

'SOMETIMES, GOVERNMENT WORKS': SIXTH CIRCUIT RULES HISA CONSTITUTIONAL

Supreme Court battle may be next for HISA | Getty Images

by Sue Finley

"Sometimes, government works." With those words, the United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit has upheld the constitutionality of the Horseracing Integrity and Safety Act (HISA), setting up a potential court battle in the U.S. Supreme Court.

In short, the Sixth Circuit has ruled that the language added to the bill at the end of 2022 to address concerns of unconstitutionality were sufficient to alleviate those concerns.

The plaintiffs in the Sixth Circuit case were comprised of the state of Louisiana; Oklahoma and its racing commission, plus West Virginia and its racing commission.

CHAMPION FORTE RETURNS ON ACTION- PACKED SATURDAY

Last year's champion 2-year-old colt and 'TDN Rising Star' Forte (Violence) kicks off his sophomore season in the GII Fountain of Youth S. at Gulfstream Park, one of 14 graded stakes races on tap Saturday.

The Repole Stable and St. Elias Stable colorbearer concluded his campaign with his third straight win at the top level in the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile at Keeneland Nov. 4.

"It seems like he's gotten even better and better since [the Breeders' Cup]," trainer Todd Pletcher said. "It's great to have won with the foundation he has and the experience he has going into these races."

Last term's GI Champagne S. winner and fellow 'Rising Star' Blazing Sevens (Good Magic) also makes his first start of 2023. He was fourth after some trouble at the start for trainer Chad Brown in the Breeders' Cup Juvenile.

The Fountain of Youth field also includes Bill Mott-trained stablemates Rocket Can (Into Mischief) and Shadow Dragon (Army Mule), one-two across the line in the local prep GIII Holy Bull S. Feb. 4. The rail-drawn GIII Swale S. winner General Jim (Into Mischief) will be scratched, according to trainer Shug McGaughey.

The Fountain of Youth offers 100 GI Kentucky Derby points (50-20-15-10-5).

Three Oklahoma tracks--Remington Park, Will Rogers Downs, and Fair Meadows--are also plaintiffs, as are the Oklahoma Quarter Horse Association, the U.S. Trotting Association, and Hanover Shoe Farms, a Pennsylvania Standardbred breeding entity. On the other side of the aisle were the United States of America, the HISA Authority, and six individuals acting in their official capacities for the Federal Trade Commission (FTC).

The key issues surrounded the FTC's rule-making power, and whether the Act gave them enough power to keep it from being subordinate to the Horseracing Authority.

After the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit ruled that HISA was unconstitutional because it "delegates unsupervised government power to a private entity," and thus "violates the private non-delegation doctrine" back in November, lawmakers added language to the bill to address those concerns.

The three judges on the Sixth Circuit panel--Jeffrey Sutton, Richard Allen Griffin and R. Guy Col, Jr.--delivered a unanimous opinion, written by Chief Judge Sutton.

"In response," reads Friday's opinion from the Sixth Circuit, "Congress amended the Act to give the Federal Trade Commission discretion to 'abrogate, add to, and modify' any rules that bind the industry. The Constitution anticipates, though it does not require, constructive exchanges between Congress and the federal courts. A productive dialogue occurred in this instance, and it ameliorated the concerns underlying the non-delegation challenge. As amended, the Horseracing Act gives the FTC the final say over implementation of the Act relative to the Horseracing Authority, allowing us to uphold the Act as constitutional in the face of this non-delegation challenge as well as the anti-commandeering challenge."

The ruling continues, "After the Fifth Circuit issued its decision and after we heard oral argument in our case, Congress enacted, and the President signed into law, an amendment to the Act that increased the FTC's oversight role. The amendment eliminated the FTC's interim-rule authority and instead gave sweeping power to the FTC to create rules that 'abrogate, add to, and modify the rules of the Authority.'"

The ruling cites prior cases which, "taken together, draw a line between impermissible delegation of unchecked lawmaking power to private entities and permissible participation by private entities in developing government standards and rules."

In its ruling, the court said that the central question was whether or not the Authority was inferior to the FTC. "The Horseracing Authority is subordinate to the agency," they write. "The Authority wields materially different power from the FTC, yields to FTC supervision, and lacks the final say over the content and enforcement of the law--all tried and true hallmarks of an inferior body." Cont.

The opinion goes on to say why HISA is subordinate to the FTC in two specific instances:

- Rulemaking. As amended, the Horseracing Act gives the FTC supervision over the rules that govern the horseracing industry. At the outset, the Horseracing Authority drafts rules on racetrack safety and anti-doping matters, and the FTC must approve those proposals if they are consistent with the Act. But, critically, as the FTC “deems necessary or appropriate,” it “may abrogate, add to, and modify the rules.” The FTC’s power to abrogate and change the Authority’s rules creates “a clear hierarchy.”
- Enforcement. A similar conclusion applies to enforcement of the Act. The Horseracing Authority’s enforcement duties are extensive, granted. The Authority implements the Act, investigates potential rule violations, and enforces the rules through internal adjudications and external civil lawsuits. Even so, the FTC’s rulemaking and rule revision power gives it “pervasive” oversight and control of the Authority’s enforcement activities, just as it does in the rulemaking context.

In its arguments before the court, the State of Oklahoma objected that the amendments to the language, “does not change one feature of the Act—that the FTC has power only to review proposed rules by the Authority for ‘consistency’ with the Act, a standard of review that, it says, does not pick up policy disagreements.”

The judges disagreed. “Maybe so,” they write. “But even if that is the case, the FTC’s later authority to modify any rules for any reason at all, including policy disagreements, ensures that the FTC retains ultimately authority over the implementation of the Horseracing Act.”

HISA issued a statement that said, “HISA is grateful to the Sixth Circuit for recognizing and affirming HISA’s constitutionality. We remain focused on preparing for the launch of HISA’s Anti-Doping and Medication Control (ADMC) Program on March 27 pending final approval by the FTC. Once launched, the combined ADMC and Racetrack Safety programs will, for the first time in racing’s history, see national, uniform integrity and safety rules applied consistently to every Thoroughbred horse, racing participant and racetrack in the country.”

The National HBPA, one of the plaintiffs in the Fifth Circuit case, issued a statement as well. “Today, we stand firmly on our victory in the Fifth Circuit, however we are disappointed in the Sixth Circuit ruling. We have stated from the onset that there are multiple aspects of unconstitutionality plaguing HISA. The Fifth Circuit ruled on the arguments presented to them, and the Sixth Circuit ruled on the arguments they were presented. With that, we remain confident in our arguments and committed to our case. As seen now, the shifting legal uncertainty only upholds more confusion ahead for the industry and should lead everyone to agree we need a new bill to correct this uncertainty. We will keep fighting all the way to the Supreme Court if necessary to protect our industry and make sure our rules and regulations are built on a legal foundation.”

Statement from NTRA President and CEO Tom Rooney

“The decision today by the Sixth Circuit Court affirming the constitutionality of HISA is not only the right decision, but the critical step we needed to move forward in the sport of Thoroughbred Racing. Later this month, HISA will begin the implementation of the Anti-Doping and Medication Control Program and will be fully functional. Now is a time for unity within the industry. HISA is the law of the land, and we must all come together to support its initiatives so that HISA can continue its mission to improve the sport with uniform standards of safety and fairness across the country.”

CALIFORNIA FIRST TO SIGN VOLUNTARY AGREEMENT, PAY HISA 2023 FEES

by Dan Ross

Horsephotos

The Golden State is the first jurisdiction in the country to sign a voluntary agreement with the Horseracing Integrity & Welfare Unit (HIWU) to continue performing a host of vital roles when the Horseracing Integrity and Safety Act's (HISA) drug control program goes into effect Mar. 27, according to a statement Friday by the California Horse Racing Board (CHRB).

In another first among the nation's racing jurisdictions, the CHRB also agrees to pay HISA's 2023 fee assessment. The total figure for the state is more than $6.7 million. However, after HISA's credits have been applied, the final amount that California owes HISA comes out to roughly $1.5 million, according to the voluntary agreement.

"The CHRB has been enforcing and complying with safety regulations that HISA introduced July 1, 2022. Under the new agreement, the CHRB will implement rules under the Anti-Doping and Medication Control (ADMC) Program, which are scheduled to go into effect March 27, 2023," the CHRB's Friday statement read.

Under the voluntary agreement--shared by CHRB executive director Scott Chaney with TDN--the CHRB agrees to continue performing certain tasks for the HISA Authority and for HIWU, including the collection of equine samples, and the testing of these samples at the University of California, Davis's Kenneth L.

