TAKING STOCK: JUSTIFY FINISHING STRONG

Justify | Coolmore

by Sid Fernando

With about a month and a half to go to the end of the year, Coolmore America's Justify (Scat Daddy) is in a three-way battle with Spendthrift's Bolt d'Oro (Medaglia d'Oro) and Hill 'n' Dale's Good Magic (Curlin) for the freshman sire championship, which is measured by progeny earnings. Through Monday, Bolt d'Oro led narrowly with $2,122,968 to Justify's $2,065,556 in second place and Good Magic's $1,984,069 in third. Within striking distance are Hill 'n' Dale's Army Mule (Friesan Fire) in fourth with $1,762,485 and Three Chimneys's Sharp Azteca (Freud) in fifth with $1,649,351.

The undefeated Triple Crown winner, however, leads them all with six black-type winners, four at graded/group level. No other freshman sire has more than four black-type winners and three graded or group winners so far, and Justify's numbers in these categories equal the yearly totals of Three Chimneys sensation Gun Runner (Candy Ride {Arg}), who finished 2021 with six black-type winners--tied with Coolmore America's Practical Joke (Into Mischief)--and four graded or group winners. Gun Runner, of course, also had two Grade I winners, and he ended the year as the leading first-crop sire with the surreal total of $4,315,980 in progeny earnings. That's why Gun Runner will stand in the realm of three times Justify's 2023 fee of $100,000 live foal, based in part on some shares trading privately in the son of Candy Ride at $2.5 million. Cont. p5

LETTER TO THE EDITOR: RULES

by Craig Bandoroff

As many people are aware, I have been a member of WHOA and a supporter of HISA from the beginning. I want what we all want. Uniform and sensible medication rules and testing that promotes the integrity of our sport while protecting the innocent and punishing the cheaters. So, when I received a call advising me that a horse I help manage was disqualified for an acepromazine positive, I was surprised to say the least.

My initial reaction and explanation to the owner was the horse must have had the drug administered and it failed to clear his system in the expected time. Texting back and forth with his Hall of Fame trainer, I learned this was not the case.

The Sporting Art Auction, conducted by Cross Gate Gallery of Lexington and Keeneland, held the most successful sale in its 10-year history, with 90% of its lots sold this past weekend. Friday's auction drew in 300 buyers from nearly a dozen countries and grossed nearly $2.5 million.

Craig Bandoroff | Jon Siegel

He was adamant no one in his barn administered the horse ace at anytime. So the $64,000 question: how did it get there? Contamination, nefariousness by some unknown person? And more importantly, what sense does any of this make? Here is a horse who ran his heart out beaten a nose in a graded stakes. So, he certainly didn't perform like a horse with a tranquilizer in his system.

I have had it explained to me several times why we test to the minuscule levels that we do and how these levels can have an effect on a 1,200-pound racehorse. But, honestly, the explanation still doesn't resonate with my layman brain. And although my desire and conviction is not diminished that we as an industry will benefit from uniform rules and testing, I am at a loss to understand how rulings like this serve this purpose. Forget the fact that a Hall of Fame trainer with a record of now two violations in his 43-year career is penalized. The real harm to our sport is an innocent owner loses the purse and no one has a good explanation of how the illegal (and minuscule) amount of the drug got in his horse's system. How does that keep an owner in the game or attract new ones? Now that HISA has hit the reset button, can't we please come up with sensible rules and testing so the innocent are protected and the guilty are punished? The system remains broken. There must be a better way.

ANGEL PENNA, JR. PASSES AWAY AT 74

by Bill Finley

Angel Penna, Jr. | Adam Coglianese

Angel Penna, Jr., who trained Eclipse Award winners Christmas Past and Laugh and Be Merry and was the son of Hall of Famer Angel Penna, Sr., passed away Tuesday at age 74.

Battling dementia, Penna passed away in his sleep in a memory care facility near his home in Boca Raton, Florida.

Born in Buenos Aires, Argentina, Penna was an assistant to his father before going out on his own in 1980. His clients at the time included Cynthia Phipps, who raced in the colors of Wheatley Stable, her grandmother's stable, which also had bred and raced Bold Ruler. Phipps owned Christmas Past, who failed to break her maiden in two starts as a 2-year-old, but put it all together the following year. Named the champion 3-year-old filly of 1982, she won five stakes that year, including the GI Coaching Club American Oaks, the GI Gulfstream Park H. and the GI Ruffian H.

Laugh and Be Merry was owned by Pin Oak Farm and was named champion grass mare of 1990. She won three stakes that year, including the GI Flower Bowl H.

"He loved his horses," said his widow Ruth. "As you know, he was a good trainer. He took a lot of pride in bringing them to the races."

Other top horses trained by Penna include Perfect Arc, Silver Voice, Via Borghese, Auntie Mame, A Phenomenon and Diamondrella. His clients also included Martha Gerry's Lazy F. Ranch.

According to Equibase, Penna had 586 wins in his career and earnings of $24,084,854. He made his last start on Nov. 4, 2021.

In addition to his wife, survivors include his stepmother Elinor Penna.

Justify's Justique winning the Desi Arnaz S. | Benoit

Among the current freshman sires, only Good Magic is represented by a Grade I winner--Blazing Sevens, winner of the GI Champagne S. With the Starlet at Los Al the last Grade I stakes race for juveniles in N. America on the calendar, only Good Magic will have a chance to equal Gun Runner's Grade I total from last year unless the two remaining Grade I races in Japan changes this dynamic for another sire based in N. America. But Justify has a realistic chance to surpass Gun Runner's black-type figures of 2021.

