A LANE PAVED WITH GOLDEN INSIGHTS

by Chris McGrath

“I told them,” he says. “You can’t make a hardboot out of a Virginia redneck. And that’s all I’ve ever been. Never pretended to be anything else. Just a Virginia redneck that loves horses.”

When you have spent as much time as Beau Lane among these unerring vehicles of humility—from the Appaloosas of his youth, to two Kentucky Derby starters in the last seven years—you tend to develop total immunity to self-importance. Even at 80, you never know what’s coming next; nor, when something does happen, whether it will turn out for better or worse. So when his peers selected Lane for the 2020 Breeders' Hardboot Award, his initial reaction was the one he just shared, seated beside his consignment at the recent September Sale.

But then he started looking down the previous recipients. One of the first, back in 2001, was Robert E. Courtney. He remembered seeing the old sage in 2009, when perilously exposed to the market slump.

“How you doing, boss? I’m going to be lucky to make it.”

“Oh, you’ll make it,” Courtney replied. “Hard times make a monkey eat red peppers.”

Lane chuckles at the memory.

GREATEST HONOUR RETIRED TO SPENDTHRIFT

Courtlandt Farm’s Greatest Honour (Tapit—Tiffany’s Honour, by Street Cry (Ire)), winner of Gulfstream’s GII Fasig-Tipton Fountain of Youth S. and GIII Holy Bull S., has retired to stud at Spendthrift Farm and will stand the 2023 breeding season for a fee of $7,500 S&N. “Greatest Honour has one of the best combinations of pedigree, looks and ability among the sons of Tapit that we’ve evaluated,” said Ned Toffey, Spendthrift general manager. “Unfortunately, he came up with an injury in last year’s Florida Derby as the odds-on favorite before the Triple Crown. Prior to that, he was so dominant at Gulfstream that he was in the top three along with Essential Quality and Life Is Good as the favorites for the Kentucky Derby in many of the early wagering pools.” Cont. p7

TAKING STOCK: FEATURING DONATO LANNI

Sid Fernando takes a look back at bloodstock agent Donato Lanni’s near-perfect weekend while winning Grade I races across the country.

A TRIBUTE TO HERB MOELIS

Robert Fierro reflects on the life of Thoroughbred owner and breeder Herb Moelis, who passed away earlier this week.

D. J. STABLE BUYS TOP TWO AT OBSOCT

“He was a great guy,” he says. “And when I saw some of those names that had won that award, people like him, and Henry White, I thought, ‘Whoa, man, this is quite an honor. These are some best horsemen I ever knew.’”

He grins wryly. “And most of them are gone! But I was raised in an era when to have the reputation of a horseman, that meant something. You had to earn that title.”

Though his draft was lurking way out under the water tower, no true connoisseur was going to neglect checking over the youngsters raised by such seasoned hands. Among those to swing by were Spendthrift Farm, who gave $335,000 for a Constitution colt; and Donato Lanni, who had $250,000 for a Tonalist filly. While Lane emphasizes the credit due to his daughter J.B. and her husband Michael Orem, he remains wonderfully spry in body and soul, full of enthusiasm and humor. And for all his self-deprecation, he is prepared to make one concession regarding his career.

“Well, I'm different from a lot of folks down here,” he acknowledges. “I came from the bottom up. I didn't get here from the top down. When I got to Kentucky, I had $60 and six old mares. I paid my first month's rent, and told my wife, 'Honey, I think we're broke.' And she said, 'Game's not over yet, Beau.' She was a basketball coach, and none of her teams ever quit. She still had faith in me, and we went to work.

“I've never been able to go out and buy a mare for half a million, and breed her to Tapit every year, and then feel good about what I raised. I have to buy a $25,000 mare and breed her to a $15,000 stud. And then, if the foal runs, hey, I'm on the right track. I mean, I'm glad those folks are here, doing as well as they are. But I come from a different school.”

That school, as already intimated, was in rural Virginia where his grandfather had started manufacture of the iconic Lane cedar chests.

“He was a lot smarter than me,” Lane says. “And he would tell me, ‘Beau, if you keep fooling with these horses, you're going to be scratching the poor man's ass the rest of your life.’ And you know what? For most of my life, he was right!”

Though Lane had been riding since boyhood, for a time he explored other ways of fracturing bones: playing football for Virginia Tech, for instance, albeit not all five of his broken noses were necessarily confined to the field of play. Nonetheless his heart was early set on a career with horses. Having started with Appaloosas and Quarter Horses, his first experiment with Thoroughbreds was, candidly, a disaster. He quickly established that you couldn't run one of those down with a rope from a jeep; but soon gained subtler insights and found a niche buying mares for friends standing Quarter Horses out west.
“Because their horses could only run 330 yards, holding their breath,” he says. “Bugs Alive In 75, I must have bought 200 mares for that horse. Any mare that ran :21-and-change, from Narragansett in Rhode Island all the way down to Charlestown. I was selling them as fast as I could buy them. I got to know everybody out there [in the West], a lot of wonderful people."

And the package would include delivery. Lane would load seven, eight mares onto a trailer and drive 125,000 miles 10 years straight. In addition, there were long overnight commutes to Kentucky, to get his own mares bred. He didn't want to admit it, but in his chosen walk of life the sun was setting on his home state.

“Nobody worked harder to stay in Virginia,” Lane says. “My great-, great-grand-daddy was killed at Gettysburg, in Pickett’s Charge. I’ve been a Virginian since John Smith. That was when the first Lane was here, as one of his soldiers. I didn't want to leave and I stayed too long. The blood was no longer available, to prove my mares. I had to follow the stallions.

“All the big people died and nobody took their place: Taylor Hardin, Paul Mellon, Elizabeth Dodge Sloan. Trying to make it in Virginia was like trying to knock a wall down with your head. And I needed the better land. I was in southern Virginia, where all the hard work is done! Well, it’s red clay and you cannot raise a top horse on red clay. You have to be able to train him hard. When I was racing Quarter Horses, I had some that qualified for $1-million races. But next morning, you'd have slab fractures, hairline fractures. You just couldn't get them there. But here you can raise the best horses in the world."

The final straw came when Lane played up everything he had made, driving across the continent, in a public offering of Newstead Farm that fell apart with an untimely change in the tax regime. He lost $600,000 and fled flat broke to the Bluegrass. Of those six mares, a couple were so mean that they had been given away; others had cost him no more than a couple of thousand. Yet one delivered a G1 Oaks d'Italia winner and the daughter of another won $300,000 in Lane's own silks.

“A lot of breeders won't race a horse,” he says. “But sometimes they'll come through when you need it the most, and that filly got us rolling again."

So his cherished coach had been right: the game wasn’t over. By 2006, Lane had rallied sufficiently to acquire 160 acres in Bourbon County, aptly adjacent to Stone Farm: E.H. Lane III and A.B. Hancock III were now neighbors, just as the first to bear their respective names had once shared fences in Virginia. Sure enough, Lane delved into his family’s Turf roots to name Woodline Farm for the horse that won the Clabaugh H. for his great-grandfather exactly 100 years before.
It was not long, however, before the 2008 financial crisis returned Lane to an uncomfortable brink. (Moreover he lost his invincible coach, soon afterwards, albeit has since found touching consolation in remarriage to Gail, a boyhood sweetheart.)

Just around that time, Lane had bred a Dixie Union filly. “The most beautiful thing I’d ever raised,” he recalls. “And I got really cocky. I put a $240,000 reserve on her. And didn’t get it. Well, then here comes a couple really sharp horsemen, offering the $240,000. But I said, ‘Nope. You had your chance to buy her.’ That was in July. In September the bottom fell out of everybody and I didn’t have a dime.

“But for a horse at Charlestown that made me $140,000 at the track, I wouldn’t have made it. But I did, see. All the time I kept thinking, ‘I can’t believe I didn’t take $240,000 for that filly.’ And guess what? I sold a million-and-a-half worth of foals out of her. She bought my farm for me.”

Actually that mare’s first foal had to be sold privately as an identical RNA, at $240,000. Willie Browne took the colt home to Ireland and sold him for 1,150,000gns at the Newmarket breeze-ups the following spring. Another famous pinhook wagered on this dependable nursery followed in 2013, when a Giant’s Causeway colt made $525,000 as a September yearling for clients Bob Cummings and Annette Bacola of Coffee Pot Stable. He was sold on by Northwest Stud for $1.6 million at OBS in March and, as Carpe Diem, won Grade Is at two and three before derailing in the Derby.

This year another Woodline graduate, Zozos (Munnings), also made the Derby after chasing home Epicenter (Not This Time) in the GI Louisiana Derby for breeders Barry and Joni Butzow. Another from the same crop, meanwhile, is homebred Best Actor (Flatter), sold to Gary and Mary West for $330,000 as a yearling and winner of the GIII Smarty Jones S.

