

LOOKING TO KEEP MOMENTUM GOING, KEENELAND JANUARY STARTS MONDAY

by Jessica Martini

The Keeneland January Horses of All Ages Sale opens its four-day run Monday in Lexington and Keeneland officials will be hoping to kick off 2023 the same way they ended 2022 following strong renewals of Keeneland's November and September auctions.

"I think we have to be pretty optimistic, coming off a strong November with a vibrant market," Keeneland's Vice President of Sales Tony Lacy said of expectations for the sale. "I think there is still an appetite for quality young stock and horses with perceived value."

There was strong demand for weanlings at the November sale, with 881 selling for $62,154,100 and an average of $70,549. At the 2021 November sale, 860 weanlings sold for $59,195,700 for an average of $68,832. That demand from two months ago will likely continue for short yearlings this week in Lexington.

"A lot of pinhookers didn't get the number of weanlings that they were hoping to get in November," Lacy said. "They found the market very competitive and they will be coming in with money to spend." Cont. Pg 3

GOOD MAGIC'S REINCARNATE HOLDS OFF NEWGATE TO WIN SHAM

Topping a Bob Baffert trifecta, Reincarnate (Good Magic), the co-longest shot on the board at 16-1, held off Newgate (Into Mischief) and favored National Treasure (Quality Road) to steal the GIII Sham S.

Fresh off his maiden-breaking score in just his second start on the dirt following a pair of turf efforts in the fall, Reincarnate, a $775,000 yearling, came in the least heralded of Baffert's trio. Sent right to the front from his middle gate, the roan colt was able to clear National Treasure on his inside for a rail-hugging trip with Spun Intended just to his outside. That duo paced the field through an opening quarter in 22.78 as Packs a Wahlop and National Treasure raced in tandem behind while Newgate brought up the rear.

And Lacy expects to see a competitive market for broodmares, as well.

"The demand for quality breeding stock is probably as good as it's been in the last number of years," he said. "I think there is a lot of optimism and a lot of people reinvesting in the industry right now with purses stronger. There is a lot of blue sky that we are looking at right now. Anybody who has that perceived quality, I think they will be rewarded."

The January auction initially included a catalogue of 1,509 head, but with supplemental entries being added up to just a few days before sale time, the final catalogue included 1,601 offerings.

"It's a catalogue that is very similar to last year in terms of numbers," said Keeneland's Director of Sales Operations Cormac Breathnach. "We had a little over 1,500 initial entries and we've added about 109 supplements. It's a pretty dynamic catalogue."

Of the late additions to the catalogue, which include such current offerings as Ack Naughty (Afleet Alex), whose son Practical Move (Practical Joke) won the Dec. 17 GII Los Alamitos Futurity, Breathnach said, "We are really happy with the support that we've received."

The ability to take supplements up to late in the day allows us to keep the catalogue fresh and current."

The strength of the sales market in 2022 has led many people to increase their investment in the industry in 2023, according to Lacy.

"There is a reinvestment from a lot of buyers that, in many cases, have been on the sidelines for a number of years and are now re-upping their programs," he said. "When you've got a market for the product in September [at the yearling sale], I think it creates a viability for the breeders."

"It's a great activity for many people to invest in and get involved in. There is a renewed interest in participating in breeding and reselling as pinhookers. I think that sense of optimism is driving a lot of this. The increase of purses, we had a great Breeders' Cup, racing is sort of elevating year over year in its quality and its safety and in many other ways. There are a lot of syndicates and partnerships driving a lot of this as well."

Breathnach sees the addition of several high-profile stallions to Kentucky's sire ranks helping to create demand for broodmares.

"One of the things that is driving the domestic market is the stallion power," Breathnach said. "There is a lot of excitement around some of the stallions, obviously Gun Runner is a shining light, but there are a lot of exciting young stallions, especially the crop just going to stud for this coming spring. That helped fuel the broodmare demand in November. There are people going around with seasons to some of these better stallions that don't have the mares to breed on those seasons yet. So we are hearing that from some of the buying base here domestically and hopefully they can fill those orders with us. That's really what propels the sale forward for everybody else."

A total of 1,048 horses sold during last year's Keeneland January sale for a gross of $47,630,600. The average was $45,449 and the median was $20,000. The newly turned 3-year-old filly Princesse Lele (Quality Road) brought the auction's top price of $750,000 when selling to Three Chimneys Farm to dissolve the partnership of Three Chimneys and Hill 'n' Dale.

Lacy is hoping the January sale continues the trend of a sustainable, solid marketplace.

"Overall, I think we are in a good place right now and we are just looking to maintain a steady, healthy growth," Lacy said. "We want to make sure that we can maintain that, not just for one sale, but for a number of seasons--and making sure it's stable. I think the worst thing that can happen is to get a market that is overheated that then has a crash. And I think we've sustained a very healthy marketplace in a volatile economic environment. So again, it's encouraging what we've seen so far and I think for the immediate future I don't see much change. But again, we are looking medium-to-long term as well and maintaining a good healthy, steady growth is critically important, not just for us, but for the industry as a whole."

Bidding for each session of the Keeneland January sale begins at 10 a.m.

A GENERATIONAL SHIFT

by Sue Finley

In Italian, 'generazio' means a generation, and so it's likely no coincidence that 'generation' is the word to which Conrad Bendoroff continues to return when talking about the complete dispersal of Patricia Generazio's stock.

The dispersal, which begins with nine offerings during Monday's first session of the Keeneland January Horses of All Ages Sale, totals 43 head to be sold this week under the Denali Stud banner.

Massachusetts natives, Generazio and her husband Frank got their racing start in New England, where Frank ran the family owned New England Sand and Gravel Company. He fell in love with Thoroughbred racing and was very involved in the sport for 50 years, serving as the president of the New England HBPA for almost a decade, and training his own horses for a time. In New England, the Generazios campaigned the graded stakes winner Concorde Bound. In later years, they moved their string to New York, New Jersey and Florida, racing horses with trainer Christophe Clement, among others. Trainer Mary Hartman campaigned their multiple Grade I winner Presious Passion, who ran over a remarkable eight seasons, earning over $2.5 million. They also campaigned graded stakes winners Disco Partner, Pure Sensation and Discreet Marq. Frank Generazio died in November, 2020, at the age of 91.

