

WITH STRENGTH IN NUMBERS, REPOLE AND VIOLA HOPE TO HIT IT OUT OF THE PARK

by Bill Finley

Passionate about the sport and determined to win at the highest level, partners Vinnie Viola and Mike Repole have come up with a formula they hope will mean lasting success. It's not just about quality, but quantity. Attack the game with an army of well-bred horses, most of them colts, send them to Hall of Fame trainer Todd Pletcher and sit back and wait for good things to happen.

In what amounts to a historic buying spree, Repole and Viola's St. Elias Stable bought 43 yearlings at Keeneland September, paying a combined $16.045 million. That's after they spent $1.375 million on two yearlings at Fasig-Tipton October and one at Fasig-Tipton Saratoga for $350,000.

Represented by bloodstock agent Jacob West, the Repole-Viola partnership bought 40 colts at Keeneland and three fillies, paying anywhere from $40,000 for a colt by Always Dreaming to $1.05 million for a City of Light colt. They went after a number of sires, including four by Curlyin and three by City of Light. The average price they paid was $373,000.

NEW SOCIAL MRI STUDY AIMS TO BRING CLARITY TO ITS DIAGNOSTIC ROLE

by Dan Ross

Seeking a full stop to the spate of high-profile fatalities in the race that stops Australia, Racing Victoria this year tightened the veterinary screws. The practical rollout of these efforts can hardly be described as an unadulterated success, however.

One of these new measures was a precautionary CT scan of all runners in the days leading up to the G1 Melbourne Cup—a target that hit the skids when Racing Victoria's new $1.27-million CT unit suffered a malfunction with the Cup field only half scanned, leaving the rest to be X-rayed (with a machine that was also temporarily incapacitated).

But other, less-mechanical incidents highlight some of the more nuanced problems that come with using sophisticated—and still yet relatively new—imaging technologies to diagnose lameness in equine athletes. Cont. p6

"There really is a good formula," Repole said. "We know what we are doing. We have incredible lists. We have incredible advisors, an incredible team. We expect to do the same next year, the year after. We do it because we really enjoy this game."

It's all about putting yourself in a position to win at the highest levels of the sport, something both have achieved. They teamed up to win the 2019 GI Breeders' Cup Classic with Vino Rosso (Curlin), a horse they bought at the 2016 Keeneland September sale for $410,000. Viola owned 2021 GI Florida Derby winner Known Agenda (Curlin) and was a co-owner of 2017 GI Kentucky Derby winner Always Dreaming (Bodemeister), while Repole campaigned, among others, GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile winner Uncle Mo (Indian Charlie) and

Vino Rosso winning the BC Classic | Breeders' Cup/Eclipse Sportswire

GI Travers S. winner Stay Thirsty (Bernardini).

At the end of the day, it's not necessarily about the bottom line, but a thirst to win in a sport neither can get out of their systems.

"We've developed a passion," said Viola, who owns the NHL's Florida Panthers. "It's less market driven. It makes sense on a sportsman's level. Every sports person wants to compete at the highest level at whatever activity or sport they participate in."

Viola is from Brooklyn and Repole is from Queens. Both used Pletcher as their primary trainer and have similar goals and philosophies when it comes to the sport. It made their teaming up natural. As a partnership, their first big splash at the sales came at the 2020 Keeneland September Sale, where they bought 23 horses for a total of $9.295 million. Cont. p4

Vinnie Viola & Mike Repole | Sarah Andrew

They are not just spending a lot of money, they are trying to spend a lot of money wisely. It starts with a team of advisors that includes West, Pletcher, Ed Rosen, Jim Martin, Rory Babich and Monique Delk. Each one has their strengths. Their information is passed on to Viola and Repole, who continue the hunt to find the next Vino Rosso.

"This is not an easy task" Viola said. "This is part art, part science, part team discipline. Mike and I are constantly communicating about those three challenges. It is very, very easy when you have a partner like Mike. He is an ultra-talented individual. We work really well together."

"In business, it's 80% plan and 20% luck" Repole said. "In horse racing, it's 20% plan and 80% luck. Not too many people have that 20% plan. They are all over the place. Vinnie and I are hyper focused right now."

Buying mainly colts is part of that plan. For Viola, it comes down to trying to win another Kentucky Derby.

"We are primarily buyers of colts," Viola said. "The sole purpose is to win what we think is the Super Bowl of horse racing, the Kentucky Derby. You will see us buying 90% plus colts."

Repole wants to win his first Derby, but he also wants to develop stallions, another reason why the two buy very few fillies.

"It's driven by having colts and driven by having stallions," he said. "The one thing that Vinnie and I figured out pretty quickly is that the ability to make money in this game is with stallions. I still own a big percentage of Uncle Mo. His stud fee is $175,000 and he's bred every year to 200 mares. Anyone can do the math."

Repole said he's reluctant to go over $1 million for any horse and prefers to stay in the range of $300,000 to $600,000. Cnt.p5

Repole & Viola's top KEESEP purchase of 2021, a $1.05-million City of Light colt out of Ghostslayer | Keeneland

"It's a numbers game" he said. "What Vinnie and I are trying to get is quality and quantity. That's what we are looking for. If somebody wants to go up to $2.7 million, God bless and good luck. Vinnie and I will never buy the sales topper because there's always going to be one horse that goes for $4 million and everyone says, 'Wow, look at that horse.' A couple of years later tell me what that horse did."