November Breeding Stock Sale
After the Breeders’ Cup at Keeneland | Begins Monday, Nov. 7

KEENELAND
Patrons and purchasers alike know that Woodline horses won’t be hot-housed, but raised with their vocation in mind: first to trust their handlers; and then, no less so, their own physical zest.

“We treat a horse like a horse,” Lane explains. “And it can be hard in this industry to do that. Because we raise them in large fields, 14 head together, and when you do that, they’re like kids: they wrestle and kick and throw each other down.”

The sales ring, of course, has become increasingly fastidious about that kind of thing, with every bruise hunted out and magnified by nervous veterinarians.

“Hell, they got better X-ray machines in the back of these trucks than in the hospital,” Lane says. “It’s a different business today. I’ll tell you who changed it: a guy named D. Wayne Lukas, when he said he’d keep his catalogue closed, all he’d do is look at the horse. And everyone says, ‘Whoa, wow, okay. Well, this horse here toes in a little bit; and that one’s a little offset. We can’t use them.’

“I remember when, if you had a horse that toed in a little, you told the blacksmith to trim him natural. And when we did that, we didn’t have any sesamoiditis. We kept them the way God made them. If they could walk through it, it was no big deal. A lot of good horses are ruined by people putting screws in their knees and ankles when they’re babies. Because guess what? God didn’t make that foal to move that leg like that. We used to raise racehorses, not show horses. I showed the Grand Champion Stallion in Chicago, in 1971. I’ve been there. I ain’t going back.”

Tellingly, asked for the most important lesson learned from other breeds, Lane replies: “Well, it was a different way of doing things, no doubt about it. But it taught me early that anytime you treat a horse like anything but a horse, it doesn’t work. He won’t be happy. You try to make something else out of him, next thing you know, he’s got a belly full of ulcers. But treat a horse like a horse, keep them happy and healthy, they’ll give you all they got.”

Perhaps this commercial instinct to standardize the animal reflects a wider timidity?

“You got to take a shot,” Lane agrees. “And that’s what worries me about a lot of the younger generation: they won’t take the chance. This is a gambler’s game. And the only thing that’s going to save this industry is to fill those gates. Gamblers can’t make money on four-horse fields. Don’t think that you can B.S. your way with these gamblers. I remember when Charlestown had four or five big-time gamblers coming out of Washington every night to bet five or 10 thousand bucks. Then one night the State Police came in and told them to hit the deck and spreadeagle. After that, they never came back—and that track went downhill for 20 years. And it would be gone now, but for the casino deal.”

Every last one of us with a stake in this game, after all, is also a gambler of sorts.

“I’ve bred to Gun Runner,” Lane says. “That’s enough gamble for me. They tell me, ‘Pop, you could lose a lot of money doing that.’ And I say, ‘Hey, I could make a lot of money, too.’”
Cont.

He continued, “It’s like the share I bought in Silver State. I know that’s a gamble, but I also know that Olin Gentry put that family together and lined up all those ‘fours’ [i.e. family number] one after another. It’ll surprise me if he fails--but if he does, it will be because Hard Spun didn’t do his job.”

Here at the sharp end, then, it’s ultimately a case of standing toe-to-toe with Lady Luck. A lot of people, with each of her slaps, grow merely in cynicism and bitterness. Happily, our community also has people like this, who rock on their heels only to bounce forward again, instead gaining only in warmth and insight.

Lane remembers the last time he saw the late Billy Turner, a forgotten man after training one of the greatest horses that ever lived, and shakes his head. “I mean, this industry’s hard on you, buddy,” he says. “You’ve got to ride it out. But I keep saying, ‘I got to keep living, so I can win the Derby.’ And if I have another 10 years, you can bet your ass that’s what I’m going to do! I’m breeding the best mares now that I’ve ever bred, to the best horses I’ve ever bred. I’ve got a shot. That’s what keeps me going, and that’s what keeps those guys over there going too.”

He gestures to the adjacent consignment. “They all got a shot.”

Lane points to his 17-year-old grandson, showing a yearling. “He can foal a mare as good as me or better,” he says proudly.

“I just hope we have a business to leave; that with all our wisdom, we don’t screw it up. Don’t get me started, how we’re making it tougher on the little man.

“But gosh, I’ve had a wonderful life. And I’ll tell you this, there’s nothing better than this industry, than these horses. You get the lowest of lows, as well as the highest of highs, but I feel sorry for a guy that goes to work every day and sits in the same office chair and has the same B.S.

“I just want to raise a great horse. I’ve raised a lot of good ones, but I’ve never raised that great horse. Yet. But I’m still here.”

A pause, another chuckle. “I’m still here. And I got probably 25 mares in foal. And any one of them could be carrying it. Right?”

Bred and owned by Don Adam’s Courtlandt Farm, Greatest Honour retires with earnings of $446,440. He is out of Tiffany’s Honour, a half-sister to champion and Classic-scoring Rags to Riches, Belmont S. victor Jazil, in addition to Breeders’ Cup winner Man of Iron. Greatest Honour’s second dam, Better Than Honour, was the Broodmare of the Year in 2007.

“Greatest Honour’s second dam is Better Than Honour who needs no introduction, and he’s a big, strong son of Tapit that has ‘classic’ written all over him,” added Toffey. “Because he did not get to fulfill his tremendous potential on the track, we believe Greatest Honour offers a lot of value and upside now to breeders for $7,500.”

Trained by Shug McGaughey, Greatest Honour broke his maiden as a 2-year-old, to go on a three-race win streak at Gulfstream, including the Holy Bull followed a win in the Fountain of Youth.

Greatest Honour is available for inspection at Spendthrift.

DONATO LANNI'S (ALMOST) PERFECT WEEKEND

I called the elite bloodstock agent Donato Lanni last Wednesday only to tell him I'd call him again Sunday and to expect my call. I was fortunate he picked up, because he was on a golf course enjoying a rare day off following a busy Keeneland September sale where he'd purchased a number of million-dollar yearlings among many others. When we made plans to speak again, neither of us mentioned why I'd be calling. I didn't want to jinx him, with Cave Rock (Arrogate), War Like Goddess (English Channel), and Moira (Ghostzapper) entered in three Grade I races Saturday at Santa Anita, Belmont-at-Aqueduct, and Woodbine, respectively.

The weekend was almost perfect for Lanni, except for the hex that jockey Rafael Hernandez put on Moira in the G1 E.P. Taylor S., choosing the wrong path for her at a crucial stage in the race. Turning for home, Moira was behind five runners fanned ahead of her, and Hernandez, looking for a seam, chose to go inside where there was no room. In the process, he nearly took down Peter Brant's Lemista (Ire), who checked hard. Once on the rail, Moira still had nowhere to advance until late in the stretch, and by the time Hernandez slipped her through a narrow gap, the finish was fast approaching. Rougis (Ire), owned by Brant and Michael Tabor, nailed her by a neck, flying uninterrupted on the outside. No surprise, Moira was disqualified from second to eighth, but with a clean run she may well have proven the best in the race.

Lanni was still steaming on Sunday when we spoke. He’d purchased Moira for $150,000 at Keeneland September two years ago for a group of Canadian horsemen and friends who race as X-Men Racing. Lanni clients Madaket Racing and SF Racing, who are a part of the “Avengers” group that race colts with Bob Baffert, are co-owners. “Brant’s filly could have gotten hurt, and I’m worried about our filly,” Lanni said of the incident.

The local E.P. Taylor was carefully chosen for Moira to get Grade I black-type on her resume.

“She was like a greyhound as a yearling, a long-distance type for turf and all-weather, not a horse for dirt. She’s a classy filly, but not a typical Ghostzapper physically. Ghostzapper looked like a miler, he could sprint and go a mile and a quarter. She’s not that way.”

Bred in Canada by Adena Springs and trained by Kevin Attard, the 3-year-old had previously raced exclusively on Woodbine’s all-weather course against other Canadian-breds her age, but blowout wins in the Woodbine Oaks and the Queen’s Plate against colts suggested she was something special. That was confirmed in the E.P. Taylor, regardless of the outcome. The race was Moira’s first start on turf, her first against open company, and her first against elders, and she proved she belongs. She’s now won four of six starts and earned $908,682. Rougir was a Group 1 winner in Europe last year and was purchased by Brant and Tabor at Arqana for the equivalent of $3.4 million.
War Like Goddess

War Like Goddess, trained by Bill Mott for owner George Krikorian, is a 5-year-old mare. She defeated males in the GI Joe Hirsch Turf Classic S. and goes next in the GI Breeders’ Cup Turf. A winner of nine of 12 starts and $1,612,184, the daughter of English Channel was bred by Calumet, sold for $1,200 as a weanling at Keeneland November, was unsold as a $1,000 RNA at Keeneland September, and made $30,000 at OBS June when Lanni bought her.

