CHURCHILL DOWNS TO SUSPEND MEET, MOVE RACING TO ELLIS PARK

Churchill Downs | Horsephotos

by Bill Finley

Reeling from a rash of breakdowns that has developed into what can only be described as a crisis for the track and for the entire sport, track management at Churchill Downs Incorporated (CDI) announced Friday that racing will be suspended at Churchill after Sunday's card and that the remainder of the scheduled meet will be run at Ellis Park.

The first day of racing at Ellis will be held on June 10. The Churchill-at-Ellis meet will end on July 3.

Racing at Churchill will be held as scheduled this Saturday and Sunday.

THIS SIDE UP: PLUS CA CHANGE....

by Chris McGrath

At a time when so many people seem to be allowing a duty of vigilance to crumble into morbid defeatism, it seems a little unfair that our sport should be going through such a hard time even as we approach the 50th anniversary of the most luminous tour de force in the story of the modern breed.

Of course, as some powerful evocations of the time have lately reminded us, Secretariat arrived as a sunbeam into a wider world darkened by Vietnam and civic unrest. And nor should we deceive ourselves that even our own, notoriously insular community was back then immune to some of the things that vex us in 2023.

For instance, without reprising what have doubtless become tiresomely familiar objections to tinkering with the Classic schedule, let's not forget that Secretariat faced down a Triple Crown drought stretching to Citation in 1948. Obviously a still longer wait followed Seattle Slew and Affirmed, but we've found two horses equal to the task in the last eight years. Even so, the trainers are somehow trying to bully us into reconciling the paradox that they want more time between the races and therefore (assuming this indeed renders those races more competitive) to extend the intervals between precisely those Triple Crown winners that supposedly represent our best route to wider engagement.

Churchill moves meet to Ellis, cont. from p1

“The team at Churchill Downs takes great pride in our commitment to safety and strives to set the highest standard in racing, consistently going above and beyond the regulations and policies that are required,” said Bill Carstanjen, CEO of CDI in a statement. “What has happened at our track is deeply upsetting and absolutely unacceptable. Despite our best efforts to identify a cause for the recent horse injuries, and though no issues have been linked to our racing surfaces or environment at Churchill Downs, we need to take more time to conduct a top-to-bottom review of all of the details and circumstances so that we can further strengthen our surface, safety and integrity protocols.”

Carstanjen’s statement continued: “In addition to our commitment to providing the safest racing environment for our participants, we have an immense responsibility as the economic engine of the Thoroughbred industry in Kentucky which provides jobs and income for thousands of families every day. By relocating the remainder of the meet to Ellis Park, we are able to maintain this industry ecosystem with only minor disruption. We are grateful to the Kentucky horsemen for their support, resiliency and continued partnership as we collectively work to find answers during this time.”

Shortly after the Churchill statement was released, the Horseracing Integrity and Safety Authority (HISA) put out a release of its own, saying that it had recommended that the meet be suspended. HISA does not have the authority to close a meet down but can prevent a track from sending out its simulcasting signal if it feels that track is not making their best effort to deal with breakdowns and other safety issues.

“HISA’s highest priority is the safety and wellbeing of equine and human athletes competing under our jurisdiction,” said HISA CEO Lisa Lazarus. “Given that we have been so far unable to draw conclusions about the cause of the recent equine fatalities at Churchill Downs, and therefore have been unable to recommend or require interventions that we felt would adequately ensure the safety of the horses running there, we made the decision to recommend to CDI that they temporarily suspend racing at Churchill Downs while additional reviews continue. We know that CDI and the KHRC [Kentucky Horse Racing Commission] share our goal of ensuring safety above all else, and we appreciate their thoughtfulness and cooperation through these challenging moments. We will continue to seek answers and work with everyone involved to ensure that horses are running safely at Churchill Downs again in the near future.”

The shift to Ellis was made despite widespread agreement among trainers, jockeys and by experts brought in to examine the racing surface that there were no issues with either the main track or the turf course. Of the 12 horses who have died, seven died in races run over the main track. There was also a fatality in a turf race and another during training hours. Wild On Ice (Tapizar), a contender for the GI Kentucky Derby, was the first fatality when he broke down during morning training on Apr. 27. Three other horses died due to causes other than musculoskeletal injuries.

Considering the widespread opinion that there is nothing wrong with the track, Rick Hiles, President of the Kentucky HBPA, came out with his own statement Friday in which he questioned the decision. Cont.

"Horsemen question the purpose of this unprecedented step, especially without conclusive evidence that there is a problem with the racetrack at Churchill Downs. We all want to find solutions that will improve safety for horses. However, we need to discuss allowing trainers and veterinarians to use therapeutic medications that greatly lessen the risk of breakdowns. Drastic steps, such as relocating an active race meet, should only be considered when it is certain to make a difference."

The HISA statement also referenced the findings that there is nothing amiss with the racetrack.

"Track surface expert Dennis Moore completed his HISA-commissioned review of the Churchill Downs Racetrack and reported his findings to HISA earlier today," the statement read. "After conducting his own inspection of the surface and reviewing data collected by Racing Surfaces Testing Laboratory (RSTL) and Churchill Downs, he reported there were no primary areas for concern and has verified that the various track metrics analyzed are consistent with previous years."

The decision to move to Ellis was approved Friday by the Kentucky Horse Racing Commission (KHRC).

"Today, Churchill Downs requested a voluntary move of their operations to Ellis Park for the remainder of their spring meet," KHRC spokesperson Kristin Voskuhl said. "Out of an abundance of caution for the safety of all racing participants, the KHRC approved the move. The KHRC is working closely with Churchill Downs and the Horseracing Integrity & Safety Authority on continuing investigations into the recent equine fatalities."

The condition book for the Churchill meet and the stakes schedule will remain unchanged upon the shift to Ellis.

Last September, Churchill announced that it had bought Ellis from Enchantment Holdings for $79 million in cash. Following the Churchill-at-Ellis meet, racing will continue at Ellis. The 2023 Ellis meet runs from July 7 through Sunday, Aug. 27.

The move to Ellis will be an inconvenience for horsemen. Ellis is roughly 103 miles from Louisville. Despite that, Churchill-based trainer Dale Romans said he understood why Churchill made the move.

"I think it is overkill, but better to have overkill than to not pay attention to the breakdowns," he said. "Yes, it surprised me when I first heard about it. But we are talking about a major corporate company and they don't want to keep going with things being the way they are only to figure out later that it was the racetrack. You can't execute Churchill for trying to do the right thing."

When faced with similar problems in 2019, Santa Anita shut down its meet for about three weeks before resuming racing.

Well, the world moves on. And it's not as though the Thoroughbred has ever permitted hard and fast rules anyway.

On the one hand, it's pretty unarguable that the old school, by exposing their horses more, helped the public to develop a rooting interest. If Flightline (Tapit) was perhaps as talented as we've seen since Secretariat, in making just six starts he barely scratched the surfaced of national attention.

And I do like to think there were other, incidental gains in the aggressive campaigning of horses, whether in terms of educating the animal or showcasing the type of genes that breeders should wish to replicate.

But if Mage (Good Magic) is only the latest proof that modern trainers can prepare a raw horse even for a challenge as notoriously exacting as the Kentucky Derby, then let's roll back to that summer of '73.

Okay, so Secretariat himself had made nine juvenile starts from July 4. But if you would presume experience to be an asset at Churchill on the first Saturday in May, then how much more crucial should it be for the template itself, the most venerable race of all: the Derby at Epsom, that crazy rollercoaster with its twisting hill? Yet half a century ago, in a field of 25, the race was won on only his second career start by Morston (GB). Cont.

He was bred for Classic stamina, at any rate: by St Leger winner Ragusa (Ire) out of an Oaks runner-up (herself by a St Leger runner-up) who had already produced the 1969 Derby winner Blakeney (GB). Ragusa, incidentally, was out of a mare imported from a very old American family that had earlier produced Hard Tack, the sire of Seabiscuit. The St Leger, remember, is run over 14 furlongs. As the Japanese have reminded us, the lifeblood of the Thoroughbred is not brute speed but class: the ability not just to go fast, but to keep going fast.

That is certainly the hallmark of Galileo (Ire), whose legacy saturates the 244th running of the Derby on Saturday. With 93 juveniles and just a dozen yearlings still to come, he is represented by a single son, Artistic Star (Ire), unbeaten for one of the outstanding trainers in Europe yet available at tempting odds. Of the remaining 13 starters, eight are by sons of Galileo (including two by principal heir Frankel {GB}); two are out of his daughters; and one is out of a mare by another of his sons. That leaves just two runners to have bobbed to the surface of a European bloodstock industry that squanders mares, by the thousand, on stallions that cannot remotely satisfy the definition of class given above.

But, yes, the world moves on. Sometimes it just moves on in the wrong direction. It's a pretty dismal reflection on where our sport stands today that its greatest race has been shoehorned into the middle of lunch to avoid the F.A. Cup Final. Because what American readers may not realize is that this particular soccer match, in its heyday, also once brought England to a standstill--but has in recent years, even as the game has boomed, also lost much of its popular traction. With many managers resting star players for this tournament, you might even say that the F.A. Cup has shared the same decline in popular culture as the Derby (for which Parliament itself used to take the day off).

Fixed television schedules are also a thing of the past, with the young especially expecting to do most of their viewing "on demand." That puts live events at a premium. In Britain, however, broadcasting rights for the most prestigious sporting events--including both the F.A. Cup Final and the Derby--are ringfenced for free channels. (Which obviously invites the paradox that the most coveted events, with no competition from channels with subscription revenue, are least likely to achieve their true market value.) Unusually, the F.A. Cup Final is broadcast simultaneously by both the BBC and ITV. And since the latter also has the rights to the Derby, racing has been unceremoniously shown its place.

By an unmissable irony, the match that has elbowed the Derby aside is being contested by Manchester City and Manchester United. As such, it is what the soccer world knows as a "derby" match between local rivals. The origin of this usage is tenuous, but some have ascribed it to the Epsom race. Horseracing, after all, long precedes football (in all its variations) in popular culture. Cont.

Yet now we find The Jockey Club taking out injunctions in anticipation of animal rights protests, even for a race in such innocuous contrast to, for instance, the Grand National. And that is without the current traumas of Churchill Downs having remotely penetrated wider consciousness on that side of the pond.

But let's resist adding another "basso profundo" to the prevailing chorus of miserabilism. Let's hope for another infectiously exciting chapter in the Epsom epic: maybe a final Derby for Dettori, who has already won two of three British Classics on his farewell tour; or perhaps one more for another old master, Sir Michael Stoute.

His runner hadn't even seen a racetrack before Apr. 20. Put that in your pipe and smoke it, Mage! Passenger (Ulysses {Ire}) is actually out of a War Front mare. Fifty years on from Morston, then, perhaps Passenger would be an apt reminder that the more the world changes, the more it stays the same.

