

A DERBY-WINNING DUO: THE FATHER AND SON TEAM BEHIND MAGE

by Katie Petrunyak

When Gustavo Delgado, Jr. was a young boy, his father would drag him out of bed early every morning to go to the racetrack. Growing up in a household that also included his mother, two sisters and a female cousin, Delgado eventually came to look forward to those trackside adventures spending quality time with his father Gustavo Delgado, Sr., a member of the Caribbean Racing Hall of Fame as a three-time winner of Venezuela's equivalent of the Triple Crown.

As a teenager, Delgado, Jr. relished the celebrity-like status that came with being the son of a local legend.

'WE ALMOST SHOCKED THE WORLD'

by Chris McGrath

They know perfectly well, by this stage, that the apostrophe shouldn't be there. They've been asked, and told, about it often enough. But you know what? They're fine with that. They have come round to the view that it fits the horse, that quirky outlying touch; fits their whole story. Because really there's no way they should be here, either.

"Every year, 20,000 foals are born," reflects Anthony Sagan. "And only 20 make it to the Derby. But not only did we make it, we were a length off winning it. We almost pulled it off, almost shocked the world."

Sagan's father Phillip is one of the two octogenarian namesakes in the entourage who prompted the naming of Two Phil's (Hard Spun), that consoling sunbeam through the black clouds that had gathered over our sport last Saturday.

Even the 20 who drew a gate for the GI Kentucky Derby had not yet finally confounded the odds. No fewer than five were withdrawn between declaration and post time, three substitutes completing a field of 18. But Two Phil's, bred from the only Thoroughbred the Sagan family ever bought and ignored by every expert in the first session of the Keeneland September Sale, not only showed that he belonged. He actually took command turning into the stretch, and saw off every challenger bar Mage (Good Magic).

Second place, so near and yet so far, notoriously invites mixed feelings.

Mage's father and son team, cont. from p1

"He has always been sort of a superhero for me because he has always been at the top wherever he's been," explained Delgado. "Everywhere we went, people were always asking for tips, asking who to bet on that weekend, that kind of thing. I grew up with that and I always felt special because that was my dad."

In 2014, the elder Delgado decided to leave a thriving stable in his home country behind at the age of 60 and pursue a lifelong dream of making it to the top of the game in the U.S. It wasn't long before the Delgado name was well known on the Florida racing circuit.

One year after his father moved to the States, Delgado, Jr. made a trip to New York to watch American Pharoah claim the 2015 Triple Crown. Before traveling back home, he made a quick stop in Miami to visit his father. While there, his father pitched him on staying in Florida to be his assistant.

At first, Delgado, Jr. was hesitant. When his father left Venezuela, Delgado was left in charge of their home stable and he was excited to be overseeing some nice local horses on his own at the age of 28. But ultimately, he decided to follow his father and the vision he had been painting for his son since childhood.

"Since I was a little kid, he was telling me all the time that we should go and try to win one of those races," Delgado recalled. "Every time the big Classics came on, we were all watching from Venezuela. He always told me that he didn't have any doubt that if we had the right horse, we could win. So he was kind of selling me his dreams, and I bought them all."

After the Delgados joined forces in America, their stable continued to flourish. They had their first Grade I winner in the U.S. in 2016 with Paulo Queen (Flatter) in the GI Test S. 2016 GII Mac Diarmida S. victor Grand Tito (Candy Ride {Arg}) and Speed Franco (Declaration of War), who won the 2018 GIII Dania Beach S., also helped them gain recognition early. Cont.

They went to their first GI Kentucky Derby in 2019 with Bodexpress (Bodemeister), who finished 13th but later became a Grade I winner in the 2020 Clark S.

Delgado, Jr. said that the father-son pair has always worked well together, but he laughed and gave a wry grin when asked about if they ever run into any training-related disagreements.

"We're best friends more than a relationship between father and son," he explained. "I always say that I'm his biggest fan. Of course, he's not perfect. He can be stubborn. He's like a Lambo. He can go from zero to 200 miles per hour in five seconds. Me, I'm more quiet and chill. I try to be the guy who makes him more chill. When an employee wants to give us bad news, they always come to me first because they don't want to tell him. I'm like the middle man."

"He's a genuine guy," he continued. "I mean, my dad will tell you straight away what he thinks. A filter? He doesn't use that. But that's a good thing about him. I love that about him."

So, with decades of familiarity with his father's outspokenness, when Delgado, Jr. bought a rather pricey chestnut 2-year-old last year and his father made it known that he was not too keen on the purchase, Delgado did not bat an eye.

"Fun fact, he didn't like the horse the first time he saw him," Delgado said. "He didn't like him because he's got parrot mouth. I remember he looked at me and said, 'The next time you are buying a horse, send me a video first and don't buy a parrot mouth.' But I told him, 'Trust me, this guy can run.'"

That horse, who came to be known as Mage (Good Magic), will be Delgado's forever reminder to trust his instincts. With partner Ramiro Restrepo, he stretched their budget to $290,000 at last year's Fasig-Tipton Midlantic Sale to bring home a future GI Kentucky Derby winner.

"Sometimes it's about following your gut, your intuition," he said. "I loved the horse. We didn't have the money." Cont.

Delgado continued: "We had the credit, but not the money. I told Ramiro, 'Listen, this is the horse. We shouldn't be hesitating. This is the horse we're getting and then we'll find out where the money is going to come from.'"

"It played out well," he added.

At 15-1 odds, Mage brought home a Kentucky Derby victory for the Delgados' OGMA Investments and Ramiro Restrepo, along with Sam Herzberg's Sterling Racing LLC and Brian Doxtator and Chase Chamberlin's Commonwealth. The Delgados' lifelong dream had come to fruition.

Seeing all his family members gathering around for a photo in the winner's circle, Delgado, Jr. said, brought back memories of when he was a little boy celebrating big wins with his father back in their home country.

"My mom, my two sisters and my nephews and nieces were here together," he said. "My nieces and nephews are so little--they are between five and nine years old--and for them to have that kind of experience, I think that was one of the things that I feel most proud of. I know they will never forget being there. When you're so little, that goes through your subconscious. That will stay with you forever. So they will look at my dad like a superhero and maybe me as well."

All systems are officially 'go' for a trip to Baltimore this weekend, as the Mage team confirmed Friday morning. Delgado, Jr.'s confidence in his horse is at an all-time high ahead of next Saturday's GI Preakness S.

"Everything about him special," he said of Mage. "He's fast and he's got a good mind. He's so quiet. When he's around an environment that might be noisy with people around him, he's so chill about it. [He is able to] go in between horses during the race. He can keep back, he can be in the middle, inside or outside. He doesn't care about anything like that."

No matter the outcome in the Preakness, or how far their success grows from here, the Delgados will always remember Mage as the horse that made a lifelong dream become a reality.

"It's been overwhelming in a good way," Delgado, Jr. said as he reflected on an unforgettable week. "When you ask what was the purpose of accomplishing something like this, it's about showing people that it can be done. Because the thing is, if you look back on not having the same resources, not having the same tools [as other] people trying to accomplish something like this, it gives you a good perspective that it can be done. This just started with a vision, with a dream. We imagined that we can do it. We didn't know where that horse was coming from or where the money was coming from. We didn't have a plan. We just wanted to do it."

But the Two Phil's team are still buzzing from an unforgettable day, even if it's only human to dwell on the bittersweet sense that Two Phil's touched, but could not quite grasp, the hem of turf history.

"Yes, we were happy and sad all in the same moment," Sagan admits. "We were so proud of the horse and what he's accomplished." Cont.

Anthony Sagan with Two Phil's | Courtesy Anthony Sagan

Sagan continued: "And we were sad because we just almost did it--and the odds of us getting ever back to there are... Well, it's like winning the lottery, will be in the billions. So many people try to get to the Derby every year, so many big-time owners and sheikhs and billionaires. And a little guy like us, we almost pulled it off."

There had been corresponding support for the team all week, on the backside, and above all during the coveted "walkover" with Two Phil's, and the 17 others elected by fate, from the barns to the paddock. Being relative novices--the Sagans had previously only dabbled in a few Standardbreds--they were taken aback by the emotional intensity of that ritual.

"We didn't even realize that it was such a big deal, and what it entailed," Sagan acknowledges. "It was an incredible experience; I can't even describe it. People along the rail, yelling and cheering and high-fiving us, screaming for Two Phil's: 'Let's go!' I'd never seen anything like this in my life. We didn't know how many fans the horse had out there. I think he'd kind of become a fan favorite, kind of the hard-working, blue-collar horse."

He was also a Chicago horse, in spirit at least. His trainer Larry Rivelli won every Arlington training title from 2014 until the track's heartbreaking closure in 2021 by the same corporation that now provided the stage for this fairytale. Co-owner Vince Foglia of Patricia's Hope LLC, meanwhile, had been leading owner there since 2015. And Jareth Loveberry, who started out round a "five-eighths bull-ring" at Great Lakes Downs 18 years ago, had won its last two riding titles. Cast adrift from Arlington, here they were coming ashore with a horse that asked no favors and gave no quarter.

Poignantly, the Sagan family had spent their harness days at another doomed Illinois circuit, Maywood Park. In dipping their toe into the Thoroughbred world, however, they gave $40,000 for an unraced 3-year-old filly by a failed stallion, General Quarters. She had been recommended by two seasoned horsemen, Jerry La Sala and Gene Lotti, and their judgement was vindicated when Mia Torri became a dual stakes winner and twice finished second in graded stakes.

