HASKELL REMATCH HIGHLIGHTS SATURDAY’S GRADED STAKES SLATE

After putting on a show on the Jersey Shore earlier this summer, the Gun Runner-sired GI TVG.com Haskell S. exacta of Cyberknife and 'TDN Rising Star' Taiba co-headline a loaded renewal of the GI Pennsylvania Derby at Parx Saturday.

Was it a tale of two trips or did the best horse just win that day at Monmouth Park? You be the judge.

While subsequent GI Runhappy Travers S. runner-up Cyberknife awaited racing room leaving the quarter pole, the hard-ridden Taiba began to wind up beneath Mike Smith with a four-wide blitz. Florent Geroux, meanwhile, found a seam aboard the GI Arkansas Derby winner along the rail as favored 'Rising Star' Jack Christopher (Munnings) began to back out of it at the furlong marker. Cyberknife ran to daylight from there and outbattled the GI Runhappy Santa Anita Derby winner by a game head in a race that didn't deserve a loser.

"He’s a Grade I horse and it’s a Grade I race," trainer Brad Cox said of Cyberknife and Saturday's $1-million affair. "And look, I’m excited about matching up with Taiba. He’s a very good horse, a Grade I winner in his own right. There are some other very good horses in the race. It looks like a really good group of horses."

COLIN BRENnan GETS FAST START AT KEENELAND SEPTEMBER

Colin Brennan hit a home run with the first horse to represent his consignment during its inaugural appearance at the Keeneland September Sale when he sold a $55,000 pinhook for $100,000 during the eighth session of the sale.

Brennan purchased the Flatter filly out of stakes-placed Summer Reading (Hard Spun) at last year’s Keeneland November Sale.

Before the yearling went through the ring Tuesday, Brennan walked alongside his pinhook prospect for the long trek to the sales pavilion and discussed how he was first drawn to the filly after working with her half-sister at his father Niall's training operation.

That “really good group of horses” also includes the rail-drawn GISW Zandon (Upstart), who should appreciate the turnback to nine furlongs following a third-place finish in the Travers; the Cox-trained GII Ohio Derby winner and GII Jim Dandy S. third Tawny Port (Pioneerof the Nile); the top three finishers of the GIII West Virginia Derby—Skippylongstocking (Exaggerator), ‘Rising Star’ We the People (Constitution) and Simplification (Not This Time); and GI Curlin Florida Derby winner and Ohio Derby runner-up White Abarrio (Race Day), who finished a puzzling seventh last out in the Haskell.

Saturday in the Parx...

The loaded 13-race program at Parx also features four other graded events, led by the GI Cotillion for 3-year-old fillies.

In addition to seeking a record fourth Pennsylvania Derby victory with 5-2 morning-line favorite Taiba, Hall of Famer Bob Baffert will also ship in Cotillion second-choice Adare Manor (Uncle Mo) from his Santa Anita base. Cont. p4

The runaway GIII Las Virgenes S. heroine has been training lights out since finishing second as the favorite in the GII Black-Eyed Susan S. May 20.

“She is training really well,” Baffert said. “I could have run her in a softer spot. This will be a class check for her.”

After chasing home runaway division leader Nest (Curlin) in Saratoga’s GI Coaching Club American Oaks and GI Alabama S., the classy Secret Oath (Arrogate) seeks her first win since capturing the GI Kentucky Oaks. She is the 2-1 morning-line favorite.

“She is only getting stronger,” Hall of Fame trainer D. Wayne Lukas said. “She sure is filling out and getting better and holding a lot of weight. She is probably maturing into the filly that we wanted her to be.”

Todd Pletcher will be represented by a formidable trio in Alabama third Goddess of Fire (Mineshaft), streaking local Cathryn Sophia S. winner and 'Rising Star' Green Up (Upstart) and GIII Monmouth Oaks heroine and 'Rising Star' Shahama (Munnings).

The card also features wide-open renewals of the GI Gallant Bob S. and GII Turf Monster S., while a field of nine marathoners will line up for the GIII Greenwood Cup.

The day’s graded stakes action is rounded out by Saturday evening’s GIII Dogwood S. at Churchill Downs, featuring the return of champion and 'Rising Star' Echo Zulu (Gun Runner), who was a vet scratch at the gate prior to Belmont’s GI Acorn S. June 11; and Belmont at the Big A’s GII Athenia S.

Click here as we tag along with Colin Brennan while he sends his first horse through the ring at the Keeneland September Sale

“Dad and I pinhooked her sister Very Scary (Connect) last year and she had quite a bit of ability,” Brennan explained. “Then I saw this one at Keeneland November and she fell within our price range. She was a bit immature and narrow at the time, but looked like she had the potential to grow into a pretty filly. She has really blossomed and of course you can’t go wrong with Flatter.”

Brennan was greeted by a chorus of well-wishes from fellow horsemen as the filly entered the back walking ring. The consignor has already sold at various auctions in the past two years, but he didn’t deny that there is something special about offering his first horse at Keeneland September.

“We’re in the big leagues now,” he said with a smile before the filly stepped into the sales ring. “It’s always on a young consignor’s to-do list to be able to sell at Keeneland, so this is pretty cool”

Hoping to get within a target range of $75,000 to $100,000, Brennan was more than content when the filly hit six figures and sold to Granpollo Stables. Later in the sale, Colin Brennan Bloodstock sent four additional yearlings through the ring, including an Audible filly that Brennan bought at Keeneland November for $35,000 and sold during Book 4 for $95,000.

Establishing a consignment of his own has been a dream come true for Brennan, who can pinpoint the exact moment when he decided he wanted to follow in his father’s footsteps by making his career in racing.

“I remember working the Miami Calder sale with my dad when I was 13 and I told him that this is what I wanted to do for a living,” Brennan recalled. “Growing up, it has always been a family affair.” Cont. p6
Brennan cont.

Brennan continued, “My mom [Jolane Weeks] was a large Florida breeder and we would foal out 100 to 150 head of mares each year. I grew up working a lot with her, but also at my dad’s farm doing the 2-year-old sales. I learned a lot from both of them.”

After graduating from the Godolphin Flying Start program a decade later, Brennan joined Stonestreet Stables as a traveling assistant trainer for several years and then returned home to Ocala to be an assistant trainer at Niall Brennan Stables.

While working for his father, Brennan began pinhooking a few weanlings to yearlings of his own. On top of helping develop the 2-year-olds each day, he would hand walk all of his yearlings himself, often putting in over 30 miles on foot under the Florida sun every day.

“It was exhausting,” he said with an easy laugh. “There weren’t enough hours in the day. Eventually when my son was born, that was the ultimate deciding factor. I had started buying more and more weanlings to yearlings and I thought that this was more of a conducive lifestyle to be with my family.”

While focusing on his own operation does allow Brennan a touch more flexibility, he said he has always been drawn to the yearlings in particular.

“I enjoy raising horses and seeing the changes that they go through,” he said. “I like being able to shape them physically and mentally and have an impact on their development. This was always something that I thought I would like to give a try, and I’m still able to go visit at Dad’s and have some useful input at the 2-year-old sales.”

Brennan credits his father and Mike Ryan for the eye he has developed for scoping out future stars.

“I think of all the influences I’ve had, they would be the two biggest in terms of sales and selecting horses,” he explained.
Brennan cont.

Brennan said, “It’s about [looking for] an overall quality in their mindset and their demeanor. I look for an active, fluid mover that gives you a good energy. Of course you also have to understand who your end user will be and envision where they would fit in the market, but ultimately I’m looking for a big mover with a real athletic feel to them.”

With his first Keeneland September consignment under his belt, Brennan said he hopes his operation continues to grow from here.

“Long term, I would like to increase the quality,” he said. “I don’t ever want to be a very large consignment. I would like to keep my numbers well under control and be able to offer quality over quantity at the major sales. I hope to be able to provide people with confidence that we’ve raised and prep a good horse.”

LORD NELSON FILLY TOPS PENULTIMATE SESSION OF KEENELAND SEPTEMBER

A filly by the late Lord Nelson brought $125,000 from agent Michael Wallace, acting on behalf of St. Elias Stables, to top Friday’s 11th of 12 sessions of the Keeneland September Yearling Sale.

Vinnie Viola’s operation has purchased a total of 48 head throughout the sale, either alone or in partnership, for gross receipts of $18,815,000 and an average of $391,979.

Consigned by Legacy Bloodstock, agent for breeder Spendthrift Farm, as Hip 3709, Friday’s topper is a full sister to 2022 GII Saratoga Special S. third-place finisher and recent runaway Pimlico optional claiming winner Super Chow.