Q&A ON CHURCHILL/ELLIS WITH TRACK SURFACES EXPERT MICK PETERSON

by T.D. Thornton

Dr. Michael "Mick" Peterson, Jr. is the executive director of the independent Racing Surfaces Testing Laboratory. He is a mechanical engineer who is widely considered the preeminent track surface specialist in North America.

His team has conducted the ongoing testing at Churchill Downs, and it will be tasked this week with being sure Ellis Park is ready to handle a race meet in expedited fashion while also helping out with the continued surface analysis at Churchill.

TDN spoke with Peterson early Friday evening in the wake of the 12 horse deaths at Churchill that caused that track's corporate ownership to move a portion of its remaining spring meet to Ellis, which has not hosted racing since last summer. An edited version of that conversation follows.

TDN: Please describe your team's role, what's been done so far at Churchill, and what are the next steps at both Churchill and Ellis.

MP: I'm a professor at the University of Kentucky, and the university has set up with the racing industry to allow me to spend half of my time running the non-profit Racing Surfaces Testing Laboratory in Lexington. We now have six full-time people, and we work for the Horseracing Integrity and Safety Act (HISA) Authority doing testing. We also work for racetracks doing testing, and we do materials testing. Our standards, quite a few of them, have been adopted as international standards. Others, we're working on getting them accepted as international standards.

Ellis Park | Coady

Our next priority is to do anything we can to help Churchill, and to evaluate the Ellis surface for HISA, because we're moving there and we need to make sure, to the extent that we can, that [Ellis is ready and safe to race].

We've got this really systematic "pre-flight" process we go through before each race meet. We did our testing 2 1/2 months ago to get ready for the Churchill race meet, and then we repeated it after [GI Kentucky] Derby week. It involves ground-penetrating radar, biomechanical surface testing, and we measure grades.

At the start of the race meet, everything looked good. It looked good after the Derby, too. We just didn't see anything out of whack.

I'm not going to pretend we know everything. That's not a part of what we're doing. We can work on consistency. But we've still got a lot to learn about safety. And that's really the wonderful thing about HISA. We're going to be doing this now at a [nationwide] scale, and it won't depend on who the general manager [at any given track] is. It will be every [track] just does the same thing.

So I've been thinking we're on the cusp of something good. And then the [12 fatalities at Churchill] happen, and it just makes you think, "What don't we know? What are we missing?"

TDN: What's next?

MP: At Churchill, we'll go back and I suspect we'll do some more testing. [West Coast track surfaces consultant] Dennis Moore has finished up [a round of testing this week], and I just talked to him right before you called, and we're just making sure we understand everything that we're looking at. He hasn't found anything of any note there. But we're going to keep looking.

What we're scheduling now [at Churchill] is the same testing we do for every other racetrack. We'll be doing 72 tracks this year according to the schedule. Cont.

And we'll be doing the same thing at Ellis. Ellis was on the schedule for next week anyway. We're just going to [expedite] it, and if we find anything, we'll fix it. It's a seasonal track, so it's got its own set of challenges. My understanding is that before the announcement, [Churchill representatives] were over there [to try to figure out if Ellis] was ready.

I think [moving the meet to Ellis] is a good thing. We've got to figure out what was going on [at Churchill] and look at everything. And I don't mean just the track: Horse population, the history of the horses, et cetera.

TDN: Ellis hasn't hosted racing since last summer. Most dormant dirt tracks get rolled and compacted when not in use, then gradually get opened up with harrows prior to the meet starting. Where are they in that process?

MP: I don't know. We need to follow up. We just got the announcement [Friday]. But keep in mind that Del Mar, which incidentally, is a dirt track that has been the safest major track in North America for the last couple of years, they've got the [San Diego County Fair] on that [compacted] surface until like a week and a half before [racing begins].

What we generally say is the trick is to do three days of simulated racing, [which can be condensed into] a 24-hour period. We're talking watering, harrowing [and that repeated cycle]. That's how we make sure that the track is fully set up. Dennis Moore is the one who has probably perfected that.

TDN: Back in 2014-15, when Aqueduct had a spate of 12 catastrophic fatalities, TDN interviewed several veterinarians who suggested that absent of any identifiable problems, the deaths could be explained statistically as a "bad run of numbers." That can make mathematic sense, but the theory tends not to go over well when people are demanding quick answers and causes. Could that be the case at Churchill?

MP: Remember, I'm not a veterinarian. I'm not even close. I'm a PhD engineer. But I'm pretty good with numbers. [And] if you look at this, this absolutely [could be what the New York vets] were talking about.

TDN: You've been working on track safety for the better part of three decades. Given the more intense focus on horse deaths, do you find increased pressure to come up with "magic bullet" types of answers to difficult, multi-factorial problems?

MP: The comparison that I like to make is that what I do is like the National Transportation Safety Board when they have a train derailment. I'm one of the pieces that goes into the puzzle for them to understand it so they can respond and do the analysis. But it isn't going to be just one piece. It's going to [involve] necropsy results. The drug testing. The past performances of the horses. The training history. All those pieces fit together, and then that's what a good post-mortem exam is going to look like.

It doesn't happen quickly, and it's probably way slower than it should [be], which is something that I think HISA has got to focus some effort on. But my role is to give them the track part of it. I think we've gotten to where we do a better job at that than we did. I'm not 100% satisfied. But we're working on it.

TDN: What, specifically, are you working on that could be a future game-changer?

MP: We have a prototype of a sensor that goes on the harrow, and it will give us moisture content and cushion depth in real time between every race. That really will be a "black box" that goes with the overall process. [Think of] our pre-meet testing as the pre-flight checklist. As we go forward, our goal is to make [the sensor] the black box [like the one that records in-flight data]. That's where we're headed. For better or worse, these are the sorts of events that [spur] progress.

- Participated in roundtable discussions with Churchill Downs' veterinary team, track superintendents and track executives looking for any recurring factor in the incidents.
- Reached out to California Horse Racing Board Executive Director Scott Chaney for best practices in the event of a rash of equine fatalities
- Participated in the HISA emergency summit and shared details of daily workouts, investigative interviews
- Created an executive-level safety steward position to coordinate daily track safety measures. Job details will be posted at khrc.ky.gov when available.

"Out of an abundance of caution and effective June 7, 2023, Kentucky Thoroughbred Development Fund purses will be limited to first through fifth place finishers.

"All investigations opened after Apr. 29, 2023 are ongoing, but so far have not identified a common variable between these recent fatalities. The KHRC has not received necropsy reports from the University of Kentucky for any horse fatality after May 2, 2023. Once necropsies are completed and blood analysis is returned, the KHRC veterinary team takes a comprehensive look at all known factors that contributed to that death and compiles those results in a mortality review. As these reviews are completed, they will be made public and posted to the KHRC website at khrc.ky.gov/new\_docs.aspx?cat=30&menuid=30

"Each completed mortality review will be shared with HISA for further review and recommendations.

"On June 2, 2022, the KHRC entered a voluntary agreement with HISA that grants them authority to oversee racetrack safety. On Mar. 21, 2023, KHRC entered a voluntary agreement with HISA's Anti-Doping and Medication Control (ADMC) Program.

"With these agreements in effect, the KHRC has authority to suspend a license for any violation that threatens the integrity of Kentucky horse racing or the KHRC's ability to protect the racing public except where HISA has preempted state regulations in the areas of 1) track safety, and 2) anti-doping and medication control ("ADMC"). If a track had violations related to either of these areas, HISA would have jurisdiction."

BOLT D'ORO COLT IS THE DUDE IN PENN MILE

Spendthrift Farm's MGSW Major Dude (Bolt d'Oro) showed his class, overcoming a bit of trouble to gut out victory in the GII Penn Mile S. at Penn National Friday evening. The 2-5 choice looked to bobble slightly coming out of the gate before assuming a tracking spot behind the :23.17 and :47.85 fractions carved out by Recruiter (Army Mule). Tucked in third on the inside, Major Dude made an initial move on the backstretch, easing to within a neck shy of the front before abruptly shuffling back significantly as Behind Enemy Lines (GB) (Sioux Nation) made a bold move to take on and subsequently put away the frontrunner. Major Dude swung out, came on again--this time on the outside--under Irad Ortiz, Jr. to engage Behind Enemy Lines, and asserted himself late to win by three-quarters of a length, getting the turf contest for 3-year-olds in 1:33.73. Second choice Behind Enemy Lines held for second, while 98-1 Fletcher (Blofeld) finished third. Fletcher's trainer, James Lawrence, II, won the Penn Mile last year with Wow Whata Summer (Summer Front).

"We kind of squeezed and shuffled back there on the turn, and Irad got him out in the clear," said Stu Hampson, assistant to Hall of Fame trainer Todd Pletcher. "Once he found clear running, he did it all himself. He's a really cool horse to be around and obviously a really talented horse. Hopefully, he'll have a big rest of his 3-year-old year." Cont.

The Penn Mile marked the third graded win of Major Dude's career, something not lost on Jack Sisterson, trainer of runner-up Behind Enemy Lines. "You look at the form of [Major Dude], a big favorite. You've got the best trainer [Pletcher] training the horse. Let those guys enjoy the win, and hopefully we'll match up with Major Dude again and have another battle down the stretch."

Major Dude was by far the most accomplished in the field coming into the Penn Mile and sported the highest Beyer Speed Figures, getting consecutive 90-plus numbers in his last three starts. Last seen finishing third on Derby Day in the GII American Turf S. after a second to eventual GI Kentucky Derby runner-up Two Phil's (Hard Spun) in the GIII Jeff Ruby Steaks on Turfway Park's synthetic Mar. 25, Major Dude won the GIII Kitten's Joy S. in February at Gulfstream. Also winner of the GII Pilgrim S. at the Belmont at Aqueduct meet last October, the $550,000 2021 Fasig-Tipton Saratoga graduate was a stakes-placed winner on dirt before moving to the grass last fall.

Pedigree Notes:

Major Dude is one of three graded winners for sophomore sire Bolt d'Oro, who stands at Spendthrift Farm. The son of Medaglia d'Oro also has six black-type winners, including 2023 GIII Lecomte S. winner Instant Coffee and 2023 Layfayette S. winner Corona Bolt. Like Major Dude, Bolt d'Oro's May 6 Lazaro Barrera S. runner-up Navy Man is also out of a Distorted Humor mare. The current leading U.S. broodmare sire and pensioned WinStar stallion Distorted Humor is responsible for 137 winners out of his daughters.

The Penn Mile winner's dam is a full-sister to the dam of 'TDN Rising Star' Arabian Lion (Justify), impressive victor of the May 20 Sir Barton S. at Pimlico after a runner-up finish in the Apr. 15 GIII Stonestreet Lexington S. at Keeneland. The two graded stakes-producing full-sisters are out of a winning daughter of legendary Broodmare of the Year and undefeated champion Personal Ensign (Private Account). Major Dude's breeder, Clearsky Farms, picked up Major Dude's dam, Mary Rita, for $230,000 at the 2016 Keeneland November sale. The mare has a juvenile colt named Radio Liberty (Audible), who was acquired for $150,000 at Keeneland September by BSW/Crow Colts Group/Spendthrift Farm/Gandharvi, and a 2023 colt by Charlatan born on Mar. 10.