Maddy Equine Analytical Laboratory.

In turn, U.C. Davis's "Maddy Lab" also becomes the first laboratory to officially sign onto HIWU's drug testing program.

Because state racing commissions and their respective industries already pay for many of HIWU's anti-doping and medication control program components, HISA is offering credits as subsidies to its annual fees.

According to California's voluntary agreement, the commission's total "state testing credit" will be $4.7 million. This includes some $1.2 million for sample collection and $3.5 million for laboratory costs such as race-day testing, research, and the analysis of samples from other states.

California also receives an additional out-of-competition testing credit estimated to be around $450,000 annually.

"If the costs for out-of-competition testing outside of Race Day pursuant to this Paragraph exceed $450,000 at the end of 2023, the Commission will receive an additional credit for 2024 in the amount of the excess costs," the voluntary agreement reads.

"The CHRB is proud of our work and record in safety and animal welfare, and therefore we want to have a role in shaping policy going forward," said Chaney in the statement issued Friday. "We have partnered and supported the national effort from the beginning and appreciate the dedication of the Authority and HIWU."

The CHRB's statement adds: "The CHRB and representatives of the Del Mar Thoroughbred Club, 1st Racing, the Thoroughbred Owners of California, and UC Davis have been advising HISA all along, promoting California's strict regulatory program, and partly for that reason the federal rules are similar to those in California, meaning participants in California horse racing will need to make fewer adjustments than some of their counterparts in other racing jurisdictions."

Big 'Cap Day at Santa Anita

The GI Santa Anita H. anchors a 12-race card at the Great Race Place Saturday. A wide-open field of 11 includes: GISWs Defunded (Dialed In), second last time in the GI Pegasus World Cup Invitational S.; GI Clark S. winner Proxy (Tapit); and GI Hollywood Gold Cup S. winner There Goes Harvard (Will Take Charge); last out GII San Pasqual S. winner Newgrange (Violence); and last year's Big 'Cap second and third-place finishers Warrant (Constitution) and Stilleto Boy (Shackleford).

Sophomores, meanwhile, will take center stage in the GII San Felipe S., which offers 50-20-15-10-5 points on the road to the Kentucky Derby.

Four horses formerly trained by Bob Baffert, including the top two on the morning-line in GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile third and GIII Sham S. third National Treasure (Quality Road) and $3.55-million EASMAY topper and last-out maiden winner Hejazi (Bernardini), will now be eligible to earn Derby points after transferring to the barn of trainer Tim Yakteen. Yakteen will also saddle comebacking GII Los Alamitos Futurity winner Practical Move (Practical Joke).

Geaux Rocket Ride (Candy Ride {Arg}) dives right into the deep end for Hall of Famer Richard Mandella following a jaw-dropping debut victory going six furlongs Jan. 29. Skinner (Curlin), Grade I-placed as a maiden last term, kicked off his season with a visually impressive maiden win of his going a mile here Feb. 12.

Nine turf milers, led by 9-5 morning-line favorite Hong Kong Harry (Ire) (Es Que Love {Ire}), will line up in the GI Frank E. Kilroe Mile S. The Big 'Cap undercard also includes the GII Buena Vista S.

Derby Points on the Line in Gotham

A wide open and overflow field of 15 3-year-olds have been entered for Saturday's GIII Gotham S. going a one-turn mile at the Big A.

The two-for-two Eyeing Clover (Lookin At Lucky), favored at 4-1 on the morning-line, takes on stakes company for the first time for red-hot trainer Brad Cox.

Former Bob Baffert runners GII Los Al Futurity S. runner-up Carmel Road (Quality Road) and GII San Vicente S. third Fort Warren (Curlin) make their first starts for Tim Yakteen and Brittany Russell, respectively.

Lugan Knight (Goldencents) was a game last out winner over track and trip in the Jerome S. Jan. 7.

The Gotham carries 100 Kentucky Derby points (50-20-15-10-5).

Aqueduct's 10-race card also includes the GIII Tom Fool H. for older sprinters.

THE BARGAIN BUY OR THE SEVEN-FIGURE STUNNER: TAKE YOUR PICK IN SAN FELIPE

by Katie Petrunyak

Confidence Game (Candy Ride {Arg}) gave another vote of confidence to the bargain shoppers when the $25,000 yearling made a splash on the Derby trail last weekend in the GII Rebel S. at Oaklawn. The week before, Angel of Empire (Classic Empire)--a $70,000 Keeneland September buy--proved best in the GII Risen Star S. at Fair Grounds.

This weekend there is potential for another big win by the underdog in Santa Anita's GII San Felipe S., but there is also the likely possibility that the owner of one of those sensational seven-figure purchases will be rewarded.

The San Felipe's sizeable field of 11 includes two homebreds, three contestants purchased for less than $50,000, four bought for six figures--including $500,000 yearling and morning-line favorite National Treasure (Quality Road) and $700,000 yearling Fort Bragg (Tapit)--and then that remarkable, pricey son of Bernardini known as Hejazi. Cont.

Hejazi, a $3.55-million son of Bernardini, takes the next step toward the Kentucky Derby in the GII San Felipe S. | Benoit

Bred by Chester and Mary Broman, Hejazi was bought by Zedan Racing for $3.55 million at the 2022 Fasig-Tipton Midlantic Sale, setting the mark for the highest-priced Thoroughbred sold at public auction in the state of Maryland and the highest-priced offspring of the late Bernardini at public auction.

Recalling the purchase, agent Gary Young said that the record-breaking colt was exactly what Amr Zedan was looking to add to his stable.

"Mr. Zedan has made it perfectly clear that his goal is to have good 3-year-old colts for the Classics," Young explained. "This horse fit the bill. By Bernardini and out of a Medaglia d'Oro mare, he was really well-balanced and his conformation was correct. His work was terrific and Baffert loved the horse physically. Did we think he was going to go for that much? Not really. Baffert, my friend Charlie Boden and I stood in the back and Mr. Zedan was on the phone with us. One thing led to another and it got to $3.55 million. I don't think anyone in the group had foreseen it going that high, but when you get two players in the game these days, anything can happen."

On the other end of the spectrum, Chase the Chaos (Astern {Aus}) is the bargain buy of the San Felipe field. The gelding was bought after receiving considerably less in-person scrutiny than his competitor Hejazi when he was purchased for just $10,000.

Buyer and co-owner Bill Dory purchases a few weanlings for under $10,000 every year to raise and break at his farm and then race at his local track, Century Mile.

"I didn't even go to the sale," said Dory, recalling the 2020 Keeneland November Sale. "I went through the book numerous times and I picked out horses that I thought would fit in that $10,000 price range for Alberta. I really liked the Medaglia d'Oro-Uncle Mo cross on him." Cont.

Dory continued: "I got the vet report from the repository. He had some OCDs, but they were very minor and the vet thought he would grow out of them. When he didn't achieve his RNA, I asked the consignor how much they wanted for him and at $10,000, it was a done deal."

From there, Chase the Chaos developed at Dory's farm in Canada and spent his early days under saddle there along with Dory's other November purchases.

"I bought five weanling colts that year and I had them all in one pasture that wasn't far off the road," Dory recalled. "They would get to playing and people would stop and watch. They would show off for them. It was so cool to watch. Now all of them are winners and two are stakes winners."

Dory recalled how he thought Chase the Chaos was one of the most promising colts of the bunch, so he called a 2-year-old consignor in Ocala. He named a price he said he thought was fair, but the consignor said that with the colt's inactive pedigree, Dory probably wouldn't get any takers. So Dory brought in partner Adam Ference and decided to race the colt himself.

Chase the Chaos already has free entry to the GI Preakness S. after his win in the El Camino Real Derby and now looks to add a third race to his win streak on Saturday.

Young has plenty of experience purchasing both types of horses--the seven-figure jaw-droppers and the value plays--and has been successful with each in recent years while working with Zedan Racing. Hejazi was bought the same month that Medina Spirit (Protonico), a $35,000 juvenile, won the GI Kentucky Derby. Last year their $1.7-million 2-year-old buy Taiba (Gun Runner) was a top Derby prospect and this year, along with Hejazi, Zedan's Derby hopefuls include the TDN's Derby Top 12 kingpin Arabian Knight (Uncle Mo), a $2.3 million 2-year-old. Cont.

"All of this run recently is fueled by Mr. Zedan's passion for the game," said Young. "Baffert has the final say, which he should, and the team also includes Dr. Pug Hart. It's a team effort and it's very satisfying to see them make it into the Grade I races. It really doesn't matter if they cost $3.55 million or $35,000. Obviously there is more pressure with Hejazi and the seven-figure horses. We all realize that some of them will turn out and some will not, but we've been really lucky over the past few years."