Frances J. Karon, my colleague at Werk Thoroughbred Consultants, first noted this possibility in two succinct tweets shortly after Justify's late-running daughter Justique won the Listed Desi Arnaz S. at Del Mar Sunday. In one tweet, she said: "Justique, half to Justify's roster-mate Mo Town (all bred either alone or in partnership by John D. Gunther), makes it six 1st-crop SWs for the sire. The new SW breaks a tie with Havana Grey (who stands in the UK), putting Justify at the head of the freshman sire list by SWs." She also tweeted: "Last year's co-leading freshman sires by number of SWs were Gun Runner and Practical Joke, with six each, so with six weeks until the end of the year, Justify has a chance to surpass them."

Vis-à-vis Gun Runner, that would be an accomplishment, especially for a horse that never raced at two and figures like Gun Runner to have his best success with his 3-year-olds. It also makes Justify's stud fee something of a bargain at the price, if that can be said for a six-figure fee, because there's plenty of demand for nominations. One notable breeder, for instance, recently signed contracts for six mares at the advertised price--there are no group discounts on this horse--and has no qualms about shelling out $600,000 for them if each of his mares delivers a live foal. "He's really doing the job," he said, "and they should be better next year."

Over the summer, I wrote a piece here July 19 titled "Justify Moving Early." At the time, the big chestnut was represented by a Group 2 winner in Europe and a Grade lll winner in N. America. He'd exploded on the scene far faster than expected for a horse of his size and race record, and he'd kept going, regularly churning out winners (he has 23 now) and two more stakes winners, but now he appears to be finishing the season on an even stronger note with two new stakes winners the last two weeks and the potential for more. Until recently, the only asterisk on his resume was a pronounced filly bias--his first four black-type winners were fillies--but in early November, two weeks before Justique's Desi Arnaz score, the colt Champions Dream won the Glll Nashua S. at Aqueduct to break the male schneid.

Champions Dream was a $25,000 Keeneland September yearling who'd been pinhooked for $425,000 at OBS March. He won first out in a maiden special at Saratoga and was then fifth in the Champagne behind Blazing Sevens before accounting for the Nashua. He's a legitimate colt for the Triple Crown trail.

Prove Right, another Justify colt, finished third in the Nashua, and he, too, was a cheap Keeneland September yearling, fetching only $15,000. He'd won a maiden special at Churchill in late June.

Justique, on the other hand, sold for $725,000 at the same Keeneland auction. She won a Del Mar maiden special in her first start, was third in the Gll Chandelier S. at Santa Anita next out, and is now a brand new stakes winner.

Justify | Horsephotos

Other expensive winners for Justify include several lightly raced runners who project to improve next year, including the promising colt Arabian Lion, a $600,000 OBS April 2-year-old who won his Santa Anita maiden special debut impressively and most recently was second on Breeders' Cup weekend to the talented talking horse Giant Mischief (Into Mischief) at Keeneland in an allowance race in his second start; the European-based Bertinelli, a $750,000 Keeneland September purchase who won a maiden race at Dundalk in his second start in early November; Verifying, a $775,000 Keeneland September yearling and Saratoga debut maiden special winner who was second in the Champagne next out and then unplaced in the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile; Rarify, a $750,000 Keeneland September yearling who won a Keeneland maiden special at the end of October in her third start after two second-place finishes in similar races at Saratoga; and Tres Soles, a $400,000 Keeneland September yearling who won a Churchill Downs maiden special weight first out and was the sixth in his next start behind Giant Mischief and Arabian Lion in the aforementioned race at Keeneland.

Aside from Justique and Champions Dream, Justify's other back-type winners are European Group 2 winner Statuette, a homebred who's undefeated in two starts; Aspen Grove (Ire), a European Group 3 winner from four starts; Just Cindy, a winner of two of four starts, including the Glll Schuylerville at Saratoga; and Justa Warrior, also a winner of two of four starts, including the Listed Ellis Park Debutante S.

A Developing Cross

Karon, in a separate tweet, pointed out a developing pattern to some of the Justify black-type winners, namely that the stallion is crossing well with the A.P. Indy line. She wrote: "I must also note that Justify has two SWs (plus one spw) from seven foals out of daughters of Bernardini, as well as a G3SW from a mare by Tapit, another A.P. Indy-line sire."

The two stakes winners from Bernardini mares are Justa Warrior and Justique, while the stakes-placed winner is Rosie's Alibi, who was third in the Tempted S. at Aqueduct earlier this month. Champions Dream is the one out of a Tapit mare, as is the colt Tres Soles noted above.

Because Justify's second dam, Magical Illusion, is by Pulpit, there's inbreeding to either A.P. Indy himself or to Pulpit, the sire of Tapit, in these pedigrees. Champions Dream and Tres Soles are from Tapit mares and have Pulpit 4x3; and the three listed above who are from Bernardini mares have A.P. Indy 5x3.

Scat Daddy himself had three black-type winners from Tapit mares, including Group 3 winner Sergei Prokofiev, and he had Grade l winner Harmonize from a mare by Sky Mesa, a son of Pulpit like Tapit.

