Champion Monomoy Girl displayed many admirable traits during her four years on the racetrack, but those closest to her would be quick to say that she has never exactly been known for her easygoing nature. Independent, tenacious and self-assured would be much better adjectives to describe the GI Kentucky Oaks victress and two-time GI Breeders' Cup Distaff heroine.

"She's very sassy, that's for sure," said Florent Geroux, who teamed up with the chestnut daughter of Tapizar for 16 of her 17 lifetime starts. "She's not really a 'people horse' who likes to hang out with people. She likes to be on her own. If you bring her some treats, she might come see you for a bit. Although if you come empty handed, it's not very good to visit her."

Two years ago, Monomoy Girl retired to Spendthrift Farm. The operation's General Manager Ned Toffey can attest that the seven-time Grade I winner has maintained that same sure-of-herself personality. "Ever since she came to Spendthrift, and I think during her training days as well, she has been a pretty tough mare," he said. "She's definitely not so much of a pet as she is sort of a tough, athletic race mare. She's more settled into a routine now, but she still has her preferences. There are things she likes and things she doesn't like and you still see that fire pop up in her from time to time." cont. p3

FROSTED COLT, NYQUIST FILLY FASTEST AT OBS TUESDAY by Jessica Martini

A colt by Frosted (hip 449) matched the fastest furlong time of the week so far, while a filly by Nyquist (hip 484) tied the fastest quarter-mile breeze with workouts during the third session of the under-tack show for the Ocala Breeders' Sales Company's Spring Sale of 2-Year-Olds in Training Tuesday in Central Florida.

Hip 449 worked a furlong in :9 3/5 shortly after 8:30 a.m. for the Longoria Training and Sales consignment. A $50,000 Keeneland September acquisition, the youngster was one of a group of yearlings purchased last year in the first-time partnership of Texas businessman Paul Neatherlin and consignor Jesse Longoria.

"I was very excited about the way the colt worked," said Neatherlin. "He worked phenomenal, I thought. I was really pleased." Cont. p5

Despite her seemingly tough nature, Monomoy Girl has revealed a softer side over the past two months. Early on the morning of Feb. 17, her first foal arrived at Spendthrift. While there is always concern for how any mare will take to a second career as a broodmare, in this case all worries were eased as soon as her Into Mischief colt took his first steps.

"She has done everything right," said Toffey. "She's a very settled mare when she goes outside and she takes good care of her foal. Sometimes you'll run into things with race mares where you may even have to go so far as to have to put the foal on a nurse mare.

That has been far from the case with Monomoy Girl."

As for the foal, Toffey said they couldn't be happier with the new arrival. "He's a medium-sized foal, which is really what we like to see. He's very well-made, very put together. He's got great bone and is very balanced and athletic."

Monomoy Girl's first foal by Into Mischief | Sara Gordon

The team at Spendthrift was so enamored with this Into Mischief colt that Monomoy Girl was bred back to the farm's same supersire and she recently checked in foal.

Just as spring brings new foals to the Bluegrass each year, many of the nation's best jockeys are welcomed to Lexington every spring for the Keeneland meet. On a light day of racing, Florent Geroux stopped in to visit an old friend at Spendthrift and meet her first foal. The seasoned jockey has sat aboard countless top-class horses, but it's not every day that he gets near one of their offspring.

Geroux was blown away by how well the champion seems to have taken to retirement.

"She looks great and she has a beautiful colt," he said after peppermints had been distributed and the mare and foal were turned out for the morning.

"I think everything is going very well for her. It makes me happy to see her here and she looks amazing. Her coat is beautiful and she looks super healthy, all dappled out."

There is no question that Geroux's top earner, Gun Runner, has gone on to do great things after the racetrack. Now he is hoping that his second-highest earning performer can share similar success.

The sky has always seemed to be the limit for Monomoy Girl, who has a knack for setting the bar throughout every step of her career.

Purchased as a yearling by Liz Crow for only $100,000 and originally campaigned by Michael Dubb and Sol Kumin's Monomoy Stables, the Brad Cox-trained filly was a stakes winner at two and her Eclipse Award-worthy sophomore season was highlighted by six graded stakes wins from seven starts, including the Kentucky Oaks and the Breeders' Cup Distaff.

Flo knows to come bearing peppermints when visiting Monomoy Girl
Sara Gordon

While she missed her 4-year-old season due to colic and a hamstring injury, the chestnut came back the following year and claimed another Breeders' Cup Distaff-Eclipse Award double. At the end of her 5-year-old campaign, she was sent through the ring at Fasig-Tipton's Night of the Stars Sale, where she brought $9.5 million from Spendthrift Farm. MyRacehorse joined in on the partnership along with one of her original owners Sol Kumin under his Madaket Stables banner. She was a graded stakes winner again at six in the GIII Bayakoa S. before entering retirement.

Reflecting on Monomoy Girl's career, Geroux said that her Kentucky Oaks victory over fellow champions Wonder Gadot and Midnight Bisou, as well as her victorious return to the Breeders' Cup in 2020, are two of his fondest memories with the talented filly.

Monomoy Girl's intelligence, he added, is another trait he will never forget from their many rides together.

"She's extremely smart," he said. "Probably one of the smartest horses I've been around."

While it remains to be seen if this first foal has inherited his dam's athletic abilities, there is already no question of his paternal heritage. A flashy light bay with varying degrees of white on all four legs, the colt has a prominent blaze that is unquestionably Into Mischief.

At just two months old, the youngster has already grown to love the spotlight.

"He could not be a more personable foal," Toffey explained. "He loves people. You try to get a picture of him and he'll come over to the fence. Everything looks like a selfie with him because he just comes up and wants to get in your face."

Toffey said that while plans can always change, their goal is to keep the foal under his existing ownership.

"I think he's one that we're likely to keep right here in house," he explained. "There is a lot of time between now and next year when he would potentially sell as a yearling, but there is so much stallion potential there. It's a wonderful pedigree and he looks like an athlete. If he has ability that comes anywhere close to his looks and pedigree, he'd be a horse that we could hope to one day have in our stallion barn. That's really one of our big goals here at Spendthrift. We're breeding for the stud barn and the broodmare band. Obviously first comes athleticism, but if they can do the job on the track, our goal is to get them back here and stand them at stud."

No matter where the youngster ends up some day, 'Flo' said that he would like to put his name in the hat to be the colt's future jockey.

"I would have to talk to the owners and maybe the future trainer," he said with a smile. "Hopefully, they can arrange that for me. It would be special."