No matter what the final sales price will be, Young said he focuses on finding athletes at the 2-year-old sales.

"Horses have body language and you want to see them go back to the barn [after a breeze] looking like they're thinking, 'That was fun. I want to do it again.' Sometimes you like a horse and when you look at their pedigree page, you realize that it's not exactly a blue blood, but if they check the boxes for you, you go for it."

So on Saturday, will the underdog streak continue or will the seven-figure prodigy run to his price tag? Maybe the answer lies somewhere in between. However the race shakes out, it makes for exciting viewing.

"[Bargain buys] give people an idea that you don't have to be a multi-millionaire to compete for the top running of the game," Young said. "Yet Hejazi is a positive for the big money spenders. Let's face it, for the people that want to think 'Oh, they're just spending money,' if you look up the seven-figure horses through the years, the strike rate of those horses is very, very ordinary. That's not lost on us. We realize that."

Switched from Baffert's barn to Tim Yakteen for Saturday's race, Hejazi enters the San Felipe coming off his maiden win, where he earned a 99 Beyer Speed Figure, but will now have to prove his ability going two turns. Young said that the colt's last work, where he went five furlongs in :59.20 on Feb. 19, speaks to his potential.

"It doesn't take a rocket scientist to watch his last workout and know that he worked terrific," Young explained. "We're hopeful for a very big effort this weekend, but there are some very tough horses in the race. There are more horses I can see betting on than those that I can't."

The weather at Santa Anita over the past month that has disrupted training, Young said, will be an added question mark for all of the race's entrants.

Chase the Chaos, who will be saddled by Ed Moger, Jr., will be trying dirt for the first time since last August at Canterbury.

"It was a muddy track and he got a huge lesson," Dory recalled. "He was behind horses and then went between horses to run second. I was so proud of the way he ran in that race. He likes the synthetic, so now we're going to find out how much he likes the dirt."

Dory is under no illusion about their competition on Saturday, but he said he plans to enjoy the ride knowing that Chase the Chaos has taken him and his partner much further than their initial goal of the winner's circle at their hometown track in Alberta.

"We talked about it, Adam and I, and said, 'You know, do you realize we're going up against a $3.55 million horse?' It's crazy. I think it makes people realize that sometimes you do get lucky and you can get the right horse for a decent price. Hopefully it brings more people into the game. My high is still as high as possible. I'm going to enjoy this for as long as I can. I think he's going to run very well against these horses and I'm hoping he goes off at 65-1 again."

GENERAL JIM TO MISS FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH by Bill Finley

General Jim | Coglianese

General Jim (Into Mischief), third choice at 6-1 on the morning line for Saturday's GII Fountain of Youth S. at Gulfstream, will be scratched, reports trainer Shug McGaughey. The horse missed a day of training after developing a cough.

"He ran a little temperature," McGaughey said. "It went right down and he is doing fine but I didn't feel right running in this race."

McGaughey said that the colt will remain on the Kentucky Derby trail and should be ready to go in another prep within a few weeks.

"I will watch him and after the weekend will try to figure out what we want to do," McGaughey said. "I don't know where he'll run next. I haven't gotten that far. The obvious choices are the [GI Curlin] Florida Derby, the [GII] Wood Memorial, the [GI Toyota] Blue Grass."

General Jim is coming off a one-length win in the GIII Swale S. at seven furlongs.

SAFFIE JOSEPH, JR. SUSPENDED 15 DAYS IN PENNSYLVANIA FOR POSITIVE, WILL APPEAL

by Bill Finley

Saffie Joseph, Jr., the leading trainer at the current meet at Gulfstream Park, has been suspended for 15 days and fined $500 by the Pennsylvania Racing Commission after his trainee Artie's Princess (We Miss Artie) tested positive for the substance Gabapentin after her win in the GII Presque Isle Downs Masters S. on Sept. 19, 2022 at Presque Isle Downs.

The story was first reported by the Paulick Report.

According to the website Equine.com, "Gabapentin has been used in horses for many years, and is often prescribed as adjunct therapy for horses with pain rising from laminitis, particularly as part of a multimodal approach to pain management."

Saffie Joseph, Jr. | Sarah Andrew

Joseph denied any wrongdoing and said he is appealing the ruling.

"I had never even heard of this medication and it was never used on that horse or any horse I've had," he said. "We've never had it in the barn. I was completely shocked by this."

According to a document from the Pennsylvania Racing Commission, which Joseph forwarded to the TDN, Artie's Princess was also tested the afternoon before the race and was negative "for the presence of foreign substances." Joseph questioned how the same horse could test positive the next day when it had not had any further veterinary treatment.

"She was tested 24 hours before the race by the same Pennsylvania lab," he said. "The horse was negative and was then positive the next day when no vet treated her. How is that possible? The proof is in the pudding." Cont.

Joseph also said the horse tested positive at a level that should be considered below the recognized threshold level.

"The stewards had all the facts and they made a decision," Joseph said. "They chose not to step up to the plate and did not make a decision based on the facts. I'm not denying what was there. But how did it get there? I don't know. If you follow the science and the studies that have been done, it shouldn't even be called a positive."

Joseph asked for a split sample. The Texas A & M Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory confirmed the positive finding.

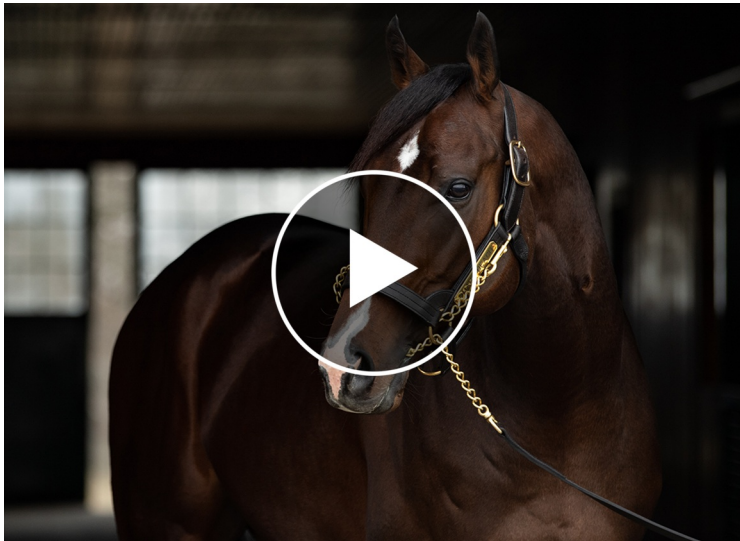

Had he not appealed, Joseph's suspension would have run from June 5 through June 19, 2023.

The Pennsylvania State Horse Racing Commission also ordered the disqualification of Artie's Princess and a redistribution of the purse. Café Society (Empire Maker) originally finished second in the race.

'CONSIGNOR PERSPECTIVES' SERIES RECAP

by Katie Petrunyak

Click here for the final edition of this year's Consignor Perspectives series, featuring David O'Farrell | courtesy Spendthrift Farm

During the TDN's visit to Ocala last spring to scope out which first-crop sires were earning favor with the 2-year-old consignors, the response was fairly conclusive. Bolt d'Oro was a common prediction for leading freshman sire, and the consignors who believed in him before his first juveniles reached the starting gate certainly hit the nail on the head.

Interestingly, of the seven Bolt d'Oro progeny that were featured in our 'Thoughts from Ocala' video series (see here and here), five of those went on to break their maiden on debut. That group includes Agency, who spent his early days under saddle with SBM Training and Sales and went on to run second in the GIII Best Pal S., as well as King's Fortune, who was with Niall Brennan. Now owned in part by Brennan, the colt got his first win last month at Gulfstream for Todd Pletcher.

So who do the consignors in Ocala believe is the standout freshman sire this year? The most-mentioned stallion among the three consignors we visited was, hands down, Omaha Beach.

True, it's not an incredibly out-of-the-box response as the Spendthrift sire does hold the top stud fee in his class at $30,000 this year, but given his illustrious pedigree and the success of his yearlings in the sales ring, consignors have every reason to be excited about the Omaha Beach juveniles.

Read on to find out what a few consignors have to say about Omaha Beach. Click on each name to watch our 'Consignor Perspectives' video feature, where we go more in-depth about this year's class of first-crop stallions.