“You just don’t see too many English Channels showing up at an OBS 2-year-old sale,” Lanni said. “That’s not what they’re supposed to do. They are long on the grass. Anyway, she shows up and works and goes in like :10 2/5 and does really well. She’s got a great stride and great action, but she comes back and she’s got some pretty good shins on her. They were pretty big. I call them summer shins—shins that last all summer. And so I said to myself, there’s only one guy I know who’d take this filly, meaning you need to be patient with her and give her time, and that was George Krikorian. I hadn’t bought him a horse in a long time, so I called him.”

Lanni developed a relationship with Krikorian during his early days in Kentucky at Texan Johnny T.L. Jones Jr.’s Walmac International, which stood standouts Nureyev and Alleged among other well-known stallions. An outsized figure with a grin as big as his personality, Johnny Jones also gave Lane’s End Bloodstock’s David Ingordo, WTC’s Frances J. Karon, Stonestreet advisor and agent John Moynihan, and Four Star’s Kerry Cauthen a home at one time or another.

“[George Krikorian] was the first guy who ever let me buy him a horse where I actually got paid a commission for buying the horse,” Lanni said. “That was Starrer in 1999 at Fasig-Tipton. We’d gotten to be friends, he said he trusted me, likes me, and said if I see anything I like, buy it.

“When I found Starrer, I called him and said I found him a filly, and he said to just buy it and hung up. I’m in my mid-20s, and I’m like, ‘What does that mean, just buy it?’ I’m nervous. I don’t have a signed agent agreement, I don’t have any money, and what do I do if this guy walks away from me?”

Lanni paid $35,000 for the yearling Starrer, a daughter of Dynaformer who became a multiple Grade I winner for Krikorian and trainer John Shirreffs, earning $1,043,033 through four seasons.

“He’s been my longtime friend and a client since. He’s the greatest,” Lanni said.

Cave Rock

Undefeated Cave Rock appears to be the leading 2-year-old colt heading to the Breeders’ Cup. The son of Arrogate won the GI American Pharoah S. at Santa Anita impressively—his second top-level win from three starts—and has now earned $408,000 for trainer Baffert and the “Three Amigos” partnership of Mike Pegram, Karl Watson, and Paul Weitman. Bred by Anne and Ronnie Sheffer Racing, Cave Rock was a $550,000 Keeneland September yearling.

After the Walmac stint, Lanni went next to John Sikura’s Hill ‘n’ Dale, where he was a longtime presence until Sikura moved the Hill ‘n’ Dale operation to Xalapa a few years ago. It was through Sikura that Lanni established a relationship with Baffert, and it’s under the Baffert banner that Lanni’s reputation has grown.

“[Baffert] is not just an amazing horse trainer and person, he’s also amazing at finding young horses at auction,” Lanni said. “He’s been great at that forever, and he’s taught me a lot. I can’t ever take credit for what I do with Bob, because Bob is instrumental, but we work together closely and it’s a team effort. I don’t buy a horse for Bob if he doesn’t agree.”

They agreed on Cave Rock. Lanni said, “If he was a first-crop Arrogate, he would have made seven figures. He was amazing, he was beautiful. He had beautiful bone, he was correct, he had a great hind leg. But last year, no one wanted an Arrogate.”

Because the Avengers are usually looking for colts by proven sires to turn into stallions, Cave Rock didn’t fit the profile, but he was a natural for the Three Amigos.

“Bob and Mike have been together from the beginning, and when we shop the sales, those guys are always ready to buy,” Lanni said. “They don’t care about sires, they don’t care about pedigrees, they want physicals and they want runners.”

Avengers and X-Men

Why Avengers and X-Men? Lanni said the Avengers nickname came about as convenient shorthand to refer to the string of owners in the SF/Madaket/Starlight group.

“And the reason I came up with Avengers is that my daughters and I watch all those Marvel movies, and I love them,” he said. “And it’s great because everybody has a certain talent that they bring to the table, and it fit the group.”

When buying for the Avengers—a team effort with the principals, Lanni stressed—the criteria gets more specific: proven sires like Into Mischief, Quality Road, etc., and the physiques that will handle training and racing on dirt at the highest levels.

The SF/Madaket/Starlight group was a minority shareholder with WinStar and China Horse Club in Triple Crown winner Justify, who was purchased at Keeneland September for $500,000 and sold for $75 million to Coolmore in 2018. After breaking away and enlisting Lanni, the Avengers struck gold again at Keeneland that year, buying three of the 25 colts that would go on to win Grade I races from the catalogue: Eight Rings, a $520,000 yearling who was sold to Coolmore for $10 million; Charlatan, a $700,000 purchase that was sold to stand at Hill ‘n’ Dale for $10 million; and Horse of the Year and Kentucky Derby and Breeders’ Cup Classic winner Authentic, who was purchased for $350,000 and sold to Spendthrift at a valuation of $36 million.

There were 10 fillies catalogued in the sale that also won Grade I races, and though Lanni didn’t buy them there, he did buy two of them at the juvenile sales: Gamine, with Baffert, for $1.8 million at Fasig-Tipton Midlantic; and the previously mentioned War Like Goddess, for $30,000 at OBS June. Lanni is from Canada, where he cut his teeth with Standardbreds, and some of his friends in the X-Men partnership for which Moira races go back a ways with him from those days. Lanni said Moira was one of seven yearlings he purchased for the first X-Men partnership. For the second batch, 2-year-olds this year, he already has Grade I winner Last Call, another English Channel filly.
Bred by English Channel Co-Owners & Jodi Cantwell, Last Call, also co-owned by SF, was bought for $30,000 at Keeneland September last year and won the Natalma S. at Woodbine last month.

“I shop the entire catalog, from the first day to the last,” Lanni said. “I don’t want to miss a single horse, and you never know where you’ll find that good one.”

He seems to have a knack for finding them wherever they are, in all price ranges.

D. J. STABLE BUYS TOP TWO AT OBSOCT

A Mitole colt and a The Factor filly shared top billing during the select session of the Ocala Breeders’ Sales Company’s October Yearling Sale, with both fetching $210,000 from the Green family’s D. J. Stable.

In total, 123 head changed hands for gross receipts of $6,018,000. The average was $48,927 (up 12.1% from $43,644 for the corresponding session in 2021) and median was $40,000 (up 25% from $32,000 last year).

The RNA rate was 34.2% as of this writing, but that figure does not include post-sale transactions.

D. J. Stable led all buyers, while Kaizen Sales was the leading consignor with 18 head sold for $799,000.

The auction concludes Wednesday with an open session beginning at 10:00 a.m. Visit www.obssales.com for more information.

GREEN TEAM ACTIVE IN OCALA

Len and Lois Green’s D. J. Stable celebrated a big win this past Friday when their Mark Casse trainee Wonder Wheel (Into Mischief) solidified herself as one of the favorites for the GI Breeders’ Cup Juvenile Fillies with a gutsy score in Keeneland’s GI Darley Alcibiades, and the team was back at it on Tuesday adding to their roster of 2-year-olds for next year. In total, D. J. purchased five head for a combined $590,000, including both of the $210,000 toppers.

“Our expectations are always to try and find value,” said D. J. general manager Jon Green when asked if last week’s win had anything to do with Tuesday’s activity. “We have people looking at every sale for us with the idea that if horses fall within the price ranges that we anticipate that we’ll go ahead and strike. It’s really a matter of value, and we felt like the horses we picked up at this sale, although they weren’t inexpensive by any stretch, they represented value for the athleticism and the pedigrees they possessed.”

The Greens also purchased the $600,000 Curlin colt topper earlier this yearling season at Fasig-Tipton July.

The first of their high-priced buys Tuesday was a Mitole colt consigned by Bobby Jones Equine LLC, Agent II as hip 122. The Florida-bred is the first foal out of an unraced Uncle Mo half-sister to grade/group winners Giant Gizmo (Giant’s Causeway), Eons (Giant’s Causeway) and Tableaux (Giant’s Causeway) and to the dam of MGSW Cheermeister (Bodemeister).

“The reason why we went as high as we did on the Mitole colt is that he doesn’t look like a typical sprinter that you would expect from a champion sprinter like Mitole,” said Green. “He’s bred 3x3 to Indian Charlie and he looks like he’s going to be a big 16.3 kind of colt once he’s all done growing.

So, for us, it was the appeal of getting a horse who could potentially have the turn of foot and speed that Mitole had during his career, but still have the scope to go two turns like this colt should be able to do and like his female family suggests he should.”

Green also noted that D. J. had bought another Mitole colt at Keeneland September after he RNA’d for $190,000, “but we probably got outbid on four or five others.”

Also among D. J.’s acquisitions was a filly by The Factor (hip 150) who received a well-timed pedigree update when her 2-year-old half-sister Delight (Mendelssohn) romped in the GII Jessamine S. one race before the Alcibiades. Delight sold for $90,000 at this auction 12 months ago and then for $400,000 at OBS March off a sparkling breeze (10.1) and gallop out. Like Delight last term, hip 150 was consigned by Stuart Morris.