"Patricia and Frank have had tremendous success in the game," said Bendoroff. "They enjoyed it thoroughly for many years, and there are generations of families that they've cultivated."

UNCLE MO COLT DEBUTS IN STYLE IN TURFWAY PREVUE S.

The Prevue was the first of the stakes for 3-year-old males at Turfway Park this winter and spring. The track's longer-distance series culminates with the $700,000 Jeff Ruby on March 25, a race that awards the winner 100 points toward the Kentucky Derby. "But she has gotten to a point where I think the operation has grown to be almost overwhelming, and she felt that it was perhaps the right time to close it down," Banderoff added. "She had accumulated a lot of horses and I think from her perspective, it was the right time to kind of say, 'okay, let's wrap this up.'"

Among those on offer Monday is the 5-year-old mare Mischievous Dream (Into Mischief), who sells as hip 98 as a racing or broodmare prospect.

"She won the Sorority S. at Monmouth at two, and was stakes-placed at three," said Banderoff. "She won on debut for the Clements in Saratoga. She is just coming off her career-best Beyer in a race at the end of October up in New York and she's a big, pretty filly, very attractive, very clean-legged, and vets well. She's got a nice broodmare pedigree underneath her with her stakes performances, but has some run left if someone wanted to keep going with her."

Denali will also offer Pure Bode (Bodemeister) on behalf of the Generazios. The 6-year-old broodmare prospect sells as hip 147.

"She has been very productive on the track," said Banderoff. "She is a hard-knocking filly who has won $180,000 and is a half to their multiple-graded stakes winner Pure Sensation (Zensational), from their broodmare Pure Disco. She comes from one of these multi-generational Generazio families."

"She really exemplifies what their program has been: these hard-knocking mares, really limited opportunities in terms of the stud fees and the stallions they've been bred to, but tremendous success getting the results on the racetrack and producing high-quality graded stakes horses."

The genesis of the dispersal started with the idea of selling a few broodmares, but soon blossomed into the entire operation.

"We have sold some horses that she had in training with the Clements and Christophe and Miguel have always been good friends of ours, and they're the ones who made the introduction," Banderoff said. "The dispersal started with three racing or broodmare prospects that the Clements had for Mrs. Generazio that we entered and then Mrs. Generazio said, 'actually, you know, I think I want to sell everything.'"

In addition to Mischievous Dream and Pure Bode, more than 40 others will be offered over the course of the rest of the sale, and several more at the Fasig-Tipton February sale.

Banderoff said that dissolution of a life's work was a responsibility he didn't take lightly.

"It's something we take very seriously, because it encompassed a good portion of a lifetime, of cultivating these families," he said. "Mrs. Generazio was very involved in mating the mares and she deserves a lot of credit for the success that the program has had."

"I think that it is certainly going to be hard for her over the next couple of days to watch some of these horses be sold, but that's the cycle of life, isn't it? But there are going to be plenty of opportunities from people who respect the program the Generazios put together over the years and recognize that they have done well."

Reincarnate | Benoit

The field began to bunch up as they approached the far turn and Reincarnate got a bit of breathing room on the front end past the quarter pole. Newgate, who swept by the field on the outside to challenge at the top of the stretch, kept it tight but Reincarnate was game, countering every attack with one of his own and getting the better of his rival close to the wire to win by a neck. National Treasure chased the top pair home and finished three-quarters of a length back in third.

While the top three finishers would normally have been awarded points on a 10-5-3-2-1-scale on the road to the Kentucky Derby, only Packs a Wahlop (Creative Cause) and Spun Intended (Hard Spun) were eligible due to Baffert's ongoing suspension.

"It looks like this horse is getting better with every race, the first couple of starts, he was a little green," said Juan Hernandez. "Today, he broke really sharp and actually he surprised me. I had come up with a plan to stay behind the speed, make him relax and make one move, but when the gate opened, plans changed."

Brought back to Del Mar Nov. 25, Ice Dancing led gate-to-wire to break her maiden in special weight company before returning to Arcadia for the Santa Ynez.

The 1-2 post-time favorite given the Friday scratch of 'TDN Rising Star' Justique (Justify), Ice Dancing, breaking widest of the field, took back to let a trio of horses from the Bob Baffert barn go by on her inside. Paced up the backstretch run by a dueling Parody (Distorted Humor) and Fast and Shiny (Bernardini), the grey sat two and then three wide up the backstretch. Fast and Shiny, already on the lead, kicked on into the far turn, gaining separation from Parody as the remaining quartet grouped up behind her. Ice Dancing, still three wide, loomed from last and came with a sweeping move to engage the pacesetter past the quarter pole. The top pair turned for home together but Ice Dancing had more to give and overtook her rival with a furlong to run. Satin Doll (Congrats), the longest shot on the board at 12-1, ran up the rail to pass Parody for second but Ice Dancing was already home.

"She jumped well out of there and it felt like the pace was really strong, so I kind of kept myself off of the pace a little bit and it felt like she was traveling well," said winning jockey Flavien Prat, who was also aboard for the maiden win at Del Mar. "She responded well when I asked her to make her move."

"She's a big, strong filly, so the GIII Las Virgenes is a big possibility," said trainer Richard Mandella when asked about her next engagement. "More than likely...We'll have a look."

JOCKEY SCRIVER FROM ICU: 'GETTING BETTER AND BETTER EACH DAY'

The Week in Review, by T.D. Thornton

Joree Scriver | Coady

On Saturday, six days after Joree Scriver got hurtled to the Sunland Park dirt in a violent, one-horse spill, the 21-year-old jockey was able to report good news: For the first time since her accident and emergency surgery to fix spinal damage, she was able to discern a bit of sensation in each of her legs.

"I'm a little rough, but I'm alright," Scriver told TDN via phone from the intensive care unit at Las Palmas Medical Center in El Paso, Texas, about five miles over the New Mexico border from the track.

"The surgery went well. I had a few vertebrae cracked in my back. And then I cracked a few ribs. My lung wanted to collapse. It didn't quite collapse, but I'm good now. I have air in my lungs.

"They're waiting for the swelling to go down in my back. That's pretty much it right now. But actually, everything's turning out pretty good. I've been getting better and better each day," Scriver said.

That's immense improvement from even just the day before, Friday, when Daily Racing Form quoted Scriver's sister, Nicole West, as saying Joree had no feeling from her belly button down.