David O'Farrell

We are really impressed with the Omaha Beach 2-year-olds so far. I think the fact that he was a dirt horse lends the possibility that he could be versatile on any surface. I think they're going to be early, but I don't think they're going to have distance limitations either. I think he has a lot of potential to be a really great sire.

Our Omaha Beach filly out of Hot Water (Medaglia d'Oro) is just really special. She seems to be a really good filly--very athletic, loves her job, moves well on the racetrack. Just everything you like to see in a young 2-year-old at this stage.

The Omaha Beach filly out of Starlit Daydream (Can The Man) is a handy filly. She has an efficient way of moving and a lot of quality about her. She shows a lot of promise.

Also mentioned: Vino Rosso (Spendthrift, $15,000)

Value first-crop sire pick: Enticed (Darley, $5,000)

David Scanlon:

I've got a couple Omaha Beach 2-year-olds that I'm really impressed with. They share a lot of the similarities of War Front in their power and their musculature, but they seem to have a little bit more size and scope to them.

We have a nice Omaha Beach going to the OBS April Sale. He's out of the mare Queen's Wood (Tiznow) and is a big, powerful colt. He's a really strong horse, but he just floats over the ground effortlessly. We're really happy with him and really excited about him as a prospect.

Also mentioned: Vino Rosso (Spendthrift, $15,000) and Mitole (Spendthrift, $15,000)

Value first-crop sire pick: Maximus Mischief (Spendthrift, $5,000) Cont.

Consignor Perspectives, cont.April Mayberry:

I have one Omaha Beach colt and one filly and I like them both. I like that in a sire, when they don't lean more towards fillies or more towards colts. They are all kind of similar looking and they all are good-minded. They move nicely. They've done everything I've asked of them and look like they have some talent.

Also mentioned: Audible (WinStar, $25,000) and Catalina Cruiser (Lane's End, $15,000)

Value first-crop sire pick: World of Trouble (Hill 'n' Dale, $5,000)

LESSONS FROM A POLISH DONKEY

by Chris McGrath

I must admit that this whole business of getting wiser as you get older is giving me a little trouble. Somehow I only seem able to nail one half of the deal--albeit, so far as that goes, I'm definitely making rapid, daily progress.

The only small increment of wisdom I can detect, meanwhile, is perhaps a rather unexpected one. Because while conforming to a dismal stereotype in becoming ever less flexible with age, in most of my habits and beliefs, I did at least sense some improvement in my levels of tolerance when considering the racing this Saturday.

In the past, I would have worn a coast-to-coast scowl. Looking east, we have a champion juvenile deliberately reserving until March the first of what will presumably be only two public appearances before the Derby. Looking west, we find the race that began its glorious history with the eye-watering status of "the Hundred Grander" offering 1/40th of a purse contested in Riyadh last week.

But you know what, I'm learning to live with all that. The world changes, and even on the Pacific shore the water can get pretty cold round your waist if you just stand there trying to turn back the tide. After all, while a couple of horses that would historically have been tailor-made for the Big 'Cap instead went to the desert, the race has still drawn a deep and competitive field. And if modern trainers want to renounce the old school in preparing their Derby horses, then that's their prerogative. The beauty of this game is that whoever's right, or wrong, we have a proving ground where we can settle all differences without rancor. With racehorses, the only rule is that there are no rules.

Except one. Which is that whatever we ask any animal to do, we must always retain a clear conscience. With that in mind, then, allow me to recommend a way to refresh our sense of what is really meant, when diametrically opposed positions on HISA both claim to represent the best interests of the horse.

This week I was fortunate to catch Jerzy Skolimowski's movie EO, which has deservedly won an Oscar nomination for best foreign film. If you haven't yet seen it, you should. Unusually, the central character does not have a single line. He is, in fact, a Polish donkey. Actually, as with Seabiscuit--a Big 'Cap winner, don't forget!--the role is shared by half a dozen animals. But the true diversity sampled through his odyssey is found in ourselves: in our power over animals, and the ways we exercise it.

The film charts the full spectrum, from devotion to brutality. (Though, be warned, the most lurid moment of butchery actually occurs among human beings). Throughout, aside from occasional braying, the donkey naturally remains mute and inscrutable. And while Skolimowski brilliantly stretches the medium to offer him feasible perspectives, ultimately even the most lingering close-up of the donkey's eye cannot penetrate the mysteries lurking in that dark pool. Even so, he achieves an irresistible accretion of dignity simply in the stoical absorption of serial crises in his journey through life.

Few of us would hesitate to use the adjective "noble" in contrasting our Thoroughbreds with a stumpy, stubborn donkey. But this film transcends such castes, disclosing a fragile sublimity in all life, and demands scrupulous attention to the margin dividing use and abuse of animals. EO won't necessarily make you vegetarian, but it should definitely make you prepared to pay extra to know that your sirloin has a biography that squares with your conscience.

Most people working in our industry can be proudly credited with the same loving engagement that EO encounters, through human charity, in a donkey sanctuary and a veterinary hospital. But while HISA has caused virulent polarization in the interpretation of "welfare," you would very soon know what truly animates a person if you were to sit down together and watch this film. In fact, maybe we should say that nobody gets a license unless tears are perceptibly welling as the credits roll.

And that's where I draw the line; that's where I retain all possible intolerance. You want to dope your horse so that it doesn't hurt? That is NOT humane. That just means you want to drive him past his red lights.

But make no mistake, that kind of specious logic also shows why our collective responsibility actually starts with the breeders. When we mate horses, our priority should be to produce foals that will be comfortable with the tasks awaiting them.

And that, in turn, is why we cannot permit physical vulnerabilities to be masked on the racetrack. Obviously such regulation has a more immediate purpose, simply in protecting horses from imminent peril. But unless and until we get the pharmacists out of the shedrow, the market will keep rewarding the production of horses that lack such notoriously "uncommercial" attributes as durability (and its ancillary, stamina).

A guy with a needle at the racetrack may be at one extreme, but complicities extend even to that point where good-hearted people who wouldn't harm a fly, never mind a donkey, are right now choosing a mate for their beautiful Thoroughbred mares.

It's chicken-and-egg. People will breed sturdy, robust horses if other people will pay for them. And people will do that if regulation makes such horses essential. Who knows, maybe they will turn out to be exactly the kind of horses that Kentucky has for a generation or so been wilfully discarding to Japan. (And we saw once again, in the desert last weekend, how that is working out).

Producing and preparing a Thoroughbred naturally competent for its vocation is a humane duty--and one that we all share, stubborn as a mule. Because if our industry can't get wise, it can forget any ideas it may have about becoming much older.

SEVEN-FIGURE JUSTIFY COLT DEBUTS ON FOY UNDERCARD by Alan Carasso

Illustrated | Fasig-Tipton

4th-GP, $84K, Msw, 3yo, 7f, post time: 12:27 p.m. ET

Mrs. John Magnier, Michael Tabor, Derrick Smith, Westerberg and Gandharvi LLC's ILLUSTRATED (Justify) was led out unsold when bidding stalled out at $290,000 at the 2021 Fasig-Tipton Saratoga Sale. The blaze-faced bay made the decision to retain him look that much better when selling for $1.1 million at last year's Fasig-Tipton Gulfstream Sale after breezing an eighth of a mile in :10 flat despite jumping the shadows of the sixteenth pole and of floodlights around the area of the finish line. His GI Spinaway S.-winning dam Appealing Zophie (Successful Appeal) was purchased by My Meadowview for $1.1 million at the 2007 Fasig-Tipton November Sale and went on to produce GI Belmont S. hero and young stallion Tapwrit (Tapit), MGSW & GISP Ride a Comet (Candy Ride {Arg})--who carried the silks of Len Riggio's operation--and SW & 'TDN Rising Star' Inject (Frosted). Carrying a full-sister to Tapwrit, Appealing Zophie was hammered down to Barronstown Stud for $1.2 million at FTKNOV in 2018. Having amassed a worktab dotted with bullet drills, Illustrated is the 5-2 favorite from gate 10 and has the services of Luis Saez.