“It was a combination of things,” Green said when asked how much of the filly’s $210,000 price tag was the pedigree and how much was the physical. “Mark Casse, who will train her, had her down in his opinion as the top filly in the sale. We were actually present when Delight won the Jessamine at Keeneland and I was just very impressed with her in the paddock—with her demeanor—and we were one of the many underbidders on her at OBS March. [Trainer] Jonathan Thomas has done a great job campaigning her and I fully anticipate that Delight is going to hit the board in the GI Breeders’ Cup Juvenile Fillies Turf, and if that’s the case it’ll be a tremendous update for this filly as well.”

The D. J. team has a connection to a third Breeders’ Cup-bound juvenile filly in GI TVG Del Mar Debutante S. and GII Chandelier S. heroine And Tell Me Nolies (Arrogate), who they bought for $70,000 as a KEEJAN short yearling upon the recommendation of bloodstock agent Kim Valerio and then sold for $230,000 at OBS April.

“The team starts with Kim Valerio,” Green said. “She’s been outstanding as far as finding athletes for us. Kim has so many years of experience in the industry across the board in various aspects, and she’s used to working with end users like us and knows what things we can live with vs. pinhookers for example. Kim does an outstanding job of finding these athletes and giving us a short list, and then it’s up to our trainers to take the short list and narrow it down even more, but I would have to say for the majority of the horses on Kim’s short list, our trainers concur and feel confident in vetting and subsequently bidding on and buying.”

D. J. will be seeking a second Breeders’ Cup Juvenile fillies title (Jaywalk, 2018) next month, and Green said all systems are go: “Wonder Wheel, knock on wood, came out of the race outstanding. We fully anticipate for her to compete and run a good race in the Breeders’ Cup. I’ve said previously in other interviews, and as silly as it sounds, the Spinaway (in which Wonder Wheel was second as the favorite Sept. 4) is a Grade I at Saratoga, so you’d think that would be very high up on everyone’s list for trying to win it. But our goal was to set her up for the Alcibiades and then the Breeders’ Cup, so on the one hand we were a little disappointed we ran second, but we weren’t squeezing the lemon for that race. We were really trying to make sure she had two more big races in her arsenal and I think she’s setting up to run a great race.”

BUSINESS MODEL TOPS OCTOBER DIGITAL SELECTED SALE

Business Model (Candy Ride {Arg}--Innovative Idea, by Bernardini), a 4-year-old racing prospect, sold for $130,000 to Fergus Galvin, agent, to top the October Digital Selected Sale, which closed Tuesday afternoon. Godolphin, who bred and raced Business Model, consigned the gelding as Hip 20. A winner at three and four, the gelding has earnings of $146,993 to date. He entered the sale off a runner-up finish in allowance company at Churchill Downs Sept. 16. The 4-year-old is a half-brother to this year’s GI Acorn S. winner Matareya (Pioneerof the Nile).
“The October Digital Selected Sale posted a 70% clearance rate with a flurry of bidding across the country,” said Fasig-Tipton Director of Digital Sales Leif Aaron. “It was another successful sale for our clients on our digital platform and we look forward to a strong December sale.”

The October Digital Selected Sale opened for bidding Oct. 6 at noon. Full results are available online.

A TRIBUTE: HOORAY FOR HOLLYWOOD

by Robert D. Fierro

In the early 1980s your correspondent had the great fortune of having been a guest lecturer at a series of background seminars developed and hosted by Bradley Telias at the sometimes too precious New School in New York City’s West Village. There were basically a couple of dozen people at each two-hour meeting, mostly people either wanting to get into Thoroughbred racing and breeding, or some who were already in the game but were eager to expand their knowledge.

The first year’s class included Vivien G. Malloy, who became a close friend and client and went on to become New York’s Breeder of the Year twice. She is still quite active at age 90 and has been Secretary/Treasurer of New York Thoroughbred Breeders, Inc., for many years.

The second year’s class was attended by two members of a newly formed racing partnership who met in that endeavor and were ready to go on their own—after they would take their wedding vows. They were successful CPA and entrepreneur Herbert Moelis and real estate executive Ellen Avenna—a nice Jewish boy from Brooklyn and a strikingly lovely and elegant Italian lady from Queens. Welcome to New York!

Somewhere the three of us managed to stay in touch and a few months later Herb and Ellen were seated behind me at a seminar sponsored by the American Horse Council in Washington, D.C., an event at which I’d been invited to address the topic of investing in limited partnerships and over-the-counter Thoroughbred racing and breeding endeavors. After a presentation in which I noted my deep skepticism about investing in public stocks unless they were very tightly drawn, I returned to my seat and Herb had this big grin on his face.

“That will shake a few people up, good luck!”

The editor of an industry magazine loved it, and asked permission to published it—after which I was fired as public relations consultant to a small Wall Street firm that was planning to issue stock in one of those new over-the-counter type companies.

Obviously, Herb had a point.

Many people in the industry soon came to know that when Herb Moelis spoke the truth, which was always, he was right. He and Ellen were in the process of developing their Candy Land Farm in Delaware and along the way they asked for my advice on their breeding plans. One of my recommendations was noted in the Oct. 11 edition of TDN is T.D. Thornton’s strikingly perfect notice of Herb’s passing last weekend in which Candy Land’s longtime manager Mike Palmer gave a wonderfully detailed and accurate overall picture of Herb.

That was the recommendation that they claim a filly from the family of La Troienne for $20,000. When it came time to purchase a season for her to be bred in Herb and Ellen told me they wanted to go commercial and hoped to find a stallion that would get the foal into the 1993 Saratoga Yearling Sale.

“I’m looking to spend $50,000 on a stud fee,” he said to me, “which one do you recommend?”

I lifted my jaw off the ground and told him that at the most a foal might bring $125,000 at Saratoga and that he should look at a new “sleeper” stallion for a lot less money.

In the end they took my recommendation of Houston, a son of Seattle Slew who entered stud at $5,000—and the resulting foal topped the Saratoga sale in 1993 at $335,000. Herb and Ellen commissioned Anthony Alonso to paint the scene in the pavilion when the colt was hammered down with Herb and Ellen clearly visible at the left and surprise, yours truly clearly visible in the center. As a “thank you,” they had Anthony send me a copy, which has a pride of place in our apartment gallery.

By that time Herby and Ellen had formed Thoroughbred Charities of America in 1990, the history of which was nicely reported in T.D. Thornton’s article but for these purposes needs more detail (go to https://www.tca.org/about/ and scroll down to History). By that time my wife and I had been invited to spend a weekend a year at Candy Land, and we were there when the first auction was held in 1990.

When they decided to move the event to a heated tent venue on the farm each January, I was stunned and honored when Herb and Ellen asked me to be the Master of Ceremonies, an honor I enjoyed for at least a dozen years.

Along the way I called him one day to discuss the upcoming party and he was in a hurry to get to the airport. I asked him where he was going, and he said California. I was surprised because he’d never mentioned such a trip before, so I pursued. “Where in California?”
“Beverly Hills.”
“Really? Why?”
“My son is a financial guru and lives there.:
Because he knew by then how my brain worked, he just laughed when I said:
“Alright, you are now officially Hollywood Herb.:
Subsequently whenever we ran across each other at sales or other events, all I had to say was “Hello, Hollywood!” and he and Ellen would just beam.
Thus, with apologies to composer Richard A. Whiting who wrote the song for the 1937 movie Hollywood Hotel, I think anyone who’s life was touched by Herb Moelis would gladly join in for a chorus of his wildly popular and widely used song, “Hooray for Hollywood.”

The tree planting at Keeneland is part of The Queen’s Green Canopy initiative to mark The Queen’s Platinum Jubilee and to serve as a living legacy to her “extraordinary service to her country and her people.”
“Queen Elizabeth II was an unmatched horsewoman and a tremendous patron of Thoroughbred racing,” Keeneland President and CEO Shannon Arvin said. “We were fortunate to have welcomed The Queen to Keeneland and Central Kentucky, and her visits to the Bluegrass created a lasting connection. We are honored to pay tribute to her racing legacy.”

KEENELAND HONORS QUEEN ELIZABETH II

Edited Press Release
Keeneland has planted six cherry trees--three on either side of the infield tote board--in tribute to Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II, who passed away Sept. 8. A lifelong horsewoman, Queen Elizabeth II attended the races at Keeneland Oct. 11, 1984, for the inaugural running of the Queen Elizabeth II Challenge Cup, for which she presented the trophy. The 39th edition of the GI Queen Elizabeth II Challenge Cup, presented by Dixiana, will be contested Saturday.

