000 in utero '17 FTKNOV. Lifetime Record: 3-2-0-0, $115,455.

ELEPHANTINE (JPN) (f, 3, American Pharoah--Sweetie Girl {Arg} {G1SW-Arg, $104,687}, by Star Dabbler) struggled home 13th in her nine-furlong unveiling at Niigata May 9 and was cutting back to the minimum trip for this as a 66-1 outsider. Drawn one from the outside, the homebred filly was ridden positively and took up a prominent position a couple of lengths from the leader in third. Three deep around the turn, the chestnut responded when set down in upper stretch, had aim on the pacesetter entering the final eighth of a mile and edged away in the final 70 yards to take it by 1 1/4 lengths. The 14th winner from 18 of her sire's Japanese runners, Elephantine is the first foal out of the 2015 G1 Polla de Potrancas heroine, who was an allowance winner from six starts in this country for trainer Angel Quiroz and was acquired privately prior to her export to Japan. Sweetie Girl's subsequent produce include a 2-year-old Deep Impact (Jpn) filly, a yearling colt by Lord Kanaloa (Jpn) and a filly by the latter foaled Jan. 31. Lifetime Record: 2-1-0-0, $46,364.

FRANKIE LOOKING FOR A FLYING START

Frankie Dettori | Francesca Altoft

Frankie Dettori left it late to win his second consecutive jockey's title at Royal Ascot in 2020, so this time he will be looking for an instant boost via Palace Pier (GB) (Kingman {GB}) in the opening G1 Queen Anne S. on Tuesday. If form is any guide, Sheikh Hamdan bin Mohammed Al Maktoum's 'TDN Rising Star' can be fully expected to hand the Italian a 74th winner at the meeting, having been his 73rd on the Saturday of the last renewal when causing a minor surprise in the G1 St James's Palace S. Since that breakthrough success, the John and Thady Gosden-trained bay has enjoyed an almost fault-free run garnering the G1 Prix Jacques le Marois and the G1 Lockinge S. at Newbury May 15, with his sole reversal when third in the G1 Queen Elizabeth II S. due to a combination of deep ground and a lost fore shoe. At this juncture, he is one of those priceless commodities to kick off the Royal meeting; an already-high-class miler probably still only nearing his prime dominating his division. It was in this race in 1990 that Frankie first signalled his arrival on the main stage with Markofdistinction (GB) and there is an argument that the 31-year-older version is as good as any of his profession in recent memory.

"I'm no different to an actor going on stage at the theatre," he said. "Everybody knows that I'm quite lucky at Ascot. The crowd gets behind me and I love it. I need the crowd, I need the atmosphere. I can smell it, I can breathe it, I can taste it. It's part of me, I'm sorry! I'm addicted to it." Cont. p2

ZINC WHITE HEADS GOFFS LONDON SALE

Selectivity was the watchword for the Goffs London Sale, which returned after an absence in 2020 and was held online for the first time. While Royal Ascot will be able to welcome 12,000 racegoers daily this year, the week will have nothing like the normal buzz about it, with most international travellers prevented from attending.

It is impossible to reproduce virtually the garden party atmosphere of the London Sale which, over the previous six years at Kensington Palace, has provided an enjoyable warm up to the most sociable week of racing in the calendar. The sale's unique selling point has always been the inclusion of horses entered to race during the Royal Meeting.

Just three of the 11 lots were sold this year, but there was still an international feel to proceedings with the buyers hailing from Australia, France and Britain. Cont. p5

IN TDN AMERICA TODAY

BAFFERT FILES SUIT AGAINST NYRA

Trainer Bob Baffert has filed a lawsuit against the New York Racing Association (NYRA), alleging NYRA violated his due process rights. Click or tap here to go straight to TDN America.

The Italian added, "You need at least six to win the title, but they're hard to win. Last year, I had three winners going into Saturday. I had a couple of chances but then Campanelle goes in, the filly Alpine Star wins and I had Palace Pier. When that won, great, leading rider again. The one that means the most is the first one. Now that I'm 50, I'm looking back to what I was like. It was sheer excitement. It means everything."

