CATALOGUE FOR FASIG-TIPTON'S THE NOVEMBER SALE ONLINE

A total of 299 main-catalogue entries—the largest in the history of the sale—have been taken for Fasig-Tipton's The November Sale, the auction house's boutique mixed sale, to be held in Lexington, Kentucky, Sunday, Nov. 6, beginning at 1 p.m., one hour earlier than last year’s 2 p.m. start in order to accommodate the extra volume of offerings.

“The Fasig-Tipton November Sale annually offers the highest concentration of quality breeding stock in the world, and this year’s catalogue more than lives up to that billing,” said Fasig-Tipton President Boyd Browning, Jr. “We have 56 graded stakes winners or producers catalogued, 23 of which are Grade 1. Included among these are Eclipse champions, international champions, Breeders’ Cup winners, a dual Royal Ascot winner and three Kentucky Oaks winners.”

The sale kicks off with a selection of 180 weanlings, including the offspring of first-crop weanling sires Authentic, Complexity, Game Winner, Gift Box, Global Campaign, Higher Power, Honor A. P., Improbable, Instagrand, McKinzie, Spun to Run, Thousand Words, Tiz the Law, Tom’s d’Etat, Vekoma, Volatile, and War of Will.

OFFIELD SADDLES FINAL WINNER FROM HEREAFTER

Statistically speaking, Northern Rose (Northern Causeway), a 6-year-old chestnut mare with a 4-for-32 claiming-level record, was hardly the star of the stable for trainer Duane Offield, who died Sept. 29 after a long fight with cancer. But the 82-year-old conditioner took an outsized shine to her anyway.

“This catalogue is as deep in quality as it is internationally diverse,” continued Browning. “Nearly 80% of the racing and broodmare offerings are either a black-type winner or the dam of a black-type winner, providing buying opportunities at a variety of price levels. I think it’s one of the strongest if not the strongest November catalogue we have ever assembled. There is great depth amongst the mares and foals and fillies coming off the racetrack. It is unquestionably the strongest group of weanlings we have ever had, from a quality and quantity standpoint. In the Fasig-Tipton tradition, we will continue to accept quality supplements up until the sale.”

The catalogue may now be viewed online, including Fasig-Tipton’s popular Enhanced Catalogue. The Enhanced Catalogue provides up-to-date catalogue pages, Daily Racing Form past performances, and race replays; an Alan Porter pedigree analysis and five-cross pedigrees for all racing/broodmare prospects and broodmares; stallion register pages for all sires of weanlings and covering sires; as well as other tools to aid prospective buyers. All Grade 1-winning females off the track or carrying their first foals will also be profiled with individual feature videos.

Print catalogues will be available by Thursday, Oct. 6. The catalogue will also be available via the Equineline sales catalogue app. Online bidding and phone bidding will be available.

“For the good horses, there are still plenty of people trying to buy them,” said Legion Bloodstock’s Kristian Villante after making the day’s highest bid. “You kind of have a polarized market here with a lot of the state-breds who are here.”

Bloodstock agent Tom McCrocklin purchased the second yearling to bring six figures during the session when going to $140,000 to acquire a colt by Girvin.

“The market is reflective of the horses,” McCrocklin said. “There is a lot of picking and choosing. But if you bring a good one in here, there is plenty of money.”

The Fasig-Tipton Midlantic sale concludes with a final session beginning at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

Uncle Mo Filly Draws a Crowd

A filly by Uncle Mo (hip 158) was the highlight of the first session of the Fasig-Tipton Midlantic Fall Yearlings Sale when bringing a final bid of $320,000 from Kristian Villante of Legion Bloodstock. The yearling is out of stakes winner Andina (Ire) (Singspiel {Ire}) and is a half-sister to graded winner Andina Del Sur (Giant’s Causeway). She was consigned by Scott Mallory on behalf of Matt Dorman’s Determined Stud.

“We bought her for a group of guys who have been with us for a long time,” said Villante. “She has a beautiful physical and she comes from a very good program--they are building a great broodmare band. She just kind of stuck out here.”

Of the Maryland-bred filly’s final price tag, Villante said, “We kind of thought she would be in that $300,000 range, so it was a touch more than we were thinking, but it was in the ballpark.”

Villante said a trainer was still to be determined for the filly. “We will let the guys figure it out,” he said. “She will go with Travis [Durr] to the training center and get broke there and go from there.”

Dorman purchased Andina, with this filly in utero, for $200,000 at the 2020 Fasig-Tipton November sale. “She’s been a great horse from the beginning, so it’s great to see her go to some really good folks,” he said. “We are really happy with that result.”

Determined Stud, originally based in Dorman’s home state of Maryland, set up shop in Kentucky last winter with the purchase of the former Sierra Farm. But a certain number of broodmares will remain in Maryland, according to Dorman. “We will foal a certain number in Maryland every year,” he said. “So some are in Kentucky and some are in Maryland. We have a couple more big ones that are coming every year.”

Mendelssohn Again Popular in Timonium

Mendelssohn, who had the top two lots at last year’s Fasig-Tipton Midlantic sale, was again well-represented in Timonium Monday with Country Life Farm going to $155,000 to acquire a filly by the Coolmore stallion (hip 157) shortly after Cary Frommer went to $145,000 to acquire a colt (hip 119) by the half-brother to leading sire Into Mischief. Both yearlings were consigned by Northview Stallion Station.

Hip 157 is out of stakes winner Amie’s Legend (Not For Love) and is a half-sister to stakes winner Ghoul’s Night Out (Ghostzapper) and was bred by Two Legends Farm and Sycamore Hall Thoroughbreds.

Hip 119, who RNA’d for $145,000 at the Fasig-Tipton Saratoga sale in August, was bred by David Wade. He is out of Undisputed Legend (Domestic Dispute) and is a half-brother to multiple stakes winner Whereshetoldmetogo (El Padrino).

“He was a heckuva lot of horse,” Frommer said after signing the ticket on the pinhook prospect while sitting alongside Ellen Charles. “I just liked his attitude at the barn. He acted like he was special.”

Last year’s Midlantic sale topper, a colt by Mendelssohn also consigned by Northview Stallion Station, resold for $1.3 million at this year’s OBS April sale. Cont. p8

He had a little bit of a slow start, but he started picking up at the end of Saratoga and I think they are going to be better 3-year-olds,” Frommer said of the stallion. “And that family--where do you get that kind of family?”