At this point they reached the first of many junctions, many roads not taken, on the winding road that ultimately led to last Saturday.

Mage and Two Phil's in the Derby | Coady Photography

"The smart move would have been to sell her," Sagan concedes. "At one point, we were being offered $300,000--plus for Mia Torri as a broodmare prospect. But she always had a special meaning to us. We'd named her after my grandma. And I always had a gut instinct, even when she got hurt and had to retire, that she could be something more. Horses like this don't come around very often. If you take the money, and then go out and buy some others, what are the chances you'll find one as good as this? The odds are way against you."

It didn't look as though the gamble would pay off after Mia Torri lost her first foal, but she went back to Hard Spun for her second cover. This priceless conduit to the great Danzig had been picked out for the Thoroughbred rookies by Steve Leving, another stalwart of the Chicago racing scene. (Indeed, he would eventually re-enter the saga as Loveberry's agent.)

Hard Spun was tough, classy, versatile, and fairly priced--and he also complemented the mare physically.

"Fortunately, the foal got the father's body and frame," Sagan recalls. "Mia Torri's well put together, but she's not a really big, powerful-looking mare. But right from when he was born, he also got his mom's head: her demeanor, her attitude, her mental fortitude."

The colt was foaled, raised and broken by Elise Handler at Spruceton Farm, Kentucky: yet another instance, in this story, of someone seizing a rare opportunity and reaching the highest standards. Handler got him through some of the usual baby issues and by the time the Keeneland inspectors came, they wanted to put him into Book I of the September Sale. But here was another twist in the road.

"Because with his pedigree he probably didn't probably belong in that first book," Sagan says. "These people were experts, they knew what they were doing, and obviously saw something they liked in him. But placing him where they did probably kept us involved in the horse. Because if he'd been in Book III, we would probably have sold for $100,000."

As it was, Hip 62 didn't meet his reserve at $150,000. They tried again, at OBS the following spring, and Jimmy Gladwell has since told Sagan that the colt had outworked all his other charges that winter. But he didn't sparkle in his breeze and it was clear that he would fall through the market cracks. Cont.

"You know what?" Gladwell said. "He's better than this. Take him home."

With the fathers of Sagan and La Sala both sharing the same name, the colt was registered as Two Phil's and entered training with Rivelli, whose main patron Foglia also bought into the horse. (Latterly, the horse having put himself in the Derby picture, Madaket Stables came in for a piece too.) And the rest is history: Two Phil's emulated Hard Spun by winning the race now known as the GIII Jeff Ruby S., before finishing second in the big one.

The Turfway race also produced Rich Strike (Keen Ice) to stun everyone in the Derby last year, but Two Phil's arrived with far wider belief behind him—not least after taking to the track so well in the GIII Street Sense S. last fall. So, while the whole team was cognizant of their privilege simply in securing a Derby gate, they weren't just in town for the ride.

"Just qualifying for the race, yes, that was a major accomplishment for this horse," Sagan says. "But we believed that we had a real chance to win. I got there on Monday, because I knew that this was a once-in-a-lifetime shot and wanted to take it all in. And every morning on the backstretch people came up, wanted to take pictures and talk."

A big Chicago crew assembled on raceday: Sagan's sisters, his nieces and nephews, a bunch of cousins and friends. And of course, Foglia had a lot of people with him, too, as did Rivelli. It felt like they had a long afternoon ahead, hanging out, walking around, soaking it up. The two Phils, characters both, did a spot on NBC. And before they knew it, it was time for the walkover. Then a media group not only trained a camera on Sagan but hooked him up with a microphone and even a heart monitor.

"They said they wanted to share the experience of an owner watching the Derby," Sagan recalls. "I said, 'Guys, I might swear a little bit!' They said not to worry, they'd get rid of that. But if we won, this would be all over the world news. My dad was down on the rail, but he couldn't even pick his head up. He was so nervous, he wouldn't watch it. He wanted to win for my mom. She just passed in December, she loved the horse, and would have been so proud to be a part of this. So, it was emotional for all of us."

Two Phil's | Coady Photography

That heart monitor must have melted when Loveberry pounced from his stalking position.

"When he took the lead in the stretch, it really felt like we were going to win the Derby," Sagan says. "I knew this horse has a huge heart, how hard he tries every time. Every other horse that had been near the front, they all finished 14, 25, 50 lengths back. But Two Phil's kicked on and got beat a length. The race he ran wins the Derby, like, nine out of 10 years. He ran a phenomenal race but hats off to Mage, we just came up short."

Though Rivelli has decided to sit out the GI Preakness S., Two Phil's has put himself firmly in the elite of the crop and promises all kinds of excitement in the second half of the campaign. Meanwhile he has also brightened the future for his dam, who was bred back to Omaha Beach this spring. The Spendthrift stallion is already sire of her 2-year-old colt, apparently very handsome but just held up by a minor issue as a $32,000 RNA at Fasig-Tipton's Kentucky October Sale. He is in pre-training with Gladwell, while a yearling colt by McKinzie is being prepared for a likely appearance at the September Sale.

Sagan pays warm tribute to the way everyone involved, from farm to racetrack, has contributed to the development of Two Phil's.

"We're family-oriented people," he says. "We try to stay with family businesses, and we're loyal. Everyone did a great job and we're happy that they got on the radar with Two Phil's. These horses don't come around too often, so it's pretty special for all of us. Jareth gave him a great ride. He saw the hole, he went for it, and almost pulled off an amazing upset. And with Larry, the horse always comes first. He gets them the best treatments, the best vitamins, the best feed. And he's got a great team."

After a fairly harrowing week for our community, this horse can help to keep the faith in the game's redemptive potential—if only we can do our bit right.

"Listen, I know there's a lot of black eyes around Thoroughbred racing right now," Sagan accepts. "And these big tracks like Churchill make so much money, they should be doing everything they can to make conditions as safe as possible."

"But yes, horse racing needs these stories to keep the game going. How about Cody's Wish? That's another feel-good story. Some of these horses have a lot of meaning to people. We need to put that out there, make people realize that this game is not just about money and fame." Cont.

Sagan added: "Guys like us are a perfect example. This was sport, a hobby, something we love. Sure, it's awesome to succeed. But it wasn't our goal to make money. That's almost impossible to do. We managed to pull it off, but the horse did it, not us. He does all the work, and he deserves all the credit."

Sagan is little too modest here. He's a poker player after all and has always been a gambler. And it took a risk-taker's instinct to keep his family aboard for this thrilling adventure. It would have been a more prudent option, no doubt, to take the money for Mia Torri; and not to persevere with her son when repeatedly rejected at market.

"But if you've got a good product, you stick with it, and that's what we did," Sagan says. "We did feel this mare was going to be special. But yes, it's like a fairy story. You have one horse, you breed her, and you almost win the Derby. I remember the day he was born. Elise sent me a picture. It was an awesome thing, like, wow. But never in our wildest dreams could we imagine that any of this could happen."

Hence the connection people demonstrated with the horse, making that Derby walkover: here was living, breathing, hard-running proof that everybody has some kind of chance.

"In the betting line, he was not a longshot," Sagan notes. "He was 9-1, actually the fourth choice. But the story of this horse is what makes him a longshot. How he was bred, where he came from, and all the things that happened to him along the way. He was the underdog."

"Everyone on the backside was saying how good it was to see a new face get to this spot in the game. Mostly it's Pletcher, Cox, Baffert, the same guys with three or four horses every year, and the same ownership groups. Nothing against any of them. They put a lot of money into the game, and deserve any success they get. But it's good that a small-time guy with one horse can get to the Derby. It gives hope to other people that play this game. It shows that anything's possible."

SATURDAY PREVIEW: GODOLPHIN RUNNER TO MAKE HIS 'POINT' IN MAN O' WAR

by Alan Carasso

Warren Point | Bahrain Turf Club

The late Daylami (Ire) (Doyoun {Ire}) carried the Godolphin blue to victory in the GI Man o' War S. at Belmont Park fully 25 years ago and it didn't take long for the Dubai-based operation to strike again, as the outstanding Fantastic Light (Rahy) followed suit just two years later. Both stars would go on to prove victorious in the GI Breeders' Cup Turf in 1999 and 2001, respectively. No one will confuse Warren Point (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}) with either of those luminaries, but the homebred bay should jump favored to provide his incredible sire and trainer Charlie Appleby with yet another elite-level winner on these shores.

Campaigned exclusively over 10 furlongs and beyond in his eight starts to date, the 4-year-old earned his first black-type success in the Listed Floodlit S. (2400m) over the Kempton all-weather last Halloween and has had his passport stamped in a couple of exotic ports of call in the Middle East so far this term. An easy three-length winner of the Listed Crown Prince's Cup over 10 furlongs in Bahrain Feb. 3 (video), Warren Point was last seen finishing a bang-up second in the valuable Listed HH The Amir Trophy in Qatar just 15 days later (video, SC 6). Fifth that afternoon was Broome (Ire) (Australia {GB}), who returned to win the G2 Dubai Gold Cup on World Cup night Mar. 25.

"He's a horse that can latch on. I'm happy for him to take the lead, but he is versatile," Appleby said. "If you pop him in front, he'll prick his ears and go. But I'd rather give him a target than for him to be the target." Cont.

Frankie Dettori, fresh off his win in last weekend's G1 QIPCO 2000 Guineas, has the call.