Aidan O'Brien's day one representation is not as strong as it can be, with no favourites among the six colts he sends to the fixture he has excelled at since his opening salvo in the 1997 G3 Coventry S. It is in that race, long since upgraded to Group 2 status, that he may have his best chance of an opening day winner in The Acropolis (Ire) by Coolmore's first-season sire Churchill (Ire). A son of the 2012 G2 Queen Mary S. third Hairy Rocket (GB) (Pivotal {GB}), the impressive-looking bay made giant strides from his debut fourth at The Curragh May 22 to his authoritative win at Listowel June 6 and it is noteworthy that he goes it alone from a stable that has done better than normal with its early 2-year-old runners. Drawn alongside the first Wesley Ward runner of the 2021 meeting in Gregory Kaufman's Kaufymaker (Jimmy Creed), he will have to be sharper still to stay within hailing distance of the impressive Apr. 15 Keeneland maiden special weight scorer who has ground to suit.

Kaufymaker and Mike Clark | Emma Berry

Ryan Moore is keen on The Acropolis and said, "He had been going well at home before making his debut at The Curragh last month, but the ground was very bad that day and that was no reflection of his true ability. We got a better look at what a promising horse he was when winning impressively at Listowel last week and this son of Churchill and a Queen Mary third promises to be even better on this quicker ground still. He clearly steps up markedly in grade, but he is a horse we like. He is classy and should go well, albeit this is a big field made up of similarly unexposed juveniles."

Also in the Coventry, Al Shaqab Racing's impressive Listed National S. scorer Ebro River (Ire) bids to give his promising first-season sire Galileo Gold (GB) an early highlight. Also under the care of the Tally Ho Stud's resident's past trainer Hugo Palmer, the chestnut was a commanding presence when scoring by 3 1/4 lengths in that five-furlong Sandown contest May 27 and has a vital experience edge. "He seems to be growing up all the time," Palmer told the Independent. "We're very excited to run him."

In opposition is Michael Kerr-Dineen and Martin Hughes's 'TDN Rising Star' Gisburn (Ire) by another first-season sire in Kildangan Stud's Ribchester (Ire). He impressed by 6 1/2 lengths over this trip at Newbury May 14 and trainer Richard Hannon has his sights on a first win in this prestigious affair his father won on three occasions. "It is a race where you find out exactly where you are. You hope that you have got a good horse, but this will tell us," he said. "I hope we do, he certainly looked like one, but the Coventry will tell us."

In the G1 King's Stand S., Shadwell's Battaash (Ire) (Dark Angel {Ire}) is a welcome sight following his well-documented setback and it remains the case that the only sprinter to have mastered him in three renewals of this five-furlong dash is Blue Point (Ire) (Shamardal). Making it third time lucky 12 months ago in the absence of that Godolphin luminary, the star of Charlie Hills's establishment may only need to repeat that performance to add a fifth top-level contest to his tally. "He came in a couple of weeks later than usual this year, so we were never going to fit in a prep run but I couldn't be happier with him," his trainer commented. Cont. p3

Hills continued, "They found a tiny hairline fracture in a sesamoid when he had his usual MOT at the end of last year, but that was attended to in December. They've done a great job with him at Shadwell over the winter and spring was so awful that coming back later has probably helped him. We've taken our time and he hasn't missed a beat."

While Battaash was vulnerable to the strong closer Blue Point, he has pace pressure this time from a new challenger in King Power Racing's exciting 3-year-old filly Winter Power (Ire) (Bungle Inthejungle {GB}). While her emphatic success in Newmarket's G3 Cornwallis S. in October was a step forward on some largely unconvincing juvenile form, it was the manner of her trail-blazing display on her return in the Listed Westow S. over this trip at York May 13 that suggested this was a realistic target. Trainer Tim Easterby knows what it takes to win one of these major sprints and compared his latest stable star with the likes of Pipalong (Ire) (Pips Pride {GB}) after her three-length defeat of the subsequent Listed Scurry S. winner Atalis Bay (GB) (Cable Bay {Ire}). "She's in good form. She has a good draw and will handle the track, so she should run well," Easterby said.