Frommer came back later in the session to purchase a filly by Mitole (hip 172) for $75,000 and also purchased a colt by Nyquist (hip 181) for $150,000 after the yearling, consigned by Becky Davis, was originally led out unsold.

Mens Grille Strikes for Honor Code Filly

David and Lori Hughes, bidding out back, made the first six-figure bid of the Fasig-Tipton Midlantic Fall Yearlings Sale when going to $125,000 to secure a daughter of Honor Code (hip 84) from the Chanceland Farm consignment. The yearling, bred by Katherine Voss, is out of Tanca (Polish Numbers) and is a half-sister to this year's GIII General George S. winner Cordmaker (Curlin).

“We bought the filly largely because of Cordmaker. She was one of the ones I liked coming in,” David Hughes said. “And we know Katie. She takes care of a lot of our horses.”

Hughes said the filly's final price wasn't a surprise, but he added, “We weren't going any higher.”

The Hugheses have been racing under the Mens Grille banner since 2013 and have been represented by stakes winners Enchanted Ghost (Ghostzapper)--acquired by the couple from the Chanceland Farm consignment at this same sale in 2016--and Ghoul's Night Out (Ghostzapper).

While the Hugheses don't breed, the filly's potential future value as a broodmare impacted the purchase.

“One of the attractive factors about her is her residual value as a broodmare,” Lori Hughes said.

McCrooklin continued, “It’s a very strong market. It's hard to buy horses and it's particularly hard to buy Girvins.”

Girvin Colt Destined for Resale

A colt by popular freshman sire Girvin will likely be appearing in a sales ring next spring after Tom McCrooklin purchased the yearling (hip 101) for $140,000 on behalf of Michael Sucher's Champion Equine during Monday's first session of the Fasig-Tipton Midlantic sale in Timonium. Consigned by Vinery Sales, the colt is out of the unraced Tiz Possible (Tiznow), a daughter of champion Proud Spell (Proud Citizen).

“He's by Girvin from a very good female family,” McCrooklin said of the colt's appeal. “He's a good-balanced colt. I think he has a lot of room to improve. And the plan would be to resell him at the 2-year-old sales.”

The New York-bred yearling was bred by Mary Lester and his dam was purchased while carrying the colt for $5,500 at the 2020 Keeneland November sale by Erin Fisher.

Girvin, who began his stud career at Ocala Stud in Florida, is relocating to Airdrie Stud for 2023. From his first crop to race, he has been represented this year by GII Saratoga Special winner Damon's Mound, as well as two other stakes winners.

“They are winning races,” McCrooklin said of Girvin. “He's moved from Ocala Stud to Airdrie, so I expect he is going to get better mares and I expect, with the better mares, he will be a proven, solid stallion.”

LEON SUSPENDED FOR RIDE ON RICH STRIKE
by Bill Finley

The Churchill Downs stewards have suspended jockey Sonny Leon 15 days for his controversial ride on second-place finisher Rich Strike (Keen Ice) in Saturday's GII Lukas Classic S.

The head-on view of the race clearly showed Leon leaning into jockey Tyler Gaffalione on winner Hot Rod Charlie (Oxbow) and he appeared to elbow his rival rider.

In a ruling issued Sunday, the stewards determined that Leon was guilty of "intentionally attempting to interfere with and impede the progress of a rival by repeatedly making physical contact with another rider in the stretch."

Leon did not respond to a text message from the TDN seeking comment.

At about the time that Rich Strike started to come over and jostle with Hod Rod Charlie, it appeared that Leon's saddle might have slipped, which could have caused him to lose balance. Rich Strike's trainer, Eric Reed, told Horse Racing Nation that Leon told him his saddle did in fact slip.

"Sonny said the saddle loosened to the left," Reed told the website. "He said, 'I started to lose my balance. The saddle slipped over and made me lean to the left.' If that doesn't happen, we win the race."

Rich Strike passed Hot Rod Charlie a few jumps before the wire and appeared to have the race won, but Hot Rod Charlie surged again in the final strides to win by a head.

Several pundits took to Twitter to claim that Rich Strike would have won if not for the incident and that Leon cost his mount the race. Retired jockey and TV analyst Richard Migliore tweeted: "After watching the Lukas classic numerous times @SONNYLEON1 cost Rich Strike the win by pulling him over to Hot Rod Charlie and putting his elbow into @Tyler_Gaff instead of going forward and driving to the wire. When does this BS stop? It's horse racing not jockey racing. Enough."

Leon's suspension is for 15 racing days and begins Oct. 9 and runs through Oct. 29.

Leon's greatest moment came in the GI Kentucky Derby when the jockey, who was largely unknown outside the Ohio circuit, guided Rich Strike to victory and was widely praised for his ride.
NY AMENDS LICENSING REQUIREMENTS FOR JOCKEY AGENTS by T.D. Thornton

The New York State Gaming Commission (NYSGC) on Monday unanimously voted to change the licensing procedure for jockey agents by removing the long-standing requirement for an applicant to have been previously licensed as an exercise rider, jockey, assistant trainer or trainer for at least one year.

The change now allows the stewards to determine whether an applicant is qualified based on experience, background and knowledge.

TDN first reported on this restrictive practice in 2020, describing the then-current version of the rule as "arbitrary, insular and protectionist, ensuring that the path of many bright young people trying to get into the sport will be blocked, and that only insiders can play."

The NYSGC also unanimously approved a second rule change that eliminates the need for jockeys to be weighed with muzzles, martingales and breastplates. Florida, Kentucky, California, and other states had long ago dropped weighing requirements related to that type of equipment.

A voided claim adjudication from the recent Saratoga Race Course meet was also on the Oct. 3 agenda.

Commissioner Peter Moschetti Jr. had been designated by the NYSGC to decide the matter and affirmed that the Aug. 24 decision by the Saratoga stewards to void the $25,000 claim of Lil Commissioner (Field Commission) from the eighth race would be upheld.

The appeal to try and get the claim to stand was brought by Lil Commissioner's then-owners, Sanford Goldfarb and Alan Khan (trainer Philip Antonacci). Lil Commissioner ran fifth, beaten 11 1/4 lengths that day. Neither the testimony at Monday's commission meeting nor the Equibase chart for the race state which owner and trainer had dropped the claim that was voided.

Executive director Robert Williams read into the record that Moschetti determined that the stewards had voided the claim "after personnel at the test barn dismissed Lil Commissioner in the mistaken belief that the horse had not been claimed. Commissioner Moschetti determined that although the appellants were not at fault, the stewards did not abuse their discretion in voiding the claim, since the horse had left the test barn before being examined by a state veterinarian as required...and had been briefly out of the presence of commission officials..."