The relationship has grown over the years. In 2016, the year they bought Vino Rosso at Keeneland, Repole and Viola went in on only two horses together. Repole said the success they had with Vino Rosso cemented the partnership, which has come to be more than just a business relationship. It has become a close friendship.

"Vinnie and I have gone from partners to great friends to family over the last 12 years," Repole said. "There's no doubt I'd rather own 50% of a great horses with Vinnie than own 100% of as great horse by myself. It feels more special that way."

Buying yearlings is never easy and there are no guarantees, but there is something to be said about having such a deep group of horses. So they hope to make some memories in the years ahead, starting next year when the 2021 yearling class hits the track and continuing in the 2023 Kentucky Derby. From the 2021 yearling buys, they'll have 46 chances to find a star. The odds are in their favor.

Despite the results of a mandatory CT scan that gave French import Gold Trip (Fr) (Outstrip {GB}) the all-clear to train up toward the G1 Cox Plate, Racing Victoria's veterinary team scratched him on the eve of the race--a diagnosis that jarred with the horse's connections, who declared him sound.

In a further twist, Gold Trip was given the all-clear to run in Sydney in the Rosehill Gold Cup just a week later--only to be scratched once more due to the prevailing firm going.

In short, as more and more regulatory veterinarians turn to imaging modalities like MRI, PET, and CT to help diagnose lameness, they're left to wrestle with slippery conundrums.

What clear connection exists between the image before them and an increased chance of injury in the horse, for example? And without an extensive historic medical record at their fingertips, how can they be sure that any possible abnormality that appears on the image is significant?

A new standing MRI-focused study set to launch in Southern California seeks to provide some much-needed answers.

"Lameness is a precursor to fetlock failure, and maybe we find bone changes that help us identify lameness. But we should never get to the point where the fetlock fails--we want to do better than that. And that's the goal of the study," said Florida-based John Peloso, the lead researcher on the study.

"We need to figure out when they're helping us," Peloso added, of imaging modalities like the standing MRI. "We need to learn more."

Participants in the study--funded by the Oak Tree Charitable Foundation--will be split into two.

There will be 23 case horses whose lameness has been narrowed to the fetlock region, and 23 control horses who exhibit no visible sign of lameness.

The 23 case horses will be selected by Dr. Tim Grande, the California Horse Racing Board (CHRB)'s chief official veterinarian, from a variety of scenarios where regulatory veterinarians commonly have to intercede in a horse's training or racing program.

These include a morning or race-day scratch, a voided claim, and lameness in the test barn or following a scheduled work or race.

The control horses--those with no visible lameness--will be selected as a comparative match in terms of things like sex, age, and class.

If a case horse is picked from a race, then the winner--if sound--will make an obvious control match. If a case horse is selected after a workout, then a suitable match will be selected using PPs.

And what exactly will the researchers be looking for? The answer encompasses four specific areas of concern within the fetlock joint, the primary site of musculoskeletal injury in racehorses.

Researchers will be looking for density within the proximal sesamoid bones and distal cannon bone, bone marrow edema--or swelling--in the cannon bone, and palmer osteochondral disease, a type of bone bruising commonly referred to as just "POD."

To elaborate on these points, Peloso pointed to a couple of relatively recent papers he had co-authored connecting important diagnostic dots.

Two issues associated with fetlock failure are high density--noticeable bone development that predisposes a horse to a greater risk of fracture--in the sesamoid bone and palmer osteochondral disease, while condylar fractures are linked to bone marrow edema and high density in the distal cannon bone.

"It's because of those two papers that we've dialed in on those bone changes," said Peloso. "Maybe the study will teach us something new, and so, there'll be something that gets added to it."

The standing MRI unit has been part of the Southern California backstretch furniture since the start of last year. Since then, the unit has been used to scan hundreds of fetlocks.

Nevertheless, as a relatively newfangled diagnostic tool, the MRI is still looked upon with a touch of skepticism by some corners of the backstretch community, including attending veterinarians, admitted Peloso.

As such, this study is seen as an opportunity to increase the volume of MRI equine traffic. "It needs to be a real relationship so we can do best by the horse and best by the owner," Peloso explained, before looking at the broader implications from this and other such studies.

"It'll be interesting to see to what degree some of these imaging modalities--PET, CT if it makes it, MRI--what role they play to help the regulatory veterinarian identify who's safe and who's not safe."

YOUTH MOVEMENT: BARKLEY, CASSE, COMBS JOIN KENTUCKY HBPA BOARD

Jason Barkley | Coady

A trio of thirty-something trainers has been elected as newcomers to the Kentucky HBPA board with the addition of Jason Barkley, Norm Casse and Bentley Combs.

Rick Hiles was re-elected as Kentucky HBPA president, with Frank Jones re-elected as the owner vice president and Dale Romans as the trainer vice president. Cont. p8

Also re-elected to the board were owners Mark Bacon, Buff Bradley (who switches over from the trainer side), Mike Bruder and Travis Foley and trainer John Hancock. Trainer R.C. Sturgeon and owner James Williams will serve as alternates.

Hiles, who has been president for 21 years with another 16 spent serving on the board, said he welcomes getting the millennials involved. Barkley (32), Casse (37) and Combs (33) join 37-year-old Foley, who was elected to a third term.