Battaash | Scoop Dyga

As with most of the major 3-year-old races run so far this term, the G1 St James's Palace S. is wide-open with very little separating the Classic class and the up-and-comers. One who fits into the latter category is Shadwell's Mostahdaf (Ire) (Frankel {GB}), a half-brother to Nazeef (GB) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}) who made such rapid strides last season beginning with a win in the G2 Duke of Cambridge S. at this meeting. If the current Gosden trainee is in the same mould as his year-older sibling, he can be expected to be in the mix given the innate promise of the third of his three straight wins in the Listed Heron S. Cont. p4

Getting three pounds from Godolphin's Apr. 13 Listed Feilden S. winner Highland Avenue (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}) in that mile Sandown contest May 20, he had half a length to spare at the line with Bullace (GB) (Toronado {Ire}) the same margin behind in third.

John Gosden said of Mostahdaf, "Our fellow has come the slow route--it wasn't his fault he couldn't run last year because he had a hiccup. This year he won twice on the all-weather and then the Heron. You could argue, and William Buick felt, that Highland Avenue was on the slower part of the track at Sandown near the rail, while we were more middle to left on the better ground. Having said that, our horse ran a great race and I think the St James's Palace is quite an open affair. I think our fellow will be fine on the ground--he's a lovely horse and we've taken this route before with Without Parole and with King of Comedy who just missed. Palace Pier came from an unobvious direction, too."

Poetic Flare | Scoop Dyga

Charlie Appleby has some talented 3-year-old colts in his stable this year and this has long been the target for Highland Avenue, while he also saddles 'TDN Rising Star' La Barrosa (Ire) (Lope de Vega {Ire}). Sixth on testing ground in the G1 Irish 2000 Guineas at The Curragh May 22, last year's G3 Tattersalls S. winner is back on a similar surface to when 3/4-of-a-length second to Master of the Seas (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}) in the G3 Craven S. at Newmarket Apr. 15. "We have been pleased with Highland Avenue going into this race. The wide draw is a slight disadvantage on the round course at Ascot, but his homework has gone well," their trainer said. "He learned plenty at Sandown and came forward again for that run, while ground conditions will suit him better this time. We are hoping that he can be a big player as he steps up to the big league. La Barrosa travelled well in the Irish 2000 Guineas but couldn't pick up on the ground. Returning to a faster surface is definitely going to suit and, if he can reproduce his second in the Craven S., it will make him a contender."

As usual, the form of the May 1 G1 2000 Guineas is key here, with colts whose fortunes diverged in that Newmarket Classic all coming together again. Zhang Yuesheng's G1 Phoenix S. winner Lucky Vega (Ire) (Lope de Vega {Ire}) was not far off glory when a short head and a neck behind Poetic Flare (Ire) (Dawn Approach {Ire}) and Master of the Seas on that occasion and is another who can be forgiven a subsequent dip when fourth in the Irish Guineas on its vastly contrasting ground. Michael Pescod's Apr. 18 G3 Greenham S. winner Chindit (Ire) (Wootton Bassett {GB}) was fifth at Newmarket with no obvious excuses, while the Ballydoyle duo Wembley (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) and Battleground (War Front) were 11th and 13th respectively with only Joseph O'Brien's G1 Vincent O'Brien National S.-winning 'TDN Rising Star' Thunder Moon (Ire) (Zoffany {Ire}) behind.

Ryan Moore is expecting the Rosegreen duo to bounce back here. "Both of our colts are on recovery missions, but it would be unwise to give up on both, I feel," he commented. "Quite why Battleground didn't run his race at Newmarket we don't know and he was pulled out of the Irish 2000 Guineas due to the worsening ground afterwards, but this is a colt I really rated last season in winning the Chesham at this meeting, the Vintage S. at Goodwood, and then finishing second at the Breeders' Cup."