"As of [Saturday], I felt a little tingling on my left leg, early in the morning," Scriver explained. "It was like when your leg falls asleep. You know that fuzzy feeling? Like it's trying to [wake up]? And I'm hoping that the swelling's going down, and that's why it's doing that. And then my right leg did it later on [Saturday] afternoon."

Given the gravity of her injuries, a TDN reporter didn't expect to be speaking with Scriver on Jan. 7 when he phoned her boyfriend, the jockey Luis Fuentes, seeking an update. But instead of Fuentes answering his own phone, Scriver took the call herself.

Fuentes, 22, said well-wishers who called him and instead got Scriver this past weekend had been pleasantly surprised to hear her voice.

"When people call, they're like, 'Wait, is this actually Joree?'" Fuentes said. "They're surprised because her voice sounds so good. Her progress looks good. The swelling in her face is going down, too. She's been able to move a lot better. So we're hoping for recovery, and she's in really good spirits right now.

"For her only being in horse racing for about three years, she's had a lot of [racetrackers from around the country] caring about how she's doing, and that's nice to hear," Fuentes said.

Fuentes has been by her side in the hospital for the better part of a week. He was also by her side, nearest to the rail, when Scriver's mount, No Huddle, went down abruptly nearing the entrance to the far turn in Sunland's third race Jan. 1.

That contest was a six-furlong NW3L $5,000 claimer. The 4-year-old No Huddle had been in good form, winning his most recent two starts at Zia Park in November and December.

Fuentes himself had even ridden the gelding on four previous occasions, never finishing worse than second.

It is impossible to tell what happened from the pan shot. The head-on replay has been removed from the sites of at least three major industry replay providers. The Equibase chart caller's comment was simply "raced in mid-pack early, fell and was vanned off." TDN could not obtain a veterinary update for No Huddle in time for deadline for this story.

Asked if she felt up to talking about the spill, Scriver didn't hesitate.

She said she remembers everything about the race right up until the fall. Then "only flashes."

"All I remember is my horse's head went down, and I went down," Scriver said. "I don't remember going down, but I remember seeing my horse's head dip down. I remember being in the ambulance. And then going for surgery, I remember them putting on that breathing mask thing that makes you go to sleep. And that was it. Then I was out of it."

For Fuentes, the aftermath of the accident was also a blur. His mount finished last, and all he could think about was dismounting and getting out to see Scriver as fast as possible.

"I was right next to her. It was like a freak accident that happened so fast. The horse never gave her a warning or anything, just went down," Fuentes said.

'All smiles and ponytail'

Read through news clippings about Scriver that chart her progress from tracks in the Pacific Northwest to New Mexico, or scan through the comments written about her on a GoFundMe page that has been set up to help pay for her recovery costs, and determination, work ethic, a passion for going fast on horseback, and a genuine love of all things equine are what shine through.

The New York Times even profiled Scriver barely two years into her career within a larger piece about women and the horse-first culture at Grants Pass Downs in Oregon written in 2021. "In the mornings, the track's leading jockey, Joree Scriver, all smiles and ponytail, pedals a banana bike from barn to barn," wrote Joe Drape.

That profile detailed how Scriver "has been atop a horse since learning to walk," advancing from 4H Club riding near her home up by the Canadian border in Curlew, Washington, (population 51) to barrel racing as an adolescent, then galloping Thoroughbreds by age 16 for twelve bucks a pop while also competing on her high school's volleyball, softball and basketball teams. She got her jockey's license at 18, and won for the first time with her 11th mount on Aug. 10, 2019, at Oregon's Tillamook County Fair.

Scriver rode as an apprentice on the Oregon fairs circuit, at Emerald Downs, and Turf Paradise, which is where she and Fuentes first met. They started dating a bit later, after they each moved their tack to Zia in New Mexico.

Fuentes was born and raised in El Paso and comes from a racing-centric family of horsemen and jockeys, with a father, three uncles, and two brothers in the business ahead of him. He started riding at Sunland in 2018, then traveled to Parx, Santa Anita, Oaklawn and Prairie Meadows, among other venues, before settling in back home on the New Mexico circuit.

After closing out the Zia meet on a high note Dec. 20 (Fuentes won with his final four mounts to be leading rider; Scriver also won on the last day of the season and was fourth in the standings), the couple had taken a brief break before looking forward to the Sunland meet's opening. As fate would have it, they got caught in a travel snafu.

"We flew back home to her house in Washington and spent the holidays there," Fuentes said. "They cancelled our flights coming back on Southwest. So we had to drive, and it was like a 27-hour drive. And because there was a bunch of snow, the only thing the car rental had available to rent was a rear-wheel-drive truck."

Fuentes isn't the type to complain. He instead referred to their travel ordeal as a "strong week" that at least ended favorably with them being able to celebrate New Year's Eve safely back home with his family.

In Sunland's first race of 2023, Fuentes and Scriver ran second and third, respectively.

"We were ready to start off the new racing year good," Fuentes said. "Now I'm just glad she's alive and here."

'Thankful for everyone'

The first week of the New Year in America was dominated by the devastating news of a 24-year-old National Football League player suffering cardiac arrest on national TV Jan. 2 after making a tackle.

Inside the stadium, tens of thousands watched as medical workers performed CPR and used a defibrillator to restore his heartbeat. Players and coaches wept and prayed, as did millions watching the tragedy unfold live and via social media.

Toward the end of the week, Damar Hamlin began showing remarkable progress, just like Scriver has.

The difference, of course, is that while one athlete's pain and recovery played out squarely in the media spotlight, another's unfolded privately and with little news coverage.

Fuentes said he was well aware of the juxtaposition of the two medical emergencies each athlete suffered. But he chose not to dwell on those differences.

"It's crazy..." he said, his voice trailing off in thought when asked about was going through his mind when he compared the two cases. "The risks we take as jockeys..."

Scriver's family had rushed down from Washington to be with her as soon as they got the news. But on Saturday, Scriver said she might be on the move soon.

"I'm thinking of going to Colorado, to Craig Hospital," Scriver said, referring to the world-renowned spinal and brain injury rehab center just outside of Denver.

Although initially the online fundraising effort was established to defray travel costs for Scriver's family to make it to El Paso, donations are now being redirected to help Scriver's rehab.

