MGISW JACK CHRISTOPHER RETIRED TO ASHFORD

'TDN Rising Star' and three-time Grade I winner Jack Christopher (Munnings--Rushin No Blushin, by Half Ours) has been retired from racing and will stand in 2023 alongside his sire at Coolmore’s Ashford Stud near Versailles, Ky. His introductory fee will be $45,000.

“We are delighted to have Jack Christopher now here at Ashford standing alongside his sire Munnings,” said Coolmore’s Dermot Ryan. “He’s a striking horse with great presence and a lovely temperament. Horses like him are what makes racing exciting to watch.”

Owned by the partnership of Jim Bakke, Gerald Isbister, Coolmore Stud, and Peter M. Brant, Jack Christopher debuted with an 8 3/4-length win at Saratoga at two and was immediately tabbed a 'Rising Star' off the performance.

HOW TO BETTER PROMOTE RACING...
A Q&A WITH MATTRESS MACK by Bill Finley
Jim McIngvale (Mattress Mack) made history when the Houston Astros won the World Series. He made bets that returned $75 million when they won, the largest win ever in the history of sports betting. The bets were tied into a promotion McIngvale has used many times at his Gallery Furniture Stores in Houston. If he wins the bet, his customers get free mattresses.

He’s great at getting publicity for himself and his stores, but never had he seen anything like what happened with this bet, the story of which became a huge hit on social media. In particular, B/R Betting, an arm of Bleacher Report, followed McIngvale from Game 1 of the World Series through the team’s victory parade and captured the agony and ecstasy of each moment from someone who had $75 million at stake based on the outcome of a baseball game. Mattress Mack content amassed 75 million video views on B/R Betting, which posted the content on Twitter, Instagram and TikTok. McIngvale figures he got millions of dollars in free publicity out of the B/R Betting posts.

It just goes to show that when it comes to promoting his business and himself, McIngvale has no equal. Because of his bet and the publicity it received, McIngvale became as famous as the Astros star players.
The market remained competitive as Book 3 of the Keeneland November Sale closed its two-day run Friday with a frenzy of activity towards the end of the session. Spritz (Awesome Again) commanded everyone’s attention deep into the session, topping the day’s action at $550,000 from Gary Holland’s Kamden Racing.

Sent next to the GI Champagne S. at Belmont, he scored by daylight again off 8-5 odds. Made the 9-5 morning-line favorite for last year’s GI Breeders’ Cup Juvenile at Del Mar before being scratched the day prior to the race, Jack Christopher underwent a procedure and returned this spring on Derby Day with a comeback victory in the GII Pat Day Mile S. A blowout 10-length score in the GI Woody Stephens S. followed before his lone career loss—a third to Cyberknife (Gun Runner) in the GI Haskell S. in his first time stretching out—and finally a return to the winner’s circle in his last start, the GI H. Allen Jerkens Memorial S. Jack Christopher retires with a record of 6-5-0-1 and earnings of $1,216,400. He was unbeaten around one turn.

“Jack Christopher was an exceptional talent,” said trainer Chad Brown. “I’ve never had a dirt horse with such brilliance. He never disappointed us in a workout or a race and was just a pleasure to train.”

From the family of Running Stag (Cozzene)—who was a MGSW in the U.S. and a GSW in France, in addition to being GISP in the U.S. and G1SP in Hong Kong—Jack Christopher is out of a half-sister to MGISW and sire Street Boss (Street Cry {Ire}).

So what advice does this master promoter have for horse racing and how can it better promote itself? Those were the questions we had for Mattress Mack.

TDN: In what areas should racing focus its attention when it comes to improving the visibility of the sport?

JM: People love gambling stories. Horse racing needs to do more to play on the gambling aspect because these young kids are fascinated by it. When I went to Philly and got into that famous confrontation with some Phillies fans, which was not my finest hour, everybody up there knew me. They all know me from all the exposure I was getting with places like Bleacher Report. Horse racing needs to have more connection to young people through gambling and find ways where people can win a lot of money. Absolutely, we should promote gambling more. In Philly, everyone knew Mattress Mack and knew about my bet on the Astros. They knew me because they saw me on B/R Betting or the Action Network or whatever. What’s better? Horse racing or the lottery? There’s no comparison. Horse racing is a much better gambling game and they need to get the word out about that.

TDN: You won $75 million on your Astros bet. There is no way for a person to make that kind of money betting on a horse race, even at the Kentucky Derby. What’s your answer to that?

JM: No, you can’t make that kind of money betting on racing, but you can make racing a better product for the bettor. Do whatever it takes to get bigger fields and lower the takeout. Figure out a way to get 15- or 20-horse fields like they have in England. You do that and all of a sudden you have a different game, a better game. We see far too many races and stakes that have five-horse fields with big favorites. People don’t want to bet on that. Increase the size of the fields and give people a chance to gamble on a good product. That’s all people want. People are fascinated with gambling, particularly with sports betting. You’ve also got to lower the takeout to compete. It’s 5% when I make a sports bet. In racing it’s four times that.

TDN: What did you think of the decision to retire Flightline (Tapit)?

JM: You have to have superstars. Retiring Flightline. I get it. They had to make the money. But what a shame there wasn’t a way to keep him around longer. Football has Tom Brady and a bunch of other high-profile players. Baseball doesn’t do a good job promoting its stars, but basketball certainly does. You have to create household names and get people excited about a horse appearing here or there. To me, that’s really important. They have to find a way to keep these horses running longer so they have a chance to become household names. The game has to figure out how to keep these horses around as long as they are sound because everyone wants to see a superstar. Pay them an appearance fee. Pay them money to just show up, whether they win or lose. That’s one way to get horses to stay around. We need more superstars like Zenyatta, who was still running when she was six. She stuck around and built up a huge fan base.

TDN: What’s your opinion of fixed-odds wagering on horse racing?

JM: Going to fixed odds would be outstanding. When you bet at 3-1 and the horse goes off at 4-5, that’s hard to swallow. I get LEADING HIS GENERATION. AGAIN... Champion at two. And at three. Now the number one freshman covering sire with a $349k average. Proving that he’s got a stallion’s most essential quality: he adds value to mares.
fixed odds on my Astro bets. Fixed odds are the way to go so that way people know what they are going to get for their money. I think fixed odds would be a great benefit because pari-mutuel betting is too complicated for the average person out there.

TDN: What are some of the problems you see with horse racing as it is now?

JM: No. 1, it has to be more transparent. The optics on horse racing are not good when these guys get slapped on the wrist for these drug positives. That’s horrible. You can’t have people thinking a horse won because it was drugged. We’ve also got to do more to keep these horses safe. They’ve got to improve the technology. Dr. [David] Lambert has this device you can put on the horse and it tells you when it’s going to red line and something is going to pop. That needs to be done in workouts and when they race and it needs to be done everywhere. When those horses red line and are about to pop they need to stop on those horses. All that stuff is doable. Dr. Lambert and I are working on what we call the Runhappy Wellness program. We want to get the racetracks to put these monitors on the horses so they can tell when something is going to go wrong. They monitor the baseball players and they monitor football players, so why can’t we monitor these horses and make it as transparent as possible? The more transparent the better.

TDN: What are other sports doing right that racing isn’t?

JM: Take a look at F1 (Formula 1 racing). F1 came to Austin, where my daughter runs a restaurant for us. They had the biggest two days in their history while F1 was in town. Five years ago, F1 was nothing. I asked a sports marketing friend of mine, how did F1 go from nothing to something, from the bottom of the heap to the top? It all comes down to a deal they did with Netflix. They told the story of F1 on Netflix and look what happened. It has turned into one of the hottest sports in the world. Racing needs to come up with some creative ideas like that. If F1 can do it, why can’t horse racing?

TDN: Tell us about your experience with B/R Betting.

JM: It was incredible. Those guys do a great job. The guys from Bleacher Report followed me the whole time during the World Series. We also have our own social media team that runs our sports website, Gallerysports.com. The amount of hits was just incredible. They know how to make this work. You put something on TikTok and it blows up exponentially. It’s just unbelievable. People like to see the agony and ecstasy of the big bet. They loved the story.