Illustrated will be opposed by LNJ Foxwoods' Scotland (Good Magic), a daughter of Grade III winner and Grade I-placed Gemswick Park (Speightstown), who was acquired for $675,000 on behalf of the Roth family at the 2013 Fasig-Tipton February Sale. The chestnut gelding also has a series of strong works under his belt, including five furlongs from the gate at Payson Park in 1:01 2/5 (1/9) Feb. 17. TJCIS PPs

7th-FG, $50K, Msw, 3yo, 1m 70 yds, post time: 5:15 p.m. ET

RULE BREAKER (Into Mischief) was one of four horses--two by this sire--to fetch $1 million or better at last year's OBS March Sale after hammering for that price to Spendthrift, the BSW/Crow Colts' Group and Broman after a :10 1/5 breeze. The New York bred is the latest foal to the races for the Broman's multiple Grade I winner Artemis Agrotera (Fusaichi Pegasus), whose son Chestertown (Tapit) topped the 2019 March Sale on a bid of $2 million. Rule Breaker's second dam is SW & MGSP Indy Glory (A.P. Indy), a full-sister to Stephen Got Even. TJCIS PPs SCRAMBLE (c, 3, Gleneagles {Ire})--Tilly's Chilli {Ire} {SW-Fr, MSP-Ire, $134,690}, by Excelebration {Ire}) has been knocking on the door in his last four starts, including running third behind GSW General Jim (Into Mischief) on debut last season and capping that yearly campaign playing runner-up to SW Ari Gold (Medaglia d'Oro). Finishing third while well-connected Santorini (Twirling Candy)--owned by the powerhouse partnership of WinStar Farm and Siena Farm--rolled on to victory on seasonal bow Jan. 21 at course and distance, the Pennsylvania-bred donned cap and gown here from off the pace as the 2-1 favorite. Settled comfortably in fifth while pacesetters stormed through brisk early fractions, Scramble edged closer on those leaders from three wide down the backstretch and was fast making up ground through the far bend.

Asserting command by the head of the lane, he kicked clear of fading rivals and held clear by 1 1/2 lengths as well-bred Operation Torch (War Front) chased him in. The first offspring for his well-traveled dam--who was purchased by Erdenheim Farm in 2018 for 400,000gns at TATDEC--Scramble has a 2-year-old half-brother Bandoola (Curlin). The mare lost her 2022 Street Sense foal and was not bred back for 2023. Lifetime Record: 5-1-2-2, $98,300. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG.

8th-Turfway, $68,810, Msw, 3-2, 3yo, f, 6f (AWT), 1:10.41, ft, 3/4 length.

DARING DO (f, 3, Into Mischief--More'n Likely, by Blame) kept her strides strong here after shortening late on debut Jan. 18 at track and near trip to graduate on second asking. The enthusiastically supported favorite locked horns early with Spencer's Sparkle (Unified) from the rail and launched into a speed duel which lasted until the turn when she began to open a clear advantage on a half-mile split in :44.44. Her challenger faded to fourth while Daring Do held off the fast-closing Beach Walkn (Cross Traffic), who had the most momentum of the closers but still came short by 3/4 lengths. Out of a dual-winning half-sister to GISW Hootenanny (Quality Road) and his full-sister GSP Ryder Ryder Ryder, the victress is the flag bearer to the racers after the mare lost her first, a Kitten's Joy foal. Daring Do also claims a 2-year-old half-sister Letmenowhenuready (Quality Road) and a yearling full-brother. More'n Likely is due to Not This Time this season. Lifetime Record: 2-1-0-1, $48,650. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG.

MIDNIGHT RISING (g, 3, Mendelssohn--Jet Black Magic {GSW, $399,430}, by Hold Me Back) showed a lot of heart as the lone debuter--and 3-year-old taking on elders--against an experienced field, bidding his time near the back through the far bend and swung widest of all in the lane to roll home by 2 1/2 lengths carrying 10-1 odds. Out of an accomplished mare in her own right, Triple Crown-nominated Midnight Rising is the third winner from as many to the races with his eldest half-sibling Texas Magic (California Chrome) notching another picture to her tally at Turfway last month against an allowance optional claiming group. The 3-year-old was originally purchased as a yearling for $180,000 at KEESEP in 2021 by China Horse Club and Gandharvi Racing before again exchanging hands last season to his current conditioner Jordan Blair at KEENOV for $100,000.

His 2-year-old half-brother by Good Magic was sent to Ireland last year and he has a yearling half-sister by McKinzie, Jet Black Magic was bred to Connect for 2023. Sales history: $180,000 Ylg '21 KEESEP; $100,000 2yo '22 KEENOV. Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $42,000. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG.

DOINITTHEHARDWAY (f, 3, Street Sense--Virtuoso, by Awesome Again) parlayed her prior five-race record--which included a fourth behind undefeated 'TDN Rising Star' Faiza (Girvin) in the GI Starlet S. as well as a runner-up effort to GSW Ice Dancing (Frosted) in a Del Mar maiden--and an eased sixth last out Jan. 6 with first-time Lasix into an overwhelming victory here. Once the field left the blocks, it was a merry-go-round from there as Baffert stablemate and 2-5 favorite Conquistar (Quality Road) gave a valiant effort to keep pressure on 7-2 Doinitthehardway but could only watch as the winner strolled home nine lengths to the good in the lane. The victress has a 2-year-old half-brother by Nyquist and a Laoban yearling half-sister. Their dam--a full-sister to GISW & MGISP Paynter; half to GSW Tiz West (Gone West) and SW Tizakitty (Distinctive Cat)--was bred to Maxfield for 2023. This is the female line of Horse of the Year, MGISW Tiznow and his full-brother GISP & MGSW Budroyale. Sales history: $240,000 Ylg '21 KEESEP. Lifetime Record: 6-1-2-1, $98,300. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG.

CRIMSON (f, 3, Commissioner--Pure Scarlett, by Pure Prize) came away in good order for this unveiling in the slop to rate well off the early leaders leaving the chute. Edging into contention coming into the far turn, she leaned in and bumped with a pacesetter as they rolled into upper stretch but straightened out between rivals to wrestle away command and expand her advantage to five lengths after a few right-hand requests from the rider. Brooklyn Girl (Blofeld) came rolling late to pick up minor honors. Crimson is thus far the last registered offspring for her dam. Sales history: $35,000 Ylg '21 FTKOCT. JEBEL HATTA A MEANS TO AN END FOR REAL WORLD

Real World | Scoop Dyga

by Alan Carasso

Runner-up to Cartier Horse of the Year Baaeed (GB) (Sea The Stars {Ire}) in last year's G1 Lockinge S. and G1 Queen Anne S., Real World (Ire) (Dark Angel {Ire}) makes his first trip to the races in nearly nine months versus 14 rivals—including four others from Godolphin—in Saturday's G1 Jebel Hatta S. at Meydan Racecourse. The race, part of Super Saturday which is a World Pool event, is the final lead-up test prior to the G1 Dubai Turf in three weeks' time.

Real World defeated Shadwell's Alfareeq (Ire) (Dark Angel {Ire}) in the G2 Zabeel Mile over this turf course last January, but never lifted a hoof on the dirt in the G1 Saudi Cup and G1 Dubai World Cup. He acquitted himself nicely in those two subsequent efforts over a mile on turf back in England, but is unraced since and trainer Saeed bin Suroor feels there will be some ring-rustiness come Saturday.

"When he comes back for the race he will be at 80 or 85%, but he will need the race to improve from it," bin Suroor told PA Sport. "We've given him a lot of time but he's back now, in training and working well."

There are no delusions of grandeur this time round, as the Dubai Turf is next on the dance card assuming all goes well at the weekend. "That's the target for him, he will hopefully come on to be just right for that," he said. Cont. p3

ITBA MENTAL FITNESS AND RESILIENCE SEMINAR SHEDS LIGHT ON MENTAL HEALTH AWARENESS, RESOURCES By Sara Gordon

In an industry where the hours and expectations fall far outside of the typical 40-hour work week, peers are also your biggest competitors, and the fine line of balance between work and life can be nonexistent, the struggle with mental health is prevalent among the Thoroughbred industry's participants. However, growth of understanding through research, increased discussion and an expanded network of resources is hoping to change all of that, as shared in the Irish Thoroughbred Breeders' Association (ITBA)'s Mental Fitness and Resilience in the Thoroughbred Industry online seminar, held Wednesday evening, in association with Equiup.

Nearly 70 participants across Ireland and elsewhere tuned in to the panel led by Dr. Jennifer Pugh, Senior Medical Officer of the Irish Horseracing Regulatory Board (IHRB), Lisa O'Neill, Welfare Coordinator of Equiup, and Dr. Ciara Losty, a sports psychologist for The Jockey Pathway. Cont. p5

Real World has also been gelded since his last run and bin Suroor sees that as a positive. "He's more relaxed than before and I hope it will also improve him in the future," the trainer said.

In the absence of Real World, Alfareeq ran out a 1 1/4-length winner of last year's Jebel Hatta before finishing seventh in the Dubai Turf. The 6-year-old has finished second in each of his three outings during the current season, including a narrow defeat at the hooves of Godolphin's in-form Valiant Prince (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}) in the course-and-distance G2 Singspiel S. Feb. 3.