TAA NAMED BREEDERS’ CUP AFTERCARE PARTNER

The Thoroughbred Aftercare Alliance (TAA) will once again be named the Official Aftercare Partner of the Breeders’ Cup World Championships Nov. 4-5 at Keeneland. The Thoroughbred Aftercare Alliance is also an Official Charity of the Breeders’ Cup, along with Race Track Chaplaincy of America and the Permanently Disabled Jockeys Fund, among others.
As a seed money donor, the Breeders’ Cup has been a supporter of the TAA since its inception 10 years ago and the organization will present its Grade II namesake race--formerly the Marathon S.--on Saturday’s championship undercard.
“As a founding donor for the Thoroughbred Aftercare Alliance, it brings the Breeders’ Cup great pride to be able to feature the TAA as the official Aftercare Partner,” said Dora Delgado, Breeders’ Cup Executive Vice President and Chief Racing Officer.
“The TAA’s growth, both in the number of accredited organizations and in the amount of grant money awarded, has been a tremendous feat, and it seems only fitting to culminate the TAA’s 10-year celebration center-stage at the World Championships.”
Racing fans can donate to the Thoroughbred Aftercare Alliance throughout the championship weekend when cashing a winning ticket on an UnitedTote Systems self-service betting terminal. All donations are tax-deductible.
“I can’t think of a better place to close out our 10-year celebration than the Breeders’ Cup World Championships,” said TAA President, Jeffrey Bloom. “Breeders’ Cup’s ongoing recognition and support has been instrumental in the TAA’s growth, which is necessary to further our mission to help fund retired racehorses. We’re honored to ring in another year as the Official Aftercare Partner at the World Championships of horse racing.”
JUDGE RULES NEW MEXICO COMMISSION HALT USE OF PURSES TO PAY INSURANCE PREMIUMS

Edited Press Release

District Court Judge Victor S. Lopez determined in his Sept. 20 order that the New Mexico Racing Commission (NMRC) improperly required horsemen, through their purse accounts, to pay half of racetracks’ insurance premiums for jockeys and exercise riders, in violation of state statute.

Since 2009, more than $9 million has been taken from purse accounts at New Mexico’s five racetracks to use for the insurance premiums. In late 2020, the NMHA went to court to end the practice and to get all or a portion of the purse money returned.

“[The] reality is that the practice is being questioned now; the parties presented no authority supporting the proposition that a party somehow waives a rule-making overreach by the mere passage of time,” Judge Lopez wrote. “It is neither the Commission’s nor this Court’s role to decide and implement policy which would essentially allow the skimming of racing revenue for the admittedly favorable purpose of protecting jockeys and exercise riders who may sustain injuries in the course of engaging in the inherently dangerous profession of horse racing.”

Judge Lopez stayed his order until at least Mar. 18, the last day of the 2023 legislative session, “to allow the parties to consider legislative intervention, if appropriate.”

Gary C. Mitchell, general counsel for the New Mexico Horsemen’s Association (NMHA), added, “The battle is over the political power of the racetracks that wish to cut down on the expenses of running a racetrack and a race meet and enjoy greater income from their casinos. The great advocate standing in their way is, and has always been, the Horsemen’s Association and, hopefully, the New Mexico Legislature.”

Darley Just imagine...
GAME TIME (c, 2, Not This Time--Confession, by Broken Vow) ran seventh sprinting over the Del Mar dirt on debut July 30 before improving to be second when switched to turf there Sept. 11. Given a 4-1 chance here, the $290,000 Keeneland September buy showed the way through splits of :22.94 and :46.78 while chased by odds-on favorite Reincarnate (Good Magic). Stiff-arming that rival in early stretch, the dark bay stayed in charge from there for a 1 1/2-length graduation. Reincarnate held the place. The winner's third dam, Private Treasure (Explodent), won the 1990 GII Alcibiades S. before running second to champion Meadow Star (Meadowlake) in the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies. His dam was bred to Maximus Mischief this spring. Sales History: $290,000 Ylg '21 KEESEP. Lifetime Record: 3-1-1-0, $53,100. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG.

SEA THE STARS ON TOP AGAIN AT TATTERSALLS

By Emma Berry

NEWMARKET, UK—Sea The Stars (Ire) provided a showstopper on day one and repeated that feat during the second session of Book 2 when Longview Stud’s half-sister to the Group 3 winner Feliciana De Vega (GB) (Lope De Vega {Ire}) (lot 1048) was bought by Roger Varian for 700,000gns.

For an unnamed owner already in Varian’s Newmarket stable, the chestnut is a son of the dual listed winner Along Came Casey (Ire) (Oratorio {Ire}), who has already been represented by three previous six-figure offspring, including the four-time winner Abnaa (Ire) (Dark Angel {Ire}).

"We tried for the Sea The Stars colt who topped the sale yesterday,” Varian said. Quite a few horses this week have that real Book 1 quality.

"The stallion can't do much wrong at the moment, the mare was a stakes winner and has bred a very good one already. We had to dig deep to get him, but we are delighted."

The consistent demand for offspring of the stallions of the calibre of Sea The Stars, Frankel (GB), Night Of Thunder (Ire) and Dark Angel (Ire) has fuelled strong trade since the start of the October Yearling Sale, and if Monday’s start to Book 2 was a little hesitant, trade roared back into life on Tuesday. Turnover was up by 26% for one fewer yearling sold on the same day last year, with 23,366,000gns paid for 217 yearlings at a clearance rate that remained steady at 88%. Cont. p3

GROUP 1 SIBLINGS HIGHLIGHT GOFFS NOVEMBER FOAL SALE

The catalogue for the Goffs November Foal Sale, featuring several half- and full-siblings to Group 1 winners, is now online. Slated for Nov. 14-17, the 1,034 foals will go through the ring at Kildare Paddocks beginning at 10 a.m. each day.

Among the highlights is Airlie Stud’s Kingman (GB) half-brother (lot 727) to G1 Moyglare Stud S. heroine Skitter Scatter (Scat Daddy); a filly by Teofilo (Ire) who is a half-sister to four-time Group 1 winner Dawn Approach (Ire) (New Approach {Ire}) (lot 768) from Boherguy Stud; Clonlisk Stud-consigned Churchill (Ire) colt (lot 577) who is a half-brother to G1 Irish St Leger hero Sonnyboyliston (Ire) (Power {GB}); a full-brother to G1 German Derby winner Sea The Moon (Ger) (Sea The Stars {Ire}) (lot 628) from Newtown Stud; and another son of Sea The Stars, this time a full-brother to the star-crossed G1 Irish Oaks and G1 Yorkshire Oaks victress Sea Of Class (Ire) (Sea The Stars {Ire}) (lot 766) out of the Oak Lodge and Springfield House Stud draft. 2023 IRISH FIXTURE LIST REVEALED
The 2023 Irish fixture list was unveiled by Horse Racing Ireland on Tuesday.
TAKEAWAYS

Tattersalls October Yearling Sale Book 2 Day 2

- In 2021, 35 horses brought 200,000gns or higher over the first two days of Book 2. This year, that number has increased to 41; while the gross increased 12% to 41,984,000gns.
- Night Of Thunder (Ire) leads all sires by gross, with 20 sold for 3,568,000gns through Tuesday. They have averaged 178,400gns.
- First-crop yearling sire Blue Point (Ire) leads the way among his sire crop, with 19 sold for 1,748,000gns and an average of 92,000gns.
- Firmly on top the buyers’ sheet is Stroud Coleman Bloodstock, who have signed for a dozen yearlings for 3,200,000gns. They have averaged 266,667gns.
- Tally-Ho Stud is narrowly the top vendor over Newsells Park Stud for Book 2, with 21 lots sold for 1,858,000gns and an average of 88,476. Newsells Park has grossed 1,609,000 for 19 yearlings for an average of 84,684gns.

The average was also up by 26% at 107,677gns, while the median rose by 8% to 70,000gns.

Breeder Noel O'Callaghan’s Mountarmstrong Stud was responsible for one of the late highlights of the evening when the second foal of his French listed winner Asidious Alexander (Ire) (Windsor Knot (Ire)) was the subject of a bidding tussle between Ben McElroy, Richard Brown and Jamie McCalmont, with the latter coming out on top at 575,000gns for Coolmore.

The colt was yet another expensive yearling by Darley’s increasingly popular Night Of Thunder (Ire), whose Book 2 average is currently running at 178,400gns for 20 sold, putting him at the top of the sires’ list so far this week.

Chasemore Colt to Hong Kong

A strapping bay son of Starspangledbanner (Aus) provided another sale-ring highlight for Chasemore Farm when selling for 550,000gns to the Hong Kong Jockey Club (HKJC).

Standing only metres part, the HKJC representative Mick Kinane and Dr. Jim Hay exchanged bids for a time, with Kinane finally having his way for the brother to the Group 3-placed juvenile Breege (GB) and out of a half-sister to one of Starspangledbanner's best runners, The Wow Signal (Ire).

Chasemore's Andrew and Jane Black bought the colt’s dam Wowcha (Ire) (Zoffany {Ire}) as a yearling at Goffs UK and she went on to win as a 3-year-old, before producing two winners with her first two runners, including Breege, who this season has been placed in both the G3 Princess Margaret S. and G3 Prestige S.

Chasemore's manager Jack Conroy said of lot 1008, "The Wow Signal was an unbelievable racehorse and the mare was lovely and scopey so it made a lot of sense to send her to Starspangledbanner. Breege has obviously really helped the pedigree as well.