TDN: Your bet on the Astros was tied into a promotion you do at your stores, where people got mattresses for free if the Astros won the World Series. You had to give away an awful lot of mattresses. Did you come out ahead?

JM: I won $75 million and we sold over $70 million in mattresses. It’s the greatest promotion ever. After the Astros beat the Yankees, that Sunday was biggest day we’ve had in 43 years. The following day, Monday, which was a non-holiday Monday, we did 25% more than that. I had to cut the promotion off because I had reached the max in insurance money, which is what I call my bets. I was filled up to capacity. If I had kept going through the World Series, we would have sold another $40 million worth of mattresses. I got $100 million worth of publicity off this Astros bet. The brand awareness of my business increased tenfold in the last two weeks. When I was on that victory parade with the Astros players going through downtown Houston, people were chanting ‘Mattress Mack, Mattress Mack.’ There were two million people there. How else do you achieve something like that?

TDN: Are you optimistic about the future of racing?

JM: Yes, because there is so much opportunity to make things better.

This Side Up: Billion Dollar Babies Are Here

by Chris McGrath

It's a long time now, some 40 years or so, since Nelson Bunker Hunt's notorious observation that "a billion dollars isn't what it used to be". Which presumably means that today it's no longer even quite what it was, back when it wasn't what it used to be. After all, we've just seen the dispersal of a single art collection-assembled by the late Paul Allen, co-founder of Microsoft--realize $1.5 billion. Nonetheless it feels as though the transatlantic yearling market, in 2022, has reached a pretty historic landmark in tipping 10 figures for the first time.

Though a couple of minor catalogues remain to be processed in Europe, the overall value of yearling trade in North America and Europe has already advanced $63,996,667 (6.8%) on the 2021 tally of $937,533,161 to smash a symbolic barrier at $1,001,529,828.

Even in a marketplace currently inuring us to records, with one auction after another achieving new high-water marks, it's pretty staggering to register a first-ever crop of "billion dollar babies".

This figure, moreover, crushes very strong internal growth in the European market under the weight of a dollar that has been...
leaning heavily on other currencies in general, and sterling in particular.
That's perfectly valid, in that the upper tier of the European market is dominated by international rather than domestic investment. For those who count their wealth in dollars—the kind of people buying Mr. Allen's Klimts and Cezannes—the quaint old "guinea" has proved an especially congenial means of conducting business this year.
So while turnover and averages at Tattersalls and elsewhere have been soaring giddily, year on year, dollar conversion actually confines the value of the European market to a degree that would astonish its indigenous participants. In those terms, it has actually shed 2.4% this year, down to $391,241,817 from $400,981,400 in 2021. While we naturally pass over the COVID-warped turnover of 2020 (weighed in at $328,852,326), the European market this year was virtually identical to 2019, at the prevailing dollar rate, and down 4.8% on $410,789,647 in 2018. That's a chastening correction of perspective, for any Europeans attributing a booming export market to the sheer quality of their product.
Consider Europe's premier yearling catalogue through the prism of a fluctuating exchange rate. In October 2014, when £1 would get you $1.59, the average Book I yearling at Tattersalls realized $393,893. After the Brexit referendum in 2016, sterling having slumped to $1.22, the same book averaged $292,168. And this year, with sterling bumping along the floor at $1.12, a "record" average for the sale converted to just $280,080. So while the average guinea cost of a Book I yearling has gained 26.6% since 2014, the average dollar cost has meanwhile come down by 28.9%. (Jolly well done, Brexit supporters!)
Of course, the pinhooker who buys and sells within the European market, or the breeder who pays a covering fee there, will also buy their bread and milk in the same currency. So their sense that business is booming is perfectly legitimate, and its suppression within these figures—unprecedented as they are—only goes to show how remarkably potent is the current bull run in international bloodstock.
The flattening of European growth by dollar conversion leaves the average cost of a 2022 yearling, either side of the Atlantic, virtually unchanged at $94,851. In North America, however, we have reached a landmark every bit as stunning as the $1-billion overall market. In 2022, the average American yearling broke six figures, up from $98,558 last year to $106,806.
Once again, then, we renew our perplexity about this market's peculiar immunity to rampant geopolitical and economic maladies out there in the real world. We know that its most affluent contributors were never asked to furl the cash umbrellas they were issued after the banking crisis, and many have now separated themselves altogether from the exposure being experienced by the rest of society. Yet after a decade of spending stimulus, interest rates have finally been dusted off to tackle such forgotten inflationary horrors as plague and invasion. And somehow this market is still humming along.

The demand is real. Forget aggregate turnover, look at the astounding clearance rate. This has historically been less robust in America, but whereas 75% of those entering the ring here in 2018 found a new home—and that was a better clip than in the three preceding years—in the last two years the tally has climbed to 83 and 82% respectively. In Europe, similarly, the 2018 clearance of 78% has been moved up to as high as 86 and 85%.

So how does this all hold together? The stallion farms certainly appear to be taking their cue. Some of their fees for next spring arguably (and understandably) claim a piece of the action. Several elite stallions are getting steep hikes, on both sides of the water, in some cases at a time of life when their quality has been long established. But the organic connection between yearling values and covering fees entitles farm accountants to seize the day.

Over the past week, moreover, we have also seen how some unusually glamorous new stallions are stimulating demand for the most eligible mares. And while the gentleman who gave $4.6 million for 2.5% of Flightline can comfort himself that the underbidders set standards in the astute calculation of bloodstock values, this horse has reminded us—despite the notorious brevity of his first career—of the economic potential of sheer fan power.

That’s significant, because for now there’s limited crossover between those spending at Keeneland this week, and those spending in the same ring back in September. It’s heartening that so many people want to buy racehorses; and especially that many are doing so because viability on the track, in some parts of the country, feels increasingly feasible. But the circle still needs to be completed. If demand is so high, then why is supply diminishing? Why is the North American foal crop still to revive after its post-2008 collapse?

After the banking crisis, we soaked up four consecutive crop drops between 5.9% and 12.7%. There followed three years of stability before numbers began to ebb again, down 4.4% in 2018 even as the market was booming. Obviously we’ve since had a big COVID-shaped punch to the belly, but the projected crop for 2023 is again down.

As we know, the racing program—notably its black-type tier—has not sufficiently matched that contraction to remain competitive, and therefore stimulating to handicappers. The legal wagering menu is expanding all the time, and our own demographic is ageing.

It is true that crop sizes little different from today (c.18,000) serviced the American sport adequately in the era when it still retained a mass following. And the huge leap in the Thoroughbred population actually came after that heyday, from the mid-1960s to the mid-1980s, instead being driven by a revolution in the commercial breeding environment.

In this latest cycle of demand, however, we see no corresponding rise in supply. We’ve had a bull run for several years now, even riding out the pandemic with surprising resilience, yet the foal crop has meanwhile stagnated at best. Doubtless there are many different reasons for that. But one big difference between now and the couple of decades leading to the peak of 1986 (over North American 50,000 foals) is the failure of the export market. Those years of revolution owed significant impetus to European stables. (And rightly so, as things turned out: the result was a game-changing regeneration of the European Thoroughbred.)

Now I’m not going bother with an umpteenth rebuke for the disastrous modern schism between the two gene pools, and therefore the two markets. Nowadays, after all, I consider that more of an opportunity than a problem: if I’m right, then those who share my views will cash in; and if I’m wrong, then there’s no need to gnash any teeth.

Nonetheless one or two collective responsibilities do need to be embraced. How, for instance, to retrieve that European faith? Many of the prejudices that have stifled investment are actually thoroughly misguided. Nonetheless reconciliation could be a valuable incidental benefit from the earnest embrace of HISA.

In the domestic market, meanwhile, how do we excite all these people buying racehorses with the idea of breeding them? As things stand, this buoyancy at the sales ring does not yet fit any coherently virtuous circle of engagement.