Four of Saturday's seven other entrants emerge from Keeneland's GIII Elkhorn S. Apr. 22, where Verstappen (War Front) got just the better of Red Knight (Pure Prize), but Soldier Rising (GB) (Frankel {GB}) can pick up a big chunk of this on his 5-year-old debut. Having chased home Godolphin's Yibir (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}) in the 2021 Jockey Club Derby Invitational, he was a good third in last year's GI Sword Dancer Invitational S. and races for the first time since finishing down the field in the GII Red Smith S. back in November.

The afternoon's co-featured GIII Peter Pan S. is led by 'TDN Rising Star' Bishops Bay (Uncle Mo), who defeated next-out 'Rising Star', subsequent GSW and GI Preakness S.-bound First Mission (Street Sense) on debut Feb. 18 and proved ultra-game in annexing his first start around two turns in a Mar. 19 allowance in New Orleans. Dettori rides Mine That Bird Derby romper Henry Q (Blame) for Doug O'Neill, while Listed AI Bastakiya S. (video) hero Go Soldier Go (Tapiture) makes his first U.S. start for Todd Pletcher. He was a latest well-beaten fifth in the G2 UAE Derby on World Cup night, but the track was likely against him on that occasion.

LAZARUS OUTLINES HISA APPROACH TO CHURCHILL DEATHS

Lisa Lazarus, the CEO of the Horseracing Integrity and Safety Authority (HISA), has written an open letter to industry participants, addressing the measures HISA plans to implement in the wake of a spate of fatalities during the first week of the Churchill Downs meet leading up to and including Kentucky Derby day. The statement, in its entirety, reads:

Fellow racing participants,

I wanted to take a minute of your time to share an update on HISA's role related to the events of last week along with a perspective on what's to come.

Our first priority is to support efforts to better understand, to the degree possible, the root causes of the deaths last week at Churchill Downs.

Here's what you can expect from the team at HISA and our counterparts at the Kentucky Horse Racing Commission (KHRC) in the coming weeks:

The KHRC is leading an Equine Catastrophic Injury Review to investigate the circumstances of and potential contributing factors to each of the fatalities that occurred. The investigations are already under way, and involve, at a minimum, interviews with the horses' connections and security personnel and review of the horses' racing, training, veterinary and pre-race exam inspection records as well as video surveillance. This is in addition to the mandatory necropsies that will be performed to further inform our collective understanding of the circumstances as outlined by HISA's Racetrack Safety Program. All findings will be submitted to HISA upon the completion of the review.

HISA will conduct its own, independent investigation of each fatality to inform whether additional steps need to be taken. HISA's investigation will include the following:

- A review of the records pertaining to each horse which died, including the necropsy report, Vets' List history, past performances, exercise history, treatment records, pre-race inspection, and video records;
- A review of Churchill Downs equine fatality rates from the recent period, the same period the year prior, and the most recently concluded year; as well as training fatality data;
- A review of racetrack maintenance records, surface measurements, and testing data;
- Interviews with the Regulatory Vet, Attending Vet, track management officials, and other relevant third parties.

HISA's findings, including the determination of whether any rule violations occurred to refer for potential enforcement proceedings, will be made public following the investigation's conclusion.

The findings associated with these investigations will also be recorded and aggregated along with other industry-wide data for in-depth analysis to eventually establish a baseline for determining with greater clarity factors that may contribute to risk of injury. Cont.

While these changes take time and do little to address the immediate and pressing concerns we share as an industry, we have operational safety rules in place that by most accounts are making a difference. And soon, we'll take another critical step toward an improved, more modern sport when the Anti-Doping and Medication Control (ADMC) Program resumes on May 22 under the Horseracing Integrity and Welfare Unit (HIWU).

For the first time in the storied history of Thoroughbred racing, there will be one set of uniform, consistent rules across all racing jurisdictions. Under the ADMC Program there will also be greater efficiency for all participants and real consequences for those who seek to break the rules for their own benefit and to the detriment of the horses under their care. The rules also create a rational, fair system for adjudicating penalties and taking into account environmental and other accidental contamination.

There is no doubt that the combination of the Racetrack Safety Program and the ADMC Program will make our sport safer for the horses entrusted to our care.

As we move forward from this collective low, I hope it is together, united with a renewed commitment to what matters most: the safety of our horses and our riders. We owe it to them to get this right. And we owe it to them to do it now.

Yours in racing,
Lisa Lazarus

DERBY WINNER MAGE CONFIRMED FOR PREAKNESS START

Last Saturday's GI Kentucky Derby winner Mage (Good Magic) is officially headed to Baltimore for the May 20 GI Preakness S. His connections made the announcement via Twitter Friday morning.

"Very excited, he's had a magnificent week of training," said co-owner Ramiro Restrepo. "He's shown all the positive signs."

The ownership group, which also includes OGMA Investments, Sterling Racing and CMNWLTH, confirmed the colt's participation in the second leg of the Triple Crown at Pimlico Race Course following his Friday morning training session in which he warmed up in the mile chute before galloping about a mile and five furlongs beneath his regular exercise rider J.J. Delgado.

"It still really hasn't sunk in that we won the Kentucky Derby," co-owner/assistant trainer Gustavo Delgado, Jr. said Thursday evening. "It's been a surreal last few days. The most important thing is the horse looks great. He's kept his weight and relaxed when training."

Others pressing on from the Derby include Confidence Game (Candy Ride {Arg}, 10th) and 'TDN Rising Star' Disarm (Gun Runner, fourth), while new shooters include Red Route One (Gun Runner) and GIII Stonestreet Lexington S. winner and 'TDN Rising Star' First Mission (Street Sense).

Mage is expected to train around 7:45 Saturday morning before vanning to Baltimore that afternoon.

Mage | Coady Photography

In other Preakness-related news, National Treasure (Quality Road) worked a half-mile in :47.40 Friday morning at Santa Anita and will become trainer Bob Baffert's 25th Preakness starter next weekend. A victory in the race would be the eighth for the conditioner.

"This is a horse we've always been high on," Baffert said. "He lost some training time ahead of the Santa Anita Derby, but he's been working well since. The Preakness distance shouldn't be a problem."

A $500,000 Fasig-Tipton Saratoga graduate, National Treasure was third in last year's GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile and was most recently fourth to Practical Move (Practical Joke) in the GI Santa Anita Derby Apr. 8.

Also making the trip to Maryland for Baffert are Havnameltdown (Uncaptured) for the GIII Chick Lang S.; undefeated 'TDN Rising Star' Faiza (Girvin) for the GII Black-Eyed Susan S.; and Arabian Lion (Justify) for the Sir Barton S.

LORD MILES WON'T GO IN THE PREAKNESS

by Bill Finley

Lord Miles | Ryan Thompson

Lord Miles (Curlin), who was ordered scratched from the GI Kentucky Derby by the Kentucky Horse Racing Commission (KHRC) because he is part of the Saffie Joseph, Jr. stable, will bypass the GI Preakness S. and is unlikely to run in the GI Belmont S., Joseph said Friday. A day earlier owner Peter Vegso had told the TDN that both the Preakness and Belmont were under consideration.

The decision came after Lord Miles worked four furlongs in :49.50 Friday morning at Palm Meadows.

"He had a good work but the Preakness was never really a priority," Joseph said. "That's where we're at with him. The Belmont comes into play because it would give us more time. We will work him twice more before making any decisions, but I might want to look at other races."

Lord Miles was set to enter the Derby off an upset win in the GII Wood Memorial at 59-1.

Though the KHRC ordered all of Joseph's horses entered Derby week to be scratched and he was banned indefinitely by Churchill Downs, Joseph said he did not anticipate having any problems running in other jurisdictions. Churchill and the KHRC made their rulings after two horses Joseph trained died of unknown causes in the lead-up to the Derby.

ALL POST-RACE SAMPLES FOR DERBY AND OAKS CLEARED

The Kentucky Horse Racing Commission (KHRC) has received the post-race sample results from the runners in the May 6 GI Kentucky Derby and May 5 GI Kentucky Oaks, according to Kristin Voskuhl, a spokesperson for the Public Protection Cabinet, which oversees the KHRC. All samples have been cleared, as indicated by the laboratory results from the University of Kentucky.

The Derby had 18 runners and was won by Mage (Good Magic), while the Oaks, won by Pretty Mischievous (Into Mischief), had 14 total runners.

DEBUT WINNER CYNANE LIKELY ROYAL ASCOT-BOUND

Cynane | Coglianese

Cynane (Omaha Beach), who became the first winner for her freshman sire (by War Front) with a front-running, 2 3/4-length debut victory in a five-furlong turf sprint at Belmont Park May 11, will likely make her next appearance in the G2 Queen Mary S. for 2-year-old fillies during the prestigious Royal Ascot meeting, trainer Tom Morley said Friday.

"That's the plan at the moment," said Morley. "She came out of the race really well and she's got a great mind and really good appetite--she was screaming for her feed tub last night. She jogged sound this morning, so we'll start putting plans in place to go to the Queen Mary."

A $250,000 Keeneland September yearling purchase, Cynane (pronounced KEE-NAH-NAY) did her early-season prep at Raul Reyes's King's Equine in Ocala, and Morley said the filly has been forward ever since joining his barn in New York in March.

"She has never missed a beat--not only with us, but with Raul Reyes in Ocala," said Morley. "You only get one shot to go to Ascot with these horses and to get there, you have to never miss a day and be good enough to win on debut. Full credit to her, because she has a wonderful temperament and is good as gold."

Though she debuted over a minimum trip, Cynane could stretch out in time, as she is out of a half-sister to Cat's Claw (Dynaformer), winner of the Fasig-Tipton Waya S. at a mile and a half on the grass. Cont.

