

FROM GREAT LAKES DOWNS TO THE DERBY

by Chris McGrath

The colt had been getting a little fractious in the gate and now he half sat down: too low for Jareth Loveberry to climb out, but not low enough to scramble underneath. "Get me out!" the jockey hollered. He was just trying to lift himself clear when his mount came back up and pinned a calf against the steel. The pain was excruciating. It was only five seconds or so before they got the gate open but that was enough, as they stretched him out, for the agony to be instantly submerged beneath a still keener anguish.

"I'm laying on the ground and I'm like, 'Oh no, oh my gosh, could I miss my opportunity?'" he recalls now. "For all the pain, that's what I'm thinking about. 'Man, am I going to miss my opportunity?'"

Opportunity, note: singular not plural. For jockeys, chances come and go, and eventually tend to establish a familiar spectrum. At 35, Loveberry has ridden close to 13,000 races but had only had two Grade III winners before he won a Colonial Downs maiden last summer on a Hard Spun colt trained by Larry Rivelli. The partnership followed up in a stakes at Canterbury Park, and then tested much deeper water in the GI Breeders' Futurity S. at Keeneland in October. Starting rank outsiders, they duly finished seventh behind crop leader Forte (Violence).

NYQUIST FILLY FASTEST AT OBS FRIDAY

by Jessica Martini

A filly by Nyquist, who is half-sister to leading GI Kentucky Oaks contender Affirmative Lady (Arrogate), turned in the fastest quarter-mile work of Friday's penultimate session of the under-tack show for the Ocala Breeders' Sales Company's Spring Sale of 2-Year-Olds in Training, while a daughter of Speightstown and a colt by Into Mischief shared the fastest furlong time of the week.

The daughter of Nyquist (hip 1024) turned in the day's fastest quarter-mile breeze--and second fastest of the week--when covering the distance in :20 2/5. The dark bay filly, consigned by Wavertree Stables, is out of Stiffed (Stephen Got Even), whose daughter Affirmative Lady heads into Oaks off a win in the GII Gulfstream Park Oaks. Cont. Pg 5

Yet it was only then, paradoxically, that Loveberry recognized that single, elusive opportunity: the horse that could break the ceiling that congeals and closes over most journeyman careers.

"He got beat," Loveberry acknowledges. "But you learn a lot in defeat, and I loved him more that day than in his wins. He was jostled around really hard, and he wasn't sure about it. Down the backside, he'd dropped the bit. I'm like, 'Okay, did you just shut off because you're done fighting me, or are you just done?' And then we're coming around the second turn and I just picked the bridle up on him a little bit and he took off again."

Not done, then.

"Something just clicked," Loveberry continues. "He did get tired, but I'm thinking for the first time we've got something here. If we can just get him back, behind horses, he relaxes. And afterwards I was like, 'Larry, this horse is... nice. He's a lot better horse than we thought.'"

Sure enough, Two Phil's has since made us all get used to that rogue apostrophe. He won the GIII Street Sense S. by five lengths plus, over the same surface that will stage the GI Kentucky Derby in a couple of weeks' time; and podium finishes in two of the Fair Grounds trials this winter convinced Loveberry that Two Phil's was indeed maturing into a credible Derby candidate. Moreover the jockey was himself sharing the momentum, standing second in the meet standings. But suddenly here he was, three weeks before the horse's final prep in the GIII Jeff Ruby S. at Turfway, lying on his back with a horrible suspicion that he had broken his leg.

"Yeah, I couldn't sleep that night-for a couple of reasons," Loveberry recalls. "Because of the pain, but also just thinking that I was going to miss this horse, miss my opportunity. Did I need to pack everything in New Orleans, come home? So next morning I saw the specialist. It was nerve-racking, going in there, it hurt really bad. My boot was putting a lot of pressure where the fracture was. But taking that off relieved it a lot. Maybe there was a hope against hope."

Yes, there was. They took an X-ray of the fibula, and it proved to be a hairline fracture. "Look," said the specialist. "It's not bad. You can start putting weight on it and get around and I'll see you in a couple of weeks."

In the meantime, inevitably, the vultures were circling. "Man, are you going to make it back?" Rivelli asked.

Loveberry was as reassuring as possible.

"Well, we got some phone calls!" replied Rivelli. "But I'm holding out for you."

A week after the accident, Loveberry saw another specialist back home in Chicago. The bone had healed so well that the very next morning he went out and breezed Two Phil's at Hawthorne. When he came in, Rivelli said: "All right, now I can tell everybody you're riding him." Cont.

Two Phil's and Jareth Loveberry after winning the GIII Jeff Ruby Steaks S. | Coady Photography

So while Loveberry was still riding in a brace even this week, and still tender, this had turned out the most literal of lucky breaks. Because Two Phil's duly won the Jeff Ruby with such authority that many people are wondering whether he can become the second consecutive Derby winner to graduate from that synthetic trial.

Certainly he certainly goes into the Derby as the undisputed blue-collar rooting interest. The horse is a yearling buyback, named for two octogenarian Phils in the ownership group. Rivelli, a stalwart of the Midwest circuit, would be within his rights to stand in the Churchill winner's circle and berate the track's owners for closing his spiritual home at Arlington. And all you need to know about Loveberry himself is the advice he always gives to aspiring young jockeys: "Work your ass off to get there-and when you get there, work harder."

But while he will bring all due humility to the giddiest opportunity of his life, he will not suffer the slightest vertigo.

"Looking back, it's crazy: to go from a five-eighths bull-ring to the Kentucky Derby," he admits. "In between it's been 18 years of just riding all over the place, different spots, different class levels. But I think that has made me what I am, starting from the bottom."

The bull-ring was Great Lakes Downs in Michigan.

"It was only open for maybe 10 years, but that's where I started racing in 2005," he recalls. "I'd walked across the street to a horse farm when I was 12 years old, just for a summer job cleaning stalls. They had Thoroughbreds, and I started getting on them when I was 14. And just fell in love. You can't really explain it. My dad's in construction, my mom's in banking. But I just felt comfortable around those horses. It just works. I like going around, seeing my horses every day. I feed them peppermints, I graze them, whatever I can do to help them out."

On these foundations, a guy who started out in college to become an architect has built a career that has so far yielded 1,759 winners. Many were eked out at the basement level, from Ohio to Oklahoma; but he has made incremental gains in quality, especially over the past couple of years. In 2021, for instance, he tipped $3 million for the first time at a win ratio of 23 percent; while last year he broke into the top 50 riders nationally with earnings exceeding $5 million.

So while Loveberry also had the rug pulled from under his feet by the closure of Arlington, his success in the Fair Grounds colony has now opened the door to the Kentucky circuit. And the Two Phil's adventure is certainly all the sweeter for the involvement of such a longstanding ally.

"It really is," Loveberry says. "I've been riding for Larry since 2011 and he's just a great guy. So with him having been so loyal to me, and me trying to be as loyal as I can to him too, it's great for us both to be going to our first Derby together. Larry is tough to ride for, but great to ride for. I mean, you obviously want him to be tough, because you want to win: he works hard, he's there at the barn all the time, and he's really good at placing his horses. Once he finds a good horse, he really manages that horse, always picks the right spots to develop them. Instead of doing it like a machine, I guess. He has great help at the barn, too, they really focus on the horse."

Two Phil's, as such, is a typical project. Though actually unavailable for his debut, Loveberry has been part of the horse's development from his earliest works. And, just like his jockey, Two Phil's has the kind of seasoning that is increasingly uncommon in the Derby field. With so many contenders nowadays arriving on a light schedule, Two Phil's will be a relatively gritty veteran of eight starts.

"I think that's very beneficial for him," Loveberry emphasizes. "Having experienced so many different races and surroundings, he's going to be a well-rounded horse. He's been in tight. He's been in front, and farther off of it. He's been in slop. He's really seen a lot of different things, and that maturity will help in a spot like that. Because he has just kept developing." Cont.

A POINT VERY WELL MADE

Frosted's ever-improving daughter Frost Point wins the G3 Doubledogdare. Besides having a $475k juvenile, he's had six Graded Stakes horses this year. In fact, no stallion under $200K has had more. Wow: just imagine!

$10,000 S&N

Darley

"He was green early on, and can get a little quirky, but I've learned about him over the last year and now he's able to shut off and give that high cruising speed, which I think his daddy had too.

"At Fair Grounds he had a three-month layoff from the Street Sense to the [GIII] Lecomte S. He got tired in that race but ever since I've been like, 'Man, Larry, he's getting better and getting smarter all the time.' And in the Jeff Ruby he put it all together. I don't think it was about the surface. He's won on dirt, wet dirt, synthetic. A good horse will run on anything, and he's proven that and I just think he's peaking at the right time."

Likewise his jockey, who rode with all due verve and confidence at Turfway.

"I was just sitting and sitting, and looking for the one [favorite Major Dude (Bolt d'Oro)]," Loveberry recalls. "I see him make a bit of a move on the inside, so I just gave him a little smooch and he did the rest. His gallop out that day, the outrider had to help pull me up, he was really full of himself."

Actually the outrider's horse slammed right into his injured leg. Ouch. But the man they call "J Love"-as stitched into his breeches-hardly needed that jolt to remain grounded. As a family man, with two young kids, nothing is going to skew his priorities at this stage.

"I think I've had some good opportunities to help get me to this spot," Loveberry says, contemplating the 20-horse stampede ahead. "I've learned from other riders that have been through it, they've given me pointers here and there. But I've never looked at any race and said, 'Oh, I have to win that for my career.' Obviously you want to win the Kentucky Derby. All eyes are on it. But is it the be-all and end-all? No. If we just put our best foot forward, keep level-headed, I think that goes a long ways. When you start overthinking it, that's when you start making mistakes. So let's just keep headed in the right direction, and hope he's healthy going in the race."

But the reason he won't be getting ahead of himself, the reason he will be staying calm, is also the reason to be excited.

"I mean, it's horse racing," Loveberry says, with a shrug and a smile. "Anything could happen."

She was purchased by the Red Wings Enterprises pinhooking partnership of Ciaran Dunne and Paul Reddam--who won the GI Kentucky Derby with her sire in 2016, for $170,000 at last year's Keeneland September sale.

"She is just an unassuming, quiet filly to be around," Dunne said. "She trains every day, easy and quiet, and then when you ask her to go, she just explodes. She has done really well. She was somewhat of a nondescript yearling, but she has matured into a big, powerful filly."

Of the filly's Classic-bound half-sister, Dunne quipped, "Typical of me, I was the last to know [about the update]."

He added, "You kind of forget about pedigrees once they are bought and in the barn. Usually it doesn't come back up until after the breeze show. So, this was kind of a pleasant surprise right at the time that this filly was doing so good to have something like that happen."

Wavertree Stables was also responsible for a colt by Into Mischief (hip 967) who equaled the fastest furlong time of the week with his :9 3/5 breeze Friday.

"The Into Mischief colt has been a wonderful horse all year," Dunne said. "He's the kind that makes you want to get up in the morning and go to the barn. Everything he does is effortless. He just acts like he is very special. And to this point, he hasn't done anything to prove us wrong."

Purchased by Red Wing Enterprises for $300,000 at Keeneland last September, the bay colt is out of multiple stakes winner and graded-placed Singing Kitty (Ministers Wild Cat).