You couldn’t say that Californian racing is thriving simply because it has produced nearly all the recent champions most likely to engage new fans: Zenyatta, California Chrome, American Pharoah, Justify, Flightline. Yet while other local barometers remain dispiriting, notably purses and fields, at least its leaders have made the tough decisions necessary to secure a more sustainable footing for any other progress that can be made. They have started from the ground up, literally, with their racing surfaces—and have done such a good job that they might yet prove able to turn round some of their other issues.
By the same token, just because horsemen elsewhere are making plenty of dough, whether in the ring or on the track, that doesn't mean they can be complacent that everything else is in place. For a time, remember, the price of silver told Bunker Hunt that he had just about nailed his attempt to corner the market. Let's be cautious, then, before deciding that all the glister on our Thoroughbreds must be gold.

KAMDEN RACING STRIKES FOR 550K SPRITZ AS KEENOV BOOK 3 CLOSES

By Christie DeBernardis

LEXINGTON, KY--The market remained competitive as Book 3 of the Keeneland November Sale closed its two-day run Friday with a frenzy of activity towards the end of the session. After a slow, but steady beginning to the day, Spritz (Awesome Again) (HIp 1747) commanded everyone's attention deep into the session, topping the day's action at $550,000 from Gary Holland's Kamden Racing. She is carrying her first foal by Quality Road.

The day's co-second-highest priced offering came just six hips later when the Brogdens fended off all comers for a mare from a family very close to their hearts, the $400,000 Stonetonic (Candy Ride {Arg}), who sold in foal to Yaupon. SF Bloodstock, who sold the topper, was also responsible for the other $400,000 mare Hotshot Anna (Trappe Shot) (Hip 1561), who was also in foal to Quality Road. She was bought by Frederick and May Construction.

They also bred the weanling co-topper, a $175,000 daughter of first-crop sire McKinzie. That filly tied a filly from the first crop of champion Game Winner at $175,000. Coincidentally, both of those first-season stallions were bred by Jane Lyon's Summer...

Wind Farm, which, of course, produced superstar Flightline. During Friday's session, a total of 246 head grossed $18,641,500 compared to last year when 282 horses brought $19,590,500. However, average was up from $69,470 to $75,778 and median was up from $57,000 to $60,000. The RNA rate increased from 15.32% for the fifth session last year to 21.41% this term.

Through the first five days of selling, 1,041 horses have sold for $182,437,000, well ahead of last year when 1,120 grossed $166,206,000. Average is up to $175,252 compared to $148,398 last year and median increased from $95,000 to $100,000. The RNA rate was up from 20.90% to 25.38%.

“I think the market is good. It is a careful market,” said Neal Clarke of Bedouin Bloodstock, which sold the mare and weanling toppers Friday and were the session's leading consignor by average. “There is plenty of money there for the right stock. I don't think a high tide raises all boats. I think it raises a lot of them, but others get left by the wayside. I think it is a very good sale. We are enjoying it. Long may it last.”

Carrie Brogden noted that as we reach the midway point of the sale, a stronger middle market is starting to emerge.

“We walk up here looking to spend $100,000 or $200,000 on a mare and they bring $390,000 or $350,000,” the horsewoman said. “I think there is plenty of money for those that tick all the boxes. It is very strong for quality. I will say things are starting to change here and there is more of a middle market for weanlings.”

The Keeneland November Sale continues through Wednesday with sessions starting at 10 a.m. and is followed by a single-session Horses of Racing Age Sale Thursday.

Spritz Tops Strong Day For SF

Mares sold by Gavin Murphy’s SF Bloodstock have been extremely popular this week at Keeneland and two of them topped Friday’s trade during the Book 3 closer. Spritz (Awesome Again) (Hip 1747) was the session topper, bringing $550,000 from new owner Gary Holland’s Kamden Racing, and Hotshot Anna (Trappe Shot) (Hip 1561) shared the second spot at $400,000 from Frederick and May Construction. Both mares were sold by Bedouin Bloodstock carrying foals by Quality Road.

“It's been a great sale for us,” said SF’s Caroline Wilson. “They are both in foal to Quality Road and are both great mares, who we thought would suit the sale very well. Obviously, we are invested in Quality Road. We have a lot of faith in him. He really adds value to his mares. We thought they would be great sale prospects and they have not let us down.”

Bred by SF in partnership with Tony Holmes, Spritz raced under SF’s colors after they bought out their partner at KEESEP for $140,000. Out of SW Holy Blitz (Holy Bull), the 4-year-old filly is a half-sister to champion female sprinter Judy the Beauty (Ghostzapper). Spritz was stakes-placed during her 11-race career and is carrying her first foal.

“I bought this for a new guy, Gary Holland,” said Darby Dan’s Charlie McKinlay, who signed the ticket as Kamden Racing. “He just bought the old Windhaven Farm. This mare will be the top of the heap. He is just getting into the game. He lives in northern Kentucky and owns a bunch of restaurants in the area, like the Merrick Inn.”

McKinlay added, “I think she really stood out today. I think she was the prettiest one by far.”

Hotshot Anna, who is also carrying her first foal, was a dual graded winner who earned just over $975,000. The SF team purchased her for $100,000 at the 2020 renewal of this auction.

“We purchase mares with two ideas in mind,” Wilson said. “We may keep them in our broodmare band and take foals out of them or we may breed them and put them back into the market. We thought this was a good opportunity to put Hotshot Anna back into the market. She was a tremendous racehorse and now in foal to Quality Road, which makes her appealing and an exciting horse to sell.”

She continued, “Spritz we actually co-bred with our good friend Tony Holmes. We purchased her as a yearling and raced her ourselves. She got her stakes placing with our friend Rodolphe Brisset. She was a special horse for us. We bred her to Quality Road and thought it was a good time to put her back in the market. We are delighted with how she has done.”

SF also bred and sold the weanling co-topper, a $175,000 filly (Hip 1594) from the first crop of MGISW McKinzie.

Anna Still a 'Hotshot' at Keeneland

MGSW Hotshot Anna (Trappe Shot) (Hip 1561) was back in the spotlight at Keeneland Friday, summoning $400,000 from Chad and Todd Frederick’s Frederick & May Construction while carrying her first foal by Quality Road.

“We have been wanting to pick up a mare,” said Chad Frederick. “We have lost out on several, so we decided this was one we were going after. A racemare in foal to Quality Road meant a lot.”

As for the price, he said, “It was a little more [than we thought], but it was our limit. The market is very strong.”

The Frederick brothers bought a pair of weanlings post sale, a $100,000 Bolt d’Oro colt (Hip 1031) and a $90,000 Audible filly (Hip 1007). Todd Frederick also signed the ticket on A Bit of Both (Paynter) (Hip 1412), who brought $110,000 in foal to McKinzie.

Hotshot Anna was a six-time black-type winner, with two of those being graded events. She had 12 wins in total from 27 starts and earnings over $975,000. SF Bloodstock purchased her for just $100,000 at the 2020 KEENOV sale.

“We were hoping for this,” said Neal Clarke of Bedouin Bloodstock, which consigned the 8-year-old mare. “Everybody really, really liked her. It is very hard to find a mare that had that graded stakes-winning streak that she had. Twelve wins, seven seconds, a real racemare and in foal to Quality Road. It was the perfect package.”

Bedouin and SF have been having a very good November Sale, including selling the day three topper, the $1-million Proud Emma (Include), who is in foal to Charlatan.

Stonetonic a Sentimental Purchase For Brogden

It is no secret just how special the aptly named Special Me (Unbridled's Song) is to Carrie Brogden. Purchased for just $6,000, the now-17-year-old mare has produced four graded winners, two at the Grade I level, and the Brogdens have sold her offspring for a combined $3.081 million over the past decade.

Brogden and her husband Craig, who operate Machmer Hall Farm with her mother Sandra Fubini, have not retained any of Special Me’s daughters, so they were hell bent on acquiring her granddaughter Stonetonic (Candy Ride {Arg}) Friday and were successful at $400,000. The 4-year-old sold in foal to new sire Yaupon.