“Everything we’ve got we fought for,” Hiles said. “Every purse, every benefit, every program back here, the HBPA has fought for. I’m glad to see some young guys getting involved. I’m getting old, and so is [executive director] Marty [Maline]. They need to learn, because they’re going to have to take this over. It’s good to see some new young people coming to get involved. I’m tickled. It will be good for the organization.”

Barkley and Combs are graduates of the University of Louisville’s Equine Industry Program in the College of Business. Casse is a graduate of Bellarmine University in Louisville. Barkley and Combs participated in their first meeting when the board was seated and officers elected Nov. 23.

“I was just trying to get my bearings, see how everybody goes about their business,” said Barkley, a fourth-generation horseman from the Evansville-Henderson area who began training full-time in 2017. “A lot of those guys have been there for a while. You try to take your cues from them. I want to be an advocate for the horsemen. Sometimes I feel like the big things get handled and maybe the smaller things can fall through the cracks--things we talk about on the rail, [I can] take those to the meetings.”

“I learned a ton of stuff I didn’t even know existed, frankly,” said Combs, who grew up in Lexington and also has an MBA from Ole Miss. “Being on the HBPA board, you get to see the overall business side of it, as far as the money taken in, where it’s going, the good causes. The health and welfare stuff they were talking about, I had no idea.”

Casse is a third-generation horseman from Louisville who began training in 2018 after 12 years as an assistant trainer for his father, Mark.

“I feel like I’ve got a finger on the pulse, so to speak, of what we need,” he said. “I owe horse racing everything. It’s the right thing for me to do, to start giving my time and helping other people as well. It’s not like I have any preconceived notions. I’m very green when it comes to this type of the thing. But I want to look out for the horsemen and the best interest of the trainer. I feel it’s part of my obligation to give the time to do that.”

WERTHEIMER'S GALAWI TO STAND AT NORTHVIEW

Galawi | Coglianesse

Wertheimer and Frere's Galawi (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}--Galikova {Fr}, by Galileo {Ire}), a maiden winner in his only U.S. start who hails from the immediate family of champion Goldikova (Ire) (Anabaa), has been injured and retired to Northview Stallion Station near Chesapeake City, Md. He will stand in 2022 for $2,000, stands and nurses.

Galawi is out of G1 Qatar Prix Vermeille winner Galikova, the younger half-sister of multiple French, English, and U.S. champion Goldikova. In addition to her 11 Group 1 scores in France and England, Goldikova captured three consecutive editions of the GI Breeders' Cup Mile. A number of other members of the deep family are Group winners as well.

Like the majority of the family, Galawi was campaigned as a homebred for Wertheimer and Frere. He began his career in 2020 in France for the Carlos Laffon-Parias stable and notched two placings before shipping stateside to Graham Motion's barn. The 4-year-old debuted in the U.S. June 27 of this year with a 10-furlong, 1 1/2-length, last-to-first score on the Belmont turf.

"He was extremely impressive in the morning and had a real presence about him," said Motion. "No doubt in my mind he was stakes caliber. He's just a very classy horse."

Continued Motion, "He's stunning looking and has a phenomenal pedigree. I feel he has a stallion's pedigree. I just didn't anticipate him having to be a stallion so soon."

EMERALD DOWNS ANNOUNCE CLAIMING BONUSES

Beginning with opening day May 15, 2022, all 3-year-olds and older that ran in any claiming race at least once at any track since Jan. 1, 2021, receive a $1,000 bonus ($750 to the horse owner, $250 to the trainer) in the horse's first start in any claiming race at Emerald Downs which must occur before July 1, 2022.

"It's important to extend bonuses to all horses," track president Phil Ziegler said. "We appreciate shippers, of course, but we also recognize that some of our owners and trainers race exclusively at Emerald Downs. This bonus money helps offset their off-season expenses. For the horses that go out of state in the off season, this helps with the expense of bringing them back to Emerald Downs."

Emerald Downs also announced other incentives for 2022:

- Initial stall bedding will be provided for all horses arriving prior to starting day.
- All hot walkers will be free throughout the season.
- Participation money on any race that has eight or more starters increased to $300 (horses finishing sixth through last).

WIN-WIN FOR NEWSSELLS AS WALDLIED RETURNS AT 2.2 MILLION

Graham Smith-Bernal dissolved a partnership and then formed a new one with the purchase of the session topper Waldlied | Tattersalls

By Emma Berry and Chris McGrath

NEWMARKET, UK—The dissolution of a successful partnership and formation of a new powerful allegiance by Graham Smith-Bernal led to Waldlied (GB) (New Approach {Ire}), the Group 2-winning sibling to Arc winner Waldgeist (GB) (Galileo {Ire}), heading a stellar list at the Tattersalls December Mares' Sale at 2,200,000gns.

A solidly stacked session, which included Juddmonte fillies for the first time on the Tuesday of the sale, soared way above last year's returns. With 115 six-figure transactions throughout the day, turnover climbed 68% to 41,912,000gns, while the median was up 75% at 105,000gns and the average by 39% to 187,107gns. An extra 38 lots were sold compared to the same day last year, with the clearance rate jumping to 85%.