Third dam Matlacha Pass (Seeking the Gold) produced five-time turf Grade I winner Point of Entry (Dynaformer) and dual Grade I victress Pine Island (Arch).

"She's got a really, really good female family and is from a really good American turf line from the Phipps family," said Morley. "She has every right to be a good horse and hopefully she can be."

The filly is named after the Macedonian princess Cynane, a half-sister to Alexander the Great who was a fierce warrior trained in martial arts.

SMILE HAPPY TO POINT FOR STEPHEN FOSTER

Smile Happy | Coady

Lucky Seven Stable's 'TDN Rising Star' Smile Happy (Runhappy), impressive winner of the GII Alysheba S. on the GI Kentucky Oaks undercard at Churchill Downs May 5, will make his next start in the $1-million GI Stephen Foster S. July 1, trainer Ken McPeck told the track's media office Friday.

Eighth in last year's GI Kentucky Derby, the $185,000 Fasig-Tipton Selected Yearling Showcase graduate returned from a 10-month absence with an impressive allowance victory at Oaklawn Park Mar. 16 and was a good third in the GIII Oaklawn Mile Apr. 1 before defeating GI Pegasus World Cup hero Art Collector (Bernardini) by two lengths at odds of 7-1 in the Alysheba. He received a lofty 110 Beyer Speed Figure for the effort, the highest number over a mile thus far in 2023.

McPeck reported that the commonly owned Rattle N Roll (Connect), last-out winner of the GIII Ben Ali S. at Keeneland Apr. 22, will go next in the GIII Blame S. on Stephen Foster Preview Day Saturday, June 3.

The Foster offers the winner an all-expenses-paid berth in the GI Breeders' Cup Classic as part of the Breeders' Cup Challenge Series.

HISA'S ADCMC PROGRAM TO TAKE EFFECT MAY 22

Following a launch Mar. 27, the Horseracing Integrity & Welfare Unit (HIWU) plans to resume enforcement of the Horseracing Integrity and Safety Authority's (HISA) Anti-Doping and Medication Control (ADMC) Program May 22. The program seeks to implement the following:

1. Transparency: The ADCMC Program requires public disclosure of alleged Anti-Doping Rule Violations once the Covered Person has been notified of the violation and Provisionally Suspended. The alleged violation will be reported by HIWU on its website, and the public information disclosed will include the date of the collection, the name of the Covered Person, the identity of the Covered Horse, the alleged ADCMC Program Rule Violation, and the Prohibited Substance or Method detected/involved. Alleged Controlled Medication Rule Violations will be publicly disclosed once the B ("split") Sample is confirmed by another lab or analysis of the Sample is waived by the Covered Person. In short, it will take weeks, not months, for an alleged violation to come to light.

2. Efficiency: The ADCMC Program articulates specific timelines for the results management and adjudication processes, and parties can request an expedited hearing to resolve the eligibility of a Covered Person or Covered Horse prior to an upcoming race. Hearings of Anti-Doping Rule Violations will be held within 60 days of being requested, absent exceptional circumstances. Controlled Medication Rule Violations will generally be adjudicated in a few months. In summary, cases will not drag on for years.

3. Consistency and Fairness: In addition to samples being tested to the same levels and standards regardless of which laboratory performs the analysis, all alleged violations will be subject to the same penalties regardless of jurisdiction. Cases will be adjudicated by members of an independent Arbitral Body (Anti-Doping Rule Violations) or the Internal Adjudication Panel (Controlled Medication Rule Violations). For all cases, adjudicators will be selected so as to be free from conflict of interest, thus addressing any integrity concerns in the prosecution of cases.

NHBPA 'WILL NOT EXPLOIT THE DEATHS OF HORSES TO MAKE A POINT' by T.D. Thornton

National HBPA CEO Eric Hamelback | Jennie Rees

Not even 24 hours after the Horseracing Integrity and Safety Act (HISA) Authority and the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) alleged links between the sport's recent adverse headlines and the National Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association (NHBPA)'s request to delay the May 22 implementation of the Anti-Doping and Medication Control (ADMC) program, the NHBPA fired back with a response that stated the fatalities of seven horses during GI Kentucky Derby week shouldn't be used as a means to make legal arguments in the 2-year-old lawsuit.

"The Horsemen will not exploit the deaths of horses to make a point, because this industry is not going to fix anything moving forward by pointing [fingers]," stated the first line of the NHBPA's May 12 filing.

United States District Court Judge James Wesley Hendrix of the Northern District of Texas (Lubbock Division) had given the NHBPA until the close of the court on Monday, May 15, to file a response to the arguments against delaying the ADMC that were articulated May 11 by the HISA Authority and the FTC defendants.

But because the HISA Authority alleged in its Thursday filing that "recent headlines provide fresh reminders" of "inconsistent regulation," and because the FTC claimed that the NHBPA has "repeatedly challenged" HISA's efforts to "prevent these kinds of tragedies," the horsemen plaintiffs wasted little time in trying to address those accusations with a legal response by midday Friday, well ahead of the judge's deadline.

The NHBPA's filing stated that the equine fatalities during Derby week did, in effect, occur under the HISA regulatory framework, citing a May 8 statement released by the HISA Authority that said, "Churchill Downs has been cooperating with HISA since its inception and is in full compliance with our rules and processes."

The NHBPA also stated that it was the FTC itself, and not any legal efforts by the NHBPA, that kept the ADMC from being in place before the Triple Crown series started.

"It was also the FTC's choice to delay the ADMC from May 1 to May 22. The NHBPA did not delay the ADMC rules until after the Kentucky Derby. The Defendants made that choice because in their view the rules were not ready for implementation in prime time on the most important race of the year," the NHBPA's filing stated.

"[T]he Authority is still caught in its own logic trap as to the ADMC," the NHBPA filing stated. "On the one hand, they say, 'few substances that were broadly legal under most states' preexisting regulations are prohibited under the new HISA rules.' On the other hand, they say the ADMC must go into effect immediately or horses will die because current state regulations are insufficient."

On Mar. 15, 2021, the NHBPA and 12 of its affiliates sued the FTC and HISA Authority personnel, seeking to derail HISA's implementation on constitutional grounds. Judge Hendrix dismissed that suit on Mar. 31, 2022.

The NHBPA plaintiffs appealed, leading to a Fifth Circuit Court reversal on Nov. 18, 2022, that remanded the case back to the Lubbock Division. In the interim, an amended version of HISA was signed into law Dec. 29, 2022. That fix was designed to make HISA compliant with the constitutional defects the Fifth Circuit had identified. On May 6, 2023, Hendrix validated the newer version of HISA as constitutional.

Now the NHBPA is planning another appeal back to the Fifth Circuit, and it wants the ADMC's rollout stopped while that process plays out.

The HISA Authority's May 11 filing explained that it sees the overall issue this way: "Congress, the Executive, and both federal courts [have] come to the same correct conclusion: the Act is now constitutional."

The NHBPA's May 12 filing countered that claim: "Congress did not 'follow the blueprint'--it made the barest tweak possible to keep the law alive and take a second shot at the courts allowing it to go through."

The NHBPA filing pointed out that, "the Plaintiff Horsemen before this Court are a nationwide association, and horseracing is a nationwide industry, [and] a nationwide injunction to stop 'seismic change' from upsetting the status quo is necessary."

3YO JUSTIFY COLT DEBUTS AT PIMLICO

3rd-PIM, $52K, Msw, 3yo, 6f, 4:37 p.m.

As Pimlico's meet tunes up before Preakness week, $450,000 KEESEP purchase REBELLIOUS STAGE (Justify) heads to post four in this maiden attempt. Trained by Brittany Russell and ridden by Sheldon Russell, the chestnut colt's second dam Mon Belle (Maria's Mon) is a full-sister to GI Kentucky Derby hero Monarchos and she produced GSP Supreme (Empire Maker), who is the dam of GI Met Mile champ Silver State (Hard Spun).

TJCIS PPs

4th-CD, $120K, Msw, 3yo/up, f/m, 1mT, 2:13 p.m.

As the Triple Crown Trail heads east, Churchill Downs continues racing and a competitive field assembles on the turf for this maiden. VANISHED (Speightstown) will break from gate 10 for Todd Pletcher with Luis Saez aboard, and this 3-year-old $300,000 KEESEP buy is out of Elusive Pearl (Medaglia d'Oro), who won a pair of stakes routing on the grass.

To her outside, is a 3-year-old daughter of Maclean's Music named Evie's Encore. Trained by Tom Amoss and ridden by Edgar Morales, the $250,000 KEESEP grad's second dam is GI Ashland S. heroine Sis City (Slew City). One other worth a mention is Em Kat (Tapit), a 3-year-old filly who is out of MGSW Great Hot (Brz). TJCIS PPS

Flawless in his abridged career, Drew's Gold picked up a fourth victory in a row--and second stakes--with an eye-catching score in the Gold Fever S.

A winner at first asking his juvenile year on the second week of May, he went on the shelf until Jan. 28 this season with his return against Laurel allowance optional company another stylish success in receipt of first-time Lasix. It was much the same display of dominance in the Feb. 11 Jimmy Winkfield S. across town at Ozone Park when he beat GSW Joey Freshwater (Jimmy Creed) and company to the wire by open lengths.

Bumped around lightly at the start here, Drew's Gold was quick to the front and quick to lock horns with Andiamo a Firenze (Speightstown) though :22.15 and :45.06 splits as that one latched on to his hip. In the two path and shaking clear in upper stretch as his early spar mate faded to last, Drew's Gold quickly opened up in the final furlong to draw clear by 4 3/4 lengths as Squire Creek tried valiantly to close the gap.