STEPHEN FOSTER PREVIEW DAY HEADLINES

SATURDAY'S GRADED ACTION

Lucky Seven Stable's Rattle N Roll (Connect), winner of this term's GIII Ben Ali S. Apr. 22 and GIII Pimlico Special S. May 19, is the horse to beat returning on short notice in Saturday's GIII Blame S., the featured race on "Stephen Foster Preview Day" at Churchill Downs.

The $1-million GI Stephen Foster will now be held four weeks later at Ellis Park.

The Ken McPeck-trained 2021 GI Claiborne Breeders' Futurity winner will face seven rivals from his rail draw, including the re-opposing Ben Ali second- and third-place finishers Call Me Fast (Dialed In) and Pioneer of Medina (Pioneer of the Nile); and grassy MGISW Santin (Distorted Humor), who makes his first career start on dirt. Cont.

Rattle N Roll | Jim McCue

The 11-race Churchill Downs program also includes: the GIII Arlington S., led by 8-5 morning-line favorite and MGSW 7-year-old gelding Set Piece (GB) (Dansili {GB}); the GIII Shawnee S., featuring the streaking Frost Point (Frosted) and GISW Pauline's Pearl (Tapit); a field of six 3-year-old fillies in the grassy GIII Regret S.; the return of last out G1 Dubai Golden Shaheen winner Sibelius (Not This Time) in the $225,000 Aristides S.; and the $225,000 Audubon S. for 3-year-olds on grass.

Silver Knott (GB) (Lope de Vega {Ire}) and 'TDN Rising Star' Far Bridge (English Channel), meanwhile, figure to vie for favoritism in Belmont's GII Pennine Ridge S. The former, 11th in the G1 Qipco 2000 Guineas May 6, came within a nose as the favorite in the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf at Keeneland Nov. 4. Far Bridge suffered his first career defeat falling just a nose short while making his stakes debut in the GII American Turf S. on the GI Kentucky Derby undercard.

The Alys Look (Connect), a respectable third at 30-1 for trainer Brad Cox in the GI Kentucky Oaks, makes her first start for Chris Davis in the GII Summertime Oaks at Santa Anita. The Ike and Dawn Thrash colorbearer faces six rivals, including GII Santa Anita Oaks second- and third-place finishers And Tell Me Nolies (Arrogate) and Window Shopping (American Pharoah); and last-out seven-furlong optional claiming winners Anywho (Bolt d'Oro) and Doinitthehardway (Street Sense).

A pair of graded stakes will also take place at Woodbine--the GIII Belle Mahone S., highlighted by the return of Canadian Horse of the Year and Queen's Plate S. heroine Moir (Ghostzapper); and a field of 11 for the GII Royal North S.

IL MIRACOLO FINALIZES BELMONT PREP AT GULFSTREAM

Alexandres LLC's Il Miracolo (Gun Runner) breezed five furlongs at Gulfstream Park Friday morning in preparation for a scheduled start in next Saturday's GI Belmont S.

He was timed in 1:00.88, the fastest clocking of four recorded at the distance. The Antonio Sano trainee is coming off a front-running score at Gulfstream in an optional claiming allowance at a mile May 11 in his first start since finishing sixth to 'TDN Rising Star' Forte (Violence) in the GI Curlin Florida Derby.

"The horse wants distance and is doing really good, so we'll try," Sano said.

Marcos Meneses will have the return mount aboard Il Miracolo, who is scheduled to ship to Belmont Park Saturday.

A FATEFUL PAIR: CHELSIE RAABE AND SIBELIUS

Chelsie Raabe and Sibelius | Sara Gordon

Ever since she was a young girl, Chelsie Raabe had dreamed of reaching the pinnacle moment in her career as an equestrian, where she envisioned one day standing atop the Olympic podium or making the victorious walk out following a clear cross-country round at the Land Rover Three-Day event.

But it wasn't until the evening of Mar. 25 at Meydan Racecourse in Dubai, as she looked up at a bustling grandstand that echoed with the crescendo of excited fans awaiting the start of the G1 Dubai Golden Shaheen on Dubai World Cup night, that Raabe realized the dream had been achieved. Cont.

It was just a new version, with a showjumping stadium swapped out for a racetrack, and instead of her jumping around a course aboard her own off-track Thoroughbred, it was her walking out as the assistant trainer and exercise rider of Sibelius (Not This Time), who would go on to win the Dubai Golden Shaheen and become the first Group 1 winner for his trainer Jerry O'Dwyer.

"I looked up at the grandstand and burst into tears. I couldn't even control it, I literally started sobbing. It was just such a big moment," said Raabe. "I was always that person that said, 'I'm going to do something really big,' even though I was mostly at a disadvantage. I just had that flashback to me as a little girl daydreaming about standing on an Olympic podium and I'm looking up at these fans and all of these people and these cameramen, and thought 'Wow, this is a dream come true.'"

A native of Oxford, Ohio, Raabe grew up on her family's 100-acre farm where ponies and horses were a constant as she participated in 4-H, FFA and rode as a member of the local Pony Club. From there, her passion for the sport of eventing led her to two-time Olympic rider Dorothy Crowell, who Raabe spent the summers with as a working student in Frankfort, Ky.

After graduating from Miami University of Oxford, Ohio, in 2013 with a bachelor's degree in integrative studies, Raabe headed south to Ocala, Fla., working various jobs in the horse industry before landing at Bridlewood Farm. That venture kickstarted her first endeavor into the training and racing side of the Thoroughbred business.

"While I was working at Bridlewood, I absolutely fell in love with racing and that farm. At that time, we had Tapwrit and just so many nice horses. I didn't even realize how nice so many of the horses were that I was around, until much later, because it was so new to me. But I just liked that there were so many different types of races and different types of horses and how new and interesting it was," she said. "I went from never touching a real racehorse to learning how to gallop and I ended up being one of the traveling assistants, where I was traveling around the country and running horses. I was able to learn a lot quickly and whenever I wanted to learn more, I was always able to do those things there."

After nearly three years at Bridlewood, Raabe moved on to work for trainers Jonathan Thomas and later Michelle Nihei, before returning to Ocala for a stint at Red Oak Farm.

By the spring of 2022, after working through the brunt of the Covid-19 pandemic in Florida, Maryland and Delaware, Raabe felt she was at a crossroads when it came to her future in the Thoroughbred industry. It was then she decided she'd have one final hurrah as an exercise rider, riding out for Todd Pletcher in Saratoga that summer, while also working for track photographer Adam Coglianese.

"I loved working for Todd. It's definitely what I needed at that point in time. It was a low-stress, good job with good horses," she said. "But you do get really burnt out. It is a hard life. It's grueling, it really is."

As summer winded down, Raabe began looking into housing as she planned her return to Florida, until a phone call from longtime friend Alison O'Dwyer, Jerry's wife, changed everything.

"Jerry has this really nice horse; he just won the Lite the Fuse [at Laurel Park] and we're going to run him in a 'Win and You're In' [the GII Stoll Keenon Ogden Phoenix S.] at Keeneland. He's thinking about sending a string but doesn't really have anyone to oversee it, so we're still trying to figure out the details," Alison O'Dwyer said.

"Ali, if he wants, I would love to go do that for you guys. I would love to go to Keeneland for the fall meet," Raabe immediately replied.

It was a full circle moment for Raabe, who had met Alison during her time working for Crowell in Kentucky. The two have been close friends ever since.

"Alison is one of my best friends, so that's actually how I met Jerry. It's always been kind of inevitable as to when I would be working for him. It was never a question, I knew that I'd end up in that barn at some point," said Raabe. "He would say, 'You always have a job with me.'"

And that 'nice horse' Alison had mentioned? It was none other than Sibelius, a striking chestnut with an enchanting white face and chrome on his legs to match, who had just become a stakes winner with a rousing 7 1/2-length victory over GSW Jaxon Traveler (Munnings) in the Sept. 10 Lite the Fuse S.

"My first ride on him in September, I remember getting off of him, looking at my co-worker Ricardo [Barajas], who I had known in Delaware, and saying 'Ricardo, this horse is going to be a freak, but he's not a freak yet,'" she said. Cont.

The pair have spent each morning together since. Continuing on with his 4-year-old season, Sibelius wound up fourth in the Stoll Keenon Ogden Phoenix, by two lengths, and second in the Bet on Sunshine S. that November at Churchill, before heading back to Jerry O'Dwyer's home base at Palm Meadows Training Center in Boynton Beach, Fla. He closed out the year back in graded stakes company at Gulfstream Park, facing 10 others in the Dec. 31 GIII Mr. Prospector S. and prevailing by 2 1/4 lengths with regular jockey Junior Alvarado aboard.

"I really value teaching the horses how to relax while they train. I feel like when a horse is relaxed, a horse can think, and across any sport I've been involved with--I've helped with driving horses, western horses, showjumpers, dressage and eventing horses--the one thing that every horse needs to be successful in any sport is relaxation," said Raabe. "I have really tried to carry that over in the way I gallop, the way I train horses to gallop. As I've come to know that horse, he really thrives in knowing his people and having a close relationship with them. I've been riding him for months now, and he's one of the easiest horses to ride in the barn now, but in the beginning he wasn't. It just took him time to learn how I wanted him to train and once he started catching on, he was much happier and I'm much happier."

Following a resilient victory in the Pelican S. at Tampa Bay Downs, where he won by 1 1/4 lengths in a final time of 1:08.75 going six furlongs over a fast track Feb. 11, Sibelius and his team were officially invited to Dubai for the $2-million Dubai Golden Shaheen.

The prep work off the track became just as important as the training on the track, as Raabe took two weeks to prepare the gelding for the long walks they would be making to and from the track when stabled at Meydan.

"Since we have such a small stable, we're able to customize what we do with each horse if we need to, so I just started walking him and getting his body used to carrying weight for that long. By the time I left for Dubai, he was already used to having that 30-minute walk before and after he trained. He really enjoyed it," said Raabe. "We would march up and down the paths at Palm Meadows and we would have people coming out to visit him, specifically to say 'hi' to him and give him a pet. He loved it because he was getting attention, and of course he's a smart, relaxed horse anyways so he really enjoyed that part of his day."

The work the O'Dwyer team put in, and the bond Sibelius has with Raabe, were the ideal foundation for a seamless transition to life over in Dubai leading up to the big race. With the pair both making their first trips outside of the United States, Raabe arrived Mar. 12 and Sibelius shipped in the following day.