The two bullet workers led a big day for the consignment, which was also represented by a Coal Front filly (hip 924, video) and a colt by Omaha Beach (hip 961, video) who worked the week's second-fastest furlong time of :9 4/5. Wavertree also had a pair of fillies by Omaha Beach work in :9 4/5 earlier in the week.

"We've had a great day," Dunne said. "We are very fortunate to have a tremendous group of clients who support us and give us horses like these. And we have a crew at the farm who work all winter to make days like this happen. Days like this don't just happen. You work towards them. The horses that worked today, we had high expectations coming into today. It was a little nerve-wracking, but I think for the most they showed up and performed like we expected them to."

DeBerdt Hopes More Success With Spooky Woods

The Speightstown filly (hip 1012) became the third juvenile of the week to work a furlong in :9 3/5 early in Friday's first set. She is consigned by Scanlon Training & Sales as agent for Bruno DeBerdt's Excel Bloodstock.

"I knew she was going to work well," DeBerdt, who watched the work from his California home, said. "How well, I didn't know. She's been training really well for us and if there were any of the horses that were going to have a black-type work, I thought she could do it. But until you lead them up there and they show up, you just don't really know."

Of the end result, DeBerdt continued, "Obviously we were very pleased with the way she did it and the fact that she did it well within herself and galloped out very strongly. She showed her true ability. And she's got a great mind. A good horse requires two things. One, obviously the ability, but equally important they have to have the mind. If they don't have the mind, it doesn't matter how much ability they have, it's not going to work."

"I like the sire and I liked the filly as an individual," DeBerdt said of the youngster's appeal last fall. "She was a little bit rough around the edges, but nothing that I thought would preclude her from developing into a nice horse. So I guess you might say we looked for the diamond in the rough and, with good diet and training, nature took care of the rest."

DeBerdt also had a positive association with the filly's dam, Spooky Woods (Ghostzapper), whom he pinhooked for $250,000 at the 2016 Barretts March sale. She finished third for West Point Thoroughbreds in the 2017 GIII Santa Ysabel S. and sold again, with hip 1012 in utero, for $400,000 to Yeguada Centurion at the 2020 Keeneland November sale.

Spooky Woods is a half-sister to multiple graded-placed Kinsley Kisses (Congrats), as well as to the dam of graded-stakes winning sophomore Arabian Knight (Uncle Mo).

The under-tack show concludes with a final session beginning at 8 a.m. Saturday. The Spring sale will be held next Tuesday through Friday and bidding commences each day at 10:30 a.m.

JIMMY JERKENS OFF TO SAUDI ARABIA

Jimmy Jerkens | Sarah Andrew

by Bill Finley

Veteran New York trainer Jimmy Jerkens, 64, whose stable has been slumping in recent years, has agreed to train in Saudi Arabia for Prince Faisal bin Khalid Al Saud. Jerkens said he will likely start his new job in Saudi Arabia in mid-May.

The Daily Racing Form's David Grening was first with the story.

Jerkens, the son of Hall of Famer Allen Jerkens, has been around the New York tracks for nearly 50 years. After working for his father as an assistant, he went out on his own in 1997. By 2000, he had established himself as a steady winner on the New York circuit who had the type of stock that could compete in stakes. Cont.

He won 59 races in 2000, good for a 28 percent winning rate, and won six stakes. His numbers stayed relatively stable and in 2018 he won 38 races with stable earnings of $2,922,392. But his fortunes declined every year thereafter and in 2022 he won just four races and had earnings of $365,995.

"We've just been just existing the last three or four years," he said. "It got to where I was losing money. This is a hard thing to do, seven days a week, when you're going nowhere."

Jerkens trained 11 different horses that won Grade I races, including Quality Road (Elusive Quality). He won the GI Florida Derby with Quality Road, who was eventually turned over to trainer Todd Pletcher. Some of his other major wins came in the GI Woodward S., a race he won twice, the GI Santa Anita H., the Queen's Plate, the GI Metropolitan H., the GI Breeders' Cup Mile and the GI Travers S.

"I never had a big stable but I was always lucky to get a lot of good ones," Jerkens said.

He blames himself for his career heading off in the wrong direction.

"It's probably my fault," he said. "The game started changing and I probably wasn't proactive enough in keeping the stable going. I got entrenched in my father's era. Back then you could get a reputation of being thorough and doing a good job and you could sit back and the horses would come to you. You did the best you could. It's a different game now. You have to be proactive, you have to go to sales, you have to be on social media. I was never built like that. I never adapted and I'm paying the price."

Jerkens said it was jockey agent Ron Anderson who recommended him to Prince Faisal. Jerkens left for Saudi Arabia on April 9 and spent five days there meeting with the Prince and his advisors.

"I wasn't interested at first but the more I thought about it it seemed to be an opportunity to get some nice stock to train and not have to worry about the bills and everything else," he said. "You go over there and all you have to worry about is the training. You get your percentage, you can get bonuses, you can accomplish some nice things with some nice horses. So I bit the bullet and decided to go.

"Everyone I talked to, the Prince, his advisors, they couldn't have been any nicer. They made me feel comfortable, especially the Prince. He's got the warmest, kindest face you could imagine. You felt really at ease around him."

Jerkens has signed a two-year contract and expects to have about 50 horses under his care. He added that the possibility of Prince Faisal opening a stable in the U.S. has been discussed and, if that happens, Jerkens would likely return to the U.S. to train them. Cont.

"That's the most appealing part of this," he said. "It would be wonderful to be able to do that."

He said he still has a lot to learn about his new horses, but, so far, he has been impressed.

"The pedigrees are good and they look the part," he said. "I was really impressed with their condition. They looked really good and had good muscle tone. I didn't know what to expect when they started pulling them out. But I was really impressed with how they looked."

SATURDAY PREVIEW: CHARGE IT GETS BLINKERS ON FOR OAKLAWN 'CAP

Charge It | Lauren King

by Alan Carasso

He is the most talented horse--pound for pound--in a field of seven that was drawn earlier this week, but Whisper Hill Farm's 'TDN Rising Star' Charge It (Tapit) nevertheless has a fair bit to prove as the 8-5 morning-line favorite in Saturday's $1-million GII Oaklawn H. in Hot Springs.

The 23-length winner of last year's GIII Dwyer S., the homebred returned with a stylish Gulfstream allowance victory first off a seven-month absence Feb. 5, but exits a disappointing runner-up effort in the GII Gulfstream Park Mile Mar. 4. The blinkers go on for this return to nine panels.

"He's always been a little bit of a curious colt," said trainer Todd Pletcher, a two-time winner of the race. "We contemplated putting blinkers on him after [finishing second in] the Florida Derby last year. We just didn't think doing in the Kentucky Derby was the right move and then came back and won the Dwyer so impressively. It's hard to make a change off that, but it's something that's been in the back of our mind. We've worked him with them since his last race and I think they may make a difference."

Not since Gay Revoke in 1964 and 1965 has a horse gone back-to-back in the Handicap, but Last Samurai (Malibu Moon) has a shot to put pay to that streak Saturday. If anything, the 5-year-old is in even better form this time around, having bested next-out, big-figure GII New Orleans Classic romper West Will Power (Bernardini) and subsequent SW Law Professor in the GIII Razorback H. Feb. 18 before reeling in Classic Causeway (Giant's Causeway) last time in the GIII Essex H.

"We've gone from winning the Essex to probably fourth choice in the Handicap," said Hall of Famer Wayne Lukas, who took over the training of Last Samurai from Dallas Stewart after last year's race and registered the most recent of his record four wins in the race with Willis Horton's Will Take Charge (Unbridled's Song) nine years ago. His first? Imp Society in 1985.

"It's a very, very tough race. But for a million dollars, it should be," Lukas said.

Were Stilleto Boy (Shackelford) to emerge victorious Saturday, he would become the first horse since Best Pal in 1992 to complete the GI Santa Anita H./Oaklawn H. double. In addition to the presumable market leaders, he'll also need to hold off Godolphin's Proxy (Tapit), who came with a stinging late rally at the Great Race Place six weeks ago only to fall a neck short.

'Skippy' Looking Like A Million Bucks for Ben Ali

Handicap horses also head to the post at Keeneland for the GIII Ben Ali (ally as in friend, not the late pugilist) S., lengthened to a mile and three-sixteenths for the first time. The hard-knocking Skippylongstocking (Exaggerator) looms a warm favorite and would surge past the $1-million mark in career earnings if adding this to his latest comprehensive score in the GIII Challenger S. at Tampa Mar. 11.

"He came out of the Challenger well and gave us the confidence to put him in here," said Beau Chapman, assistant to trainer Saffie Joseph, Jr. "He has improved with age. He is a big, lanky horse and he has grown into himself and really developed."

Keeneland also stages the GIII Elkhorn S. for male marathon turfers and attracts last year's one-two finishers, 9-year-old Channel Maker (English Channel) and 7-year-old Another Mystery (Temple City), who between them have made 84 career starts for 17 trips to the winner's circle.

In California, Big 'Cap third Defunded (Dialed In) squares off with 2021 winner Royal Ship (Brz) (Midshipman) in the GII Californian S., while top Cal-bred Brickyard Ride (Clubhouse Ride) takes on the progressive Anarchist (Distorted Humor) in the GIII Kona Gold S.

FROST POINT CLOSES FOR BAIRD DOUBLEDODGARE SCORE

The only 5-year-old facing a field of younger fillies, Frost Point (Frosted) proved age is just a number with a come-from-behind effort to win her first graded stakes in the GIII Baird Doubledogdare S. at Keeneland Friday.

Last seen rolling to a 6 1/4-length win in gate-to-wire fashion in the Heavenly Prize Invitational at Aqueduct Feb. 23 and racing in the royal blue of owner/breeder Godolphin, the bay daughter of another prolific homebred was away a step off and patiently handled by Flavien Prat at the rear of the field as Interstatedaydream (Classic Empire) and Hidden Connection (Connect) squared off up front. Last of the octet into the first turn, Frost Point saved ground up the backstretch through an opening quarter in :24.03 set by a now solo Hidden Connection.

Always in touch with the tightly-bunched group, she began to make up ground around the far bend, coming inside of a fading Traverse (Street Sense) before tipping up past the quarter pole to take dead aim on the leading pair of Hidden Connection and Green Up (Upstart). While she needed the length of the short Keeneland stretch to get by, Frost Point rallied up the outside and dove past Hidden Connection in the final strides, winning as the 9-2 second choice.

"Over the summer, she put on weight and started looking better," said winning trainer Bill Mott. "She's come back very well. She's three-for-three now (beginning Dec. 30 at Aqueduct in her first start since May). This was a very good race, and she beat a really solid field."

Pedigree Notes:

Out of GI Frizette S. heroine Balletto (UAE) (Timber Country), Frost Point traces back to champion 2-year-old filly Althea (Alydar), champion 2-year-old filly in Japan Yamamin Paradise (Danzig), GI Juddmonte Spinster winner Acoma (Empire Maker), and GISW and late sire Arch (Kris S.). Frost Point is the fifth graded-stakes winner for sire Frosted. She has a winning 3-year-old full-brother, Ski Country, a 2-year-old full-brother, and a yearling half-sister by Maclean's Music.

FORTE TOPS FRIDAY DERBY WORKERS LIST

Repole Stable and St. Elias Stable's Forte (Violence) recorded his first published workout at Churchill Downs Friday morning when he breezed five furlongs in 1:02 outside stablemate Bright Future (Curlin).