"He was just a real nice colt with a big hip and a good, sloping shoulder and a huge walk," Neatherlin, who began pinhooking some 15 years ago with his uncle, the late trainer Mike Neatherlin, said of the colt's appeal last September. "Jesse and I both loved the colt and when we went up to buy him, Jesse told me, 'No matter what this horse brings, don't let him go. Don't miss out on him.' We thought we had a bargain at $50,000."

Some four hours after the bullet breeze, Longoria and Neatherlin teamed up with another yearling purchase when a colt by Omaha Beach (hip 500) worked a furlong in :10 flat.

Neatherlin, who is vice president of sales for Platinum Pipe Rentals, said he pinhooks six to eight horses a year. He had recently been partnering with Robert Brewer. Among their success was a Cross Traffic filly purchased for $18,000 at the 2021 Keeneland September sale who sold to Bill Parcells's August Dawn Farm for $150,000 at last year's Fasig-Tipton Midlantic May sale. Now named Maple Leaf Mel, the filly is undefeated in three starts and a two-time stakes winner.

Brewer and Neatherlin also purchased a Midnight Storm filly for $27,000 at the 2020 Fasig-Tipton Selected Yearlings Showcase and sold her following a :9 4/5 work for $240,000 at the following year's OBS March sale.

Hip 449 | Judit Seipert

Despite their success, Neatherlin found himself looking for a new pinhooking partner heading into the yearling sales last fall.

"Robert Brewer decided he didn't want to do it this year," Neatherlin said. "He suggested Jesse and I love Jesse. I've known him for 30 years and he's a good friend of mine. And I know he's a great horseman."

The partnership got off to a good start at the OBS March sale last month when selling a filly by Vino Rosso (hip 579) for $185,000. The bay had been acquired for $55,000 at last year's Keeneland September sale.

Neatherlin currently has just one horse in training, a filly by Accelerate who RNA'd at the March sale.

"The Accelerate filly caught that big headwind in March and worked :10 2/5, but looked really good doing it," Neatherlin said. "I turned down $30,000 after the sale and just kept her and I will run her. I've run a lot of horses in my life, but now I am mainly into pinhooking."

Nyquist Filly Breaks Out of the Pack

Anticipating a spate of fast furlong workers over a tight track Tuesday morning, Jimbo and Torie Gladwell of Top Line Sales hoped their filly by Nyquist (hip 484) would distinguish herself from the pack with a quarter-mile breeze. The filly duly delivered a bullet drill in :20 3/5 right at the start of Tuesday's session as temperatures hovered around a chilly 51 degrees.

"Talking about it this morning, we thought there might be a handful of fast eighth-mile breezes, :9 4/5s, because we thought the track was going to be nice and tight," explained Torie Gladwell. "So we wanted to separate this filly from all those :9 4/5s. That's why we decided to go a quarter with her."

Of the end result, Gladwell said, "She prepped really fast and we knew she would have a shot of going the :20 3/5. That wasn't too much of a surprise with her. But we are really happy with it. She showed up."

The bay filly is out of stakes winner Hi Holiday (Harlan's Holiday), a half-sister to graded winner Dr B (Liam's Map). She was purchased by the Gladwells for $100,000 at last year's Keeneland September sale and Torie Gladwell credited her mother-in-law Martha for landing on the yearling.

Top Line Sales sent out a pair of fillies to work quarter-miles Tuesday. In addition to hip 484, they also sent out a filly by Liam's Map (hip 518) who covered the distance in :20 4/5.

"They are almost complete opposites," Gladwell said of the two speedy juveniles. "The Nyquist filly is an average-sized filly and tries really hard. The Liam's Map filly is a big filly and it looks like she's just galloping, floating across the track. When the breeze rider jumped off, he said, 'Oh my gosh. I didn't think I was going that fast. She must have a monster stride.' I think she does have a big ground-covering stride. She is a really laid back, cool filly."

The under-tack show continues through Saturday with sessions beginning daily at 8 a.m. The Spring sale will be held next Tuesday through Friday. Bidding begins each day at 10:30 a.m.

LOSING SIDE IN SIXTH CIRCUIT HISA APPEAL WANTS REHEARING by T.D. Thornton

Six weeks after the United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit upheld the constitutionality of the Horse Racing Integrity and Safety Act (HISA), the losing plaintiffs/appellants in a case led by the states of Oklahoma, West Virginia and Louisiana have petitioned for a rarely granted "en banc" procedure that asks for a rehearing before all 28 of that court's judges instead of just the panel of three that issued the Mar. 3 decision.

"A panel of this Court [held] that the [HISA] Authority's ability to issue federal regulations over the Federal Trade Commission [FTC]'s objection does not violate the private non-delegation doctrine because, since the [December 2022] statutory amendment, the FTC can modify those rules after the fact," the Apr. 17 filing stated.

"The panel also refused to decide whether the Authority's exclusive power to bring enforcement actions in federal court was unconstitutional, and it concluded that HISA's fee-collection regime does not unconstitutionally coerce the States to administer a federal regulatory program," the filing stated.

"Respectfully, those holdings were erroneous, and this Court should rehear the case en banc in order to resolve those questions of exceptional importance," the filing stated.

The chances of being granted the en banc appeal equate to long odds for the plaintiffs, whose underlying case was tossed out by a federal judge last year.

The Sixth Circuit took on only seven en banc hearings between January 2018 and September 2021, according to the University of Cincinnati Law Review.

A United States Court of Appeals explanatory page about how en banc requests work stated that the granting of that type of rehearing is "rare" at the federal level.

"Because each merits panel may enter precedential opinions, a party seeking en banc consideration must typically show that either the merits panel has 1) failed to follow existing decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court or Federal Circuit precedent or 2) followed Federal Circuit precedent that the petitioning party now seeks to have overruled by the court en banc," the court's explanatory page stated.

And during Tuesday's West Virginia Racing Commission (WVRC) meeting, Anthony Eates, the deputy attorney general representing the WVRC, told commissioners in a HISA litigation update that, "We are filing a petition for rehearing. I don't know the likelihood of success in that."

In short, the Sixth Circuit had ruled that a change of language in the HISA law at the end of 2022 was sufficient to alleviate the plaintiffs' concerns over constitutionality.

But a separate--yet related--Nov. 18, 2022, decision by the Fifth Circuit in an appeal successfully led by the National Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association (NHBPA) did, in fact, declare HISA unconstitutional.

Because two different federal courts have now issued opposing opinions about the constitutionality of a federal statute, some legal experts have predicted the U.S. Supreme Court might agree to hear the conflicting cases and come up with one uniform national ruling on whether or not HISA is constitutional.