Out of the unraced Warrior’s Reward mare Bonita Mia, she is from the family of Grade/Group 1 winners Miss Match (Arg) (Indygo Shiner), Carina Mia (Malibu Moon) and Miss Linda (Arg) (Southern Halo). Cont. p8

Tijuana (Aus) became the third Australian winner at group level and 17th worldwide for Coolmore’s American Pharoah with a half-length victory in Friday’s G2 Stutt S. (1600m) at Moonee Valley. He is expected to make his next appearance in the G1 Caulfield Guineas Oct. 8, while a start in the A$5-million G1 Cox Plate Oct. 22 is possible thereafter. Bronwen Healy photo
Canuck Racing Club paid $70,000 for the session's second highest seller, Curlquest, a colt by Exaggerator out of a daughter of champion Blind Luck (Pollard's Vision). Consigned by Castle Park Farm (Noel Murphy), agent, he is out of I'm the Reason (Bernardini). He was bred in Ontario by Langcrest Farm.

With one day remaining in the Keeneland September Sale, a total of 2,663 yearlings have sold through the ring for $402,977,700, for an average of $151,325 and a median of $80,000. The average price is up 14.56% from $132,091 in 2021, while the median is 23.08% above $65,000 last year.

The gross of this year’s sale is a record for a Keeneland auction. The mark officially was passed Thursday.

On Friday, Keeneland recorded sales of $3,037,700 for 175 yearlings, for an average of $17,358 and a median of $15,000. The total is below the corresponding session in 2021 when 243 horses sold for $3,930,000. This year’s average price increased 7.33% from $16,173 in 2021, while the median was 25% higher than $12,000 last year.

Friday session's leading consignor was Taylor Made Sales Agency, which sold 20 horses for $413,500. Wallace, agent for St. Elias, was the session’s leading buyer.

The 12th and final session of the September Sale begins Saturday at 10 a.m. ET. The auction will be streamed live at Keeneland.com.
THIS SIDE UP: STRIKING GOLD NEVER A FORMALITY

by Chris McGrath

In this business, simply "doing the math" would stop us right in our tracks. Luckily, we have algebra on our side. A daunting equation can always be rescued by that helpfully vague variable, "x", the unquantifiable ardor of wealthy people: their competitive instinct, their sportsmanship, or simply their outsized egos. At the top of the market, after all, the dollars they spend are not the same as the dollars used by the rest of us to buy coffee or gas. It's not like "real" money at all. But that doesn't mean it can't be subject to a scale of values.

So, to give one example, I shouldn't be at all surprised if the most expensive yearling transaction of 2022 has yet to take place, despite that booming market at Keeneland over the past few days. American investment at the Tattersalls October Sale has been soaring in recent years, and the environment this time round could not be more congenial. Even the biggest domestic investors will be bringing a penknife to a gunfight. Sterling has hit a 37-year low against the dollar and, with the fiscal helm in Britain seized by navigators unorthodox to the point of eccentricity, you couldn't rule out outright parity between the two currencies by the time Tattersalls raises a hammer over several yearlings from the penultimate crop of Galileo (Ire).

And here's another calculation for the rich; specifically, for those prosperous partners privileged to share Flightline (Tapit). If all goes well at the Breeders' Cup, somebody in their decision-making huddle will surely point out that nowadays he has the option of banking the equivalent of around 50 covers, even at his likely fee, with a 110-second gallop in Saudi Arabia. (Conceivably it might even be muttered that the race is scheduled just 11 days into the breeding season.)

From the sidelines, we're all fondly anticipating mass public engagement for our sport if Flightline is permitted to extend his career beyond a sixth start. Even if his owners were to give us what we want, however, there's a scenario in which we might seem impossible to satisfy. What if they ask us to settle for a couple of breakfast broadcasts from the desert, before he rests up and takes in maybe a single prep before the Breeders' Cup? I think our gratitude might soon obtain a rather peevish note.

On some level, those imploring his owners to keep him in training are suggesting some implicit duty to the sport. That feels a little unfair. At the same time, if we are asked to believe that their strategy really won't be governed simply by dollars and cents, then it does at least become a question of the kind of legacy they wish to create from a generational opportunity.

Flightline's stud career is emphatically part of that, too, though let's not forget that even an authentic racetrack phenomenon must start over and prove himself in his second career. For now, it's not as though Flightline could be sensibly proposed as an equivalent wager, in terms of what a breeder should be expected to pay, to Into Mischief.

At 126, Flightline has authored one of just eight Beyers ever recorded at 125 or more. The only horse to hit a higher mark, Ghostzapper (128), is also the only one with any pretension to having maintained his elite status at stud. Cont. p10

More typical are the fortunes of the horse with the unique distinction of clocking two of those eight Himalayan Beyers. In his three final starts, Formal Gold ran 126, 124 (smashing a 40-year Monmouth track record) and 125; he was going into the Breeders’ Cup on an irresistible roll when derailed by injury. Yet he would prove a thoroughly anonymous stallion, best redeemed by Semaphore Man, who annually contested the GIII Count Fleet H., aged four through seven, for finishes of 3-2-1-1. After failing to get any of three Saskatchewan mares in foal in 2017, Formal Gold was retired into the best of care but nobody noticed when he quietly slipped away two or three years back.

Now obviously Flightline is a radically different proposition. And not just because Formal Gold, expertly handled by the unsung Bill Perry and thriving on the attentions of Skip Away and Will’s Way, stood up to 16 starts in 15 months. Formal Gold cost $62,000 as Hip 1657 at the September Sale; Flightline made seven figures at Saratoga. Alongside his freakish performances, then, he evidently has the genetic and physical wherewithal to make a better fist of his next career.

But even Secretariat notoriously failed to find a male heir. All Thoroughbreds tend to keep us guessing, in some respect or other, and that’s never going to change. Certainly I can’t buy into the notion that Flightline has fueled the market boom by showing that even really big numbers can be made to make sense. The year he was sold was no different from any other, in terms of the spectrum of outcomes.

It was that September, for instance, that the daughter of Leslie’s Lady and American Pharoah made $8.2 million, and there’s no need to remind anyone of the tragedy that ensued. That kind of thing can happen to any horse, but it’s pretty sobering to scroll down the other top prices paid at that auction. They were obviously well assessed, physically, because most have made the racetrack. But while Malathaat (Curlin) has proved a million bucks very well spent, and there have been moments of excitement for the likes of Spielberg (Union Rags) and Overtook (Curlin), suffice to say that there are some pretty expensive geldings pottering around out there.

Another of the headline scores of the 2019 bloodstock market was the $3.65-million Curlin colt that topped Fasig-Tipton’s 2-year-old sale at Gulfstream. I was extremely sorry, this week, to read that Cezanne’s various travails since had reached a fatal nadir in a fungal infection. He will duly remain an unfinished masterpiece, albeit even he managed two more starts than Flightline to this point. Cezanne’s whole story has proved a very poignant one: most obviously, as the parting bow of Jimmy Crupi, but also given the premature loss (through colic) of a dam from one of the most brilliantly curated families in the book. Cezanne had shown sufficient flashes of brilliance to merit a chance at stud and, this business being what it is, he would have started with the same blank slate as will Flightline. So we can never know, from one day to the next, quite when a Thoroughbred has achieved its definitive value.

As such, in enjoying a loaded GI Pennsylvania Derby on Saturday, perhaps we should cast our minds back to the 1996 running when Formal Gold was turned over at short odds. In the event, it proved that he had barely started. Maybe that can still prove true of Zandon (Upstart), in which hope I’m clinging stubbornly to the wreckage after his championship credentials took a battering in the GI Travers.

To me, he looked like a horse in some kind of discomfort that day, the way he carried his head turning in, and I refuse to forget the way he glided into contention on the first Saturday in May. For such a baffling Derby, it is turning out to be a pretty good one, and yet there was a moment when Zandon looked in a class of his own.

His equation still has that ‘x’ element, and maybe his new jockey will discover its true value. You know, I might even stake a dollar or two out of my grocery budget.
RACETRACK SURFACES: WHERE HISA'S RUBBER MEETS THE ROAD

by Dan Ross

The closer the clock ticks down to Nov. 4, when Turf Paradise's latest 130-day meet is scheduled to launch, the louder will the questions resound about the facility's historically checkered approach to equine welfare and safety.

Near the midway point during last year’s Turf Paradise meet, its equine fatality rate was more than 2.8 deaths per 1,000 starts. This compares to the national equine fatality rate of 1.39 per 1,000 starts last year.

Between Oct. 10, 2021, and May 7, 2022, 11 horses were fatally injured during morning training at Turf Paradise and 18 were fatally injured during racing, with another 13 lost to other circumstances.

Anyone with even a glancing understanding of catastrophic injuries knows the complex nature of causality, with the term "multifactorial" much bandied about. One of these important factors, however, is the condition of the racetrack surface--an issue that has bedeviled Turf Paradise in recent years.

To prepare for the upcoming meet--as well as for the Horseracing Integrity and Safety Act (HISA), the racetrack safety portion of which went into effect July 1--Turf Paradise has hired a new track superintendent and has joined forces with the Arizona Horsemen’s Benevolent & Protective Association (AZHBPA) to hire noted racetrack expert Steven Wood to oversee these operations.