Although it was not discussed at Monday's meeting, Lil Commissioner subsequently was entered and claimed for $16,000 at Aqueduct Racetrack Sept. 17. He was eased to last in that race, beaten 48 1/2 lengths. Trainer Antonio Arriaga dropped the claim slip on behalf of owner The Players Group.

OFFIELD SADDLES A FINAL WINNER--FROM THE HEREAFTER by T.D. Thornton

Statistically speaking, Northern Rose (Northern Causeway), a 6-year-old chestnut mare with a 4-for-32 claiming-level record, was hardly the star of the stable for trainer Duane Offield, who died Sept. 29 after a long fight with cancer. But the 82-year-old conditioner took an outsized shine to her anyway. A homebred for one of his most dedicated clients, Northern Rose had been in Offield's care since she began her career 3 1/2 years ago, and she enjoyed a prime stall under Offield's Golden Gate Fields shedrow, not far from his office so he could keep a watchful and prideful eye on her. Offield, a kind-hearted and soft-spoken mainstay on the Northern California circuit for parts of seven decades, chiseled out a reputation as an old-ways trainer who preferred to let his horses do the talking for him. He probably would have downplayed it had he been alive to witness it, but the performance of Northern Rose in the third race at Golden Gate on Saturday spoke volumes in terms of good karma.

Northern Rose had been entered by Offield in the Oct. 1 $5,000 claiming route prior to his passing. He wasn't able to make it out to the track near the end of his life, but still looked forward to managing his horses. So when the darling of his barn charged home from the back of the pack to win by two lengths at 17-1, her score put a spiritual exclamation point on Offield's life as a horseman by giving him one final official victory after his death.

You could say that Northern Rose sent Offield out a winner. But those who knew him had long ago figured out Offield was all class, regardless of where his horses finished.

"I don't know that I've ever met anyone so selfless. He was a man from a different time. He just was the epitome of somebody who never put himself first," Rozamund Barclay, Northern Rose's owner and breeder, told TDN a few hours after Saturday's emotional win.

"With Duane, everything was about the horses. It didn't matter if it was a $2,500 claimer or a stakes horse. They all got lots of attention. He felt very privileged that he got to make his living doing what he loved to do. He never forgot that. He was so grateful that his entire adult life, he got to do what he wanted--being with horses," Barclay said.

"He loved his crew, too. That was his family. The same people worked for him for years. We were talking [Saturday] about an exercise rider, who, when he was 15 or 16, Duane helped him get special permission to gallop horses at that age. That exercise rider has got to be close to 60 now. Duane had that quality about him that made people want to work for him, and people stayed loyal and wanted to keep working for him.

"He got so many young people to go through his barn. John Sadler worked for him. So did Kim and Sean McCarthy. There are probably a lot of people that worked for him that I'm not aware of. It's a rare person where nobody has anything negative to say about him," Barclay said.

Barclay lives not far from Emerald Downs in Auburn, Washington, and also owns Northern Rose's sire, Northern Causeway. She keeps racetrack retirees at her home and her broodmares and Northern Causeway at Rancho San Miguel in California. She first began sending horses to Offield in 2014 after her previous California-based trainer took sick and recommended Offield as the person he'd want to look after his stock. Since then she's kept a stable of between 10 and 15 horses with Offield, and Barclay said they meshed well as owner and trainer because Offield treated her horses as individuals with their own development timetables.

"He liked the old-school ways. He liked horses to be hand-walked, a lot of hands-on attention, that kind of thing. And it's getting real hard to do that, as you well know. Trainers' expenses are going up and up and up, and owners can only afford to pay so much. So it's a lot to hand-walk all your horses, do them all up every day, all of that. But Duane seemed to manage to do that."

Originally from Prosser, Washington, Offield studied animal husbandry at California State Polytechnic University prior to embarking on a racetrack career in the late 1960s, first with Quarter Horses and later Thoroughbreds. His lifetime statistics predate Equibase records that go back as far as 1976, but since that date Offield amassed 722 winners and just over $10 million in purse earnings.

Offield went nearly two decades into his career before he trained and owned a piece of a horse that might break through on the national scene as a Triple Crown candidate. In 1989, a raw speedster named Restless Con (Restless Native) won three of his first four races as a 2-year-old in NorCal. But the colt developed a life-threatening virus shortly after turning three that knocked him out of contention for the GI Kentucky Derby preps.

Offield nursed Restless Con back to health, and after winning two minor Golden Gate stakes and finishing second in the then-GII Ohio Derby, he ambitiously shipped the $17,000 KEESSEP roan cross-country to Monmouth Park for the GI Haskell Invitational. Dismissed at 10-1 in the betting as a California speedball in a race laden with classy East Coast contenders, jockey Tim Doocy broke on top but then unexpectedly rated Restless Con off the pace, orchestrating a 2 1/4-length upset.

Restless Con then finished twelfth in the GI Travers S. and ninth in the then-GI Super Derby. Offield brought the colt back to his NorCal base, where Restless Con won only one more race before retiring in 1992. Offield might have pinned his hopes on developing additional top-level talent in the decades to come, but that Haskell win would stand as his one and only graded stakes victory.

Fast forward to this season. With Offield unable to attend to daily doings at the track because of his illness, his record slumped to 4-for-75 for the year going into last Saturday's race. As he knew his life was coming to a close, his concerns shifted from winning races to making sure his racetrack family was positioned to be taken care of once he died.

"That's the kind of person he was. It's kind of hard to explain," Barclay said. "But one of the things that kept him going was that he had a wonderful crew that stayed in contact with him. He was bedridden towards the end, but he never stopped putting his energy into running the stable.

"Even the day he passed away, he was concerned about the welfare of his horses, especially some of the ones that he's campaigned for a long time, wanting to make sure they all went on to good careers. I think all horsemen try to do the best by the horses they train. But it was his nature to be more worried about the kids that worked for him and the horses than himself."

Barclay said Northern Rose prefers running outside of horses, so it was a bit of a bummer when she drew the rail for the mile race. She added that Offield was not the type of trainer to over-instruct his riders, but she knew he would have told jockey Armando Ayuso to get to the outside for one clear stretch bid if possible, and those were the instructions given by assistant trainer Jorge Bautista when he gave a leg up to Ayuso on Saturday.

Northern Rose broke to the back, settled on the inside and was content to stalk midpack in fifth before edging closer to the dueling leaders 4 1/2 furlongs out. She quickened her cadence through the far bend, and when Ayuso swung the mare out to the four path turning for home, Northern Rose responded gamely.