“A Special Me has paid for everything,” said Brogden as she choked back tears after Craig Brogden signed the ticket out back. “She has paid for our kids’ education, our house. Special Me is getting old now and we don’t know how many more foals we will get out of her. She had a Curlin filly that got kicked and killed in a freak paddock accident, which just broke my heart. She has a Twirling Candy filly in her belly and people ask if we are going to keep her. She will be a half to four graded winners. They get to be so valuable.”

The Brogdens and Fubini bred Stonetonic’s fleet-footed dam Stonetastic (Mizzen Mast), who was Special Me’s second foal and brought $77,000 as a KEESEP yearling from Stoneway Farm. She went on to win four black-type events, two at the graded level, and was Grade I-placed for earnings over $856,000.

Stonetastic was Special Me’s first black-type winner and was followed by Grade I winners Gift Box (Twirling Candy) and Gina Romantica (Into Mischief)—a seven-figure yearling and recent winner of the GI QEII Challenge Cup here at Keeneland—as well as MGSW Special Forces (Candy Ride {Arg}).

The first foal out of Stonetastic, Stonetonic (Hip 1753) was retained by Stoneway Farm and never made the races. She is carrying her first foal by new Spendthrift stallion Yaupon (Uncle Mo).

“This filly was so much like Stonetastic, who was a beautiful, beautiful yearling,” said Carrie Brogden. “We were going to buy her no matter what she cost! I was kind of hoping no one else felt about her the way we did. I was told Mandy Pope did. We love the mating with Yaupon, too.”

She continued, “When you make millions of dollars out of a mare and then all those horses run and win and have heart and beauty and they vet, we are just very blessed. David Ingordo, who bought Gift Box off of us, bought Stonetastic’s Gun Runner [filly for $925,000] in September [at Keeneland], so we have a lot of faith in that program.”

McKinzie’s First Crop Proves Popular

The first foals by MGISW McKinzie (Street Sense) were in high demand at Keeneland this week with one of his daughters co-topping all weanlings during Friday’s session. Hip 1594 summoned $175,000 from Creek Bloodstock, tying a colt from the first crop of champion Game Winner (Hip 1735) for top-priced weanling. Another filly by the Gainesway stallion (Hip 1551) sold for $170,000 to Teddy Town Racing.

“We are proud to be shareholders in McKinzie,” said Caroline Wilson of SF Bloodstock, which bred Hip 1594. “We had a lovely weanling out of Lady Rapper. We are very pleased with how that filly sold. Bedouin has done a great job for us. We got a lot of action today. The price was great for her.”

Hailing from the same farm that produced Flightline and Game Winner, Jane Lyon’s Summer Wind Farm, McKinzie won five Grade Is at varying distances throughout his career and was a solid second to champion Vino Rosso in the GI Breeders’ Cup Classic. The ‘TDN Rising Star’ has had 22 weanlings sell so far at Keeneland for a total of $3.13 million and an average of $142,273.

“We are really thrilled with the way the marketplace has accepted the McKinzes,” said Gainesway’s Brian Graves, who consigned Hip 1551. “When we first started looking at the offspring of the stallion, it was obvious he was really stamping and that’s what we’ve put out there. They are all these big, leggy, bay horses with big, long, beautiful necks just like him. They are correct and we are thrilled. It is just as optimistic a start for a stud as we could hope for.”

NY SIRE MAJESTIC CITY SUCCUMBS TO LAMINITIS

Irish Hill & Dutchess Views Stallions LLC’s Majestic City (City Zip) was euthanized Tuesday, Nov. 8, due to the complications of laminitis. The 13-year-old is the sire of four small crops of racing age, which include 34 individual winners and Belmont’s 2021 Iroquois S. winner The Important One.

“Majestic City will be sorely missed by myself and the entire team,” said Irish Hill & Dutchess Views manager Bill Leak. “He was a horse you could measure others against and only hope they can come close to his quality.”

Majestic City’s wins during his five-year racing career included the GIII Lone Star Park H. and the GIII Hollywood Juvenile Championship S. He also placed in five additional graded races, including the GI Dixiana Breeders’ Futurity and the GI Del Mar Futurity.

THOROUGHBRED MAKEOVER WILL INCLUDE BROODMARE DIVISION

The Retired Racehorse Project (RRP) will include a pilot program for broodmares to compete in the 2023 Thoroughbred Makeover and National Symposium, presented by Thoroughbred Charities of America. Recently retired broodmares will compete alongside traditional entrants in all 10 offered disciplines, but will be recognized separately and have a separate $10,000 in prize money.

"As the Thoroughbred Makeover has made a proven impact on the population of horses retiring from racing, we've gotten an increasing call in recent years for a channel for Thoroughbred broodmares who are ready for their third career," said RRP executive director Kirsten Green. "Although the needs of this group are somewhat different from the original Makeover eligibility, the principal is still the same: horses who have received the investment of quality care and training are more likely to find lasting homes. We’re excited to offer a modified division to make a contribution to that outcome."

To be eligible for the new division, broodmares must be registered with The Jockey Club (TJC), have foaled or been bred in 2021 or after, have one lifetime start or published work, and may not have had prior shows or competitions. Broodmares will not be subject to the 15-ride limit. Complete rules will be available when the 2023 rulebook is published next month at TheRRP.org.

The new broodmare division is made possible with a grant from the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (ASPCA). Additional support from farms and regional breeders groups is anticipated.

KEENELAND PURCHASES HISTORIC MANCHESTER FARM Edited Press Release

Keeneland has purchased historic Manchester Farm. Located on the northern boundary of Keeneland Race Course, Manchester Farm is one of the most recognizable farms in Kentucky. Originally named Manchester Springs Plantation after a creek that runs through the property, the farm has a rich history that dates back to the 1700s. In 1804, Francis Keen (first generation of the Keene family) passed 200 acres of Manchester Springs Plantation to his son. The land remained in the Keen/Keene family for five generations until 1935, when J.O. "Jack" Keene sold 147.6 acres to Keeneland Association for the creation of a model race track.
"The history of Manchester Farm and Keeneland are intertwined," Keeneland President and CEO Shannon Arvin said. "We were thrilled to have the opportunity to purchase the farm and plan to celebrate this Central Kentucky treasure for generations."

Keeneland purchased the nearly 200-acre farm from Calumet Farm, owned by Brad Kelley. He purchased Manchester Farm in 2016 from noted breeder and owner Mike G. Rutherford, who bought the farm in 1976 from Duval Headley (nephew of Hal Price Headley, a Keeneland founder and the track's first President).

"Over the course of Keeneland’s 86-year history, we have acquired adjacent properties to preserve the track's picturesque setting and to further our mission to perpetuate the best of Thoroughbred racing and sales," Arvin said. "While we do not have immediate plans for the future of the property, Lexington and the Thoroughbred community can trust that Keeneland will use the land to strengthen our industry, enhance the Central Kentucky region and always do what is best for the horse."

NYTHA HIRES MARIE KIZENKO AS COMMUNICATIONS MANAGER

Marie Kizenko has joined the New York Thoroughbred Horsemen’s Association team as communications manager. A racing industry veteran, Kizenko served as a senior editor for 14 years at the Thoroughbred Daily News before working as a freelance writer and communications consultant. She returned to racing on a full-time basis in 2019 and most recently served as stakes coordinator for the Maryland Jockey Club.

"This is a fascinating time for the racing industry in New York," Kizenko said. "NYTHA’s core missions of benevolence, equine welfare, and safeguarding the interests of its members are vital to me. I have been involved in many facets of racing, and am thrilled to have this opportunity to ensure its future growth."