He added, "The form horses from the Guineas are the ones to beat here, but if my colt returns to his juvenile form then he clearly has a big run in him. Similar comments apply to Wembley, who just didn't handle conditions at the Curragh last time. His Dewhurst second to Sir Mark's Basilica speaks for itself, and hopefully the first-time tongue-ties for them both prove to be a positive. This looks a very deep St James' Palace though, albeit one lacking a clear stand-out, with the form horses from the Guineas closely matched."

Ryan Moore also gets the chance to partner the shock GI Breeders' Cup Mile hero Order of Australia (Ire) (Australia {GB}) for the first time in the Queen Anne and said, "We all know that Palace Pier is the one to beat if he brings his A-game to the table and he will be very difficult to beat at that. Maybe the expected fast ground gives us all a window of hope, though probably not, as he won on it earlier in his career and his third in the QEII here last October proves he can have the odd off-day. Order of Australia caused a shock when beating his stablemates Circus Maximus and Lope Y Fernandez in Keeneland and clearly has a solid place chance on that firm-ground win, which was a significant improvement on his earlier form. His improvement since stepping down from a mile and a half was quite something and he wasn't disgraced when sixth in the Hong Kong Mile afterwards in December, too."

In Wednesday's G1 Prince of Wales's S., Love (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) and Lord North (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}) are set for their clash as the G1 Champion S. hero Addeybb (Ire) (Pivotal {GB}) was withdrawn by William Haggas. He explained to the Racing Post on Monday, "We've minded him so far in his career and are not going to run him on good-to-firm now at his age. It's going to rain at some time and it's just unfortunate. The next logical place is the [July 3 G1] Eclipse."

It was a dual-purpose prospect, the 3-year-old Zinc White (Ire) (Vadamos {Fr}), who brought the top price of £310,000 and he will now be listed as trained by Oliver Greenall for his engagement in Wednesday's G2 Queen's Vase, having been bought by the trainer with Dan Astbury. A son of the G1 Pretty Polly S. winner Chinese White (Ire) (Dalakhani {Ire}), he has made five starts for The Lucra Partnership and Ralph Beckett, with his two victorious outings this year marking him out as a highly progressive individual. Sold as lot 5, Zinc White's most recent win at Sandown on May 20 saw him pass the post 7 1/2 lengths in front of the runner-up, earning him a mark of 87.

The previous lot (4) was the juvenile colt Tipperary Sunset (GB) (Ardad {Ire}), the winner of both his starts for John Quinn who is also declared to run on Wednesday in the Listed Windsor Castle S. The colt is the first foal of the Dark Angel (Ire) mare Cherubic (GB) and was bought by Nicolas de Watrigant of Mandore International Agency on behalf of Alain Jathiere for £200,000. The trainer's son Sean had previously bought him as a yearling for £17,000.

The only other horse to sell was lot 3, the 88-rated Military Mission (Ire) (Mastercraftsman {Ire}). The 3-year-old will eventually leave Hugo Palmer's stable to join his old boss, Gai Waterhouse, in Australia having been bought for £170,000 by Johnny McKeever on behalf of Waterhouse and her co-trainer Adrian Bott.

"He may well run on Thursday, Gai and Adrian will decide tomorrow," said McKeever of the gelding who is entered in both the King George V S. and Saturday's Ascot Golden Gate S. "He will then head down to Australia and be given a chance to settle in and we'll see how he gets on."

Reflecting on the 2021 London Sale, Goffs Group Chief Executive Henry Beeby said, "The London sale has always been a sale like no other and this year circumstances forced us to make it a virtual sale like no other. Like every auction house we have embraced online sales, but we hope that this year's virtual Goffs London Sale which was conducted in the form of a live broadcast from Kildare Paddocks and London broke new ground with its unique approach."

He continued, "We've always said that we judge this sale by different metrics and so whilst selling three of the 11 lots offered would normally be a disappointment, the London Sale offers an opportunity for owners to cash in before Ascot or run at the Royal Meeting and we wish existing and new connections every success over the next five days. That said, we sold horses to Australia, France and Britain to demonstrate the global appeal of our London Sale.

"Of course next year we hope and pray to be back in the beautiful setting of Kensington Palace Gardens sipping Chateau Léoube and rubbing shoulders with the who's who of international thoroughbred racing."