In many ways, tracks like Turf Paradise--those with more to do to meet HISA’s baseline racetrack surface standards--provide something of an inflection point for the federal law, the rubber now meeting the road.

How long do tracks like Turf Paradise have to get up to speed, for example? What are some possible implications for non-compliance?

In the long term, how soon before the data collection components of these federal rules generate the kinds of answers needed to further racetrack surface safety in the U.S.? "Patience," extolled racetrack surface expert Mick Peterson in answer to the latter. "It’s not going to happen overnight."

HISA Requirements

The racetrack maintenance component of HISA--summarised here--sets out two main areas of compliance.

Before the start of each meet, tracks are required to perform a set of testing protocols for all dirt, synthetic and turf surfaces. These include the examination of dirt or synthetic surface bases either visually or by using ground penetrating radar, as well as measuring the geometry of turf tracks.

Then on an ongoing basis during the meet, HISA requires a set of daily measurements to be made at all quarter-mile markers at distances of five feet and 15 feet from the inside rail. This includes moisture content and, for dirt and synthetic tracks specifically, cushion depth.

Track superintendents are also responsible for keeping a log of what kinds of daily maintenance they perform on the track surfaces and the relevant equipment used, along with the amounts of water put on the tracks.

Though key regional differences mean no two tracks work their surfaces exactly alike, "our end goal is to have every racing surface feel the same to the horses when they run on it," said Ann McGovern, HISA director of racetrack safety, mirroring comments made about the work done in recent years at Del Mar and Santa Anita to render their main tracks physical twins--work widely regarded as instrumental in making these two tracks among the safest in the country.

That's the goal. To get there, the rollout it is, like much of HISA's broader mandate, piecemeal.

In short, the reporting component of the law is already very much at play, with track superintendents required to keep daily logs either written into notebooks or submitted digitally.

Where HISA currently affords wriggle room is to the typically smaller, less-resourced tracks that might not have all the necessary equipment to meet new demands.

Has HISA identified a specific date by which all tracks need to be up to speed? "We don't have an end date for that," responded McGovern, adding that "we plan on giving extra help to tracks that need it, and extra guidance."

Thistledown Racino in Ohio is one of those tracks playing catch up.

"Implementing everything has taken some time, but we're going the right way," said long-time track superintendent John Banno. "We might be further behind some tracks, but we might be further along than some others."

As mandated under HISA, the track has established a safety committee that Banno attends with the safety director and director of racing, along with representatives from the horsemen, jockeys and stewards.

"We cover a lot of bases," Banno said, about these monthly meetings. "It's mostly about keeping the lines of communication open."

Complying with another new mandate, Banno maintains a written notebook of numbers, details and wrinkles from his workday.

"If I'm putting down 100,000 gallons of water," Banno said, of the details recorded. "If we use harrows for the first few races and we then switch to floats. If it rains—things like that."

But as someone "more comfortable with dirt and mud than documentation," ducks and water would hardly be analogized in the way Banno's taken to the task. "I'm hoping it gets a little more streamlined," he admitted. Efficiencies can also be made elsewhere.

"I have a wish list every year," said Banno, pointing out that his crew is working with equipment that is, in some cases, more than 40 years old.

"I'm sure many smaller racetracks have to deal with that, too," said Banno, pointing out that new equipment is both pricey—new floats or harrows can run up to $25,000 each—and fairly limited in supply.

"As far as I can tell, there's only two vendors that sell this equipment, and one of them doesn't really supply too many things anymore," he said.

The current Thistledown meet ends Oct. 14 before kick-starting once again next spring.

With more than six months between now and then, Banno has ample time on his hands to prepare for HISA's pre-meet testing requirements. Many other meets are scheduled to launch in the interim.

This is where Peterson, who founded the non-profit Racing Surfaces Testing Laboratory, is expected to step in.

"It doesn't tell you anything"

HISA is in the final stages of reaching an agreement with Peterson for his organization to oversee these pre-meet stipulations.

"Our agreement is to ensure that HISA gets what information it needs when we go to the racetracks to do the testing," said Peterson. Not that he anticipates the same degree of involvement at all tracks.

Many of the larger, more prestigious tracks already meet and often exceed the baseline track demands under HISA. Take moisture content readings—what should be measured daily—with Fair Grounds "a good example," said Peterson.

"I can tell you what the moisture content was measured at 24 points [around the track] in 2010 at Fair Grounds, every day of the race meet," he explained.

But not all U.S. track superintendents currently use the requisite tool to measure moisture content—a funkily called time domain reflectometry device. Those that don't typically gauge it the old-fashioned way, grabbing a clump of dirt and squeezing it with their hand. Or through the feel of the equipment on the track.

The good news is that a time domain reflectometry device will set the buyer back around $1,400—hardly a bank-breaker. Nor do these instruments require a PhD in engineering.

"Incredibly simple," Peterson said, about the device's ease of use. "You just stick it in, press the button." Cont. p13
For run-ragged superintendents at under-resourced tracks, arguably the biggest headache under HISA’s new regime has proven the time and discipline involved in keeping daily testing and maintenance logs.

Some of the tracks already affiliated with the Racing Surfaces Testing Laboratory use the organization’s online portal to record information, though Peterson admits it can still prove laborious, the database something of a Bronze Age relic of the early digital era.

That old software, however, is undergoing a digital facelift. "The new version with The Jockey Club is going to be a lot more user-friendly," said Peterson. That revamped software will undergo beta-testing at the Keeneland fall meet.

Which leads to the ultimate aim of what Peterson describes as the wholesale collection of "standard data taken in a consistent fashion out of a lot of tracks": the ability to refine the information to better determine what track surface maintenance practices improve equine safety—and those that don’t.

"It doesn't tell you anything," said Peterson, dismissive of the Clegg hammer—a device measuring hardness and compaction that is still widely used around U.S. racetracks.

Then there’s the issue of sealed tracks. In California, for example, horses are not permitted to train on such a surface. According to Peterson, that reticence is probably unfounded.

The "largest study to date from the Equine Injury Database (EID)" found "no significant difference when comparing off dirt versus regular dirt track for risk factors," Peterson said.

The question then becomes: How soon can we expect the data collected under HISA to bear fruit?

"It's going to take a lot of data," said Peterson, comparing it to the evolution of the EID.

"The first four or five years, I remember it wasn't clear that the EID was going to contribute any meaningful understanding of catastrophic injuries," he said. "It took a lot of data, even with full participation."

Given the steadily shifting sands of public opinion toward horse racing, there’s a chance some tracks with dicey safety records might not have that four- or five-year leeway.

"This surface is not right," warned trainer Kevin Eikleberry during an Arizona racing commission meeting before the 2021-22 Turf Paradise meet when even the commission's head veterinarian bemoaned a lack of thorough and consistent surface maintenance standards.

With a change of crucial track personnel at the Arizona facility in the interim, however, expectations are noticeably higher one year on.

"HISA would absolutely react"

"We've had to make sure the banking is how we want it," explained Wood, before ticking off a long grocery list of other preparations already conducted at the track, including removing "a lot" of material from the existing surface, and adding tons of new sand and bark, the latter for cushioning.

"All these things should help," said Wood, before adding that "you're still going to have to have the other guys, the vets and such, do their job" to meaningfully shift the needle.

According to George Lopez, the newly minted track superintendent at Turf Paradise—himself a former protégé of the Wood academy of track management—the facility has also splashed out on new equipment.

This includes a new grader—used to redistribute surface materials—and two new water trucks. "We also have two good tractors now," said Lopez, who describes his new job as a "challenge" to relish.

"I'm very confident and I'm very sure we're going to have a really good, safe meet this time," he said.

But what if the meet resumes this November and safety expectations fall short once more?

Stressing the "multifactorial" nature of equine injury, McGovern said that in such an instance, the new federal authority would "immediately" get involved, though stopped short of outlining a clear set of potential actions.

"Getting involved may mean talking to management, talking to the track superintendent, sending Mick [Peterson] to look at the track surface, looking at necropsies, looking at training methods," McGovern said. "HISA would absolutely react to any track that had numbers as significant as we have seen at Turf Paradise last year."

GOLDSTEIN HONORED BY HRWS

Jane Goldstein will be recognized with a special award at the inaugural edition of the Horse Racing Women’s Summit (HRWS) at its luncheon Thursday, Sept. 29. The presentation will honor Goldstein for her role as a groundbreaking leader and inspirational example to women in racing.

A native of New Orleans, Goldstein had an early introduction to the racetrack through her father, a writer and reporter with the Times-Picayune newspaper. She attended the University of Kentucky and Louisiana State University. Following graduation, she was hired to work in the publicity department at the Fair Grounds. She later worked in the publicity departments at Laurel, Pimlico, Monmouth Park, Hialeah, and Keeneland racetracks, as well as serving on the special Kentucky Derby "notes team" at Churchill Downs from 1970 to 1976. She also wrote freelance articles for various racing publications.