"This is definitely what we wanted to see. Not to sound arrogant, but that's what we expected to see. He's a whole different deal," said conditioner James Chapman after the race. "A normal horse would have needed this race, but he didn't. They're going to have to run next time [to beat him]. He's like riding a pleasure horse. He does whatever you ask him to do. To train him is the easiest thing in the world."

When asked if a potential start in the GI Woody Stephens S. June 10 could be in his budding star's future, the answer was equally as confident: "Yes."

A half to American Frolic--now a broodmare in Ireland with a 2-year-old filly and yearling colt by Invincible Spirit {Ire}}--as well as SP Mc Awesome (Super Saver), Drew's Gold is his dam's first multiple black-type earner. Frolic's Revenge has a pair of colts in the wings--a yearling by Laoban and a 2023 foal by City of Light. This is the female family of GSP Stormy Frolic (Summer Squall) and the dam of SW Zia Zapper (Ghostzapper). Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG.

FIRE ON TIME (m, 5, Not This Time--Sapphire Spitfire, by Awesome Again) was a twice-voided claim last season but was on a three-race win streak in the midst of those, and started her 2023 with a third-place effort in the GII Inside Information Jan. 28 at Hallandale. Brushed and fading to sixth last out in the GIII Hurricane Bertie Mar. 11, the 9-5 favorite stalked to the outside of a dueling top pair before putting herself into contention around the turn. Rolling from the six path, Fire On Time fired all the afterburners en route to a six-length victory as Stella Noir (Stay Thirsty) picked up the minors.

The first for her dam, the victress has a multiple winning full-sister Alarm Clock and an unplaced 3-year-old half-sister Tooshay (Mo Town). GIANT GAME (c, 4, Giant's Causeway--Game for More {MSP, $153,330}, by More Than Ready) was third in the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile at Del Mar and then a well-beaten eighth in both the GIII Holy Bull S. and GII Tampa Bay Derby his sophomore year before going to the bench. Returning for his 4-year-old campaign in three optional claiming events at Gulfstream Park, he finished second Feb. 25 and Apr. 1. Stretching out in this spot, the 5-2 favorite controlled the pace into the first turn, held off a challenge just before the top of the lane from Tiwanaku (Tapit) and fought back through the sixteenth pole to secure the win by 3/4 length at the wire. The winner, one of three members from the final crop of his legenday sire, is a half-brother to Gio Game (Gio Ponti), GISP, $292,190 and Isotherm (Lonhro {Aus}), MGSW & GISP, $527,394. STRIKINGLY SPUN (f, 3, Hard Spun--Smart Ashley, by Smart Strike) broke her maiden over a muddy track at second-asking by 2 1/4 lengths Dec. 9 at Oaklawn Park before finishing sixth Feb. 4 in Hot Springs against optional claimers. Switching to the grass versus allowance company Apr. 14 at Keeneland going this distances, the chestnut filly rallied for fifth. Bet down, the 2-1 shot settled outside mid-pack as longshot C C Cruise Control (Cross Traffic) set a brisk pace. Winding up around the far turn, Strikingly Spun shifted into high gear as Clever Joke (Practical Joke) went right along with her. After a duel with a sixteenth left, the Joe Sharp trainee dug down and found enough to declare victory by 3/4 length. LOVED (f, 4, Medaglia d'Oro--Velvety, by Bernardini) stepped out a stylish maiden-breaker last out Apr. 21 at Keeneland, routing the field in the 1 1/16-mile journey by 11 1/2 lengths after setting an uncontested pace. Once again making the running here but this time with Opening Night (Flatter) looking to make things difficult, the 2-5 favorite finally shook free of her shadow entering the drive under a moderate ride and cruised in

A recent ship from Bill Mott's base at Payson Park to Elmont, the dark bay filly took money here as the 2-1 favorite and raced down the backstretch in fourth before making headway to the outside around the far turn. At the top of the lane, Rosebug was let loose and under strong right-handed urging, she outlasted a furious charge from You Look Cold (Frosted) to win by a head. The winner is a half-sister to Montauk Traffic (Cross Traffic), SW, $235,200. Her dam's last recorded produce is a 2-year-old filly named Austin Traffic (Cross Traffic). Three wide through there and rallying four off the fence in the stretch, Ship Cadet sailed by Twisted Filigree (Distorted Humor) inside the three-sixteenths marker and was kept to task over that one. Slow to break and steadied in tight quarters on her unveiling Apr. 19 at Keeneland as eventual 8 3/4-length Kentucky Juvenile S. victress Youalmosthadme (Oxbow) aired the field, Prognosticate went straight to the front here and never looked back. Taking a break, she was a well-beaten sixth Jan. 22 at Gulfstream Park before running second in Hallandale Feb. 11. Sent off as the co-favorite here after three months off, the chestnut filly controlled the fractions throughout and put her maiden days behind her with a three-length victory over Indy Champagne (Curlin). GOOD HORSES, GOOD OYSTERS, GOOD VIBRATIONS: IT MUST BE DEAUVILLE!

Fernando Laffon & John Sadler at Arqana | Emma Berry

By Emma Berry

DEAUVILLE, France—It would seem that Arqana has pulled off the impossible. Ask ten different people at the sales a certain question and you'd usually end up with ten different opinions. But there is one thing on which everyone patrolling the sales grounds in Deauville can apparently agree, and that is that a pretty stellar line-up of horses has been assembled for the Arqana Breeze-up Sale. Cont. p3

SILVESTRE DE SOUSA BANNED FOR 10 MONTHS BY HKJC OVER BETTING CHARGE

Decorated jockey Silvestre de Sousa has been suspended for 10 months by the Hong Kong Jockey Club after pleading guilty to a betting charge.

The three-time champion jockey in Britain, who relocated to Hong Kong last year in search of better opportunities, pleaded guilty to the charge along with Vagner Borges, another Brazilian rider based in Hong Kong.

Borges was banned for 12 months by HKJC stewards. Both riders were found in breach of rule 59 (3), which says that "no jockey shall bet, or facilitate the making of a bet, or have any interest in a bet, on any race or any contingency relating to a race meeting".

De Sousa, 42, achieved big-race successes in Britain aboard Farhh, Winter Power, Arabian Queen and more.

According to a media release from the HKJC, he is reported to have "facilitated" Borges's bet on his mount, Young Brilliant, in a 1m1f handicap at Happy Valley on April 26.

The statement added that "there was no evidence before the stewards that Borges and De Sousa had ridden their horses in the respective race with any intention other than to obtain the best possible placing for their mounts".

However, the stewards also underlined "it is fundamental to the integrity of racing that jockeys are not permitted to bet or to have an interest in a bet".

Later in the day on Friday, De Sousa's solicitor Harry Steward Moore confirmed the rider would appeal, and said, "I'm instructed that he will be appealing it."

The only thing they can't agree on is which horse is likely to top the sale. We'll know that by Saturday evening, and it is every sales reporter's prayer that it will not be the last lot into the ring, with apologies to Eddie O'Leary, who has that honour this time with his Calyx (GB) wild card.

Nerves can jangle among the consignors, and who can blame them? After all, the investment in yearlings from the breeze-up set has increased significantly in recent years, and for that to continue, a decent return on investment must be found somewhere along the way. But with some gains elsewhere this season, notably at a strong Goffs UK sale in Doncaster, a more relaxed vibe has settled on Deauville and the mood is generally positive.

Some new faces are in attendance. John Sadler, the man behind the sensational Flightline, is at Arqana for the first time, and his fellow Californian trainer Simon Callaghan has made a temporary return closer to his former homeland of Britain. Also assembled are Terry Henderson of Australian-based OTI Racing, various members of the Saudi racing fraternity, as well as Satish and Bhupat Seemar and Fawzi Nass, the latter trio now all regular attendees at the European breeze-up sales.

Drawing a large contingent of people around his boxes was Tom Whitehead of Powerstown Stud. That may have had something to do with the generous hospitality offering of oysters, paté, cheese and a rather cheeky little Muscadet, though Whitehead will be hoping that it is more to do with his draft of horses, which includes an imposing Uncle Mo colt (lot 51) who was barely in his stable all day. Cont. p4

Each new person who appeared at the Glending Stables draft asked the same question first: "Can I see your Kodiak, please?" Roderick Kavanagh clocked up some miles jogging to and fro the breeze track on Thursday, but then his extra long legs mean that he takes one step to a regular person's three, so his exertions hadn't worn him out. Indeed, by Friday, he was still bearing the broad grin of a consignor who has had a jolly good season so far.

"We've just landed on a good vein of horses and we've been very lucky," said Kavanagh. "They've all trained well, got here well, and it's just been a good run. When things are bouncing in your favour, it's amazing.

"It all has to come together, the people have to get here and it's not done until it's done, but there's definitely a very positive vibe."

The in-demand Kodiak filly (lot 164) was a €90,000 Goffs foal purchase and she has plenty to recommend her on the page along with clocking one of the fastest times of the breeze. Her dam Leyburn (GB) (Shamardal) is a half-sister to the Group 2 winner Centennial (Ire) (Dalakhani {Ire}) with an extended family that includes Classic heroine Sleepytime (Ire) and Saudi Cup winner Panthalassa (Jpn). Cont. p5

Willie Browne, Laurent Benoit & Andre Fabre | Emma Berry

Kavanagh continued, "The ground was beautiful for the breeze. You've no excuses out there. The star of the show for us is probably the Kodiak filly. She certainly looks the part and is bred on a very successful cross. But we've got a lovely Invincible Spirit (Ire) filly with an interesting pedigree, inbred to Eljazzi (GB) [dam of Rafha (GB)], and then a French-bred Galiway (GB) filly who should appeal to the domestic market. We've also got two lovely colts by Wootton Bassett (GB) and New Bay (GB) and it takes a lot to get a bunch like this together. That stallion power gives you a great chance."