With Bernardini and Tapit mares readily available in the broodmare population in Kentucky, Justify is bound to see more of them in the future, and that's not a bad thing, judging from the early returns.

NO MATTER WHICH WAY HISA GOES, CHRB CONFIDENT ON RULES CONSISTENCY

by T.D. Thornton

Despite a near-term national forecast clouded with uncertainty over last week's United States Court of Appeals order declaring the Horseracing Integrity and Safety Act (HISA) to be unconstitutional, California Horse Racing Board (CHRB) commissioners on Tuesday expressed confidence their state will be able to weather the projected turbulence over HISA's in-limbo legality better than other jurisdictions.

The reason, according to staffers and commissioners who spoke during the Nov. 22 monthly meeting, is that the CHRB has been proactively advancing safety and medication rules for the past few years, and a number of those regulations eventually got adopted as models for HISA rules.

So if or when an expected mandate for HISA to cease operations gets handed down by the Fifth Circuit on that mandate's Jan. 10 due date, the CHRB will essentially just go back to relying on a similar, in-state framework of rules that aren't too different from HISA's.

"We've been participating with HISA. We've been supporting them. We will continue to do so until told otherwise," said the CHRB's equine medical director, Dr. Jeff Blea.

But, Blea added, "It's nice to know [that] in all actuality, HISA's safety program and medication rules are not that far different from where California is."

Mindful that a Pandora's box of varying legal and political scenarios could still affect the future of HISA between now and when HISA's Anti-Doping and Medication Control rules go into effect Jan. 1, the CHRB voted 4-0 on Tuesday to opt in to the 2023 voluntary implementation agreement that encompasses national oversight by both the HISA Authority and the Horseracing Integrity and Welfare Unit (HIWU), which will enforce the new drug rules.

"Just to clarify, HISA medication rules go into effect Jan. 1, and the court [mandate] is Jan. 10. So those 10 days for sure, we're operating under the medication rules of HISA," said chairman Gregory Ferraro, DVM. "And then, depending on what [a higher-court ruling or a legal stay or Congressional action] is, we go from there."

Blea described to commissioners how he was in attendance at the annual convention of the American Association of Equine Practitioners (AAEP) in San Antonio, Texas, on Nov. 18 when news first broke about the HISA unconstitutionality ruling.

Blea said the convention was "fully staffed" with HISA Authority executives at that time, including HISA chief executive officer Lisa Lazarus and HIWU executive director Ben Mosier.

"Thirty minutes prior to the start of the meeting the announcement came out, so it was just a little bit of everybody [being] on their heels," Blea said. "Their approach was, 'We're moving forward, we're pressing on, we'll discuss these issues with veterinarians and the veterinary community.'

"So right now it's 'business as usual,'" Blea continued. "Everyone's seen what's in the mainstream press, and it's an attorneys' field day. As it stands now, from a medication standpoint, we'll be under HISA rules for 10 days [in 2023] depending on what the courts rule. Same thing with the safety standards."

Blea noted that even as the AAEP convention unfolded amid the legal blow to HISA, the CHRB was repeatedly referenced during a keynote address for being ahead of the curve on equine safety and welfare initiatives.

And during the professional meet-and-greet portions of the convention, Blea said he repeatedly had his brain picked by colleagues who wanted advice on how to introduce CHRB-styled reforms in their home states.

Amanda Brown, the CHRB's staff counsel, offered a legal perspective on HISA's possible path forward--or what happens if that entity is forced to shut down. She noted that a separate Court of Appeals case over HISA's constitutionality has arguments pending Dec. 7, this time in the Sixth Circuit.

"So there is a chance that the judge there rules [that HISA is] constitutional [and] we have two competing decisions," Brown said. "Ultimately, I expect they'll ask the Supreme Court to review it."

Sarah Andrew

But in the meantime, Brown said, "Everything from HISA says that they're still going to roll out the Anti-Doping and Medication Control program Jan. 1 [and] HISA has indicated that they are going to exhaust every avenue to either get a stay or a reconsideration before that time. So it's kind of up in the air what's going to happen."

Prior to the unanimous vote on the issue, Ferraro asked Brown is there was any legal downside to opting into the HISA and HIWU agreements in the event that those entities do get shut down. According to the HISA budget, California's financial assessment for 2023 is $7,344,139.

"I can't speak to the [CHRB's] payment portion of that, but no, the agreement would be void and there would be nothing for us to enforce," Brown said. "We'd go back to our California rules, pre-HISA. Which for us, is probably easier than other states."

Cynthia Alameda, the CHRB's deputy executive director, picked up on the topic of assessments where Brown left off.

"We're collecting payments currently for the first assessment [that covered the final six months of 2022]," Alameda said. "They're coming in a little bit behind, so I don't think that it would be difficult for us to kind of regroup and ensure that all of our stakeholders didn't pay any fees that were unnecessary.

"So I don't think there is any negative in entering into the agreement," Alameda continued. "It also gives our stakeholders an opportunity to come back in December to present how they would like to fund the assessments. They did it through market access fees on the first assessment, so I'm sure they would need to present that to us as well, just so we're ready in January if everything goes forward.

"If HISA [being] unconstitutional [was upheld], we would cease collecting funds," Alameda said. "I don't know what would happen with the ones that have already been paid for the first six months, because it was kind of to handle the setup costs, so I don't think those would be recouped. That's just me guessing, though."