I Am Superman (Ire) (Footstepsinthesand {GB}) nearly won the G1 Rupert Clarke S. over 1400 metres at Caulfield last September and has hardly been disgraced in two appearances at the Carnival, finishing third to the 'Boys in Blue's Master of the Seas (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}) in the Jan. 20 Zabeel Mile and fourth in listed company over seven furlongs Feb. 10.

Hong Kong-based Russian Emperor (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) adds a bit of international flavour to Super Saturday. Last-out winner of the Listed H H The Amir Trophy in Qatar, the Douglas Whyte-trainee shortens up in trip for the Jebel Hatta before stretching back out on World Cup night.

"This weekend's race is not the main goal," the South African said. "Obviously, our main goal is the Sheema Classic but I wanted him to go around this weekend, have a look at the track and hopefully be competitive but I can't see him winning a race like that--it's purely a stepping stone for the Sheema Classic."

Bendoog May Be Up To the 'Challenge'

Saturday's G1 Al Maktoum Challenge Round 3 lost some of its lustre earlier in the week when defending champion Hypothetical (Ire) (Lope de Vega {Ire}) was withdrawn, leaving a field of 10 chasing Group 1 glory over the Dubai World Cup distance of 2000 metres.

Trainer Bhupat Seemar seeks a first win in the race and will be represented by no fewer than four runners. Of those, Bendoog (Gun Runner) would appear to have the greatest upside and brings consistent form to the table. The scopey colt, a pacesetter fourth in last year's G2 UAE Derby on World Cup night, has amassed a record of 1-2-1 in four starts since the racing season in the Emirates kicked off last November. After besting Quality Humor (Distorted Humor) in a rated conditions test over a mile on Dec. 1, the bay was runner-up in listed company three weeks later and followed that with a third behind Salute the Soldier (Ger) (Sepoy {Aus}) and Atletico El Culano (Uru) (Alcorano {Brz}) in a course-and-distance test Jan. 13. Cont. p4

CLASSIC PROSPECTS!

CAMELOT 'TDN RISING STAR' LIGHTS UP CHANTILLY

by Tom Frary

Thursday's card at Chantilly witnessed Europe's first 'TDN Rising Star' of 2023 as Ballymore Thoroughbred Ltd's Pensee Du Jour (Ire) (Camelot {GB}) powered to an impressive success in the Prix du Chateau de la Reine Blanche....Stretching clear in early straight, the Andre Fabre-trained bay was already being eased down a furlong from the finish and was four lengths ahead of the Fabrice Chappet newcomer Crown Princesse (Fr). TDN, 17/2/23

The previous day Pensee Du Jour was given entries in the G1 Poule d'Essai des Pouliches, G1 Prix de Diane and G1 Prix Saint-Alary

We have a filly called Bluestocking who won her maiden at Salisbury for Ralph Beckett, she's a filly we like a lot. She's very much a three-year-old type and being by Camelot she's bred to want 10 or 12 furlongs.

Bendoog | Dubai Racing Club

Bendoog exits a distant second to top World Cup chance Algiers (Ire) (Shamardal) in the G2 Al Maktoum Challenge R2 Feb. 3, but needs to prove he can see out this trip.

"He's a forward-going horse with a good draw, so hopefully he'll get a good break," Seemar said.

Stablemate Kafoo (Curlin), fourth to Hypothetical in this event last term, was well below his best when a well-beaten 10th to Algiers in the Maktoum Challenge R1 going the 1600 metres Jan. 6, but hinted there might be better to come when staying on well up the rise to be fourth in the G3 Jebel Ali Mile last time on Feb. 11.

Salute the Soldier, who won this race by 5 1/2 lengths in 2021, could not build on his conditions success, as he finished better than 11 lengths behind Algiers in Round 2. He is capable of better for trainer Fawzi Nass and will need it to be a factor.

"Last time he stumbled coming out of the gate, overreached and pulled a shoe," explained jockey Adrie de Vries. "That cost him his position early on and he was at the back of the field and got a lot of dirt, which he doesn't really like. You can forget about that run." --Alan Carasso

Rebel a Lost Cause as Kemari Steps Up

The defection of Rebel's Romance (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}) knocked a huge dent in the line-up for the G2 Dubai City of Gold with the dual Group/Grade 1 winner having looked the stand-out on class. His absence still leaves Godolphin with four runners, led by Kemari (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}), who was last seen running fourth in the G3 Nad Al Sheba Trophy.

"Getting that run under his belt has done him good," said trainer Charlie Appleby. "He ran well behind Rebel's Romance over this distance a couple of times last season and should be a player."

The Saeed Bin Suroor-trained Global Heat (Ire) (Toronado {Ire}) has had an active winter in Dubai with victory over 1m6f in the Listed Al Khail Trophy and drops back in trip for this race, in which another Appleby contender, Global Storm (Ire) (Night Of Thunder {Ire}) was third last year and reappears for the first time since September.

Outside the Godolphin quartet, which is completed by White Wolf (Ire) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}), the most credible challenger looks to be the Caspar Fownes-trained Senor Toba (Aus) (Toronado {Ire}), a dual Group 3 winner in Hong Kong. The second of those wins came as recently as Feb 5 before the 5-year-old shipped to Qatar for the HH The Amir Trophy a fortnight later, in which he was seventh in a decent field.

Away He Goes (Ire) (Farhh {GB}), whose lifetime best came when he ran second to Trueshan (Fr) in the 2021 Goodwood Cup, was runner-up to Global Heat back in January and has since been fifth in the Nad Al Sheba Trophy. --Emma Berry

Al Dasim Aiming for Five-Timer

Plenty of contenders bring good recent form into the G3 Nad Al Sheba Turf Sprint, with 3-year-old Al Dasim (Ire) (Harry Angel {Ire}) lining up on the back of four straight wins for George Boughey, including two over this trip at Meydan.

Gordon Elliott's attention will be focussed on the countdown to the Cheltenham Festival but he could well be provided with another winter warmer by the dual listed winner Coachello (Fr) (Dunkerque {Fr}). The 5-year-old had the measure of Godolphin's City Walk (Ire) (Brazen Beau {Aus}) when they met in January but the latter has since bounced back to win over course and distance. Cont. p5

Wide Open Burj Nahaar

There are three Group 3s on the card, the first of which is the Burj Nahaar Sponsored By Smirates Skywards, where last year's winner Desert Wisdom (GB) (Dubawi (Ire)), trained by Ahmad Al Shemali, defends his crown.

His rider Adrie De Vries said that Desert Wisdom (GB) (Dubawi (Ire)) will need to be at his best to make it back-to-back wins.

"Desert Wisdom hasn't been the same horse as last year," he said. "Last time he was ridden quite positively after a bad start and when I rode him first time out he didn't get a good run as well."

Desert Wisdom | Dhric/AK/DRC

He added, "Back at a mile, I wouldn't count him out. I haven't galloped him but I see him in the mornings and he looks really good in his coat. I was very lucky with him last year, with draws, and a nice run along the inside, so that is what I'm going to look for again."

Desert Wisdom's rivals include 2021 G2 Godolphin Mile winner Secret Ambition (GB) (Exceed And Excel (Aus)), the mount of Tadhg O'Shea, while Doug Watson sends out three--Everfast (Take Charge Indy), Canvassed (Ire) (Shamardal) and Fanaar (Ire) (Dark Angel (Ire)), who beat Secret Ambition in the G3 Jebel Ali Mile last time out. --Brian Sheerin

Seemar Has Three Chances In Mahab Al Shimaal

Trainer Bhupat Seemar will saddle a trio of runners in the G3 Mahab Al Shimaal Sponsored By Emirates Skycargo on Super Saturday. Leading the charge in the $250,000 1200-metre contest for the trainer is Dakki Stable's Tuz (Oxbow), who defeated Isolate (Mark Valeski) by three lengths after leaving from the one post in the G3 Al Shindagha Sprint on Feb. 3.

"Tuz was very impressive in his last run, but he was drawn very favourably, in one," said Bhupat Seemar, who has also entered RRR Racing's Sound Money (Flatter) and Al Rashid Stables, LLC's winning Western Symphony (Ire) (Shamardal). "He's drawn 10 this time, but he has plenty of early speed, which is his asset. He might have to go fast and furious from 10 but this would be the plan."

Added Seemar of Sound Money, who was placed in the GIII Westchester S. and GII True North S. in consecutive starts Stateside for Klaravich Stables and trainer Chad Brown and is making his Meydan debut, "He stays a bit further but he has plenty of class and speed so he should not be far off in a six furlong [1200metre] race."