"I'm thankful for everyone that's reached out to me," Scriver said. "There's been a lot of people from everywhere. There's a GoFundMe account, and I know that some people have helped out in that sort of way, and it's really much appreciated."

MATING PLANS

presented by  SPENDTHRIFT

EDWIN ANTHONY, SHORTLEAF STABLE

by J.N. Campbell

As we approach the opening of the 2023 breeding season, the TDN staff is once again sitting down with leading breeders to find out what stallions they have chosen for their mares, and why. Here's what Edwin Anthony of Shortleaf Stable had to say about their broodmare band for 2023.

I subscribe to the same school of thought as pedigree gurus like Ken McLean, Alan Porter and Anne Peters when it comes to trying to concentrate the influence of the most effective foundation mares and families. My first job in the horse business (after hotwalker) was doing pedigree research for journalist and consultant Bill Oppenheim at Racing Update, so I learned to compile databases and the importance of recognizing patterns. During that time, I also got to know Roger Lyons, who helped to build the CompuSire computer program for looking at hypothetical matings back to the sixth generation, which I still use.

Using those tools, skills, and nearly 40 years of my own research and experience, I'm able to work with my father (owner of Shortleaf Stable) in arranging our mare bookings each season. It's always a good idea to keep an open mind and look at all parts of a mare's pedigree to forecast what might work for her."

Plainsman, recently retired to stud for Shortleaf | Louise Reinagel

“You also want to incorporate some common sense regarding size, soundness, speed, stamina and keeping your long-term goals in mind, including staying within a realistic budget. Shortleaf races all of the stock that we breed, so we have a ceiling on what we’re willing to spend on each stud fee, since we’d like to see the resulting foal earn back as much of our investment as it can.

PANGBURN (m, 11, Congrats—It’s True Love, by Yes It’s True), booked to Good Magic

We raced this mare after purchasing her as a yearling. She’s a big mare, but was precocious and a very sound racehorse, placing in several graded stakes. She has been a good match for Hard Spun (dam of SW Caddo River by him and a just-turned 2-year-old full-brother that is one of our top prospects), so we decided to send her to GOOD MAGIC, who is out of a mare by Hard Spun. Curlin (sire of Good Magic) has an outstanding record on the A.P. Indy cross, and I have concentrated on Hard Spun’s blood with her because he carries Roberto and she carries Dixieland Band. When they are combined in pedigrees, you get linebreeding to full-sisters, and I have seen that combination work with great success for decades. It just keeps working.

BENNER ISLAND (m, 9, Speightstown—Spacy Tracy, by Awesome Again), booked to Bolt d’Oro

This mare was another yearling sale purchase and was very fast and classy, winning a Grade II on Derby Day, sprinting. We like to send her to stallions that would logically add some stamina. The obvious choice would be Medaglia d’Oro, since he has nicked so well with Speightstown in pedigrees, but he’s always been out of our price range.

Since he was so popular at the sales and showed some good results with his first crop of runners, we elected to go with Medaglia d'Oro's son BOLT D'ORO, who is out of a mare by A.P. Indy, which should add some stamina genes as well. In addition, Bolt d'Oro is from the Sadler's Wells sire line and Benner Island carries Nureyev, so having those three or four brothers in a pedigree can't hurt, since they have combined so well.

REEF POINT (m, 10, Giant's Causeway—Dixie City, by Dixie Union), booked to Daredevil

Yet another yearling purchase, this mare didn't have much interest in being a racehorse, but she is from the family of Dehere, out of a Grade II winner, and by a leading broodmare sire, so we never hesitated in spending money on her stud fees. She is the dam of MGSW Bubble Rock (on turf), by More Than Ready. That was an easy mating to come up with given all of the success that More Than Ready has had in reinforcing the influence of Almahmoud through her grandsons Northern Dancer and Halo. There are numerous examples of combining stallions with inverted pedigrees, achieving "balanced" inbreeding/linebreeding through sons and daughters of the same ancestors. This is achieved when you cross Southern Halo (son of Halo, daughter of Northern Dancer) with Giant's Causeway (carries a son of Northern Dancer and a daughter of Halo). Since More Than Ready is no longer with us, a good choice for this mare was More Than Ready's son, DAREDEVIL. He's out of a mare by Forty Niner, who is in turn out of a mare by Tom Rolfe (a son of the notable mare Pocahontas). Giant's Causeway carries Tom Rolfe's half-brother Chieftain, and I have seen linebreeding to Pocahontas and the more general family of The Squaw II (Ack Ack, Sham, etc.) work on numerous occasions.

HOLIDAY'S JEWEL (m, 14, Harlan's Holiday—Denali Red, by Crafty Prospector), booked to Twirling Candy

We bought this mare as a maiden at the Keeneland November Sale. She was a sound campaigner in New York (made 40 starts) and had plenty of stamina. She was another mare in a good position to take advantage of linebreeding to Almahmoud (Halo, Northern Dancer), so we sent her to More Than Ready several times and were rewarded with the GSP filly Caldee from that union. I recognized that she had some other interesting ancestors that made her a good match for Candy Ride's son TWIRLING CANDY, and we have been anxious for our breeding program to have more exposure to Candy Ride's growing influence, so we decided to go in that direction with her. Twirling Candy was the choice because Harlan's Holiday is out of a mare by Triple Crown winner Affirmed and Twirling Candy traces to the dam of Affirmed, Won't Tell You (his fifth dam).

Harlan's Holiday is also from the important Alanesian/Alablue family and Twirling Candy has three crosses of that family close up in his pedigree--via Ride the Rails and Cryptoclearance (sire and grandsire of Candy Ride), as well as Boldnesian (grandsire of Seattle Slew).

MERRY MITTENS (m, 13, Harperstown--Weatherfield, by Elusive Quality) booked to Plainsman

This mating is the very definition of "homebred." We raced the sire Harperstown (SP son of Devil's Bag--Halo, from a mare by Northern Dancer) and stood him in Arkansas. We had a couple of full-sisters by Elusive Quality that we bred that were out of a daughter of our Classic winner Pine Bluff (a son of Danzig--Northern Dancer, from a mare by Halo). We've had good luck reinforcing all of this Almahmoud blood (Halo, Northern Dancer) so we bred both of the Elusive Quality mares (with Pine Bluff) to Harperstown. From those unions, we got the very legit GSW Trace Creek (an allowance winner at Churchill and Keeneland) and this mare, an open allowance winner sprinting and the dam of Arkie-bred SW Sekani. She makes a lot of sense for our new stallion PLAINSMAN (a son of Flatter that won three graded stakes for us) since he needs some mares with speed and this mating results in linebreeding to three sets of full-siblings--Devil's Bag and his brother Saint Ballado, Hero's Honor and his sister Wild Applause, and Graustark and his brother His Majesty. We'll know in about four years if it was a good idea.