In the Sixth Circuit case, the plaintiffs are the states of Oklahoma and West Virginia (plus their racing commissions); the state of Louisiana; three Oklahoma tracks (Remington Park, Will Rogers Downs and Fair Meadows); the Oklahoma Quarter Horse Association, the U.S. Trotting Association, and Hanover Shoe Farms, a Pennsylvania Standardbred breeding entity.

The defendants are the United States of America, the HISA Authority, and six individuals acting in their official capacities for the Federal Trade Commission (FTC).

On Apr. 26, 2021, the plaintiffs had sued, alleging that "HISA gives a private corporation broad regulatory authority."

On June 2, 2022, that claim was dismissed by a judge in U.S. District Court, Eastern District of Kentucky (Lexington) for failure to state a claim of action. The plaintiffs then appealed to the U.S. Sixth Circuit. While that Sixth Circuit appeal was pending, the Fifth Circuit came out with its decision in the NHBPA case, which stated that HISA is unconstitutional because it "delegates unsupervised government power to a private entity," and thus "violates the private non-delegation doctrine." The order remanded the case back to U.S. District Court (Northern District of Texas) for "further proceedings consistent with" the Appeals Court's reversal.

On Dec. 23, 2022, Congress enacted legislation amending the operative language of HISA to purportedly cure the constitutional defect that was identified in the Nov. 18 Fifth Circuit opinion. The amendment--only a very small section of a much larger year-end spending bill--was signed into law by President Biden Dec. 29. The Apr. 17, 2023, en banc filing took umbrage with the alleged fixes in that law.

"The recent amendment merely allows the FTC to undergo a separate notice-and-comment rulemaking after the fact in an effort to repeal or modify the rule post-promulgation. This ability to modify on the backend standing alone is far from sufficient to satisfy the private non-delegation doctrine," the filing stated.

"All of HISA's other constitutional defects, too, remain unremedied. The Authority continues to exercise the exclusive authority to enforce HISA in federal court, even though the power to bring federal civil actions to enforce public rights in federal court is a uniquely governmental function that can be exercised only by officers of the United States," the filing stated.

"Finally, the amendment does nothing to cure HISA's anticommandeering violation. Congress abrogated its own responsibility to fund this federal program by using the threat of preemption to foist the costs of administering HISA onto the States, which the Supreme Court has held violates the anticommandeering doctrine," the filing stated.

"Congress has not appropriated the funds necessary to administer HISA. Instead, Congress expects the States to foot the bill, coercing them into collecting and remitting to the Authority the fees that the Authority ultimately deems necessary," the filing stated.

"The federal government cannot threaten to preempt state laws when the 'threat serves no purpose other than to force unwilling States,'" the filing stated while quoting from a legal precedent.

WEST VIRGINIA DERBY SWITCHES TO SUNDAY THIS SEASON

Coady

by T.D. Thornton

Mountaineer Park's premier stakes, the GIII West Virginia Derby, will shift to the first Sunday in August with a later post time this year in an effort to make the $500,000, nine-furlong race for 3-year-olds better stand out against national simulcast competition.

The West Virginia Derby, plus the supporting GIII $200,000 West Virginia Governor's S. at 1 1/16 miles for 3-year-olds and up, will now be carded Sunday, Aug. 6, after the track received unanimous permission for that change at Tuesday's West Virginia Racing Commission (WVRC) meeting.

The purses for both stakes remain level from last year.

Jim Colvin, Mountaineer's racing director, detailed to commissioners the reasons for the switch.

"This year, we are requesting to run our Derby on Sunday versus Saturday [because] we are trying to stay off the Grade I races [at competing tracks] on Saturday. I know there was some problems in the past about races overlapping, That was one of the reasons," Colvin said.

In 2022, the West Virginia Derby went off at 5:56 p.m. Eastern, just seven minutes after Saratoga's GI Whitney S., the nation's marquee race that Saturday. In 2021, the West Virginia Derby went off a 5:39 p.m., 11 minutes ahead of the 5:50 p.m. Whitney.

"We are also changing the [first] post time to 5 p.m. instead of the normal 2 p.m. post time on Derby day," Colvin continued. "The seventh and eighth races, which would be the Derby and Governor's races, would be close to being in prime time on TVG as well."

Starting Apr. 30, Mountaineer will race 124 dates on Sundays through Tuesdays, with Wednesdays added June 21-Dec. 13.

Share this story

Colvin said another aim with the switch to Sunday is so bettors don't get caught off guard with the Derby being carded on a non-standard Saturday.

"We felt, honestly, to move back to a [regularly] scheduled race day would [keep customers from] getting confused on what days [we're] racing," Colvin said.

Also at the Apr. 18 meeting, Mountaineer was unanimously granted approval by the WVRC to be reimbursed out of the capital improvement fund for two recent projects.

One was a $44,000 main track sand upgrade project. Ironically, even though West Virginia is one of two states (along with Louisiana) that is under a federal injunction that will keep the Horseracing Integrity and Safety Act (HISA) Authority's rules from being implemented until a lawsuit challenging the constitutionality of HISA gets decided in full, Mountaineer has opted to abide by one of the HISA standards regarding track safety in case that injunction expires during the running of the upcoming meet.

WVRC executive director Joe Moore explained it this way: "In the Racetrack Safety Program, HISA requires the racetracks to replace and regrade their sand on an annual basis. Mountaineer, even though we're not under HISA, saw this as a safety issue and wanted to go ahead and complete it before the start of this racing meet, in the chance that HISA would come into effect in West Virginia [sometime] during their meet and require them [to either do] this or stop racing until it's completed."

Colvin pointed out that Mountaineer totally replaced its main track two years ago, so the project recently completed this spring was more along the lines of routine maintenance to ensure a 5 1/2-inch uniformity of the top layer.

"At whatever point we do fall under [HISA's rules], this is basically a project that's going to have to be done annually to meet their requirements," Colvin said. "When you have rain, some of the track ends up [washed] between the main track and the turf course. Therefore, the sand has to be replaced. We just put 300-some tons of sand on the track when we did this. It was low in some places [and] we had to add the material to get the surface consistent with the other parts of the track."

The WVRC also approved a $79,620 capital improvement reimbursement for a rebuilt outdoor viewing deck.

"Mountaineer Park, on their apron, they have a very large deck for viewing the races," Moore explained. "This year, the deck was in such poor shape that it was necessary, before patrons [could use it], to tear it down and replace it."

GLADYS WEISBORD PASSES AWAY

Gladys Weisbord

Gladys Weisbord, the mother of former Thoroughbred Daily News publisher Barry Weisbord and grandmother of BSW Bloodstock and Elite Sales founder Brad Weisbord, passed away Monday evening. She was 94. Barry Weisbord, who founded Matchmaker Breeders Exchange in the 1980's and started the American Racing Championship Series in the 1990's, credited his mother's early support of his love of racing with launching, not just his career as an innovator in the sport, but also that of his son.