"[The colt] has been incredibly popular--I've never had so many vettings on a horse, even in Book 1. Sadly we lost the mare last November but she has left us Breege." Chasemore sold four horses at Book 1, all for six figures and led by a 750,000gns Kingman (GB) colt out of Wall Of Sound (GB) (Singspiel {Ire}). Cont. p4

Reflecting on the stud's good run, Conroy added, "I'm really proud of the job the team has done last week and this week. Every horse is prepped exactly the same, from Book 1 to Book 3, and we have had a lot of comments on how well they look. We take a lot of pride in that."

"It's an incredibly busy week and our Book 3 horses have just arrived but hopefully we can celebrate on Champions Day. A Group 1 win for [homebred] Brad The Brief would be a nice way to round off the week."

Starspangledbanner ended up with two yearlings in the day's top eight as nine lots later (lot 1017) came New England Stud's half-sister to the listed winner Mrs Gallagher (GB) (Oasis Dream {GB}), bred by ORS Bloodstock and Stanley House Stud, who was signed for by Hugo Merry at 340,000gns.

The top lot for much of the day was lot 853, a colt bred by Andrew Rosen and Edward Easton from September Stars (Ire) (Sea The Stars {Ire}) and, at 450,000gns, he became the latest yearling to be recruited by agent Richard Brown on behalf of owner Saeed Suhail, the owner of Desert Crown (GB).

"We tried on a load of Frankels last week and didn't get close," said Brown. "He is an immature horse, he needs a little bit of imagination, but there is a lot of improvement to come, he is a big frame. He will be given plenty of time and hopefully will reward us as a 3-year-old."

Sustained proven excellence, leaving a lasting impact down the generations. Latest high achievers led by the top turf three-year-old in the US.

A Book 1 graduate herself, September Stars, a half-sister to Group 3 winner Teodoro (Ire) (Teofilo {Ire}) and Group 1-placed Altruistic (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) from the Wildenstein family of Arcangues and Aquarelliste (Fr), went on to win at stakes level in California for Patrick Gallagher. Her current 2-year-old, a filly by Kingman (GB), is in training with Roger and Harry Charlton.

Like Watership Down Stud, Fittocks Stud also enjoyed a good week during Book 1, and the Cumani team returned to the limelight on Tuesday when selling a Frankel filly (lot 974) out of a Lawman (Fr) half-sister to the treble Group 1 winner and Japan-based sire Admire Mars (Jpn) (Daiwa Major {Jpn}).

Following a theme from Monday, the filly had her roots in a family which has been well cultivated by Andreas Putsch at Haras de Saint Pair, who bred both her dam Via Lazio (GB) and granddam Via Medici (Ire) (Medicean {GB}).

Michael Donohoe of BBA Ireland saw off both Shadwell and Juddmonte to buy the filly at 425,000gns.

"We bought Via Lazio in 2019 carrying to Zoustar (Aus). She is a young mare and from a great family, and she is in foal to Time Test (GB) with a Sea The Moon (Ger) filly this year," said Sara Cumani of Fittocks Stud.

"We put the [Frankel] filly in Book 2 because we thought she might be a little bit lost with the great big Frankels in Book 1. We couldn't be happier with that result. She is a real pocket rocket, we wish the new connections the best of luck."

Peter Harris Strikes for Ballyshannon Colt

Peter Harris has seen his colours carried to glory by two juveniles trained by Jane Chapple-Hyam this year and the former trainer and breeder has been reinvesting in some yearlings this week at Tattersalls, including lot 991, a colt by Sea The Stars (Ire) bought from Ballyshannon Stud for 350,000gns.

Anthony Stroud signed for the first foal of the G3 Fairy Bridge S. winner Waitingfortheday (Ire) (Elzaam {Aus}), and he had also been responsible for the purchase of Audarya (Fr) (Wootton Bassett {GB}), who carried the Harris silks to Group 1 glory in the name of Peter's daughter Alison Swinburn.

Having confirmed that Jane Chapple-Hyam will take charge of the colt, Harris said, "I like first foals because you start with a clean sheet. I always ignore first-season sires as 75% of them are no good, but statistically a mare's first and second foals tend to be better—that's my theory anyway."

James Hughes of Ballyshannon Stud, who consigned the colt on behalf of breeder Angela Roche, said, "He has gone to a good home, and it is fantastic result for a first foal. The credit has to go to the staff at home: they have reared him and from the feedback we have been getting, we've done okay."

Hughes purchased the Kildare-based Ballyshannon Stud with his mother Fiona, who died last year. "She would have got a great kick out of this," he said. "It would have been great to have had her here too."

Ballyhimikin's Beauty

A Ballyhimikin Stud yearling towards the top of the charts is a familiar sight at Tattersalls, and James Hanly's dependable outfit delivered again on Tuesday with lot 930, a colt by Night Of Thunder (Ire), who will go into training with John and Thady Gosden after being bought at 340,000gns by Anthony Stroud. The agent also purchased the colt’s full-sister this time last year for the more modest sum of 38,000gns.

"He is a beauty, the sire didn’t do any harm either—I should put up a statue of him," said Hanly, who raced the colt's dam Syndicate (GB) (Dansili {GB}), having bought her through Stroud from Juddmonte as a 3-year-old for 25,000gns.

"The pedigree has really come good since we bought her. My friend John Feane trained her and won with her in England. She showed a lot of ability."

The mare’s two full-brothers, Runnymede (GB) and Stipulate (GB) are both stakes winners, and the further family also includes the G1 Prix Jean Prat winner Mutual Trust (GB) (Cacique {GB}).

Smart Fillies Signed Up By Breeders

Big owner-breeders joined the buyers' bench on Tuesday with Cheveley Park Stud, who were "on the hunt for sharper types" going to 320,000gns for lot 862, Tally-Ho Stud's sister to Indestructible (Ire) (Kodiac {GB}), who has twice finished runner-up to G1 Dewhurst winner Chaldean (GB), in the G3 Acomb S and G2 Champagne S. Shadwell paid the same amount for lot 847, a filly by Too Darn Hot (GB) from Newsells Park Stud's signature family of Shastye (GB) (Danehill). The yearling's dam Secret Sense (Shamardal) is a half-sister to the Galileo (Ire) Group 1 winners Japan (GB) and Mogul (GB), and to Group 2 winner Secret Gesture (GB).
"She looks a very tough filly, there is a masculine look about her and plenty of Shamardal," said Shadwell's Angus Gold. "We are trying to find fillies with pedigrees, she has one of the best pages in the book."

Coolmore Purchase to Kingsclere
Hillwood Stud has had a successful first two days at Book 2, with Tuesday's offerings including a Lope De Vega (Ire) filly sold for 300,000gns to Alex Elliott on behalf of MV Magnier.
"She'll go to Andrew Balding," the agent confirmed. "The brother is not a bad horse—he won a Newmarket maiden—and the mare was rated 100 and is by Sea The Stars. It's a great staying family, she'll take a bit of time and I'm delighted to get her."

The dam Yarrow (Ire) emanates from the Ballymacoll Stud family that included 2000 Guineas winner Golan (Ire) and Derby runner-up Tartan Bearer (Ire), and her second foal, the juvenile Tenerife Sunshine (GB), is the Newmarket winner in training with Mark and Charlie Johnston.

Pinhookers In Clover
Among several notably good pinhooks during the second session, the brothers David and Tom Brickley of And Erin Stud deserved a gold star to go with their considerable profit made on lot 873. Bought for 50,000gns last year, the Exceed And Excel colt did of course benefit from several striking updates from his half-brother, the ‘TDN Rising Star’ Sakheer (Ire) (Zoffany {Ire}), the winner of the G2 Mill Reef S. who is owned by KHK Racing. Cont. p8
Oliver St Lawrence bought the 2-year-old colt at the breeze-ups, and he returned for the yearling, going to 270,000gns on behalf of associates of Fawzi Nass.

"He is an absolute dude of a horse, an absolute dude," said Tom Brickley. "Sakheer came up, too, and the stars aligned, it is exciting stuff.

"He has been straightforward all the way through and we think he is a champion. Let's hope he's an Ascot 2-year-old for next year--we've never been to Royal Ascot.

The colt, who was bred by Conor and Deirdre Cashman's Drumlin Bloodstock, is out of Shortmile Lady (Arcano), who, along with Sakheer is also responsible for the Group 3 winner Lemista (Raven's Pass).

Barry Mahon and Michael Fitzpatrick also know their stuff when it comes to pinhooking and the Mahon family's Mountain View Stud sold a smart son of Darley freshman Masar (Ire) for 240,000gns to Ed Sackville.

Consigned as lot 925, the son of Sweet Lady Rose (Ire) (Shamardal) was bred by David Botterill and sold as a foal for 32,000gns.

Masar's nine yearlings sold through Book 2 so far have averaged 100,444gns.