What was unfolding might not have immediately resonated with the general public. But Barclay said the backstretch folks watching from track side knew what was in the making, and a noticeable buzz began to swell on the grandstand apron.

"Northern Rose outside has hit the lead coming to the sixteenth pole!" announcer Matt Dinerman intoned, punctuating his call with enthusiasm in deep stretch. "Northern Rose starting to open up on the competition for Duane Offield! And how about this? Northern Rose at 17-1!"

As Barclay put it, "If you were part of the backside community, you could hear the excitement when Northern Rose was coming down the stretch; even a little astonishment in Matt Dinerman's voice. And I think it just kind of made everybody's day."

Asked what was going through her mind in the winner's circle ceremony, Barclay said the scene was a bit too emotional for her to put into words. Then she attempted to explain it anyway, her voice only briefly cracking with sentiment before continuing strongly.

"I can't tell you how well loved he was. Everybody on the backstretch knew Duane. Everybody on the racetrack knew if they needed help, that they could go to him. He just had that upbringing that you didn't deny someone any help if you were able to help them," Barclay said.

While she was processing all of that after giving Northern Rose an affectionate rub on the nose and briefly hugging with Bautista, Ayuso and another member of Offield's team, Barclay said the phone rang near the weighing-in scale. The stewards wanted to speak with her, a racing official told Barclay, who said her first thought was, "What did I do now?"

The stewards, though, simply wanted to express a shared sense of wonderment at what had just transpired.

"The stewards were very sweet," Barclay said. "They asked me, 'Wow, do you believe that?' And I said, 'No!' What a great sendoff for Duane. I can't think of a better sendoff. He was an extremely private person, but there was always that common thread—he loved the horses and everybody knew that," Barclay said.

WOODBINE AFTERCARE DAY TO FEATURE TAA

For the second consecutive year, the Thoroughbred Aftercare Alliance (TAA) will be promoted at Woodbine Racetrack’s Aftercare Day Oct. 8. TAA will be recognized throughout the race day, including in the presentation of the GII Nearctic S. Patrons can support the organization during a day of racing that includes jockey pledges and TAA Best Turned Out Horse Awards. Riders will have the opportunity to designate their earnings to the TAA for any races won Saturday, Oct. 8. The Thoroughbred Aftercare Alliance Best Turned Out Horse Awards will be conducted in conjunction with the five stakes races on the card and are sponsored by Josham Farms Limited.

“Aftercare of retired racehorses is a vital component of the sport and important to the team at Woodbine,” said Chief Executive Officer of Woodbine Entertainment Group, Jim Lawson. “We are honored to welcome the Thoroughbred Aftercare Alliance to the second installment of Woodbine Aftercare Day. Last year was a great success and we look forward to working with the TAA again.”

O-Novogratz Racing Stables Inc.; B-Christopher Shellie, Maspath
    Stables & Steve Dallalis (KY); T-Glenn S. Wismer. $10,000.
Also Ran: Grand Oak (Ire), Justa Warrior, Jill Jitterbug, Bel
    Pensiero, Damaso, Elsa’s Rocket. Scratched: Anotherdaygoneby,

Back to Ohio, a first-out graduate when hammered to 4-5 going five furlongs over this track June 23, finished a narrow second in the Ohio-bred Jim Morgan Memorial Tah Dah S. over the Belterra slop July 8 before later being elevated to the victory when the winner tested positive for a banned substance.
Cruising to a 5 1/2-length score in the Miss Ohio S. Aug. 13 at Thistledown, the $385,000 OBS April buy was made the 11-10 chalk to remain unbeaten while back in open company here and broke inwardly. Quickly corrected, the chestnut led narrowly through a :22.81 quarter and found some daylight traveling in hand past a :45.81 half. Drawing clear into the lane, she switched leads on cue and never faced an anxious moment from there, coasting in 2 1/2 lengths to the good of A Nite in Cairo.
The winner's dam, a half-sister to Ohio-bred millionaire Rivers Run Deep (Ready's Image), is responsible for a yearling gelding by Danza and was bred back to winner's sire this spring. Click for 6 1/2 lengths.

PRESENT TIME (f, 2, Carpe Diem--I Know That Mom, by Distorted Humor), given a 33-10 chance in this career bow, broke slowly before rushing up to take charge through a :23.06 quarter. Shaking off a pair of challengers on the turn and edging away past a :47.55 half, the $40,000 Keeneland September grad poured it on in the stretch under little to no urging for a sharp
   6 1/2-length success. The Steelman (Dialed In) was another
   4 1/2 lengths clear for the place. The winner's second is MGSS/GISP Tar Heel Mom (Flatter), a half-sister to GSW
   Scrappy T (Fit to Fight), who famously almost caused Afleet Alex
   (Northern Afleet) to go down before finishing second in the GI Preakness S. Her unraced dam has a yearling Speightstown colt who sold for $210,000 at KEESEP and produced a colt by Improbable this season before visiting Global Campaign. Sales

Cordon Rouge (f, 3, American Pharoah--Champagne Room (Ch. 2yo Filly, GISW-US, $1,490,600), by Broken Vow) was an impressive maiden winner over nine furlongs of this track May 7 and was making her first start since finishing well down the field in her first go against winners at Hanshin June 18. Drawn gate 12 in a field of 14, the 5-2 favorite broke alertly and easily cleared her inside rivals to lead them into the first turn at an even clip. Niggled along passing the 600-meter marker, the bay filly responded when set down in upper stretch and was never threatened in scoring by three lengths. A $70,000 KEENOVAR weanling turned $310,000 OBS April breezer, Champagne Room won the 2016 GI Sorrento S. and was third in the GI Del Mar Debutante before upsetting that year's GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies at 33-1. Victorious in the Remington Park Oaks at three, the filly was acquired by the Yoshida family and visited this sire in her first year at stud. Champagne Room was covered by Justify and then exported to Japan, where she foaled a colt now named Epulchage (Jpn) last March. Her 2021 produce, a colt by Kizuna (Jpn), was purchased for the equivalent of $426,379 at this year's JRHA Selected Sale by DMM.com, the syndicate that raced Eclipse Award winner Loves Only You (Jpn) (Deep Impact (Jpn)). Champagne Room's 3-year-old half-brother Fidele (Jpn) (Heart's Cry (Jpn)) cost nearly $1.8 million as a yearling and was Group 3-placed at two last season. Lifetime Record: 4-2-1-0, $110,939. OCTOBER BOOK 1: 'THE CREAM OF THE CROP'

NEWMARKET, UK -- It is going to require a Herculean effort to plunder the best of what is on offer at Tattersalls, according to leading bloodstock agent Alex Elliott who, on the eve of the eagerly-anticipated Book 1 session, described the stock on offer as being "the cream of the crop".