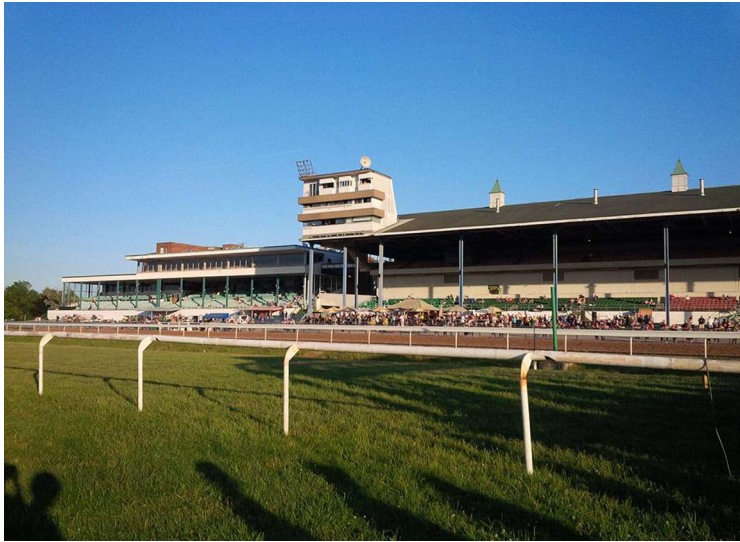

"Unlike a lot of people in our industry, I was not introduced to the racetrack by my family," Weisbord recalled. "It's a place that I found on my own. But, from the day that my parents got the phone call from Al Goldberg and me that we were at Walter Kelley's barn at Aqueduct in 1972 and he informed them that we had asked for jobs to learn and didn't care if we got paid, my parents were supportive and accepting. And that turned to enthusiasm about our time there and then my time with Allen Jerkens."

Gladys Weisbord and her husband Norman, who passed away in 2019, became active participants in the sport when their son launched Matchmaker. "My parents helped us get started with a few friends buying our first few horses," Weisbord said. "And they became regular visitors on the backside for training and on the front side for racing. And of course, later on they helped actively working in the offices at Matchmaker in Lexington in the '80s. They helped us with our auctions and building our business. And then of course, they got to enjoy my son Brad's involvement and participate and enjoy his successes. The racing industry really became part of their lives. Racing really delivered a lot of gifts to our family."

A funeral will be held graveside at Roosevelt Cemetery in northern Philadelphia Wednesday at 1 p.m.

FORT ERIE FILES TRADE GRIEVANCE AGAINST WOODBINE

Fort Erie

Ontario's two Thoroughbred tracks are sparring. The Fort Erie Live Racing Consortium (FELRC) announced Tuesday it has filed a grievance with the Canadian Trade Commission over an alleged "impasse in their attempts to resolve ongoing issues" with Woodbine Entertainment Group (WEG), which runs Woodbine Racetrack.

"For the past several race seasons, Woodbine has implemented a horse shipping policy which, in the opinion of the FELRC's board of directors, is designed to starve Fort Erie of its necessary horse supply by restricting the movement of horses between the two tracks," stated the Fort Erie release. "This amounts to Woodbine abusing its position as the dominant market force, which is hampering Fort Erie's ability to run a business and a fulsome race calendar."

Fort Erie is also alleging that Woodbine's refusal to return the Canadian Triple Crown dates to their pre-pandemic calendar spots equates to a "refusal to collaborate in the best interest of the horse racing industry" at large.

"By far the largest attraction in Canadian horse racing, the Triple Crown begins with the King's Plate at Woodbine, followed by the Prince of Wales Stakes at Fort Erie, and finally the Breeders' Stakes back at Woodbine," the Fort Erie release stated.

"Traditionally the three races were held consecutively in June, July, then August," the Fort Erie release stated. "However, during the COVID crisis, certain restrictions necessitated moving the first jewel of the crown, the King's Plate, to later in the summer. This pushed Fort Erie's signature race, the Prince of Wales Stakes, out of the summer tourism season, and into September.

"With the pandemic over, Woodbine has refused to move the King's Plate back to its regular spring date, or even a mutually planned date, forcing Fort Erie to keep the Prince of Wales Stakes in September," which does "not allow Fort Erie to meet its maximum potential for such a historic and esteemed event," Fort Erie claimed.

The Ontario news site NiagaraThisWeek reported Tuesday that a Woodbine spokesperson denied Fort Erie's allegations.

"The assertions made by Fort Erie Race Track are baseless and without merit and we will vigorously and confidently defend ourselves if requested by the Canadian Trade Commission or any other regulatory authority," Woodbine communications director Jamie Dykstra told NiagaraThisWeek.

Jim Thibert, the chief executive officer of the FELRC, took an opposing view.

"Woodbine holds a near monopoly in our industry," Thibert said in the Fort Erie statement. "Woodbine's business practices towards Fort Erie are unfair and clearly predatory. While this situation is particularly harmful for the continued existence of racing at Fort Erie, it is genuinely harmful for the owners, trainers, jockeys and others employed directly in racing and indirectly in services to the thoroughbred racing industry in Ontario."

The Fort Erie release outlined another allegation: "Further demonstration of Woodbine's hostility is their continued practice of greatly inflating purses in lower level races compared to Fort Erie's, especially claiming races. The use of provincial subsidies for horse racing should not be allowed especially when Woodbine is increasingly running more and more of Fort Erie's race offerings."

PREAKNESS PARTNERS WITH GUINNESS OPEN GATE BREWERY ON LIMITED EDITION ALE

Preakness 148 announced its partnership with Baltimore’s Guinness Open Gate Brewery to launch “Preakness Ale”. The limited edition collaboration beer brewed with blood orange and hibiscus will debut May 11 on draft and in cans to-go at Guinness Open Gate Brewery, at select Baltimore area bars while supplies last and at Pimlico during Preakness weekend.

The “Preakness Ale” was brewed exclusively at Guinness Open Gate Brewery in their 10-barrel innovation brewery, where Irish brewing experience meets American beer creativity.

At a 5% ABV with a ruby red hue, the fruit-forward beer brings bold flavor and aroma. The Guinness Open Gate Brewery will also serve a special beer cocktail inspired by the iconic Black-Eyed Susan incorporating Preakness Ale and a fresh pineapple-based mixer.