The 6-year-old Waldlied (lot 1839), sold in foal to Kingman (GB), will return to Newsells Park Stud, where she was born and raised when in the ownership of the Jacobs family, who sold the farm and all stock to Smith-Bernal in June. The mare's co-owner/breeder Dietrich von Boetticher of Gestut Ammerland was underbidder via his representative Crispin de Moubray.

GRIMTHORPE NAMED NATIONAL STUD CHAIRMAN

Teddy Grimthorpe, who for 22 years served as racing manager to the late Prince Khalid Abdullah, has been named chairman of The National Stud. Grimthorpe succeeds Nicholas Wrigley, who has filled the role since the death of the Duke of Roxburghe in August of 2019. Grimthorpe, who has been a member of the Jockey Club since 2007 and joined its board of directors this year, will serve a three-year term.

"I was a student on the National Stud course in 1976 so we have a long history, as they say," Grimthorpe said. "My three most recent predecessors have all made a huge impact on the stud: Ben Sangster, Guy Roxburghe and Nicholas Wrigley, who kindly stepped in as interim chairman after Guy passed away in August 2019." TAKEAWAYS

Tattersalls December Mare Sale Day 2

- Coolmore purchased Cayenne Pepper for 2 million and Sunday Times for 1.8 million, both to visit Wootton Bassett next year.
- Tuesday's top 10 mares were purchased by breeders from the UK, Ireland, Japan, the U.S.
- Top billing for Nick Bradley, who presided over a giddy transformation in the value of Dandalla (Ire), bought by Kelly Burke at Fairyhouse for €22,000, to 750,000gns; Fev Rover (Ire), a £20,000 Doncaster yearling bought with Howson and Houldsworth, to 695,000gn; and 22,000gns Craven breezer Mystery Angel (Ire) to 500,000gns.
- Ivan Furtado's breakthrough horse, G3 Sceptre S. winner Just Beautiful, proved one of the pinhooks of the day: the 8,000gns yearling was bought by BBA Ireland for 625,000gns.
- Tuesday's gross of 41,912,000gns was 68% higher than the equivalent day in 2020, while the average was up by 39% and the median rose 75%.

"She's coming home, back where she belongs," said Smith-Bernal after his agent Jill Lamb prevailed in the battle between the two partners to buy out the other following early interest from American bidders Greg Goodman and Barry Weisbord.

Together, Newsells Park Stud and Gestut Ammerland have successfully raced not just the Group 2 winner Waldlied but more notably her Arc-winning three-parts-brother Waldgeist (GB) (Galileo {Ire}), who now stands at Ballylinch Stud, as well as another half-brother, the Group 3 winner Waldkonig (GB) (Kingman {GB}).

He continued, "She's a beautiful mare in terms of her demeanour and attitude; she's just a very special horse from a very special family. That was breaking one partnership and forming a new partnership."

Declining to name his new partner, Smith-Bernal added, "We now own 100% of [dam] Waldlerche (GB) as well as her number one daughter so far. [Waldlied] was a great racehorse but unfortunately she damaged a tendon after just four races and winning a Group 2 by two lengths without coming off the bridle. I think she was rated as high as Waldgiest by Andre Fabre. She was a very special racehorse and we are delighted to have her back with us." Cont. p3

The 2.2-million gns mare Waldlied | Tattersalls

Along with Waldlied, Lamb has signed for another four mares in the last two days on behalf of Newsells Park to the tune of 3,695,000gns. But the stud has also had a successful couple of days as vendor, and it consigned the second-top lot of the day, the late Jon Kelly's G2 Blandford S. winner Cayenne Pepper (Ire) (Australia {GB}), who will now join the Coolmore broodmare band having been bought for 2,000,000gns.

Tom Magnier, a welcome visitor to Park Paddocks from Australia, signed the docket on behalf of the partners and confirmed that the 4-year-old will visit Wootton Bassett (GB) next year.

"She's a lovely mare," he said. "We knew what she could do on the racetrack and Jessie Harrington obviously held her in high regard. Jon Kelly was a close friend of our family so it is nice to get some Jon Kelly blood: we've had some in Australia and now it's nice to have some here."

The highest rated of Australia's daughters, Cayenne Pepper (lot 1840) can boast Allegretta on both sides of her pedigree, with the influential broodmare featuring as her third dam, making Cayenne Pepper's granddam Saleela (Nureyev) a half-sister to Urban Sea (Miswaki).

Magnier added, "All the top people have been talking about her all week so we're very fortunate to have her and to have some great partners. Hopefully we'll have a bit of luck with her."

Times To Remember

Eleven years after being led out of the same ring as a yearling, unsold at 10,000gns, Sunday Times (GB) found herself a headline act on her return—bringing 1,800,000gns as lot 1810 from MV Magnier, and then being followed through the ring shortly afterwards by her daughter Daily Times (GB) (Gleneagles {Ire}), who made 800,000gns from Erdenheim Farm (lot 1829).

Since her first visit here, of course, Sunday Times had not only run second in the G1 Cheveley Park S. for Peter Chapple-Hyam, as well as winning a Group 3, but achieved still greater distinction as a broodmare. And with a sibling to Breeders' Cup winner Newspaperofrecord (Ire) (Lope De Vega {Ire}) in utero, she generated fierce competition in the ring—initially from Greg Goodman of Mt. Brilliant Farm, and ultimately from David Redvers seated alongside David Howden—but every bid was answered from outside, where Magnier was bidding out of his rivals' view.