Blea added at a different point in the meeting that there is one difference in the CHRB and HISA rules that he is actively trying to address before it becomes an on-track issue in 2023.

"The confusion for veterinarians is detection time versus thresholds," Blea said. "The [HISA] detection times are based on a European model. So I'm going to recommend people push their medication administrations back further, and I'm in the process of doing some calculations and trying to figure it out to give them some information proactively to avoid any problems."

The four CHRB commissioners voting unanimously for the HISA opt-in were Ferraro, Oscar Gonzales, Damascus Castellano and Brenda Washington Davis.

Commissioners Dennis Alfieri, Wendy Mitchell and Thomas Hudnut were absent from the meeting.

STAKEHOLDERS LAUNCH CALIFORNIA HORSE POWER COMMISSION

Santa Anita | Benoit

Equine industry leaders and stakeholders across California announced the launch of the California Horse Power Coalition (CHPC) Tuesday. The new coalition's mission is to preserve and protect the state's vibrant equestrian culture by bringing together equine industry leaders, workers, families and fans of the sport to illustrate its significant benefits.

Founded by Del Mar Thoroughbred Club, Santa Anita Park, and Thoroughbred Owners of California, the coalition is creating a space for the public to learn about the significant impacts that the industry has on California's economy, tourism, agricultural sustainability, and culture.

"As one of the oldest and most celebrated sports in the world, horse racing contributes billions to California's economy annually and employs tens of thousands of workers," said Bill Nader, Thoroughbred Owners of California, President & CEO. "I am proud to be a part of a community that not only brings together family and friends but also continuously challenges itself to be the model of care and best practices for equine communities around the world."

The equine industry in California contributes $8.3 billion to the state's economy through horse racing annually, including $1.7 billion that is generated from tourism. It supports a diverse range of skills, and employs 77,000+ workers in the horse racing industry. "Our community strives to create a culture of inclusivity and accessibility to local communities of all ages, genders and economic backgrounds, which has resulted in a long tradition of deep cultural ties to our industry. In fact, over 30% of households in California report having a horse enthusiast in their home," said Amy Zimmerman, Santa Anita Park, Senior Vice President and Executive Producer. "I look forward to seeing our industry continue to prosper, garner more fans, and foster a sense of belonging."

KEENELAND SPORTING ART AUCTION DRAWS BEST VISITATION IN 10-YEAR HISTORY

Keeneland

The Sporting Art Auction, conducted by Cross Gate Gallery of Lexington and Keeneland, held the most successful sale in its 10-year history, with 90% of its lots sold this past weekend. Friday's auction drew in 300 buyers from nearly a dozen countries and grossed nearly $2.5 million.

The highest-grossing piece was the sale of famed Kentucky artist Henry Faulkner's Floral, a signed oil on Masonite, which went for $123,375. The globally prominent auction, which featured 180 high-quality lots representing fine Sporting Art, American paintings, and sculptures by renowned artists, was held in the Keeneland Sales Pavilion.

"We were blown away by the interest we received from buyers both new and old at this year's auction, particularly when it came to works by American artists like Henry Faulkner," said Greg Ladd, Owner and Founder of Cross Gate Gallery. "A shocking amount of works went well beyond our highest estimates, which is a testament to the growing interest collectors and buyers have in sporting art. We were fortunate enough to host our auction at Keeneland after an exceptional season of racing and sales, which undoubtedly inspired more fans to become owners of equine art themselves."

Additional highlights among the evening's top-priced works were David Shepherd's Lion in the Serengeti, an oil signed and dated '75, for $82,250, and Andre Pater's signed pastel 2022 Breeders' Cup, Keeneland Race Course, which he created as the official artwork of this year's Breeders' Cup World Championships, for $76,375. Other notable works included Richard Stone Reeves' Unique Triple, Raise a Native, Affirmed & Exclusive Native, Spendthrift Farm, an oil signed, inscribed and dated '82, which sold for $61,100, and Swaps, an oil signed and inscribed for $49,350; and Peter Howell's signed oil Deauville, Exercise by the Sea for $58,750.

Keeneland's portion of the auction proceeds continues its mission to benefit non-profit initiatives. "The excitement of Keeneland racing and sales along with the Breeders' Cup sparked a buzz around this year's Sporting Art Auction," Keeneland President and CEO Shannon Arvin said.

"It's been really fun these past 10 years to watch the auction thrive and grow into what we hoped it would be from its inception--a highly anticipated event for sporting art enthusiasts. For Keeneland, it combines fun and philanthropy in support of our mission to better the local community."

PRICEY MUNNINGS FILLY DEBUTS AT CHURCHILL

7th-CD, $120K, Msw, 2yo, f, 6f, 4:01 p.m. EDT

OXO Equine's EXHIBIT HALL (Munnings) makes her career bow in this spot for trainer Paulo Lobo. Larry Best went to $1.6 million to secure the filly at OBS April after she breezed in :9 4/5 for Eddie Woods, making her the most expensive filly at that auction. A $250,000 KEESEP yearling buy, the chestnut is out of six-time stakes winner Tensas Harbor (Private Vow). TJCIS PPs

Bella Runner | Coady

Bella Runner provided her sensational young sire Gun Runner with his 15th black-type winner Tuesday in the Zia Park Oaks for some of her sire's connections. Away well from the outside stall in this six-horse affair, the Three Chimneys homebred moved up to press the pacesetter from second through a :24 flat first quarter and a :47.75 half-mile. Sticking her nose in front on the backstretch run, the bay kicked into high gear in the lane, rolling clear to win for fun.