In 1972, Goldstein met Alan Balch, who was then director of public relations at Santa Anita Park. In 1975, Balch hired her as assistant news director at Santa Anita, promoting her to director of publicity in 1976. The first woman in the country to head a track publicity department, she continued to run the publicity and communications arm of Santa Anita until her retirement in 1998.

"Since Jane first joined Santa Anita, what has stood out most to me is her commitment to excellence in all things, both journalistically and in the sport," said Balch. "Her unceasingly high standards serve as an exemplar for all of us."

In 1984, Goldstein was named the venue press chief for the equestrian sports of the Olympics Games at Santa Anita and Fairbanks Ranch. She was also the first woman to serve on the selection committee of the Thoroughbred Racing Association’s Grantland Rice Memorial Scholarship at Vanderbilt University, granted to a young man or woman interested in sports journalism. In 1985 she was inducted into the Fair Grounds press box hall of fame. Goldstein currently serves as a trustee of the California Thoroughbred Foundation, a non-profit corporation dedicated to the advancement of equine research and education.

Gambling Girl | Chelsea Durand

After two attempts to break her maiden earlier in the summer, including a second to Miracle July 27, Gambling Girl finally broke through in a big way, romping by 10 1/2 lengths against state-bred company over seven furlongs at Saratoga Aug. 24. Only the 3-1 second choice Friday in her first try against winners in stakes company despite that effort last time out, Gambling Girl broke slowest of the five-horse field and stayed out in the clear in pursuit of pacesetter Les Bon Temps. She began to move into the far turn, racing in tandem with Miracle to her inside, and came five wide past the quarter pole to stick a head in front with a furlong still to run. Widest of the trio in the late stages, she was able to gain separation on her two rivals and post the clear win.

“She’s one of those kinds of horses that you really have to ride and six was too short,” said winning jockey Irad Ortiz, Jr. “Going seven-eighths last time, she was won by 10 [1/2] lengths. It was a big step up last time going seven-eighths, so I was pretty confident in her today. She handled the distance already.”

From the extended family of MGISW and prolific broodmare Take Charge Lady (Dehere), Gambling Girl counts MGISW Will Take Charge (Unbridled’s Song), GISW Take Charge Indy (A.P. Indy), and GISW As Time Goes By (American Pharoah) amongst her family tree. Tulipmania produced a yearling filly, Gallant Greta (Dialed In), and a weanling full-brother to Gambling Girl before visiting Medaglia d’Oro for 2023. Click for the Equibase.com chart.

IN ORDER OF PURSE:

RUN CLASSIC (c, 4, Runhappy--Pledge Pin {SP}, by Chatain) made his first start Thursday evening since an eighth behind Hot Rod Charlie (Oxbow) in 2021’s GII Twinspires.com Louisiana Derby. Back at six furlongs for the first time since his debut that January, the 9-2 shot settled mid-pack through a quick opening half in :44.76. Angled out as the field straightened for the wire, he caught up with a furlong to run and was able to edge by in the final sixteenth to win by three-quarters of a length. Run Classic has an unraced 2-year-old half-sister Exclusive Access (Always Dreaming) and a weanling half-sister by War of Will. His dam visited Country House for a 2023 foal. Cont. p2
IN ORDER OF PURSE:

7th-Churchill Downs, $122,250, Msw, 9-23, 2yo, f, 7f, 1:24.79, ft, neck.

WILLOW BEND (f, 2, Flatter--Willow Hills {SP, $105,942}, by Distorted Humor) never ran much on debut over this same track Aug. 13, coming in a distant ninth over six furlongs. Away at 5-1 Friday, she stalked pacesetter Market Profile (Liam’s Map) and kept that pressure up through the far turn. On even terms while getting floated wide at the top of the lane, Willow Bend dispatched that rival after a short duel, built up a gap, and held on late to win over a fast-closing Ghostly Girl (Shaman Ghost) by a neck. The winner's 3-year-old half-brother Willtorun (Twirling Candy) broke his maiden last month at Ellis Park. She also has a yearling full-sister and a weanling half-brother by Munnings. Willow Hills was sent to Blame for next season. Lifetime Record: 2-1-0-0, $70,235. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG.

O/B-Donamire Farm (KY); T-Ben Colebrook.

5th-Churchill Downs, $118,875, Msw, 9-23, 3yo/up, 1 1/4m, 2:02.69, ft, 5 3/4 lengths.

GATE RUNNER (c, 3, Arrogate--Nefertiti {SP}, by Speightstown) broke his maiden in his fifth career start Friday. Fourth last time out at Saratoga July 29, the $560,000 KEESEP yearling sat just off the hip of longshot pacesetter Away From Home (Ghostzapper), content to stalk from second up the backstretch. Gate Runner took over with an outside move around the far turn and gapped the field down the lane, pulling away from eventual runner-up Ten Gauge (Gun Runner) to win by 5 3/4 lengths at odds of 9-2. Already a half-brother to Engage (Into Mischief), MGSW, $802,780, Gate Runner has a yearling half-sister by Into Mischief and a weanling half-brother by Authentic. Sales History: $560,000 Ylg ’20 KEESEP. Lifetime Record: 5-1-0-2, $99,830. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG.

MO MONEY MO HONEY (c, 3, Uncle Mo--Stopshoppingdebbie {MSW, $249,728}, by Curlin), an impressive six-length winner at first asking at Laurel July 16, returned to back that up with a seven-length romp against allowance horses over the same surface Aug. 14. Even money Friday, Mo Money Mo Honey once again set the pace from the get go and left little doubt, opening up a clear advantage into the stretch and carrying his speed to the line to win by 4 1/4 lengths. Semper Fi (Carpe Diem) rounded out the exacta. Mo Money Mo Honey has a yearling half-brother Generous Tipper (Street Sense) and a weanling half brother by Volatile. Stopshoppingdebbie visited Tiz the Law for a 2023 foal. Sales History: $14,000 Ylg ’20 KEESEP. Lifetime Record: 3-3-0-0, $98,400. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG.

IMPLICATED (f, 2, Connect--Wysteria, by Tale of the Cat), off as the 9-2 second choice, entered off a six-furlong sprint at Saratoga Aug. 17 that saw her trail a pair home by 14 lengths. Now given the stretch out and surface switch, she had to check into the first turn to avoid clipping heels as the field all navigated the short run-up. Settled inside but boxed in, she waited for racing room before shifting out to gain ground on pacesetter Mademoisellejackie (American Pharoah). Second turning for home, Implicated dug in outside of rivals down the stretch, pulled even with the leader late and prevailed by a head over Mademoisellejackie. Implicated's only younger sibling is a weanling half-brother by The Factor and her dam visited Knicks Go for the 2023 season. Sales History: $125,000 Ylg '21 FTKOCT. Lifetime Record: 2-1-0-1, $64,850. Click for the Equibase.com chart.

TIZZY IN THE SKY (f, 3, Sky Kingdom--Tiz the Tide, by Tiznow), a narrow second in back-to-back races at Belmont and Saratoga earlier this summer, entered Friday's contest as the 6-5 choice. Ridden straight to the front, she led with a half-length advantage over Inventing (Union Rags) through an easy half-mile. Given her head turning for home, she kicked clear of Signal From Noise (Arrogate) and won going away under a hand ride by 5 3/4 lengths. From the extended family of MGISW Colonel John (Tiznow) and MGISP Comical (Into Mischief), Tizzy in the Sky has a 2-year-old unraced full-sister Words Unspoken and a yearling full-brother. Her dam visited Instagrand for a 2023 foal. Lifetime Record: 3-1-2-0, $91,250. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG.

BALDIZAR (g, 3, Honor Code--Josephine's Moment, by City Zip), overlooked at 10-1 in this career bow, seized the early advantage and was pressed by favored Ocean's Reserve (Speightster) through leisurely fractions. Turning for home in front, the bay kept on finding to hold the chalk at bay by a neck. The winner is the first foal out of Josephine's Moment, who has since produced a yearling full-brother to Baldizar named Merlin's Moment and a 2022 Bernardini filly. She was bred back to Sky Mesa. Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $42,350. Click for the Equibase.com chart.

DR. SETTLE'S DREAM (c, 2, Oscar Performance--Voiced, by War Front), cold on the board at 12-1 for his career debut, kept pace with Eye Witness (City of Light) to his inside before backing off a bit with a half-mile to run. Re-engaged with that rival around the far turn, Dr. Settle's Dream made a three-wide move into the stretch to take command. He dueled between horses to the wire to steal the win by a head as 70-1 shot Be of Courage (Noble Mission) closed to edge out Eye Witness for second by a nose. The 10th winner for his freshman sire (by Kitten's Joy), Dr. Settle's Dream has two younger half-sisters both by Solomini while his dam went to Honest Mischief for the 2023 season. Sales History: $30,000 2yo '22 OBSOPN. Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $42,350. Click for the Equibase.com chart.