MUNNINGS COLT TOPS OPENING DAY OF THE TATTERSALLS CRAVEN BREEZE UP SALE

Lot 47: the day one sale-topper | Tattersalls/Laura Green

By Brian Sheerin

The demand for high-end horses remained strong on Day 1 of the Tattersalls Craven Breeze Up Sale as a Munnings colt (lot 47) consigned by Longways Stables led proceedings when selling to Oliver St Lawrence for 360,000gns.

Bought by Ted Durcan and Mick and Sarah Murphy of Longways Stables for $150,000 at the Keeneland September Sale, the Munnings colt turned a handsome profit and will join trainer Roger Varian.

"He's a very taking horse and Roger and I were keen on him," St Lawrence said. "He looks like a horse who could go to Royal Ascot. We'll see, we've had luck with Munnings before. He did a perfectly-nice time and Mick seems to bring them along nicely."

Varian was keen to compliment the job Mick and Sarah Murphy, no strangers to topping major breeze-up sales, did with the colt.

The trainer said, "He was presented in good condition, wasn't he? They didn't overcook him. He looks a strong horse so hopefully we can get him home and see where we go with him."

NEWMARKET, IT'S GOOD TO BE BACK

By Emma Berry

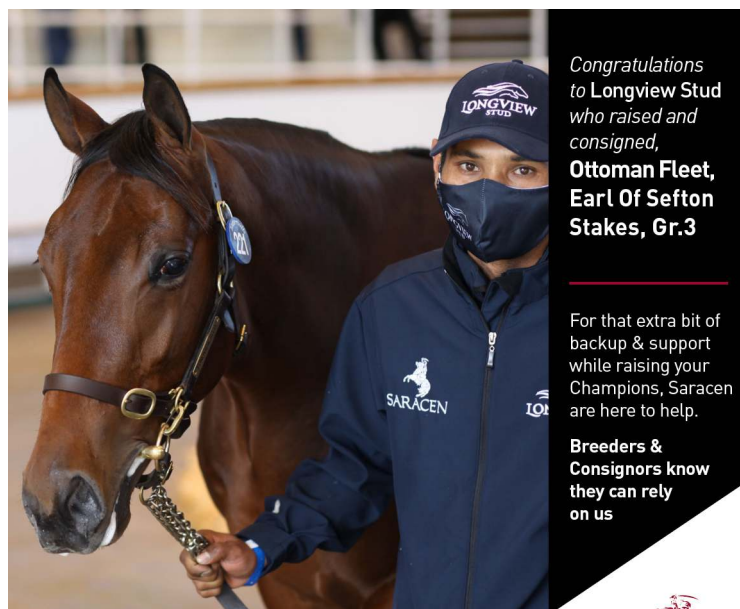

They're off and running at Newmarket, though not all of the runners have been in official races. The first day of the Craven meeting, a date anticipated with longing by those racing folk who dwell by that wind-blasted Heath, was ushered in by a Classic winner on the Rowley Mile.

While we have more than a fortnight to wait for the first Classic victor of 2023 to reveal himself, the 2021 Irish Derby winner Hurricane Lane (Ire) (Frankel {GB}) strode out with purpose under William Buick on the easy turf on Tuesday morning. He is likely to be seen next in Newbury's G3 John Porter S. on Saturday, and the post-work smile on Charlie Appleby's face was matched a few hours later by Roger Varian, who oversaw a pre-racing gallop for his 2,000 Guineas contender Sakheer (Ire) (Zoffany {GB}). Cont. p7

Of the 86 lots offered on day one, which was 19 more than what was offered on this corresponding day 12 months ago, 59 were knocked down for an aggregate of 6,495,500gns. That represented a 3% rise on last year's figures. However, the average fell 9% to 110,093gns and the clearance rate by 12% to 69%. The median also decreased by 10% to 77,000gns.

Top Talking Points From Day One Of The Craven Breeze Up Sale

- The momentum behind first-season sire Blue Point (Ire) continued with four horses selling for a combined sum of 565,000gns, including a standout Tally-Ho Stud-drafted colt (lot 30) by the stallion who was knocked down to Anthony Stroud for 340,000gns. In fact, Blue Point was the most successful sire on the day, ahead of Starspanglebanner (Aus), who had three lots sell for 474,000gns and a higher average of 158,000gns.
- It was another productive breeze-up sale for Tally-Ho Stud, vendors of Lezoo (GB), The Platinum Queen (Ire) and Perfect Power (Ire) to name a few. The three juveniles offered by the renowned operation sold for a combined 630,000gns.
- Tally-Ho Stud's fingerprints were also all over the breakout success of Gary Halpin and Sean Davis, who are consigning for the first year under GS Bloodstock. The two men bought lot 101, a Cotai Glory (GB) colt from the family of Fairyland (Ire) (Kodiac {GB}) off the stud for €65,000 at Tattersalls Ireland, and sold him to Michael O'Callaghan for 160,00gns on Tuesday.
- Norman Williamson also enjoyed a predictably good start to the opening day's trade. The Oak Tree Farm operator, who gave us Classic winners Native Trail (GB) (Oasis Dream {GB}) and Eldar Eldarov (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}), sold a Mehmas (Ire) colt (lot 2) for 220,000gns to Tom Pritchard-Gordon of Badgers Bloodstock to go to Hong Kong.
- Nikki Scallan and Antonio Da Silva, who operate under the banner of A & N Bloodstock, enjoyed their best result in the sales ring to date when lot 12, an Acclamation (GB) colt, sold to Leinster Bloodstock for 220,000gns. The £38,000 yearling purchase proved a shrewd investment for the Curragh handlers.

Norman Williamson consigned a 220,000-gns Mehmas colt
Tattersalls/Laura Green

- Willie Browne doesn't wear the title as the breeze-up king for no reason and his Mocklershill outfit ended the day as the leading consignor with four lots selling for 812,000gns, including a 320,000gns Starspangledbanner (Aus) colt to Richard Ryan acting agent for MV Magnier.

- The only Farhh (GB) colt (lot 59) in the sale went down a bomb in selling to Blandford Bloodstock and Joseph O'Brien for 235,000gns. He was purchased by Eddie Linehan of Lackendarra Stables for 105,000gns at Book 2 and was also consigned by the Cork native.

Market Commentary: John Cullinan Reports "Tough Night's Business"

Despite selling a Blue Point (Ire) colt (lot 100) for 130,000gns and a Showcasing (GB) colt (lot 31) for 100,000gns, John Cullinan reported a tricky trade for horses operating in the middle market after buying back two of his eight horses on day one.

Cullinan, who consigns under Church Farm and Horse Park Stud, described what was "tough going" for horses selling outside of the top bracket.

He explained, "It was a mixed bag—a tough night's business for some people. It's the first domestic sale of the year and people may tend to be a bit more reserved maybe.