With Sheikha Hissa Hamdan Al Maktoum, Aidan O’Brien, John Gosden, Yoshito Tahagi, Chad Brown and a host of American and foreign buyers in attendance at Newmarket on Monday, Elliott is expecting more mayhem in the sales ring this week.

Elliott, who spent almost £4 million on 13 horses at Book 1 alone last year, said, "There's a hell of a selection. It will be very hard to buy them. People have been talking about this sale for a while and I think it's going to be every bit of what people were expecting and more."

He added, "I'm buying for a domestic person so it's going to be hard for me to buy exactly what I want. It's always hard to buy what you want but it's going to be even harder this time. Between the prize-money, the weakness of the pound and the amount of people here--it just won't add up as well for us as it will for the Americans for example. That's going to make things extremely difficult.

KIRSTEN RAUSING: 'THERE WERE A LOT OF TEARS SHED' By Emma Berry

On Sunday, Kirsten Rausing and Sir Mark Prescott achieved the impossible in uniting racing’s participants in joy at the victory of Alpinista (GB) (Frankel {GB}) in the Prix de l’Arc de Triomphe.

For Prescott, Newmarket’s longest-serving trainer now in his 53rd season with a licence, it was a moment that brought a tear to his eye as the witty one-liners for which he is famous gave way to pure emotion. For Rausing, too, who has painstakingly developed a broodmare band of significant international note over more than four decades at her Lanwades Stud, the five-year-old mare’s resounding success at ParisLongchamp was a moment of extreme satisfaction.

"There’s more American buyers here than I have ever seen before. There are people here who I don’t even recognise. This is the cream of the crop. They are the best turf horses that get brought to the market in Europe, if not the world, and it’s going to be a challenge."

The yearlings assembled at Tattersalls also came in for high praise from leading Irish trainer Paddy Twomey, who is expecting the demand for young stock to soar this week.

He said, "Tattersalls have attracted a lovely bunch of horses and you’d imagine that the strong trade from Goffs can carry over into the next two weeks."

A mouse in a room full of hawks would have enjoyed a more peaceful afternoon than Sir Mark Prescott did at Tattersalls with the local legend met with a hero’s welcome after Sunday’s Arc heroics achieved with Alpinista (GB) (Frankel {GB}).

Concurring with Elliott, the in-demand trainer said, "The stock is very good. It’s a strong catalogue—we’ll be short of money but we’ve enjoyed seeing them!"

He added on the reception, "My team are quite unhappy with me as we are taking too long and not seeing enough yearlings. I’ve had nothing but trouble! Too many ‘thank yous’ and ‘not at alls’ and so on. It’s been marvellous.

"I’m very surprised by the reception. It’s been extraordinary. It was just a great day and everything went right. I was saying to Aidan [O’Brien] that, if I hadn’t trained the winner, I’d have enjoyed watching the race as she always seemed to be so well-placed. It just went perfectly well."

Barton Stud Bring A Big Draft

He may be one of the youngest stud managers in Britain but that infectious enthusiasm should stand Tom Blain in good stead as Barton Stud offer 22 yearlings in Book 1.

It is one thing bringing a big draft and something altogether different to offer up quality and, with two colts and a filly by Frankel (GB), a filly by Dubawi (Ire) and a filly and a colt apiece by the great Galileo (Ire) among the 22 on offer, expectations are high.

Blain said, "All of the right people are here and it was lovely to see Sheikha Hissa looking at a few of our yearlings and I understand Sheikh Mohammed is coming. There are plenty of people here from America as well so there's huge interest."

He added, "The pound is as weak as it's been for a while so, while that's not great for the country, it will help buyers. People vote with their pocket. You’d like to think that there are plenty of people who still have plenty to buy and that they will get stuck in so let's hope there's enough horses to go around."

Barton has already earned a reputation as a proven source of top-notch talent with recent G2 May Hill S. winner Polly Pott (GB) (Muhaarar (GB)) the latest graduate.

Not only is this Barton’s biggest draft of yearlings to offer up at public auction but the 34-year-old thinks it’s the best.

He said, "I am really pleased with our draft. I've never sold anything by Galileo before and we've got a Dubawi filly who is very nice. There are three Frankels as well, one of which is particularly nice, and he sells on the last day [lot 436].

"This is what we do it for, isn't it? Try and be here competing at the top level and, most important of all, let's hope they go on and become good racehorses."

Tally-Ho Out To Build On Dream Results

Whether it's buying, breezing or consigning, Tally-Ho Stud has an unrelenting ability to produce top-class winners, further evidence of which was seen on Sunday when homebred The Platinum Queen (Ire) (Cotai Glory (GB)) became the first juvenile since 1978 to win the G1 Prix de l'Abbaye.

She also became an important first at the highest level for the stud's up-and-coming sire Cotai Glory, not that Sunday's victory came as much of a surprise to Roger O'Callaghan, who is keen to build on the momentum with a 15-strong draft to offer this week.

Trained by Richard Fahey and ridden to that momentous victory by Hollie Doyle, The Platinum Queen was bred and then breezed by the team at Tally-Ho, realising 57,000gns at the Tattersalls Guineas Breeze-up Sale last year.

Her success comes hot on the heels of the G1 Cheveley Park S. heroine Lezoo (GB) (Zoustar (Aus)) and G2 Beresford S. hero Crypto Force (GB) (Time Test (GB)), both of whom were breezed by Tally-Ho. Cont. p5

"It's the pinnacle, isn't it?" O'Callaghan says, nonchalantly. "You want to be good at your job, don't you? It's very satisfying but, today's headlines are tomorrow's fish and chips papers and we're concentrating on this week. But it's gratifying and, also, it's good for the breeze-ups as well."

He added, "All I want to do is sell good horses. Lezoo was a very nice filly with a bad front leg. She just looked like she'd run and she did. I liked the Red Clubs (Ire) mare in the pedigree as well and she'd a great temperament.

"In fairness to Dad [Tony], he bred the dam of The Platinum Queen and he got 460,000gns from Niarchos. She didn't turn out to be much good but he bought her back for nine grand and this is the first foal out of her. Richard Fahey and Robin O'Reyan have done a fabulous job with her."