A salty field went to post here and Wudda U Think Now led them wire-to-wire in his 6-year-old bow in the Say Florida Sandy S. The three-time stakes winner last season capped 2022 at this venue in the state-bred restricted Alex M. Robb S. contested over a mile on a muddy main track, clearing the field by 3 1/4 lengths after outlasting the runner-up in a speed duel.

Hustled out from the start and kept honest by Market Alert through :22.96 and :45.58 splits this time, Wudda U Think Now stubbornly refused to secede his spot on the rail and kept on in the stretch to gamely win by 3/4 lengths. Post-time favorite Bankit came on strongly late but missed second by a head.

"I was really trying to manage what I could get away with. Kendrick [Carmouche, aboard No. 5, Market Alert] was pressing me and he kept the pace honest. Because [Wudda U Think Now] shortened back up from the mile, I knew he handled the distance and I could ride him a little earlier," said winning rider Dylan Davis. "I really got into him once we got to the turn. He just kept finding more and more. I was able to put away Kendrick but I was worried about the two closers--Bankit [No. 3] and My Boy Tate [No. 1]--and was really hoping he would find some more. I switched the stick to the left hand to keep [my horse] honest and I knew that I would have more down the stretch."

Half to a pair of stakes horses, Wudda U Think Now is the third black-type earner for his dam. He is her final registered foal.

CYCLONE MISCHIEF (c, 3, Into Mischief--Areyoucominghere, by Bernardini) graduated going 1 1/16 miles at Keeneland in his second career start Oct. 19 and was a close-up seventh after setting the pace in the Nov. 26 GII Kentucky Jockey Club S. last time out. Adding Lasix for this fourth start, the 5-1 shot chased the pacesetter down the backstretch and surged to the lead with a three-wide move approaching the stretch. He kicked clear down the lane to score by 5 3/4 lengths. Litigate (Blame) got his nose in front of Mr. Ripple (Dialed In) late to be second. Cyclone Mischief, who was a $450,000 KEESEP yearling, likely earned a start in the Feb. 4 GIII Holy Bull S. with the win. "This is a real racehorse. He's the real deal," Dale Romans said. "He's one of the best I've had in a long time." Tyler Gaffalione added, "He broke alertly, put himself in a great spot. They told me that they had been working him behind horses and he seemed to be really thriving with that, so that was kind of the plan."

Areyoucominghere produced a filly by Street Sense last year and was bred back to Munnings. Co-breeder and owner Castleton Lyons purchased the mare, a half-sister to graded stakes winner Suddenbreakingnews (Mineshaft), for $350,000 at the 2018 Keeneland November sale. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG. Lifetime Record: 4-2-0-1, $112,450.

CROOKED FELLOW (g, 3, Connect--Roksana, by Eskendereya) romped home a six-length debut winner at Remington Park Dec. 7. The 7-5 favorite was last in the early going, rushed up four wide nearing the stretch and charged to the lead at midstretch before drawing away to win by 3 1/2 lengths. Crooked Fellow RNA'd for $14,000 as a KEEJAN yearling and sold for $55,000 as a KEESEP yearling. Roksana produced a filly by English Channel in 2021 and a filly by Vino Rosso in 2022 before being bred back to Improbable. Click for the Equibase.com chart. Lifetime Record: 2-2-0-0, $41,247.

A WESTERN YARN (c, 3, Eastwood--Basket Stitch, by Tiznow) finished second in his first career race at Saratoga against auction-price restricted babies in the slop July 21, and then jumped into the state-bred Whistle Pig S. at Parx in which he ended up a distant eighth Aug. 22 behind Ninetypercentmaddie (Weigelia), who went on to place in the Parx Juvenile S. Jan. 3. Switching to Laurel Park's turf against open maidens Oct. 29, the dark bay just missed the money, ending up four lengths back, before shipping to Tampa Bay Downs for the winter. He then stretched out to a mile on the grass and graduated by a neck Dec. 3 against similar. At the next restricted level here under Lasix for the first-time, the Arnaud Delacour-trainee broke alertly as the short-priced favorite, and controlling the pace up front at :24.27 and :48.87, went wire-to-wire with only 49-1 longshot Summer Bee in chase mode 2 3/4 behind in the end. The winner is a half to Keepmeinstitches (Southern Image), SP, $315,814. Sales History: $45,000 Ylg '21 EASOCT. IN ORDER OF PURSE:

8th-Gulfstream, $70,000, Msw, 1-8, 3yo, f, 7 1/2ft, 1:30.20, fm, 2 lengths.

BE MY SUNSHINE (f, 3, Frosted--Sisterhood {SW & MGSP, $198,013}, by Kitten's Joy) broke her maiden at first-asking in a tragedy-marred maiden special here. Racing near the rear of the field early, she was in no rush after bumping at the start with Armonia (Perfect Soul {Ire}) and held a spot in ninth for most of the contest. The field was closing ranks coming into the stretch when favorite Bo Derek (Speightstown) went down at the eighth pole while contending for the lead, causing Her Ladyship (Bernardini) and Poshly (Uncle Mo) to lose their riders as they tried to avoid her. Be My Sunshine had to swing into the seven path to avoid the spill and closed strongly down the center to catch Love Rhapsody (Collected) in the final stages to win by two lengths. After the race, DRF's Mike Welsch reported that Luis Saez (Bo Derek) and Javier Castellano (Her Ladyship) walked back to the jockey's room while Jesus Rios (Poshly) was taken to the hospital after complaining of shoulder pain. Her Ladyship and Poshly escaped the spill with no apparent injuries, but Bo Derek unfortunately had to be euthanized after being vanned off. Be My Sunshine, homebred for Ken and the late Sarah Ramsey, is a half to In the Mood (Eskendereya), SW & GSP, $218,270. She has a 2-year-old half-sister by Catholic Boy and a yearling half-sister by McKinzie. Sisterhood visited War of Will for 2023. This is the female family of MGISP Vivano (Island Whirl). Sales history: $55,000 RNA Ylg '21 KEESEP. Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $42,000. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG.