Graduating at fourth asking at Ellis Aug. 26, Bella Runner was second in a Churchill Downs allowance Sept. 18 and missed by a nose last out going nine furlongs at Keeneland Oct. 23.

The winner is a daughter of dual Grade I winner Love And Pride, who was purchased by Three Chimneys for $4.9 million carrying her first foal by Distorted Humor at the 2013 FTKNOV sale. Already the dam of stakes winner Princesinha Julia (Pioneerof the Nile), Love And Pride's recent produce includes an unraced juvenile colt named First Defender (Quality Road) and a weanling filly by Volatile. She was not bred back for 2023. Bella Runner also hails from the family of champion and late leading sire Bernardini. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG.

Perfect Flight | Coady

Perfect Flight earned his black-type badge with a victory in the Zia Park Derby Tuesday evening. Unhurried early, he caboosed the field as heavily favored stabelmate Apprehend clicked off a :24.19 opening quarter and :48.68 half-mile. Making rapid progress up the outside on the backstretch run, Perfect Flight was three wide turning for home and bounded to the front at the top of the stretch, cruising clear to score over the chalk.

Perfect Flight broke his maiden at fourth asking for trainer Rodolphe Brisset and owners Siena Farm and Asmussenequine.com in a $75,000 maiden claimer at Churchill June 26. Sent through the Fasig-Tipton July HORA sale just about two weeks later, he brought $160,000 from Gary Barber and was shipped to trainer Peter Miller. A close second in his first try on turf for Miller in the GIII La Jolla H. Aug. 7, the bay was fourth in an optional claimer back on dirt at Del Mar Sept. 11 and won that condition next out at Santa Anita Oct. 9. He was last seen finishing third back on grass in Arcadia in the GII Twilight Derby Oct. 29.

Perfect Flight is the 85th black-type winner for top sire Uncle Mo and the 75th black-type achiever out of a daughter of the late Bernardini. Date to Remember is also the dam of Grade III winner and sire National Flag and GISP Bernina Star. She also has an unraced juvenile filly named Red Rose City (Justify) and a weanling filly by Authentic. The half-sister to GISW and sire Eddington (Unbridled) was bred back to Justify. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG.

Flying Connection | Coady

Flying Connections failed to hit the board in her first two tries at Del Mar this summer, but dominated by 15 1/4 lengths against easier company here Nov. 7. Heavily favored off that effort, the $250,000 KEESEP acquisition stalked from second initially, but moved up to press the pace as the first quarter went up in :21.93. Taking command, the bay showed the way into the lane and rolled clear to win as she pleased. Diamonds Danzing was the runner-up. The winner has a yearling half-brother by Practical Joke and a weanling half-brother by McKinzie. Her dad was bred back to Constitution. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG.

How Did He Do That became the fourth black-typ winner for his freshman sire Good Magic (Curlin) with a decisive score in the Zia Park Juvenile. Drawn on the golden rail, the chalk kept the pressure on from second through a :21.89 opening quarter. Drawing even turning for home, the chestnut took control just before the sixteenth pole and surged clear to score by open lengths. Fleet of Flags completed the exacta.

Failing to fire on debut in a five-furlong test at Churchill June 23, How Did He Do That was fourth next out going a furlong further at Ellis Aug. 28. Dangled for a $150,000 tag going seven panels at Churchill Sept. 30, the $190,000 FTKOCT buy earned his diploma by 4 1/4 lengths and could only manage sixth next out in a sloppy renewal of the Clever Trevor S. at Remington Oct. 28.

The winner's dam Stormin Maggy is a half-sister to champion and dual Classic winner Afleet Alex (Northern Afleet), as well as SW & MGSP Unforgettable Max (Northern Afleet). The Stonestreet homebred mare had a City of Light filly in 2021 and a Good Magic filly in 2022. She was bred back to Lookin At Lucky. Chris Nolan purchased her for $40,000 at the 2021 KEENOV sale with the aforementioned Good Magic filly in utero. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG.

WHO'S HOT AHEAD OF THE TATTERSALLS FOAL SALES?

A scene from the foal sales last year | Tattersalls

By Brian Sheerin

The insatiable demand for foals was evident in the figures recorded at the foal sales at Goffs last week with turnover rising 16% to €29,561,000 and the average rising 16% to €40,110.

At the top end of the market, Kingman (GB) dominated with three foals by the Juddmonte-based stallion selling for a combined €1,540,000 and one of Europe's leading pinhookers Philipp Stauffenberg signing for the €550,000 top lot by the sire.

Tally-Ho Stud may be best known for being sellers but they pipped Stauffenberg for the biggest spenders title by signing for 19 foals for €1,429,000. Juddmonte, Yeomanstown, BBA Ireland and Camas Park Stud were also on the front foot at Goffs. Away from the top end, there were interesting trends to emerge last week that could well impact how this week's December Foal Sale plays out at Tattersalls. What first-season sires do the buyers want? Who are the emerging forces in the stallion ranks and where might the value lie at Tattersalls? We've examined all of that and more.