Also sporting the black and orange silks of RRR Racing is the aforementioned Isolate, who is a dual stakes winner and took third in the 2020 GIII Nashua S. The 5-year-old was previously trained by Tom Amoss for Reeves Thoroughbred Racing.

Sayed Hashish's Colour Up (Ire) (Mehmas (Ire)) has already won three of his six starts in the Emirates, and he enters off a runaway win in a track-and-trip handicap on Feb. 24. The Doug Watson trainee has been assigned post five. --Heather Anderson

"When your mental fitness is in a good place, you have clear space for thinking, you make better decisions, your mind is clear and you have a structure and a pathway to how you handle things. When you're in a negative mindset and you don't have a lot of mental fitness, everything's scrambled and you may not be able to make good decisions," said Pugh, as she dove deeper into the definitions of mental fitness and resilience. "Whether you're big or small, there are challenges at every single level and success brings its own challenges as well. Mental health difficulties don't belong to one particular group, we are all susceptible to them."

"The other thing that's important here is that you don't have to be in the middle of a major life event to need resilience, I think you're probably facing times every single day in your work where you need to be resilient. If something's stressful for you, it's stressful for you, you can't put it in a compartment."

Alcohol misuse, depression, anxiety and psychological distress were all common mental disorders identified in Mental health difficulties among professional jockeys: a narrative review, a study conducted in 2021 where 105 jockeys across the UK were surveyed. The researchers identified four core categories of stressors experienced by jockeys, relating to competition (ex. pressure, injuries), the wider racing industry (ex. making weight, workload, travel demands), interpersonal challenges (ex. relationships with trainers, expectations) and career stressors (ex. career uncertainty, transitions).

"Mental health is really an area that is being discussed more, it's an area that we're talking about a little bit more in society and it's an area that is being researched more, but I would say overall, it is probably lacking behind some of the physiological sciences or some of the sciences that support the physical performance of certain things," said Losty. "When we compare and put these statistics with other sports and other athletes in other areas, the jockeys are generally outliers. They are presented with much higher common mental health disorders."

The study also revealed that burnout was a common feature among the jockeys, along with the high prevalence of adverse alcohol use, and nearly a quarter of the jockeys revealed that they were contemplating retirement.

"Racing is such a one-man's game. You're paddling your own canoe. You think 'I must be strong by myself, I just keep it to myself, I handle everything else.' I drive myself everywhere, I sort all of my rides, I sort my finances. You just become independent because you absolutely have to be, and I think it drips into the psychological side as well," said one jockey who participated in the study.

However, when asked about why they were not seeking out support from medical professional health services in the study Barriers and Facilitators to Help-Seeking for Mental Health Difficulties Among Professional Jockeys in Ireland conducted in 2022, barriers included 'a need to appear strong in front of others' and a stigma towards accessing support services, a lack of knowledge about the support services available, confidentiality concerns and a self-stigma about asking for help.

"Confidentiality is a big part of my work as well, in that jockeys are very concerned about that if they actually seek out support, how confidential that particular service will be and how others will perceive that." Cont. p7

The ITBA seminar placed an emphasis on de-stigmatising mental health struggles, and expanding support systems for racing industry members as a path to success. | Racingfotos.com

Mental fitness and resilience are very important to a jockey's health

Dr. Losty added, "If a trainer knows that a jockey is getting some kind of health support, are they maybe going to make different decisions about putting that jockey up on a horse? Will that affect their perception of that jockey from a hardiness type of perspective? These are some things to think and reflect on," explained Losty. "If we understand these risk factors, we can put in programs and supports in place very early. It's okay to seek out support."

Losty shared a similar study conducted in 2021 on Racehorse Trainer Mental Health: Prevalence and Risk Factors, which revealed many of the common mental health disorders that impact jockeys also impact trainers, in the form of depression, alcohol use, distress and anxiety. The stressors for trainers revolved around career dissatisfaction, lower levels of social support and financial difficulties, which would increase the likelihood of meeting the threshold for depression and anxiety.

"They are under pressure from owners to ensure high performance, a high standard, and they are also required to manage the staff. They are looking after staff welfare and they're looking after the horses' welfare, which again is high stress, and not a 9-5 role or somewhere where you can just leave your job at the gate when you leave the yard," said Losty.

Though there has not been as much research in a broader sense on employees across Ireland's Thoroughbred industry, outside of the specific roles of jockeys and trainers, O'Neill referenced research from several studies conducted in Australia and the UK on stable staff that revealed they were experiencing extreme fatigue and poor sleep habits, along with symptoms of stress, anxiety and depression. Stressors included high workloads, poor work-life balance and a lack of training and career progression.

She explained that an industry-wide staff shortage was negatively influencing an already stretched workforce, dealing with increased workloads, heightened demands and intensified hours.

"Stable staff and those in the breeding sector are the largest population, they're the largest cohort within the Thoroughbred industry and they're the most important. They are the people that are the backbone of the industry. They're passionate, they're dedicated, they're determined to commit their lives to the care and welfare of the horses. Their dedication is vital to the welfare of the industry," said O'Neill. "It's very notable that you don't see them as statistics, but they're real, they are individuals. They are the people that we need to be able to develop interventions with in this country, which we hope to be able to do in the future."

Farmers are very relatable to those in the equine industry, and Thoroughbred industry more specifically, as they are a unique cohort themselves, often situated in rural, isolated places with isolated work and a seemingly endless workload, as independent sole traders.

"In general we are pre-wired to be negative about ourselves and hard on ourselves, so if we're not able to believe in things like, 'I am loved. I am worthy. I am good at this. I have good friends. I make good relationships. I'm successful,' then we start to feel the opposite of all of that and that can be a horribly negative space to live in," said Pugh. "In general, the higher our self-esteem, the better our mental fitness is." Cont. p8

Their dedication is vital to the welfare of the industry."

Lisa O'Neill of Equiup

In terms of moving forward and offering further support to those in the Thoroughbred industry, a common message among the panellists was an increased emphasis on removing the stigma that asking for help reveals weakness, when in reality, it's one of the bravest things an individual can do. This begins with education on what mental fitness and health is and what services are available to those in the industry, with a request for organisations to take a bigger role in sharing this information.

Helping to increase mental health literacy among those in the industry is a main priority. Along those lines, encouraging individuals to analyse what support they are getting for themselves and what they could offer in terms of support was also discussed.

"You don't take your car to the garage when it breaks down, you service it regularly so it's able to ferry you to and fro. So it's very important to be able to look after yourself. Often the greatest strength is to be able to ask for help and I think it's very important for everyone to realize that there is support out there for anyone who does need help," said O'Neill.

Losty shared the major points that fall under 'how to be a good adult,' which can be applied broadly in every day life, including listening to people, giving them time and space, looking for windows of opportunity to have those important conversations about someone's mental health, not judging them and using personal experiences to relate to the conversation at hand.

"You don't have to have the answers for them, but you can be that key 'one good adult' or that link person for them to engage in those support services. Again, it's about not being afraid to have those conversations," said Losty.

A new concept that the panellists shared will hopefully be rolling out in the next few months is that of 'Well-Being Champions,' where individuals who are interested will undergo resilience training, mental health awareness training, risk management training, and bullying and harassment training. After training, the well-being champions will serve as an extra source of support for their peers in the industry.

O'Neill also shared that further research will be conducted on relevant industry personnel to explore the challenges and difficulties they face, organizing a panel of external counsellors across the country and including mental health training within the overarching field of first aid training.

Though the lives of those in the industry revolve around the horses, first and foremost, it's crucial that industry participants remember that their well-being and mental health is just as important. There is never a bad or wrong time to ask for help and accept support.

KINGDOM OF BAHRAIN TO EXTEND & EXPAND JULY CUP SPONSORSHIP

The Kingdom of Bahrain will extend its sponsorship of The July Festival at Newmarket beginning in 2023, The Jockey Club and The Bahrain Turf Club announced on Friday.

A sponsor of the G3 Bahrain Trophy since 1991, the Kingdom of Bahrain will also now sponsor the G2 Princess Of Wales's S. and the G2 July S. in a new, multi-year agreement. All three stakes races take place on opening day of The July Festival, Ladies Day, on Thursday, July 13.

Yusuf Buheji, Executive Director of Operations, Bahrain Turf Club and Sophie Able, Newmarket Racecourses and International Director, The Jockey Club, sign the new sponsorship agreement
The Jockey Club/The Bahrain Turf Club

Speaking from The Bahrain Turf Club where The Jockey Club Bowl was run Friday afternoon, Sophie Able, Newmarket Racecourses and International Director said, "The relationship between The Jockey Club and The Kingdom of Bahrain is a long and happy one, and as horseracing there continues to go from strength to strength we are delighted that our partnership is mirroring that development.