5th-Gulfstream, $70,000, Msw, 1-8, 3yo, f, 7 1/2ft, 1:29.90, fm, 1/2 length.

BREATH AWAY (GB) (f, 3, Bated Breath {GB}--Darling Grace {GB}, by Nayef) was guided on debut smoothly to the rail from her outside post by Joel Rosario before the first turn, as she tucked in third behind pacesetter Typey (Accelerate). Down the backside of the turf course through moderate fractions of :24.05 for the quarter and :48.49 for the half, the 5-2 shot began to inch closer, and around the far turn the dark bay filly waited for running room. That came by the eighth pole, as she cut to the outside of the leader, and sailed by with good energy to declare victory by half a length. Insight horse Sassiness (Uncle Mo) was involved in heavy traffic in deep stretch with the eventual fifth place horse, Elysian Field (Hard Spun). After a jockey's objection, that runner was disqualified to eighth, one behind Sassiness who was seventh. The winner is a full to Simply Breathless (GB), GSW, $256,204, and her dam is also responsible for a 2-year-old filly by Advertise (GB). She also produced another full-sister to Breath Away (GB) last year. Sales History: 92,000gns Wlg '20 TATFOA; 230,000gns Ylg '21 TATOCT. DAIZY DOOZY (f, 3, The Factor--Running Debi C, by Unbridled's Song) popped out of the gate as the third longest shot on the board for this unveiling, complete with first-time blinkers, but the 24-1 price didn't stop her from putting up :22.44 and :44.99 splits before kicking clear of rivals in upper stretch. Under a firm drive from Luca Panici, she held a troubled Sure Can (Mor Spirit) to a comfortable 1 1/4-length margin at the wire. The most recent winner for her dam, Daizy Doozy has a 2-year-old half-brother by Goldencents. Their 2022 half-sibling by Take Charge Indy died, but Running Debi C returned to him for a foal this season. Sales history: $47,000 RNA Ylg '21 KEESEP; $77,000 2yo '22 OBSAPR. The winner has a yearling half-sister by Conquest Farenheit and her dam was bred back to Smiling Tiger last year. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG. Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $23,400.

ELEVENTH JAPANESE TITLE FOR DEEP IMPACT

Can Auguste Rodin provide Deep Impact with a Classic winner from his final crop? | Racingphotos.com

By Emma Berry

To a degree, when it comes to the Japanese sires' championship of 2022, one could resort to that old saying 'the more things change, the more they stay the same'. It holds good for now, as in the last three years the names filling the top three spots in the list have remained the same, in an unchanged order: Deep Impact (Jpn), Lord Kanaloa (Jpn), and Heart's Cry (Jpn).

But all things change eventually and, as we know, two of those stallions are no longer active, with Deep Impact gaining his last three championships posthumously. With his legend now fully appreciated worldwide, he was quick to make his mark in his home country after his retirement to the Shadai Stallion Station in 2007. The son of the hugely dominant Sunday Silence was Japan's champion first-season sire of 2010. He made his debut in the top 10 of the country's general sires' list the following year by finishing in fourth position when King Kamehameha (Jpn) was champion, but Deep Impact then wrested that title from his stud-mate in 2012 and has held it on an annual basis ever since.

The members of his final small crop of 14, conceived after covering 24 mares before his premature demise at the age of 17 in August 2019, are 3-year-olds this year. Cont. p3

LIGHT QUANTUM LATEST GROUP WINNER FOR DEEP IMPACT AT CHUKYO

by Margaret Ransom

Light Quantum (Jpn) (Deep Impact {Jpn}) remained perfect to graduate to the group ranks while taking on the boys for the first time with an impressive rallying victory in the G3 Nikkan Sports Sho Shinzan Kinen at Chukyo on Sunday.

The public's second choice at odds of 2-1 in this 1600-metre affair hopped a bit from the gate and was taken way back early, rating in front of just rivals for more than 800 metres as Pace Setting (GB) (Showcasing {GB}) showed the way. As the early leader rounded the far bend, the winner began her rally and was swung wide into the stretch with more than a dozen lengths to close on the frontrunner. While racing out in the center of the course for clear running room she ran down all of her tiring rivals in the last 200 meters and pulled away for a length victory over a determined Pace Setting. Toho Galleon (Jpn) (Real Steel {Jpn}) was third another length back. Deep Impact Crowned Again In Japan Cont. from p1

In Japan, where it is still considered desirable for the elite gallopers to race on as older horses, Deep Impact could maintain his supremacy for another year, but sooner or later his reign will come to an end. His stars of 2022 in Japan were the G1 Osaka Hai winner Potager (Jpn) and Ask Victor More (Jpn), who won the G1 Kikuka Sho (Japanese St Leger). He also featured as the broodmare sire of G1 Queen Elizabeth II Cup victrix Geraldina (Jpn), a daughter of Maurice (Jpn) and perhaps Deep Impact's crowning glory, Gentildonna (Jpn), the Fillies' Triple Crown, Japan Cup and Arima Kinen winner who was Japan's Horse of the Year in 2012 and 2014.

Farther afield, he was represented by G1 Australasian Oaks winner Glint Of Hope (Jpn), while the G1 Vertem Futurity Trophy winner Auguste Rodin (Ire) gives Deep Impact a great chance of further European Classic success this year.

The top-class sprinter/miler Lord Kanaloa, a son of the late King Kamehameha, looks a champion sire in the making with a growing international reputation. He was the approximate equivalent of only £163,000 shy of Deep Impact in progeny earnings from 276 winners last year, the best of them being G1 NHK Mile Cup winner Danon Scorpion (Jpn) and G1 Dubai Turf dead-heater Panthalassa (Jpn). Not too many of his offspring have made it to Europe yet, but a notable winner in Ireland last season was 'TDN Rising Star' Beginnings, a daughter of dual Guineas heroine Winter (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) who now has Classic aspirations of her own.

Heart's Cry was absent from the covering shed in 2022, having been pensioned at Shadai the previous June at the age of 20.

A contemporary of Deep Impact, he finished runner-up to him in the freshman championship of 2010 and, despite always being in his shadow, has enjoyed a sterling career of his own.