"As soon as he saw me, he took this deep breath and put his head against my chest. There was all of this madness going on around him, everyone's trying to rip wraps off of the horses and get them walked and get them bathed and in that moment, it was like he said, 'I'm just glad you're here,'" said Raabe. "I quietly took his wraps off, it was just me and him there, and I hung out with him for a few minutes. Once the barn quieted down, I walked him out, gave him a bath and took him for a little walk and let him do his thing. It's little things like that that he really appreciates."

All eyes were on Sibelius each morning at Meydan, where the gelding established himself as a local celebrity of sorts with his routine of standing in on the rail, taking in his surroundings with ears pricked and head on a swivel. Raabe said his awareness of every situation he is in, regardless of the change in scenery, is a testament to his intelligence and ability to thrive in an ever-changing environment.

"Since everyone around him was relaxed, and the whole situation was relaxed, it was just easy for him. He's a horse that always stands in when he goes on the track. I think he's always done it and he's always been allowed to do it, because he loves just taking in the world. The closer he gets to a race, the longer he wants to stand in. I swear he knows what the routine is the closer he gets to a race and how many times he breezes before he's going to run," said Raabe. "This was the easiest time I've ever had traveling with a horse, so you just knew something special was going to happen."

Special indeed. With Ryan Moore aboard, Sibelius ran the race of a lifetime, overcoming a poor start and making up ground as he found a spot on the inside rail and fought until the very end, coming out a nose ahead of defending champion Switzerland (Speightstown). Jerry and Alison O'Dwyer, along with the gelding's owners Jun Park and Delia Nash, were all there to witness the magnificent feat, but it was Raabe who was there to collect Sibelius as he came off of the track. Cont.

Sibelius wins the G1 Dubai Golden Shaheen | Erika Rasmussen

"I had so many people tell me they were going to watch the race and I felt like as many fans as we knew he had, I felt the entire world screaming, propelling him forward. Hundreds of people from my hometown watched that race that have never watched a horse race in their lives. People I didn't even know cared about horse racing tuned into that race. He's made such an impact on people, but maybe it's a little bit of our partnership too. It's a really beautiful bond and I think it's obvious to people, even people that don't know about horse racing, and it's something they can connect with," said Raabe.

The emotional impact of the moment washed over her again, running through a mix of shock, relief and most importantly, pride, as she watched the culmination of hard work put in by the O'Dwyer team pay off in the most rewarding of successes. Raabe also gave the utmost credit to Alvarado, who had ridden him in his six previous starts, four of which he'd won.

"Junior has done an excellent job riding him. I think with what I do when I gallop in the morning, being really adamant about horses training relaxed, on the bit and using themselves, that's really complimentary to the way Junior rides. Junior has been able to take him from being a horse that was a little nervous and hot in the races to a horse that is very relaxed and really able to think about what's happening. He grew from a horse that wouldn't really pass other horses to a horse that will confidently go by traffic, and he's never had to go by as much traffic as he did in the Golden Shaheen," said Raabe.

Returning to the States in early April, Sibelius enjoyed a few weeks of downtime on a farm near Lexington, Ky., before shipping to Keeneland to join O'Dwyer's small string being stabled there, overseen by Raabe. He resumed training Apr. 25.

With three published works at Keeneland under his belt, most recently breezing four furlongs in :50 flat over the main track on May 27, the 5-year-old gelding is set to make his stateside return in Saturday's Aristides S. at Churchill Downs. He'll be reunited with Alvarado and will once again face off with Gunite (Gun Runner), third in the Golden Shaheen, who is one of four others entered in the six-furlong test.

Despite the added pressure and pressure that tends to come with being a Group 1 winner that currently holds a three-win streak, it's business as usual for Sibelius and his partner, Raabe, who is just happy to have one of her favorites back in the barn.

"Riding him through the fall and riding him into some of the races, I just fell back in love with the sport. I fell absolutely in love with him and just had so much respect for him as a soul in the world and he really connected with me, and on top of that, I'm working with people who are my family. Jerry has created a healthy space for all of his employees, where it's family-friendly oriented and everyone gets along, everyone is friends," said

Raabe. "All of a sudden, any bit of that sort of resentment or feelings of exhaustion I had melted away. I didn't even realize I had completely fallen back in love with doing what I was doing and it's all because of Sibelius."

When Sibelius won in Meydan that fateful evening in late March, he did more than win a $2-million Group 1 race. His victory signified the devotion of his trainer and his small crew of staff members, the belief of his owners, and the support of fans, new and returning, that span across the globe. Raabe will never forget her experience with Sibelius in Dubai, but most of all, she'll treasure the precedent they set together.

"I think I've gotten hundreds and hundreds of messages from people, wishing us well, saying they were crying watching us win, or they were screaming, and that part has been really cool. Horse racing needs a horse that the people can relate to and I hope Sibelius can become that horse and our story can too. I think it's really important. We need that, the people need it, racing needs it," said Raabe. "No matter what happens the rest of the year, or during this horse's career, what matters is that his owners are so nice and kind and just want the best for him, and want the best for Jerry. His story will never become bitter, and the sport really needs that, so that part I take pretty seriously. I hope to keep cultivating his story because we do have a following now."

Take a bow, Chelsie Raabe.

SATURDAY INSIGHTS: MATAREYA HALF-SISTER FAVORED ON DEBUT by Alan Carasso

Methodology is a half-sister to MGISW Matareya (pictured) | Coady

11th-CD, $120k, Msw, 3yo/up, f/m, 7f, post time: 5:58 p.m. ET
METHODOLOGY (Uncle Mo) is the latest foal to the races out of Grade III winner Innovative Idea (Bernardini), who took her career debut in 2014 who has since gone on to become the dam of Matareya (Pioneerof the Nile), victorious in the GI Acorn S. for the Brad Cox barn last season and a latest upset winner of the GI Derby City Distaff on the Kentucky Derby undercard May 6. Innovative Idea is a daughter of MGSW/GISP Golden Velvet (Seeking the Gold), whose other produce include GSW Lucullan (Hard Spun), MSP Embossed (Medaglia d'Oro) and SP Soft Touch (Uncle Mo). Godolphin acquired MGSW third dam Caress (Storm Cat)--a full-sister to Bernstein--for $3 million at the 2000 Keeneland November Sale. The competition includes Cheyenne Stables' Driana (Kantharos), a $525,000 FTSAUG acquisition who was a big second to Lady Irene (Kantharos--Leslie's Lady) on her 5 1/2-furlong unveiling May 20. TJCS PPs

2nd-MTH, $57.5k, Msw, 2yo, f, 4 1/2f, post time: 1:07 p.m. ET
OMAHA GIRL (Omaha Beach), a daughter of MSP Anchorage (Tapit), is a half-sister to a pair of 2-year-old debut winners, including the SP Chip Leader (Giant's Causeway), as well as the Grade III winning turf marathoner Abaan (Will Take Charge). A $400,000 KEESEP purchase by Kerri Radcliffe on behalf of Amo Racing/Omni Horse, the Mar. 20 foal hails from the extended female of Broken Vow. TJCS PPs

After four scratches whittled the Penn Oaks field down to five, it was Mallemoo who turned the tables on the favorites at odds of 11-1. Arriving from Ireland after being under Joseph O'Brien for a maiden victory there last fall, the Jack Sisterson trainee was second over the grass Dec. 10 in the Wait A While S. at Gulfstream Park. Turning the page a 3-year-old, she was a well-beaten sixth Feb. 4 in the GIII Sweetest Chant S. and seventh in the GIII Herecomesthebride S. She was most recently a troubled fourth, beaten under a length, in an nine-furlong allowance over the Keeneland turf course Apr. 14.

The second-to-longest shot on the board established herself before the first turn as the pacesetter, but she was followed closely by a tight pack while laying down moderate fractions up the backstretch. Quickening up front, the dark bay filly began to launch her bid into the stretch as she and Metaphysical separated themselves from the rest of the field. Responding to the pressure, the 11-1 price outran her odds with a strong turn of foot and won narrowly over Metaphysical. Cont. p2

The winner hails from a female family which includes European champion New Approach (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), multiple Japanese stakes winner Shinko Forest (Ire) (Green Desert) and GISP & MGSW Quiet Oasis (Ire) (Oasis Dream {GB}). Mallemoo has a 2-year-old full-sister named Investment Process and a yearling half-sister by Astern (Aus). Buy Land and See successfully defended his title in the With Anticipation S. while coming within 0.07 seconds of the track record. The versatile 6-year-old was making his first start since winning the Ballezzi Appreciation Mile S. over the Parx main track last October and hit the ground running here for Mychal Sanchez, cutting out sharp early fractions of :23.41 and :46.29.

Still going well up front around the turn, he turned for home after six furlongs in 1:09.08, opened an insurmountable advantage into the final eighth of a mile and jogged home an easy winner. Buy Land and See was winning his fifth black-type race overall, having also annexed last year's restricted Alphabet Soup S. and the 2019 Awad S. when under the care of Steve Klesaris in New York. Also a half-brother to the dam of PA-bred multiple stakes winner Flor de Sombra (Social Inclusion), Buy Land and See is out of an unraced half-sister to SW & GSP Abby's Angel (Touch Gold), the dam of UAE GSW & G1SP Comicas (Distorted Humor); and to SW & GSP Cara Marie (Unbridled's Song), the dam of GSW and GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies' third Girl Daddy (Scat Daddy). Click for the Equibase.com chart or VIDEO, sponsored by TVG.

Heartyconstitution brought home her first black-type win for her connections at Penn National Friday evening. Second last summer to GISP Wicked Halo (Gun Runner) to cap her 3-year-old campaign in the Tepin S. at Churchill Downs, the dark bay filly started her 4-year-old campaign with a turf allowance victory at Fair Grounds Mar. 15. She collected another score, this time against optional claimers over the dirt, on the GI Kentucky Oaks undercard May 5.

Sent off as the heavy 1-9 shot here, the Joe Sharp trainee settled mid-pack behind some honest fractions. Heartyconstitution was given her cue rounding the far turn, responded when set down for a drive and she went on rather easily to win by a length over longshot My Dixie Lass.