"The middle market was tough going and even at that it was very selective. If you were lucky enough to have one that people wanted, you got well-paid but, for the rest of us, it was hard going."

Lot 30, a striking son of Blue Point, brought 340,000gns, the second-highest price on Tuesday | Laura Green/Tattersalls

He added, "Our nicer horses did okay but we fell on our arses with the weaker ones. We had what we thought were a few suitable types for the middle market but it was tricky.

"We sold a Blue Point colt for 130,000gns and a Showcasing for 100,000gns, so that was fine, but everything in between was tough going."

Searching for reasons why the clearance rate dropped from 78% 12 months ago to 69% on Tuesday, Cullinan suggested the breeze taking place on softer than ideal conditions may have played a role.

He said, "I don't think the ground helped. When the breeze is on soft ground, it adds another dimension into the buyers' thought process. I think it made things a little uncertain and maybe there was a lack of confidence because of that. We'll see. Hopefully it picks up tomorrow."

Tally-Ho To The Fore With Blue Point Colt

On a day when Blue Storm (GB) provided Blue Point (Ire) with his third individual winner in taking fashion at Newmarket, just a few miles down the road, the freshman sire's reputation hardened further.

Anthony Stroud went to 340,000gns for Tally-Hot Stud's Blue Point colt, who was picked up by Roger O'Callaghan for 70,000gns at the Tattersalls December Sale in 2021.

Stroud said of lot 30, "Roger bought him as a foal and didn't bring him back as a yearling--he went for the long-term project. It looks like it paid off, too."

The O'Callaghans enjoyed another good result when Michael O'Callaghan, who has done well with his breeze-up purchasers from the County Westmeath outfit in the past, went to 240,000gns to secure Lezoo's (GB) (Zoutar {Aus}) half-sister (lot 38) by Territories (Ire).

"It was perfect to be honest," said Varian, who was in company with Fawzi Nass and Oliver St Lawrence representing Sakheer's Bahraini owner KHK Racing.

"It was not meant to be gut-busting work, and it wasn't. He did enough to have a nice blow and it got him a day away from home."

Ed Harper of Whitsbury Manor Stud paid close inspection to Sakheer as he was warmed down after his gallop. As the breeder of Sakheer's potential Guineas rival Chaldean (GB) (Frankel {GB}), Harper is entitled to be more interested than most, but then the stallion men know how fierce the competition is for new recruits. It's never too early to start looking.

Meanwhile, Varian added of the colt's five-furlong gallop, "It's nice to come an hour before racing as there are a few people around and there is a little bit of atmosphere, and he got to experience the undulations [of the Rowley Mile].

"He was very well balanced throughout the work and he came through nicely. It was a bridle work, but a strong work and he will come forward nicely for it. It's very much part of his schedule and he has got a strong two weeks ahead of him."

Nass and St Lawrence have also got a strong few weeks ahead of them with the commencement of the breeze-up sales in Europe this week. Both Sakheer and his stable-mate, the St Leger winner Eldar Eldarov (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}), who races in the same colours, were sourced at the Arqana breeze-up in the past two seasons.

Varian noted that we can expect to see Eldar Eldarov return to action in the G2 Yorkshire Cup on May 19. With Stradivarius (Ire) busily covering more than 100 mares next door to the Rowley Mile at the National Stud, and Kyprios (Ire) having met with a setback, could this be the year for the youngster to further enhance his name in the staying ranks?

As the sun was chased away by fierce gusts, Frankie Dettori may well have been wishing that he'd remained in California, especially when his first two mounts back on home turf finished last. But then Covey (GB) (Frankel {GB}) burst through to win the Alex Scott Maiden by four lengths to earn himself a likely tilt in stakes company for his next start.

Newmarket's back, and so is Frankie | Racingfotos.com

"I arrived this morning: I slept two hours on the plane and two hours in my bed," said Dettori. "I was counting it this morning and I've got six months until 21 October and Champions Day, so there is still plenty to do. I'm not going to start crying yet but I will enjoy it."

It was a day for memorials. Alex Scott, who trained Lammtarra in his juvenile season as well as the top sprinters Cadeaux Genereux (GB) and Sheikh Albadou (GB), has been commemorated on the Rowley Mile since his premature death in September 1994 at the age of just 34, and many members of his family gathered on the rostrum for the presentation.

In the next race we remembered Pat Smullen, the multiple Irish champion jockey who gained even more respect in his fundraising efforts for Cancer Trials Ireland, and was a much enjoyed columnist for TDN as his riding career came to an end. Since Smullen's death in September 2020, his great friend and colleague Ted Durcan has ensured that his name lives on at Newmarket by sponsoring the Pat Smullen Memorial British EBF Novice S.

It was a contest that provided a third winner for the early leader in the first-season sires' table, Darley's Blue Point (Ire). His son Blue Storm (Ire), trained by James Tate for Sultan Ali, had been expected in the ring on Tuesday evening for the Tattersalls Craven Breeze-up Sale. Instead he graced the parade ring on the Rowley Mile, the second two-year-old winner this year, after Bucanero Fuerte (GB) (Wootton Bassett {GB}), to have been entered for that sale but sent straight to the racecourse instead.

Plenty of mutterings between races on the pre-parade ring rail still centred on the events at Aintree on Saturday, and a security guard at Newmarket admitted that they had been warned to expect potential protesters back at the Rowley Mile for the Guineas meeting, which coincides with the King's coronation.

It would be preferable to be able to cast such worries from our minds and focus on the most important thing in front of us while leaning on that rail: enticing, well-bred Thoroughbreds who could be anything. That, after all, is what the Craven meeting is all about. The true start of the Flat, at British racing's HQ. It's good to be back, even in bone-chilling weather.

FLEET OVERPOWERS RIVALS IN EARL OF SEFTON by Sean Cronin

Following the withdrawal of last term's Listed Prix Pelleas winner Epic Poet (Ire) (Lope De Vega {Ire}), Tuesday's G3 bet365 Earl Of Sefton S. at Newmarket became an all-gelding affair and it was Godolphin's first string Ottoman Fleet (GB) (Sea The Stars {Ire})-Innevera {Fr}, by Motivator {GB} who stepped forward to claim the Rowley Mile venue's first pattern-race contest of the year with an impressive closing burst.