Sunday Times will therefore be joining her illustrious daughter, who was sold privately last year at the end of her career with Chad Brown, in the Coolmore broodmare band. Magnier indicated that Sunday Times is likely to be paired with Wootton Bassett (GB).

Rising 13, she has already had half a dozen foals, and had a bit of bad luck in 2018 (barren) and 2019 (slipped). But the spectacular success of Newspaperofrecord in the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies' Turf at Churchill Downs in 2018 rendered her pregnancy by Lope De Vega critical here.

"Hopefully she's carrying a sister," Magnier said. "It's a lot of money, let's hope she's worth it. She's an absolute cracker, and obviously she's bred a champion before. It was incredible what Newspaperofrecord did at the Breeders' Cup that day. And there's plenty going on all the way down the page."

Magnier noted that her first foal, Classical Times (GB) (Lawman {Fr}), was also a stakes winner. And indeed, the Coolmore team had already shown their regard for the family when acquiring Pink Dogwood (Ire) (Camelot {GB}), a daughter of a stakes-placed Shamardal half-sister to Sunday Times, as an Orby yearling in 2017 for €380,000. The following year her full brother Latrobe (Ire) won the Irish Derby, while Pink Dogwood herself went on to finish second in the Oaks at Epsom.

All this of course reflects huge credit on owner/breeder Allan Belshaw and the counsel he receives from Richard Aston of Goldford Stud. Cashing in the matriarch, along with one of her daughters, was obviously bittersweet but Belshaw reasoned that it was time to open a fresh cycle.

"I'm satisfied, I'm happy," he acknowledged after the sale of Sunday Times. "Slightly disappointed, too, as I've had her since a baby. But there comes a time when she had to move on: I've plenty of babies from the family, so it's like starting again. She has helped the cause for the young family.

And now we can play up there now, with stallion fees, instead of looking at the basement!"

Yet how different everything could have been.

"I brought her here as a yearling, to Book 2," he recalled. "Holy Roman Emperor was just starting his career. I don't know if there was even a bid. I was hoping to get 30,000gns for her! But she turned into a good racehorse, and an even better broodmare." Cont. p5

He added, "The big moment, of course, was with her daughter in the Breeders' Cup. Someone bid me for Sunday Times when I was in Kentucky, and I thought I couldn't sell her then. But since then we've had two fillies: another by Lope De Vega, who's with Roger Varian; and a Kingman filly this year. We also have half a dozen half-sisters, so we're in a good place."

Nonetheless the element of reluctance can be measured from the fact that Daily Times had been retained at this sale last year for 600,000gns. James Wigan of London Thoroughbred Services had been the underbidder on that occasion, but patience was rewarded this time round as he secured the 4-year-old, a sprint maiden winner for John Gosden, for his clients in Pennsylvania. In the meantime she, too, is in foal to Lope De Vega.

"The vendors stuck to their guns!" the agent said. "I've had to wait a year, and pay more! Yes, we have more time [relative to the more expensive mother]. But she has done it, we haven't.

Hopefully we will. She'll stay here for the time being. She will foal here and probably then go to Kingman, before travelling to the U.S."

Belshaw was indebted for the presentation of mother and daughter alike to the Goldford team. "Allan is such an enthusiast," Aston said. "He gets all the books out, all around him on the floor. We decided on Lope De Vega because Shamardal had already done well with the family, and we loved the toughness he showed in winning the Poule d'Essai des Poulains and Prix du Jockey-Club in such quick succession."

First Lady To A Million

With a name like Flotus (Ire) she really should have been the first lady, and the daughter of Starspangledbanner (Aus) was indeed the first to make it to the seven-figure mark when selling for 1,000,000gns to Northern Farm.

Sold by Simon and Ed Crisford's Gainsborough Thoroughbreds as lot 1798 for her syndicate of owners, Flotus is now under the new ownership of Katsumi Yoshida's Northern Farm, which has made its presence felt at the sale so far with five horses bought for 2,870,000gns.

Just last year in the same ring, she was bought by Arthur Hoyeau for 125,000gns at Book 1. Since then, Flotus has raced six times, winning on debut and following up in the Listed Champion Two Yrs Old Trophy before running second to Tenebrism (Caravaggio) in the G1 Cheveley Park S.

An understandably wistful Simon Crisford congratulated Northern Farm's buyer Shingo Hashimoto before saying, "She is a beautiful filly, top class, and we wish her new connections the best of luck for the future. We are very sorry to see her go, but she has done a fantastic job for us."

He added, "I am sure she will have a fantastic career not only on the racetrack but also as a broodmare. She has not stopped growing all year, and I am sure she will have a very successful 3-year-old career."

Whether or not Flotus will indeed race on is still unclear, with Hashimoto noting that no firm plans have been made for her future.

"We have not decided yet whether she will race on, I need to talk to the boss. If she stays in training, she will stay in Britain. She was brilliant at Newmarket, it was an outstanding performance and we are very excited to have her."