Along with Forte's five-furlong move, other Kentucky Derby contenders to record workouts were Angel of Empire (Classic Empire) (six furlongs, 1:13.40); Hit Show (Candy Ride {Arg}) (five furlongs, 1:01); Tapit Trice (Tapit) (four furlongs, :48.60) and Verifying (Justify) (five furlongs, 1:01).

Forte was ridden in his workout by jockey Irad Ortiz Jr. and started about a half-length behind Bright Future. The duo completed an opening quarter-mile fraction of :26.20 then began to pick up their momentum around the far turn through a three-furlong split of :38.60. Forte galloped out six furlongs in 1:14.40 and completed seven furlongs in 1:27.

"It was a normal work from him, which is exactly what you want to see," Ortiz said. "I let him start going at the five-furlong pole and just get into stride. Going into the turn he stayed with the other horse. When I tipped him out in the stretch he responded well and galloped out nicely. His mind has changed a lot this year from last year. I'm happy with that. He's growing physically but has a great mind."

Just prior to Forte's move, Whisper Hill Farm and Gainesway Stable's GI Blue Grass S. winner Tapit Trice recorded his half-mile move with regular exercise rider Amelia Green in the saddle. Tapit Trice completed an opening eighth-mile in :12.80 and galloped out five furlongs in 1:01.

"These workouts become super, super important," Todd Pletcher said. "They keep you up at night. Tapit Trice started out with a nice, steady breeze. He was on the bridle throughout. He seemed to get over the track very comfortably. If you look at Forte's progression numbers wise, he's made that progression forward in each start. Same thing with Tapit Trice. What I'm encouraged by with both of them is how they handled the mile-and-an-eighth and how they handled their final prep. It gives you confidence stretching out in the Derby. Forte is a very straightforward horse to train. He's pushbutton. When Irad asked him to sit just off of his workmate this morning he did just that. When you press 'go', he quickly accelerated to put a head in front of his workmate."

Trainer Brad Cox's foursome of Angel of Empire, Hit Show, Jace's Road and Verifying all worked at 7:30 a.m. ET. Angel of Empire was paired outside Jace's Road and the duo completed eighth-mile fractions of :12.20, :23.80, :35.60 and 1:00.40. They galloped out seven furlongs in 1:26.40. Jockey Flavien Prat was aboard Albaugh Family Stable's Angel of Empire while Florent Geroux was in the boot on Jace's Road. Cont.

Forte (outside) works at Churchill Downs | Coady

In Cox's next set, Hit Show worked inside Verifying, who had jockey Tyler Gaffalione aboard. Hit Show and Verifying began their move at the 4 1/2-furlong marker through splits of :12.60, :24.40 and :48.60.

"Angel of Empire is the type of horse we've been confident all along that can handle the mile-and-a-quarter distance in the Derby," Cox said. "He excelled going the longer distance in the Arkansas Derby and moves like the type of horse that will like a route of ground. Hit Show just missed in the Wood Memorial. It was a pretty tough beat that day but he showed us that as the distances get longer he can handle the route of ground as well."

Blazing Sevens (Good Magic), third in the GI Toyota Blue Grass, worked a half-mile on his own in :48.60 over a fast track Friday morning with regular exercise rider Peter Roman aboard.

"He breezed very well and we're very happy with it," said assistant trainer Josh Flores said. "That's what you want to see from the first breeze back (after a race)."

Lord Miles (Curlin) returned to the Gulfstream Park worktab Friday morning, breezing a half-mile in 47.05 seconds, the second-fastest clocking of 33 workouts recorded at the distance.

"It was a good easy work but probably a tad faster than ideal, but he did it well within himself and he was moving well—that's the important thing," said trainer Saffie Joseph Jr. "He came out of the Wood well. He shipped back and he's held his weight. His weight and his energy seem to be in good order."

Lord Miles is scheduled to complete his serious preparation for the Derby at Gulfstream.

"He'll come back, all being well, and work next Friday. He'll go five furlongs and we'll ship Saturday or Sunday to Churchill Downs," Joseph said.

Out west, Practical Move (Practical Joke) returned to the worktab Friday, going a half mile in company in :47. Trainer Tim Yakteen clocked the drill in the same time with a strong gallop-out in "59 seconds and change," the trainer said.

"They both worked well, very happy," Yakteen added.

Practical Move is slated to be joined in the Kentucky Derby starting gate by stablemate Reincarnate (Good Magic). Yakteen said Reincarnate is scheduled to work on Saturday.

Both Practical Move and Reincarnate will also have one additional work at Santa Anita next Friday before heading to Churchill Downs the following morning.

ANDERSON: WOODBINE'S 'BULLY TACTICS' COULD RESULT IN 'MASS EXODUS' OF ONTARIO-BREDS

Woodbine | Christina Bossinakis

by T.D. Thornton

On Tuesday, the consortium that operates Fort Erie racetrack filed a grievance with the Canadian Trade Commission over alleged strongarm business tactics by Woodbine Entertainment Group (WEG) that Fort Erie contends are designed to "starve Fort Erie of its necessary horse supply."

Two days later, David Anderson, a prominent Ontario-based breeder who owns Anderson Farms and serves on the boards of three key Thoroughbred organizations in Canada, told TDN that Woodbine's tactics are, in his opinion, a coordinated effort to hamper Fort Erie's operations, and that some of those detrimental decisions are being funded by money that is supposed to be earmarked for Thoroughbred-industry improvement in Ontario.

Anderson also warned that some of Woodbine's purse allocation strategies for the 2023 meet that starts Apr. 22--namely the reduction of maiden special weight (MSW) purses from $126,000 (Canadian) to $111,600 to purportedly bolster the money offered for low-level claiming races--could result in "the biggest mass exodus of Ontario bred horses" out of the province.

"There's no reason on earth why Woodbine should be running $5,000 claimers and competing against Fort Erie," Anderson said. "I mean, it's just never been that way. And there's enough room in the province for an A track and a B track. But they're just trying to snuff out their competition. And the horsemen don't want it. The government doesn't want it. It's just Woodbine upper brass, just... I don't know what the proper word is for it."

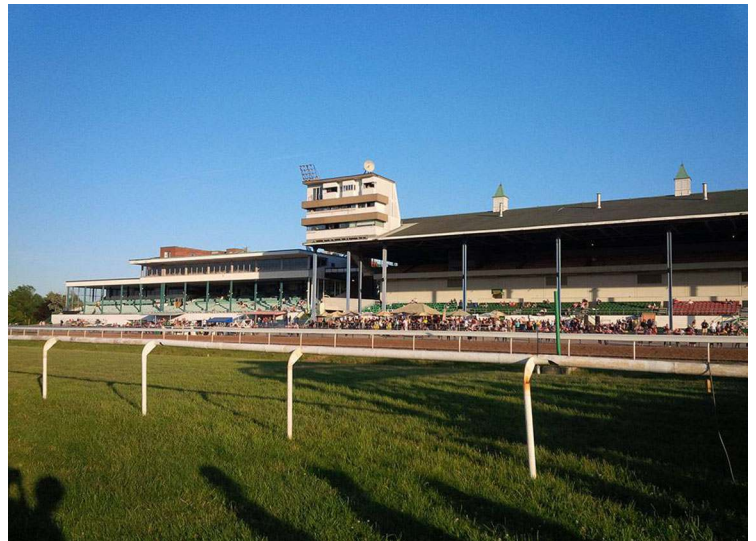

"I have a significant investment in the game," Anderson said. "I'm one of the bigger breeders in Canada, and I sit on all these industry boards. Ontario Racing. I sit on the board of the HBPA in Ontario. I sit on the board of the Jockey Club of Canada. I'm on every single industry board, committee [and] subcommittees that there are. And no one is willing to step up and speak out against Woodbine because of the bully tactics and the dictatorship that [WEG chief executive officer Jim] Lawson's been running."

"They're afraid he's going to take away stalls from them on the backside; he's going to exercise private-property rights and kick them off the grounds," Anderson continued. "I mean, it's just a complete totalitarian regime over there. And I don't want to sit here and make the article a complete bashing of Woodbine. We've got so many things that are fantastic that are going on [in Ontario]. Unfortunately, we're on this island up there that the tail wags the dog, and Woodbine is the mothership. And with the stroke of the pen, they can take one of our programs basically illegally and take those funds and redirect it or reallocate it into a program that they want to do that bolsters their profits."

Anderson articulated other specific criticisms in his Apr. 20 interview, such as Woodbine's "no return" shipping policy for horses that leave the grounds to race at Fort Erie. He also echoed concerns about an allegation that surfaced in Fort Erie's formal grievance: the recent rescheduling of the Canadian Triple Crown series, which he alleged works to Woodbine's advantage and against both Fort Erie and the best interests of Ontario's overall racing industry.

TDN on Friday emailed Woodbine's communications director, Jamie Dykstra, requesting an interview with Lawson (or any other company executive) to give Woodbine the chance to get its side of the story about Anderson's complaints on the record. In response, Dykstra wrote that no interview would be forthcoming. He attached a fact sheet about purses and a prepared statement that Woodbine had issued earlier in the week about Fort Erie's grievance.

That press release stated: "The assertions made by Fort Erie Race Track are baseless and without merit and we will vigorously and confidently defend ourselves if requested by the Canadian Trade Commission or any other regulatory authority. We are very proud of the vital role we play in supporting the strength, success and growth of the Ontario horse racing industry. We are very much looking forward to starting our 2023 meet this Saturday. We will have no further comment on this matter at this time."

'How are we improving the breed?'

Anderson underscored how the province's racing industry should be operating from a solid starting point instead of dealing with infighting between Ontario's two Thoroughbred tracks.

"I sit on the board of Ontario Racing, which governs all of the racing in Ontario. It's a government-appointed board that administers all of the funds for Thoroughbred racing, Standardbred racing, and Quarter Horse racing. And there's subcommittees on that board. One of them is the Thoroughbred Improvement Program, or TIP."

"We have a mare purchase program that we've been promoting quite heavily," Anderson said. "We've brought in well over 300 brand-new, pregnant mares into the province in the last three years, which has been much needed in our province. We were actually [up] double digits in live foals, in mares bred, in new stallions in our province, which is greater than any jurisdiction in North America. So there's lots of great points here that we've [put] into place."

Anderson said that during the same time frame, TIP ushered in a program that had increased MSW purses at Woodbine to $126,000 by the end of the 2022 meet.

"And it's been crazy-successful for Ontario bred yearlings in the last three years are up 68% average at the sales. People are buying Ontario-bred yearlings because they want to run in this program. Breeders are buying better mares, breeding to better stallions because they're able to sell their yearlings for more money. And ultimately, it's because of the program."

But Anderson said he was dismayed when Woodbine's first 2023 condition book got released, and MSW purses had been slashed from $126,000 to $111,600.

"Once these owners that have bought yearlings last fall and the fall before and are expecting to run for those purses find out about it, they're going to leave," Anderson said.

"[And] the fact is, it's government money," Anderson continued. "This program was set up by TIP. It's worked and it is working, and [Woodbine] can't just take the money and go and put it where they want to put it. They can take their other purse account money and go and do with it whatever they want, or they actually have to negotiate it with the HBPA. But they're not even doing that. There's zero negotiations with the HBPA. I sit on that board. I sit on the liaison committee. I know exactly what's gone on. It's zero."