The Charlie Appleby trainee went postward boasting a two-from-three record at the track, which includes wins in last term's Listed Fairway S. and Listed James Seymour S., and made this his European comeback after hitting the board in Meydan's G2 Al Rashidiya, G2 Singspiel S. and G3 Dubai Millennium S. earlier in the year. Ottoman Fleet was reined back after an alert break and raced detached in rear through the early fractions of the nine-furlong test. Tanking forward inside the last half-mile, the 6-4 favourite was angled between rivals for a clear passage approaching the final furlong and quickened clear in style up the hill to outpoint the hitherto undefeated 10-3 chance Poker Face (Ire) (Fastnet Rock {Aus}) by an impressive two lengths for a career high.

Ottoman Fleet is the 63rd group winner for his sire | Racingfotos.com

"He seems to bring his A game here and William [Buick] said the race was set up for him," Appleby commented. "He has been kept busy during the winter and ran three solid races, but he just kept bumping into one. We came here confident that he was fit and well and conditions were there to suit. With a bit of ease in the ground he is a lot more confident on it. He likes a target and William gave him a confident ride. I think, from halfway, I was pretty confident and once they met that rising ground it was going to be hard to pass him."

Looking ahead, the trainer added, "I'd not really thought beyond this as this was our target. To be fair to the horse, the ground will be going the opposite way for the foreseeable future and it would do no harm to give him a bit of break, which he has well deserved."

Pedigree Notes

Ottoman Fleet is the first of four foals and lone scorer from two runners produced by the dual-winning Innevera (Fr) (Motivator {GB}), who has a 2-year-old filly by Le Havre (Ire) and a yearling filly by Pinatubo (Ire) to come. The February-foaled bay's dam is a half-sister to five black-type winners, namely G1 Lockinge S.-winning sire Keltos (Fr) (Kendor {Fr}), MG1SP G2 Prix du Muguet victor Krataios (Fr) (Sabrehill), GSW G1 Grand Prix de Saint-Cloud third Loxias (Fr) (Saumarez {GB}), G3 Prix Quincey-winning sire Kavafi (Ire) (Zafonic) and MSW G3 Prix de la Jonchere and G3 Prix Edmond Blanc runner-up Iridanos (GB) (Sabrehill). sharper focus on Wednesday as several likely types gather on the Rowley Mile. Frankie Dettori's winning return to the UK on Tuesday bodes well as he climbs aboard Juddmonte's exciting Coppice (GB) (Kingman {GB}), who dazzled on debut at Kempton in October and bids to fill the Commissioning-sized hole for the John and Thady Gosden armada.

"She has the double-edged sword of stepping out of maiden company and her first time on grass, which is never ideal," Juddmonte's Barry Mahon said. "But she is a nice filly and hopefully she can run a good race that might lead us to a Classic somewhere if she runs well."

Fast Tracked to the Big Time

Like Coppice, Barnane Stud's Girl Racer (Ire) (No Nay Never) also impressed on the all-weather on her racecourse bow but unlike her has just a three-week gap to bridge from novice company to this high standard. The daughter of the fittingly-titled South African starlet In The Fast Lane (SAf) (Jet Master {SAf}) looked a strong prospect at Wolverhampton, of that there is no doubt, but these are deep waters for one so inexperienced even from the William Haggas stable.

Coppice at Kempton | Racingfotos.com

Keeping to the theme of once-raced Classic pretenders, there is another Gosden representative with just a Kempton novice score to her name in George Strawbridge's Inner Space (GB) (Siyouni {Fr}), a daughter of the luminary Journey (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}) who may need more time, while Cheveley Park Stud's silks are carried by the similarly regally-bred Karsavina (GB) (Ulysses {Ire}). The Clive Cox trainee has already won over this track and trip on her sole start in October and has help from the genes, descending from one of the finest 1000 Guineas heroines in Russian Rhythm (Kingmambo). Cont. p11

GUINEAS CLUES APLENTY IN NELL GWYN

POSER by Tom Frary

While the 2000 Guineas picture looks more or less clear at present, the fillies' equivalent is much less so with the retirement of Commissioning (GB) (Kingman {GB}) and the attendance of Tahiyra (Ire) (Siyouni {Fr}) currently in the balance. Perhaps Newmarket's seven-furlong G3 Lanwades Stud Nell Gwyn S., always a key trial for the Classic, will provide even

"She really impressed with her maiden success over course and distance last autumn," Cox commented. "She's a filly that has strengthened over the winter and we're pleased that she has done well and given us every indication she has taken a step forwards, so we're looking forward to coming back to Newmarket. She coped well with conditions last autumn and course and distance form is quite valuable."

Intinso Sits Feilden Test

If Newmarket Wednesday is all about fledgling, unproven talent, then the nine-furlong Listed Feilden S. could play host to another future name of not in Imad Al Sagar's TDN Rising Star Intinso (GB) (Siyouni {Fr}). Yet another who impressed on the all-weather, the relative of Goldikova (Ire) (Anabaa) was at Newcastle in October to introduce himself in bold fashion and Hollie Doyle will be dreaming about more Classic glory in 2023.

"He won what looked a fairly poor race but he won it quite comfortably," the owner's racing manager Teddy Grimthorpe said. "He's wintered well and been very straightforward coming up to this. John [Gosden] has been pleased with him, he's a lovely-actioned horse and this looks a good spot to test his credentials."

This renewal looks one of the tougher ones, with Charlie Appleby saddling two including the seven-furlong novice winner Regal Honour (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}) who is a half-brother to the classy Rizeena (Ire) (Iffraaj {GB}) and Summer Romance (Ire) (Kingman {GB}).

EUROPEAN NEWS

HURRICANE LANE SET FOR NEWBURY RETURN WITH ARC THE ULTIMATE AIM

By Brian Sheerin

Charlie Appleby has revealed that the sole reason behind the 2021 Irish Derby and St Leger hero Hurricane Lane (Ire) (Frankel {GB}) staying in training as a five-year-old is to have a crack at winning the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe.

Hurricane Lane, who was put through his paces at Newmarket racecourse on Tuesday morning ahead of his seasonal reappearance in the Dubai Duty Free Finest Surprise S. at Newbury on Saturday, was third in the Arc as a three-year-old.

After a forgettable four-year-old campaign with the Godolphin colt, Appleby is keen to avoid quick ground with Hurricane Lane this season, with the ultimate goal being the end-of-season highlight at ParisLongchamp.

"The only reason this horse is staying in training is to work back from an Arc," Appleby said. "And if we are to do so, I just want to make sure we tick all the right boxes for him to get there and give him the best opportunity to get there."

He added, "I don't want to be in mid-season running him on ground that doesn't suit then all of a sudden telling myself I made a mistake. I don't want to make a mistake with him because, genuinely, I think he's an Arc horse."

Hurricane Lane can be backed at odds as big as 33-1 for the Arc and Appleby says he is looking forward to taking the wraps off the horse at Newbury with conditions looking as though they are set to suit.