EUROPEAN NEWS

SPECTATOR RESTRICTIONS TO CONTINUE AS UK GOV. HITS PAUSE ON REOPENING

After the UK Government announced that they would be taking a four-week pause on the country's progression out of COVID-19 restrictions on Monday, the UK Racing industry acknowledged the reasons for the delay, but expressed disappointment at the news. The COVID-19 roadmap out of lockdown had been due to switch to Stage 4 on June 21, but instead the current restrictions will continue, affecting major racing events like Coral-Eclipse Day at Sandown Park, and the Moet & Chandon July Festival at Newmarket.

Currently, the industry is working with the Horserace Betting Levy Board (HBLB) to secure a £21-million loan from the UK Government's winter survival fund, however, seeking additional support from the Sport Survival Package will now be considered.

Royal Ascot pre-COVID | Horsephotos

As it stands, most race meetings have a max of 4,000 spectators allowed, with Royal Ascot participating in the Events Research Programme (ERP), which allows 12,000 racegoers for the five-day stand.

Julie Harrington, Chief Executive of the British Horseracing Authority (BHA), said, "While it is disappointing that plans for the relaxation of restrictions and the further return of spectators have been delayed, we of course understand the principle that Government's decisions should be evidence-based and public health must come first.

"Many of our racegoers will be frustrated by this delay, but we are doing all we can to work with national and local authorities to maximise the number of people allowed to attend race-meetings in safety."

10 THINGS TO KNOW ABOUT THE WORLD POOL AT ROYAL ASCOT

Edited Press Release

In advance of the five-day Royal Ascot meeting kicking off on Tuesday, below are 10 things to know about the World Pool, which will be utilised for the third year at the historic event.

- World Pool was created by Hong Kong Jockey Club and brings together racing fans from over 20 nations so everyone is effectively betting into one pool creating huge liquidity. It's like the EuroMillions version of the lottery.
- World Pool in the UK is operated by the Tote. You can bet with the Tote at tote.co.uk, on the Tote App, at a racecourse, or with a bookmaker as most offer Tote bets in shops and online.
- Without bookmakers' commission to pay, the Tote can offer the best value to their direct customers via the Tote website. Here they operate Tote+ (Tote Plus), giving an extra 10% on every winning dividend--that means a £100 win becomes £110 on tote.co.uk. In addition Tote Guarantee ensures the Tote win price will also match or exceed the industry SP, so Tote customers will never feel short-changed on winning bets.
- The pool betting model means the Tote is agnostic about results so welcomes winning customers and will not restrict bet sizes.
- The international nature of World Pool means there is some great value to be found across markets. For example, Hong Kong racing fans will tend to over bet on jockeys they know so shorten their price, meaning other runners are over-priced respective to their chances.
- There are currently five bet types included in World Pool. These are Win, Place, Trifecta (first, second and third in correct order), Quinella (first two in either order) and Swinger (two in the first three).
- This is the third year of World Pool at Royal Ascot with pools growing to £137 million in liquidity last year, compared to £19 million before World Pool.
- The 2021 Derby was a World Pool event for the first time and saw the pool grow from £1.7 million to over £26 million with winners paying more on the Tote. For example, Adayar paid £20.24 on the Tote compared to 16-1 with bookmakers.

10 Things to Know About the World Pool Cont.

- After Royal Ascot there are another 10 more World Pool days on British racing in 2021, including Coral-Eclipse Day, QIPCO King George Diamond Day, first three days of the Qatar Goodwood Festival, Shergar Cup Day, the first three days of the Welcome to Yorkshire Ebor Festival and QIPCO Champions Day.
- World Pool means bigger financial returns to British racing through increased media rights payments to racecourses and more revenue generated via pool betting.

IHRB ISSUES STRONG ANTI-DOPING STATEMENT

Following Irish trainer Jim Bolger voicing his concerns on doping in Irish racing this past weekend, a strong statement against doping was issued by the Irish Horseracing Regulatory Board on Monday evening.