ESOTERIC (f, 2, Khozan--Ephyra, by Corinthian), away at 5-2 in her first start since bringing $60,000 at OBSAPR earlier this year (:21 4/5), was taken in hand to race off the pace while kept in the clear, racing four wide into the far turn. Fanned even wider at the top of the stretch by Time to Race (Race Day), she rallied on the outside to take over with a sixteenth to run and pulled clear for a 1 1/4-length win. A full-sister to Background, GSW, $436,488, Esoteric has a yearling full-brother Crossroad Blues, and a weanling full-brother Backtrack. Her dam was bred to Uncle Chuck for a 2023 foal. Sales History: $60,000 2yo '22 OBSAPR. Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $31,000. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG.

ALWAYS ANGELS (f, 2, Always Dreaming--Ribbing, by Distorted Humor), never off the board in two prior starts at Monmouth, including her most recent second-place effort, was the 3-1 second choice. On the lead once again Friday, she set a pressured pace inside of Gun of Gold (Gun Runner) before taking control midway around the far turn. Under a hand ride, she raced alone the length of the stretch, cruising to a seven-length victory over Cats Inthe Timber (Honor Code). The fourth winner for her freshman sire (by Bodemeister), Always Angels is a yearling half-sister by Take Charge Indy and a weanling half-sister by Valiant Minister. Her dam was bred to Tunwoo for next season. Sales History: $8,000 Ylg '21 KEESEP; $47,000 2yo '22 OBSMAR. Lifetime Record: 3-1-1-1, $39,950. SPEIGH AMONGST US (c, 2, Speightster--Manitou Moon, by Shanghai Bobby), the 7-2 second choice behind heavy favorite Tapadine (Tapit) for his third career start, entered off a third-place effort over this same surface and distance Sept. 2. Tucked in behind the leaders towards the rear through moderate fractions, he fanned out five wide for a move at the head of the lane. Speigh Amongst Us powered past late leader Nightwind (Flat Out) and edged away to hit the line a length in front. The first foal for his dam, he has a yearling half-sister by Competitive Edge and a weanling half-brother by Slumber (GB). Manitou Moon returned to Slumber for next season. BEEBY: ‘ORBY IS THE ONE THAT MATTERS MOST’

By Brian Sheerin

Tasked with identifying just one horse to look forward at the Orby Sale next week, Goffs Chief Executive Henry Beeby must have realised that he was in clover when rattling off progeny by sire sensations Dubawi (Ire), Frankel (GB) and Sea The Stars (Ire) but admitted that having the chance to offer 11 Galileos (Ire) was a particular boon ahead one of the most eagerly-anticipated yearling sales on earth.

Beeby also described himself as thrilled with the field of 2-year-olds the Goffs Million has attracted at the Curragh on Saturday and shared hopes that the race can prove a springboard for what promises to be a helter-skelter week of trading.

He said, “Having 11 Galileos in his penultimate crop is a big deal for us. Kirsten Raising’s Dubawi is gorgeous and there are some lovely yearlings by Sea The Stars as well. We’ve got Frankels, Kingmans (GB), Invincible Spirits (Ire), Night Of Thunders (Ire), Dark Angels (Ire), Kodiacs (GB), Siyounis (Fr)--everything you could possibly want.

“We have some really good sire profiles and deep, deep pedigrees. The brother of Saffron Beach (Ire) (New Bay {GB}), I saw him back in May and my tongue was hanging out, he’s such a good-looking horse.”

BUMPER SATURDAY FOR JUVENILES AT HQ AND BEYOND by Sean Cronin

Newmarket’s three-day Cambridgeshire meeting’s titular event, the annual nine-furlong cavalry charge boasting a purse of £200,000, is overshadowed by two Group 1 championships on a bumper Saturday of juvenile action at Headquarters and beyond.

First of the elite-level heats is the six-furlong G1 Juddmonte Cheveley Park S., with ante-post markets pointing to an effective match between Coolmore and Westerberg’s Meditate (Ire) (No Nay Never) and Rockcliffe Stud’s homebred Trillium (GB) (No Nay Never). In reality, it is an open edition which also features G2 Lowther S. victrix Swingalong (GB) (Showcasing {GB}), G3 Round Tower S. winner Treasure Trove (Ire) (Siyouni {Fr}) and a Group 3-winning duo, Juliet Sierra (GB) (Bated Breath {GB}) and Lezoo (GB) (Zoustar {Aus}), from the Ralph Beckett stable. Meditate forfeited her unblemished record when her standard was lowered by Tahiya (Ire) (Siyouni {Fr}) in the G1 Moyglare Stud S. on Irish Champions Weekend and this swift-draining surface offering more bounce will bolster her chances of redemption. Commissioning (GB) (Kingman (GB)) ran her record to two out of two in Friday’s G2 Rockfel S., a Breeders’ Cup challenge race for the GI Juvenile Fillies Turf Nov. 4 at Keeneland.

‘TDN Rising Star’ Mutasaabeq (GB) (Invincible Spirit (Ire)) was back to his best when making all in Friday’s G2 Joel S. at Newmarket.

Godolphin’s Eternal Pearl (Ire) (Frankel (GB)) stayed on well through the final stages to prove easily best in Friday’s G3 Princess Royal S.

There are also siblings to top-notchers Champers Elysees (Ire), Pretty Gorgeous (Fr), Chanel (Ire), Homeless Songs (Ire), Mother Earth (Ire), Sonnyboyliston (Ire), Blackbeard (Ire) and many more in the sale.

Beeby added, “There are a couple of superb No Nay Nevers and the Frankels I’ve seen have been gorgeous as well. I’ve been to the Irish National Stud and I think they have a very strong draft but it’s very hard to just pick out one or two horses off the top of my head because all of the big vendors have supported us well. Put it this way, everything is in place for it to be a big sale.”

Before the two-day Orby kicks off on Tuesday, there is the Goffs Million, which will be run for the first time since 2009 on Saturday and boasts a whopping €1,234,000 prize fund. Beeby has described his satisfaction with the field of 19 runners that have assembled for Saturday’s seven-furlong contest and explained the reasons behind rescheduling the race.

He said, “We’re delighted with the field because it has a good representation from England and Ireland which demonstrates the interest of the sale. It looks a good race with good 2-year-olds who will go on to bigger and better things. What the race has provided is a focal point. We had a rough old time of it two years ago and, when we were thinking about the sale last year, we decided we needed something that would really grab peoples’ attention.

“We looked at all sorts of things, incentives and bonuses, all of which have merit, but we just felt that the Goffs Million had a real ring to it. There are 19 runners, 10 of them will get prize-money and the winner will get €617,000 as the race is worth €1,234,000 because any excess entry fee rolled straight back into the race. It’s very exciting and really caught the imagination at the sale last year—which can be seen by the diversity of the trainer and owner profile of the race.” Cont. p4

Beeby added, “Two years ago was very hard. We have been very clear about the fact that we could have made better decisions in 2020. We have essentially appealed to Irish breeders to give us another chance and happily they did. They were quite heavily rewarded last year and, one of the key things I will always say is, we are nothing without the horses.

“We can come up with as many gimmicks or marketing campaigns as we like but, if you haven't got the raw material--which is the quality Irish thoroughbred--then you have nothing.

“As a result of the great support we got last year, we saw great trade and, because of that, the Irish breeders have given us a greater share of their best horses for this year’s sale.

“Many vendors have upped their game. We have a bigger catalogue than ever and the build-up to this sale has been all about convincing the Irish breeders that they have a premier outlet in Goffs and that they don’t need to go elsewhere. More and more people are happily coming around to that way of thinking.”

There is no better advertisement for a sales company than the racecourse and the Orby was once again put in lights when Eldar Eldarov (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}) stormed to St Leger glory at Doncaster.

Fellow graduate Prosperous Voyage (Ire) (Zoffany {Ire}), winner of the G1 Falmouth S. at Newmarket, has also done her bit to advertise the prowess of the sale and Beeby is all too aware that such victories are needed to maintain the Orby’s reputation as a guaranteed source of top-notch talent.

He said, “People come back to the Orby Sale to buy good-looking and well-bred individuals who perform on the racetrack. Eldar Eldarov and Prosperous Voyage are obviously the most high-profile graduates this season but they are pumped out every year. The sale punches above its weight in that respect. We call it the Irish national yearling sale, because that’s what it is, but it is a premier European yearling sale. It’s one of the most important dates in the year, certainly in Europe, if not in the northern hemisphere breeding season. It will have the full focus of attention and we expect a pretty big buying bench to turn up.

“That’s certainly the indication at the moment as hotel rooms are at a premium and we’re flying people in from the United States. We have interest from the Middle East, the Far East, obviously from Ireland, Britain and Europe, so we are prepared for a really big turnout.”