"How are we improving the breed by taking money from our upper-echelon horses and putting it into $5,000 claimers?" Anderson said. "They're leveraging those government dollars to bolster their own coffers."

'I can't sit back and watch'

Anderson said he is hoping that a planned regime change at Woodbine could bring about a new sense of cooperation. On Apr. 11, WEG announced that Lawson will be stepping down from his role as CEO this fall after 15 years at the track in various management positions, although it is expected that Lawson will be associated with Woodbine in a "senior role" that will be defined at a later date.

"Jim Lawson has finally stepped down, which is going to be hopefully a very positive move for the horse industry in Ontario," Anderson said. "The problem is there's no one to take over. There's no one currently in upper management at Woodbine that knows the mane from the tail. And we've got to put the feelers out there across North America or the world and try and find somebody that can step in and take on that role."

"The horsemen are the stakeholders of Woodbine," Anderson said. "It's a not-for-profit. We are the stakeholders and these guys at Woodbine and their board, quite frankly, have to be accountable and there has to be governance. And now that Jim's stepped down, there has to be a proper executive search done for a proper CEO that understands horse racing."

Anderson said that for years, Woodbine "always ran with Fort Erie as a sister track." But that mindset has been quashed.

"If you couldn't break your maiden at Woodbine, you drove 40 minutes down the road and you broke your maiden at Fort Erie and came back," Anderson said. "If you had a well-bred filly that couldn't win at Woodbine, but you wanted to get a win under her belt, you'd run down there and do it. And when David Willmot ran the place [until retiring in 2012], he understood that. He's a breeder. He is an owner, he got it. Now they've put this rule in, if you leave Woodbine and go run at Fort Erie, you can't come back."

"When I was a kid growing up back in the '70s, the lowest claiming rank at Woodbine was $6,250," Anderson said. "It's now $5,000 at Woodbine. They have become a B track, but on purpose. They don't want good horses."

"And here we are, struggling as much as we can to get better horses and build our industry," Anderson said. "And we've got this mothership doing the opposite, and they don't get it. They want to run $5,000 claimers because they're 12-horse fields. They pay out a $20,000 purse, and they get big pari-mutuel wagering out of it. Yet in the last 15 years, we've had $4 million in purse increases on a $70 million contract. I mean, it's nothing. You look at every racetrack around North America over the last 15 years, and tell me how much their purses have gone up."

"Woodbine, it's a different mindset," Anderson summed up. "And as a horseman and as a person, I'm in a position where I can stand up to these guys. I can let them have it. What are they going to do to me? Kick me off the grounds, take my box away? I've known Jim for 20-plus years. My father sat on the board of Woodbine for 35 years." Cont.

I mean, I've been going to that place since I was a kid, and I absolutely love it. It's home to me. [But] I can't sit back on behalf of all the horse people in Canada and watch this happen. They have to be accountable. And kudos to Fort Erie for actually taking it to court."

Anderson's sister, Jessica Buckley, was the Senior Vice President of Standardbred and Thoroughbred Racing at Woodbine, but resigned last June.

AFTER TWO FATALITIES, RACING AT LAUREL CANCELLED

Laurel Park | Maryland Jockey Club

by Bill Finley

The Maryland Jockey Club, which operates Laurel Park, announced late Friday that racing at Laurel has been cancelled at least through this weekend.

"The Maryland Jockey Club (MJC) announced that after consultation with the Maryland Racing Commission, racing will be cancelled this weekend at Laurel Park while MJC works with the Maryland Racing Commission to understand and address any issues of concern raised relating to recent injuries," the statement read. "MJC will also be discussing plans for implementation of updated safety and veterinary protocols similar to those that have been in place in California since 2019 and have proven to significantly reduce the number of equine fatalities during racing and training."

The decision came one day after Golden Pegasus (Golden Lad) broke down in Thursday's fourth race at Laurel and had to be euthanized. In the fifth race, Bigmancan (Can the Man) pulled up lame and, according to the official chart, had to be vanned off the track. According to Tim Keefe, the president of the Maryland Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association, Bigmancan also had to be euthanized.

Friday's decision came one day after Maryland Jockey Club management met with horsemen to solicit input on the state of Laurel Park's racing surface. No immediate action was taken after the meeting and the day's racing, unfortunately went ahead and included the two injuries.

On Friday, Keefe emailed Mike Rogers, the executive vice president of 1/ST RACING and acting president of the Maryland Jockey Club, recommending that racing at Laurel be suspended for the weekend and moved to Pimlico Race Course starting April 27. Rogers did not return a phone call from the TDN seeking an update on the problems with the track and whether or not racing would be moved to Pimlico. The current Laurel meet is not scheduled to end until May 7.

"We further recommend that training at Laurel Park consist only of joggers and gallopers and horses be shipped to Pimlico for workouts until such time the surface at Laurel Park has been evaluated and deemed safe by our consultant John Passero," the letter stated.

The racing surfaces at Laurel have been an on-going concern for a while. The Saturday April 8 card was canceled "out of an abundance of caution to do a full evaluation of the racing surfaces." Two horses were injured that morning while training. Racing was not scheduled for the following day, which was Easter. It resumed on April 13.

"I'm not a track superintendent and none of us are," Keefe told the TDN. "But you had an incident the day before Easter when two horses were injured. One was just galloping. The other was breezing. Their consultant, Dennis Moore, came out for a few days and he was here yesterday morning. He came and looked at the track and assessed things. Dennis listened to the trainers and heard their thoughts and concerns. He's a very well-respected, long-time track superintendent on the West Coast. He does a great job at Santa Anita. He didn't really have any smoking guns for us but we've had more frequent injuries than we have had in the past. There is an increased number of injuries and we have some concerns. We have a long history with John Passero, who was the track superintendent here in Maryland for many, many years. He had a falling out with the Stronach Group back in the early 2000s and they don't want him on the property. But he is the one guy our horsemen can rally around and have confidence in. We would like him to have the chance to look at the track and give some recommendations and we want those recommendations implemented. We believe he's the one person who can get us to where we need to be. But the Stronach Group won't let him on the racetrack, so we are at an impasse. We need a third-party consultant to come out here and tell us the track is safe."

Racing was canceled at Laurel for several months in 2021 due to issues with the track. After running on April 11, racing did not resume at Laurel until Sept. 9. During the shutdown, racing moved to Pimlico. What ensued was a multi-million dollar rebuild of the Laurel main track, which included replacing the cushion, the base and the substructure. There were further cancellations during the month of December, 2021 when it was announced by the Maryland Jockey Club that time was needed to make repairs to the track and to analyze recent injuries.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Over the years I have read a lot of Bill Finley articles, and his summary of John Evans's work at Lowell Correctional is one of the best (Having Made a 'Huge Difference,' TRF's John Evans Retires). It shines a bright light on not only the man but also the TRF's work to save horses and humans over the last 40 years.

Keeneland has gifted $100,000 to the Lexington Public Library's capital campaign for the Marksbury Family Branch to open on Versailles Road in late 2023. The library broke ground last August on the new branch--which will replace the former Village Branch, and provide more educational and civic resources for the neighborhoods it serves.

The new structure will reflect the community's vision for a state-of-the-art hub, one that offers robust resources and a myriad of program and service offerings. The Village Branch pioneered bilingual library services in Lexington, and the new facility--nearly triple the amount of space as its predecessor--will expand resources available to Lexington's Latino, immigrant, and refugee families. The expansion will add community and study rooms; a dedicated classroom; makerspace; an outdoor reading area; expanded adult and children's areas; and a drive-thru window where customers can pick up and return borrowed materials.

In recognition of their generous donation, a 16-seat meeting room on the first floor of the Marksbury Family Branch will be named in Keeneland's honor.

KENTUCKY DERBY MUSEUM'S SECRETARIAT EXHIBIT OPEN

The new, immersive Secretariat: America's Horse exhibit at the Kentucky Derby Museum is now open to the public in celebration of the 50th anniversary of the chestnut's historic Derby win and Triple Crown sweep. The exhibit, sponsored by Longines, shows Secretariat from all aspects of his greatness; from his impact as a celebrity in the hearts of so many to his incredible athleticism. State-of-the-art technology inside the exhibit allows for guests to visualize what made Secretariat a remarkable horse--from his unbelievably large heart, to extra muscle, and more. A variety of artifacts, memorabilia, and trophies were also made available including real costumes and clips from the Disney movie as well as handwritten notes and suggestions from Penny Chenery.

"It is rare that the Kentucky Derby Museum dedicates a permanent exhibit to a singular Thoroughbred racehorse, but Secretariat merits that," said Chris Goodlett, Kentucky Derby Museum Senior Director of Curatorial and Educational Affairs. "It will show our guests exactly why Secretariat has endured as a celebrity to this day."

SATURDAY INSIGHTS: PRICEY CITY OF LIGHT COLT GETS STARTED AT KEENELAND

by Alan Carasso

6th-KEE, $100k, Msw, 3yo, 6 1/2f, post time: 3:40 p.m. ET

SOLEVO (City of Light) is the second foal to the races out of the stakes-placed Pleasant Mine (Mineshaft), who was acquired by Windylea Farm New York for $200,000 with this foal in utero at the 2019 Fasig-Tipton November Sale. The Kentucky-bred dark bay colt made a solid return on that investment when hammering for $170,000 at the 2021 Fasig-Tipton July Sale and fetched $685,000 from trainer Cherie DeVaux at last year's OBS April Sale after breezing a furlong in :10 1/5. The colt's third dam produced GI Carter H. hero Swagger Jack (Smart Strike). Moreau (Speightstown) is a maternal grandson of Danehill (Danzig)'s MGSW full-sister Harpia, whose daughter Unreachable (Giant's Causeway) is responsible for this year's G1 February S. winner Lemon Pop (Lemon Drop Kid) and Equivoque (Good Magic), a good-looking debut winner at this track Apr. 8. TJCIS PPs

RECKONING FORCE (c, 3, Air Force Blue--Alasema, by Jazil) broke his maiden in the valuable Kentucky Downs Juvenile in the last of four starts for Joseph O'Brien, then was seventh in this track's Gil Bourbon S. Oct. 9 and 13th in the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf. A pacesetter and narrowly beaten third in the Mar. 4 Black Gold S. at the Fair Grounds, he beat just one home in a lone synthetic appearance in the Rushaway S. Mar. 25 and was back on the lawn this time. Alertly away at just under 7-1, Reckoning Force was part of the early pace before drifting back to enjoy the run of the race from a joint third into the backstretch. A touch headstrong while scraping paint through the middle stages, the bay settled better for the run around the second bend, was steered out three wide to deliver his challenge in upper stretch and stayed on determinedly for the win.