Stock Of Mehmas And New Bay Is Booming

It's been a breakout year for Mehmas (Ire) and New Bay (GB), who have had their fees for 2023 hiked off the back of memorable campaigns for their respective progeny and, judging by how well their foals went down at Goffs, they can again be expected to play a leading role at Tattersalls. Cont. p3

ZARAK SHARE BRINGS €460K ON ARQANA ONLINE

Eight stallion shares and five breeding rights were offered at the Arqana Online Sale Tuesday, and leading the fray was a share in the Aga Khan stallion Zarak (Fr) (Dubawi {Ire}), which realized top price of €460,000. Secured by Marius Cypres, the share was one of two purchased by the Bridge Consignment, who also went to €56,000 for a share in the Haras d'Etreham sire Almanzor (Fr) (Wootton Bassett {GB}).

"We're very happy," said Cyprès. "To be able to invest in a share in Zarak is a unique opportunity. He's a stallion that I like a lot. He is magnificent, a son of Dubawi and his dam was a champion too. I think he is one of the young stallions in Europe that has the biggest future ahead of him."

Let's start with Mehmas, a horse who started his stud career at Tally-Ho in 2017 at a fee of €12,500 and has justified his bump to €60,000 after another memorable campaign, highlighted by Group 1-winning sprinter Minzaal (Ire). New Bay has done something similar at Ballylinch in that he has climbed the ranks the hard way. He also entered the stallion ranks in 2017, standing for €20,000, but has had his fee for 2023 increased to €75,000 from €37,500 with Bay Bridge (GB), Bayside Boy (Ire) and Saffron Beach (Ire) doing their bit to advertise their stallion's prowess at the highest level this season. Nine New Bays sold at Goffs for an average of €80,750, headed by colts who sold for €145,000 and €140,000, while Mehmas enjoyed a similarly productive sale with 26 foals selling for an average of €62,455. Four foals by Mehmas broke the €100,000 mark with BBA Ireland going to €160,000 to secure a colt by the stallion.

Mehmas | Tally-Ho Stud

What's clear about last week's results is that Mehmas and New Bay are the emerging forces in the European stallion ranks. There are 30 foals by Mehmas and 16 New Bays at Tattersalls this week and it will be interesting to see how they perform.

Sergei To Make A Splash?

The Whitsbury Manor Stud team got to dip their toe into the market with some of the first foals by Sergei Prokofiev (Can) going under the hammer at Goffs. How that will prepare an operation who excelled itself with leading first-season sire Havana Grey is hard to know given the amount of foals due to be sold by Sergei Profkofiev at Tattersalls this week.

The Goffs offering went down well; one colt made €52,000 while the WH Bloodstock team paid €45,000 for another. Of the six foals that sold at Goffs, they averaged at €34,167. Not bad going for a stallion who stood at £6,500 in his first season at stud.

The fastest winner of the G1 Middle Park who also won the G1 Prix Morny. His first foals are a must-see. All 17 of his Goffs foals were sold and his median was only beaten by Ghaiyyath among all first-crop sires.

Indeed, Sergei Prokofiev hails from that Scat Daddy line that is proving so popular. He was clearly quite the looker, too, given he fetched $1,100,000 as a yearling before carving out a decent career without managing to win a Group 1 for Aidan O'Brien.

There are 60 foals by Sergei Prokofiev at Tattersalls this week. They should provide a better sample size into the standing in which he is held in with the buyers.

New Bay | Ballylinch Stud

Najd Stud Snap Up Foals

We have become accustomed to Najd Stud playing a major role at the horses-in-training sales but it was interesting to see the Saudi Arabian-based outfit sign for four foals at Goffs. Is that a sign of things to come at Tattersalls this week?

Najd Stud didn't shoot the lights out, either, at Goffs. A Ghaiyyath (Ire) colt topped the total spend of €134,500 across five foals. Interestingly, a filly by Shadwell's Commonwealth Cup winner Eqtidaar (Ire), who has his first runners next year, was among the purchases at €36,000 as was a €3,500 Belardo (Ire) colt on the final day of the sale.

Kildangan-Based Sires Come Up Trumps

Speaking of Ghaiyyath, the Kildangan-based freshman sire enjoyed a rock-solid start at Goffs with 11 of his first foals selling for €824,000 which averages out at €74,909.

Leading pinhookers Pier House Stud bought the top two colts by the stallion for €185,000 and €145,000 respectively and few would be surprised if the offerings by the four-time Group 1 winner go down well at Tattersalls as well.

Of the 11 foals cataloged by Ghaiyyath at Tattersalls, a filly out of a sister to New York Girl (Ire) (New Approach {Ire}) and a half-brother to Global Giant (GB) (Shamardal) stand out on paper at least.

Fellow Kildangan-based stallions Blue Point (Ire) and Earthlight (Ire) also performed well. Earthlight had 17 foals sell for €942,500 at an average of €55,441 with Tally-Ho, Lynn Lodge Stud, Peter and Ross Doyle among the significant buyers of his progeny.

Even more impressive were figures posted by Blue Point, who had 20 lots sell for €1,011,500 at an average of €56,194. Top of the pops were colts knocked down for €200,000 apiece to Camas Park Stud and Katsumi Yoshida.

Blue Point's yearlings were similarly well-received. Famous for winning the King's Stand and Diamond Jubilee S. in the same week at Royal Ascot in 2019, Blue Point will have his first two-year-olds hit the track in 2023, with yearlings by the sire averaging over €100,000 this year.