PRO OXIDANT (g, 4, Medaglia d'Oro--Ender's Sister {MSW & MGSP, $525,048}, by A.P. Indy) was last seen running a well-beaten sixth when stepping up in class in the GIII Commonwealth S. at Keeneland Apr. 8 after stringing together a pair of optional claiming wins down at Fair Grounds Dec. 29 and Feb. 12. Off here as the 2-1 favorite, the homebred allowed longshot Radical Right (First Samurai) to take over down the backstretch as he bided his time along the rail. Pro Oxidant dropped back a spot into the turn as the leader continued to try and get away, but tipping to the outside at the top of the stretch, the dark bay gelding launched his bid, surging past the pacesetter a sixteenth from home before going on to win by 1 3/4 lengths. The winner is a half-brother to A. P. Indian (Indian Charlie), MGISW, $1,477,434; Its All Relevant (Hard Spun), GSP, $589,467; and Tiz Shea D (Tiznow), GSW, $482,197. HIDDEN PATH (c, 3, Hard Spun--Lots o' Lex {SW & MGSP, $223,200}, by Kitalpha) just missed by a neck in his debut over the Tapeta Mar. 31 at Gulfstream Park, but switched to the turf May 4 at Churchill Downs and got the job done. At odds of 4-1 here, the bay colt settled in second around the first turn as Blue Devil (Uncle Mo) posted the early fractions. With the half-mile clocked at :49.29, Hidden Path pulled even with the leader around the far turn and into the lane the pair dueled all of the way to the wire, with the Todd Pletcher trainee winning the bob in the end by a nose. Brazilian champion 2-year-old filly Medalha Milagrosa (Miner's Mark) is a half-sister to the winner's dam, who produced a 2-year-old filly by Catholic Boy. She was purchased by Double O Racing at the Keeneland September Yearling sale last fall for $40,000, shipped to Ireland and then sold for $39,057 to New Approach Bloodstock/Sayed Hashish at the Arqana 2-year-old Breeze-Up sale in May. Older Mare, MGISW, $2,707,300}, by First Defence) was pounded into 1-3 favoritism to build on a 'TDN Rising Star'-worthy display over six furlongs at Keeneland Apr. 15 and ran away from her dramatically overmatched rivals in the final stages of a one-mile Churchill allowance Friday to score with condescending ease to take a major step in the direction of stakes company. The bay filly settled between horses while racing in the second flight and had about five lengths to make up on the leaders as they raced into the turn. Perhaps a bit flat-footed at the midway point of that bend and pushed along slightly by Javier Castellano, Scylla began to find her best stride nearing the entrance to the stretch, angled out four or five wide, quickly opened daylight and was taken in hand by for the better part of the final 150 yards. Scylla is a full-sister to young Taylor Made stallion Tacitus, MGSW & MGISP, $2,267,350, and is out of the 2014 Eclipse Award-winning older mare, whose five Grade I successes included a spine-tingling defeat of Princess of Sylmar (Majestic Warrior)--with Beholder (Henny Hughes) fourth--in the GI Ogden Phipps S. during her championship season. Close Hatches's full-sister Lockdown won the 2017 Busanda S., was third in that year's GI Kentucky Oaks and GI Cotillion S. and is responsible for SW & GSP Idiomatic (Curlin), but unfortunately passed away in 2022. Not seen since she was well-beaten in the GI Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies Turf, the dark bay filly came out of the layoff as the 2-1 co-favorite here. Xigera raced just off the speed into the first turn chasing some stiff fractions, finally caught up to the pacesetter past the eighth pole and wrapped up a nice return to the races with a 3 1/2-length score over the late-running Misread (Blame). The winner is a half-sister to both Forty Under (Uncle Mo), GSW, $380,536; and to Myriskyaffair (Verrazano), GSP, $236,325. Her dam delivered a filly by Street Boss Apr. 22. Three wide into the first turn, the 9-10 chalk eased back into a rail-skimming third turning up the backstretch. Restrained as they entered the second bend, the 230,000gns TATOCT purchase lacked racing room in upper stretch, but angled out and charged home to take it by a head as Clever Thought (Quality Road) made things interesting in the final strides.

The blinkered Angelou controlled the pace and, despite some mild pressure around the far turn, went on to start her new campaign with a victory by 4 3/4 lengths over Ephrata (GB) (Ghostzapper). The winner is a half-sister to Cafe Americano (Medaglia d'Oro), GSW, $178,800, while her dam's half-sister Sly Roxy (Speightstown) is responsible for Jerome S. hero Lugan Knight (Goldencents). L J'S EMMA (f, 3, Into Mischief--Really and Truly {SP}, by Pulpit) was well-beaten over the dirt in her debut Jan. 21 at Fair Grounds and in her subsequent start Mar. 1 in New Orleans. Switching to Keeneland's turf Apr. 23, the bay filly was third to next-out allowance winner Secret Money (Good Samaritan). The 7-2 shot here raced along the rail in fourth up the backstretch, but made significant progress around the far turn.

L J's Emma then cut to the three path after the eighth pole and just before the wire passed stakes-placed 3-5 favorite Anna's Arabesque (Munnings) to post a neck victory. Out of a female family which includes Broken Vow, the winner's dam has a 2-year-old colt named Bottomless Refill (Alternation) and she visited Improbable for the second time in-a-row last year. Overlooked by the betting public at 19-1 here, the dark bay colt seized the front end and set the pace around the clubhouse turn. Pressured up the backstretch, Night Effect held sway and into the lane the longshot responded with a sixteenth to go to win by 1 3/4 lengths over favorite Harbour Bridge (Justify). MAGIC TAP (c, 3, Tapit--American Story {GSP, $189,200}, by Ghostzapper) was sixth sprinting Apr. 16 in his debut at Keeneland behind next-out winner Saudi Crown (Always Dreaming). Trying two turns as the 3-2 favorite here, the gray colt led into the first turn and up the backstretch as Mr McGregor (Into Mischief) tracked him from second. The pacesetter felt pressure from his rival into the stretch, but the chalk began to increase his margin passing the sixteenth pole and went on to graduate by six lengths. Switching to a synthetic sprint in November, she was fifth and then promptly went to the bench. Supported here as the 3-2 chalk, the bay filly took up a position along the rail in the second flight as a pair blazed a trail down the backstretch. Making up ground from fourth around the far turn, Star Candy drove by the leaders along the fence to break her maiden by 3/4 length over Zana (Goldencents). ## SEVEN UP FOR FRANKIE AS SOUL SISTER WINS THE OAKS

Frankie Dettori and Soul Sister ascend the famed Epsom straight

by Tom Frary

John and Thady Gosden had the misfortune of losing Running Lion (GB) (Roaring Lion) from the start of Friday's G1 Betfred Oaks as David Howden's charge backed out of the stalls and got loose, but the Clarehaven duo ultimately came up trumps as Lady Bamford's G3 Musidora S. winner Soul Sister (Ire) (Frankel {GB}) triumphed in style.

Reserved in rear early by a Frankie Dettori in rare form even by his exalted standards, the 11-4 second favourite swooped on the 5-6 favourite Savethelastdance (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) and 40-1 shot Caernarfon (GB) (Cityscape {GB}) two out before asserting her superiority. At the line, the homebred had 1 3/4 lengths to spare over Savethelastdance, who stayed on gamely having been laboured some way out and who managed to outstay the Jack Channon-trained Caernarfon by a head for second.

"It's crazy--to have two Group 1s already, I'm stuck for words," Dettori said. "I ended up wide, but I said to myself to bide my time as she didn't have much experience and when she went I was able to enjoy the screaming of the crowds. Lady Bamford is a big supporter of mine and in my last year that is my second Classic winner--unbelievable."

EPSOM: CAN AUGUSTE RODIN BOUNCE BACK IN THE DERBY? by Tom Frary

For once in these days of volatile climate, the sun is shining on the Surrey Downs and all the righteous colts assembled for the latest G1 Betfred Derby. Lester Piggott, who is commemorated by one of the card's handicaps carrying his name, was always referred to patronisingly as the "housewife's choice" in the Blue Riband thanks largely to his association with Ballydoyle. Rosegreen's sacred establishment continues to support this mile-and-a-half Classic like a pillar of iron and 2023's chosen one is Auguste Rodin (Ire) (Deep Impact {Jpn}), whose attempt at Nijinsky's Triple Crown came to an abrupt halt in the 2000 Guineas. Of all the Longfellow's Derby winners, none had to conjure a magic-trick turnaround of this nature so Saturday's race carries that bit of extra intrigue.

This looked a straightforward Oaks on paper beforehand and what Frankie had termed a three-horse race was set to be a two-horse race once Running Lion had exited stage left. What he hadn't banked on was the performance of the West Ilsley runner Caernarfon and the flat display of Ballydoyle's favourite, who was being roused along by Ryan Moore as early as halfway and who could never make her mark on the event as she had at Chester on contrasting ground.

Once the maroon silks came into view down the outside in early straight, it was clear by the Italian's body language that Oaks number seven was in the bag and by the two-furlong pole it was far from certain that Savethelastdance would even get back up for second. As Caernarfon tired late on under Connor Beasley, the market-leader re-asserted in that private battle but Soul Sister was already away and gone much as the stable's Emily Upjohn had been an hour earlier.

Surprisingly, Soul Sister had been an 18-1 shot for the Musidora after her no-show in deep ground in Newbury's G3 Fred Darling S., a price bigger than that of another eventual Oaks heroine in Snowfall (Jpn) (Deep Impact {Jpn}), who had been allowed to start that York trial two years earlier at 14-1.

This success meant that the Oaks had gone either to Clarehaven or Ballydoyle for each of the last 10 years and John Gosden said, "She had a funny draw, so he decided to drop her out and I was happy that he saved ground so it was a great Plan B. She had to have the class to pass the whole field and she did. The family hadn't got a mile and a half--her brother was a miler in France and never beyond so I was concerned whether she would stay or not, but I could see she was coming strong and she stayed it well." Cont. p4

"When I was looking at her pedigree, I like to see Darshaan under the third dam so that meant there was a chance," he added. "It was a strongly-run race and she's beaten a couple of nice fillies. She's versatile over 10 and 12 furlongs and the Irish Oaks is possible, but I wouldn't be afraid of any mile-and-a-quarter race for her as she has the gears."

Of Running Lion, he added, "She kicked out and caught her leg on the gate, so they had to open the back and she got loose. She's never done anything wrong in the gates and I think she was just getting ready to go. She's absolutely fine and we'll get her right at home and go to the [G1] Prix de Diane in 16 days."

Aidan O'Brien said of Savethelastdance, "She ran very well. She was flat out all the way and it was different ground to the last day. Ryan said she wasn't finished going to the line and she went on this ground but handles soft ground better than most. She still ran a great race and was beaten by a very good filly. She has a lot of options, she can do whatever. She's a big, honest filly who stays very well and handles soft ground when it comes."

Jack Channon, in his first year with the licence in his name, said of Caernarfon, "I thought she was going to win two out, but then

I saw Frankie was cantering as well. She's a very good filly, she tanked herself into the race, had every chance and she's probably just been outstayed by two stayers. She'll probably drop back to 10 furlongs, but I'll have a chat with Connor and let the dust settle."

"When I was looking at her pedigree, I like to see Darshaan under the third dam so that meant there was a chance."

John Gosden on Soul Sister

Pedigree Notes

Soul Sister is the sixth foal out of Dream Peace (Ire) (Dansili {GB}), who captured the G2 Prix de la Nonette and placed in two editions of the GI Diana S. and GI E. P. Taylor S. apiece and a GI Flower Bowl Invitational. Bought for 2.7million gns at the 2013 Tattersalls December Mares Sale, she produced the listed-placed Questionare (GB) (Galileo {Ire}), Frankel's Group 3-placed Herman Hesse (GB) and the ultimately disappointing TDN Rising Star Guru (GB) (Kingman {GB}).