Heart's Cry sired the 2022 Japanese Derby winner Do Deuce (Jpn) and his previous best performers around the world include Japan Cup winner Suave Richard (Jpn), Cox Plate winner Lys Gracieux (Jpn) and dual Grade 1 winner Yoshida (Jpn), who is now at WinStar Farm in Kentucky. In France this year, he was represented by the Aidan O'Brien-trained G3 Prix Thomas Bryon winner Continuous (Jpn), who is out of a full-sister to Maybe (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) and thus bred on similar lines to Saxon Warrior (Jpn).

For the second year running Deep Impact's son Kizuna (Jpn), the second of his sire's Derby winners in 2013, was fourth in the general sires' table having been the leading first-season sire of 2019.

His highlight of the year came when Songline (Jpn) won the G1 Yasuda Kinen, having started 2022 with victory in the G3 1351 Turf Sprint at a Saudi Cup meeting which was dominated by Japanese runners. Kizuna's son Bathrat Leon (Jpn) won the G2 Godolphin Mile at Meydan the following month.

Duramente (Jpn), who sadly died after a bout of colitis in August 2021 at the age of just nine, looks an increasingly big loss to the Japanese ranks, having finished fifth in the table for 2022. Another son of King Kamehameha, and out of the dual Group 1 winner Admire Groove (Jpn) (Sunday Silence, Duramente was represented by the G1 Hopeful S. winner Dura Erede (Jpn) between Christmas and New Year, and his son Titleholder (Jpn) took last season's G1 Takarazuka Kinen having become a Classic winner the previous year in the Kikuka Sho. Another Classic winner came his way in 2022 in the form of the Yushun Himba (Japanese Oaks) winner Stars On Earth (Jpn).

Having covered for just five seasons, Duramente leaves 725 registered offspring. His sire King Kamehameha was just behind him in sixth, and the influence of the former champion, who died in 2019, will start to wane in this table, though he will likely remain dominant through his daughters for a good while, and he was champion broodmare sire for 2022, ahead of Deep Impact, Kurofune (Jpn), and Sunday Silence.

The brilliant Triple Crown and dual Arima Kinen winner Orfevre (Jpn) managed a top-10 finish for the third year running from a personal best of fourth in 2020. On the international stage, he is best known for his 2021 GI Breeders' Cup Distaff winner Marche Lorraine (Jpn), one of his four Group/Grade 1 winners, including recent Tokyo Daishoten winner Ushba Tesoro (Jpn). That latest top-level winner came a day after he had notched a first Group 1 winner as a broodmare sire through the aforementioned Dura Ede.

Rulership (Jpn), too, is a perennial top-10 dweller and is the third of King Kamehameha's sons towards the top of the list. He appears to work well with mares by Sunday Silence and his sons--though they are not exactly in short supply--with all three of his Group 1 winners and 12 of his 16 group stakes winners having been bred on variations of this cross. Cont. p5

Maurice (Jpn), who split his six Group 1 wins equally between Japan and Hong Kong, has a similar record with his best runners. Having shuttled to Australia, he had two Group 1 winners there in 2022--Australian Derby winner Hitotsu (Aus) and Doomben 10,000 winner Mazu (Aus), along with two Group 1 winners in Japan. Arguably the most significant of these is Geraldina, the aforementioned daughter of Gentildonna.

Completing the top 10 is the veteran Daiwa Major (Jpn). The big success of 2022 for the 22-year-old son of Sunday Silence came through G1 Mile Championship winner Serifos (Jpn), giving Le Havre (Ire) a second top-level victory as broodmare sire, following his European strike in that category via Pyledriver (GB) (Harbour Watch {Ire}).

Mind Your Biscuits was the champion freshman sire in Japan
Shadai Stallion Station/J. Fukuda

Biscuits Best Of The Youngsters

Three of the four leading first-season sires in Japan in 2022 were bred in America, though two of them, Shanghai Bobby in third and Declaration Of War in fourth, are only freshmen in Japanese terms, having started their careers in the US and Ireland before being exported.

Leading the group was Mind Your Biscuits, the dual G1 Golden Shaheen winner who also landed the GI Malibu S. and joined the Shadai Stallion Station upon retirement. From 76 runners last year, the son of Posse was represented by 28 winners, including the listed scorer Dermo Sotogake (Jpn) and the Group 2-placed Shomon (Jpn). Mind Your Biscuits is a great grandson of Deputy Minister, whose line has been ably represented in Japan, particularly by his son French Deputy and grandson Kurofune.

Real Steel | Shadai Stallion Station/J. Fukuda

Of the homegrown young stallions in Japan, the G1 Dubai Turf winner Real Steel (Jpn) was best, finishing second behind Mind Your Biscuits with 21 winners from 67 starters but with an important Group 2 winner to his credit in All Parfait (Jpn). By Deep Impact, Real Steel owns a pedigree that will be all too familiar to breeders beyond Japan: his Niarchos-bred dam Loves Only Me (Storm Cat) has also produced Real Steel's treble Group/Grade 1-winning full-sister Loves Only You (Jpn). Their dam was unraced, but as a granddaughter of Miesque and half-sister to Group 1 winner Rumpelstiltskin (Ire) (Danehill), she was always going to be a valuable broodmare prospect and has already more than proved her worth at stud. Though the Niarchos family sold her for $900,000 to Katsumi Yoshida, their own support of Deep Impact through the same brilliant equine family was rewarded with a Classic winner in Study Of Man (Ire), who is out of Miesque's Storm Cat daughter Second Happiness and has his first-crop runners in Europe this year.

With this family also boasting Kingmambo, whose international influence stretches to Japan, largely through King Kamehameha, it is fair to expect to hear more of Real Steel and Study Of Man as the years progress.

several lengths behind the frontrunner. Sidling over to the fence on the bend, the bay appeared poised to pounce at the halfway point. Switched off the inside to the attack by the quarter-pole, he drew even with the pacesetter Mr Precocious (Bernardini) at the 300-metre mark, collared that foe 50 metres later and kicked home a five-length winner. Mr Precocious maintained his position in second, a half-length clear of the closing Go Soldier Go (Tapiture). "I love his attitude, he went through the kickback no problem," said Dawson. "He was responding to every question I asked him, the only worry was when he hit the front, at a big track like this, would he kick clear? He did, so there's a lot to look forward to." $20 MILLION IN 24 HOURS AND A NEW SLOT RACE LEAD MAGICS EXPANSION

Barry Bowditch | Magic Millions

Written by Oz Wedmore

The Magic Millions Polo event on Sunday saw the unveiling of an extraordinary two-year plan for a host of enhancements and new features which will provide a boost to racing across Queensland throughout summer and winter, with significant investment being poured into The Star Gold Coast Magic Millions Raceday.