Blue For Peter

Sottsass (Fr) gave his owner Peter Brant of White Birch Farm both a Classic and an Arc victory and since the son of Siyouni's retirement to Coolmore, the owner/breeder has been intent on supporting his young stallion. Cont. p6

Michel Zerolo | Tattersalls

The latest addition to Brant's team of mares to be visiting Sottsass in 2022 is the speedy listed winner Shades Of Blue (Ire) (Kodiac {GB}) (lot 1765), who was also twice a runner-up at Group 3 level and third in the G2 Queen Mary S. With the extra enticement that the 5-year-old is in foal for the first time to Frankel (GB), she eventually sold for 850,000gns to Brant's advisor Michel Zerolo.

"The plan is simple, she will be sent to be bred Sottsass," he said. "She was a good 2-year-old and she is good-looking mare. She is by a stallion you can cross with Sottsass. The whole package is there—the physical, the race record, the stallion she is in foal to, she is a young mare, she is what we are looking for for Sottsass."

Shades Of Blue made her last of 13 starts for Clive Cox in August 2020 and was sold for 320,000gns at last year's December Sale. She was one of three purchases on Tuesday by Zerolo on Brant's behalf for a total outlay of 1,640,000gns.

The Bradley Touch

How do you take three relatively inexpensive purchases and turn them into six-figure breeding prospects? The simple answer would appear to be to race them under the Nick Bradley Racing banner, for that is the glue that binds together Dandalla (Ire) (Dandy Man {Ire}), Mystery Angel (Ire) (Kodi Bear {Ire}), and Fev Rover (Ire) (Gutaifan {Ire}). Each member of that trio has earned black type within the last two seasons having been bought respectively for €22,000, 22,000gns and £20,000.

As lot 1735, Dandalla, winner of the G2 Duchess of Cambridge S. and G3 Albany S. last season, brought the hammer down at 750,000gns in favour of Shingo Hashimoto, who was representing Katsumi Yoshida. Originally sold for €15,500 as a foal, she had been unearthed as a yearling for not much more by her trainer Karl Burke's daughter Kelly at the Tattersalls

Ireland September Sale.

Burke said, "She's been a fantastic filly. Kelly spotted her at Tatts. She was over at the sales a few days before I went over there and she said she'd found a lovely Dandy Man filly, and it went from there. I was hoping she would reach the million but she probably didn't have a good enough season to do that."

He continued, "To be honest I cocked the season up as I was convinced she'd stay seven [furlongs] starting the year and hopefully turn into a Guineas filly and we went that route. At home she was nice and relaxed but every time she went to the track she just got quicker and stronger, so we dropped her back to the five and we missed a few nice races there."

Dandalla eventually raced in the partnership name of Nick Bradley Racing 28 and Elaine Burke, the trainer's wife, but Kelly Burke explained that she was the last yearling left on the shelf at the family's Spigot Lodge Stables.

"I didn't sell a share in her until February, no one was really interested, and she was our last filly to sell. I pretty much had to beg Nick to take a share," she said.

"But from an early stage she bounded up the gallop. My sister Lucy rode her and she also used to ride Laurens (Fr), and before Dandalla ran, she said, 'I hate comparing anything to a superstar like Laurens, but this filly is the only one I have ridden who takes me up the gallop like Laurens did'."

Recalling her first impressions of Dandalla at the yearling sale, Kelly added, "She wasn't your typical Dandy Man, she wasn't small and robust, she was always athletic and scopey. She was just really correct and had a lovely walk. When I do the shortlist for Dad, I take off anything that I don't like or is incorrect, and she just floated along and went about her business, I just really liked her." Cont. p7

The same owner and trainer combination was recently at the other end of a transaction which saw the GI Spinaway S. winner Perfect Alibi (Sky Mesa) sell for $2 million at Fasig-Tipton to Spendthrift Farm.

"We thought she was the best racing prospect in the sale," Miller said. "She should have plenty of residual value as a Group 2 winner and Classic-placed filly."

Collins added, "The trip is just right, she was effective at a mile to 1m2f, which is perfect, it looks as if her best ground is firm or good to firm. There are plenty of opportunities for her in the U.S. if she is as good there as she was here."

Fev Rover was bred by the Barry family at Manister House Stud and, second to Dandalla in the G2 Duchess of Cambridge S. on only her second start, she went on to win the Listed Star S. and G2 Prix du Calvados.

Tracy Farmer will also take charge of Shadwell 3-year-old Talbeyah (Ire) (lot 1681). The 94-rated daughter of Lope De Vega (Ire) was twice a winner this season for Owen Burrows and changed hands for 250,000gns.

Beautiful But Bittersweet For Furtado

Another fantastic touch was completed when Just Beautiful (GB) (Pride Of Dubai {Aus}), an even cheaper yearling, brought her five-for-seven record into the ring as lot 1739. Found here as a Book 3 yearling in 2019 for just 8,000gns, when knocked down to Ivan Furtado and Doncaster Racing, she was last seen winning the G3 Sceptre S. at Doncaster in the silks of Gary White and the Giggle Factor Partnership—the biggest success to date in Furtado's training career. Her sale here, for 625,000gns to Paddy Twomey through BBA Ireland, represented a 77-fold yield on her original cost.

"It's a fantastic story, a dream come true for us," said Furtado. "She has been a joy to deal with, and took us to the next level. We're ever so grateful to her: she has been really easy to deal with, the team at home have done a great job, and thanks also to Jamie Railton for consigning her so well. I wish the best to her new connections."