EMILY UPJOHN DOMINATES THE CORONATION CUP by Tom Frary

So unlucky in the Oaks 12 months ago, TDN Rising Star Emily Upjohn (GB) (Sea The Stars {Ire}) made amends back at Epsom on Friday with a command performance under Frankie Dettori in the G1 Dahlbury Coronation Cup.

Sent off the 11-4 second favourite, the 4-year-old had the benefit of an extra year to fill her sizeable frame and added advantage of the mares' allowance in this 12-furlong highlight which may have made a crucial difference as Westover (GB) (Frankel {GB}) chased her to the line 1 3/4 lengths in arrears.

Last seen winning the G1 British Champions Fillies & Mares S., the Lloyd Webber colour-bearer sat last of the classy quintet early before surging by them all approaching the two-furlong pole and into the clear. Despite the game pursuit of Juddmonte's 5-2 favourite, the Gosdens' runner was too far gone in a display to stand comparison with any in the recent history of this prestigious contest. Confirming that impression, there was a 7 1/2-length gap back to Point Lonsdale (Ire) (Australia {GB}) in third with other luminaries Tunnes (Ger) (Guiliani {Ire}) and Hurricane Lane (Ire) (Frankel {GB}) left trailing.

"She's a big girl so I got her ready at the top of the hill and gosh did she quicken, wow," commented Dettori, whose farewell journey is predictably gaining traction with every major meeting. "The change of pace she showed! She feels better this year, stronger, but more importantly she's better in her mind. She was fighting last year, but she's ready to relax a bit this year."

Last year's Oaks, where she was slowly away and further back than where Frankie would have wanted her, was followed by her well-documented blow-out in the King George where she tanked throughout before falling in a hole. Nurtured back for Champions Day, when a first-time hood was fitted, she had stormed back to form on testing ground and with the cold Spring holding her back this was very much an introductory mission.

What it looked like as she brushed aside such quality males from Tattenham Corner was a peak performance, but John Gosden was insistent that she was not 100% at this stage. "She's only just come ready to run, actually, only just now," he explained. "She's having a really good blow, so she should come on for that. She ended up in front too soon because of the way she quickened and was getting tired at the end, but she's a hugely talented filly."

"The Oaks and King George went wrong last year, but that's history and she was still pretty good, coming back in the autumn and showing her class on soft ground," he added. Cont. p7

He said, "She's physically the same filly, but slightly on a year having furnished a little and she hadn't been showing that pace in the Spring and this ground is quickening all the time--it's genuine good-to-firm and she's shown a lot of talent."

Sandown's Eclipse beckons now for the winner, with Gosden, Sr. adding, "She's in the [G2] Hardwicke at Ascot, but I'd like to run her in the [G1] Eclipse. She'd have no trouble coming back to 10 furlongs at Sandown, she likes meeting the ground there so I slightly favour that at this stage with its uphill finish."

Westover's trainer Ralph Beckett is looking to potentially go the other way stamina-wise. "He's been beaten by a filly who has come here at the top of her game," he said. "He just didn't have the pace that she did, but it was a good effort. He gets every yard of that trip and we might think about going a bit further. There are lots of things we can do."

Aidan O'Brien said of Point Lonsdale, "We are very happy with the run, though he might have preferred someone to carry him a bit longer up the straight. He's inexperienced and we're still learning about him. There are plenty of options, including the Hardwicke and the King George."

FRANKIE'S FILLIES RULE LADIES' DAY

By Emma Berry

EPSOM DOWNS, UK--It was a chill wind, rather than an ill wind, that blew across the Downs as the early birds arrived at Epsom. The drive to Surrey had been peppered by racing popping up on the Radio 4 news, and that's rarely a good sign. Animal Rising may be chaotic in its reasoning but, with its threats of disruption, the protest group has done a good job of grabbing attention in the run-up to the Derby. Cont. p9

Sure enough, there it was again, on repeat on the hourly bulletins.

The racecourse always comes as a bit of a surprise as suburbia gives way to the wide open space which, for almost 250 years, has held tightly its most prized asset. Those cambered bends of one of the world's most extraordinary racecourses are accompanied by a shining white grandstand resembling a cruise liner marooned on the turf. It's a startling sight on any day and by Friday morning it was encased by barricades: Fortress Epsom standing ready to repel those whose sole intent wasn't simply to enjoy a bloody good day at the races.

On cue, the sun emerged mid-morning to aid tens of thousands of racegoers in that pursuit. Eve Johnson Houghton and Anthony Bromley know how to unearth a value buy at the yearling sales and, after Chipotle (GB) and Streets Of Gold (Ire), the stable has another precocious youngster to take them and the members of the Woodway 20 syndicate to more big days out. Bobsleigh (Ire) (Elzaam {Aus}) shot down the straight to win the Woodcote like he was on the Cresta Run. After tackling the weirdness of Brighton then Epsom with aplomb, Ascot will seem like a doddle.

This was Ladies' Day. In fact, it was Lady Bamford's day, and the only moment the smile slipped from the face of the diminutive owner-breeder of the Oaks winner Soul Sister (GB) was when Frankie Dettori tried to lift her off her feet and spin her round in the winner's circle.

For Lady Bamford it was a second Oaks success after Sariska (GB), for Dettori a seventh, the first of which came almost 30 years ago with Balanchine. Will he retire to bed tonight thinking 'what the hell was I doing announcing my retirement?' He won't be the only one questioning that decision, if indeed he is.

The indefatigable jockey had already given one masterclass aboard Emily Upjohn (GB) to win the G1 Dahlbury Coronation Cup, setting up the first half of a memorable Group 1 double for John and Thady Gosden. The runners-up of last year's Derby and Oaks went toe to toe down the hill for home, with the only certainty being that one of them would once again have to settle for second. Westover (GB) gave way, perhaps not graciously, to the powerhouse that is Emily Upjohn, now resplendent in the huge frame that once made her a backward-looking yearling deemed worth a bid that was half the price of her illustrious sire's covering fee. She's showing them now.

Last summer, an early morning July Course gallop for Emily Upjohn, and the sudden appearance of Dettori to ride her, was the first sign of a rapprochement between the jockey and John Gosden, a temporary parting of ways having ensued in the wake of a few irksome results at Royal Ascot. Whether it was that public chiding or merely his wish to go out on top that first prompted Dettori's thoughts of retirement, he will certainly be granted the latter. He already has two British Classics under his belt this season and, as his twin triumphs on those glorious fillies at Epsom show, he remains very much in his pomp as a rider.

He is still the public's darling, too, and boy does racing need a figure of such recognisable vibrance right now. "I'll have a few quid on Frankie," said the lady on the paddock rail to her friend before the Coronation Cup. She wasn't the only one with thoughts of backing Frankie blind. By late afternoon on Friday, the plunge on Dettori's Gosden-trained Derby runner Arrest (Ire) had gathered pace to push him to the head of the market past Auguste Rodin (Ire). A Frankie-Frankel Oaks-Derby double would certainly help to propel racing to the front pages for all the right reasons, providing that's the only prominent Arrest at Epsom on Saturday.

There's a saying that goes 'show me a good loser and I'll show you a loser'. But when you own a major share in a stallion who has contributed in a homebred filly running third in the Oaks, then you are entitled to feel pretty cock-a-hoop, as Steven Smith and Andy Lloyd of Hunscombe Stud did by late afternoon. Their battler of a filly, Caernarfon (GB), had already belied her odds to run fourth in the 1,000 Guineas and now here she was again, challenging the favourite Savethelastdance (Ire) for second on the line in the biggest fillies' Classic of them all.

"Her sister was bulletproof, and she's bulletproof," said Smith of Caernarfon and her Group 3-winning sibling Dan's Dream (GB), both daughters of Cityscape (GB)."

Smith added, "She's small, she's agile, she doesn't appear to need much work. She just didn't quite get the trip," he added, before turning to the subject of a potential run in the marginally shorter Prix de Diane.

"A physical specimen she is not but, like all Cityscapes, she has a good mind and she tries. And if you have those two things in a racehorse you have a chance."

A major share-holder in Cityscape, a former resident of Overbury Stud who is currently in Argentina, Smith is already musing the return of the Juddmonte-bred son of Selkirk.

"We found out today that she is a 10-furlong horse and we can crack on," he said. "She goes on soft as well, so there are plenty of options. She floats. I have a video of her galloping and I draw a line and look at her eye and her eye doesn't move. Whatever is happening down below is very smooth and economical. She's like Seb Coe. Why did he win? Because of his action. She has an amazing action."

The beaming owner-breeder then brought the conversation to a close with, "Right, I'm off to get hammered." And with the uplifting thought that last year's Oaks third Nashua (GB) went on to win the Prix de Diane, he has no need to drown any sorrows.

experience in short supply, while Juddmonte's great supplies Frankie's grand finale Arrest (Ire) and more intriguingly also a sleight of hand two years on from his first winner Adayar (Ire). Unexpectedly, that emphatic Derby hero's full-brother Military Order (Ire) comes here with perhaps stronger credentials having won the Listed Lingfield Derby Trial his 5-year-old sibling surrendered en route. When Arthur Budgett's Oaks runner-up Windmill Girl produced two Derby winners in Blakeney and Morston there was a thought that it might not happen again, such is the implausibility of such an outcome, but we are potentially here again.

The 1969 and 1973 winners were half-brothers, so Anna Salai (Dubawi {Ire}) will be providing the race and her breeding operation with something unique if it again plays out right for the boys in blue on Saturday. Godolphin trainer Charlie Appleby said today he is happy with the draw allocated to Military Order as he bids to saddle his third Betfred Derby winner. "He is always going to be going there with the tag as being a Derby winner's full-brother, so everyone is going to ask the questions of 'is he as good?' and 'where does he stand compared to him?' but he looks as though he is physically potentially more there and mentally more there than Adayar at this stage of his career," Charlie Appleby said. "Regardless of that, Adayar went and won a Derby and this lad has got to go and do it now."

Prepare For The Ride

Richard Kingscote has the chance to emulate "King Kieren" Fallon, the last jockey to win back-to-back Derbys in 2003 and 2004, on Passenger (Ulysses {Ire}) who carries Workforce-like vibes into this for the Niarchos Family so far denied a Derby triumph. Sir Michael Stoute's assistant James Savage was tellingly not averse to comparing the homebred with last year's winner. Cont. p11

RACE PREVIEWS

What Auguste Rodin lacks in last-time-out form, he makes up for with a mix of reputation and juvenile achievement representing the trainer who has continually bent the accepted perceived knowledge of what is possible in this sport.