Havana Grey is Gals' Best Pal

An all-female pinhooking syndicate named The Gals Gals had an excellent first foray into the yearling market, turning their 21,000gns foal into a 150,000gns yearling. Their cause was helped by the fact that the colt was by one of this year's leading first-season sires Havana Grey (GB), but there was plenty of collective experience among the four young women who picked him out at Tattersalls last December and produced him for Book 2. Cont. p9

Led by Kildaragh Stud’s Alice Kavanagh, the Gals Gals team consists of Florence Cain, Nicola Short, and Fay Cort, all of whom work in the bloodstock industry in various roles.

"The girls came together last year and we thought about buying a foal together," said Kavanagh. "We were beaten on a couple, but were successful buying him towards the end of the sale. We are all heavily involved in the industry and wanted to pool our money together and have a go at pinhooking. We have been extremely lucky with how well Havana Grey has done, we couldn't have expected that and it was a pretty risky year to go with a first-season sire. We were incredibly lucky he has done so well and this colt was liked as soon as we got here."

Cort added, "I think it’s going to be a big night. There will be some champagne drunk, but it is well earned."

The colt (lot 900) is out of Speculating (Ire) (Xtension {Ire}), a half-sister to the hardy Group 3-winning stayer Danehill Kodiac (Ire) (Kodiac {GB}), and was bred by Josh Cameron.

"We will have a really nice supper and then think about reinvesting," noted Kavanagh.

Lot 900  c  Havana Grey (GB)–Speculating (Ire)  150,000

Consigned by Kildaragh Stud

Purchased by Oceanic Bloodstock for White Birch Farm SC

Picked up for just 21,000gns out of this ring during the Tattersalls December Foal Sale by The Gals Gals Syndicate, the grey was reoffered on their behalf by Kildaragh Stud and made a nice return on his initial outlay at Tattersalls on Tuesday. Bred by Josh Cameron, the colt is from the second crop of Whitsbury Manor Stud’s high-flying sire, who already has 37 winners, five stakes winners and 13 black-type horses from just 76 runners.

Other lots are lot 550, a full-brother from Ridge Manor Stud to GI Natalma S. winner La Pelosa (Ire) (Dandy Man {Ire}); and Oak Lodge and Springfield House’s Earthlight (Ire) half-brother to the three-time Group 1 winner and young sire Blue Point (Ire) (Shamardal) (lot 629).

Monday’s and Thursday’s sessions are billed as equal, Tuesday will raise the bar to an extent, and Wednesday will feature the most black-type pedigrees.

Goffs Group Chief Executive Henry Beeby said, “Goffs is the gateway to the world for Irish breeders and we are extremely grateful that the overwhelming majority send their best foals to the November Sale. Ireland’s National Foal Sale consistently proves to be the preferred choice for most pinhookers and so many end users, both of whom have enjoyed so many successes year after year. We are proud to present a truly world-class catalogue packed full of outstanding foals with the credentials on paper and conformation to appeal to every major buyer at every level seeking their next pinhooking success story or Group 1 glory.”

ALPINISTA TO DUBAWI? RAUSING DROPS HINT AT STAR MARE’S STUD PLANS

Kirsten Rausing has dropped a firm hint that her Arc heroine Alpinista (GB) (Frankel (GB)) could visit Dubawi (Ire) in her first season at stud next year. Though not confirming or naming Darley’s 20-year-old stallion, who looks on course to be champion sire for the first time this year, the breeder told the Nick Luck Daily podcast on Tuesday, "Obviously there are a few horses she could visit, and one in particular who is not getting any younger, but nothing is written in stone yet so therefore I can't really talk about that until I have made firm arrangements."

She added, "I would think that your listeners will know which way my mind is going because one has to look not only at what makes a pretty pattern on paper but what is logistically and in general possible in terms of the ages of stallions involved."

A potential mating with Dubawi would produce a reverse of the cross seen in recent Classic winners Adayar (Ire) and Homeless Songs (Ire). While it is relatively early days for Frankel as a broodmare sire, daughters of his sire Galileo (Ire) have combined well with Dubawi, with notable examples of that cross being Horse of the Year Ghaiyyath (Ire) and 2000 Guineas winner Night Of Thunder (Ire).

Furthermore, Raising’s Lanwades Stud has also been represented as the breeder this year of St Leger winner Eldar Eldarov (GB), a son of Dubawi who, like Alpinista, has the treble Group 1 winner Albanova (GB) (Alzao) as his granddam.

The 5-year-old Alpinista, a daughter of the Hernando (Fr) mare Alwilda (GB) and a fourth-generation Lanwades homebred, has won six consecutive Group 1 races for Raising and Sir Mark Prescott. She will retire at the end of the year, though one final racecourse hurrah has not yet been ruled out.

"The plan for the spring is definitely the paddocks at Lanwades Stud because she will be a 6-year-old then," Raising told Nick Luck. "She will definitely retire at the end of the year. Whether she runs again, at this precise moment is not decided. There are only two opportunities for her, which would be the Japan Cup or the Breeders' Cup, and in fact I would say the firmer going in Japan would be attractive to us because she has always actually been particularly good on firm going, so from that point of view it was an even more admirable achievement on that very heavy ground in Paris."

Raising pointed to the long journey to Japan as a potential matter of concern, however.

"I am pondering that at the moment," she added.

While stud plans for next year are to be confirmed, Raising revealed that she has already decided to keep Alpinista at home at Lanwades for her 2024 mating with G1 Prix du Jockey Club winner Study Of Man (Ire), the only son of Deep Impact (Jpn) at stud in Britain.

"I can tell you that she is going to visit Study Of Man in 2024," she said. "Study Of Man has his first-crop yearlings this year. We very much look forward to seeing his produce run as 2- and 3-year-olds in the next two years and I have great expectations for him."

2023 FIXTURE LIST RELEASED BY HRI

The 2023 fixture list, featuring the same number of fixtures as 2022 with 390, was revealed by Horse Racing Ireland (HRI) on Tuesday. Three of those fixtures will be floating fixtures, to be assigned as needed. Cont. p13

Next year, Navan racecourse (Nov. 18, 19) and Punchestown (Nov. 25, 26) will host high-class weekends of NH racing ahead of the traditional Winter Festival at Fairyhouse (Dec. 2, 3). A new two-day fixture will be introduced at Naas on the weekend of Oct. 14 and 15 and a two-day all-Flat fixture at Leopardstown on the following weekend. The season will end at the Curragh on Sunday, Nov. 5, while the Flat Turf season also begins at the Curragh, on Saturday, Mar. 25. The number of blank Sundays will be retained at six, on Mar. 19, Apr. 23, June 25, July 16, July 30 and Oct. 8. The number of Saturdays with clashing afternoon Irish race meetings has been reduced to nine in 2023, from 15 in 2022.

Jason Morris, HRI’s Director of Racing and Strategic Projects, said, “The 2023 fixture list sees a significant development of the National Hunt schedule in November with a series of two-day feature meetings now being created for both race programming and promotional benefits. The very popular Down Royal NH Festival at the start of the month will be followed by two-day meetings at Navan (featuring the Fortria and Troytown), Punchestown (featuring the Morgiana and the re-located John Durkan Memorial Chase from early December), leading into the hugely successful Fairyhouse Winter Festival in early December.”

HOW THEY FARED

2.30 Leicester, Novice, £9,000, 2yo, 7f

Hightank (Ire) (Kingman (GB)) was disappointing again, hanging under pressure late as he chased the authoritative winner.

Godolphin’s once-exciting TDN Rising Star who made such a big impression on debut has something to prove now.
Tuesday’s Results:

4th-Leicester, £15,000, Novice, 10-11, 2yo, f, 6fT, 1:11.24, g/f. MAGICAL SUNSET (IRE) (f, 2, Kodiad {GB}--Fikrah {GB}, by Medicean {GB}), who beat the G2 Mill Reef S.-winning TDN Rising Star Sakheer (Ire) (Zoffany {Ire}) on debut over this trip at Windsor Aug. 15, came into this class drop on the back of a fourth in The Curragh’s Goffs Million Sept. 24 and raced prominently from the outset. Gaining a slight advantage passing the two-furlong pole, the 6-4 favourite stayed on to score by half a length from Beautiful Aisling (GB) (Havana Gold {Ire}). The dam, who has already produced the Wokingham H. winner and G3 Bengough third Hey Jonesy (Ire) (Excelebration {Ire}), is responsible for the winner’s full-brother who was knocked down to Peter and Ross Doyle Bloodstock for £575,000 at the recent Goffs Orby Sale. She hails from the family of the dual Group 3 winner With Reason (Nashwan) and the G3 Futurity S. scorer and G1 Fillies Mile runner-up Jural (GB) (Kris {GB}). Her colt foal is by Sottsass (Fr). Staying on strongly to the line despite drifting left late on, the 17-2 shot had three lengths to spare over TDN Rising Star Highbank (Ire) (Kingman {GB}) there. The dam's first foal was this yard’s star performer Tip Two Win (GB) (Dark Angel {IRE}), who was successful in the Listed Flying Scotsman S. and was second in the 2000 Guineas. From the family of the Listed Lacken S.-winning Sire Due Diligence (War Front), she has the yearling filly Marclaflo Diamond (Ire) (Ten Sovereigns {IRE}) and the colt foal Franciscan (IRE) (Starspangledbanner {Aus}). 750K DUNDEEL COLT SMASHES INGLIS RECORD

A$750,000 Dundeel colt, Monday’s top lot | Inglis

by Lydia Symonds and Oz Wedmore

After a few COVID-stricken years, international buyers were back in full force at the Inglis Ready2Race Sale on Tuesday. However, the most expensive horse ever bought at the auction—a colt by Dundeel (NZ)—will be staying in Australia after Ciaron Maher and Mat Becker’s Group 1 Bloodstock teamed up to secure the youngster.