"As our longest-standing sponsor at The July Festival, with its support of the Bahrain Trophy stretching back over 30 years, it is fantastic news that the Kingdom of Bahrain has decided to add to its sponsorship portfolio at The July Festival by backing the Princess of Wales's S. and the July S." Cont. p9

Salman bin Rashed Al Khalifa, Executive Director of The Bahrain Turf Club, said, "The Bahrain Turf Club are delighted to continue and develop our support to one of British racing's leading meetings. We are extremely proud of the Kingdom of Bahrain's long and respected relationship with The Jockey Club and look forward to growing this in the coming years."

THREE LOTS ADDED TO TATTERSALLS ONLINE MARCH SALE

Three Wildcards have been added to the Tattersalls Online March Sale, which will take place on Mar. 8-9. The sale is now comprised of 27 lots, which includes 16 horses in/out of training, three mares, six 2-year-olds and two point-to-pointers.

Wildcard entries include the highly rated Moriko De Vassy (Fr) (Cokoriko {Fr}), who is offered as lot 26. A winner on four occasions, the 6-year-old is out of Mony Vassy (Fr) (Sleeping Car {Fr}), herself the dam of Grade 2-placed Moka De Vassy (Karakar {Ire}) and the listed-placed Lisa De Vassy (Fr) (Cokoriko {Fr}).

Sacre Coeur (Fr) (Montmartre {Fr}) (lot 25) is a five-time winner from the Jonjo O'Neill yard, while lot 27, Speeding (GB) (Siyouni {Fr}), hails from the Farranamanagh Stud draft.

Details of all available lots can be found at Tattersalls Online.

NATIONAL HUNT SALES TO REFERENCE POINT TO POINT WINS

There has been a change to the treatment of point-to-point performances in sale company catalogues, the International Cataloguing Standards Committee (ICSC) European sub-committee announced on Friday.

Currently, winning British and Irish point-to-point performers are classified as runners, but not as winners in either the subject horse detail or the dam summary line. For all National Hunt sales from April 2023 onwards, if the progeny of a dam has won a point-to-point in Great Britain or Ireland but the same animal has not won under rules the point-to-point only, winner(s) will be referenced as point-to-point only winners in the dam summary line and/or produce summary.

Point-to-pointers competing in a National Hunt flat race
Racingfotos.com

Progeny that have won both under rules races and in a point to point will continue to be described as a winner as currently. Sale catalogues which are designated 'Flat' will continue to not treat winning point-to-point performances as wins and not reference any progeny which were point to point winners only.

Tattersalls Ireland's Simon Kerins and Nick Nugent of Goffs jointly said, "This rule change gives greater clarity around the presentation of form in National Hunt catalogues. It addresses the clear anomaly whereby catalogues have listed any point-to-point performers to be runners for the dam, but do not consider a winner of such a contest to be relevant for the mare."

MIKIMOTO TOPS THOROUGHID'S MARCH SALE

Martin Keighley went to £46,000 to secure recent Hereford bumper winner Mikimoto (GB) (Scorpion {Ire}) (lot 40) through ThoroughBid's March Sale. Formerly trained by Henry Daly, the 4-year-old gelding will now head to Keighley's Condicote Stables. Cont. p10

“We had the second in the race that Mikimoto won at Hereford and we thought that he was a decent horse, so I was interested when I saw him in the sale,” Keighley said. “I think £46,000 is a more than fair price and being able to sit here in my office bidding made the whole process very easy. It’s my first time using the platform and it was all very straightforward.

“Although he’s only four, I believe he’s not a backward horse at all and he’ll probably go for another bumper again before going over hurdles next season.”

James Richardson, CEO of ThoroughBid, said, “We’re really pleased with the sale of Mikimoto, who was last seen winning his bumper just five days ago. Being flexible in the bloodstock sales space is key and I know that both Henry Daly and Martin Keighley are very happy with the deal they’ve got.

“Having two of Jump racing’s biggest yards in the shape of Willie Mullins and Gordon Elliott both selling with us is great to see, while it was also good to have Shark Hanlon back buying again.

“Ben Clarke, who purchased Cheltenham Festival-bound Elegant Escape (Ire) (Dubai Destination) through us last year, looks to have purchased a nice Walk In The Park filly for £30,000, so she could be one to keep an eye on and we’d like to wish him the best of luck once again.”

Coolmore and Westerberg's 3-year-old colt Cairo, a multiple Classic entry, justified long odds-on favouritism with a comfortable success in Friday's one-mile Listed Patton S. at Dundalk. The homebred bay followed up an August maiden win at the Curragh with a second in the Co. Louth venue's Sept. 30 Listed Star Appeal S. and closed his juvenile campaign with a 2 3/4-length triumph in October's G3 Killavullan S. at Leopardstown. The eventual winner, Aidan O'Brien's first domestic runner of the year, was sharply into stride from the outside stall and raced in a close-up second through halfway. Nudged along to gain control soon after turning for home, the 3-10 chalk was not for catching thereafter and kept on strongly under urging inside the final furlong to prevail by two lengths from News At Ten (GB) (Twilight Son {GB}).

"It was a nice start for him, Aidan [O'Brien] felt that he was just ready to start and he'll come on plenty for the run," commented Ballydoyle's Chris Armstrong. "Ryan [Moore] was happy with him, but he couldn't get cover and probably did a little much early against others that had had a race. The plan is, all being well, to go to Dubai for the [G2] UAE Derby [on the dirt] and we will see how we go. If it went well there, we could possibly look at the [GI] Kentucky Derby. It is good to have Group 1 entries here as well as overseas. He's a son of Quality Road and there's plenty of speed in the pedigree. He's a very good mover, an athletic horse with a lovely attitude, and he is exciting."

Cairo is the third of five foals and one of two winners from as many runners produced by Listed Naas Fillies' Sprint S. victrix Cuff (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), herself kin to six black-type performers headed by MG1SP sire Gustav Klimt (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), G1 Gran Criterium heroine Nayarra (Ire) (Cape Cross {Ire}) and G1 St James's Palace S. third Mars (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}). The April-foaled bay's second dam, MGSP Listed Empress S. victrix Massarra (GB) (Danehill), is daughter of G1 Prix de Diane heroine Rafha (GB) (Kris {GB}) and thus a half-sister to G1 Haydock Sprint Cup-winning sire Invincible Spirit (Ire) (Green Desert) and to the dam of three-time Group 1 winner Mishriff (Ire) (Make Believe {GB}). He is half to a 2-year-old filly by No Nay Never and a yearling colt Wootton Bassett (GB). VIDEO.

ALENQUER SECURES ALL-STAR MILE SPOT

Group 1 winner and star import Alenquer (Fr) (Adlerflug {Ger}) is set to have his first Australian start and first of 2023 in the All-Star Mile at Moonee Valley on Mar. 18 after being handed a wildcard entry for the race on Friday, Racing.com reported. The 5-year-old horse joined trainer Mike Moroney's stable in December, with the All-Star Mile always a target race for his Australian debut.

Alenquer, who was previously trained by William Haggas, hasn't started since a ninth-place finish in the G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe at ParisLongchamp on Oct. 2.

"It wasn't a hard decision for the wildcard panel to land on Alenquer as our first wildcard and he joins a fantastic group of 10 horses, headed by Alligator Blood (Aus) (All Too Hard {Aus}), that were voted into the All-Star Mile by the public this week," RV Executive General Manager, Racing, Matt Welsh told Racing.com. "With 11 runners now in the field, our focus will be on key races at Flemington and Randwick tomorrow before we issue the remaining four wildcards by early next week."

In 2021 as a 3-year-old, Alenquer won the G2 King Edward VII S. at Royal Ascot. He ran third in the 2400-metre G1 Grand Prix de Paris and second in the G1 Juddmonte International S. later in the year. Last term, the son of Adlerflug won the G3 Winter Derby at Lingfield on the all-weather in February and the G1 Tattersalls Gold Cup at The Curragh in May.

"He's a Group 1 winner in Ireland and has contested the past two Arc de Triomphe. He's got plenty of class," Moroney said. "He's settled in really well at Flemington since arriving from overseas and we've been pleased with how he's come to hand in his first prep for the stable. We're excited to unveil him at The Valley in a fortnight. Fresh up over a mile we think he's going to be a serious player in The All-Star Mile."