After all, this is the stable that engineered a Slip Anchor-style Derby win out of Serpentine (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}), a colt who had begun his career with a 16-length 10th of 11 in a Galway maiden. Auguste Rodin, the "special" one as far as all closest to him are concerned, has to go and do it himself now with O'Brien summing it up this week. "The Derby is the race where all the horses come together and then you find out, that's the way it is every year," he said.

Passing It Down; Is Frankel The New Derby Sire Sensation?

In one of the last Classic face-offs between Galileo and Frankel, the latter looks to have a distinct edge in his bid to cement his position as the next go-to sire in this great race. Galileo's unbeaten son Artistic Star (Ire) hails not from Ballydoyle but from the Ralph Beckett stable and is a big outsider with

“Desert Crown and Passenger are different in many ways, but one thing they are similar in is that they are both clever horses that learnt very quickly,” he said. Like the 1993 hero Commander in Chief, he only appeared for the first time at Newmarket’s Craven meeting, where King Power’s The Foxes (Ire) (Churchill {Ire}) was running second in the signature race before their subsequent coming together in York’s Dante.

An Instant Impression?

Surprisingly, given the intensely competitive nature of the Derby, both Geoff Wragg in 1983 and Roger Charlton in 1990 managed to win it in their first season training with Teenoso and Quest For Fame, respectively. Charlie Johnston is attempting the feat this time with a duo including the G1 Criterium de Saint-Cloud hero Dubai Mile (Ire) (Roaring Lion), who has the edge over the Chester Vase one-two Arrest and Adelaide River (Ire) (Australia {GB}) and very much over Auguste Rodin having finished 17 lengths ahead of that peer in the Guineas.

Sporting the colours of “Mr Derby” Ahmad Al Shaikh, whose outsiders Khalifa Sat (Ire) (Free Eagle {Ire}) and Hoo Ya Mal (GB) (Territories {Ire}) were second in 2020 and 2022, Dubai Mile’s Derby success could well have been prophesied by his owner after greeting Hoo Ya Mal. “Next year!” he had said, so no pressure there then Charlie. “He looks great and it is all systems go,” the son of Middleham legend Mark, who fared no better than second in all his tries in the Derby. “The track as we know is a variable that will be an unknown until he has tackled it, but the trip is very much viewed as a positive.”

GHISLAINE HEAD DIES AT 95

Freddy, Ghislaine & Alec Head | Scoop Dyga

Ghislaine Head, owner-breeder and matriarch of France's famous training dynasty, died on Thursday, June 1 at the age of 95. The news was first reported by Jour de Galop.

The wife of Alec Head, who died a year ago, Ghislaine was represented on the racecourse by, among others, the Poule d'Essai des Pouliches and Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe winner Three Troikas (Fr) (Lyphard), who was trained by her daughter Christiane (Criquette) and ridden to victory by her son Freddy, who was later a successful trainer in his own right.

Alec and Ghislaine Head bought Haras du Quesnay just outside Deauville in 1958 and set about making it into one the country's most famous breeding and stallion operations, with its resident sires over the decades including Le Fabuleux (Fr), Anabaa, Highest Honor (Fr), and the homebred Bering (GB), who was another to race in Head's colours to win the 1986 Prix du Jockey Club.

Paying tribute to her mother in JDG, Criquette Head said, “Mum and Dad were an incredible pair. If Dad took care of the horses, Mum managed all the administrative aspects, in Chantilly as in Quesnay, which was not an easy task, and relations with customers.

“She was a woman of character, very active, undoubtedly ahead of her time. She was also the real pillar of the family...She has always supported us, her children. She has done more than raise us, I would say that she has elevated us.” Cont. p12

Christopher Head, grandson of Alec and Ghislaine, is the trainer of the favourite for Sunday's Prix du Jockey Club, Big Rock (Fr).

Ghislaine Head is survived by her children Freddy, Crique, Martine, and Patricia, as well as many grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

FRANKIE DETTORI FLOATED FOR SPORTS PERSONALITY AWARD

The BoyleSports odds for Frankie Dettori to be named the BBC Sports Personality of the Year have shortened from 16-1 to 6-1, prior to his G1 Dahlbury Coronation Cup/G1 Betfred Oaks double over the Epsom Downs on Friday.

The Italian reinsman is retiring at the end of the year, and Saturday's G1 Betfred Derby, where he will ride Arrest (Ire) (Frankel {GB}), is set to be his final appearance in the historic Classic. Arrest currently sits at 9-2 with BoyleSports, with Auguste Rodin (Ire) (Deep Impact {Jpn}) eased to 3-1. Dettori is currently second-favourite in the BBC Sports Personality of the Year running behind cricket player Ben Stokes at 4-1.

Lawrence Lyons, spokesperson for BoyleSports, said, "Frankie made the Sports Personality podium after his Magnificent Seven at Ascot in 1996, but if he lands his final Derby we wouldn't be surprised to see him go favourite to get his hands on the silverware this time."

NEW SELECT NH FOAL SALE TO BE HELD BY GOFFS UK IN NOVEMBER

The new select NH foal sale will be held at Doncaster on Nov. 4-5.

Sarah Farnsworth

A select NH Foal Sale at Doncaster on Nov. 4 and 5 was announced by Goffs UK on Friday. The precise format of the sale will be announced over the coming weeks after further discussions with the Thoroughbred Breeders' Association and leading NH breeders. This new sale will also complement the existing NH Foal section of the January Sale.

"The recent renewal of the NH Foal sales presented many challenges for breeders, and we can't keep offering the same sales and expect a different result," Goffs UK Managing Director Tim Kent said. "It is an extremely exciting time for NH Breeders in the UK now, with more young stallions than ever before including Group 1 winners, Classic winners and the one-two from the Epsom Derby all available to British NH mare owners."

JOINT JUNE BANK HOLIDAY INITIATIVE ENCOURAGES DRIVERS TO 'PASS WIDE AND SLOW' AROUND HORSES

The Road Safety Authority (RSA), and An Garda Síochána (AGS) have teamed up with Horse Racing Ireland (HRI) and Horse Sport Ireland (HSI) in an effort to inform motorists how to share the roads safely with horses. Drivers are being urged to pass horses "wide and slow" but also others who use the roads.

The initiative features a series of videos to help motorists familiarise themselves with best practice when they encounter horses on the road and in areas with high equine traffic, such as around riding schools and racing yards. Motorists should always slow down, pass wide and obey the hand signals of the rider and never use the horn, rev the engine or flash the lights.

"There is a shared responsibility for road safety from all road users so we are delighted to partner with the Road Safety Authority with their horse road safety appeal," Suzanne Eade, CEO of Horse Racing Ireland, said. "The videos have lots of useful guidelines to explain to motorists how to share the roads safely with horses and their riders. I would encourage everyone to familiarise themselves with the guidelines, especially as the busy summer period approaches. We all have a part to play in sharing the road safely."

Denis Duggan, CEO of Horse Sport Ireland, added, "We are delighted that this series of videos is now available and will help raise awareness of what to do when road users meet horse riders on the road. Horses are live animals and can be unpredictable, so it is important that all road users familiarise themselves with the rules of the road."

OBSERVATIONS

on the European racing scene

HALF-SISTER TO GRADE I-WINNING DUO MYSTERIOUS NIGHT AND ALTHIQA SET FOR TOWN MOOR BOW

14.50 Doncaster, £6,800, Mdn, 2yo, f, 6f 111yT

James Doyle gets the booking for Godolphin's hitherto untried STAR OF MYSTERY (GB) (Kodiac {GB}), who encounters 10 rivals in this debut for the Charlie Appleby stable. The March-foaled homebred bay is a daughter of Listed Boadicea Fillies' S. victrix Mistrusting (Ire) (Shamardal) and thus a half-sister to GI Just A Game S. and GI Diana S. heroine Althiqa (GB) (Dark Angel {Ire}) and last term's GI Pattison Summer S. victor Mysterious Night (Ire) (Dark Angel {Ire}).

HOW THEY FARED

14.55 Compiègne, €27,000, Mdn, unraced 3yo, c/g, 10ft

Gestut Ammerland's Grey Lux (Ire) (Lope De Vega {Ire}), a well-related homebred son of G1 Prix du Moulin heroine Grey Lilas (Ire) (Danahill), trailed all five fellow newcomers after a tardy start and made little impact at the business end, finishing 10 1/4 lengths behind the winner in fifth.

Althia winning the 2021 Diana | Coglianese

15.25 Compiègne, €27,000, Mdn, unraced 3yo, f, 10fT

Ballymore Thoroughbred Racing's Art Mythique (Ire) (Australia {GB}), a daughter of MG1SW Prix de Diane heroine Aquarelliste (Fr) (Danehill), was in contention until turning for home and faded in the latter stages of this debut to finish a well-beaten 13th of 16.

Runner-up to Meditate (Ire) (No Nay Never) in the G2 Debutante S. in August when trained by Michael O'Callaghan, Olivia Maralda had run seventh behind Mawj (Ire) (Exceed And Excel {Aus}), Tahiyra (Ire) (Siyouni {Fr}) and Caernarfon (GB) (Cityscape {GB}) in a 1000 Guineas that looked strong at the time and stronger still with each passing week.

Reverting to seven here, the bay was held up initially worse than mid-division and came home strongest to overhaul Holguin approaching the furlong pole and assert for a black-type breakthrough win.

"She was good, she ran well in the Guineas. She loved the fast ground and seven is probably her trip," trainer Roger Varian said. "I thought they would go quick and I actually didn't think they went very quick, there was a few keen in behind. But we know she has a good turn of foot and I quite like that slightly outer draw round this track to get a clear run. She's very balanced and we always thought she would be comfortable on the track. I would like to run in the [G3] Jersey. Seven is her trip off a fast pace and if we get fast ground she could be a danger."

The winner, who was the highest-priced filly at last year's Tattersalls Craven Breeze Up at 460,000gns, is a half-sister to the dual Listed Premio Carlo Chiesa winner and G3 Premio Carlo e Francesco Aloisi-placed Evil Spell (GB) (Dutch Art {GB}) whose daughter Harmony Rose (GB) (Hot Streak {Ire}) was third in the Listed Tipperary S. The listed-placed dam, whose yearling is a full-brother to the winner, is also responsible for Society Power (Ire) (Society Rock {Ire}) who was runner-up in the Jersey for which Olivia Maralda is now bound. VIDEO.

Kia Joorabchian's Amo Racing purchased Olivia Maralda for 460,000gns at the Tattersalls Craven Breeze Up Sale in 2022.

Laura Green/Tattersalls

1st-Epsom, £75,000, Cond (Woodcote), 6-2, 2yo, 6f 3yT, 1:08.99, g/f.