LOADED FIELD OF MAIDEN FILLIES
HEADLINES DEL MAR’S OPENING WEEKEND

The other half of the un-coupled Bob Baffert entry, Faiza (Girvin) also brought $725,000 as a 2-year-old out of the Fasig-Tipton Midlantic Sale following a breeze in :10.1. Second dam MGSW & MGISP Pomeroy’s Pistol (Pomeroy) also produced MGSW & Spendthrift stallion Thousand Words (Pioneerof the Nile). TJCIS PPS

4th-DMR, $70K, Msw, 2yo, f, 6f, 5:00 p.m.

The third foal out of four-time champion Beholder (Henny Hughes), TEENA ELLA (War Front) debuts Saturday for the same connections as her dam, owner/breeder Spendthrift Farm and trainer Richard Mandella. Beholder, herself out of blue-hen Leslie’s Lady (Tricky Creek), is a half-sister to the likes of GISW & top-10 freshman sire Mendelssohn (Scat Daddy) as well as GISW and perennial leading sire Into Mischief (Harlan’s Holiday). The first of her siblings to make the races as a 2-year-old, Teena Ella enters off back-to-back six-furlong bullets, working from the gate in 1:12 4/5 (1/2) Oct. 27 and timed in 1:13 2/5 (1/4) Nov. 3.

A $940,000 yearling purchase by David Wilson out of last year’s Fasig-Tipton Saratoga Sale, Miss Monarch Bay (Into Mischief) is a half-sister to MGSP Sine Wave (Big Brown) and hails from the family of G1SW Menhoubah (Dixieland Band). She picks up jockey Victor Espinoza for trainer Michael McCarthy.

Following a workmanlike breeze in :10, Wudi (Uncle Mo), originally a $117,000 yearling purchase, sold for $725,000 to Donato Lanni out of the OBS April Sale. The second foal out of a half-sister to MGSW His Race To Win (Stormy Atlantic) and the dam of G1SW El Tormenta (Stormy Atlantic) and GSW Zero Tolerance (Mizzen Mast), this is the family of leading sire Smart Strike (Mr. Prospector), Canadian Horse of the Year Dance Smartly (Danzig) and Canadian champion 2-year-old filly Hello Seattle (Deputy Minister). Wudi races for trainer Bob Baffert in the silks of Baoma Corp.

3rd-CD, $120K, Msw, 2yo, f, 1m, 2:00 p.m.

A $525,000 Keeneland September yearling, MADLY DANCING (Curlin) is a half-sister to GI Preakness S. third Creative Minister (Creative Cause), MGSP Battalion Runner (Unbridled’s Song), MGSP Oceanwave (Harlan’s Holiday) and GISP Dolder Grand (Candy Ride (Arg)). She is also out of a full-sister to GI Breeders’ Cup Dirt Mile winner and late sire Tapizar.

Breaking to the outside is $500,000 KEESEP Juddmonte purchase Undoubtedly (Blame), a daughter of MGISP And Why Note (Street Cry (Ire)), who has also produced MGSW Fearless (Ghostzapper) and MGSP Just Whistle (Pioneerof the Nile). This is also the family of GSW & MGISP Lone Sailor (Majestic Warrior) and MGSW Timeline (Hard Spun). And Why Not brought $800,000 in foal to Blame at this week’s Keeneland November Sale. TJCIS PPS

10th-GP, $52K, AOC, 3yo/up, 1m, 5:09 p.m.

Making his first start since a distant eighth to Art Collector (Bernardini) in the 2021 Alydar S., JESUS’ TEAM (Tapiture) returns to racing after a tumultuous layoff. After undergoing surgery for an ankle chip following his last race, MGISP Jesus’ Team suffered both a bacterial infection that threatened his life and laminitis in both of his front feet. It has been a slow recovery back but, after runner-up efforts in both the 2020 GI Breeders’ Cup Dirt Mile and the 2021 GI Pegasus World Cup to Horse of the Year Knicks Go (Paynter), the Jose D’Angelo trainee returns Saturday off a steady Palm Meadows work tab. Fourth last time out in his first try against graded-stakes horses in the GII Twilight Derby Oct. 29, Handy Dandy, Friday’s narrow 5-2 second choice, gave his backers a scare when he broke through the gate before the start and unseated jockey Juan Hernandez in the process. Despite a few tense moments, with Hernandez obviously nursing an injured elbow, he was able to remount and place Handy Dandy in a good stalking position two wide up the backstretch run. Moving up outside rivals and into contention around the far turn, he bid four wide at the top of the lane, struck the front late, and was just able to hold off Script for the narrow victory. Handy Dandy has an un-raced 2-year-old half-brother, Dollar Bill (Khozan), a yearling half-sister, Scenario (Khozan), and a weanling half-sister also by Khozan. His dam visited Uncle Chuck for the 2023 season. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG.

AH JEEZ (c, 2, Mendelssohn--Poetic, by Violence) broke his maiden over this same course and distance Aug. 26 and finished fifth—but was promoted to fourth—in the one-mile GIII Del Mar Juvenile Turf next time out. Third behind Speed Boat Beach (Bayern) in the Speakeasy S. Oct. 2 back at five furlongs, he stretched back out to be seventh last time out in another one-mile contest just a week later, the GIII Zuma Beach S. Oct. 9. Friday’s 7-5 second choice, Ah Jeez was forced to take back shortly after the start and raced near the rear of the field along the rail into the turn. Tipped outside the leading pair at the top of the lane, he drove past pacesetting favorite Helladic (Kanthetaos) with a sixteenth to run and gained separation from there to win by 1 1/4 lengths. A half-sister to juvenile stakes winner Into Trouble (Into Mischief), Poetic produced a colt by Kanthetaos last year and foaled a colt by Game Winner in 2022 before visiting Knicks Go for next season. Sales History: $80,000 Ylg ’21 KEESEP; $55,000 2yo ’22 OBSAPR. Lifetime Record: SP, 6-2-0-1, $114,500. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG.

GIANT’S FIRE (c, 3, Gun Runner--Esprit de Vie, by Street Cry (Ire)) opened his career with a trio of third-place performances in his first three starts, all over the Tampa main track. Not seen since Feb. 12, the 8-1 shot returned off the layoff to race inside of Tiger Town Boy (Curlin) from fourth as first-time starter Opportunity Set (Classic Empire) led the field through an opening quarter in :23.07. Fanned to the four path around the far turn, Giant’s Fire jostled for position as the field began to straighten and came with an outside run, just getting up under the wire to deny Opportunity Set by a neck. Out of a full-sister to GSW & G1SP Princess Highway and a half-sister to G1SW & MG1SP Mad About You (Ire) (Indian Ridge (Ire)), Giant’s Fire has yearling half-brother by American Pharoah and a weanling half-sister by Mendelssohn. Esprit de Vie was bred back to Echo Town and Caravaggio for next season. Sales History: $510,000 Ylg ’20 KEES. Lifetime Record: 4-1-0-3, $54,850. TALK OF THE NATION (c, 2, Quality Road--She’s Not Here (MGSW, $450,453), by Street Cry (Ire)) failed to meet his reserve on a final bid of $470,000 after breezing in :10.1 at the Fasig-Tipton Gulfstream Sale earlier this spring. Given the 4-5 nod in this scratched-down field of just three, Talk of the Nation took his time getting into stride after bumping with Nieuwendyk (Nyquist) shortly after the break. Third of the trio, he kept outside in the clear up the backstretch run before bidding from the four path around the turn as the half went in :47.47. On the lead passing the quarter pole, Talk of the Nation wasted no time asserting himself down the lane, drawing away from his two rivals to win by a geared-down 4 1/2 lengths. Assertive Attitude (Violence) led home Nieuwendyk to be a narrow second. From the family of Horse of the Year Zenyatta (Street Cry (Ire)) and MGISW Balance (Thunder Gulch), Talk of the Nation has a yearling half-sister, Flight or Fantasy (Uncle Mo), and a weanling half-brother by Improbable. She’s Not Here was bred back to WinStar’s stallion for the 2023 season. Sales History: $470,000 RNA 2yo ’22 FTFMAR. Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $46,750. 1st-Aqueduct, $70,000, (S), Msw, 11-11, 2yo, 1 1/16mT, 1:44.14, fm, 2 3/4 lengths.