And that American interest should not be underestimated. Given the strength of the dollar, it is understood that up to 60 American-based agents and buyers could be in attendance at the Orby Sale next week, which would be a record.

Add that to the fact that the demand for yearlings has been strong at the the August Sale at Arqana, the Premier Yearling Sale at Goffs UK, the Tattersalls Somerville Sale and at Tattersalls Ireland last week, Beeby is quietly optimistic of the trend continuing at Goffs.

He said, “The yearling sales have been extraordinary this year. We would be hopeful of a good trade. The American interest is higher than it has ever been, exactly what number turns up remains to be seen but the dollar being where it is a major attraction. They are looking for our kind of horses and we’ve got them in droves.”

Beeby added, “I’ve seen a lot of these horses and I would be surprised if buyers are not very impressed. For our sale, we need to have the pedigree and the conformation because there’s plenty of good yearlings to come in the following weeks, and that’s always been the case, so you really have to be the right article to get into the Orby.”

And with all of this excitement comes great responsibility. Beeby admits there will be butterflies in the stomach when he stands up on that rostrum at 10am on Tuesday morning for a sale that broke the €40-million mark 12 months ago but everything is in place for another record-breaking session.

He said, “From a Goffs point of view, this is the most important week of our year because the two days of the Orby Sale are our highest-grossing sales by some way. Any sale that I go to, and I mean this genuinely, I care deeply about it and want it to go well. Cont. p6

“For example, the Premier Sale means a lot to me and I have been working at that sale since the late 1970s, but the Orby is the one that matters most. As my late father used to say, the yearling sales are all about potential and you can see in front of you what the horse is going to look at—it’s like looking at a late teenager in human terms. You can see the athlete.”

Beeby added, “The overriding emotion is anticipation, excitement and there is a certain amount of adrenaline flowing. When I get up on that rostrum, I will feel some nerves, but I think you need that. If you’re an auctioneer, the whole point of doing this job is the moments leading up to when a horse walks into the ring, everything else leads towards that moment. So, stepping forward with a microphone on you, the gavel in your hand and seeing a beautifully-bred horse from a major operation with a track record of selling top-class horses walking around a ring that has seen champion after champion, that’s what I live for. I just love it and I can’t wait for next week.”

COMMISSIONING STARS IN THE ROCKFEL
by Tom Frary

Newmarket’s Cambridgeshire meeting is always a hotbed of future Classic prospects and Friday’s G2 Al Basti Equiworld Dubai Rockfel S. unearthed one of the most exciting from Britain in 2022 as Isa Salman and Abdulla Al Khalifa’s Commissioning (GB) (Kingman {GB}) maintained her unbeaten record in the ‘Win and You’re In’ qualifier for the Nov. 4 GI Breeders’ Cup Juvenile Fillies Turf.

Impressive in a July Course novice over this seven-furlong trip that has worked out well July 30, the John and Thady Gosden-trained bay was always travelling smoothly for Robert Havlin racing far side halfway down the field. Showing some signs of greenness but also evidence of a huge engine as she arrived into contention running down into the dip, the hooded 7-2 second favourite took the measure of Rage Of Bamby (Ire) (Saxon Warrior {Jpn}) a furlong out and readily asserted on the climb to the line.

She had 2 3/4 lengths to spare there over the eye-catching closer Electric Eyes (Ire) (Siyouni {Fr}), another Karl Burke juvenile to make an impact in a hot race, with Rage Of Bamby fading late to be 1 1/4 lengths further away in third.

“I had to wake her up a bit and almost got into trouble by getting there too soon, so I just sat there at the two pole,” Havlin said. “When she picked up, it was kind of immediate and I got a bit lonely in front. She would stay a mile no problem—I ride her quite a lot at home and we’ve always thought that as she finishes her work strongly. She can be busy in the mornings but is uncomplicated at the races.”

John Gosden is looking at a potential quick return to the Rowley Mile for the G1 Fillies Mile in two weeks’ time.

“We wanted to give her a bit of time after her debut, as she was growing and she is not a big heavy robust filly. Frankie said he couldn’t pull her up after her debut and she went all the way to the very end. She was just getting rolling with a furlong to go there and it was slightly the same today. The Fillies’ Mile comes quickly, but she doesn’t have to run again after and it is close to home. If she is happy and well, we might look at it. There is also a Breeders’ Cup invitation. We did that before we went to Del Mar with a filly that won this. She didn’t stay a mile, but this one will.”

Karl Burke said of the runner-up, “She is a potentially high-class filly and she has proved that today. She got a little bit sandwiched coming out of the stalls and we didn’t want to be that far back. She is quite a keen-travelling horse and she always wants a bit of cover. I’d say we won’t run again. She is an inexperienced filly, but she is a big raw filly and this time of the year I don’t want to run her back quick and we are running out of options. The horse that finished second in this last year didn’t do too bad in the 1000 Guineas!”

Eve Johnson Houghton said of Rage Of Bamby, “I definitely think she was the second-best horse in the race. I think she had been softened up by the winner and the second horse came and got her. Possibly we need to drop her back in trip, as she had them all cooked a furlong out and I’m not sure she stayed the seven furlongs 100 per cent in that company.”

Commissioning is the first runner for the dam, whose son of Fastnet Rock (Aus) sells at the upcoming Book 2. A €175,000 purchase from the Aga Khan Studs draft at the 2010 Arqana December Mixed Sale, she is a full-sister to a pair of talented Ballydoyle performers in the G1 Irish Derby and G1 St Leger hero Capri (Ire) and the G3 Stanerra S. winner and G1 Irish Oaks and G1 QIPCO British Champions Fillies & Mares S.-placed Passion (Ire).

Allowed free rein on the lead in Friday’s G2 Al Basti Equiworld Dubai Joel S., Shadwell’s Mutasaabeq (GB) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}) was able to turn that tactical edge to full advantage as he made all under a perfectly-crafted Jim Crowley ride.

Sent off the 5-2 second favourite returning to the scene of his seven-furlong conditions success at last April’s Craven meeting which saw him earn ‘TDN Rising Star’ status, the Charlie Hills-trained son of Ghanaati (Giant’s Causeway)—who had subsequently been brought down to earth on several occasions including when a latest underwhelming fourth in Goodwood’s G2 Celebration Mile Aug. 27—was in his element from the outset as the 5-4 market-leader Tempus (GB) (Kingman {GB}) blew the start. Keeping on up the rise to the line, the homebred who was fitted with blinkers for the first time had 3/4 of a length to spare over El Drama (Ire) (Lope De Vega {Ire}), with the same margin back to Tempus in third.

“He had a nice easy time of it in front and he has won here twice before, so he obviously likes it." Hills said of the winner, whose previous best efforts were second placings in the Apr. 22 G2 Sandown Mile and the July 9 G2 Summer Mile at Ascot. “He’s in the [G2] Challenge S. in a couple of weeks, so we’ll see how he is. He’s run two mediocre races at Goodwood so probably won’t go back there again, while at Sandown he was a little unlucky. He’s a very sound horse and it’s nice to win a race like this with him.”

Ghanaati’s finest hour came over this course and distance for Barry Hills in the 2009 1000 Guineas, before she added the G1 Coronation S. to her tally at Royal Ascot and she was also second here in the G1 Sun Chariot S. Her son Wafy (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}) was successful in the G3 Mahab Al Shimaal, while she is also responsible for the Hunt Cup winner Afaak (GB) (Oasis Dream {GB}). The second dam Sarayir (Mr. Prospector), who also captured the Listed Oh So Sharp S. on this track, also supplied the sire Mawatheeq (Danzig) who ran second in the G1 Champion S. when it was staged here and Rumoush (Rahy) who took the Listed Feilden S. at the Craven meeting before running third in the Oaks.

Others from the illustrious family to have achieved something notable on the Rowley Mile include Maqaasid (GB) (Green Desert), who was third in the 1000 Guineas and G1 Cheveley Park S., Raheen House (Ire) (Sea The Stars {Ire}) who took the G3 Bahrain Trophy, Born With Pride (Ire) (Born To Sea {Ire}) who annexed the Listed Montrose Fillies S. on debut and one of its great celebrities Nashwan who had one of his many moments in the sun in the 2000 Guineas in 1989. Ghanaati’s 3-year-old colt Maghlaak (GB) (Muhaarar {GB}) promises to be at least a smart handicapper, having doubled his tally at the Goodwood track that his half-brother is so uneasy at earlier this month.

PEARL’S THE GIRL AT HQ

by Sean Cronin

Godolphin’s 3-year-old distaffer Eternal Pearl (GB) (Frankel (GB)--Pearly Steph (Fr) (SW-Fr), by Oasis Dream (GB)) has gone from strength to strength since failing to contend with Sea Silk Road (Ire) (Sea The Stars (Ire)) in Goodwood’s May 20 Listed Height Of Fashion S. and remained upwardly mobile with an impressive tally in Friday’s G3 Princess Royal Al Basti Equiworld, Dubai S. at Newmarket.