Reflecting on her original, rather cheaper passage through the same ring, Furtado said, "She was great-looking—not the biggest, but well put together, a nice dark bay who walked well. And from the beginning she always moved well, always had a great head, was always very professional. She's a very clever filly and she transferred that to her racing, where she always tried so hard. We did talk about keeping going for another year. We don't want her to go, we love her to bits. But she has done fantastically for us and the time is right."

Twomey welcomes her into his care on behalf of an existing client, who at some point down the road will have the option of exploiting what has become a pretty helpful pedigree by Book 3 standards. Just Beautiful is out of G3 Oh So Sharp S. runner-up Astrelle (Ire) (Makfi {GB}), who has meanwhile had a couple of useful upgrades to her produce record: Fearless King (GB) (Kingman {GB}) won a German Classic last year, while her juvenile daughter was Grade II-placed in the U.S. this summer. Her yearling colt by Cracksman (GB) duly made 200,000gns this autumn.

Paddy Twomey | Tattersalls

"Look, she's a lovely filly," Twomey said. "Ivan has done a great job with her, let's hope we can do a good job too. We hope she still has miles on the clock, certainly we bought her with racing in mind and we can see about breeding later on."

Silk Another Flourish For Brocade Line

Twomey had himself taken a role in the success of Silk Forest (Ire), who entered the ring soon afterwards as lot 1764. He had trained her to win a listed race at Naas, before alertly placing her to finish third of four starters in a Group 2. She added a second group podium shortly before coming through this sale last year when knocked down to Mandore International for Sunderland Holding at 260,000gns. Returned with the benefit of a Sea The Stars (Ire) cover, this time the 5-year-old more than doubled her value at 575,000gns.

Luke Lillingston, signing for Kern/Lillingston, was accompanied by Peter Stanley who explained, "She's for a partnership between Chris Kilroy and my brother Teddy [Lord Derby], who was very keen to reinvest in a young mare. And this was a bit of a queen, from one of the great families, built up by one of the greatest breeders." Cont. p10

Effective light therapy for mares

Benefits include:

- advances the breeding season
- improves post-foaling fertility
- optimises gestation lengths
- increases foal maturity
- benefits overall mare & foal health

Still time for 2022 breeding season

“We have been breeding Thoroughbreds for 25 years and have never had a foal arrive on time, let alone early, as our mares are predisposed to late foaling. Using Equilume Light Masks this year had a dramatic effect on our mares’ gestation lengths, with reductions of 19 and 24 days, and the production of mature, healthy foals.

We are delighted and only wish we had started using Equilume sooner. This technology works and the customer support is second to none.”

Lemon Adds Some Fizz To Highclere

Following on from the sale of a Too Darn Hot (GB) foal for 270,000gns last week, a strong December Sale for Appletree Stud continued when Jake Warren stepped in to buy Lingfield Oaks Trial winner Sherbet Lemon (Lemon Drop Kid) for 450,000gns.

Offered as a horse in training (lot 1730), the grey, who was bought for $200,000 at Keeneland's September Yearling Sale, will however be retired to the paddocks with her stakes victory and smart pedigree giving her a strong base from which to launch her second career.

"She's for a client of Highclere who has a lovely bunch of broodmares," said Warren, who admitted to being a fan of Lemon Drop Kid mares, with another Lingfield listed winner by the sire, Mischief Making, already among the ranks at Highclere. "What we really appreciated about her is that she's a stakes winner and an Oaks Trial winner by Lemon Drop Kid and a really lovely physical. She'll be easy to mate. You could send her to just about any stallion within reason. Our client is trying to buy one high-class mare per year to try to build up a strong broodmare band. He's in it for the long haul and she just had all the attributes we look for."

David Redvers | Tattersalls

Far More To Come From Farmah

The first mare to raise the bar from Monday's opening session had actually been one of its principal contributors. For Farmah (Speightstown) (lot 1724), knocked down to David Redvers for 500,000gns, is the dam of Taraateel (GB) (Oasis Dream {GB}), who had brought 230,000gns from Mascalls Stud as lot 1450.

Farmah is now 10, but she is one of three group scorers out of the French Classic winner Torrestrella (Ire) (Orpen) and also had the glittering bonus of a Kingman (GB) cover. In a good example of the opportunities for regeneration latent in the poignant cull of Shadwell stock, she will now serve an operation only now putting down its first roots.

"She has been bought as a foundation mare for David Howden's young operation, hoping to breed future racehorses to carry his colours," Redvers explained. "David has half a dozen mares with us and he's a massive enthusiast. He has plenty of horses in partnership with Sheikh Fahad, there's a really good synergy between them and they get on famously. We haven't thought about covering plans yet, but we'll come up with a plan and have something to dream about over the winter."

Like Susan Hearn the previous day, Redvers had taken the trouble to get his card marked by Francois Rohaut, who recently saddled Farmah's juvenile daughter Zawaaya (GB) (Oasis Dream {GB}) to win at Deauville.

"I spoke to the trainers of her 2-year-old and 3-year-old, and both were complimentary about their chances of going on to win stakes races," said the Tweenhills man. Cont. p12

He added, "This mare is a beautiful physical, and of course is in foal to a great stallion."