The statement read: "Following comments made recently, the IHRB can once again stress there is a zero-tolerance approach to doping in Irish racing and we operate to the highest level using LGC Laboratories in Newmarket, who are one of five International Federation Horseracing Authorities certified laboratories in the world, and the same laboratory used by the British Horseracing Authority.

"The IHRB will continue our extensive testing programme with 5,000 samples in 2021, once again including every race winner, additional raceday samples, out of competition samples and now also at unlicensed premises following on from the receipt of authorised officer status for 12 employees of the IHRB last month, which allows us to access and sample any thoroughbred at any time in Ireland.

"Each and every one of the samples taken are sent to LGC for analysis and any sample that returns an adverse analytical finding is acted upon, and details published, following our disciplinary process. LGC have been world leaders in anabolic steroid detection for over 60 years and most recently have led detection of these drugs in hair."

Since May, the IHRB authorised officers have visited studs, consignors and pre-training yards besides licenced trainers, with about a quarter of the samples collected being out-of-competition tests.

Denis Egan, CEO of the IHRB said, "There is no room for complacency when it comes to equine anti-doping. The IHRB have shown that by significant increases in testing over the last number of years, and through collaboration with LGC, we have been able to take advantage of the science available.

"Our focus is on risk-based and intelligence led strategy which directs us to get the right sample from the right horse at the right time. The appointment of IHRB officials as authorised officers further strengthens that."

Brian Kavanagh, CEO of Horse Racing Ireland, added, "Ireland is a global leader in racing and breeding, and that position brings with it a responsibility to always be vigilant when it comes to anti-doping.

"HRI considers it crucial that continuous investment is made in ensuring that testing is constantly increasing in both numbers and agility, utilising the most modern techniques, and is of an internationally accredited standard.

"HRI has consistently increased its investment in anti-doping through the IHRB in recent years, and that will continue to be the case. This is not a closed industry so I would encourage anybody who believes that there are people operating outside of the rules, to contact the IHRB and make their concerns known."

GERMAN DERBY HERO WINDSTOSS WILL STAND AT GESTUT ROTTGEN

Two-time Group 1 winner Windstoss (Ger) (Shirocco {Ger}--Wellenspiel {Ger}, by Sternkoenig {Ire}) has been retired and will stand at stud in 2022 at Gestut Rottgen, who bred and raced the 7-year-old, Galopponline.de reported on Monday. A fee will be announced later.

The Markus Klug trainee's biggest victory was in the 2017 G1 Deutsches Derby, and he also won the G1 Preis von Europe later that year. Cont. p9

Highweighted as a 3-year-old from 11-14 furlongs in Germany, the bay also placed in additional nine group races in the UK, France and his native land, including thirds in the G1 Coronation Cup at Epsom in 2018 and in the 2018 Preis von Europa. The entire carries a mark of 29-4-4-7 and earnings of $818,287, while racing from two to seven.

"We are pleased to announce that the Derby winner and champion 3-year-old of the year 2017, Windstoss, has left the racing team alive and well to move into his stallion box at Gestut Rottgen," said Gestut Rottgen Stud Manager Frank Dorff to Galopponline.de. "We are pleased to be able to present Windstoss soon to all interested breeders."

A half-brother to fellow German Derby hero and German champion 3-year-old Weltstar (Ger) (Soldier Hollow {GB}), Windstoss is out of the winning Broodmare of the Year Wellenspiel. She in turn is a daughter of two-time German black-type winner and dual group-placed Well Known (Ger) (Konigsstuhl {Ger}), who also threw G1 Preis von Europa winner Well Made (Ger) (Mondrian {Ger}), stakes winner Weichsel (Ger) (Soldier Hollow {GB}), the MGSP Whisperer (Ger) (Spectrum {Ire}), the GSP Wellola (Ire) (Lomitas {GB}) and the SP Wellanca (Ger) (Acatenango {Ger}).

CHARLIE HILLS NAMED WILLIAM HILL FLAT RACING AMBASSADOR

Trainer Charlie Hills has been named the Flat Racing Ambassador for William Hill. Hills, who is the trainer of MG1SW sprinter Battaash (Ire) (Dark Angel {Ire}), will provide regular blogs on his runners, views, and opinions, kicking off with an exclusive update on Battaash ahead of his seasonal bow in the G1 King's Stand S. at Royal Ascot on Tuesday. Hills's appointment will last through 2022.