The July 16 Listed Aphrodite Fillies’ S. and Aug. 14 G3 Prix Minerve victrix broke from the gates as the 6-4 favourite and employed patient tactics in rear through the midway point of this 12-furlong launchpad. Sent forward inside the last half-mile, she quickened in style to initiate her pursuit of Peripatetic (GB) (Ulysses (Ire)) approaching the final furlong and bounded beyond that rival on the climb to the line for a 3/4-length success and a career high. Sea Silk Road kept on in the closing stages to finish 3 1/2 lengths further adrift in third.

“She’s a typical Frankel, she stays for fun and what we’ve done is let her develop to allow her to do what she is doing now,” said trainer Charlie Appleby. “She stays well and, when she hit the rising ground, she quickened visibly. It was always our idea to get some more confidence into her and we missed the [Sept. 11 G1 Prix Vermeille] to wait for this and then go [G1 British Champions] Fillies & Mares [at Ascot].”

Eternal Pearl is the third of four reported foals and one of two scorers from as many runners produced by Listed Prix des Lilas victrix Pearly Steph, herself a daughter of G3 Dirk Elbers-Preis winner Pearl Banks. Pearl Banks is out of G1 Prix Vermeille heroine Pearly Shells, herself a half-sister to GI Hollywood Turf Cup-winning sire Frenchpark (GB) (Fools Holme). Pearl Banks’s trio of black-type winners is completed by G1 Matron S. heroine Pearls Galore (Fr) (Invincible Spirit (Ire)) and G3 Grosser Preis der Mehl-Mulhens-Stiftung victrix Lucky Lycra (Ire) (Olympic Glory (Ire)). The April-foaled bay is half to a weanling colt by Belardo (Ire).

August’s G2 Debutante S. heroine also revisits the distance of Royal Ascot’s G3 Albany S., over which she outshone ‘TDN Rising Star’ Mawj (Ire) (Exceed And Excel (Aus)) and Sydneyarms Chelsea (Ire) (Sioux Nation), but opposition is deep and she must draw from the well once more.

Trillium Nearing Full Bloom

Richard Hannon resident Trillium (GB) (No Nay Never) has displayed plenty of zip in all four prior starts and embraces a return to six furlongs after annexing Goodwood’s G3 Molecomb and Doncaster’s G2 Flying Childers over five. She shed maiden status in style when tackling a downhill six at the Sussex track in July and her trainer expects a reboot to suit the April-foaled bay.

“She held the track record for a matter of minutes [after the Molecomb],” he revealed. “Then, at Doncaster, she beat the filly [The Platinum Queen] who beat her track record. I won this in 2014 with Tiggy Wiggy and she had a lot of speed, but Trillium has a lot of scope and only gets going a furlong out. I’ve always thought she wants six furlongs and I’m very hopeful.”

Blackbeard To Plunder More Booty

Saturday’s £275,000 G1 Juddmonte Middle Park S. is also blessed with quality and a field of eight will assemble for another dash across the final three-quarters of Newmarket’s Rowley Mile. Coolmore and Westerberg’s G3 Marble Hill and G2 Prix Robert Papin victor Blackbeard (Ire) (No Nay Never) will bid to become the ninth colt this century to have garnered France’s G1 Prix Morny en route to glory here, a list which includes former Ballydoyle luminary Johannesburg (Hennessy). The February-foaled bay, whose year-younger full-sister is catalogued as lot 93 on day one of Goffs forthcoming Orby sale, renews rivalry with Amo Racing’s ultra-consistent G2 July S. winner Persian Force (Ire) (Mehmas [Ire]), who ran second in the G1 Phoenix S. before occupying the same slot in the Morny. “I’m going in there with a horse we know is good enough,” insisted the latter’s trainer Richard Hannon. “He has lasted all year and he has proved himself at the top level. Blackbeard is a very good horse who probably beat us fair and square in France, but half a length is the sort of margin to have another go at him with. We have everything to gain and nothing to lose.”

Strength in depth is provided by Prix Morny third The Antarctic (Ire) (Dark Angel [Ire]), Godolphin’s G3 Sirenia S. winner Mischief Magic (Ire) (Exceed And Excel {Aus}), G2 Gimcrack S. runner-up Marshman (GB) (Harry Angel {Ire}) and impressive Yarmouth novice scorer Zoology (GB) (Zoustar {Aus}).

The Zousome Twosome

Widden Stud’s antipodean sire sensation Zoustar (Aus) (Northern Meteor {Aus}) has hit the ground running with his first Northern Hemisphere crop, striking for 11 individual winners headed by Marc Chan and Andrew Rosen’s G3 Princess Margaret S. victrix Lezoo (Ire). The €110,000 Arqana Breeze-Up graduate, whose lone defeat in four outings was a G2 Duchess of Cambridge second at the town’s summer venue, takes her place alongside nine for the G1 Juddmonte Cheveley Park.

Qatar Racing’s four-length debut winner Zoology (GB), who was a 90,000gns Tattersalls December foal and trainer James Ferguson’s first juvenile scorer of the campaign, doubles up for the sire and flies the Southern Cross in the G1 Juddmonte Middle Park. Bold shows from either, or both, should cap a fine week for the Tweenhills operation which recently revealed the G1 Golden Rose S. and G1 Coolmore Stud S. hero is to shuttle this way for the 2023 breeding season.

Earning Your Wings

Opening HQ’s seven-race programme, the one-mile G2 Juddmonte Royal Lodge S. has attracted a field of four, with the winner entitled to a fees-paid berth in the GI Breeders’ Cup Juvenile Turf at Keeneland in early November.

With three ‘TDN Rising Stars’, all subsequent multiple Group 1 winners, already in the race’s hall of fame--Jukebox Jury (Ire) (Montjeu {Ire}), Frankel (GB) (Galileo {Ire}) and Best Of Days (GB) (Azamour {Ire})--Godolphin’s Flying Honours (GB) (Sea The Stars [Ire]) qualifies as the only contender attempting to become a fourth such victor. He carries the best form into this test and ratified a 9 1/2-length demolition at Sandown in July with another daylight exhibition in last month’s Listed Stonehenge S. at Salisbury. Aidan O’Brien, on the lookout for a record-equalling eighth renewal, is represented by Roscommon maiden scorer Greenland (Ire) (Saxon Warrior {Jpn}).

Getting Two Little Ducks In A Row

Of the many records Aidan O’Brien does not track, none matches his vice-like grip on Saturday’s seven-runner G2 Alan Smurfit Memorial Beresford S. at the Curragh, with the modern maestro poised on an astonishing 21 wins in the one-mile juvenile test. Azamour (Ire) (Night Shift) and Sea The Stars (Ire) (Cape Cross {Ire}) are two of just four to have interrupted the sequence since Johan Cruyff (GB) (Danehill) set the ball rolling in 1996, that first win coming five years after the trainer’s namesake and original Ballydoyle denizen, Vincent, claimed the last of a then-record 15 with El Prado (Ire) (Sadler’s Wells).

In the quest for 22 overall and 12 straight, O’Brien has clipped his five-day entry of 21 down to two, Wayne Lordan taking the mount on this month’s G3 Prix des Chenes second Adelaide River (Ire) (Australia {GB}) and Emmet McNamara aboard last month’s landmark winner Continuous (Jpn) (Heart’s Cry {Jpn}).

Later on the Co. Kildare card is a €1,234,000 reincarnation of the Goffs Million, which appears at the mercy of Teme Valley Racing’s G3 Tyros S. runner-up and Listed Churchill S. winner Hellsing (Ire) (Dandy Man {Ire}) and Ballydoyle’s lone nominee Hiawatha (Ire) (Camelot {GB}).

Sunday Cracker In Store

Sunday’s European highlight is a mouthwatering edition of Cologne’s G1 60th Preis von Europa, with seven declared for a 12-furlong cracker at the Weidenpescher venue.

Bidding to follow in the hoofprints of last year’s champion Alpinista (GB) (Frankel {GB}), 2022’s star-studded cast includes this term’s G1 Deutsches Derby and G1 Bayerisches Zuchtrennen hero Sammarco (Ire) (Camelot {GB}), last season’s Deutsches Derby first and second Sisfahan (Fr) (Isfahan {Ger}) and Alter Adler (Ger) (Adlerflug {Ger}), respectively, Godolphin’s G1 Grosser Preis von Berlin victor Rebel’s Romance (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}) and G1 Bayerisches Zuchtrennen runner-up Amazing Grace (Ger) (Protectionist {Ger}).

MORE WILD CARDS ADDED TO ARC SALE

Officials at Arqana have announced the addition of three wild-card entries for the auction house’s upcoming Arc Sale, to be held on Saturday, Oct. 1, at Saint-Cloud.