KING OF COMEDY (c, 2, Oscar Performance--Rupert’s Promise, by Capote) broke his maiden in his third career effort and his first try going further than six furlongs. No better than sixth last time out at the Belmont At The Big meet Sept. 23, the $45,000 Midlantic purchase and Friday’s 9-2 third choice, got off to a smoother beginning, tracking from third just off puddersetter Atlanta’s Acuna (Cross Traffic). Given an inside trip at the head of the lane, King of Comedy was able to scoop through an opening to take over with a furlong to run, pulling clear close to home to win by 2 3/4 lengths. Atlanta’s Acuna held on to fill out the exacta over the firm turf. The 15th winner for his freshman sire (by Kitten’s Joy), King of Comedy has a weanling half-sister by Unified still to race behind him while his dam visited Basin for the 2023 season. 5th-Gulfstream, $41,000, Msw, 11-11, 2yo, f, 5 1/2f (AWT), 1:05.13, ft, neck.

STRIKE JAK (f, 2, Street Boss--Seeking the Light {MSP, $115,776), by Heatseeker {Ire}), the 5-2 second choice on the board for her afternoon debut, was sent right to the front by jockey Emisael Jaramillo to lead from just off the rail with a length in hand. Still unchallenged around the turn, Strike Jak began to open up at the top of the lane to stretch her margin to two lengths before Vai Bella (Practical Joke) began to make up ground. Needing the wire, Strike Jak was running out of stream and just managed to hold on to win by a neck as Vai Bella had to settle for second. Seeking the Light foaled a full-sister to Strike Jak in 2021 and had a colt by Kitten’s Joy this year before visiting Cloud Computing for the 2023 season. Sales History: $30,000 Ylg '21 FTKJUL. GOFFS CHIEF: 'THIS IS A SALE PEOPLE CANNOT AFFORD TO MISS'

By Brian Sheerin

It was at the November Foal Sale at Goffs in 2015 when Ghaiyyath (Ire) shot the lights out at €1.1 million and the wheel will turn full circle this week with the Kildangan Stud-based sire represented by 14 foals in what promises to be another high-class edition.

The sale takes place from Monday, November 14 at 10am to Thursday, November 17 and will be immediately followed by the two-day November Breeding Stock Sale.

It was at that sale when Chicquita (Ire) (Montjeu {Ire}) was sold for €6.6 million and Goffs chief Henry Beeby is looking forward to what he thinks will be another productive week.

He said, "The Goffs November Foal Sale is the preferred choice for the majority of the foals who come to the market in Ireland. We have the cream of the Irish foal crop and there are some very special pedigrees in there. It's a very big and exciting entry."

"Anyone who is interested in buying a foal, be they pinhookers or end users, they will be here at Goffs. We're looking forward to it."

YEOMANSTOWN'S STAR SIRE DARK ANGEL STAYS AT 60K

Leading sire Dark Angel (Ire) will remain at €60,000 for 2023 as Yeomanstown Stud released fee details on Friday.

Battaash (Ire) and Harry Angel (Ire) flew the flag for Dark Angel at the highest level in recent seasons and the 17-year-old broke new ground with French Classic scorer Mangoustine (Fr) this term.

First-season sire Invincible Army (Ire) remains at €7,500 while Supremacy (Ire) has been dropped to €10,000 from €12,500. Shaman’s (Ire) first foals sell this autumn and he remains at €5,000.

Gay O’Callaghan said, "Dark Angel has had another sensational year at stud, proving himself once again as the Group 1 champion sprinter-miler sire for the third consecutive year and a champion two-year-old sire.

Via Sistina (Ire) (Fastnet Rock {Aus}), runner-up in the G3 Pride S. last month, went one better in Friday's G3 Prix Fille de l'Air at Toulouse.

INVINCIBLE SPIRIT TOPS IRISH NAT'L STUD ROSTER

Invincible Spirit (Ire), the sire of 21 Group 1 winners and whose progeny have won 10 stakes this season, will stand for a private fee in 2023 at the Irish National Stud.

STATE OF REST KICKS OFF AT €25K

Dual-hemisphere Group 1 winner State of Rest (Ire) (Starspangledbanner {Aus}) will cover mares at an introductory fee of €25,000 at Rathbarry Stud. He will also shuttle to Henry Field’s Newgate Stud in Australia.

Asked what he is most excited about at the foal sale, Beeby added, "There’s a Kingman (GB) half-brother to Skitter Scatter, the Teofilo (Ire) half-sister to Dawn Approach (Ire), the Churchill (Ire) half-brother to Sonnyboyliston (Ire) and the own brother to Sea The Moon (Ger).

"There’s also a Sea The Stars (Ire) brother to Sea Of Class (Ire), a couple of Wootton Bassett (GB)s and a half-brother to Arrest (Ire). You could go on and on. There are so many commercial sires in there and this is a very successful sale for pinhookers. Everyone comes here with fresh order books as this is the first major foal sale and we have something for everybody.

"The days are graded. Monday and Wednesday would be at the commercial end and Tuesday takes a step up. Thursday is when the real blue bloods will be sold."

Along with Ghaiyyath, Arizona (Ire), Circus Maximus (Ire), Earthlight (Ire), Far Above (Ire), King Of Change (GB), Shaman (Ire) and Sottsass (Fr) are just a number of the stallions represented by their first crop of foals at the sale. But it’s not just the first-season sires that Beeby is looking forward to.

He said, "We have seen a fair few of the foals by first-season sires and are guided by the breeder. We will start looking at them in more detail alongside the buyers from Saturday onwards. It's from Saturday when the excitement really starts to build.

"It's always fascinating to see the first crop of sires that you were familiar with on the racetrack. We've the last Galileo (Ire) foal being offered at public auction and the first-season sires. The great thing about the November Foal Sale is that it is all about potential."

The major talking point from the Orby and Sportsman’s Yearling Sales at Goffs last month was the presence of international buyers. While the foal sales are predominantly attended by a domestic market, Beeby is expecting international players to turn out in force. Cont. p4

He said, "One of our most famous lines is, 'Goffs is the gateway to the world for Irish breeders.' Of course, the biggest group of buyers at this sale will be the Irish pinhookers. The majority of the buyers don’t have to travel very far and they certainly don’t have to get on a plane. But we will have a lot of British-based pinhookers and we will have a fair few French, European, Scandinavian and American buyers as well. We have some Japanese buyers engaged and some will be bidding online. It will be another international gathering, that’s for sure."

Chicquita may be the poster girl of the November Breeding Stock Sale but top-class producers have gone through the ring at Goffs in recent seasons.

Beeby explained, "This sale has really punched above its weight. As per all of our marketing, the fact that we have had the dams of Saffron Beach (Ire), Blackbeard (Ire), Little Big Bear (Ire) and Alcohol Free (Ire) come out of this sale says a lot. Ghaiyyath and Alcohol Free were also sold here as well. We can go to people and say, 'look what you can get here.'

"We probably don’t have another Chicquita this year but we have a really good bunch who will appeal to an international audience. If there are breeders looking to invest in broodmares, this is a sale they simply cannot afford to miss."

"He is now the sire of 13 individual Group 1 winners, including his Classic-winning daughter Mangoustine, a decisive winner of the Poule d’Essai des Pouliches.

"It’s been exciting watching Invincible Army’s yearlings sell this autumn. The exceptional son of Invincible Spirit (Ire) was a Group winner at two, three and four and his progeny have been well supported in the sales ring by trainers, agents, and owners alike who were impressed by the excellent quality of his stock which share his attributes of strength and class. In total he had 57 yearlings sold at auction for an average of €57,680."

He added, "We look forward to the first foals of Supremacy to be born this spring. As a Group 1-winning son of champion sire Mehmas (Ire), he is an exciting prospect and a wonderful-looking individual who showed a high level of ability and toughness on the track.