Blue Point | Marc Ruhl

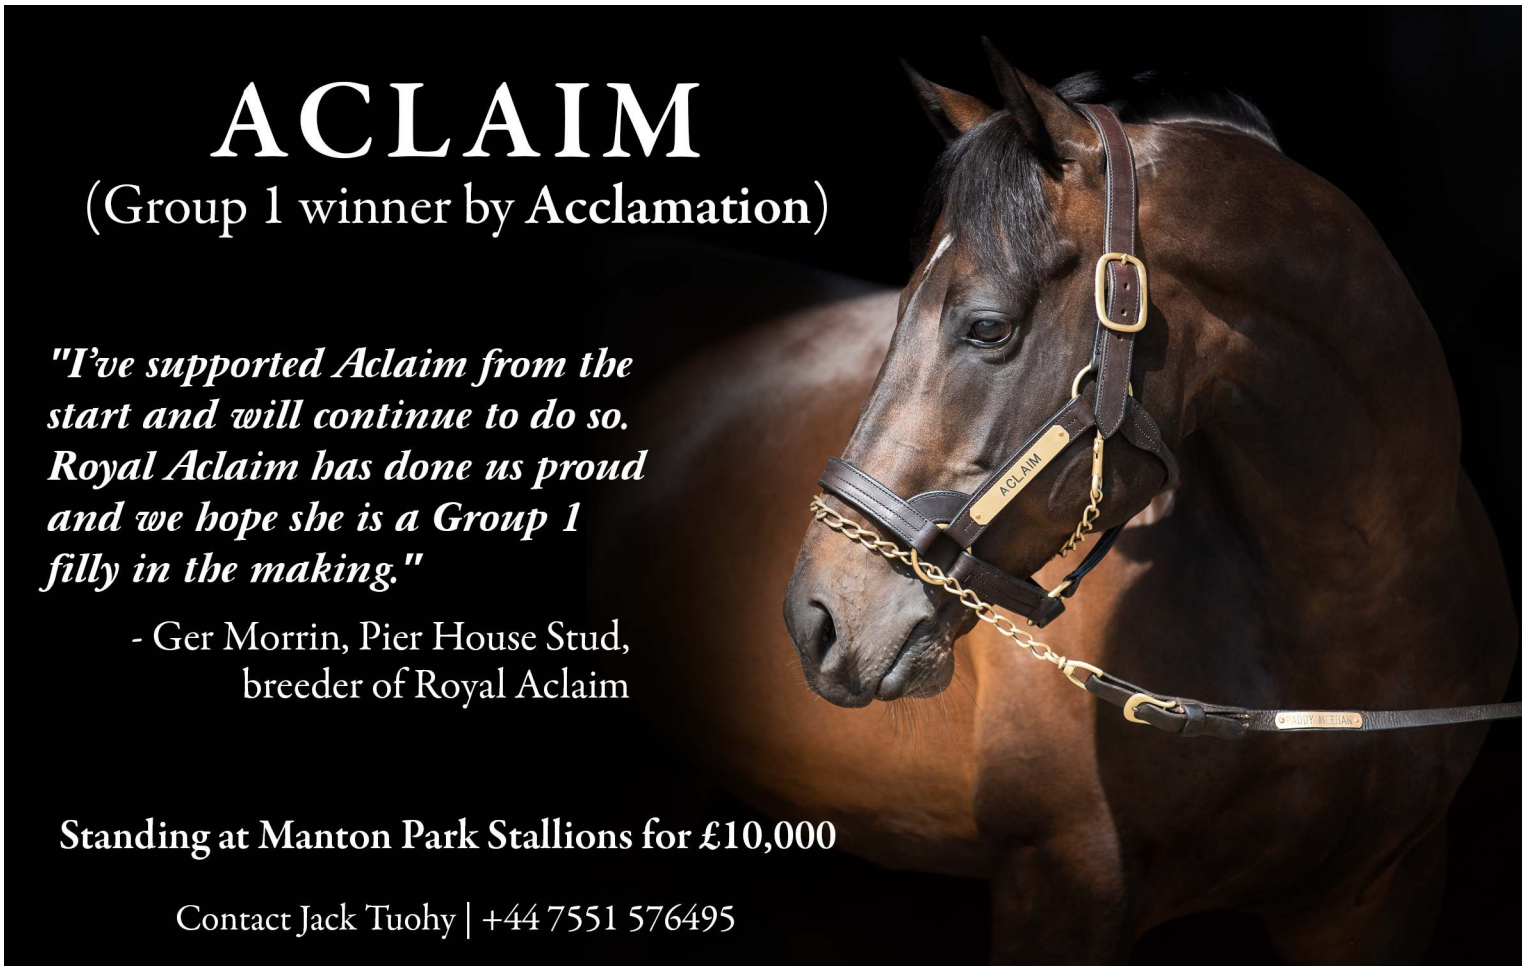
His stats performed favourably against proven sires Dark Angel (Ire), Showcasing (GB), Kodiac (GB), Starspangledbanner (Aus) and Acclamation (GB) in terms of average for a similar number of lots through the ring at Goffs last week. It will be interesting to see if he can carry over that sort of momentum at Tattersalls.

First-Season Sires

Next year's race to be crowned champion first-season sire is being billed as one of the most exciting renewals for a long time with Too Darn Hot (GB), Blue Point, Waldgeist (GB), Magna Grecia (Ire), Ten Sovereigns (Ire), Calyx (GB), Advertise (GB), Invincible Army (Ire), Land Force (Ire) and Soldier's Call (GB) having their first runners in 2023. As mentioned above, Blue Point performed well at Goffs while a number of leading pinhookers got behind the progeny of a number of the first-season sires.