Crypto Force represented something of a different theme for the Tally-Ho team when landing the G2 Beresford S. over a mile at the Curragh last month.

However, that victory, according to O'Callaghan, proves that the renowned producers of equine talent can cater for every market, which could be seen with John Gosden, Kevin Ryan, Michael Donohoe and Mr Zhang, Hugo Palmer and Alice Haynes all busy inspecting the stock on Monday.

O'Callaghan said, "Crypto Force was satisfying. He was a good-looking horse and I told everyone to buy him. Michael O'Callaghan out-bid Federico Barberini and the rest is history.

"He's a different type of beast for us but we try to cater for everyone we can. We've a lot of races that we haven't sold the winner of."

"It was a marvellous, marvellous day for all of us, and there is a big team that has achieved this, but it will still take some time to sink in," said the owner-breeder on Monday morning as she continued to wade through messages of congratulation before turning her attention to the October Yearling Sale at Tattersalls.

"Of course it was marvellous to see this crowning achievement of Sir Mark's fantastic career as well. We hardly needed a plane coming home," she added of the man who has trained her homebreds for 35 years, including Alpinista's dam Alwilda (GB) (Hernando {Fr}) and grand-dam, the treble Group 1 winner Albanova (GB) (Alzao).

Until Sunday, it would likely have been Albanova's full-sister, the dual Champion S. winner Alborada (GB), who held the top spot in Rausing's affections but the fellow grey mare, also trained by Prescott, will now be vying for that honour with her relation Alpinista, whose Arc victory was her sixth consecutive Group 1 win and ensured that she has remained unbeaten for two years.

It would be hard to find anyone in the breeding business who can speak with more authority and depth of pedigree knowledge than the Swedish-born Rausing. Her association with Alpinista's family started in 1985 when she purchased her fourth dam Alruccaba (Ire) Crystal Palace (Fr)) from the Aga Khan in partnership with her great friend Sonia Rogers of Airlie Stud, where Rausing spent some of her formative years working in the bloodstock business. Needless to say, it was no accident that Rausing ended up with a mare who would go on to have such a profound influence on her broodmare band and is also the ancestress of this season’s St Leger winner Eldar Eldarov (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}).

"When I was a schoolgirl my grandfather taught me about pedigrees," she recalled. "We started with dairy cattle and gun dogs and then we proceeded to thoroughbred horses, of which he knew nothing but he was very interested in their pedigrees and [books such as] Sir Charles Leicester’s Breeding a Racehorse. The hero of anyone interested in breeding was the old Aga Khan--Lady Josephine (GB), Mumtaz Mahal (GB) and all that--and so it was through study of the old books and these wonderful fillies that I always thought that this family was, to my understanding, the very best in the studbook."

Mumtaz Mahal, a daughter of The Tetrarch (Ire) who was purchased as a yearling by Aga Khan III and who became known as the ‘Flying Filly’ for her extraordinary success on the track, became an even bigger influence at stud for her owner. Fittingly, in the year in which the Aga Khan Studs celebrates its centenary, Mumtaz Mahal appears as the tenth dam of Alpinista.

Rausing continued, “So I was a great admirer of Mumtaz Mahal and those that came after her, and it also helped that when I was a child the Swedish National Stud had a horse called Darbhanga (GB) and he was by Dastur (GB) out of Mumtaz Begum (Fr), so he was a half-brother to Nasrullah (GB). He was a year or two older than Nasrullah and had been second in the Triple Crown in England but being by Dastur nobody wanted him. Nasrullah’s greatness had yet to appear, so the Swedish government was able to buy this horse just after the war in 1945 and he came to Sweden and was a great success, probably the best there ever was.

In fact, Bull Hancock sent an emissary to Sweden in the 1950s with a blank cheque to buy Nasrullah's brother but the Swedish government said, 'Whom do you take us for, we are a socialist government, not horse wranglers.' In a way that was a pity because if the horse had gone to Kentucky he would have had much more influence of course."

The first Classic winner bred by Rausing's grandfather was a Danish 1,000 Guineas winner by Darbhanga out of a mare by Abernant (GB), and was thus inbred to Mumtaz Mahal.

"So that really focused my absolute concentration on this family since I was a schoolgirl," said Rausing, who bought Ayesha (GB) from Madame Couturié in 1967 from a different branch of the family and bred from her Ayah, who was the second-best two-year-old filly in Ireland in 1975.

"She had the SWE suffix so that was quite an achievement," Rausing said. "But she died quite early so I was always scouring the catalogues for anything from that family. If anything ever cropped up they were always way too expensive for me. "When I saw Alruccaba in the book as a winning two-year-old in the December Sales of 1985 I was of course mad keen. I went to see her surreptitiously before the sales and, very luckily for me, she had a distinct tendon on her near-fore. She'd been trained by Michael Stoute and at the time his assistant was James Fanshawe who later told me that they'd never had anything slower in the yard, so they were delighted that she managed to win a maiden at Brighton."

With Sonia Rogers, a plan was hatched to secure Alruccaba. Rausing explained, "Sonia valued her much higher than I did so we had a complicated arrangement that I would bid for her and we would split her up to a certain value, and then if she made more I would keep bidding but she would be 100% Sonia's. Luckily she made a lot less than we thought she would. I bought her for one bid at 19,000gns, her reserve having been 18,000. So Sonia and I owned her together and she spent two years at Lanwades and two years at Airlie, backwards and forwards, throughout her career."

Alruccaba's offspring include the Sun Chariot S. winner Last Second (Ire) and fellow black-type winners Alleluia (GB), Alouette (GB), and Arrikala (Ire). Another of her daughters, Jude (GB) (Darshaan {GB}), has established her own significant branch of the family which includes the Classic winner Yesterday (Ire) (Sadler's Wells).

"Alruccaba has founded quite a dynasty and it has been helped by the fact that there seems to have been more fillies than colts," said Rausing.

There was extra satisfaction for the breeder in the success of Alpinista as she is out of a mare by the former Lanwades resident Hernando (Fr), who also featured as broodmare sire of Saturday’s G1 Prix de Royallieu winner Sea La Rosa (Ire) (Sea The Stars {Ire}), bred by Guy Heald.

She said, "With the few opportunities numerically that Hernando had, like Selkirk, he is a significant damsire."

For Alpinista, the paddocks of Lanwades will call her home for next season after four honourable years in training, in which she has to date won ten of her 15 starts.