Another daughter of Speightstown discarded by Shadwell, incidentally, had created plenty of interest among the Americans in town. Tawreed (lot 1617) is out of a half-sister to champion Dreaming Of Anna (Rahy), whose own dam was a half-sister to none other than Kitten's Joy, and has a half-sister by Gun Runner who had won on debut for Brendan Walsh at Keeneland since publication of the catalogue. In the end it was Mt. Brilliant Farm that saw off competition from several other Bluegrass operations at 230,000gns.

Emma Berry's
BUY OF THE DAY

Guanina, Lot 1596, purchased by Ballyphilip Stud for 30,000gns.

They say that the early bird catches the worm and there are few sharper in this game than Paul and Marie McCartan of Ballyphilip Stud, who make the art of breeding top-class sprinters appear easy. Only seven horses had passed through the ring on Tuesday morning before the McCartans struck for lot 1596, Guanina (Ire). The 3-year-old may be unraced but she is by an emerging broodmare sire in Lawman (Fr), which was doubtless of extra appeal to the breeders who have already excelled with the Lawman mare Anna Law (Ire), dam of the outstanding Battaash (Ire).

Also in the young mare's favour is the fact that her first three dams are all multiple black-type producers, with Paul Mellon's champion race mare Rose Bowl (Habitat) featuring as her great granddam. Guanina is herself a three-parts-sister to the G2 Gimcrack S. winner and hardy performer Conquest (Ire) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}), whose five victories also included the Stewards' Cup.

She's been covered young, but she is in foal to the dependable Footstepsinthesand (GB)—a sensible choice to get a mare off to a good start. Everyone will have a different view of what constitutes value, but on a day when the average price was well into six figures, an outlay of 30,000gns certainly has a bargain feel to it for a mare with a commercial profile.

EUROPEAN NEWS

"It is a fantastic time to be taking over the role, with Time Test creating a lot of excitement and interest while Aclaim has had an excellent first year with runners with a whole stack of winners. Hopefully recent recruit Lope Y Fernandez will carry on that momentum. There's a good reason why Coolmore paid €900,000 for him as a yearling because he's a really outstanding individual. He's already been really well received by breeders.

Teddy Grimthorpe with Lope Y Fernandez and Stallion Manager Luke Strong | The National Stud

There are important times ahead for all six stallions and there's a really good base from which to build on, so, with director Tim Lane, we will continue to drive The National Stud forward.

"Morale is very high on the farm and it's not only because of the upward trajectory of the stallion roster. The diploma course is a very important part of the stud farm and is beginning to make a serious impact. Racing, like a lot of businesses, is looking for good-quality staff and The National Stud is a great place for people to start out in the industry."

EFTBA MEETS IN NEWMARKET

The European Federation of Thoroughbred Breeders' Associations held its 2021 AGM on Nov. 23 in Newmarket, where the movement of Thoroughbreds between Europe and the UK post Brexit was one of the key topics discussed. The federation is continuing its work on securing HHB status for Thoroughbreds.

Plans were also made for the federation to produce a European stud farm environmental impact study, and a sub committee was formed to look into the formulation of an official federation welfare strategy to raise awareness about the high level of care Thoroughbreds receive across Europe.

"Despite the many challenges and threats facing the European bloodstock industry, breeders have displayed great resolve and determination in working to overcome these obstacles," said EFTBA Chairman Joe Hernon. "While these challenges continue to have a series impact on the European Thoroughbred industry, I would like to assure all that EFTBA is steadfast in its commitment to deliver for Thoroughbred breeders during these uncertain times."

Tuesday's Results:

3rd-Lingfield, £7,000, Mdn, 11-30, 2yo, 8f 1y (AWT), 1:37.70, YONAFIS (GB) (c, 2, Golden Horn {GB}--Modeyra {GB} {SW-Eng, GSP-Fr}, by Shamardal), backed into 4-6 favouritism on this debut, was forced to tuck into mid-division from his wide draw. Taking time to reach top gear entering the straight, the homebred picked up impressively to take command 100 yards from the finish and score by half a length from Al Marmar (Ire) (Kodiac {GB}). The dam, who captured the Listed Severals S. and finished third in the G2 Prix de Royallieu, was the sole black-type performer out of the G1 Nassau S. heroine Zahrat Dubai (GB) (Unfuwain). Her yearling is a daughter of Oasis Dream (GB). Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $5,033. Video, sponsored by TVG. O-Sheikh Ahmed Al Maktoum; B-Godolphin (GB); T-William Haggas.

DADDY'S GIRL (FR) (f, 2, Le Havre {Ire}--My Year Is a Day {Fr} {SW-Fr}, by King's Best), a well-beaten sixth on debut over a mile on heavy ground here Oct. 21, tanked her way to the front after the first two furlongs. The winner is the second of two foals out of the dam, who captured the Listed Criterium de l'Ouest. A half to the dual stakes-placed Whipsaw City (Fr) (Elusive City), she emanates from the family of the G1 Grand Prix de Paris-winning sire Montmartre (Fr) (Montjeu {Ire}). second favourite was pushed out to score by 3/4 of a length from Muntjac (Kitten's Joy). The dam, who was runner-up in the G2 Falmouth S., is responsible for the G1 St Leger hero Masked Marvel (GB) (Montjeu {Ire}), Hwt. 3yo Colt-Eng at 14f+, MGSP-Aus, $666,784, and the G3 Prix Penelope scorer Waldlerche (GB) (Monsun {Ger}).