Advertise was one who came out nicely on the figures from a relatively small sample size at Goffs and one would imagine that Tattersalls will provide a more accurate barometer given he has 19 foals there.

But the Goffs results read well. Six foals sold for an average of €32,167 which was more than Invincible Army [14 for €29,773], Ten Sovereigns [15 for €26,833] and Soldier's Call [14 for €26,417]. Those figures could well average out this week. Time will tell.

First Crops Of Note

Along with Ghaiyyath, Earthlight and Sergei Prokofiev, who we have already mentioned, a number of stallions had their first crop go under the hammer at Goffs.

Some of the more interesting results were posted by Arizona (Ire), perhaps unsurprisingly given he is a son of the sire of the moment, No Nay Never, while King Of Change (GB), Mohaather (GB), Sottsass (Fr) and Without Parole (GB) caught the imagination.

Peter Nolan paid €60,000 for an Arizona half-brother to Eldrickjones (Ire) (Cotai Glory {GB}) while the Coolmore-based freshman sire, who stands for just €5,000, averaged a respectable €20,192 for 13 foals.

Sottsass was a classier racehorse than most of his first-crop rivals and it told in the figures at Goffs with the former Arc winner posting averages comparable with Mehmas, Invincible Spirit (Ire) and Dark Angel. There were 11 foals by Sottsass at Goffs and they sold for an average of €61,100 and a top price of €180,000.

G1 Sussex S. winner Mohaather created a good impression with five foals selling for an average of €49,250 including a top lot of €95,000 while Without Parole had four foals sell for an average of €27,000 and a high of €70,000.

No Nay Never | Coolmore

King Of Change was subject to a recent transfer after being snapped up by Starfield Stud from Derrinstown and it looks like it could prove to be a decent move given how his first foals performed. Peter and Ross Doyle paid €50,000 for a colt by the sire who averaged a solid €24,714 for seven foals sold. That's a good return for a Group 1-winning stallion who is set to stand for just €5,000 next year.

Coolmore Can Count On 'Bassett' And 'Never'

Wootton Bassett (GB) and No Nay Never flew the flag for Coolmore at Goffs while demand for the progeny of Saxon Warrior (Jpn) was evidently up off the back of an excellent autumn for the first-season sire. Wootton Bassett was bettered only by Kingman and Galileo, who between them accounted for just four foals at Goffs, for the highest averages posted. The sire of brilliant G1 National S. winner Al Riffa, Wootton Bassett clearly captured the imagination last week, with seven foals selling for €1,345,000 at an average of €224,167 which earned him a top-three finish in that particular table. No Nay Never enjoyed eighth in averages posted on €134,800 and, while Saxon Warrior was down on that list at €52,263, he posted a chunky aggregate with 21 foals selling for €993,000. That was the seventh-highest aggregate recorded by any stallion.

GSW LONE EAGLE SELLS FOR £300K AT GOFFS ONLINE

GSW and G1SP Lone Eagle (Galileo {Ire}--Modernstone {GB}, by Duke of Marmalade {Ire}) brought top price of £300,000 on Goffs Online Tuesday. The 4-year-old colt, offered by his trainers Freddie and Martyn Meade, was secured by Ballylinch Stud to dissolve a partnership. Victorious in Newmarker's G3 Zetland S. at two, he added a score in the Listed Cocked Hat S. the following season, in addition to finishing second in the G1 Irish Derby.

"The Goffs Online service has had a strong year and this is another great result which shows the platform's ability to be ready to host sales of high-profile bloodstock whenever clients need it," said Goffs Group Chief Executive Henry. "We have reserved the use of our Goffs Online timed sales for high-end horses and breeding rights and with Lone Eagle's £300,000 result, following the mares Queen Of The Stage and Quilita selling for £340,000 and €205,000 respectively this year, it clearly demonstrates its ability to cater for elite bloodstock whilst our superb Online team led by Michael Hardy in Goffs and Michael Orton in the UK stand ready to assist sellers at a moment's notice."

NEW WHIP RULES START IN EARLY 2023

The British Horseracing Authority approved new guidelines, penalties and procedures regarding the use of the padded whip Tuesday. In Flat racing, the rules will be fully implemented Mar. 27, with a bedding-in period that begins Feb. 27. In Jump racing, the bedding-in period will commence Jan. 9 before being fully implemented Feb. 6. During the bedding-in period, jockeys will be asked to ride under the new rules, however, will not be subject to the new penalty framework.

The core recommendations include:

- Use of the whip for encouragement to be limited to the backhand position only
- Threshold for acceptable use of the whip to remain at seven in a Flat race and eight in a Jumps race
- Development of a whip review committee which is responsible for evaluation of all rides and any necessary sanction or action, to increase consistency and drive ongoing improvement in riding standards
- Increased penalties for offences, including doubled suspensions in major races
- Disqualification introduced for offences in which the whip has been used four times or more above the permitted level in all races

Brant Dunshea, Chief Regulatory Officer for the BHA said, "We recognise that some of the new rules are going to take some time to get used to for some jockeys, which is why we have factored in time for communication and education as well as a bedding-in period before the rules and penalties are implemented in full."

Full details of the rules, guidance, penalties and procedures can be found on the BHA website.