There's a strong Irish background to the main breeze-up gang and only three French-based consignors appear in the catalogue, with nine horses between them. Among the trio is Jennifer Pardanaud, who, with husband Ronan, has been selling through her Ecurie La Frenée for the past five years.

"I ride them all myself, both at home and in the breeze," says Pardanaud, who is offering fillies by Zarak (Fr) and Dark Angel (Ire) and a colt by Sioux Nation.

"I like to let them gallop easily within themselves and not push them too hard. I'm really happy with how the breezes went yesterday."

Her Sioux Nation colt (lot 54) traces right back to the influential broodmare and German Classic winner Anna Paola (Ger), but closer up on the page, his grand-dam is the Listed winner and Group 2-placed Sugar Baby Love (Ger) (Second Empire {Ire}).

During a short coffee break at the Zinc bar, agents Ted Durcan and Colm Sharkey were hard pressed to pick just one favourite horse at the sale. "There's a whole fleet of them," said Durcan.

Another agent, BBA Ireland's Michael Donohoe agreed with this assessment and praised the Arqana team for the organisation of the most crucial part of the sale.

"The breeze was so well run," he said. "It took two hours and 15 minutes for 180 horses. You can really get a good view of them, close up and on the screens, and the ground looked good. It's very user-friendly."

Donohoe added, "It's been quite a good season so far. The Craven was probably a bit disappointing for some, but the Guineas sale was excellent and Doncaster was excellent. This sale has had some good horses in recent years and it's been lucky for me, so when you're lucky you want to come back."

Yeomanstown Stud's consignment may be missing from the catalogue's index but its draft of five in B yard was drawing plenty of attention nonetheless. On paper, the quintet appears to offer something to suit most tastes: from a colt by the champion sire Dubawi (Ire), a filly by his son Night Of Thunder (Ire), colts by American speedster Speightstown and the Derby winner Masar (Ire), and of course one by Yeomanstown's dependable flagship stallion Dark Angel.

"There's good traffic around and when people come down they are all picking different horses, which is good, to see them landing on different horses," said Yeomanstown's David O'Callaghan. "Hopefully they all have a good chance and a few will sell well. There are lot of well-bred horses here."

Elaborating on how he decides which of his team of breezers will head to which sale, he added, "They kind of pick themselves up to a point. You assess them on pedigree and physique and, to a lesser degree, on price bracket. The Craven horses need to be early, sharp horses because the Rowley Mile is hard to breeze for a bigger horse; they need to be very together." Cont. p6

He said, "And Donny, again, people are focussing on an early two-year-old. But from there on they broaden their spectrum a little bit so you can send a slightly less precocious horse to the later sales."

The headline horses from the Arqana breeze-up in recent years have included British and American Classic winners in Eldar Eldarov (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}) and War Of Will (War Front), both of whom were consigned by Norman Williamson's Oak Tree Farm, as well as the smart juveniles from last year's event, Sakheer (Ire) (Zoffany {Ire}) and Lezoo (GB) (Zoustar {Aus}). It is a range which pulls in major names from the training ranks even in the midst of important Classic trials at Chester and Lingfield, and at Arqana by Friday were Charlie Appleby, Roger Varian, Simon Crisford, Thady Gosden, Donnacha O'Brien, and Tom Clover among others, while the home guard included Andre Fabre, Francis Graffard, Jean-Claude Rouget, Christophe Ferland and Pia Brandt.

Such apparent interest on the ground during Friday's viewing session was balm for Arqana's Freddy Powell, who has been flying around the world to spread the word.

"The breeze was very smooth, so that's the first jump that's been jumped," he noted. "France Galop has a great team here in Deauville and they really embrace the whole thing because it's a great advertisement for their racecourse."

"There are a lot of people here, some new faces. It's interesting; I was in Ocala a few weeks ago and a lot of Americans are thinking about this sale, and not trying to buy American horses especially but trying to get some horses for the turf, too."

By the time withdrawals have been taken into account, around 170 horses will be offered on Saturday, making this the biggest breeze-up held at Arqana.

"We do have to limit the numbers as there's only a certain amount of time people can stand next to the track watching the breezes," he explained. "At the same time, we had to increase the number because we don't want to turn away the really nice horses that we are offered but we also need to keep a group of horses that are accessible to everyone. Our July sale has some breeders, but that's much later, so for French clients, we need horses who, on paper, who are not looking like €200,000 horses. So we have increased the numbers, but this is probably really the most we can take. There's only so much the track can take, and also the people too."

The sales commences at Arqana at 11am, by which stage the vast pallet of oysters may all have been consumed at Powerstown Stud, perhaps to be replaced later in the day by Champagne.

LONSDALE ON POINT IN THE HUXLEY

by Sean Cronin

Coolmore and Westerberg's 575,000gns Tattersalls October Book 1 yearling and 'TDN Rising Star' Point Lonsdale (Ire)

(Australia {GB})--Sweepstake {Ire}, by Acclamation {GB}) made a winning seasonal return in last month's G3 Alleged S. at the Curragh, having been on the shelf for almost a year after running seventh in last term's G1 2000 Guineas, and added to his tallies in 2021's G3 Tyros S. and G2 Futurity S. with a battling effort in Friday's G2 IRE-Incentive It Pays To Buy Irish Huxley S at Chester.

Positioned in second passing the judge first time, the well-backed 5-6 favourite came under increased pressure from halfway and stayed on in resolute fashion once gaining an edge into the straight to hold the late rattle of Mujtaba (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}) by a neck, providing Ryan Moore with a record eighth renewal of the extended 10-furlong contest.

Point Lonsdale wins the Huxley at Chester | Racingfotos.com

"He was a good 2-year-old who won a listed race, a Group 3 and a Group 2, but he wasn't around for most of last year," commented Moore. "It wasn't very pretty, but he's a real galloper and he probably hasn't been round a tight track like this before. He's only really been to the Curragh, Leopardstown and Ascot and he was just a bit unsure what to do with himself. Today's race was well up to standard and the track didn't suit him, but he has a great attitude, to be fair to him, and plenty of ability. It was a very good performance."

Pedigree Notes

Point Lonsdale, who also ran second in the G1 Vincent O'Brien National S. as a juvenile, is the ninth of 11 reported foals and one of five winners produced by the stakes-winning GIII Appalachian S. runner-up and G3 Princess Margaret S. third Sweepstake (Ire) (Acclamation {GB}). Cont. p8

In the Derby Trial, the two colts who went to post for the Listed Newmarket S. just eight days ago, Circle Of Fire (GB) (Almanzor {Fr}) and Waipiro (Ire) (Australia {GB}), venture forth again to try and squeeze into what could be an open contest next month. While Waipiro was unable to take part at Newmarket after Tom Marquand was kicked, The King and Queen Consort's Circle Of Fire showed up with promise in the 10-furlong contest and it is notable that he is backing up uncharacteristically for a Sir Michael Stoute charge. Obviously connections are still harbouring an outside dream of the Royal colours being carried at Epsom, while Waipiro's trainer Ed Walker could be about to relive the buzz that his 2020 Lingfield Derby Trial winner English King (Fr) (Camelot {GB}) provided.

"The tight nature of this track I don't think will suit many Derby-type horses, but he's a well-balanced horse and I would rather run on the all-weather than heavy ground," he said. "We don't have a heap of mile-and-a-half horses to compare him to, so we need to compare them to other peoples. So we go there knowing as much as you do really."

One For Inquiring Minds

If ever a son of Kingman (GB) was going to have a genuine Derby contender, it would be in the mould of Anthony Oppenheimer's Inquiring Minds (GB) whose dam Precious Ramotswe (GB) (Nathaniel {Ire}) was successful in the 14-furlong G3 Bronte Cup. Impressive on his 10-furlong debut at Newcastle 11 days prior to this test, the John and Thady Gosden trainee is another who is being sent back into action unusually quickly for a stable renowned for patience. "This will tell us what kind of standard he is," Oppenheimer said of the homebred, who bids to provide the stable with its first winner of this since Percussionist (Ire) in 2004. Cont. p9

RACE PREVIEWS

LINGFIELD OFFERS EPSOM CLUES

by Tom Frary

Sandwiched in between the Derby and Oaks trials of Chester and York, Lingfield stages its own prep races for both Epsom Classics on Saturday before Classic action unfolds again in France on Sunday. It was only four years ago that Anthony Van Dyck (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) and Anapurna (GB) (Frankel {GB}) revived the Listed Derby and Oaks Trials by doubling up on the first Friday and Saturday in June and with the major yards represented

He continued, “The King Edward is the sort of race one thinks he might enjoy—I would think he will be more suited to Ascot. I think he is quite useful, but I don’t think he’s number one in the stable, so I don’t think we can expect too much.”

A Valid Point?