"William Hill Racing Ambassador, Charlie Hills, said, "The Flat season is really hotting up with the start of Royal Ascot and I'm looking forward to sharing my views on it all with William Hill and their clients.

"As for Battaash, I've been really pleased with him. He came in a few weeks later than he has done in the past, but he hasn't missed a beat since and has been thriving at home for the last month or so.

"He's always been a horse that's very good first time out, in fact he's unbeaten first time out, and he's a horse that's fairly easy to get fit. I think the slightly longer break this year has helped him, he came back from Shadwell in really good condition, and everything seems in order.

"He's become a lot more sensible and settled in his routine work as a 7-year-old but there are absolutely no signs that he's lost any of his ability."

Liam Mckee, Head of Planning, Media, Sponsorship & PR at William Hill, said, "We're delighted to have Charlie on board, particularly ahead of Battaash's eagerly anticipated return. The yard has had a very bright start to the season and we're looking forward to working with Charlie to provide our customers with exclusive content and insights."

CANONIZED (GB) (f, 2, Acclamation {GB}--Sainted {GB}, by Dutch Art {GB}), who followed up an Apr. 30 graduation going five furlongs at Goodwood with a second over the same trip in York's May 14 Listed Marygate Fillies' S. last time, missed a beat at the kick and chased the pace in second through the initial fractions here. Angled into the clear soon after passing halfway, the 1-4 lock cruised to the front inside the two pole and was ridden out in the closing stages to hold the late bid of Dark Tulip (GB) (Dark Angel {Ire}) by 1 1/2 lengths. She is the first of two foals for four-time winner Sainted (GB) (Dutch Art {GB}) and hails from a family featuring GSW sire Supplicant (GB) (Kyllachy {GB}) and MGSW G1 Prix de la Foret runner-up Penitent (GB) (Kyllachy {GB}). The homebred bay is half to a yearling filly by Unfortunately (Ire). Lifetime Record: 4-2-1-0, $21,013. Video, sponsored by TVG.

MELODRAMATICA (GB) (f, 2, Bobby's Kitten--Memory Lane {GB}, by With Approval) recovered from an early bump to track the leaders in fourth. Bustled along to go third on the home turn, the 16-1 outsider came under whipless pressure in the straight and swooped late to edge Silver Kitten (GB) (Bobby's Kitten) by 3/4-of-a-length. The homebred bay is the fifth of six foals and becomes the third scorer for her dual-winning dam. She is a half-sister to Listed Rochestown S. runner-up Verhoyen (GB) (Piccolo {GB}) and a yearling colt by Cityscape (GB). Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $4,418. Video, sponsored by TVG.

Nudged along with three furlongs remaining, the 11-1 chance was ridden to go third approaching the eighth pole and kept on well under a late drive to assert by 1 1/2 lengths from Eternal Glory (Ire) (Cotai Glory {GB}). She is the lone foal produced by a daughter of G2 Blandford S. victrix and G1 Yorkshire Oaks third Eleanora Duse (Ire) (Azamour {Ire}), herself a half-sister to stakes-winning G1 Irish Oaks runner-up Scottish Stage (Ire) (Selkirk). SEISAI (IRE) (f, 2, Gleneagles {Ire}--Lillebonne {Fr}, by Danehill Dancer {Ire}), who posted a June 3 debut third over this trip at Leopardstown, broke well and stalked the tempo in second for the most part here. Looming large off the home turn, the 4-6 pick tanked to the front passing the quarter-mile marker and was ridden out late to comfortably outpoint Nectaris (GB) (Sea The Moon {Ger}) by 1 1/4 lengths. Concert Hall (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}), the fourth foal out of G1 Epsom Oaks heroine Was (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), was off her feed and scratched. "She had a lovely run in Leopardstown and, coming here today, we just had to keep it simple," commented Shane Crosse. Cont. p12