Rocchigiani (GB) (Time Test {GB}) will go under the hammer as lot 43 next weekend. The Peter Schiergen trainee took out the G3 Zukunfts-Rennen at Baden last year and has retained winning form this term, with a runner-up effort to Maljoom (Ire) (Caravaggio) in the G2 Mehl-Muhlns Rennen (German 2000 Guineas) at Cologne before posting a 3/4-length success in the G3 Thoroughbred S. at Goodwood July 29. He is a half-brother to the stakes-winning and multiple group-placed Ross (Ire) (Acclamation {GB}).

Mister Saint Paul (Fr) (Dariyan {Fr}) will be offered by Etienne and Gregoire Leenders as lot 28. Currently rated 104, the 3-year-old closed out his juvenile campaign with an upset victory in the Listed Prix Isonomy last October and was a 21-1 chance when scooping the G3 Prix La Force at ParisLongchamp this past April.

The last of the trio is Jimmy Du Seuil (AQPS) (Fr) (Galiway {GB}), a half-brother to Fairyhouse Juvenile Hurdle winner Iberique De Seuil (AQPS) (Fr) (Spanish Moon {GB}).

Additional wild-entries are still being accepted.

Third in the G3 Red Sea Turf H. at Riyadh Feb. 26, the bay had disappointed when only eighth on his belated European return in the 11-furlong G3 Dubai Duty Free Legacy Cup at Newbury on Saturday. In rear initially before being snuck up the rail by William Buick, the homebred mastered the long-time leader Passion And Glory two out and was beyond recall as Without A Fight entered the fray.

“This horse had been leading Adayar in all his work, so we went to Newbury quietly confident,” Charlie Appleby said. “It was one of those strange-run races, as they went like the clappers and Adam [Kirby] sat out there stuck on the wing. We applied the cheekpieces this time and stuck him in behind and that brought out the best of him. He will probably come back out to Dubai again and join the team now.”

The dam, whose filly foal is by Ribchester (Ire), is out of the G3 Blue Wind S. scorer Galatea (Fr) (Galileo (Ire)) which makes her a half-sister to Dubawi’s G2 Hardwicke S. and G2 Yorkshire Cup scorer Dartmouth (GB) and to the G2 Grand Prix de Chantilly and G2 Prix du Conseil de Paris winner Manatee (GB) (Monsun (Ger)). Godolphin’s homebred ‘TDN Rising Star’ Life In Motion posted a runner-up finish tackling this trip in Chantilly’s June 5 G2 Prix de Sandringham to earn a first black-type rosette when last seen and justified even-money favouritism with a career-high win here. Positioned behind the leaders in fourth into the straight, who made continued headway to challenge with 300 metres remaining and kept on well under urging inside the final furlong to outlast Ataared with something to spare.

Life In Motion, the seventh of nine foals, is one of six winners from as many runners out of G1 Prix Saint-Alary victrix Wavering (Ire) (Refuse To Bend {Ire}), herself a half-sister to G1 Criterium de Saint-Cloud winner Mandaean (GB) (Manduro {Ger}) and G1 Fillies’ Mile third Winters Moon (Ire) (New Approach {Ire}). Successful in this when it still held group 3 status 12 months ago, Bear Story stepped down from a series of tough pattern-race assignments to re-establish his dominion in a competitive renewal. Peaking this year with a second in the G2 Mooresbridge S. at The Curragh May 2, the bay was returning from a freshener having last been seen finishing in the same spot in the nine-furlong G3 Meld S. at Leopardstown July 14. Always travelling with zest in third, he had to work to get the better of Freescape inside the final furlong but gave plenty to edge it close home.

NOT EVEN CLOSE (IRE) (f, 2, Zoustar {Aus}--Street Marie, by Street Cry (Ire)), who had won a course-and-distance barrier trial last month, quickly recovered from a tardy start to race in mid-pack. Delivered far side to lead approaching the furlong pole, the 4-1 shot held Perseids (More Than Ready) to score by a neck. “She has such a good attitude that even when she came here to a barrier trial, she had very little done at home. She did it very professionally that day as well,” rider Gavin Ryan said. “She’s probably just one with a good attitude and nothing really seems to faze her. I think she would be better suited by going further and she is probably a filly to get a bit of a trip next year.” The winner, who is the 11th in the Northern Hemisphere for her sire, hails from the Niarchos dynasty of Chimes Of Freedom et al. COOLANGATTA GRABS HER GROUP 1 IN MOIR

Coolangatta bests stablemate Bella Nipotina for a maiden Group 1 in Friday’s AJ Moir S. at The Valley | Bronwen Healy

by TDNAus/NZ

Star filly Coolangatta (Written Tycoon) translated the brilliance she showed as a 2-year-old into her Classic season, as she grabbed a much-deserved first Group 1 in the G1 AJ Moir S., continuing the impressive record for females in the top-flight contest.

In winning the race, which was elevated to elite status in 2013, Coolangatta continues the fine record for females in the Group 1 and becomes the 11th of her sex to win the contest in 21 runnings, joining the likes of Black Caviar (Bel Esprit), Samaready (More Than Ready {USA}), Viddora (I Am Invincible), Pippie (Written Tycoon) and She Will Reign (Manhattan Rain), who was the last 3-year-old filly to prevail in the Moonee Valley feature.

An impressive winner of the G3 Gimcrack S. and G3 BJ McLachlan S. last season, the daughter of Written Tycoon returned as a 3-year-old with a promising first-up run to finish third behind Rothfire (Rothesay) and Zoustyle (Zoustar) in the G2 McEwen S. earlier this month, a performance that left some lingering questions surrounding whether she had trained on.

However, she put any doubts to bed with her performance on Friday evening, shooting out of the stalls with Jamie Kah in the saddle.

After the filly began to draw clear in the straight, her stablemate Bella Nipotina (Pride Of Dubai) emerged from the pack and mounted a serious challenge, but just came up short, finishing 0.2l away in second.

Further back, the winner and runner-up’s stablemate Generation (Snitzel) ran a brilliant race to finish fourth.

Queensland raider Zoustyle finished third, while Coolangatta’s other G2 McEwen conqueror, Rothfire, had little luck in running and eventually came home in fifth.

Along with her brace of Group 3 wins as a juvenile, the daughter of Written Tycoon was also victorious in the R. Listed Magic Millions 2YO Classic, before running a good third in the G1 Golden Slipper S. on her final start as a 2-year-old.

Super Job

It was a first win in the race for Ciaron Maher and his training partner David Eustace and the former said he was delighted with the performance of all of his runners.

"It's fantastic. A super job by the team. It was her first run going this way the other day (in McEwan) and there were a lot of doubters that said, 'What are you putting a 3-year-old filly in a race like that against those hardened sprinters?'

"I was very confident in the horse and knew the way she pulled up the other day. I knew she had a tough run but she pulled up very well. She was very fit going into it," said Maher.

"It was a super ride by Jamie (Kah). There's not too many jockeys that can ride 50kg and ride as well as her at any weight.

"I thought she'd be sitting behind one, but she took the initiative, she took the luck out of the race. Full credit to the team. They have done a great job with her across the states and it's a massive thrill to get a horse this early in her career to win a Group 1 like that."

When asked if he thought Coolangatta could stretch out to 1200 metres, Maher said: "She probably can. There's not much she can't do, so around here again and I'm sure Jamie would like to ride her again. We'll see how she pull up, but it's a big tick and if she did nothing else this prep, she's a maturing filly and it was a big effort and a great thrill."

Maher confirmed that the runner-up, Bella Nipotina, would now head to the G1 Manikato S., having finished an agonising second in the Group 1 last season.

"Bella Nipotina put the writing on the wall as she loves The Valley. She had it up against her but Craig (Williams) knows her so well. Bring on the Manikato for her," he continued. Cont. p2

Coolangatta was purchased by the Maher team for $280,000 from the Milburn Creek draft at the Magic Millions Gold Coast Yearling Sale in 2021 and she is out of the winning More Than Ready (USA) mare Piping Hot.

Piping Hot herself is daughter of Group 2 winner Ribe (Danehill (USA)) meaning she is a half-sister to G1 Blue Diamond S. winner Reaan (Hussonet (USA)).

In 2022, Coolangatta’s half-sister by Dundeeel (NZ) was bought by Kennewell Racing, Group 1 Bloodstock (FBAA) and Trilogy for $300,000 at the Inglis Australian Easter Yearling Sale and this season she has foaled a sister to Coolangatta.

With Coolangatta’s victory in the Group 1, Written Tycoon’s total Group 1-winning haul has now moved to 12 and she is the second elite-level bred on the Written Tycoon/More Than Ready cross, with La Luna Rossa being the other.

Yulong Stud-based sire Written Tycoon is currently covering his 16th book of mares at a fee of $165,000 (inc GST).