"Shaman had his first foals in 2022 and produced an exceptional first crop, so we are looking forward to seeing them in the sales ring this winter."
DESERT BERRY A RARE JEWEL IN THE SCEPTRE SESSIONS

An extremely rare opportunity will be presented during the Sceptre Sessions of the Tattersalls December Mares Sale when Desert Berry (GB) (Green Desert), the dam of this year’s G1 Derby winner Desert Crown (GB), is offered for sale back in foal to Nathaniel (Ire), the sire of the Classic hero.

When Desert Crown passed the line in front at Epsom, he fulfilled a lifetime dream for breeder Gary Robinson of Newmarket’s Strawberry Fields Stud, who will offer the 13-year-old Desert Berry as lot 1891 on Tuesday evening of the sale.

"She’s a beautiful mare, she’s the right age and she’s carrying a full-sibling to the Derby winner," he says. "So this is it: the best chance anybody’s ever going to get to buy another Derby winner."

Desert Berry first came into Robinson’s possession as a foal, but he also owns her dam, the Juddmonte-bred Foreign Language (Distant View), as well as Rose Berry (GB) (Archipenko), a six-time winner and half-sister to Desert Crown who is also now in foal to Nathaniel. With younger members of the family also in his possession, including Desert Berry’s 2-year-old daughter by Al Kazeem (GB) and yearling colt by Study Of Man (Ire), Strawberry Fields is well stocked with this Classic family.

"She’s from a Juddmonte family originally," says Robinson of Desert Berry, whose relations include the Group 1 winners Proviso (GB) and Byword (GB).

"I bought her as a foal at Tattersalls many years ago with the first four base mares that we had, and she is the last of those base mares."

Desert Berry certainly has established a strong foundation for Robinson. All five of her foals to have raced are multiple winners. Successive matings with the late Lanwades resident Archipenko produced not just Rose Berry but also the Hong Kong Group 3 winner Flying Thunder (GB), who raced in Britain as Archie McKellar, winning for Ralph Beckett before moving to Frankie Lor.

"Unfortunately Archipenko is gone, but she is a nice mare and Nathaniel was perfect for her," says Robinson. "She's bred a Derby winner now and that’s put us on the map. And we've got all the family to go further with.

"I've got the yearling half-brother here and a daughter by Al Kazeem who is in pre-training as well."

Robinson describes Desert Berry as an "alpha mare" and he adds, "She's an individual, she's different but she is kind. And she's got a beautiful action."

He says of his decision to offer her for sale, "Sometimes you have to let things go. At the end of the day, this is a business, so we have to make money to go on again. We’re building more new stables...and then we’ve also created a racing yard, so we’ve got that as a back-up as well. It’s been a big investment and sometimes we have to sell things. This is a great opportunity now to reinvest the money into the stud, but we have the family and I’m quite sure they’re going to be successful for a while."

While Desert Crown will always be first and foremost remembered as a Derby winner, Robinson says that it was the colt’s easy victory in the G2 Dante S. for his owner Saeed Suhail and trainer Sir Michael Stoute that lingers most in his mind.

"For me, the Dante was the race where I saw a wonderful walking horse and athlete, and that really made it for me more than anything, just to have produced a wonderful horse," he says.

Indeed, Desert Crown’s physical attributes were clearly obvious from an early age, as he sold for 280,000gns to Richard Brown of Blandford Bloodstock when offered as a yearling at Book 2 of the Tattersalls October sale in 2020. And there could well be more high days to come for the colt, who has recently returned to training at Stoute’s Freemason Lodge in Newmarket.

Robinson says, "Desert Crown is doing really well now, so he’ll be ready and they’re really excited about him for next year. They’re going to go places with him. It's good, it shows that the horses the mare produces are progressive."
VIA SISTINA MAKES BREAKTHROUGH AT TOULOUSE

Rebecca Hillen's 4-year-old distaffer Via Sistina (Ire) (Fastnet Rock {Aus}--Nigh {Ire}, by Galileo {Ire}), runner-up in her first start for George Boughey when tackling last month's G3 Pride S. at Newmarket, stepped forward to register a first black-type success in Friday's G3 Prix Fille de l'Air at Toulouse.

She had earlier run fourth for Joseph Tuite when contesting Windsor's Aug. 27 G3 Winter Hill S. coming back off 294-day break in her penultimate start on seasonal return.

Via Sistina was positioned in rear through the early fractions of this 10 1/2-furlong contest. Inching forward from halfway, the 23-10 favourite took closer order off the home turn to launch her challenge approaching the final furlong and kept on strongly under a late drive to prevail by a half length from Winema (Fr) (Le Havre {Ire}) for a career high.

Via Sistina is the fourth of six live foals and lone winner out of an unraced half-sister to G1 Golden Jubilee S. and G1 Nunthorpe S. victor Kingsgate Native (Ire) (Mujadil) and the stakes-placed Vanishing Grey (Ire) (Verglas {Ire}), herself the dam of stakes-winning G1 Jebel Hatta third First Contact (Ire) (Dark Angel {Ire}). Descendants of her second dam Native Force (Ire) (Indian Ridge {Ire}), herself out of a half-sister to G1 1000 Guineas heroine Las Meninas (Ire) (Glenstal), include G2 July S. placegetter Escape Route (Ire) (Dandy Man {Ire}) and G3 Sirenia S. third Huraiz (Ire) (Sepoy {Aus}). The March-foaled bay is a half-sister to the hitherto unraced 2-year-old filly Fougere (GB) (Bated Breath {GB}) and a yearling colt by Ten Sovereigns (Ire).

INVINCIBLE SPIRIT TAKES PRIDE OF PLACE ON IRISH NATIONAL STUD ROSTER

Invincible Spirit (Ire) tops the 2023 Irish National Stud roster in 2023. The sire of 21 Group 1 winners lifetime, the 25-year-old will stand for a private fee. His progeny won 10 stakes this year, led by Pearls Galore (Fr)’s victory in the G1 Matron S. and Shartash (Ire)’s win in the G2 Railway S. among his seven group winners.

Classic winner Phoenix Of Spain (Ire)’s first runners will step out on racecourses next year and he has been priced at €12,000. G1 Phoenix S. winner Lucky Vega (Ire) will stand his second season for €15,000, while Group 2 scorer Nando Parrado (GB), whose first foals will also arrive in 2023, will command an unchanged fee of €6,000.

Established stallions Decorated Knight (GB) and Free Eagle (Ire) are both priced at €5,000. They are joined by the trio of Dragon Pulse (Ire), Elusive Pimpernel and Equiano (Fr), all set to cover at €2,000.

“While 2022 will certainly be remembered for strong market performance at all the major sales the headwinds for 2023 suggests the need for a cautious outlook,” said Irish National Stud CEO Cathal Beale. “With that in mind the Irish National Stud are delighted to present an exciting team of stallions with fees maintained or reduced across the board.

“With incredible support from Mr. Zhang’s Yulong Investments, Lucky Vega has the ammunition required to make him a champion. Likewise, the Coventry S. winner, Nando Parrado, proved remarkably popular in year one with 130 mares covered. Incredible looks, raw speed, precocity and hailing from the proven Kodiac (GB) sire line, he brings fantastic credentials.

“Phoenix of Spain will have 93 first crop 2-year olds to run. He won his maiden in July, the G3 Acomb in August, placed in the G2 Champagne in September and was a short head second to a future Classic Winner in the G1 Vertem in October. [He is] a top class 2-year old, [and] a 2000 Guineas-winning 3-year old.

“For those seeking proven credentials the roster is stacked with great value options. Free Eagle, Decorated Knight, Equiano, Elusive Pimpernel and Dragon Pulse provide commercial success in the sales ring and high-class performers on the track, all for €5,000 or under.