BOBSLEIGH (IRE) (g, 2, Elzaam {Aus}--Lady Rosebud {Ire}, by Sir Prancealot {Ire}), who notched a 2 3/4-length tally in his May 3 debut tackling an extended five furlongs at Brighton last time, chased the leaders in ninth through the furious early fractions of this former black-type contest. Making headway out wide in the straight, the 5-1 chance quickened to go second entering the final furlong and kept on strongly to deny Balon D'Or (GB) (Kodiac {GB}) by 3/4-of-a-length nearing the line. "I think we've got a Royal Ascot candidate on our hands and it's very exciting," said trainer Eve Johnson Houghton. "We knew they'd go really fast and he did exactly what we'd planned. You just get him balanced and wait until he comes to you. I knew he had a good turn of foot, but I wasn't sure if he could make up that much ground [from off the pace]. He was pretty impressive, I think. He's got plenty of boot and we could drop back to five furlongs. The [G2] Coventry is going to be the hottest [2-year-old] race [at Royal Ascot], so I don't know. When I bought him, he was really small, but he's just grown and grown and thrived. Gelding him was the best thing I ever did for him and he's really done well. For this group of 20 people in this [Woodway] syndicate, it's a fantastic day out for them. They don't pay much money, and Anthony Bromley and I do a pretty good job in buying them for not much money. They are having the time of their lives." The April-foaled bay, who hails from the family of G2 Kingston Town Quality H. victor Kruthoffer (Ire) (Ya Zaman), is the first of two foals and kin to a yearling colt by Far Above (Ire). Sales history: €10,000 Ylg '22 GOFFEB; €17,000 Ylg '22 TATIRY. Lifetime Record: 2-2-0-0, $52,997. O-The Woodway 20; B-Ms P Walsh (IRE); T-Eve Johnson Houghton.

EMPEROR'S SON (IRE) (c, 2, Kodiak {GB}--Flat White {Ire}, by Elusive Quality) was hampered at the break and recovered to race in a handy third after the initial exchanges of this debut. Coming under pressure with a quarter-mile remaining, the 11-2 chance tackled Kylian (Ire) (Invincible Spirit {Ire}) entering the final furlong and was ridden out to deny that rival by neck after a ding-dong tussle. Emperor's Son, kin to a weanling filly by Inns Of Court (Ire), is the third of four foals and second scorer out of an unraced half-sister to stakes-winning G3 Prix de Lieurey third Adorable (Ire) (Kodiac {GB}) and G3 Huxley S. third Espresso Star (War Chant). The April-foaled bay's second dam is GI Ramona H. heroine Caffé Latte (Ire) (Seattle Dancer). Lifetime Record: 1-1-0-0, $8,455. O-Mark Dobbin & Partner; B-Tally-Ho Stud (IRE); T-R Fahey.

5th-Doncaster, £8,000, Nov, 6-2, 3yo, 11f 197yT, 2:34.56, g/f.

PERFUSE (GB) (c, 3, Lope De Vega {Ire}--Suffused {GB} {MGSW-US, GISP-Can & SP-Eng, $697,248}, by Champs Elysees {GB}) finished clear of his rivals when annexing an extended 10-furlong novices' heat at Nottingham last month and was saddled with a seven-pound impost for that breakthrough triumph. Held up in touch for the most part, the 5-6 chalk powered forward in the straight to challenge on the bridle passing the two pole and stayed on strongly under minimal urging in the closing stages to easily account for Inquiring Minds (GB) (Kingman {GB}) by two lengths. Perfuse is the second multiple scorer out of MGSW GI E. P. Taylor S. second Suffused (GB) (Champs Elysees {GB}), herself kin to three black-type performers headed by G1 St Leger hero Logician (GB) (Frankel {GB}). The February-foaled chestnut is half to a 2-year-old filly by Too Darn Hot (GB) and a yearling filly by Night Of Thunder (Ire). Lifetime Record: 3-2-1-0, $13,280. O-Juddmonte; B-Juddmonte Farms Ltd (GB); T-Sir Michael Stoute.

EMBESTO (GB) (c, 3, Roaring Lion--Dibajj {Fr} {GSW-Fr, $193,669}, by Iffraaj {GB}), lumbered with a seven-pound tax for graduating over a mile at Great Yarmouth one month earlier, raced with cover and was under restraint towards the back of the stands' side group through the initial fractions here. Angled to the centre of the track for a clear run with three furlongs to go, the 4-9 favourite quickened smartly to go second passing the eighth pole and was ridden out to deny Halla Dubai (Ire) (Expert Eye {GB}) by 1 1/2 lengths. Embesto is one of three winners out of G3 Prix du Petit Couvert victrix Dibajj (Fr) (Iffraaj {GB}), herself a half-sister to Listed Prix Francois Mathet victor and G3 Grand Prix de Vichy runner-up Black Sea (Fr) (Dubai Destination).

FLACCIANELLO (IRE) (f, 2, Cotai Glory {GB}--Chilly Morning {Ire}, by Slade Power {Ire}), the fifth of seven away, engaged chase mode in a detached fourth through the initial fractions of this debut. Responding under an unrelenting Cam Hardie inside the final quarter-mile, the 9-1 chance surged to the front with 75 yards remaining en route to a one-length defeat of Lady Pink Rose (GB) (Showcasing {GB}). Flaccianello, kin to a yearling colt by Kodiak (GB), is the first of two foals out of a half-sister to G2 Lowther S. winner and G1 Coronation S. runner-up Threading (Ire) (Exceed And Excel {Aus}). The February-foaled bay's second dam Chaquiras (Seeking The Gold) is an unraced full-sister to MG1SW sire Dubai Millennium (GB). Sales history: 75,000gns Ylg '22 TATOCT. CLAN CHIEFTAIN (GB) (c, 3, Gleneagles {Ire}--Pink Symphony {GB} {GSW-Ire & MSP-Eng, $186,684}, by Montjeu {Ire}), out once for a 10th going one mile at Kempton in December, raced several lengths off the tempo in seventh and improved one spot at halfway in this seasonal return. Scrubbed along with three furlongs remaining, the 11-2 chance was ridden to go second approaching the furlong pole and kept on strongly in the closing stages to edge Vaguely Royal (Ire) (Galileo {Ire}) by a half-length. Clan Chieftain is the sixth of eight foals and fifth scorer out of G3 Give Thanks S. victress Pink Symphony (GB) (Montjeu {Ire}), herself kin to MGISP G3 Prestige S., G3 Nell Gwyn S. and GIII Modesty H. winner Fantasia (GB) (Sadler's Wells) and to the dam of multiple pattern-race winner Western Hymn (GB) (High Chaparral {Ire}). The April-foaled grey's third dam is Group 1-winning European champion Blue Duster (Danzig), herself a full-sister to Group 1-winning sire Zieten. KALBIYANN (FR) (g, 3, Anodin {Ire}--Kalahana {Fr}, by Dawn Approach {Ire}) recovered from a dawdling getaway to track the pace in second for most of this debut. Looming large off the home turn, the 2-1 second choice came under increased urging from the two pole and stretched away from Mawhob (Fr) (Zelzal {Fr}) inside the final 100 metres for an ultimately comfortable three-length success. Kalbiyann is the first of two foals out of a winning half-sister to G2 Prix Greffulhe victor Kesampour (Fr) (King's Best). The February-foaled chestnut is kin to the unraced 2-year-old colt Kalantari (Fr) (Make Believe {GB}) and hails from the family of G1 Irish St Leger heroine Kastoria (Ire) (Selkirk). ## WORLDWIDE NEWS

SCHNELL MEISTER REQUIRES VERY BEST FOR YASUDA KINEN by Alan Carasso

Having gone excruciatingly close in the last two renewals of the G1 Yasuda Kinen, Sunday Racing's Schnell Meister (Ger) (Kingman {GB}) takes a third crack at Japan's premier spring mile event, a 'Win and You're In' challenge race for the GI FanDuel Breeders' Cup Mile at Santa Anita in early November.

The bay, one of 10 elite-level winner in the field, defeated Songline (Jpn) (Kizuna {Jpn}) in the age-restricted G1 NHK Mile Cup over this course and distance two years ago and was narrowly beaten by champion Gran Alegria (Jpn) (Deep Impact {Jpn}) in this race his next start. He found Songline just a neck too good 12 months ago and was well below par for the remainder of his 4-year-old campaign, but he hinted at a return to form with a close fourth in the G2 Nakayama Kinen over 1800 metres Feb. 26 and most recently cut back to the mile for a victory in the G2 Yomiuri Milers Cup Apr. 23, with Gaia Force (Jpn) (Kitasan Black {Jpn}) and Soul Rush (Jpn) not far away in second and third. Christophe Lemaire, who took the 2018 Yasuda Kinen aboard Mozu Ascot (Frankel {GB}), will need to work out a trip from barrier 14.

"As a 5-year-old, he's more mature now," said trainer Takahisa Tezuka. "He runs well at Tokyo, so returning to the track this time makes conditions good for him and he has a chance to win."

Things to consider will be the ground and the weather before the race and on the day, as I would like him to run on good ground.”

The Milers Cup also-rans figure to be well-fancied here as well, as Gaia Force was trying the mile for the first time, while Soul Rush has shown he can hold his own at this level.

Songline also carries the Sunday Racing colours and will need to overcome gate 18 if she is to become the first Yasuda Kinen repeater since Vodka (Jpn) (Tamino Gimlet {Jpn}) in 2008-2009. She's raced only sparingly since, finishing fifth to Meikei Yell (Jpn) (Mikki Isle {Jpn}) in the G2 Centaur S. (1200m) last September and 10th to compatriot Bathrat Leon (Jpn) (Kizuna {Jpn}) in defence of her title in the G3 1351 Turf Sprint in Saudi Arabia in February. She bounced back last time to just touch off fan favourite Sodashi (Jpn) (Kurofune) in the G1 Victoria Mile over track and trip May 14.

“She has not only kept her condition since her last race, but she also seems to have improved for it,” trainer Toru Hayashi said of Songline. “It’s the same concept as last year with these two races, and we’re seeing the real Songline. With another strong field this time, and even after winning the Victoria Mile, I still think she’s a challenger again here. I’m hoping she can run another strong race.”

Schnell Meister | JRA

Serifos (Jpn) (Daiwa Major {Jpn}) ran home strongly to be fourth while facing his elders here last June and closed the season with a smart 1 1/4-length success in the G1 Mile Championship. The chestnut has one run under his belt this season, a meritorious fourth behind the three-peating Lord North (Ire) (Dubawi {Ire}) in the G1 Dubai Turf over a nine-furlong trip that might be a bit longer than optimal. Derby-winning jockey Damian Lane retains the call.

Baaed Proving a Privilege at Nunnery

Jack d'Or (Jpn) (Maurice {Jpn}), whose sire won this in 2015, is the likely leader from gate three for Yutaka Take. The flashy chestnut, who has raced exclusively over the 2000 metres to this point in his career, took a thrilling running of the G2 Sapporo Kinen over Panthalassa (Jpn) (Lord Kanaloa {Jpn}) last August and was at his front-running best when landing the G1 Osaka Hai on his seasonal return Apr. 2