With the switch to the Polytrack for the two Classic trials, it may be that proven form on the surface counts for a lot. For all the proven class of Sheikh Rashid Dalmook Al Maktoum’s TDN Rising Star and G1 Fillies’ Mile third Bright Diamond (Ire) (El Kabeir) and Ballydoyle’s G3 Prix Penelope third Be Happy (Ire) (Camelot {GB}), Godolphin’s pair Eternal Hope (Ire) (Teofilo {Ire}) and Sunset Point (GB) (Dubawi {Ire}) have won at Chelmsford and at this track respectively. The latter, who scored by seven lengths on her 3-year-old bow in a Windsor handicap last month, is a daughter of Hidden Gold (Ire) (Shamardal) who captured the Listed River Eden Fillies’ S. over this track and surface and who hails from the ultimate Epsom family of Galileo (Ire), Sea The Stars (Ire) and Masar (Ire) (New Approach {Ire}). “Both don’t look out of place in the field and this should give us a gauge for their future,” trainer Charlie Appleby said.

Draws Made For Poulains and Pouliches

ParisLongchamp’s G1 Emirates Poule d’Essai des Poulains and G1 Emirates Poule d’Essai des Pouliches took their final shape on Friday, with manageable fields of 10 for both negating the worst effects of the draw. On that front, there was good news for Wathnan Racing as their high-profile acquisition Isaac Shelby (GB) (Night Of Thunder {Ire}) is in stall one for the colts’ Classic next to Malcolm Parrish’s likely favourite American Flag (Fr) (Wootton Bassett {GB}). Aidan O’Brien is to be represented only by ‘TDN Rising Star’ Hans Andersen (GB) (Frankel {GB}), who breaks from stall six which is also the draw handed to the stable’s sole Pouliches representative Never Ending Story (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}).

Inside Post For Blue

Yeguada Centurion SL’s G1 Prix Marcel Boussac and G3 Prix de la Grotte scorer Blue Rose Cen (Ire) (Churchill {Ire}) was handed stall one for the Pouliches, with Jean-Claude Seroul, Haras d’Etreham and Riviera Equine’s Ritournelle (Fr) (Camelot {GB})

next door in two. While Blue Rose Cen should be sent forward from that favourable draw, Ritournelle who was beaten a head by Showway (Fr) (Galiway {GB}) in the G3 Prix Imprudence at Deauville will be arriving late on her return to a mile. “I did regret not running her in the 1000 Guineas, given that the ground at Newmarket was riding soft and because she loves a straight course,” trainer Jerome Reynier admitted. “Ritournelle has done nothing but improve with each race, her preparation has gone well and so we can go to into the race calmly and confidently.”

Can Rouget Turn It Around?

This season has hardly gone to plan for Jean-Claude Rouget, with most of the Classic trials for once passing him by, but in The Aga Khan’s Valimi (Fr) (Teofilo {Ire}) and White Birch Farm’s Kubrick (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}) he has two live Poulains contenders. Valimi, who took April’s course-and-distance Prix Machado conditions event, has the GI Breeders’ Cup Mile hero Val Royal (Fr) in his pedigree while Kubrick’s half-brother Raging Bull (Fr) (Dark Angel {Ire}) has two top-level successes to his name at the trip. “Valimi and Kubrick did their final serious pieces of work on the grass at Deauville racecourse on Tuesday—the ground was very soft and they were not visibly inconvenienced by it,” Rouget said. “Both were giving me concern in this respect beforehand, especially Kubrick. He made a good return [when fourth] in the Prix Djebel and I was satisfied with his performance. Valimi improved for his return effort at Saint-Cloud and very quickly set the record straight last time.” Cont. p10

Testing Ground For Sunday

Charles de Cordon, who has the task of preparing the track at ParisLongchamp, is expecting the mile Classics to be stamina tests. "It has rained a lot in the Parisian region during the first part of the week, but the track has been drying out," he said. "We expect the ground to ride very soft on Sunday and anticipate a penetrometer reading of around 3.9. There will be a 10-metre strip of fresh ground and the open-stretch, five metres out from the running rail, will also come into play."

DERBY WINNER DESERT CROWN TO RESUME IN BRIGADIER GERARD

Desert Crown | PA Media

Last year's G1 Derby winner Desert Crown (GB) (Nathaniel {Ire}) will make his first start since winning the Blue Riband in Sandown's G3 Brigadier Gerard S. in late May, according to Saeed Suhail's racing manager Bruce Raymond.

Successful in a Nottingham maiden at two, the 4-year-old won the G2 Dante S. at York in his first outing at three before rolling to a 2 1/2-length victory at Epsom. An ankle injury derailed any more starts in 2022, and the Brigadier Gerard will be his first start back. Trainer Sir Michael Stoute has won the Brigadier Gerard 11 times, and if Desert Crown delivers, it would give him an even dozen victories.

Bruce Raymond, racing manager to the owner, said, "He runs in the Brigadier for sure. We have tried to get him on the grass, but everywhere is closed, so we might have to use something on Racecourse Side, I don't know. I can't think it will be any issue.

"But he is in good shape, the horse looks good and all has gone to plan, from what I have been told."

PASSENGER SUPPLEMENTED TO THE DANTE

The Niarchos Family's Passenger (Ulysses {Ire}) has been supplemented to the G2 Al Basti Equiworld Dubai Dante S. at York on May 18. His addition brings the potential field to 14 runners.

Trained by Sir Michael Stoute, the Wood Ditton Maiden S. winner will follow the path of last year's G1 Derby winner Desert Crown (GB) (Nathaniel {Ire}), who won the Dante en route to Classic honours at Epsom. Connections paid £14,000 to supplement Passenger, who was scratched from the Listed Dee S. at Chester earlier this week due to ground concerns. The Betfred Derby will take place on Saturday, June 3, and Stoute's colt would also need to be supplemented to that contest, if all goes well on the Knavesmire.

Other entries for the York feature include Listed Blue Riband Trial hero Epictetus (Ire) (Kingman {GB}) from John and Thady Gosden, Flying Honours (GB) (Sea The Stars {Ire}) for Charlie Appleby, and Dear My Friend (GB) (Pivotal {GB}) from the Charlie Johnston yard.

"We've got lots of excited owners on our hands at the moment," said Middleham Park's Mike Prince of Listed Burradon S. winner Dear My Friend. "Very much the dream is still alive! We'll have a big crowd there next Thursday and they're just really excited, just to see how his season develops. The syndicate were absolutely delighted with his run at Newcastle--the form is working out nicely.

"Him and Flight Plan (GB) (Night Of Thunder {Ire}) had a ding-dong battle in the final furlong but he was quite comfortably on top in the last 100 yards and looked to be extending away.

"He's got a lovely, long stride on him and we think that stride-length will come into play when we step him up to a mile and two. We're pretty adamant that the step up in trip will suit him."

Never to be discounted in a Classic prep is Aidan O'Brien, who has both the stakes-winning Cairo (Ire) (Quality Road) and two-for-two Continuous (Jpn) (Heart's Cry {Jpn}) entered, while John Murphy's G3 Ballysax S. hero White Birch (GB) (Uyllses {Ire}) is another possible starter. Listed winner Canberra Legend (Ire) (Australia {GB}), G2 Royal Lodge S. hero The Foxes (Ire) (Churchill {Ire}) and the Group 3-placed Dancing Magic (Ire) (Camelot {GB}), are also signed on.

MEDIA RIGHTS ARRANGEMENTS UNANIMOUSLY APPROVED FOR 21 OF THE ASSOCIATION OF IRISH RACECOURSES BY HRI BOARD

The new media rights arrangements for 21 of the 26 Association of Irish Racecourses (AIR) was unanimously approved by the Board of Horse Racing Ireland (HRI) on Friday.

This new agreement is for a period of five years beginning in 2024. The HRI Board welcomed the unanimous approval of the AIR Board for this deal and the authorisation for AIR to conclude contractual arrangements for 21 of its 26 member racecourses.

The completion of the sale of the media rights for 21 racecourses as well as HRI's data rights for all fixtures will now be progressed in timely fashion. The United Irish Racecourses (UIR), comprised of Kilbeggan, Limerick, Roscommon, Sligo and Thurles rejected the new media rights deal earlier this week. HRI will be writing to the quintet of UIR racecourses separately.

Suzanne Eade, CEO of HRI, said in a statement, "To maximise the value of the media rights on behalf of racecourses and the industry, the HRI media rights committee engaged experts to provide a comprehensive valuation of the rights of Irish racing and to assist with the production of an extensive invitation to tender. While the process has been lengthy, the benefits will be significant as it has resulted in new media rights arrangements, approved today by the HRI Board, which represent an extremely positive deal for all Irish racecourses."

"Based on future growth projections, it is hoped that the total value [of Irish media rights] could grow by an estimated further 50% by 2028."

"The outcome has been a long-term deal which will underpin the financial viability of racecourses until at least 2028 and has been unanimously approved by the media rights committee, the board of HRI and the board of AIR."

"Whilst the terms of the media rights arrangements cannot be revealed for confidentiality reasons, the Joint Bid by Sports Information Services (SIS) and Racecourse Media Group (RMG) clearly offered the best financial proposition for Irish racing media rights across all the packages on offer, which was independently validated by an expert third party."

Racing on the Curragh, one of the AIR tracks | Racingphotos.com

"This will see the overall percentage of the total revenues received by racecourses growing progressively over the next five years. The income flowing to racecourses will be distributed on an open, transparent and equitable basis, with each racecourse receiving revenues largely derived from the betting turnover on their respective individual fixtures."

"There are significant safeguards built into the new arrangements for racecourses with each venue guaranteed its 2022 average per race income in 2024. An easing-in provision has also been included for the first three years of the new deal to assist smaller racecourses as the model moves to a turnover basis. Virtually all racecourses are forecast to achieve higher revenues in 2025 than at present."