"She's done enough, more than enough, and I am eternally grateful to her," Rausing said. "Whether she runs again is a matter for Sir Mark. She gave us such an incredible day on Sunday and there were a lot of tears shed, even perhaps a few by the great man himself."

IFHA CONFERENCE FOCUSED ON BUILDING ENGAGEMENT, OTHER FUTURE CHALLENGES

by Bill Finley

The 56th International Federation of Horseracing Authorities (IFHA) Conference was held Monday in Paris and the focus was on key challenges and opportunities, including the issues of integrity and fan engagement, facing the industry around the globe.

"Integrity lies at the foundation of our sport and must inform every decision that we make," said IFHA Chair Winfried Engelbrecht-Bresges. "The pandemic has inherently changed the way that fans and punters enjoy and participate in horse racing. A good digital customer experience is key, and the general trend of digital evolution further emphasizes that all industry players need to adapt quickly to emerging technologies and behaviors."

The conference also featured an address by Jockey Club Chairman Stuart Janney. Janney was among delegates from 40 different countries.

Janney used his opportunity to update the delegates on the Horse Racing Integrity and Safety Act (HISA), the advancements the sport has made in recent years in the U.S. and the challenges it will face in the years ahead.

Janney said that if HISA had not been passed into law, the sport in the U.S. faced a perilous future. Lisa Lazarus, CEO of HISA, also provided the attendees with an overview of the establishment and work of HISA, its current challenges, and its future plans.

“There was no certainty of success,” Janney said of the chances the bill would be passed. “But we did know that the state-by-state regulatory process in the United States was a failure, and with our partners in support of the bill, including Breeders’ Cup and the IFHA, we needed a dramatic change if the sport was to be sustainable.”

Still, Janney was clear that the sport in the U.S. still has its problems and that its long-term success depends on viable solutions to those issues.

“Things will still have to change for American racing—and perhaps for all of us—as challenges remain,” Janney said. He touched upon several issues, including changing attitudes regarding animal welfare.

“First off, the urbanization of America means four out of five people now live in densely populated communities, which means that fewer and fewer people are directly familiar with farming and livestock,” he said. “As a result, we’ve seen matters of animal welfare become policy drivers for important parts of our governments as well as lead stories in mainstream media. And beyond America, we see the same in many other corners of the world: how well we treat our equine competitors will become an important component for the growth and popularity of Thoroughbred racing.”

Other issues he raised included the Jockey Club's mission to ensure the integrity of the breed, and his comments touched upon his group’s desire to maintain diversity in the breed.

“There is no doubt that there has been a narrowing of the genetic profile of many of the horses in our stud books, and we need to study the effects of these practices and consider remedies,” he said.

Noting the high-profile arrests in March of 2020 that came after an FBI investigation into doping in the sport, Janney said the industry must continue to be rigorous in its efforts to catch the cheats.

“With what is at stake in purses, betting pools and in the sales ring, collective actions to prevent crimes like these must be a top priority,” he said. “To that end, the American Jockey Club will continue to use our human and financial resources to protect the integrity of the game and to grow the sport. And we enthusiastically support the work of HISA, which we believe will help the sport in America...”

Despite his concerns, Janney said he believes the are plenty of reasons for optimism when it comes to U.S. racing.

“In a lot of ways, American racing is very much on the upswing and again leading the world in many important measurements,” he said.

Those measurements, he said, include rising handle totals, expanded TV coverage, booming horse sales and the ever-increasing popularity of meets like Del Mar and Saratoga and the major events like the Triple Crown races and the Breeders' Cup.

Following a discussion of HISA, several experts were interviewed on the subject of fan engagement. Tony Parker, the former NBA star who has become a prominent Classic-winning Thoroughbred owner in his native France, said racing needed to convey a message that it is not just a sport for the wealthy.

"Everyone, the vision they have of horse racing is that it's for billionaires," said Parker. "They think normal people can't come into the horse world. It really is the total opposite. How can we change that image and get everyone involved? Use social media and try to do different stuff. I want to bring something different and try to make it more fun for younger people for people to come and watch horse racing.

"My friends, because I am on social media, they are like, 'Okay, how do you go into this world?' If you are worried about it or you think it's too much money, just start with 5%. Go slow and you can learn the horse world. We have to do a lot more if we want a bigger audience. You have to go to them and promote it."

Near the end of the conference, Carly Dixon, Executive General Manager, Stakeholder, Customer & Corporate Affairs, Racing Victoria, presented on the upcoming 39th Asian Racing Conference (ARC), which will be held in Melbourne in February 2023.
PETIT MARIN CHARTS PASSAGE TO HOPPEGARTEN SUCCESS by Sean Cronin

Dirk von Mizlaff’s Petit Marin (Ger) (Flamingo Fantasy (Ger)–Pongal (Ger), by Ransom O’War) lined up for Monday’s G3 Wettstar.de 32nd Preis der Deutschen Einheit at Hoppegarten returning off a Baden-Baden handicap second last month and made the most of his black-type debut with a determined win in the day’s 10-furlong highlight. The win provided some measure of compensation for trainer Marcel Weiss, who had witnessed stable star Torquator Tasso (Ger) (Adlerflug (Ger)) make a valiant attempt to defend his G1 Prix de l’Arc de Triomphe title the day before. The gelded homebred, unraced as a juvenile, opened his account with victories at this venue and Krefeld before slipping to sixth when vanned to Deauville for an Aug. 7 conditions heat in his penultimate outing. The 11-1 chance was swiftly into stride from the inside stall to race in a handy third and was shuffled down to fourth at halfway. Angled off the hedge into a clear lane passing the quarter-mile pole, he joined even-money favourite India (Ger) (Adlerflug (Ger)) entering the final furlong and was ridden out to deny that rival by a half-length nearing the line.

“I felt he had the ability to win such a contest and had said so publicly,” winning rider Rene Piechulek told GaloppOnline. The winning trainer added, “I didn’t necessarily expect to beat India, but I was very confident about him running in the first three. We built him up gently and always had this race in our sights. I have always thought a lot of him and it’s nice that he showed what he’s made of today.”