At A Glance:
• At the close of trade, Inglis reported that 145 lots were sold for an aggregate of $15,646,500, making it the most successful breeze up sale ever held in Australia (by gross).
• The gross increased from 12 months ago, where 110 lots sold for a gross of $12,016,500, however it was a significantly smaller catalogue in 2021, with 185 lots catalogued compared with 289 this year.
• The sale finished with an average of $107,907, a slight dip on last year where it was recorded as $109,241, while the median remained steady at $80,000.
• A colt by Dundeel became the most expensive juvenile ever purchased at the auction with trainer Ciaron Maher and Mat Becker’s Group 1 Bloodstock paying Dean Harvey’s Baystone Farm $750,000 for the colt.
• Anton Koolman Bloodstock finished the sale as the leading buyer, purchasing three juveniles for total receipts of $1,310,000 and his most expensive purchase of the day was an Nolen Racing-consigned colt by Deep Field, who he secured for $550,000.
• Golden River also left the sale with three purchases and the most expensive of the trio was a son of The Autumn Sun, who they picked up for $500,000.

Maher Snaps up Son of Dundeel

A colt by Dundeel (NZ) became the most expensive juvenile ever purchased at the Inglis Ready2Race Sale on Tuesday after trainer Ciaron Maher and Mat Becker’s Group 1 Bloodstock purchased the Baystone Farm-consigned colt for $750,000.

Originally bought by Dean Harvey of Baystone Farm for $210,000 at the Magic Millions Gold Coast Yearling Sale earlier this year, the colt showed his talent when clocking a respectable :10.69s in his 200-metre breeze in the run up to the sale.

Catalogued as Lot 223, the son of Dundeel is out of the dual-winning Redoute’s Choice mare Lady Moura and she is herself a sister to the ill-fated outstanding young sire Beneteau. Further back this is also the same family as multiple Group 1-winning Champion Alinghi (Encosta De Lago).

Being by Arrowfield Stud’s Dundeel out of a daughter of Redoute’s Choice means the colt is bred on the same cross as G1 Caulfield Guineas winner Super Seth, who now stands at Waikato Stud in New Zealand.
Harvey—who has retained a small share in the youngster—was unsurprisingly delighted with the colt’s price-tag and rated him one of the best colts he had ever offered at the sale.

“He’s a gorgeous horse,” Harvey told TDN AusNZ. “I reckon he’s one of the best horses we’ve produced at this sale, just a gorgeous individual. He’s a bit different to his sire, a lot leggier and a bit taller, but not heavy. “He’s very athletic, has a great brain and can obviously gallop quite quickly. It was just a great result, we’re actually going to stay in for a little bit, I asked Ciaron after they bought him. “He shouldn’t be doing what he’s doing at the moment, he’s by a stallion that generally throws 3-year-old middle-distance horses.”

Koolman Snaps Up Deep Field Colt

Newgate Farm’s Deep Field enjoyed an incredible afternoon on Saturday when siring two stakes winners and on Tuesday one of his sons translated that success into the sales ring with Oliver Koolman of Anton Koolman Bloodstock going to $550,000 for the youngster.

The Nolen Racing-consigned colt was enjoying his third trip to a sales ring, having been purchased by Hopetoun Lodge for $90,000 at the Magic Millions National Weanling Sale in 2021, before Tal Nolen snapped him up for $120,000 at the Inglis Melbourne Premier Yearling Sale.

The colt signalled he would be a major player at the sale when clocking the fastest breeze-up time of the sale, when covering the 200 metres at Seymour in a time of :10.10s.

The juvenile is out of placed High Chaparral (Ire) mare Alderney and she is a sister of listed winner Ballet Suite, while she also counts listed winner Casquets (Fastnet Rock) amongst her half-siblings.

Given Deep Field’s success in Hong Kong, it was not surprising to see the colt bought for the jurisdiction.

“It was the fastest breeze, which was a bonus. I was particularly taken by his action, his constitution and his physique,” Koolman told TDN AusNZ. “The way he presented himself on the grounds, the vendor has done a fantastic job in identifying him, educating him and presenting him.

“He ticked a large number of the boxes that we wanted. He obviously X-rayed well, vetted clean and he’s been bought for the purpose of going to Hong Kong.”

A few lots later, Koolman made his presence felt once again, signing for a colt by former Coolmore shuttle No Nay Never (USA), paying Baystone Farm $460,000 for the youngster. The transaction signalled yet another nice touch for Harvey of Baystone, who purchased the colt for $80,000 at the 2022 Magic Millions Gold Coast Yearling Sale. Catalogued as Lot 136, the youngster—who clocked :10.35s in his breeze—is out of the unraced Exceed And Excel mare, Boomex, making the colt a half-brother to G3 Gold Coast Guineas winner Marboosha (Dream Ahead {USA}).

Golden River Goes To $500,000 For Colt By The Autumn Sun

Hong Kong-based outfit Golden River threw their support behind a colt from The Autumn Sun’s first crop when they paid Cheltenham Stables $500,000 for the juvenile.

Catalogued as Lot 58, the colt, who breezed in a time of :10.70s, was purchased by Cheltenham Stables for NZ$200,000 at the New Zealand Bloodstock National Yearling Sale earlier this year and he is out of four-time-winning Sopra Tutto (NZ) (High Chaparral {Ire}).

Sopra Tutto is herself a half-sister to Group 2 winner Supera (NZ) (Savabeel) and dual Group 2 scorer Eleonora (NZ) (Makfi {GB}), while the colt’s third dam is multiple Group 1-winning champion Ethereal (NZ) (Rhythm {USA}).

Cheltenham Stables’ John Malcolm said while they were confident the colt was high-class, they were not expecting him to make the money he did.

“It was fantastic, we weren’t expecting to get to there,” Malcolm told TDN AusNZ. “We’d had big interest in him all week and X-ray hits had been strong, but to get half a million for him was massive.”

Malcolm sold nine of the 11 juveniles he offered on Tuesday and finished the sale with a leading aggregate of $1,560,000 and average of $173,333, admitting that at times it was tough going in the ring.

“It’s a tough sale here today [Tuesday], for the right horses there’s the money there, [but] it’s pretty tough in general. We are getting them moved so as long as we keep doing that, that’s the main thing.”

Hutch Pleased With Trade

Inglis Bloodstock CEO Sebastian Hutch was buoyed by Tuesday’s good results and was confident the clearance rate, which sat around 65%, would continue to rise in the coming days.

“I think we’ll end up with a clearance rate of 70% which, traditionally, had been a reasonable benchmark for this sale format. Given the volume of investment by the vendors and the challenges presented by vetting, we’ve been spoiled the last couple of years with the major domestic participation to post clearance rates higher than that,” Hutch told TDN AusNZ.

“But, by the same token, we were working with a smaller catalogue and under different circumstances. So, ultimately I’m very pleased that, in spite of weakened domestic participation, we’ve been able to post the results that we have.
“We’ve got a turnover in excess of $16 million, which is a record for a sale of its format in Australia. We posted a sale price that hasn’t been realised in Australia or New Zealand for 15 years or more. A lot of fantastic trade results from people, huge participation from Hong Kong and Singapore, and plenty of domestic participation—just nothing like the scale we saw in 2020 and 2021.”

Hutch said given the strength of the yearling sale series, the auction house had expected a slight dip in domestic participation at the sale.

“I think, ultimately, that just comes down to the volume of expenditure of yearlings in Australia in 2022 across the 11 yearling sales is in excess of $635 million, Inglis has a major share of that and that’s up $176 million on three years ago, the last pre-pandemic year.

“So, the volume of expenditure has been massive throughout the year, and I suppose there’s a point at which there’s less money in the market.”

Hutch said the auction house had worked tirelessly with the international buyers, particularly those in Asia to ensure their support at the sale.

“Those various relationships and the work that people have put in have contributed to a massive amount to the success of the sale, and hopefully those people that supported the sale will be rewarded with results on the racetrack in the years to come.

“What’s exciting is that this was definitely the best group of horses that have ever been brought to this sale, so it’s exciting to consider what these horses might go on to achieve in seasons to come for their new connections, and hopefully they can continue the momentum that their predecessors have generated.”