"HRI is extremely concerned that confidential information pertaining to the existing media rights arrangements appears to have been disclosed in breach of the strict confidentiality terms within the existing contract. It is deeply regrettable that confidential and commercially sensitive information within the proposed contractual arrangements for the future rights also appears to have been disclosed. HRI will continue to respect the confidential basis on which the bids were made."

"Much has been said in the media of the HRI earnings in this media rights agreement but without acknowledging that the earnings go directly back to developing the industry, assisting racecourses with capital development grants, paying for other racecourse supports and contributing to the funding of additional fixtures which provide opportunities for owners, trainers, jockeys and all industry participants. HRI has always been conscious of the role it plays in the industry and has consistently listened and reacted to the concerns of racecourses of every size in consecutive rights negotiations."

Prophetie (GB) (Kingman {GB}), a full-sister to G1 Poule d'Essai des Poulains, G1 Prix d'Ispahan and G1 Prix du Moulin hero Persian King (Ire), was positioned within striking range until fading in the straight and finished eighth of 10.

PERFUSE (GB) (c, 3, Lope De Vega {Ire})--Suffused {GB}

{MGSW-US, GISP-Can, SP-Eng, $697,248}, by Champs Elysees {GB}), who made an encouraging debut when second in Pontefract's High-Rise maiden over this trip last month, waited in third early. Shaken up to take control passing three out, the 11-10 favourite was clear when eased late to score by 7 1/2 lengths from Rogue Sea (GB) (Sea The Stars {Ire}). The winner is the second foal out of the dam, who recorded wins in the GIII Glens Falls S., GIII La Prevoyante H. and GIII The Very One S. and was second in the GI E. P. Taylor S. She is a half to three other black-type performers headed by the G1 St Leger hero Logician (GB) (Frankel {GB}) from the family of the high-class half-sibling sires Cityscape (GB) and Bated Breath (GB). Suffused's 2-year-old filly is by Too Darn Hot (GB), while she also has a yearling filly by Night Of Thunder (Ire). Lifetime Record: 2-1-1-0, $7,869. DAWN CHARGER (IRE) (f, 2, Soldier's Call {GB})--Dushlan {Ire}, by New Approach {Ire}), who hit the board over this distance in her May 3 debut at Pontefract last time, was swiftly into stride from the stalls and seized an immediate lead here. In command after claiming the stands' side fence, the 11-10 favourite was hustled along when threatened by Thanksbutnothanks (Ire) (Ten Sovereigns {Ire}) approaching the quarter-mile marker and kept on strongly under continued urging in the closing stages to deny that persistent rival by 3/4-of-a-length, becoming the fifth winner for her freshman sire (by Showcasing {GB}). Dawn Charger is the latest of three reported foals, all winners, for her unraced dam Dushlan (Ire) (New Approach {Ire}). Staying on to led with a furlong remaining, the 11-4 second favourite asserted to score by 2 1/2 lengths from Quiet Sea (GB) (Sea The Moon {Ger}). "I said to [jockey] Lewis [Edmunds] to just get into a rhythm and I wouldn't be surprised if you do well, because over the last 10 days she has just got stronger and stronger," Willie Muir said. "I think she will be a stayer, because all she does is gallop and it took Lewis until half way down the back straight to stop her. I'll just take my time and she won't run now for six weeks." Cont. p14

He added, "I won't over-race her, as her future is next year and the year after and I just have to keep going and not get too old because she looks the real deal." HALA EMARAATY (IRE) (c, 2, Kodiak {GB}--Terrifically {Ire}, by Sir Prancealot {Ire}), sent off the 11-4 second favourite, was hard at work by halfway keeping tabs on the leaders. Grafting his way to the front a furlong out, the bay asserted to register a half-length verdict over Gray's Inn (Ire) (Inns Of Court {Ire}). The winner is the first foal out of the unraced dam, who is kin to the G1 Prix Morny-winning sire Unfortunately (Ire) (Society Rock {Ire}) and the G2 Temple S. winner Look Busy (Ire) (Danetime {Ire}) who in turn produced the Listed Prix Yacowlef winner and G1 Flying Five S. runner-up Keep Busy (Ire) (Night of Thunder {Ire}). MYSTERIOUS LOVE (IRE) (f, 3, Dark Angel {Ire}--Ma Cherie {GB}, by Galileo {Ire}), who reportedly failed to handle Newmarket when well-beaten in a Craven meeting maiden, was sent off the 2-1 favourite sporting a first-time hood. In front from the outset, the bay whose dam is a half to the GI Breeders' Cup Filly & Mare Turf and GI Diana S.-winning champion grass mare Zagora (Fr) (Green Tune) had 8 1/2 lengths to spare over Switchel (Ire) (Golden Horn {GB}) despite being eased down at the line. Also connected to the group-winning sire Titus Livius (Fr) (Machiavellian) and the G2 German 1000 Guineas winner Briseida (GB) (Pivotal {GB}), the dam's 2-year-old filly by Mastercraftsman (Ire) was a €105,000 purchase by Mandore International Agency at Arqana Deauville October. SERRIED RANKS (GB) (c, 2, Land Force {Ire}--Pack Together {GB} {MSP-Eng, SP-Fr}, by Paco Boy {Ire}), a 7-2 shot on debut, tracked the early pace. Mastering the 4-6 favourite Desert Master (GB) (Blue Point {Ire}) approaching the furlong pole, the homebred stayed on strongly to beat that rival by 3 3/4 lengths. In doing so, he was providing Highclere Stud's first-season sire (by No Nay Never) with his breakthrough first winner. "He'll be better over six--he's a laid-back horse and he needed to be kept interested but galloped out strongly once he figured out what to do," rider under Rob Hornby said. "It was a case of keeping him racing and competitive and that's how he's been trained at home. He's a big strong and heavy colt and all there. He's shown a bit of class and this is a minimum trip for him--he's done that on raw ability." The dam, who was placed in four listed contests, is a half to the dam of the dual Argentinian group 1 winner Victor Security (Arg) (Stormy Atlantic). The second dam is the stakes-placed New Assembly (Ire) (Machiavellian), a full-sister to the G1 Dubai Duty Free hero Right Approach (GB) related to The Queen's high-class runner and producer Highclere (GB). "To win a listed race today in the traditional colours of the Von Schubert family is something special," jockey Leon Wolff told galopponline.de, while trainer Peter Schiergen said of his one-two, "Both fillies fought hard, so I am very satisfied. The Preis der Diana is a goal for Weracruz and whether the Derby is also, we'll have to see. As for June, it was the first start of the season and the second start of her life. WORLDWIDE NEWS

FAN-FAVOURITE SODASHI LANDS HORROR DRAW FOR VICTORIA MILE by Alan Carasso

Sodashi (Jpn) (Kurofune), the world's most recognisable not to mention most talented registered white horse, has drawn the widest barrier in a field of 18 while making her 5-year-old reappearance in defence of her title in Sunday's G1 Victoria Mile at Tokyo, a 'Win and You're In' qualifier for this year's GI Breeders' Cup Filly & Mare Turf at Santa Anita Park in California.

A two-length winner of this event last season, Sodashi was only fifth as the favourite in last August's G2 Sapporo Kinen (2000m) behind Jack d'Or (Jpn) (Maurice {Jpn}), Panthalassa (Jpn) (Lord Kanaloa {Jpn}) and Win Marilyn (Jpn) (Screen Hero {Jpn}), each of whom have since recorded top-level successes. A head second in the nine-furlong G2 Fuchu Himba over this course in October, the two-time champion was last seen finishing a competitive third behind Serifos (Jpn) (Daiwa Major {Jpn}) in the G1 Mile Championship last November. Sodashi gets a noteworthy change in the saddle Sunday.

"Jockey Damian Lane rode her two weeks ago, and he said he found her easy to ride," said trainer Naosuke Sugai. "He has been studying all her races and I do want him to ride her as he feels is right. There are a lot of top horses in the lineup, but I want her to be able to bring out her best. Of course, I want results, but the most important thing is that she runs safely and comes out of the race well."

Reining Japanese champion 3-year-old filly Stars on Earth (Jpn) (Duramente {Jpn}) won the first two legs of last year's Japanese Filly Triple Crown, the G1 Oka Sho and G1 Yushun Himba, ahead of a luckless third behind Stunning Rose (Jpn) (King Kamehameha {Jpn}) in the G1 Shuka Sho. Sidelined thereafter, she flew home late and was unfortunate not to get past the aforementioned Jack d'Or in the G1 Osaka Hai on her seasonal return Apr. 2.

"She'd been coming off a layoff in her previous race, but this time, with a race behind her, I think she has improved," said jockey Christophe Lemaire, back from his sixth-place effort in the GI Kentucky Derby last weekend. Cont. p18

Sodashi | Horsephotos

He added, "She feels to be in perfect shape. We lost last time because we were racing from too far back. The start will be important."

Songline (Jpn) (Kizuna {Jpn}) is back at the mile, having finished a somewhat disappointing 10th behind Bathrat Leon (Jpn) (Kizuna {Jpn}) when going for back-to-back victories in the G3 1351 Turf Sprint in Saudi Arabia Feb. 25. She improved from a well-backed fifth in this spot to cause a mild upset in last term's G1 Yasuda Kinen in her next visit to the races.

So deep is this year's renewal that Lotus Land (Point of Entry), a dual Group 3 winner and near-miss second in the 2022 G1 Takamatsunomiya Kinen, is no better than a 100-1 chance. She exits a sixth in the latter event Mar. 26 when the ground at Chukyo was exceptionally testing.