Reckoning Force | Coady

Reckoning Force was vanned off following the race, but co-owner Fergus Galvin tweeted the colt was "happy and sound" back at the barn. Reckoning Force is one of three winners from as many to race for his dam, who was acquired by Frankfort Park's Brendan Gallagher for $27,000 in foal to Mohaymen at Keeneland November in 2018. I'M THE BOSS OF ME (m, 5, Midshipman--Glory Park, by Deputy Commander) dropped down into this easier spot after finishing third last time in the Matron S. Mar. 31 at Oaklawn behind GISP Wicked Halo (Gun Runner). As the 2-1 favorite, the mare exhibited some strong early foot, and rounding the far turn, took over the race to win by a comfortable 2 1/2 lengths over Princedreamcess (Jess's Dream). The winner's female family includes GSWs Sky Treasure (Sky Mesa) and Azul Coast (Super Saver). Sales History: $47,000 Ylg '19 KEESEP. VIAREGGIO (IRE) (f, 4, Caravaggio--Just Joan {Ire}, by Pour Moi {Ire}) began her career in Ireland under the care of Jessica Harrington where she was last seen winning over good turf in the G3 Snow Fairy Fillies S. Aug. 27 at The Curragh. Switching to

Brendan Walsh's stable, the bay filly began to work towards this spot over the Palm Meadows grass starting in late February. Off at odds of 4-1 here, she rated fourth along the rail into the first bend as Fast as Flight (Air Force Blue) set the pace. Viareggio swung to the outside around the far turn, took aim at the leader and Bipartisanship (GB) (Bated Breath {GB}), and under perfectly timed urging under Tyler Gaffalione, won by a neck. Dam Just Joan has a 3-year-old gelding named Just Bring It (Ire) (Harry Angel {Ire}). The winner's dam foaled a 2-year-old colt and a yearling filly in succession to Footstepsinthesand \(GB\). JUMP INTO THE FIRE (m, 5, Runhappy--Katniss the Victor {MSP, $113,700}, by Midnight Lute) leapt fastest from the blocks and straight into the winner's circle here over 3-5 favorite Royal Take Charge (Will Take Charge). Keen on not deviating from the running style which carried her to victory in five straight races last season and as a sophomore, Jump Into the Fire was quick to the front to have things all her own way. Uncontested as her young rider tried to back down the tempo on the backstretch, she remained clear from her pursuers through the final bend and was tiring in the late stages, holding on by a half-length as Royal Take Charge tried one last lunge. Cont. p3

YUKATA (IRE) (f, 4, Galileo {Ire}--Blue Kimono {Ire}, by Invincible Spirit {Ire}), victorious in a Deauville all-weather maiden at first asking for Jean-Claude Rouget in November 2021, took a conditions race on the turf at ParisLongchamp last April before finishing third as the favorite in the Listed Prix Finlande at the same venue May 19. Well-beaten when last seen in the G1 Prix de Diane (French Oaks) last June, she was part of a favored entry at 3-4 with Arina (Ger) (Soldier Hollow {GB}) on U.S. debut. Tugging a bit into the first turn beneath Manny Franco, Yukata--carrying the Brant colors--continued to race freely down the back while never far from the front.

Given her cue three wide on the turn, she had dead aim on pacesetter Canisy (Point of Entry) in upper stretch and took plenty of time to hit top gear, but did her best work late to take it by a length. Arina ran on for third ahead of a troubled Bramble Bay (Bullet Train {GB}), who complete a chalky triple. A half-sister to Brant's 2022 Oceanport S. heroine Kuramata (Ire) (Australia {GB}), SW, $143,809, Yukata is out of a daughter of French SW & MGSP Bastet (Ire) (Giant's Causeway), also the dam of Beauty Parlour (GB) (Deep Impact {Jpn}), who won the 2012 French 1000 Guineas and was second in that year's French

Oaks. So enamored was Brant of the family that he first purchased Beauty Parlour's Dansili (GB) filly of 2016 for a second-dearest €450,000 at the Goffs November Foal Sale and a few days later, gave a sales-topping €1.7 million for Beauty Parlour herself at the November Breeding Stock Sale. The aforementioned Dansili foal was named Blowout (GB), who defeated the commonly owned 'TDN Rising Star' Regal Glory (Animal Kingdom) in the 2021 GI First Lady S. at Keeneland. Bastet was also responsible for Beauty Parlour's year-younger full-brother Barocci (Jpn) (Deep Impact {Jpn}), a SW & GSP in France and MGSP in this country before being purchased to stand in Sweden. Yukata's third dam Benediction (Ire) (Day Is Done {Ire}) produced 11 winners, including two-time Australian Horse of the Year Might and Power (NZ) (Zabeel {NZ}). Blue Kimono is the dam of the 2-year-old filly Courreges (Ire) (Frankel {GB}) and a yearling colt by the Banstead Manor-based superstar. UNCASHED (g, 3, Uncaptured--Charlie B, by War Chant) won by 11 1/2 lengths debuting under Tina Hurley's care Sept. 13 at Louisiana Downs before moving to Larry Rivelli's shedrow where he was second throughout against optional claimers Oct. 21 at Hawthorne. Set for his 3-year-old campaign as the 3-5 favorite here, the private purchase grabbed the lead and clocked :21.73 for the first quarter mile. Rounding the far turn in front, the gelding entered the lane and kicked on to graduate by 5 1/4 lengths over Eli's Promise (Not This Time). The winner's unraced dam is responsible for a trio of fillies--2-year-old Cool Tricks (Practical Joke), yearling Miss Zelenskyy (West Coast) and she just reported a new one by Connect. LOVED (f, 4, Medaglia d'Oro--Velvety, by Bernardini), last seen rounding out the exacta on Gulfstream sprint debut last March, returned off the lengthy layoff as the 1-2 favorite here. The homebred made the front before the clubhouse turn and was tracked down the backstretch by Forever After All (Connect). Rounding the final bend, Loved began to extend her lead and cruising along, won easily by 11 1/2 lengths over her pursuer. Second dam MGSW Caress (Storm Cat) is a full-sister to leading Argentine broodmare sire Bernstein and produced GISW Sky Mesa (Pulpit). The winner's female line also includes GISW Matareya (Pioneer of the Nile), and her dam is responsible for GI Clark S. hero Maxfield (Street Sense). MAGICAL LUTE (f, 3, Maclean's Music--Street Song, by Flatter) made up ground late to finish second by 3/4 length in her first start July 4 at Churchill Downs as a juvenile. After a break, she was a well-beaten fifth at a mile under the Twin Spires Sept. 16 before going to the bench. Bet down here from 8-1 to 4-1 in the rain, the bay filly raced along the rail toward the rear of the field down the backstretch and around the far turn. At the quarter pole, Magical Lute bounced to the outside, exhibited strong energy and drove towards the wire to score by 1 1/2 lengths over Under Advisement (Mor Spirit). Third dam Listening (Night Shift) was herself a MGSW & MGSW, while Street Song produced a yearling filly by Daredevil and visited Nyquist last year. Sent off the 9-5 favorite here, the chestnut colt laid just to the outside of 2-1 second choice Patton's War (West Coast) down the backstretch. Rounding the far turn, as the pacesetter began to fade, Speakinofthedevel (Daredevil) ranged up on the Mike Maker trainee and looked to be in command in the stretch. Re-rallying, Hey Eugene mounted a comeback and ran on nicely to graduate by 1 1/2 lengths. REAPER (c, 2, Brethren--Horah for Bailey {SW}, by Doneraile Court), off at debut odds of 3-1, broke alertly from the rail post and took the lead down the backstretch. Despite a brief challenge from three others around the far turn, the bay colt charged ahead in the stretch run to win going away by 5 3/4 length over Saint No More (Gormley). Dam Horah for Bailey (Doneraile Court)'s first offspring Unicorn Girl (A.P. Five Hundred) is responsible for champion male sprinter Jackie's Warrior (Maclean's Music). The winner is a half-brother to Bernie the Maestro (Bernstein), MSW, $694,317 and a full to Turbo, SW, $174,628. Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $43,000. Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG. O/B-Arindel (FL); T-Juan Alvarado.

3rd-Gulfstream, $42,570, Msw, 4-21, 3yo/up, f/m, 6f, 1:11.73, ft, 6 1/4 lengths.

PARTY FAVOR (f, 3, Practical Joke--Lucky Rose, by Lookin At Lucky) came from off the pace on debut to win her maiden voyage. Chasing a pair of 9-5 co-favorites down the backstretch, the bay filly launched her outside bid towards the end of the far turn and rolled past her rivals down the lane for a 4 length victory, as She's Awesome (Flatter) settled for second. The winner is part of a female family who includes MGISW Zazu (Tapit) and her full-brother, GSW Flashback. Salem-Al Salem purchased Lucky Rose for $41,000 at this year's Keeneland January Sale and the mare foaled a full-brother to Party Favor (Feb. 24). MARKET REFLECTIONS: TATTERSALLS CRAVEN BREEZE-UP SALE

Breezing on the Rowley Mile | Emma Berry

By Emma Berry

Is bigger always better? Throughout the first evening of the Tattersalls Craven Breeze-up Sale one could have been forgiven for thinking that a rise in the number catalogued for the first of the European sales in this sector was not necessarily a good thing. At 202 in the book and 166 ultimately offered across the two days, this was the largest Craven Sale since 2007 and up significantly from the 164 catalogued and 134 offered last year.

For reasons that are hard to fathom, ungraded sales, with horses sold merely in alphabetical order of their dam's name, can often be wildly disparate in regard to results from the different sessions. While Tuesday evening's trade looked on the tough side, with the clearance rate dropping to 69% from last year's 78%, and a 9% and 10% slide in the average and median figures, Wednesday came rallying with a late charge to level things up considerably. A final-day clearance rate of 84% meant that overall the sale settled at 76%, largely the same as 2022, with the average up by 5% and median down by 11%.

The buying bench had its usual international feel, though Amo Racing, which spent just over 1.5 million gns under various guises at last year's Craven Sale, was a notable absentee. Ironically, Kia Joorabchian's operation then won the following day's G3 Craven S. with Arqana breeze-up graduate Indestructible (Ire) (Kodiak {GB}). Cont. p3

CROWN PRINCESSE TAKES THE CLEOPATRE

Providing another boost to TDN Rising Star Pensee Du Jour (Ire) (Camelot {GB}), Haras de Saint-Julien and Regula Vannod's Crown Princesse (Fr) (Zarak {Fr}--Lovedmedo {Fr}, by Zafeen {Fr}) stepped up on two prior efforts to capture Friday's G3 Prix Cleopatre at Saint-Cloud. Four-lengths second to that Fabre giant on debut over 9 1/2 furlongs on Chantilly's Polytrack in February, the Fabrice Chappet-trained homebred went back to the same track, trip and surface to break her maiden last month and entered this 10 1/2-furlong Prix de Diane pointer only as a lukewarm 11-1 shot.

Anchored with one behind early by Ioritz Mendizabal, the chestnut had to wait for room at the top of the straight as the eventual runner-up Elusive Princess (Fr) (Martinborough {Jpn}) ran into a dead end on the rail. In the open in time to get to the front approaching the furlong pole, she stayed on strongly to score by half a length from the unlucky second, with 3/4 of a length back to the long-time leader Heartache Tonight (Fr) (Recorder {GB}) in third. Market Reflections Cont. from p1

As ever, we hear about the big touches, such as Roderick Kavanagh and Cormac O'Flynn turning a 42,000gns December yearling into a 625,000gns breezer, but for every hit, there are plenty of misses. Those operating in the breeze-up sector are well used to spreading the risk and praying that one horse will cover potential losses on others, especially as the cost of the yearlings now turning up at breeze-up sales has risen considerably.

The number catalogued across the sector is also rising. Last year saw the introduction of the Goffs Dubai Sale during the Dubai World Cup week. Though this takes place in the Middle East, we can pretty much count it as a European sale, featuring as it does the same group of consignors. Across the six breeze-up sales, from Goffs Dubai in March, to Goresbridge in late May, a total of 1,115 juveniles have been catalogued this year, which is an increase of 92 (9%) from 2022.