Highlights Of The Announcement

- 2023 - Magic Millions Raceday prizemoney increases to $11.75 million.
- 2024 - Total Magic Millions Raceday prizemoney will increase to $14.25 million.
- 2024 - Magic Millions 2YO Classic and 3YO Guineas prize-money increasing to $3 million each.
- 2024 - The new $1-million Magic Millions National 2YO Classic (1000 metres) to be run on the Gold Coast during the Magic Millions National Sale in May.
- 2025 - The introduction of Friday night racing will include a new $3-million slot race exclusively for 3-year-old sprinters over 1100 metres, to be held the night before the renowned raceday.

Two-Year Plan

Most notably, Magic Millions Raceday's two premier events, the R. Listed Magic Millions 2YO Classic and R. Listed Magic Millions 3YO Guineas, will each see an increase of $1 million in 2024, and will be run for $3 million apiece. A new $3-million slot race will also be introduced in 2025 as part of an expanded night racing program, which will be open to 3-year-old sprinters over 1100 metres, and will not be restricted to Magic Millions graduates.

Already underway, the $63-million upgrade to the Gold Coast Turf Club will include broadcast-quality lighting which will see the Club host a new, floodlit feature race meeting in May 2024, headlined by the brand new $1-million Magic Millions National 2YO Classic, run over 1000 metres.

The development will also facilitate an additional feature meeting the night before the Magic Millions Raceday, which will begin on Friday, Jan. 10, 2025, and will consist of a six-race program worth $5.25 million.

The highlight of that program will undoubtedly be the new slot race for 3-year-old sprinters, but the introduction of the meeting as a whole will make it Australia's richest night meeting, and create an unprecedented 24 hours of racing as it brings the total prizemoney available across the Magic Millions weekend up to $20 million.

Included in that increase is a doubling of prize-money for the Magic Millions Cup, which will be worth $2 million from 2025, and a $500,000 increase for the Racing Queensland Magic Millions QTIS Open, taking it to $1.5 million.

Prize-money across Australia has climbed ever higher in recent years as a tacit battle has played out between the nation's major racing states. But aside from the lucrative offerings announced on Sunday, racing in Queensland provides a unique entertainment according to Brendan Parnell, Chief Executive Officer of Racing Queensland.

"We like to be different," he told TDN AusNZ. "We like to leverage this amazing weather and the beautiful backdrop of the beach. We're in a position to innovate. The creation this year of the biggest ownership race in the world, The Syndicate, is different, and it gives mass participation a really big carrot to chase.

"We'll continue to innovate and look for different ways to do things. We'll look for gaps in the Pattern and the calendar to create new products, and that's why we're creating two new carnival meetings under lights at the Gold Coast.

“Have a look around here and you’ll see people coming to spend a lot of time on the Gold Coast to savour the atmosphere.”

What It Means For Magics

For Barry Bowditch, managing director at Magic Millions, the announcement marks a continued drive from the Bundall-based team to develop racing in the state, and he was quick to credit the various stakeholders involved.

Speaking to TDN AusNZ, Bowditch said, “For Racing Queensland and all of our partners to work with us in the way they do is the starting point--that gives us the scope to achieve something like this.

“I think what Racing Queensland, us at Magic Millions and the (Gold Coast) Turf Club have achieved--from offering the first $10-million day seven years ago to building on that with innovations and tweaks such as The Debut and The Syndicate and now going next level with this new announcement--it’s very exciting!

“You’ve got to be proud of bringing these things together. I think the team here at Magic Millions have thought long and hard about how we can make it bigger and better each year. Gerry [Harvey] and Katie [Page-Harvey] are outward thinkers, they want to do things to the highest degree... They help bring these ideas to fulfilment.

“In particular, $20 million over 24 hours is pretty unique, it’s fun and I think it will really resonate with our clientele... Obviously, for Magic Millions it’s great for our clients, but for the industry itself here in Queensland it’s really, really positive.”

Testament to Magic Millions’ commitment to the wider industry is that the new $3-million slotholder feature race coming 2025 will be open to all 3-year-olds, and not restricted only to graduates of their sales.

“I think it’s great to be able to bring the industry together,” Bowditch said. “To have something of that level for a 3-year-old sprint race in this country is great. Obviously, we have some outstanding races across Australia, but to have one of those, in the summer, here at the Gold Coast is very unique.

“We sell a lot of those types of horses, so I’d expect plenty of Magic Millions graduates to be in that race, but it’s great to create an open race and do something for the whole of the game.

“We hope we have good participation from our graduates but it’s not about that, it’s about doing something for the game.”

The Impacts of Prize-money

Echoing that sentiment was Magic Millions co-owner Katie Page-Harvey, who is also one of the driving forces behind the Harvey Norman business.

Present with husband Gerry Harvey at the press release on Sunday, Page-Harvey pointed to the positive, industry-wide implications of the announcement, which also included boosts to prize-money in Central and North Queensland.

“Thoroughbred industry sustainability is strengthened by delivering wide-reaching prize-money opportunities to all racing participants,” Page-Harvey said.

“Whether you are a syndicate member, a first-time owner, live in the country or the city, everyone should be able to qualify for prizemoney returns from Magic Millions races.

“Today’s announcement from Magic Millions and Racing Queensland creates and builds those compelling opportunities through the introduction of new races, prize-money increases and greater options for participation.”

Sunday’s announcement began with an address from Queensland’s Minister for Racing Grace Grace MP, who was drawn to highlight the wider economic impact of ever-increasing local investment in horseracing.

“This is an event that supports good jobs and enhances the great lifestyle we live here in Queensland,” she said.

“I’m thrilled to see crowds converging on the Coast for all the great events, like today’s polo and showjumping, the barrier draw, the yearling sale and--of course--The Star Gold Coast Magic Millions Raceday on Saturday.

“The Magic Millions has an economic contribution of more than $42 million. It brings in 19,000 unique visitors from interstate and overseas and more than 84,000 bed nights are booked over the 14 days of the Carnival and National Sale.”