Petit Marin, half-brother to a yearling colt by Polish Vulcano (Ger), becomes the first group-race winner for his late sire (by Fantastic Light) and also for his dam Pongal (Ger) (Ransom O’War), herself kin to dual G2 Oettingen-Rennen victor Pas De Deux (Ger) (Saddex (GB)) and this year’s G3 Grosser Preis der Wirtschaft winner Parol (Ger) (Pastorius (Ger)). Petit Marin’s third dam is G2 Preis der Diana (German Oaks) heroine Puntilla (Ger) (Acatenango (Ger)), who produced Listed Berberis-Rennen third Pakama (Ger) (Kalatos (Ger)). Pakama is a half-sister to G1 Criterium de Saint-Cloud heroine and G1 Prix de Diane third Paita (GB) (Intikhab), herself the dam of G3 Prix d’Hedouville victrix and G1 Prix Vermeille runner-up Pirika (Ire) (Monsun (Ger)). Puntilla’s other half-sister Praia (Ger) (Big Shuffle) is the dam of G1 Premio Roma victor Potemkin (Ger) (New Approach (Ire)). Cont. p12

FERGUSON APPOINTED TO BHA BOARD
Noted bloodstock agent, former trainer and well-known industry figure John Ferguson has been appointed to the Board of the British Horseracing Authority (BHA), the sport’s governing and regulatory body. He is one of two Member-Nominated Directors as nominated by the TBA, ROA and NTF (acting on behalf of Licensed Personnel). Ferguson takes over from Luca Cumani, whose term on the BHA Board has ended.
Ferguson has held a wide variety of positions within the Thoroughbred industry. He served as stable staff and assistant to trainer Sir Michael Stoute and, on his own, trained 287 National Hunt winners (including top-level scorers Ruacana and Parlour Games). He has also been a racing manager, owner, breeder and bloodstock agent, most notably as advisor to Sheikh Mohammed and Godolphin for 22 years from 1994-2017. He was also Chief Executive of Godolphin for a time.

In 2021, he established Natalma Bloodstock, a bloodstock investment company which has broodmares in Europe, the United States and Australia. He is also a member of the UK Jockey Club, US Jockey Club and has a Japan Racing Association owners licence.

Ferguson said: “Having had a career in horseracing that has been beyond my wildest dreams, working for some incredible people, I feel honoured and privileged to have been offered this role.

“Having worked as a member of stable staff and had my first novice hurdle winner at Hexham, through to breeding, owning and selling horses all over the world, I hope that I am able to well represent licensed personnel.

“It is now in our hands to shape horseracing into a sustainable and fabulous sport for future generations.”

Added BHA Chair Joe Saumarez: “We are delighted to welcome John to the Board. He brings with him extensive experience of the training and bloodstock industries, alongside his intimate knowledge of the industry’s workings from his time as a senior leader in the sport.

“We are all extremely grateful to Luca Cumani for his service to the Board. It was a privilege to work with someone of his knowledge and distinction. His understanding of every aspect of the horse and their training was of great benefit to the Board and the sport.”

PYLEDRIVER TO MISS BREEDERS' CUP

Fan favourite Pyledriver (GB) (Harbour Watch {Ire}), not seen at the races since defeating Torquator Tasso (Ger) (Adlerflug {Ger}) in the G1 King George & Queen Elizabeth Diamond S. at Ascot July 23, will not be ready for a tilt at the GI Longines Breeders' Cup Turf at Keeneland Race Course Nov. 5, co-trainer William Muir told At The Races Monday.

“I think it will come too soon and there’s no way I’m putting pressure on him at any stage,” the conditioner told At The Races’s Luke Harvey. “He’s swimming every day and doing loads of it and he’s in the swimming pool with a high current and he goes through it like he’s a jet plane. But I don’t want to come back and go straight into having to gallop, gallop, and if I’m going to America for Breeders’ Cup, I need to be 100% fit. It’s coming quickly.”

Winner of the G2 King Edward VII S. at Royal Ascot as a 3-year-old, Pyledriver earned a maiden Group 1 success in last year’s G1 Coronation Cup on Derby weekend and closed the season with a runner-up effort in the G1 Longines Hong Kong Vase. A close fourth in the G1 Dubai Sheema Classic this past March, he was beaten into second in defence of his Coronation Cup before defying odds of 18-1 at Ascot last time.

A trip to the Far East appears in the offing once more for Pyledriver, all things equal.

“Our options have always been Breeders’ Cup, Japan Cup or Hong Kong,” Muir said. “The Japan Cup may well come right, and if so, we'll nominate him for the Japan Cup, and if we get there we get there. If not, we've got Hong Kong, if not, we have to wait for the Sheema Classic.”

MY LION (GB) (f, 2, Roaring Lion--Diamonds Pour Moi {GB} {SW-Fr, SP-Eng}, by Pour Moi {Ire}), fourth on debut behind the potentially smart Lord Of Biscay (Ire) (Lope De Vega {Ire}) over seven furlongs at Yarmouth Sept. 14, was sent straight to the front. Applying the pressure from the top of the straight, the 7-4 favourite galloped out strongly to the line to score by a length from Zouzanna (GB) (Zoustar {Aus}). The dam, who captured the Listed Prix Belle de Nuit and was third in the Listed Cheshire Oaks, is responsible for a yearling filly by Sea The Stars (Ire) who was knocked down to Oliver St Lawrence Bloodstock for €380,000 at the recent Arqana Deauville August Sale. A half to two other black-type performers including this year’s Listed Derby du Languedoc runner-up Lovely Diamond (Fr) (Wings Of Eagles {Fr}), the relative of the GI La Brea S. and GI Santa Monica S. heroine Switch (Quiet American) also has a colt foal by Kameko. GENTLE WHINNY (IRE) (f, 2, Churchill {Ire}--Short Call {Ire}, by Kodiac {GB}), a place behind the re-opposing Therapist (GB) (Le Havre {Ire}) when fourth over this trip at Newmarket Sept. 17, tracked that rival in second throughout the early stages. Staying on past her with a furlong remaining, the 9-4 second favourite had half a length to spare over that 11-10 market-leader at the line. The winner is the first foal out of the dam, who has a yearling son of Saxon Warrior (Jpn) heading to next week’s Book 2 Sale. She is kin to Wonderment (Ire) (Camelot {GB}), who captured the G1 Criterium de Saint-Cloud and was second in the Jockey Club Oaks Invitational. From the family of the GI Man o’ War S. hero Wake Forest (Ger) (Sir Percy {GB}), her 2022 foal is a full-sister to the winner. Sales history: 65,000gns Wlg ’20 TATFOA; 75,000gns Ylg ’21 TATOCT. In front initially, the bay ended up in rear with Guillaume Guedj-Gay keen to contain her energy reserves before being asked to loop the field on the home turn. In front with a furlong to race, she had to fight off the attentions of Final Gesture from there but held her all the way to the line for her black-type breakthrough.