The question on the minds of most consignors will be whether or not the specialised sector can sustain such an increase. In this sense, the breeze-ups may even have become a victim of their own success to a degree, following a banner year in which the headline horses were the Classic winners Native Trail (GB), Cachet (Ire) and Eldar Eldarov (GB).

At the top end of the Craven market, 10 horses sold for 250,000gns or more in both this year and last. This time around, 59 reached six figures, compared to 46 in 2022.

Vendor Views

Matt Eves is the managing partner of Star Bloodstock, which, like many consignors, had mixed results at the Craven Sale. From an original draft of four, one horse was withdrawn, one failed to reach her reserve, another sold for two and a half times his yearling price, while another had a setback after breezing well.

"From a personal perspective, it was a rollercoaster," said Eves candidly. "We had a Sea The Stars (Ire) colt on the first day, and he breezed really well and we had everybody looking at him and everybody on him. And then he comes out and he's got a slight lame step and suddenly it's a nightmare. So I went from having a horse that I was thinking was going to make 300 to 400,000 to having a horse that got 165,000 and nobody bidding in the ring."

He continued, "It felt, for most of the sale, that the catalogue was too big. If Tattersalls want to carry on doing a catalogue of this size, they need to look back to the success they had in 2020 [during a season interrupted by Covid] when they had an Ascot section and a Craven section. And if they go back to doing that, then from a consignor perspective it will feel a lot better, to go back to that split so you've got the speedy types in one bit of the book and you've got the more expensive horses in the other."

He added, "And what you had then was people coming in, they were looking for that Ascot horse, and you had the guys on the ground who would buy one for 40 grand. So if I got one that hadn't quite breezed like I'd hoped in the Craven section, I had a man on the ground who would give me 40 grand for it, whereas I didn't have that this year."

Eves also believes that a change in format would help proceedings. "The sale is always too long, the way it is spread out," he said. "The after-racing factor doesn't really have a massive impact in terms of getting people in so you need to think of a better way to do that."

What they did in 2020 actually worked really well."

He added, "I'll be fascinated by the end of the year to see if the increased volume of horses has meant the spend has gone up or if we've had the same spend spread thinner."

Brendan Holland of Grove Stud sold all three horses offered at the Craven, with two making a tidy profit, including the most expensive filly of the sale, a daughter of Night Of Thunder (Ire) bought for €90,000 and sold to Kerri Radcliffe on a behalf of an unnamed, new London-based client for 600,000gns.

"One of the main things from the first two sales has been the poor clearance rates," Holland said. In addition to the listed clearance rate of 76% at Tattersalls, the Dubai Sale weighed in at roughly the same on 74%.

"And there did seem to lack a middle market. On a positive note, there's new buyers for the top lots and there are more international buyers. They had an increased catalogue, the average did hold up, and the aggregate jumped accordingly. But on the back of such fantastic results last year in particular, and for a few years now, we would like to have seen a stronger clearance rate really, there's no doubt about that. I mean, it's a tough sector of the industry. You have to perform. It's not forgiving." Cont. p5

"I'LL BE FASCINATED BY THE END OF THE YEAR TO SEE IF THE INCREASED VOLUME OF HORSES HAS MEANT THE SPEND HAS GONE UP OR IF WE'VE HAD THE SAME SPEND SPREAD THINNER."

He added, "It is about separating them and trying to find the good ones. I accept that.

"We've done okay so far, but the worry this year starting the season was that there's an increase in the numbers overall being sold. I think the sales companies have struggled to contain the numbers, understandably. They've been inundated with applications. But it's been proven over the last 10 years that there is only a certain market for a certain number of breeze-up horses, and it's not a thousand; it's not anywhere near that. So I would think the theme will remain the same for the rest of season. There'll be plenty of money there, but there will be poor clearance rates."

Holland also believes that there is a misconception that 'better' horses are being held back for the Arqana sale in mid-May.

"As vendors, we keep hearing it, but we're selecting in January, and we have to remind them by the first week in February," he noted. "No-one knows in the first week of February who the best ones are. We pick them based on suitability for an early sale and a later sale, and it's a different type of horse. It's nothing to do with ability.

"I would traditionally have more late-maturing horses than early-maturing horses. I would struggle often to find what I would consider suitable Craven horses. I mean, I had three this week, I wish I had more, but when I sit down and go through the bunch, the drafts that I've bought, that's all I felt were suitable for a high-class early sale, which is what the Craven is.

"But as regards the better ones going to France, that's a ridiculous statement to make really, if you think about how the horses are selected in the first instance. We can't be selecting abilities in January because we don't know then."

Buyer Views

A skilled selector of young horses, Richard Ryan was in action at the Craven sale and signed for a Starspangledbanner (Aus) colt who will run in partnership for Teme Valley and Coolmore. A recent breeze-up purchase of his, the Group 1-placed French Claim (Fr) (French Fifteen {Fr}), runs in Saturday's Listed Vintage Crop S. at Navan.

From a buyer's perspective, Ryan opined that the middle market at the Craven was stronger than he had anticipated. He said, "I have been around a little while and I couldn't value accurately even closely on occasion. I was wide of the mark on many occasions to the tune of them far exceeding what I expected them to make.

"If you take the sums of some of those higher-echelon lots around the 600,000 mark, what would that get you in Book 1?

Would you expect to find something by a proven, Group 1 or Classic-producing stallion? Highly likely. From a very high-class page with a very effective broodmare sire that may even have stakes pretensions under the first dam? Highly likely.

"Spending that sort of number on a breezing two-year-old in April by a sire that has had a couple of maiden winners on occasion, that's all, and nowhere near Group 1-producing level yet, from some indifferent pages as well, and the fact that it has been asked to achieve a sub-12 second furlong for one or two furlongs, if at all, is actually head-scratching." He added, "In the global market for proven horses in training, £600,000 will get you a stakes winner. So I scratch my head a little bit at the rationale of some of those upper-echelons figures, but if two people are bidding against each other, then so be it."

He continued, "If you take a Sea The Stars or Dubawi, or for example Wootton Bassett, or a nice No Nay Never, something that has a rake of evidence supporting it, then there will be numbers of people willing to bat against each other. But even those by middle-market stallions, that weren't the dearest individuals as yearlings, probably aren't quite there yet and whose breezes were just adequate, were far exceeding my valuations in the mid-ranges, so I genuinely felt wide of the mark in terms of rationale behind the hammer fall this week."

Ryan, whose previous breeze-up purchases also include the stakes winners Mitcham (Ire), Peace Offering (Ire) and Buxted (Ire), added, "The breeze-up sector is an incredible indictment of the skills of the vendors. It shows the enormous depth of horsemanship they have as a wider team. It is quite impressive to say the least that they are able to produce a horse at this time of year, keep it intact without overdoing it, and giving the trainers that follow on cause for confidence."

Anthony Stroud is also no stranger to the full range of bloodstock sales and has enjoyed success through breeze-up purchases Native Trail, Sir Gerry and A'Ali (Ire) among others. At this year's sale he signed for the co-top lots, one for Godolphin and the other for an undisclosed client, among four purchases.

Regarding the increase in numbers this season, he said, "There's no doubt that the breeze-up sector is a very good medium for buying horses but it is difficult to know where all the clients will come from." Cont. p7

Of the Craven Sale in particular, for which the horses breeze on the turf of Newmarket's Rowley Mile on the Monday, followed by two post-racing sale sessions on Tuesday and Wednesday, Stroud added, "I think what's very difficult is that as the weather improved the ground got a bit better for the horses breezing later. Consistency of ground is very important for everyone, whether you start early in the morning or whether you're the last one up. People have to take account of that when they are doing the timings and the stride patterns. Going up the Rowley Mile for Tattersalls is a very good test but the consistency is something that needs to be discussed between the consignors and the sales company."

Stroud continued, "I think there needs to be a break of, say, 20 minutes during the breeze because it's quite a lot for people to take on board, the concentration levels required, though they are very efficient at getting through them quickly."

"They've added an extra 30 horses and the last horse I bought was at 9.40 on the Wednesday night. I think that's too late for everyone involved, especially the staff. Mind you, I don't think it necessarily makes any difference to how the sale goes. However late a horse sells, people will be there to buy the right horse."

The European breeze-up action moves on to Doncaster next week with the gallops session for the Goffs UK Breeze-up Sale taking place on Monday from 9am, followed the next day by the sale at 10am.

RACE PREVIEWS

ALL EYES ON CHALDEAN

by Tom Frary

Now that Indestructible (Ire) (Kodiac {GB}) has boosted the 2000 Guineas credentials of Chaldean (GB) (Frankel {GB}) when winning Newmarket's G3 Craven S., it is up to the star of Andrew Balding's Kingsclere base to strengthen them further in a fascinating G3 Watership Down Stud Too Darn Hot Greenham S. at Newbury.

Relentless during a 2-year-old campaign that took in York's G3 Acomb S., Doncaster's G2 Champagne S. and the all-important G1 Dewhurst S. at Newmarket, the chestnut offers perhaps the sternest competition to Ballydoyle's pair of loaded guns in a fortnight's time but first he has to get through soft ground again as he did at Doncaster.

"Like all of these trials, he's not 100% tuned up, but he's fit and well and ready to run a good race and we will see where that takes us," Juddmonte's racing manager Barry Mahon explained. "These trials are so tight, it's only two weeks to the Guineas from Newbury, so you don't want to go there 100% and have a hard race and leave your Guineas behind. He'll be 85 to 90% and in good form and as long as he runs a race with promise, no matter where he finishes, it will build us into the Guineas in two weeks time."

Into The Heat Of Battle

Up against Chaldean is KHK Racing's unbeaten TDN Rising Star Knight (Ire) (Mehmas {Ire}), who overcame heavy ground in the G3 Horris Hill S. over this course and seven-furlong distance in October.

Chaldean | Racingfotos.com

Knight | Racingfotos.com

Into black-type company for the first time, the similarly unbeaten money-spinner Streets Of Gold (Ire) (Havana Gold {Ire}) and impressive Doncaster novice scorer Theoryofeverything (GB) (Frankel {GB}) add weight to a Classic trial far deeper than its Newmarket equivalent.

Thady Gosden said of the latter, "He is a smartly-bred colt, so we decided he should take his chance in a very competitive race. It is as strong a Greenham as we have seen for a while, with plenty of smart horses in there and obviously it will be only his second run of his life. He is a good-moving colt who obviously handled deep ground at Doncaster and he'll handle the ground at Newbury."

Is She Remarqu-able?

If the Greenham is hot, the G3 Fred Darling S. is equally intriguing despite not boasting a standout performer like Chaldean. Any one of the unexposed fillies in the line-up could burst on to the 1000 Guineas scene and one who is attracting notable support is Julian Richmond-Watson's smooth Salisbury novice winner Remarquee (GB) (Kingman {GB}). From the family of the Oaks heroine Look Here (GB) (Hernando {Fr}), the Ralph Beckett trainee has something to find on bare form but has abundant promise and will be doing all her best work at the finish. "She has done well this winter. She will need the run, but she is training well," Beckett simply said.