He said, "I wanted to make sure that when I started him off this year, that I wouldn't be running him unless the ground had the word soft in the description because I don't want any excuses. If the horse didn't turn up for whatever reason, you'd just have to accept that he did what he did as a three-year-old at the highest level and that was that."

"But, on the evidence of what we have seen from him at home this season--and he let himself down well there this morning--the plan is to take a look at Newbury on Saturday with the conditions looking as though they are there to suit him."

Appleby also provided an update on Noble Style (GB) (Kingman {GB}), who is set to miss Saturday's Greenham S., with the trainer favouring a racecourse gallop at Newmarket over a run on soft ground at Newbury.

"Noble Style is in great form. I made the entry for Newbury, but I might be giving that a swerve because of the conditions," Appleby said. Cont. p12

Hurricane Lane | Emma Berry

He added, "It's two weeks to the day from that race to the 2,000 Guineas and the question mark over him is the trip. We saw the speed he showed when he won the Gimcrack and that form has held up. Pace is not a worry, it's whether he will see out a mile and that is why I would have liked to have gone to the Greenham and stepped up to seven.

"But if the forecasts are right and it is going to be soft, I'll give it a swerve and give him a racecourse gallop here and go straight into the Guineas."

on the European racing scene

DAUGHTER OF LUMIERE STARTS AT NEWMARKET

16.45 Newmarket, Mdn, £10,000, 3yo, f, 8ft
SILVER LADY (GB) (Sea The Stars {Ire}) is the third foal out of the G1 Cheveley Park S. heroine Lumiere (GB) (Shamardal) who particularly excelled at Newmarket and has already produced Highland Avenue (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}) who captured the Listed Fielden S. on this card two years ago. Cont. p13

Observations Cont.

Trained like that useful type by Charlie Appleby, Godolphin's March-foaled homebred is met by another intriguing newcomer by Sea The Stars in Sunderland Holding's Sea Claret (GB), a William Haggas-trained relative of the recent G3 Prix Vanteaux winner Jannah Rose (Ire) (Frankel (GB)).

HOW THEY FARED

13.50 Newmarket, Cond, £30,000, 3yo, 7fT

Hi Royal (Ire) (Kodiac {GB}), the son of G1 Falmouth S. heroine Majestic Roi (Street Cry {Ire}) who carries TDN Rising Star status, could never seriously threaten in fourth, neither disappointing nor offering real excitement of what is to follow.

MAJESTIC PRIDE (GB) (c, 3, Shamardal--Gonbarda {Ger} {MG1SW-Ger, $527,057}, by Lando {Ger}), off the mark at Chelmsford when last seen in November, tracked the leaders early. Gradually building momentum, the 2-1 favourite overhauled the long-time leader Holguin (GB) (Havana Grey {GB}) passing the furlong marker and fought to the line to score by a neck. "All that family love slow ground," trainer Charlie Appleby said. "Although he is by Shamardal, I was hoping the dam's side would come out strong and that is what has proven today I feel. Going forward I don't think he is a 2000 Guineas horse, but we could probably look at the [Listed] King Charles II Stakes down here with him." The dam, who captured the G1 Deutschland Preis and G1 Preis von Europa, is also famous for providing the operation with Pivotal's G1 Champion S. and G1 Lockinge S.-winning sire Farhh (GB), dual group 1-placed Racing History (Ire) and G3 Strensall S. third Basem (GB). Also connected to the sire's G1 British Champions Sprint S. hero Glen Shiel (GB) and the champion Fame And Glory (GB) (Montjeu {Ire}), her yearling filly is by Cracksman (GB). BLUE STORM (GB) (c, 2, Blue Point {Ire}--Riskit Fora Biskit {Ire} {SW-Fr}, by Kodiak {GB}), sent off at 8-1, tracked the leaders early. Delivered wide to take control a furlong from home, the bay asserted to score comfortably by 1 1/4 lengths from Cuban Thunder (Ire) (Profitable {Ire}). In doing so, he becomes the third winner from the first crop of his Kildangan Stud-based sire, who has got off to a flyer in the race for first-season sire honours. "We always picked him out as an early type, as he was bred to be early," trainer James Tate said. "He is not the biggest. Usually mine improve for the run and though you don't know what you have beaten you could not ask for more. We will target the early black-type races and think of things like the [Listed] National Stakes [at Sandown] and things like that." The dam, who was listed-winning sprinter, is a half to the group-placed trio Crown Prosecutor (Ire) (Exceed And Excel {Aus}), Fox Trotter (Ire) (Bushranger {Ire}) and Mur Hiba (Ire) (Helmet {Aus}). Also related to the G3 Sirenia S. scorer and G1 Cheveley Park S. runner-up Dhanyata (Ire) (Danetime {Ire}), she has produced the dual stakes-placed Silver Surfer (GB) (Caravaggio) and has a yearling colt by Belardo (Ire). PUMALIN PARK (IRE) (c, 3, Exceed And Excel {Aus}--Galileano {Ire}, by Galileo {Ire}), in need of the education and experience when seventh on debut over seven furlongs at Lingfield in October, travelled sweetly throughout the early stages anchored in mid-pack. Produced to take the measure of Tawafag (GB) (Starspangledbanner {Aus}), the 7-4 second favourite was quickly in command and had 3/4 of a length to spare at the line. The dam, whose 2-year-old is a full-sister to the winner, is kin to the G1 Irish Derby scorer Frozen Fire (Ger) (Montjeu {Ire}) from the family of the G2 Preis der Diana heroine Flamingo Road (Ger) (Acatenango {Ger}). COVEY (GB) (c, 3, Frankel {GB}--Quail {GB}, by Pivotal {GB}), who had pushed the classy Zoology (GB) (Zoustar {Aus}) to a neck in receipt of seven pounds on debut in a Southwell novice a fortnight earlier, quickly grabbed the lead and the stands' rail. In full control heading to two out, the 5-6 favourite stayed on strongly to score by four lengths from Art Of Romance (Ire) (Caravaggio). "We will probably step him up to a mile," John Gosden said. "He got a bit sick last year and missed it, but he has made rapid progress this year. I see the horse that beat him at Southwell is entered in the Greenham, so let's see how that goes." The winner is the first foal out of the unraced dam, a full-sister to the listed scorer Forgive (GB) (Pivotal {GB}) whose 2-year-old filly Rising Sign (GB) and yearling filly are also by Frankel. The third dam is the G3 Queen Mary S. winner Princess Athena (Ire) (Ahonoora {GB}), dam of the G2 Diadem S.-winning leading sire Acclamation (GB). Lifetime Record: 2-1-1-0, $9,202.