“And then there is Invincible Spirit. This year brought over 20 2-year old winners including the G2 Railway S. winner, Shartash. His yearling average price was over €150,000 and a new Group 1 winner as a broodmare sire arrived in Breeder’s Cup Champion Victoria Road (Ire) (Saxon Warrior {Jpn})."
OPENING FEE OF 25,000 FOR STATE OF REST AS RATHBARRY REVEAL LINE-UP

State Of Rest | Scoop Dyga

Four-time Group 1 winner State Of Rest will stand for £25,000 in his debut season at Rathbarry Stud. He will also cover in the southern hemisphere at Henry Field's Newgate Stud.

The StarSpangledBanner (Aus) colt, who was bred by Tinnakill Bloodstock, won three Group/Grade 1 contests in as many different continents under the management of Joseph O'Brien. State Of Rest opened his account at the highest level when storming to Saratoga Derby glory in New York last year. He confirmed his reputation as a globetrotting superstar when taking the Cox Plate as a three-year-old.

Closer to home, he returned as a four-year-old to win the Prix Ganay at ParisLongchamp before beating Bay Bridge (GB) (New Bay {GB}) in the Prince Of Wales's S. at Royal Ascot.

The five-time winner has been introduced at just £2,500 less than Acclamation (GB), who will lead the way at the County Cork stud once again at £27,500.

The son of Royal Applause (GB) has been a fantastic servant at Rathbarry Stud and has produced a number of high-class horses, including Dark Angel (Ire), Mehmas (Ire) Aclaim (Ire), Expert Eye (GB) and Equiano (Fr).

Heading the supporting cast is Kodi Bear (Ire), who will command the same fee as last year at £15,000, while James Garfield will stand at £4,000.

ARDAD HEADS OVERBURY ROSTER AS GOLDEN HORN SET AT 8K

Ardad (GB), the sire of G1 Commonwealth Cup winner Perfect Power (Ire), will head the Overbury Stud roster at an unchanged £12,500 while new recruit Golden Horn (GB) has been set at £8,000.

The brilliant G1 Derby winner and European Horse of the Year in 2015, Golden Horn joined Overbury Stud in July after being sold to new investors Dash Grange Stud from Darley and Anthony Oppenheimer.

He will stand alongside 2015 Irish Derby hero Jack Hobbs (GB), whose fee has not been decided upon, and Frontiersman (GB), who will once again stand for just £1,000. Also on the Overbury team is Schiaparelli (Ger) at £2,000.

Overbury Stud's manager Simon Sweeting said, "I think we've got stallions for most ambitions and most tastes--certainly they are all showing they can sire horses you'd be proud to have bred. "We're really looking forward to talking to breeders about their mares, and we'll be doing our best for them in the season ahead. I hope we can have as lucky a run in 2023 as we've had in the past year or two."
WILDCARDS ADDED TO TATTERSALLS ONLINE NOVEMBER SALE

Four wildcards have been added to the Tattersalls Online November Sale, which begins Wednesday, Nov. 16 at 12 p.m. and closes 24 hours later.

The newest entries are headed by the 4-year-old Apollo One (GB) (Equiano {Fr}), who is being offered by Peter Charalambous and James Clutterbuck’s Pond House Racing. Already a four-time winner at the races, the chestnut most recently validated 100-30 favouritism in the Unibet London Sprint Series final at Kempton Nov. 9, earning a shade more than €41,000 for the victory. Rated on 96 following the effort, Apollo One is an invited runner for the Bahrain Turf Series 2022/2023.

Also among the newest additions are Gary Moore Racing’s 4-year-old Barn Owl (GB) (Frankel {GB}), twice victorious and placed a further four times in his career; Dreams Delivered (Ire) (Morpheus {GB}) from Darren Bunyan’s Blackmiller Stable who has won on turf and all-weather at a variety of distances; and Cheese The One (GB) (Outstrip {GB}), a two-time winner during the month of September and produced by a sister to listed winner Go Angellica (GB) (Kheleyf).

These newest entries are in addition to a strong catalogue which already includes a breeding right to standout young sire Havana Grey (GB) and a share in Almanzor (Fr).

For more information, visit www.tattersallsonline.com. All enquiries regarding the breeding right and stallion share can be directed to tattersallsonline@tattersalls.com.

Friday’s Results:

2nd-Meydan, AED82,500, Maiden, 2yo, f, 1200m, 1:12.40, ft. Awasef (f, 2, Cairo Prince--Darling Sky {MSP, $241,518}, by Sky Mesa) turned in a professional debut effort to open her account in some style Friday at Meydan. Away nicely from gate nine, the $100,000 OBS April breezer (:10 flat) was asked to take the race to pacesetting Here We Are (Super Saver) and raced closest in attendance to that one into the turn. The latter traveled nicely as they hit the stretch, but Awasef was kept to her task by Pat Dobbs and the duo hit the front a sixteenth from home before crossing the line two lengths to the good. It was a gap off to Bijjlee (War Front) in third. Awasef is the first winner for her dam, who is also responsible for a yearling colt by Lookin At Lucky. Sales history: $100,000 2yo ‘22 OBSAPR. Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $13,479. VIDEO

MAGICAL LAGOON FACES JAPAN’S BEST FEMALES IN QE II by Alan Carasso

Some eleven years have transpired since the great Snow Fairy (Ire) (Intikhab) carried Ryan Moore to a second consecutive victory in the G1 Queen Elizabeth II Cup and it will be up to reigning G1 Juddmonte Irish Oaks winner Magical Lagoon (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) to put a halt to the locals’ 10-race winning streak Sunday afternoon at Hanshin Racecourse.

It has been a magical season, indeed, for Yuesheng Zhang’s talented bay filly, who used a runner-up effort in the Listed Salsabil S. at Navan in late April as a springboard to an 11-4 success in the G2 Ribblesdale S. at Royal Ascot in June. The Tattersalls October graduate, trained by Jessica Harrington, got the better of a final-furlong tussle with Toy (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) to take out the Irish Oaks July 16 (video) and fought out the fractions in the G1 Yorkshire Oaks last time Aug. 18 only to fade into fifth behind future G1 Prix de l’Arc de Triomphe heroine Alpinista (GB) (Frankel {GB}) and Tuesday (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), recent winner of the G1 Takarazuka Kinen in June. She was most recently beaten into sixth as the favorite behind the immaculately bred Geraldina (Jpn) (Maurice {Jpn}—Gentildonna {Jpn}) in the G2 All Comers S. Sept. 25.

Moore is in Japan on a short-term contract following his Breeders’ Cup three-timer last weekend. He takes the reins aboard the Classic-placed 4-year-old filly Andvaranaut (Jpn) (King Kamehameha {Jpn}).

“She is still a young horse and there should be more to come from her,” said trainer Tomokazu Takano. “With just three weeks between races, we’ve been careful with her, giving her slow canters and checking how she takes the bit when running uphill. She was third in the Japanese Oaks, so the distance should be good this time.”

Daring Tact (Jpn) (Epiphaneia {Jpn}) won the 2020 Oaks, but her career has been a bit stop-start since. A good third to Loves Only You (Jpn) (Deep Impact {Jpn}) in Hong Kong’s G1 FWD QE II Cup in 2021, the 5-year-old has made just three starts since, her best outcome a sound third behind Titleholder (Jpn) (Duramente {Jpn}) in the G1 Takarazuka Kinen in June. She was most recently beaten into sixth as the favorite behind the immaculately bred Geraldina (Jpn) (Maurice {Jpn}—Gentildonna {Jpn}) in the G2 All Comers S. Sept. 25.

While G1 Yushun Himba (Japanese Oaks) winner Stars on Earth (Jpn) (Duramente {Jpn}) misses this, the season’s Classic form is strongly represented. Namur (Jpn) (Harbinger {GB}) defeated Pin High (Jpn) (Mikki Isle {Jpn}) in Group 2 company in March, but was a disappointing 10th in the G1 Oka Sho the following month. An improved third in the Oaks, she exits a runner-up effort behind perfect-trip Stunning Rose (Jpn) (King Kamehameha {Jpn}) in the G1 Shuka Sho Oct. 16 (video), in which Stars on Earth was desperately unlucky to lose her Triple Crown bid.