Clarehaven Ambitions Clear

John and Thady Gosden are still looking for Guineas candidates and throw three at this with Godolphin's Yarmouth novice scorer Bridestones (Ire) (Teofilo {Ire}), a daughter of White Moonstone (Dynaformer), and Lady Bamford's Doncaster maiden winner Soul Sister (Ire) (Frankel {GB}) the ones with genuine potential. Saturday Previews Cont.

Amo Racing's golden spell could continue with Magical Sunset (Ire) (Kodiac {GB}), who issued a five-length beating to another Gosden runner here in Fully Wet (GB) (Kodiac {GB}) in the course-and-distance Listed Radley S. in October. It is worth remembering that she beat Sakheer (Ire) (Zoffany {Ire}) on debut at Windsor in August, a point that Amo's racing manager Tom Pennington was keen to stress on Friday.

"To beat Sakheer on debut on quick ground at Windsor was impressive and she was a bit unlucky not to win the Goffs Million at the Curragh, she suffered some really bad interference at halfway. We thought she would run well at Newbury but we didn't think she would win by five lengths, so we were delighted by that. Richard [Hannon] is very happy with her and she has been showing him all the right signs at home."

Making Up For Lost Time

In Newbury's opening G3 John Porter S., Hurricane Lane (Ire) (Frankel {GB}) bids to remind all what he is made of after a frustrating 2022 campaign. Denied a clear run at any stage by the lengthy dry spell, one of the previous season's leading lights is re-opposed by old foe Mojo Star (Ire) (Sea The Stars {Ire}) who also showed up only briefly as a 4-year-old.

"You cannot fault the horse at home. He retains all his old zest and he looks great," Charlie Appleby said of Hurricane Lane. "We will know early in his 5-year-old campaign whether or not the Arc is a realistic target."

In front of Hurricane Lane in the 2021 Derby but behind him in the Irish equivalent and St Leger, Amo Racing's older flagship Mojo Star split the staying giants Kyprios (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) and Stradivarius (Ire) (Sea The Stars {Ire}) in Royal Ascot's G1 Gold Cup on what was to be a notable sole visit to the races last term.

Trainer Richard Hannon said, "He's done plenty of work and been away to gallop, so should be pretty straight. But this is his first run in a while, so he's entitled to improve for it and we're working back from the Ascot Gold Cup. I'm very happy with him and while the trip is on the short side, this is a good place to kick off his season."

Big Guns Re-Emerge At Navan

At Navan, the Listed Irish Stallion Farms EBF Committed S. sees a star cast assemble in Ballydoyle's G1 Middle Park S. runner-up The Antarctic (Ire) (Dark Angel {Ire}) and G2 Futurity S.-winning 'TDN Rising Star' Aesop's Fables (Ire) (No Nay Never) and The Aga Khan's G2 Railway S. winner Shartash (Ire) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}), with Royal Ascot's sprints on the horizon.

Starting the road to the G1 Gold Cup at that meeting are the impressive G3 Loughbrown S. scorer Emily Dickinson (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}) and fellow Aidan O'Brien-trained Bolshoi Ballet (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) in the Listed Vintage Crop S. which is often the launchpad for the stable's key stayers.

The 2023 Oaks contenders take in the Listed Irish Stallion Farms EBF Salsabil S., with another from Rosegreen in the Naas maiden scorer Jackie Oh (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) looking set to start favourite. Out of Jacqueline Quest (Ire) (Rock Of Gibraltar {Ire}), the Triermore Stud colour-bearer encounters Flaxman Stables' Foniska (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), a daughter of the 2015 Salsabil winner Bocca Baciata (Ire) (Big Bad Bob {Ire}) from the same Jessica Harrington yard.

ZOFFANY FILLY A NEW RISING STAR AFTER NEWBURY ROMP

by Tom Frary

In his first season training in his own right, Jack Channon has at least one very smart individual on his hands as the newcomer Gather Ye Rosebuds (GB) (Zoffany {Ire})--Chelsey Jayne {Ire}, by Galileo {Ire}) spreadeagled an assembly of well-bred 3-year-old fillies in Friday's 10-furlong Dreweatts Maiden Fillies' S. at Newbury to earn a 'TDN Rising Star' tag.

Slowly away under Connor Beasley, the 33-1 shot who races for Linda Shanahan and Emily Magnier was quickly able to gain a pitch tracking the leader before moving to the front approaching the final two furlongs. Extending clear from the well-regarded Amo Racing newcomer Maman Joon (Ire) (Sea The Stars {Ire}) soon after, the granddaughter of Lady Lahar (GB) (Fraam {GB}), who captured the Futurity S. for Mick Channon when it was a Group 3 in the millennium year, hit the line with 9 1/2 lengths to spare over that Richard Hannon trainee. A 400,000gns Book 1 purchase, Maman Joon was in turn 2 1/2 lengths in front of Meon Valley's experienced Mistral Star (GB) (Frankel {GB}), a daughter of the Oaks and Irish Oaks runner-up Shirocco Star (GB) (Shirocco {Ger}). Cont. p10

"It was just a matter of keeping her in her rhythm on this sort of ground, but she ran straight as a gun barrel and travelled really strongly--she gave me a good feel," the winning rider said.

"I was with Paul Shanahan at the Newmarket sales when Mick Channon came in and we started chatting," MV Magnier told TDN Europe.

"We asked him was there anything that caught his eye. He mentioned a very athletic filly by Zoffany out of a Galileo mare in Charlie Vigors draft at Hillwood. He had trained a lot of the family and he suggested we buy her.

"We have known the Channon family a long time and they are great people. We noticed it was bred by Barry Walters who is a long-standing client of Coolmore , so we ended up buying her and Mick explained that he was handing over the yard to his son Jack who would train her.

That's exactly how it happened."

Gather Ye Rosebuds is the fifth 'TDN Rising Star' for the much-missed Zoffany, whose others include his G2 Mill Reef S.-winning 3-year-old son Sakheer (Ire) who is a leading player in the upcoming G1 2000 Guineas and the G1 Vincent O'Brien National S. hero Thunder Moon (Ire). She is a half-sister to the former West Ilsley star Certain Lad (GB) (Clodovil {Ire}), who took the G3 Strensall S. and was placed in the G2 Huxley S. and G2 Railway S.

The aforementioned Lady Lahar was one of the better early Mick Channon trainees and also placed in the G2 Falmouth S. and G2 Cherry Hinton S. before producing the G3 Prix du Pin winner and G1 Premio Vittorio di Capua runner-up Jallota (GB) (Rock Of Gibraltar {Ire}), the Listed Montrose Fillies' S. winner Classic Legend (GB) (Galileo {Ire}) and the G1 Nassau S. third Rawdaa (GB) (Teofilo {Ire}). 'SHE LOOKS A BIT SPECIAL' - 72-YEAR-OLD BREEDER EXCITED AFTER NEWBURY ROMP

By Brian Sheerin

Barry Walters, the breeder of impressive Newbury winner Gather Ye Rosebuds (GB) (Zoffany {Ire}), has described what it means to see the filly advertise her claims for Classic glory after spending over 30 years nurturing her family.

The Welshman sold Gather Ye Rosebuds through Charlie Vigors's Hillwood Stud at Book 2 at Tattersalls to Mick Channon on behalf of Linda Shanahan and Emily Magnier in 2020.

Seeing the filly win by almost 10 lengths on debut for Jack Channon on Friday--and earn a 'TDN Rising Star' nod in the process--makes pouring over the family and nurturing the pedigree for over three decades worthwhile, according to the 72-year-old.

He said, "She looks a bit special after that. It has been a good old family to me and for very little money. I bought her great granddam [Brigadiers Bird (Ire) (Mujadil)] for 5,400 punts. Her first horse was a Group winner called Lady Lahar (GB) (Fraam {GB}) who bred the dam [Chelsey

Jayne (Ire) (Galileo {Ire})] of Gather Ye Rosebuds.

"The dam is also the first foal born by Galileo. I looked at Galileo as a three-year-old and he looked a very special horse. I can remember my late wife Margaret Anne saying that, if I can't breed winners out of him, I may give the job up. I've been breeding for over 30 years and my wife's family were all blacksmiths, which is how we came into horses."

Walters revealed that Chelsey Jayne is not in foal after visiting Ten Sovereigns (Ire) in the spring. The 20-year-old broodmare has nothing else coming through, with Gather Ye Rosebuds the last foal she has produced.

However, all is not lost for Walters, who has a half a dozen mares at home on his farm in Wales who are related to the Oaks prospect.

"Chelsey Jane would only ever breed every other year," he explained. "When you left her empty, she'd go back in foal the following year. She was a funny mare that way."

"It's nice to see the person we sold the horse to having a lot of luck. Everyone you sell to, you like to see them having luck."

He added, "She's a mare who has made a lot of people money. We sold a lot of her stock and they went on to make quite a bit of money for other people down the road, which is good to see. I sold her brother [The Statesman (GB)] to Coolmore for £60,000 in 2015 and then they sold him out of training for 90,000gns."

"The year after that, he was then sold again for 310,000gns at the horses-in-training sales to go to Australia. You need luck in life. She always produced good-looking horses and I'd say that came from Galileo."

Walters has just 10 mares breeding on his farm in Wales and has already enjoyed notable success with Chelsey Jane given she is the producer of Channon's seven-time winner Certain Lad (GB) (Clodovil {Ire}).

On what the future holds for his breeding operation, he added, "Chelsey Jane is in Coolmore and has been covered but is not in foal. That news came over the weekend. She went to Ten Sovereigns but unfortunately it didn't work. Some mares will breed on but she shows her age a little bit. It would have been nice to have had one last shot with her but it looks like it's not going to happen yet. Gather Ye Rosebuds is the last out of the mare but we still have a lot of the family at home."

Happy Romance, a dual Group 3 winner domestically with a defeat of Alcohol Free on her resume, placed in last year's G1 Al Quoz Sprint at Meydan and G3 Turf Sprint Cup in Saudia Arabia and lined up for this European comeback returning off unplaced efforts in this year's renewal of both contests. The well-backed 10-3 chance was squeezed for room breaking from an outer stall and raced within range of the leaders in ninth through the initial fractions. Nudged along soon after halfway, she quickened in style down the outside and swooped late under a final-furlong drive to register a fourth black-type triumph in ultimately snug fashion.

"It was an obvious step down in grade from the Al Quoz last time, but we were drawn on the wing in that race too and she was unable to give her best running," said winning rider Sean Levey. "She is very straightforward, she's danced every dance and seldom runs a bad race. When they're like that, and have been around as long as she has, you can't help but love 'em. I can't see why she wouldn't be able to make the step back up to Group 3 and Group 2 level and maybe she can have another crack at a higher grade."

Happy Romance is the seventh of nine foals and one of four winners produced by an unraced half-sister to G3 Kokura Nisai S. winner Meiner Eternel (Ire) (Tamayuz {GB}) and Listed Coolmore S. victor Warsaw (Ire) (Danehill Dancer {Ire}). The March-foaled bay is kin to the hitherto unraced 2-year-old filly Anyone Home (Ire) (U S Navy Flag). Descendants of her stakes-placed third dam Silca-Cisa (GB) (Hallgate {GB}) include G1 Prix Morny heroine Silca's Sister (GB) (Inchior {GB}), MGSW G1 1000 Guineas and G1 Coronation S. runner-up Golden Silca (GB) (Inchior {GB}) and G1 Moyglare Stud S. and G1 Cheveley Park S. placegetter Silca Chiave (GB) (Pivotal {GB}).

MILITARY ORDER (IRE) (c, 3, Frankel {GB})--Anna Salai {GSW-Fr, G1SP-Ire & SP-Eng, $158,818}, by Dubawi {Ire}) backed up an Oct. 1 debut fourth tackling seven furlongs at Newmarket with a breakthrough score upped to one mile back later that month and broke sharply to hold an uncontested lead from the outset of a contest used as a launchpad by Hurricane Lane (Ire) (Frankel {GB}), Star Of Seville (GB) (Duke Of Marmalade {Ire}), Enable (GB) (Nathaniel {Ire}) and Light Shift (Kingmambo) in recent years. In command throughout this latest Darley Novice series heat, the even-money favourite bounded clear under mild urging once inside the final quarter-mile and was pushed out in the closing stages to easily account for Exoplanet (Fr) (Sea The Stars {Fr}) by an impressive four lengths.

"As we know, he's got the pedigree to go and do something like that and that was a very pleasing performance," said trainer Charlie Appleby of the May 18 G2 Dante S. and June 3 G1 Betfred Derby entry. "Adayar won on soft ground as a 2-year-old, so while we felt he'd handle it I don't think we're going to see any horse at its best on it. He handled it and he handled it better than all of them. He stays well and we'll look towards one of the trials now. Whether we go down the same route as his brother, and maybe look towards Lingfield as that is a track which can teach them plenty, I don't know. You've got all the rest of them like Chester and the Dante and we'll have some nice conversations going forward."

Military Order is the fifth of six live foals and one of two scorers produced by GSW G1 Irish 1000 Guineas runner-up Anna Salai (Dubawi {Ire}), the other being G1 Derby and G1 King George hero Adayar (Ire) (Frankel {GB}). The April-foaled homebred bay is also half to an unnamed 2-year-old filly by Exceed And Excel (Aus). Anna Salai is kin to three black-type performers and to the dams of G1 Prix Lean-Luc Lagardere-winning sire National Defense (GB) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}) and stakes-winning G1 Woolavington 2000 third Dubai Gina (Aus) (Dubai Destination). "He's always been a nice colt, but we were in two minds whether to run him on that ground," trainer Richard Hannon said. "I love the way he travelled. He'll need another run before then, which could be back here at the Lockinge meeting." Moracana snagged a nose verdict in a bobbing finish to last term's €150,000 Petingo H. at Leopardstown on Irish Champions Weekend, but faltered in the Naas mud when posting off-the-radar efforts in October's Listed Bluebell S. and November's Listed Finale S. last time. The 22-1 outsider occupied a midfield berth from the outset of this third black-type start. Bustled along rounding the home turn, she kept on relentlessly in the straight and would not be denied under a drive inside the final quarter-mile to claim a career high in the dying strides.

"We thought she wanted soft ground after winning a big handicap on Champions Weekend in Leopardstown, so we were really looking forward to her two late runs in Naas [last year]," explained breeder-trainer Sheila Lavery. "She hated the [soft and heavy] going, so how wrong did I get that? Robbie [Colgan] said that she was so relaxed and knew, when he pulled her out, she would get there. I had the grandmother, her mother and bred this one, so it is great for a filly to get black type. It is what you want. I sold her to [owner] Sue [Chadwick] after her [debut] run in Navan [in August 2021]. Quite often I jump up too quickly, so it'll be baby steps and she will stick to good ground. She is so relaxed she could stay further and I'll sit down and have a proper look at her upcoming races now."

Moracana, the second of two foals and winners, is the leading performer produced by a multiple-winning half-sister to the dam of G3 Premio Primi Passi victor Chilworth Icon (GB) (Sixties Icon {GB}). The May-foaled bay's Natalma S.-winning fifth dam Ocean's Answer (Northern Answer) is the second dam of MG1SW sire Green Tune (Green Dancer) and G1SW European champion Pas de Reponse (Danzig), who are but two of her many elite-level descendants.

5th-Cork, €17,000, Cond, 4-21, 3yo, 10f 30yT, 2:13.42, gd/yl. ALDER (IRE) (c, 3, Australia {GB})--Eccentricity, by Kingmambo shed maiden status at Killarney in July, following up with a third behind subsequent G1 Futurity Trophy hero Auguste Rodin (Ire) (Deep Impact {Jpn}) in Leopardstown's Sept. 10 G2 Golden Fleece S. last time, and employed patient tactics after an alert getaway from the outside stall in this first start beyond the one-mile trip. Fourth and the only one of five on the bridle entering the final quarter-mile, the 5-2 second choice launched his challenge out wide passing the furlong marker and quickened in taking style from there to win, going away, by 1 1/2 lengths from Bertinelli (Justify). "We always thought he was a smart horse, he had good form behind Auguste Rodin last year and has done very well over the winter," said Donnacha O'Brien of the May 18 G2 Dante, June 3 G1 Betfred Derby and July 2 G1 Irish Derby entry.

"He has a big engine and it was nice to get him started. He has a turn of foot and, while he will stay 12 furlongs, he isn't a horse who is crying out for 14 furlongs. He is one to look forward to and whether he knows enough for Epsom, I don't know. We'll have a think about it, we'll have a look at a trial and then on to a Derby."

Alder is the 11th of 13 foals and one of nine scorers produced by a daughter of G1 Tattersalls Gold Cup heroine Shiva (Jpn) (Hector Protector) and the March-foaled chesnut is a full-brother to the unraced 2-year-old filly Cherry Wild (Ire) and a yearling colt. He is also a half to G3 Derrinstown Stud 1000 Guineas Trial runner-up Radiantly (GB) (Aussie Rules). Shiva is a full-sister to MGSW sire Limnos (Jpn) and kin to G1 Oaks heroine Light Shift (Kingmambo), herself the dam of MG1SW sire Ulysses (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}). Shiva is also the granddam of last term's G1 Irish Derby second Piz Badile (Ire) (Ulysses {Ire}) and dual Group 2 winner Threat (Ire) (Footstepsinthesand {GB}). Descendants of Alder's third dam Lingerie (GB) (Shirley Heights {GB}) are headed by MGISW dual US champion Main Sequence (Aldebaran), G1 Prix Ganay-winning sire Cloth Of Stars (Ire) (Sea The Stars {Ire}) and the elite-level performers Magadan (Ire) (High Chaparral {Ire}), Hyades (Aldebaran) and Smoking Sun (Smart Strike). Unleashed wide to join battle with The First And Last (Ire) (No Nay Never) a furlong from home, the 40-1 shot edged out that rival in the final stride to prevail by a short head. The winner is the last known foal out of the recently-deceased dam, who captured the G2 Park Hill S. and is a half to the G2 Blandford S. scorer and G1 British Champions Fillies & Mares S. runner-up Belle De Crecy (Ire) (Rock Of Gibraltar {Ire}). KINGSWOOD (GB) (c, 3, Roaring Lion--All At Sea {GB} {MSW-Fr, $133,622}, by Sea The Stars {Ire}) returned off an Aug. 27 debut sixth behind G3 Killavullan S. victor Cairo (Ire) (Quality Road) at the Curragh with an Oct. 2 second at Tipperary last time and accepted a tow in fourth after an alert exit here. Biding his time in the straight, the 5-1 chance quickened into contention at the quarter-mile marker and kept on strongly under a late drive to defeat Intellotto (Ire) (Lope De Vega {Ire}) by 1 1/4 lengths in snug fashion.

"He was a big-framed 2-year-old and a little light, but we were a touch disappointed with how he finished off at the Curragh," explained trainer John O'Donoghue. "We got him on to easier ground second time and saw the horse we knew. Today was the plan for a long time and roll on the summer. I was quietly confident beforehand and it is a plan well executed. I'd imagine he'll run in a Derby trial and he is in the [July 2 G1] Irish Derby and the [July 14 G1] Grand Prix de Paris. I think he will be better with some cushion under him."

Kingswood is the fourth of six foals and third scorer out of three-time stakes victrix All At Sea (GB) (Sea The Stars {Ire}), whose four black-type siblings include the dam of MG1SW G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe heroine Alpinista (GB) (Frankel {GB}). The February-foaled grey, whose second dam is MG1SW matriarch Albanova (GB) (Alzao), is a half-brother to G1 St Leger hero Eldar Eldarov (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}), Listed Rothesay S. third A La Voile (GB) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}), the unraced 2-year-old filly A La Belle Etoile (Ire) (Study Of Man {Ire}) and a yearling colt by Lope De Vega (Ire). GODOLPHIN'S NINE-TIME GROUP 1 WINNER ANAMOE RETIRED TO DARLEY KELVINSIDE

Anamoe | Bronwen Healy

Godolphin homebred Anamoe (Aus) (Street Boss--Anamato {Aus}, by Redoute's Choice {Aus}), a nine-time Group 1 winner, has been retired from racing and will stand at Darley Kelvinside in the Hunter Valley. The most successful horse to ever race at Group 1 level in the royal blue, the November-born foal will stand for A$121,000 (inc. GST) at the operation's New South Wales-based stud.

Godolphin trainer James Cummings said, "Our team is proud of all he has achieved during his racing career. He has never let us down and has been there for us at every start. We wish him all the best in his retirement and we can't wait to seeing his progeny coming through the stables in the years to come.

"It has been an immense honour and privilege for our team to care for Anamoe and guide him through his racing career. His health has always been our top priority and we take great pride in retiring him in such excellent condition."

Only the second horse in over 20 years to win top-flight races at two, three and four in his native land, Anamoe was placed in both the G1 Blue Diamond S. and the G1 Golden Slipper S. prior to claiming the G1 Sires' Produce S. by three lengths as a juvenile. At three the G1 Caulfield Guineas and G1 Rosehill Guineas went his way before he took second, with interference, in the G1 Cox Plate. Last August marked the first of four consecutive Group 1 race victories in the Winx S. He added the George Main S., Might And Power, and Cox Plate in succession. In the Australian autumn, his record was further bolstered by scores in the G1 Chipping Norton S. and G1 George Ryder S. His career finale was a good third in the G1 Queen Elizabeth S. earlier this month and he retires with a record of 25-14-5-3 and $7,710,095 in earnings.

Vin Cox, Managing Director of Godolphin in Australia, added, "It is bittersweet to see Anamoe retire from the racetrack. As an iconic figure for Godolphin and the world of horseracing, he leaves a legacy that will not be forgotten and he has nothing more to prove.

"The trifecta of performance, pedigree, and attitude are the most critical factors breeders consider and he possesses them all in spades. As he embarks on his new journey on the prestigious Darley roster, there's no doubt that he is the most sought after and exceptional stallion Australia has ever seen."

Earlier this year, the Southern Hemisphere 4-year-old had been nominated for the G1 Lockinge S. at Newbury next month, and he was also under consideration for a Royal Ascot bid as recently as Apr. 13 before connections decided to call time on his career.

The eighth foal out of G1 Australian Oaks heroine Anamato, who also ran third in the GI American Oaks Invitational S. in America, the bay is a half-brother to Irish stakes winner and G3 Weld Park S. second Anamba (GB) (Shamardal). Anamoe's extended family includes G1 Oakleigh Plate hero Drum (Aus) (Maurauding {NZ}) and Australian Champion Older Horse Grand Armee (Aus) (Hennessy), as well as the New Zealand Champion 2-Year-Old Yourdeel (NZ) (Dundeel {NZ}).
